Controversial school site may be dumped

Confrontation alternatives

Lt. P.J. Miller of the Orlando Police Department and the GFWC Semoran Jr. Woman's Club, a nonprofit community service club, are offering a free program to help woman of all ages in the event of a physical confrontation.

"Technique familiarization", according to Miller, " is how we have taught over 2500 women in the Orlando area. We do not necessarily want a female to fight back and teach these alternative tactics with a fun, but serious approach."

The program will be offered Monday, April 20, at 7:30 p.m. at The Harbor School, 3955 Red Bug Road, Winter Springs (entrance across from Red Bug Elementary School).

Dresa comfortably, wear athletic shoes and leave the jewelry behind! This is a hands on program with your safety in mind.

Space is limited. R.S.V.P. by April 17. To register or for more information call Gail at 539-2820.

WalkAmerica

Seminole Community College, again this year, is the site of the Seminole County March of Dimes WalkAmerica. Four thousand Central Floridians participate in the Walk against birth defects each year, 25 percent of those will be walking with Seminole Community College.

According to Kris Faren, community director for the March of Dimes, 800 community members representing 50 teams will be lacing up their shoes this Saturday to help the March of Dimes in their journey toward the eradication of all birth defects.

"Serving this great community and helping to meet the many needs of such a diverse area is what SCC is all about," said SCC President E. Ann McGee. "Hosting this worth-while event serves to emphasize that 'community' truly is our middle name."

Seminole Community College is one of four walk sites in Central Florida. Over 120 corporations, with the number of employees ranging from 5 to 1000, participated in last year's fund raising event. Nationwide, 19,000 companies join the March of Dimes for WalkAmerica in their fight against birth defects.

The Seminole County YMCA

will be providing aerobic instruction to warm up the walkers. Complimentary food from Bruegger's Bagels, Goodings, CiCi's Pizza, and Gator's Dockside will be available. Mix 105.1 will be hosting a live remote with music and promotional givesways. The Church Street Station Dixie Land Jazz Band will be playing live music, and 8 characters will be present to entertain the children including Shades from the Solar Bears, Clifford, Mrs. Pieses see briefs page 3A

SEMINOLE COUNTY - School Board members today will consider another site for a middle school to be built in Oviedo after one member raised safety concerns, backed by an opinion from the head of the state health department.

The board had been scheduled to make a recommendation on the purchase of a 35-acre site near the Iron Bridge Water Reclamation Facility. A special exception to build on the site had been denied by Seminole County's Board of Adjustment and an appeal had been filed by school officials, with the Board of County Commissioners.

Commissioner Grant Maloy said today the school board had asked for a continuance on the appeal and Chairman Barbara Kuhn confirmed that the board would be considering a new site at school board meeting scheduled for 3:30 p.m.

The district owns 60 acres across from Carrillon Elementary on Lockwood Boulevard in Oviedo. The site had been carmarked for a future high school, but is now being considered as an option for a middle school, needed to relieve crowding at Jackson Heights Middle School.

The plan to build at Iron Bridge was attractive to the district's facilities planning department because the site could accommodate two schools and reduce much of the cost of building. "We had a chance to get the property at a good price," said Kulin.

a good price," said Kulin.

While questions had been raised about the safety of building so close to a site where hazardous chemicals are stored, Kulin said she was very confident, concluding from her own investigation, that the site was safe. "We had all the bases covered."

School Board member Bob Goff raised the safety issues, including traffic concerns, and the cost of busing a majority of the children into the two Please See School, Page 3A

Jury: Husband guilty of wife's murder

Prom Btaff Reports

SANFORD - After deliberating for 4 1/2 hours, a jury found carpet layer Michael Stoll, 36, of Sanford guilty of first degree murder of his wife, 35-year-old Julie Stoll, in Nov. 1994.

He will be sentenced to either life in prison or death by electrocution when the jurous return on April 21.

Julie Stoll was found dead Nov. 3, 1994, the victim of a series of attacks that left her neck broken and larynx cousbed.

According to co-defendant

Christopher Stewart, 25, who was the state's star witness, Julie Stoll survived five murder attempts that morning only to succumb to the stath - a knee pressed to the back of her neck that caused her to choke to death.

Stewart got a reduced sentence - 50 years - because he agreed to testify against Stoll, and admits he was the one who choked the last breath from Stoll's wife by pressing his knee against the back of her neck. But he claimed throughout that it was Stoll who was the master-mind of murder.

Adult club busted, 18 dancers, customers jailed

From Staff Reports

CASSELBERRY - The City County Investigative Bureau arrested 18 people who were in violation of the Casselberry ordinace on adult entertainment.

Undercover agents went into the Rachel's World Class Mens' Club located at 401 State Road 436 Friday, April 10, to look for any possible violations. The agents watched as several of the club's dancers performed various lap dances in which touching was involved or some other inappropriate contact.
Altogether, 13 dancers were arrested and five customers. The ordinance equally applies to dancers as much as customers. Police have not yet released all the names of those arrested. The preliminary list includes:

Shannon Spencer, 18, of 4492 Bedford Road, Sanford; Shelby Clark, 21, of 500 W. Airport Boulevard, Sanford; and, John Davis, 27, of 2466 Alaqua Drive, Longwood.

FAA objects to Sanford water treatment plan

By Nick Picifauf HERALD STAFF WRITER

SANFORD - Opposition has been noted in Sanford plans for a proposed water treatment facility to be located in the southeast corner of the Orlando Sanford Airport. The suggested plant has been touted as being the best solution the city would have for treating wastewater and helping reduce problems caused by street flooding during heavy rainstorms.

With the utilization of airport property in mind, the city has been developing the plan which would extend water lines in the East Lake Mary Boulevard and southeast Airport area. Now however, the city says the Federal Aviation Authority (FAA) is objecting.

The matter was brought up during a Sanford City Commisaion work session Monday afternoon.

The PAA is objecting to our plans," said City Manager Bill Simmons. "They want us to have the facility no closer than two miles from the airport."

Simmons said that the FAA may control the aviation aspects to a certain degree but the city still owns the land on Fiesce See Water, Page SA

Fire trashes garbage truck

A City of Sanford garbage truck has gone out in a blaze of glory. The truck was destroyed Friday after some of the items picked up during the daily run, ignited within the unit. Public Works Director Jerry Herman indicated the fire may possibly been started by some burning sawdust which had been loaded shortly before the fire was first seen. The incident occurred when the truck was near U.S. Highway 17-92 on Santa Barbara. When smoke was first detected, the truck was pulled onto a vacant lot where the items were to have been dumped. But the flames apparently ignited other items immediately behind the cab and the blaze was unable to be contained in time to prevent major damage.

Some juniper species suitable to Central Florida

American nurseries produce over 40 species of Junipenis and over 170 cultivars or varie-Although commonly thought of as northern landscape plants, many species and cultivars are well adapted to north and central Florida. However, some species will not perform well south of Orlando.

Description: Foliage characteristics of juniper vary, but there are two primary leaf forms: fuventie and adult. Often both forms appear on the same plant, but as plants mature, the foliage changes to the adult form. Juvenile foliage is sharp, pointed and prickly, while the adult form is softer and somewhat flattened. Another factor that helps to distinguish cultif structure Juniper leaves are either needie like or scale-like. Foliage color of junipers varies with cultivar. Typical foliage color is a deep green, but many varieties have distinct blue or graygreen tones. In addition, many juniper cultivars change to red or purple in the fall. Junipers differ in form and size and may be observed as horizontal spreading (shrub-like), prostrate (ground cover types), and upright (tree-like) forms. Junipers range in height from 4" to nearly 25 feet, with mature spreads varying from one foot to ten feet. Because of this diversity in form, Junipers are well adapted to residential landscape design. Junipers can be used effectively to provide screening as either an informal or formal hedge, prevent erosion by use as ground covera, or provide interest as an accent plant.

General culture: Maximum growth is achieved by planting juntpers in full sun because they become leggy and sparsely foliated in heavy shade. Junipers require well drained soils and grow best in acid soils. However, junipers are not extremely sensitive to soil pH range and may grow adequately in alkaline soils.

Propagation: Junipers are commercially propagated by cuttings in order to maintain the true nature of each cultivar. Seed propagation is not often used, since germination and seedling development may take as long as two years.

Diseases: Common diseases of juniper are twig blight, cedar-apple rust and root rots. Juniper decline, a disease caused by root rotting fungi in association with poor drainage, is a common problem in Florida. Twig blight or Pho- Juniper will also achieve conmopsis blight is most severe on new growth. The casual fungus infects the leaves causing leaf death and eventual twig dieback. Infected leaves often exhibit small black, pimple like fruiting structures of the casual fungus. Control is a two-step process requiring removal and destruction of diseased plant parts followed by application of protective fungicounty Extension Office for recommendations.

Cedar-apple rusts are most easily recognized by the reddish-orange gelatinous structures produced on the surface of brown foliage galls or twig cankers during moist spring periods. These rust diseases require the close proximity of an alternate host such as apple, crabapple, hawthorn, pear or quince to complete their life cycles. Control measures can be targeted toward one or both hosts to control these discases. Prune out galls or twig cankers on junipers in early spring. Undesirable native or planted hosts should be removed within a radius of several hundred yards to achieve a reasonable level of control Either spring applications of fungicides to deciduous hosts or mid-summer applications to Insects: Red spider mites and bagworms are the most common pests of junipers. Spider mote injury first appears as a yellow or gray cast to the foliage and needle browning and drop occurs in advanced stages. Spider mite infestations build up under hot, dry conditions, especially in landscape areas with poor air circulation and little exposure to rainfall. Bagworms are characterized by spindle-shaped bags on branches. The immature larvae feed on the foliage and camouflage their cocoons with needles. Control can be achieved by use of labeled insecticides during the early stages of insect develop ment. Control is much more difficult as these bags become larger. It is often more practical to hand pick and destroy the bagworms when only a small number of plants are infected.

Varieties: Prostrate forms: Parsonii and Blue Pacific; Horizontally growing: Hetzii, Mint Julep Columnar: Burkii, Sylvester, and Torulosa.

Silverware-loading conflict examined top to bottom

DEAR ABBY: After reading the letter from "Frustrated in Denver." I felt compelled to reply. The argument between the husband and wife centered around how to correctly wash flatware (spoons, forks, knives, etc.) in an automatic dishwasher. The husband insists the business end should face up, with the handles facing the bottom of the basket. The wife insists the opposite.

You told the wife, "Your husband is wrong." The fact is, Abby, you are wrong. I have a degree in food service administration and have worked in the field for 20 years. I can assure you that the states in which I have worked (New York. Texas and Virginia) have public health codes that require all food service establishments to wash soiled flatware as described by the husband in Denver.

By placing the "business end" of the utensil up, you get much cleaner flatware. My wife was skeptical until she proved it in our dishwasher at home.

DEAR G.M.: The face with the egg on it is mine. I apologize for judging the poor husband harshly. However, according to the instruction manual for many dishwashers, my answer was half right. Read on:

Washington,

DEAR DR. GOTT: I'm a 34 year old mother of two.

After discovering a pea-sized lump in my right breast two years ago, I had a mammogram. The X-rays showed a cluster of calcifications in the lump, but my doctor did not recommend biopsy. Instead, he said that I should have annual mammograms. Because my aunt died of breast cancer at age 40, I am worried. Should I

DEAR READER: Psyllium-enriched fiber products and breakfast cereals (Metamucil, Bran Buds and others) may, when taken regularly, lower cholesterol levels.

In a recent study in the Journal of Nutrition, researchers reported that such products can reduce cholesterol levels by as much as 9 percent. With this datum in mind, I've altered my breakfast menu and found that the change is quite acceptable. Five days a week, I combine Bran Buds and Mueslix. The dried breakfast cereals (when caten with skim milk) are quite flavorful and have reduced my choles-

DEAR READER: There probably is. but I wouldn't mess with it, provided your grandson's pediatrician has pronounced him normal and healthy despite his size.

Most underdeveloped adolescents are concerned about their size, whereas the big guys seem to take it in stride, learn to play football and look forward to the day when they can bask in the glory of professional athleticism. Spring turkey season opens

SANFORD _ Spring turkey season just opened and wildlife managers in the state's central zone are anticipating a good harvest again this year on public wildlife management areas (WMAs).

Last year hunters seeking the clusive spring gobbler on WMAs in Central Florida bagged 26 percent more turkeys than during the 1996 season. In all, 302 turkeys were checked in at the 14 areas open for spring turkey hunting in 1997, as compared to 222 from 13 areas in 1996.

"Although the harvest figures were slightly down in a couple of areas, most of the wildlife management areas showed increased numbers," said Mike Abbott, regional wildlife biologist for the Florida Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission (GFC).

Spring turkey season opened on March 21 and hunting continues through April 26 on private lands and on many WMAs. Although quota hunt permits are required in order to hunt on many management areas, several do not require quota permits, but hunters between the ages of 16 and 64 will need to purchase a hunting license, a WMA stamp and a wild turkey stamp. Non-residents ages 16 and older need all the same permits.

There are six areas across portions of Central Florida open for turkey hunting through April 26 that do not require quota permits: Bull Creek WMA, Fort McCoy WMA, Georgia Pacific WMA, Jumper Creek WMA, Relay WMA, and Three Lakes WMA. In Richloam WMA quota permits are required for the first nine days only-after that it's open to all comers. The areas indicated in bold print have been identified by GFC turkey biologists as having some of the best opportunities in the state. The biggest increase in numbers of turkeys taken between the 1996 and 1997 seasons was in Three Lakes WMA in Osceola County where 68 were harvested in 1997 as compared to 42 in 1996. In Bull Creek WMA, also located in Osceola County, hunters took 71 turkeys in 1997 as compared to 49 taken in

This indicates that some of our management practices are working to produce more turkeys, giving hunters a greater opportunity for success. This is supported not only by the numbers, but also by the fact that although hunting pressure-the numbers of hunters out there-increased only 10 percent in 1997, 26 percent more birds were taken," said Abbott.

Areas that require quota permits but where certain exemptions are permitted are: Caravelle, Flying Eagle and Seminole Ranch. in addition, the following five areas require quota permits and there are NO exemptions allowed, meaning everyone hunting there must have a quota permit: Half Moon, Prairie Lakes, Seminole Forest, Tosohatchee and Ocala/Lake Delancy Unit. There are also two special opportunity turkey hunts areas that require a special permit to hunt and NO exceptions are allowed: Dexter/Mary Farms Unit of Lake George WMA and Triple N

Hunt maps and regulations are available at county tax collector's offices and GFC's regional office in Ocala. Hunting licenses and stamps may be purchased at county tax collector's offices or their subagents, or by calling 1-888-HUNT-FLORIDA and using a major credit card.

*Anyone planning to hunt in a management area should pick up a copy of the area regulations since WMAs differ in what sort of firearms may be used, as well as what days they're open," said Joy M. Hill, GFC's public information coordinator.

Zeroing in on the playoffs

Lake Mary's Bobby Link (No. 4) fights through a tackle attempt by a Flagler defender on his way to a two goal evening as the Rams bested the Bulldogs 13-8.

Boys' Lacrosse teams getting ready for Central Florida Championships

By Jeff Berlinicke ASSISTANT SPORTS EDITOR

LAKE MARY _ It's all about focus. That's what the Lake Mary boys lacrosse team needs to remember as playoff time is looming.

The Rams beat Flagler 13-8 last night and host Lyman Friday to determine home field advantage for the first round of the playoffs that start next week. Lake Brantley (see story below) has already qualified as the first seed.

Lake Mary was dominating at times last night, jumping out to a 4-0 lead, then gave up the momentum and made the game close throughout.

They let down a lot in the second half," said Lake Mary coach Jim Crowther, a veteran lacrosse player of over 30 years. Sometimes it's tough for us to get focused.

The Rams had plenty of fire power early. Jorge Pascual led the Rams with four goals. Brian Mont-gomery, Bobby Link and Adam Watkins added two apiece, and Adam Kurir, Ken Ho and Billy Liatsos added one.

Dave Waring was strong in goal throughout the game.

Lake Mary scored early and often. Liatsos scored with an assist from Ho a minute into the game to give the Rams the early lead and Link scored seconds later, unassisted.

The Rams went up 3-0 when Ho scored on a perfect feed from Link and seconds later, it was 4-0 when Ho scored on a pass from Link.

Lake Mary lost its shutout when Flagler fought back with a quick goal, but Lake Mary dominated on ground balls and controlled nearly every face-off throughout the game and was never challenged until Flagler made an early comeback in the second half.

Rams stifle the Storm

By Denise M. Cullen HERALD CORRESPONDENT

LAKE MARY _ In town on spring break, the Hopkins County Central (Kentucky) Storm left their big bats at the beach as the Lake Mary Hame blew pustelless 8-1 Manday sight.

After any enewhalful about single the districneeded a big play. Designated hitter Jose Tormos heard the call and slammed one over the center field wall, igniting the Rams and putting them on the road to victory.

"It felt great," said Tormos. "The team needed a hit and I came through."

The Rams would continue the onslaught throughout the sixth inning behind pitcher Tony Corrao who went the distance.

Lake Mary coach Allen Tuttle feels the Rams have a strong team this season and credits the players with the strong finish.

"I thought our pitcher did a great job," said Tuttle. 'Our bats finally came around late in the ball game and we played like we can." Although the game did not count in the district standings. Tuttle feels it was no less important. "We go out to win them all." First baseman Josh O'Brien echoed his coach's thoughts. "Every game we're going to go out and try to play our best," said O'Brien. "But this team was a good team and we had never played them before so we didn't know what to expect." Tormos (2-for-3 with a home run, one RBI)

On Friday, Lake Mary had used a pair of fiverun innings and withstood a raily by Winter Springs to knock off the Bears 10-5 in a Seminole Athletic Conference contest.

Seminole County All-Stars finish second in Central Fla. Senior Classic

From Staff Reports

KISSIMMEE _ The Seminole County All-Stars proved their worth, but had no answer for B.B. Waldon as they split a pair of games in the 1st Annual Central Florida Senior Basketball Classic at the Kissimmee Civic Center.

On Friday night, Waldon, a 6oot-7 scoring machine from Lakeland's Kathleen High School, scored 31 points as the Polk County All-Stars railied past Seminole 84-77.

Polk County had raced to a 44-35 halftime lead, but Seminole County railied behind Lake Mary's Ben Kersenbrock and Oviedo's Scott Moore to take a 62-56 lead in the second

But Polk County came back behind Waldon and Auburndale's Tyrone Crawford (20 pointa).

Kersenbrock led Seminole County with 14 points, while Moore added 13. Also scoring double figures for Seminole County were the Seminole High School duo of Zeke Seymore (12 points) and Daryl Redding (11 points) and Lake Howell's Rikki Williams (10 points).

In the other Friday game, the Osceola, Lake and Sumter County All-Stars thumped the Orange County All-Stars 93-65. On Saturday, the Seminole County All-Stars wrapped up second place with a 97,83 obeliacking of the County All-Stars. The Seminioe Courty squad led 44-37 at intermission and pulled away behind 10 points

The Rams led 9-3 at the half, but Flagler kept it a game when the Bulldogs scored a couple of quick goals to open the second half, but Montgomery scored quickly to stop the bleeding and Lake Mary went on to the win despite a feisty effort from Flagler.

Friday is the big challenge for Lake Mary. Montgomery and Pascual are two of Seminole County's best players, but Lyman has a strong lacrosse history over the past several years and should make the matchup one of the biggest of season in Seminole County.

trict race, hope to ride this win to another victory tonight as they host Deltona in a make up game starting at 7 p.m. 'HOUNDS OUTSCORE WARRIORS WINTER GARDEN _ Lyman rallied from a 9-2

deficit after three innings, capped by a nine-run seventh inning, to outscore No. 11 state-ranked West Orange, 20-14, Saturday evening in Winter

The Warriors actually led 11-4 after four inning before the Greyhounds started their remarkable comeback.

Lyman started the rally with three runs in the fifth inning, then followed with four runs in the sixth inning to tie the game at 11-11 and then put the big nine on the board in the top of the seventh inning. Tyler Carr, who entered the game in the fourth inning, allowed three runs in the bottom of the seventh inning, but it was not enough as the Greyhounds improved to 13-11 on the season.

Leading the Lyman offensive attack were Jose Torres (4-for-4, two RBI), Billy Hess (4-for-5 with a double, four RBI), Carr (3-for-4, three RBI), Brandon Epple (3-for-5 with two home runs, three RBI) and Todd Radcliff (2-for-3 with a home run, two RBI).

The Greyhounds now face their two biggest games of the season as they host Lake Brantley on Wednesday and travel to Lake Mary on Friday, both starting at 7 p.m. Lyman is 6-2 in the district and two wins would give the 'Hounds the No. I see in the district tournament. At the moment, Lake Brantley is third at 6-3 and lake Mary is second at 5-3.
