

MISSION WEEK IS SUCCESSFUL, METHODISTS SAY

Drive To Raise Funds Among Florida Churches In Recent Campaign Called A Proof Of Interest In The Work

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Feb. 22 (AP)—Nashville leaders of religion who filled pulpits in Florida last week and inaugurated a missionary week in the interest of the cause of missions in the Methodist Episcopal Church South, have returned to mission headquarters here and report and enthusiastic reception in Florida and renewed interest in the present plan of missionary maintenance of the denomination. Of the $40,000 expected from the whole state of Florida, $37,000 was pledged by the congregations of the 20 churches visited by the Nashville Methodists.

Dr. E. L. Russell, chairman of the committee on missionary promotion, expressed the opinion that Florida would raise not less than $20,000 of the million dollar fund for Methodist missions, now being collected throughout the denomination.

The congregation at Bradenton, which was visited by Dr. S. P. Wilson, of Atlanta, not only raised $2,500 but individual members in addition assumed the support of St. West Palm Beach and Trinity four missionaries. Congregations at West Palm Beach and Trinity Church, Miami, raised $2,700 each; the four churches at Del Ray totaled $10,000; while a group of twelve at Fort Lauderdale quickly raised $1,200, said Dr. Russell, indicating the quick response of Florida Methodists.

Dr. Russell said that throughout the church, mounting interest in the cause of missions was evident and that payments on the recent million dollar campaign for missionary maintenance were coming in at the rate of $5,000 a day. "Don't bring home any missionaries" was the keynote of the daily letters, he said, as people learned of the threatened retrenchment on account of small gifts to missions.

Two More Counties Hire Highway Cops

JACKSONVILLE, Feb. 20.—Hardee, in South Florida, and Jefferson, in the western part of the state, are the two most recent counties to acquire highway patrol officers whose business it will be to wage war on road hogs and motorists who persist in refusal to dim their headlights when approaching other cars.

In Jefferson the deputies mounted on motorcycles will serve as general peace officers since traffic on the highways in that county is extremely light as compared with that on Hardee county roads.

In Hardee officers have been placed on the highways as a result of numerous accidents during the last few months, the majority of them due to carelessness and reckless driving.

Wrigley, the chewing gum man, has explained how he built up a business of millions of packages a day.

He has done it by sticking to his one line and advertising it. He spends over a million dollars a year in buying newspaper space to tell the world about 5 cent chewing gum. He has educated people to chew gum and to chew Wrigley's. He did not stop shouting as soon as he attracted attention.

He says you must keep it up or the buyers will forget you. Whether yours is a 5 cent or a $50,000 business keep telling about it.

Countess Cathcart And Her Counsel

ENGLISH WOMAN MAY BE ABLE TO STAY IN AMERICA

Friends of Countess Cathcart Assert Her Relations With Earl Do Not Constitute Crime In South Africa
NEW YORK, Feb. 23.—(AP)—Friends of the Countess of Cathcart new regard the mystery surrounding her sudden admission to the United States on a 10-day leave as indicative that she will be able to remain as long as she likes. They base their belief on the contention that the acts she admitted to in South Africa are not considered a crime in this country.

Her attorney, Arthur Garfield Hays, wired Secretary of Labor Davis, last night, asking a rehearing. Her admission that she had been in South Africa during the years 1922 and 1923 cannot be an admission of crime or moral turpitude. Mr. Hays contends, because adultery is not a crime in South Africa.

The Countess committed an act but a crime, he wired Mr. Davis. He said that the general term of "moral turpitude" is a term of uncertain meaning and should not be used in a legal proceeding. He urged that the case be heard by the United States court at New York.

Commissioner of Immigration Henry H. Curren, in a statement submitted to Congress to change the law under which the Countess was excluded. He would have the law name specific crimes, in order to avoid the general term of "moral turpitude. Moral turpitude, he says, is just about as clear as mud.

He continued that the Countess of Cathcart, he said, has not been charged with any crime. He said that she had been excluded on the ground of moral turpitude. He said that the Countess of Cathcart had been excluded on the ground of moral turpitude. He said that the Countess of Cathcart had been excluded on the ground of moral turpitude.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 23.—(AP)—The Supreme Court today denied a writ of habeas corpus for the Countess of Cathcart. The court held that the Countess's admission to the United States on a 10-day leave was not a crime.

BLACKHAND NOTE CAUSES GIGLI TO LEAVE DETROIT

Italian Tenor Flees From City Early This Morning Without Filing An Engagement There This Evening
DETROIT, Feb. 23.—(AP)—After spending an evening under police guard in a suite at a hotel here, Beniamino Gigli, Italian tenor, left for Buffalo shortly after 12 o'clock this morning without filing a concert engagement here tonight. The sudden departure of the singer was said to be due to blackmail threats made against him.

Shortly before the arrival of Gigli and his party from Chicago early last night, police received a typewritten note signed "true friends of Italy," which read: "Threatened to slash throat. If Gigli wants to adorn a slub in the morgue let him try to sing in Detroit. We will cut this carny's throat."

Detectives from the "black hand" squad met the singer and his party at the train and accompanied him to the hotel, where they guarded him until shortly after midnight. Every effort was made to keep the communication from the singer, but the police guard gave the secret away and he wrote an open note which he left with the hotel management.

Leaving the hotel, Gigli and his party went to the railroad station and boarded a pullman car which is attached to the Chicago-Buffalo train here. The note left at the hotel said: "According to the statement made to my secretary by Mrs. Isobel Hurst, my local manager, that an anonymous letter was received threatening personal injury to me upon my concert appearance here Tuesday night, I have decided to cancel same, with sorrow to disappoint my beloved Detroit public. But the nervous reaction would prevent my doing a truly artistic performance."

Mrs. Hurst, when notified early today of the singer's action, said she had heard nothing of Gigli's leaving, but added: "I don't blame Gigli for going in the face of those threats."

CONGRESS WILL BE ASKED FOR NEW DRY LAW

Substitution of a Modified Prohibition System Urged Following 2nd "Face The Facts" Meeting At Capitol
Congressmen Put On Body To Draft Bill
Senator Edwards Says Public Now "Ready And Willing To Follow Our Leadership"

WASHINGTON, Feb. 23.—(AP)—Substitution of a modified prohibition system, legalizing light wine and beer, for the present Volstead act, is to be asked of Congress.

Recommendations incorporating sentiment expressed at the second "face the facts" conference, concluded Monday by the association against the prohibition act, will be drawn and presented to Congress by a committee of 21 prominent members selected by the conference. The committee was appointed after a series of meetings, including members of Congress, and men and women well known in business and club life and the clergy, and a prohibition under the Volstead act is a failure.

The committee are: Charles B. Anderson, U. S. Senator from Louisiana; Democrat; Resenante Hill, Republican of Maryland; Benedict Crowell of Cleveland, former assistant secretary of the War Department; first vice president of the American Federation of Labor; P. S. Dupont of Wilmington, Del.; Roger Hughes, the novelist; and a number of other prominent men.

Failed To Receive Ruling
The conference, after meeting at afternoon and night sessions, repeated demands for rewriting of the prohibition law, concluded after the George Washington Hotel, Washington, shells were dropped in patronage and some stores cancelled newspaper advertising because of a dearth of shoppers.

When arrested, Carter, who said he was formerly a farm laborer, possessed a .22 calibre pistol equipped with a silencer, and a leather vest—accoutrements which the popular imagination already has credited to the mysterious slayer.

A speedy trial was promised by County Attorney Beal, who said he would ask the death penalty. "There is no insanity here," said Beal. "He has a low mental, but he is cunning and sharp."

After his capture by a four-man posse led by a railroad section foreman, Carter confessed to the shootings of last week.

Carter asserted he killed W. L. McDewitt and Dr. A. D. Searies because "they made me mad by thinking I could resist." He said he shot Johnson in Council Bluffs "for protection when I thought he would spread an alarm."

2 Patrolmen Are Killed By St. Paul Thug

ST. PAUL, Minn., Feb. 23.—(AP)—Two St. Paul patrolmen were shot by an unidentified gunman in the residential district here early today and when they lay helpless in the street, each was shot through the head.

The slayings came as a climax to a search for robbers who had terrorized the residence district Monday night and early today and who had committed seven hold-ups in three hours.

The slain policemen, John Schultze and Fred A. Poltsch, were patrolling the district in an automobile and had started to investigate a large car when the shooting occurred. Poltsch flashed his light into the machine and was met with gun fire, two bullets hitting him.

As Schultze started to aid his companion, he also was struck. M. Thomas Cameron, living nearby, said she was awakened by the first shots and saw a man walk to the spot where Schultz was lying. The man, she said, held his revolver close to the wounded patrolman's head and fired. He then walked to Poltsch, pressed his revolver close to the dying officer's head and fired again.

PROHIBITION DIRECTOR ARRIVES IN CITY FOR BRIEF STAY
M. O. Dunning Is Impressed With Growth Of City Since Last Visit Here In 1921; Praises Lake Shore Activity

M. O. Dunning, a former Sanford resident, collector of customs and prohibition director for the states of North and South Carolina, Georgia and Florida, arrived here this morning on his private yacht, the "Pilgrim," for a 15 day visit with old friends and for a number of short trips down the east coast on business missions.

Mr. Dunning will make Sanford his headquarters while cruising in Florida waters. Various activities of the coast guard, which he also directs, and the prohibition force's work in this state were discussed by Mr. Dunning in an interview with a representative of The Herald this morning.

He stated that the government was attempting to curb the importation of foreign liquors to such an extent that matters of enforcement in the cities by local officers would be considerably relieved, both from the standpoint of his forces and the law enforcing bodies of the counties and cities.

Impressed With City's Growth
Mr. Dunning, who returns to Sanford after an absence of five years, expressed himself as being well pleased with the many improvements which have been made by the city in the course of the past few years.

"When I left here," he said, "the First National Bank was quartered in the building which now houses the Western Union Telegraph Company, there was very little business activity along the waterfront and all these wonderful modern improvements were not even being planned at that time. I am amazed to note the growth the city has enjoyed."

In addition to scores of fast racers that are expected to thrill the spectators, various events for cutters, outboard motor craft and sailing boats are on the program.

Local Boats Entered
Dr. C. J. Marshall and W. E. White, will both have sail boats entered, and much friendly rivalry and interest is reported to be entered on the sleep race that Sanford enthusiasts are confident of winning from Jacksonville, Mount Dora and Tampa entries.

Sanford will also be strongly represented in the outboard motor class, Commodore Emory stated, and several speed boats owned by local enthusiasts will attempt to share honors with speedsters from practically every part of city of Florida in addition to numerous out-of-state cities.

The meet will be held under the auspices of the American Power Boat Association, the Mississippi Valley Power Boat Association and the Florida Power Boat Association. Several of the best known commodore and racing enthusiasts in the south will be in Sanford for the event.

Mr. White added, more publicity is expected to derive more publicity from the event. Secretary W. E. White said today, and the editors of both "Motor Boating" and "Rudder" will be on hand.

Many of the leading papers in the state will send special correspondents here to cover the meet. Mr. White added, and Sanford is expected to derive more publicity from the event.

TIA JUANA HIRES PRESS AGENT TO COVER MANY SINS

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the third of a series of articles written by Russell J. Birdwell for NEA Service and The Herald telling of conditions in the Mexican border town of Tia Juana, where two American girls were so mistreated that they and their parents committed suicide. Another article will follow tomorrow.

By RUSSELL J. BIRDWELL, NEA Service Writer.

TIA JUANA, Mexico, Feb. 22.—Mexican officials who are afraid of losing their judicial graft, and cabaret bosses in fear of seeing their "sucker trade" diminished because of unfavorable publicity, have, through the Tia Juana Chamber of Commerce, hired an American press agent and soldier of fortune to try to whitewash the sins of Spantown in the eyes of the world.

To a certain extent this press agent has been successful in making the country at large believe that a number of the dives and saloons have been padlocked and that the town in general has started going to church regularly.

Frederico Palacio, mayor and self-appointed monarch since his righthand man, Chief of Police Zenaido Llanos, has been placed in jail charged with attacking the two American "pet" girls, was one of the originators of the "purity" exploitation campaign.

An Unwanted Photo. He has fallen right in line with all of the plans of the press agent and willingly consented to pose for a newspaper photographer, provided only that the picture be taken showing "some important American man" shaking Palacio's hand and congratulating him on his "clean-up campaign."

This is the only picture that the Mexican powers will permit to be taken by American newspaper photographers. And no cameraman wanted this fake publicity story. The mayor is still willing to pose graciously if anyone will snap him.

And though the Mexican officials here would have everyone believe that their hotbeds of shame are closed, the devil sits in the promoter's box and the play continues to run.

The spots on Tia Juana are still scarlet; the lustreless-eyed creatures in the alley of nameless women still gain their living by mortgaging their souls.

On the date that Mayor Palacio and his henchmen announced that Tia Juana had been "cleansed and purged of all evil," I visited a pariahuana, a Mexican drug pariahuana, with wrecked hulks of men and weary women who have traveled the easiest road, an onion den and a dive that beggars describe.

Tia Juana is wide open because it annually subtracts from American suckers, spendthrifts, Charles and the curious, millions of dollars, of which the Mexican government gets an enormous cut in taxes and local officials get an amount in bribes and graft.

From the saloons, which are mostly owned by Americans, the government receives from $1500 to $10,000 annually; dance girls pay $25 per month, and when the girls are without honor they pay the government $7 weekly for physical examinations.

200 American Girls.

There are more than 200 American girls, ranging in age from 17 to 24, who earn from $30 to $40 weekly by serving as lures to inveigle men into buying drinks.

When men accept the invitations to dance and drink with the rouged, tipped maquerelles, they are charged double for their own drinks and exorbitant prices for the "liquor" served the girls. The girls, of course, are always served colored water to resemble cognac. Thus they never get drunk while on duty.

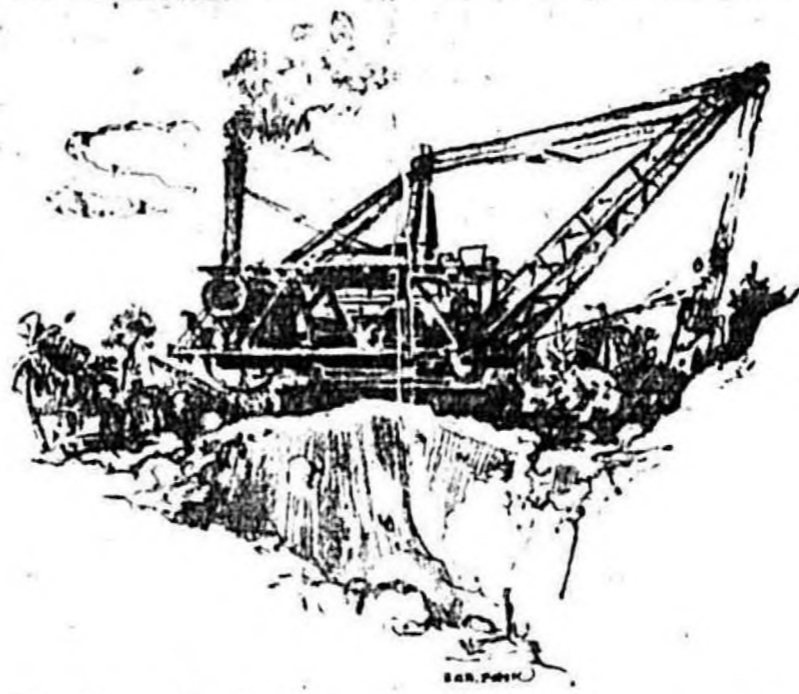

Some of the girls are bad and some are good, though one would never know a decent flower can grow in such a rotten soil. One girl, a former stenographer, told me the money and the risks were greater in this game than in any other work she could find.

Members Of City's Orchestra Are 32nd Degree Masons

GUTHRIE, Okla., Feb. 23. (AP)—Sensations connected with the federal investigation of an alleged conspiracy against the lives and property of wealthy Oage Indians, much of it centering here recently, have painted this little city before the eyes of the nation as a frontier town in which aesthetic achievements are not prominent. Guthrie, however, is the center of one of the unique musical organizations in the world—a symphony orchestra composed entirely of 32nd degree Masons.

A CHILD'S LAUGHTER

All the bells of heaven may ring,
All the wells of earth may spring,
All the winds on earth may bring
All sweet sounds together;
Sweeter far than all things heard,
Hand of harp, tone of bird,
Sound of woods at sundown stirred,
Welling water's winsome word,
Wind in warm sun weather.

One thing yet there is, that none
Knows not well the sweetest one
Hearing ere its chime be done
Heart of man beneath the sun,
Hoped in heaven hereafter;
Soft, distinct, 'and loud' and
Height,
When the soul of all delight
Fills a child's clear laughter.

Golden bells of welcome rolled
Never forth such notes nor told
Hours so blithe in tones so bold
As the radiant mouth of gold
Here that rings forth heaven,
If the golden creaked wren
Were a nightingale—why then
Something new and heard of men
Might be half as sweet when
Laughs a child of seven.

Don't Kill The Goose

The fable of the greedy farmer who killed the goose that lay the golden eggs is possibly well known to every one. But at this time when golden eggs in the form of fat drafts are pouring in upon the celery growers of this community, it would be well for local shippers to reconsider this ancient object lesson against greed and haste.

Sanford celery today is meeting what many declare to be the finest markets prevailing in many years. The demand is good, and prices are unusually high, due largely, it is believed, to the light acreage and generally poor quality of celery in other sections. In their desire to "cash in" on this strong market, there is certain to be a strong temptation on the part of local shippers to pack carelessly and to ship celery not fully matured or properly bleached.

In the past Sanford growers have painstakingly built up a reputation for shipping the finest celery obtainable in the world. Meticulous care has always been exercised in washing and packing and grading celery, and Sanford growers have often been beaten to the markets because of their unvarying policy of shipping only fully matured and attractive looking produce. But it has been this policy which has given Sanford the wonderful reputation it now holds.

The splendid price that our celery is now bringing is due largely to this good quality reputation, which like other reputations, can be shattered in thirty seconds. One erratic crop of poor looking, immature celery shipped to northern markets could destroy a good name years in the making.

Sanford celery growers should take extra precautions at this time to see that nothing but the very finest grade of celery is shipped from this section. The high prices that are being offered warrant this action and the good reputation of this section requires it.

The avaricious grower who ships poor looking celery is doing more to undermine the future of Sanford than it is possible to estimate.

Men With Initiative

For years and years the young man who would succeed has been told that the first essential for success is the ability to do correctly the things he is told to do. He must learn to take orders before he can give them, and he must learn to carry out implicitly and without question the instructions of his superiors, if he would rise to a high place in the business world.

The habit of carrying out orders to the letter is certainly a habit to be cultivated, if the young man is to be taught and properly trained in methods of doing business. Yet with the exception of the army there is no field of activity in which a man may secure any great degree of eminence purely by executing commands. The world is filled with men capable of carrying out orders, and the age who gives primary attention to developing this limited ability will continue to carry out the orders of his superiors until the undertaker carries him out.

Men who can think for themselves are needed today. The man with the ability to see what should be done and then to do it. Modern business needs men capable of doing things correctly without asking how, men with initiative, brains and tact who can administer departmental affairs without bothering those higher up with a multitude of questions. Such men are truly the salt of the business world. They are the ones whose success is assured.

That there is a boom in Florida today would seem an indisputable fact, that this boom has for a background more real reasons for existing than any in the past is probably uncontrovertible. Briefly summarized, these reasons have been fully covered in innumerable magazines and newspaper articles under the following captions: Climate; soil; diversified crops, including truck gardening and citrus fruits; the comparatively short distance from Northern cities to Southern Florida, resulting in easy access for the tourist and giving the farmer preferential freight rates as compared with southern California; easy travel, due to automobiles and good roads; diversification of wealth; and increasing railroad facilities.—Monroe Riddle, of Riddle, Biddle & Henry, Philadelphia, in Manufacturers Record.

DISEASE IS A racial habit that persists largely because of its immemorial tradition. In view of present-day knowledge, it is surprising that people are willing to remain sick when this is largely unnecessary and altogether demoralizing.—Eugene DeMar.

EVERYBODY'S PICTURE GALLERY

CHRISTIAN, SCIENCE MONITOR

AN after the other day went to a picture exhibition and came away in a general consideration of the great American billboard problem. A suggestion that artistic merit should be a factor in determining the legal status of posters. Bill boards, as it subsequently turned out in print, provide a picture gallery for the man in the street, and "those who go to picture shows in the soft lighted, deeply carpeted art shrines, to speak in hushed tones before much-handled, excellent picture, generously provided by advertisers shall not be hung where they destroy enjoyment of the better pictures even more generously provided by nature."
It is not well, it nature has contributed what an art catalogue might call "No. 11-612,736. Birch-wood and Brook in Winter," to hang in front of it "No. 10-612. Portrait of a Lady Who Has Preserved Her Schoolgirl Complexion." Here a reasonable management of Everybody's Gallery would take example from the artist, and consider one picture with another, and its justice to a great and beneficent art, let whose pictures never have any ulterior design on the beholder's pocketbook.

As Brisbane Sees It

She "Stepped Out." She "Lays Her." So Does Malaria. He Invented Barbed Wire. By ARTHUR BRISBANE copyright 1926, by Star Co.

"STEPPING OUT" is a new and effective euphemism in the divorce courts. John Preston Knox, of San Francisco, told the Judge he wanted a divorce "because my wife wanted to step out." She wrote him that he was too slow, he said, and did her "stepping out" with R. C. Die, a professional automobile racer, much less slow than the husband. The "stepping out" being proved the husband got the divorce.

LADY CATHICART, thanks to a habeas corpus writ, stays with us, and the Aquitania sailed for Europe yesterday with one empty cabin that Secretary Davis had engaged to deport the English woman whose "moral past" offends our high standards.

THAT CABIN in the Aquitania is interesting. The lady did not pay for it, as she was to be sent away against her will, and if so, did he engage a private cabin in the Aquitania, first class, because the lady assumed of immortality had a British title?

MANY MOTIERS with children with no past objectionable to our national purity are deported day after day from Ellis Island in the steerage.

Why the discrimination in favor of the charming lady to be sent home because she once eloped with a man not her husband? We seem to mix respect for British rank with our hatred of loose morals.

SECRETARY DAVIS with intentions and moral character of the best, says, "Lady Vera Cathcart, was seeking advertising and has got it, all right." That may be. But Uncle Sam was not seeking advertising, as a very silly person, and nevertheless, "he has got it all right."

DR. SINGER of the Gorgas Memorial Institute says mosquitoes kill every year three million human beings, by spreading germs of malaria in their blood. This loss Mr. Singer estimates at one hundred million dollars a year, rather a low estimate, thirty million dollars a year. Even a small loss of malaria should be worth more than that.

IF THREE million people, or three thousand die in some dramatic way, the government would do something about it. But what happens quietly, following a mosquito bite across slight attention.

NATHAN STRAUSS who has done more to protect child life than any other man said long ago "if one young child were put to death in the United States, not one of these guilty would be executed, and national excitement would know no limit. But a hundred thousand children can be put to death in the United States, and not a single one is punished."

MR. STRAUSS fortunately did pay attention, and out down the death rate among very young children by at least half.

THE PRINCE of Wales takes lessons in the British Empire more intently in the United States. In all the British Empire, Asia, Africa, everywhere, there are three hundred thousand farmers. The Prince urges his government to stamp out the disease.

WE HAVE in America, millions suffering from malaria, which like leprosy, destroys usefulness and causes death. It is in swamps where mosquitoes breed, in the meanwhile using flying machines to "blot" the swamps with a dust made of quinine, and many foreign human beings, would some end the malaria plague in the United States.

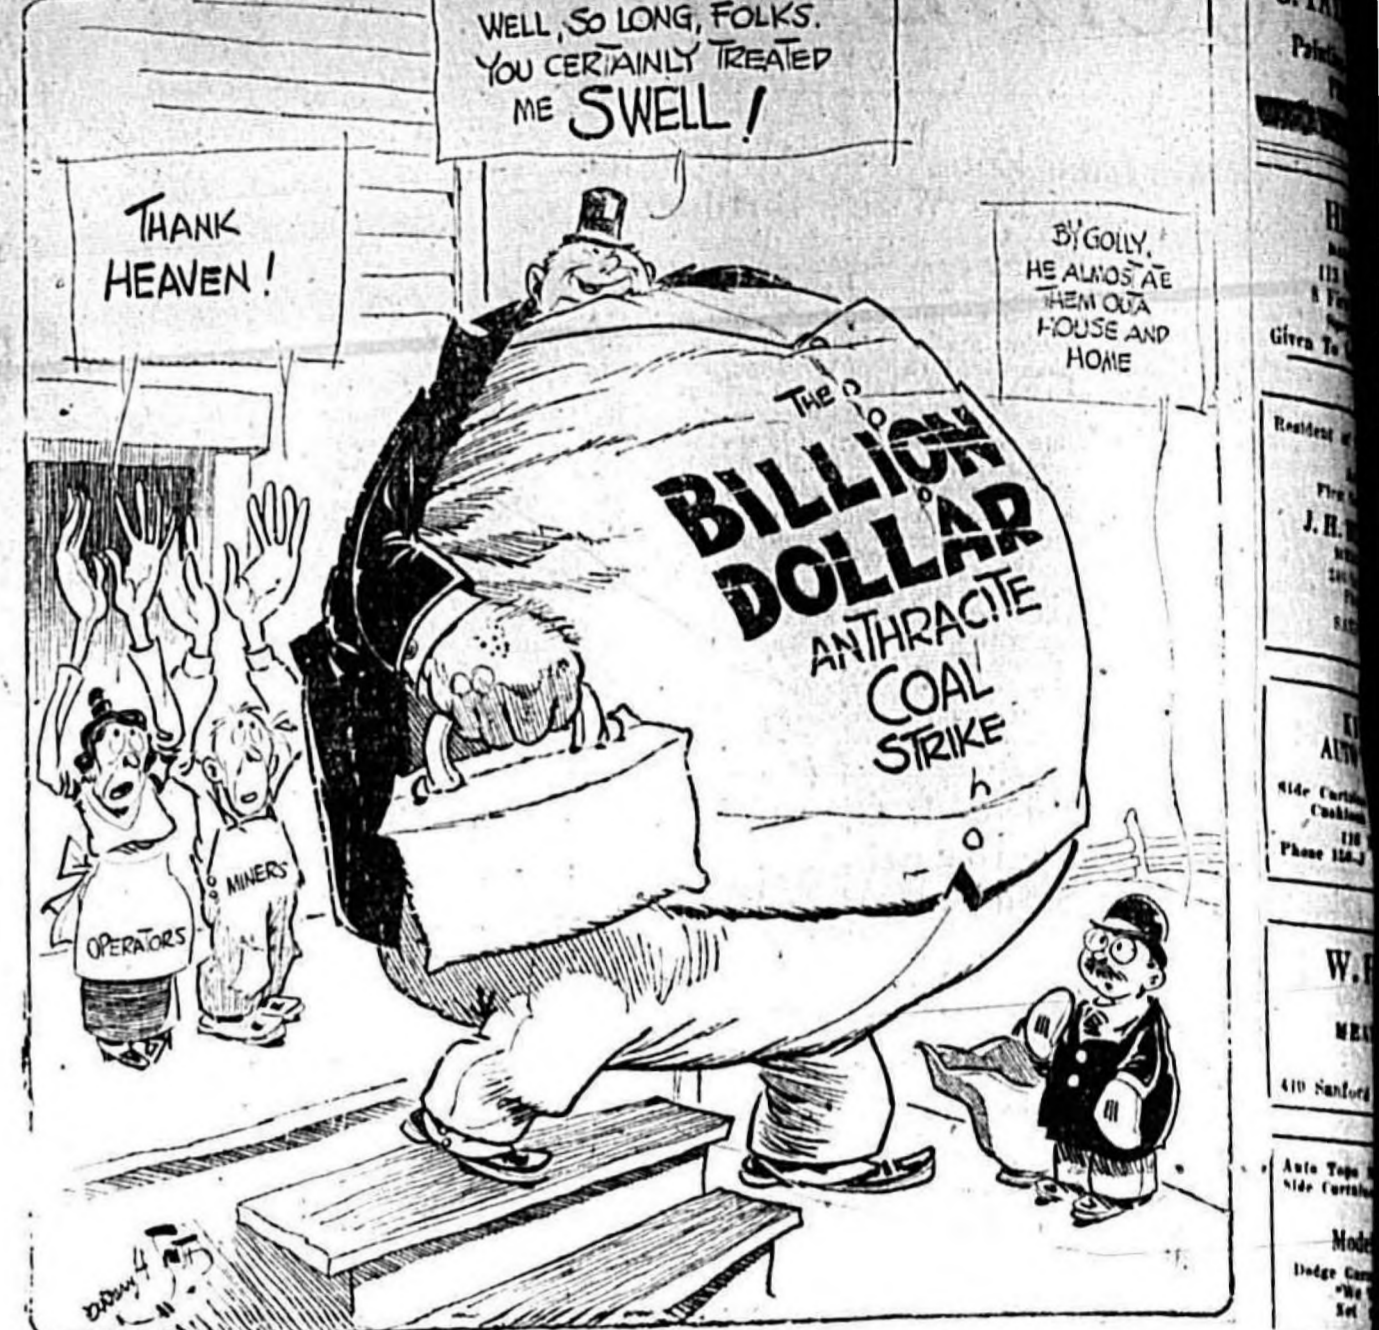

JAMES WALSH who invented barbed wire and automatic machine for its manufacture, is dead, 59 years old. Cattleman and farmer will bless his memory and horses and other animals torn from his buried wire will feel differently, especially the thousands of western cattle, that drifting before a storm, were "stopped" by weak strands of barbed wire and lay down to die.

In the other world, inventor Walsh will find thousands of men hung up by barbed wire entanglements and riddled with shot during the big war. He never planned that.

DR. CHARLES E. Baker, tells or twelve glasses of water each you how to live to 100. THE GERMAN aero Lloyd, combining Germany's flying companies is starting 42 flying lines, reaching all Germany and many foreign countries. One day flights from Berlin to Moscow are part of the program. Since the end of the war Germany, forbidden by the allies to manufacture and possess airplanes, has had to content herself with planes having no engines. She is now making up for lost time, and sets an example needed in this country.

AVIATION GIVEN IMPETUS

(FORT LAUDERDALE NEWS)

Whether the Mitchell court martial contributed to the action of the House Naval Committee in approving a five year building program of $85,078,000 for the navy an service or not, the reports of the House are to be congratulated on having at last passed a program of important aviation movement which will give the United States much needed progress in what is now recognized as the most important arm of our defense system.

There will always be disagreement as to the advisability of scrapping battleships for the navy division of aviation and necessity of well-manned and equipped airplanes and their increase in number. But the fact that the navy has been so far advanced in its development of aviation is a great gain. Had that been delayed, the navy would have been left in a position to do with forcing the activity of the house naval committee.

WHEN WOMAN IS FAT

(PALM BEACH POST)

AGNES AYRES, noted cinema star, has brought out at Las Angeles again "Coral B. Demille," Tammy, moving picture producer, in amount of $50,000, alleging that Demille said she was fat, whereupon her contract with a film producing company was voided. It now will be up to the jury to determine the vexatious problem of whether she is fat, just what it takes to be fat, and to what degree she is fat, if at all. Demille likely will not deny it, and she is fat, but her disposition that since this is at all, she is so fat she has lost her "physical charm and facial beauty."

Miss Ayres, of course, no longer is Mr. Demille's friend. They may live in the same city but they will not be friends. The producer may know what he is talking about from a business standpoint. Socially he has erred. Wretchedly, egregiously, tremendously he has erred. She will hate him not occasionally but for all time. She has been wounded with a pain greater than a heartbreak.

To tell a woman she is fat—if she really is fat and has an inward feeling of her misapprehension, is the unpardonable sin. You latter may declare that you love the adipose form, but that lessens the sin only slightly. The majority of woman-kind is disposed to look on Fisher bodies as fit for automobiles only. The call, it seems, is not for bigger and better women. The ape of superfluous poundage, of unyielding contour and preponderant plumpness, has her own aggregation in her avoidance. Her sister, built on the wonderful lines of a knitting needle who can't gain a pound without celebrating, can't eat her head off in indulgences of sweets and starches and buttery things, but the one carried by hefty foods, lives forever on poor tasteless food.

The late John Bunny was a great cinema star, wonderfully funny and wonderfully fat. But the realm of moving pictures does not reward a single outstanding female star even in the first stages of creeping corpulence. And just as soon as the acute angles begin to start to become obtuse and the

The WOMAN'S DAY by Allene Sumner

Women have only two passions, vanity and love, says a student at the University of Chicago, who recently published as his master's degree thesis a treatise on Lord Chesterfield, the original "flower of chivalry." And he agrees with the gentleman! He could add, however, "And men have the same two!" This is a humorous description, not a sex one!

Try These on Your Stove Oyster Sandwiches:

Wash 1 quart oysters, drain and put through food chopper, heat to boiling point and drain. Add enough cream or rich milk to the oyster liquid to make a pint. Heat in double boiler. Melt ½ cup butter, add ½ cup flour and when smooth add to liquid and stir until thick. Add 2 egg yolks mixed with ½ cup lemon juice, chopped oysters, 1 teaspoon salt, ¼ teaspoon pepper and a few grains cayenne pepper.

Spread between bread cut lengthwise of the loaf and toasted on one side with the untoasted side buttered. Cut the sandwiches in narrow strips and serve hot garnished with water cress or parsley.

Marshmallows dropped in the cup before hot cocoa or chocolate is poured, and a bit of vanilla in the cocoa make it delicious.

The Thing To Do

In introductions, the younger son is always presented to the older, and a man, unless he is very much older or extremely distinguished, is always presented to the woman. A simple way of remembering is to speak the name first of the party to whom the other party is being introduced.

Thus, "Miss Older, Miss Young"; "Mrs. Woman, may I present Mr. Man?"

YOUTH is too much for some of them! A superintendent of schools in the east resigns because the school board will not forbid school dances, and seems powerless to stop the libation of gin at said dances.

In Cleveland, O., two high school girls, daughters of prominent families, hide in a cheap hotel, leaving the traditional notes on the family pin cushions about "never see me again," as the aftermath of a gin party with some high school boys.

One wonders how many of the adults who throw up their hands in holy horror at "such goings-on" keep "it" in the cellar and hoist of the flask on the hip.

What do elders expect of youth which is only following its elders' example and trying to do "the smart thing"?

It's Being Done This Year

ONE of the simplest laws of correct table setting is knives and spoons to the right of the plate, forks to the left. Start from the outside with first utensils to be used. Thus, soup spoon first, coffee spoon, bread and butter knife, dinner knife. On the other side, salad fork on the outside, dinner fork on the inside.

A man never takes a woman's arm when walking with her, except to pilot her through traffic or aver some obstruction of the street.

Time for a flash of joy, of hope,
A glimmering of tears,

Time for a quiet sigh,

Big Home Building Program at InterOcean City Will make Profits to Investors

Builders of InterOcean City have planned a new town of alluring beauty set amid semi-tropical trees and flowers in the geographic center of the peninsula.

Architectural harmony will prevail throughout. Some sections have been set apart for the more palatial homes of the wealthy, while other sections will have homes of equally attractive but less costly design where the man of moderate means will find his dreams of a lovely little Florida home come true.

One after another the foundations of beautiful homes of the Mediterranean type of architecture have been laid in the sections immediately adjoining the business district.

Hand in hand with the home building program at InterOcean City goes the erection of numerous business buildings as well as the building of industrial plants and the development of model farms in the surrounding territory.

Our local representatives will gladly arrange for you to visit InterOcean City and see for yourself what is being done to create big values here.

Old Florida Homestead Bows To New Development In Tallahassee Region

TALLHASSEE, Fla., Feb. 23.—One of the oldest homesteads in the United States, that of Charles Louis Napoleon and his wife, Catherine, is being sold to a group of local business men, and the old homestead is being developed into a new residential section.

The homestead, located on the east side of Tallahassee, was built by Napoleon in 1822. It was the first permanent settlement in Florida. The property is being sold to a group of local business men, and the old homestead is being developed into a new residential section.

The new development will include a large number of homes, and the old homestead will be preserved as a historical landmark.

Prince Murat, son of Napoleon, was born in 1825. He was a soldier and a statesman. He was killed in 1847. His remains were buried in the old homestead. The old homestead is now being developed into a new residential section.

The new development will include a large number of homes, and the old homestead will be preserved as a historical landmark.

Why have BOILS?

Boils and pimple, rich, red blood never go together. They simply won't mix, any more than oil and water. Healthy blood drives these pests right up! That's the reason S. S. S. drives annoying boils completely out of the system. There's not a chance for a boil, or any other breaking out on the skin when pure blood, full of red cells is rushing through your system.

And that's what S. S. S. does. Builds up the red blood. Puts red blood-cells by the millions back in the system. S. S. S. makes the blood so strong in healthy, red blood-cells that painful, irritating boils—disgusting pimples, blackheads and blotches—itching, burning eczema and rashes and other embarrassing skin eruptions simply get out.

It's a fact, S. S. S. has been doing this very thing for 100 years. You can get S. S. S. from any drug store. See what large bottles. Get the larger bottle. It's 4 times as

Nevada Editors To Sponsor The Twain Memorial Building

RENO, Nev., Feb. 23. (AP)—Newspaper editors at Nevada, working through the state editorial association, have undertaken a movement to erect a memorial to Mark Twain that will be national in scope.

Beside the cabin in which the famous American humorist scribbled his first draft of Huckleberry Finn, beloved boy of the Mississippi river banks, it is proposed to erect a building or perhaps move to this site the old Territorial Enterprise building at Virginia City in which Twain served his cub reportership.

The cabin was occupied by Samuel Clemens when he was hardly more than a boy and before his pen name had much significance in the literary world. It was then situated on the desert near Aurora, but later was transported to Idlewild Park here and became the property of the Huckleberry Finn club.

General Lafayette's Letters Show His Affection For His Close Friends

NEW YORK, Feb. 23.—(AP)—Lafayette's affection for his friends is revealed in a letter written to General Nathanael Green in 1784, just after arriving in this country for a visit with old comrades in arms and while at Mount Vernon, the home of George Washington. The letter, which was in the possession of the American Art Galleries, is written in English and expresses regret that the Marquis missed seeing the general upon his arrival. "On my arrival at New York, I was very much mortified to hear you had sailed to South Carolina," reads Lafayette's letter in part. "My intention being first to visit my friends in New England, I wish you had been in your North-and their inhabitants. That I should have done twelve months ago had not American business kept me in Europe. "After having spent a most agreeable first night with the General, I am now going to New England, and will go back to Mount Vernon towards the end of October. Then, in company with the General, I shall visit Virginia." Hollywood—City votes to annex Hallandale.

STEWART'S WASHINGTON LETTER

BY CHARLES P. STEWART

NEA Service Writer
WASHINGTON, Feb. 23.—Some of the Republicans are kicking about Senator George W. Norris of Nebraska.
 Nominally a Republican, he jumps the Republican reservation all the time. And he says the meanest things about other Republicans.
 Norris was re-elected at the last election. He has nearly a full term ahead of him. Several Republicans intimate that he wouldn't be so brash if he had to go to the voters pretty soon and wanted administration support.
 NOW, this isn't fair to Norris. In the first place, he always was brash.
 Secondly, he didn't want to be re-elected in 1921. Politicians of ten say they don't when they do, but Norris meant it.

HE announced, in advance of the 1924 election, that he wasn't a candidate.
 He took no steps toward getting his name on the ballots, out in Nebraska. Some of his friends attended to it, however, in spite of him. It involved some little expense, which they bore.
 "They can't draft me," exclaimed Norris, when he heard of it. "I'm growing old. I'm going to get out of politics and have a good time."

So he drew a check, to reimburse his supporters who had put up money for him, and then he dictated a letter to his secretary, Miss Mabel Talbert, telling them he positively declined to run.

"PLEASE get this letter out tonight," he told Miss Talbert. "By tomorrow it will be too late to undo what these misguided individuals have done."
 "Senator," replied Miss Talbert, "I'm too tired to get it out tonight."
 "What?" cried Norris, who didn't believe it. "You don't look that tired."
 "I'm not too tired to write an acceptance," said Miss Talbert, "but I'm too tired to transcribe the letter I have here in my notes."

It was by such means as this that Norris, raving of mutiny by his own secretary, a conspiracy and what he'd do if he couldn't have his way, was bulldozed into making the run.
 He put up practically no campaign, at that.
 Does it sound as if he worried much about administration support?

AS we all know, Norris re-elected, fought the proposal to let private interests get Muscle Shoals. He wanted said Shoals saved for the public.

 Among others, he thought he had Senator Capper on his side.
 But one morning President Coolidge invited Capper to breakfast. The Kansan listened to what Cal had to say about the Shoals and then over he flopped.

A DAY or two later Senator Carter Glass, as a Democrat, denounced the tariff, saying he thought some, even of the Republicans, were beginning to realize the country was protected to death.
 He mentioned Capper as one.
 "Don't count too much on Senator Capper," here interposed Norris. "One of these mornings the president will invite him to breakfast, and before noon he'll see things in quite a different light."

A DIRTY dig—from one's own party. No wonder such cracks make the Republicans sore.

Starvation Period Of 1899 Brings Action And Help From Government In Task Of Providing Meat Supply

SEATTLE, Feb. 23.—Getting a college diploma in animal husbandry is different in Eskimoland than it is in the States, where there are comfortable club houses, fraternity houses and social houses.
 It involves a hard working to the degree of Bachelor of Herd and must spend four years in the open learning how to manage the reindeer before they can be graduated. But when they have to struggle over open air and clear from hardships they get with the certificates a legacy of fifty reindeer with Uncle Sam's compliments.

Education of the natives in herdsmen was started in 1900. The previous year every reindeer on St. Lawrence Island died of starvation due to scarcity of water, and the natives or animal. The government is seeking a new source of food supply turned to reindeer.

Dr. Sheldon Jackson, general superintendent of the bureau of education in Alaska, succeeded in buying sixteen deer in San Francisco. He found the reindeer Eskimo superstitions about the bug. Later he was able to buy

IN NEW YORK

NEW YORK, Feb. 23.—There are many gangsters and stick-up men who would shoot you as quick as look at you, but who will drop their guns if you flash upon them a certain little badge or card.
 These badges and cards are issued by the Marshall St. Gillman Movement to those who take out membership. No, it isn't an association for protection from crooks, but an organization that works among the toughest eggs of the underworld.

Scores of killers and gangsters today are making good in various occupations, not through conversation but by being shown in plain black and white that they will be better off financially by going straight. The movements works "from within." The gangsters of yesterday "go to bat" for the gangsters of today. The reformed ones still are on speaking terms with their old pals.
 Memberships and citations are taken out by members of "good society." They all realize that gangs and underworlds are largely creations of environment and circumstance. Little cards and badges are issued. Hundreds of underworld men have learned to know these. And they know also that tomorrow they may be "in a jam" and need the help of their one-time pals. So the word goes out to "lay off."

The card and badge don't always work. There are always "one-time pals" who are "in the game" but the dayed-in-the-wood New York yep has learned to respect it.
 THE three-by-seven kit-bag, the three-by-seven domestic collection typical of New York have brought about any number of conditions in marketing.

Four gangs in the East Side pack cart has built up a business of "one of this and one of that." The gang and their members are bought to the East Side pack cart. The East Side pack cart is a business of "one of this and one of that." The gang and their members are bought to the East Side pack cart. cent each. Dill pickles and pretzels and vegetables can be had individually or collectively.
 And now the grocery stores in the districts where tiny apartments are numerous have had to resort to similar methods. Pack-ages are more in demand than packages.
 "It used to be that nobody had the nerve to ask for less than a dime's worth of anything," complained one grocer in my neighborhood. "Now any number of three-cent sales are made. If it keeps up we'll have to put in drug-gist's scales. Of course the sale isn't worth the paper the goods are wrapped up in. But what can we do?"

COAL STRIKE

Hon. Ed. Walthall, Seminole Hudson-Essex Co., Sanford, Fla.

Dear Ed: After you read the terms of agreement upon which the coal strike was finally settled you have to wonder what both sides held out so long about.

It looks like the miners and the operators could have reached that agreement in 20 minutes after the strike was called.
 Didn't they agree to leave everything to arbitration, only they would not agree to call it arbitration? They got up some other high sounding name for it.
 Well, Ed, I'm glad the coal strike is settled. The only people who will have to worry now will be the coal dealers. They will have to think up some other excuse to keep the price of coal up to the ceiling.

You know, I couldn't help but think, while that coal strike was on and empty coal bins up in the South were causing so much suffering, how fortunate we are who live down here in God's country. Here there are grown men down here who never saw a piece of anthracite coal in their lives, hundreds of them.
 During our worst winter weather a fellow could take a Sunday newspaper and keep the whole house warm, especially if it were one of the yellow journals with all that red ink appeal.

Far less it from me to glat over the misfortunes of others, but we sometimes have to point out the discomforts of our neighbors to appreciate what a snap we have. I may be thick-headed. I have been accused of having a maddening conception. But, for the life of me, I can't see why everybody up that long-stem of Jack Frost shouldn't pack up his bag and baggage and come down here where the only one worried here for this time is to keep the sun from blinding their eyes.
 To live in a climate like ours and to own an I. O. O. F. Church ought to make even a chronic growler happy as a rector getting a $100 for $5,000.
 Yours,
 BILL

Florida Betrays More Spring Style Secrets

PALM BEACH, Feb. 23.—(AP)—For several weeks now I have been seeing spring styles right here, where the new spring clothes are made in the country, and I feel that spring clothes in the north can hold few surprises for me.

Since January, the newest summer dresses and wraps have been tried out down here, and it is quite obvious that the general trends are:

In the first place, the sleeve is undergoing a period of transition. It is developing much fullness below the elbow, but is usually caught up tightly at the wrist.

Underpuffs

I see many underpuffs of pleated or embroidered lingerie material, as well as of the material of the frock. I have noticed many wide, full peasant sleeves gathered in very full at the armhole and sometimes painted, embroidered or cross-stitched in very exciting colors.

Evening gowns with long sleeves and with wide effects forming a partial drape are very common, and to me they are much prettier than the entirely exposed arm, especially since most of us do not take the care of our arms that they require to make them things of beauty.

Another important style feature is the use of pleats, in wool and silk frocks alike. Pleated aprons and pleated tunics are much more in evidence than goods of the past.

When a pleated skirt is short as they are now, it is quite obvious that they must be roomy, and pleats seem the most obvious method of compliance.

Taffeta

I can't be too emphatic about the popularity of taffeta, not only for the afternoon frocks, but for the afternoon frocks and for party frocks, hats, and even for sport frocks.

Comtesse de Polignac wearing fancy gold thread tennis cap.

made over a flesh-colored slip, or one of the blond tones. It is much more youthful than.

One of the most attractive coats I have seen was worn by the picturesque Countess Sain, a white leather affair, very short, worn with a pleated white skirt and a white leather hat—ever so close and perky.

Nevel Scarf

A novel scarf worn by Mrs. Frank Henderson struck my eye—it was of white velvet, painted in blue and fringed with long blue silk.

The Countess Jean de Polignac sponsors the cap for tennis and has appeared at the Everglades with her hair beautifully smooth beneath the fancy affair of gold threads.

An attractive white wool coat to wear with the white sport dress was worn by Mrs. Hunt Dickinson at the Casino recently. It had pleating introduced about the collar, and just that little touch made it different from the many white coats with fur collars.

Hat Pins

The use of crystal pins in the new hats instead of rhinestone ornaments is gaining favor. Mrs. George Easton of New York wears them standing up quite conspicuously in her high-crowned white felt hat.

I saw Mrs. Stanley Morse of Los Angeles wearing one of the extremely high-crowned gigois hats with a very square crown banded with a darker shade of tan than her hat.

Undoubtedly crowns are getting higher and higher and more and more folds make their appearance. A very attractive ensemble outfit was worn by Mrs. Louie Reinhardt of Chicago. The material was in a very square crown banded with a darker shade of exactly the same tone for the gown.

Windjammers Sail Main Once More; Now Being Used As Movie Ships

SAN PEDRO, Feb. 23. (AP)—Davey Jones, late of deep sea points, is holding open house here these days. And he rubs his hands and chuckles right gleefully for the ghosts of dead ships are sailing the Main.

Almost a score of famous old windjammers which made history a couple of generations ago are limping into the harbor under tattered sails. From rotting wharves where they have been tied up for years, or from mud banks where they have been aground and forgotten, these grey beards of the sea are coming here for a new lease on life and promise of success in new careers.

James Cruze, Paramount director, will use them in a production featuring the story of the frigate Constitution, famous in the first years of the nineteenth century as "Old Ironsides." Thereafter, in the fashion of motion picture props, they probably will run the gamut from doubling for the Leviathan, to a part of that fleet of a thousand once launched against Troy.

Historical Ships
Among the first of the old time ships to arrive were the "William Irwin," the "Morse" and "Castle." Each had a remarkable history in sailing days and each before being abandoned on the Pacific Coast, was known in ports of the world.

Grizzled sailing men who sat on the docks here as the old craft limped up the channel, slapped their legs and told of memorable trips "around the horn," of adventures in a thousand ports and heroic seamanship. These ships will become the "Constitution," the "Constellation" and the "Philadelphia" of that early American navy.

Of the ships to join this unique movie colony, ten are coming from the Atlantic seaboard. Each is fully manned and coming under its own sail. Upon their arrival the property man will turn them into men o'war.

In addition to these large vessels, a score of smaller antiquated craft, mostly former fishing vessels, are on their way here and will swarm with pirates in movie-land's stories of the sea.

May Run

Mrs. John E. Baker, widow of the late Congressman Baker of California, may run to succeed him in the house of representatives, according to reports at Washington.

WILKINS TO FACE CRITICAL TEST AT POINT BARROW

Airplane Polar Expedition Flight Will Encounter Most Difficulties In Trip From Fairbanks To Point

DETROIT, Feb. 23. (AP)—The critical test of the Wilkins Arctic Expedition will come in the flight of the two planes from Fairbanks to Point Barrow, Alaska, in the opinion of Major Thomas G. Lanphier, who will accompany the expedition as unofficial observer.

The success or failure of the whole flight across Arctic seas will hinge upon the semi-experimental flight from Fairbanks, where the plans will be assembled, he said. If the test flight gives good results, Major Lanphier believes a successful transoceanic trip will be presaged thereby.

"Any undertaking similar to this is more or less of a gamble," he declared, "but I believe we will have good fortune."

Four month leave of absence from Selfridge field, near here, where he is in command of the First Pursuit Squadron, and permission to accompany Capt. George H. Wilkins, were granted Major Lanphier by the war department.

May Claim Lands
Though lacking official credentials, deputizing him to act specifically, Major Lanphier believes his position as an officer in the United States Army will automatically empower him to lay claim on behalf of his country to any land the expedition might discover.

Oceanographers and students of arctic phenomena believe there is land in the vicinage of the North Pole, and though it is not a primary purpose to search for land, it is insisted that any found shall be claimed for the United States. In the event that land is discovered, the first plane will continue its flight to Spitzbergen, as planned, while the second one will embark from Point Barrow to explore the find.

The winter maneuvers of the First Pursuit Squadron, of which Major Lanphier had charge and which were recently completed, were prolific of data and experience in the operation of planes in winter conditions. The effect of frigid weather on ignition and carburetion was studied closely, and great likelihood Alaskan conditions will closely approach those under which his squadron operated in Michigan.

Temperatures of ten and fifteen degrees below zero were reached frequently, especially at elevations of 5,000 feet and above. The taking-off and landing of planes on snow-covered fields and on the ice of rivers and lakes also were studied. This, Lanphier believes, will also be of value in accompanying the Arctic fliers.

Capt. Vincent Dixon, second in command, will be in charge at Selfridge during Lanphier's absence.

HAMNER IS CHIEF SPEAKER AT CIVIC DINNER TUESDAY

Tampa Realtor Lauds Rapid Growth Of Sanford And
Attributes It To New Spirit
That Is In Evidence Here

What is declared to have been the largest and most enthusiastic gathering in the history of Sanford was the banquet Tuesday night at the Hotel Forrest Lake, held under the auspices of the Chamber of Commerce and marking the beginning of preparations for a drive to raise $18,000 with which to finance a special advertising program to be conducted within the next few weeks.

Approximately 275 representative men and women of this city were present to hear the principal address by Burke L. Hamner, prominent Tampa developer, and several other speakers including E. F. Housholder, Harry T. Bodwell, D. H. McFarland, and Henry Wright.

Declaring that there is no limit to Sanford's possibilities, Mr. Hamner asserted that it has one of the brightest futures of any city in the state. In substantiation of this declaration to the rich and varied section of the city several million dollars annually, and then to the strategic location coupled with the excellent transportation facilities.

New Civic Spirit Prevails
Mr. Hamner recalled that for several years Sanford was depicted in many sections as a dead city which he described as being the most potent factor in the city's tremendous growth during the past four years.

There has been a change of spirit here, and he believes anyone who has seen Sanford since he has well known of it," he further declared. "The spirit that makes a greater city radiates from every person here."

Speaking of Florida's growth as a whole, Mr. Hamner said that it had "scared a great many of us," but he declared that such tremendous development should be no cause for alarm. All of the propaganda that is being spread in the north in connection with the Florida development is untrue, it will act as a boomerang, serving to bring more people to the state than ever before.

More Beneficial Than Harmful
The effect of the anti-Florida campaign, Mr. Hamner declared, will be to cost of a hundredfold, pointing out that those who are now in the state studying conditions as they really exist, will return home to tell the true story. This will result in more people coming to see for themselves.

"You never heard of Florida being knocked for its agricultural possibilities," he said, "and now this state has only one per cent of the country's population, it produces 10 per cent of the nation's cotton. Not enough attention has been given to advertising Florida's soil, Mr. Hamner observed, and for the reason he asserted that Sanford's plan to advertise now the harvesting of its $8,000,000 celery crop will serve as an appeal which will draw many people here."

Speaking of the so-called "dull season," Mr. Hamner declared that there is no such thing. He declared that Florida is now entering a period of intensive and extensive development and that the absence of speculation had made it appear to some that there is a lull existing over the state.

Bigger Program Needed
"Since there are those who believe business is dead," he said, "let me tell you that the time for them to inaugurate advertising and publicity programs on a bigger scale than ever before," he declared, and cited the examples of several large manufacturing concerns, which during the near panic of 1920, increased their efforts to sell goods, and with the aid of extensive advertising campaigns, had the largest business in their histories up to that time.

In concluding his talk, the Tampa developer again paid tribute to the spirit of co-operation that exists in Sanford. "From a town that was practically unknown, most progressive cities of the state, standing as a testimonial to what can be done through organized citizenship," he asserted.

Mr. Hamner's remarks were heartily received and at the close of the banquet he was the recipient of many words of praise for the manner in which he had pictured the future development of Sanford, but also for the entire night.

After Big Civic Movement
Last night's entertainment was presided over by E. F. Housholder, who was introduced to the audience by Edward Higgins, president of the Chamber of Commerce.

The program was held at the Hotel Forrest Lake and was one of the most successful in the city's history.

COUNTESS' NEW HEARING PLEA DENIED BY U. S.

Case Can Be Decided Only By The Courts, Is Opinion Of Acting Secretary White In Handing Down Decision

Decision Is Reached
Following Conference
English Government Not To Consider Proposals To Intercede
For The Countess

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24.—(AP)—A new hearing for the Countess of Cathcart on the order of exclusion from the United States was denied today by the Labor Department.

In the opinion of acting Secretary of State Clegg, it is decided only by the courts. A judicial finding as to whether or not turpitude is a crime and constitutes a bar to the admission of aliens admitting acts of that sort, it was said, rested by the Labor Department.

Mr. White, after a conference with assistant Secretary of State Arthur G. Hays, attorney for the Countess, who had requested that the case be reopened for the admission of new evidence.

Case Continually Coming Up
Mr. Hays said cases similar to that of the Countess were continually coming before the department and he hoped the court action growing out of the habeas corpus proceedings instituted by Mr. Hays for her, would define for the department a course which it could follow in the future.

The solicitor added that he had ordered the release of the Countess from Ellis Island on a 10 day period under bond only after he had conferred with various department officials who had advised that the case be decided by the courts and the Countess given freedom while it was in the process of final adjustment.

England Not To Intercede
LONDON, Feb. 24.—(AP)—The British government will consider no proposals to institute reprisals for the barring of the Countess of Cathcart from the United States.

This, in effect, was the reply of foreign secretary Sir Austen Chamberlain, to a spirited cross-examination in the House of Commons today, regarding the working of the American immigration laws.

Mr. Austen said the British government considered it entirely the business of the American authorities as to who should or should not be admitted to the United States.

Charge of Fleeing
Goldsboro People
Made Against Trio

Traffic Policeman A. H. Beck with yesterday arrested Jos. Duka and P. H. Hill, brothers, and a third man, in the town of Goldsboro, N.C. It was learned that the two had been operating in East Sanford and in Goldsboro with a view to fleeing some of the negro inhabitants by the old packetbook game.

They were taken before County Judge J. C. Sharon yesterday afternoon and upon their plea of guilty were fined $25 and costs, or given the option of serving 30 days on the county road.

The methods used in their game, as explained by the police was to show a pocketbook full of bills and state to their prospective victims that they had found it. The victim was usually induced to post a guarantee of $100 or so in order to insure his being in on the return for the finding. He would then be holding the purse while the two gamblers "went to find the owner." On their failing to return, the victim would discover worthless paper and that he was out his $100.

Several negroes are said to have been fleeced in the manner during the past few months.

Mysterious Fires That Destroy Roadhouses
Are Subject Of Probe

JACKSONVILLE, Feb. 24.—(AP)—The Duval county sheriff's office this afternoon was investigating the mysterious burning early this morning of three roadhouses outside of Jacksonville. The roadhouses, widely scattered, burned almost simultaneously.

At Heena, Swearingin's place, where the first was put out after it had burned, the building was almost completely destroyed, gasoline was found to have been thrown through windows and on the walls, investigators officers reported.

Two other places, wiped out by fire, were the Blue Chip and Magnolia Gardens. The Magnolia Gardens was a barbecue stand and dance hall. The Blue Chip was a restaurant.

Mr. Heena was reported to have been in the area of the fires. He had a large number of photographs of the Chamber of Commerce building of Sanford, but also for the entire state.

After Big Civic Movement
Last night's entertainment was presided over by E. F. Housholder, who was introduced to the audience by Edward Higgins, president of the Chamber of Commerce.

The program was held at the Hotel Forrest Lake and was one of the most successful in the city's history.

Planning Board Is Opposed To Construction Of Freight Basin Inside Bulkhead Line

The City Planning Board, in a communication addressed to the City Commissioners, has gone on record as opposing the proposed plan to build a municipal harbor on the south side of the route to be followed by the Seminole boulevard, when the latter project is completed.

The letter was read to the commissioners at their regular meeting yesterday afternoon and E. A. Douglas, representing the planning board, appeared before the commissioners and gave the reasons for the board's opposition.

Mr. Douglas stated that the members of the board had unanimously agreed that there was an urgent necessity for a harbor, but that owing to the expense involved in dredging the slips and in constructing a drawbridge over the boulevard, the board deemed it advisable to build a pier on the north side of the boulevard, and extend it into the lake.

C. C. Williams, representing the City Commissioners, told the commissioners that a dock built into the lake would be far less expensive and would serve the purpose of making a freight terminal just as well as would the other plan.

M. B. Hutton, one of the sponsors of the plan, suggested that too many railroad tracks would eventually cross the boulevard if the docks were on the north side.

No action was taken by the commissioners yesterday agreed to a harbor, but the board is now in the process of making the sum of $50,000 available for their upkeep, upon the recommendation of Commissioner E. F. Housholder.

WOMAN HELD AS OFFICERS PROBE DEATHS OF FOUR

New Orleans Mother Facing
Murder Charge Pending
Outcome Of Chemist Reports
Who Examined Four Bodies

NEW ORLEANS, La., Feb. 24.—(AP)—City and Parish authorities gave attention to several theories today as they continued their investigation into the deaths within a period of 11 months of four members of the family of Mrs. Bennett Cure Bussey, 23. The woman is held without bond on a charge of murder, pending a report of chemists who examined the vital organs of the four dead persons for traces of poison.

Consideration was given to a "sweetheart" theory, though the alleged suitor of Mrs. Bussey, Frank Davis, a fireman, was released after a questioning yesterday. Davis was examined by Dr. Theodore F. Meade, a taxicab driver, and reported that he heard the fireman tell Mrs. Bussey that "they can't do me anything."

Davis said he had been a friend of the woman's late husband, Lawrence Bussey, also a fireman. He admitted that he had been alone with Mrs. Bussey frequently since the death of her husband, but like Mrs. Bussey, denied any knowledge of the alleged efforts of the members of the Bussey family.

Kill. Mr. Davis admitted that he had purchased medicine for Mrs. Bussey, but claimed he did not know whether the mixture he brought contained poison. Mrs. Bussey retained her calm attitude almost constantly until last night when she became hysterical for the first time since her arrest last week.

Among other theories of the authorities are that Mrs. Bussey might have poisoned her husband to benefit from his life insurance or is insane.

Eastwood Owner Will Protest Against Firing On Ship By U. S. Boat

LUNenburg, N.S., Feb. 24.—(AP)—B. O. Cann of Yarmouth, owner of the schooner Eastwood, which is alleged to have been shelled about a week ago while at anchor 20 miles off Long Island, N. Y. by the coast guard cutter Seneca in preparing to register formal protest at Ottawa with the Canadian government.

"I would not consider myself a patriotic citizen," said Mr. Cann in a statement, "unless I registered a protest against this sort of treatment. I will surely make a formal protest to the government at Ottawa."

"I intend to fight the case to the very limit, not because of the damage done to my vessel, nor the expense to myself, but because I, as a Canadian, will not stand idle and allow any foreign country to treat the Union Jack as a joke when it is hoisted on the mast of a British merchantman," he declared.

Count Salm Has Ample Means To Take Care Of Himself, His Lawyer Asserts

NEW YORK, Feb. 24.—(AP)—Count Ludwig Salm Högström, whose financial status and consequent right to be in the United States has been questioned by Representative Florence H. LaGuardia, Socialist, of New York, said today he has ample means to take care of himself and his child, his lawyer here asserts.

Representative LaGuardia yesterday in a letter to Secretary of Labor Davis requested that an investigation be made as to whether Count Salm was likely to become a public charge, with a view to his being deported if this was found to be the case.

Mr. LaGuardia cited the immigration law as barring any alien who comes to the United States on funds provided by another, and declared that the "alien in question has no occupation."

Count Salm finds it necessary to dispel by an absolute denial the false rumor that anybody pays or contributes towards his expenses," said his lawyer, Herman B. Goodstein.

"He has neither required, sought nor obtained financial aid from any source, and he is not indebted to anybody of any account. He is quite able to pay his own way, and has shown in court proceedings that he was and is able to support his wife and child and to provide a suitable home for them."

The Count, a Washington, seems undisturbed by Representative LaGuardia's attack. "If I do not find it very interesting," he said, "perhaps my lawyer will, but I do not."

The Count's suit for separation from his wife, the former Mildred Rogers, and for custody of his son is pending in the New York court. The Count arrived in Washington yesterday after seeing his son at Palm Beach for the first time.

South Florida Racers Will Meet California Pride Here On Friday

STATE BASEBALL MEETING IS HELD IN TAMPA TODAY

Efforts To Reorganize Old
League Into Eight Club
Circuit To Be Made; Six
Town Groomed As President

TAMPA, Feb. 24.—(AP)—Florida baseball enthusiasts expressed the hope early today that a firmly established state league will be organized as a result of the conference to be held here this afternoon in the office of Dr. H. E. Opre, president of the Tampa club.

Seven cities of the west coast have responded to the invitation to organize the league. These cities are St. Petersburg, Bradenton, Sarasota, Lakeland, Sanford, Fort Meade and Palmdale.

With Tampa they will make an eight club circuit which, it is hoped, will become one of the strongest minor league outfits in the country.

Tampa, St. Petersburg, Sanford and Lakeland will be the nucleus around which the new league is to be formed.

The other four cities represented at the meeting today are newcomers in the state baseball field, but each is said to be prepared to do its part.

The history of professional baseball in Florida has been rather hazy during the last few years, but promoters of the present effort are confident that the Florida state league, as formed today, will maintain itself as a permanent organization for development of the national pastime.

The first matter to be taken up at the meeting will be election of a president. Mike Eaton, president of the National Association of Professional Baseball Leagues, who recently took up his residence in Tampa, is understood to be the favorite choice. He has not indicated his intentions, but promoters have said he will be urged to accept.

Dr. Opre was elected acting president of the league. He said today that the eight club circuit is the aim of promoters but failing in that a six club organization will be formed. Salary limits, player limits and other rules will be considered. If all other details are agreed today a tentative schedule will be mapped out.

St. Petersburg, Tampa, Sanford and Lakeland are star starters, he said.

Bradenton and Sarasota have backing. Fort Myers has been negotiating professional ball all winter. Gilbert Freeman, who has been active in campaigning for a team in Avon Park, reported liberal support. Last year that city maintained its ride league team after the season had closed.

Many entertainments were promised for the evening, among them being a talk by Jules Brazier, called "the master entertainer of Kwanan."

Kiwanis Club Backs Advertising Plans Of Local Chamber

The Sanford Kiwanis Club at its regular meeting today, went on record as favoring the proposed Chamber of Commerce drive for funds which will carry on a special advertising campaign.

Short talks by Judge J. G. Sharon, J. G. Michael, Howard Hulse, and J. W. Putnam were made in the interest of the advertising campaign and also the yacht regatta to be held on Lake Monroe Friday.

Arrangements during the meeting that a "Ladies Night" would be held next Tuesday evening at the Hotel Forrest Lake.

Southern Road Acquired By A. C. L.

NEW YORK, Feb. 24.—(AP)—Arrangements virtually have been completed for the acquisition by the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad Company of the Atlantic, Birmingham and Atlanta Railroad, which has been in receivership since 1921. An early announcement of the receivership plan is expected.

Reports current in Wall Street indicate that the receivership will be terminated through the sale to Atlantic Coast line in the smaller roads first mortgage and income bonds at 60 per cent of their face value with the possibility of payment in preferred stock on which dividends of five per cent, will be guaranteed.

Pinellas County May Become Bird Reserve Under Proposed Plan

CLEARWATER, Fla., Feb. 24.—(AP)—Possibility that the entire county of Pinellas may become a sanctuary for birds was indicated yesterday afternoon, when the county commissioners adopted a resolution favoring this plan.

A bill will be presented to the next session of the state legislature by the Pinellas county Audubon Society which, if it is passed, will prohibit the hunting or killing of wild birds within the county limits.

Although there are several state counties which have districts set aside as bird sanctuaries, this is believed to be the first time that an entire county has been offered for such a restriction.

"We have received entries that at first we never dreamed of getting," Commodore Emory said this morning. "Some of the best known boats that have competed in Florida regattas are being shipped here for Friday's races and everything points toward a more successful meet than we had dared hope for."

"Smiling Dan III" Entered

The regatta will be staged under the auspices of the American Power Boat Association, the Mississippi Valley Power Boat Association and the Florida Power Boat Association. Visiting commodores expected in handling similar events have consented to assist local committees in classifying and arranging the various heats and final contests, Mr. White said.

Program Announced
The program will begin at 10 o'clock with a special outboard motor race to be followed by the first heat of the feature event, the contest between shells of the 151 displacement type.

The meet will end with a freestyle all cruiser race scheduled to begin at 5 o'clock.

At 7 o'clock visiting commodores and their families will be the guests of the Sanford Yacht Club at a dinner at the Hotel Forrest Lake, to be followed by a fireworks display and a concert on the lake shore and a formal invitation ball at the new hotel.

Numerous private dinner parties have been arranged. Commodore Emory said today, and those who are contemplating dining at the Forrest Lake should make reservations as soon as possible.

TALLAHASSEE, Feb. 24.—(AP)—Only two small pieces of state land were sold at the weekly meeting of trustees of the State Land Agency, held yesterday morning in an announcement.

Joseph W. V. Knott, of the Board of Land Management, announced that the two tracts, one 120 acres and the other 20 acres, were sold at $10 an acre.

JUDGMENT IS REVERSED
TALLAHASSEE, Fla., Feb. 24.—(AP)—The state supreme court today reversed the judgment of the circuit court of the first county in declaring that the two children of Mrs. John E. Clark, now in custody of their mother, should be returned to their father.
