Friend of Dorothy Keenan Denies He Quarrel With Girl

Langman Says He Has Nothing to Conceal from the Police

(By The Associated Press.) CHICAGO, March 21.—Jack Langman, former friend of Dorothy Keenan, who was found chloroformed in New York, denied he quarreled with the woman three weeks ago as was believed by the New York police. Langman said the police here had not questioned him and he had nothing to conceal. "It's absurd," he said. "I haven't even talked with the woman in the last eight months."

NEW YORK, March 21.—The murder of Dorothy Keenan, who was chloroformed to death in her apartment last Thursday still remained a mystery today, with the police admittedly no nearer a solution. Police Inspector Coughlin was expecting information from Chicago about Jack Langman, whom he asked police there to look up. Langman once lived with Miss Keenan while he conducted several Broadway cabarets and knows many of her acquaintances. Police have heard that he returned to Chicago three weeks ago after quarrelling with Miss Keenan.

Georgia Peach Crop Damaged By Cold Wave

MACON, Ga., March 21.—Peach growers in Georgia suffered heavy losses by the freeze of Monday night but that there would be a good sized crop of the fruit in the belt, federal and state crop officials stated here late yesterday.

According to the estimates of these experts the losses range from ten to twenty-five per cent in the orchards south of Macon, mostly in the Hiley Belle variety, to a total loss at Summerville, Hampton and other points near the Tennessee border, and 40 to 50 per cent on the Athens division of the Central of Georgia railway.

Oliver I. Bapp, government entomologist at the peach laboratory at Fort Valley, said the Hiley Belle had been damaged about fifteen per cent. He also found an orchard of Georgia Belle, he said, in which blooms appeared abnormal.

ALTERATIONS IN BRITISH SHIPS WILL NOT INCREASE THE RANGE SAYS OFFICIAL STATEMENTS

New Developments in British Navy Are According to Agreement

WASHINGTON, March 21.—Public statements made by officials of the United States government to the effect that substantial alterations had been effected in British capital ships to increase their battle range and defensive armament were formally corrected by both the state and navy departments.

Acting on the issuance of the British government that their information was accurate, Secretary Hughes recalled the reference he had made to the British naval modifications in his speech at New Haven last December and Acting Secretary Roosevelt took similar action with respect to statements he had made before congressional committees.

At the department, it was indicated that the correctness had been made after the British government had called attention to the effect in Great Britain of repeated references by high public officials in the United States to changes in the status of the British treaty fleet.

SEVERAL INDIANS KILLED OVER TROUBLE AT TRIAL

INDIANS FREED

From Jail After Being Found Guilty of Robbery of Sheep Herder's Camp

(By The Associated Press.) SALT LAKE CITY.—A posse of white settlers on San Juan county in Southeastern Utah were reported early today to be hot on the trail of a band of upwards of a dozen renegade Piute Indians who went on the war-path at Blanding Monday afternoon. In a clash late yesterday between the posse and the warring redskins, one young buck known as Joe Bishop's boy is reported to have been killed and two other Indians wounded. As far as could be learned, the whites suffered no casualties. The trouble at Blanding started when the authorities brought in for trial Joe Bishop's boy and another young Indian charged with robbery of a sheep herder's camp. Just before the trial got under way, a band of Indians from Allen's Canyon, near Blanding, entered the town and started making trouble. Two Indians were found guilty but later escaped from jail.

MOAB, Utah, March 21.—A report was received here late last night to the effect that one Indian had been killed and two Indians wounded by a posse of white settlers who set out from Blanding, San Juan county, in pursuit of a band of renegade Piutes who caused trouble in that town.

The dead Indian is said to be a young buck known as Joe Bishop's boy, and one of the two youths who escaped from authorities at Blanding after their conviction yesterday on a misdemeanor charge, resulting from the robbery of a sheepherder's camp.

SALT LAKE CITY, March 21.—Blanding, a town of 875 inhabitants, is beleaguered by a small band of Piute Indians, telephone wires have been cut and a message received at Montecello, by courier late yesterday urged the formation of an armed body to aid the inhabitants.

The latest outbreak, occurring in San Juan county in the southeastern part of Utah, was caused by the arrest and detention of two Indian boys on a charge of robbery. News of their incarceration soon reached a small band of renegade Piutes, including "Old Posy" who has figured in previous outbreaks. Preparations were made by the Indian band to rescue the young bucks, but the latter succeeded in escaping.

When Sheriff W. E. Oliver took dinner to the two jailed Indians they refused to eat and he attempted to strike one of them over the head with his revolver. One of the Indians grabbed the sheriff and the other disarmed him. They then forced the sheriff into the corner and after locking him in the jail, escaped.

Blanding is isolated, the Indians having cut telephone wires and the last word from the Indian beleaguered village was taken to Montecello at 4 a. m. today by a courier, asking for the formation of an armed body of men to aid the inhabitants of the town. When the courier left, none of the white defenders of the town had been wounded, although a horse had been shot from under John Rogers and a bullet went through the trousers leg of the rider. The townspeople placed men at all advantageous places on the outskirts of the village and sniping was carried on all day long whenever one of the Indians showed his head.

United States Marshal Ray Ward is inclined to take a serious view of the situation and has arranged with Lamar Nelson, the governor's private secretary, who saw service in France, as an aviator, to fly to the scene of the trouble if a plane can be secured from the government.

The clove crop of Zanzibar in 1923 was 35,000,000 pounds, of which 1,500,000 pounds were exported to the United States.

State Bar Meets in Miami; Higher Standards Urged

MIAMI, March 20.—Members of the Florida Bar Association met in annual convention here this morning with two associate justices of Florida supreme court and an associate justice of the supreme court of Ontario, and eminent jurists of this state and many others in attendance.

Frank B. Shutts, of Miami, welcomed the delegates and E. P. Estel of Jacksonville responded with a short address. The sessions yesterday were featured by a number of addresses and papers by prominent jurists.

Colonel W. E. Kay of Jacksonville talked on "some thoughts on existing conditions" during his address condemning the Ku Klux Klan as being an organization in which the members try to set themselves above the law.

"The very existence of the organization," he declared, "is a challenge to Republican government and an insult to civilization."

Colonel Kay urged a clean bar with one test for admittance—character. "We have a right to say that every man in the bar should be clean and honest, although he may not be an able lawyer," he said. We can so raise the standard that the fact that he is a member of the Florida bar association should be an introduction that he is a lawyer and a gentleman."

Other speakers during the day were the Hon. Ray Rushton, former president of the Alabama Bar association; of Montgomery; Judge O. K. Reeves, Tampa; and R. A. Burford of Ocala, who read a paper by R. L. Anderson of Ocala, a former president of the Florida bar, who was unable to be present.

According to the Hastings Herald a considerable number of farmers of that section have agreed to plant cotton as an experiment when the potato fields are cleared. At a meeting in the Herald office, early this month four hundred acres were pledged, and the newspaper was inclined to think that several thousand acres would be planted in cotton in that section.

This is the time to build your home.

Those that know say all building materials will be higher.

What a pity that Sanford people cannot get all the money they need to build homes and apartment houses.

Sanford will never be any larger than it is today unless more homes are built for the many new people who want to live here but cannot at the present time as there are no houses for them.

And real estate will never take the boom it should take unless people can build homes on the lots they would like to purchase. There is no need of buying lots if you cannot get the finances for your house and thus the dearth of money here for investments keeps the city from growing in many different ways.

Roger Babson, the world famous statistician, is in Florida and has been addressing the trade bodies in several cities on the trend of the times. He is in Tampa just now and will talk on "Watch the South Grow." Mr. Babson writes special articles for the newspapers each week taking up some particular section of the country and telling just what will happen in the financial world. His special articles are published in the Daily Herald every Saturday and we would like to have him speak in Sanford before he leaves Florida.

Sanford needs more good suburban property. Every other city in Florida is putting on suburban property that is beautiful in every respect. Such property is usually about three miles out from the city proper and has beautiful lakes and hills and natural beauty. The developers go in and build sidewalks and streets and put it in good shape and then place it on the market for restricted high class residence proposition. Sanford needs more of these high class residence sections. We have been too prone to scramble nice houses and cheap houses all together and kill the chances of high class property in this city. In a few years the majority of the business men of Sanford will be living in the country and the real estate firm here that recognizes this need and gets to it now will make some real money.

THE GREAT NEED OF HOUSING

Sanford has need for one hundred new homes at present and four hundred more during the summer. Sanford needs at least twelve nice apartment houses and needs them now. It is a crying need that must be met if this city expects to grow. There are hundreds of people here who want homes and apartments. There are other hundreds coming and going every day who want houses and go away because they cannot get them. People are living out several miles because they cannot get a house in the city. They are camping out and doing all sorts of ways in order to live in or near Sanford where they are doing business. It is something that should be broadcasted all over the land—SANFORD WANTS MONEY FOR HOUSES.

The men and women who are giving of their time, energy and means to build up their community are entitled to much from you, if you're unwilling or unable to share your part of the burden. Some people act as if they owed nothing to their fellow men—that all in life that concerned them was their own selfish affairs—and they go along in their disloyal way to their fellows, ignorant many times of the contempt in which they are held by all good men and women, thinking the pleasant smile and greeting handed them is because of the regard in which they are held, when it is only because most men and women are gentlemen and ladies. Where would the world get, if all of us were so busy with our own personal affairs, that we gave no time to public service or were willing to "let George do it?"—The Florida Bull.

MARCH, AND ITS MEANING

March is the first spring month. All the winter here in the south we have had touches of spring, and they were especially marked during February, but March marks the beginning of the new-life season according to the calendar, although we believe that further North it is April before Spring begins to peep out timidly from beneath its snow.

Spring is magic and it has a call that neither nature nor man ignores. The call to nature is to grow and the call to man is to build. The age-old impulse now rises in the soul of man, just as the sap rises in the great vegetable world. This will be a year of tremendous activities, and March and April will see this great country-wide volume of building not only definitely launched but under full headway.—Industrial Index.

AN IMPORTANT WORK

Senator Fletcher is a member of the committee on reforestation of the senate, which is now in Florida, beginning its investigations with reference to formulating a national policy for insuring a permanent supply of lumber. The committee is to study plans for conserving the present supply and promoting future growth of timber. Its present trip, which will occupy the month of March, will include Florida, Mississippi and Louisiana. In the fall, the committee will visit New England and then tour the West.

Other members of the committee are Senators McNary, of Oregon; Couzens, of Michigan; Moses, of New Hampshire, and Harrison, of Mississippi.

In Florida the committee will study the condition of the cut-over pine lands with a view to reforestation of the millions of acres found in this section of the country. Fire is the chief obstacle to reforestation and it is hoped to arrive at a plan by which the federal government can cooperate with the states in protecting forests from this menace. The destruction of timber and the waste of forest products will be carefully considered by the committee for the purpose of making recommendations for reducing this loss.

It is regrettable that the committee will not come farther south than Jacksonville, the plan being to go from that city to Pensacola and thence to New Orleans.—Tampa Tribune.

"HIDING" MONEY

Atlanta Constitution: The man who buried his money forgot to "blaze" the tree over it and spent the balance of his life in digging around in the hope of locating it, has left others of his type who don't seem to know the safety road to the town bank.

That is why we occasionally see such hitemas as the following in the city and country newspapers:

"A farmer near Lexington, Ga., had been depositing his savings for a long time in a coffee pot 'bank.' He kept this coffee pot hid in his seed house. In the several years he had put away $5,500. The other day the owner of this 'bank' went to put away a little more to his long savings when he found it empty. Some one had located his tin 'bank' and got into it without the use of any explosives.

The hard earned savings of that unwise farmer came so easy to the robber that he must have felt "ashamed to take the money!"

But $5,500 gained by turning a coffee pot upside down into a convenient little sack was too great a temptation for a robber with an easy conscience to resist. It must have seemed "providentially" placed there for anyone who needed it!

But there are people who won't learn the right banking lessons; who continue to "secrete" money in Bibles, and old clocks, and sugar bowls, and under dusty carpets—if indeed they don't bury it somewhere in the dark o' the moon!

Yet every town where any fair proportion of business is transacted, has its bank, offering inducements of interest and safety to the thrifty ones who take early thought of the probable "rainy day." The town bank makes money grow and keeps it in circulation, so that not only the individual depositor but the whole community is benefited. And it gives the greatest security for the savings of those who are provident of the future.

BANKS NOW REALIZE VALUE OF ADVERTISING

Twenty years ago banks were merely spasmodic advertisers. In many of the towns and cities in all sections of the country where there were little advertisements carried more to win the favor of the publisher—sometimes to "help the publishers because something had to be done to keep him alive, and it would never do to have a town without a paper of some sort"—and sometimes to hold a whip hand over the publication so that adverse news regarding the financial institution might be "kept out of the paper."

All such things have been changed. Progressive banking institutions realize that it is as fully essential to carry up-to-date announcements in the daily and weekly papers and magazines as it is for the grocer or the clothing store or the garage or the druggist. No longer is the pittance paid merely "to help keep the paper alive," but large advertisements are placed at frequently expensive prices because it is a matter of business. Today there is not a progressive city where banking institutions as well as the drug stores do not carry well devised and attractive advertisements in every issue of what may be deemed the most-read and most reliable paper in the community. It has been found that such advertising draws to the establishment a larger supply of business.

Eleven years ago Palm Beach county had one bank, and its advertising appropriation was about thirty dollars each week. Today there are eleven banks in a county smaller than it was at that time, with an aggregate advertising appropriation of not less than five hundred dollars each week; and each year the publicity covers more space and costs the establishments more money. Far-seeing directors would not continue these expenditures unless it was believed the investments paid them. One-pare advertisements in papers in the several largest cities in Florida cost a considerable sum, yet these are seen at so frequent intervals as to incite no expressions of wonderment among those who are constant readers. Last week's issue of the Tourist's Magazine at St. Petersburg carried four full pages of advertisements for the several institutions, and these at rates which but a few years since would have been deemed "throwing money away."

Two lines of business can well always increase their profits. The bank and the drug store are two institutions always found in the line of progression, for the proper exploitation is bound to bring them even larger increases than other lines; and in evagought with a carefulness which is visible increase of publicity being being marked with good results. Each free propaganda, as each is quoted to institution is the recipient of much those intending to become new residents of a community, because no person cares to locate where institutions of those varieties are in the least faulty or weak. And constant emphasis given through legitimate advertising is unforgettable proof of the excellent condition and accuracy which each possesses.—Palatka News.

INCOME TAX SUIT FOR OVER MILLION DOLLARS START'D

(By The Associated Press) NEW YORK, March 21.—A casual conversation between passengers in a western pullman car a year ago, which was overheard by a federal revenue agent led to an investigation which resulted yesterday in the filing in the federal district court of an equity income and excess profits tax suit for $1,790,842.44, with interest, from forty-five individuals and corporations in the United States and Canada. The defendants were stockholders in the Warren Realty and Improvement Company of Arizona, which Assistant Federal Attorney House said today was sold in April, 1917, for $2,202,000. The government claimed the properties, largely Arizona copper mine claims, were acquired for a little more than $500,000 and that the company's 1917 tax return failed properly to show the profit resulting from the sale.

Discovery of the alleged tax fraud, the government attorney declared, was made by a field agent of the internal revenue service, who, during the course of a conversation in a western pullman car, overheard details of the sale of the Arizona company and made a report which formed the basis of the subsequent inquiry. The investigation led, Mr. House said, to Arizona, Washington and other states and cities.

The government's suit is brought against the mine stockholders on the theory that the amounts received by them were trust funds which the government may follow in order to recover the tax due it. Mr. House declared.

According to the complaint, the Warren company failed entirely to include the profits resulting from the sale of its properties in its 1917 income. The tax return filed by the corporation for that year showed a total deficit for the year's operations of $9,422.71. The complaint alleged that returns filed by the corporation was misleading and false in that the net income of the company for the calendar year 1917, was the sum of $1,498,633.03.

The government's compilation of the tax due, as given in the complaint, states the corporation's taxable profits for 1917 was $1,988,633.03, and its invested capital $259,633.21. The total excess profits tax, as figured by the government is $66,918.31, and the income tax $38,502.88, making the total tax $85,421.22. To this there has been added for the corporation's failure properly to return its income a penalty of 100 per cent making the total amount due for $1,790,842.44.

Mr. House declared yesterday that the defendants are scattered in twenty-four states.

SERIOUS DAMAGE TO CITRUS CROP IS NOT EXPECTED IN FLORIDA

Officials of the Florida Citrus Exchange held last night there was little cause for growers to become alarmed at the approach of lower temperatures forecast by the local weather bureau. "So long as the trees are not completely defoliated by the colder temperatures," said one official, "whatever damage results to the early bloom might be made up by the late bloom." Florida's trees, it was pointed out.

could lose much of the bloom now apparent and still not greatly affect the crop. The fact is, it was suggested, the bloom on early trees is exceedingly heavy and the trees would lose a good part of it anyway. If any damage occurs probably the very early variety of fruit would be affected and this is said to form only a small fraction of the annual crop.—Tampa Tribune.

THE HERALD DOES RUSH JOB PRINTING

The experienced motorist today is concerned mostly about the mechanical design of the car he intends to buy. Useless ornamentation has been eliminated from the GRAY, but no expense has been spared or no detail neglected in perfecting the mechanism. The remarkable gasoline consumption record established officially by the sanction of the American Automobile Association, by the Gray of 33.3 miles is due to its splendid designing and fine engineering. As near a straight line drive as is possible has been incorporated in the GRAY. There is a minimum loss of power from friction and consequently a smaller quantity of gasoline is required to drive a given distance. The low first cost, low operating cost and reliable motor, these are features that are pleasing GRAY drivers. Many GRAY drivers tell us they have spent nothing in driving 5,000 miles except for gasoline and oil. Every GRAY has mechanical features that assure big mileage. Its engine is so perfectly balanced, so finely machined throughout, that it gets the maximum power from gasoline. The car is so well designed and has such frictionless bearing that a five-year-old child can roll the touring car along the pavement. This easy operation, with its reserve power, assures economical operation to its owner.

CONSTITUTIONAL GOVERNMENT HAS BEEN SUPPLEMENTED HERE BY POPULAR WILL AND PREJUDICE

Despotism of the Proletariat Says Judge Brown is Responsible

MIAMI, Fla., March 21.—Asserting that constitutional government in this country has been supplanted by a government of "popular will, passion, fanaticism and prejudice," a despotism of the proletariat, Judge Jefferson N. Brown, of the Florida Supreme court, declared in an address before the Florida Bar Association meeting here yesterday, that he would unhesitatingly choose, if given the choice, "a single despot to the despotism of the majority."

"Glancing over history," he continued, "I see the dictatorship of Alexander the Great, of Julius Caesar, of Napoleon, of Porfirio Diaz, and I see in their dominions, a people happy, contented, proud of their government; nations where property rights were respected, and where the people enjoyed more personal liberty than we are allowed in our own country."

"On the other hand, when I consider the dictatorship of the proletariat, I see in the days of the Red Republic in France, where heads of men and women, old and young, prince and subjects, priest and disciple, fell in the basket like autumnal leaves in the brooks of Yellombrosa; I see, too, the most appalling example of popular government unchecked by constitutional guarantees in Bolshevik Russia.

"More blood has flowed in five years under the benevolent and benign government of the people by the people, in Russia, than was shed in all the revolutions in Mexico during the dictatorship of Porfirio Diaz."

Three major causes are responsible for the change in government in this country, Judge Brown stated: "The Civil War; the radical amendments to the constitution of the United States beginning with the 14th; the World War; and the doctrine of omnipotence and absolutism in the lawmaking branch of state governments. The latter doctrine is as old as despotism itself, but has been sugar-coated by the adoption of a term less than a hundred years old—The Police Power."

He apprehended that some of his audience might think his concern for the "future of constitutional government" unwarranted, "or at least exaggerated," and said that he wished he could "be rid of my convictions, and bring myself to believe that our governments are administered with the same regard to constitutional guarantees of personal liberty, as they were prior to the Civil War. But when I find a doctrine, espoused by the people, acted upon by the legislature, approved by publicists, and sanctioned by the courts, that whatever popular fancy or popular prejudice demands, may be written into law and that constitutional restrictions, and declarations in bills of rights, are impotent to restrain them, I have no hesitancy in saying that we have substituted for constitutionally restrained legislation, the dictatorship of the proletariat."

The justice declared that "public opinion, public fancy, public fanaticism, public morality, if you please, is the cornerstone upon which any law regulating personal liberty can be constructed, unmoved, unshaken by constitutional guarantees. This doctrine says: 'It is within the power of the legislature to pass any law regulating personal liberty that is in the interest of public health, public safety, comfort, welfare, convenience, happiness, peace and what not,' and from that doctrine it follows that any law demanded by public opinion may be enacted and enforced—constitutional restrictions to the contrary notwithstanding."

"The absolutism that was exercised for ages in the despotisms of Europe, Asia and Africa, our forefathers sought to curb and restrain by written constitutions," Judge Brown declared, "but the spirit of despotism, so dear to the governing class, became an obsession with the people when government was lodged in their hands, and they took the salutary doctrine, that for the protection of public health, public morals and public safety, laws might be enacted that were not in conflict with constitutional guarantees and extended it to us to place such laws beyond constitutional restraint."

Head of War Finance Corporation to Tour Florida

WASHINGTON, March 20.—Fred Starek, acting managing director of the war finance corporation, left Washington last night for an inspection of the corporation's offices throughout the southern states and as far west as Mexico. He will traverse territory in which the corporation has loaned millions of dollars to aid the cotton, rice and cattle industries, and will explain to local officials the provisions of the new agricultural credit law.

During this trip, Mr. Starek, who is a close personal friend of President Harding, will confer with the president in Florida. He was an active member of the Harding pre-convention organization in 1920 and is considered likely that during the conference in Florida the prospects of the coming presidential campaign will be talked over.

Before his departure Mr. Starek arranged to use both army and navy airplanes in his trip westward from Florida. Special permission was given for him for that purpose by acting secretaries Davis and Roosevelt.

Mr. Carr is also an active member of the Festival of the States Municipal Committee which is staging the big annual winter show in St. Petersburg, the same week as the Rotary Convention. The Festival of the states will be March 19th to 22nd inclusive and Rotary Convention the 23rd and 24th, the two days immediately following.

In fact the entire week of March 19th to 24th will be a big one in St. Petersburg. The brilliant production of the opera "Pinafore" will be Monday and Tuesday. The big state's parade, known all over the country, will occur on Wednesday. Aquatic sports on the waterfront occur Thursday and fire works Thursday night. Then comes the Rotary Convention on Friday and Saturday with two full days of entertainment, constructive Rotary sessions and genial St. Petersburg hospitality. The president of the St. Petersburg

Rotary Club is finding time for all of this in addition to his numerous other duties. He is the publisher of the St. Petersburg Times, chairman of the City School Board, and an officer or director in a dozen other organizations in the city. In addition to his business duties he finds time to do a little literary work and the charming operetta by the Rotary children to be presented here during the convention is the result of some clever literary collaboration between Charles Carr and Frank Jonesburg, a Boston Rotarian now in St. Petersburg.

Ralph King Will Take on Three of Sanford Locals and Promises to Throw Them One at a Time

Ralph King, a very clever wrestler, arrived in Sanford a short time ago to make arrangements for a high class exhibition that he will pull at Lake Mary Thursday night, at the Skating Rink. King, noted as a wing plenty of speed, science and cleverness, and with a wonderful record issued a challenge to Seminole county's best and three Sanford boys, Lee Se, E. R. Kelly and Collie Biggers have all accepted his challenge and he has promised to throw them all, one at a time, while these Sanford boys can't be done.

These Sanford boys are all home town wrestlers that are more than willing to take on any amateur at their weight in a wrestling match and they are more than confident that they can hold King for more than the time specified. He expects to throw them, pin their shoulders to the mat, in less than ten minutes.

This event promises a big time for the sport loving fans and after this at a large time is promised in the way of skating, good music, good order and plenty of amusement. The general admission to the wrestling event will be Ring side, $1.00, plus war tax; school boys under 14, 50c plus war tax all the ladies will be admitted free.

All lovers of good clean sport and an evening of general good time will be present at the Skating Rink at Lake Mary, Thursday evening and first doings starts promptly at 8:00 o'clock.

CLEVELAND AND CINCINNATI WILL PLAY AT ORLANDO TOMORROW

For the benefit of the many Sanford fans that are expecting to take in the next big league game close to home, we wish to announce that the Reds and Indians will play in Orlando tomorrow afternoon, the game starting at 3:30.

At the present time, these two teams are even in games won, and the advance dope has it that there will be a battle for blood tomorrow and should be one of the best exhibitions of the season, as both teams mean to win.

For the benefit of those fans that do not want to be delayed at the gate, word has been received here, that tickets can be purchased before the game at Chico's Smoke House, down town.

In a practice game yesterday at Exposition Park, the Yanigans were slaughtered by the regulars to the tune of 15 to 0. Eddie Hock was the star for the Yanigans, getting four nice catches in centerfield. He made a wonderful peg at second to catch a man and from his all round work it looks as if he may get the job as general utility outfielder—that is—if Roush doesn't sign up pretty soon.

With Madge Bellamy and John Wera as the stars and both good ones.

"Lorna Doone" brings out all the exciting scenes alive with all the glorious romance and tingling action of a book.

It's a drama of "Lorna's" rise from a hidden stronghold of the Fighting Doones to the royal courts from which they stole her, love bringing her back to the humble far mof a rhoad sweetheart and a womanhood ro—to danger—to death—and then defeat death.

And we might mention, that after a fine picture, "Love's Redemption" night there will be an extra good medy.

"Quincy Adams Sawyer" is the week-end feature and will be shown Friday and Saturday nights. A Met picture of merit.

SIKI CHALLENGES MCTIGUE

(By The Associated Press)
LONDON, March 21.—Batting Siki, who was defeated by Mike McTigue in Dublin last Saturday night, has challenged McTigue to another bout, according to Sporting Life. The wager mentioned to Siki in his latest challenge is 500 pounds a side, winner to take it all.
McTigue expresses a willingness to accept Siki's challenge, the article says, if the promoter of the fight puts up a guarantee to guarantee the financial part of the agreement.

Cleveland and the Reds will play tomorrow at Orlando for the benefit of the Sanford fans.

And on the way home the largest majority of the fans will stop at Lake Mary to see the athletic exhibition there.

The Indians defeated the Cards at Bradentown yesterday, 6 to 5.

The Reds will leave on a regular road trip after this week. They play the Indians in Lakeland Saturday, St. Augustine Sunday, Daytona Monday, Washington in Tampa Tuesday and back to Orlando to play Washington Wednesday.

The Sanford high school baseball team is out practicing every day under the leadership of Coach Wilkinson. The coach won't state how good a team he expects to have until he sees them working a little more.

Which brings us back to the same old question. Sanford should have a team this year and a place to play. Baseball all around us and nothing doing at home should be and it is to be hoped that that baseball park deal will be closed soon.

Jim Eagan in the Jacksonville Journal says that the ball players hit the ball on the nose, but that later in the season it will be the umpire. He goes further and states that all umpires are married men and are used to taking chances anyway.

SEMINOLE COUNTY GROVE AND FARM NEWS NOTES

B. F. WHITNER, JR., COUNTY AGENT

On Saturday the County Agent can be found in his office in the basement of the Court House. At any other time he may be reached through the office of the Chamber of Commerce. Leave all calls there.

Sanford has had several prominent visitors during the past week or so, who have come to our city and vicinity to look over the trucking industry from one angle or another.

Prof. J. R. Watson, Entomologist at the Experiment Station, Gainesville, was in the city several days, looking over the celery and other crops, especially with regard to the disease, root knot. He was both looking over the results of some control work done during the past year, and helping lay tentative plans for further work during the coming summer.

Mr. J. J. McManus, U. S. Food and Drug Inspector, spent several days here this week examining the celery as we ship it, for injurious spray materials. In the past there has been found some celery in the Northern markets with sufficient arsenical spray material upon it to cause alarm. That celery, however, did not come from Sanford. It was simply through wise look the situation over here, and learn true conditions. Mr. McManus was very much pleased with conditions in general, as he found them in Sanford.

Mr. Ed. L. Ayers, plant disease specialist, also out of Gainesville, spent several days looking over the crops and making observations. Mr. Ayers will probably be a rather frequent visitor from now on. One afternoon after the day's work was done he gave our country club a thorough inspection. He was delighted with it and says that he is going to come back in a day or two on it. Mr. Ayers is taking an active part in helping to develop the Gainesville Country Club.

Mr. A. P. Spencer, Vice Director of the Experiment station and state agent, and the county agent a flying visit, Thursday afternoon and Friday morning. He was called to DeLand to install a temporary agent there, to take the place of County Agent Johnson who is ill with typhoid.

Mr. W. J. Thigpen, when he was in the city on Wednesday, looked over some property and stated that he planned to become a property owner in Sanford. He also decided upon a site upon which to build and cultivate. If he decides to purchase it, his intention is to have it planted until such time as he should decide to build or dispose of it.

TOBACCO ATTRACTS KILL THIRPS OF CITRUS BLOOM
Citrus trees will soon be in full bloom, if not already, over the entire citrus area of Florida. Now, therefore, is the time to combat one of the pests of oranges and other related fruits, says J. R. Watson, entomologist of the Florida Experiment Station.

As a spray for this purpose Professor Watson has recommended the following:
Commercial lime-sulphur solution (32 degrees Baume) 3 quarts.
Black Leaf 40, 1/2 pint.
Water, 50 gallons.

In applying, drive the spray straight into the blossoms with considerable force. It should be applied just as the trees are at the height of bloom. Some growers are spraying at this season for scab on grapefruit. If they will add tobacco extract (Black Leaf 40) to the solution for scab, they will kill the thrips also and thus do two things at once.

Thrips are small, yellowish-brown insects about a twenty-fifth of an inch in length. They feed on the petals and other tender parts of the flower, which causes much of the bloom to drop without setting fruit. Eggs are laid in the tender stem at the base of the fruit and the young thrips, which hatch out from these eggs in three or four days, feed upon the developing fruit and cause smooth, irregular-shaped, sunken spots in the skin. These spots mar the appearance of the fruit and lower its grade.
