They're handy to have when it's dark and your purchase will erase the darkness for some of our children. Color the dark black. All profits for this sale are used to purchase glasses for needy school children."

"West Side - Grammar PTO is sponsoring its annual spaghetti dinner from 5:30 to 8 p.m. Thursday, with take-out plates available. A cake walk, ice cream, soft drinks, continuous cartoon movies and a "Mr. Magic" also will be offered. All profits go to worthwhile PTO projects."

Nothing but enthusiasm at the coffee this morning at the Mayfair when Gen. J. C. Hutchison briefed the state university inspection team on what Seminole County has to offer... and when Dr. J. Have you noticed that patchwork quilt effect on the courthouse, what with all the scaffolding while the building gets its face lifted?

City Clerk Henry Tamn reported at noon today only three candidates for City Commission race, with deadline for filing Wednesday of this week. Commissioner A. L. Wilson is unopposed so far in Group II, while Mayor Tom McDonald and former Commissioner Earl Higginbotham are pitted against each other in Group I.

Floridan's Prophecy Comes True

FORT LAUDERDALE — (UPI) — Dr. John Damron had often complained about the lack of a traffic light at the entrance to Sea Ranch Lakes.

"What do we have to do—have someone killed there before we get a light?" He had once demanded at a Sea Ranch Lakes City Council meeting.

But the State Road Department said the volume of traffic at that point on Highway 1A did not warrant a stop light.

Saturday Damron received an emergency call that someone was hurt in an accident at the entrance to the small community, just north of here.

He arrived to find his two daughters fatally injured by a car that struck them as they walked across the road getting off a bus.

Delores Mary Damron, 11, and Darlene Carol Damron, 12, died hours later at a hospital.

Mme. Nhu Blasts JFK 'Liberalism'

NEW YORK (UPI)—Mme. Nho Nhu, defending the policies of her family in South Viet Nam, has charged that the Kennedy administration apparently "is following the new fashion of liberalism which is much closer to communism than we are."

Mme. Nhu, speaking in a television interview Sunday, said she was led to this conclusion by recent trends in United States policies in her troubled country.

She appeared on NBC's "Meet the Press."

In fact, she blamed the present tension between the regime of her brother-in-law, Vietnamese President Ngo Dinh Diem, and the U. S. government on the fact that "we are more strongly anti-communist than you are."

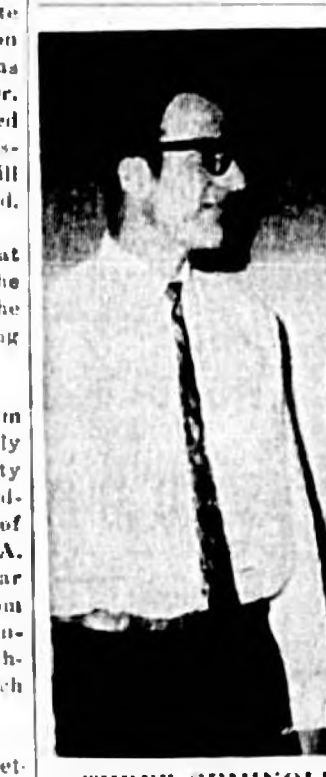

Mme. Nhu, 38, began the second week of her U. S. lecture tour today with three scheduled appearances. She was to have lunch at the New York Times and later fly to Boston for talks at Radcliffe College and Harvard University in Cambridge.

Water Program To Be Discussed

Sanford's proposed 29-year, $850,000 water expansion program will be discussed with consulting engineers at the regular City Commission meeting this evening.

City Manager W. E. Knowles said the expansion, when completed, will increase the present flow of 3.3 million gallons per day to 12 million gallons.

Prime purpose of the expansion, he added, will be to provide water for the industrial growth of the area. New wells and two treatment plants are proposed.

Oswaldo Martinelli, deputy mayor of the vacated village of Erto, broadcast the warning by loudspeaker to villagers camping out in the woods above the reservoir.

"Go away! Go away from the lake!" Martinelli's amplified voice roared into the hills. "Another slide is coming!"

Rescue workers said a mass of more than 30 million cubic yards of earth is sliding down the side of Mt. Tofe at a rate of about one foot an hour.

They said the earth was part of the reservoir, which was divided into two parts by the giant landslide that devastated the Piave Valley Wednesday night.

Wheat Sale Savings Seen

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Agriculture Secretary Orville L. Freeman estimates the United States will save about $200 million in storage costs by selling U. S. wheat to Russia.

Freeman estimates are based on pending Soviet purchases of between 150 to 200 million bushels, which would only make a dent in the 1.2 billion bushel U. S. surplus stockpile now stored in American granaries.

The Agriculture Department indicated today that Russia and other Communist countries might purchase as much as 250 million bushels of U. S. wheat.

A weekly publication by the department's Foreign Agricultural Service said that "inquiries in recent weeks have indicated that around 250 million bushels may be involved, with the Soviet Union apparently interested in about 130 million."

Karl Hits Present Legislative Lineup

DAYTONA BEACH (UPI)—State Rep. Fred R. Karl became the second candidate in Florida's 1964 gubernatorial race Sunday with a slap against present legislative re-appointment.

Karl, who joined State Sen. John Matthews Jr. of Jacksonville in the race, said he would fight to get the big-city voter just as much voice in state government as small-town citizens.

In a bid for the Metropolitan vote, the 35-year-old Daytona Beach attorney predicted the U. S. Supreme Court will nullify the state's present apportionment of 43 senators and 112 representatives. If it doesn't, Karl said, he'll fight the setup when it goes to the polls next year.

Team Visits 4 College Sites

Florida's enrollment in institutions of higher learning will more than double within the next seven years to an estimated 200,000, it was reported this morning by Dr. J. Broward Culpepper, executive director of the State Board of Control.

Dr. Culpepper predicted the enrollment will expand from the present 95,000 to 200,000 by 1970, if the Legislature and state school building program keep pace with the State's estimated population growth.

It was said Harris was touching the bucket of a dragline operated by Harold Futch when the boom touched a power line. Both men were employed by the W. L. Cobb Construction Company, of DeLand.

Man Claims His Stray $14,000

LAKE WORTH (UPI)—Retired carpenter Bert Wallime arrived today and claimed $14,000 he had left in a suitcase on a bus in Georgia last week.

Wallime, formerly of Duluth Minn., was headed for Florida on the bus when he saw some boys looking at him and thought they were going to kill him and take his money. He got off at Cartersville, Ga., to get help, but forgot the suitcase.

A native of Finland who speaks little English, he was unable to make his plight understood until a local man who spoke Finnish was found.

Authorities then telephoned ahead and had the Lake Worth police hold the suitcase for him.

Police said Wallime immediately put the money in a bank when he picked it up today.

"I think he learned at this late stage in life that the best place for money is in the bank," Detective Sgt. William Mackenzie said.

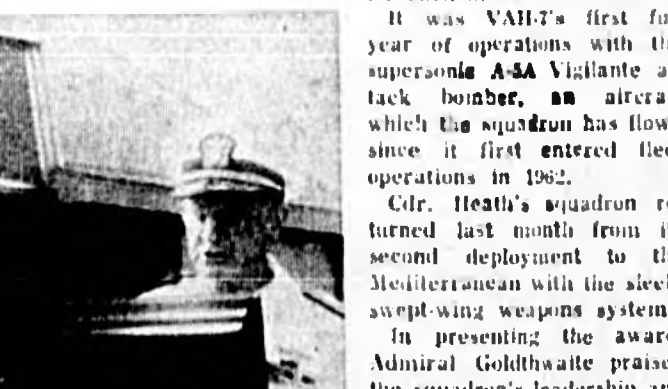

The inspection team, which last month visited the Lake Aida site proposed by the City of Sanford, was to spend today and Tuesday inspecting four more sites in Seminole County and will inspect two in Orange County next week to complete its viewing of 23 sites offered by the six counties.

The board already has promised a decision of a site selection at its Nov. 8 or Dec. 6 meeting. Seminole County voters will vote Nov. 5 on permissive legislation permitting the county to proceed with a site acquisition should the state choose one in this county.

Hurricane Killed 1,000 Cubans, Castro Reports

HAVANA (UPI) — Premier Fidel Castro announced over the weekend that Hurricane Flora killed more than 1,000 Cubans and caused damage estimated at hundreds of millions of dollars.

In a communique published here, Castro charged that "enemies of the people" are rejoicing at the plight of tens of thousands of peasants left homeless and destitute by the disaster.

He promised government help to hurricane victims and said his regime will rebuild everything that was destroyed during the five days the hurricane lashed Cuba.

Castro, who toured the disaster area, said Central Oriente Province was flooded over a zone 25 to 50 miles wide. He said floodwaters rose suddenly to unprecedented heights, bringing devastation and death to entire communities.

"Indescribable . . . suffering took place," Castro said. "Entire families sought refuge in trees or on the roofs of houses where they were not totally covered. Others perished."

"Thousands of houses were destroyed. Tens of thousands of families of peasants and farm workers lost all their belongings, including crops."

Castro said the floods carried away livestock and destroyed streets, highways and railway lines.

He said the flood drove 150,000 persons from their homes in Oriente Province alone. "Extraordinary efforts" by revolutionary (neighborhood spy) committees and other agencies prevented the death toll from mounting into the tens of thousands, Castro said.

"The armed forces rescued thousands of women and children from roofs where many would have perished," he said. "Despite this gigantic effort, more than 1,000 men, women and children lost their lives."

Castro said it would be some time before the full extent of the damage was known.

L. L. Cox stated that permission has been granted to place a sign advertising the city on the north side of Church Street on Highway 17-92. The sign, to be erected at a future date, will read "Welcome to Longwood."

Maurice Rudolph reminded the Chamber that the mobile unit will be at American Legion Old Glory Post 183 on Thursday from 4 until 7:30 p. m. to accept blood. He urged members to inform as many prospective blood donors as possible in order that Old Glory Blood Bank can continue to function.

Rudolph also informed that five plats still have not been turned in for the new city directory and requested workers to complete their plats as soon as possible.

A report was heard on progress of the new City Hall and Fire House and members

World Reds To Meet Shortly

MOSCOW (UPI) — World Communist leaders will meet here next month to begin talks which may lead to Peking's expulsion from the Moscow-led Communist camp, informed sources said Sunday.

The world's major Communist parties — with the probable exception of Communist China and its allies — are sending high level delegations here between Nov. 7 and 15 for the 40th anniversary of the Russian revolution.

The sources said the parties would make one more effort to bring about another Soviet-Chinese meeting to try and resolve the dispute. Such a meeting, however, is likely to be as unsuccessful as last summer's ideological talks here.

Jackie Arrives In Morocco For 3-Day Visit

MARRAKECH, Morocco (UPI)—Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy today discovered that the birth of a Moroccan baby and the intrigues of North African strife were getting more attention than her visit here.

The First Lady arrived Sunday night from Athens for a three-day private tour.

American officials were privately worried about the timing of the visit. The Algerian-Moroccan border dispute has turned Marrakech into an armed camp.

And exuberant tribesmen shattered the quiet of the Moroccan night by firing their rifles in celebration of the holiday Friday marking the 40th day after the birth of King Hassan II's son, Prince Mohammed.

Convoy Moves In

BERLIN (UPI) — The United States today sent another army convoy through Communist East Germany along the same highway where Soviet guards held up 18 vehicles for 52 hours last week.

Informed sources said the size of the convoys would be arranged in an attempt to avoid further incidents with the Russians. But there was no intention of holding off on troop movements to and from Berlin, which are guaranteed under four-power agreement.

The Soviets released the stalled convoy Saturday after blocking it on the outskirts of Berlin in a dispute over counting the 61 men it carried.

The Soviets demanded that the soldiers get out of their trucks and jeeps to be counted. The Americans refused. The sources said the dispute apparently centered around a misunderstanding in the way the count was carried out.

The sources said officials in Washington made it plain they want the troop movements to continue on the 110-mile autobahn between West Berlin and West Germany as an expression of Western determination to keep Berlin's access routes open.

"LET'S TALK DRY CLEANING"

By WOODROW CASIE

Autumn, like every season, signals a change in fashions. Now that the leaves are turning and there's a hint of frost in the air, much wardrobe attention warmly turns to bought-of sweaters... so much in fashion now for the young—and the young in heart.

Most sweater collections this year will contain one or more sweaters of the following: orlon, nylon, wool, wool-and-fur blends, mohair, and cherished cashmere. Each of these takes special cleaning and blocking methods. The yarn fibers of every sweater must be tested to determine the proper solvents that will give deep down cleaning, protect the delicate fibers, brighten colors, and prevent pulling.

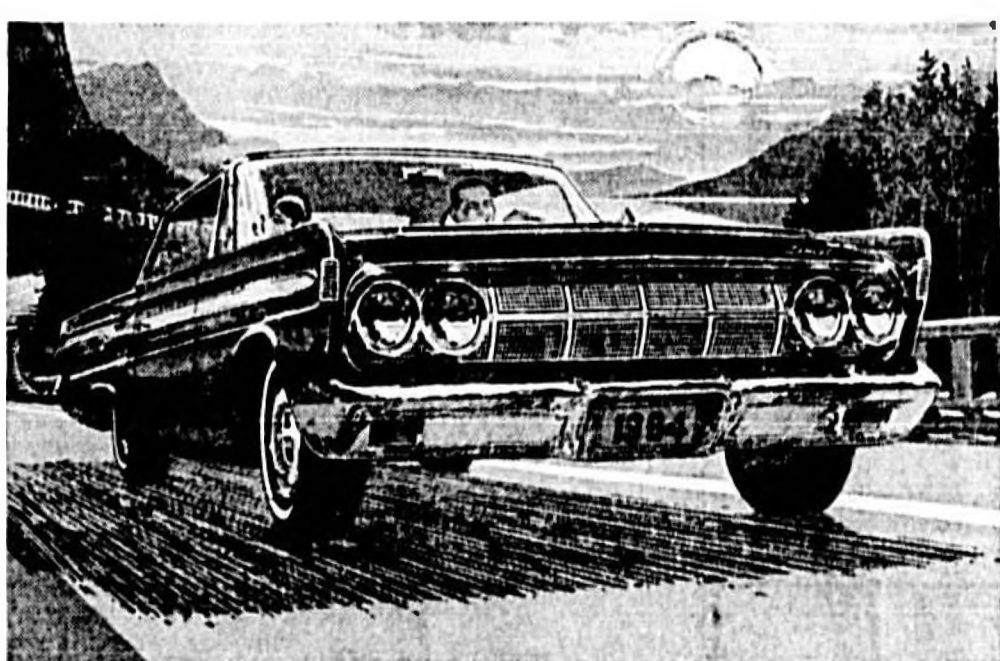

When the sweater is thoroughly clean, great pains must be taken to "block" it to exact measurements to insure its original effortless fit... and give you that meticulously groomed casual air. Clean sweaters look better... wear longer!

Servic! Reliability! Value! These are the cornerstones of our business. You can bring us your most treasured cashmere sweaters, your finest garments, all your cleaning with the comfortable assurance that they are in reliable hands. Call for prompt pickup and delivery service.

$1.5 Million Missile Workers School OK'd

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — The Board of Control gave quick approval to planning a $1.5 million program to take graduate engineering instruction to missile workers in the Cape Canaveral area.

The so-called Graduate Engineering Education System, GENESYS for short, was the University of Florida's answer to a 1963 legislative act directing the university to extend its graduate engineering courses to the East-Central Florida area.

It was proposed as an interim program until a four-year university is constructed in the area.

Board approval in effect offered the staff to meet with representatives of the Educational Television Commission and the Institute for Continuing Studies to work out a cooperative effort to put the GENESYS plan into operation. It must come back to the board for final approval.

As outlined by Dean Thomas Martin, the university school of engineering, the plan will use 70 per cent live instruction by resident professors and the rest a novel closed circuit television system that permits students to ask questions of the instructor via telephone connections.

Immediate planning calls for facilities at Orlando, Cocoa, Daytona Beach and Melbourne.

MIAMI (Sp.) — C.K.P. Developments, Inc., a leading Florida community development and construction firm, today called a special meeting of stockholders to vote on a proposal by the company's board of directors that the company's name be changed to "The Deltona Corporation."

The meeting will be held at 10:30 a. m. on Thursday, Nov. 7, at the Savoy Hilton Hotel in New York City.

In a proxy statement sent to holders of 1,329,595 shares of C.K.P. Developments common stock, Frank E. Mackle Jr., president, pointed out that the company is primarily engaged in a "comprehensive real estate business" and said that the name "C.K.P. Developments" "no longer reflects, with clarity, the company's present operations."

The name "Deltona" is used by the company's principal community development, which is located on a 15,000-acre tract between Sanford and Daytona Beach, Florida. Because of that, Mackle said, the proposed new name has "received substantial publicity and acceptance" and can be easily applied to any expansion or diversification of the company's activities without running the risk of obsolescence.

The company owns or controls through options more than 33,000 acres of land in various parts of Florida, and is engaged in development of the land and the construction of homes, apartments, utility systems, shopping centers, roads and other community facilities.

The meeting notice and proxy statement went to C.K.P. Developments shareholders of record as of Oct. 4.

First Moon Stage

Sober second thoughts on President Kennedy's proposal for a joint U. S. - Soviet moon venture suggest that the immediate fruits, if any, are likely to be limited to the diplomatic field.

It may be, in other words, a way of measuring the intentions and attitudes of the two great powers at a time when, for reasons not wholly clear, certain halting steps are being tried toward a thaw in the cold war.

We now know what we did not know when the President included this proposal in his United Nations speech: a Russian scientist broached the idea of a joint moon trip in a September talk with NASA's deputy administrator Hugh Dryden.

The President later communicated with Soviet Premier Khrushchev to learn whether the scientist was speaking for the Kremlin.

Kennedy's decision to include this matter in the speech evidently was a last-minute choice. That he did so surely is convincing sign of our earnestness in the search for means of easing East-West tensions. Moscow can hardly be unimpressed.

Viewed practically, however, the moon proposal is at this moment a much more dubious proposition. Space specialists studying the notion since the President put it forward make a number of points.

They think it would slow down rather than speed up the great rocket leap to the moon.

Our space officials and engineers — operating just within the limits set by our own space technology — often argue for months and even years over various vital technical alternatives. The general feeling is that to weave together American and Soviet techniques might take far longer.

They do not say such technical co-operation would be impossible, only that it would be extremely difficult and require a maximum amount of mutual good will.

All the problems involved would be more complicated rather than less.

As small examples, there are the language barrier and the fact we and the Russians do not use the same system of measurement.

Our specialists move from this to a far bigger obstacle. Much space technology remains secret military information, since it is obviously impossible to separate many of the technical factors involved in space flight.

The question therefore arises how we can expect to achieve the needed co-operation for a lunar venture without first lowering major military barriers through some plan of disarmament.

That presumes a level of U. S. - Soviet collaboration and an easing of the crisis mood which goes far beyond the limited test ban treaty undertaken as a shaky first step.

The fact that the President made the proposal for a joint moon trip may help to increase mutual trust and confidence between two great powers caught for long years in dangerous conflict around the globe.

Yet, ironically, the proposal's practical worth may depend on our first attaining a much greater level of trust and confidence than now exists.

Whether that can be managed is really the central question.

Dr. Crane's Worry Clinic

What do you think of Patsy's remarks about her state legislature? Alas, her experience is fairly typical of what pages find in many other state legislatures. So it is time that the elected representatives of the people realize they must live up to the dignified "image" which patriotic school teachers create in the minds of youngsters!

CASE Q-473: Patsy Campbell, aged 14, is a popular high school girl at Vincennes, Indiana.

Earlier this year she served one day as a page at her state legislature.

"Dr. Crane," I have often been asked, "isn't it a splendid experience for teenagers to serve as pages?"

On the surface, that would certainly seem to be true, wouldn't it?

But suppose those high schoolers come away from the state legislature disillusioned? Then what?

For example, Patsy said she expected dignity and respect for the presiding officer.

But she reported that many legislators were running around with their shoes off.

Others, even while the presiding officer was speaking, would read their newspapers or carry on conversations without even lowering their voices to a whisper.

Another had his radio turned on and was listening to it instead of heeding the Speaker of the House, though the latter was pounding with his gavel to quiet them down.

Bill another kept slinging audibly and also whistling for variation all during the session.

Indeed, one of the representatives beckoned Patsy to come over to his seat and offered her a cigar.

Most of her time that day while she served as page was spent carrying coffee to the lawmakers.

Since the Indiana legislature was about evenly divided between Republicans and Democrats, Patsy was asked if either party seemed more dignified.

She said she didn't see much difference.

So do you readers think it inspires more admiration for our government to send high school students to their state legislatures if they are to view such disrespect?

Maybe it would be safer to leave the teenagers back in school where they can cherish their illusions about the dignified demeanor and respectful behavior of legislators.

Sometimes, however, visitors to Congress in Washington will grow irate at the small handful of Senators or Representatives in their seats while Congress is in session.

But the absentees may be working very diligently in Committee Rooms, interviewing witnesses.

Or they may be phrasing and writing bills or digging out facts from the books sent over to their offices from the Library of Congress.

So the mere absence of most members doesn't mean positively that they aren't working hard.

But when they do occupy their seats in the state or national Congressional halls, they should at least "play ball" with the visitors and especially the teen-agers pages, don't you agree?

At least they should look respectful and interested in order to maintain the proper "image" that faithful school teachers try to create for our duly elected representatives.

Suppose physicians and dental surgeons walked around in their socks, puffing on cigars and offending patients!

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — A massive, nation-wide campaign reaching a climax Thanksgiving weekend is being planned by the March on Washington leaders to pressure Congress for passage of strong civil rights legislation this year.

Local campaigns will be concentrated on states and districts represented by perhaps 100 congressmen whose position on civil rights reform is considered doubtful.

Individual letter writing appeals and group petitions from these congressmen's own constituents are to be organized.

There will be other petitions to city councils, state legislatures and governors.

Local marches are planned to accompany petitions to the post offices, to start them on their way to Washington.

Delegations of 15 to 20 local citizens will be brought to the Capitol to sit in the galleries while civil rights debate is on and key votes are being taken.

Meetings will be sought with congressmen in their own districts, especially during Thanksgiving weekend, Nov. 27-30. It is expected that civil rights legislation will be emerging from the House about this time and entering the Senate for committee consideration.

A second phase of the campaign to deal with an expected Senate filibuster will then be thrown into gear.

In announcing these plans after an all-day meeting of the Leadership Conference on Civil Rights in Washington, its chairman, Roy Wilkins, declared there would be no sit-ins at congressmen's offices.

Wilkins also opposed plans for a nationwide boycott of Christmas shopping.

"We have used boycotts against specific merchants effectively," he said, "if this is scattered to the 50 states, it will lose its power."

Any idea of postponing action or of passing only the tax cut or the civil rights bill this year is rejected by the Negro leaders.

"I think we can have both," says Wilkins. "But, if not, we've got to have ours. Tax cuts can be made retroactive if passed next year. But our people are being killed."

"This is not 1957 or 1960. It's 1963, and if any politician thinks he can postpone action, it is a monumental blunder."

These strong views were expressed in Washington on the same day that the U. S. Commission on Civil Rights filed its third biennial report just before the Senate gave it a one-year lease on life. Its report was a frank admission that it had failed to accomplish its mission.

"The conclusion is inevitable that present legal remedies for voter discrimination are inadequate," says its report. "The only effective guarantee is enactment by Congress of some form of uniform (federal and state) voter qualification standards."

"Nearly 10 years after the Supreme Court decision in the school desegregation cases, Negro children will attend segregated schools in all parts of the nation . . . because of existing housing patterns and employment practices."

"Within one year after issuance of Executive Order 11063 (banning discrimination in housing), little has been done to implement it so far."

"The vast majority of Negroes are unskilled and semi-skilled workers. Displaced by machines, they swell the ranks of the unemployed . . . The reasons include inadequate education, inferior job training, discrimination by private employers and by state and local administration of federal programs."

"Civil rights denials exist in all areas of the nation, but their inter-relationships are more apparent in the heavily populated urban areas . . . This is the challenge of the 60's."

The Civil Rights Commission makes a score of detailed recommendations to correct these abuses. In every case, these recommendations go far beyond provisions of the House Judiciary subcommittee civil rights bill.

Negro leaders had the report as "a clean and welcome break from the old piecemeal approach." It is considered better than President Kennedy's original program but still not good enough.

Bird Watching For Birds

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The alarm clock begins ringing precisely at 6:30 a. m. For a moment, groping my way through the fog of slumber, I am under the impression that there has been a prison break somewhere.

Then I remember. I have set the alarm because I have to get up early. I have committed myself to go to Boonshoro, Md., with a party of bird watchers to see the hawks fly over Monument Knob.

The invitation to witness this ornithological spectacle was extended by a friend of mine who is a member of the Audubon society. At the time, over a second round of squeakings from the fruit of the juniper bush, it seemed like a swell idea.

But at 6:30 a. m., the environment has undergone an abrupt transformation. I resolve never to touch the fruit of the juniper bush again.

I make my way into the kitchen, pack a lunch consisting of a cold meat loaf sandwich and head for the rendezvous point—a restaurant.

We meet in the parking lot, check directions with our leader, make certain our bird watchers' manuals are at the ready, and the safaris under way.

It is cold up there on Monument Knob. Along with about a dozen Audubon members, I am perched on top of the Washington Monument. Not the Washington Washington Monument. The Boonshoro Washington Monument was erected in 1837, before the Washington Monument was even started. It took almost an entire day to build it.

Moreover, it is 1,000 feet higher than the Washington Washington Monument. That is because the Boonshoro Washington Monument was built on top of a 1,000-foot mountain.

The hawks are supposed to fly over the monument on their southward migration and we are scanning the sky with our binoculars.

"There's one!" I shout as a large winged creature flashes across my line of vision.

"That's a gnat, you idiot," my friend exclaims.

It is difficult to adjust your vision to binoculars, but finally I score. While the others are diverted by a rufous-sided towhee, I sight nine hawks winging down the valley.

It takes stamina to win your spurs as a bird watcher, but once you make it you are on top of the world. Or at least on top of the Boonshoro Washington Monument.

The only thing more thrilling is staying at home in bed.

Dear Abby: By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Several days ago my friend had her first child, a boy. Three weeks before she had the baby her doctor told her that, according to her heart beat, she was going to have a girl. My friend believed the doctor and gave away all the gifts she received for a boy, thinking she'd have no use for them. Now that she has a boy she is very disappointed and angry because she gave away many things she could have used. Don't you think her doctor should be held responsible for what she lost out on?

A FRIEND

DEAR FRIEND: There is no way to foretell the sex of a child before birth. Some doctors will take a good-humored guess, but their predictions are rarely taken seriously. Nor should they be.

DEAR ABBY: I think you gave that 17-year-old sinner a bum steer when you told her to quit her job because a lecherous middle-aged man tried to kiss her. If she quits a job every time she runs into that, she'll be looking for a new job every week. Why not stop him cold with, "No more of that! You're too fine a man to behave that way!"

MADELINE

DEAR MADELINE: Are YOU kidding? That would not stop a high school freshman. There's only one way to straighten out a lecher, short of using a baseball bat — and that's to remove yourself from the scene.

DEAR ABBY: Something happened last night and I'm still shaking. My fiance and I were driving through a residential district at exactly ten o'clock. There were no lights, and the speed limit was 15 m.p.h. We were doing about ten. Suddenly, out of nowhere, a small boy, no more than nine years old, appeared in front of us on a bicycle. We came within inches of hitting him. There was not a single light or reflector on his bike and he was riding it right down the middle of the street. Slow as we were going, we might have killed him. He didn't seem the least bit disturbed about his close call. He just laughed and went pedaling down the middle of the street. Please put this in your column, Abby, for thick-skulled parents who teach their children nothing about safety, and neglect to outfit their children's bikes with proper lights.

MARY

DEAR MARY: Your letter MAY wake up a few parents, but you and your fiance should have followed that boy home and had a talk with his.

CONFIDENTIAL TO MR. FLETCHER, THE HISTORY TEACHER: Esther and Mary were absolutely right! And if you write to me, I'll answer your letter, too.

What's on your mind? For a personal reply, send a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Abby, Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif.

Jacoby On Bridge By Oswald Jacoby

"Winning Defense," by John Brown, is another English book that has recently been re-published in this country. It is not an easy-to-read book. British books never are, but it is certainly worth-while reading for anyone who wants to improve his defensive play.

Mr. Brown points out that a good defensive player should be alert to take advantage of any mistakes declarer might make. East won the opening heart lead with the queen and continued the suit in order to force dummy South ruffed in dummy and led a diamond to his queen. West took his king and returned the ten spot which led to ruff a third heart in dummy. Then he played the ace and ten of trumps. East was ready for this play. He went right up with the king and threw South back in dummy with the jack of diamonds. South had to lead clubs from dummy and East was able to ruff the third club and set the contract.

Of course, East would have looked mighty silly if his play of the king had dropped an honor from his partner's hand. And, of course, declarer had unspoken ways to make the hand. Instead he found the one way to go down and East had risen to the occasion.

We The Women: By Ruth Millett

Every neighborhood ought to have:

- At least one father who is good at "fixing" things and has the patience to let the neighborhood children "help" him in his workshop.

- At least one older woman or teen-ager who is available as a baby sitter.
- At least one wife and mother who doesn't lose her head in emergencies, and who goes whatever is necessary in moments of crisis.
- At least one extremely sociable homemaker who sees to it that the neighborhood gets together now and then so that they really feel like neighbors, instead of just so many families living in the same block.

At least one large family where children are always welcome—because a few more don't make more than the ordinary amount of noise and confusion.

At least one "listener" who can be counted on to listen to anyone's troubles without passing them along as gossip.

At least one gardener with a green thumb to inspire the rest of the homemakers and to dispense free advice—when asked — on gardening problems.

At least one pair that is big enough for a baseball diamond, owned by parents who don't mind having it serve as such.

At least one calm grandmother who can assure the children they are worrying about today will make them proud in times to come.

Not all neighborhoods have all of these human assets. But those that do are lucky; for, they are good neighborhoods to live in.

Highlights

7:30-9:30 p.m. NBC. Monday Night at the Movies. "The Rains of Ranchipur." (Color) This 1953 adaptation of the Louis Bromfield novel stars Lana Turner, Richard Burton, Fred MacMurrary, Michael Rennie and Joan Caulfield. It is the story of a romance between an American wife of a British Lord and a Hindu physician. The lord, Michael Rennie, is injured while hunting tigers in the small principality of Ranchipur. As he is getting better, his wife, Miss Turner, falls in love with his doctor, played by Richard Burton. 8:30-9 p.m. CBS. The Lucy Show. Another episode involving Lucy and Vivian's (Lucille Ball and Vivian Vance) underdog efforts on the women's softball team, only this time clumsy Lucy winds up a heroine. How she wins the game provides the show's hilarity high spot.

8:30-10 p.m. ABC. Wagon Train. "The Robert Harrison Clarke Story." (Color) Good characterizations, particularly that of Michael Rennie in the title role of a British newsman antagonistically inclined to disbelieve the hostility of Indians and the pioneer hardships his homeland has been reading about.

9:30-10 p.m. NBC. Hollywood and the Stars. "Sirens, Symbols and Glamor Girls" Part II. The second half of an intriguing collection of film clips of beautiful women threaded together by a drab commentary purporting to analyze the whys and wherefores of being a Hollywood love goddess. Actually, this gives a chance to rehab the personal problems of Rita

Giants Fall Before Two Long TD Runs

By United Press International
 Mike Ditka did the job with his hands, Charley Johnson with his arm and Herb Adderly with his chest, but Jimmy Brown outdid them all with his incredible churning legs. Brown was simply superb Sunday when he broke loose for two long third-period touchdowns that sent the Cleveland Browns on to a 35-24 victory over the New York Giants in their battle for first place in the Eastern Division of the National Football League. It was Cleveland's fifth win without a defeat.

Ditka caught four touchdowns passes as the Chicago Bears extended their record to 6-0 in the Western Division with a 52-14 rout of the winless Los Angeles Rams. Johnson helped the St. Louis Cardinals remain in contention behind the Browns when he completed two last-period touchdown passes, the winning one with six seconds left to play, in a 21-23 squeaker over the Pittsburgh Steelers.

And Adderly, a defensive back with a remarkable knack for hitting the headlines, blocked a potential game-winning field goal by the Minnesota Vikings, permitting teammate Hank Greminger to pick up the loose ball and run 80 yards for a clinching touchdown as the defending champion Green Bay Packers won, 37-28.

In the two other games, Sonny Jurgensen threw four touchdowns passes as the Philadelphia Eagles defeated the Washington Redskins, 37-24, and the Baltimore Colts sent the San Francisco Forty Niners down to their fifth straight defeat, 20-3.

Chargers Mix Age With Youth

By United Press International
 The San Diego Chargers have mixed age with youth to brew a team that looks potent enough to win them the Western Division title of the American Football League.

Tobin Rote, 35, supplies the age and John Hadl, 23, supplies the youth. And more than a short snort of either is enough to kave most any rival.

Rote's heroics were mainly responsible for carrying the Chargers to three victories in their first four games. The veteran had his troubles Sunday and so the sophomore quarterback from the University of Kansas came off the bench to lead the Chargers to their 24-20 victory over the New York Jets.

The win enabled the Chargers to take a 1½-game lead in the West while the loss left the Jets only a half game ahead of Boston and Houston in the East.

Palmer Says Cup Match Crowded

ATLANTA (UPI) — Arnold Palmer said today that despite the pro and con arguments about the difference in size in the U. S. and British balls, the biggest trouble with the Ryder Cup matches is too much golf in too short a time.

"I don't know of any other golf tournament which plays 36 holes a day for three straight days," Palmer, the U. S. team captain, complained.

He suggested that the Ryder Cup matches should be stretched out to at least four days, perhaps with 10 holes each on Thursday and Friday and then 36 on Saturday and Sunday.

14 Improving Gradually From Food Poisoning

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (UPI)—Gradual improvement was reported today among 14 persons treated last week for botulism, the rare food poisoning suspected of killing seven others.

University Hospital here and Vanderbilt Hospital in Nashville reported slow but steady improvement for those stricken after eating the same brand of smoked whitefish.

A Tennessee Air National Guard jet fighter continues to be kept on standby at McGhee-Tyson Air Force Base near Knoxville for flight to New York on immediate notice to pick up a shipment of anti-toxin which would be sent to New York from Paris.

All patients were treated with an expensive anti-toxin to combat the type-E botulism, a rare form of poisoning spread by a tiny organism known as clostridium botulinum.

Botulism was also believed to have caused the deaths of two persons in Michigan, three in Knoxville and two in Nashville.

The same type of fish, packaged by Dornbos & Bros. Fisheries, of Grand Haven, Mich., has been involved in each case.

Dornbos immediately halted its operation when learning of the suspected poisoning. The principal supermarket distributor of the product ordered it removed from shelves.

Miss Crozier To Hold Recital

Catharine Crozier, who will present an organ recital here at 8 p.m. Oct. 21 at First Presbyterian Church, has one of the largest memorized repertoires among concert organists of the day, according to informed critics.

Composition for organ are well known to be complex as the writers weave their themes through the endless combinations designed for as many as four manuals and a pedal board. It is writings such as Heubke's Sonata, the Sowerby Symphony, the principal works of Cesar Franck, Liszt, Alain and a score of others that make up the memory storehouse of music from which Miss Crozier plays.

Settle FEC Strike, JFK Urges

Sanford Group Offers Marina Plans To City

Tentative plans for a marina at the city boat basin on Lake Monroe were presented by a Sanford group of 11 businessmen to the City Commission Monday evening.

Shelia, the lioness will be three years old Friday, Pride of Mrs. A. L. Hood, caretaker at the Sanford zoo for 10 years as of Wednesday. Shelia was born in captivity at the zoo. Still Mrs. Hood's pet although City Manager W. E. Knowles says now the 300-pound "cat" is "too big to allow anyone in the cage."

Dr. Jess Dietz, consulting engineer of Urbana, Ill., discussed for 1 1/2 hours with the Commission tentative plans for the city's proposed 20-year, $450,000 water expansion system.

Commission members also postponed action on this matter, when Acting Mayor A. L. Wilson suggested the question should be held in abeyance until a new City Commission is seated after the Nov. 5 election.

Commission also postponed action on improving the old Post Office Building as a public library.

The board agreed to pay $1 per man for 11 active members of the Volunteer Fire Department for dues to the Florida State Firemen's Association which will make the men eligible for additional insurance provided for members of the state organization.

The question of a building permit for a sign advertising a new trailer sales agency which has been located on Highway 17-92 north, was referred to the mayor for investigation.

In closing, the board read and unanimously approved a resolution commending Mrs. Lillian Henning, former clerk for services performed during her term in office.

A congressional inquiry already had been planned on the basis of Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara's opposition to a second nuclear-powered aircraft carrier.

It conceivably could be hastened and almost certainly will pit Vice Adm. Hyman G. Rickover, the atomic power expert, against McNamara in a dramatic congressional controversy.

COMMUNIST sources said in Moscow over the weekend that the major Communist parties in the Soviet camp would gather there during the celebrations of the 49th anniversary of the Russian revolution.

China and its Asian Communist allies were not expected to attend the meeting, which was seen as a possible prelude to the expulsion of the Chinese from the Moscow-dominated bloc.

U.S. Due To Test Red Convoy Intentions

BERLIN (UPI) — More U. S. Army convoys are expected to be sent along Berlin's highway link with West Germany in the next few days to test Soviet intentions, Allied officials said today.

The Soviets blockaded a 61-man convoy for 52 hours last week in a dispute over the way the GIs should be counted by Soviet checkpoint personnel, Monday, however, a convoy sped through to West Germany with no delays.

The difference was in the size of the convoys, Monday's was large — 141 men in 26 trucks and jeeps. Under an unwritten agreement with the Soviets, the United States permits its men to dismount and be counted when the convoy is of this size.

The Army says this is done voluntarily to speed up the control process. It does not concede a Soviet right to order the troops to dismount.

The unwritten agreement also says that small convoys should be passed with the soldiers remaining in their trucks for the count. But the Soviets apparently considered last week's 61-man convoy in the large class and refused to pass it unless the soldiers got out.

The way the difficulty will be avoided in the future, officials said, is by making all convoys either clearly large or small. Then, unless the Soviets have other motives for harassing the Berlin access routes, there will be no possibility of misunderstanding.

The accident occurred on U. S. 1 inside the city limits. The victims were identified as Michael George Mabee, 17, of Sharps, the driver; and Terry E. Hopkins, 16, and Philip Earl Rollins, 17, both of Cocoa.

RAIN washed the Pacific Coast and Great Plains today but failed to touch timberly forests and fields from New England to the Southwest.

Thunderstorms dumped nearly an inch of rain on northern California during the night, and a third of an inch fell at Leamonton, S. D. Scattered fires ate through prairie and woodland in New York state, Massachusetts, Pennsylvania and Missouri.

Agriculture experts and weather observers started to total up the economic loss and fire danger wrought by the long drought across the Midwest and Great Lakes states.

3 Canaveral Projects Set
CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (UPI) — The Canaveral District Corps of Engineers issued a call today for three construction projects on Merritt Island totaling about $1.5 million.

The corps also announced a $20 million bid opening on construction of pad A of launch complex 39, originally scheduled for Oct. 23 in Jacksonville, has been rescheduled for the Cape on Nov. 5.

Board Asked To Contact Road, Union

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Kennedy, holding off on a recommendation to bring economic pressure on the Florida East Coast Railway, Monday urged that the FEC strike be resolved "in the public interest."

The President said he was asking the National Mediation Board to contact FEC officials and leaders of the nine non-operating unions on strike for prompt resumption of negotiations.

Kennedy made the recommendation after a special board of inquiry said the month-old walkout "is detrimental to our nation's defense and space efforts" in the Cape Canaveral area.

The board, made up of representatives of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA), the Defense Department and the Labor Department, recommended that:

"The government should have as little as possible to do — businesswise — with the FEC while the strike is on.

"The FEC not be permitted to operate on parts of a Cape railroad spur being constructed in part by the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers.

"All federal agencies should be urged that they should stress to prospective bidders that use of the railroad may involve delays.

The President urged a speedy gathering at the conference table and "if these bargaining efforts prove unproductive, I urge all parties to give serious consideration... to final and binding arbitration."

3 Youths Killed In Fiery Crash

COCOA (UPI) — Three teenage boys were killed instantly late Monday night when their car swerved out of control and into a light pole.

The car burst into flames and the boys were dead before they could be pulled from the wreck. There were no apparent witnesses, police said, but the condition of the car and pole indicated the automobile had been traveling at high speed.

The accident occurred on U. S. 1 inside the city limits. The victims were identified as Michael George Mabee, 17, of Sharps, the driver; and Terry E. Hopkins, 16, and Philip Earl Rollins, 17, both of Cocoa.

NATIONAL CITY, Calif. (UPI) — When an excited motorist telephoned that "a bunch of cows walked through a red light," police embarked on an impromptu cattle roundup Monday.

It took eight policemen two hours to corral 10 animals which had straggled away from a meat packing pen near this San Diego suburb.

3 Canaveral Projects Set

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (UPI) — The Canaveral District Corps of Engineers issued a call today for three construction projects on Merritt Island totaling about $1.5 million.

Protest On Teenagers Heard By Casselberry

Added police protection by the town of Casselberry on Fridays and Saturdays to control teenagers in and around a drive-in came under question at Monday night's meeting of the Board of Aldermen with the board ruling that the matter is the responsibility of the restaurant owner and not of the town.

Verbal complaints heard at the meeting against the teenagers ranged through squealing of tires at late hours, misconduct in general on the premises, drag racing without lights on dirt roads near the restaurant to the illegal consumption of alcohol in parked cars.

Formal complaints in the form of a petition signed by some 26 landowners in the immediate vicinity also were filed.

Mayor Fred Heath was instructed to notify the owner to "clean up the situation" or the town would contact the Hotel and Restaurant Commission asking for an investigation.

Bids received from ABC Garbage Service of Sanford and from Logue Garbage Service of Winter Park were referred to the board's Garbage Committee for further study. Making up the committee are Mayor Heath and Councilmen L. E. Woodhams and Arthur Lego.

ABC, holders of the present franchise, has been notified that its contract will expire with the last pickup nearest Dec. 31 date.

A public hearing on the new zoning ordinance was set for Nov. 4 at 7:30 p.m. at the Women's Club Building after copies of the lengthy ordinance and a descriptive map were presented by Zoning Board Chairman Herman Joyce.

Copies of the ordinance for study will be available to the citizens upon signing of the document with Mrs. Mary Hawthorne, town clerk, however, the map will be available only at the clerk's office.

Attorney Kenneth McIntosh reported that paper work on the Overbrook Drive paving project has been completed and now awaits execution by property owners involved.

He also reported that a consultation has been arranged with an assistant of Attorney General Richard W. Ervin for the study of the town's operation under the present charter.

The request for a survey of the five-acre plot of land donated by Hubbard Casselberry for use as an equipment storage lot and a city park was referred to J. D. Self, road board chairman.

The board agreed to pay $1 per man for 11 active members of the Volunteer Fire Department for dues to the Florida State Firemen's Association which will make the men eligible for additional insurance provided for members of the state organization.

The question of a building permit for a sign advertising a new trailer sales agency which has been located on Highway 17-92 north, was referred to the mayor for investigation.

Hospital administrator Bob Bessner was asked by R. E. Porter at the City Commission meeting last night: "What are you doing here?" "I'm a citizen," said Bob, "and I decided it was time I attended one of these sessions to see what is going on in our fair town." Hah — he found out. Commission talked from 8 to midnight — and decided absolutely nothing. Just talked... and postponed, as per usual.

Sheriff J. L. Hobby reported this morning a mule strayed out on Highway 431 at Forest City last night. A car came along. Result: One dead mule to the rendering plant.

Registrar Caml Bruce came up this morning with a most simplified explanation of the three constitutional amendments which will be before the electorate on Nov. 5. You might paste this in your hatband for reference when you walk into the polling booth three weeks from today:

1. To change the election of the governor and members of the state cabinet so that they do not coincide with a presidential election. 2. Authorizing the issuance of capital improvement bonds in the amount of $75 million for institutions of higher learning, including junior colleges. 3. Authorizing the issuance of revenue bonds or certificates for outdoor recreation or natural resource conservation purposes.

School Supt. Ray Milwee has pointed out the $75 million will not be taxed against individuals but against utilities (which really means the consumers in the long run).

Note to John Krader: R. E. Porter tried to phone you this morning to say UPI reported the State Board of Conservation at Tallahassee today postponed for another two or three weeks the request of the St. Johns Indian River Canal District for funds to finance engineering plans. UPI added in a note to The Herald "will handle soonest it taken up by the Cabinet."

Another candidate for governor next year, Fred Karl of Daytona Beach, will address the Seminole County Education Association at 8:30 p.m. Thursday at Longwood Elementary School. Karl is said to be "the teachers' friend." In other words, the educators are backing him for governor. Sen. Mack Cleveland Jr. and Reps. S. J. Davis Jr. and Jan Fortune also invited to the meeting. (How about that, Mack? Inviting a "Mathews man" to a Karl meeting?) (For the uninitiated: UPI reported last night Mack kicked in to the Mathews campaign fund... a nice tidy sum, too.)

Lake Monroe elementary parents have asked "The Clock" to take up in their behalf their plea for traffic control to safeguard their children. Say NRD signs are posted for 40 mph but they still would like some action from the state, the county and/or the school board "before we have an incident as The Herald reported yesterday from Fort Lauderdale." The doctor who protested and then was called to an accident and found his own two daughters killed by a car.

In The Herald football contest. The football fans fooled our Seminole County "experts" rather badly last weekend. Three of the 14 games ended in ties and there were many upsets. One young entrant selected the Michigan-Michigan State game as a tie but made so many mistakes in his other selection that he was not a winner. And of the many hundreds who sent in entries only five picked Florida over Alabama!

North Orlando Mayor W. W. Anderson has been notified by letter from Frank Fasula, manager of the North Orlando Company, that his firm "would not consider it trespassing if the village council wishes to cut the weeds and repair the water line at the recreation area."

Gore Protests Demo Tax Cut 'Pressure'

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Senate hearings on President Kennedy's tax cut program opened today on a stormy note with one Democratic senator charging pressure tactics had been employed in an effort to force him to support the bill.

An aroused Sen. Albert Gore, D-Tenn., complained that a seven-page telegram sent by William Keel, director of research for the Democratic National Committee, to Tennessee communities amounted to "political intimidation."

The telegram urged local Democratic leaders in Tennessee to support the tax program and to advise their senator — Gore — to do likewise.

"So far as I know, this is the beginning of a purge," Gore said as the Senate Finance Committee opened hearings on the tax bill. Gore is opposing the measure.

Sen. Herman E. Talmadge, D-Ga., chimed in that he had seen the telegram and agreed with Gore that it was designed to "bring political pressure and coercion" on the veteran Tennessee senator.

Sen. Russell B. Long, D-La., No. 2 Democrat on the tax-writing committee, sought to smooth ruffled feathers.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A woman and three men charged in the murder of the woman's husband were arrested early today as they attempted to drive off the Sunshine State Parkway.

Sanford Beach County detectives said they arrested Betty Carol Adams, 43, of Winter Park on a charge of first degree murder. Charged with conspiracy to commit murder were Rocco R. Marziano, about 49, of Blue Island, Ill.; Reno A. Schapiro, 38, of Chicago; and Daniel Alamprese, 37, of Blue Island.

Mrs. Adams' husband was found dead on a highway in February with a bullet in his head, deputies said.

Police said the four were on their way to Miami to catch a plane. Mrs. Adams was in a sports car and the three men were behind her in another car.

The sport car developed engine trouble and the men were pushing it with their car when they tried to get off the turnpike at the exit here.
