Storm Center Leaves State This Afternoon

No Major Losses In Huge Citrus Industry Indicated By Commission Report

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS)
The reportedly vicious tropical hurricane which alarmed the entire state of Florida yesterday apparently turned out to be something of a tempest in a teapot—and a relatively mild tempest at that.

The center of the greatly weakened storm has left the Sunshine state and this afternoon was blowing itself out over southern Georgia. The latest advisory from the Federal Storm Warning Service said the diminishing disturbance will continue inland through Georgia and South Carolina, and that strong winds are indicated as far north as Atlantic City.

The storm apparently retained all its violence with winds close to 100 miles an hour almost up to the minute it struck across the Florida Gulf coast in the Tampa Bay area at midnight. The howling gales diminished rapidly, however. By the time the storm approached Jacksonville on the east coast, that city recorded gusts only up to 45 miles an hour.

Orlando, in the center of the state, reported 70-mile gusts. The hurricane advisory service reported this morning that the remnants of the hurricane were centered over southeastern Georgia about 40 miles southwest of Savannah. The advisory said the storm was weakened to the point where it no longer is a dangerous hurricane, but will be attended by strong winds up to 40 miles an hour over the coastal areas of Georgia and the Carolinas today.

The secretary-treasurer of the Florida Citrus Commission, R. C. Evans, today said damage to the fabulous citrus crop in the Lakeland area appeared minor. Lakeland is in the heart of the grapefruit and orange belt.

Evans said he had not yet checked with other points, but preliminary reports indicated there probably would not be any major loss for the record-making crop, valued at about $150,000,000.

The state of Florida had prepared for this hurricane as never before. Beach residents were evacuated and thousands took refuge in storm shelters. Elaborate disaster precautions were taken by the Red Cross and other relief agencies.

As yet, however, there have been no reports of heavy damage anywhere in the state, and no reports of injuries to residents.

Apparently the highest winds on the mainland were felt at Fort Myers, on the southwest coast, which the storm missed by some 90 miles while it was still raging at full fury in the Gulf. Fort Myers reported gusts up to 80 miles an hour. As the storm veered inland near the entrance to Tampa Bay, Egmont Key reported winds up to 85 miles an hour. Tampa itself, St. Petersburg and other cities in the populous west coast area, reported only moderate gusts.

53 Handicapped Persons Placed In Jobs By Local Employment Office

Mrs. Betty Mosely, head of the local United States Employment Service office, declared today that 53 handicapped persons, the majority of them veterans of World War II, have been placed in positions by the Sanford office.

Mrs. Mosely made this statement in connection with the National Employment of the Physically Handicapped Week, which is held annually by an Act of Congress and Presidential proclamation.

Mrs. Mosely said that "statistically and in fact are calling the attention of industry and business firms to the great untapped reservoir of skills and abilities possessed by handicapped workers."

"We still have 53 handicapped persons in this area in need of placement," Mrs. Mosely stated. She revealed that "the majority of them are veterans and are 1 to 30 percent disabled, some slightly more, but most of them from 10 to 20 percent."

"We have the facilities," she continued, "to conduct, select and refer disabled veterans and other handicapped workers to employers. We can assist both management and labor through referral of qualified workers for jobs and in some cases for accelerated apprenticeship programs."

The employment office head also remarked that "we ask that employers consider the physically handicapped workers in this area, and we urge you to make work possible for them, and to list vacancies in your organization with our office."

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 8.—(AP)—An investigation of the meat shortage in Ohio has been requested by Governor Frank J. Lausche. The Governor announced that he is launching immediately an investigation of his own. In telegrams to government officials, however, he asked a separate, federal probe.

The messages were sent to Attorney General Tom Clark, FBI Chief J. Edgar Hoover, and Secretary of Agriculture Clinton Anderson. In the telegrams, the Governor stated:

"The word is current that the available meat supply has been artificially kept from the market. Whether this is true or not I do not know. The people are entitled to know the facts." Then Governor Lausche added:

"I therefore urge that a speedy determination and investigation be made to ascertain the facts and a prompt disclosure be made to the public so that they will know the true situation."

Truman's Message Lauded By Labor Parley Delegates

CHICAGO, Oct. 8.—(AP)—A message from President Truman today received loud applause at the American Federation of Labor convention in Chicago.

Mr. Truman told the A. F. of L. delegates in his message that America stands on the threshold of abundance. He stated that the country must have the full cooperation of industry, labor and government.

The President went on to say: "Today, no less than in wartime, our most compelling need is full, sustained production." And he added:

"Our demonstrated capacity holds out the promise of secure abundance for America's wage and salaried workers, as well as for farmers and business and professional people. ## O.P.A. Changes Price Tag Rules To End Chiseling By Some Retailers

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8.—(AP)—The office of price administration has changed some of its price tag rules to end what one official called chiseling by some retailers.

Many so-called brand name items are involved in the new ruling. These include items such as clothing, shoes, furniture, rug, and shower curtains.

These items are usually well advertised and sold on a uniform price basis with the retail price ceiling tag placed on the items by the manufacturer and producer.

Previously when this ceiling price advanced, the Office of Price Administration allowed the retailer to change the tags on his entire stock to the new, higher prices.

Now the OPA says that practice must stop on Oct. 14 so that sales are made on a basis of actual cost at the time of shipment—plus the legal profit margin at the time.

The result may be that some retailers will be offering identical brand named goods at different ceiling prices.

An OPA official explained that too many retailers are getting wind of impending price increases. Then, the official said, the ve-

Record Mark For Tax Collections In Seminole Revealed By Jinkins

A high record mark for tax collections in Seminole County of more than 99.9 percent of the entire tax levy of $131,500 for the fiscal year ending on Oct. 31, was today revealed by J. D. Jinkins, county tax collector.

Mr. Jinkins said he was highly pleased with this record collection which tops the former high mark reached last year when 99.84 percent of taxes was collected. "This is a fine demonstration on the part of the property owners of Seminole County, showing their willingness and ability to pay their taxes as ever before," said Mr. Jinkins.

He recalled that a report made by the Seminole County Taxpayers' Relief Association of the 100 percent collection period last November when the total amount of $139,757 were paid into his office.

The taxpayers saved $14,219 in discounts allowed by law for payments made in November, December, January and February.

Supreme Court Rules In Wischart's Favor

FALL RIVER, Oct. 8.—(AP)—A four to three decision of the Florida Supreme Court today upheld the right of Marjorie Wischart of Miami to continue holding his position as judge of the Eleventh Judicial Circuit.

The court declined to sustain a suit brought by N. Vernon Hawthorne to oust Judge Wischart from the position, on the grounds that he was ineligible for the 1943 appointment to the bench because he was a member of the legislature which raised circuit judges' salaries.

Two Are Killed In Another DC-4 Crash

CHEYENNE, Wyo., Oct. 8.—(AP)—A big United Airlines plane, flying from San Francisco to Chicago with 42 passengers, cracked up this morning near Cheyenne, Wyo.

The United Airlines plane—a DC-4 of the type which was figured in the two recent Newfoundland crashes—was coming in for a regularly scheduled landing at Cheyenne when the accident occurred. Just what happened is not yet known, but the plane came down on the Fort Francis E. Warren military reservation and according to the local sheriff, it broke in two. The ship was piloted by Capt. L. H. Smith, of San Francisco, who with three other crew members apparently escaped serious injury. All of the passengers have been taken to a hospital.

INSIDE SPORTS REPORT

By ARTHUR BECKWITH, JR.

There is a possibility that five St. Augustine players face ineligibility to play organized baseball, and another man who played for the Saints earlier in the year faces a years suspension as a result of the alleged attack on Umpire Larry Lavelly which is said to have happened in DeLand on the night of Sept. 6.

The five players, whose names have not been published, have received a copy of a letter from Judge Bramham, which was sent to President Ernest Padgett of the Florida State League in which Bramham, it is reported to have said, that on the basis of reports received from Lavelly Umpire Spike Davis, he will be constrained to ban the five players from organized play.

Bramham indicated by his request that he wanted the full story of the incident and wished the players to submit any evidence in their favor in writing so that both sides of the case could be aired.

Both Lavelly and Davis have submitted affidavits to Judge Bramham stating that Lavelly was attacked during the playoff game between Sanford and St. Augustine in Sanford on the night of Sept. 6, and later in a DeLand eating establishment he was attacked by a man who had played for the Saints, but had been released.

As a result of the fracas, the St. Augustine players were suspended for a year.

Senator Pepper May Abandon O.P.A. Support

Says Price Controls Are Useless Without Support Of Public Opinion, Congress

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9, (AP)—Senator Claude Pepper today said he is seriously considering abandoning his support of price controls because the program does not seem to be working out. Pepper was one of the staunchest supporters in last summer's fight in the Senate for the agency's life. He issued this statement: "If price control is getting back like prohibition in its last days so that public opinion is not going to support effective price control and the Congress is not going to support it, we might just as well try to have it."

Pepper's statement advocating the junking of all price control was made as President Truman pressed his personal survey of the meat shortage.

New York's Democratic Senator James H. Doolittle, emerging from conference with White House, CPA and Agriculture Department officials—said he is hopeful that an emergency decision will be forthcoming very shortly which will help to relieve the meat shortage.

Political Wangle On Meat Shortage Continues Today

By ASSOCIATED PRESS
The controversy over the meat situation continued bitter today with more political charges and counter charges. Meanwhile, the shops continue to offer little or no meat. Most authorities agree that there is plenty of meat, but that it is getting on the ranges instead of showing up at the packing plants.

UNRRA Director General La Guardia denied that meat is going overseas in UNRRA cartons. He says the only meat going abroad from his organization is some canned horsemeat.

Incidentally, 38 Texas steers arrived in Flushing, New York, to temporarily solve the meat problem for 150 New Yorkers.

The president of the General Steel Products Corporation bought the steers and will have them butchered for distribution among his lucky employees.

Naval Officer Says Fliers Found City "Pleasant Place"

That certain Navy fliers who trained at Sanford Naval Air Station and then returned to Japan for world conquest found Sanford "an extremely pleasant place" to which they would like sometime to return is indicated by a letter recently received by Robert L. Cox, local photographer from Ensign R. L. Peterson of Brexey Point Naval Air Station at Norfolk, Va., who ordered some pictures of Flight 273 which Mr. Cox had made while Peterson was here training with the group.

He wrote: "It may be of some interest to you to know that all the boys in Flight 273, with the exception of myself, are now glorified civilians and seem to like it pretty well. I have found the Navy to my liking and intend to stay until they no longer need me. I might also add that our stay in Sanford was an extremely pleasant one and we once voted it to be the place we would like most to go back to."

Payne Resigns Credit Office Position Here

John P. Payne has resigned his position as secretary-treasurer of the Central Florida Production Credit Association at Sanford to accept a position as manager of Perfection Dairies Cooperative of Orlando.

Mr. Payne, who had been connected with the Association for the past three years, was formerly with the Bradenton Production Credit Association.

Succeeding Mr. Payne will be Leonard R. Toy of Orlando, who for several years has been a field representative in Florida for the Production Credit Corporation of Columbia. Mr. Toy has been engaged in agricultural credit work principally in Florida, for a number of years.

Cairo Welcomes 'Dreamboat' Commander

PILOT OF THE PACUSAN DREAMBOAT Col. C. S. (Bill) Irvine, (left) of St. Paul, Nebraska, is welcomed to Cairo by Gamel Bey Kotby, an official of the royal Aeroclub of Egypt. The giant B-29 arrived after a record-breaking 10,300-mile non-stop flight over the top of the world. According to Irvine, "the most important discovery" during the Honolulu-Cairo flight was the fact that the magnetic pole is 200 miles further north than is shown on the polar maps now in existence. The flight was completed in 23 hours and 30 minutes. (International Radiophoto)

Final Hearings Begin On F.E.C. Reorganization

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9—(AP)—Final oral argument was being heard by the Interstate Commerce Commission on the proposed reorganization of the Florida East Coast Railroad under the control of the St. Joe Paper Company.

Argument on the report of the ICC examiner Ralph Jewell began this morning at 10:00 o'clock. The ICC examiner recommended the commission reject the reorganization plan of the Florida East Coast Line Railroad which provides for the merger of the Florida East Coast with the Coast Line. Instead his report proposed the adoption with certain modifications—a plan authorizing the independent operation of the line under the control of the St. Joe Paper Company, owned by the Alfred I. Dupont estate.

The ICC examiner held the merger of the two railroads would result in no appreciable improvement in transportation service to the public as compared with service under independent operation. His report further said the merger would not be such as to warrant consideration by them as a controlling factor. The report added the predominant interests of residents, shippers and communities on the Florida East Coast Line would be injured by the merger. The nature of the holding, management and affiliations of the St. Joe Paper Company is not such as to present it a proper party to control the Florida East Coast Railroad.

The St. Joe company, supporting the ICC examiner's report, contended the transfer of the Florida East Coast to the Atlantic Coast Line would reduce the East Coast's efficiency and economy operation.

Two other railroads filed briefs supporting the ICC examiner's findings. These were the Southern Railway Company and the Seaboard Air Line Railway.

However, the Coast Line maintained the merger would result in improved and expedited service with no closing of any existing routes or gateways. The commission would place the tentacles of the Coast Line in that flag-bulk railroad in a company which will be financially strong and have every incentive to develop transportation service on the east coast of Florida.

Mayme Hodgkin, Muse Womack Are Named Democratic Committeemen

Mayme Womack, construction equipment salesman, and Mrs. Mayme Hodgkin, news correspondent for the Orlando Sentinel Star, were elected last evening as state Democratic executive committee members to fill vacancies for which no one qualified at the last general election.

Mrs. Hodgkin, who is well known here for her active interest in civic affairs, said today that the public should be more interested and informed concerning these officers, which serve as go-betweens or contacts between the county and state in regard to political matters and appointments, and between the state and Congress, in the case of Congressional committee appointments.

Mr. Womack and Mrs. Hodgkin will attend the State Executive Committee meeting next Tuesday in Jacksonville.

At the meeting yesterday, Volie Williams and State Representative M. B. Smith gave brief talks concerning political activities and cooperation.

Kiwanis Told Of Legion Confab By A. Reid Mann

Says Main Issue At Parley Concerned Veterans And 'Isms'

The main fight on issues at the American Legion convention at San Francisco was over rehabilitation of veterans and in combatting "isms" inflicting this country, notably communism which was warned against by FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover when presented by the Legion with a Distinguished Service Medal. A. Reid Mann, state Legion department adjutant, told Kiwanians today at their meeting at the Community House.

He quoted Mr. Hoover as stating that communist attempts to penetrate the Legion had been a failure, and read from Hoover's speech the statement that "divide and conquer tactics do not do with little." A warning against the rising tide of crime was also given in the law director's speech.

Adjutant Mann termed the Legion convention as disappointing to the veterans and especially of World War II veterans, probably in so far as distance delegates had to come, Florida, including the third place winning Miami Drum and Bugle Corps was well represented with 10 delegates who left on Sept. 21 on a special train and arrived in San Francisco on Sept. 29.

Sanford was represented by himself, Joel S. Field and Chester Miller, he said.

The American Legion now has a total membership of 2,115,000, its executive committee of 10,000 members, has total assets of $100,000,000 including properties and equipment and 1,000 drum and bugle corps, he revealed. Posts numbered 32,829, 100 in War Bonds, and since 1942 have expended $5,000,000 in welfare. Sanford state headquarters, he declared, has a working fund of $82,000 and its pay roll in Sanford is $16,000 annually.

The club voted against any increase in district dues, and they please at the State House convention starting Sunday at Daytona Beach. Guests were R. E. Robinson of Atlanta, G. A. H. Adams of Miami and Spencer Harlan of the Key Club. A tip-off from A. S. Hight, public affairs committee chairman, was read urging the club to devote time to discussion of state amendments coming up soon for a vote.

Rome Workmen Battle Police In Protest Of Dismissal From Jobs

ROME, Oct. 9, (AP)—A crowd of demonstrating workmen, some veterans and refugees, fought police for three hours today before the Vatican palace which houses the Italian government.

At least three persons were killed and scores were injured. The crowd was an ugly mob when it formed at the palace, the police were ordered to disperse the demonstrators.

Before police reinforcement arrived, scores of demonstrators had pushed by the regular guards into the government building. They broke furniture and smashed windows.

Some got as far as the office of Prime Minister Alcide De Gasperi. His office was not damaged. About that time De Gasperi returned from Rome from Palermo, Sicily, as a police cleared entrance to the government building the Premier dashed to his office to confer with the cabinet, the sub-cabinet and police officials.

The police and carabinieri used clubs, swords, fire arms and two armored cars in their efforts to clear the square before the palace. After the first hour, the crowd was estimated to number between 20,000 and 30,000 persons.

Police said three persons were killed. Leaders of the mob said there were eight dead. Many of the injured including policemen are said to be in serious condition.

Soldiers and carabinieri stood shoulder to shoulder to block off entrances to the square and began forcing the crowd slowly back. One of the armored cars circled through the crowd opened fire. There were three loud explosions that sounded like hand grenades. In momentary panic the demonstrators broke and fled. They reformed ranks quickly, however, and resumed their resistance to the soldiers and police.

Meanwhile, Attorney General Tom Clark announced that the Garson case will be presented to a Federal grand jury beginning tomorrow. Chief Justice B. J. Laws of the District of Columbia court is to be in charge of the grand jury probe. Two special assistants to Clark, William Paisley and Ishak Matalack, will present the government's case to the grand jury. The Justice Department said its case has been built on a full FBI investigation into facts turned up by the Senate committee's lengthy hearings.

May's name was not mentioned in the Justice Department announcement of the start of grand jury action in the Garson case. Brewer suggested that since May is a candidate for re-election, he should be given an opportunity to state his case before the Senate committee in view of the frequent references made to his activities during the probe by the upper chamber.

The chairman of the House Military Committee was subpoenaed once to appear before the Senate group but suffered a heart attack and has been recuperating since in his home in Prestonburg, Ky. May's doctors indicated the lawmaker soon may be able to travel to Washington.

Declares Measure Is Undemocratic Way To Keep Adriatic Under Britain, U. S.

PARIS, Oct. 9, (AP)—Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov today condemned the Italian Peace treaty draft plan to create the free state of Trieste.

Molotov declared, in his first appearance before a plenary session of the Paris Peace Conference since his return from a recent visit to Moscow, that the plan was what he termed an "undemocratic" means of keeping the strategic Adriatic area under the control of the United States and Britain.

Molotov appealed, however, for conciliation between the Slav and non-Slav nations. He coupled this with a warning that the western nations must respect the rights and position of the slave states.

Molotov said: "An accord is possible among all to the extent nations do not attempt to impose their will on other nations."

The Soviet minister said, before a full meeting of the peace parley, that the statute adopted by the Italian commission on the Trieste issue, lodged absolute power in a foreign governor. Under such a system, the Russian delegate added, the population of Trieste would be left disenfranchised under foreign troops.

Foreign Minister Molotov demanded that the conference transfer power in Trieste to a government elected by the popular assembly, similar to the pre-war government in Danzig.

Rep. Cox Calls On South To Put Its Own Welfare First

MACON, Ga., Oct. 9, (AP)—A Georgia Democrat, Representative Eugene Cox, today called upon the South to put its own welfare first and if necessary break with the Democratic party. In a speech before the Georgia State Democratic Convention, Cox declared that such a break should be made if the Democratic party continues its association with the 100 Political Action Committee long-time critics of the administration. Cox asserted that the marriage between government and the PAC must be dissolved if the country will be doomed.

Cox was the keynote speaker at the convention, called to rally the party around Gov. Tammidge as the next Governor of Georgia. He bitterly denounced outgoing Governor Ellis Arnold as a tool of those who would end state supremacy in the South.
