H.S. DAUGHERTY HOTLY REFUSES TO TAKE STAND

Former Attorney General Says "Silence of Tomb" Has Forever Rendered Denial of Slander Impossible

WASHINGTON, June 5.—Former Attorney General Daugherty put an abrupt if perhaps only temporary stop to the storm-marked course of the senate investigations of his official conduct Wednesday, by refusing to appear as a witness, and withdrawing the attorney's who have represented him in the prolonged proceedings.

To the last minute the clash of the controversy which has raged almost without cessation during nearly four months of the inquiry, resumed, as Paul Howard of Mr. Daugherty's counsel read the statement of his client charging that members of the senate committee had sought to blacken his reputation and injure his standing in an inquiry which an Ohio federal court had pronounced an illegal proceeding.

The "silence of the tomb" had forever rendered the denial of these slanders impossible," Mr. Daugherty said, in a declaration that he had never during his tenure of office "profited in any illegal, corrupt or unethical way, directly or indirectly."

Chairman Brookhart in an immediate denial declared the committee inquiry had proven "the existence of a criminal conspiracy in the household" of the former attorney general, referring to testimony concerning alleged activities of the late Jess W. Smith, Mr. Daugherty's companion. Further, he said, the committee had shown by its records that Mr. Daugherty entering office had little property, but that in 1924 they had found evidence of $75,000 cash deposited in his credit in his brother's Ohio bank.

Mr. Daugherty had consistently adopted the policy of accusing assailants, instead of defending himself from charges, the chairman went on, and he cited the indictment in Montana of Senator Wheeler, the committee prosecutor, as a "frame up" illustrative of the methods. He promised to urge the committee to present a partial report along the lines he thus laid down.

Senator Moses, Republican, New Hampshire, said for the record that he had "no dissent" to register to the chairman's opinion. Senator Wheeler was absent, and the session broke up almost without other steps. It will assemble Friday, probably for an open hearing, and thereafter in executive session will consider its future policy.

Muscle Shoals Question Postponed Until Next Session When Friends Of Ford Withdraw Their Objections

SUBSTITUTE FOR FARM AID BILL IS NOT TO BE PASSED

WASHINGTON, June 5.—The Muscle Shoals issue, which has been the center of a bitter fight during the entire session of congress, will not be settled until next December.

Supporters of Henry Ford's bid, faced with overwhelming odds on Wednesday, withdrew from their stand of demanding a vote at this session of congress and submitted to an agreement to allow the question to go over to the next session. Senator Underwood, Democrat, Alabama, obtained unanimous consent in the senate to bring up the Muscle Shoals question on December 3 and keep it before the senate until final vote is taken. Afterward he predicted it would be finally settled by December 15.

Support of the farm bloc had been depended upon by Ford advocates to bring Muscle Shoals to a vote and when yesterday Senator LaFollette, Wisconsin, leader of the group, opposed efforts to get it over to the next session, action at this session was doomed.

Even in the fact of this opposition, the Ford group held their ground and announced in the senate they would demand a roll call on a motion to consider Muscle Shoals. But Wednesday they reconsidered their decision after conferences with Chairman Norris of the senate agriculture committee. Leaders of the fight against Ford's bid, and Senator Lodge, Republican leader, an agreement was reached to drop the fight at this session, with the understanding that Muscle Shoals would be the first important legislation to come up at the short term in December.

In the senate, however, a reversal of sentiment was found. Ford supporters were in a minority on the senate agriculture committee to which the bill was referred and a mass of evidence was introduced against the Ford bid while a lesser part of testimony favored the manufacturers offer. After a six weeks' hearing, the committee rejected the Ford bid and reported the bill to the senate.

Indicate W. J. Bryan To Poll Large Vote

JACKSONVILLE, June 5.—Present indications are that William Jennings Bryan probably will poll one of the largest votes of the primary for delegate-at-large.

Local Citizens Show Much Interest In Results of the Primary Election

Much interest was taken in the results of Tuesday's primary election by citizens of Sanford and Seminole county. Not only did they evidence intense interest in local results but also in the state results, especially in the gubernatorial contest.

Special School Tax Election to be Held In May More Than To Decide Millage

On June 17, an election will be held in this city for the purpose of determining the amount of the special school tax to be assessed and collected in District One of Seminole county and the trustees to serve during the two ensuing years, according to an announcement received here today.

Superintendent Lawton stated that "anyone desiring to become a candidate for school trustee may have his or her name placed in the ballot by submitting to the county superintendent at Sanford, Fla., not later than 10 days prior to the election, a petition signed by not less than five qualified electors, a qualified elector being "one who is duly registered, who pays either a personal or real tax in addition to poll tax."

Mr. Lawton has made several talks in behalf of the special 10-mill tax and has expressed hope that the citizens of District One will vote for it without hesitation. If the 10-mill tax is passed, it will enable the school board and the trustees to increase the salaries of the teachers in the Sanford public schools, Mr. Lawton said. He has also stated that the high school term will be nine months instead of eight months each year, providing the bill is favorably voted upon.

Ralston Says Does Not Want Presidency

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., June 5.—Declaring there is "something about the greatness of this exalted position that admonishes me against wanting to undertake the execution of its grave and solemn duties," United States Senator Ralston today urged the Indiana Democratic state convention not to consider him as a candidate for the presidency.

Priest Shot To Death While Making A Call

DRACUT, Mass., June 5.—Rev. Michael G. Gilbride, pastor of St. Mary's Church, was shot to death at the home of John King, Sr., today. Capt. David Patrie of the Lowell police was seriously wounded while pursuing John King, Jr., who was arrested and charged with the murder. The priest had gone to the King home to make a call. What led to the shooting is not yet known.

Six Counties Known As Catts Strongholds Are Still Missing in Late Returns

Catts Has Carried 24 Counties Now

Second Choice Votes Will Be Necessary To Choose Nominee

JACKSONVILLE, June 5.—Returns received today from scattered precincts served to increase John W. Martin's lead for the nomination as Florida's next governor by the voters in Tuesday's Democrat primary.

The former Jacksonville mayor was credited with 44,301 out of a total of 120,852 that had been tabulated this afternoon. His lead over former governor Sidney J. Catts was increased to 8,794, showing a gain from last night's figures of 740.

Mr. Catts, whose total this afternoon was 35,507, was leading Frank E. Jennings of Jacksonville by 1,468, the latter's total being 34,039. These figures however did not include any additional returns from the admitted Catts' strongholds in the northern and western counties that have not yet been heard from or from which the returns are yet incomplete.

Worth W. Trammell of Miami preferred a net gain of 738 largely from Dade his home county which gave him a total of 6,005 for the state and 3,488 from Dade county with no precincts heard from.

Few additional figures were received today—except the preference vote for Wm. G. McAdoo and Oscar W. Underwood. Those that were reported indicated a continued gain for the Californian.

Second choice vote cast in Tuesday's primary will be necessary to nominate Florida's next governor as the ballots but six have been heard from although the returns from most were incomplete and in some cases meager.

BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY
GLADNESS IN SERVICE—Serve the Lord with thanksgiving, and into his courts with praise; be thankful unto Him, and bless His name. For the Lord is good.—Psalm 100:2, 4.

THE BUILDERS
All are architects of Fate,
Working in these walls of Time;
Some with massive deeds and great,
Some with ornaments of rhyme.

Nothing useless is, or low;
Each thing in its place is best;
And what seems but idle show
Strengthens and supports the rest.

For the structure that we raise,
Time is with materials filled;
Our to-days and yesterdays
Are the blocks with which we build.

Truly shape and fashion these;
Leave no yawning gaps between;
Think not, because no man sees,
Such things will remain unseen.

In the elder days of Art,
Builders wrought with greatest care
Each minute and unseen part;
For the Gods see everywhere.

Let us do our work as well,
Both the unseen and the seen;
Make the house, where Gods may dwell,
Beautiful, entire and clean.

Else our lives are incomplete,
Standing in these walls of Time,
Broken stairways, where the feet
Stumble as they seek to climb.

—To-day, then, strong and sure,
With a firm and ample base;
And ascending and secure,
Shall, to-morrow, find its place.

Thus alone can we attain
To those heights where the eye
Sees the world as one vast plain,
And one boundless reach of sky.
—Henry Wadsworth Longfellow.

The primary is over.
It looks now as if Martin has succeeded in drowning that Catt.

Next on the program is the Republican National Convention at Cleveland beginning next Tuesday.

Sanford continues to grow at a marvelous rate, judging by the way property is being sold and building permits are being issued.

This is election day in the Sanford Chamber of Commerce. But there hasn't been much campaigning going on as far as has been noticeable.

The "election extra" published by The Sanford Herald Wednesday morning was in great demand. Thirteen hundred copies of this paper were disposed of in quick time.

Sanford will soon have accurate population figures. A new Polk directory is being compiled and will contain up to the minute information concerning the growth of this city.

Now that election is over and the excitement has died down considerably, plans for "Pay-Up Week" will go forward. During the days immediately preceding the primary and while returns were coming in the committee in charge did not meet. But now everybody is ready for a decidedly successful "Pay-Up Week."

McAdoo carried Florida by an overwhelming vote. Sanford, as the state headquarters for the McAdoo campaign, has derived much good publicity from the work carried on here. It is this kind of advertising which puts a city on the date-lines of many newspapers in many sections of the whole country. And it is this kind of publicity that cannot be purchased for dollars and cents.

Seven new officials and twenty-five hundred new clerks have been added to the forces at Washington by the bonus act. But some people think this extra expense will be entirely carried by big business and the small man don't have to pay. The ex-service man will receive a few dollars worth of insurance and in return will continue paying excessive taxes for years to come. It's a funny business.

Valuable aid was given The Herald by Ben D. Guthrie in furnishing election returns to the people of Sanford. Working from eight o'clock Tuesday night until four o'clock Wednesday afternoon with but a short rest, Mr. Guthrie gave freely of his time and ability, refusing to accept payment from this newspaper.

Conversations Children Over-Hear.

In a recent issue of the Literary Digest is a picture that could be used to excellent purpose by organizations working for better homes and better citizenship. The picture shows two men, each with a little child clinging to his hand. Obviously the men are two fathers who have taken their children out for an afternoon walk and have stopped for an interchange of greetings and a bit of conversation.

The men are depicted as two jolly "good fellows," laughing heartily over the things they have to say to each other. The two little children are standing close, their eyes wide open in amazement at what they are overhearing, which the artist has labeled in a scroll coming out of the men's mouths, "obscenity, profanity."

It requires no imagination at all to see that the two fathers are kindly, well-meaning men. They would not unnecessarily hurt their children for anything. They would fight at the drop of the hat in protection of their children's safety. And yet they are exposing them to danger vastly more capable of leaving them marred for life than is any mere physical disaster. They are, placing germs of moral leprosy within reach of their children's souls.

Just how much of the overheard conversation will linger in these children's minds you cannot guess, but any one studying the picture will certainly be inclined to give a little thought to the old adage, "Little pitchers have big ears" and make a little inquiry into how he, himself contributes to conversation overheard by little boys and girls.

There are families in which all the gossip of the town is rehearsed in the hearing of little children. There are families in which, in the presence of attentive little boys and girls, the most reverent of subjects are discussed with levity.

You have seen the demure little girl playing quietly with her doll listening to the conversation of the women spending the afternoon on her mother's veranda. Did you ever think what kind of knowledge or what sort of ideals that child is building for future use?

You have seen the small boy standing near the group of men on the corner. The boy is quietly whistling, but his ears fairly twitch with the attention he is giving to the talk and the laughter of the men. What is he hearing?

Children who hear good language and kindly speech, and who are guarded against the germs that lead to harmful thoughts and harmful practices are children who dwell in homes and among grown-ups that are true to their trust. The abominable selfishness that runs a home for the convenience and comfort of the grown-ups, when there are little children to whose lives every condition should be adjusted, is the kind of selfishness one finds in the households where no thought is given to what conversations the children overhear.

That Literary Digest picture should be used as a tract for wide-spread distribution.

No Dull Summer Season

A news story in The Herald today tells of $288,950 worth of real estate changing hands during the month of May as evidenced by warranty deeds filed in the thirty-one days of that month.

Coming at this time of the year, supposedly known to be the "dull" season all over the state, these figures are significant. They indicate that instead of falling off the activity in the real estate market of this city is steadily increasing and as the summer comes on the deals grow more numerous.

Business men in Sanford have remarked on the good conditions prevalent here. They report that the month of May was a record-breaker. Many say that it was the best month in the entire year. The merchants feel optimistic over the outlook for the balance of the summer season and express the opinion that as the months come and go business will continue to improve.

Several prominent local citizens predicted that 1924 would be a banner year in the history of Sanford and Seminole county and that during the year the growth and prosperity of the section would be better than ever before. These predictions are proving to be correct.

Evidences of the great strides being made by the county is reflected in the figures submitted by the banking institutions which show enormous increases in bank deposits, by the post office which shows steady growth, by building permits which are getting more numerous daily, and by many other lines of activity. In addition to these the farmers of Seminole are enjoying this year a good market and are receiving good prices for their products.

The city commissioners in line with the progress of the city are going ahead with extensive street-paving, are rushing to completion the new municipal waterworks plant and system and are making their plans for the acquisition of the city gas and electric light plant, as authorized by the citizens at the bond election in January.

The residents of this city have right to feel good. Sanford is steadily growing and is being constructed on a basis of solidity which will cause it to continue to be known as truly "the city substantial."

INTRODUCING FLORIDA

TAMPA TIMES

There is such a storehouse of wealth, treasure, industry and unique things in Florida that not many of us who live here have yet come into more than an exceedingly vague idea of what she has. This is a splendid time for us to become better acquainted with Florida, in order that we may be better capacitated for telling the multitudes of visitors about her when they come back for the winter.

Florida ships annually 80,000 cars of vegetables, fruits, field crops and live stock, shipping an average of six cars of fruit and vegetables every hour of the year.

The citrus crop in 1923 returned $27,000,000, nearly five and one-half times the cost of the state when the United States bought it from Spain in 1819 for $5,000,000.

Florida makes 600,000,000 cigars and 8,000,000 cigarettes annually.

The only factory in the world making paper from saw grass is in Leesburg.

America's only factory for making furniture from palmetto is in Tampa.

Tampa also has the only factory making brushes from palmetto. There is a tannery at Port Myers for utilizing the skins of sharks and porpoises.

Oleum has a factory for making smudges for heating groves. Florida has the only genuine over-bearing orange trees in the world in Highlands county.

Tarpon Springs is the largest sponge market of the world.

Florida has the only grapefruit in the world bearing a perfumed fruit.

Near Palatka is the only camphor tree grove in America.

As Brisbane Sees It

The Franc Drops—Look Out. A Heartless LaFollette. The Sensitive Japanese. Our Third Richest Givers. Copyright, 1924

A BAD DROP in the value of the French franc, falling below five cents, was a dangerous sign for Europe yesterday.

What money changers think of the franc tells their opinion of European conditions. And their opinion is usually close to the fact. They have their hand on the big artery of finance and that tells the story.

LAFOLLETTE is apparently heartless. He intends to make congress return to Washington after the conventions and go on working.

If he would be content not to make the poor congressmen work when they would like to be playing and mending their fences, and if he would not run independently for the presidency, LaFollette's Republican friends would be much obliged to him.

THE PROGRESSIVE Voters' League of Michigan, indorses LaFollette for the presidency. But that does not mean that he will run.

The opinion of some that LaFollette will run independently. The fact would be that he would elect a Democrat, by defeating Coolidge, or that Coolidge would defeat him, and the Democrat combined. Neither result would please LaFollette or be good for him politically or physically.

JAPAN WILL celebrate solemnly in the national spirit movement the funeral of a Jimbo who killed himself as a protest against American exclusion of America.

It's the fashion in Japan, it was in the old days of the Samurai, if your honor was offended to sit on the door-step of the man that offended you and with a sharp knife, especially made for the purpose, perform hari-kari by disemboweling yourself.

WE SYMPATHIZE with the subject of the mikado who thought it necessary to rip open his abdomen because we won't accept Asiatics here. But we don't get too much excited about it.

Millions of Chinese are shut out of Japan, from which all Chinese labor is excluded. If those Chinese took it into their heads to kill themselves, Japan would say "Sorry, but we can't change our laws on that account."

GEORGE F. BAKER, who is mentioned by one of the richest men in America (some even think he is the richest) has given five million dollars to Harvard to endow a school of business administration. Mr. Baker, who would surely be the world's richest man if he could not get his Ford and John D. Rockefeller, who is 84 years old, and a brisk giver of millions.

He gave Cornell $1,835,000; two millions to the Red Cross; one million to the Metropolitan Museum of Art; $500,000 to the New York Hospital; $100,000 to Columbia University, etc.

JUST WHAT a "school of business administration" can do remains to be seen. Will it make the sons of very rich men interest themselves in business? Probably not and they're fortunate for the country. Too many hereditary millionaires or billionaires would be bad.

REPORTERS, reformers, friends of democracy and equality, are talking about "the millions that will be spent to cheat the law" in a recent atrocious Chicago murder. The sons of two rich men murdered a boy whose father was rich. They will be spent, of course. Lawyers and alienists will get big fees. But the thing will not run into millions. And the case has had so much publicity that the millions would not be effective even if they were spent.

IT WOULD BE BAD for the public frame of mind, bad for all those concerned, if there should be any justifiable suspicion of money's influence in that particular murder case.

It is to be hoped that solemn gentlemen won't overdo their moralizing in public schools being responsible for crime. It would be easy to compile a list of criminals that have recently gone from the death house to the gallows or the electric chair that never had anything but religious education.

Booleg girl and whiskey have more to do with crime and vice among the young than any failure to mix the teaching of arithmetic and religion.

AMERICAN FLYERS have arrived at Kagoshima, on the Japanese Island Kyushu. And Captain O'Leary, the Freshman flying on his own hook, landed from Peiping in China, on his way to Mukden.

Millions of those that read today's news about this experimental flying will live to cross both oceans in airships that will go and come as regularly as any express train.

LADY DIANA MANNERS, whose married name is Lady Duff Cooper and whose mother is the Duchess of Rutland, returned to London, is telling her correspondents that she is charming, but drink a great deal too much. The United States can only reply, "Dear Lady, we know it. Come back and help us."

What Is More Rare Than a June Day With Speeches?

Dan Dobb Says
How our enemies intend to devil only knows.
The trouble with being a father is you get dust in your eyes.
Books, we have found, are only things which speak volumes.
A man is as old as he feels, a woman is only as old as she acts.

REAL ESTATE INVESTMENTS

TAMPA TRIBUNE

The amount of money engaged in financing real estate development in the United States, that is, the total amount of money loaned upon farms, homes and business property, is greater than the total amount of money in circulation in the United States plus all the gold and silver reserve in the United States Treasury, according to an investigation of the role of credit in real estate development which has just been made by the National Association of Real Estate Boards.

A conservative estimate of all loans secured by farms, homes and business properties in the United States is the enormous sum of $24,810,625,513.04. The report shows that this is more than the amount of money in circulation in the United States, which is in round numbers eleven billion dollars. It is more than all bank and trust companies, that are members of the Federal Reserve System, which total $11,231,000,000. It is greater than the total assets of the United States, which is $21,914,000,000.

Christopher Columbus, at the time he discovered America, had set a clock in motion that would record a dollar every second and still have to tick on approximately 354 years more before it would reach the total of the present credit which is being used in real estate mortgages in the United States.

The mortgage debt on homes, farms and business properties in the United States is now increasing almost a billion dollars a year, the report states. This is an increase of $404,256,573.67 for financing homes, an increase of $334,470,122.20 for financing business properties through mortgages, and an increase of $237,733,048.81 on farm mortgage loans.

The number of homes in the United States, not farms, ownership of which is held subject to a mortgage, totals 6,987,386, with a total estimated debt at the close of 1923 of $14,687,485,372.00, the report states. The total number of homes in the United States is 4,317,599.

Of the almost four and a half million farms in the United States the number whose ownership is being financed through a mortgage is 1,727,039. The estimated debt on all farms at the close of 1923 is given as $5,308,870,420.00.

A total of $3,806,500,000.00 was being loaned on business property in the United States at the close of 1923, the report estimates.

Shelter for 22,139,385 persons is provided by homes and farms owned under mortgage. Credit for purchase of homes and farms has made possible the ownership of 8,714,425 city and farm homes. It is reasonable to assume that were it not for the available long-term credit, there would be a shortage in housing greater even than now exists.

Although the average annual interest paid on mortgage debt is in round numbers one and a half billion dollars, the estimated rate of increase in mortgage investments per annum is only one billion dollars. Taking into consideration that the interest paid to the investor is not net profit, that in addition to income and sur-tax the owners of mortgage securities in many states are taxed upon the amount of the principal which is invested, it is found probable that the amount being reinvested is approximately equal to the net return on such securities after the payment of taxes.

Two factors tend to divert money to investment channels other than mortgages, the report states. These factors are the tax on the principal invested, which constitutes a double taxation, and the large number of high yield tax exempt securities now upon the market.

Summer Hints For Young Mothers

THE CHILD WHO WON'T PLAY
Healthy children love to romp in summer from early morn until the last call, and if a youngster mopes about the house and looks yellowish, you may know it isn't well.

Think over the little one's diet. It should be watched more carefully in summer. Too much heavy or raw food causes biliousness and indigestion.
Usually a thorough cleansing with Liv-o-lax and a little better sense about the food will straighten out the child quickly. Liv-o-lax is a vegetable laxative that that works on the liver, too.
Remember, the name, MOVA SUPPOSITORIES, and be sure to follow the simple directions that come in each box.

Rare Opportunity for Business Investment
BUYING any kind of Florida real estate is a good investment. Buying business property is the best of all investments. It is the one investment to which many shrewd and wise buyers of real estate confine nearly all of their activities.
The opening of Coral Way Section—Part 1 at Coral Gables offers a new and rich field for business property investment.
Coral Way Section is in the very heart of the business zone at Coral Gables. The present business section was opened in January 1923, and of the approximately 1500 business lots which it included, more than 90% have been sold. Better than that, many of them have changed hands many times since their first purchase, each time at a good profit to the holder. Upon this new business section will be located a group of fine administration buildings, the first of which is to be constructed immediately. It is of beautiful Spanish design, 200x50 ft, planned by Architects DeGarmo & Paist of Miami. Here will be housed all of the executive departments of the Coral Gables organization, with the exception of the salesforce, which will have its own attractive building across the street.
Coral Way is the principal east and west boulevard of Coral Gables. It is 120 ft. wide, paved and asphalted with 12 ft. sidewalks on either side. It is a notable example of the remarkable and distinctive development of Coral Gables.
The wise investor who desires to take advantage of the reasonable prices which always obtained in the early stages of a fine development project will be interested in this exceptional opportunity. It is such another opportunity that comes only at the beginning of big things. If you wish to get in on the ground floor do so without delay.
Make your reservations for a sight-seeing visit to Coral Gables and Miami on the next Deluxe bus leaving this city. The trip is free. The opportunity is of prompt action.

SICKLY, PEEVISH CHILDREN
Children suffering from intestinal worms are cross, restless and unhealthy. There are other symptoms, however. If the child is pale, has dark rings under the eyes, bad breath and takes no interest in play, it is almost a certainty that worms are eating away its vitality. The surest remedy for worms is White's Cream Vermifuge. It is positive destruction to the worms but harmless to the child. Price 35c. Sold by Union Pharmacy.
