main entrance, and a dainty little Junior in blue escorted the ladies to the cloak room on the second floor, and then into the reception room on the right of the main entrance, where Professor Perkins, Mrs. Perkins and little daughter, Ethel Goodwin, stood in the receiving line with the guests of honor, the graduates, to receive the congratulations of their many friends and guests of the occasion. The handsome library was used for the reception room, and was tastefully decorated with the green vines and flowers. After meeting and congratulating the graduates, the guests mingled with their friends in the hall and auditorium, where they were seated to enjoy the delightful songs rendered by Messrs. Pope, Wetherill, Inman and Blackman, the Rollins' College quartette, who in their gracious manner entertained the music lovers who gathered in the auditorium to enjoy the songs.

Leaving the rooms below, the guests were escorted by an attentive Junior to the refreshment rooms on the second floor, where the pretty class colors were evident everywhere. But the daintiest feature of the whole reception was the presence of the class colors and decoration motif in the delicious refreshments, served on little tables, with handsome white covers and green and white star jessamine in vases. On the blocks of white ice cream was the number 12 in green, and also on the white icing on the cake was the same class year number in green. After the refreshments the guests returned to the auditorium where the quartette were again their most generous entertainers, delighting every one with their beautiful songs which ended the pleasant reception, one of the to be remembered events in the lives of the graduating class of 1912.

To the faculty, and especially Miss Guild and Miss Tetherly in planning and making possible the happy occasion and charming reception, and to the Juniors, are due the thanks and appreciation of all whose good fortune it was to be present.

Graduating Exercises

Of supreme interest and the crowning event of Commencement week were the impressive and beautiful, though sad, graduating exercises Friday evening in the auditorium of the Sanford High School, when the Senior class, who had completed with credit and honor the prescribed course of study, and after receiving their diplomas as a reward for work well and faithfully done ceased to be pupils of the Sanford High School. The large auditorium and stage were tastefully decorated with the beautiful star jessamine vines, lovely ferns and graceful bamboo branches. The class banner and colors of green and white graced the back of the stage, where the chairs had been arranged for the graduates, the school board and speaker and the school faculty. The Stumon orchestra rendered several delightful selections for the entertainment of the large audience of parents, friends and citizens of the town, who filled the large auditorium to overflowing in their appreciation of the occasion and heartfelt desire to do honor to the ten sweet girl graduates and their three manly classmates. While the orchestra played a march Tenney Deane, the dignified Junior and Marshal of the occasion, with his badge of office, decorated with the Junior class colors, preceded the school board, County School Board of Public Instruction, the orator of the occasion, the faculty and graduates down the aisle to the stage, where the board, Superintendent and Dr. Murphree took the seats on the right of the stage, the graduates in the center, and the faculty on the left. The invocation was made by Supt. McKinnon, at the conclusion of which the High School Glee Club, accompanied by Miss Margaret Davis sang "In May Time" and "Water Lilies." When the Glee Club had sung their beautiful numbers and had resumed their seats in the auditorium Robert McKim advanced down to the front of the stage and in a calm and dignified manner delivered an exceedingly interesting essay on "Radium," which from the clearness of its exposition showed great care and study in its preparation. After Mr. McKim's essay Miss Josie Stumon, accompanied by Mr. Gwynn Fox, played a delightful flute solo, "Adoration by Felix Barowski. Miss Hoskins Jones next claimed the attention of the audience while she drew a fine pen picture of "Ancient Art," especially as it flourished in Egypt in past centuries, relics of which have been and are still being unearthed by the research of the archaeologists of the present day. Miss Jones' essay was well written, interesting and well delivered.

"The Two Grenadiers," a fine solo, was charmingly sung by Mr. Clarence Mahoney, accompanied by Miss Florence Frank. Mr. Mahoney rejoices in the distinction of being the bass singer of the class. Supt. McKinnon had the honor of introducing to the audience Dr. A. A. Murphree, A. M., L.L. D., president of the University of Florida, which he did in his most felicitous style. All the nice compliments and bouquets that Mr. McKinnon was pleased to offer Dr. Murphree were more than deserved, as he made a very fine address indeed. After congratulating the graduates on the auspicious occasion and commending them on their school achievements he gave them several wise and kindly suggestions for consideration in planning their future. Dr. Murphree made a strong plea for the public schools and for education. In a clear cut and forceful way he showed the contrast between the life and attainment of an educated individual and of one who had no education higher than that gained in the school of life. The faculty are to be congratulated on their choice of a speaker and teacher for this occasion.

After the close of Dr. Murphree's address Professor Perkins gave the class his farewell talk, commending them upon their faithful diligence and congratulating them that they had arrived at the threshold of a broader, higher outlook upon life and its responsibilities and wisely and tenderly advising them how to use their opportunities. He then presented the diplomas.

While the orchestra played their last selection the marshal led the way to the library on the right of the main entrance, where the graduates received the congratulations of their family and friends.

The graduating class numbered thirteen, ten young ladies and three young men, and are Misses Josie Stumon, president of the class; Ruth Stewart, Hoskins Jones, Lillian Higgins, Mary Haskins, Agnes Berner, Midred Haskins, Ruby Betts, Elizabeth Munson, Bertha Packard; Clarence Mahoney, Robert McKim and Ray Maxwell.

The High School Magazine

Salamagundi, the High School Magazine issued by the pupils each year is out and is a good specimen of what our boys and girls can do in the literary line. The staff this year was composed of the following: Ruth Stewart, editor-in-chief; Josie Stumon, Mary Haskins; Agnes Berner, associate editors, and Robert McKim and Clarence Maligney, business managers. The magazine shows careful work on the part of the contributors and is full of good articles and bright bits—in fact, a real salamagundi. The work was done by Chas. Wing and is excellent in every particular of the printers' art. The citizens of Sanford should purchase copies of Salamagundi and send them to their friends in other states.

Entertained The Juniors

After the exercises at the High School Friday night the ex-Juniors were invited to the home of the president of the graduating class, Miss Josie Stumon, where they were joined by the graduates and Miss Guild and Miss Tetherly, after the organization of the Alumni Association of the Sanford High School. A very pleasant time was enjoyed by all. The president of the class of '13 was called for to make a speech, but he failed to respond.

Delicious refreshments were served during the evening. The home was fragrant with cut flowers and ferns, green and white being the prevailing colors. At a late hour the guests departed knowing that "all good things must end," and with regret the graduates realized that their High School life was ended. Besides the classes of '12 and '13 were present Misses Guild, Tetherly, Whitner, Connelly, Purdon, Lycca Chappell, Jessie and Junnie Stumon, Messrs. W. G. Fox, A. R. Key, Mr. and Mrs. Stumon.

Alumni Association

After the graduating exercises were concluded Friday evening all the former graduates of the High School who are in the city held a meeting in the superintendent's office and organized an Alumni Association. The following officers were elected. President, Miss Florence Frank vice president, Miss Peaches Laffler; treasurer, Miss Mabel Bowler; secretary, Eugene Roumillat. The first meeting of the association will be held in October, date to be decided later.

A Visit to Fairyland

At the new school on the corner of Oak Avenue and Eighth street taught by the Sisters of Mercy, the little girls of the school will present a play, the name of which is "Work Conquers." On Friday evening May 28th, at 8 o'clock the play will be repeated in "Fairyland" will be repeated for the children of the city.

The following synopsis of the "Visit to Fairyland" may be interesting.

Once two little orphan children from a city far away started out in their childish belief to find the country where the pretty fairies stay. Growing weary of their search they sat down by the wayside to rest and fell asleep. As the good fairies came by they found the two children and changed them into fairies. They were happy and contented till the ban of evil fairies came along and by their promises of all kinds of pleasure, won the children away from the good fairies, who never gave up their search for the little ones and did all in their power to bring them back. A short time after the children left the good fairies they became very unhappy and begged the good angels, who warned them before, to bring them back to the path of virtue. The children at last went in search of the good fairies, and hearing them singing in the distance said, "Let us hide here and see, perhaps they will find us and take us back." The good fairies did just as the children expected, and when they sprang out and said, "O little fairies, forgive us," the queen welcomed them back saying, "In repentance there is blessing. We will help you to be true." Now the good fairies' one endeavor was to win the evil fairies to their side and with the aid of angels they at last came of their own accord asking to be forgiven, and with a promise that they would always be as servants under their command. The good fairies received them, and now all are united in love and charity, and one and all promise ever to walk the beautiful shining way of truth and love and virtue.

HAPPENINGS DURING THE WEEK

Here the Readers Will Find a Brief Historical Spring Flowing For Hurried Readers

With the primary elections less than a week away, when the voters of New Jersey will have a chance to express a presidential preference, the campaign is rapidly developing into one of the most vigorous political struggles the state has witnessed in years. Colonel Roosevelt will begin a whirlwind tour of the state tomorrow. Later in the week President Taft will be heard in a number of the principal cities. Senator La Follette also is planning to stump the state. Governor Wilson, on the Democratic side, will continue his speech making until the night before the primaries, fighting hard for the solid support of his home state.

"The result in Ohio has settled the contest," said Colonel Roosevelt today. He was greatly elated over the Ohio reports. After reading several hundred telegrams from all parts of the country, Roosevelt said: "Naturally I am very much pleased with the popular judgment of the people of Ohio. I believe we could have won without Ohio. Our opponents needed Ohio's solid vote to give them a chance to make a contest at Chicago. The victory in Ohio means that it will be hopeless to try to beat us at Chicago. It will be impossible for them to win by to win by seating delegates from southern states which represent nothing but fraud."

The uprising of negroes against the government is hourly becoming more serious. More than 5,000 negroes have taken up arms in Orient province, which and far outnumber the rurales and troops in that section. While there have been no other clashes with the authorities as yet, the section is in a state of great excitement and terror. Floyd Shick and Joseph Bryan, American citizens, today complained to United States Consul Holaway at Santiago that they were assaulted and robbed on the road to Siboney by a band of armed negroes, who divested them of everything of value they had on their persons, and in addition beat them shamefully. The consul will take the matter up with the Cuban government.

Death of Oliver Mitchell

Oliver Mitchell died at the Neal Hospital on Monday night last. The funeral occurred on Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock at the Catholic church, interment being made in the Catholic cemetery. Mr. Mitchell had been ill for the past year and death came as a relief after a lingering illness from partial paralysis. He had been a resident of this section for many years and held the respect of every one, being a quiet and unassuming man who led his life in the Golden Rule way.

He leaves five sons to mourn his loss, all of them living in this vicinity.

Master Plumbers' Meeting

The Florida State Master Plumbers' Association held their annual meeting at the Sanford House on Wednesday.

Those present were: Jas. Coons, Jos. Fowler, A. G. Johnson, J. W. DuBoise and S. G. Bouris, delegates from Jacksonville, W. E. McAndrews, R. T. Joughlin, Fred T. Berry, W. J. Rigor, E. W. Coates, delegates from Tampa, A. T. Willis and C. J. Godsey from St. Petersburg, S. A. Whitwell from Clearwater, F. T. Rabhn from Orlando, C. H. Dingee, F. W. Mahoney, A. B. Mahoney and G. H. Fernald of Sanford. The meeting was called to order by President W. E. McAndrew at 11:30. The following were elected officers for the coming year: President, Jas. Coons of Jacksonville, vice president, R. T. Joughlin of Tampa; secretary, Jos. Fowler of Jacksonville; treasurer, C. J. Godsey of St. Petersburg. Mr. A. G. Johnson was elected as delegate to the National Convention to be held at Salt Lake City. Alternates elected, C. J. Godsey, F. W. Mahoney and Jos. Fowler. A. G. Johnson was also elected as state organizer.

The visitors were entertained by auto rides. The convention was a great success and much important business was transacted.

SANFORD MILITARY COMPANY

Celery City Guards Will Soon Be Marking Time On The Street

For a long time Sanford has been in need of a military company and several times the Herald has advocated the organization of a company of militia for the boys of this city. Several weeks ago the question was taken up by W. C. Palmer, of the firm of Palmer & Seigh of this city, who takes a great interest in the youth of Sanford and together with several ex-military men the names of prospective members were solicited and thirty or more have already signed the roster and as many more are promised. Mr. Palmer served ten years in the national guard and four years in the regulars, being in a cavalry company in Cuba during the Spanish American war and is in every way capable of organizing and directing the company. A letter from the Adjutant General bears the information that the full complement of the company must be sixty men and that the Sanford boys by hustling can attend this year's encampment.

There is nothing quite so good for the young men of this city as military service and the encampment will be an education and a vacation for many who do not get enough outdoor life at present. The roster is at the store of Palmer & Seigh, and the boys should put down their names at once, so as to get all the drill possible between now and encampment. Let Sanford take the lead in the way of a military company and help added honor on our city.

Revival Notes

The revival to be conducted by Evangelists Bass and Stapleton will begin with the first service Sunday morning, 11 a. m. The whole city should attend every service and take some active part in this effort for the moral and spiritual uplift of Sanford.

A large chorus is being organized by Prof. C. L. Polk, and the best work in this line will be presented to our people during these meetings. All who will take part with him in this important work are requested to meet at the Methodist church Friday night, 7:30.

The following gentlemen have consented to act as ushers during the meetings: F. W. Miller, J. G. Randall, C. H. Smith, M. E. Moye, J. K. Mettinger, Dr. Mason, M. A. Mot and L. R. Phillips.

An Appeal

I take this method of earnest appeal to the members of the Methodist church and to the members of the Christian denominations of our city and surrounding country to take stock in the revival meeting. There is a great need of a genuine and mighty moral and spiritual quickening. The inexhaustible resources of God are at the disposal of faith. This is the day of the Holy Spirit, whose mission is to convict of sin, righteousness and judgment, and to comfort those who turn from backsliding and impenitence in contrition and faith to the cross of Christ.

Your presence at all the services is most cordially solicited.

Yours faithfully,

CHARNELLE H. SUMMERS.

Little Newspaper Parable

Speaking of the difficulty newspapers experience in pleasing all their patrons, Tom Mason, editor of Life, told this one in his talk to Kansas editors at Lawrence. A boy had been given a chameleon, of which he was very fond. His father, returning home after an absence of a couple of days, asked the boy about the pet. "It's gone," replied the boy. "Gone where?" continued the father. "Oh, he's all in, down and out," said the boy. His father being unable to understand, demanded an explanation. "Well father, I did a little experimenting. I put it on red and it turned red, I put it on blue and it turned blue, I put it on yellow and it turned yellow, but when I put it on plaid it burst itself trying to be satisfactory."

Fancy Work Circle

Mrs. T. S. Davis was hostess of the Fancy Work Circle Wednesday afternoon. The ladies had a very pleasant afternoon together in the enjoyment of their fancy work, which was later laid aside in favor of the delicious ice cream and cake served by the hostess. Mrs. Davis' guests were Mrs. J. J. Purdon, Mrs. Esterby, Mrs. W. H. Milteer, Mrs. H. H. Hill, Mrs. W. T. Johns, Mrs. R. L. Peck and Mrs. H. B. Connelly, visitor.

SANFORDS NEW ROADS

New District Will Be Most Progressive In State

TWO NEW STEEL DRAW BRIDGES

The Sanford District Will Have Brick Roads and The Best of Steel Drawbridges

The new road district that will embrace the entire celery delta will be one of the most improved districts in the state. The contemplated brick roads will cover the entire district and will be further improved by the construction of two or more steel drawbridges. Tired of waiting for the county to build brick roads the Sanford section has petitioned the county commissioners to make this a special road district, and when this is done the work of making brick roads over the entire district will begin.

The next step in the march of progress to be made by Orange county will be the erection of a steel drawbridge across the St. Johns river at the foot of Celery avenue, thus connecting by foot and water road Volusia and Orange county. Last spring these two counties had the approaches to this bridge thrown up out of the bed of the river and Orange county had several hundred feet of trestle erected so as to shorten the trip across the channel of the river. At the time this work was done presentation was taken to have it conform to the general improvement which would follow the erection of the steel drawbridge, so as to utilize this portion of the preparatory work.

The new bridge when completed will cost approximately $5,500 and the expense will be borne in half by Orange county, the remaining half being made up by private subscription by New Smyrna and Osteen settlements. These two communities have already pledged their proportion of the funds and the work is now progressing in its primary stages and will be pushed to completion as soon as some minor details have been adjusted by the war department. The Orange county commissioners have the matter in charge and are now having plans made for the structure, which will be ready to submit to the national officials at Washington in a short time.

Last week the commissioners went on a tour of inspection of the roads in the Sanford district. The new cut off on the west side which will lead to the DeLand ferry at Monroe is being rushed just as rapidly as possible and will be ready for use in a short time. This cut off will save a lot of heavy travel through deep sand and will shorten the time considerably between DeLand and Sanford. The bridge across the St. Johns at Geneva ferry was inspected, as were also the approaches and the roads on each side of the bridge. The bridge is now being used for foot and wagon traffic. The commissioners have taken such steps as are necessary to have the approaches shaped up and widened and the road placed in proper condition for the large amount of traffic which will take advantage of this new route across the river.

A new route is being opened from a point on the Orlando road south of here to Oviedo for the purpose of straightening and shortening the distance between Sanford and this city. This route has been established and now a gang of workers is busy getting it in shape. An active campaign of road improvements will be carried on all roads during the summer and fall and from the program outlined it is safe to say that this community will have very fine roads when all the roads have been completed.

Entertained The Plumbers

The Master Plumbers' Association which held its annual meeting in Sanford on Wednesday was entertained at dinner at the Sanford House by the local members. Thos. K. Bates, secretary of the Commercial Club and Mr. Frank L. Woodruff kindly furnished their automobiles for a very enjoyable ride.

Several of the Jacksonville delegates came in Tuesday night and visited the theatres. The members were also entertained at the Elks Club.

Organized Charities

All delegates and representatives to meeting held May 12th in the Masonic Hall are requested to meet Sunday afternoon, May 26th at 4 p. m. in the Star Theatre, to receive and act upon report of the organization committee.

BURGLAR AT WORK AGAIN

Light Fingred Gentry Seem to Like Sanford

It would seem that some of the second story artists are stranded in Florida and in order to get to the Democratic or Republican conventions are forced to get the money on the way and having spent the winter in Tampa are now enroute north and via Sanford. Several cases have been reported to the police of breaking and entering and it seemed to be the work of the professional. The game was repeated last Wednesday morning about one o'clock, when Mrs. Jessie Speer thought she heard a noise at her window and becoming thoroughly aroused looked out and discovered a man trying to get the window open. Speaking to her sister to hand her a pistol scared the man away for the nonce, and as Mrs. Speer rushed into the room making his way to another part of the front porch. She fired, and the first shot only missed him by a few inches and with an ejaculation of "My God!" he left in a hurry, about as badly scared as Mrs. Speer. The plucky lady fired five shots at him, and he is probably running yet, as no more houses have been entered since. Mrs. Speer had a good description of him and stated today that when she awoke at first he was so close to the blinds that she could smell cigarette smoke from him. Mrs. Speer certainly deserves credit for being as brave under the circumstances, and if every one gives the gentleman as warm a reception he will not linger long in Sanford.

Preacher Wakes Up

Editor of the Herald

I am one of the Sanford preachers who appreciate the courtesies extended by the Herald to the churches. What is more, I believe there are a good many more of your readers who are equally appreciative. Newspaper editors are situated like preachers in some respects. People are quick enough to jump on you if you make an error, but they are not so ready to recognize your excellencies. But bless you! they are appreciative just the same, though they may forget to tell you so.

Let me tell you another thing. Sanford people are mighty fortunate to have a paper like the Herald, whose editor is sure to be found on the right side of moral questions and lets his light shine through its pages. You are doing a good work, Brother Holly, keep it up, though we preachers don't always take full advantage of all you offer us. Even preachers go to sleep sometimes and lie down on their jobs. Just keep hammering along and after awhile perhaps we will all wake up.

A PREACHER

Margaret Davidson Wins

The Buck Stove & Range Co., through their Sanford agents, the Hill Hardware Co., some time ago put on a novel contest in the way of an outline picture that was to be colored by a child and an essay written at the same time on the merits of the Buck stove. The contest excited much interest among the children and called a great effort on their part.

After a careful estimate by the committee appointed to decide the contest Miss Margaret Davidson was declared the winner. Following is their report.

The committee after careful consideration of all required points have decided that the prize in the Buck's Picture Coloring Contest be awarded to Margaret Davidson, aged nine years.

The committee also suggests that the pictures of Gladys Adams and Florence Witte deserve honorable mention for artistic coloring, and the one of Miss Mary Zachary for neatness.

Respectfully submitted,
MRS. L. R. PHILIPS,
MRS. J. W. DICKINS,
MRS. GEO. FOX, JR.

At The Congregational Church

Memorial Day will be observed next Sunday morning. The sermon will be from the text, "Where there is no vision, the people perish." At night Mr. Waldron will speak from the subject, "Sowing and Reaping." Prof. Maris' Bible class meets every Sunday morning at 10. He is worth while.

Mr. J. A. Cowart and family of Sorrento paid a visit to the city yesterday. Mr. Cowart is a prominent merchant of Sorrento.

CULLED FROM THE STATE PRESS

An Epitome of The Week's Most Important Happenings in The State's Domain.

A young lad named Fanchor was drowned in a lake near Lakeland last Tuesday while bathing.

Palatka is to have a new brick block. The building will contain four stores and will be a two story structure.

The wife of Congressman Sparkman is dangerously ill and the Congressman was summoned to her bedside on Tuesday.

A street car crashing into an auto in Jacksonville last Tuesday seriously injured an elderly couple named Cash and they are not expected to survive.

It is understood that between fifty and sixty cars of watermelons will be shipped from Frostproof between now and the fifteenth of June. This is a new shipping point of melons in Florida.

During the storm last Tuesday at Lakeland a house was struck by lightning and ignited. The house was considerably damaged by the bolt and the fire. The occupants of the house were unharmed.

The negroes who ambushed the officers near Archer the other day and killed two of them have been indicted by the grand jury of Alachua county for murder in the first degree and will pay the penalty at an early date.

As yet there is no clue to the man or men who enticed Motorman Sparkman and Conductor Smith from the street car in Jacksonville last Saturday night and then shot them in the back. All the money that each carried as well as that on the car is missing and robbery must have been the motive.

Fort Lauderdale is going to have telephone service by the first of June. This is going right ahead for a town that was not on the map many years ago except perhaps as a location. Modern improvements must follow the advance of civilization in this age and the people want telephones, electric lights, water supply, sewerage, pavements and fine buildings.

The board of trustees of Southern College have completed their annual session. It continued over a period of five days. Prof. W. L. Clifton of Mississippi succeeds Dr. J. P. Hilburn as president. Professor Clifton is elected for a five year term, and is on his way to Sutherland from Columbia University, New York city, where he has been studying to take charge. He comes well recommended.

Wade, Clower & Wade, railroad contractors, who have the contract for the construction of the connecting links of the Atlantic Coast Line railway between Dunnellon and Thomasville, via Otter Creek, Old Town Perry and Monticello, having begun work on an extensive scale, have a working force of four hundred men employed, which augurs well that the road will be completed by the time they calculated, Jan. 1, 1913, if not before, as everything possible that tends to that end is being pushed. The road is being constructed by the trunk line between Montgomery and South Florida.—Ocala Star.

Baptist Church

On Sunday next at the Baptist church Rev. J. W. Wildman, pastor, will conduct worship with sermon at 11 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. Subject in the morning: "Christ's joy." Subject in the evening: "The tragic end of Clarence V. T. Richeson—was he saved?"

A cordial invitation is extended to all.

Alfalfa in Florida

Last week Judge Holcomb brought to our office a large sample bunch of alfalfa which was grown on his lot in the east part of the city. A plot of ground about ten by forty feet was prepared and the seed sown as an experiment. The grass came up well and developed a good stand from which two cuttings have already been made in the last few weeks. The samples exhibited in our office were very fine, and the judge feels perfectly confident that it will do well in this climate and soil. He has a large plot of ground planted to this forage on his place east of the city.—Arcadia News.

Howard, Frederick and Donald Gilbert are spending the week at DeLeon Springs with their father, who is there on business for some time.

Mr. George Speer of Beardall avenue has accepted a position in Green Cove Springs for the summer. Mrs. Speer has rooms at the Oaks during the time.

Rev. C. H. Summers preached here Sunday and will be here again June 2nd. Rev. Wildman is expected here this coming Sunday, the 26th.

The Erwin brothers, with their wives, left on Wednesday after spending the winter here. W. L. Erwin and wife went to Fort Payne, Ala., to his father's. E. M. Erwin and wife went to Lindale

Ga., to his brother's. Their departure is regretted, as they made many friends here.

GENEVA JOTTINGS

Among those who attended the High School exercises in Sanford last week were, Mesdames Culetta, Raulerson, Pattishall and Ballard, also Misses Eicher, McLain, Harrison and Nicholson and J. T. McLain.

Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Ligin and children of Americus, also their father, Mr. Geo. Deavors of Leslie, Ga., returned home last Monday after ten days pleasantly spent in Geneva.

Mrs. H. H. Pattishall is attending the commencement exercises in Tallahassee.

S. P. Smith spent a few days in Jacksonville recently on business.

Woodland Park Notes

Owing to the continual rain there were very few visitors Thursday.

The outing given their pupils by Miss Carrie Enslinger and Mrs. Polk last Friday was greatly enjoyed by about fifty children, accompanied by guardians and friends. Capt. Pagenhart brought the "Mamie's capacity and the others came by vehicle. Mr. and Mrs. Bart Herndon and Mrs. Lake, with their children and Mrs. Howard and children with some lady friends came in their autos.

It was a continual round of pleasure except during the hour after dinner. The children filled up so on good things that Miss Enslinger was afraid they would sink and put Capt. Pagenhart on guard to keep them from entering the briny deep for one hour. After that awful tension they made the plunge in a small fraction of a second and made up for lost time. The day was ideal and the children all want to come again.

Sunday was a nice day and the usual number of people came. The "Mamie" and "Nettie" each brought a load. Mr. Runge and family drove out and took a cooling plunge. Mr. Thrasher brought his family and Dr. Puleston and his family in his auto. The sheriff with his wife and a party of friends motored out also. A basket party came by wagon and spent the day pleasantly, bathing and picnicking and some of our usual visitors from Monroe walked over to mingle with the crowd. The boats departed to the tune of "Home, Sweet Home, played by the WOODSMAN.

A Campaign of Slander
 No man in the political history of Florida has been so viciously assailed, so maliciously abused and so wantonly slandered as I have been in this campaign.

My public record and my private life have been examined as with a microscope; my every word and act have been examined in the hope of laying bare before the public something discreditable, and in the mad hunt my office at Washington has been secretly entered and my private desk ransacked.

Every attack on my public record has been fully answered, and every insinuation against my private character has been completely met.

But the alien land sharks of Chicago, Kansas City, etc., are desperate and unscrupulous. They are provided with millions of dollars, fraudulently taken from the lean purses of workmen, widows, and working girls, and they are bent on my defeat in order that they may continue their nefarious business of robbing thousands and disgracing Florida.

They will publish anything concerning me and have their tools swear to it.

If they had any truth detrimental to me they would have published it long before now.

Don't believe anything you see published at this late date.

Look out for last minute slanders! Watch for "eleventh hour" falsehoods! They are coming!

Conscious of the correctness of my position and the faithfulness of my service, I confidently await the result.

FRANK CLARK.

Pains All Over!
 "You are welcome," says Mrs. Nora Cuffey, of Broken Arrow, Okla., "to use my letter in any way you want to, if it will induce some suffering woman to try Cardui. I had pains all over, and suffered with an abscess. Three physicians failed to relieve me. Since taking Cardui, I am in better health than ever before, and that means much to me, because I suffered many years with womanly troubles, of different kinds. What other treatments I tried, helped me for a few days only."
TAKE The CARDUI Woman's Tonic
 Don't wait, until you are taken down sick, before taking care of yourself. The small aches and pains, and other symptoms of womanly weakness and disease, always mean worse to follow, unless given quick treatment.
 You would always keep Cardui handy, if you knew what quick and permanent relief it gives, where weakness and disease of the womanly system makes life seem hard to bear. Cardui has helped over a million women. Try it.

NERVOUSNESS WRECKS WOMEN'S LIVES
 Scientific Discovery That Is The Only Known Cure For The Disease
 Nervousness in women is almost invariably the result of some female trouble. For this reason it is useless to take an ordinary nerve tonic or nerve remedy and expect to be cured.
 The only way for women to cure their nervousness and get well is by the use of Reno's New Health, the remedy which cures all weaknesses and female troubles, stopping the drain and giving perfect health and natural action to the whole system.
 When there is a drain upon the nervous system, due to female weakness, you are irritable, miserable and feel as though you wanted to scream or fly. The slamming of a door almost throws you into hysterics, your nerves are shattered and people speak of you as a nervous wreck.
 Reno's New Health will cure all drains upon the nervous system, surely and thoroughly relieving Beauty, Profuse, Painful, Irregular or Suppressed Menstruation, Sickly Periods, Constant Weariness and Weakness, Depression, Cramps, Dizziness, Violent Headache, Palpitation of the Heart, Pain in the Back and Groins, Leucorrhoea and all inflammation, Ulceration and Discharges of the Vagina and Uterus.
 This wonderful remedy is offered to you upon an absolute guarantee of money back on first bottle if it fails to relieve. Every nervous woman owes it to herself to use this medicine faithfully and become well and strong. It tones, invigorates and strengthens the system and so regulates and helps circulation that every organ is brought to the performance of its natural functions.
 Reno's New Health may be used with confidence by the most delicate, young or old. It is purely vegetable and contains no opiates or harmful ingredients. It is the prescription of an eminent Physician who spent his life in learning how to cure women's diseases, and this marvelous remedy is the result of his labors.
 Do not let the day go by without starting on the road to health with this scientific remedy which is offered you on a guarantee of money back if it fails to cure.

Next week we can talk about the meeting of the Press Association at Palatka.

Roosevelt carried Ohio on Tuesday and Taft should now retire from the race.

Taft ought to consult Cromwell Gibbons about the overthrow of the primary system.

There are faint rumors of a tourist hotel. Nothing strong as yet, just a small tinkle on the wire of publicity.

"Lulu Will Have a Bank" reads a head line in the Lake City Index. Where will Lulu have it? In her stocking?

Chas. M. Hand was high man in the first primary over the other two candidates, which means that the majority of the people of Orange county want him for sheriff. Vote for the high man.

We wish to call the attention of the Wilson men to the fact that Harmon carried his own state and that after William Jennings Bryan had stumped the same in the interest of Wilson. It is a good man that can carry his state in the face of such opposition.

With Sanford as a special road tax district the question of roads and bridges will be settled right, because Sanford section believes in good roads and bridges. The new people that expect to come to Florida next fall will then recognize our claims as the most progressive section in Florida.

Why was it that Clark received such a fine vote in his home city of Gainesville and his county of Alachua and that Hillburn did not receive a good vote in Palatka and in Putnam county where he resides? It is a poor candidate who cannot carry his own county by a rousing majority.

The present incumbent of the sheriff's office does not own that office and any citizen of Orange county is privileged to stand for election every four years. If the majority of the people want a change they have a perfect right to vote for Hand and such a vote is no crime against the High Sheriff.

Sanford will never have that tourist hotel unless the people get together on the idea and all join in the movement. Every cross roads town in the state can afford a new hotel and Sanford with an opportunity second to none is forced to pass up the tourist trade because we have no large tourist hotel.

Hand is not the candidate from Sanford or from Orlando, but the candidate from Orange county and the people of the whole county besought him to make the race for sheriff. Please count the votes for the respective candidates in their respective cities and see what the home people think of their own candidate.

The Winter Garden Times is out and is a nice four page paper filled with good news about that prosperous section. The Times in its first issue speaks about the elegant new tourist hotel that will be built there and that fact alone ought to be proof that with a good newspaper and hotel Winter Garden is bound to become a city in a few years.

The best way to get capital interested in a fine tourist hotel in Sanford is for a majority of our own people to take the initiative and put up the money to start a gigantic corporation, take over the old company and perfect arrangements for a new hotel at once. Outside capital will never be attracted to the proposition unless the home people have faith enough in it to invest their own money at the start.

Chas. M. Hand is gaining votes every day and he is gaining them because of the gentlemanly way in which he conducts his campaign. You never hear any mud slinging coming from Charlie Hand and the matter of being elected sheriff has not warped his perennial good nature. What a blessing it would be if all the candidates could wage as clean a campaign and wear the beatific smile of big Charlie.

THE WATER QUESTION

The water question has agitated the people of this city for some time, just as it agitates the people of every section all the time and is never settled until it is settled right. The Herald has always been the exponent of the people and the editor has been the champion of the people at all times and in every section in which his lot happened to be cast. This defence has cost him money and position at various times and all that accrued to him in these many years was the satisfaction of being for the good of the greatest number of people, and for the people as a whole whenever their rights were in jeopardy. This has been the policy of the Herald and whenever a public question arose the rights of the people have been safeguarded. But in fighting the battles of the people it has been our endeavor to ascertain the truth of certain contentions first and then grant to both parties the right of speech in their own behalf.

The matter of better water for Sanford has never been taken up along the line of justice and equity, or along the lines of the least resistance, but the old game of politics has usually been played by both sides, and as usual the common people have suffered just as they always do when might tramples right and public utilities have not been handled as a business proposition. The Herald first grants to the owners of the public utilities of this city the right to supply water, gas and electric light, according to the franchisees under which they are operating. The editor of the Herald did not make these contracts and does not purpose to endeavor to break them. They were made by men who invested money for the purpose of making dividends, and if the prerogative of the city council would not allow the corporation or individual owner to make a profit these same utilities would never have been built. Therefore in this question of water and light the individual consumer should always bear in mind that the owners of the public utilities have certain rights that must be respected and rights that are safeguarded by the franchise granted by the city council and which hold in force for a term of years.

The water at the present time is supplied from a fresh water lake several miles from Sanford and has not only been the source of the water supply but the source of much criticism. Now it seems to be the proper thing for the city council to endeavor to eliminate this lake from the subject at once by endeavoring to obtain the supply nearer the city and have the Water Co. drive deep wells and by means of a stand pipe or tank aerate the water, take the sulphur odor from it, and have at all times a source of pure drinking water and plenty of it. Other cities of Florida and among them Jacksonville, have this system, and without consulting the city council or the owners of the Sanford Water Works Co. the Herald offers this suggestion and asks the people to consider it.

There is no better or purer water by actual test than the artesian water that is granted to the people of this section.

The fine sulphur water that is given so freely to all of us almost for the asking and yet for years we have been debating the subject of lake water miles away, contaminated by cattle, plant life, rain and debris, and while paying for city water that at times could not be used have been drinking the artesian water from the flowing wells that abound in Sanford. In the midst of plenty we have been starving and the proper solution to this question would be for the city council to meet the Water Co. on equal ground and demand deep wells of pure water and the pressure by means of a standpipe.

The Herald takes the initiative in the matter, but would like to hear from other citizens who know more about water supply and other data concerning the water question.

A VOTE FOR SANFORD

Next Tuesday the second spasm will be pulled off and then the water will clear up and politics can give away to base ball and the weather. The Herald will not weary the readers with a long harangue about the respective merits of the candidates or their batting average in mud slinging. Our only aim in taking part in the discussion is to have the man elected to Congress that will get the most for Sanford. Hon. Frank Clark has ably represented this district and has stood by our section at all times. You know that when he says the river will receive additional improvements and that Sanford will soon be graced by a fine government building that all of it will soon come to pass, because he has already made good on past promises and you can look for future results. There is no time to take up questions on the tariff, on the Everglades or what Gilchrist thinks. All in the world that interests our people is Sanford and her future. All that you can hope to attain from any of your public men will be improvements in your own section. The tariff will be juggled as formerly, no matter who is elected. We people who live in the grandest country in the world need not be concerned about the tariff on glue or the price of putty at this time. Republican or Democratic rule makes but little difference to the average worker. His concern is centered on his own ballwick and he wants the man elected to office who has already achieved results and will continue to aid this section. Frank Clark is the friend of Sanford and Orange county and is time tried and result tested. Forget everything else in the thought for your own county. Do not be deceived by the bombast of the mud slinger who talks about honesty in politics in one breath and while blinding your eyes with tariff talk seeks to blacken the record of a man in office. Every man who holds office and is a man can be attacked by his enemies, and the eleventh hour canards should be given scant notice by the man who is concerned only by the actual results for the people. Don't forsake your time tried friends for the new and unknown.

FRANK CLARK IS SANFORD'S FRIEND. A VOTE FOR CLARK IS A VOTE FOR SANFORD.

The Mulberry Herald after many vicissitudes and delay on part of the plant has at last come out and the first copy amply repays for the loss of time. The Herald is an eight page six column paper and bears the name of that veteran newspaper man, Col. Byington as editor. The Herald is all that could be desired in the weekly newspaper class and shows care not only in the articles but in the make up as well and is a paper that the people of Mulberry should be proud of. At the mast head is a statement that Mulberry has a yearly payroll of over one million dollars and in this event Col. Byington should not lack for cigar money. A good paper published in a good community.

Every Week Bridge Club Mrs. Forrest Lake was the charming hostess of the Every Week Bridge Club Thursday afternoon. Two tables of bridge were played. The first prize was won by Mrs. O. W. Brady, who made the highest score. Mrs. C. M. Vorce received the low prize, a brass finger bowl.

When the pleasant games of cards were concluded a delicious tomato salad, sandwiches, crackers and coffee were served. Mrs. Lake's guests were Mrs. C. M. Vorce, Mrs. R. L. Hughes, Mrs. W. D. Holden, Mrs. O. W. Brady, Mrs. C. O. McLaughlin, Mrs. G. F. Smith, Mrs. Barrett.

Miss Flora M. Johnson left Monday for Jacksonville, via Daytona and St. Augustine, where she sailed for New York Wednesday. Miss Johnson will visit in Cortland, N. Y., and Connecticut, before returning to her home in Michigan. Miss Johnson made many friends while in Sanford, who will be pleased to welcome her return to Sanford again next fall.

Wreck At Plant City Two wrecks on the Atlantic Coast Line yesterday, both of fast passenger trains, seriously handicapped the handling of trains between Plant City and Tampa. The first of these occurred to fast mail train No. 83, at Thirty-sixth street, beyond Ybor City, and the second at a switch at Plant City to train No. 80, northbound. Peculiarly the second accident was really caused by the first and both were of the same nature. There was only one person injured, A. C. Lillacrop, an express messenger, and his injuries are not serious.

Sanford Music Club The Sanford Music Club held their regular meeting Tuesday evening instead of Saturday afternoon at Comfort Cottage. It has been the pleasant custom of Mrs. M. Martin, who has been president of the club for the past three years, to entertain the club at her home in the evening the last meeting of the season.

After the business had been disposed of the members on this last occasion enjoy a musical program and a social evening combined. A fine attendance of the club was present Tuesday evening, with one visitor, for their last meeting together until October. In the absence of the secretary, Mrs. Ernest Tolar, Mrs. Martin read the minutes, after which she brought all the unfinished business before the club, and when it had all been satisfactorily attended to Mrs. Martin in a very graceful way made her farewell talk to the club as their president after three years of good and acceptable services. Mrs. Martin has always had the interest of the club deeply at heart and has ever been on the alert to subserve its best interests, while watching faithfully and kindly over the welfare of the club. After a short commendatory review of the club's past work and congratulations on the bright outlook for next year's achievements, Mrs. Martin welcomed the new president, Mrs. Fannie S. Munson, into the honors and dignity of the office, and also the new vice president, Mrs. O. W. Brady and Miss Ellen Mahoney.

In her own characteristic way Mrs. Munson made a most felicitous response and in conclusion she requested that the wishes of the club for the line of work to be taken up next year be given expression at the present meeting. After a short discussion and vote Mrs. Munson appointed her program committee for next year.

A pleasant social hour was enjoyed by the club and one of Rubenstein's masterpieces, "Kammenoi-Ostrow," rendered by Miss Florence Frank. Clarence Mahoney delightfully entertained the ladies with two well rendered solos, accompanied by Miss Frank. He sang "My Fate and Thine" and an "Arabian Love Song." Delicious ice cream and cake were served, accompanied by sprays of dainty asparagus fern and lilies of the valley, by Misses Hickey and Frank, Mrs. Martin's charming assistants.

Memorial services will be held in the Congregational church Sunday at 11 a. m., May 26th, by Rev. G. B. Waldron, pastor. All are cordially invited to attend. 2-tp

On Decoration Day, May 30th, all who wish to participate in decorating the graves of the Blue and the Gray will please bring flowers and meet at I. J. Seccord's residence at 9 a. m. All comrades of Blue and Gray are requested to meet at postoffice at 10:45 a. m., Sunday, May 26th. 2-tp

The GLOW of the RUBIES

by FRANCIS PERRY ELLIOTT
ILLUSTRATIONS BY RAY WALTERS

SYNOPSIS.

CHAPTER I—Richard Lightnut, an American with an affected English accent, receives a present from a friend in China.

CHAPTER II—The present proves to be a pair of pajamas. A letter hints of surprises to the wearer.

CHAPTER III—Lightnut dons the pajamas and late at night gets up for a smoke. His servant, Jenkins, comes in and, failing to recognize Lightnut, attempts to put him out. Thinking the servant crazy, Lightnut changes his clothes and goes to bed. When he reappears Jenkins falls on his neck with the exclamation "Lightnut's back!" that he is crazy.

CHAPTER IV—Jenkins tells Lightnut of the encounter he had with a hideous Chinaman dressed in pajamas.

CHAPTER V—In a message from his friend Jack Billings, Lightnut is asked to get up "the kid" for the night on his way home from college. Later Lightnut finds a beautiful girl in black pajamas in his room.

CHAPTER VI—Lightnut is shocked by the girl's drinking, smoking and slangy talk.

CHAPTER VII—She tells him her name is Frances and puzzles him with a story of her love for her sister's room-mate, named Frances. Next morning the girl returns and Lightnut hurries to the door to see her off. He is accosted by a husky college boy, who calls him "Dicky," but he does not see the girl.

CHAPTER VIII—Jack Billings calls to spend the night with Lightnut. The discover traces rubies hidden in the buttons of the pajamas.

CHAPTER IX—Billings dons the pajamas and retires.

CHAPTER X—Lightnut later discovers in his apartment a beefy person in nut-ton-chop whiskers and wearing pajamas. Jenkins calls "the police," who declare the intruder to be a criminal, called "Foxy Grandpa."

CHAPTER XI—The intruder declares he is Lightnut's guest and appeals to the latter in vain.

CHAPTER XII—He is hustled off to jail.

CHAPTER XIII—In the morning Lightnut is astonished to find Billings gone, and more astonished when he gets a message from the latter, demanding his clothes. Lightnut, bound for Tarrytown, Billings's home, discovers "Frances," the girl of the pajamas, on the train.

CHAPTER XIV—Lightnut speaks to her and alludes to the night before. She declares indignantly that Lightnut never saw her in black pajamas. At Tarrytown Frances is met by a husky college youth, who calls Lightnut as "Dicky." The latter ignores the boy, who then threatens to thrash him for offending Frances. Lightnut takes the next train home.

CHAPTER XV—Billings storms over the outrage of his arrest. He and Lightnut discover mysterious Chinese characters on the pajamas.

CHAPTER XVI—Professor Doosenberry is called in to interpret the hieroglyphics.

CHAPTER XVII—He raves over what he calls the lost silk of Si-Ling-Chi.

CHAPTER XVIII—The writing declares that a person wearing the pajamas will take on the semblance of the previous wearer. The professor borrows the pajamas for experiment.

CHAPTER XIX—"Billings" dressed in pajamas is found in the professor's room and is taken home in an automobile with Frances and a woman Lightnut calls "the frump."

CHAPTER XX—Lightnut is angered by "the frump's" slanderous talk about "Frances."

CHAPTER XXI—"Billings" is taken to his room. A servant tells Lightnut that a message has just been received stating that Billings was under arrest in New York for stealing a suit of black pajamas.

CHAPTER XXII—Judge Billings astonishes Lightnut with a tale of Francis's escapades. Lightnut asks permission to speak to "Frances."

to occur to him that the professor was a devilish busy and absent-minded old chap. Might not return them for a month. "I knew that."

"Oh, really, Frances?" the frump was saying. "How exceedingly nice of you, dear!" The professor was occupied for the moment with a moth. "I hope I won't frighten you in them as you say your maid was frightened at you. If pajamas are unbecoming to you, why just imagine me in them!"

By Jove, I was devilish glad I was not supposed to hear, for I didn't want to be required to imagine it. But as for them being unbecoming to my darling—well, I knew she knew what I thought!

Later, when the evening had shaded off and the ladies had left us, we sat in the smoking-room talking till late. I was astonished to find Foxy Grandpa devilish entertaining and clever—not a bad sort at all. He seemed to have no recollection of me at all, and therefore no grudges. I had made up my mind by this time I wasn't going to marry the frump, no matter what came or what Billings wanted, and I would tell him so in the morning. But whoever did marry her—and it looked like it was going to be the professor—would have some sort of compensation in Foxy Grandpa's entertaining stories of Eastern scandal.

Billings' cub brother smoked in a corner of the room by himself and drank innumerable slugs of whisky straight. Once I saw his father go over to him and seem to remonstrate, but without effect.

Billings wanted his father to try my special brand of cigarettes, so I sent for Jenkins, who had arrived, to bring some down. And when he saw Foxy Grandpa calmly sitting there by me, pulling at a straw, he almost lost his balance. But I shook my head with covert warning.

"Ever see me before—ah!" asked the cub harshly, as he waved aside the cigarettes Jenkins extended: "Last Wednesday night—remember?"

"Yes, sir," replied Jenkins, hesitatingly. Then he rolled an eye at me and corrected himself hastily but firmly:

"No, sir; I don't recall ever seeing you before, sir."

Of course, I knew he had not, but the cub got up with a sour laugh. Then with a murmured gruff apology, he withdrew, saying he had a headache and was going to bed. And, by Jove, what a look he gave me from the door!

"Midnight!" ejaculated some one at length, just as the professor finished a jolly rum but interesting yarn of adventure in Tibet. We all rose and I was answering a challenge of Billings' for a Sunday morning game of billiards, when all of a sudden a scream rang out from somewhere above. Then came a greater commotion—two voices raised in rapid and excited colloquy. On top of this another scream, louder and more piercing—a woman's call for help.

"One of the maids," Billings barked. "A mouse—"

"That was Frances!" I answered him excitedly, and we all piled out into the hall and peered down its long vista.

Down one of the dimly illumined angles of the great stairway a white figure darted, then paused, abashed, crouching back against the wall at sight of us advancing. Above her sounded a man's voice, and even as she screamed again, he overtook her, clasping her arm.

"Frances—dear, dear Frances!" he cried. "Are you afraid of me?"

And he threw his arms around her. "Come on back, dearest!" he pleaded. "You have been dreaming."

And under the light of a great red cluster of grapes, pendent from the mouth of a grinning Bacchus, I recognized with horror the yellow mat of hair and freckled face of Billings' cub brother. On the instant, with a bull-like roar, Billings sprang forward, but I was quicker still. But faster than either of us to reach the scene were the two elderly men, together with Miss Warfield, the housekeeper, and a couple of maids. Frances darted like a bird to Foxy Grandpa, and then the figures of the women shut her from view.

Billings and I had paused, half-way to the landing. It looked as though the elder Billings was amply capable of handling the occasion now. He had backed the youth against the wall behind, and his language was of a kind I hated to have my darling hear. Every time the other offered to expostulate, his father broke out again:

"You are a disgrace to an honored name!" he roared. "And the only explanation left for me to offer our guests is that you are drunk and don't know where you are!"

"Oh, father!" faltered the boy. And then he turned his black shrouded figure to the pale marble against which he leaned and seemed to me his very heart would sob away.

"What's the matter, dad?" came a voice from the head of the stairway. "What in thunder is all the row about?"

"By George!" gasped Billings. Everybody looked upward—one of the women screamed. For there, slowly advancing down the angle leading to the landing, his yellow mop of hair shining above the dark collar of a dressing-robe, was the duplicate of the youth cowering under the elder Billings' wrath.

And out of a dead, tense silence, came his voice again:

"Can't any of you speak?" He touched the figure on the shoulder. "Who are you?" he asked in an odd, strained voice.

The black figure turned toward him a face agonized in grief.

"I—I don't know," came a voice pitifully—his voice, it seemed.

The cub just stood like a statue for a moment—stood as we all stood. Then slowly his hand went out and touched the hand of his double. Slowly his fingers swept the face, the hair; gradually his eyes closed, as though he were gasping by touch alone.

Suddenly a loud cry leaped from his throat.

"Blister!" he shouted. And he swept the black figure to him.

Then, tossing back his head, the youth faced us with blazing, angry eyes, looking as David must have when he faced old what's-his-name. "If there's a man among you, I'd like to know what this means?" he cried.

There was a blank silence for an instant, and then—

"Perhaps I can explain," said a voice.

And up the stairway advanced Professor Doosenberry.

CHAPTER XXXII.

In the Glow of the Rubies. Evening had come again.

In fact, it was almost bedtime. Frances and I sat before the hearth in the library, looking silently into the red heart of the dying embers of fragrant pine cones. For in the heights of the Pocantico Hills it often is chilly on summer nights.

My darling sat on a low fauteuil, her chin resting upon her hand, her beautiful eyes fixed dreamily, inscrutably, upon the fading coals. In her lap lay the spread of the crimson pajamas.

She was thinking—thinking—I wondered what! And I was thinking how jolly rum it all was; that Francis wasn't Frances, that the professor wasn't Billings, Colonel Francis Kirklund wasn't Foxy Grandpa and wasn't the frump's father after all; and that the frump, herself—bless her, her name was Elizabeth—wasn't Frances, and wasn't a frump at all, but just a jolly, nice, homely old dear, you know. And I was trying to catch and hold some of the deuced queer things the professor had discoursed upon about ancient Occidental what's-its-name, and astral bodies, obsession, psychical research and all that sort of thing. Somehow, dash it, it had all seemed devilish unreasonable and improbable to me—couldn't get hold of it, you know; but as everybody else had said "Ah-h-h!" and had wagged their heads as though they understood, I just said: "Dash it, of course, you know!" and recrossed my legs and took a fresher grip on my monocle.

The most devilish hard thing to get hold of had been that Frances had never sat on the arm of my Morris chair, had never told me she liked me better than any man she had ever met, and had never called me "Dicky" at any time or anywhere. I wondered if she ever would, and how the deuce fellows went about it when they proposed to the girl they madly loved. I was devilish put out, you know, that I had never tried it so I could know.

There Was a Flash, a Lightning Blaze of Red.

From across the hall drifted the voices from the smoking-room—Colonel Kirklund and the judge debating something about treaty ports and the Manchurian railway. Through the French windows from the open loggia came the eager, pitched tones of the professor and the frump—no, Elizabeth, I mean—discussing Aldaberan and Betelgeuse, dead suns, star clusters and the nebular hypothesis.

Within the room Billings had snapped out the lights to bring out the blazing fire of his treasured ruby, and from the tray in the dark corner where he was closing it in his collection vault, it gleamed like the end of a bright cigar. The other four were absently clutched in my darling's hand and the crimson shine gleamed bravely through her finger bars. "Carbuncles—ancient carbuncles," the professor had called them, "that the Chinese believed their dragons carried in their mouths, in their black caves in days of old, to furnish light whereby they could see to devour their victims." And that I believed, for I could see some practical sense about it!

"What I should like to know," said the dear, precious cub, hugging his knees by the mantel, "is where I come in!"

"You don't come in," said Billings, lifting him playfully by the ear; "you come out!" And out they went.

And my dear girl and I were like what's-his-name's picture—alone at last, you know. She stirred softly and her sigh came like the wind through the trees at night.

"I suppose we will have to burn them," she said dolefully; "the professor says it is the only thing to do." "Jolly shame, I say!" I murmured indignantly.

"It seems a crime," she said softly, and there was a little choke in her voice. She slipped to the soft-fibered rug before the fire. I gently brought my chair closer to her.

For a moment she pressed her cheek against the crimson mass, then kneeling forward, laid it gently on the glowing coals. There was a flash, a lightning blaze of red that almost blinded us, and then for a brief space a field of blinding ash.

Against this the tiny serpent frogs writhed and twisted and turned at last to leaden gray. Over the spread of all, swept wave after wave of golden, crimsoned pictures—temples and pagodas—dragons that licked fiery tongues at us—strange faces that came and went, leering hideously into our own.

And then of a sudden it was all faded—gone! The breeze from the open window stirred the ashes to the side. She dropped back with a deep sigh.

"They're gone," she breathed mournfully.

"Never mind," I said, "you've these left." And daintily I laid my hand upon the one that clasped the rubies. And I thrilled as it lay still beneath my own.

"Good-by, you dear old wicked enchanted pajamas," she said. "I don't care—I just love you, because." She paused.

"Because they brought us together?" "By Jove, I didn't know I had said it, till it came out!"

An instant, and then I caught it—just a little whisper, you know. "Yes—Dicky!"

"By Jove! And then, dash it, my monocle dropped! But I let it go. Presently she looked at the glowing rubies in her hand.

"They are from India, you know, Dicky—from Mandalay, the professor said." And she murmured: "On the road to Mandalay, where the old fottis lay—don't you remember? I've been there, Dicky."

"By Jove!" I said. "Have you, though? Is it jolly?" "The poet seemed to think so—," she laughed. "Do you know Kipling, Dicky?" I tried to think, but dashed if I could remember.

I wondered if it would be a good place to take a trip to!

I hitched closer. "What does—er—this poet chap say about it? What's it like, you know?"

She laughed. "I'm afraid it's wicked, Dicky, a good deal like the haunted pajamas." She leaned forward, chin upon her hand again, looking into the fading coals. "I'll tell you what he says."

Then her voice went on: "Whip me somewhere east of Suz," where the heat is like the worst, Where there aren't no Ten Commandments and a man can relax a thir!"

"By Jove!" I said, interested. "For the temple bells are callin', and it's there that I would be—By the old Mouleim pagoda, lookin' lay at the sea."

I brought my hand down on my knee. "Oh, I say, you know—er, Frances," I exclaimed with enthusiasm, "we'll go there for our honeymoon, by Jove! Shall we—er?"

And then the jolly rubies rolled unheeded to the floor. And nothing stirred but the ashes of the haunted pajamas!

And then—Oh, but Frances says that's all!

THE END.

LOOK OUT FOR THE CARS

DO YOU know of anyone who is old enough to read, who has not seen that sign at a railroad crossing?

If everyone has seen it at some time or other, then why doesn't the railroad let the sign rot away? Why does the railroad company continue to keep those signs at every crossing?

Maybe you think, Mr. Merchant, "Most everybody knows my store, I don't have to advertise."

Your store and your goods need more advertising than the railroads need to warn people to "Look Out for the Cars."

Nothing is ever completed in the advertising world.

The Department Stores are a very good example—they are continually advertising—and they are continually doing a good business.

If it pays to run a few ads round about Christmas time, it certainly will pay you to run advertisements about all the time.

TOOMER'S ELECTION ASSURED

No doubt now remains in minds of men who are posted on the political situation that Toomer is the winning candidate in the race for Congress from the State at large.

Floridians will resent slander and abuse by any candidate and will repudiate such methods next Tuesday.

TOOMER WILL WIN.

To the Democrats of Florida:

The campaign for Congressman from the State of Florida at Large is practically over. The voters, who are going to elect a member of Congress for the ensuing term, have made up their minds to select me and the result is no longer in doubt. This is proven by my observations wherever I have been—and I have visited every section of the state—and by letters received by me from every nook and corner of Florida.

My friends, while not resting on their oars, are supremely confident and they assure me that my victory will be overwhelming. There is simply no question about it. As the Bradford County Telegraph said editorially in its issue of May 3rd, right after the first primary, "IF TOOMER HAD ENTERED THE CONTEST A MONTH EARLIER HE WOULD HAVE LED THE RACE FOR CONGRESSMAN FROM THE STATE AT LARGE." The four weeks since then have placed me far in the lead and the vote on the 28th will elect me by a decisive majority.

My opponent, Claude L. Engle, has based his claim to this high and honorable office solely upon his false and slanderous attacks upon my private, business and professional character. This he has done WITHOUT PRODUCING ONE WORD OF PROOF, although I have repeatedly demanded such proof. He cannot prove his statements. He has no proof. With all his vaunted cunning, HE CANNOT EVEN MANUFACTURE ANY PROOF. And I now assert, as I have done before, that his charges are false, IN TOTO.

He has charged without offering any proof, that I am the representatives of the trusts when, in fact, THE TRUSTS ARE UTTERLY OPPOSED TO ME. As a matter of fact, I have twice represented the Federal Government in the prosecution of gigantic trusts and won both cases while THE ATTORNEY FOR THE TRUST ITSELF IN ONE OF THOSE CASES HAS MADE SPEECHES FOR AND IS ACTIVELY SUPPORTING L'ENGLE IN THE CAMPAIGN.

My campaign has been made upon a fair and full statement of political questions that concerns the people of Florida in a vital way. I have departed from such discussion of principles only when driven to do so by the false and malicious printed statements of my opponent. As against my honest declaration of principles my opponent has offered nothing. If he has a platform, he has never taken the people into his confidence by proclaiming it. What is there about his platform that makes him ashamed to publish it? MY PLATFORM IS DEMOCRATIC THROUGHOUT. IT IS AS PROGRESSIVE AS DEMOCRACY ITSELF AND AS CONSERVATIVE AS DEMOCRACY NO MORE, NO LESS.

My friends have been active in my behalf in every county in Florida. To them and their efforts I give large credit for the victory I shall win next Tuesday. It will be their victory as much as mine—a victory over misrepresentation of my character and a deliverance from misrepresentation in Congress. These friends have been loyal, as well as active. They are not paid workers, for contrary to the loud claims of my competitor, I have had but a moderate campaign fund and could not, had I wished do to so, hire workers to push my candidacy. I have been in the hands of my friends and those friends, together with my own modest efforts, have made me the winner next Tuesday.

I FULLY EXPECT THE PUBLICATION OF CANARDS BY MY COMPETITOR AFTER THIS IS PRINTED AND WHEN IT IS TOO LATE FOR ME TO ANSWER THEM. His own sheet will be printed Saturday and I presume will be mailed to fifty thousand voters. In it he will doubtless repeat his false charges—but he will not offer one word of proof; BECAUSE THERE IS NO PROOF. He has urged you to believe nothing against him. BE FAIR AND MAKE HIM PROVE WHAT HE CHARGES AGAINST ME. Do that, and I shall be satisfied with the result.

Yours respectfully,

W. M. TOOMER,

Winning Candidate for Congress State-at-Large.

An Important Position

In the recent primary the ballot was so long that a large number of voters expressed their preference as to only a portion of the positions to be filled. One position which seems to have been pretty generally ignored is that of member of the national democratic executive committee. The combined vote for all three of the candidates for this position was only 33,175, while the vote for governor reached a total of 62,154. Thus we see that 23,979 who voted for governor ignored this position of national democratic committeeman.

This is an important position and it is important that it be filled by the right man. It is a position that puts its occupant in closer touch than any other with the presidential candidate and with the president if the democrats should win.

It is obvious that Floridians should vote to place on the national committee one who is a supporter of Florida's candidate for president. Florida has declared Oscar W. Underwood to be her candidate for president and should put an Underwood man on the national democratic committee.

In the recent primary no one was elected to this position and J. T. G. Crawford and Eugene S. Matthews are candidates for it in the second primary. Mr. Matthews is the Underwood candidate and should receive the full Underwood vote. More than that he should receive the support of every man who accepts Florida's decision for Underwood as binding on the democrats of the state.

Mr. Matthews has always been a consistent democrat and he is a man of the very highest character. He is also a man of more than usual ability. No man more worthy of the confidence of the people of Florida was running in the primary for any position and we can say this without the slightest fear of contradiction: In the long list on the ballot there was not the name of a man who has more of the respect and confidence of those who know him than Eugene Matthews receives from all who know his character.

Aside from the fact that he represents the presidential choice of the democrats of Florida, Mr. Matthews is the best man for the position but the fact that Florida voted for Underwood should be sufficient of itself to decide the voters to put an Underwood man on the national committee.—Times-Union.

Where Are We At?

One of our state contemporaries defines "progressive" democratic newspapers as those "that opposed the re-election of Hon. Stephen M. Sparkman and Hon. Frank Clark and the nomination of Hon. Oscar W. Underwood for President." Of course the necessary implication is that all those that pursued the contrary course are "conservative." Now, The Times wants to know in which category it comes; in other words, where we are at. We did not oppose the re-election of Hon. Stephen M. Sparkman; on the contrary, we earnestly advocated it. The re-election of Hon. Frank Clark was none of our business so we assumed no attitude in regard to it. We opposed the nomination of Hon. Oscar W. Underwood for president. Thus we are "conservative" on the first score, neutral on the second and "progressive" on the third. It reminds us of the classification of property by the lawyers into "real, personal and mixed." Which are we?—Tampa Times.

Items of Interest Gleaned From Various Sources

HAPPENINGS DURING THE WEEK

Here the Readers Will Find a Brief Historical Spring Flowing For Hurred Readers

Longer daily sessions of the senate will begin this week with a view to expediting legislation and speeding adjournment of congress as much as possible. Republican leaders like Lodge, of Massachusetts, and Smoot, of Utah, are trying to bring the session to a close by the latter part of June.

Texas will have two state presidential conventions today, which will determine how this state's delegation will vote in the national convention on both Republican and Democratic candidates. There seems no likelihood that either party will send uninstructed delegates. The Democrats meet at Houston to name forty delegates and the Republicans at Fort Worth to name eight.

President Taft, ex-president Roosevelt and Senator LaFollette rested Sunday after three days of the hardest campaigning they have experienced since they began the fight for the Republican presidential nomination. The president and Colonel Roosevelt have made more than forty speeches each since last Thursday and plan to wind up their speaking tours by two days more of vigorous work.

Georgia's delegation to the Democratic national convention at Baltimore will be escorted by a special party of 1,000 Underwood enthusiasts, who will take with them three brass bands and a life and drum corps, it was announced today. Two special trains of Pullman coaches will be chartered for the trip and arrangements have been made for the "rooters" to occupy the coaches during their stay at Baltimore.

President Gomez yesterday sent a cablegram to President Taft, in which he protests in friendly terms against intervention by the United States. "It is my duty to say that so serious a resolution alarms and hurts the feelings of a people who love and are jealous of their independence," he says, after stating that he had received from United States Minister Beaupre a note informing him that the Washington government had ordered a gunboat to Nipabay and a strong naval concentration at Key West in anticipation of possible eventualities, and also in event that the Cuban government was unable to protect American property, it was the intention to land forces for that purpose.

Grand Picnic Thursday

The children of the Catholic school will hold their annual picnic on Thursday, May 30, at Woodland Park. They wish every one to go with them to this delightful spot and so they are selling tickets, good for round trips on the boat, and as they have hired the park and pool for the day you will be allowed the free use of same if you hold a ticket.

The boats leave city dock at 8 and 9 in the morning and at 3 and 4 in the afternoon. The last boat will leave park to return at 5:30 p. m. Get your tickets from one of the children or at Phillips' drug store.

Young Lawyer in Trouble

Penn H. Brewster, Jr., formerly of Atlanta, Ga., lately a legal agent in the employ of A. R. Logan, a Jacksonville attorney, whose offices are in the Herkimer building, was arrested Saturday morning on a charge of carrying the saws to Will Everett and Kid Rice, by which they and nine other prisoners made their escape from the Duval county jail Friday night.

The New Passenger Station

Ground is being broken for the new passenger station and a force of men are busy laying track and digging the foundations. Mr. Holman, the superintendent of W. P. Richardson & Co., the contractors, is on the ground and expects to begin operations as soon as the side track is completed. The new station will have an approach by way of Ninth street and the city will get busy with a better street at once. Many improvements will take place in the vicinity of the new station and that part of Sanford is promised a boom on real estate values.

ORGANIZE SANDSPUR LEAGUE

Bush Men Will Play Ball In Several Cities

Mr. Gray Rush, treasurer of the Orlando baseball club, was in the city Monday for the purpose of organizing a three town baseball league with Kissimmee, Orlando and Sanford.

Mr. Rush met with Manager Doyle and others interested in baseball here and succeeded in perfecting the organization, Sanford and Orlando already agreeing to the plan.

It is the agreement between the three teams to alternate the games and give each city two games per week until the end of the baseball season. This plan will make it exceedingly interesting for baseball fans and the prospects are that each city will have its share of the national game during the season.

Orlando has just perfected the organization of a strong team with ample backing and will work hard to capture the three town pennant.

Kissimmee and Sanford have both strong teams and for the past few weeks it has been nip and tuck as to who cops the game.

The Kissimmee team will probably play Orlando next Tuesday on the Orlando diamond and the Orlando team will return the game here next Thursday.

Outside of this arrangement it is more than likely that other towns will arrange games with Kissimmee and the prospects are that local fans will have the pleasure of witnessing some fast ball games here in the next few weeks.—Kissimmee Journal.

Base Ball News

Season opens June 6th at Orlando. First game at Sanford Friday, June 7th. Players will begin to show up Tuesday of this week. The following will be the line-up: Lowe and Swink, catchers; Wallace, Lee and Meadows, pitchers; Calmes 1st base; Edwards, 2nd base; Britton, 3rd base; Bundy, short stop; Ray Chittenden, outfield; Joe, Chittenden, outfield. Swink will play outfield regular and catch when necessary, and the three pitchers will be used in outfield when necessary.

Lee, Swink, Edwards and Calmes are from University of North Carolina, Britton from Oak Ridge, Meadows, Lowe and Bundy from Trinity College. They play a series of forty games with Orlando Twenty in each place, and will also exchange games with Kissimmee each Wednesday, playing in Sanford one week and the next in Kissimmee.

Benefit Ball Association

The great play put on at the High School last week and which has received such favorable mention will be repeated by special request at the Imperial Theatre tomorrow night for the benefit of the Sanford Ball Association and a good attendance is already guaranteed. The cast is from the High School pupils and is a first class performance in every respect. Not only will the audience be guaranteed a good performance but the Association should be guaranteed a good house, for the money goes to a good cause. Every one should attend the performance of "The Time of His Life" at the Imperial tomorrow night.

Lucky Sanford Again

Two of the attractive features of our barbecue last week, was the pig roasted whole, and the big "Bank of Ovelido" cake. The former was prepared by Miss Bertha Dixon and the latter by Mrs. W.H. Luther. The cake contained a coin and the President, Vice-President and cashier of the bank had first choice in cutting for the cash, but they were down on their luck and it remained for the little son of Editor Holly, of Sanford, to cop the prize. The little fellow, like his "Dad" knows when to do the right thing, and opened a bank account on the spot.—Ovelido Advance.

Green Celery Moving

Green celery has been moving from the Sanford section for several weeks and while the movement has only totalled a few cars per week, the price has been very good, being $1.75 per crate f. o. b. Sanford. Green celery is just as elusive as the Golden and cannot always be depended upon to bring a good price, but on account of coming into the market at a time when there is but little celery usually commands a fair price.

SANFORD'S NEW HOTEL

Plans For Finest Tourist Resort In The South

PROJECT IS ASSUMING SHAPE

Sanford People Should Assist In Starting Subscription For The New Enterprise

At last Sanford has a chance to build one of the finest tourist hotels in the south and all the project needs now is the unqualified endorsement of the home people who by the taking of stock will give the proper encouragement for capital outside to make the investment. W. T. Fields has a plan for the new hotel that gives all the details and a glance over the paper will convince any one that the project is feasible. The property will extend from First street to the lake, and will occupy almost all of the two blocks. On First street the business block and arcade effect will extend to Commercial and from Commercial to the lake. The lake front will be bulkheaded and all the grounds will be laid off in the most approved pattern, and every comfort has been provided for the guests, together with all the recreation. At the lake a breakwater will protect the fleet of launches and deep water will allow the largest of pleasure launches to tie up at the concrete wharf. The plans indicate that about 500 rooms will take care of the many tourists that are bound to make Sanford headquarters when suitable accommodations can be provided. In a few days Mr. Fields will solicit stock subscriptions here and are going north to float the bulk of the stock and the Sanford people ought to subscribe most liberally to a project that means more to the city than anything that has ever yet been proposed. Every citizen of Sanford can subscribe and demonstrate to the world our faith in the tourist hotel. With this great work started at once, as it will be, Sanford will take on New life this summer and regardless of whether celery brings a good price next winter or Taft is the nominee of the Republican party our prosperity will be assured, and next season and every season thereafter Sanford will be the greatest inland tourist resort of Florida. There is no section in the south today that offers so many attractions to the tourist in the way of boating, fishing and hunting as Sanford, and only the lack of good accommodation has kept the tourist from our city. Now is the chance for the city to make good and the effect will be felt immediately.

Sanford's Great Revival

Sunday the first services of the city-wide revival conducted by Evangelists Bass and Stapleton were held in the tent erected for this purpose at the corner of Park avenue and Fourth street, and the whole city seemed to turn out and greet these preachers at the meetings of the first day. At night before the preacher had started the service the large tent was filled to the last seat and the folks continued to come until all the available seats in the park were placed to the wall line of the tent and quickly filled, when the lawn and vehicles in the street were resorted to for sitting room.

Sanford has been looking forward to the coming of these evangelists with a great deal of interest, and extensive preparations have been made by the local committees for a truly city-wide religious awakening, and every person in Sanford should see to it that the tent is filled at every service.

Mr. Bass is fearless in condemnation of sin and hypocrisy, but tender and pathetic in his appeals to the sinning and erring to quit sin and return to God.

Mr. Stapleton is a singer with unusual power of expression and this backed by a passion to save the lost, through the power of song, is a sermon in itself. The large and growing choir is doing fine work. Every singer in Sanford should respond to the request of Mr. Stapleton to come to the platform and to do their best in these few days to help in the revival.

Friday night every one will be expected to sit together as families, as far as practicable, as the preacher will speak on "The Home."

Two services daily, 9 a. m. and 8 p. m.

The Cecilia Music Club will give its last programme for the season in the studio of Mrs. Munson Friday, May 31st at nine a. m. Miss Carrie Ensminger will assist with a group of readings.

CHARITY ORGANIZATION

Constitution and By Laws Adopted at Meeting Last Sunday

There was a large, business-like and enthusiastic gathering at the Star Theatre last Sunday afternoon to hear the report of the special committee on charity organization. Most of the delegates that were present at the meeting two weeks before were on hand and several new organizations were represented.

Most of the meeting was spent in act-upon the proposed constitution, which with some changes was unanimously adopted. It was voted to arrange for a mass meeting of Sanford citizens next Sunday afternoon at 4:30, at the Star Theatre, to complete the organization of the new charities society. The following committee, part of whom were on the old committee, were named to prepare for this mass meeting and to present names of officers and directors to be acted upon at that meeting.

Messrs. G. B. Waldron, T. S. Davis, J. W. Wildman, Father Brannan, B. F. Whitner, Jr., Mayor G. W. Spencer, W. T. Field, Mrs. Henry Wight and Mrs. Forest Lake.

Following is the constitution as adopted. The by-laws are added as reported by the committee, but these are subject to revision by the new board of directors.

ARTICLE I NAME

The name of this society shall be The Associated Charities of Sanford, Florida.

ARTICLE II OBJECTS

The objects of this society are:

(a) To establish a centre of communication between the various charitable organizations and churches in the city of Sanford, Florida, and to foster harmonious cooperation between them.

(b) To check the overlapping of relief, and for this purpose it shall maintain a registration bureau.

(c) To investigate thoroughly the cases of all applicants for relief which are referred to the society for inquiry, and to send the persons having legitimate interest in such cases full reports of the results of investigations.

(d) To provide visitors, who shall personally investigate the worthiness of charity cases assigned them, and attend to cases needing counsel and advice.

(e) To obtain from the proper charities and charitable individuals adequate relief for worthy cases.

(f) To work out careful plans for helping families and individuals to become independent, and so to suppress mendacity.

ARTICLE III MEMBERSHIP

Section 1. The society shall be composed of the following white persons:

(a) Subscription members, who contribute not less than one dollar to the society annually;

(b) Ex-officio members, comprising the mayor and the city physician of Sanford, and the resident county commissioner of Orange county.

All of the above members shall have full voting power.

Section 2. Associated Organizations. Any church, fraternal or charitable organization, contributing twenty-five dollars or more annually to the society may become an associated member of organization and so become entitled to a representative on the board of directors.

ARTICLE IV OFFICERS

Section 1. The management of the society shall be vested in a board of directors as follows:

(a) Twenty-one of the members, who shall be elected by ballot at the annual meetings, one-third of their number being elected annually. At the first annual meeting one-third shall be elected for three years, one-third for two years and a third for one year. They shall hold office for three years or until their successors shall be elected, provided, that the absence of a director from three (3) consecutive meetings of the board, unless excused by it, may be deemed a resignation and the vacancy so caused shall be filled by the board.

(b) Representatives of associated organizations, as provided in Article III, Section 2.

(c) Ex-officio members of the society, as provided in Article III, Section 1.

Section 2. The officers shall consist of a president, vice-president and treasurer who shall be elected by ballot at the annual meeting, and shall serve for one year or until their successors are elected.

A general secretary shall be appointed

CULLED FROM THE STATE PRESS

An Epitome of the Week's Most Important Happenings in the State's Domain.

Eleven negro prisoners broke jail at Jacksonville last Friday night and have not yet been apprehended. They were assisted by outside help and fled the bars of the jail until an opening was made.

Pensacola was pleased a few days ago when a party of surveyors arrived in the neighborhood and continued their work of fixing lines and computing grades for the proposed entry of the Memphis and Pensacola railroad.

Tampa is so well pleased with the motor driven fire apparatus established there that two new combination wagons and trucks have been provided for and in a short time there will only be automobile apparatus in the service.

Many quarts of huckleberries have been sold in the city this week. They were gathered and brought in by the Seminoles—who, like white financiers, have gradually increased the price from five cents a quart last year to twenty cents a quart this season. Many refused to be held up in this fashion. Palm Beach County.

It is gratifying to note that South Beach will be provided with life-saving apparatus. The popularity of this place as a bathing resort will increase a hundred fold with the elimination of danger. A word of caution to the reckless, however will not be amiss. Do not venture beyond the reach of the life lines, regardless of the fact you may be a strong swimmer. It is usually the good swimmers who are drowned at all bathing resorts. St. Augustine Record.

Melons are now being rushed to market. Before the end of the week there will have been at least twenty-five cars shipped from this immediate section. It is earlier than they have ever been known to have been shipped in such large quantities. The rains knocked off the vines many of the melons, so the vines have all sizes of melons, which will make it all the better for the shippers, for when the smallest ones now are mature they will reach the markets before the Georgia crop, as the Georgia growers had to contend with cold weather as well as rains. Ocala Banner.

Sanford's First Cantaloupes

Jacksonville, Fla., May 24.—The M. O. Coggins Co. shipped the first car of cantaloupes out of Sanford yesterday. The melons were sent to the Pittsburgh house and other shipments will follow in a few days. The fruit is of excellent quality and its culture is a new thing in Sanford. For that reason the experiment will be watched with interest by Florida growers. Produce News.

SANFORD BOTTLING WORKS

Under New Management and Making Strong Bid for Business

Several months ago Messrs. Townsend & Martin of Ocala, seeing a great future for Sanford, purchased the Pepsi-Cola Bottling Works in this city and changed the name of the firm to that of the Sanford Bottling Works. They made many changes in the methods of distilling water, making pure syrups and selling and shipping. The greatest boost given the new business was the exploiting of Gay-Ola, a drink that has taken with the public so rapidly that the firm cannot keep supplied with bottles. Gay-Ola is proving to be a winner and the Sanford Bottling Co. expects to greatly enlarge their plant, put in new machinery and better facilities and in the early fall will be on the job with both feet.

J. F. Martin the manager, is a man of wide experience in the making of syrups and the bottling business in all its phases and his ironclad rule is cleanliness and sanitary methods. Beside the bottling of Gay-Ola, which is their leader, the Sanford Bottling Works puts up all the regular grades of soft drinks and their brand of Ginger Ale is becoming famous. The public is cordially invited to visit the works at any time and see the methods employed in bottling all these drinks. The firm has a standing offer of a premium to any one who discovers any foreign substance in any of their drinks.
