HOROSCOPE

By RENEE REDE OSOL

For Wednesday, December 13, 1978

YOUR BIRTHDAY
December 13, 1978

Greater responsibilities might be laid upon you this coming year, but with them go greater rewards. You'll receive in proportion to what you put out.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Persons on whom you rely are not as cooperative today as you thought they would be. If you look around you can find new ways to overcome the burden of getting along with others in your 1979 Astro-Graph Letter. Mail 36 cents for each and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope to Astro-Graph, P.O. Box 688, Radio City Station, N.Y. 10101. Be sure to specify birth sign.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Any gossip you hear today should be kept strictly to yourself. People who matter will notice and applaud your maturity.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18) Avoid calculated risks like the plague today. The odds do not favor you. You could even make an error that would take a long time to unwind.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20) Unless you have over backward to share fairly with a cohort in a joint venture, you'll experience some real problems. Give more than you get.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) If you're willing to make changes, an agreement that isn't working out too well can be a spider-man.

Taurus (April 20-May 20) Again today be wary if shopping. Avoid bargain counters. Take second looks at all purchases to make certain you're getting what you pay for.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Although you always need variety in your friendships, take care today that you don't slight an old pal by excluding him or her while socializing with a newcomer.

CANCER (June 21-July 21) Rely on experience to guide you to the right person to request a favor from today. Don't apologize for your asking.

LEO (July 22-Aug. 22) Know when to quit today if you begin some holiday celebrating. You'll have to pay the price sooner if you don't use common sense.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) If your plans or aims go awry today, don't despair. Look for alternate ways to handle them. Most things can be salvaged by probing a little.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22) Don't cling today to concepts that have proved unworkable. Use that bright mind of yours. You'll come up with several new, feasible ideas.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21) Don't let anyone intimidate you into spending money against your better judgment today. Stick by your guns. Handle your affairs in ways best for you.

Make Sure Your Shoes Fit Well

By Lawrence Lamb, M.D.

DEAR DR. LAMB — I read your column about the lady who had had her shoes made by a shoemaker. I had this trouble plus corns and calluses. Finally, I made an appointment with the foot doctor for me and said, "Go."

The doctor looked at his feet and at his shoes and said to me, "You have a good shoe doctor and told him to have his feet measured and fitted. He had always worn a MC and came home with a 1 1/4 AA."

The feet looked and the shoe felt. That was 10 years ago. Just recently he decided he wasn't going to spend that much money on shoes and bought a 1 1/2 B. He had to throw them out in a short time.

DEAR READER — There are many factors related to a bad shoe. Certainly the measurement or fabrication of the last can contribute to the problem. Most corns and calluses are caused by ill-fitting shoes, in fact 75 percent of the foot problems that people have are because of improper footwear.

I would add to your letter that properly fitting shoes are also important. You should be able to move your toes freely without restriction or binding from the arch as well as the heel. Shoes should also give proper support as well as provide a good fit. If a person is having corns and calluses, the proper step for permanent relief from the condition is obtaining proper footwear.

I am sending you The Health Letter number 11-4, Your Feet And How To Care For Them.

DEAR DR. LAMB — You are writing in so good for me. I would like to ask if a stationary bicycle would be just as good for me? I have one and it has a speedometer on it. How long would I have to ride in a day? DEAR READER — Walking is good for you because of the club, somehow or other you get confused in recording and wound up with just two tricks for down seven.

At table two, East made the super brilliant lead of the six of clubs at trick two. South could do nothing better than to put up his queen and it held.

Now South ran off dummy's diamonds, took a heart finesse and wound up with 10 tricks. The defenders had each chucked a heart.

A typically British comment was that the hand might have broken some but I record since one declarer made 10 more tricks than another.

WIN AT BRIDGE

By Oswald Jacoby
By Alan Sontag

Both teams in the finals of England's Gold Cup used well known, solid, although not new, tricks. Each North went right to three notrump and each West opened the 18 of spades.

Each East took his ace and then they parted ways. At table one East played his ace of clubs. West dropped the jack, a play that clearly denied the queen as East led his jack of spades. The defense had six spades and 11 tricks.

You open one club. Partner responds one heart. An Iowa reader wants to know what you do next.

We simply raise to two hearts.

'Harassment By The Commission' His Kingdom For A Key

By DONNA KETTER
Ronald Staff Writer

"It's embarrassing and humiliating to stand at the courthouse door and wait for a guard to let me in," said Art Beckwith Jr., Seminole County Clerk of the Circuit Court, today.

His comment came in the aftermath of the seventh rejection of his request for a key to the Seminole County Courthouse.

The Board of County Commissioners Tuesday voted 2-0 to refuse him his own key.

Beckwith noted that over the Thanksgiving holiday — the Friday after Thanksgiving — he picked up his office mail from the post office and stood at the courthouse door for 15-20 minutes before a guard let him in.

"I want to go to the sheriff's office. I thought that the courthouses were changed and I was refused a key," Beckwith said today.

"Voting to give Beckwith a key to the facility was Commissioner Robert Frazier and Commissioner Glenn, both of whom said they could see no reason why the clerk, who has held his current elected position for the past 18 years and was a deputy tax collector for nine years prior to that, should not have his own key."

Commissioner Bill Kirchoff, an ex-officio custodian personally denied Beckwith a key, said Commissioner Chairman Bob French, Beckwith appealed Kirchoff's decision to the full board.

"I certainly appreciate those two new commissioners and their concern for another elected official," said Beckwith. "I met them both on Dec. 10, 1978, and they were very helpful."

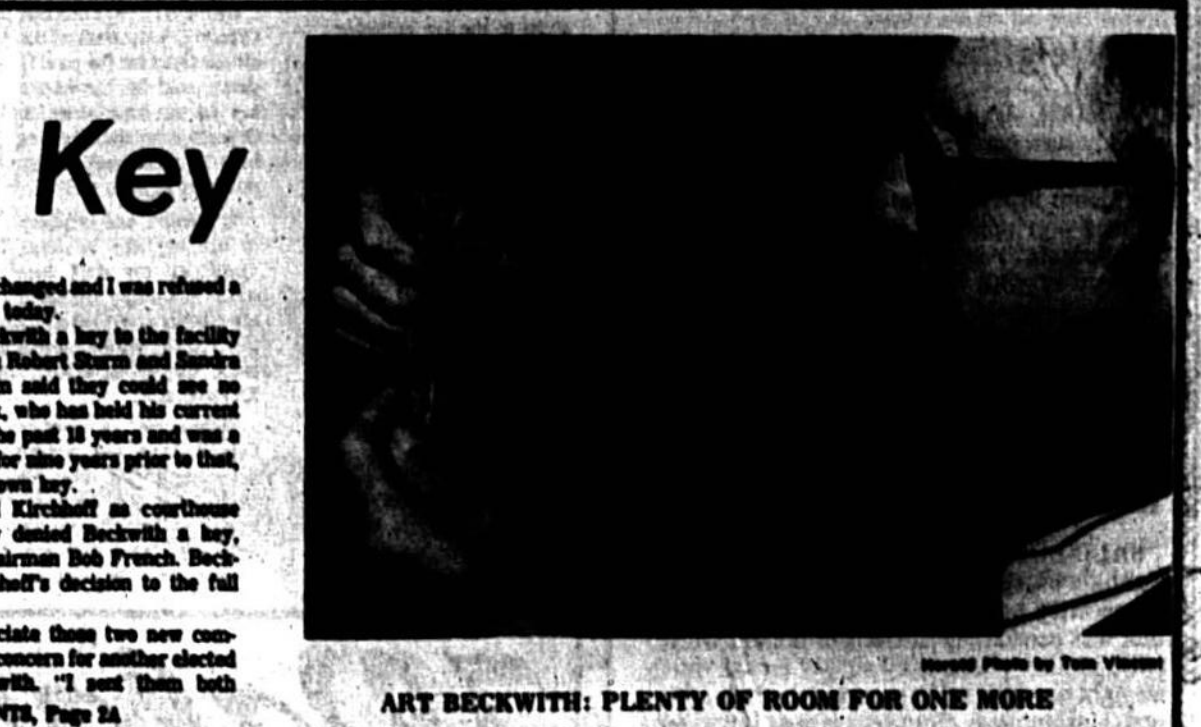

"I had a key to the old courthouse and the new one. But more than two years ago all the locks to the courthouse were changed and I was refused a key," Beckwith said today.

School Breakfast Plan Seems Doomed As Advocates Mass

By LEONARD ERANDORFF
Ronald Staff Writer

Unless a majority of Seminole County school board members can be convinced tonight serving breakfast in a school district is a prudent responsibility, though I'm willing to listen to all arguments.

New board member William Kraft said today he is still undecided on how he will vote.

Board member Roland Williams today related his previous position of being in favor of the program.

The school board is not the one to guarantee a child's breakfast.

— Robert Feather, board chairman

Board chairman Robert Feather said "The school board should not be the one to guarantee a child's breakfast."

Both Kraft and Feather said if a family is financially unable to afford the cost of providing breakfast there are various other ways such as food stamps and welfare where money is available. However, Miss Kaye noted that in discussing with community organization members and parents the food stamp and welfare programs do not provide enough money for the parents to give a child a breakfast.

— Treasa Kaye, Legal Services was told to present figures tonight on the costs involved in setting up such a program.

Large said today he will present the figures showing the various costs of transportation and supervision of the students. If such a program were established and supervision seems to have taken a back seat in the minds of a majority of the school board members. Forward on their minds is the question of whether serving breakfast is a responsibility of the school district or parents in the home.

At least two members, Robert Feather and Allan Kraft said

Sadat: Let's Sign Pact On Sinai

By United Press International

Secretary of State Cyrus Vance ordered "the final stage" negotiations with Israeli leaders today in an attempt to get a peace treaty between Egypt and Israel by Sunday, Egyptian President Anwar Sadat said today.

Sadat said he would meet the Israeli delegation in the next few days and would sign the treaty with Israel.

"For me, I will be very happy to conclude it before the 15th end, as a matter of fact, we are ready before the 15th," Sadat said.

He said the deadline depended on Israel and really "made no difference" because he is confident a treaty will be reached "sooner or later."

But he was adamant about the site of the signing.

"I'd like to see the signing take place in Jerusalem, but if that is not possible, I'd like to see it take place in the West Bank, wherever the commission is," Sadat said.

'Bad Billy': Not Just A 'Buffoon?'

ATLANTA (UPI) — A Jewish magazine says Billy Carter's ethnic humor has gotten out of hand and the president's "bad boy" behavior is a disgrace.

It added that Carter's "mean-spirited" behavior is a disgrace and that he is a "public enemy number one."

Carter came under attack in the December issue of the Southern Jewish Community Action Council's "Jewish Voice" magazine. The magazine called Carter a "public enemy number one" and a "buffoon."

Carter could not be reached for comment but his agent, Tandy Rice of Nashville, called the magazine "anti-Semitic."

In the same Dec. issue of the magazine, the magazine's editor, David L. Rosen, called Carter a "public enemy number one" and a "buffoon."

Carter, said Stuart Rosenberg, has failed to distinguish between "ethnic humor" and ethnic bias.

"It has been a private affair, one that did not have an impact on the public. It was a private affair and it was not the business of the public."

"The level of the magazine is so low that it is a disgrace to the Jewish community. It is a disgrace to the Jewish community and it is a disgrace to the Jewish community."

He Wants A Key

Thank-you letters this morning.

County Commissioner Dick Williams said Tuesday that "one of the reasons Beckwith hasn't been given a key is because he hasn't been given the property appraiser's signature."

"My understanding is that some of the judges have keys," Mrs. Glenn said.

"None that work," responded Williams.

"The final responsibility for the courthouses is the county commission," French said.

County Commission office manager Dot Wade said today that keys to the courthouses are currently in the hands of all the individual commissioners, County Administrator Roger Helms, David Helms, director of administrative services, courthouse security personnel under her direction and one of the maintenance men.

Beckwith's situation appears unique in the immediate Central Florida area.

Randall Kirkland, Orange County clerk of the circuit court for the past 11 years, said he has had a key to the courthouses in Orlando ever since he has been in office and all his staff has keys as well.

"I haven't had occasion to use my key in some years, but my staff does when hearings are held after hours or on Saturday mornings or if they have to catch up on something," Kirkland said.

"While we, in Orange County, may not always get along all the time, we don't have open warfare here as they do in San Diego," said Kirkland. "You gotta be kidding."

said E.V. Smith, clerk of the circuit court in Volusia County. "Well, I'll be a 40-year-old man, how does Beckwith get his work done? He must have keys out of the courthouses. I've always had a key," he said.

Smith has been clerk of the court in Volusia for the past five years and for 28 years prior to that he was a deputy clerk.

Beckwith said today a particularly bothersome matter that while he does not have a key to the courthouses, the county commission has made him a deputy clerk.

Beckwith as a constitutional officer is equal to the county commissioners as are the tax collector and property appraiser. None of the three is employed by the county commission, but operate under separate budgets approved by the state.

80-100 Routed As Cars Derail With Toxic Fumes

JELICO, Tenn. (UPI) — Between 80 and 100 people were safely evacuated today after a Louisville & Nashville freight train derailed and three tank cars carrying sulfuric acid ruptured, sending a toxic vapor cloud billowing across an area three miles southeast of here.

There were no deaths or injuries in the 5:30 a.m. accident on a section of track near the remote High Cliff community along the Tennessee-Kentucky border, authorities said. Railroad officials went door to door, warning families living in High Cliff in Tennessee and in the Lott, Fairview and Saxton communities across the Kentucky line to leave their homes until the cloud dissipated and the spill could be neutralized.

Sanford May Drop County Landfill Pact

By MAX EKIKLITIAN
Herald Staff Writer

Fed up with delays at the Seminole County landfill in Ocala and hoping to cut costs almost in half, Sanford City officials are examining the possibility of abandoning their solid waste disposal agreement with the county and using a private landfill in Orange City.

The proposed curiously under study calls for the city to lease its refuse to Orange City landfill and dump it at a cost of $14 per truckload on a two-year contract. Under the present agreement with the county, the city pays $31 per load to dump refuse at the Ocala landfill.

The landfill at Orange City is privately owned and operated by Laine Marie Healy, Dulosa. The firm has a permit from the Florida Department of Environmental Regulation (DER) to operate the landfill, according to Kowles.

The city wants to purchase the city a franchise fee and requiring the franchise to be passed on to the customer.

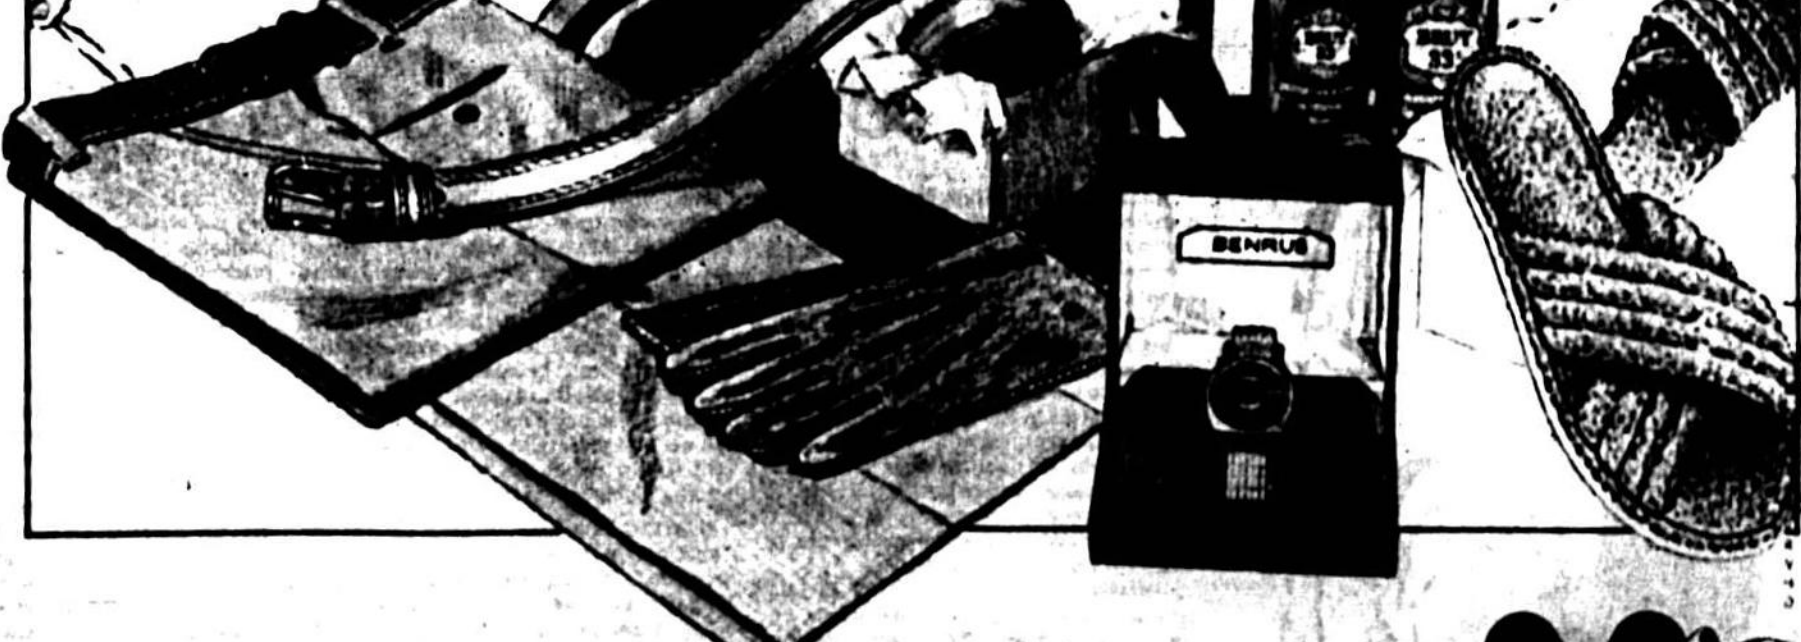

Commissioner John Morris has raised objection to that plan, asking for details on the possibility of the city expanding its hauling capacity to handle commercial accounts.

Presently four private contractors handle the large commercial accounts while the city maintains one crew to serve smaller accounts. Under a franchise agreement only one of these firms would be allowed to continue operation within the city.

Turns of the contract the city would cost the city approximately $200,000 to purchase two front-end loaders to service the additional commercial accounts, according to Bob Kelly, director of public works.

The addition of commercial accounts would add $30,000 to $40,000 per year in revenue to the city, estimated Kelly.

In addition to the higher cost of using the county landfill and upstate transfer station to dump solid waste, the city loses money in terms of man-hours waiting to dump waste, according to Kelly.

God-Awful Costs Abound

A dollar today buys less than half what it did 11 years ago. We didn't need the government to tell us. And now the annual inflation rate is nudging 10 percent, called "God-awful" by the president's chief inflation fighter.

Roots Of Inflation

WASHINGTON—President Carter's anti-inflation program has little chance of success because it fails to focus on the root causes of the price increases that have the greatest impact on the budgets of most families.

BERLIN — If the words "Berlin Wall" conjure up an image of a heavily fortified concrete-block wall with strands of barbed wire on top, you should see what has happened to it in the 17 years since that August 1961 when the wall was first built to seal in the population of East Berlin.

He Won't Lie, But Won't Reply, Either

WASHINGTON — When Jimmy Carter, the president, promised that he would be an open administration, we were among the old-fashioned liberals who knew the man was serious.

Anderson tried again. He pointed out reasonably that his line "did not depend on any view" but that if he got no reply to his questions he might then be able to formulate his own view.

Anderson's question was not about the White House, we were able to get only one straight answer: Federal employment production increases, if any, was not taken into consideration when the pay rates were recommended.

SCC Seeks Bids For Computers

By LINDA H. HANCOCK
Herald Staff Writer

The Seminole Community College (SCC) Board of Trustees Tuesday acted on a variety of issues ranging from computer parts to continuing guard services at the college.

The board unanimously voted to advertise for bids for about $62,000 worth of computer equipment.

The equipment, which will be bid through the state, will be used primarily by students in the classroom, according to Donald Nichols, procurement officer for the college.

The new material, which is expected to be in operation by September 1979, will add new memory banks and additional terminals to existing computers.

The trustees also gave unanimous approval to renewing the one-year contract with Mohr Security Service of Casselberry. SCC pays the company for guard services provided to the college.

Under last year's contract SCC paid the company $4 an hour for the service, but the new contract increases that figure to $4.50 an hour, according to R.T. Milwe, assistant to the president for administrative affairs.

SCC pays an average of $8,000 a month to the firm which provides 24-hour guard service in addition to providing security at various other functions including athletic activities.

The trustees unanimously voted to change the amount of money charged to similar citizens who are taught while confined to a nursing home or retirement center.

Under the old policy, those in the nursing homes who took courses had to pay a $5 a term (winter, spring, fall etc.) which proved to be a financial hardship for some, according to Ned Johnson, director of SCC's adult and continuing education program.

The new policy, adopted by the board, would set the amount at five dollars for the entire year, according to Johnson.

The program of teaching the non credit course in the retirement centers has been offered by SCC for about seven years. Under the program, those in the center meet with their activities director and decide what courses they would like to be taught in, according to Johnson.

SCC then hires a person on a part-time basis to go to the particular center for about one hour a day, several days a week, depending on what the people want.

Reps of the courses taught include lip-reading, story-telling and book-reading, according to Johnson.

In other action, the trustees voted the $5-a-year fee that participants in computer learning programs have to pay SCC to also have courses taught at the learning site.

Under this program, three in each of the five computer learning locations in the county, such as nursing homes, have a part-time SCC instructor come in to teach a variety of courses including algebra, arts and crafts, story telling or any subject requested.

Under state law the college is required to levy a charge for the class but they also have the right to waive the fee if a hardship exists, according to Johnson.

The board also heard a presentation on the proposed for a Community College Council.

Reginald Higgins, a trustee at Volusia Community College, advised the SCC trustees that if approved by the state legislature, the council would be composed of six members representing the community colleges throughout the state. The members would be appointed by the governor and would serve for four-year terms.

The council would serve only as an advisory council reporting back to the state Department of Education, according to Higgins.

The Goal: New Life For Welaka Site

Restoration of the Welaka Building, long a downtown landmark in Sanford, has begun with workers clearing out debris to bring the structure back to life.

The first signs of life in the old building will stir in February when a restaurant is scheduled to open, according to Carl Gutmann, president of Welaka Inc.

Restoration of the upstairs portion of the two-floor building is scheduled for April with the downstairs being completed in May, according to Gutmann.

The $388,000 project is financed by a joint loan from four Sanford banks and by a $48,200 grant from the state restoration committee. The restoration funds are granted from the state for projects that bring unused buildings back to use.

The building will become home for offices and the restaurant, signaling another phase in its colorful history.

Originally the building was a railroad office. In the 1920s it became a fashionable apartment house and in more recent years a rooming house.

At this point in the renovation, the building's original brick exterior can be observed. In the early part of this century it was covered with a stucco finish.

Cook Of The Week

She Drains Last Drop Of Goodness From Food

RITA BROWN BEGINS PIE

By ELDA NICHOLS
Herald Correspondent
Rita Brown of Longwood, is a thirty cook who knows how to drain the last drop of goodness from food items that many people discard. For instance, apple peels. "I just boil them down, add sugar, and they make the best apple jelly you've ever tasted!" she said, and she does the same with peach pits.

Learning to cook at age 8, Rita became the cook for her entire family at age 18. "There were six boys and three girls. My mother became ill and I had to leave school to take care of everything. Besides the members of my own family, Dad was always befriending someone, and they were added to the list."

of cooking, she has this to say. "I never cook vegetables without adding a little salt and sugar. Making a better flavor. Also, a good cube is the result of the heating, and bread becomes good through the kneading."

During the peach season in Georgia, Rita used to go there and can many quart cases. "I always canned the peaches without adding sugar. It was too expensive to put sugar in that many. So then, when we'd eat them, sugar could be added if anyone wanted it. The peaches keep just as well without sugar," she said.

Rita enjoys new recipes and often changes the basic idea to her own tastes. Her daughter lives next door and Rita often prepares goodies for her family.

A third generation Florida cracker, Rita is active in the First Baptist Church in Longwood. Four of her own brothers became ministers. Her own personal philosophy is this: "I've never been a complainer and I try to meet the world head on!"

Her hobbies include sewing and doing alterations. But her main love is working in her flowers in the yard. Recalling a recent incident, she smiled and said, "A friend of my daughter's was amazed to see me out in my yard working with a shovel. Expressing her concern, my daughter just laughed and said, 'That's alright! If she does out in the yard with a shovel in her hand, she'll be happy!'"

That was nearly two years ago, and now I realize what a wonderful family I have. I have earned the respect of my sons. But more important, I have learned that the greatest gift a man can give his children is himself and his time.

Today, I am a happier man, and I want to thank you, Abby, because if it were not for the letter my son wrote to you, I might never have known what I was missing. Sign me

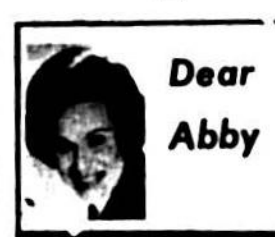

DEAR ABBY: Please settle an argument between my sister and me. Recently there was a wedding in the family. My sister and her husband were invited, but the husband couldn't make it, so my sister took her 11-year-old daughter instead.

None of the other children in the family was invited and you can be sure there were plenty of hurt feelings. My sister insists that as long as her husband wasn't able to make it, substituting her daughter was perfectly all right.

I told my sister if the bride and groom wanted her daughter at the wedding they would have invited her, and only those people whose names appear on the invitation are invited. What do you say?
NO RESTRICTIONS
DEAR NO: I vote with you.

Son's Letter Earns Dad Family Respect

DEAR ABBY: This is to tell you about a letter you never received. Some time ago I received a call from my son's third grade teacher asking me to stop in at school to discuss a letter my son had written in letter-writing class. It was addressed to YOU. It read:

Dear Abby

"Dear Abby, My dad works all the time. He never home. He gives me money and lots of toys, but I hardly ever see him. I love him and wish he would not work all the time so I could see him more."

Jeff That was the entire letter, Abby, I was very poor when I was a boy. I always wanted my children to have it better than I did, so in addition to my regular job, I worked two part-time jobs - almost doubling my income. I managed to provide my wife and two sons with many luxuries, but I realized after reading Jeff's letter that I was depriving them of something far more important - myself. And my time.

For instance, I had never attended a report card conference, nor visited school. I took no part in Scouting, although both sons were Cub Scouts. I have never reprimanded my sons. This responsibility was entirely their mother's. Sometimes boys would pass without my seeing the boys awake.

Because of the standard I had set for my family, I felt I couldn't lower those standards without first discussing it with them, so we had a family meeting. The result: I quit both part-time jobs and we adjusted our standard of living accordingly.

For A Holiday Painter's Palette Of Color...

Serve Versatile Vegetables

If you want to add color and pizzazz to holiday menus plus a healthy helping of vitamins and minerals, choose fresh vegetables.

According to the U.S. Department of Agriculture, since 1972 Americans have registered a steady gain in the use of fresh vegetables. Changing eating habits emphasizing a few calories and an increased health consciousness appear to be the main reasons for a shift towards fresh vegetables.

Most vegetables are low in calories, low in fat, cholesterol-free and low in sodium making them ideal for many diets.

Most canned vegetables are higher in sodium and frozen vegetables are blanched in salted water so you may prefer fresh vegetables because they are lower in sodium.

By becoming familiar with subtle uses of spices, you can fix tasty fresh vegetable dishes without using table salt. Some of the more interesting seasonings allowed on a low sodium diet include: basil, bay leaf, celery seed, chives, curry, dill, garlic, mint, pepper, rosemary and onion powder.

1 cup currants
1/2 cup raisins
1/4 cup packed brown sugar
2 cups apple cider
1/2 cup molasses
1 teaspoon salt

1/2 cup lard
1/2 cup butter
1/2 cup shortening

BASIC PIE PASTRY RECIPE
Yield: One double crust pie
2 cups sifted flour
3/4 cup shortening
1/2 cup ice water

STANDARD MIXING METHOD: Stir flour and salt into mixing bowl. Add shortening. With a pastry blender or two table knives, cut the shortening into the flour mixture until texture is that of coarse cornmeal. Add water, and blend with a fork to form the dough into a ball shape. Cover with waxed paper. Let stand at room temperature for 15 minutes. Divide dough in half and use to make a double crust pie or two 8-inch pastry shells.

ELECTRIC MIXER METHOD: Place flour, salt and shortening in small mixer bowl. Using lowest speed on electric mixer, mix 15 seconds, scrape beaters and mix 10 seconds more or until mixture is consistency of coarse cornmeal. Add water all at once. Mix at lowest speed until dough clings together, about 7 seconds. Turn out dough onto waxed paper. Let stand for 15 minutes at room temperature. Divide dough in half and use to make one double crust or two 8-inch pastry shells.

TIME SAVING HINTS: (1) Prepare uncooked pie in advance.

HOLIDAY BUFFET

The season is justly upon us. And what better way to share the spirit of the holiday than with a neighborhood buffet.

The affair can be simple or elaborate. One way for everyone to enjoy the event is to plan the menu in advance and do a dry run the cooking among those planning to attend.

Of course, the host and hostess will outfit themselves with the holiday and themed gifts with Christmas. And, the guests will follow suit by bringing their cheeriest smiles to the celebration.

When planning a buffet, serve foods that require little effort on the part of the waiter. For example, a festive Yule ham should be cut in suitable portions so that guests need not struggle with a knife and fork if using their laps as tables. If possible, arrange enough comfortable seating for all those invited.

The buffet will be especially elegant with lighted candles, a wreath of holly, pine cones and green and red streamers on a white tablecloth. Arrange the food so that guests serving themselves move in one direction.

Begin the buffet with an easy-to-make Champagne Bouquet of champagne and orange juice. Also serve a non-alcoholic punch of cranberry juice and club soda.

Reader Has Fear Of Rapid Heart Beat

DEAR DR. LAMB: I have a rapid heart beat. Blood tests and chest X rays indicate that I am not having a heart attack. I am afraid to exercise from my diet and now I have stopped smoking. I am on Valium as needed. When my heart starts beating fast, it is very frightening. I also experience shortness of breath. This happens to me once every week or every other week. My doctor says that if eliminating cigarettes doesn't stop the rapid heart beat, he'll put me on digitalis. This worries me. I am only 35 years old and have never had any serious illness. Do you know anything about this condition? And, am I likely to have a heart attack? DEAR READER: Many people who have attacks of rapid heart action have no underlying heart disease at all. Nevertheless, when the heart beats fast during such attacks, it can be uncomfortable and frightening. The shortness of breath in such instances occurs because the heart is beating so fast it doesn't have time to fill properly between beats. As a result, it becomes an inefficient pump. There are some medical problems that can cause such attacks. One of them is an overactive thyroid. I presume that your doctor has tested you for this possibility. You did the right thing by eliminating caffeine and stopping cigarettes. These are two factors that we know contribute to the frequency of such attacks. Now I used the word "attacks" on purpose because the term "heart attack" is not a very precise one. Today, by common usage, it has come to mean having inadequate circulation to the heart muscle which leads to death of part of the heart muscle. These attacks are usually caused by plugging of a coronary artery with fatty-cholesterol deposits. Actually, a variety of acute heart problems are also called heart attacks, including episodes of rapid heart action.

CBS Hits The Top At Last

NEW YORK (UPI) — Santa Claus, in the guise of the A.C. Nielsen Co., gave CBS an early Christmas present this week — a tie with ABC for first place in the past week's ratings. That's the first time this year that CBS, which for 28 years dominated the ratings game, hit the top. Actually, while the ratings are even, CBS has a slight edge in that it garnered a slightly higher share of the viewing audience for the week than its rival.

Zoning Change Studied

Efforts to change the zoning on a 100-by-100 square foot lot on the corner of First Street and Cypress Ave. has taken a turn that may lead it toward becoming the site of a medical office, Druggists and medical supply store.

The City of Sanford is studying zoning changes to allow for a medical office, Druggists and medical supply store.

The planning and zoning commission will have to have two hearings on the amendment to RMOZ zoning, according to City Attorney Victor L. McCann. The first hearing will be held on Dec. 13 at 7:30 p.m. The second hearing will be held on Dec. 14 at 7:30 p.m.

The amendment would change the zoning from RMOZ to RMOZ-1. The amendment would allow for a medical office, Druggists and medical supply store.

Breakfast Vote Delayed Until Board Present

By LEONARD KRANDORF
Herald Staff Writer

After almost two hours of discussion the Seminole County School Board minus two of its members decided Wednesday night to table the proposal for a school breakfast program until all five members can be present at the January meeting.

Board chairman Robert Feather and member Pat Tyson were not present.

Board members Alan Keith, Roland Williams and William Kraft listened as members of the audience stepped up to the podium to express their thoughts on the program.

First to speak on behalf of the program was Louise Crawford, representing Seminole Community Action (SCA).

Citing a recent nutrition report by the Children's Foundation she noted the report " blames officials at all levels of government for failing to realize the potential of a breakfast program." She added the report also says "the school breakfast program is a kind of capsule of the fear, prejudice and misunderstandings which have made public commitment to the next generation so faltering."

After quoting from the report Mrs. Crawford said, "We have needy children in middle income families because the way our lives are structured, in these times of inflation to meet family needs, it is almost mandatory that both parents work."

"And with everyone getting up and dashing in different directions trying to catch a bus whether intentionally or otherwise our children are going to school hungry and it is certainly not due to lazy parents, it is due to lack of food in the house, or lack of time in which to prepare a meal," she said.

Next to address the board was Willie Fossitt, president of the Midway Elementary PTA. "I urge all of you to look around to see what would be beneficial," he said, "and if you look at the Midway area you will see it is a heavy migrant area and so many parents get up early and have to be on the job at 7 in the morning."

He also presented the school board with a petition signed by 100 parents who "are very interested in getting this much needed program."

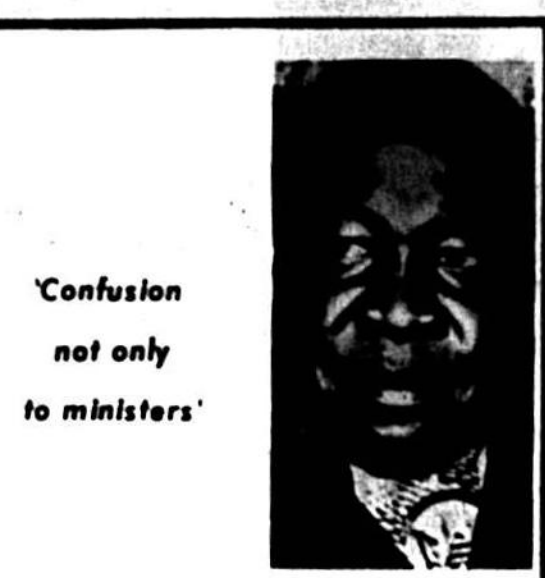

"The government is giving us the money so why don't we take advantage of it?" he asked.

"Under the law which established the breakfast program, the federal government would pay for the food and supplies needed for the program."

Next to speak was Becky Coxon, representing the displaced homemakers of Seminole County. "I feel I had something to say here," she said, "and although I do not have a prepared speech I would like to say that it is a myth to believe that the breakfast program would alter the family structure."

"It is a chore now just to pull the children out of bed to get them to eat breakfast at home and I can tell you they resist," said Mrs. Coxon, the mother of two.

"I'm sure this program would be against... he's for

Too Much Loving In Uganda?

By DONNA ESTES
Herald Staff Writer

"If Egypt and Israel can sit down and move toward working out their differences, some open, honest sharing and discussion of the problem of the courthouses here might lead to a solution," Circuit Court Judge Demetrius Salfi said today of the county commission policy of denying keys to the county facility in Sanford to all but its own members. He said staff and maintenance personnel, he gave them a "serious warning," it said, because he has received "numerous complaints of this nature which, in some cases, have led to men killing their wives."

Amin told wives their husbands often work for 10 years to pay their dowry, and then they go with "big people in the government who are fat and wealthy."

He said if such men are found out whether they be ministers or top government officials — "they will be put in jail and dealt with according to the law."

He said he does not want people in government to play with other people's belongings from now onwards," the radio said.

The Key: Clerk Chief 'Appalled'

County Administrator Roger Newswender said today he has been told that locks on the courthouse doors were changed several years ago after several mysterious disappearances of both personal and county property.

"I am appalled that the board of county commissioners of any county would deny a fellow elected constitutional officer keys that he needs to perform his duties. I'm not certain they can legally do that. It is incumbent on the county commission not only to provide the clerk with space but also certainly access to that space," Dixon said.

"The key is only the symbol of a much larger problem that needs to be openly worked on in Seminole County," Judge Salfi said.

"I know the frustration Art Beckwith is contending with in not having a key," said Salfi today, noting that he, too, had to wait more than 20 minutes the Friday after Thanksgiving to gain the situation of the security guard and get into the courthouse.

Meanwhile, Bud Dixon, clerk of the circuit court in Polk County and president of the Florida Association of Circuit Court Clerks, said today he knows of no other county in the state where the clerk of the circuit court is denied a key to the courthouse.

"It is very difficult for me to comprehend this," Dixon said. "No other clerk in the state, as far as I know, is prohibited from having a courthouse key. I'm appalled, appalled, I'm members of my staff am standing trials at all hours of the day and night, coming into the courthouses here in Sanford at all times. If the county commissioners here did not provide us with a key it would be impossible for us to operate."

"I am appalled that the board of county commissioners of any county would deny a fellow elected constitutional officer keys that he needs to perform his duties. I'm not certain they can legally do that. It is incumbent on the county commission not only to provide the clerk with space but also certainly access to that space," Dixon said.

County Administrator Roger Newswender said today he has been told that locks on the courthouse doors were changed several years ago after several mysterious disappearances of both personal and county property.

He said at the time it was found that more than 100 keys to various offices in the facility had been given out and that each suite key also opened the front door.

Newswender said at that point it was decided to change the locks, giving keys to only the commissioners, the administrative assistant, and the custodial people and a security guard system for evenings and weekends was set up.

The service started in Sanford last week will be extended to Saturdays this weekend and next to accommodate Christmas shoppers.

The Saturday service, which will run Dec. 16 and Dec. 23 only, will begin as the result of rider requests, according to Pat Hamrick, Orange, Seminole, Osceola Transportation Authority (OSOTA). The added service will amount to an added cost of $90 for each Saturday. That expense will be paid by Seminole County and through revenues from ridership, according to Laura Fritel, county planner.

"Normally, when you start a service," said Hamrick, "you begin during the week and add weekend service later. This is not the beginning of a permanent weekend service, but it will give us an opportunity to see how much interest and ridership we would have on Saturdays."

All routes will run their normal through-the-week schedules with Saturdays from 6:30 a.m. to 6:30 p.m., according to Hamrick.

In addition county crews began erecting signs for bus stops today. Crews are expected to finish posting the signs today or tomorrow, according to county officials.

Even though the signs are being put up today, they will likely be changed according to rider needs, said Hamrick.

The signs will be erected at intervals according to population grouping, however, if riders express a need for a stop to be moved, the transportation authority will try to comply.

Hamrick urged people with questions about the signs or other items related to bus service to call the transportation authority's information number at 628-2807.

Ridership for the bus service's first week rose from 16 the first day to 103 last Friday, according to Hamrick.

For the first two days this week ridership leveled off to 90 Monday and 96 Tuesday.

Though the service has been in operation less than two weeks, Hamrick looks a lot like he is developing a trend in ridership to decrease the ridership, especially among the senior citizens who do not want to get out in bad weather," noted Hamrick. "Another factor we look at is that we are in the middle of the month and a lot of people using the bus service are on some form of welfare or government assistance as they get their checks in the first of the month and they tend to do most of their shopping about that time, so they ride more often than."

This month may be somewhat of an exception to that rule of decreased ridership toward the end of the month because of the Christmas season, noted Hamrick. He added that as Christmas nears, ridership will increase.

Final Talks, Vance Leaves Empty-Handed

United Press International

Secretary of State Cyrus Vance held a final round of talks with Israeli leaders in Jerusalem today but failed to get agreement on a peace treaty he sought to achieve by the Camp David target deadline of Sunday.

In Washington, a White House official said late Wednesday night "Egyptian President Anwar Sadat has gone as far as he can go." Sadat said Wednesday he was ready to sign the next even before the Camp David deadline of Dec. 17, Israel, he said, was holding up the pact.

In Paris, King Hussein of Jordan reiterated his opposition today to the Camp David agreements and the Egyptian-Israeli peace talks and called now for a general Middle East peace process that would encompass the entire region.

"Peace should be based on different premises than those of Camp David," Hussein said at the end of a four-day visit to France.

Prime Minister Menachem Begin said after meeting with Vance for 90 minutes that "certain agreements" remain in the Egyptian and Israeli positions. He called a special session of his cabinet for Friday, the Sabbath eve.

Vance will now return to Cairo and then go on to Washington on Saturday. President Carter, who instructed the secretary to return Friday — with or without the treaty.

The continuing disagreements, which Vance tackled in Israel, included an Israeli rejection of U.S. ideas approved by Sadat earlier in the Vance shuttle.

The disagreement appeared to make it impossible for a treaty to be concluded by Sunday's deadline as set by the Camp David peace accord.

Carter's decision to cut short Vance's mission and his abrupt remarks to date on Israel's negotiating stand also appeared to be a final attempt to pressure the Jewish position to end a treaty by the Sunday deadline.

Vance said today he returns to Washington to report to the president.

Washington was unrelated to the Middle East question, but added: "We will continue, as the prime minister said, in pursuit of peace. This is our common goal and we are determined that goal will be achieved."

After his talk with Begin, Vance went on an unscheduled drive to Bethlehem and on the road to Hebron in the occupied West Bank of Jordan.

He later told reporters he wanted to see the Church of the Nativity in Bethlehem, the town where Jesus Christ was born. He said he did not drive all the way to Hebron and his spokesman, George Sheehan, said he did not make with West Bank setbacks.
