Strolling In Sanford

Elks are preparing for a Gay 90's Party Saturday at the club starting at 9:00 p. m. For a reserved table, call "Diamond Jim" Blumher at 80. The table will be held until 10 o'clock. "Chaperones" for the event are to be "Dangerous Dan" Williams, "Frisco" Bill Hardin, "Shanty" Faile, "Bovary" Brack, Perkins, and "Acce-Deuce" Kaster. High lighting the affair will be the Gay 90's barbershop quartet, directed by "Honeyuckle Harry" Robson, and the singing waiters. Members are asked to dress for the occasion.

Capt. J. E. Vose, former commanding officer of SNAAS who is on leave in Coronado, Cal., had this to say about Sanford and the expansion: "We subscribe to the Sanford paper and so have kept abreast of the expansion. I think it is all very fine and know the Navy has made no mistake in building up that air station. I am looking forward to the day that I can be back there putting down some roots. It was the finest community I have ever been in."

The Stroller got a big kick out of this item passed on by Dr. Phil Weigart of the local Experiment Station. A friend of his was very proud of his beautiful lawn until one year a heavy crop of dandelions took over. He tried everything he had ever heard of to get rid of them but to no avail. At last he wrote to an agricultural listing listing everything he had tried, and ended with the appeal: "What shall I do now?" In due time he received this reply: "We suggest you learn to love them."

Eden Is Pressed To Accept Program For Ending Strike

LOONDON, (AP)—Britain's general trade union Congress and leading Conservative newspapers pressed Prime Minister Eden today to accept the congress plan ending Britain's 11-day-old rail strike.

The plan was approved yesterday by the striking Associated Society of Engineers and Firemen. It calls for immediate negotiations without a return to work. Eden said Sunday the government, which operates the nationalized railways, would not meet with the men until they return.

There were peace moves too, in one of the other two big walk-outs now plaguing the nation—a strike of 30,000 dock workers tying up some 200 freighters in seven seaports. Leaders of the striking stevedores union agreed to submit their jurisdictional dispute with other unions to a Trade Union Congress (TUC) committee.

But no settlement was sighted in the third dispute, a wildcat walkout by about 800 stewards on transatlantic liners.

Man Says He Made 1,200 Bad Checks

TAMPA (AP)—A Pensacola auto salesman, held on a charge of cashing a $13 worthless check, said he cashed about 1,200 of them in four months.

Albert Hiram Nelson said he kept track of the amount until it reached $2,000 and then "forgot" keeping track of the rest. He estimated the total at about $15,000, usually in $15 and $25 checks.

Constable Clarence Prevatt, who said he was inclined to believe Nelson's story, added that more than a dozen cities have asked "hold" orders on Nelson.

The automobile salesman said only two persons refused to cash his checks.

Martinique Hotel Is Offered Choice

MIAMI (AP)—The Martinique Hotel came under fire of the AFL Hotel Employees Union today as the latest bid to be offered a choice of negotiating or facing a picket line.

Dave Herman, special organizer for the union, said he expected the hotel management to reply to a letter which Herman sent outlining the union's demands. It would be the 30th to be picketed in the 35-day strike.

The Robert Richter refused to negotiate yesterday and picket lines were thrown up last night.

An attorney for the hotel, meanwhile, said he was making a new bid to negotiate with the union.

Orlando Man Faces Charge

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP)—A jealous former husband was charged yesterday with the murder of four children who died in a burning house.

Detective Lt. James R. Beach said 33-year old Amos Wilmer Thomas signed a statement saying he set the fire to get even with his former wife.

Annie Lee Thomas, two of whose children were killed in the blaze Friday night.

Thomas pleaded innocent at his arraignment, however, and asked for a preliminary hearing. No date was set.

Justice of the Peace Eugene G. Duckworth said three warrants charging murder in the perpetration of arson were filed. The warrants accuse Thomas of the deaths of Dewitt Roundtree, 10, and Linda Joyce Roundtree, 1, children of Mrs. Thomas; Eddie Lee Roundtree, 10, and Freddie Lee Roundtree, 4, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Roundtree, grandparents of Dewitt and Linda Joyce.

Beach said Thomas, a Negro, told authorities he slipped into his former wife's bedroom, poured gasoline on the floor, ignited it and ran out. He later joined the crowd watching the blaze.

One of them, T. Sgt. Donald H. Swanson of Rochester, N.Y., said the order to parachute was given after one of the four engines broke loose and cut fuel lines. He said he did not know what caused the engine trouble.

The crew bailed out over the Englewood-El Johnson area about 8:00 miles south of here. The plane, on automatic pilot, crashed and burned in a pasture about 20 miles farther south.

The men were picked up by law enforcement officers and civilians in the area and brought here by helicopter.

Refueling Aircraft Crashes

TAMPA (AP)—A KC-97 refueling plane from MacDill Air Force Base developed engine trouble and crashed during a training flight yesterday, but all except one of the crew of 10 parachuted safely.

The tenth man died in the MacDill hospital of injuries received in the jump. His identity was withheld pending notification of kin.

The base public information officer said three others were taken to the hospital with injuries which were not serious.

Important Question Still Unanswered

Many Ladies Gather For Hospital Meet

Approximately 100 interested women in Sanford attended the meeting of the newly formed Seminole Memorial Hospital Women's Auxiliary held at the Yacht Club last night with Mrs. A. W. Epps Sr. presiding.

Information blanks and applications for membership were handed each person as she entered by Mrs. George Harden, membership chairman.

Mrs. Roy Mann, vice president, explained the rules of the organization and requirements for active membership as follows: first and foremost a genuine interest in the welfare and progress of the hospital, secondly, a member is required to give 60 hours per year in any one selected services and the payment of $1 annual membership dues upon acceptance.

An associate membership, without any specified number of hours duty will be $10 per year. A full membership, which entitles a member to a life membership will be $100.

Each member will be responsible for her own uniform. Which ever service a member selects, she will be required to serve in that particular service at least six months. A change to another service can be made, however, upon a 30 day notice to the board.

Harry M. Weir, hospital administrator, spoke briefly to the group and introduced Mrs. Mary Dejeans of St. Petersburg who has been chosen as head nurse for the hospital. She expressed her desire and willingness to work with the auxiliary wholeheartedly.

Mrs. T. F. McDaniel, program chairman, introduced Mrs. Austin J. Caruso, Mrs. Glen Wilson and Mrs. Arthur Stead of the women's auxiliary of the Orange Memorial Hospital, who outlined the various functions of the auxiliary.

Mrs. Stead, president elect of the Orange county auxiliary, spoke on the importance of public relations in and out of the hospital; Mrs. Caruso told of fund raising campaign and purposes for which the funds are used.

Mrs. Wilson, president of the organization in Orlando, explained the various services that are offered including: sunshine service, which consists mainly in spreading sunshine and good humor among the patients; the pediatric service, which she described as "very worthy" in that the women soothe and comfort children when their parents have to leave them; the hospital cart, which is a "store on wheels" and supplies the patients with toilet articles, magazines, magazines, etc., and the Doctor's library, where books are properly catalogued and kept in good condition; and last, but not least, the latest addition to the hospital, the photographic lab where pictures are taken of day old infants which is proving highly satisfactory in hospitals over the country.

Dr. L. L. Parks, director of the State Board of Health, said the Bureau of preventable disease, vaccine should reach all counties no later than Friday. The new vaccine was cleared by the U. S. Public Health Service.

The County Health Unit said it had not yet been notified of the shipment of the vaccine.

Unbusiness Probed In Massachusetts

BOSTON (AP)—A Massachusetts legislature committee investigating prison unrest and outbreaks has called for "immediate resignation or firing" of State Corrections Commissioner E. Lawrence Spurr.

The Republican minority refused to sign the report.

The action is an aftermath of a January rebellion in which four desperado - convicts held five guards hostage in a futile escape attempt.

The Democratic majority report, attributed trouble in the ancient state prison to delay in opening a new prison.

Set Aside Some Time For Thinking

What are your plans for tonight? And this weekend with the family? And the vacation you are going to take pretty soon? It is a lot of fun to plan, dream and wish!

Clara Jobs once planned the same way with her two lovely daughters. But today, because of torturous pain, Mrs. Jobs is confined to her bed, a victim of a vicious disease about which the medical profession knows very little.

Her plans are wrapped up in prayer. A prayer that she be allowed respite from the pain that seems to eat away a clear mind.

Vaccine Program Queried

Dr. Terry Bird
Attending Meet

When will Seminole County children get their second shots of Salk polio vaccine?

That question remained unanswered although enough vaccine to complete the two shot immunization program in Florida was due to arrive in Jacksonville today.

Dr. Terry Bird, County Health Officer, is attending the American Medical Association convention in Atlantic City and is not expected to return to Sanford before next Wednesday. He may, however, cut his convention stay short, a County Health Unit spokesman said.

Approximately 1,000 first and second grade school children received their first shots in April. The immunization program got under way April 25 at Southside School, and the second inoculations were supposed to have been given two weeks later.

The vaccine "scare" interfered with the schedule, however, and a cloud of uncertainty has hung over the program in Seminole County since that time.

The second shot is more or less a "booster," Dr. Bird pointed out recently. Just how long the first shot is effective is not known, although Dr. Jonas Salk, the discoverer, at one time estimated the period at from two to four weeks, but since he has announced it should be effective for a longer period.

Since school has ended, the children may be given their second shots at the County Health Unit or may be transported to their respective schools on certain days for the vaccinations. Another possibility is that the shots may be given at the offices of doctors who helped administer the first shots.

The RH Lilly Co. yesterday loaded 146,610 shots of the return on a Florida-bound Eastern Air Lines plane at Indianapolis. It was scheduled to arrive in Jacksonville today.

Dr. L. L. Parks, director of the State Board of Health, said the Bureau of preventable disease, vaccine should reach all counties no later than Friday. The new vaccine was cleared by the U. S. Public Health Service.

The County Health Unit said it had not yet been notified of the shipment of the vaccine.

Five Flags Fiesta Begins Tomorrow

PENSACOLA (AP)—The Fiesta of the Five Flags begins tomorrow with the arrival of Don Tristan de Luna VI to reign over four days of festivities.

Tradition says the first De Luna landed at the site of this Gulf Coast city in 1559. His modern counterpart is a young Pensacola businessman whose identity will be disclosed tomorrow.

Before his arrival, someone will find $1,500 at the end of a treasure hunt which began Saturday. There will be tours of historic sites and a water ski show.

Then the parade of decorated yachts will go up Pensacola Bay to salute Don Tristan de Luna's arrival at Palafox Pier.

TOKYO (AP)—The economic newspaper, Nihon Keizai, said today three Japanese drug firms had contracted to send Red China three million grams of streptomycin.

Cabinet Gathering Called By Head To Study Invite

BERLIN, Germany (AP)—West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer called his Cabinet together today to study the Soviet Union's surprise invitation for him to visit Moscow. The Russians said "normalization of relations" was their aim.

The Chancellor, staunch exponent of an ally of the West, declined last night to comment on the Soviet bid. He was known to be personally reluctant to make such a trip because of his past policy of uncompromising anticommunism.

But pressure mounted from political allies and foes alike. Political circles here generally acknowledged it would be difficult for him to refuse.

Eugen Goestumier, president of the German Democratic Republic, speaker of the Parliament's lower house and a member of Adenauer's own Christian Democratic party, came out flatly "in favor of accepting the offer of the Russian government to resume diplomatic relations."

Premier Pledges To Liberate West From Hoa Hoa Sect

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—Premier Ngo Dinh Diem pledged in a radio speech to the nation today to liberate west Viet Nam from rebellious armies of the Hoa Hao religious sect.

Diem said the national army's operations against troops of Hoa Hao Generals Tran Van Soai and Huan were proceeding satisfactorily.

"The disintegration has begun and will continue in the days that follow," he declared.

Some 20,000 army troops launched an all-out offensive against Soai's force Sunday, hemming them into a 275-square-mile marshy triangle about 90 miles southwest of Saigon.

Soai's force originally was estimated at about 8,000 men. The government said yesterday about a third of this group had surrendered.

Prospective Groom Faces Trouble

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—Jesse Moore, 33, who was to be married last Sunday and needed money, has been charged with attempted kidnapping.

Detective Capt. William Browne said Moore, a machinist, had admitted trying to kidnap a 6-year-old grandson of a millionaire Portland industrialist.

Moore was taken into custody shortly after an intruder broke into the home of Mrs. Lillian Weinstein early Monday and tried to grab one of her twin sons to hold for ransom.

The intruder was driven off by Mrs. Weinstein and her mother, and he fled by diving head-first through a window. But he left behind the ransom note and a gun.

Moore identified the gun as his and said, at first, it had been stolen from him the night before.

But after extensive questioning yesterday he broke down and admitted the attempt, Browne said.

Moore became acquainted with the Weinstein family through Mrs. Grace Cheney, whom he was to marry next Sunday. Mrs. Cheney lives next door to the Weinstein.

It was Mrs. Cheney who recognized the pistol that the intruder left in the Weinstein home. She recalled she had seen it in Moore's house. She called Moore to tell him of it and he then reported to the police that the gun had been stolen.

Later he identified the gun as his own, Browne said.

Bail for Moore was set at $20,000.

Mrs. Weinstein, a divorcee, is the daughter of S. J. Eidel, head of a machinery and supply company here.

Chicago (AP)—The Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen said today it will ask the nation's railroads for a $2.50 daily wage increase for its 215,000 members.

The announcement was made by W. P. Kennedy, president of the brotherhood, following a meeting of the union's wage committee in Chicago.

Kennedy said notices will go out June 16 to the 300 railroads with which the Brotherhood holds contracts.

She raised the narrow slits that her eyes in a sudden face and murmured, "God grant me a clear mind that I might guide my girls."

Doctors have told Mrs. Jobs that she will never get well. At one hospital they say she may gain some relief from the pain and swelling and that only for a short time.

Lupus erythematosus is taking Clara Jobs away. She needs funds to pay for a nurse, transportation to the hospital, medicines, doctor bills, clothes to fit a terribly swollen body, and toilet articles. All of these are necessary if she is to have the one chance that is the only avenue toward the answer to her prayer.

The 38-year-old mother of two daughters at one time thought first of the unfortunate in her community... Sanford!

And now her friends are helping, trying to give Mrs. Jobs the chance available that might mean a clear mind to be devoted toward guiding her two girls in this critical period of their lives.

The Clara Jobs Fund was founded at the Sanford Atlantic National Bank with Mrs. Ruth Scott as trustee. Contributions may be sent there or to The Sanford Herald.

County Residents Fighting Problem Asked To Join AA

Residents of Seminole County who may have a personal drinking problem, or who may be interested in seeking help for a relative or friend, are invited to join the local group of Alcoholics Anonymous by writing to P. O. Box 1213, this city. It was announced today by a member here.

Alcoholics Anonymous is a fellowship of men and women, totaling nearly 150,000 in about 50 countries, who once had a drinking problem but who now are able to live without alcohol in any form.

The society had its beginnings in 1935 when two men, once hopelessly addicted to alcohol, found that they could remain sober by working with each other and with others like themselves who had an honest desire to abstain from alcohol.

The A. A. approach is based on the observation that alcoholism appears to be an illness that can probably never be cured but which can be arrested, as some other illnesses are. By not taking "the first drink," the A. A. member arrests his illness and makes it possible to lead a normal life, devoid of alcohol.

Dean Martin Says Famed Comedians To Stay Together

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Dean Martin says that all the publicity about his "misunderstanding" with his partner Jerry Lewis "makes me look like a heel."

Martin is heading to Hawaii for a vacation with his wife. Lewis is in New York to attend the premiere of the team's latest movie, "It's a Wonderful Life," which is being shown in a temporary parking of the ways, Martin said yesterday. He said he and Lewis will remain together as a team.

Martin said a misunderstanding developed when he refused to go to the movie premiere, to be held in a Catskill Mountain resort where Lewis was once a husky, because he felt that most of the limelight would be on Lewis.

He didn't know Lewis was going alone until after his departure, Martin said. "I'm not mad," he said. "But naturally I'm upset. All this publicity makes me look like a heel."

Delivery Expected Of Supercarrier

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Navy expects delivery of the 60,000-ton supercarrier Forrestal late this year—the first of five ships of that class to cost an estimated $73 million dollars.

However, the first of this new class flat-top—largest of any Navy vessel—is not expected to join the operating fleet until sometime next spring. A long shakedown period is necessary first.

Present estimated cost of the Forrestal, without her planes, but with armor and armament, is $197,839,000. This, the Navy says, is a substantial saving over the originally estimated cost of 219 millions.

3 Cabinet Members Sworn Into Office

BONN, Germany (AP)—Chancellor Konrad Adenauer's three new cabinet members — Foreign Minister Heinrich von Brentano, Defense Minister Theodor Blank and Hans-Joachim von Merkatz—were sworn into office today.

The ceremony was conducted by Eugen Gerstenmaier, president of the Bundestag (lower house of Parliament). Appointments of the new ministers were announced Monday, when Adenauer gave up his second post as foreign minister to put more drive behind the organization of the new West German defense forces.

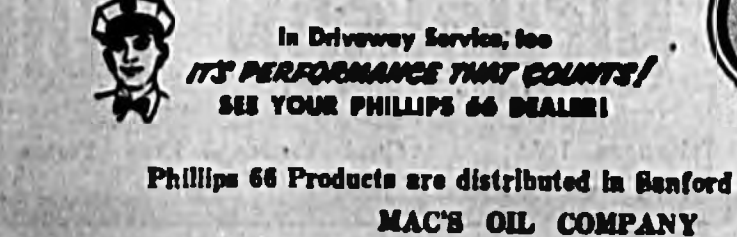

Von Merkatz was given the junior post of liaison between the Cabinet and the Bundesrat (upper house).

Christian Scientists Have Meet In Boston; Many Are Represented

Practical application of scientific Christianity is building a mighty bulwark for individual, national and universal liberty. The Christian Science Board of Directors declared today.

Addressing a gathering of some 7,500 Christian Scientists at the Annual Meeting of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass., the directors declared that the "assurance of freedom from sickness as well as from sin, from want and woe as well as from forebodings of despair" is available to all through spiritual understanding of God.

"The uncertainties which confuse and perplex the nations become less alarming and portentous in proportion as the certainty of God's guidance is better understood," the directors stated.

Church members from all over the world — Australia, Africa, Switzerland, Germany, Great Britain, Sweden, Japan and other distant points, as well as Canada and the United States — came to Boston for the meeting which has been held annually for more than a half century. Smaller meetings on specialized subjects convene on days following the main session.

Commenting on the world's fight for freedom, the directors called for individual, spiritual alertness in meeting the "threats and subtleties and wicked manipulations which seem to be so potent in the struggle."

"In every new upsurge of evil we are learning to seek and to expect fresh proofs of the presence and redemptive power of the Christ," they said.

Forecasting victory for the lovers of freedom, they declared that the way is being paved for "the reconciliation of all nations and for the reign of harmony on earth."

New President of The Mother Church for the coming year, it was announced, is Mrs. Gertrude W. Elsemann of Boston. In her keynote address, Mrs. Elsemann stressed the tremendous good which the churches can do to help mankind cope with contemporary problems and to establish the effectiveness of healing" according to the pattern of the Christ."

New Tariff Cutting Foreseen In Future

WASHINGTON (AP)—Congressional sources said today the United States plans to embark shortly on a new round of tariff cutting under authority given President Eisenhower in a compromise foreign trade bill nearing final passage.

Senate-House conferees agreed on the measure yesterday, breaking a month long deadlock. The final product is considered acceptable to Eisenhower.

The chief new power would authorize the President to cut tariffs up to 5 per cent a year over the next three years or to lower to 50 per cent any duties now above that level. This is the first new grant of tariff-cutting power since 1945.

Ty Cobb made five more hits in a game 14 times during his major career. This is an all-time high.

"My regular job is piloting a United Air Lines DC-7. On most of my flights we use Phillips 66 Aviation Gasoline. It's high-performance stuff, and one reason it's so good is Di-isopropyl. Phillips has started putting Di-isopropyl in automobile gasoline, too. They call it 'FLITE-FUEL'... and I use it regularly in my car. It gives wonderful performance."

New York Mayor Visiting Britain, Actions Are Casual

LONDON (AP)—New York Mayor Robert Wagner has found that he can get by in Britain even if he doesn't have the ceremonial robes and chains of office the British expect mayors to appear in.

The visiting New York mayor wore white tie and tails last night at a banquet given in his honor in the ancient Guildhall. But London's lord mayor, Sir Seymour Howard, in his official costume outglittered his transatlantic visitor.

"They didn't seem to mind that I just don't have an insignia of office," Wagner said. "I explained that we just haven't got them."

Wagner, whose casual manners have both charmed and surprised Britons, told newsmen that "every one has been so gracious to my wife and me. People have been wonderful."

Wagner and his wife were received by Queen Mother Elizabeth earlier yesterday. They also attended the opening of Parliament.

Bob Nieman, outfielder for the Chicago White Sox, led the Texas League in hitting in 1951. He hit 323.

Only four left-handers have won 20 or more games for the Pittsburgh Pirates. They were Frank Killen, Jesse Tannehill, Al Lenfield and Wilbur Cooper. Tannehill and Cooper did it four times each.

Farm Heads Make Low Income Study

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP)—Farm leaders from throughout the nation studied ways today to aid low-income farmers.

The two-day conference was called by the Department of Agriculture to lay a practical framework for a new program aimed at offering low-income farmers more education and opportunity.

Suggested aids include better credit facilities, greater vocational education, development of rural industries and an aggressive farm extension service with special stress on the needs of poor farmers.

Baseball Is Fast Becoming A Bore, Writer Declares

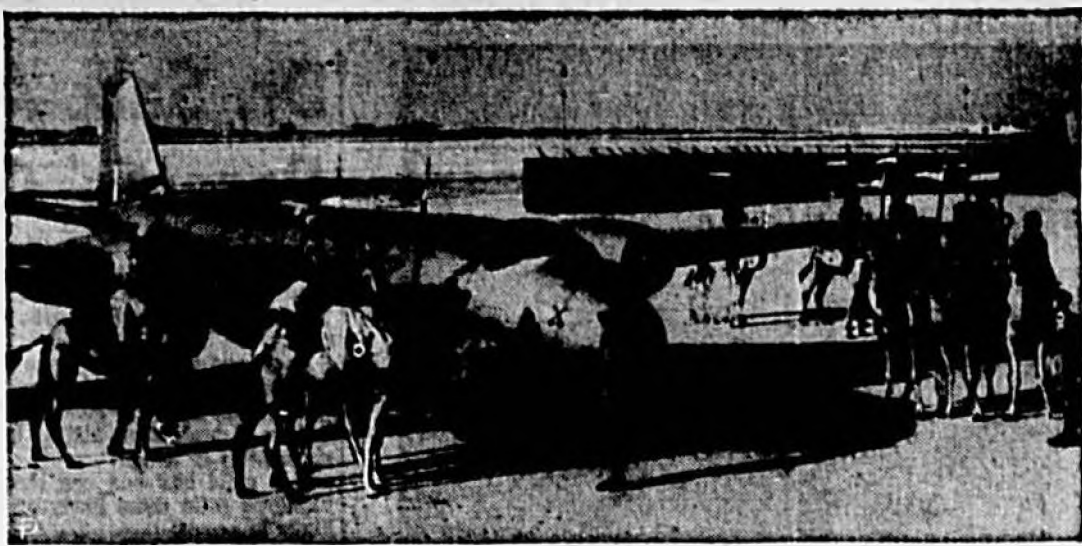

NEW YORK (AP)—If Commissioner Ford Frick's fact-finding committee really wants to know why fans are staying away from the ball parks in increasing numbers, let its members merely sit on the hard seats through a couple of typical three-hour games such as are being perpetrated these days and they will look no further.

Much as we hate to say it, the national game is becoming a bore. It is becoming badly overmanaged by a new school of pilots whose idea of brilliant strategy is to change pitchers.

Let us take, if we must, the most recent horrible example, in which eight St. Louis Cardinal pitchers paraded at Ebbets Field over a period of 3 hours 55 minutes while the Dodgers were hacking out a 13-5 victory. All the horrible exhibition did, besides losing a few more customers, was prove that Harry Walker, the Cards' new manager, can haul in more throwers than could his predecessor Eddie Stanky, who was no mean hand.

Saying that it takes a minimum of five minutes to get a new pitcher into action, Walker thus used up 35 minutes demonstrating his authority. Actually, it seemed twice that long, and might have been.

Just in case anyone thought this

Mobile Defeats New Orleans, 2-1

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Mobile, a team able to win only 11 of its first 42 games this season and a chief target of talks concerning a franchise shift a few weeks ago, started getting some new blood late in May and it looks like the transfusions did the trick. The Bears ain't what they used to be. In fact they are downright healthy today. Mobile is still in seventh place, but the Bears have won 9 of their past 13 games which is the best average in the Southern Assn. for the period.

Last night young Ralph Mauriello and Reliever Bob Walls buried a seven-hitter as the Bears downed New Orleans 2-1.

Nashville, the sixth place club, swept a twin bill from Birmingham in the only other action last night. The Vols won 3-0 and 1-0. Atlanta was rained out at Chattanooga and the two will play a double header tonight. Little Rock and Memphis were idle.

More Rain Spreads Over Wide Areas

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
More rain splashed over wide areas of the country from the Rockies eastward to the Atlantic Coast today.

General rainfall was reported from the Great Lakes region and middle Mississippi Valley eastward to the middle Atlantic Coast. Scattered showers fell from sections of the Great Plains and the Southeastern states.

Skies were cloudy over most of the Northeast, with some areas reporting rain, and along the

Aircraft Firm Plans New Jet Transport For East Crossing

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP)—The Douglas Aircraft Co. plans a jet transport designed to cross the United States in 4½ hours and span the Atlantic in 8½ hours.

The jet-powered DC-7 will be in the air by December 1957, Donald W. Douglas, president of the company, said yesterday. He said deliveries to airlines should begin in 1959.

Douglas termed it America's first jet transport designed for passenger service. He said it would carry 80 to 125 passengers at top speeds in excess of 550 miles per hour.

The DC-7 will be nearly 200 miles an hour faster than the propeller-driven DC-7C model.

Douglas is the second American company to enter the jet transport field. Boeing Airplane Co., of Seattle, flew its jet transport, the 707, last July. It was designed as a multipurpose tanker-transport, intended for commercial as well as military use.

Fair weather prevailed in other parts of the country.

There was a heat wave in the Southwest desert region with temperatures climbing to 110 at several cities in southern California and Arizona yesterday.

Tell Her It's MURDER

CHAPTER TWENTY-EIGHT
AFTER THE baby's birth, Tobie Davies was placed in a sanatorium and Regina returned home with the child. Tobie knew she had been going to have a baby, thought she had lost it. She began slowly to improve, but her recovery took almost six years.

Regina said, "She's well now, but if she were to have a shock it would be fatal. She would be driven back again—for good. You see?"

Both McKee and Susan did. Regina said, "The inspector and you and Jim are the only ones I've told. Susan. The inspector is going to do everything possible to keep it from coming out. I told Jim tonight when I set him free."

"Just one more question, Mrs. Peihman. You were approached for money?"

"By Henry, yes."

"That $3,000 check you gave him the other night?"

"Yes."

Two months after Roger died, Regina had received a blackmailing letter. Her secret would remain secret if she had paid $15,000 in three $5,000 checks made out to bearer, and sent them to John Ruth, General Delivery, New York. Ruth was a false name, of course. A year later she paid another $15,000—$15,000 in all. She had destroyed the cancelled checks. Her voice trailed away. She was exhausted. Before they left the room she was asleep.

Closing the door, Susan said, "Is Henry Trout in the house, inspector?"

"Henry Trout is dead, Miss Dwight."

Susan followed him downstairs. Amy Redgate was in the lower hall, and two policemen. Amy was sitting on the blue sofa.

A rifle lay across the table in the bay. McKee went over to Amy. He said, "Miss Redgate, have you anything to say?"

"No. You were caught entering this house with that rifle a short time ago. You knew about 'Agma Peihman's will, didn't you?"

An inward convulsion shook the thick body. Except for that, Amy might have been dead and dumb. The doors of the living-room were closed. McKee went over and rolled one of them back. The whole room was visible. Dave Redgate was in there. He was seated in a wing chair, dressed in a dark suit. There were men in uniform there, too, and the Yonkers district attorney, Horton looked at McKee. The Boutanman nodded. He went across to the desk and used keys Regina had given him. He unlocked a drawer, opened it, took out a cash box, opened that and withdrew a long envelope. It was Regina's will. It had been drawn six months after Roger's death.

McKee was talking. Susan listened in a dream. Regina had left the money Mal-

Davies had settled on her, the money that would have been Roger's if he had lived, to David Redgate, for the establishment of a research laboratory. There were no strings attached to it.

McKee finished. A pencil stopped scratching. One of the policemen was a stenographer.

The doctor said in a calm voice, "I'd like to say this. If Roger had lived he would, in your parlance, have gone insane. He was better out of it. As for those others—Hortonsky and the Fenn woman—they were—shall we say, expendable."

Horton said, "And Henry Trout? You killed Henry Trout and buried his body in the tunnel below the cliff."

"Yes."

"First removing Trout's hat and coat?"

"That's right. You found the body?"

"I was afraid of it. He wasn't deep enough—but I was pressed for time."

He gave the details in that same unemotional tone. He had entered Trout's room at the inn after Regina had gone, pretending to be in search of her. Trout was about to call a cab, Dave Redgate said he'd give him a lift down the hill. At the top of the cliff near the little park he pretended he couldn't get down the hill in the car, led Trout to the edge of the cliff as a pretext of showing him the way to the steps and down to Broadway, and hit him with a tire iron.

Trout's body fell to the shelf of rock in front of the cave below. The doctor dragged him into the cave, and buried him in a shallow grave, first removing his hat and coat.

On his way home the doctor had entered the house—this house, Susan thought numbly—through the cellar door. He had entered the butler's room. Trout's coat where it was found. It was no trick to slip up to Mrs. Cassey's room and extract the diary. There was nothing of importance to it. He looked at McKee. "I didn't want you to hear our story the other day but as she was going to say anyhow, I had to let it come out."

Unfortunately his sister, Amy, had followed him that night, and Amy knew. It was Amy who shot him through the open window after he got home in an attempt to immobilize him, keep him from doing any further harm. In the small hours of the morning he had placed the laundry slip close to where Amy had stood. "My wound had bled a little, but not much." He paused and looked at McKee. "You suspected the laundry bill and the button?"

"Yes, doctor. They were too opportune, too pat, taken in conjunction with other circumstances. Where did you conceal the hat and coat after you got rid of Trout?"

"In the trunk of my car."

Horton was impatient, wanted to get on. "And tonight when you thought the police were gone and the coast was clear you put on Trout's hat and coat and came over here and cut the telephone wires. You then attracted Miss Dwight's attention by throwing gravel up at the window of Mrs. Peihman's bedroom because you wanted Miss Dwight as a witness to the return of Henry Trout. Your plan was to kill Mrs. Peihman, masquerading as Henry Trout, and then to have Trout disappear—for good."

The doctor made no attempt at denial. "It's too bad. I could have done a lot of good with that money. I have ideas that have never been touched. I had plans—"

Susan averted her face, fighting dimness. That was the man they had known so long and trusted and loved.

Redgate stood. There was no change in his face, his voice. "Shall we go?" A man closed in on either side of him.

In the hall Amy Redgate jumped up and screamed.

Susan ran and put her arms around her. "Don't, Amy, don't."

It was snowing out. At 9 o'clock the next morning Susan put coffee on in the kitchen and began preparing two trays. Amy Redgate was asleep upstairs. She had collapsed after the doctor was taken away and later had come and given her a hypodermic. Regina was asleep, too. Susan dressed their waking. She was very tired. Everything was over and everyone was gone.

She had talked to Barry on the phone half an hour earlier, and Harry wouldn't be coming back again soon. She couldn't be Harry's wife feeling as she felt about Jim Andrus.

She had finished the trays and was drinking a cup of coffee at the window when there was a step in the dining room; the doors were no longer locked. It was Jim Andrus. He stood in the doorway looking at her. He was formal, remote. "Good morning, Susan. How is Regina?"

"Still sleeping."

"Does she know about Redgate?"

"Not yet."

Andrus said, "I came to say goodbye. Say it for me to Regina, will you. I'll write her."

"I will, Good by, Jim."

"Good by, Susan."

Susan watched him turn, frozen, immobile. He would go and that would be the end of it. She would never see him again. She couldn't bear it. . . . Her own voice startled her. "Jim."

"Yes."

"I called Barry a little while ago. I told him I couldn't marry him."

A FORMER BALLEE DANCER, Lenena Davis, 32, combines the forces of artistic temperament and her red hair in protesting (right) eviction from her home in Bremen Township, Ill. The house was blocking construction of a railroad spur to be used by the sanitation department. Lenena fought eviction for a year, but finally had to watch her home burned (left) to prevent further occupancy.

Egyptian Pyramids Calling Boy

ROSSIER CITY, La., (AP)—The Pyramids along the Nile are beckoning to 12-year-old Eugene Hart, who has traveled farther on two cents than many people do in a lifetime of deficit spending.

Last summer he lit out for England as the uninvited and unpaid guest of the United States Lines. And, just recently, he set off again for climes unknown before police put him under house arrest.

"He's not even going as far as Shreveport unless I'm along," declared Eugene's mother, Mrs. Hildegard Hart, when he made known his desire to ramble over to Egypt.

Shreveport, which has no Pyramids, is located about the length of a travel folder from here on the other side of the Red River, a pleasant enough stream but hardly a substitute for the Nile. To Eugene, an unfettered soul, any form of travel restriction can be onerous.

"That's the running-awayest boy ever born anywhere, anytime," moans Police Chief James Calhoun, who has spent many hours searching the highways, byways and bus stations for the tiny tourist.

"If that kid could get hold of 50 cents, he'd end up in Pago Pago."

Pago Pago would be tempting, but right now Eugene has set his mind to scrutinizing the Sphinx and ogling the Obelisk. The 50 cents would come in handy at the resting place of the pharaohs.

"I understand," said Eugene, they let you go in and out of the burial vaults and just about do as you please. Nobody bothers you."

That's the way it was with the luxury liner S. S. United States. Eugene, whose family was visiting relatives in Brooklyn at the time, just stepped aboard for a look-see. Before he knew it, Sandy Hook and Ambrose Light were in the backwash and the pilot had gone ashore.

"The ship's officers weren't too happy about it at first . . . especially when they found out I only had two cents on me," relates Eugene with the gusto of an old salt. "They got used to it soon enough and treated me real nice. I wasn't allowed off at Cherbourg or Southampton . . . I guess they were afraid I might take off."

Eugene's cruise wardrobe, which started off with sneakers, blue jeans and a sports shirt, soon was augmented by donations from the ship's chest. The proudest possession in his trophy collection is a black turtle-neck sweater, a bit oil stained and gone at the elbows, that formerly housed the massive expanse of an assistant engineer.

Traveling light has always been Eugene's forte. He once boarded a bus decked out only in a bed sheet after being locked in his room to prevent future peregrinations. The driver, unused to tunic-clad hitchhikers on the public highway, was a setup for a wild tale of pilferage

Dr. Salk Answers Parents' Queries

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (AP)—Dr. Jonas E. Salk has answered some of the most critical questions in parents' minds about his polio vaccine.

Does one shot give some protection? Yes, Salk said. It gives a large degree of protection, lasting up to six months or longer.

If a child has had one shot, is paralytic polio more likely or less likely to occur? Less likely, he said.

Does the giving of one shot increase his chances of getting polio? No. It reduces the chances.

Does the second shot have to be given soon? No, he said. It apparently can be delayed for up to 30 months, without having to start the vaccination process all over again.

Can the second shot be given during summertime, when polio may be prevalent? Yes. It is perfectly safe to give the second shot then.

Should a child be given his FIRST shot during summertime, when polio may be widespread? The consensus is that it can be given then, Salk said. There can be a risk, but it is slight on a community-wide basis.

Can a child who has been vaccinated pass polio on to his brothers, sisters or parents? Yes, this is possible, and this could explain some of the cases of polio occurring now in families of vaccinated children.

Salk explained why this can happen, in an address to the American Medical Assn., and in a question-and-answer news conference.

He said the vaccine is designed to PREVENT paralytic polio by creating antibodies in a child's bloodstream against the three types of polio virus which can cause human paralysis.

The vaccine cannot prevent polio virus from entering the child's body and infecting him. It's intended to prevent those viruses from hitting at his nerves and causing paralysis. The antibodies in the blood can intercept the viruses before they get to his central nervous system.

But he can pass the virus from his body—even though it doesn't harm the vaccinated child—on to other persons, in the normal but still unexplained way by which polio virus is transmitted from person to person. For a time, the vaccinated child can be a "carrier" of polio virus.

INTERNAL REVENUE COMMISSIONER T. Coleman Andrews is shown examining $5,000 which was sent to the Internal Revenue Commission in Washington. It was apparently intended for the Government's "conscience fund." The money arrived in an envelope postmarked Ridgewood, N. J., but without identification of the sender. There were two $1,000 bills, one $500 bill and twenty-five $100 bills.

Tampa Man Leads In Qualifying For Golf Tourney

WEST PALM BEACH (AP)—Henry Castillo of Tampa led 23 pros and amateurs in qualifying here yesterday for the national open golf tournament to be played in San Francisco June 16-18.

Castillo had 75-71-146 over the 8,718-yard country club course where par is 36-36-72.

Others in qualify were Lloyd Watkins, Miami, 147, and Bill Meyers, Daytona Beach, 152.

Alternates were Denny Champagne, Orlando 153; Matt Warren, Savannah, Ga., 153, and Jimmy

Stevenson, Savannah, 153.

Others who qualified but cannot attend the tournament for personal reasons are Dave Ragan Jr., Daytona Beach, University of Florida golf star, 146; Maj. Sam Friedman, Palm Beach Air Force Base, 148, and Clyde Uslua Jr., West Palm Beach, 152.

Others players and their scores included Lou Bateman, Ocala, 155. The Pittsburgh Nationals drew only 17 pro admissions for a game in 1955.

Know how to eat an artichoke? Pull off a leaf. Dip in the accompanying sauce and eat the tender end of the leaf. Go on enjoying the leaves in this way until they are all stripped off. (Dip the leaves as you finish with them at the side of your plate.) Cut away the choke and eat the succulent heart, dipping pieces of it in the sauce. Use browned butter or Hollandaise sauce for the dip.

Today's Interesting Personality

Mr. Hardy Is Familiar Figure To Townspeople

How would you like to walk 13 miles a day? That's a lot of miles and Meter Patrolman James T. Hardy's feet will attest to that. They have to take the punishment.

Hardy is on the job six days a week, but on Wednesday he gets sort of a rest—he only has to walk about seven miles. He spends Wednesday afternoon collecting money from the 408 parking meters and that is a little easier on the feet than policing the meters.

Hardy has been pounding the pavement in his present job since September 1, 1953. With thousands of miles behind him, it seemed he might have some "secrets" to account for the way his feet survived the ordeal.

Does he have any suggestions to pass on to footsore walkers? "No, I certainly haven't. If I did, I'd be trying them myself," Hardy said with a grin.

After he started work, Hardy could not help but wonder how many miles he walked daily. To find out exactly, he obtained a pedometer, a gadget which measures the distance covered by a pedestrian. It figures between 12 and one-half to 13 miles each day.

Hardy begins his day at 8 a. m. and he walks until 4 p. m. On Wednesday he gets off when he finishes his collecting, usually about 3:15. Sunday is his only full day away from the job and he regularly attends Sunday School and church.

Hardy admits he hasn't any time for hobbies and although he likes to fish he doesn't like to do it on Sunday.

Before Hardy took over the job, two men policed the meters. During his first year, Hardy said he collected $2,081 more than had been collected the previous year. The meters now take in an estimated $23,000 annually.

Meters often become jammed up, and occasionally slugs are to be found in the meters during the past three or four weeks.

In case you're wondering who left the parking tickets on your car, he's the fellow. Hardy says he writes about 30 tickets a day.

Hardy displays no reluctance to tell his age. He's 63 and he has been with the city for 28 years. Before taking over his present job, he was with the water department, Hardy, prior to becoming a city worker, was with the old Southern Utilities for two years.

Southern's gas and water facilities, were purchased by the city and Hardy switched to the city force.

Hardy's main arm is the Russian Orthodox Church. Baptists and some other Protestant denominations also have churches there.

The proposed conference, the board said, would be aimed at achieving "a just and durable peace."

The council is a federation of 30 Protestant and Eastern Orthodox denominations, with 35 1/2 million members.

Members Predict Passage

WASHINGTON (AP)—Two key members predicted today the House will follow the Senate's lead in voting to increase the minimum wage from 75 cents to $1 an hour.

President Eisenhower has asked for no more than 90 cents, and reiterated that position yesterday.

Rep. McConnell of Pennsylvania, senator Republican on the House Labor Committee, told newsmen he expects the committee to approve a bill for $1 and said the House "very definitely" will pass it.

Rep. Kelley of Pennsylvania, second-ranking committee Democrat, said, "Most members of the committee are for $1."

Chairman Barden (D-NC) on the other hand, was backing the administration figure and declared he would accept no more than 90 cents.

The Senate, with rare speed and a minimum debate, called up the wage bill yesterday and pushed it to passage without a record vote.

The increase, effective Jan. 1, would bring automatic wage increases for an estimated 2,100,000 covered workers now making less than $1 hourly.

Secretary Of State Appoints Gerely To Refugee Relief

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles today named Pierce J. Gerely, general counsel of the Civil Service Commission, to take charge of the bogged down refugee relief program.

The State Department said Gerely will serve under Scott McLeod, the department's security chief, but will have "complete authority and responsibility for the operation of the refugee program."

A spokesman said the job description for Gerely's position is virtually the same as the work done by Edward Corsi, ousted in April as an immigration adviser to Dulles, Corsi, fired after 30 days on the job, denounced the refugee program at the time as "complete failure and a national scandal."

The refugee program authorizes the admission of 214,000 refugees to the United States by the end of 1955. As of mid-April only 1,044 had been admitted and 3,722 given permits to enter the country.

Doster, Milledgeville, Ga., Mrs. W. T. Meriwether, Newburn, Ga., Mrs. Sam Spears, Madison, two brothers, Will Bowden, Coalinga, Ga., and Walter Bowden, Gray, Ga.; and four grandchildren.

Seminole County Receives Vaccine

Salk polio vaccine sufficient to give the second series of shots to Seminole County children has been received at the County Health Unit, it was announced today.

The inoculation program will be resumed in "about a week." It will take that long to get things lined up, a Health Unit spokesman said.

The spokesman said the schedule would be announced later.

Senate Committee Meets To Consider

TALLAHASSEE (AP)—A Senate committee met today to consider six reapportionment proposals—including one for a hurry-up vote on the 67-senator plan which has drawn fire from Gov. Collins.

Sen. Stratton of Callahan introduced a measure calling for a special election within 90 days on the constitutional amendment proposal approved during the regular session of the Legislature which would end reapportionment squabbles by giving a senator to each of the 67 counties. It also would expand House membership from 95 to 135.

Stratton said a quick decision by the people on the proposed amendment—which otherwise will be on the November 1956 general election ballot—might make it unnecessary to reapportion Senate seats among the present 35 districts.

"I don't think the proposal is sound from any point of view, constitutional or otherwise," said Collins.

The other five proposals introduced in the Senate yesterday were varying plans for reapportioning senatorial representation within the present 35 districts.

Perhaps the most support was attracted to one offered by Sen. Barber of Volusia which would give senators of their own in Bradford, Seminole and Bay counties.

For work on that and other reapportionment bills, the AEC asked 134 million dollars—one third more than its current reactor budget.

Sizeable Contract Awarded Lockheed

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Lockheed Aircraft Corp. has won a $5-million contract with its design for the first commercial turboprop transport to be built in the United States.

American Airlines announced yesterday it has placed an order for 35 of the high-speed, medium-weight planes with cruising speeds of more than 400 m.p.h. and a range of 2,000 miles.

Delivery is to start the latter part of 1956.

Awarding of the contract gives the first challenge to British leadership in the commercial jet-with-turboprop field.

Williams Lumber Firm Burns

Spark Believed Cause Of Blaze

Believed to have been started by a spark blown from the slab pit, an early morning fire today caused an estimated $25,000 damage at the Williams Lumber Company in Oviedo.

The fire leveled a 30 by 50-foot building in which the planing machine was housed. Ruins of the building were still burning at 10 a. m. and the foreman, C. R. Pipkin, said construction of a new building would be started "as soon as things cool off."

Pipkin said the fire was first reported by Mrs. Curtis Cox, who lives near the mill. The fire broke out between 2 and 3 a. m. Pipkin said a spark from the slab pit apparently was blown under the floor of the building by the high wind.

No night watchman is employed by the lumber company, which is owned by Robert W. Williams of Sanford. The mill has a working force of 11 men including the foreman and produces about 1,000 feet of lumber per hour.

Forest fire fighters from Chuluota answered the call for help, and the Sanford Fire Department dispatched its booster truck to the scene. The booster truck, however, was ordered to return to Sanford to protect the city while water was off during the night.

First Chief Mack N. Cleveland said:

"Let the other fellow be a 'Hurricane' Williams. 'Slow down and you'll live longer.'"

Approach To Talks Marked By Doubts Humphrey Says

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Humphrey (D-Minn.) said today the Eisenhower administration's approach to Big Four talks is marked by "doubts, fears and hesitations that a great nation like ours should not exhibit."

Humphrey and Sen. Capehart (R-Ind.) Foreign Relations Committee members, in separate interviews urged President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles to set forth a clear and complete agenda for the projected "summit" meeting.

Russia must be confronted with promises Stalin made to the United States and Britain at the Big Three wartime Yalta conference, the senators said.

"We got promises and agreements from Russia at Yalta that we should now insist on holding them to," Capehart said.

Hub Caps Reported Stolen From Auto

All four hub caps were stolen from a 1955 Oldsmobile while it was parked in back of the old bus station yesterday, City Police were informed.

The theft was reported by Mrs. Z. J. Jones, 2100 Park Ave., who said she and her husband had only purchased the car Tuesday.

Mrs. Clara Jobe Overwhelmed With Offerings Of Many Friends

Clara Jobe, in a telephone conversation late yesterday, told her Sanford friends that she had spent two terrible days, Monday and Tuesday, but after she heard that "Someone is doing something for me, I am lifted spiritually and mentally."

The 34-year-old mother did not know how to express herself. No one will ever know how deep my love is for everyone there. And she added in hesitating words, "I didn't know that people could be so good. I didn't know I had so many friends."

Friends of Mrs. Jobe and many who do not know her are responding to the appeal for help that will undoubtedly mean relief from pain and mental anguish brought on by the incurable disease that has enveloped the entire body of the struggling woman.

Mrs. Jobe, who spent much of her life in Sanford serving others in bedridden and helpless. Her only prayer now is that she might be spared a clear mind in order to guide her two daughters through the critical years of their lives. She has resigned to the fact that she will never be well. Doctors have convinced her that lupus erythematosus is incurable and that they believe only temporary relief from the pain is possible.

Mrs. Jobe wants the opportunity, the chance, to gain that temporary relief. And so the Clara Jobe Fund to help defray expenses has been founded at the Sanford Atlantic National Bank with Mrs. Ruth Scott as trustee. Contributions may also be sent to The Sanford Herald.

Pitmn. Williams To Offer Traffic Safety Tips Daily

City Patrolman Arnold Williams will offer a traffic tip each day in The Herald, beginning with Monday's issue. The tips, in one-paragraph form, are designed to help cut down traffic accidents in Sanford.

In announcing plans for the series, Williams referred to the current "Slow Down and Live" campaign which is being sponsored by safety groups throughout the state.

He warned motorists against three great dangers of going too fast:

1. If an emergency arises, you have less time in which to act to avoid a smashup.

2. As speed increases, braking distance increases at a greater rate. When you double your speed, for instance, you quadruple your braking distance.

"In other words," Williams pointed out, "It takes 21 feet to stop your car at 20 miles per hour, but it takes 84 feet to stop that same vehicle if it is traveling at 40 miles per hour."

3. Three out of every 10 drivers involved in fatal accidents were breaking a speed law at the time of the crash.

"Let the other fellow be a 'Hurricane' Williams. 'Slow down and you'll live longer.'"

Sympathy Strikes By Dock Workers Threaten Singapore

SINGAPORE (AP)—Sympathy strikes by 10,000 factory, transport and dock workers threatened today as Singapore's government struggled to end three walkouts and prevent Communist-inspired rioting.

The 40,000-member Singaporean factory and shipworkers' union warned it would call a stoppage within 18 hours unless a 40-day-old strike of 1,500 Singapore harbor clerks is settled.

The leader of the union, Lim Chin Seng, is a Legislative Assembly member from the extreme leftist People's Action party. After a strike parked Monday May 12 in which four persons were killed and 38 injured, Colonial Secretary W. A. C. Goode charged Lim's party was "riddled with Communist backstabbers."

Leaders of unions numbering 30,000 workers in the harbor and at the big British naval base also threatened to walk out in support of the harbor board clerks.

Bizarre Case Comes To Odd End

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The bizarre case of Albert L. Pagline, charged with killing a man to set up a fake funeral for himself, came to an end last night with a first-degree murder conviction.

But even then the case took another strange twist briefly.

The Circuit Court jury in suburban Clayton returned its verdict and set Pagline's punishment at life imprisonment. His sister Mrs. Kate Villa screamed and fainted in the courtroom and had to be revived in the corridor.

Then the 39-year-old Pagline was about to be taken back to jail but for a moment it was told he had escaped. Radio messages were sent out and deputy sheriffs rushed about with guns drawn.

But Pagline meekly appeared in the sheriff's office in the custody of jailer Ruben Saura. As Deputy Sheriff Jack Culligan put Pagline on the elevator to return him to jail he turned for a moment and the elevator door suddenly closed.

Pagline was inside and the elevator outside. The elevator then descended to the garage of the courthouse building. The door opened as Saura approached.

"I'm Pagline," Pagline said. "I'm waiting to be taken to jail." Saura did just that. The radio alarms were canceled.

Pagline was charged with killing a drunk and rigging the evidence to make it appear that he himself had died in a tourist court fire in St. Louis County in April 1954. He was spotted in a tavern the day of the funeral.

He later jumped bond and was arrested in El Centro, Calif., last February.

The victim in the fire, first buried as Pagline, later was identified as Willie Burchett, a migrant railroad worker.

The prosecution said in its opening statement at the trial Monday that Pagline was in financial trouble and "wanted the world to think that he was dead."
