Cities Want Bigger Slice Of Gas Tax Pie

By Donna Estes
Herald Staff Writer

While Seminole County's seven cities are still wrangling over how to divvy up this year's county-imposed 4-cents-per-gallon gas tax revenues, the Legislature has given authority for counties to levy an additional 2 cents per gallon tax. The 4-cents tax was imposed two years ago.

This new tax must also be shared with the cities. The issue could be voted on by county commissioners as early as their June 25 meeting. County Administrator Ken Hooper got permission from the county commission Tuesday night to discuss agreements on the 2-cents tax with administrative personnel of the cities.

Meanwhile, officials from three of the cities are unhappy with a new formula which would continue to give the county 65 percent of the $3 million collected from the 4-cents tax and give Altamonte Springs $396,486 of the money, some $120,000 more than last year. Winter Springs would receive $6,000 more. Its share would go up from $101,000 to $107,000. But the shares of Sanford, Casselberry, Longwood, Lake Mary and Oviedo would go down.

Oviedo Mayor Robert Whittier called "terrible" the formula which would give Oviedo some $12,000 less than last year, $44,000 instead of $56,000.

He said while the Oviedo City Council will discuss the matter at its Monday night meeting, he doesn't expect the council to approve any agreement which will bring that city less.

Lake Mary's Mayor Richard Fess told city commissioners there last week that he is looking at how the formula can be changed. The formula calls for Lake Mary to get $31,000, $7,000 less than last year.

China To Buy Sanford-Made Helicopters

By Rick Brunson
Herald Staff Writer

A Sanford helicopter company has landed a 15-year, multimillion dollar contract to sell helicopters and parts to the Peoples Republic of China — the first venture of its kind for a Central Florida business.

Orlando Helicopter Airways Inc., located at the Sanford Airport, struck the deal with the Guangzhou Machinery Tool Factory in February, according to Board Chairman Fred Clark.

The agreement is scheduled to be finalized June 24 when a delegation of Chinese business and political leaders, including the mayor of Guangzhou (formerly known as Canton), comes to Sanford to tour the company's facilities.

Guangzhou is China's 10th largest city.

Also included in the deal is a joint venture to build a helicopter assembly plant in Guangzhou, Clark said. The two companies have formed Guangzhou Orlando Helicopters Ltd., which will run the facility. The 25,000 square-foot factory is under construction and is scheduled to be fully operational in about three years. Orlando Helicopter will get 60 percent of the interest and the Chinese 40 percent, Clark said.

Over the next year, Orlando Helicopter will send 10 choppers and spare parts to China, followed up the next year by more parts and training technicians, Clark said. By 1989, the Chinese will be assembling their own helicopters in the Guangzhou factory.

Orlando Helicopter is the first Central Florida company to land a joint venture with China, according to Orlando attorney James Bacchus, who recently toured the country with Orlando mayor Bill Frederick. Bacchus was also a federal international trade negotiator from 1979-81.

Sanford Mayor Bettye Smith, when informed of the deal today, said,

"That's marvelous. We will have to plan something big to welcome the delegation. She visited China in September and said the deal represents a trend of growing friendship and cooperation between the two countries."

The contract will double the company's business, Clark said. The number of employees, 30 at present, will also be doubled, he said. Clark would not reveal how much the company was making on the deal, saying only that it's a multimillion dollar contract.

Orlando Helicopter, whose customers include Taiwan, Thailand, Haiti and Australia, became interested in doing business with China about two years ago, Clark said. The company heard the Chinese government wanted to buy helicopters so it submitted a bid. The company got help from Hong Kong businessman Arthur Bates, who negotiated the contract.

What sold the Chinese on the company's S-55 "Bearcat" helicopters was that they are the only choppers available that use automobile gas.

County Stalls RV Park Plan

The plans of two Sanford couples to build a recreational vehicle park east of Sanford are on hold while the county considers whether it wants to get involved with a process called "reverse osmosis" to convert salt water to drinking water.

The county commission continued until June 25 a hearing on the request of Grant and Geraldine McEwan and Stephen and Pamela Fortson for a change in zoning from agriculture to a category called RM-3 which permits a recreational vehicle park. The proposed park site is off Osceola Road near state Road 46.

They want to build a 380-site RV park called River Oaks.

Seminole County Commissioner Bill Kirchhoff recommended the request be denied because the county's comprehensive plan calls for rural development of no more than one unit per acre and because plans for the facility include a privately-owned package sewer plant and a reverse osmosis water plant.

In addition, Kirchhoff said while county regulations say that persons in RV parks are supposed to be there only for three-to-five day periods, actually many stay for years at a time, taking up permanent residence.

Kirchhoff noted the only package sewer plants in existence in the county are those owned and operated by the county. As far as a reverse osmosis water plant is concerned, Kirchhoff said the operation of one in Volusia County has been found to be unsatisfactory and very expensive.

The general practice is for developers to deed water and sewer utilities they build to the county.

The owners of the property offered to work out any arrangement with the county that will be acceptable.

County Administrator Ken Hooper said the county staff is not interested in operating another package sewer plant, nor is the staff interested in a reverse osmosis water plant. Hooper said while it costs about 40 cents to 50 cents per thousand gallons to operate a regular water plant, the cost for a plant using a desalination method is $5 to $6 per thousand gallons.

But Commissioner Fred Streetman said he is interested in the county gaining every bit of knowledge and experience it can in the reverse osmosis process of converting bad water to drinkable water.

Meanwhile, Fortson, one of the owners, said the county must think about bringing into the county clean industries that do not harm the air or the environment and RV parks fit into

Karen Quinlan Dies 'With Dignity'

MORRIS PLAINS, N.J. (UPI) — Surrounded by the adoptive family that fought for her right to "die with dignity," Karen Ann Quinlan succumbed to pneumonia in a New Jersey nursing home nine years after being unplugged from life support machines.

Quinlan stopped breathing at 7:01 p.m. Tuesday. Family members had been keeping a vigil since the weekend when doctors first noticed her vital signs were fading.

She finally died with the dignity her family had sought, the family priest said.

The young woman's coma — apparently caused by a combination of alcohol and drugs at a party — sparked a nationwide controversy over her right to die. She became the focus of international attention in 1975 when her parents filed a petition in a Morristown, N.J. court for permission to terminate the medical equipment keeping her alive.

The case prompted several states to consider "Right to Die" legislation.

Karen, 31, had spent much of her last 10 years in a fetal position, and weighed only 65 to 70 pounds when death came.

She had been in a coma four months when the family sought the right to disconnect the respirator that kept her breathing so she could die with dignity.

Downtown Power Outage Due To Short

Power was out for about a half hour today in downtown Sanford due to a short on a main power line near Seventh Street and Oleander Avenue, said Bruce Berger, of Florida Power and Light.

About 1,700 homes and businesses in an area south of the lakelront to 13th Street, stretching from Park Avenue west to Persimmon Avenue, lost power at about 9 a.m., Berger said. Power was restored to most of the homes by 9:30 a.m. But about 100 homes in the Jessamine and Avocado avenue area were without electricity until 10 a.m. About six homes near the shorted line were still blacked out at press time. Power was to be restored there by noon, Berger said.

Proceedings were uninterrupted at the Seminole County Courthouse because the building has its own auxiliary power generators, according to maintenance supervisor Roger Johnson. Central Florida Regional Hospital has two power lines, so when the one went out it switched to the other, causing only a slight blink in the lights, Berger said.

The cause of the short is not known, although Berger speculated that it could have been caused by birds.

Jurors Knew Prosecutor

Mistrial Declared

A mistrial was declared Tuesday to avoid prejudice in the case of a Casselberry man charged with attempted second-degree murder after two jurors said they knew an attorney who entered the courtroom and sat with the prosecutor.

Circuit Judge S. Joseph Davis Jr. declared the mistrial after two of the seven jurors were dismissed leaving the panel one juror short to hear the case.

A second trial of Desmond Assam, 34, of 771 U.S. Highway 17-92, is expected to resume today. He is charged with attempted second-degree murder and aggravated battery and could receive up to 15 years in prison if convicted.

The jurors were excused during the trial because they said they knew Assistant State Attorney Steven Brady who entered the courtroom and sat with the prosecutor on the case, Steve Laurence, Brady was not prosecuting the case.

The excused jurors had cursory professional contact with Brady several years

Mystery Of Charity Jones

Sweeping off a tombstone discovered on her property, Sue Tudor, 2804 S. Park, Sanford, said no one knew the slab was a grave marker until this weekend when, during repairs of a water pump placed on it years ago by someone else, it was removed, revealing the inscription. Mrs. Tudor said so far she's been unable to discover any information about the stone that has been on her property for at least 35 years. The stone, inset, reads: Sacred to the memory of Charity Jones, Died Sept. 4, 1890. Rest in peace.

A Chinese Woman's Place

PEKING (UPI) — Few women hold powerful positions in China, but some men fear their wives are becoming the dominant ones in the family.

The debate began recently when a magazine published the article "Women Cannot Be Too Powerful," the China News Service reported Tuesday.

The male author of the article complained that since his wife is more capable than he, she has taken control of the family and left him to play only a supporting role.

The man lamented what he considered his wife's loss of "all the good characteristics which a Chinese woman has — obedience, gentleness and softness."

The sole role of a married woman, he concluded, should be to "support and admire" her husband.

Southern Baptist Leaders Affirm Move To The Right

DALLAS (UPI) — A deeply divided Southern Baptist Convention has taken another sharp step toward redefining its image in terms of religious and political fundamentalism, decisively returning to office its incumbent president, the Rev. Charles Stanley of Atlanta.

Stanley, 52, a nationally known television preacher and pastor of Atlanta's First Baptist Church, received 24,453 ballots, 55.3 percent of the vote in Tuesday's showdown. Moderate challenger W. Winfred Moore of Amarillo, president of the Baptist General Convention of Texas, garnered 19,795 votes, or 44.7 percent.

But in a surprise gesture aimed at reconciliation, Baptist messengers, as delegates are called, overwhelmingly elected Moore as first vice president, the denomination's No. 2 leadership post, giving him 65 percent of the vote in a three-way contest in which he was a last-minute nominee from the floor.

The two sides in 14.3 million denomination have been feuding for almost a decade. Fundamentalists have charged that theological liberalism is creeping into the church's six seminaries and its national program agencies.

Deficit-Cutting Tax Hikes Eyed

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The first House-Senate budget talks went smoothly but there were hints of coming discord over Social Security and Senate GOP leader Robert Dole already is raising the issue of tax increases to cut the deficit.

The House and Senate budgets cut about $56 billion from the more than $200 billion deficit in fiscal 1986, but the Senate's does more over three years — cutting $290 billion. The House would trim $258 billion in the 1986-88 period.

The Senate's larger cuts come mostly from eliminating popular federal programs that the House preserved and scrapping the scheduled cost-of-living increases for Social Security and other recipients of federal checks.

Dole, R-Kan., told reporters that if he can get the House to go along with the Senate's budget cuts and perhaps get a few more, it may be time to ask the president for a tax increase.

"I think we have to see if the House is serious about cutting spending," Dole said. "I'm still convinced they can go above our level."

In his re-election campaign, Reagan said taxes would be raised "over my dead body" but conceded he might agree to an increase as a last resort if there was a congressional mandate.

Moslems Free Hostages; Blow Up Hijacked Jetliner

BEIRUT, Lebanon (UPI) — Shiite Moslems who hijacked a Royal Jordanian jetliner with 67 people aboard released the hostages and blew up the plane today — 30 hours after they commandeered it.

Witnesses at Beirut International Airport said all the passengers were released shortly before 2 p.m. and that the plane blew up soon afterward.

The hijackers commandeered the plane Tuesday to press demands for the ouster of Palestinian guerrillas from Beirut. Minutes after the plane blew up, firing broke out around the plane but the cause of the gunfire was not immediately known, witnesses reported.

Among those released were American University of Beirut Vice President Landry Slade and his son William, 16.

Officials at the control tower refused to comment on the final stages of the hijack but Lebanese military sources said the five Shiite gunmen "did not come out empty handed from the affair."

One source, who spoke on condition that he not be named, said the release of the passengers was in return for the departure of more than 200 Palestinians from the Beirut area.

Spies Swapped, Not Dissidents

BERLIN (UPI) — The United States pressed unsuccessfully for the release of Soviet dissidents Andrei Sakharov and Anatoly Shcharansky in negotiations that led to post-war Europe's biggest East-West spy swap, a U.S. official said.

American and East German officials carried out the exchange Tuesday on the bridge where American U-2 pilot Gary Powers was swapped for a Soviet colonel in 1962.

Richard Burt, the U.S. ambassador-designate to West Germany, presided over the release of two East Germans, a Pole and a Bulgarian who had been convicted or charged with espionage in the United States.

They were brought to the Glienicke Bridge, which links the American-occupied sector of West Berlin to East Germany, in a U.S. military van. The four were turned over to waiting East German authorities only after 23 alleged Western spies were allowed to walk across the bridge in the opposite direction.

Two other alleged Western agents were also freed by the East as part of the bargain but they did not choose to join the westbound group. None of the agents held by either side was thought to be of major importance.

At a news conference Tuesday, U.S. officials said it took three years to arrange Tuesday's swap and that Moscow was only indirectly involved.

Agca: Soviets Behind Pope Plot

ROME (UPI) — Turkish gunman Mehmet Ali Agca has charged publicly for the first time that the Soviet Union ordered and financed his 1981 assassination attempt on Pope John Paul II.

"The order to kill the pope started from the Soviet Embassy in Sofia," Agca, 27, told a Rome court Tuesday, the 10th day of the trial of three Bulgarians and four other Turks accused of plotting the May 13, 1981, attack in St. Peter's Square.

It was the first time Agca, expected to return to the witness stand today, has charged publicly the Soviet Union directed and financed the shooting.

The Soviet Union today denied Agca's accusation, saying that he had lied from the start of the investigation.

Navy Must Change Communications Codes

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Navy says the Soviet Union reaped "a very valuable intelligence gain" from communications information allegedly supplied by a family-and-friend spy ring and the service was forced to change its codes.

Adm. James Watkins, the chief of naval operations, Tuesday termed the loss of classified communications data "the most serious area of compromise" of Navy security attributed to the suspected all-Navy espionage ring.

Information allegedly slipped to the Soviets by the operation caused a "very serious" but not "catastrophic" blow to Navy security, Watkins said.

But Navy Secretary John Lehman said, "Our security system has left a lot to be desired."

The Navy leaders' comments Tuesday was the first time since arrests in the case began May 20 that the service offered an official assessment of the damage caused by the ring.

In custody and charged with espionage are John Walker, 47, his son Michael, 22, his brother Arthur, 50, and Jerry Whitworth, 45, who has been described as John Walker's best friend.

The elder Walker and Whitworth are retired Navy men; Michael Walker is a sailor last assigned to the nuclear-powered aircraft carrier Nimitz.

Watkins and Lehman also outlined steps to tighten access to classified information, possibly including random lie detector tests for all sailors who handle such data.

Legislation would be needed to permit a wide use of polygraphs, which Lehman said would be limited strictly to questions dealing with possible espionage activities and would not probe into an individual's personal life.

Lehman also said he will seek an amendment to federal law permitting the death penalty for conviction of espionage.

To restrict access to classified information, Lehman said the Navy immediately will reduce the number of security clearances by 10 percent and will aim for a cutback of 50 percent "as soon as feasible" to lessen the chances of the data being passed to potential U.S. adversaries.

Navy Secretary John Lehman: 'Our security system has left a lot to be desired.'

About 900,000 uniformed and civilian Navy personnel now hold security clearances, he said. Those are among 4.3 million people with such clearances.

Watkins, in making a broad damage assessment, said John Walker may have contributed to Soviet knowledge about Navy codes and tactics in anti-air, anti-ship and anti-submarine warfare.

"Some technical design communications information has probably been lost" to the Soviets, Watkins said. "New designs must be accelerated and produced more quickly than planned. That is currently under way."

Lehman said "many millions of dollars" will have to be spent on technical code changes to overcome the damage.

But Watkins said there is no indication the Soviets "have broken the code" of how to detect U.S. missile submarines — one of the most valuable of all defense secrets — and the Navy "remains convinced" that its sub force "remains survivable."

Fairness Of Tax Plan Questioned

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Charging that President Reagan "caved in" to special interest groups, a new Democratic study says Reagan's tax reform proposal is neither as fair nor as simple as he suggests.

A report by the House Democratic Study Group issued Tuesday said the plan "is far tougher on tax provisions used by the middle class than on exotic tax shelters and loopholes used by those who are not paying their fair share of taxes."

But during the Senate Finance Committee's opening hearing on the tax reform proposal, Treasury Secretary James Baker defended the plan as fair to middle-class taxpayers.

Baker warned that Reagan would resist changes that would give individuals more tax relief at the expense of business.

Several times Baker advised senators to "look at the proposal in its entirety" with its increased personal exemption and lower rates.

Labor union leaders, including AFL-CIO President Lane Kirkland, were expected to rally around the fairness issue today when they testify before the House Ways and Means Committee during hearings on the plan.

Baker argued Tuesday that many complaints about the dropped deductions were coming from "relatively few individuals" who benefited from them.

"It's the poor Joe who doesn't itemize who is carrying the load," Baker said.

The Democratic report said a principal reason for the proposal's unfairness is that Reagan spent the six months since the initial Treasury Department draft was issued in December "caving in" to demands from special interests.

As a result, the plan would repeal several widely used middle-class deductions, including those for state and local taxes and the two-earner "marriage penalty," while retaining a number of corporate tax breaks, especially for the oil and gas industry.

The report also suggested Reagan's plan, which he bills as tax simplification, was "a case of gross mislabeling."

"The main simplification for most people would come from elimination of some deductions and credits that they now use to lower their taxes — an 'improvement' that many might prefer to do without," the report said.

Three members of Boy Scout Troop 854, Lake Mary, pause briefly before taking off on a special aerial tour of the Sanford-Orlando area. The boys were among the troop's top salesmen in a recent fund-raising drive to earn money to pay their way to Boy Scout summer camp. In all, Troop 854 members sold more than $2,000 worth of gift and household items during a three-week sales campaign. As a sales incentive, troop committee chairman Lyell Hintz, a longtime pilot, offered to take the top selling Scouts on a sightseeing ride in a private plane. Here, Scout Hank Strickland, Star Scout Brian Tedrow and First Class Scout Scott Hansen accompany Hintz on a preflight check of the aircraft at the Sanford Airport. Not shown is First Class Scout Jimmy Reynolds. Among them, the four boys accounted for nearly $1,200 in sales, or a full 57 percent of the troop total.

Sanford Tells Woman: Mow Grass Or We May Sell Land

Beauty may be in the eye of the beholder, but when it comes to property maintenance in Sanford the final judge is the city commission. The commission told a Sanford woman Monday she had until June 30 to mow her vacant lot at Mellonville and Celery avenues. Kathy Stamm, of 850 Grove Meadow Drive, received a notice from the city requiring her to mow the lot because the grass was higher than 12 inches, a violation of the city code. There are also pieces of concrete strewn on the property, Mayor Betty Smith said. But while the city may consider it unkempt, Ms. Stamm said it was a "typical, naturally wooded lot."

"I personally do not consider this an eyesore," she said. "It's an undeveloped piece of property."

But the commissioners disagreed.

"Frankly, I wouldn't want it next door to me," Commissioner Milton Smith said. He said he inspected the site after receiving numerous complaints from residents.

Commissioner John Mercer said high grass and weeds is often a home for rats and snakes and poses a health hazard. The weeds were so high, Mercer said, that "the last time I was around there I had trouble seeing around the corner."

Under city law, a case involving anyone who doesn't comply with the law within the time allowed by the city commission is turned over to the Code Enforcement Board which may place a lien against the property. The city could then sell the property, but Mercer said that is rare, even though it is a legal possibility.

White Worker Compensated For Dislike Of Blacks

FRANKFORT, Ky. (UPI) — Louisville sanitation worker Gary Pearl, who did not like working with blacks, has won a workers compensation order directing the city to find him a whites-only job environment.

The Workers Compensation Board ruling quoted a doctor who indicated Pearl, 39, had "very specific and strong feelings about working in a situation where he was the only white person."

John Johnson, president of the Kentucky NAACP, said he was "astonished" the worker compensation board "could be so outrageously racist."

Pearl also won a board decision awarding him $231 monthly in payments until he finds another job for a prior condition of stress which worsened when he worked with blacks.

"I think it's probably safe to say mental illness in terms of worker compensation has not been dealt with for a long, long time," said Suzanne Shively, acting director of the worker compensation division in explaining the ruling.

The board ruled Pearl suffered from a paranoid schizophrenic condition that was dormant and then activated by his employment conditions.

Pearl, who said he still fears blacks, said he is not prejudiced but just wants to be left alone.

Woman Receives 10-Year Sentence In Stabbing Death

A Sanford woman who pleaded guilty to a charge of second-degree murder has been sentenced to 25 years in jail for the stabbing death.

Maria Davis, 31, of 1018 Willow Lane, was indicted on a charge of first-degree murder but prosecutors said they agreed to let her plead to the lesser charge because Ms. Davis and the victim, Viola Mae Stafford, 26, of 606 Cypress Ave., fought often and on the night of the murder Ms. Stafford was armed with a razor and tried to cut Ms. Davis.

Seminole Circuit Judge C. Vernon Mize Jr. also ordered Davis to serve 10 years for the violation of a 1971 attempted second-degree murder conviction. The sentences are to run concurrently. Though the sentenced recommended by state guidelines was 12-17 years, Mize said he was increasing Ms. Davis' sentence because of her criminal history.

According to court records, Ms. Stafford was stabbed in the chest with a kitchen-type knife during a fight in the 300 block of Sanford Avenue, Sanford, at 12:22 a.m. Dec. 2.

Ms. Stafford died a few minutes later at Central Florida Regional Hospital.

Ms. Davis said in an interview with the Evening Herald that she acted in self-defense and if circumstances had been a little different, Ms. Stafford could have killed her.

REYKJAVIK, Iceland (UPI) — Thirsty Icelanders will have to wait at least another year before they can quench their thirst on real beer since Parliament called a referendum on the issue.

Cult Bashing In Oregon

A "wall of separation" — that's the constitutional barrier between church and state which for two centuries has strengthened both religion and government. That is why a Los Angeles trial court was right when it recently dismissed a suit charging "clerical malpractice." It's also why an Oregon jury's $39 million verdict against the Scientologists threatens the First Amendment promise of freedom of religion.

In the clerical malpractice case, the parents of Kenneth Nally, a young man who killed himself despite the counseling efforts of clergy at the Grace Community Church in Sun Valley, Calif., claimed that the clerics didn't know their business. A negligent psychologist or psychiatrist can be made to pay damages, the Nallys argued — why not a negligent pastor?

The critical difference is that religion, but not psychology, is a constitutionally protected activity which the government can't routinely police. The ministers might have been well-advised to refer Nally, who was in severe emotional distress, to a mental-health professional. But that's no reason to extend the long arm of the state law into a pastor's chambers.

The verdict against the Scientologists, by contrast, is an assault on the First Amendment. Julie Christofferson Titchbourne, who spent nine months in the church as a 17-year-old, claimed that she had been defrauded with promises that Scientology would improve her eyesight and "communication skills." The jury awarded Titchbourne just $3,202 to reimburse her expenses — and $39 million in punitive damages.

Even in these days of huge punitive damage awards, $39 million is a staggering sum; it signals the jurors' revulsion to the activities of the Scientologists. But the same attributes of this religious organization that made it a target of antipathy — including the strangeness of the belief in the healing power of the "auditing" process, to which Titchbourne submitted — are also the reasons why courts should bend over backwards in protecting its liberties. If this verdict is allowed to stand, it represents a threat not just to Scientology but to unorthodox religion in general.

Ending A Feud

We're happy that Florida and California have ended their troublemakers-export war. You recall that two months ago the Santa Monica police chief bought a plane ticket for a habitual sex offender and sent him to Miami. That was in retaliation for an incident two years before when a Fort Lauderdale judge sent a prostitute to Los Angeles.

But Miami officials were outraged, especially when their new arrival was arrested for indecent exposure. They threatened to sue Santa Monica. But Santa Monica Mayor Christine E. Reed apologized and promised it wouldn't happen again.

We'd guess that Florida could more than hold its own in any exchange of rapscallions with California, but interstate civility dictates that we get along with another sunshine and citrus state.

Boomerang Revival Trips Up 'Star Wars'

WASHINGTON (UPI) — France is reported to object to some aspects of President Reagan's "Star Wars" project, and at first I couldn't understand why.

Then I read about a "boomerang revival" and it all became clear.

According to Newlook magazine, France is one of the leaders of — well, call it the boomerang comeback. Sales in that country total more than 3,000 a month and an estimated 15,000 Frenchmen regularly participate in throwing boomerangs.

No wonder French President Francois Mitterrand opposes part of Reagan's so-called Strategic Defense Initiative.

"Star Wars," which the Soviet Union opposes in toto, would use laser beams and other newfangled weapons to knock out nuclear missiles in outer space.

There is no place in the system, as I understand it, for boomerangs. Which may be the reason Mitterrand is upset.

It may turn out that France is developing boomerang expertise strictly "pour le sport," as they say in Paris.

At any rate, there is no indication that Reagan is willing to modify "Star Wars" research programs to equip strategic defense satellites with unmanned boomerangs.

How well, vis-a-vis lasers, would boomerangs operate in an environment of weightlessness? Such questions may never be answered.

When flung on the ground through Earth's heavy atmosphere, boomerangs generally remain aloft fewer than 30 seconds. The world record, set at Bievres, France, in 1981, is 29.9 seconds.

I don't know how their top speed compares with lasers. I do know, however, that the longest boomerang round trip flight on record is 375 feet. Which is farther than anyone can throw a brick.

The out-and-return boomerang champion is Peter Ruff, who established the existing mark in 1982 in Australia. By contrast, the greatest reported distance for throwing a standard 5-pound building brick is less than 147 feet. And there was no word of the brick returning, as boomerangs frequently do.

According to Newlook, American champion Barnaby Rufe is the only person in the world to have thrown a boomerang faster than 120 mph before it sliced an apple on his head.

William Tell, the legendary Swiss bowman, once shot an apple from his son's head, but he used an arrow. Furthermore, there was no report on how fast the arrow was moving.

Besides that, archery is not undergoing the type of renaissance that boomerangs are enjoying. So let's leave the Tell legend to Rossini and other opera composers and to Lone Ranger fans.

The longest opera, by the way, is "Die Meistersinger von Nurnberg" by Wagner. But this could go on forever, or at least longer than the 315 minutes it takes to perform an uncut version.

Anyway, Ruff is not only the world distance boomerang champion. He also is credited with being a top notch designer. Maybe Mitterrand should hire him.

So what if he never composed a note of music. If a boomerang designs could give France something to shoot at.

The Real Lesson Of Vietnam

It's finally over. The month-long orgy of ceremony marking the tenth anniversary of America's defeat in Southeast Asia has ended. The battalions of network and newspaper personnel deployed to Hanoi and Ho Chi Minh City to take notes and pictures of the Vietnamese communist leaders gloating at how they outlasted the strongest nation in the world are home again. The free-lance articles psychoanalyzing Americans' feelings about the war, the era of the war, the government, and the college students have ebbed. So, now we go back to the problems of tax reform, budget deficit reduction, and Central America, which the Left tells us will be another Vietnam.

Of course, the memories of the war that really count are more than ten years old. I recall the "Vote with your Feet" rally on Boston Common on Election Day 1968, when 2,000 college kids took the day off to demonstrate their disgust with both Nixon and Humphrey. Some yelled "Peace Now!" but the gathering was anything but peaceful. Viet Cong flags were everywhere, with death-head likenesses of Richard Nixon. The speeches, filled with four-letter words, told of violent political upheaval to come.

Two months earlier, in the last week of August, 408 Americans had been killed around Da Nang, the highest weekly total since May. Some 2,500 were wounded.

Almost exactly one year later, 250,000 demonstrators marched down Pennsylvania Avenue on a bright, cold November Saturday afternoon. Rocks were thrown at the South Vietnamese embassy. People were arrested.

A thousand or more had gathered the previous night at Catholic University to sleep on the gym floor. The troupe from the Broadway musical "Hair!" performed. Their songs raised the crowd to a fever pitch — everyone, hundreds, screaming "Peace Now!" — which in unison sounds frighteningly like "Sieg Heil."

Those were exciting days for college students. Exciting, because they were so vastly unaware of, or indifferent to what was going on in Southeast Asia. Nine months before the "New Mobe" march, the Viet Cong executed 1,000 civilians in the provincial capital of Hue.

In late 1973, I visited friends at the University of Wisconsin at Madison. The student dining hall was ringed with demonstrators protesting the cafeteria's use of non-union lettuce. As I walked past the picketers into the building, they took up a chant: "Seabl!" "Fascist!" no doubt noting my military haircut.

CIA Still Hoping For 'Hit' On Qaddafi

By Jack Anderson and Dale Van Atta

WASHINGTON — The CIA backed, trained and continues to support the exile group that tried to assassinate Libyan leader Muammar Qaddafi last year, according to intelligence sources.

The plot failed. Afterward, Qaddafi executed perhaps as many as 200 dissidents and imprisoned thousands more.

The Libyan dictator immediately beefed up his security. He may also have arranged Libya's surprise "union" with Morocco partly to get at the leader of the assassination attempt, who was subsequently booted out by Moroccan King Hassan and now operates out of Iraq.

The CIA-backed assassination group goes by the name National Front for the Salvation of Libya — or

Managua Focal Point

When I was in Santiago, Chile, a couple of years ago I found that people had bitter memories of the Allende regime. They recalled and resented the raging inflation, the censorship, the restrictions on travel, the arrogance of the Marxist militia and much else, but what they resented most of all was the fact that, under the communizing Allende, the city of Santiago had become a mecca for revolutionaries from all over the world. The beautiful and civilized capital teemed with bearded Cubans, East Germans, crackpots from the PLO, North Koreans, Russians.

Those who saw the movie "Missing" received a much-softened view of this foreign invasion. The American couple living in Santiago were depicted as naive, innocent, practically apolitical. They were writing children's books, cutting out paper dolls and so forth when the nasty fascists seized the husband during the military coup. In real life, people like that were doing a lot more than writing children's books.

Well, the good old ideological zoo was forced to pull up stakes in Santiago but it has now found a new home in Managua, current focal point of the World Revolution.

Staff writer Juan O. Tamayo of the Miami Herald recently provided some fascinating social notes about the revolutionary international elite now basking in the Sandinista sun.

"He is a 5-foot-11 gray-eyed surgeon treating children in a Managua slum. She is a polite journalist writing for a Paris magazine. Both are fugitives, wanted in their native Italy for leading left-wing guerrilla gangs.

"Two West Germans linked to the Baader-Meinhoff Gang are now officers in the People's Sandinista Army. One is in charge of a counter-intelligence unit. The other commands an artillery battalion.

"And an Argentine Montonero guerrilla, widow of the Argentine rebel who led the commando team that assassinated former Nicaraguan president Anastasio Somoza in Paraguay, is dating a ranking Nicaraguan official trained by the PLO in Lebanon in the early 1970s."

The Sandinista-Palestinian connection has gone largely unnoticed, but some 150 Sandinistas were trained as terrorists during the 1970s in camps in Lebanon by the Popular Front for the Liberation of Palestine, the most extreme of the Arab terrorist groups. These are back home now. As the phrase has it, there goes the neighborhood.

One PLO-trained Nicaraguan, Communications Minister Enrique Schmidt, was killed last year in a fight with anti-Sandinista guerrillas. His widow, a Basque separatist, works in the Sandinista's Department of Political Education.

Another Sandinista graduate of the Lebanese terrorist camps is Deputy Interior Minister Rene Vivas, who, it is pleasant to hear, is in love. He's dating an Argentine Montonero guerrilla, the widow of Julio Alfredo Iruzun, head of the Montonero hit team that assassinated Somoza in Paraguay in what the killers called a gesture of "revolutionary solidarity" with the Sandinistas.

The Italian government has presented Managua with a list of 22 fugitives now in Nicaragua.

Political Districting A Trauma

WASHINGTON (NEA) — An Arizona Republican describes it as "probably one of the most traumatic things I ever went through." An Ohio Democrat calls it "the political equivalent of genetic engineering."

They're both talking about the process of adjusting the boundaries of congressional and state legislative districts to conform with the population shifts measured by the census.

Reapportionment is of crucial importance to legislators because the composition of their districts can make the difference between victory and defeat in future elections. "There are two things that excite the (state) Senate — reapportionment and horse racing," explains a Maryland politician.

In a series of landmark decisions handed down slightly more than two decades ago, the U.S. Supreme Court imposed an unprecedented degree of rationality and equity upon what long had been a scandalous system of redistricting.

Although it still remains essentially a political process, the high tribunal recently accepted jurisdiction in a case that will force it to confront — for the first time — the issue of reapportionment as a partisan device.

That development poses two important questions: Should the Supreme Court attempt to reduce or eliminate the pervasive influence of politics in redistricting? If the court makes such an effort, is it likely to be successful?

Some skeptics argue that reapportionment is — and ought to be — inextricably and exclusively linked to politics. Any attempts to radically alter that, they believe, is almost certainly doomed to failure.

"Politics and political considerations are inseparable from districting and apportionment," the Supreme Court acknowledged in a 1973 decision. "The reality is that districting has and is intended to have substantial political consequences."

As recently as 1983, Justice John Paul Stevens suggested that "it is unrealistic to attempt to proscribe all political considerations in the essentially political process of redistricting."

But Stevens also suggested that blatant attempts by political parties to use reapportionment for crude partisan purposes could invite judicial review.

Indeed, the litigation soon to come before the Supreme Court involves what those who initiated the civil suit aptly described as "purely and simply a case of unadorned and unconstitutional gerrymandering in its most extreme form."

Libyan exiles, he enjoys little or no support inside Libya. For another thing, our sources doubt that the articulate accountant and his band of defecting diplomats are capable of putting together a successful coup, which would depend on internal military support they don't have.

Finally, these sources fault Magarieff for being obsessed with simply killing Qaddafi, and charge that his ideas about the future of Libya are unsophisticated. Critics stress the necessity for overthrowing Qaddafi's entire regime.

While Qaddafi often kowtows to Moscow, his second-in-command, Maj. Abdul Salam Jalloud, is completely on the Kremlin's leash. Killing Qaddafi and leaving Jalloud in charge would be a triumph for the Soviets and a disaster for the United States.

...China

line, said Troy Simmons, sales manager.

Other helicopters are equipped for the more expensive aviation fuel. In China, where getting aviation fuel to its vast and remote areas is a problem, the "Bearcat" was the solution, Simmons said.

"You could land it at a Shop and go. fill it up and go on," Simmons said.

The Bearcat is a "hybrid" helicopter; the company buys scrapped helicopters from the military and converts them to its own model. It carries up to 10 passengers and 2,000 pounds of cargo.

Another selling point for the Chinese was the price. The "remanufactured" Bearcat sells for about $230,000, Simmons said, adding that new helicopters of similar size go for about $3 million.

"Mercedes has its place. So does the Volkswagen. This is the Volkswagen for them," Simmons said, pointing to the Bearcat.

The Chinese plan to use the choppers for cropdusting, firefighting and transporting tourists, he said.

Simmons says the company's break into China's market represents a trek into "one of the last frontiers" economically. He said the deal also means a big boost for Sanford's economy.

"People don't realize that this airport has potential," Simmons said. "With some promotion Sanford could draw some cargo traffic from Orlando International Airport."

Orlando Helicopter is expanding its operations at the airport, remodeling its warehouse to accommodate more parts and offices. The company, was originally based at Orlando's Herndon Airport, but moved to Sanford in 1971.

...Gas Tax

And Casselberry Mayor Charles Glascock said the issue will be decided in his city by the city council at its Monday night meeting.

While he wouldn't second guess the city council in his community, he said it's unlikely the councilmen will agree to anything that would give less money for streets and roads.

Under the new formula, Casselberry is to get $33,000 less than last year's $253,000.

The formula used by the county for sharing the money from the 4 cents tax is based on the one recommended by the Legislature. That is, for the shares to be figured on expenditures from local money spent for roads and streets during the previous five years by the county and each of the cities.

Under an informal agreement of the Council of Local Governments, the county was to continue to receive 65 percent of the revenue while the 35 percent to be shared by the cities was to be refigured each year by arriving at percentages for each based on the amount of money each city spent during the previous five years for roads and streets.

Hooper told commissioners interlocal agreements must be signed by the county and all seven cities no later than July 1 on how the proceeds from the new 2 cent tax will be shared.

James Evers of the state Department of Revenue said, however, if the county and cities cannot agree on a method of distribution, it will be computed by the state on the same formula, set by the state, for the 4 cents.

And state Rep. Art Grindle's office said for the tax to be levied, four of the five county commissioners must vote for it. And both the 4 cent and 2 cent tax will continue for 30 years. The 4 Cents was originally to be for 10 years, but the new legislation changed that.

...Mistrial

ago, and the mistrial granted to avoid the possibility of prejudice against Assam. One juror knew Brady about five years ago when she worked in a legal office with which Brady had several contacts. The other juror had worked with a group appointed by the courts to protect children's interest in proceedings and knew Brady through some cases, Laurence said today.

Assam is charged with the Nov. 4 shooting of Richard DeFazio, 35, of 30 Jackson Circle, Winter Springs, and Jerry Stahley, 32, of 390 Harigold Road, Casselberry.

According to court records and testimony, the men were shot near Joe's Pawn Shop, 761 U.S. Highway 17-92. The shop is owned by Desmond Assam and his father Joseph. On the day of the shooting, there was a garage sale for a boy's football team a nearby business, Dun-Rite Transmission, 775 U.S. Highway 17-92, and cars from the sale were reportedly using the pawn shop's parking spaces.

DeFazio and Stahley were about to move two vehicles from the parking spaces when a 1979 beige Buick owned by Joe Assam drove at them, striking DeFazio. The car stopped, backed up and struck DeFazio again, tossing him onto the car's trunk.

According to witnesses, DeFazio then entered the car through the driver's door and began to fight with the driver. As witnesses stepped in to break up the fight Assam's wife began screaming for help. The younger Assam then reportedly left his nearby home carrying a .38-caliber handgun in both hands pointed in the air.

As the fracas continued, a shot was fired grazing Stahley's stomach and hitting DeFazio in the back.

Both men have since recovered.

The elder Assam was also arrested on a charge of aggravated assault and battery with a motor vehicle. Those charges were dropped by the state, Laurence said.

The trial is expected to take several days. — Deane Jordan

Tip Pays Off; Officers Nab Man On Tag, Resisting Arrest Charges

Seminole County undercover agents, acting on a tip that a suspect driving a stolen car would be at a Sanford bar Tuesday, spotted a suspect during a stakeout and pursued him to his home where he struggled with agents and made a brief escape, a sheriff's report said.

The car apparently wasn't stolen, but the license tag attached to it had been assigned to another car and the man was charged in connection with that. He was also charged with resisting arrest with violence and driving with a suspended license, the report said.

Agents reported an informant told them the man would be at the Buccaneer Lounge at the Cavalier Motor Inn, U.S. Highway 17-92, at about 10:30 p.m. where they spotted the car, the report said.

At about 11:45 p.m. sheriff's deputies followed the suspect as he drove from the bar to his home. When he got out of the car agents grabbed him. A 10-minute struggle ensued, the man broke free and ran inside his house. He ran out a back door and was nabbed again about 40 minutes later at the Lil Champ convenience store on Country Club Road, Sanford, the report said.

Charged was Tracy Steven Towers, 25, of 512 Satsuma Drive, Sanford. He was being held in lieu of $5,000 bond.

FORCED TO DRIVE
An apparently intoxicated Casselberry man who allegedly forced his 14-year-old son to drive has been charged with child abuse, carrying a concealed firearm and threatening a sheriff's deputy.

The deputy reported stopping the vehicle being driven by the boy when she noticed it had no license plate sticker. The boy became very upset when it was determined he had no driver's license. He told the deputy he had been cited twice before for driving without a license, but the charges had been dropped, a Seminole County sheriff's report said.

The boy said his father makes him drive when he drinks, the report said.

The adult, male passenger, who appeared intoxicated, got out of the vehicle and began to verbally harass the officer and threatened to kill her, the report said.

After he was arrested a search of the vehicle turned up a .32-caliber revolver under the passenger's seat, along with a bag of bullets, the report said.

James Roy Smith, 41, of 512 Grandview Way, Casselberry, was arrested at 11:07 a.m. Sunday on Jergo Road, Casselberry. He was being held in lieu of $5,000 bond.

NOT TO TOLATE
A Pennsylvania man ate his burger and fries at a Sanford restaurant, but decided not to pay and wound up in jail.

The man downed the cheeseburger and fries at Casselberry's Country Kitchen, 1500 S. French Ave., at about 8:30 p.m. Monday. After his meal he was asked to pay and he refused and said there was nothing that could be done because he had already eaten the food, a police report said.

Sanford police thought otherwise. According to the report, Michael Fisher, 33, of Intercourse, Pa., who had no identification, was charged with defrauding an innkeeper. He was later freed on $100 bond.

CHARGE SPREE
A 24-year-old Casselberry woman has been charged with four counts of uttering a forgery and petty theft after an alleged shopping spree with a stolen credit card.

Sheriff's deputies arrested the woman at her home at 2:20 p.m. Monday, accusing her of using a stolen Mastercharge card in

Injury Limits Lewis' Events

INDIANAPOLIS (UPI) — A leg injury is expected to limit Carl Lewis, winner of four gold medals at the Los Angeles Olympics, to just one event at the U.S. Outdoor Track and Field Championships.

Most of the nation's top track and field stars will compete in the three-day meet that opens Friday at Indiana University Track Stadium. A total of 19 men's titles and 20 women's championships will be decided.

The Indianapolis track was the site of the 1983 outdoor nationals, where Lewis won the 100- and 200-meters and the long jump. Lewis took the 200 in a U.S. record 19.75, and won the long jump by leaping 28-10 1/4, the second-longest effort ever.

Lewis will not compete in the long jump this week because he remains hampered by a pulled right hamstring suffered at a May 18 track meet in Los Angeles, where he set a record with his 42nd straight long jump victory.

Although the Houston resident is not a threat to break Bob Beamon's world long jump record of 29-2 1/2, he will run the 200 meters and possibly the 100 meters, depending on how his leg feels.

Last year, Lewis equaled Jesse Owens' 1936 feat by winning four Olympic track events — the 100, 200, long jump and 400 relay, where he ran the final leg.

Four other major U.S. track stars will miss this week's meet.

Olympic 400-meter hurdles winner Edwin Moses, who has won 94 straight finals in his specialty, won't compete because of an injured right knee.

Olympic 100-meter champion Evelyn Ashford, who holds the world record in the event, will be absent after giving birth to a daughter May 30.

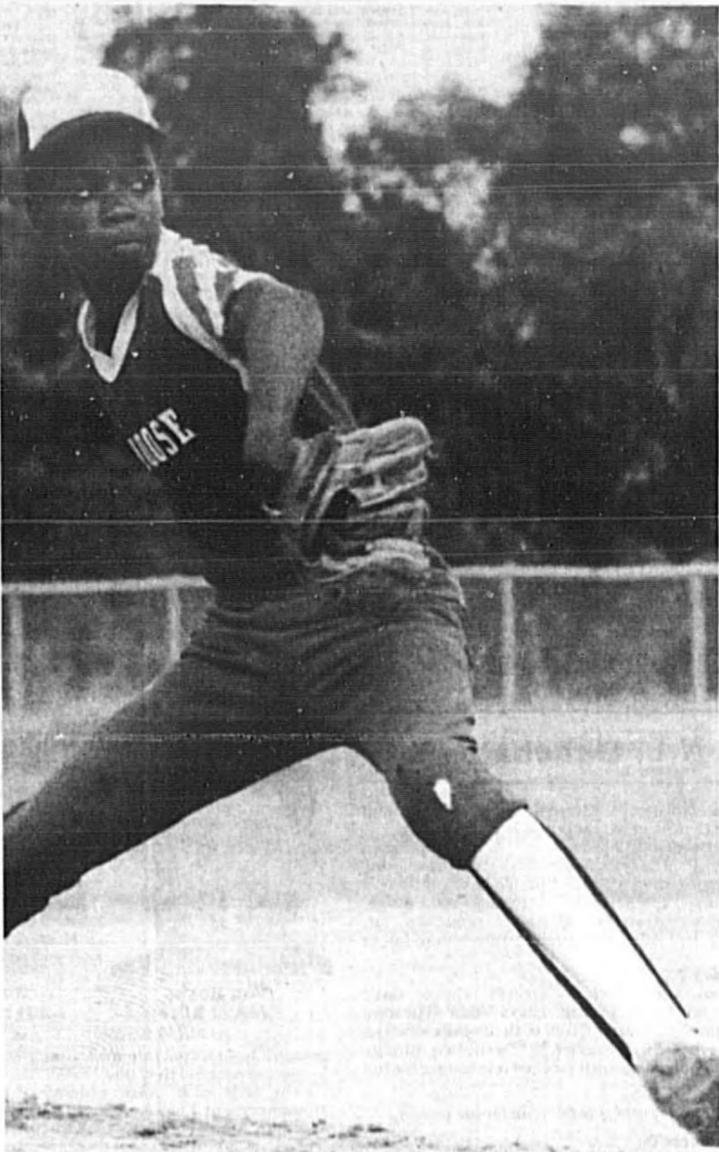

Mary Decker Slaney, who holds every U.S. record from 800- to 10,000-meters, will skip the meet to prepare for an attempt at the women's mile world record at a meet June 18 in Canada.

Alonzo Babers, gold medalist in the 400 meters at Los Angeles, is attending Air Force flight training school.

The entry list includes Olympic 110-meter hurdles winner Roger Kingdon, who won the event in Sunday's Jumbo Elliott Invitational meet. His 13.25 effort Sunday was just off the Olympic record of 13.2 he set at Los Angeles.

Other Olympic champions seeking a national title include triple jumper Al Joyner, 100-meter hurdler Benita Fitzgerald-Brown and Valerie Brisco-Hooks, who last year became the first women ever to win the 200- and 400-meters in the same Olympics.

Joan Benoit, winner of the first Olympic women's marathon, plans to run the 10,000 meters.

Mike Merthie rears back and fires. He had a strong second half.

Kiwanis Duels Moose Tonight

By Chris Fister
Herald Sports Writer

Two teams that have taken their lumps in the second half of the Sanford Junior League season will meet tonight at 6 at Chase Park for the first half title and the right to play Ball Motor Line in the City Series.

Moose and Kiwanis, who tied for the first half title with 7-3 records, have not done as well in the second half. Moose finished at 5-4 in the second half, with one game rained out, and 12-7 overall while Kiwanis fell to 4-6 in the second half and finished at 11-9.

Neither team has been very successful in their most recent outings. Moose dropped a 12-0 decision to Ball Motor Line this past Friday while Kiwanis was beaten by lowly Rotary, 11-7. It was the only win of the season for Rotary.

Tonight, Moose and Kiwanis will try to recapture the magic that enabled them to tie for the first half crown.

Moose will go with catcher Mike Merthie or Jimmy Murphy, or a combination of the two, on the mound. Merthie, a 13-year-old, had control problems earlier in the season but has come on strong since Merthie is the more overpowering of the two pitchers.

Harvey Clinger, one of the while Murphy is a good control pitcher. The Moose duo combined for a no-bitter against Rotary late in the second half.

On the other hand, Sammy Edwards has been the most consistent pitcher for Kiwanis. He was instrumental on the mound in leading Kiwanis for a tie for the first half title.

Offensively, neither team is loaded with power but both have a number of good contact hitters. The Merthie brothers, Mike and Anthony, have been a good 1-2 punch for Moose in the top two spots in the order. Switch-hitting Harry Chubberton has been hot with the bat lately and Scooter Leonard is the top run-producer on the team.

In the field, Leonard anchors the infield at shortstop with Jeff Derr a steady glove at second. Mike Merthie and Murphy usually play third base when not pitching and Bradford and Meadell are the top outfielders. Anthony Merthie is the catcher.

Bernard Mitchell is one of the few power hitters for Kiwanis which is the defending Junior League champion.

Butch's Outslugs Medco

Butch's Chevron came back from a 10-6 deficit with a nine-run third inning and held on for a 18-15 victory over Medco Pharmacy in Sanford Little American League action Tuesday at Westside Field.

The big hit in the inning for Butch's Chevron was Eli Blanton's three-run homer. The only other hit of the frame was a single by Matt Wilk. Butch's also took advantage of seven walks in the inning.

Harvey Clinger, one of the leading hitters in the league, led the nine-hit Butch's Chevron attack with three hits and three RBIs. Blanton and Eric Washington contributed two hits each.

Albert Anderson led the way for Medco with two hits including a grand slam homer in the bottom of the first inning. Anderson added an RBI double to finish with five RBIs and he also scored four times. Arayal Jones and Andre Stokes added two hits each for Medco.

United 13s Eye Soccer Success At Prep Levels

The soccer explosion has made Seminole County one of the most competitive in the state in all levels of the sport.

The Seminole Soccer Club, Sanford Soccer Club and F.C. United Soccer Club are all strong organizations which have been around for some time now. Those leagues give the area high schools an outstanding feeder system.

This past year was a prime example as Seminole County had a number of the best high school soccer teams — boys and girls — in the state, including the girls state champion, Lyman, and boys state runnerup, Lake Brantley.

The F.C. United Soccer Club of Casselberry is one of those youth leagues that has enabled Seminole County players to develop their skills. This past May, F.C. United's Tornados, a 13 and under squad, came away with the Florida State Boys Under 13 Division Championship.

Members of that team, who will be entering the eighth grade this coming school year, and the high schools they would eventually attend are:

The Tornados also have a pair of excellent coaches in Larry Betsinger and Paul Johnson. Betsinger is the junior varsity coach at Lake Mary High while Johnson was a member of the World Cup team for Bolivia.

"He goes through the drills with the kids," Betsinger said of Johnson. "The kids will do anything for him."

Betsinger said that most of the kids on the team have been playing soccer since they were five years old. Bines, Cohen, Greenspoon and Kroll have been playing together for coach Bill Kroll since their Under 8 season when they won their division in the Central Florida Youth

"It's an excellent group," said Kroll who has been active in youth soccer for the past eight years. "A lot of them will make excellent high school players. Seminole County will continue to be a power in soccer for years and years to come."

During the 1981-82 season, the Tornados not only won the Under 10 division in the Central Florida League, but went on in the Florida Youth Soccer League to capture the State Region "B" title with a perfect 10-0 record.

The next two years, the team was tops in their age division in the Central Florida league and

Floyd Searches For A Superstar

BIRMINGHAM, Mich. (UPI) — Raymond Floyd, it might be said, is a star in search of a superstar.

He is looking for a hero, someone to lead the pack, a man who will appeal to the public with some incredible feats of daring on the golf course.

What he believes golf desperately needs is another Jack Nicklaus or Tom Watson, and he is troubled that he can't sight anyone on the horizon.

Perhaps it was the cold, wet, gloomy afternoon at Oakland Hills, or the fact his left hand was wrapped in ice because of a flareup of the tendinitis which has afflicted him for more than 20 years, but Floyd was in a reflective mood Tuesday two days before the start of the U.S. Open.

There has always been a natural progression of superstars in golf, with people like Walter Hagen, Bobby Jones, Ben Hogan, Sam Snead, Arnold Palmer, Nicklaus and Watson following one upon the other.

Now, Floyd wonders, how long it will be before anyone else ascends to the throne.

It's been 14 years since Watson turned professional, and Floyd is perturbed that golf hasn't been able to flash another super hero before an admiring public in all that time.

What's worse, he doesn't feel golf is helping itself with the institution of an all-exempt system.

"We need a young guy to come out here and exert himself and get the public turned on to the game," Floyd said Tuesday. "If you don't think we weren't pulling for Ben Crenshaw when he came up, or Hal Sutton a couple of years ago..."

"We thought Sutton could do it, we'd be hoping he'd win. He broke my heart, although he can still come along. Whoever it is doesn't have to look like Robert Redford, but we need someone to win a lot of majors and take the public by the horn."

The chances of this happening were reduced considerably, Floyd believes, with the adoption of an all-exempt system in 1983. Under this format, the top 125 players on the earnings list each year receive a full year's exemption.

Previously, only the top 60 gained exemption, and others, with certain exceptions, had to try to qualify on a Monday for the few available spots in that week's tournament.

"Let me say that at the time I had no opinion on the new system. I was completely neutral," Floyd said. "But now I say it is adverse. We provide too much of a free ride for some players, while there are some good players outside who can't get in."

"The old system worked, and it seemed every five years we pulled out a superstar. Now we've gone eight or nine years without developing a superstar on our soil."

"The system is not allowing the superstar because there is so much parity. The players coming out now have a year's free roll and are bankrolled by a sponsor. These guys are coming out looking to win. There's no longer the pressure of having to qualify on Monday."

With the new system, Floyd believes a lot more players will be winning tournaments than in the past, but that many of them will be gone from the Tour within a couple of years.

Blake: Funds Won't Be Problem At Present Pace

By Chris Fister
Herald Sports Writer

Shownda Martin, the state's best ever prep half miler, and the Seminole High mile relay team both finished the 1985 track season unbeaten. Next weekend, Martin and the mile relay team hope to put their unbeaten records on the line at the ISI Junior National Track Meet in Elmhurst, Ill.

Coach Emory Blake is calling on the community for help in raising funds to send these talented athletes to the meet. Blake said each of the four girls needs $355.50 for round trip air fare which doesn't include hotel and meals. After one day, $800 has been raised.

"It shouldn't be any problem if we can keep up that pace," Blake said. "We hope to find some more donors who are willing to help sponsor these girls who did such a wonderful job during the track season, representing Seminole High and Sanford."

Donations can be made to the teachers credit union or the Seminole High Girls Track team. Anyone who wished to contribute can contact coach Blake, coach Ken Brauman or Jim Thompson at Seminole High School.

The Junior National meet will begin Friday, June 21 with finals Saturday, June 22.

"We're hoping to leave Wednesday (the 19th) afternoon," said Blake. "It will give us a chance to feel out the area and look at the track and loosen up a little."

Martin, only a freshman, set a record in every meet she ran in this season. She won the 4A state title in the 880 run in record time. Her best time, 2:09.9, was turned in at the Sunshine State Games.

"The qualifying time (for the 800 meters) is 2:11," said Blake. "Shownda's already surpassed that standard. If she qualifies at the Junior Nationals, she would be picked up by the junior national committee who would pick up her tab the rest of the summer. Then she would get a chance to run in meets in other countries. It's important for us to get Shownda to a meet like this."

IN BRIEF

Reynolds Appeals To Citizenry To Design Logo For Conference

Every conference needs a logo doesn't it? Don Reynolds, Lake Mary High School principal, said Tuesday that the new Seminole Athletic Conference is no different.

After Monday night's meeting, Reynolds opened the selection of a logo to the public, calling for the citizenry to submit suggestions. Suggestions should be mailed to SAC Logo, Evening Herald, 300 N. French Ave., Sanford, Fla. 32771.

"We'd like to get something real catchy," said Reynolds Tuesday. "There are a lot of good artists out there and we want to hear from them. This is going to be a great conference and we want a great logo."

The SAC is comprised of Seminole, Lake Mary, Lyman, Oviedo, Lake Howell and Lake Brantley high schools. All except Oviedo were members of the Five Star Conference for the past decade. Oviedo was an Orange Belt Conference member last year. The remaining Volusia County members of the Five Star are attempting to keep it intact.

The conference will begin this fall with football, swimming and cross country championships.

In other SAC news, Russ McGonigal was named the league's executive director. McGonigal held the same position with the Five Star. McGonigal joins president Darvin Boothe, Lake Brantley principal, vice-president Wayne Epps, Seminole principal, and secretary Bob Peterson, Lake Brantley athletic director, on the board of officers.

The board also established the SAC's charter and its dues Monday.

Brantley Sets Camp In Leesburg

Boys ages 8-17 are invited to train with the professionals at the Scot Brantley-Mark Cotney Football Camp, June 23-28 at the A.C.A. Academy in Leesburg.

Cost of the camp is $245 for overnight campers and $100 for day camp. ### Albeck Is Choice For Bulls' Job

CHICAGO (UPI) — New Jersey Coach Stan Albeck is reportedly the Chicago Bulls' top choice to serve as their new head coach.

A Chicago newspaper (the Southtown Economist) reported Wednesday that Bulls' officials have narrowed the list down to three and that Albeck, a native of Chenoa, Ill., and a graduate of Bradley, is their top choice.

Albeck, 54, currently has one year remaining on his contract with the Nets. The report said the Nets would be willing to yield Albeck to Chicago if the Bulls pay off the remainder of a $300,000 debt to San Antonio. The Nets owe the Spurs that sum for luring Albeck away from San Antonio two years ago.

The Bulls dismissed former coach Kevin Loughery last month. Loughery had one year remaining on his contract.

O'Sullivan Drops Nash In 6th

HAMILTON, Ontario (UPI) — Toronto welterweight Shawn O'Sullivan scored his fifth straight pro boxing victory Tuesday night, knocking out Junior Nash of Philadelphia at 1:45 of the sixth round of a scheduled eight-round bout.

Despite the victory at McMaster University's Ivor Wynne Center in Hamilton, west of Toronto, the 23-year-old Olympic silver medalist said he did not feel as sharp as he should have been and was "having trouble landing clean, hard shots" against the more experienced Nash.

O'Sullivan now is 5-0, with three knockouts. Nash, 24, has 10 victories, three losses and one draw.

Baker Rolls Up 101-Pin Edge

DENVER, Colo. (UPI) — Mark Baker of Garden Grove, Calif., regained the lead in the $115,000 Denver Open, taking a 101-pin edge over Mike Edwards after five rounds Tuesday afternoon.

Baker, who led after three rounds but fell 33 pins behind Mike Aulby Monday night, averaged better than 231 in Round 5 to up his pinfall total to 8,028.

Edwards, a non-winner out of Tulsa, Okla., was even more impressive, averaging better than 242 in the round. Edwards had games of 238, 244, 244, 258, 266, 236, 198 and 258 and went 7-1 in match play to jump from ninth place to second with 7,927.

Reds' Tryout Set For June 15

The Cincinnati Reds will conduct an "open" tryout camp for baseball players in Tampa on Saturday, June 15 at the Redland Complex, located on Dale Mabry Highway.

Registration will begin at 9:30 a.m. and the camp will get underway at 10 a.m. and will end about 4 p.m.

The camp will be under the direction of Scouting Supervisor George Zuraw. He'll be assisted by Tampa Tarpon Manager Marc Bombard.

The camp is open to players from 15 years of age, through and including players 22 years of age. American Legion players must have written permission from their Legion Coach or Commander in order to participate.

Rain Sidelines O-Twins, Astros

The Orlando Twins and the Ocala Astros were both rained out of their baseball games Tuesday night.

Orlando plays a double-header against Columbus tonight in Southern League action at Tinker Field beginning at 6:30. Ocala, which holds a four-game lead over Winter Haven in the Florida State League's Central Division, plays at Winter Haven tonight at 7:30.

The Astros trailed, 2-0, in the third inning when rain washed out Tuesday's action.

Tom Grady, 67, Shoots His Age

WINTER SPRINGS — Tom Grady, a 67-year-old Winter Park resident, joined an exclusive club Monday afternoon when he fired a 67 on the par-71 Big Cypress Golf Course. He played the white tees.

"He came real close about two months ago when he shot a 68," said Big Cypress executive Dick Tiffany. "I think he needed a birdie on 18 and he got a par."

Grady has been a member of Big Cypress for five years.

Please, Roberto, No Mas

NEW YORK (UPI) — Please, Roberto, no mas.

The latest word is that Roberto Duran is leaning more and more toward coming out of his one-year "retirement" to fight again.

Worse yet, his friends, the real ones who have his best interests at heart, keep telling him what a big mistake he'll be making to do it, and the more they tell him that, the more hard-headed he becomes about showing them they're all wrong.

It never occurs to him that HE could be the one who's wrong. It seldom does with any fighter who's at the end of his rope. The majority of them reach that point and generally figure they're good for at least one more. It's something like an occupational disease with them.

With Duran, who'll be 34 in a few days and is much closer to 200 pounds now than he is to the middleweight limit of 160, a lot depends on what day you happen to catch up with him.

Catch him on Monday and he'll tell you forget about all that excess weight he's lugging around. It's nothing. He can lose it in a few weeks. He still feels good and has all the moves and he's sure he can come back and maybe beat Marvelous Marvin Hagler.

Catch him on Tuesday, the following day, and he'll tell you who needs it. He isn't hurting for money and what's he got to prove.

But the day after, on Wednesday, it starts all over again with Duran saying just wait and see how he's going to fool everybody the same way he did when he knocked out Davey Moore to win the WBA world junior middleweight title two years ago after so many said he was finished then.

Bob Arum, the top man at Top Rank, is one of those waiting to see if Duran is serious about fighting again after the way Thomas Hearns annihilated him in less than two rounds a year ago, then Arum will accommodate him by providing Mustafa Hamsho, the rough, tough Syrian.

Milton Richman
UPI EDITOR
-SPORTS

"Duran is in Miami Beach now," Arum says. "He's there ostensibly to start training. The deal is that I and (matchmaker) Teddy Brenner will look him over in July to see how he's doing. I have a date reserved at Madison Square Garden in September. But it all depends on Duran's desire."

A few weeks ago, Duran came from Panama to New York to talk to Arum. He didn't say he would fight again but that he might. Arum told Duran he was willing to promote a fight with him in it, but he didn't press him.

Duran said he'd need some equipment. Gloves, trunks, running suits, other things like that he'd use in training.

You take it out of Duran had never been to Everlast before. The sporting goods company is located in the South Bronx and many of its personnel are Hispanic. They've had fighters like Muhammad Ali, Larry Holmes and Joe Frazier come for merchandise, but never Duran.

"It was like the Pope coming here," after Hearns become the first man ever to stop him a year ago in Las Vegas. They were trying to show their allegiance to Duran, who left the ring with his eyes still glazed.

"He really got hit with a helluva punch," says Ray Arcel, who worked with Duran for 10 years and knows him at least as well as anyone else in boxing. "After Hearns hit him, he fell face forward, which is not a good sign."

Naturally, Arcel, who handled Duran for both his fights with Sugar Ray Leonard, doesn't think he should go back into the ring anymore.

"I would hate to see him make the attempt," he says. "First of all, he has to take all this weight off. That has always been a problem for him. In trying to take so much weight off, I think that will hurt him. Maybe he can lose 10 or 15 pounds without that much trouble. But we're talking more like 30 or 40 pounds. If Duran weighed 170 and wanted to get down to 160 or 155, I'd say he could beat Mustafa. But I think he'll only beat himself trying to make the weight."

Duran once held world titles in three divisions: Lightweight, welterweight and junior welterweight.

More than anything else, I think he misses all the regard and attention, all the celebrity, that automatically came with his being the champion.

When he talks about coming back, I'm pretty sure it isn't for the money. I think he's bored because he doesn't have anything to do. He tried forming a band and as I understand it, that didn't work out spectacularly.

So what else is there for him to do? He's not that interested in the permanent races.

Duran lost to Hagler in November of 1983 but went the distance with him and didn't look that bad. He must think of that once in a while. And when he does, he naturally must think about meeting him again.

Before he could possibly do that, though, he'd have to get past Hearns.

Now that ought to stop him right there.

Amato No. 1 But Garlits Makes Move

KIRKERSVILLE, Ohio (UPI) — Joe Amato of Old Forge, Pa., leads the top fuel division heading into the National Hot Rod Association Spring Nationals but Big Daddy is on the move.

Amato has 3,792 points in the Winston World Championship Series point standings, but Don Garlits of Ocala, has won the last two races and is second at 3,708. Garlits captured the Southern National and Cajun Nationals, his 24th and 25th career NHRA Top Fuel titles.

"While we've been stumbling, he (Garlits) has been gaining momentum," said Amato. "We need a good showing at the Spring Nationals to turn this thing around."

Garlits won the Southern Nationals with an all-time best speed of 265.48 mph and set a performance pace at 5.58 seconds to win the Cajun Nationals with a time of 255.24.

Garlits retired from drag racing five years ago to dedicate his time to building "The Don Garlits Museum of Drag Racing" in Ocala but returned to competition this year.

Aging Tennis Buffs Need An 'Ace' Up Their Sleeve

It's been almost 11 years now since I played my first junior vet tournament. This the is the 35 and over group. I had just moved to Florida and was anxious to start playing tournaments.

This one was the state hardcourt tournament in Ocala and was held in three divisions. The 35 and over, 45 and over, and 55 and over. I enjoyed the tournament a lot and got to play a great deal of tennis.

One thing that I found very odd, though, was the fact that everyone there, especially in the 45 and over group and 55 and over group, seemed to have some sort of injury. Many of these players had several injuries. In fact, they looked like walking, talking, Johnson and Johnsons.

Some could hardly seem to move. Braces on the knees, braces on the elbows, Ace bandages of all sizes wrapped here and there, and lots of other various and assorted medical supplies in their tennis bags, just in case they were needed.

I talked with one player who said he could simply not play a match without taking two Excedrin and two Tylenol — his own special RX for the pain of tennis elbow.

It was amazing to me to see all this. It took some of the players 30 minutes to get all their bandages in place before they could get on the court to start to play. Playing did not come directly after getting on the courts. First came about 15 minutes of stretching and "warming up."

I was amazed at all this and wondered what in the world all these players has been doing to get in such horrible condition. (Actually, once the matches started and the muscles of these gladiators were warm, they moved with grace and expertise and their shot making was exceptional.) Still, I could not get over all the bandages and braces.

I was sitting out at Bayhead the other day, getting ready to play a good friend and regular opponent, Scott Reagan, when he made the comment, "Would you hurry and get all that 'stuff' on so we can play."

I suddenly had a flashback to that time 11 years ago when I had laughed and been so amused by all the "old guys", and all their paraphernalia. I took a quick inventory of what I was using just to be able to get out on the court.

I had six band-aids on various toes (I had been playing a lot on hard courts and had developed blisters). I had two large bunion pads. I had my counterforce brace for my tennis elbow, an Ace bandage for a sore left knee, and of course, my Orthotics (These are used for correcting a pronation problem when I run.)

Anyway, I finally got on the court and stretched good and proceeded to soundly thrash Scott. (He won't mind me saying this because he knows he is a super player and soundly thrashed me more than I soundly thrash him.) I had forgotten all about the aches and pains and injuries for an hour or so and would not even think of them again until I had home and started cooling off and removing all my "stuff."

The point is, tennis is a game you can play until you are 80 or 90 years old. If you adapt your game to your age or relative physical limitations and if you have a lot of help from Ace, Bike and Johnson and Johnson, you can keep playing forever.

You may often play with some pain or discomfort but you are on the court. That is the bottom line to those who love tennis. It's really not important after you reach a certain point in your tennis life whether you win or lose or can beat this guy or that guy, what matters is being able to be on the court and hit that ball.

For awhile, by doing this, all the aches and pains go away and you are floating with the sheer delight of just being able to play.

The mile relay team consists of Martin and fellow freshman Dorelle Webster along with graduated seniors Glenda Bass and Katrina Walker. The mile relay team also won the 4A State meet in record time and its best of the season is 3:48.2. The qualifying time in the Junior National meet for the mile relay (4 X 400 meters) is 3:52.

"The mile relay team has not been beaten and hasn't really been pushed," Blake said. "I hope the competition (at the Junior Nationals) is a whole lot better."

This is the first time Blake has attempted to send an athlete to the Junior Nationals. "We've really never had a Shownda Martin before," Blake said. "She's the fastest female (in the 880) in the history of Florida."

It's a good bet, too, that Martin may be the fastest freshman female half miler in the nation. "I'm inclined to agree with that," added Blake.

Both would like a chance to find out June 21-22.

Sandra Vogel, Robert Baker Repeat Vows

Sandra Gay Vogel and Robert Lewis Baker were married April 20, at 4:00 p.m. in the First Baptist Church, Sanford. Pastor Paul Murphy performed the double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George "Ed" Vogel of Lake Markham, Sanford. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Baker of Sanford.

Dick Atken was the organist and Pamela Ganas was the soloist. Together they sang "Just You and I."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose for her vows a gown fashioned of chiffon over bridal taffeta. Venice star flowers embellished with seed pearls and sequins outlined the modified Queen Anne neckline, sleeves and skirt that cascaded into a sweeping satin chapel train. A camelot lace cap which duplicated the bride's gown, secured her fingertip veil of imported illusion, trimmed with alençon lace. The bride carried a cascading bouquet of roses and cymbidium orchids.

Kathleen Gager attended the bride as matron of honor. She wore a suede rose colored gown of taffeta and carried a nosegay bouquet of white roses and carnations in shades of dusty rose. She also wore a floral headpiece of dusty rose colored carnations.

Bridesmaids were Regina Baker, sister of the groom, Kim Fleischman, Carol Pickelsimer, Perrie Dee Enright and Shiria Platt. Their gowns were identical to the honor attendant's.

John Pickelsimer served the groom as best man. Groomsmen were Gary Vogel, brother of the bride, Wayne Gager, Wayne Mullens, Dave Drury, and John Sellers.

The dinner reception was held at the Shrine Club of Sanford. Georganne Platt presided over the guest book.

Following a honeymoon trip to Amelia Island, and newlyweds are making their home in Paola. The bride is employed as a title clerk for G. Troy Ray, Jr. The bridegroom is employed as a foreman for Mammoth Industries in Longwood.

Unexplained Knee Pain Should Be Checked Out

DEAR DR. GOTT — My knee has given me problems for a couple of years. Playing ball on concrete or walking long distances in high-heeled shoes seems to set it off. Are there any exercises I should do to strengthen it?

DEAR READER — I would not recommend exercises until you have been examined by an orthopedic specialist. Your problem may be the result of stress in or around the joint or kneecap. If exercises are appropriate for you, they may have to be tailor-made.

Until you see the doctor, give up sports played on concrete, wear low-heeled shoes for walking and try to restrict your activities to movements that do not cause knee pain.

DEAR DR. GOTT — I work with a man who has severe body odor. Some co-workers call him names behind his back, and I feel sorry for the guy. My wife suggests leaving a bar of soap on his desk, but that sounds extreme. After all, he is my friend. What do you suggest?

DEAR READER — I would take a kind, gentle but direct approach. Tell him that you and his co-workers have noticed his strong body odor and you like him and are concerned. You probably realize that body odor can indicate an underlying, serious condition — like liver or kidney disease. On the other hand, all your colleague may need is to wash more frequently or change his soap.

As a general rule, a direct approach is preferable to a sideways hint. Anyway, if I smelled bad, I would rather a friend discussed such a problem with me rather than let me be the butt of jokes.

DEAR DR. GOTT — I have a small purple bump — I wouldn't call it a lesion — on my left leg. With all the news about AIDS, I'm scared that I have the disease. I am under 18, sexually active and can't talk to my parents or our doctor. Help!

DEAR READER — Get to a doctor. The purple bump probably has nothing to do with your sexual activity and I doubt very much that it represents AIDS. However, it may be a skin cancer, perhaps even a melanoma, and it should be examined immediately.

Your question raises an important issue that I call "what if" — "I have something wrong with me but I won't go to a doctor, because what if he asks me about my sex life (drinking, drugs, etc.)?" I think you are projecting and anticipating too much.

Most doctors are reasonably nonjudgmental and are interested in finding out things about their patient only if the information will help the physician make the patient feel better. Not all health problems are related to inappropriate behavior.

Send your questions to Dr. Gott at P.O. Box 91428, Cleveland, Ohio 44101.

WIN AT BRIDGE

By James Jacoby

"It's not my lucky day", South lamented. "I'd have made three no-trump if the diamond finesse had worked, or if spades had been 4-3, or even if East had the heart ace."

"Why didn't you duck the first spade?" North asked.

"I was afraid of a club shift", was the reply.

South was right to take the first spade, even though it might not have occurred to East to shift to clubs should he hold the trick with the spade jack. But declarer should have thought it over a bit before rushing to the diamond finesse.

This is a deal where a trick must be developed in the short suit first so that the dangerous hand will not have an entry when the spades are established. At trick two, South should play the heart jack or king from his hand. If West takes the ace and clears the spade suit, declarer will be able to safely lose the lead to East later.

If West ducks the ace, diamonds can be attacked and nine tricks can be taken before West wins the heart ace later.

Here is the way to view the problem. You know that only East can win a diamond trick. Since West may hold the heart ace, make at least one heart trick before going after diamonds.

That will assure your contract, unless by some quick East is the hand with five spades and West has led from a doubleton.

HOROSCOPE

What The Day Will Bring...

YOUR BIRTHDAY JUNE 13, 1985

In the year ahead you will do well in ventures or enterprises where you can use your inventiveness and originality. If you have something new to offer, figure out ways to get it to market.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Limit your confidential discussions today to people you trust completely. Don't broadcast your secrets to a group. Know where to look for romance and you'll find it. The Astro-Graph Matchmaker set instantly reveals which signs are romantically perfect for you. Mail $2 to Astro-Graph, Box 489, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Your actions will be closely scrutinized by others today, especially in career situations. Do nothing that could make you the topic of gossip.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) If you lack respect for the intelligence of others today, those you associate with will notice and they'll find reasons to reject your ideas.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) People you meet for the first time today should not be taken at face value. They may be OK, but it would be wise to check them out further.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Others will have greater respect for you today if you "feess up" to your mistakes instead of trying to excuse them. Laugh and the world laughs with you.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Be sure to show proper gratitude today to people who go out of their way to help you. A "thank you" will be remembered far longer than indifference.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Your take-charge qualities will be very pronounced today and this is well and good, provided you don't assert yourself in ways others will find offensive.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Any disagreements you have with your mate today should be resolved within the privacy of your home. Airing differences in public will look bad.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) To avoid future complications, make certain that the understanding you arrive at with another today has the same meaning for him that it does for you.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) You should do rather well in the management of your personal resources today, but a problem could occur if you place faith in a person who can't handle money.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Your financial advantages could grow slimmer today if you let things dawdle on. Once you get a "yes," move immediately.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Instead of complaining about your duties or chores today, roll up your sleeves and get to work. Your hardest task is overcoming a poor attitude.

Beneficiaries For Honesty Are For The Birds (Cheap, Cheap)

DEAR ABBY: Six months ago, my husband and I bought a lovely old home from an estate. The elderly woman who had owned it had died, and some of the furniture was sold with the house.

About two weeks after we moved in, I was putting my china away, and what do you think I found tucked away in the back of the dining room cabinet? An envelope containing $700 in cash and several pension checks made out to the woman who had died!

Immediately I telephoned the daughter of the woman whose home it had been. I told her what I had found, and in less than an hour her husband was at my door to pick up the envelope. He didn't stay 30 seconds, and never even said "Thank you!"

I told several friends about this, and they all said I should have kept the money, that the dining room set was sold with the house, and I was entitled to whatever was in the cabinet.

In retrospect, I can't believe they didn't offer me even $10 just for the heck of it!

What do you think?
CINDY IN PENNSAUKEN, N.J.

DEAR CINDY: I think you did the right thing by returning the money. And the beneficiaries of your honesty are for the birds. (Cheap, cheap!)

DEAR ABBY: What's bugging me? I'll tell you what's bugging me. I'm a grown man, and I have a problem I am too ashamed to admit to anyone else. When my brother and I go to lunch together, he usually brings someone else along, or else we are invariably joined at the restaurant by a third party — usually a friend of his whom I also know. When there are three guys, the two of them carry on a conversation and I am completely left out.

DEAR EXCLUDED: Your brother and the third parties who invariably join you are rude and insensitive. Look for more compatible luncheon companions.

DEAR ABBY: I am 22 years old, married for eight months, and I just found out I am six weeks' pregnant (It was an accident.) My husband blames me for my carelessness. He says he doesn't want the responsibilities of being a father and he wants his single life back. He ordered me to get an abortion, but I can't see myself killing an unborn child, so now we are separated.

I now feel that he doesn't care about me anymore, but I still love him and miss him terribly. We were so happy before this happened.

I want my husband, but I can't kill our baby. We are both Catholic. What shall I do?
SPEECHLESS

DEAR SPEECHLESS: You need counseling to find out why you still "love" a man who would leave you because you became pregnant. He needs counseling, too, but your first order of business is to look after yourself.

Please talk to your priest. He can comfort and counsel you. And feeling as you do, under no circumstances should you abort your child.

DEAR ABBY: On Mother's Day, you reprinted a prayer the Jews recite on Yom Kippur to honor the memory of a deceased mother. It was a most poignant one for me, it was my wife's birthday, my parents' anniversary, and the first anniversary of my mother's death.

Dear Abby

As I lit the Yarezeit candle and said Kaddish, I looked up at my mother's pictures on the wall and recalled what you have said so many times. Show love to your parents. It's later than you think.

I was good to my mother. I told her and showed her by my actions that I loved and appreciated her. But, Abby, I could have done even more.

When I see my young son, so cute and mischievous, I realize how my mother must have loved me as a toddler, even as I love my son. She once said, "You will never really appreciate your parents until you are one." Now I know she was right, but there is no way to let my mother know

She died a slow, painful death caused by lung cancer. A heavy smoker all her adult life, she knew the risks but was unable to break the habit. It broke her. And it broke my heart.

Please keep plugging away at the two points you mention periodically. Don't smoke — it'll kill you, and love thy mother and father.

Sausage Stars At Impromptu Barbecue-To-Go

Every once in a while you find yourself with a beautiful day on your hands and, surprisingly, no plans. The perfect occasion for an excursion — or an impromptu barbecue. So why not do both? It's easy to add a cookout to your travel plans for add travel to your cookout plans! Barbecues are always so much fun, next time try taking one further than your own backyard.

Barbecues to go call for convenience. A compact, go-anywhere grill is a must. Bring along the portable covered grill that eliminates flare-ups and insures even cooking. It has vents that shut to extinguish coals in time for a cool and uneventful ride home.

Whether you are planning a menu for two or twenty, select foods that are easy to fix and easy to carry, but by no means mundane. For quick cooking and sizzling barbecue flavor, try Eckrich smoked sausages that are already fully cooked. A few turns on the grill, with spears of vegetable kabobs, and you'll have a savory summer meal as quickly as you can say "what's cooking."

Salads to go are popular fare at any barbecue. Simply combine the crispiest vegetables and your favorite pasta shapes with deliciously creamy prepared Hidden Valley Ranch Creamy Herb salad dressing mix. Quick and easy to fix, this dressing is the best part of a fresh salad.

Serve up a beverage that is festive and sparkling. Perrier With A Twist has no calories, and just a hint of natural lemon, orange or lime for variety. A six-pack of Perrier will come in handy as a refresher or as a party before you have to drive home.

Special Steak Dinner For 2

Mediterranean Steak Dinner for Two is made from one of the leanest cuts of beef to be found at the meat counter — the beef eye of round. The eye, the smallest muscle, is round, elongated and naturally boneless. Steaks cut from this muscle have a very slight fat covering. One three-ounce serving of two 1/4 inch thick cooked steaks is only 157 calories. And while this piece of beef is low in calories, it still provides important nutrients — protein, vitamin B 12, niacin, iron and zinc.

Since the eye of round steak is such a lean piece of beef, it can be tenderized by marinating it in oil, lemon juice, garlic, salt, rosemary and pepper mixture for about two to three hours. The acidic marinade penetrates the meat fibers to help tenderize them. Add flavor to cooked artichoke hearts by marinating them with the beef.

Cooking a special meal for two is always a challenging experience, particularly when there's a limited amount of time.

MEDITERRANEAN STEAK DINNER FOR TWO

Preparation time: 10 minutes
Marinating time: 2-3 hours
Cooking time: 5-7 minutes
4 slices beef eye round steak, cut 1/4 inch thick

2 tablespoons olive oil
1 tablespoon fresh lemon juice
1 clove garlic, minced
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon dried rosemary leaves

1/2 teaspoon coarsely ground black pepper
1 package (9 ounces) frozen artichoke hearts, cooked

1 cup cooked orzo (rice-shaped pasta)
6 dry cure or pitted ripe olives
2 tablespoons chopped parsley, divided

Combine oil, lemon juice, salt, rosemary and pepper. Place beef slices and artichoke hearts in utility dish, add marinade, turning to coat. Cover tightly and refrigerate 2-3 hours. Remove beef from marinade, reserve. Heat artichoke hearts with marinade, orzo, olives and 1 tablespoon parsley in medium saucepan. Meanwhile, quickly panbroil steaks in large frying pan over medium heat 1 to 2 minutes. Serve steaks on vegetable mixture. Garnish with remaining parsley, 2 servings.

Late May is the earliest of the two harvest times for corn in Central Florida. This season will last until July, the second harvest will begin in late October.

Select ears with fresh green husks, moist fresh cut stem ends, and silk free from decay. Avoid dried or yellowed husks. If you are permitted to pull back the husk, look for plump, tender, milky kernels developed to the top of the ear. Large or dark yellow kernels indicate age.

My Ohio farm friends say that corn should be eaten within the same hour it is picked. (The natural sugar begins to convert to starch within hours after picking.) Most of the time this is impossible, but the quicker the better for tender sweet kernels. Microwaving will enhance the flavor and preserve the nutritional value of corn. Microwave in the husk, wrapped in plastic and cook like corn in the husk or placed in a tightly covered dish. Be sure to leave space between the ears and allow 5 minutes standing time. DO NOT salt before cooking or the corn will toughen.

Microwave on 100% power, re-arrange during cooking time.
1 ear in husk microwave 3-5 minutes
2 ears in husk microwave 4-9 minutes
3 ears in husk microwave 9-12 minutes
4 ears in husk microwave 10-17 minutes
Time will be just slightly less if the corn has been husked.

When your family has enjoyed all the corn they like on the cob try these other corn favorites.

An old southern recipe made the modern way.

CORN PUDDING CASSEROLE

2 cups tender cut corn
2 cup sugar
Eggs well beaten

1 cup melted butter
1 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon black pepper
1 cup milk
Paprika
Mix all ingredients and pour in a 2 quart microwave safe casserole. Cover and microwave at 100% power for 5 minutes. Stir. Sprinkle with paprika. Reduce power to 80% and microwave until almost set. Allow to stand for 5 minutes before serving.

EASY CREAM STYLE CORN

1 10 ears of tender corn
1/2 cup butter margarine or bacon drippings
1/2 cup water
1/2 cup milk
2 tablespoons cornstarch
Salt and pepper to taste

Cut corn from corn halfway through kernels, then scrape remaining corn from each ear catching all the corn juice. Add 1/2 cup of water, covering tightly with plastic wrap. Microwave on 100% power 7-9 minutes, stirring once. Add cornstarch to milk and blend. Add blended mixture to corn, stirring well. Microwave on 70% power for 3-5 minutes, stirring once. Salt and pepper to taste.

On a hot summer day, corn chowder, tomato and cucumber salad, and a dessert of melons would satisfy most of us.

FLORIDA CORN CHOWDER

1/2 cup chopped salt pork (bacon may be used as a substitute)

1/2 cup sliced celery
1/2 cup green pepper, diced
1 medium onion, chopped
2 potatoes, microwaved and diced
1 bay leaf
1 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup flour
2 cups milk
1/2 cup light cream
2-3 cups fresh corn, cut from cob

In a 3 quart casserole microwave salt pork 2-3 minutes on 100% power. Add onion, celery, and green pepper. Microwave 2-3 minutes. Mix flour with small amount of milk and add to above mixture along with diced potatoes. Add remaining milk, salt and bay leaf and microwave on 100% power until thickened. Add cream and corn. Microwave on 100% power 10 minutes.

If you like Quiche you'll like this one made with fresh corn.

CORN & CHEESE QUICHE

1 baked quiche pastry shell in microwave safe pie pan

6 slices bacon
3 ears fresh corn
4 eggs
1 cup Half & Half
1/2 cup Swiss cheese
2 tablespoons green pepper
1 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon white pepper
Paprika

Microwave bacon on 100% power 5-7 minutes, or until crisp. Drain and crumble. Cut corn off and set aside. Beat eggs in a glass bowl. Add milk, cheese, green pepper, salt and pepper. Microwave on 70% power for 3-4 minutes, or until heated throughout. Stir well. Add corn and bacon. Pour eggs and corn mixture into the baked pastry shell. Microwave on 70% power for 13-17 minutes, or until firm around edges. Let stand on counter top at least 5 minutes. Sprinkle with paprika. Serve with fresh fruit salad for a warm weather luncheon.

Make this fresh corn relish when you have a few extra ears. It's one of those side dishes that improves with age.

FRESH CORN RELISH

1 1/2 cups fresh cut corn
1/2 cup finely diced celery
1 tablespoon chopped green pepper
3 tablespoons wine vinegar
2 tablespoons sugar
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon pepper
3 tablespoons chopped onion
1/2 teaspoon turmeric
1 tablespoon chopped pimiento (optional)

Microwave corn on 100% power 2-5 minutes in a 2 quart casserole. Add all remaining ingredients except pimiento and microwave on 100% power to heat thoroughly. Add pimiento. Cool and refrigerate.

Reagan: I Won't Try Sandinista Overthrow

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Reagan has appealed for support of his disputed military and economic policies toward Nicaragua with a pledge to the House not to seek to overthrow the leftist Sandinista government in Managua.

But Rep. Lee Hamilton, D-Ind., chairman of the House Intelligence Committee, said Tuesday the administration is seeking financial support for a rebel force of more than 15,000 troops whose undisputed objective is to overthrow Nicaragua's government.

Reagan's policies faced a critical test in the House today — which in April defeated all assistance, military and non-lethal — for the rebels.

Hamilton today led the effort backed by House Speaker Thomas O'Neill to limit any assistance to non-combatants outside the Nicaraguan war zone and to deny any role for the CIA in distributing food, clothing and medicine to the rebel Contras.

The Republican-led Senate Tuesday approved $38 million in non-military aid for the Contras, a package so broad it can include helicopters and radar — virtually anything that is non-lethal.

On the eve of the House debate, Reagan promised Congress Tuesday he will pursue political options in Central America, not force.

"We do not seek the military overthrow of the Sandinista government or to put in its place a government based on supporters of the old Somoza regime," Reagan said.

Cookie-Cutter Strategy
New TV Lineup A Cornucopia Of Clones

By Joan Hanauer
UPI TV Reporter

NEW YORK (UPI) — In network television programming imitation is the sincerest form of flattery.

The result is what the William Esty advertising agency calls "cookie cutter" shows — series designed to imitate somebody else's success last season.

Esty, like many agencies, puts together for its clients a report on the new prime time television schedule shortly after the networks make their May announcements.

One aspect of this year's report discussed cookie cutters, and Esty described them this way:

Program type: warm humorous portrayals of middle class family life. Original version: The Bill Cosby Show (NBC). New version: Growing Pains (ABC) and Charlie and Company (CBS).

Program type: last paced action, contemporary musical background. Original version: Miami Vice (NBC). New version: The Insiders (ABC). Hollywood Beat (ABC).

Program type: prime time soap opera. Original version: Dynasty (ABC). New version: Dynasty II (The Colbys) (ABC).

As has usually been the case in years past, the Esty report said, these cookie cutter shows will not be nearly as good as the originals.

Please note that two of the three originals came from NBC, the hot network, while most of the cookie cutters will be aired by ABC, the third place net.

The NBC performance last season leads Esty to predict that NBC and CBS in 1985-86 will run neck and neck for the household rating title, with NBC once again dominating in the key demographic categories of adults 18-49 and 25-54.

The agency also applauded the trend toward anthologies, and toward real life situations rather than action-adventure escapism.

It seems as if the networks feel the viewing public will enjoy looking at life in today's world more than another series of cars leaping off docks into the San Francisco Bay," the report said.

The report applauded CBS for scheduling movies on Saturday night, which used to be America's going out night, and in recent years has become the night when network audiences switch to their VCRs.

CBS is taking a real gamble pitting their made-for-TV fare against the new power of home cassette viewing, Esty said. "We are not sure this strategy will work, but we admire the network's attempt to fight fire with fire."

ABC is going after top Soviet and U.S. leaders and other world figures for its three-hour prime time news special, 45-85, a live forum to evaluate and debate events of the last 40 years and their significance for the future.

The show, to air Sept. 18, will be not a retrospective rebash of film clips, but an attempt to mix live conversation with witnesses of history and unusual tape pieces that set the scene.

The show will cover events large and small — from the changing down of the Iron Curtain and the Soviet development of the bomb in the late 1940s to miniskirts in the 60s and the emergence of the Yuppie in the 1980s.

There will be the Hungarian Revolution, the Presley revolution, the sexual revolution. There will be McCarthyism, Sputnik, Vietnam, John F. Kennedy, civil rights and LSD, OPEC, Iran, Afghanistan, Richard Nixon and Watergate, Gerald Ford, Jimmy Carter and Ronald Reagan. ABC is just beginning to winnow the show down to a mere three hours.

Land of the Lost, a live action sci-fi show formerly on NBC and in syndication, will become part of the CBS Saturday morning kidvid schedule on June 22 at 11:30 a.m. It replaces Pylon's Place, which will have its final broadcast June 15 and is scheduled to run through Sept. 7.

Cook Of The Week

Former Farmgirl Devoted To Food Preparation At Center

By Dorothy Greene
Herald Correspondent

There are smiles on the faces of the residents at the Sanford Nursing and Convalescent Center and one of the people responsible for those smiles is our Cook of the Week, Priscilla Heckler.

As the Center's food service supervisor, Priscilla is responsible for the planning and preparation of three meals a day for 365 days a year for approximately 114 patients. She is a totally dedicated young woman who really enjoys her work.

Originally from Pennsylvania Dutch country about 45 miles northeast of Philadelphia, Priscilla's family is German on both sides. My father's side of the family are Mennonites, from the old Amish. We were raised on a farm and we just canned and ate what came from the garden. Priscilla says, "I've always known how to cook, she says, 'no one ever really taught me. When I was real little my mother used to put a stool up to the stove and I'd fry my own eggs. Mother was a waitress and from the time I was about 11 years old I'd go to the diner with her and bus tables. I started waitressing at about 14, then they taught me how to short order cook. It's funny, but in school I never liked Home Ec, but I love to cook. I can't sew or anything all I can do is cook."

Priscilla's experience in kitchens started when she was very young. Her mother worked a 3 to 11 shift and her father didn't get home until 6 p.m., so if we were hungry we had to cook. I can remember making spaghetti that looked like paste and I had green beans on the ceiling one time," she says with a laugh. So through trial and error, Priscilla has become a fantastic cook and an accomplished baker and cake decorator.

A recent product of Priscilla's cake decorating was the wedding cake donated by the nursing home for the 50th anniversary celebration of over 40 Sanford couples at the Sanford Civic Center.

Learning to cook for large numbers of people came at an early age for Priscilla when at the age of 20 she began working in a nursing home in Philadelphia. They hired me to bake," says Priscilla. Now I could cook but I had never baked that much before, so I learned how to bake from scratch. There she learned how to bake anything and everything under the sun for 74 people.

Pleased with her work, the nursing home paid to send her back to college and she graduated with a food service certification which requires many school hours and on-the-job training experience, which has earned Priscilla the title of Certified Dietary Manager. Periodic courses of continuing education in the dietary field are a requirement and Priscilla has been on the Florida State Board of Directors of the Certified

Dietary Managers for the past four years and is presently state treasurer. A busy lady, she has also been district president and program chairman for five counties in this area, responsible for setting up the continuing education programs for the members.

Many improvements have been made in the nursing home environment in recent years and Priscilla's involvement at the Sanford facility has been a pleasant one. People need to come out to see us. They would really be surprised. So many improvements have been made, especially in the last three years, and our administrative staff is the best. The nursing care has improved 100 percent. We have a nurse educator who trains all the new aides and they go through an extensive certification course. We have at least 2 or 3 in-service training courses a month which includes the cooking staff. We try to be a progressive facility and it shows, it really does," Priscilla says.

A long work day doesn't leave too much time for other interests, however, Priscilla can always find time to do volunteer work and a pet project of hers is the Meals on Wheels program. "I really enjoy doing it," says Priscilla, "and it doesn't take long. I do it on my lunch hour. Priscilla delivers to about 14 elderly people in the Georgetown section of Sanford. "I have some real cute little ladies that I deliver meals to and they wait at the door for me," she says.

Priscilla's ease with older people comes naturally to her. Practically raised by her grandparents, she says, "I've always been around older people, so the people in the nursing home are like my family." Even on holidays and her days off, Priscilla is at the home to make sure everything is going smoothly. "I always try to plan menus around the patients and let them help," says Priscilla, "especially around the holidays and on special occasions."

Her day starts at 7 a.m. and doesn't end until 7 p.m. and Priscilla's care and concern for her patients is never ending. An excellent staff of 10 girls aid her in the preparation and serving of her carefully planned menus. Many of the patients look forward to her mealtime and so Priscilla tried to offer a variety of special treats such as barbecues, an International night once a month, and just recently a luncheon was given with 15 patients from the Lakeview Nursing Home as invited guests. "They are really good," says Priscilla. "I'd like to have some of them here."

There is no such thing as spare time in Priscilla's busy life. "If I didn't work, I guess I'd volunteer for everything," she says. Just recently a bake sale netted $52 for the Missing Children's Center in Longwood, another of Priscilla's interests.

International Favorite Big On American Scene

Imagine yourself basking in the sun by the crystal blue Aegean. As you lounge, you find yourself sipping Greek Ouzo and munching citrus fruits served with a traditionally salty Feta cheese.

You don't have to rely on your imagination to learn that Feta was developed many years ago by shepherds in the mountains outside of Athens. It was made exclusively with sheep or goat's milk. This fresh, white cheese was preserved in a brine solution of milk, salt and water to retain its moisture and enhance the curing process.

The popularity of Feta has grown beyond the Balkan region to international prominence. Using the original Feta recipe as a model, many countries have developed their own version of Feta and thanks to the Churny Company, American consumers can enjoy Churny feta cheese made from fresh Wisconsin cow's milk.

This deliciously fresh, white cheese is quite versatile. It adds new interest and distinction to meals, vegetables and salads. For example, a new flavor for tuna salad can be created by adding 1/2 cup of crumbled Feta to each 6 1/2 ounce can of tuna. Tossing green salads with cubed or crumbled Feta adds a decidedly Greek flavor.

Home economists have recently developed new recipes for making Feta a staple in the American kitchen. One such example is Greician Stir-Fry. Americans have developed quite a love affair with the stir fry method of cooking. The ease of preparation lends itself well to dinner parties as well as family meals. Because most of the ingredients can be prepared slightly ahead of time, a smart cook can utilize the services of his or her guests, or family members, in the final cooking of the recipe.

"farm" out of the farmgirl, and Priscilla recalls, "We canned everything, and we always had a freezer full of fresh vegetables. Anything that could grow in the ground in Pennsylvania, we grew it! We got fresh milk from the cows, and our root cellar was always full of potatoes and onions and all the things we grew." Now, Priscilla is enjoying her own garden and is looking forward to a crop of fresh vegetables of her own this season.

"I really like what I do," says Priscilla, "and I love cooking for the patients. I have a good staff and we really work well together."

The following recipes are reminiscent of Priscilla's Pennsylvania Dutch background and are family favorites which everyone will enjoy:

CREAM OF MUSHROOM SOUP

Saute 1 tap. of finely chopped onion and 1 cup fresh sliced mushrooms in 2 tablespoons butter or margarine.

Blend In:

- 2-3 tablespoons flour
- 1 tap. salt
- 1/2 tap. pepper

Stir over medium heat until smooth and bubbly. Stir in 1/2 cup diced cooked carrots (for color). Bring to boil 1 minute, stirring constantly. Remove from heat. Gradually stir in 2 cups milk and 2 cups chicken stock. Add paprika and onion salt to taste. Serves 4-6.

CREAM OF BROCCOLI SOUP

Saute 1 tap. finely chopped onion in 2 tablespoons butter.

Blend In:

- 2-3 tablespoons flour
- 1 tap. salt
- 1/2 tap. white pepper

Stir over medium heat until smooth and bubbly. Stir in 1 cup diced cooked broccoli. Bring to boil 1 minute, stirring constantly. Remove from heat. Gradually stir in 4 cups milk (1/2 cream may be used for richer soup). Heat to serving temperature. Garnish with shredded Cheddar cheese, bacon bits, or slivered almonds or cashews. Serves 4-6.

HOT GERMAN POTATO SALAD

Boil 6 medium potatoes in their jackets, then peel and slice thinly. In skillet, fry 6 slices bacon slowly, then drain on paper. In bacon fat, saute 1/2 cup chopped onion until golden brown.

Blend In:

- 2 tablespoons flour
- 1-2 tablespoons sugar
- 1/2 tap. salt
- 1/2 tap. celery seeds

Oriental Pork Chops Well suited to summer entertaining.

Asian Barbecue Exotic Change From Tradition

Grilled foods are popular all over the world, including Asia. home of creations like satay, yakitori and Mongolian beef. Often marinated in pungent combinations of flavors that tenderize. Asian barbecue specialties are ideal for summer entertaining. They are a delicious and exotic alternative to the traditional menu of chicken and ribs or hamburgers and hot dogs.

Oriental Pork Chops display Korean and Chinese influences in the marinade which also serves as a finishing sauce. Barbecuing in Korea and China was a practice brought by roaming Mongol tribes. In Thailand, grilling is thought to have developed from the wartime cooking practice of placing meat on long swords and roasting them over campfires. Today grilled meats are sold in every city throughout Southeast Asia. Spicy Thai Chicken is typical of these entrees and is redolent of the six seasonings that distinguish Thai foods: coriander, red pepper, coconut, garlic, citrus juice and fish flavoring.

ORIENTAL PORK CHOPS
2 tablespoons vegetable oil
2 cloves garlic, minced
4 teaspoons minced fresh

ginger
1/2 cup sherry
1/4 cup soy sauce
1/4 cup honey
1 tablespoon grated orange peel
1/4 tablespoon sesame seeds
1/4 teaspoon Tabasco pepper sauce
4 pork chops, cut 1 inch thick
1 teaspoon cornstarch
2 tablespoons water
In medium saucerpan heat oil, saute garlic and ginger 1 minute. Remove from heat. Gradually add wine, soy sauce, honey, orange peel, sesame seeds and Tabasco sauce, mix well. Arrange chops in a shallow dish or plastic bag, add marinade. Cover. Let stand at room temperature 1 hour, turning occasionally. Remove chops from marinade, pour marinade into a small saucerpan. Arrange chops on barbecue grill about 5 inches from source of heat. Grill 10 minutes on each side. Combine cornstarch and water, stir into marinade. Cook until mixture boils and thickens. Brush marinade on chops. Grill 5-10 minutes longer or until chops are done, turning and brushing often. Serve remaining marinade with chops.

YIELD: 4 servings
SPICY THAI CHICKEN

3 tablespoons lime juice
3 tablespoons soy sauce

1 teaspoon Tabasco pepper sauce
2 whole, boned, skinned chicken breasts, cut in half (about 1 1/2 pounds)

Grilled steak an American favorite.

Westward Ho!

Explore America's Vast Culinary Heritage

Looking for a new culinary adventure? Think cowboys and Indians and the colorful allure of the old West. But instead of cattle drives and wagon trains, be a pioneer and explore America's vast culinary heritage.

Learn from the country's first great cooks — native Americans such as the resourceful Navajo and Pueblo Indians — who created delicious meals from such simple, fresh ingredients as corn, chiles, pumpkins, beans and squash. Walnuts and other nuts were gathered to make oils and butters and offered nourishment during lean winters. Fruits included the wild plum, which Pueblo Indians used to make prune pies.

Meanwhile, out on the range, cowboys were driving cattle to the market, fortified by hearty foods prepared by the chuckwagon cook — beans, steak cut from the herd and sourdough bread.

For a taste of the Old West, try this updated menu featuring nutritious foods that have historical roots in Western cooking.

Wilted Greens and Walnuts showcase the inventive use of nuts in the Native American diet. The walnuts give greens new flavor interest and a pleasing crunch while providing essential vitamins and minerals.

For the main course, no Western meal would be complete without beef. Grilled Beef Steak uses lean top round steak marinated overnight in a spicy salsa, then grilled, sliced and served on crispy tortillas. Beef supplies complete protein and significant amounts of the B vitamins, as well as iron and zinc.

Tangy prunes star in an unusual dessert, a tribute to the wild plums enjoyed by the Indians. A refreshing prune, strawberry and pineapple filling is spooned into a hollowed pineapple that's roasted Indian-style. Prunes are high in vitamin A, potassium, iron and dietary fiber.

With revived interest and pride in the "New American Cuisine," this timely menu of Western delights offers a true spirit of culinary adventure for today's pioneering cook.

HOP! ROASTED PINEAPPLE WITH PRUNES

Streusel:
3 tablespoons flour
2 tablespoons yellow cornmeal
1 tablespoon packed brown sugar
1 1/2 tablespoons butter or margarine, softened

Pineapple:
1 medium pineapple
Honey

Filling:
3/4 cup water
1/4 cup packed brown sugar
1/4 cup granulated sugar
1 1/2 cups (about 8 ounces) pitted prunes
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
2 tablespoons lemon juice
1 cup halved strawberries

In small bowl mix streusel ingredients to blend. Bake on ungreased baking sheet in 400° oven 15-18 minutes, until golden. Remove from pan, cool, break up and reserve. Halve pineapple lengthwise. Brush a little honey over cut surfaces. Place cut sides up in baking pan. Bake in 400° oven 20-30 minutes to warm through. Prepare filling: In saucepan bring water and sugars to boil. Add prunes, simmer 10 minutes. Stir in butter to melt. Remove fresh from baked pineapple halves with a sharp knife, leaving shells about 1/4-inch thick. Cut into chunks and add to warm prune mixture with the lemon juice and strawberries. Spoon into pineapple cavities. Sprinkle with streusel. Serve warm. Makes 4-6 servings.
