Stewart Says

Paying Taxes on Monthly Basis May Prove Easier

By CHARLES J. STEWART
Special Times Columnist

THE United States Internal Revenue Service has announced that it will accept monthly payments for the 1941 tax year. This is a new departure for the Service, which has heretofore insisted that taxes be paid in quarterly installments.

The new plan is being offered as a concession to taxpayers who find it difficult to meet their tax obligations in quarterly payments. It is particularly helpful for those who receive irregular income or who have large expenses in certain months.

The Service says that monthly payments will be accepted for the full year, provided the taxpayer can show that he is unable to pay in quarterly installments. The monthly payments should be made by the 15th day of each month.

AT THE CHURCHES

muting myself $25 monthly for me as I go along, but, when the total war's due, I'll be blamed glad to bill Secretary Morgenthau. Here's your final $25. The rest of it's paid up already.

About August 1 Henry's going to put on sale a big issue of "tax anticipatory notes"—governmental ones. There'll be two classifications. One will be for comparatively ordinary folk in $25, $50 and $100 denominations. They'll be salable monthly up to a $1,500 annual total. The other'll be for phidlers and corporations in denominations from $100 to $10,000, to a $150,000 annual total.

I'm not interested in the second kind. Not in the first kind, either, above the $25 pay-month variety, and I certainly hope I don't have to buy a full 12 months' worth of those—not unless I like my income considerably. Nevertheless, I do propose to invest in a fraction of 12 months' worth of 'em.

The thing seems a small rate of interest, if you hold 'em for two years, but I don't hold mine that long. When next tax-payment-day arrives, I'll return 'em to Secretary Morgenthau, saying, "Here's what Uncle Sam's got coming from me. I'll be strictly according to the law, but I'd like to do so. In fact, the treasury'll be tickled, for it'll have had the money sooner than it would have had it otherwise."

News Item

In hitting on the idea of his "tax anticipatory notes" one thought in the back of Henry's head unquestionably was the advance cooperation of his collection. And from that, though, I think he surmised that our next tax-paying is going to be so awful that it literally will freeze the public's resources when they've "advanced" into it a 1941 installment. Furthermore, he may have had in mind the fact that the anticipatory notes will be available in 1941 or 1942 when the government is, in an effort to raise money, going to

The News Behind the News

What do you find in the newspaper you are holding in your hands?

On the front page, headlines; history bursting into shape before your eyes...

Then, on the inner pages, news you might not at first recognize as such... pages of advertising from your local stores. Pages of merchandise... an assortment of wares so varied and so complete it would take you weeks to inspect it in person!

News? Yes! Not to shake the world, perhaps, but important to matters you care about. The new dress Mary wants for the Prom (here is one illustrated—see you had no idea it would cost so little). Or Junior's new bicycle (you could not very well have guessed that the sporting goods store was having a sale!)

Roosevelt Requests Service Extension; Dangers Are Cited

Nation Will Be Taking Greater Risk Chief Executive Advises Congress President Fears Army Break-up Eliminating Trained Soldiers Is Seen As Tragic Error

WASHINGTON, July 21.—(AP)—Sumner Welles, acting secretary of state, said today the United States had information that Germany is planning new terms of agreement against the remaining independent countries in Europe.

Welles also declared the United States had promised full support to Britain in the event an international incident arose from an alleged attempted Nazi coup in that country and from the order which explains the German minister there.

WASHINGTON, July 21.—(AP)—Declaring America is in "infinitely greater" danger than a year ago, President Roosevelt asked Congress today to authorize the extension of the one year period of active service in the Army of selectees, National Guardsmen and reservists.

Unless the extension is granted, Welles said, the nation will be taking a grave national risk and disintegration of the army will be under way within two months.

He added it would be a "tragic error" to eliminate about one-third of the trained soldiers and three-fourths of the officers.

Roosevelt said he was asking Congress for specific legislation in a specific bill. He said he hoped the legislators would acknowledge the national emergency which has been created and will remain for a specific period or until reversion by the Congress or the President.

The bill, he announced, will authorize Congress an extension of service of selectees would be sent to the Senate probably today, and that it was certain to pass.

Lehmann Tells Of Defense Bond Sale Drive

Civic, Government Leaders Asked To Form Organization

Marl Lehmann, deputy commissioner of the sale of Defense Saving Bonds for Florida, outlined the program of the drive to sell bonds before a group of men and women representing civic clubs, and the County and City governments at the City Hall this morning.

Giving three reasons for buying the bonds, Mr. Lehmann said people would feel they had bought a share in the government, that it would induce persons to save who had never formed such a habit, and would also guard against inflation due to government spending at this time.

Good habits of saving may be developed by people buying saving bonds as people who have never saved before may buy a bond and take an interest in laying something by, Mr. Lehmann said. Children in school may be taught the habit of saving through buying stamps towards a bond.

People are making more money than they will be making 10 years from now when the depression sets in as it has after every war. That hedge against the days of depression is a bond which cash money will certainly come in handy then when we are making less money.

The selling of bonds will also pay the cost of preparing for defense over a period of years. Transcendent spending must be done in the next few months to build the machine of defense and it would be impossible to pay the cost.

The Office of Production Management, forwarding shortage of transportation facilities for new Spring shipments, intends shortly to establish a sub-committee of the pulp and paper defense advisory committee to deal with the problem, OPM officials said today.

State To Start Paving Road 44 In Three Weeks

Crew Is Surveying Link Connecting Lakeshore Drive

W. D. LeVelle, division engineer of the State Road Department at Deland, has advised that the State Road Department will begin the paving of Road 44 from near Mims to the St. Johns River, a distance of nine miles, within two or three weeks.

The Road Department will use its own construction crew in building the road, Mr. LeVelle said. The crew is now on Merritt Island in Brevard county and will finish its work there in two or three weeks, the engineer stated. The workers will be transferred immediately to Road 44.

A crew is still at work surveying rights-of-way from Sanford through Geneva to the St. Johns River, with a view to eventually linking Road 44 with Lakeshore Boulevard. The crew will be maintained here until the work is completed, Mr. LeVelle said.

Completion of the surveyed part of Road 44 has been an objective of the road committee of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce and this district's legislative representatives and senators for a number of years.

England Said Winning War Of Propaganda

V-For-Victory Campaign To Organize Underground Army Called Experiment

LONDON, July 21.—(AP)—A British Broadcasting Company executive asserted today that Britain's V-for-victory campaign to raise the underground army against Germany was the "first pitched propaganda battle of the war" and that the British are "winning it."

The executive, European News Editor N. F. Newsome, said the V-drive is one of a series of experiments to test the readiness of the people of the occupied countries to accept leadership from London.

He added "There will be other things to worry the Germans." British propaganda's V for victory "viktory" opened on full scale Sunday with telling results already in stimulating the German-conquered peoples of the continent in their hopes, if not actual resistance, British authorities said.

Reports said the challenging V symbols of victory and liberty with the slogan "Nedane se" — "We will not give in" — were scrawled on walls and fences throughout Czechoslovakia, and that accompanying acts of sabotage were increasing daily in this first non-German land to be occupied.

Reports from Paris, it was said, told of 6200 V prosecutions by the German authorities there. Posters in which most of the words started with V have been scattered and pasted throughout the city, it was said while at Bayonne the letter had mysteriously appeared on German automobiles.

Mobilization of the V army against Nazi Germany has been a complete success, British mysterious radio announcer, Colonel Britton, declared in a broadcast directed to all German-occupied countries.

Sanford Golfers Bow To Orlando Team 19 1/2 To 16 1/2

Sanford's drive for cast-off aluminum, which will be used to help remedy a temporary shortage in the nation's defense supply, officially got under way today with two bins placed downtown to receive the metal.

One of the bins is located in front of the Post Office and another has been placed by the Sanford Atlantic National Bank.

Harris Anderson, who has been named chairman of the aluminum drive by J. L. Ingley, head of the Seminole County Defense Council, said a third receiving bin will be set up later.

Charles Morrison, manager of the Bits Theater, announced plans for a children's aluminum matinee on Wednesday afternoon, when any child under the age of 14 will be admitted by presenting an aluminum tin.

A total of 1,026 pounds of fish was caught by the party of 12, including 23 red snappers weighing 224 pounds. Besides the grouper, 240 pounds of other species were caught.

An ardent fisherman for many years, Mr. Crawford admitted he was one of the best anglers in the area. He said the fish was brought to the boat by Ben Crawford and he landed it in the boat.

Germans Say Entire Division Of 15,000 Captured In Mogilev Sector

Weather Hampers Nazi Blitzkrieg Losses Inflicted Behind German Lines By Guerilla Bands

The Germans asserted today that Adolf Hitler's invasion armies had annihilated an entire Soviet division—about 15,000 troops, in fighting around Mogilev, on the Dnepr River front guarding Moscow while the Russians reported heavy carnage was inflicted on the Nazis in the 30-day-old struggle.

Moscow reported violent overnight battles on the north, central, and south warfronts, and indicated the three Nazi drives pointed at Moscow, Leningrad and Kiev seem effectually stalled.

Hitler's field headquarters asserted the German forces still were pushing ahead, though extremely bad weather was said to be hampering their blitzkrieg style of assault.

A Red Army bulletin said marauding Soviet guerrilla bands behind the German lines were inflicting "heavy losses on the enemy."

In the war in the air, R. A. F. planes swarmed across the English Channel in broad daylight and pounded industrial centers in Nazi-held France, after smothering overnight the German Rhineland and German-occupied Netherlands.

Red Army troops were reported earlier today holding grimly to their positions, protecting the vital approaches to Moscow, Leningrad and Kiev, while Soviet guerrillas took an increasing toll of German invaders in savage fighting behind the lengthening Nazi lines.

The German High Command said merely that operations were "continuing according to plan," and military commentators gave the impression that the Germans were successfully splitting up the Red Army into blocks for steady annihilation.

The Germans and Russians even disagreed on the weather. The Nazis told of battle in swirling dust clouds from the Battle to the Black Sea, while the Russians said it had been raining for three days on the front.

Half Trained

Some time today President Roosevelt will send a message to Congress asking that selectees, reservists and National Guardsmen be kept in service for the duration of the emergency.

If Congress fails to act, our present army of nearly a million and a half men will be disintegrated by the end of summer and the places of perhaps 75 percent of them will be filled by new and untrained troops.

If any greater folly could be conceived in the light of present world conditions than the deliberate destruction, by the failure of our own Congress to act, of the army we have built up during the past year, it has not been perpetrated by any of the other slow-thinking democracies which have thus far committed suicide since the Nazi storm troopers went on the warpath some time ago.

Other armies have been destroyed, to be sure. The forces of Norway and Denmark were eaten away by traitors from within. The Belgian and Dutch armies were cut to pieces and captured by the Germans in a few short days. The army of France, until then known as the finest army in the world, was obliterated in a few weeks by Hitler's divisions and dive bombers. But in not a single instance among all the nations which have been crushed upon Hitler's iron heel has any nation been so short-sighted and inept in political leadership as to destroy its own army.

Most of the selectees are just now completing their preliminary training in the school of a soldier. They are in no sense of the word fully trained troops ready to go into battle. Most of them have never even seen the equipment which they are expected to operate in the event of war under the trying conditions of shell fire and bombing attacks. Most of them have never participated in battle maneuvers involving more than a single division.

It has been said that in Germany it takes three years to train a soldier. It may be that the natural aptitude of American men for machines, marksmanship and physical endurance will enable Uncle Sam to do the job in considerably less time than that. Bryan once said that in the event of attack a million men would spring to arms overnight, but offsetting this frontier philosophy of America's fighting capacity is the rigid training and the iron discipline of the German military machine.

No one can be sure whether this nation will have to use its armed forces any time in the near future or not, but we cannot afford to take the chance of sending raw recruits or partially trained men into battle against the veteran soldiers of Europe and Asia. If events so develop that we are forced into a war, our men must be as well trained as those of the enemy if we are to escape enormous casualties and perhaps national disaster.

Those who argue in favor of sending the boys home now that they are half trained, are pursuing a policy dangerously inimical to the best interests of the boys themselves.

Pointing out that if the time ever comes when United States government stamps and bonds are not worth what they cost, Mr. Lehmann declared that Uncle Sam's currency itself wouldn't be any good, and he recalled a recent statement of the late Jan Paderewski who said, "Buy a share in America—the safest investment in the world."

The United States is now making remarkable progress in building a great war machine and is planning to pay for it in three ways: by bonds sold to large financial houses which are co-operating 100 percent having ever-subscribed a recent issue 12 times; by taxation, but if taxes did it all the burden would be borne by the people through the sale of stamps and bonds for a little as 10 cents each.

Mr. Lehmann was introduced by Geo. A. Speer, program chairman, as a former secretary of the Senate County Chamber of Commerce and present secretary of the Lake County Chamber of Commerce loaned to the government for this defense work. President E. W. Dupre presided over the meeting.

Visitors included Frank B. Sogers and Al Mooneyhan of Orlando.

War Maneuvers To Be Most Realistic

WASHINGTON, July 21.—(AP)—Detailed plans for the forthcoming week war of 500,000 troops in Louisiana, the War Department said Sunday that the field maneuvers would be the most realistic as well as the most extensive in American military history.

In actual warfare, correspondents, radio men and photographers with one of the two major opposing forces will be subject to capture by the other. Bombs and gas are expected to be still much in evidence but the War Department contended there would be no loss of military efficiency.

State To Start Paving Road 44 In Three Weeks

This project will complete the paving of the road from Mt. Dora, where it joins State Road 2, to Sanford, where it joins State Road 3, and to the East Coast at Mims, where it connects with U. S. 1.

There is still a part of the road where the paving is not in such good shape," Mr. Higgins said, "and the State Road Department is making surveys of this section for its improvement."

(Continued from Page One) through taxes immediately collected. The burden would be more than we could carry. By paying the money back in 10 years, through payment on the bonds, will give the government time to collect taxes in equal amounts over a period of years.

Organization of the county in the drive to sell bonds was outlined by Mr. Lehmann and he advised the group present to meet at some early date to elect officers and organize committees. The sale of bonds is to be pushed by the sale of stamps in schools, voluntary salary allotment of employees and buying of bonds by business, retail, or civic organizations. Cities and counties may invest sinking funds in the bonds so they will draw interest, Mr. Lehmann explained.

Those attending the meeting were Mrs. A. M. Phillips, defense chairman of the Woman's Club; Mrs. M. E. Smith of the Pilot Club; Vivian A. Anxiety Expressed Over Pope's Health

VATICAN CITY, June 21.—(AP)—Informed Vatican circles Sunday night expressed anxiety over the health of Pope Pius XII who for a week has been under the constant care of his personal physician, Dr. Galvani, said to nervous exhaustion.

Vatican informants said that the pontiff's physical condition has been undermined by his constant praying for peace and his deep concern over the sufferings caused by the war.

His nervous exhaustion, they said, threatens to become acute unless he follows more closely the advice of his doctor.

Sabotage Against Nazis Is Sought

LONDON, July 21.—(AP)—The Moscow radio was heard Sunday appealing to Serbs in the German language to stand up against "the German intruders . . . on any damage you can . . . detail trains . . . blow up bridges . . . destroy factories."

The Serbs formed part of the nation of Yugoslavia, now almost completely divided.

"The railway men," said the radio, "do not get out too much cut telephone communications and do not allow the Germans to use all your handwork and labor."

Lakeland Will Spend Million On Airport

Pointing out that if the time ever comes when United States government stamps and bonds are not worth what they cost, Mr. Lehmann declared that Uncle Sam's currency itself wouldn't be any good, and he recalled a recent statement of the late Jan Paderewski who said, "Buy a share in America—the safest investment in the world."

The United States is now making remarkable progress in building a great war machine and is planning to pay for it in three ways: by bonds sold to large financial houses which are co-operating 100 percent having ever-subscribed a recent issue 12 times; by taxation, but if taxes did it all the burden would be borne by the people through the sale of stamps and bonds for a little as 10 cents each.

Mr. Lehmann was introduced by Geo. A. Speer, program chairman, as a former secretary of the Senate County Chamber of Commerce and present secretary of the Lake County Chamber of Commerce loaned to the government for this defense work. President E. W. Dupre presided over the meeting.

Visitors included Frank B. Sogers and Al Mooneyhan of Orlando.

This project will complete the paving of the road from Mt. Dora, where it joins State Road 2, to Sanford, where it joins State Road 3, and to the East Coast at Mims, where it connects with U. S. 1.

There is still a part of the road where the paving is not in such good shape," Mr. Higgins said, "and the State Road Department is making surveys of this section for its improvement."

Organization of the county in the drive to sell bonds was outlined by Mr. Lehmann and he advised the group present to meet at some early date to elect officers and organize committees. The sale of bonds is to be pushed by the sale of stamps in schools, voluntary salary allotment of employees and buying of bonds by business, retail, or civic organizations. Cities and counties may invest sinking funds in the bonds so they will draw interest, Mr. Lehmann explained.

Genevieve Batten, Robert Smith Wed

Miss Genevieve Batten of Tampa became the bride of Robert E. Smith yesterday afternoon in a ceremony taking place at the First Baptist church in Tampa with the Rev. Adiel J. Moscrief, Jr., officiating.

Baskets of garden flowers in rainbow coloring were arranged against a background of greenery for decoration of the church.

Preceding the ceremony, a program of nuptial music was presented by Miss Nancy Allen, organist, and Ben Darlington, vocalist.

The bride entered with her father, J. W. Batten, by whom she was given in marriage. Her wedding gown was a white tulle affair, made with a diaphanous skirt which extended into a long train. The underside of the train was edged with scallops of Chantilly lace and the lace scallops were repeated where the skirt joined the pin-tucked, fitted bodice. Narrower lace and seed pearls outlined the neck and the edges of the puffed sleeves. Her veil fell from a scalloped coronet held with orange blossoms and she carried an arm bouquet of bride's roses and tuberoses.

Mrs. C. A. Thornton, who was the bride's only attendant, wore a pale blue chiffon gown made with full skirt. Bodice and sleeves were shirred on as to fall in a soft draped effect. She carried a bouquet of pink roses and pink asters and wore a garland of the same flowers as a head dress.

Ed Stinsonburg of Sanford, attended Mr. Smith as best man and Dick Gable was usher.

After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of Mr. Smith's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Everett J. Smith, of 606 East Buffalo Avenue. The bride's sister, Mrs. James Johnson, and Miss Catherine Caldwell, of Barco, acted as bridesmaids in entertaining the guests.

The dining table appointments were in an all-white theme featuring a centerpiece of white asters and white bridal roses.

After the reception Mr. and Mrs. Smith left for Sanford. Mrs. Smith traveled in a navy triple sheer ensemble. The dress was made with a full skirt, fitted bodice and bishop sleeves. Its only trim was a large sailor collar of all-over embroidery finished with a ruffle of the same material. The coat was a double-breasted tailored model fastened with buttons. Navy and white accessories and a corsage of pink roses completed her costume.

Mrs. Smith was born in Gradyville, Ga., reared in Pierce and has made her home in Tampa for the last four years. She attended Brewster Vocational school and the Business University in Tampa. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Batten, of 2524 Tampa Street.

Mr. Smith is a native of Philadelphia but was reared in Tampa by his uncle and aunt. Mr. and Mrs. Smith are both graduates of Hillsborough high school and the University of Florida where he became a member of the Sigma Delta Chi fraternity. For the past year he has been associated with the Sanford Herald as a reporter. The couple will live in the Rose Court Apartments.

Ben Hogan Takes Chicago Open In Hot Final Round

CHICAGO, July 21.—(AP)—Little Ben Hogan, in a furious final round battle which saw him outpunch National Open Champion Craig Wood, captured the 1941 Chicago Open Golf Championship today with a 72-hole total of 274 strokes, 10 under par for the Elmhurst Country Club course.

Wood played today like the champion he is, carding two brilliant rounds of 67-67, each four under par for a 72-hole total of 276. But it wasn't good enough to withstand the iron-nerved play of the 140-pound Hogan, who fired a pair of fine 69's into the day's 36-hole duel to the finish.

A huge gallery of more than 10,000 spectators, some of whom were perched on the bleachers, watched Hogan's first to Hogan, then back

Sugar Robinson To Face First Real Ring Test

PHILADELPHIA, July 21.—(AP)—Ray "Sugar" Robinson, the undefeated "Joe Louis" of the lightweights, faces his first real test at Shibe Park tonight when he climbs into the ring against the NBA champion, Sammy Angott, in a 10-round non-title bout.

Robinson, young New York negro who has flattened 17 of his 20 professional opponents, rules a 2 to 1 favorite among the betting boys during the last week, but Angott, who lives in Washington, Pa., and fights out of Louisville, Ky., has confidently asserted he is not risking a title bout with Lew Jenkins merely for pleasure.

"No one has ever hurt Angott," explained the champion's manager, Charlie Jones. "He can beat any lightweight around. Robinson's no better than the others. If we sit around and wait for the Jenkins bout in September, Sam'll go stale. This seemed like a good money match so we took it. Those 2 to 1 odds against my boy are silly."

On the basis of advance sales Promoter Herman Taylor anticipates a crowd of 20,000 and a gross gate of $40,000. The fight will start at 9:00 P. M. (EST) and will be broadcast over a nation-wide radio (NBC) hookup.

Dust Bowl Growing Wheat Again, But Not With Win War Slogan

By ROBERT E. GEIGER
DENVER, July 21.—(AP)—World War No. 2 won't produce a No. 2 dust bowl in the great plains region if Department of Agriculture officials can prevent it.

In the first place, says C. H. Wilson, regional director for the Farm Security Administration, there's no "win the war with wheat" slogan now.

That's because there is more wheat in the world today than at any time in history. About 5 1/2 billion bushels are available.

The present American crop is one of the greatest on record and is estimated at 900,000,000 bushels.

Even the old dust bowl is green this year, thanks to unusually favorable weather conditions, and is contributing heavily to the nation's wheat supply.

During the first World War there was an acute shortage of wheat because European production was knocked out and America had to feed its allies.

In this war the world wheat acreage greatly exceeds that of the 1917 era. Canada, for instance, is estimated to have enough surplus wheat on hand, about 840,000,000 bushels, to care for its domestic needs for two years with enough left to provide its normal exports.

When the wheat situation became critical during and after World War I, wheat shopped up to more than $2 a bushel and farmers began breaking virgin western grasslands.

Thousands of acres of new land were planted in wheat. This movement continued after the war.

Government officials explain that after the price of wheat dropped, many of the wheat acreages were abandoned; drought occurred and the soil, unprotected by its seed covering, began to blow.

The Resettlement Administration was created in 1935 to aid the "dust bowlers" and the Farm Security Administration is carrying on this work. The main purpose of the FSA now is to prevent a recurrence of dust bowl conditions.

Besides the record carry-over of world wheat supplies, Wilson says carrying on this work, wheat production shouldn't be increased unnecessarily include these:

1. The farm program, with its ever-normal granary and acreage allotment provisions, has been returned to livestock range, covered with grass and governed by grazing associations to assure that it won't be returned to "cash crop" production.
2. The government is making it attractive for farmers to pro-

Roosevelt Plot Is Charged By Paper

ROME, July 21.—(AP)—Italian Foreign Minister Ciano's newspaper, Il Telegrafo of Leghorn, asserted Sunday that President Roosevelt is plotting to create a western front against the Axis in Spain and Portugal while Germany is involved against Russia.

The accusation, contained in an editorial written by Giovanni Ansaldo, followed the Rome morning's assertion in a Sunday morning English broadcast that President Roosevelt's blacklisting of 1800 South American concerns doing business with the Axis is "an act of belligerency."

WASHINGTON, July 21.—(AP)—The Office of Price Administration Sunday made increases ranging from one to four cents a pound in the price ceiling of various categories of cotton yarn and cloth.

Many protests had been received by Congress from farm representatives and textile interests that existing ceiling—the maximum price at which the products may be sold—were too low.

duce meat, dairy products, eggs, vegetables, and like products of which there is more immediate need. A price floor has been placed under these products at principal markets.

WASHINGTON, July 21.—(AP)—An securities commission report disclosed Sunday that Charles H. Chandler of Atlanta gave away 325 shares of Coca Cola common stock in May. The recipient was not named.

Defense Bond Quiz

Q. I cannot find the word "defense" anywhere on the defense savings stamps I have bought. Are they merely postal savings stamps, or does my money invested in these stamps go into the defense program?

A. The money you use to purchase these stamps goes definitely into the defense program. The stamps bear the words "America on Guard," which indicates that they are an integral part of the defense program.

Q. Are defensible savings stamps registered, and are they transferable?

A. Defense savings stamps are not registered and are not transferable. However, they may be redeemed for cash at post offices or used to purchase Series E defense savings bonds.

Note—To buy defense bonds and stamps, go to the nearest post office or bank, or write to the Treasurer of the United States, Washington, D. C., for an order form.

an extra volume of water at low pressure

Here's a new type of pump which fills a Galleis head by supplying an extra volume of water at low pressure and also provides an ample supply at normal tank pressure. Extremely quiet in operation, the F-M Horizontal Ejector pump has but one moving part. It produces greater water capacity for its motor size than any other design of pump. An ejector jet and tube, built into the suction side of the valve, increase the capacity of the pump and develop a high pressure discharge. A heavily constructed bronze impeller makes the pump less subject to wear from sandy water. Come in today—we will be glad to give you complete details on this F-M Horizontal Ejector Water System.

Construction Of Interstate Oil Lines Authorized

Public And Private Firms Can Condemn Property To Gain Right-Of-Way

WASHINGTON, July 22.—(AP)—The House today completed congressional action on legislation to authorize interstate construction of petroleum pipelines. A compromise accepted by the Senate yesterday was agreed to by the representatives.

Blindfolded, Staff Sergt. Robert W. Shackleton, of Fort Dix, N. J., a selectee from New York City, draws first number from the famed goldfish bowl used in the 1917 and 1940 drafts, and now for the 1941 draft, in Washington, D. C. The first number was 190. Right, is Lieut. Col. Charles R. Morris, of Elizabeth, N. J. Drawing determined order in which 750,000 Americans, just turned 21, shall be conscripted.

Under the legislation, either public or private companies could obtain right-of-way by condemnation to construct needed lines. The Senate yesterday passed by voice vote a compromise "draft property" bill under which President Roosevelt could regulate private property necessary for national defense and at fair compensation, after he had exhausted every other means of obtaining it.

The measure, sponsored by Senator Chandler, Democrat, Kentucky, now goes to the House. It is a moderate version of the War Department's proposal which would have given the President virtually unlimited authority to take over private property when he felt it essential to preparedness.

Final passage came after a long debate which spread to the request of President Roosevelt and the War Department that Congress extend the Army's service of selectees, reservists and National Guardsmen for the duration of the emergency. Non-interventionists protested that this would be a breach of contract between Congress and the trainees—a contention the President rejected.
