

FRANK BERG TO BE QUESTIONED IN KIDNAP CASE

Prominent Figure In Former Abduction Effort May Be Able To Throw New Light

HOPEWELL, N. J., Mar. 15. —(A.P.)— Investigators went to New York city today to question Frank Berg, prominent figure in the fantastic alleged kidnaping attempt years ago, to determine whether any new clues might be obtained from him in the Lindbergh kidnap mystery.

Berg was arrested in 1929 in connection with the reported attempt to kidnap Max Phillips, wealthy collar manufacturer, known Berg's victim. Berg and a woman said to have been his wife, were never indicted and the charges against them were dropped.

Phillips last week went to see Col. Norman Schwarzkopf, superintendent of state police and after a lengthy conversation it was announced every effort will be made to find out if there is any possible connection between the alleged attempt to kidnap Phillips and the kidnaping of the Lindbergh baby.

Information surrendered to Max Phillips will be given necessary attention for the purpose of ascertaining whether the kidnappers, responsible for the attempt upon him, can be connected with this case, Schwarzkopf said in a bulletin.

The police bulletin also said there is nothing new concerning the report that a coat had been found near the window from which the baby was taken. No other police departments reported any definite progress.

New trails pointing toward the kidnaping of Charles Lindbergh, Jr., appeared and faded with the speed of a falling snow which enveloped the Swedish countryside yesterday.

Police first told in their bulletin a group of four men from Denver, Colo., who had been last by plane and were charged in investigation of the Lindbergh kidnaping.

Then, in response to reports from Cad. H. Neuman, chief of state police, superintendent of police in the day said:

"That reaction on the part of the states which support the Lindbergh kidnaping, and those of the states which support the Lindbergh kidnaping, was thoughtful and for any evidence that we could find them with this crime. If we find no further information that would in any way connect them with this crime we have indicated them from any connection."

He did not further identify the "Roma" of whom he spoke, but in Denver a Joseph T. Rome, reputed gang czar, who traveled to New Jersey by plane recently, termed any mention of his name in the case "too silly to discuss."

Silence and secrecy checked the movements of Morris Rosner, undercover man in the private hunt of Colonel Lindbergh is making for his son.

From the attorney of Salvy Spitalo and Irving Bitz under world figures first designated as the Lindberghs' "go-between," came the statement the pair had been in "indirect contact" with the kidnapers and would make a trip to Detroit in connection with their negotiations.

Bitz was quoted as saying the 20-month-old infant missing for 11 days, was alive and safe.

Of the underworld, Colonel Schwarzkopf had this to say in one of his bulletins:

Senator Advises Job Campaign

United States Senate

Dear Mr. Dyer:

In the war against depression, I have a right to expect work at that rate, when I am in that frame of mind and have that feeling of confidence that I will go on earning $5.00 a day, I will go on spending. When I am shaken in that confidence, I will start to conserve and preserve that rugged individualism I have been taught to rely on. In other words, I commence to board and that in itself makes the condition worse.

Sincerely Yours,
James Coussens

Senator James Coussens of Michigan, (Insel) dean of the Senate and chairman of the Committee on Interstate Commerce states his views on the War Against Depression Campaign undertaken by the United Action for Employment Group consisting of the American Legion, the American Federation of Labor, the Association of National Advertisers, the Legion Auxiliary and thousands of other organizations.

Thrillings Scenes Are In New Milane Film

A movie within a movie, depicting the neck-breaking stunts of the film dare-devils in a thrilling modern day romance to the air and Hollywood, comes to the Milane Theatre Tuesday and RKO Radio Pictures' epic "The Lost Squadron," starring Richard Dix. It is said to be his most romantic and dangerous role to date.

The film is Hollywood's answer to the peralstent public plea for an action film based on the adventurous exploits of men courting danger for the sake of the thrill it gives them.

The thrills in the picture are genuine. The author of the story, Dick Gravitt, the screen's king of stunt actors, makes three breathless crack-ups—one into the ocean and the other two are perpendicular power dives to the earth.

"The Lost Squadron" is the story of an air picture in the making. The gay panoply of Hollywood's great film industry is revealed most intimately. Great batteries of cameras fill the screen on occasion; a gala Hollywood premiere is shown and the mysterious sound stages are opened for the first time to public inspection.

The cast is in every respect equal to the subject matter. Supporting Dix are Mary Astor, Erich von Stroheim, Joel McCrea, Dorothy Jordan, Robert Armstrong, Hugh Herbert and others.

PEACE EFFORTS IN FAR EAST HIT ANOTHER DELAY

ferred with Premier Wang Ching-Wei, and the Chinese generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek at Nanking, last night issued a statement, in which they made a three-point demand upon Japan.

It said: "China asks only for a definite cessation of hostilities to end the havoc of destruction; a prompt withdrawal of Japanese troops so as to remove a most potent threat to peace; and renunciation of further aggression as evidence of good faith."

"In short, China demands nothing which is not guaranteed to her by international law or treaties. She awaits peace and waits upon Japan for its realization."

Koo and Soong arrived from Nanking by airplane yesterday and inspected the Japanese front lines around Shanghai on the way. Regarding the arrival of the League of Nations' commission investigating the Sino-Japanese difficulties, Koo said its presence in Shanghai would cast a new ray of hope on the darkened horizon of Sino-Japanese relations.

"It brings to our shores welcome proof of the universal interest in Far Eastern problems and a profound realization that the commission's solution will be a guide and a weathervane to world peace."

NANKING, Mar. 14.—(A.P.)—Foreign Minister Lo Wen-Kan of the Nanking government yesterday said that China did not vote on the peace plan of the League of Nations on Mar. 11 because of a telegraphic delay in instructions. Authorization to accept the three-point plan was sent to Geneva but failed to arrive before the program was voted upon by the assembly Lo Wen-Kan said.

"Instructions to notify the League assembly of China's acceptance of the resolution and to explain that it was due to telegraphic communication that China's representative, W. W. Yen, abstain from voting, have been sent to Mr. Yen," the foreign minister stated.

- There's only one thing that will chase a morning grouch quicker than a warm shower. And that's a cold one. With a Chesterfield to follow. And even if you're rushed... there's time to appreciate Chesterfield's better taste.
- One man likes his coffee weak. Another likes it strong. But it's dollars to doughnuts both want mild cigarettes. And that means Chesterfields. They get you started on the right foot, They're good anywhere. Anytime.
- And later... in the office when the phones begin to buzz and the big boss begins to shout... put Chesterfield on the job. It starts out cool... stays cool... and keeps you cool in a hot spot till the final whistle blows.
- It's going to be a big evening. So change your clothes and step out. And don't forget your Chesterfields. You'll need them; And if it's mixed company you'll want to take an extra pack. Their purity is their password... wherever people are particular.
- Chesterfield has never failed to make its contract. It bids a grand slam for mildness and better taste... and comes through with all the honors every time... Because every shred of Chesterfield leaf is carefully selected... and by men who "know."
- One more Chesterfield and you can call it a day. And notice... the last one tastes just as good as the first. That's no accident. That's the sum and substance of Chesterfield's popularity... told in two words... "They Satisfy."

BOTH PARTIES VIE IN RACE TO CUT FEDERAL COSTS

Rivalry Between Republicans and Democrats Has Been Aid

WASHINGTON, Mar. 15.—Rivalry between Democrats and Republicans as to which party instituted specific economy reforms is felt to be giving appreciable assistance at present to the process of getting these reforms ratified.

Such things as the accusation recently by Representative Joseph W. Byrns (D., Tennessee, chairman of the House Committee on Appropriations, that President Hoover failed to cooperate in economy efforts by the Democrats caused only a momentary rift. Mr. Hoover in a White House statement today denied Mr. Byrns' charges.

Political observers who believed last December that close division between parties in Congress would bring little but bickering and futilely have seen their forecasts completely upset, and a genuine rivalry develop under the spur of public opinion as to which party should take the lead in cutting out expenses and passing measures calculated to balance the budget.

For example, President Hoover and the budget bureau presented to Congress a budget in which items were cut to the bone. Resolved to go the Administration even better, the Democratic-controlled House harked off additional expenditures from every one of the various appropriation bills presented to it.

This treatment is not unusual in itself, however, for Congress has a way of ostentatiously reducing the Administration budget, and then later on of making additional expenditures that far outweigh the economies effected. In this instance, however, Congress has not only trimmed the budget and passed practically all of Mr. Hoover's reconstruction proposals, but it has, so far, resolutely defeated other bills calling for huge additional appropriations.

In the same way, the Administration presented the House with a tax bill designed to help stabilize business by guaranteeing federal credit through a balanced budget. Democrats altered the original tax measure, but the substitute now introduced goes the Administration one better, according to Democratic leaders, in the fundamental purpose of budget balancing.

The next step was Mr. Hoover's proposal to reorganize government departments. A less profitable controversy arose over this measure, with Democratic leaders asserting that they were the real sponsors of the movement, and now preparing to pass proposals of their own.

HINDENBURG TO RUN AGAIN FOR RULE OF NATION

Will Oppose Hitler In Run-Off Poll To Be Held On April 10

BERLIN, Mar. 15. (A.P.)—President Von Hindenburg, still first in the hearts of the Reich, agreed yesterday to be formally re-nominated for reelection and the opposition parties began dickering for advantages on the second vote April 10.

Awakened to hear the result, the venerable former field marshal expressed deep satisfaction over the seven million vote margin he rolled up in Sunday's election over Adolf Hitler, his nearest competitor, and decided to stand as a candidate in the compulsory run-off.

While his reelection is considered certain, the maneuvering of political leaders indicated he would fight his major battle with Hitler, head of the national socialist (Nazis) who has at nearly announced he would run again in an effort to increase his eleven million votes.

Hitler issued a fervent appeal to his followers to "resume the fight in the fiercest form. We can no longer show indulgence. I expect the party, to the last man, to increase its efforts without hesitation. I will take the lead myself."

The communist board of strategy was silent as to whether to place Ernst Thaelman in the list again. He ran a poor third with nearly five million votes and provided a great disappointment to his supporters.

Dr. Alfred Hugenberg, leader of the Nationalists, admitting the certainty of President Von Hindenburg's victory, proposed that the Reichstag be spared the expense of a second ballot through the Reichstag voting to continue the present office by a two-thirds majority.

But as the price for his support he demanded that Chancellor Brüning, the real issue of the election, dissolve the Reichstag and set May 8 to choose new members together with the Prussia, Bavaria and Wurttemberg elections. This condition merely provoked wrath in government circles.

If Hitler had not decided to try his strength once more, the Reichstag probably would have declared President Von Hindenburg re-elected for another seven years. The president failed by only 169,752 votes to get a majority over all opponents but on the next ballot he will need only a simple majority.

The National Socialist chairman expressed confidence, however, that he could win the two and a half million votes given to Throder Duesterberg, the Nationalist candidate, and several million more from Von Hindenburg, which would still leave him several million short of success.

Plans Are Laid To Jump Attendance At Local Churches

Members of the recently organized Protestant Laymen of Sanford group met at the Wesleyan Church Sunday afternoon upon call of their president, H. C. B. B., to discuss their part in the Easter Week program and other services which will tend to increase attendance at Sanford's Protestant churches.

At an organization meeting on Feb. 28, the members indicated the plan to stage a series of Sunday services at a downtown location during Easter week, and launched a campaign for church attendance which has resulted in a marked increase in attendance at all churches since that time.

Yesterday the group discussed their part in the services and appointed three committees who will handle all details. H. C. B. B., R. W. Ware, and F. H. Connelly composed the committee on general arrangements. Sherman Floyd and Claude Howard the committee on music, and F. I. Frazier, G. G. Engel, and S. I. Six, the publicity committee.

The membership of the group is composed of three representatives from each Protestant church. Mrs. C. W. Rose as president, and S. J. Six as secretary. Mr. DeLoose, Claude Howard and F. I. Frazier represented the Presbyterian church, F. A. Brotherhood, D. J. Garrett and S. I. Six, represented the Baptist church, R. W. Ware, G. G. Engel and R. N. Hattenback, represent the Methodist church, Hawkins Connolly, S. M. Lloyd, R. F. Winter, St. Stephen the Episcopal church, Ray Fenn and Tom Ellis represent the Christian church and F. H. Rand all of the Charles Grand and Albert Newton represent the Congregational church.

The evening press continued their "second guessing" with the opposition papers, speaking of a "Hindenburg defeat" because he failed of an absolute majority and the Republican organs agreeing that his election next month was a foregone conclusion.

DELEGATES FROM BAY STATE WON'T HAVE 2ND CHOICE

Will Be Free To Vote For Anyone Else If Smith Is Eliminated

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Mar. 15. (A.P.)—Alfred F. Smith, in a letter received here yesterday said a Smith pledged Massachusetts delegation to the Democratic national convention would be free to vote for any candidate it selected should Smith be eliminated from consideration. He was quoted as prepared to say which candidate he would favor if he were eliminated.

The statement was made in a letter to Mrs. Jessie W. Sayre, daughter of the late President Woodrow Wilson, who said he did not consider the League of Nations a political issue to say and that the attitude of the United States on this question would be determined by the rank and file of the people.

Smith answered a letter from Mrs. Sayre containing three questions which Mrs. Sayre said were a key to clarify the situation for herself and many others here in Massachusetts.

In answer to the question relative to finding the votes of the Massachusetts delegation to the convention, Smith answered simply: "The Massachusetts delegates are entirely free and the matter is up to them."

Asked in the event his name should be withdrawn from the convention, whether he would favor the nomination of Franklin D. Roosevelt or some other candidate, Smith said he had already stated that he had neither for nor against any of the men so far mentioned and gave as his reason for that as leader of the party by virtue of my nomination in 1928, I should not take sides but should rather leave the whole question to the Democratic national convention.

Smith's answers aroused considerable interest among Massachusetts Democrats.

His saying the delegation would be free to vote for any one of the candidates here when the Roosevelt supporters of Massachusetts tried to secure an agreement with the South faction whereby the delegates would vote for Smith, indicated that the Smith method failed to answer it in the time allotted by the Roosevelt organization.

Mayor James M. Curley, of Boston, was working yesterday on the selection of a Roosevelt pledged slate to oppose the Smith pledged slate in the coming state primary.

At the state house, Robert S. Sawyer, heretofore a Smith supporter, attacked the Smith pledged slate personnel on the ground it was more "anti Roosevelt" than "pro Smith."

Later Sawyer, a state representative, took out papers at the office of the secretary of state as an independent Smith delegate at large. In doing so, he said, "I am pledged on my honor to be with Smith first and with Franklin D. Roosevelt as my second choice if Smith cannot be nominated."

The "Pro-Curley" Church, at Montpelier, was built a hundred years ago of brick transported to Florida from Virginia by ox teams.

Your Income Tax—HUSBAND AND WIFE MAY FILE JOINT OR SEPARATE RETURNS

Husband and wife living together may each make a separate return of the income of each, or their income may be included in a single joint return. If a joint return is filed, such return is treated as a return of a taxable unit and the income disclosed is subject to both the normal tax and the surtax.

Where separate returns are filed by husband and wife, the exemption of $1,500 may be taken by either spouse or divided between them, the husband, for example, claiming $2,000 and the wife $1,500. However, where the taxable income of one spouse is $4,000 or more in excess of the personal exemption, it is to the advantage of the couple if such spouse claims the total personal exemption, the reason being the difference in the normal tax rates, which are 1 1/2 per cent on the first $4,000 of net income above the exemption, credits, etc., 3 per cent on the next $1,000 and 5 per cent on the balance. The case of a husband whose net income was $7,500 and a wife whose net income was $3,500 is an example, the husband claiming the total personal exemption.

Table showing tax calculations for a husband and wife. Taxable at 1 1/2 per cent, 4,000; Husband's tax, 60; Net income, wife, 3,500; Personal exemption, None; Taxable at 1 1/2 per cent, 3,500; Wife's tax, 52.50; Total tax, husband and wife, 112.50; Nat. income, husband and wife, 11,000; Personal exemption, 3,500.

Table showing tax calculations for a husband and wife. Subject to normal tax, 7,500; 1 1/2 per cent on first $4,000, 60; 3 per cent on remaining $3,500, 105; Surtax on $11,000, 10; Total tax of husband and wife, 175; Nat. income, 11,000.

In the above example the couple avoid the 3 per cent normal tax and the surtax. The computations do not include the 2 1/2 per cent credit for earned income, which will be the subject of succeeding articles.
