Political Defliagortica

We are hearing a great deal about political demagogue these days not only in national politics where Congress is trying desperately to do something that is popular, whether wise or foolish, but also in local circles where a primary election is not far away. A demagogue is an insincere politician or political candidate who plays upon public prejudices in order to gain office or popular influence, and demagogues these days are very active.

We understand that one of the candidates for gover-nor is making an appeal for Sanford votes on the please that he will, if elected, provide state aid for this city in its bond difficulties. The inference is that he will float a statewide bond issue to take up the bonds of defunct municipali-ties, or that he will make a direct contribution out of the state treasury to this city out of which its bonds can be

It is apparent that any such plea for votes could come only from a demagogue. The governor could not negotiate a because when I pass out I take would have sounded to be called bond issue, without an amendment to the constitution and a up too much room on the sofa. . Sparka of Life . . I didn't get majority vote of the Legislature, which he could never get and besides the guy where I lived a diplorable because I never Neither could he make any direct contribution out of the didn't care if we drank in our graduated so now I have to write state treasury without laying himself open to prosecution. The only way in which he can be of any assistance at all to the cities is indirectly, through a reduction in the cost of state government, a platform plank which every candidate

It also has come to our attention that one of the local candidates for the Legislature is whispering an appeal for stripes. . . but that was a year breaker. . . I used an axe and a votes on the grounds that he will pass a law wiping out ago and you never did like history pair of tongs to put it all over Sanford's bonded indebtedness. Such a promise is, of course, an insult to the intelligence and could come only from the The only sport I went for was rankest kind of political hypocrite. The Legislature would speling and I came out cut from have no constitutional right to pass such a law and if in a bead to foot. . but you oughto on the doll. . I got so good I moment of temporary insanity, it should, the supreme court the team, . . I never made and make the other one dance the law unconstitutional.

The people of Seminole County should be continually on the lookout for just such political buncomb and clap trap as this. Unfortunately there are a few candidates seeking of this. Unfortunately there are a few candidates seeking of passed in was Elementary don't remember. . . yeah, it was fice this year who will resort to anything to gain votes. Grading of Diamonds because they They will construct any kind of a platform or make any stopped the class after the first get nothing for a dime except sort of promise, regardless of the impossibility of carrying it out, if they think it will have a popular appeal.

Undoubtedly the retirement of Sanford's bonded debt by whatever means, is a thing most to be desired at the present time, but it is not something that can be accomplished by any finger-snapping methods or fake promises. It is something which requires a great deal of sincere and conscientious effort, as well as sound business judgment. To supper time to come so we could three suits, a book about anatomy seek office on a platform of decelt and misrepresentations get it over with and get back to with swell pictures of folks with should be enough in itself to defeat any candidate.

The Massie Verdict

The verdict of the racially mixed Honolulu jury trying the case of Lieutenant Massie probably came as a surprise and disappointment to most Americans who are often accustomed to view any action in the defense of the honor of women as justifiable.

. There was hardly any doubt as to the guilt of the defendants, and although the circumstances surrounding the case were such as to excuse a violation of oath result ing in a verdict of acquittal, the jury cannot be justly criti-Sponsored By Gity Reported To Have cized for obeying the rules of legal procedure.

The defense plea of insanity seemed to us to be a most unworthy step in the effort to save Massie. Obviously ,a scheme to evade justice, it was a more serious reflection upon the character of Lieutenant Massie, who just the same as admitted that he would not have defended his wife's honor if he had not been crazy. Any man who takes this position is running a big risk of losing public sympathy and also of alienating the jury. We think that instead of a plea of insanity Massle should have admitted his act was done with a same mind, that he would do it again, and that he would continue to "go after" his wife's attackers until the last one had either in the gardens are flourishing though in need of rain. A position of this kind would have been honorable, and it would have aroused a greater public acres have been planted up to date, cousin of King Victor Emmanuel sympathy, so great in fact that a pardon would be widely demanded and probably granted.

As it is, despite the fact that the case has been allowed to adopt subterfuge in an effort for freedom, we hope some means will develop by which Massle and the other city and county each contributing $12.50 .a month towards his pay. One of the principal differences is the fact that the engraved ones are much higher in cost, then too, this type of card must he made elsewhere for no shop in Sanford is equipped to engrave cards.

Of course if you want more cards some... time later it would be better to purchase engraved ones now because by doing so you will be given a plate, from which others may be made at a reasonable cost.

However, printed cards in Old English type on paneled cards are very dignified and suitable for the occasion. They may be printed right here in our office so we can extend to you an unusually reasonable price. We will gladly show you samples and promise prompt delivery.
