

Nazis Have Not Enough Money To Give Jews Theirs

Financial Maneuver Necessary To Preserve War Chests

WASHINGTON, Dec. 22.—When indignation over imprisonment of Jews is set aside, the cold fact stands out that Germany has not enough international money to allow Jews to leave with pockets full of gold or foreign exchange. This cannot come from other countries, because there is none.

That is the view of economists and financial authorities here who have a good amount of gold available outside of Germany due to the result of previous exchange which Germany still has in her hands on. This does not mean, as an excuse for the German program of driving Jews out of Germany. But the purely financial difficulty of getting the last out of Germany will become apparent.

Germany's last maneuver is to propose tentatively that we let foreign Jews advance enough foreign exchange for German Jews to get a new start in life elsewhere. Germany's part of the program would be to expose the wealthy foreign Jews by sending them German goods. German Jews, of course, would receive a corresponding value in money or securities to the German government to complete the three-cornered trade.

Why Is Maneuver Necessary?

Best sources here indicate that is not enough gold and foreign exchange available in Germany to permit German Jews to get out of the country with their wealth, even if the Reich turned over to them its whole board. And the Nazi government is not likely to deplete its "war chest" of gold and foreign exchange by letting Jewish refugees take it out of the country.

Here are figures on the situation.

Last April Germany ordered Jews to register all their wealth. It was officially reported to total $8,000,000,000 reichsmarks, or $1,200,000,000. A British publication in the London banker, estimates that since one billion marks of value has shrunk away and that the billion have passed into the hands of non-Jewish Germans. This leaves Jews owing 5,000,000 reichsmarks worth of goods, securities and real estate. In dollars that is $2,000,000,000.

Small Chance To Convert

Now if Jews were able to convert all this into German marks at its face value they still would need to convert it into foreign exchange or gold as they left the country and what chance is there for that?

To turn again to the London Banker, one of its writers estimates that after anehusis and Austria, Germany and her colonies had 1,650,000,000 marks in gold and foreign exchange, the 600,000 marks invested in foreign securities, and 1,450,000,000 invested in foreign property, all of which might conceivably be converted into foreign exchange. That totals 3,600,000,000 marks. Since the anehusis this amount has dwindled by 130,000,000 marks, leaving about $1,210,000,000. That is described here as an outside figure. Other writer estimate less than half that.

Germany officially admits having only $20,000,000 in gold, although commercial sources here are certain the figure is simply a blind.

But the above figures compiled by financial writers show that even if Germany gathered in all its reported assets of $1,210,000,000 in foreign exchange, it could not supply Jews with the $3,000,000,000 required to give them their remaining wealth and let them go.

Too Many 'Special' Charges

Another thing must be taken into consideration, however. Special welfare levies and fines imposed on Jews selling their property in Germany allow little of the true value. But betting foreign exchange even for 10 percent presents a problem while financial experts here recognize as a real one.

Germany probably was not acting from purely humanitarian purposes in proposing that wealthy foreign Jews accept German goods in return for advances made to get German Jews out of the Reich. The plan has a double edge. Every such transaction would help to sell German goods abroad, even if the receipts were available only to buy Jewish property in the Reich.

If the device works, it probably will cause many a Nazi to chuckle at the queer irony by which Jews abroad would become unwilling customers of Germany as a means of rescuing their fellows.

Kentucky generally produces from 15 to 17 times as much liquor as its residents drink.

Hopkins Is Named Commerce Chief To Succeed Roper

Former Relief Administrator Will Be Sworn Into FDR's Cabinet Tomorrow

Col. Harrington Will Head WPA

Rumblings Of Opposition To Confirmation Are Heard

WASHINGTON, Dec. 23.—(AP)—President Roosevelt today named Harry L. Hopkins to succeed Daniel C. Roper as Secretary of Commerce. Stephen Early, presidential secretary, announced the appointment and said Hopkins would be sworn in tomorrow in the President's White House study.

At the same time the President designated Col. C. F. Harrington to succeed Hopkins as Works Progress Administrator.

Aubrey Williams, deputy WPA administrator, will become National Youth Administrator. Williams now is executive director of NERA, a part of WPA.

Only a few friends of Hopkins will be present at the ceremony when he takes his new office tomorrow. He still must be confirmed by the Senate.

There were rumblings of opposition to his confirmation even before his appointment was announced.

Early said he did not believe Senate confirmation would be required for Harrington, and he drew a distinction between his "designation" and formal appointment. Harrington is an Army officer and will head the WPA on detail from the Army. He will draw his regular Army pay and no remuneration from the WPA, the White House official said.

The White House did not disclose when the appointment of a successor to Attorney General Cummings might be expected. Roper's resignation as Commerce Secretary is effective today. Cummings resigned, effective some time in January.

David Lasser, president of the Alliance, an independent union of WPA workers, said last night that Vice President Garner and various senators had indicated to the President that they would vote against confirmation of WPA Administrator Harry L. Hopkins to the post of Secretary of Commerce, unless an Army man was selected for the relief job.

Lasser described the Vice President and the congressional bloc as "reactionaries" and said they are "wielding a big stick" over the President's head in order to ensure the naming of Harrington and subsequent "demobilization of WPA."

He emphasized that the Alliance did not oppose Harrington personally, but that as a rule it had experienced difficulty with Army officers acting as local WPA administrators. He said officers had the "general view of Army officers toward labor—that when workers organize to assert their rights and bargain collectively they are interfering with the job to be done."

Wishing to eliminate the agency as soon as possible, Lasser said, Garner and his colleagues had decided that no individual could be found to do a "better job of demobilization than an Army officer fresh from the general staff."

Tension Between U.S. And Germany Grows Over Welles Rebuff To Nazis' Protest

By Associated Press

The Spanish Insurgent high command and today the government's Catalan front had been broken in four places by the last blows of a new campaign in Northern Spain. Border reports reaching Bourg Madame, France, said the drive was aimed at strong government fortifications along the Segre River near Tarragona, that government troops had repulsed six waves of Moorish troops.

Meanwhile growing tension between the United States and Germany. Italian aspirations to French territory and the Pan-American question of continental solidarity were outstanding issues of the international situation.

In Berlin an official said it was premature to forecast Germany's reaction to the rebuff which Sumner Welles, acting United States Secretary of State received from the German protest yesterday against the speech by Interior Secretary Harold Ickes.

Two authoritative Nazi newspaper used the terms "rupture" and "abrogation of German-American relations" however, in new attack on Ickes.

Fortified by a victory in the Chamber of Deputies, French Premier Daladier turned to meet Italy's denunciation of the 1936 agreement regarding Tunisian. His friends said he was prepared to refuse flatly to go beyond the agreement in territorial concessions to Italy.

A storm of blizzard proportions swept northern Wisconsin and the upper Michigan peninsula. Traffic was slowed and in some places halted by drifting snow.

A five-inch fall was recorded last night. There was up to four inches of snow in most of Minnesota and five inches in several sections of Iowa but highways were open.

Nebraska and the Dakotas also were in the snow belt. Rain and sleet impeded highway travel in Illinois, Indiana and Missouri. Sub-freezing temperatures prevailed in the northern tier of states from the Rockies to the Atlantic seaboard.

6 High Schools To Serve As Planning Center For Project

Florida To Send 605 Boys To CCC Camps Next Year

TALLAHASSEE, Dec. 23.—State Superintendent Collie English announced today that six Florida high schools have agreed to serve as planning centers in a special state-wide project for development of classroom activities which will meet the particular needs of Florida youth. The operating schools are as follows:

Arcadia, H. R. Dugan, Principal; Chipley, Ola L. Peacock, Principal; Gainesville, F. W. Buchholz, Principal; Palatka, G. C. Roberts, Principal; Panama City, W. S. Weaver, Principal; and Madison, S. T. Lastinger, Principal.

The 80 teachers employed in the co-operating schools will merge their efforts next summer at a "Florida Workshop" to be conducted at the University of Florida in Gainesville. Each teacher will receive guidance in preparing materials and plans for classroom activities the following year.

The plans will be adjusted to meet the needs of the communities and the individual children as shown by local surveys to be conducted by each of the co-operating schools next Spring.

This part of the state program for improvement of instruction is the result of research in plans that have been successfully followed in other states. It has been endorsed by the official state committee on courses of study and by educational leaders from schools and colleges throughout Florida. Principals and teachers in all schools have been urged by Superintendent English to conduct community surveys similar to those planned by the six co-operating schools and to participate in preparation of instructional materials resulting from their own classroom activities.

Named To Cabinet

Cuba Sellers Are Nabbed In Police Raids

Seven Persons Arrested In City-Wide Attempt To Check Organized Gambling

A series of raids under the supervision of Chief of Police R. V. G. Williams and his men this morning resulted in the arrest of seven dealers in gamblers in the first city. The attempt of the local Police Department to check organized gambling in the city came to report of the grand jury involved heavily in the enforcement of Prohibition laws.

Those arrested were accused of charges of selling gambling tickets. Chief Williams said, and added that the seizes were made in the act of taking the tickets to customers.

Those arrested in the raids will be tried before Judge Frank Miller in a session of the Municipal Court of the Police Department Tuesday afternoon.

Deeming that the Department is better equipped to solve violations of the gambling laws than police previously, Chief Williams said that he expected he would get convictions. He added, however, that he expected he would get a trial, even if he expected a trial of the part of the defendant.

"The Police Department has the authority to impose heavier sentences for public spectators but we can make a dent in them with the responsibility," he said.

The Police Department has one raid night resulted in a minor tragedy as police ended the filling station of Roger Domingo, in Goldboro shortly after a 16-year-old negro youth purchased a ticket. After police left his place, he was reported to have stepped the boy and caused him to trip, hitting the boy in the head.

Congressman Green was presented with a testimonial, prepared by the trade body, in tribute to his untiring effort in behalf of the proposed canal.

Persons from all parts of the congressional district came here to help the Chamber of Commerce pay hommage to the legislator, who next month begins his fifteenth year in Congress.

Speaking on the need of America developing her national defenses, Congressman Green said: "The construction of the canal fits into this picture and will be completed."

"As a great auxiliary to America's national defense for our harbors and inland waterways, America will be able to defend itself.

The Last Warning Is

Crime Film At Ritz

A winning trio is expected to score a third hit in the field of mystery film thrillers when Universal's sixth Crime Club production, "The Last Warning," opens today at the Ritz Theatre.

Preston Foster and Frank Jenkins appear for the third time as Bill Crane and Dan Williams, super-sleuths who punctuate their expert detective work with wisecracks. Third member of the trio is Jonathan Latimer, popular Crime Club author whose stories, "The Westland Case" and "Lady in the Mongol," first presented the Foster-Jenkins team and initiated the mystery screen series.

"The Last Warning" presents the detectives in their most baffling case, as they track down "The Eye," mysterious character who leaves threat notes in rooms locked from the inside and then commits a murder by the same method.

A killing in a gambling casino and a kidnapping also are marked during the dramatic unfolding of a case in which the dozen-odd suspects include three beautiful women.

Frances Robinson as a socialite, Joyce Compton as a frivolous blonde, and Kay Linaker as a dark-haired secret agent play the feminine leads. Raymond Parker, E. C. Clive, Albert Dekker, Robert Page

Cranberries Have Wide Variety Of Uses On Tables

By MRS. ALEXANDER GEORGE

Cranberries, with their rich red color and pungent flavor give a gay and intriguing deliciousness to our menus.

Of course, you think of cranberries as being "just made" for turkey, but do you realize this tangy fruit can be used in countless other ways with full great taste appeal?

Buy berries that are bright red, firm and well shaped. When preparing, discard any soft berries and thin brown stems.

Cranberry Beverage

Let's start with cranberry juice—a refreshing meal starter or just the thing for a between-meal lift.

The juice is really a thin sauce and it is easily made. Cook together in a covered pan over low heat equal portions of berries and water. When the berries are soft press the mixture through a fine strainer. Add one-fourth as much sugar and cook slowly until it has dissolved—no longer. Cool and chill.

For a beverage de luxe, add pineapple, lemon and orange juices to the berry juice or mix with ginger ale. Poured over fruit the plain or fancy variety just fits the spot as an appetizer or dessert. And it's tops when spiced and served hot on a blustery day. Try some the next time you keep open house.

Club Luncheon

Cranberry salads come in many styles. For plain salad merely unmold a stiff cranberry jelly on lettuce and top with salad dressing. Or add diced celery and nuts for crunchiness to cooked berries mixed with orange-flavored gelatin. When congealed, unmold on any salad green and pass cream salad dressing or mayonnaise.

For a delicately flavored and brightly colored salad mold cranberries in lemon gelatin in a ring design. Unmold on lettuce and outline with pineapple strips and seeded dates. Fill center with salad dressing and white cream cheese, blended. With ho-rolls, plenty of hot coffee and a light dessert you have a satisfying luncheon for your club.

Here's a juicy filling for ven or lamb steak. Select two one-half inch slices of uncooked meat. Spread thin cranberry sauce generously on one slice; place the other slice over it. Bake as usual, basting frequently. Or use this sauce as a top ping for ham slices or pork chops when baked.

Cranberry sherbet is a perfect foil for a roast or fowl. Cool four cups (one pound) of berries with three cups of water. When the berries are very soft strain and add two cups of granulated sugar, one-third of a cup of lemon juice and one tea spoon of grafted lemon rind. Freeze by regular method or in mechanical refrigerator. Fold in beaten egg white when mixture is half frozen.

Tarts And Pudding

Cranberry tarts are delightfully unusual. Fill baked tart cases with thick sauce and cover with sweetened meringue. Bake ten minutes in slow oven to brown the meringue.

Another dessert worthy of this season is steamed cranberry pudding. Mix one cup of flour, two teaspoons of baking powder, one-fourth of a teaspoon of soda, one teaspoon of cinnamon, one-half cup of brown sugar, one-half cup of bread crumbs, one-half cup of chopped suet, one-half teaspoon of salt, one teaspoon of vanilla, one cup of chopped berries, one-half cup of raisins, one egg and a third cup of warm water. Steam two hours in covered mold. Serve warm with spicy or orange sauce.

1939 Glamour Girl Will Be Two Inches Taller Than 1938's

By BETTY CLARKE

The 1939 Glamour Girl—what will her height, her weight, her coloring and her personality be?

I've just come from a discussion on that very subject. The participants were Toni Frissell, ace fashion photographer, Dorothy Wilding, official portrait photographer of the British royal family; Gloria Bristol and Veronica Dengel, New York beauty specialists; Lily Dache and Valentine, fashion creators for American glamour queens, and Elsa Maxwell, society party-giver. Fair enough cross-section of opinion, wouldn't you say?

Her Measurements

Here's the verdict of this jury of seven:

The 1939 Glamour Girl will measure Height, 5 feet 7 inches (without heel); weight, 120 pounds; bust, 34 1/2 inches; waist, 26 inches; hips, 35 inches. Note that she's two inches taller this year than last and five pounds heavier than any rating for fifteen years.

There's a catch to this figure measurement, points out Mrs. Dengel, and Mrs. Frissell. They agree that the 1939 Glamour Girl will be muscularly rounded like a Greek boy, but they say she won't be voluptuously curved. She'll be high-bosomed and short-waisted and extremely long of limb. Her feet will be large—size six and a half—since she must be lithhe and sure-footed, not mincing.

Her mouth must look huge (Frissell) but not be painted classic (Bristol). Laugh wrinkles are allowed—but no others. She'll have a straight nose, slightly tilted, and very wide nostrils.

Her Make-Up

Platinum and straw blonde, fake carrot tops and henna queen are definitely out, decree both Bristol and Dache. (Take your bows, you lucky brunettes and near-brunettes.)

Green or violet eyes are in—baby-blues out.

Ivory-skin with the radiant glow of good health is a must. Make-up will enhance—but not cover up. Eyebrows won't be plucked too much, even if they grow together.

One little affection is allowed: false eyelashes. But they can't look pasted-on—just thick and silky, to do away with that hard look mascara gave glamour girls of former years.

Her eyelids will be smooth—but not heavy. She'll wear just enough rouge to give a healthy bloom to her skin. When summer comes around she'll turn a soft to a bronze, like a Bali beauty—not the deep, brown puppy until last year.

Her Hair-Do

Hair will be short and curled into ringlets like a Greek runner's (Frissell) but it will not be up. (Unanimous.) It will be blown to gleaming perfection and will have a slightly windswept effect.

To whom do they point as "typical 1939 Glamour Girls?"

Mary Martin, star of the current Broadway musical "Leave It To Me," Countess Kurt Haugwitz-Reventlow, the former Barbara Hutton, is cited as eyebrow-trend evidence.

NEW YORK—(P)—Mrs. Franklin Roosevelt, cited for her punctuality and her faculty of going places on her own, was late for an appointment yesterday because she got lost in her native Manhattan.

Two DeLand Girls Drowned As Auto Runs Off Bridge

Mr. Touchton recently received a pharmacist degree at the University of Florida and is employed at the Touchton Drug Store here. Miss Machen was said to be one of the most popular co-eds on the Stetson campus and took an active part in the social activities of the school. Miss Mercer was a senior at the DeLand High School.

One of the boys left the sinking car through an opened door, witnesses said, while the other escaped after breaking out a glass. Futile attempts to reach the girls were made by the two boys after they left the car, it was reported.

Mr. Weathered sustained a broken shoulder, while Mr. Touchton was lacerated about the face and sustained several painful bruises. Both were taken to the hospital for treatment but were released shortly afterward.

Mr. Stafford reported that apparently the driver did not notice the open drawbridge since it appeared that no effort was made to halt the speeding auto. He said that it was a distance of 210 feet between the guard rail and the point where the auto left the causeway.

The automobile was a 1938 model Chevrolet sedan which was owned by Mr. Weathered. Bridge attendants stated that they were drenched as the water splashed more than 60 feet into the air.

The bodies of the girls were not removed from the auto until about 6:00 A.M. They were taken out through the rear window of the car after it had been raised to the surface.

The boat which was enroute to Jacksonville was entering the channel on the same side as the approaching car but the captain said he averted the tug into the other channel when he saw that the car would plunge into the river.

Green Predicts Construction Of State Ship Canal

(Continued from Page One) he must and will fully develop her water transportation and harbor possibilities, not only for commercial advantage but also for national defense. The Florida Canal fits in this picture and will be completed.

"It is my belief also that another canal will be constructed in the not very distant future across Mexico or the Central American region. Of particular interest to Florida is the full development of these waterways and general coastal facilities. Transportation of all kinds is facilitated and made more profitable through full development of our waterway possibilities."

"With more than 1300 miles of coastline, Florida holds more strategic position in our waterways development and national defense program; and by digression, may I say that it is only fair and honest that Florida should, by law, if necessary, be given at least double the present sugar quota and that our winter vegetable and fruit crops be protected and aided rather than hindered and smothered by reciprocal trade agreements."

"In Florida we are able to supply a large portion of the demand of our country's requirements for sugar, fruits and winter vegetables. This trade is now going to countries other than our own. I cannot believe that the Congress can long permit this traversal of justice."

"It is also my hope and belief that a comprehensive marketing system can be worked out for internal United States to the end that commodities, particularly perishable commodities, are delivered where needed and when needed, at reasonable price."

Ickes Incident Marked Closed By Nazi Agent

Propaganda Minister
Says Speech Leaves
Sting Behind But
Will Be Overlooked

Pope Delivers Yule Message

Franco's Armies And Loyalist Soldiers
Locked In Death

Germany marked the
"Xmas Incident" diplomatically closed today while two great armies fought a crucial battle in Spain and Pope Pius XI expressed his "bitter sadness" over the relations between the Vatican and the Italian government.

Although regretting that Sumner Welles, acting United States Secretary of State, had "left a sting behind" in rejecting the German protest against the attacks by Interior Secretary Harold L. Ickes, the German propaganda ministry spokesman said there would be no further official "reaction."

The Pope, in a Christmas message to the cardinals, lamented vexations which he said were a "mis-treatment" of Catholic action, organization of laymen, and the "wounding of the Concordia" between Italy and the Holy See by Premier Mussolini's promulgation of a law forbidding marriages between Aryans and non-Aryans.

Two of the greatest armies assembled on a single battlefield in the Spanish war were locked in combat in northern Spain's snow-covered mountains. Both Government and Insurgent sources agreed that this was the beginning of Insurgent Generalissimo Francisco Franco's long-awaited offensive and that its success or failure may decide the outcome of the war now in its 8th month.

Half a million men were said to be engaged on a 100 mile battle line from Trenz to Girona mountains.

Advices reaching the French frontier said insurgents appeared to have been halted, at least in the center of the front. Earlier dispatches said the insurgents had advanced on both ends of the line.

The proposed Pan-American conference declaration for a continental solidarity today depended on Brazil, the only one of the 21 American republics which had not signed it.

Italy and France remained at loggerheads over Fascist demands for French possessions, made acute by a defiant Italian note calling off the 1935 French-Italian agreement concerning Tunisian.

In China neither Japanese nor Chinese claimed any great gains in the war dragged on.

One of the most desperate strategies of the Spanish civil war was being fought early today along the snow-piled western boundary of Loyalist Catalonia as Generalissimo Francisco Franco personally drove Italian and Spanish legions into his long-bounced Christmas offensive.

Both Loyalist and insurgent communiques at midnight said that the battle, which began at dawn Friday along a 50-mile front in sub-zero temperatures, continued unabated but verisons of the outcome of the fighting were contradictory.

Government communiques from Barcelona said the offensive had been halted back at all points with a division of Franco's Italian black-shirts who were moved down when they attempted to cross the Ebro River. Franco was temporary gains yesterday. Franco said, but his troops were driven back to their original positions by swift Loyalist counter-attacks.

France's headquarters at Burdeos and Saragossa included a heavily-mechanized spearhead which crossed the Loyalist iron curtain of fortifications at dawn and were driving backward the Loyalist capital of Valencia, says less than 80 miles.

Insurgent bulletins say an average advance of 10 miles was made on Friday but

Christmas Tree Slayer Prefers Jail To Release

Kills Man, Wounds Another To Protect His Evergreen

ELYRIA, Ohio, Dec. 24.—(UPI)—William Case, 84-year-old white-bearded farmer whose defense of Christmas tree in his grove brought death to his neighbor, chose to remain in jail today instead of returning to his evergreen studded acres.

He pleaded innocent to manslaughter in connection with the fatal shooting of William Rousseau, 37-year-old unemployed father of two small girls. His bond was fixed at $10,000.

Case said he could make bond without trouble but he preferred to remain in jail. Mrs. Rousseau was wounded when Case shot at her and her husband, as they plucked the Christmas tree in their car after cutting it on Case's farm.

She is reported in a serious condition. Rousseau died in the car. Case said he would have given them the tree if they had asked for it but shot at them because too many persons had been stealing his trees.

Democratic-Republican Coalition Seen As Airing Hopkins' Rule Over Relief

WASHINGTON, Dec. 24.—(UPI)—A thorough Senate airing of charges of political activities in relief appeared in prospect today as a result of Harry L. Hopkins' selection to be Secretary of Commerce.

Although some anti-administration men in Congress were opposed to the confirmation of Hopkins nomination to the cabinet, a group of Democrats and Republicans began discussing the situation whereby the two could agree pending the final entry into the WPA.

Members of the informal coalition said the world needed that the nomination be referred to the Senate Committee on Small Business. This committee, it was said, would be the report of the Senate Committee on Small Business in its efforts to bring about a more effective relief program.

President Franklin D. Roosevelt still has two important appointments to make, the successor to Attorney General Homer C. Cummings and the successor to Justice Benjamin Cardozo who died.
