Hawks win Invitational

LAKE MARY — The Lake Mary cross country invitational ended with victory for the Lake Howell girls and the Lake Mary boys teams. Lake Howell was followed closely by Titusville Astronaut. Depth was the key to Lake Mary's win. They were pressured by a strong contingent from Lake Brantley.

ST. CLOUD — Authorities are considering filing abuse charges against the owner of 26 starving horses found in a mud field where an emaciated stallion had to be put to sleep two weeks ago. Soldier shoots drug dealers

TACOMA, Wash. — More than 100 rounds of ammunition was fired during a gun battle between off-duty soldiers and suspected drug dealers and gang members. Army Ranger William Fouk has vowed to fight for his neighborhood against encroaching dealers. This battle erupted into war Sunday when Fouk invited several of his off-duty comrades to fight against taunts by the gang members.

Past SHA commissioner robbed

SANFORD — Sanford police are investigating three weekend robberies in which victims, including a former Sanford Housing Authority commissioner, were confronted.

At 8 p.m. Friday former housing commissioner Bob Bell Sr., 61, reported he was confronted by a knife-wielding man who was exiting out a window of one of two burglarized trailers behind Bell's business, Bicycle Headquarters, 2210 S. French Ave.

Bell, according to a police report, said the robber was stealing a television and then when confronted demanded money from Bell's pockets.

At 8:40 p.m. Saturday clerk William Collins said he was hit three times in the face by a robber at the Lil Champ, 1116 Celery Ave. Collins at first resisted the robber's demand for cash, but the robber took money from the register and attacked Collins before fleeing.

In the third case, Willie Lee-Williams, 34, of William Clark Court, Sanford, told police he was robbed of his radio by three men who beat him with sticks at Castle Brewer Court at about 10:30 a.m. Sunday. He was treated at the Sanford hospital.

Lotto jackpot rolls over

TALLAHASSEE — Florida's Lotto jackpot swelled to an estimated $12 million Sunday after players failed to match all six winning numbers drawn over the weekend, state lottery officials announced.

The winning Lotto numbers drawn Saturday were 2, 7, 8, 10, 31 and 45.

Although the drawing failed to produce a grand prize winner, state officials said 223 tickets sold last week matched five out of six numbers to win cash prizes of $3,445 each.

LAKE MARY — Shane D. Stanley, 18, a former champion wrestler at Lake Mary High School, and his neighbor-friend Patrick D. MacFarland, 19, were killed over the weekend in an automobile accident on Markham Woods Road.

Stanley, of 144 Shadow Trail Drive, had graduated in June; MacFarland, of 137 Shadow Trail Drive, had graduated from Lake Mary High School the year before and was attending Seminole Community College.

"Shane was a good kid," Lake Mary wrestling coach Doug Peters said Monday morning. "I've known him since the sixth grade when he started wrestling with me."

Peters said the varsity 145-pound wrestler, one of the "team leaders," had been conference, district and regional champion in his senior year. He had finished eighth in the state competition. He didn't participate in any other sport.

Seminole, Orlando realty board merger likely

By J. MARK BARFIELD
Herald staff writer

SANFORD — Exactly 37 years to the month after the Seminole County Board of Realtors was created, a minority of the membership has elected a board of officers seen as favoring a merger with the Orlando-area Board of Realtors and dissolution of the Seminole organization.

For the first time in at least 10 years, the membership Thursday night failed to endorse the non-merger candidates offered by the board's nominating committee and instead elected seven officers from south Seminole County that have strong pro-merger positions, said Hermandra Thakkar, current board president.

A merger is endorsed by Herbert Stenstrom, president of Stenstrom Realty Inc. in Sanford, a member of both boards. Stenstrom, who joined the Seminole board in 1957 when he began his career, said the time has come for the Seminole board to merge with the larger Orlando-area board.

"As long as there was an identifiable difference in the types of properties and there were geographic differences in north and south Seminole County, then I've subscribed to a separate system," Stenstrom said. "But that difference is gone and the time has come to merge."

Stenstrom, president of the Seminole board in 1986, said Walt Disney World, Martin-Marietta and other explosive growth factors in Orange County allowed the Orlando-area board to outpace the Seminole board. And though the Seminole board has continued to grow, it can no longer keep pace with the Orlando-area board, Stenstrom said.

Stenstrom said he does not fear a loss of identity for Seminole County members, saying Orlando-area members have always treated him equally.

Thakkar will be replaced by Glenda Philpot, vice president of Emerson Realty Group in Altamonte Springs. The members by-passed current president-elect Patty Kreidler-Holly of Pat Gasti Properties in Longwood. Thakkar said president-elects are commonly voted to become presidents the following year. Philpot could not be reached for comment.

The new officers will be installed in October and will assume full responsibilities in January.

Thakkar said a merger of the two Realtor boards might take a year to complete.

A simple majority of all approximately 1,000 Seminole board members must approve the merger and a similar majority of Orlando-area

Final NASA Atlas-Centaur rocket launched

United Press International

CAPE CANAVERAL — A powerful Atlas-Centaur rocket successfully boosted a military communications satellite into orbit this morning, lighting the pre-dawn sky for miles around in the final major unmanned launch conducted by the civilian space agency.

"And we have had spacecraft separation," said NASA spokeswoman Lisa Malone as the satellite was ejected into its planned preliminary orbit. "We've had a successful mission today."

The 137-foot-tall liquid-fueled rocket thundered to life at 4:56 a.m. EDT — 44 minutes late because of cloudy weather — and majestically climbed away from launch pad 36B at the Cape Canaveral Air Force Station, splashing the pre-dawn sky with a burst of flame as it climbed toward orbit over the Atlantic Ocean.

Mounted in a protective nose cone atop the rocket was a $125 million Navy Fleet Satellite Communications relay station known by the acronym FLTSATCOM, pronounced "fleet-sat-com." The 5,075-pound solar-powered satellite is

The driver of the suspects' car, which traveled on to Interstate 4 in an attempt to elude pursuing police faces other charges. Both Todd D. Beier, 25, of Deltona; and Lorenzo Bianco, 29, of Deltona, are charged with aggravated assault. Beier is also charged with reckless driving, fleeing to elude police, possession of a concealed knife and driving under the influence. The arrests were made at 11:10 p.m. Saturday.

members must also approve expanding their jurisdiction to include Seminole County, Thakkar said. In turn, the state, then national Realtor boards must approve the merger, he said.

Thakkar said 319 ballots were cast out of the total membership of the nearly 1,600 members. "It was an exceptional turnout," Thakkar said. "The highest I've seen in 10 years."

Troy Fletcher, manager of the Longwood branch of Merrill Lynch Realty, was chosen as president-elect. "I would say I favor the merger," Fletcher said. "We just think there's a duplication of services. This area's becoming very oriented toward Orange County."

Fletcher and other realtors who support the merger do not wish to pay for membership in both the Seminole and Orlando-area boards. Fletcher said many Realtors and their associates in Seminole County join the Orlando-area board because it offers a wider range of services and a larger listing of properties.

Local membership dues for Seminole are $80 a year whereas Orlando-area dues are $120 a year, said Thakkar, a member of both boards. Real estate brokers who want to become Realtors along with their associates must join the board in the county where their offices are located. Realtors and their associates may join another board to use their services.

Earlier this year, the Seminole board began a computerized multiple listing service (MLS) to compete with a similar service offered by the Orlando-area board. The Seminole computer MLS costs a minimum of $15 a month for listings and tax records for an office with one Realtor and one associate. A similar Orlando-area MLS service would cost $38.40 a month, Thakkar said.

But the Seminole MLS service currently has 824 listings of homes, offices and properties, compared to more than 12,000 in the Orlando-area service. Thakkar said most of the Seminole listings are included in the Orlando-area MLS, but few Orange County listings are included in the Seminole MLS.

Stenstrom said fewer Seminole County Realtors began using the local listing service in the mid-1980s when the Orlando-area listing became much larger.

Thakkar lives in Longwood but has located his business, Hermandra Thakkar Realtors, in Orlando. Thakkar said he is not fully convinced the merger will be beneficial to Seminole County Realtors or their associates.

"I do not have enough information to decide whether a merger will best serve the members and in turn, the public," Thakkar said. "That should be the most important consideration, service to the members so they can better serve the public."

Although the Seminole board offers many services offered by the Orlando-area board, the larger Orlando-area board offers many more services. Thakkar said. "I'm not saying what they offer is any better," Thakkar said. "I'm saying they offer more because they are a much bigger board."

Boulevard through Paola, where she turns east past two lanes of oncoming traffic, or north on Orange Boulevard to County Road 15 then south to SR 46. That route means she also has to cross two lanes of busy SR 46 traffic to get to the entrance of Stucky's.

The Paola and the CR 15 routes take 15 minutes or more to drive and are about twice the distance as her Oregon Street route, she said.

The Murrays and dozens of other people living west of I-4 have taken roads other than Oregon Street since Aug. 14 because the two-lane country road was closed by the county to allow NTS Properties Inc. to install two massive drainage pipes under it.

The twin 84-inch diameter pipes are needed by NTS to drain the Lake Forest housing project into a state borrow pit leading into the Smith Canal and eventually emptying into the St. Johns River.

Louis Jones, county engineering inspection supervisor, said the road should be open by this week. He said the work was done fully by NTS and no county money will be used to repave the road.

Although Jones said signs were posted a month before the road was closed to allow residents adequate time to find alternate routes, Blanche Murray, who travels the road daily, said she didn't see them.

"If they were there, they certainly were not prominent," Blanche Murray said. "It has been extremely inconvenient and I find it very annoying."

Also scheduled for tonight is a public hearing for an ordinance to increase monthly sewer rates for residential and commercial users. An increase of $1.77, raising monthly fees to $32.97, is proposed.

The $10.7 million general fund budget highlights parks and recreation and capital improvement projects, including funding for the first phase of a new wastewater collection system expected to begin this year. Funds are earmarked for the development of Candyland Park on Grant Street, playground equipment replacement and tennis court resurfacing at Small World Park.

City Administrator Michael Abela had announced last month that an additional $141,787 is available because three wastewater projects expected to be done this fiscal year will be put off until 1991 because an anticipated $5 million state loan was not approved.

The additional money was transferred into the general fund from the enterprise fund. About $23,000 of that money will be used to buy lights for the ballfields at Candyland Park.

Abela informed the commission that Seminole County has increased the city's sewer rate by about 7 percent, or an additional $13,140 to the $186,150 usage charge the city currently pays the county for wastewater disposal. The county increase will become effective Oct. 1.

Peters added that, as far as he knew, MacFarland was not an athlete.

According to the Florida Highway Patrol report, the 1980 Dodge pickup truck, which was driven by MacFarland, was traveling northbound on Markham Woods Road, and had just crossed E.E. Williamson Road when it left the road and stuck a tree. Both driver and passenger were trapped in the car and found dead at the scene by highway patrol at about 2:30 a.m. Saturday.

"We can't say how fast the vehicle was traveling," dispatcher Pat Robinson of the Highway Patrol said this morning. There were no witnesses to the accident.

Robinson said there was no evidence the accident was drug or alcohol related, but tests are being conducted to be sure.

Don Smith, a Lake Mary High School assistant principal, said the two had many friends who still attended Lake Mary. "We observed a moment of silence for each of them this morning before the start of classes," Smith said.

He said there were some students who were deeply affected by the loss, but that school officials had not found it necessary to call in the County Crisis Prevention team which deals with traumatic situations in the schools. Smith said, however, that the crisis team would be mobilized if necessary.

"Because it happened over the weekend and kids had a chance to be with their families," Joan Nickman, a Lake Mary High School guidance counselor said, "we've had far fewer come in this morning than I expected."

Nickman noted, however, that there had still been "considerable numbers of kids" who had sought help through her office.

Nickman described members of the wrestling team were "devastated" by the fatalities.

"I think this will bring us closer together," Peters commented, referring to the wrestling team. "I think the great shock will teach them a lot about the realities of life. They're a tough bunch of guys, though. They can handle it."

"The boys are missed," Smith said.

IN BRIEF

AMERICAN LEAGUE

Brewers enjoy playing spoiler

MILWAUKEE — Milwaukee Manager Tom Trebelhorn hopes his team can spoil its way into the American League East pennant chase.

Joey Meyer doubled home three runs Sunday to pace the Brewers to an 8-3 victory over Toronto, but the Blue Jays retained their one-game lead in the American League East.

Toronto, which has six games remaining, remained one game in front of the Baltimore Orioles, who lost to New York 2-0.

Milwaukee, which took two out of three from Toronto, is in third, 5 1/2 games out. The Brewers, who have seven games remaining, open a three-game series Monday at home against Baltimore.

Toronto begins a three-game series at Detroit and then closes the season against Baltimore.

In other American League action Boston downed Detroit 4-2; Cleveland clipped California 5-4; Oakland mauled Minnesota 9-3; Milwaukee trounced Toronto 8-3; Kansas City stung Seattle 4-1; and Texas topped Chicago 5-4 in 10 innings.

Elliot takes Fifth Avenue mile

NEW YORK — Said Aouita and Abdi Bile play cat and mouse. Peter Elliott takes on all comers.

Elliott won Saturday's Mercedes Mile on Fifth Avenue amid the smokescreen created when Aouita dropped out of a possible showdown with Bile, his African rival.

Again Aouita, a Moroccan, sidestepped a race involving Bile, a Somali who may be threatening his status as the best middle distance runner in the world. So Elliott stepped in and won the race handily, beating Bile by a full second.

Elliott said he disregarded the foolishness surrounding Aouita and Bile and just concentrated on running his race.

"I don't go into a race thinking I'll finish second," said Elliott, who was timed in 3:52.95 on a blustery day. "You have to forget what happens around you. It has nothing to do with me. I don't see the point of training and avoiding people. I'll come out and race and get beat now and then. If I get beat, I get beat."

SOCCER

Uruguay to be in '90 World Cup

MONTEVIDEO, Uruguay — Ruben Sosa scored twice Sunday, allowing Uruguay to qualify for the 1990 World Cup with a 2-0 victory over Bolivia.

Sosa eluded two defenders, dribbled into the box and fired from an angle to score the first goal just before halftime. The second goal came in the 57th minute, after he took a pass from Pablo Bengoechea.

Both Bolivia and Uruguay had six points apiece in South America's Group 1 competition with three victories and one loss, but Uruguay qualified because of a better goal average.

Peru failed to win a single game in the four it played in the series.

NATIONAL LEAGUE

Cards win but can't catch up

ST. LOUIS — The St. Louis Cardinals keep winning, but they keep treading water in the National League East.

Pinch hitter Tony Pena drew a two-out, bases-loaded walk to snap a 1-1 tie in the eighth inning, giving St. Louis a 2-1 victory Sunday over the Philadelphia Phillies.

But the Cardinals, winners of seven of their last eight games, failed to make up any ground on the Chicago Cubs. St. Louis remains four games behind Chicago in the NL East with six games left to play. The Cubs and Cardinals end the season with three games against each other at Busch Stadium.

"(The Cubs) did something we couldn't do this year — they beat Pittsburgh," St. Louis Manager Whitey Herzog said.

In other action Sunday Montreal tipped New York 6-5; Atlanta ripped Cincinnati 6-2; Chicago topped Pittsburgh 4-2; San Francisco hammered Houston 10-2; and San Diego blanked Los Angeles 1-0.

Hawks, Rams run to wins

By MARK BLYTHE

LAKE MARY — Lake Howell's girls accomplished their goal and Lake Mary's boys put together a stellar performance to capture the Lake Mary Invitational cross country championships Saturday morning at Lake Mary High School.

The teams both won their second consecutive invitational and are improving at rapid rates. The Silver Hawk girls proved to be consistent and put space in between themselves and their opponents. The Ram boys proved they were for real with their win.

"We took a big step in the right direction," Lake Howell coach Tom Hammontree said. "It was the winning that was so important. It was the fact we went out and accomplished the things we wanted to do."

"We wanted to be consistent, be competitive, and run as a team," Hammontree added. "We did that Saturday and that's what cross country is all about."

The Silver Hawks were led once again by junior Miki Palumbo, who came up with a fourth place performance with a time of 12:20.9. Natalie Newberry also made the top 10, placing 10th overall with a 12:43.5 clocking followed by Kristen Stuart in 17th place at 13:17.5, Sheryl Palumbo in 19th at 13:25.3 and Tricia Frost in 20th at 13:32.3.

Lake Howell opened Titusville-Astronaut for the title, the Silver Hawks finishing with 50 to Astronaut's 54 followed by 84 for host Lake Mary, 99 for Lake Brantley and 106 for New Smyrna Beach. Lyman was sixth with 123 points with Seminole taking 10th place with 288 points.

Lake Mary was led by Allison Snell's third place finish at 12:14.7 with Haydee Rohlehr placing 15th at 13:16.4 followed closely by Christina Olson in 16th place at 13:16.9. Helen Gutmann crossed the line at 13:48 good for 24th place as Kim Blackadar rounded out the top five with a 35th place finish at 14:15.2.

Lake Brantley ran without state-ranked Amy Gimette, who is out with a hamstring pull. The Patriots still ran strong behind Carrie Disalvatore, Beth Schaffer, Pamela Powers, Karen Doehl and Mona Ariza.

Lyman had a strong showing and was led by Janet Greenberg who placed second behind state-ranked Stacey Bowerson from Father Lopez. Greenberg finished with a time of 12:11.9 compared to Bowerson's course record time of 11:28.1. Jessica Martinson, Michelle

Defense keys Bucs win

United Press International

TAMPA — Just three years after finishing last in NFL defense, the Tampa Bay Buccaneers are developing a hit list.

Safety Mark Robinson, whose late hit sidelined New Orleans quarterback Bobby Hebert in the opening period, set up Lars Tate's go-ahead touchdown run with an interception Sunday in leading the Buccaneers to a 20-10 triumph.

A crowd of 44,053 saw the Buccaneers, 2-1, rebound from a last-minute loss to San Francisco by blanking the Saints in the second half. With both Hebert and backup quarterback John Fourcade suffering first-half injuries, the Saints fell to 1-2 after opening with a 28-0 rout of Dallas.

"I like what I see of our defense — we're hitting people hard," said

Coach Ray Perkins after Tampa Bay ended a six-game losing streak against New Orleans. "Mark Robinson is not a cheap-shot artist. Nobody on our team is. We don't want that reputation, but we do want to play aggressively. We want people to know they played us."

Hebert was knocked groggy by Robinson's late hit on the game's opening drive. Fourcade appeared to seriously hurt his left knee late in the half when tackled at the end of a scramble, but he returned for the start of the third period.

Hebert replaced a limping Fourcade midway through the third quarter and played the rest of the way, completing 15 of 23 passes for 169 yards. Fourcade hit on 4 of 11 for 61 yards.

"I was scrambling and I got hit pretty good," said Hebert.

Toon makes Miami pay

United Press International

MIAMI — Al Toon became the highest paid receiver in football last month when he signed for a reported $1.35 million, and Sunday the New York Jets began cashing in on their investment.

Toon caught only two passes for 21 yards in the first half against the Miami Dolphins, but in the fourth quarter he and quarterback Ken O'Brien took over the game. They teamed for clutch completion after clutch completion in the Jets 40-33 comeback win over the Miami Dolphins.

Toon finished with 10 receptions, 159 yards and a 37-yard touchdown in the third quarter that began the Jets' relentless comeback. Toon has now caught three or more passes in each of his 52 starts in the NFL.

Toon caught four passes for 67 yards on the 83-yard drive that led to Johnny Hector's 1-yard touchdown, which tied the score at 33-33 with 3:22 left. Less than two minutes later, he caught one for 12 yards on the drive that won it. That was finished off by O'Brien's 11-yard touchdown pass to Roger Vick with 1:29 to go.

"I was trying to be precise on the things that I was doing," Toon said after the Jets first win in three games. "I haven't been in camp (because of a holdout), so I wasn't as sharp as I normally am."

Floyd satisfied, but not happy with Ryder Cup outcome

United Press International

SUTTON COLDFIELD, England — What did Raymond Floyd learn from being America's Ryder Cup captain?

"Probably to never accept the position again," he replied.

It was hard to tell if he was joking. "There were a lot of peaks and valleys for me today," Floyd said after the United States and Europe completed a 14-14 tie in the three-day competition at The Belfry in England's industrial midlands. Europe, as the defending champion, retained the cup.

"In the middle of the day it looked like our side might overwhelm them, then I heard a TV announcer say Europe had won," Floyd said. "That wasn't right, we had four matches to go to get a half."

Floyd admitted a tie wasn't what he came for, but he was pleased that his first Ryder Cup captaincy didn't end in defeat.

"I would have liked to have won, but I sure didn't want to lose," he said.

Floyd, 47, is a veteran of six Ryder Cup matches, played before Europe stopped America's 30-year domination of the event in 1985.

He said from the beginning that the spirit of the competition, started by seed merchant and golf enthusiast Sam Ryder in 1927, was as important as the result, and his philosophy never changed.

"The game of golf was the real winner," Floyd said. "The reason golf was the winner was the teams — the sportsmanship, the quality, the integrity."

Floyd joked that he would welcome a chance to change the pairings that lost on the first two days, but in reality, he said, he wouldn't agonize over his failure to win outright.

"I've never conducted my life in that manner,"

Enhance your landscape in fall

Although many people do not realize it, fall is an excellent time for tree and shrub planting. There are advantages to planting in the fall instead of waiting until the spring.

In the cooler temperatures, plants may not be growing as actively and thus would be less susceptible to transplant shock. In most years, the weather helps out with frequent rains so we do not have to water as much (this year may be an exception). The biggest bonus may be that fall weather is cooler, making gardening chores a lot more pleasant.

Fall planting of trees and shrubs allows the root system of plants to become established before our frosts and freezes of winter. Research shows that the roots of plants continue to grow throughout the fall and a mild winter, even though the foliage may not. And a plant with a strong, healthy root system will really take off and grow rapidly in the spring as soon as growing conditions are ideal.

Planting in the fall may be advantageous to your wallet as well, since many retail nurseries and garden centers will have a large stock of plants. You may find a lot of sales because garden centers do not want to carry a large inventory into the winter months. And since things are not as busy as in the spring, your nurseryman may have more time to spend with you, helping you select the perfect tree or shrub for your landscape.

If you are planning some changes with your existing landscaping, fall is a good time to transport, too. The success of moving established plants lies in pruning roots ahead of time. Root pruning encourages the development of fibrous roots and reduces the shock and root loss associated with transplanting. With large trees, the pruning process can take up to a year, so it is something that you need to plan for ahead of time. Small trees and large shrubs can be root-pruned and transplanted now with success.

To prune roots, dig a large trench completely around the plant several feet from the trunk (no less than a third of the tree/shrub's limb canopy). Sever the lateral (horizontal) roots and cut the tap (vertical) root if possible at the trench line. Then refill the trench with soil.

The severed lateral roots will send out a network of many small feeder roots in about 6 to 8 weeks. You can apply products containing root-promoting hormones to ensure lots of root growth. The new "root ball" should be watered periodically if it is dry so it never suffers for lack of water while it is trying to grow new roots.

Sometimes, broad and narrow-leaf evergreens and actively growing deciduous plants may need to be sprayed with antitranspirant before digging. This product has chemicals that reduce water loss from the leaves and prevent a seriously damaging wilt, which can reduce the success of the transplant. Antitranspirant products are available in most garden centers.

In two or so months, your tree or shrub with its new "root ball" will be ready to move. Follow the same procedures you would as if planting a container-grown plant. Dig a hole about 1 foot wider and 6 inches deeper than that of the transplant root mass. Mix the soil from the hole with an organic amendment like peat moss or compost. Fill the hole with enough soil so that the plant will sit in the hole at the same level as it was growing before. Firm the soil to prevent settling.

Next, gently place the plant straight up in the hole and fill with the surrounding soil. Watering as you plant will help to prevent air pockets. Do not mound soil around the trunk or stem of the plant, as you can create a rot situation. After you are finished filling with soil, form a saucer-like basin 2 or 3 feet away from the trunk and 4 to 6 inches high to help hold water in the root zone when you water. Thoroughly water the plant, refilling the basin several times if necessary. Lastly, mulch the plant to a 2- to 3-inch depth, which will help to conserve moisture and reduce soil temperatures.

For more information on this subject, there will be a seminar on "Fall Selection, Planting and Care of Trees and Shrubs" on Thursday, Sept. 28, from 2-3:30 p.m. at the Agricultural Center auditorium, located across from Fica World off of U.S. Highway 17-92. Mike Martin, urban forester, will help you select trees for your landscape, and I will speak on fall planting and care of trees and shrubs. The program is free and open to all. For more information, please give me a call.

Garden of the Month

An iron kettle full of blooming impatiens lends to the country look of the Sanford Garden Club's Garden of the Month, owned by Mark and Libbie Whitehead (pictured above). The home, at 116 Grove Lane, Sanford, also features a split-rail fence with wagon wheels at the entrance to the home. A rose bed and large oak trees circled with bromeliads also impressed Mrs. C.E. Morton of the club's Jacquarda Circle, who presented the award.

Smoker's death may spare others

DEAR ABBY: (July 7, 1989) I am writing this letter in the waiting room of the intensive care unit of The Boulder (Colo.) Community Hospital. My mother is on a respirator due to severe lung damage. She has asthma and smoked cigarettes for 50 years. Now she has emphysema and pneumonia.

Before she was hooked up to the respirator, she begged me to help her. Now I can only comfort her and pray for her. For years, the family asked her to quit smoking, but it was something she couldn't—or didn't want to—do. My mother is a strong woman, but her addiction to cigarettes got the best of her, even after seeing my father go through surgery for lung cancer eight months ago...

(Aug. 6, 1989) I was interrupted when I started to write the above letter and am now able to finish it. My mother passed away on July 18. She was only 65 years old. It's too late to save her now, but it may not be too late for some of your readers.

Smokers, please think about the pain and suffering you can cause yourself and your family by continuing to smoke.

I don't have a mother now, and my children, ages 13 and 18, don't have a grandma anymore. Please, please quit smoking now, if not for yourself, then for those who love you.

SUSAN ORTIS, DENVER

DEAR SUSAN: My heart goes out to you and your family. If your letter inspires only one person to quit smoking, it will be well worth the space in this column. Thanks for writing.

DEAR ABBY: As I sat sewing a garment for a grandchild this morning, I had a rush of appreciation for my mother, who had the patience to teach me how to sew when I was 11 or 12 years old. I've had so much pleasure and satisfaction at my sewing machine and have used this skill in so many ways for friends, neighbors and family throughout the last 50 years. I consider this one of the best gifts my mother ever gave me, and I'm glad I told her so while I had the chance.

So many of the skills we enjoy for a lifetime have the roots of mastery planted in childhood. I often wonder about the many children who spend hours being entertained by television or video games. How many opportunities are lost to them for a lifetime?

Pass on my message, Abby.
JEAN M. BAYNE, BOHNER, ORE.

DEAR ABBY: How true. But a mother's life today is very different from the life her grandmother led half a century ago. Most mothers work outside the home today as a matter of necessity—not choice. This is progress?

Vein finders valuable resource to hospitals

DEAR DR. GOTT: I'm a 65-year-old female with high blood pressure and high cholesterol readings. When I have blood drawn for testing, the technician has a very difficult time finding a suitable vein that won't collapse. Is there any procedure that might make the job easier?

To give you more information, I am sending you a free copy of my Health Report "Consumer Tips on Medicines." Other readers who would like a copy should send $1.25 with their name and address to P.O. Box 91369, Cleveland, OH 44101.

MEDICINE

PETER GOTT, M.D.

3369. Be sure to mention the title.

DEAR READER: Alas, I cannot help you. You are a victim of the phlebotomist's (blood drawer's) technique. Some technicians are more skilled than others at finding veins that won't collapse; this is a function of experience and some genetic ability that I have yet to identify.

When you go for your periodic blood tests, ask the technician to introduce you to the most skillful phlebotomist in the lab. Get to know this person, treat him or her with care, compliment the human vampire on what a good job he or she is doing. Above all, don't antagonize a good phlebotomist; such a resource is invaluable to any hospital.

Also, don't giggle when you hear the hospital operator paging the phlebotomist—as happens in our hospital—as "Phil Botomist" or, worse, "Fur Botomist."

DEAR DR. GOTT: I've heard that people taking thyroid medication should avoid certain foods. Now that I'm taking Synthroid, should I watch what I eat?

DEAR READER: My standard answer to such questions is, ask your doctor. By this, I mean that a person's personal physician is the best judge of the precautions you, as an individual, should take with respect to specific medicines. As far as I know, the use of Synthroid (thyroid hormone) does not require any dietary alterations. Nonetheless, you should ask your doctor about this, because your case may differ from the majority of similar cases.

WIN AT BRIDGE

By James Jacoby
You bridge players don't need computers to do your counting, as long as you can get to 13. "The Bridge Book — Vol. 3 — For Advanced Players" by Stewart and Baron (Deyn Press, Louisville, Ky.) has an excellent chapter on counting. This week we'll look at some useful examples. North first bid three clubs, even though he did not have a club control, because he wanted partner to know that he had full-fledged high-card values for his four-spade bid. Had he bid game immediately over the two-club overall, he would be showing more distributional values and less in point-count. West led K-A of clubs, then switched to the six of diamonds. Dummy's queen lost to East's king, and back came the jack.

Declarer won dummy's ace, played A-K-Q of spades and then ruffed a diamond low. West discarded a club. West had shown up with two diamonds and only one spade. Since East had played up the line in clubs, East could not have a doubleton club. That meant that West originally held six clubs. If declarer is thinking along these lines, he does not need to consult Albert Einstein to know that West has four hearts. The right play becomes simple: Cash the king of hearts; then play a low heart and insert the eight from dummy. Return to the jack of spades and lead back to the A-J of hearts. The unusual play in the heart suit is easy to find when declarer does a little basic counting.

HOROSCOPE

By Bernice Bode Geel
YOUR BIRTHDAY
Sept. 25, 1989

Some unusual conditions could develop unexpectedly in the year ahead that will prove to be advantageous for you financially. In each case, what occurs will be instigated by a friend.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Lady Luck feels you are very deserving, even though she might not have given you too much attention lately. This could all begin to change as of today. Know where to look for romance and you'll find it. The Astro-Graph Matchmaker instantly reveals which signs are romantically perfect for you. Mail #2 to Matchmaker, c/o this newspaper, P.O. Box 91428, Cleveland, OH 44101-3428.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) You could be getting some extremely interesting pieces of news shortly. They will deal with a project in which you have recently become involved.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) You could be rather fortunate today in that others will see to it you're not overlooked if anything is to be split up or given away. Be sure to acknowledge your benefactors.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) In order to feel your best today, you'll need some type of involvement that keeps you active mentally as well as physically. Self-interests can be advanced if you are free to move around.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) An impulsive, but generous friend of yours might give you something today you really have been wanting, but would not have dared to ask for yourself.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Partnership arrangements should work out extremely well for you today be they for business or social purposes. This is just one of those times when you're lucky with allies.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) You're a fast thinker today and you should be able to handle yourself very well in unexpected developments. Instinctively you will know how to turn things to your advantage.

Taurus (April 20-May 20) A quick-thinking associate might be available today to help get you out of a rough spot, but it's best you don't make a habit of waiting until the last minute to find essential support.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Don't be discouraged today if things don't appear to be going in your favor according to early indicators. You're a good stretch runner and your breaks come in the second half.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Someone who has been reluctant to agree with you regarding an issue of importance might surprise you today by becoming an ally you can rely on.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Something you've been wanting to do that you felt would be excessively expensive might not cost you a fraction as much as you thought. This will be due to an unexpected change in circumstances.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Things you are likely to enjoy doing the most today will be those that just seem to pop up rather than the ones which are planned. Don't structure your day too severely because restraints could become dampers.
