Albert Wiggins Gives Annual Report Upon Business Conditions And Sees Hope Soon

NEW YORK, Jan. 12 (AP)—Albert H. Wiggins, chairman of the Chase National bank of New York, told its shareholders in his annual report today that he believes the next important move in business will be upward.

He asserts collective efforts to maintain prosperity by such means as easy money and rigid maintenance of prices and wages have progressed and not alleviated the depression by delaying necessary adjustments. He believes the right money of 1931 necessitated such adjustments and hastened recovery from the previous depression.

Nevertheless, Wiggins is of the opinion that "we are appreciably at the worst of the depression." He expresses confidence that "the credit fabric is strong enough to stand any additional strain which continuance of depression may impose upon it" and "nothing is to be gained by concealing unfavorable factors."

The financier expects "conditions at the end of 1931 to be a good deal better than they are at the end of 1930."

Regarding securities, he said: "I do not know whether we shall see lower prices in the stock market or not, but there are many stocks and bonds now selling for less than they will be worth in normal times."

He expresses the conviction that it would be good business for our government to institute now a reduction in inter-state debts; suggest modification of the tariff; and to promote security of national stability, reduction in the capital gains tax from 12 1/2 to 7 1/2 percent.

While expressing "no sympathy with price fixing policies," he acknowledges advantages of restricted production in special circumstances.

World finance has awaited Wiggins' annual report with intense interest for virtually his only public utterances appear in these yearly reports. Since his last report, his institutions has risen to (Continued On Page Six)

Tadpoles And Boiled Grass Keep Aviators Lost In Desert Alive

ALICE SPRINGS, Australia, Jan. 12.—(AP)—Two aviators, lost in the Central Australian desert for more than two weeks, were brought here today by rescuers with a story of how they lived on matted milk tablets, boiled grass, and tadpoles while wandering toward civilization through trackless wilds. They were Captain W. L. Pittenburgh and S. J. Hamber who started out for some mining properties last December and were forced down in the desert.

SOVIET OFFICIAL IN SPEECH DENIES DUMPING CHARGE

Also Scores Accusation Made Against Using Forced Labor

MOSCOW, Jan. 12.—(AP)—Charges of "dumping" and use of forced labor were denounced at the closing session of the central executive committee yesterday by President Michael Kalinin, who declared they were made by "foreign enemies" and capitalists for the purpose of "throwing dust in the eyes" of discontented laboring classes.

He declared the capitalists were attempting to alibi the world economic crisis by blaming it on the soviets, but said they had not succeeded and were only making the situation worse.

He offered the capitalists a solution of the problem by declaring "if the capitalists will tax themselves by turning over to the laboring masses, 80 to 90 percent of all commodities produced from Jan. 1." In this manner, he said, "they will be able to supply the world with the goods necessary to introduce regulation of labor."

Speaking of forced labor, he said, "our enemies attempt to represent as forced labor our yet slight achievements in distribution of labor power."

"What our enemies call forced labor," he said, "is in truth the success of socialism in organizing labor. The most important achievements in socialist construction are the collectivization of farmers and planned distribution of workers."

"The program of our party says: 'It is necessary for the purpose of development of national economy to utilize in maximum all labor power in the country. It is necessary to distribute this power between the various territorial regions and between the various branches of national economy in such a way as to give the greatest effect.'"

He countered the charge of "dumping" goods abroad by the statement that Soviet Russia purchases, as much abroad as it sells.

Italian Seaplanes Reach Bahia, Brazil On Their Way To Rio

BAHIA, Brazil, Jan. 12.—(AP)—Six Italian seaplanes, victors in a crossing of the South Atlantic last week, arrived here at 11:30 A. M., E. S. T., completing the first stage of a triangular flight along the coast to Rio de Janeiro.

Gen. Italo Balbo, youthful Italian military and commander of the flight, and his companions received an intensely warm welcome from both the city officials and the thousands of people in the streets cheering as the planes circled over the harbor before gliding down upon the water.

The seaplanes, 18 of which returned from West Africa to Natal in 17 hours 55 minutes last week, with the eleventh coming down with a minor trouble, but landing safely later, left Bahia at 10:30 A. M. for Rio de Janeiro.

Normally the distance between Rio de Janeiro and Bahia is 1,000 miles, as flown by the small planes of the Pan-American Airways line. The Italian seaplanes flew over the City of Jesus (Jesus, formerly Paratyba), crossing the state of the same name. It was a feat for a seaplane to fly over a mountain range, as was done last week by Gen. Balbo.

The following messages were received from the Italian seaplanes: "The Italian seaplanes, leaving Rio de Janeiro and flying over the mountains of a great state capital of the City of Jesus (Jesus, formerly Paratyba), crossed the state of the same name. It was a feat for a seaplane to fly over a mountain range, as was done last week by Gen. Balbo."

Carlton Raps Public For Its Indifference On Matters Of State

TALLAHASSEE, Jan. 12.—(AP)—Public indifference to affairs of government is the greatest of public enemies, Governor Carlton told officers of all post of the Florida department of the American Legion and Legion Auxiliary here today at the annual conference of the two organizations.

Addresses by national and state officers of the legion, reports of vice commissioners and various committees featured the day's program. Dedication exercises at the new home of the Tallahassee post and memorial services were held last night.

Drouth Relief Bill Is Given Special Status

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12.—(AP)—The House committee voted today to give special legislative priority to the drouth relief appropriation bill to allow it to be sent to conference with the Senate tomorrow. The committee adopted the resolution to disapprove the Senate's $15,000,000 amendment for human food loans. Under rules of the House, the resolution cannot be brought up until tomorrow. A vote will then be taken which will show the strength of the House supporting the House amendment.

STRAUS, HEAD OF U. S. JEWRY, IS DEAD AT 82

Aged Philanthropist Dies Peacefully In His Sleep At Apartment In New York

NEW YORK, Jan. 12.—(AP)—Nathan Straus, philanthropist and president of the U. S. Jewish community, died peacefully in his sleep early yesterday in his apartment in the 8th Ward hotel. He had been ill Jan. 11, he would have been 82 years old.

Death ended a coma into which he had sunk 21 hours before. He had been ill two weeks, but few knew of it, and his death came as a shock to the city to which many of his philanthropies had been extended.

With him when he died were his son, Nathan, Jr., his only daughter, Mrs. Irving Lehman, whose husband is a judge of the court of appeals, and Dr. Leopold Steglitz, a close friend. The cause of death was given on the death certificate signed by Dr. Steglitz, as heart failure and high blood pressure.

Word of the death was cabled to another son, Hugh Grant Straus, in Paris.

Nathan Straus, Jr., said his father's death was "a case of a man 82 years old whose heart has been none too strong."

In speaking of "the biggest thing" Nathan Straus accomplished, his son yesterday quoted from a book written by the philanthropist's wife, whose death occurred last spring.

There "biggest thing" was his work for the relief of distress in the winters of 1892-93 and 1893-94; the securing of a supply of pure milk for infants and children; and the coining of the word "voluntarism" to replace "voluntarism" with which the treatment of tuberculosis had been generally associated.

Mr. and Mrs. Straus celebrated the golden anniversary of their marriage in 1923. During her lifetime she took an active interest in his philanthropies, and her death last May marked the beginning of the physical decline which resulted in his death.

Funeral services Tuesday, in accordance with his wishes, will reflect Straus' simple code of living. The simplest possible services (Continued On Page Six)

11 ARE KILLED IN PHILIPPINE DRIVE TO CURB REBELS

Constabulary Storms Convent Barricaded By Band Of Enemy

MANILA, Jan. 12.—(AP)—A staff correspondent of the Manila Tribune today reported religious fanatics, who sided the General Lujan village of Tayug yesterday and burned the American flag after capturing the city hall, were "appared by red propaganda."

The town of Tayug was retaken yesterday by constabulary who stormed a convent in which a large band of rebels had barricaded themselves. Eleven persons were killed in the fighting, two of them being women rebels.

The town was taken Saturday by a band of several hundred persons who killed several residents and burned the constabulary barracks, the postoffice and 10 other buildings while seeking the town.

Reports from Pangasinan province on the northwestern coast of the island of Luzon, the largest of the Philippine group, indicated but did not definitely establish that the capture of Tayug was the result of an uprising of peasants against their landlords, and not action by religious fanatics as previously reported.

A tense situation prevailed at the town of Santa Maria, Ilocos Norte, where the public peace in Nueva Ecija province was regarded as none too secure.

At Santa Maria, a band of 100 men, which were regarded as menacing although no definite (Continued On Page Six)

Sharon's Court Is Recessed To Allow Hearing On Death

Proceedings in Judge James G. Sharon's regular term of County Court were halted this afternoon as a coroner's jury began hearing a number of witnesses in the case of Miss Ruth Merton Strickland, 17, high school sophomore, who died last Tuesday morning.

The hearing is expected to be concluded tonight, and Judge Sharon will resume court tomorrow morning.

A jury of six, sitting in the case of the State versus Bob Robinson, colored, charged with the possession of liquor, returned a verdict of guilty late Friday afternoon. The defendant will be sentenced later. Ellis Lowry, colored woman charged with the same offense appeared before Judge Sharon after the Robinson trial was concluded and pleaded guilty. She will be sentenced later.

At 10 A. M. today, Judge Sharon presided over a hearing on the case of a woman charged with the same offense as Robinson. She was found guilty and sentenced to 60 days in jail. Court then adjourned.

Monday morning a jury composed of C. C. Morgan, G. Bell, M. Y. Brown, J. E. Austin, J. L. Brainerd and W. E. Hughes, found Lewis Manning guilty of petit larceny. He although asked for but was denied a new trial, but was sentenced to serve a three-month sentence or pay a fine of $25 and costs. His attorneys made known their intention of appealing the case.

This morning only one case was handled. Annie Bellamy, colored, charged with assault and battery, pleaded guilty. A jury, composed of John Green, E. M. Woods, C. H. Nelson, E. Corbett, Miss Mikler and A. Kramer, found her guilty as charged, and Judge Sharon sentenced her to 30 days in jail and costs, to be paid 30 days in jail. He then drew a lot of eight names for jury duty tomorrow, and adjourned court 11:30 o'clock tomorrow morning.

MISSING ON ATLANTIC HOP

Mrs. Beryl Hart and Lieut. William S. MacLaren, who left Bermuda at 11:15 A. M. Saturday in continuation of their projected payload flight from the United States to Paris, and expected to cover the 2015 miles between Bermuda and Horta, Azores, in about 21 hours. Sunday night they were more than 12 hours over-due and no news had been heard of them.

POWER BOARD TO GO FORWARD ON ITS PONDERINGS

Decision Is Made Despite Lack Of Confirmation Of Three

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12.—(AP)—With the full backing of President Hoover, the new power commission will go ahead with its duties this week although the names of three of the five members will appear on the Senate calendar as unconfirmed.

This unprecedented situation resulting from the sharp exchange between the President and the Senate coalition of Democrats and Republican independents presented new problems for legislative and legal authorities.

Senator Walsh (D Mont.), who led the contest for reconsideration of the nominations of Chairman Smith and Commissioner Draper and Garand because of their dismissal of two employees of the old commission, said yesterday he saw nothing that could be done to halt the commission from functioning after the refusal of the President to return the nominations to the Senate as requested.

While Senator Wheeler (D Mont.), was organizing a drive to withhold appropriation for salaries from the three commission members, public leaders rallied to the position taken by President Hoover that the men were legally confirmed and any action now by the Senate against them would be an endorsement upon the independence of the executive assured by the constitution.

The Senate voted, 41 to 37, for reconsideration of the nominees. It had confirmed just before the (Continued On Page Six)

Miraculous Escape & Feature Crash In Which Two Cars Are Demolished

An automobile collision on south Sanford Avenue in the vicinity of the aviation field at about 8:30 o'clock last night resulted in the miraculous escape of Frank M. Dullow, George Stuart, and two young girl companions, although the Buick sedan they were riding in, after crashing into a Ford sedan parked without lights, turned over and came to a stop on its top, crushing it and the remainder of the car beyond repair.

According to H. G. Dullow, father of young Dullow, his son and the Stuart boys were driving south on Sanford Avenue in company with the two girls. They had just passed an oncoming marked car, without warning a marked car without lights of any kind, Nelson, E. Corbett, Miss Mikler and A. Kramer, found her guilty as charged, and Judge Sharon sentenced her to 30 days in jail and costs, to be paid 30 days in jail. Sweeping Slashes In Tire Prices Are Made

AKRON, Jan. 12.—(AP)—Announcement of sweeping cuts in the retail price of tires was made today by three of the largest Akron rubber companies. General Tire and Rubber Company announced a reduction of seven and one-half to 18 percent on all passenger tires but said no cut on truck tire prices is contemplated.

H. F. Goodrich Company said it revised its tire prices schedule to meet "reductions announced last week by competitive companies." Official confirmation was obtained of a six and a half to 12 percent reduction credited to the Firestone Company since last week.

The Seiberling Company announced slashes in all sizes of main road grade but stated the higher priced tires will be practically undisturbed. Goodyear and Mohawk companies probably will issue statements later today.

REMEDY WILL BE SOUGHT FOR BUSINESS DROP

International Chamber Of Commerce To Look For Cure Of World Depression

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12.—(AP)—A remedy for the world-wide business depression will be sought at the May meeting of the international chamber of commerce.

This was announced yesterday by Elias H. Straus, chairman of the American committee of the organization, who said representatives of 46 nations would attend the Washington meeting.

In a statement, Straus said the conference would "endeavor to investigate carefully the distinction between cause and effect in the present situation with a view to establishing to what extent remedies can be sought and the first steps of recovery hastened by coordinating sectional endeavors."

"From this as from previous business depressions," he added, "there will be eventual and we hope speedy recovery. When that time will come, no one seems able to forecast. Certain it is that recovery can only be brought by cooperative individual effort and not by governmental action."

"Straus said 'perhaps the most ominous cloud that overhangs the whole economic world is the dumping on the world market of large quantities of grain, raw materials and semi-finished products by soviet Russia at prices less than the normal costs of production.'"

"That is a factor in the situation," he said, "the duration and extent of which cannot be measured."

Blaze Threatening La Grange George Put Under Control

As Tremblors Rock Island Off Mexico

LA GRANGE, Ga., Jan. 12.—(AP)—Fire that for a time threatened the entire business section of La Grange, was reported by police shortly after 8 o'clock last night to be under control after razing nine stores and the four-story La Grange hotel.

First reports said the main business block was entirely destroyed, but a later check up after the flames subsided somewhat showed that only about a half of the block was in complete ruins although the rest and part of an adjoining block were damaged.

The fire raged over the business section of the city on a stiff breeze and at 8 o'clock seemed completely out of control. Among other buildings at a cost of more than $100,000, and the new post office appeared doomed.

The proportions of the fire caused aid to be asked from Newman, West Point and Atlanta. Fire trucks from Newman and West Point arrived in time to help bring the flames under control while the truck from Atlanta speeded into the city after the early danger appeared past. With the concentration of fire apparatus, however, the La Grange department was able to make greater headway in dousing the blaze in the last sector endangered.

The cause of the fire was not determined by the early police investigation.

Guests in the hotel had ample warning to flee before the building was engulfed. No injuries beyond minor ones were reported.

La Grange has a population of about 25,000.

Hein that virtually constituted a shambol while the fire was at its worst aided materially in bringing it under control.

Hope Is Dimmed For Safety Of 2 Fliers On Atlantic Flight

NAVY PLANES OF IMPROVED TYPE BEING DELIVERED

New Crafts Will Have Great Speed Added To Ease Of Takeoff

SEATTLE, Wash., Jan. 12.—(AP)—A speed of 350 miles an hour in a vertical power dive—an ascent from the ground to 10,000 feet and return in five minutes—floating ability when water and a high speed at great altitudes.

These are some of the features of 44 new Boeing single motor fighting planes, first delivery of which was made to the United States Navy at Bremerton, Wash., yesterday.

Although Boeing officials refused to estimate possible speed of the planes, it was understood they are as fast as the speediest combat aircraft of any nation.

They are distinguished from the old type of "war birds" by their ability for quick takeoff, rapid ascent, their high degree of maneuvering ability and speedy diving possibilities.

The new Navy planes are similar, though with added improvements, to the ships which won the Shiff Naval trophy for 1930. A squadron in competing for the award made 801 takeoffs from an airplane carrier, a like number of landings, and flew 600,000 miles mostly over open seas without accident. Other fighting planes with which the ships were compared are those which Army armaments (Continued On Page Six)

Chances Of Mrs. Hart And MacLaren Are Lessened By Large Seas In Path Of Hop

Horta, Azores, Jan. 12.—(AP)—A storm swept Atlantic today was believed to have claimed the lives of two more transatlantic fliers. Hope for the safety of Mrs. Beryl Hart, 27-year-old widow and Lieut. William MacLaren, who left Hamilton, Bermuda Saturday for Horta in the monoplane Tradewind, dimmed fast with the passing hours.

The aviators with a pay load which they hoped to take to Paris expected to fly the 2000 miles in 21 hours. This would put them here yesterday morning. They have not been seen since the take-off. They carried no radio. If forced down at sea the plane could not have floated more than a few minutes. Although it was equipped with pontoons the giant waves hereabouts for the past three days would have crushed the plane.

As darkness came, rockets were sent up as a guide to the fliers, but with the sea choppy, heavy clouds hanging low and a strong gale blowing from the northeast, the inhabitants virtually gave up hope the fliers could light their way to this island safely.

In New York, the plane carried enough fuel to take it to the mainland of Portugal, about 1150 miles due east from the Azores.

They estimated, however, that the gasoline would have been exhausted at 6 o'clock (E. S. T.) last night.

Meantime the wireless station at Horta sent out requests for news to ships in the vicinity all day and the Associated Press also relayed individual messages to reporters in the Eastern Atlantic. Correspondents in Portugal, Spain and France were watching for a possible landing on the main island coast.

Lieutenant MacLaren and Mrs. Hart left on the proposed flight in Paris from North Beach, N. Y., Jan. 3, carrying a load of commercial products and some mail in an effort to demonstrate that commercial flying across the Atlantic is practicable.

Their destination was Hamilton, Bermuda, and anxiety was felt when they became long overdue there. Eventually they landed at Norfolk, Va., explaining that the breaking of their sextant when near the Bermuda necessitated their return to the American coast.

On Jan. 7, they again left for Hamilton, this time making it in an eight flight of 6 hours, 55 minutes, from Norfolk.

They remained there until Sunday, and then took off for Horta, planning to refuel at this island point and then cover the remaining 1690 miles to Paris in one jump.

Employment Crisis Is Blamed On Hoover

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12.—(AP)—The administration was charged yesterday by Senator Wagner, Democrat, New York, with "no resistance to the creation of adequate plans for the prevention of unemployment."

In a statement through the Democratic national committee, the New Yorker criticized President Hoover for his failure to include in the first deficiency bill to carry out provisions of the Wagner act for collection and publication of employment statistics. The measure was signed by the President shortly after Congress adjourned last July.

Wagner said the possession of accurate information on employment was "crucial and fundamental."

STOCKHOLM, Jan. 12.—(AP)—As a protest against a reduction in wages, 34,000 textile workers in Sweden have gone on strike. A similar notice of wage reductions has been served on the building trades and a meeting has been called for Jan. 19 in an effort to avert a stoppage of work.

MYSTERY VEILS "BUG" SITUATION AMONG HEAVIES

"Stribling Arrives In New York And Disappears Promptly"

NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—(AP)—The heavyweight middle took on all the elements of the first act of a mystery thriller yesterday as harassed sports writers in the roles of the detectives searched for the corpus delicti at least a motive.

"Stribling, head of the family that boasts W. L. Young," Stribling as its fighting member, arrived in New York Thursday across the stage, and immediately disappeared.

A mysterious voice, identified as that of Nat Lewis, Chicago promoter, who wants to stage a heavyweight title bout between Max Schmeling and Stribling, announced the elder Stribling was hidden away somewhere, absolutely in his power, and there were immediate fears for the worst.

Joe Jacobs, manager of the champion titleholder, who was dejected by the New York State athletic commission last Tuesday, also vanished though it was suspected he was merely sleeping somewhere.

The only other leading character in the situation, William F. Carey, president of Madison Square Garden, alone was followed of all suspicion. He was in Boston, discussing fights with Jack Sharkey, who can win the vacated heavyweight crown by fighting a leading contender in New York state if he can dig up the leading contender.

Will Stribling is the crux of the situation, being sought for a June match against Schmeling in Chicago as well as a bout with the same month against Whitney.

Stribling has already declared that he will meet Schmeling in Chicago and prefer Lewis as the promoter. The Schmeling interests, however, are bound to the Hearst milk fund promoters by both sentimental and contractual ties. The milk fund would like to promote the Stribling-Schmeling match, which has been planned in New York either in Chicago without the aid of Lewis, or in Cleveland, Detroit or Philadelphia.

"Stribling's first conference with Hearst milk fund promoters failed to develop any satisfactory agreement. It was understood a wide split had developed over conditions of the title bout.

There were whispers that if the trouble continued, the milk fund would abandon the bout and attempt to promote a title match between Schmeling and Primo Carnera, at Detroit, Cleveland or Philadelphia.

GARMISCH - PARTENKIRCHEN, Germany, Jan. 10.—(AP)—Max Schmeling was warned yesterday by the German boxing commission, that he must "avoid everything in his negotiations with foreign boxing commissions that might be misinterpreted and that might prejudice the prestige of German boxing." The commission requested him to instruct his American manager to that effect.

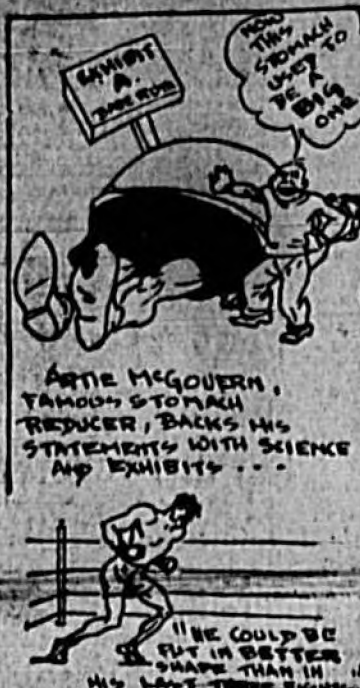

Do-X Will Pay Visit To Miami In Spring After Atlantic Hop

NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—(AP)—Lieut. Clarence Schildhauer, American co-pilot and second in command of the Do-X, mammoth passenger seaplane, prepared to sail tonight for Lisbon to guide the trans-Atlantic flight, delayed by destruction of one of the plane's wings by fire a month ago, will be resumed about Jan. 20, Lieutenant Schildhauer said, with Rio de Janeiro and then Miami as its objectives. Extension of the flight to New York is still uncertain.

At a luncheon in his honor yesterday the former Navy flyer discussed the giant proportions of the 12-motored, 100-passenger Do-X, which he called "perhaps the most advanced and comfortable transportation in the world." The ocean liner, he said, is merely to gain experience and improve the future.

It was said there was no likelihood of changes in the plane's hull design, but "some improvements" in the power plant design would be made. The maximum speed is 150 miles an hour and the cruising speed from 100 to 120 miles an hour.

TOO GOOD TO BE ENTIRELY TRUE!

DIXIE UNIVERSITY HEADS DECRY TOO MUCH FOOTBALL

College Presidents See Athletic Sport As Over-Emphasized

RICHMOND, Va., Jan. 10.—(AP)—The Richmond News Leader, in the first of a series of copyrighted articles, yesterday said college and university presidents in the South agree by a majority of approximately two to one that football is greatly over-emphasized, and believe reforms needed.

The paper asked two questions of the educators, whether the game was over-emphasized and what reforms were needed. Some of the educators replied tersely and some at length, but so many responded that the paper decided to "print two articles to give full presentation of their views.

"Concerning football, my judgment is that every possible phase of over-emphasis can be corrected by concerted action of college presidents and in no other way," said Dr. George H. Denny, president of the University of Alabama, the school furnishing the Southern conference championship team and the winner of the Rose Bowl classic. "Under present conditions the association or organization in control of intercollegiate athletics reflects the attitude of the college faculties."

President M. L. Brittain, of Georgia Tech, suggesting limiting the number of games and playing against teams with equal standards. "Yes, football is over-emphasized," said Dr. Brittain. "Limit the number of games and require equal standards."

President E. W. Sikes, of Clemson college, agreed that the game was over-emphasized, but differing from the opinion expressed by Dr. Denny, he would allow the athletic conferences to handle the problem.

FOOD CONDITIONS IN ARKANSAS ARE PAINTED AS DARK

Governor Says People Have No Conception Of True Situation

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Jan. 10.—(AP)—In a lengthy telegram to the New York World and the Philadelphia Public Ledger yesterday, Gov. Harvey Parnell, of Arkansas, said "those who have not actually investigated conditions in Arkansas resulting from the drought have no conception of the true situation."

The governor in his telegram pointed out the work being done in Arkansas by the Red Cross and said every one of the State's 75 counties "is more or less affected."

"I am confident," he continued, "that many of the hungry are saying nothing about it because of a sense of pride. It must be understood that the people of Arkansas are more than 99 per cent native born Americans of stock that has been in the United States for many generations. They are the most independent people in the country and it requires little imagination to realize that they regard a request for help as humiliating."

"They abhor the idea of being recipients of charity and of the hundreds of appeals received directly by the governor's office and various relief agencies the request until recently was invariably for employment that they might earn something with which to buy food."

"The federal government proposes to make $45,000,000 available for loans to farmers to enable them to grow crops this year but there is no provision for food for themselves and families from the time crops are planted until they can produce something to eat."

"Rebilitation of the future outlook in this respect simply aggravates the situation. A county by county survey of Arkansas discloses that at least $5,550,000 will be required in this state during the crop growing period in order that people on farms may be able to buy something to eat while vegetables are maturing."

"Our national government has from time to time rushed to the assistance of starving people all over the world. It has freely given millions of dollars to the hungry in the Eastern Hemisphere, millions which never were repaid."

WOODCOCK TELLS OF RUM SEIZURES DURING 6 MONTHS

Prohibition Director Reports Enormous Caches Of Illicit Goods In His Regime

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—(AP)—The seizure of more than 4,000,000 gallons of beer and 711,000 of liquor was made known yesterday by Prohibition Director Woodcock as the fruit of federal enforcement during his six months regime as the Nation's dry chief.

This announcement followed close upon the departure from Washington of two more members of the Wickersham Law Enforcement Commission, with both indicating their own prohibition problem had ended and the solutions to be offered by the commission were nearing the start of their journey to the White House.

Only six of the members remained in the capital, and at least four were working on other phases of the commission's crime investigation. The forecast that the Wickersham report would be cut of their hands early next week remained unchanged.

In summarizing six months of dry law enforcement, said fines of $2,314,857 had been assessed against violators along with jail sentences totaling approximately 8000 years. At the same time, he announced a change in status for the dry administrators and most of the deputy administrators in six of the 12 prohibition districts. Hereafter all have carried the word "acting" before their titles, but this will be dropped.

This action, Woodcock said, is no reflection upon the dry leaders in the remaining six districts, since he has had time to inspect the work of only half the country.

The administrators removed from the trial status were Jonathan S. Lewis at Boston, Andrew McCampbell at New York, Commander John D. Pennington at Philadelphia, William N. Woolruff at Cincinnati, Col. J. F. J. Herbert at Chicago, and William G. Walker at San Francisco.

The prohibition director said there had been worked out a system of efficiency ratings for each of his army of 1400 agents, designed to give "a correct and fair picture of the ability" of every man. Each will be graded upon his rating in the prohibition schools, the conspicuous acts he performs, and the length of his service.

SOUTHWEST WILL USE FOOTBALL TO ASSIST FINANCES

Sharp Retrenchment Planned For Winter And Spring Sports

DALLAS, Tex., Jan. 10.—(AP)—Sharp retrenchment in winter and spring sports such as basketball, track and baseball, followed by a fall boom in the more profitable sport of football, is prescribed by Southwest conference athletic directors as the proper treatment of the college's ill brought about by the current financial depression.

Although exact figures were not available, a survey of conference athletic offices reveal a 25 per cent drop of something like $5 million for the recent season, some schools suffering more than others. But, instead of letting the situation bother them, the financial directors simply plan to plan a bigger and better football attractions this year.

As Dr. E. M. Blackwell, business manager for Southern Methodist university, put it: "There's nothing to be gained by letting up now. Curtailing receipts during the last season and a corresponding decrease in athletic tuitions left many of us, especially the denominational schools, in a wobbly condition. Our best bet is to arrange more football games next season and all out of it. A football game is one thing that can be counted upon to make money."

That Southwest directors are in accord with Dr. Blackwell's idea is reflected in next season's conference schedules. Each of the seven members has arranged a complete program of conference games and has elected a few practice and inter-sectional tilts for good measure.

Among the inter-sectional contests will be Texas vs. Harvard at Cambridge; Southern Methodist vs. Navy at Baltimore; Rice vs. Arizona at Tucson, and Arkansas vs. University of Chicago. Southern Methodist received five invitations to play on the Pacific coast, including one from Southern California, but did not have an open date.

Meantime, winter and spring activities are being held to a minimum. The Southwest conference will play a full program of football, each team meeting its rivals twice, but every effort has been made to cut expenses.

Thrilling Portions In "Hell's Angels" Film Were Actual Scenes

By ROBERT CRANSTON

For the first time in history a colonial film spectacle is presented without faked or processed shots. In "Hell's Angels" when you see someone in the air, he is actually in the air. And when you see a person flying a plane, he is actually flying it. There is no plot, no hidden cockpits, no false appearance of an airplane doing the flying. Nor are there any faked shots where the actors and planes are photographed on a studio stage, and the background double-exposed in later.

Practically all of the incidents of "Hell's Angels" are based on actual occurrences during the World War. There is nothing in the picture which could not have taken place, and most of the incidents actually did occur.

Taken, for example, the Zeppelin sequences. The incident of the lowering of the observation car and its ensuing drama actually occurred over Calais during the war. The purpose of the observation car was to permit the Zeppelin to hide above the clouds, entirely obscured from the earth, while the small observation car was lowered on a cable through the clouds to a point eight or ten thousand feet below the Zeppelin, so that the observer from his position underneath the clouds could see the air and direct the dropping of bombs. It was practically impossible for those on the ground below to see the observation car, or catch it with searchlights, because it was so small, whereas if the Zeppelin, with its tremendous size, had been below the clouds it could easily have been picked up by searchlights and would have been a target for anti-aircraft guns.

Dr. K. Arnstein, of Germany, who served as a technical advisor in filming the dirigible sequence of "Hell's Angels," was one of the high officials of the Zeppelin company during the World War, and supervised construction of many of the Zeppelins used in the latter part of war.

Authorities on war-time aviation who have seen "Hell's Angels" agree that it is not only the most authentic air film to date, but one of the greatest achievements in the history of aeronautics as well.

Colonel E. J. Brady and Major William Orlin Ryan of the United States Army Air Corps, who went to the Pacific Coast recently to observe the Army Air Corps operations at Sacramento, San Francisco and Los Angeles, presented two reels of the air sequences. Both were astounded and agreed it was beyond belief that such a film could be made.

The scene in which 10 Zeppelins were launched simultaneously in the air is another of the most thrilling scenes in the picture.

The picture is being shown in only a few theaters.

Cecilian Music Club Has 1st Meet Of '31

With New Year resolutions and music as the topics for the afternoon, the first meeting of the Cecilian Music Club for the year, 1931, was held Saturday afternoon at 3:15 o'clock at the studio of Mrs. Fannie S. Munson, Myrtle Avenue. Some points brought out in the general discussion were: (1) Resolutions are a wonderful incentive in making us to strive for the thing we desire to do and to be; and (2) a decision that fear to make resolutions weakens character, makes us a coward, robs us of the highest we could be, and takes away from the best that is in us.

In extending to all the club members best wishes and New Year thoughts, Mrs. Munson asked that they "throw away the old book with its successes and failures and begin the New Year with a new book, each day a new page, each month a new chapter." Mrs. Munson said that she could tell what the future had in store for them but that she could not tell what they would be. She then said, "Some make the most of every chance, some toss the chance away. But let the task be what it may, if well with it you do. Don't fret about the future—it will have a place for you." The following program was presented:

Such tires are made by some unknown manufacturer and sold under a name that does not identify him to the public, usually because he builds his first line tires under his own name.
