To Help Pay For Luncheon Honoring King

4 Commissioners Would Dig In Own Pockets

By Karen Talley
Herald Staff Writer

Four of Sanford's five city commissioners say they are willing to commit personal funds to help offset an anticipated $4,000 shortfall for Wednesday's Pearl Bailey luncheon. The shortfall, if one occurs as a result of poor ticket sales and less than anticipated private donations, may have to be paid by a private citizen.

Commissioner A.A. McClanahan says he doesn't want to help finance the event with his own monies, nor the city's. None of the other commissioners appear to want the city to pay for it, either.

The luncheon is part of a week-long Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. tribute commissioners authorized last year.

The four commissioners' gestures will help prevent Shirley Schilke from losing as much as $4,000 of her own money. Mrs. Schilke put up the down payment to bring Miss Bailey to Sanford as part of the King celebration. It was hoped Miss Bailey's appearance would generate enough ticket sales and private donations so there would be a surplus after costs for the King scholarship fund.

However, Mrs. Schilke said Friday poor response to ticket sales and requests for corporate and private contributions have left planners about $4,000 short of covering the affair's cost. That shortfall could be less if more tickets are

Unity Honors King

Spiritual and racial harmony emanated from a packed Sanford Civic Center Sunday as residents joined local clergy leaders for an interdenominational religious observance to begin the city's week-long Martin Luther King tribute.

The two-hour ceremony was attended by about 750 residents of the city's black and white communities. An 80-member inter-racial chorus and an inspirational address from Bethune-Cookman College President Dr. Oswald P. Bronson highlighted the observance. Fourteen local churches participated in the event.

Featured was an interpretative dance in honor of King performed by the Ballet Guild of Sanford-Seminole.

The tribute choir's black and white members struck the first harmonious chord for Sunday's observance as they marched hand and hand into the civic center singing "We Shall Stand."

The unified tone continued throughout the observance with words, prayers and scripture readings from local church leaders. The clergy leaders' congregations are located in Sanford's black and white communities and represent several religious denominations.

Bronson, who grew up in Sanford and is an ordained Methodist minister, said King was "a prophet sent for these times" whose "legacy will grow brighter as the years go on."

He said local church leaders and city commissioners should be applauded "for having the courage to honor this man and

Mercury Dips To 29 In Sanford

By Deane Jordan
Herald Staff Writer

One more day of cool weather is forecast and a warming trend expected as Seminole County shakes off the first nippy night of 1987.

Overnight low for central Florida was officially 37 degrees reached around sunrise today at 7:19 a.m., around the same time about 1,000 people in Lake Mary lost electricity because of a non-weather related problem.

In Sanford, the mercury dipped to 29 degrees at the Sanford Airport and a 9-mph northwest breeze across Lake Monroe chilled the city. The wind-chill factor, the combined effect of the wind speed and temperature, could have made the air feel around 16 degrees, according to Sanford library reference sources.

Service organizations such as the Sanford Christian Sharing Center and the Salvation Army reported no increase of services needed due to the cold. The sharing center, however, said it is running low on food.

The central Florida high Sunday was 61 degrees. Humidity was set at 72 percent and the barometer was rising early today at 30.23 inches. High in the state was at Key West, 75 degrees and the low in Crestview at 21. The "freeze line" was set at Vero Beach, which had 32 degrees. West Palm Beach came in at 41 degrees.

A year ago Jan. 12, the overnight low in central Florida was 48 degrees warming up to 70. The high for the date was set in 1972 when 85 degrees was reached. The record low was 23 degrees in 1982, according to the National Weather Bureau.

Temperatures are expected to reach into the mid- to upper 30s tonight and a warming trend over the state for the next three or four days with clouds and cooler weather probably settling

Pedestrian Killed By Car On SR 436

A Fern Park man walking across State Road 436 was struck by a car and killed late Saturday as he was going home, according to Casselberry Police.

Dead is William J. Helmbach, 20, of 614 Regency Apartments, E. State Road 436. He is the first traffic-related fatality in Seminole County this year.

Police said Helmbach had left a bar at the Greater Mall near Jasmine Road around 10:17 p.m. and was walking home. As he crossed SR 436 he was struck by a car driven by Susan Ryan, 24, of Deltona.

No charges were filed against Ms. Ryan.

Protesters Vow To Disrupt Trident Launch

CAPE CANAVERAL (UPI) — Security teams were on alert today against protesters who vowed to occupy a security zone at Cape Canaveral Air Force Station in an attempt to block test flights of the Trident 2 missile.

Fifteen protesters were arrested for trespassing during the weekend at or near the Air Force station, officials said, and a protest leader said demonstrations would continue.

"We've beefed up security substantially because of the fact that they've made their intentions known," said Lt. Col. Robert Nicholson, a spokesman for nearby Patrick Air Force Base. "So we've increased the numbers of our people and the frequency of patrols and we're using some additional equipment."

Denis Doyon, a spokesman for the protesters, said Sunday a number of demonstrators remained on the Air Force station occupying the Trident 2 security zone.

"There are people on the air station and more on the way," Doyon said. "We are prepared for an extended non-violent occupation of the test site. All people will come off the base when the Pentagon announces it's scrapping the Trident missiles."

The first of 20 test flights of the new Trident 2 submarine-launched ballistic missile is planned for this month, possibly as early as this week, and protesters have said they will interrupt the launch by entering the security zone at the Air Force station.

Once operational, the Trident 2 missile will be capable of carrying at least 10 nuclear warheads with an explosive yield of between 150 and 500 kilotons each. A kiloton represents the explosive equivalent of 10,000 tons of TNT.

A major anti-Trident demonstration, led by famed pediatrician and author Benjamin Spock, is planned for next Saturday at the gates of the Air Force station, which is adjacent to the Kennedy Space Center.

Nicholson said the 15 protesters arrested during the weekend were turned over to the Brevard County sheriff's department. Most refused to identify themselves.

Four protesters were arrested Friday after the driver of a Spaceport USA tour bus reported some people got off at a tour stop at the Air Force station and did not get back on the bus.

Five more protesters were arrested Saturday on the beach at the Air Force station. Later in the day, two more people were apprehended near the shuttle landing strip at the Kennedy Space Center. Nicholson said early Sunday that four more people were arrested.

Next Saturday's scheduled demonstration will culminate a 200-mile march that about 150 people began Dec. 28 in St. Marys, Ga., near the Kings Bay Submarine Base where Trident 2 submarines will be deployed.

About 20 protesters were arrested at Kings Bay Dec. 27.

Altamonte Man Jailed On Abduction Charge

By Susan Loden
Herald Staff Writer

A 26-year-old Altamonte Springs man who allegedly abducted and threatened his roommate's girlfriend at about 11:30 p.m. Saturday remained jailed early today in lieu of $1,000 bond on a false imprisonment charge.

James Papon, of 822 101 E. Altamonte Drive, was arrested by Altamonte Springs police at his home at 2:30 a.m. Sunday.

Papon is accused of abducting Christine Marie Perfetto, 19, of 652 Boniview Lane, Altamonte Springs,

Ms. Perfetto told Altamonte Springs police that she was in her car stopped at a traffic light at State Road 436 and State Road 434, when the suspect and the brother of her boyfriend drove up. The brother, Willie Grajles, asked her if she was going to her boyfriend's apartment, where the suspect also lives.

At that time, Papon got out of the car driven by Willie Grajles and forced his way into Ms. Perfetto's car, a police report said.

Papon allegedly forced her to drive to his apartment where he lives with her boyfriend, Angelo Grajles, at 822 101 E. Altamonte Drive.

Enroute, Papon allegedly threatened to kill her, pulled her hair, grabbed her by the neck and shook her. Ms. Perfetto said she almost lost control of the car once and she feared the suspect was going to kill her.

She told police she believes the reason for the attack is Papon believes she is using her boyfriend and wants to her to stop seeing him.

When they arrived at Papon's home he reportedly forced her inside and in front of her boyfriend began slapping and threatening her.

Angelo Grajles fought the suspect for the release of Ms. Perfetto and then tried to calm the suspect, but couldn't. Grajles locked the suspect out of their home and Ms. Perfetto reported the incident to police.

When police arrived at the men's apartment at about 2:30 a.m. Sunday the suspect allegedly said he didn't remember what had happened. He was arrested.

Grajles told police he didn't know how Ms. Perfetto got to his apartment, but he said he did see the suspect yelling and screaming at her, police reported.

POLICE

IN BRIEF

Pocketed Packet Of Cocaine, Shotgun Shells Lead To Arrest

Sanford police searched a man who was apparently drinking beer at Seminole High School in Sanford at about 12:20 a.m. Saturday.

Police said the man tried to hide a beer when they approached and police thought a bulge in one of the man's pockets looked like shotgun shells. He was searched and in addition to finding three shotgun shells police also reported finding a pocketed packet of cocaine and about $350.

Timotheus R. Tillman, 22, of 5 Cowan Moughton Terrace, Sanford, has been charged with possession of cocaine and was being held in lieu of $1,000 bond.

Bagging Couple Nabbed At Store

A Casselberry couple, who allegedly bagged a pair of woman's shoes and a purse at Kmart, 3101 Orlando Drive, Sanford, at about 6 p.m. Friday, was arrested after store security officers reported the apparent theft to police.

Charged with grand theft and released on $1,000 bond each were: Carlos Recardo Ramos, 22, and Luz Elania Vasquez, 22, both of 874 Jerrico Drive.

There Was Cocaine In The Home

Seminole County sheriff's deputies with a warrant searched a home at 862 Cynthianna Circle, Altamonte Springs, at about 12:30 a.m. Friday, and reported seizing a pound of cocaine and charging Lorenzo L. Jorin, 36, of that address, with trafficking in cocaine. He was being held without bond.

Lead From Informed Source

A confidential informant reportedly arranged a meeting between an undercover Altamonte Springs policeman and a man who was arrested for sale of cocaine after allegedly selling the lawman 2.5 grams of cocaine for $225.

The deal was reportedly made in the parking lot of La Casa Motor Inn, State Road 436, Altamonte Springs, at about 11:50 p.m. Friday. There Bruce Anthony Roberts, 32, of Orlando, was arrested. He was being held in lieu of $2,000 bond.

Suspect Charged In Burglaries

Seminole County sheriff's deputies reported charging a man who has no address in connection with burglaries to two Fern Park homes.

The home of Dorothy Weidman, of 2503 Dakota Trail, was burglarized Jan. 5 and more than $7,000 in jewelry and other items stolen. The following day the home of Cynthia Dosal, 2550 Talbot Road, was hit and $1,400 in jewelry and sports gear stolen.

Co-defendants arrested Wednesday and Thursday reportedly linked the suspect to the case. Jonathan Paul Lux, 19, was arrested at about 1 p.m. Friday. He was being held in lieu of $2,000 bond.

Man Jailed In Church Burglary

Sanford police reported that a man already charged in connection with the sale of two of four fans stolen in a Church of Christ burglary between Dec. 28 and Jan. 3 led to the arrest of a man suspected of stealing the $200 worth of fans along with about $1,300 worth of other items from the church.

The pair allegedly sold two fans for $15 to buy cocaine, the co-defendant, David McKnight, allegedly told police. McKnight was arrested earlier in the case.

Allen Silas, 29, of 1506 W. 16th St., Sanford, was charged with burglary and grand theft after questioning at the Sanford police station. He was being held in lieu of $1,000 bond.

Fake Prescription Brings Charge

Longwood police called to the Palm Springs Pharmacy, 101 Palm Springs Drive, Longwood, at about 11:30 a.m. Friday reported arresting a man who allegedly presented to the pharmacist a fake prescription for Percocet #60, a pain killer.

The Orlando doctor whose name was given as the person ordering the drug for a woman was contacted and he said he had not given any one a prescription for that drug. Longwood police reported.

Dan Frank Barnes, 29, of 391 E. Altamonte Drive, Altamonte Springs, was charged with fraud in obtaining drugs at the pharmacy at about 11:47 a.m. Friday. He has been released on $500 bond.

Driving Under Influence Arrests

The following persons have been arrested in Seminole County on a charge of driving under the influence:

—Gary Kevin McCrevey, 29, of 176 Pinecrest Drive, Sanford, was arrested at 12:17 a.m. Saturday after his car was clocked traveling 70 mph in a 45 mph zone on State Road 46, turned right onto U.S. Highway 17-92, Sanford, to continue south to cut in front of an ambulance at 12th Street, where he was stopped and arrested. He was also charged with reckless driving.

—Samuel Leonard Bringbridge, 26, of 2355 Smitey Ave., Winter Park, at 2 a.m. Saturday after his car failed to maintain a single lane on U.S. Highway 17-92, Casselberry.

Burglaries And Thefts Reported

Thomas J. Barnes, 48, of 720 E. Alpine St., Altamonte Springs, reported to sheriff's deputies the Thursday theft of his $300 video recorder, two speakers valued at $900 and jewelry.

About $1,000 worth of scaffolding was stolen along with other drywall materials and tools from a home at lot 27 Windwillow Circle #799, Winter Springs, Thursday. A sheriff's report said the items belong to Glenn W. Melvin, 42, of Casselberry.

A $290 grass trimmer and a $300 blower were reported to sheriff's deputies as stolen from Village on the Green, 500 Village Place, Longwood, Wednesday or Thursday.

Problems Follow Party In Woods

A Seminole County sheriff's deputy, who looked into a car parked near woods off County Road 427, the scene of a party involving about 25 youths at about 10:30 p.m. Friday, reported spotting a pipe used to smoke marijuana.

The person who said the car was his was arrested on a charge of possession of drug paraphernalia. Michael Dixon Davis, of 2413 Marshall Ave., Sanford, was charged and released on $500 bond.

Gilbert: Watching Movie 'Traumatic'

AVON PARK (UPI) — Convicted murderer Rowell Gilbert said today watching the TV movie depicting his fatal shooting of his ailing wife Emily was traumatic, but he is still convinced that killing her was the right thing to do.

"It was a traumatic experience to see this dramatized, certainly," Gilbert said in a brief appearance today on ABC's Good Morning America. "It brought back memories, of course.

"I knew why I did it when I did it. I have the same feeling now. If I hadn't done it she'd be suffering much more than I am in prison, and that's it. I stand with that."

Gilbert, 77, watched the NBC movie "Mercy or Murder" with 25 other convicts Sunday night at the Avon Park Correctional Institution, where he must serve a minimum of 25 years unless granted clemency. He said the movie was fair and accurate, and that Robert Young, who portrayed Gilbert, "did a beautiful job."

The tall, thin retired engineer has insisted all along he shot his wife twice in the head as an act of love, and that she had pleaded with him repeatedly to end her suffering. Emily Gilbert, 72, suffered from the bone disease osteoporosis from brain-degenerative Alzheimer's disease.

Gilbert said putting Emily in a nursing home would have been the equivalent of deserting her, because it would have prevented him from being with her constantly. "I think my only other option was to desert her and that I could not do after 81 years," Gilbert said.

"She was just headed for a living hell of suffering and degradation and a nursing home doesn't help that. The only other option I had was to desert her and try to forget it and I just couldn't do that."

Gilbert was convicted in March 1985 of first-degree murder and sentenced to life in prison with no chance of parole for 25 years. He said earlier he hoped the movie would arouse public support for clemency.

Before the made-for-television movie aired, Gilbert said, "I heard it was fairly sympathetic. I think it's probably the only thing I have going for me."

Gov. Bob Graham recommended clemency for Gilbert in August 1985, but could not get the three votes he needed from his six-member Cabinet to grant clemency. Florida swore in a new governor, Bob Martinez, and two new Cabinet members last week.

Gilbert's daughter, Martha Moran, is hoping the movie will change some minds.

"Assuming the movie is accurate in demonstrating my father's love for my mother, it can only help Daddy get a clemency hearing," Moran said from Baltimore. "If mother were here, she'd be upset about the invasion of privacy, but she'd be willing to have her problems aired if it would help Daddy get out of jail."

Martinez does not plan any action on the Gilbert case, his press spokesman, Doug Hoyt, said Sunday.

"He has no feeling about it one way or the other at this point. Unless there is some compelling reason, he intends to let it stay the way it is," Hoyt said.

Drug-Related Allegations Surface In Airline Probe

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Southern Air Transport Inc., already being probed for its links to the Iran arms-Contra aid scandal, is under further FBI investigation for allegedly ferrying drugs for a Colombian considered the world's biggest cocaine trafficker, Justice Department officials say.

A witness has told the FBI that containers of cocaine were loaded in 1985 onto a plane owned by the Miami-based company — once a CIA outfit — at an airstrip in Barranquilla, Colombia, according to two Justice Department officials and a congressional source.

The witness alleged that the shipment of cocaine was part of an operation run by Jorge Ochoa, whose extradition from Colombia was unsuccessfully sought by the United States last fall, the officials told United Press International.

The witness, who approached the FBI in July, said "a significant quantity" of cocaine was loaded on the plane during the described episode, according to the congressional source.

The department has granted the witness limited immunity from prosecution even though some investigators have serious doubts about the person's credibility, the officials said.

Presley Wins Posthumous Special Award Of Merit

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Elvis Presley has been named the 14th winner of the American Music Awards Special Award of Merit. It was announced today.

Special tribute will be paid to Presley, the first posthumous winner of the award, at the 14th annual America Music Awards to be televised on ABC Jan. 26 and hosted by singer Diana Ross, said spokesman Paul Shefrin.

The Award of Merit is presented to a member of the musical community in recognition of "outstanding contributions over a long period of time to the musical entertainment of the American public."

Presley, who would have been 52 earlier this month, died on Aug. 16, 1977 of heart failure that was brought on by his lengthy drug abuse.

NATION IN BRIEF

President Eases Back In White House Workload

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Reagan makes a slow but steady return to White House work this week, bouncing back from his latest round of medical problems to his latest round of political challenges.

With the Iran arms-contra aid scandal casting a shadow over his legislative agenda for the new year, Reagan will ease back into a regular work routine while continuing his recuperation from prostate surgery a week ago.

Advised by his doctors to avoid strenuous physical activity for six weeks, Reagan was expected to return to the Oval Office as early as today, spending a limited amount of time on paperwork and meetings with top aides.

Among those slated to meet with Reagan this week is David Abshire, the former U.S. ambassador to NATO who began work a week ago today as special counselor to the president on the scandal that has become his worst political crisis.

Roberts Requires Second Plea

TULSA, Okla. (UPI) — TV preacher Oral Roberts issued a second plea to followers to help "extend my life" by sending him money to fund a medical missionary scholarship program at Oral Roberts University.

A week after one television station said it had been assured the evangelist would make no more pleas tying contributions to his future health, Roberts again asked for money in a program taped last week in Tulsa and aired Sunday by stations across the country.

Roberts told viewers he expects to die in March unless he gets money for the scholarship program, promising contributors: "1987 will be a good year for you and not a bad one. You'll get your needs met in 1987 because you are in agreement with a man of God, Oral Roberts."

"Will you help me extend my life?" he asked.

WORLD IN BRIEF

U.N. Report Cites Financial Circles in Illegal Drug Trade

VIENNA (UPI) — Criminal organizations with international links and accomplices in financial circles are masterminding the production and trafficking of illegal drugs, a U.N. report said today.

In some regions, the drug trade is closely linked to weapons trafficking, guerrilla movements and terrorism, the U.N. International Narcotics Control Board said in its 1986 annual report.

The report said new challenges face international drug enforcement, such as the phenomenon of "designer drugs" — synthetic narcotics that can be altered so as not to be chemically illegal — and the emergence in the United States of "crack," pure cocaine in crystalline form.

The report did not mention specific "financial circles" that cooperate in drug trafficking. But it did refer to the criminal laundering of money, particularly in the Caribbean and Central America — an implication that banks are involved, an agency source said.

Prince Edward Quits Marines

LONDON (UPI) — Prince Edward, Queen Elizabeth's youngest son and fifth in line to the throne, defied family tradition and an angry father and resigned today from the Royal Marines.

"After much consideration, his Royal Highness Prince Edward has decided to resign from the Royal Marines," Buckingham Palace said. "An announcement about his future plans is not expected for some time."

"Prince Edward is leaving the Marines with great regret but has concluded that he does not wish to make the service his long-term career," the palace said.

Edward, 22, served four months of a one-year rigorous officers' training course to earn the green beret of the elite Royal Marines — the toughest military unit in Britain.

Following a weekend summit with the royal family to discuss his concerns, Edward turned in his formal resignation and his uniform to his commanding officer at his marine base at Lymington, in southwestern England.

Life Extension Authors Confirm Results

Durk Pearson and Sandy Shaw, graduates of MIT and UCLA respectively, introduced these miracle substances to the public in their runaway best selling book, Life Extension. Much to her amazement, while taking L-arginine for its healing effects on a broken foot, Sandy lost 25 pounds of fat and put on 5 pounds of firm-toned muscle in six weeks. According to Durk's calculations, the pill caused Sandy to lose 400 times as much fat as she would otherwise have lost — without dieting!

The System's Dream Pill combines two natural substances called L-arginine and L-ornithine which can stimulate the body's production of growth hormone. Diet researchers believe that growth hormone may be what's responsible for allowing teenagers to down thousands of calories in hamburgers and other foods and still be thin as a rail.

Growth Hormone is present in people up through the teenage years, then slowly diminishes with age. But L-arginine and L-ornithine make the body 'think' it belongs to a teenager again, allowing adults to eat as much as they want — and still be thin and wiry.

The Sugar Doctrine

The U.S. Department of Agriculture recently announced a 41 percent cut in the amount of sugar that can be imported next year from such economically ailing U.S. allies as the Dominican Republic and the Philippines.

Such import cutbacks run directly counter to the nation's efforts to stimulate the economies and promote democratic forces within the sugar-producing countries of the Caribbean, Central America and the Pacific.

Why do it then?

Because under the nation's farm law, the administration has no choice.

Congress' support program for U.S. sugar growers guarantees domestic producers a price of 18 cents a pound for their crop.

With the world price of sugar at 5 cents a pound, taxpayers would have to buy the entire U.S. crop if domestic prices were allowed to fall to market levels.

So Congress mandates that the USDA annually set a quota on sugar imports to keep U.S. market prices above the support level.

Taxpayers thus pay no direct subsidy, as they do for wheat and corn, but all consumers get gouged on sugar prices in the grocery store.

And overseas producers must pay, too.

As the high domestic price of sugar drives big users such as soft-drink bottlers to cheaper corn sweetener, USDA must each year squeeze down the amount of sugar imported into a dwindling market.

Next year's sugar quota on imports will be the lowest in nearly a century.

And the USDA estimates that, in two years, the United States, for the first time in its history, will import no sugar.

That is a disaster for struggling sugar-producing nations.

In the Caribbean nations, which have lost more than half of their traditional U.S. market in the last three years, unemployment and unrest are already spreading.

In the Philippines, the second-largest U.S. supplier of sugar, the loss of a large share of the American market undermines U.S. efforts to assist the Aquino government to stabilize the economy and fight off Communist insurgency.

This sugar doctrine, which holds U.S. national security hostage to a handful of U.S. sugar producers, makes no sense.

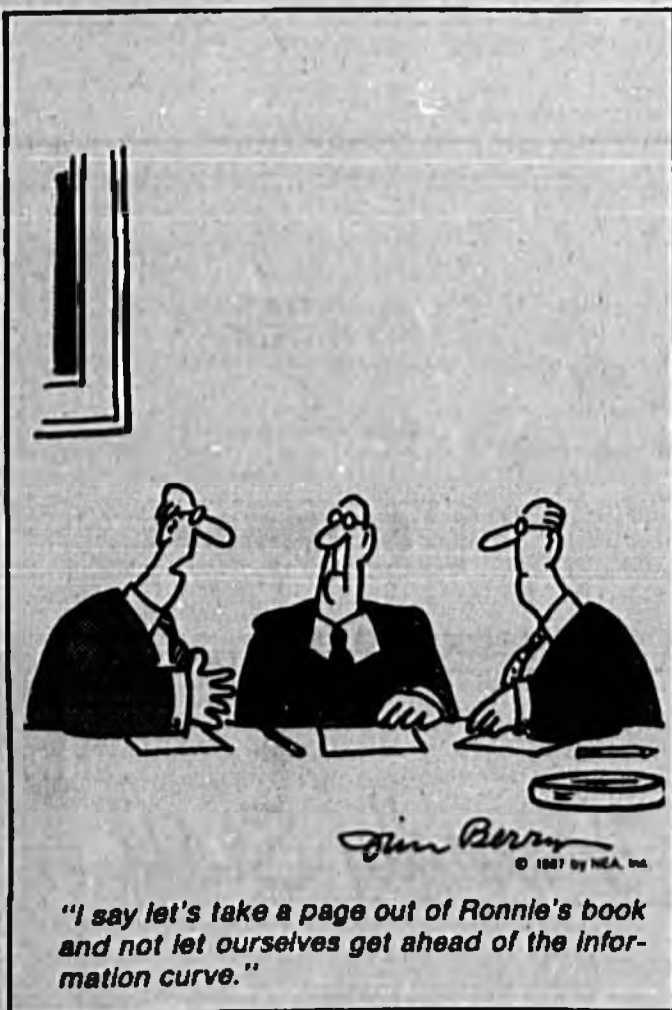

The administration is planning to introduce legislation next month to phase out domestic price supports on sugar and thereby reopen the U.S. market to our struggling Third World allies and relieve consumers from high sugar prices.

The sooner Congress acts on it, the less the risk of unnecessary crises in areas of the world vital to our interests.

Go Ahead And Take My Fifth ... Please

WASHINGTON (UPI) — It would be altogether fitting if at some point during this bicentennial year of the Constitution one or more witnesses relied on that document to protect them against double jeopardy.

Thus far, congressional investigators have had trouble finding officials willing to talk about Iranian arms sales and diversion of profits to the Nicaraguan Contras.

Perhaps they are calling the wrong witnesses. Or maybe insisting on questioning administration officials, past and present, about Iranian arms sales and diversion of cash to Contras.

Perhaps the House and Senate inquiries also should subpoena witnesses who will discuss anything at the drop of a hat, and occasionally even drop the hat themselves.

It is, alas, too late to call the late Hubert Humphrey, who as a Minnesota senator and presidential candidate would cheerfully talk until everyone else dropped.

But there are plenty of other heavy-duty talkers available, including Dr. Ruth Westheimer.

It is true Dr. Ruth usually is billed as an expert on sex, which apparently causes few problems in Iran and Nicaragua. At least not on the scale of arms sales and Swiss bank accounts. But Dr. Ruth, fortunately, seems willing to bend your ear on almost any subject.

Call her as a congressional witness and I feel sure she would not invoke constitutional protection against self-incrimination. Indeed, a committee might have trouble getting her to shut up.

And if she didn't know anything about the matter at hand, perhaps a committee might turn to personalities in the sports broadcasting field.

It is, of course, too late to rely on Howard Cosell, who gained national fame shooting his mouth off on ABC's Monday night football. But what of Joe Theismann?

At last report, the former Washington Redskins quarterback was still active on the airwaves, particularly where a live tongue is concerned.

If not Theismann, how about a television "talk show" emcee like Joan Rivers? I feel safe in predicting she would — pardon the expression — "spill her guts" before a congressional committee.

With so many — pardon the expression — "live" personalities around, it would be a pity if a committee had to rely, as so many newspapers have done, on leaks from "informed sources" for information.

Not even a revival of that old Watergate tattler "Deep Throat" would be acceptable to the Reagan White House.

I began covering congressional investigations back in the heyday of the Senate Rackets Committee when television was in its infancy. In those days, before "instant replays," correspondents had to report the number of times witnesses "took the fifth," so to speak.

I trust you won't think me unduly immodest if I say that at one point I was one of the best Fifth Amendment counters in the business.

But that also was in the years before the Constitution was 200 years old. It's bad enough that the 100th Congress convened this week.

Young Doctors In Debt

By Larry Doyle
UPI Science Writer

CHICAGO (UPI) — Young doctors who imagine themselves out on the golf course every Wednesday or lounging on their yachts are looking into a nostalgic past, and certainly not into their own future.

Instead, today's medical graduates face careers steeped in competition and malpractice insurance, and the very real possibility that their chosen specialties will become obsolete before they can master them.

That may not sound like much of a recruitment speech, but it's the one the American Medical Association has prepared for potential members. A new AMA report, "Health Care in Transition: consequences for young physicians," makes it clear the days when an M.D. guaranteed financial success are over.

Many physicians feel this message has been a long time coming.

"The current career advising system for young physicians really needs an overhaul and some reality testing," says Dr. David Nash, a Philadelphia internist and deputy editor of the Annals of Internal Medicine. "Medical students don't have a realistic view of the major changes that have taken place in the practice of medicine."

Rather, Nash says, medical students prefer to look at the way things were, which wasn't too bad at all.

"Historically, a physician had many different but clearly marked paths of success," Nash wrote in a recent AMA journal. "For diligent workers, medical practice was unique among professions for its near guarantee of success."

Note the use of past tense. "I'm confident in saying it's over," Nash says. "The so-called cottage industry of medicine is dead."

Now, Nash says, new doctors face a surplus in many specialties, prohibitive malpractice insurance costs, new technologies threatening jobs and whole specialties; and federal cost-cutting measures depleting resources typically used to train new physicians.

These changes and others will have a sweeping effect on the medical profession. Among the AMA's predictions:

—Education costs to medical students will continue to skyrocket, as teaching hospitals receive less federal support and are pressured to reduce the physician population. The average medical student debt is already more than $26,000.

WASHINGTON — President Reagan appears to have weathered the Iran storm, so far, without losing the trust and confidence of the majority of informed Americans.

This is the verdict of the Peoples Poll, conducted under the supervision of the Washington pollster, Dr. Vincent J. Breglio of Research/Strategy/Management Inc. Next question: Has the media been fair to President Reagan? We'll explain later in this report how you can participate.

We established the Peoples Poll to give Americans the opportunity to register their opinions on national issues. Other polls constantly tell us what we think and how we feel, based on the tiniest of samplings. Our purpose is to give people a chance to participate directly in

ROBERT WAGMAN

Khashoggi Loan Eyed

WASHINGTON (NEA) — As Saudi "billionaire" Adnan Khashoggi's financial woes mount, congressional investigators are preparing an inquiry into the relationship between the Reagan administration and the Iran figure.

Why, they want to know, did the Energy Department give a U.S.-based Khashoggi company a big loan guarantee in 1985 under a program Ronald Reagan had called one of the worst ever started by Jimmy Carter? Why was it done under a program that had been dormant since Reagan became president in 1981?

Was it only coincidental, investigators ask, that formal approval of the federal loan guarantee in September 1985 came only a few days after Iran received a U.S. arms shipment that Khashoggi says he arranged and paid for?

Says one congressional investigator, "We want to know why this guarantee was suddenly issued. It is hard to believe the Energy Department would make a grant from a program so out of favor with the White House without first clearing it. If so, at what level was this clearance given and why?"

"Remember, September 1985 is well before anyone in the decision-making loop at the White House says he knew about U.S. arms going to Iran. This whole thing could end up being crucial to the who-knew-what-when question."

First, here is some background on the loan program itself:

The Energy Department's Alternative Fuels Program was created during the Carter years in response to the energy crisis. Loan guarantees to private industry were a key component of the program.

But the energy crisis abated, and private industry lost interest in alternative fuels. Moreover, Ronald Reagan had singled the program out for criticism as unnecessary government involvement in the private sector.

As a result, since 1981, no guarantees had been made under the program — until Sept. 27, 1985. That's when the Energy Department announced approval of a $78.9 million loan guarantee to Agrifuels Refining Corp. — partly owned by Khashoggi — for completing a plant to convert molasses to ethanol.

This raised a few eyebrows in the energy industry, but received little wider notice.

However, recent events point up an interesting coincidence in timing.

Khashoggi had said that he arranged and paid for four separate shipments of U.S. arms to Iran. The second of the shipments, 500 TOW anti-tank missiles, reached Iran on about September 15, 1985.

Less than two weeks later the loan guarantee was announced.

Actually, Agrifuels had applied for the loan guarantee in 1980 — at least three years before Khashoggi acquired his interest in the firm.

So far, the Energy Department has been unable, or unwilling, to explain why, suddenly, a five-year-old loan application was granted from a program that was all but dormant. They do say that at the time of the approval they were unaware Khashoggi owned any of the company.

They say they knew Khashoggi's brother, Essam, had become a stockholder in Agrifuels in 1983, but did not learn of Adnan Khashoggi's involvement until recently.

Interestingly, Agrifuels figures, at least indirectly, into some of Khashoggi's other new woes of the past few days.

The Man From Wyoming

WASHINGTON — Observers of our country who believe Americans have had wealth handed to them are looking at a minority. Certainly, some Americans have received government largesse in recent decades, and some have profited from an era in which financial deals had priority over production. However, the majority in our country still labor hard. The generation that grew up in the Depression years knows the full measure of struggle and sacrifice in building a solid foundation for their families, community, and nation.

I was reminded of this in reading John David Scott's Wyoming Wildcat, the biography of oilman and rancher H.A. "Dave" True. Scott tells the story of a Depression-era American who, without aid, built a fortune and an important place in his region and industry, and who acquired in the process the respect and admiration of everyone he met.

Dave True was born in Wyoming in 1915. His family was of modest means, and could trace its roots in America back to 1835, to Salem, Mass. His childhood and young manhood were filled with adversity and struggle. In 1927, the True family moved to Florida. Dave's father, a civil engineer, opened an ice cream parlor on Miami Beach. A hurricane swept it away, and the family returned to the West. For many Westerners, hard times began well before the Crash.

By 1935, Dave True was a student at Montana State University. For room and board at a fraternity house, he fired the coal furnace, unloaded boxcars of coal in weather 30 degrees below zero, and peeled and mashed 100 pounds of potatoes each day for the fraternity brothers.

In 1937, Dave joined the Texas Company and worked on an oil well site close to the Canadian border. Near the well that was being drilled, he took his bride Jean to their new home: a coal shed and chicken coop pulled together. A cook stove in the kitchen provided the only heat. Snow drifted in under the front door. There was no indoor plumbing. The closest town was 45 miles away.

Today, the True family owns many businesses and vast acreages in Wyoming. Dave True has served on or headed numerous industry, regional and national boards and commissions. He is one of the best known and most respected independent oil men in the country.

Dave True built a remarkable career and family empire the old-fashioned way: he earned it. Moreover, he earned respect. He used no flashy public relations aids.

Karlis' Kick Ensures Pasadena Trip

CLEVELAND (UPI) — The only barefoot player on the Denver Broncos booted the Cleveland Browns out of the playoffs.

Rich Karlis kicked a 33-yard field goal, which teased 79,915 fans by curling just inside the left goalpost at 5:48 of overtime, to give Denver its first AFC Championship since 1978 with a 23-20 victory Sunday over the Browns.

"After (quarterback) John Elway put together that 98-yard drive to tie the game 20-20, all of us felt the confidence he obviously did," Denver's barefooted kicker said. "It slapped us in the face like being tackled into that frozen turf. Although I personally would have preferred my own efforts to have been less dramatic, I'm glad I contributed."

The Broncos will face the New York Giants Jan. 25 in the Super Bowl in Pasadena, Calif. The Giants won the NFC title with a 17-0 drubbing of the Washington Redskins.

"I watched Karlis put that ball through the uprights and thought, 'What do I do now?' I didn't want to leave the field," Cleveland linebacker Clay Matthews said.

The Browns, though, left the field — stunned by Karlis' third field goal of the game, which capped the Broncos' stellar comeback.

"It sounds like a Hollywood script you wrote and it came out the way you wanted it, too," Denver Coach Dan Reeves said. "You think about what it means to be a player and a coach, and your heart stops as the kick goes through the uprights and it's an unbelievable feeling."

"It's my first time to Super Bowl (as a head coach after five previous trips as an assistant with Dallas) and it's wonderful. When you have players like John Elway and Rich Karlis and all the others, being down by a touchdown isn't an insurmountable thing."

Football

After a 48-yard touchdown pass from Bernie Kosar to Brian Brennan had put the Browns ahead 20-13 with 5:43 left in regulation, Mark Moseley's ensuing kickoff buried the Broncos at their own 2-yard line with 5:32 remaining.

"We felt solid about our position," Kosar said. "We believe in ourselves, and that's one of the things that got us this far this season."

"The Broncos deserve credit for mixing up their coverages well and they pressured us. Education can be painful, but we've learned and we'll be back. Elway, in particular, has learned from his experience and it showed."

Elway directed a 15-play drive that ended with 37 seconds remaining, when he hit Mark Jackson with a 5-yard scoring pass. During the series, Elway converted a third-and-18 by passing to Jackson for 20 yards.

"We came out clawing and scratching when our backs were to the wall," said Elway, a four-year veteran from Stanford, who arguably shed the reputation he flops in key games. "After that, we knew we could depend on Rich Karlis if we could move the ball."

After Cleveland could not capitalize on the opening possession of overtime, Elway started from his 25 and moved Denver 60 yards to the Cleveland 15. Karlis then came on for the game-winner.

Cleveland failed in its quest to make the Super Bowl for the first time. No team that started its season with a loss — as the Browns did at Chicago — has ever reached the NFL's ultimate game.

"I am obviously very disappointed," Browns Coach Marty Schottenheimer said. "but my hat's off to Denver. Elway's a great player who make those plays that win championships. Give him credit."

The teams forged a 10-10 halftime tie. Cleveland received a 6-yard scoring toss from Kosar to running back Herman Fontenot and a field goal of 29 yards by Moseley with 20 seconds left in the second period.

Denver countered with a 1-yard scoring run on fourth down by Gerald Willhite — set up by Kevin Mack's fumble at the Cleveland 37 — and a 19-yard Karlis field goal.

The teams traded field goals — Karlis from 28 yards and Moseley from 24 — to leave the score tied 13-13 and set up the final dramatics.

Elway completed 22 of 38 passes for 244 yards and scrambled four times for 56 yards, including an 11-yard rumble in Denver's 98-yard drive. Sammy Winder had 26 carries for 83 yards and Watson caught three passes for 55 yards.

'St. Pete Connection' Punches Out Valencia

Hall, Jackson Offset Matadors' Size As Raiders Grab 19th Victory, 87-76

By Mark Blythe
Herald Sports Writer

Vance Hall and Claude Jackson had some pretty heated battles while playing for rival high schools as preps. Hall was the mainstay for Seminole Osceola while Jackson was one of the key ingredients for St. Petersburg Dixie Hollins' run at the state title two years ago.

Hall and Jackson were teammates in middle school before going their separate ways for high school. They are back together again as junior college performers and Seminole Community College coach Bill Payne would have it no other way.

Payne's "St. Pete Connection" combined forces again Saturday night to pace the Raiders to an 87-76 victory over rival Valencia Community College in Mid-Florida Conference basketball before 351 fans at the SCC Health Center.

The Raiders, 19-2 overall and 3-1 in the MFC, travel to Ocala for another key conference matchup with Central Florida Community College Wednesday. Valencia fell to 7-7 and 1-3. They trail Daytona Beach and Central Florida, both 4-0, in the MFC race.

The tandem of Hall and Jackson was key for SCC as VCC brought in a large lineup. "They're really a big team," Payne said. "You don't realize just how big they are until you're up close to them."

Hall, a 6-8 center, finished with 14 points and three rebounds while playing on an injured ankle. Jackson, 6-7 forward, tallied 12 points and a team high eight rebounds.

The two have formed a strong inside game for the Raiders with additional help 6-7 freshman Barry Dunning and 6-6 Rob Williams.

Hall was listed as one of the top 25 players in the nation before the season and hopes to play up to that billing as his ankle progresses. "It doesn't hurt when I jump. It is when I come down," Hall said. "I'm trying not to think about it and just go play."

Jackson, who tossed eight of his points in the first half, did a fine job on the offensive backboards for SCC. "They (Valencia) were collapsing all night," Jackson said. "I couldn't get off the shots I wanted so I went to the boards."

Malcolm Houston, who leads the state in three-point goals, hit six on the night to lead the Raiders in the scoring with 22 points. Houston's scoring countered the Matadors Maurice Cowan game high 23 points. Cowan, a 6-4 guard kept the game close before SCC broke away midway through the second half.

Valencia made a run at SCC, closing within five points with 20 seconds left in the first half. Hall, however, dunked and drew a foul which he converted with 17 seconds left. Sanford's Kenny Gordon then came up with a steal and layup to push the Raiders' halftime lead to 37-28.

Seminole also received fine performances from reserve forward Holly Keller and center Barry Dunning. Keller came in after James Morris banged his head on the backboard as he was nailed by Isaiah White on a breakaway. He finished with eight points while grabbing five boards and blocking two shots.

Payne said he hopes to have third guard Efreem Brooks back for Wednesday's game. Brooks is currently academically ineligible as he waits for an English grade to be determined.

"We hope to have Efreem Brooks back for that game," Payne said. "He helps a lot at filling in at the guard position."

NBA Pitch

With the whirl of construction equipment operating in the background, Orlando Magic President Pat Williams officially opened ground-breaking ceremonies for a 15,034-seat arena last Thursday. The arena site, just south of Lake Dot which borders Colonial Drive, is expected to be completed in September. Today, Williams goes to New York to make his pitch to the National Basketball Association club owners. Miami, Minneapolis and Charlotte will also be in New York today hoping to secure a franchise. Giant Step: New York Smears 'Skins

Football

EAST RUTHERFORD, N.J. (UPI) — Move over Sam Huff, Y.A. Tittle, Charlie Conerly and Frank Gifford. It's time to make room for Lawrence Taylor, Harry Carson, Phil Simms and Joe Morris.

The New York Giants, once the NFL's proudest franchise, will play in their first Super Bowl after a 23-year span of mostly lousy football.

The Giants' 17-0 victory over the Washington Redskins Sunday in the NFC Championship sends them to Super Bowl XXI Jan. 25 in Pasadena, Calif., against the Denver Broncos. The Giants' last NFL championship came in 1956 when Huff was a rookie. Their last title game was a loss to Chicago in 1963, two years after Tittle had joined the team.

The Giants Sunday won their 11th straight game and will take a 16-2 record into the Super Bowl. The Giants also erased memories of the losing years that had soiled the franchise's reputation from 1964-80.

"As Giant football players, we have to live with the past because everybody reminds us of it constantly," Simms said. "I like to talk about now instead of the past."

Simms completed an 11-yard touchdown pass to Lionel Manuel. Morris scored from the 1. Raul Allegre kicked a 47-yard field goal and the Giants posted their first shutout of the season. All the scoring came in the first half, including 10 points when New York had the strong wind at its back.

The Giants won the coin toss and kicked off to start the game. With the 17-mph wind, which gusts to 25 mph and occasionally blew over 30 mph, they dominated the first quarter and the Redskins never got back in the game in losing to the Giants for the third time this season.

"A lot of tough things happened upon us, right from the loss of the coin," said Redskins Coach Joe Gibbs, who added he would also have kicked off if he won the toss. "The Giants had a great year; there's no question they're a great defensive team. All three times we played them, we got behind and got behind quick."

The magnitude of the victory left some of the older Giants numb.

"Maybe I'll feel it tomorrow," said linebacker Carson, an 11-year veteran. "I'm still kind of cool right now. We've got one more to play right now."

"It really seems too good to be true," said defensive end George Martin, the senior Giant with 12 years of experience. "I think it will take a couple of days to sink in. It's very gratifying after having been around all these years."

The Giants had topped San Francisco 49-3 last week, giving them a 66-3 edge over playoff opponents. They held Washington to 190 total yards and knocked quarterback Jay Schroeder woozy with a concussion at the end. Schroeder set an NFC Championship Game record with 50 passes, completing 20 for 195 yards. He was intercepted once and sacked four times.

"I think it was more difficult to throw with the wind actually," Schroeder said. "The ball got up in the air and took off. We lost the game in the first quarter. We got behind and couldn't make the plays."

Hillery Shows Way For Lady Hats

The graduation of Dallas Boychuk left some big shoes to fill, but Sanford's Deldre Hillery has more than taken up the slack for Stetson University's Lady Hatters.

Hillery, a 1984 graduate of Seminole High School, is a major reason why the Lady Hatters are off to one of their best starts ever. Hillery, a 6-2 junior center, is Stetson's leader in four categories and ranks among the leaders in the New South Women's Conference in five categories.

Going into this week's action, the Lady Hatters have a 10-3 overall record and are 0-1 in the conference.

After 10 games this season, Hillery ranks fifth in the New South Women's Conference in scoring with 168 points for a 16.8 average. She also ranks third in rebounding (10.1 average), fourth in field goal percentage (.571), third in free throw percentage (.761) and tied for second in blocked shots (2.0).

Against DePaul on Jan. 2, Hillery had her best game in a Lady Hatter uniform with a career-high 29 points and 16 rebounds.

conference champion Florida A&M tonight at FAMU. The Lady Hats host Georgia State Saturday. The first meeting between Stetson and the University of Central Florida is scheduled for Jan. 31 at UCF.

UCF has a number of statistical leaders but the Lady Knights have had some pretty bad luck on the court. UCF now stands at 2-8 overall and 0-1 in the NSWC.

UCF guard DeAnn Craft leads the conference in scoring with a 22.9 average and she also leads in free throw percentage with an impressive .913 (42 for 46). Teammate Julie Cardinale leads in assists with a 7.7 average. Fayette Robinson, an Oviedo High graduate, ranks third in scoring with a 19.1 average and sixth in rebounding at 9.3 per game.

Sherry "Ice" Asplen, a Lake

Brantley High graduate and UCF freshman, has seen limited action this season due to foot and back injuries. Asplen is expected to return to the team within the next two weeks.

Mercer University's Teddy Bears, 1-6 in the early going, also sport a pair of former Lake Mary High standouts in sophomore guard Kim Averill and sophomore forward Andrea Fenning. Mercer is scheduled to play UCF at Orlando and Stetson at DeLand on consecutive nights, Feb. 13 and 14.

Kim Lubenow, a 1985 graduate of Lake Brantley High, is now playing at a guard spot at Wingate (N.C.) College. As a freshman, Lubenow was part of the Wingate team that compiled a 30-6 record and reached the quarterfinals of the NAIA tournament.

Lubenow recently returned from one of the best experiences of her college career. The Wingate women's team competed in the World Invitational Club Basketball Tournament in London. The team arrived in London on Dec. 27 and returned Jan. 5.

For the first time in their basketball careers, Laura and Peggy Glass, the 6-2 "Glass Towers" out of Lake Mary High, are not playing together on the basketball court.

Both are juniors at the University of South Carolina and Peggy is one of the top forwards off the bench. Laura was expected to be a starter this season but has been redshirted for medical reasons.

In a game against Marshall on Jan. 7, Peggy played 17 minutes for the Lady Gamecocks and pulled down a team-leading eight rebounds in a 66-57 South Carolina victory. It was her first start of the year.

Seminole High's Lady Seminoles will look for their first Seminole Athletic Conference victory tonight as they host Lyman's Lady Greyhounds (junior varsity 6 p.m., varsity 7:45).

The Lady Tribe goes in with a 4-7 record overall and 0-1 in the SAC while Lyman is 1-8 overall and 1-1 in the conference.

Seminole has the county's leading scorer in sophomore Adrian Hillsman who averages 22.2 points per game. Sophomore forward Liz Long, junior guard LaShon Cash and freshman center Sherry Reddick have all come on strong the past

These Giants Are Quiet Aggressors

EAST RUTHERFORD, N.J. (UPI) — They refuse comparisons to last year's champion Chicago Bears and cringe at reminders of their own past.

This version of the New York Giants has forged its own image — quiet aggressors.

Following Sunday's 17-0 victory over the Washington Redskins in the NFC title game, the mood of the Giants' locker room was closer to somber than jubilant. The players say no celebrations will take place without a Super Bowl championship. They will receive that opportunity Jan. 25 against the Denver Broncos.

"This is something we have expected all along, to get to the Super Bowl," Giants safety Kenny Hill said. "And in two weeks at this time, when we are world champions, you will see the biggest celebration ever."

The Giants had to overcome their past as well as their opponents this season. This Giants team had to fight for affection from those who cherish the Y.A. Tittle, Sam Huff, Frank Gifford teams of the late 1950s and early '60s. And this Giants team had to battle the memories of nearly two decades of ineptitude that had started in the late 1960s.

"Three years ago, we didn't have this kind of team," said inside linebacker Harry Carson, who has the second most seniority with the Giants. "We have a better offense and a better defense. Most importantly, we have confidence in each other."

That confidence has translated into a team record-tying, 11-game winning streak. A team that lacked the ability to win crucial games in the past became a unit that found ways to win tight games and trounce postseason opponents. The Giants have outscored their two playoff foes 66-3.

"If we play the way we have the past two weeks, I think we'll get a victory in Pasadena, (Calif., site of the Super Bowl)," Giants linebacker Gary Reasons said. "There was a lot of enthusiasm when we first came in (to the locker room). But the journey is Incomplete. We have one more game.

"Don't get me wrong. I'm as happy as can be, but there is still one more to go."

'SKINS: WINDY DEFENSE

EAST RUTHERFORD, N.J. (UPI) — The New York Giants defense collaborated with a whipping wind to deny the Washington Redskins their third Super Bowl berth in the last five years.

The Giants defeated Washington for the third time this season and advanced to Super Bowl XXI with a 17-0 victory Sunday in a game played in wind gusts up to 30 mph.

New York, which recorded the third straight shutout in the NFC Championship Game, will play the AFC-champion Denver Broncos in the Super Bowl Jan. 25 in Pasadena, Calif. The Broncos earned the berth with a 23-20 overtime victory Sunday over the Cleveland Browns.

"Everything that could go wrong did go wrong for us and that doesn't happen too much," said Gary Clark, Washington's All-Pro wide receiver, who dropped two first-quarter long passes and was shut out during the game.

The Giants had defeated the Redskins 27-20 in Week 8 and 24-14 in Week 13. The Redskins have lost four straight to New York at Giants Stadium dating back to 1983 and have been outscored 98-36 in those games.

"We did not get a play all day to get us going," said Washington Coach Joe Gibbs, whose wild-card playoff entry ended the season 14-5. "Other than the three games with the Giants this year, we played with the upper echelon of the league."

"I guess we lick our wounds and turn it on again in six months," safety Curtis Jordan said. "I think we got a lot further than people expected."

The Redskins suffered their first shutout since a 14-0 loss to the Seattle Seahawks Sept. 28, 1980.

Smiling Elway Shows The Way For Broncos

Football

CLEVELAND (UPI) — Denver Broncos trailed by seven with 5:32 remaining in regulation Sunday when quarterback John Elway gave the offensive unit a pep talk and a smile.

Elway went on to complete six of eight passes in a 98-yard drive that ended in a 5-yard touchdown pass to Mark Jackson with 32 seconds remaining in regulation. Denver then won the AFC Championship Game 23-20 on Rich Karlis' 33-yard field goal 5:48 into overtime to advance to Super Bowl XXI against the New York Giants.

"John said, 'If you guys work hard, good things are going to happen.' Then he gave us a smile," wide receiver Steve Watson said. "I've never seen him like that."

Jackson, asked the difference between a Broncos offense that struggled most of the game and an offense that seemed unstoppable its last two drives, said, "John Elway, like always."

"No matter what the score is, as long as you have John in there, you have a chance," Denver guard Mark Coopers said.

While the Browns faithful among the 79,915 fans seemed to be counting their AFC Championship blessings, Elway trotted to the closed end of Cleveland Stadium, 98 yards from tying the score.

"We didn't worry about the situation," Elway said. "We knew there was still time on the clock."

After the drive, which included Elway scrambles for 11 and 9 yards as well as a sack, Cleveland won the coin toss to get the first chance in overtime.

"We had the momentum going into the overtime," Elway said. "We thought we were going to get at least one shot before the game was over." Denver's defense stopped

Cleveland and the Broncos started their first and only overtime drive at their 25-yard line. Elway completed two of three passes to set up the winning field goal.

The biggest pass came on a third-and-12 play from the 50. Cleveland's defense forced Elway out of the pocket, but put him in the open field.

"I came out looking to run," Elway said. "I saw everyone react to me, and I saw (defensive back Hanford) Dixon react up to me. I knew I could get it over top of him."

Watson caught the pass for a 28-yard gain to the Cleveland 22. Following three running plays, Karlis kicked the field goal.

Elway, who's going to the Pro Bowl, finished with 22 completions in 38 attempts for 244 yards. He will make his first trip to the Super Bowl, to be played Jan. 25 at the Rose Bowl in Pasadena, Calif.

MATTHEWS: NEXT YEAR

CLEVELAND (UPI) — The Cleveland Browns plan to renew their love affair with the Super Bowl next season.

"The fans expected a winner and that's fair enough," Cleveland linebacker Clay Matthews said after the Denver Broncos defeated the Browns 23-20 in overtime Sunday to win the AFC Championship and advance to Super Bowl XXI. "We should have brought them one."

"Becoming involved in the race for the Super Bowl is like falling in love. You become so involved, you don't think about the possibility of failure. I guess we broke up with the Super Bowl today."

Herald Writers Break Even

The Herald's three-man prediction team broke even for the NFL Playoffs. Sports Editor Sam Cook correctly picked the Broncos' upset of the Browns but missed the Giants' victory over the Redskins. Cook is 3-5 for the playoffs. Sports Writer "Fearless" Chris Fister and Parimutuels Writer Mike Andrew picked the Giants' triumph but missed the Broncos-Redskins game. Both are 5-3 for the playoffs.

Lady Seminoles, Mary Warm Up For Tonight's Meeting With Victories

By Chris Flister
Herald Sports Writer

The temperature tonight is expected to dip into the 30s, but Seminoles and Lake Mary's girls soccer team hope their victories on Saturday will keep them warm going into tonight's Seminole Athletic Conference matchup. Kickoff at Seminole High is 7 p.m.

Seminole assaulted Trinity's goal with 37 shots while Trinity managed just two. Seminole goalkeeper Kim Walsh made both saves in recording her second consecutive shutout.

For Lake Mary, Donna Rohr pumped in three goals to run her season total to 12 as the Lady Rams demolished Winter Park.

Lesli Hobek also scored for the Lady Rams while Kristen Jones and Arslat Lazar contributed one assist apiece. Goalkeeper Tammy Scott made five saves while Winter Park keeper Kathy Rizza made 13.

After escaping with a 2-1 win over Orlando Boone on Saturday, Lake Mary's Rams look to keep their Seminole Athletic Conference hopes alive tonight as they host Seminole High (junior varsity 6, varsity 8). Oscar Merthle had one of the best games of his career for the Lake Mary Rams Saturday night but it was not enough as Fort Pierce Central handed the Rams a 68-65 setback Saturday night at Fort Pierce.

Lake Mary, 2-8, has stands at 2-8 and will travel to Spruce Creek for another tough road battle Wednesday. Fort Pierce Central upped its record to 7-4 on the year.

Merthle scored a game high 23 points and pulled down 12 rebounds but the Rams could not pull together down the stretch in the closely-played contest.

Central built up a 36-31 halftime lead.

Merthle and Eric Czerniejewski, who finished with 15 points, brought Lake Mary back in the second half. Terry "The Cat" Miller, the Rams' stellar point guard, was limited to just four points due to early foul trouble.

Duane Walker led Fort Pierce with 20 points. Lamar Hadden had 12 points and Ellis Farrel added 10 points.

Jayhawks' 50-Second Flurry Stuns Oklahoma State

United Press International
No. 18 Kansas scored 6 points in the final 50 seconds to overcome a sloppy performance and defeat Big Eight rival Oklahoma State.

Consecutive baskets by Mark Turgeon and Cedric Hunter put the Jayhawks ahead with 50 seconds remaining and Keith Harris hit 2 fouling shots with six seconds left Sunday, giving the Jayhawks a 66-63 victory over the Cowboys.

"The kids were a little down but I told them that this was a great win," Kansas Coach Larry Brown said. "We came from behind and had a lot of positive things happen late in the game. We committed a lot of turnovers and missed some free throws but, for our young players, this was a good win."

The Cowboys had a chance to tie after Harris' free throws, but were unable to get to ball to Todd Christian, their leading scorer with 24 points. A 3-point attempt by Jay Davis at the buzzer bounced off the rim.

The victory boosted Kansas to 9-4 overall and 2-0 in the conference, while the Cowboys fell to 4-10 and 0-1.

All-America center Danny Manning, who had been averaging 22.5 points and 9.2 rebounds a game for Kansas, was held to 8 points and 5 rebounds for Kansas. Freshman Kevin Pritchard led the Jayhawks with 18 points, and Hunter added 16 points and 7 assists.

In another game Sunday, UCLA defeated Arizona 84-83 in a Pacific 10 game.

In Tucson, Ariz., Craig Jackson sank a 15-foot jumper with one second remaining to lift UCLA. Jackson's shot capped UCLA's rally from its 14-point deficit midway through the second half. Monte Hatcher led the Bruins with 18 points.

In Saturday games involving Top 20 teams, No. 1 Nevada-Las Vegas routed Utah State 117-94, No. 2 North Carolina dumped No. 16 Duke 85-77, No. 3 Iowa slammed Minnesota 78-57, No. 5 Purdue defeated Wisconsin 57-48, No. 6 Syracuse tripped Seton Hall 92-84, No. 7

Temple topped Rutgers 71-58, Tennessee surprised No. 8 Kentucky 75-68, No. 9 DePaul shod Notre Dame 59-54, and Missouri upset No. 10 Oklahoma 87-83.

At Las Vegas, Nev., Freddie Banks scored 22 points and Jarvis Basmight added 21 to help the No. 1 Rebels improve to 14-0 and 3-0 in the Pacific Coast Athletic Association.

At Durham, N.C., Jeff Lebo's 3-point basket ignited a 12-point surge in the final three minutes to help the Tar Heels stop Duke's 22-game home winning streak in the Atlantic Coast Conference game.

At Minneapolis, Kevin Gamble scored 17 points to lead the Hawkeyes to their 15th straight triumph.

Lake Mary JV Girls Triumph

In girls' junior varsity play Saturday, Tara Jackson and Wiletha Hartsfield combined for 20 points as Lake Mary stomped Jacksonville Bishop Kenny, 44-27, at Bishop Kenny High School.

Jackson led the way with 13 points and Hartsfield added seven for coach Mike Averill's Lady Rams who improved to 5-1. Lake Mary plays Oviedo at Oviedo Thursday night.

SPORTS

IN BRIEF

Muni Records Game-Winner, Gretzky Reaches 100 Points

United Press International
The Edmonton Oilers benefited from the output of their defenseman Sunday night — and received the usual output from Wayne Gretzky.

Defenseman Craig Muni scored the game-winning goal midway through the third period, and Gretzky became the NHL's first 100-point scorer this season, helping the Oilers rally for a 5-3 victory over the Calgary Flames.

Jeff Beukeboom, Paul Coffey and Randy Gregg — all defensemen — also scored for Edmonton, which won for the first time in five games against the Flames this season.

Muni's goal came on a hard slap shot from 30 feet at the 10-minute mark of the third period. Gregg gave the Oilers a two-goal cushion with a sharply-angled wrist shot that found the far corner of the net with 2:20 left. Gretzky, a 100-point scorer in each of his eight NHL seasons, had two assists.

Elsewhere, Philadelphia and Washington tied 2-2, the New York Rangers routed Vancouver 8-3 and Chicago beat Detroit 5-3.

USA's Davis Outlasts McNamara

MELBOURNE, Australia (UPI) — American Scott Davis needed almost four hours to defeat Australia's Peter McNamara 7-6 (7-3), 6-4, 2-6, 3-6, 6-4 Monday on the opening day of the $1.7 million Australian Open tennis tournament.

None of the tournament's top players — men or women — played. Seeded players are scheduled to make their first appearances Wednesday, the third day of matches.

Three other American men advanced to second-round action. Dan Saltz, of Newport Beach, Calif., downed West German Patrick Kuhnert, 6-4, 6-3, 6-3; Todd Nelson, of San Diego, topped Canada's Gary Connell, 6-4, 6-4, 6-4; and Marty Davis, of San Jose, Calif., edged Australian Charlton Eagle, 7-6 (7-4), 6-4, 7-6 (7-2).

Wallace Sets Speedway Record

DAYTONA BEACH (UPI) — Rusty Wallace turned in the fastest lap ever run at Daytona International Speedway Sunday, pushing his Pontiac to 208.237 mph on the 2.5-mile trioval.

Wallace's speed in testing eclipsed the 207.517 mph lap turned in earlier this month by Darrell Waltrip as NASCAR's Winston Cup teams prepare for the Feb. 15 running of the $1.5-million Daytona 500.

Although an unofficial track record, Wallace's lap also was more than 3 mph faster than the official mark of 205.114 mph set by Bill Elliott in qualifying for the 1985 Daytona 500. Official NASCAR records may only be set in a qualifying attempt for an event.

Halthcock Paces UCF's Victory

ORLANDO (UPI) — Stan Halthcock scored 14 points Saturday night leading the University of Central Florida to a 70-58 win over Delaware State.

Kenny McGehee and Bryant Woodford each scored 12 points for UCF (4-9), while Faronte Roberson hit 10.

John Friday scored 11 points and pulled down 11 rebounds. He blocked seven shots, tying a record he set Monday in a 79-77 loss to Western Illinois.

Delaware State (1-9) was led by David Birdson, who scored a game-high 17 points.

Siler Charged With Murder

DAYTONA BEACH (UPI) — Former Texas A&M football player Richard Siler has been ordered held without bond after being charged with murder following the death of a 17-year-old girl.

Terri Harry died Saturday at Halifax Medical Center, eight days after being struck in the forehead allegedly by a stray bullet. She had been declared brain-dead, but had been kept alive with a respirator since the shooting.

Siler, 23, was charged earlier with attempted murder and had been free on $5,000 bond.

Stars & Stripes Wears 'Coat'

FREMANTLE (UPI) — Dennis Conner's Stars & Stripes was recently coated in a plastic film aimed at reducing drag and increasing speed, design officials said today.

Design chief John Marshall said the experimental film has "significantly" enhanced the acceleration of the yacht, the lone U.S. contender left in the regatta. Stars & Stripes starts a best-of-seven series against New Zealand's fiberglass yacht Tuesday, with the winner advancing to face the Australians for the prized trophy.

Howell To Host 'Soccer Night'

Lake Howell will host "Youth Soccer Night" Tuesday when all area youth soccer players wearing their uniform and accompanied by their coach will be admitted free to the Lake Howell-Orlando Bishop Moore prep soccer match.

Game time is 5 p.m. for junior varsity and 7 p.m. for varsity.

Howell (10-1, 1-0) goes for its eighth win in a row at home against Orlando Luther.

Oviedo's Lady Lions will look to reverse their recent fortunes tonight when they travel to St. Cloud for a nonconference game. The last time the two teams met, Oviedo dropped a one-point game to the Lady Bulldogs and that was the start of a five-game losing skid for the Lady Lions.

"The last time we played St. Cloud was the beginning of our downhill slide," Oviedo coach John Thomas said. "This time we hope the St. Cloud game will be the beginning of our uphill climb."

Suzanne Hughes, a 6-0 1/2 sophomore, is the Lady Lions' leader in scoring, rebounding, assists, steals and blocked shots.

"We showed a lot of hustle and aggressiveness against Lake Brantley last week," Thomas said. "We need to continue that and start getting our offense in gear and score some points."

Howell Routs Oviedo, 6-12

Lake Howell's Silver Hawks ran their dual-meet record to 6-1 Saturday with a 60-12 thrashing of Oviedo's Lions in prep wrestling action at Oviedo High.

Lake Howell opened the match by taking four of the first five weight classes and closed it with a flurry of pins.

John White opened the meet for the Hawks with a convincing 15-0 victory over Todd Baker at 101 pounds. Oviedo's Shawn Dezege continued to roll at the 109 pound class as he downed Marcel DeMaria, 14-3, but the Silver Hawks then got consecutive victories by Dave Petrone (115), Todd Miller (123) and Dave Figler (130) to take a comfortable lead.

Charles Vela stopped Howell's victory streak as he edged Scott Kress, 4-3, at 136 pounds. Sean Kobia then downed Oviedo's Scott Rogers, 11-5, at 142 and Chris Cina followed with a pin of Arthur Miner at 149.

Oviedo's Jene Hartman then came up with one of his biggest wins of the year as he dominated Nate Hoekins, 15-0, at 159.

After Hartman's victory, it was all Lake Howell. The Silver Hawks got consecutive pins from Jose Collazo (170), Henry Helm (188), Al Valle (224) and John O'Shea (heavyweight).

The Silver Hawks return to the mat Thursday at home against New Smyrna Beach while Oviedo hosts DeLand on Friday.

Stocks Open Lower

NEW YORK (UPI) — Prices opened lower today in active trading of New York Stock Exchange issues.

The Dow Jones industrial average, which gained 78.60 last week, was down 4.08 to 2001.83 shortly after the market opened.

Declines led advances 531-443 among the 1,410 issues crossing the New York Stock Exchange tape.

Early turnover amounted to about 12,511,000 shares.

The stock market staged a record-breaking advance last week, each day pushing the Dow Jones industrial average to a new record high and on Thursday, past 2000.

Analysts said the return to market of institutional investors with shopping lists spurred the drive into new territory. The end of the tax-law selling that characterized the last weeks of 1986 — long-term capital gains lost their preferential treatment under the new tax law — facilitated the market's climb, analysts said.

Eugene Peroni, Jr., technical research director at Janney Montgomery Scott in Philadelphia, said tax-related selling, rising oil prices, a sinking dollar and political concerns in Washington all contributed to a dominant selling trend at the end of 1986 and put both the Dow and the broader market indexes into a "substantially oversold" position for the start of 1987.

Gold On The Rise AS Dollar Declines

By United Press International

The U.S. dollar opened lower against major world currencies today following a realignment of three of the seven currencies in the European Monetary System.

The price of gold moved sharply higher.

European Community finance ministers agreed to revalue the West German, Dutch and Belgian currencies.

The currencies of the four other countries in the European Monetary System — France, Italy, Ireland and Denmark — remained unchanged.

Under the EMS agreement reached early Monday in Brussels, the German mark and Dutch guilder were to go up against other currencies in the system by three percent and the Belgian franc by two percent. The British pound is not in the EMS.

It was the 11th realignment of EMS currencies since the system was set up in 1979.

In Frankfurt the dollar opened at 1.9175 German marks, against 1.9189 in Brussels at the EMS.

40.00 Belgian francs, against 40.65; and in Amsterdam at 2.164 Dutch guilders, against 2.165 at the close on Friday.

In Paris the dollar opened at 8.35 French francs, against 8.385 at the close on Friday.

In Zurich the dollar began trading at 1.5902 Swiss francs, against a previous close of 1.6112.

The pound opened in London at $1.484, against $1.478 and in Milan at 1,346 lire, against 1,360.10.

In Tokyo the dollar closed at 158.05 yen, against 158.35.

In early New York trading, the dollar was slightly lower against major foreign currencies in moderate trading.

Gold opened $11 an ounce higher in Zurich at $412 per troy ounce and opened $5.25 higher in London at $409.50 an ounce.

The morning fixing in London was $409.90, up $5.65 from Friday's close.

Silver opened 10 cents higher in Zurich at $5.50 per troy ounce and 7 cents higher in London at $5.52 an ounce.

give him the reverence and recognition he deserves.

"King believed we can make music on a piano by using black and white keys, but that only when we stop distinguishing between the keys and play them together can we create a symphony. That's what's being done here today; we've got a symphony. And I'm proud of my hometown and of a mayor, city fathers and ministers who are laying all the keys."

Sanford Mayor Bettye Smith told those who attended:

"I think you're going to leave here a different person than when you came in. I truly believe we're witnessing a miracle: that all colors and religious denominations are meeting in Sanford, Florida, today to worship God. Surely His presence is here."

The tribute choir's membership came from the participating churches as well as the Sanford Woman's Club. The group is directed by Mary Whitehurst and will perform again Saturday night, at the King tribute's culminating banquet. Also planned this week in Sanford to honor King are a Wednesday luncheon with Pearl Bailey and a Friday "Youth Night" tribute. All events are being held at the civic center.

The week-long King celebration was planned at city commissioners' request by their Human Relations Advisory Board. The board's 10 members brought in other local residents and groups for the six-month effort, which carries as its message "Peace and Growth Through Brotherhood."

Sunday's ceremony was organized by the board's religious observance sub-committee.

The spiritual foundations for King's humanitarian concepts and commissioners' and local clerics' "courage" for promoting these ideals were commented on by Bronson during his address.

The tribute's religious sub-committee was chaired by the Rev. Richard Danielak of the First Presbyterian Church. He told attendees "We are piercing the darkness with God's light today. And we are celebrating the light given to us by Dr. Martin Luther King."

A collection taken during the service will be used to cover expenses and bolster tribute planners' King scholarship fund for deserving students. The city did not charge for use of the civic center, nor did Bronson charge an appearance fee.

Bronson received a "Brotherhood Award" Sunday.

from the city and the planning committee. Additional brotherhood awards will be given to community and corporate leaders and private citizens at the Saturday culminating banquet.

After the ceremony, Human Relations Advisory Board Chairman Dr. Lucreen Sweeting said her only comment on the ceremony's obvious success was "I thank God."

The church members who participated in Sunday's observance are from the following churches: Allen Chapel African Methodist Episcopal, All Souls Catholic, Lake Monroe First Baptist, Good Shepherd Lutheran, First Presbyterian, First Shiloh Missionary Baptist, First United Methodist, Morning Glory Baptist, Mount Olive Missionary Baptist, Progress Missionary Baptist, Providence Missionary Baptist, St. James African Methodist Episcopal, St. John Baptist, and St. Paul Missionary Baptist. The Bahai's of Seminole County also participated.

Waite Arrives In West Beirut

BEIRUT, Lebanon (UPI) — Terry Waite, the Anglican envoy who helped secure the release of three U.S. hostages in Lebanon, arrived in Moslem west Beirut today to continue his "humanitarian mission."

Waite, who arrived aboard a Middle East Airlines flight from London, was escorted from the plane to the airport's VIP lounge by an unarmed militiaman of the Druze Progressive Socialist Party and a driver in a limousine.

"I had a very nice trip," Waite told reporters, but said he would not hold a press conference.

"We want the humanitarian mission to continue and what we want to see in the Lebanon is peace for all the people of Lebanon, the release of innocent people and things to get back to a state of normality."

Armed PSP militiamen pushed reporters away and told Waite, "We have to go."

"I hope that any small contribution we can make will help there," Waite told reporters.

Asked if his contacts will be confined to the pro-Iranian Islamic Jihad group holding American and French hostages,

Waite said, "No, no. We are concerned about all the hostages and all the people who are detained here."

The envoy declined to say where he will be staying. He was whisked away by armed PSP militiamen and driven off to an undisclosed destination, followed by a carload of gunmen.

In London, a Church of England spokeswoman declined to give any details on Waite's latest mission to the Middle East.

sold and donations made before the Wednesday luncheon at the civic center. She said this morning although four more contributions have been received since Friday, she's re-calculated the luncheon's cost and is still running about $4,000 short of the break-even point.

Sale of the $17.50 tickets for the lunch and program were stopped at 1 p.m. today. Tickets for just the program are being offered for $7.50 until Wednesday's noon showtime and may be purchased at the door beginning at 11 a.m. or ordered in advance. The corporate and private contributions will be accepted even after the luncheon to help make up the shortfall, Mrs. Schilke said.

Planning for the city's week-long King tribute was undertaken at city commissioners' request by their Human Relations Advisory Board. The board brought in various community representatives, including Mrs. Schilke, for the effort.

The resultant Martin Luther King steering committee was not given guidelines by commissioners, nor city monies for the planning. Now, with the luncheon expected to come up short, none of the commissioners is saying city funds should be used to help defray the loss. Four say they'll put up personal funds and the fifth says he won't consider using his own money nor the city's for any anticipated shortfall.

The commissioners' statements come in response to a Sanford Herald article Friday in which Mrs. Schilke said it appears the luncheon won't reach the break-even point. In addition to the $4,000 in personal funds Mrs. Schilke put up, $2,000 in corporate sponsorships has been contributed to the luncheon by the two companies she and her husband operate.

Mayor Bettye Smith has already put in $500 of her own money as a private sponsor and now says she'll add more personal funds to help defray any loss. City commissioners Bob Thomas and Whitey Eckstein each say they're willing to put $100 of their own money if there's a shortfall. Commissioner John Mercer said he hasn't decided how much he would contribute.

McClanahan, however, says he isn't willing to use his own money, nor the city's to address the potential shortfall. McClanahan says luncheon planners made a mistake when they cancelled Art Linkletter's appearance and went with Miss Bailey. Linkletter would have charged $4,500 less than Miss Bailey's $8,000 charge to come to Sanford. Linkletter's appearance was cancelled when some members of the black community said they felt him an inappropriate choice as a King tribute speaker.

McClanahan said Linkletter "would have been ideal." Regarding the potential shortfall, McClanahan said "I wouldn't be willing to help underwrite it with personal funds, and I wouldn't vote for the commission to underwrite it with taxpayers' funds."

McClanahan and Eckstein weren't on the commission when tribute planning was requested. Eckstein was, however, involved through his membership on the Human Relations Advisory Board.

Eckstein sat on the King planning steering committee as well as its education sub-committee. Luncheon planning was done by another of the steering committee's sub-groups. All sub-groups reported back to the main committee with their plans.

Eckstein offers a $100 contribution and a suggestion for the Human Relations Board to hold a fundraiser to help cover the deficit. Eckstein also said he is opposed "at this time" to the use of city funds to help cover a possible loss.

The city commission "should examine its potential financial exposure in relation to an advisory board's activity," as a result of what happened, according to Eckstein. "I feel the Human Relations Advisory Board should work out a plan via a fundraiser to alleviate the potential deficit. As a former member of the board I will make a $100 donation."

Thomas said he didn't feel it appropriate for commissioners to consider budget funds, such as reserves or contingencies, to cover a potential shortfall. "I don't feel the taxpayers' monies should be used to defray these expenses, period," he said. "But I will make a personal contribution of $100 if they come up short."

Mercer said he'd contribute as well. "I think we're committed to helping out in some way," he said. "We have to see that no one person has to pick up the deficit."

The $7.50 tickets are available until the program's noon start time. Tickets can be bought at the Greater Sanford Chamber of Commerce Building on First Street and at HARCAR Aluminum Products, 1201 Cornwall Road.

In over the weekend, the bureau said.

Florida Power Corporation reported today that a malfunctioning insulator on a branch line stopped electrical service to about 1,000 customers. The insulator probably malfunctioned because of age or dirt and was probably not caused by the cold, said spokesman Karla Haun.

Florida Power and Light reported seven calls over the weekend, one Sunday night in the Sanford area, according to spokesman Bruce Stephenson. The outage, near Terrace Drive, affected only two homes, he said.

"We had a very quiet weekend. Sanford is good down to about twenty-seven degrees. We had twenty-eight last night."

Stephenson said the company plans to have an extra repair crew on duty tonight should problems arise.

No weather-related calls were logged in at the Sanford police or fire departments.

Animals at the Central Florida Zoo west of Sanford were "frisky" this morning "as if they enjoyed it," said general curator Ed Posey.

Posey said there were no problems overnight and there was adequate heat for the animals that need it.

The chill, however, may have prompted some people to winterize their cars.

Ron Sanderson, assistant manager at Parts City in Sanford, said antifreeze sales were not up today but customers were buying winter thermostats for their vehicles. Thermostats determine how warm a motor runs and thus the temperature of the air from the vehicle's heater. Sanderson did say, however, that about half the people picking up thermostats also bought antifreeze.

Leslie Arms, owner of SunWay Auto Parts in Longwood also said there was no particular increase in antifreeze sales. There was, however, an increase in the sale of starting fluid, a product that combusts more easily than gasoline.

The cold did not affect Tri-County Transit whose buses were running on schedule.

Patched-Up Veteran Doesn't Need Further Picking Apart

DEAR ABBY: I saw red after reading the letter from "No Name," a 40-year-old divorcee, who had spent the night with a handsome 37-year-old Vietnam veteran and was turned off when she found that his body (chest and pelvic area) had been patched up with surgical type plastic. He had explained beforehand that he had been "seriously" injured in Vietnam, so she shouldn't be shocked.

She said: "He's a perfect date — intelligent, educated and well-bred. He was on the football team in college and he also studied ballet. He loves to cook, bake, crochet, knit and do needlepoint. He's an excellent dancer, owns his own business and has plenty of money. (He's a "computer consultant," whatever that is.) After we made love (just that one time, which was just OK), I began to wonder if maybe he was a transsexual (a female who had a sex-change operation). I don't plan to see him again because, frankly, he left me with the creeps."

Abby, I spent two years in Vietnam as a nurse attached to the 1st Cavalry, and I would like to tell "No Name" that she was undoubtedly dealing with a bona fide vet who had stepped on a Vietnamese land mine, specifically designed to detonate in midair, catching its victims in the chest, hips, pelvis and thighs.

I saw numerous young men come into our operating room with wounds beyond description from shrapnel. Many had to be patched up in any way possible, which would account for the extensive use of plastic to hold this man's body together. (Transsexuals, by the way, do not need plastic parts.)

And yes, his body would look "different," having been repaired by doctors and nurses whose first concern was trying to save his life — not how the results would look.

I think "No Name" has stumbled onto a rare find: a man who was probably embarrassed by the physical appearance of his body, but was willing to expose it honestly instead of hiding behind a wall of shame and fear, as many people are inclined to do. Imagine how he must feel each time he makes love to a woman for the first time, wondering how she will react. Might that not have had something to do with the quality of their initial encounter?

This man needs compassion and understanding for the physical and mental torment he has suffered, not rejection from a woman who finds him "creepy," or questions his sexuality because he doesn't conform to her standards of what a "real" man should look like. Do you really think because he likes to cook, bake, etc., it makes him less masculine? Wake up — this is the 1980s! I'm now a carpenter and a trucker, but I'm still a woman!

Either open your eyes and recognize what a fine man he is — or send his address to me. I'll take him, no questions asked.

ALL WOMAN

DEAR WOMAN: Your compassionate letter addresses itself to the disabled veterans of all wars, and speaks for all physically disabled people whose bodies "look different." Thank you for lighting a thousand candles to illuminate an area that has been dark with ignorance for far too long.

Janice Springfield, right, chairman of the Public Affairs Department of the Woman's Club of Sanford, introduces Sheriff's Deputy Doris Hundley, right, guest speaker, to Bettye Smith, club president, and the membership.

'Star Tours' Takes Flight

ANAHEIM, Calif. (UPI) — "Star Tours," a cross between a roller coaster and a science-fiction movie featuring the characters of George Lucas' "Star Wars" trilogy, has opened in Disneyland to rave reviews.

Disneyland's Mickey Mouse and "Star Wars" robot "droids," R2-D2 and C-3PO, welcomed visitors at the ride's official opening Friday.

Building on the theme of his movie trilogy, Lucas and a team of Disney "Imagineers" have combined their creativity with the latest movie technology to create the futuristic ride, which comes as close as possible to flying Hans Solo's Millennium Falcon.

I've been approached to do a lot of amusement parks and I've always felt there is only one first-class amusement park operation, and this is it," Lucas said. "This is the Rolls-Royce of this genre."

The two droids preside over a simulated space port at the start of the ride, where messages are broadcast in English and the fictional "Star Wars" language of Ewok spoofing the announcements made in airports.

As the visitors move through the port, Chewbacca the Wookiee explains in a film how to buckle the ride's seatbelts.

The ride's high point is reached after visitors climb into a 40-seat Starliner, a flight simulator with an interior resembling the passenger area of a spaceship ship. The Starliner piloted by R2-D2 and a second droid, bursts through a repair bay door, twirls through the core of a comet, and stumbles into a space battle.

During the flight, the entire cabin rises, drops and tilts while meteors, comets and attacking "Star Wars" enemy spacecraft bombard the wide-screen window.

The Starliner takes several detours before reaching its destination, including a trip at warp speed through the corridors of an eerie planet that closely resembles the backdrop of Luke Skywalker's final battle scene in the second "Star Wars" movie, "The Empire Strikes Back."

Although the exact construction cost of the ride was not disclosed, Disney chairman Michael Eisner said the single attraction cost more to build than did the entire theme park when it opened in 1955.

Unofficial estimates at the time the "Star Tours" project was begun two years placed construction costs at between $15 million and $17 million.

First-day riders appeared impressed with the futuristic attraction.

Malfunctioning Septic Tanks Cause Problems

Dr. Gott

DEAR DR. GOTT — I was told that when fumes from a septic tank mix with air, sulfuric acid is formed. Is this harmful? My sore throat and tongue disappear when I'm out of the house for a day or so.

DEAR READER — Fumes from an improperly functioning septic tank are caused by the decay of organic material. They may make you nauseated, but your sore throat and tongue probably are due to other factors in your house, such as dust and related irritants. If a septic tank and leaching field are working as they should, no odor or fumes will be present. If your drains smell, have your sewage system repaired before your neighbors complain that you are polluting the environment.

DEAR DR. GOTT — I recently had an X-ray of my foot. During the process, I felt what seemed to be several strings being pulled through my foot. My sister says she always feels the same thing when being X-rayed. What causes this?

DEAR READER — People cannot feel X-rays. There is no physical reason why you and your sister experienced the sensations that you had. You will have to look for alternative explanations, other than X-rays, for your symptoms.

DEAR DR. GOTT — My wife had a Dalkon Shield from 1975 to 1981. Her uterus was removed because of bleeding fibroids and a tumor. Did the Dalkon Shield cause these problems?

DEAR READER — The Dalkon Shield caused pelvic inflammation in some women. Fibroids (muscular growths) and uterine tumors are common in women and are not thought to be related to intrauterine devices for contraception.

DEAR DR. GOTT — I breathe 22 to 28 times a minute. Is this hyperventilating? I don't use caffeine, but do smoke two packs a day. Is there any way to reduce overbreathing?

DEAR READER — Hyperventilation (increased rate of breathing) is one of the ways in which the body compensates for inadequate oxygen.

At the rate of 22-28 per minute, you are hyperventilating. This may be the first sign of chronic bronchitis and emphysema due to your cigarette habit. Stop smoking and see if your breathing rate falls.

Hyperventilation sometimes reflects tension and anxiety.

When there is no physical basis that needs correcting, overbreathing can usually be treated by rebreathing into a paper bag so that excessive amounts of carbon dioxide are not lost from the body, causing faintness and tingling.

WIN AT BRIDGE

By James Jacoby

Does it surprise you that North bid only two spades at his second turn? Many players use a two-level response in a new suit as a force to game unless the responder simply rebids his suit. I watched today's deal played at two different tables in a local duplicate game in Dallas last November, and both pairs were using that method. Accordingly both arrived in four spades. What was really remarkable was that both declarers, experienced life masters, managed to go down.

The defense started with a diamond lead. East won that ace and returned a heart. West took the queen and ace of hearts and played a third heart. That placed the lead in dummy, and declarer called for the jack of spades. East played the king, grateful that his singleton could be used to cover an honor. Sure enough, West now came to the setting trick with his 9-8-5-4 of spades.

South would have been right to lead the jack only if he had no more entries to dummy. As it was, he could return to dummy twice in the club suit and so should have played a low spade first. Although the problem is immediately solved when the king appears, it's worth noting that declarer would also succeed with this play if West held either the singleton nine or eight of spades. (He would return to dummy to lead the jack; after that was covered, he would get back to dummy with another club to lead through what would now be the guarded eight or nine in the East hand.)

HOROSCOPE

What The Day Will Bring...

YOUR BIRTHDAY JANUARY 13, 1987

In the year ahead, you'll become involved with a new friend who'll have an enormous influence on your life. The things you do together will produce advantages for both parties.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) You can't expect from others today something that you're not prepared to give yourself. The type of example you set will govern their response. Know where to look for romance and you'll find it. The Astro-Graph Matchmaker set instantly reveals which signs are romantically perfect for you. Mail $2 to Matchmaker, c/o this newspaper, P.O. Box 91428, Cleveland, OH 44101-3428.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) Important career strides can be made today, even though someone in the background may try to derail you.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Competitive social sports should only be played today with pals who play for pleasure. Don't get into a contest with a friend who's a poor loser.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) There's no reason for you to accept the status quo today. If you want to change something important, make a concerted effort to do it.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Self-doubts are figments of your overly active imagination today. Once you set your mind upon accomplishments, you'll fulfill your intentions.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Advantageous developments should be shared with those who helped bring them about. You're not obligated to reward the undeserving.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) An important decision today should not be left to an associate who isn't familiar with all of its ramifications. Decide for yourself.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Be open and frank today with people you love and trust. Conversely, it's best to be cautious with individuals with whom you don't have strong bonds.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Don't involve yourself in situations today where people who don't make you feel welcome are present. Limit your activities to pals who like you.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Take measures to protect your interests today, but without using tactics of which you're not proud. Don't swap propriety for profit.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Concerning yourself about issues beyond your control is a waste of time today. But you can make positive contributions by working within your sphere of influence.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Someone you're associated with is not patterned after your generous nature. This could become evident today if there's something of value to be divided up.
