General Defends Jap Economic Plan Hit By U. S. Critics

TOKYO, Jan. 2, (A)—General-MacArthur, in a New Year's statement today defended his economic policies in Japan against American critics who had charged they led toward Socialism they led toward Socialism.

Allied economic policy, he de<sup>2</sup> clared, "has required the breaking up" of a Japanese system under which "a minority of feudal familles" owned and controlled most of Japan's commerce, industry and natural resources. This feudal system, he said, "was indeed so al system, he said, "was indeed so complete a monopoly as to be in effect a form of Socalism in private hands."

The statement was his first public answer to charges in the United States that his policies were leading toward socialization of Japan, Senatorial demands for an investigation of occupation policy had been heard in Wash-ington in the wake of the blast of the critics.

Only through dissolution of Japan's feudal economic system, the statiment insisted, "could the way be cleared for the emergence of an economy conducive to the well-being of the people—an economy embodying the principle of private capitalism based upon of private capitalism based upon free competitive enterprise—an economy which long experience has demonstrated alique provides maximum incentive to development of those fundamental requirements to human progress—individual initiative and individual energy."

Trouble In Panama?

The Panama Canal Zone, center of many a bitter argument in former days, but latterly regarded as a rather settled problem, has bobbed up into the news again. At present the air is full of arguments and reminiscences.

The Canal, it should be remembered, was established where iteis after a tremendous amount of argument as to just where it should be situated, what compensation should be made to property-owners and what rights should prevail in its use, It occupies a very important position midway between the two great continents of North and South America, one whose importance was recognized from the earliest times in the development of the New World. The Canal has long been recognized as essential to world trade and the United States by virtue of its ownership has naturally gained and maintained a primary place in that region.

Now, rather suddenly and to most Americans unexpectedly, the famous route seems to be jeopardized. There is a rather natural impression that hostile and alien influences may be at the lottom of it.

The Zone itself seems to be safe enough. It is the re tention of war bases in the Republic of Panama, an independent country outside the Zone, which has been denied by the Panama legislature. The U.S. troops which have been stationed on these bases are now withdrawing to the Zone, which is American territory. Russian, German or Argentine influences, or a combination of all three, are supposed by American observers to be responsible for the negative vote in the legislature. There is much anti-American talk and feeling in parts of South America, fomented by groups desirous of having Latin-American citizens fear

The present affair is likely to be ironed out without much difficulty. But it is well for Americans to know what is going on to the South of them.

Science

"Here the papossible is done," wrote the poet Goethe long ago; "the eternal feminine drives us on." Just what that means is anybody's guess, but it seems as if there might be a sort of connection with our modern discoveries LAWS OF PROPRIETY BY OUR LOYALTY: As often as ye est this bread, and drink this cup, ye do show forth the Lord's death till, he come.—1 Cor. 11:26.

There is the astonishing triumph, for example, of our modern speed which surpasses anything of the kind known only a few years ago. "Supersonic," meaning "beyond sound," is the word for it now, indicating a speed so great that it may be used unheard by human ears. (Some animals and insects seem to have learned how to produce sounds unheard by man even before we ever guessed that there could be such powers.)

It remains to be seen how such magic may be used to real advantage. But that can be left to the scientists, known and unknown, who seem determined to discover everything, useful or useless. And indeed, in modern and ever expanding times, it often seems as if man has merely touched the hem of the garment of scientific usefulness.

Find In Mexico

Who lived in Mexico before the Mexicans? An answer finished. has perhaps been found by an archaeological expedition under the auspices of the National Geographic Society, the Himself a minute and a grass | Smithsonian Institution and a Mexican scientific body. The expedition has unearthed a shell mound on the Pacific coast of the state of Chiapas.

At first sight the finds seem trivial: a few bits of critile, worn pottery, some flint knives and a few carved that's the way Mr. Truman wants animal bones. Yet out of such fragments the patient and ingenious scientists have been able to determine that these were the work of a population earlier than the earliest Indian civilizations now known in Mexico, those of the Mayas, Olmecs and Zapotecs.

This population was just beginning to make pottery, and apparently was ignorant of agriculture. It may The Wall Street Journal says to be one of the earliest traces of human life in all North from now it may look different President Truman turned the plan—as he and his experts think it should be—over to Congress more than a week ago.

Congress comes back into sea-

Since there can be no plan without Cougress' approval, Congress will have the last say, It nay even write its own plan. So, the plan Congress decides upon will be the final plan. There'll be a lot of fighting it Congress before the plan

This story explains some the fighting points. Under the plan, as handed Congress by Mr. Truman, we'd spend about $17,000,000,000 help ng 16 European nations for four

Fighting point No. 4-Some of our help will gift, probably most of it ome will be in the form of loans. How much do we get back! Bhould we expect repayment from countries which might be badly crippled if they tried to pay back? Mr. Truman says

SNOW WHITE AND THE 7 MILLION DWARFS

But there's a way in which some of the countries may be able to pay back: In raw materials we don't have in this For example: Rubber and tin.

Some of the European countries could pay us back in raw materials from their colonies. Then we could store them in case of an emergency, such as war. We were short of rubber and tin in World War II.

"The agreement which we have signed today," he said, "lis in pursuance of the response of the American people to this emergency situation. In the same spirit in which they recently displaced their Friendship Train, the American people, through their elected congressional representatives, have allocated part of the taxes they are paying to assist France."

Among other recent aid he cited 343,500 tons of wheat sent in December and January and 1,000,000 tons of coal last month. American coal shpiments to France in the first 10 months of last year, he said, equaled 24 percent of France's own production, while 183,500 tons of wheat sent in December were the equivalent of 70 percent of the month.

"GROWING PAINS"

LORIDA is growing SO-O-O fast! Seems like everyone wants to move here...go into business...build a home. Back in 1944 we figured this was going to happen . . . and started battling wartime red tape to get some big new power plants.

The sad, sad truth is that houses can be built much faster than power plants. We've got two of the plants finished...at Sarasota and Riviera-a third at Sanford will be completed this month, doubling our prewar 1940 capacity.

But the big one at Miami (which will take care of 50,000 additional families) seems to have missed the bus! Scheduled for December, the best the contractors will promise now is late February. This means we're going into our biggest "season" short handed.

We are doing everything we can . . . borrowing electricity from nearby utilities, using all our standby plants, making deals with big commercial customers to use their standbys, asking big users to cut down, etc. etc. etc.

But if a chilly weather "peak" is piled on top of the seasonal peak caused by our winter visitors, we may have to ask YOUR cooperation to prevent overloading and seriously damaging the electric system. The chart below details the measures which may be needed to prevent service interruptions,

We are bending every effort to forestall the necessity for such measures. But we know we can count on your cooperation if our "growing pains" become acute this winter.

PRECAUTIONARY MEASURES TO PREVENT ELECTRIC OVERLOAD Please

Supreme Court Rules Against QPA Sentence

Victim Was Arrested For Violation Of Second War Powers Act Of Rationing

WASHINGTON, Jan. 5 (AP)-The Supreme Court ruled 7-2 today that OPA investigators and detective had no right to arrest and search a man they found riding in an automobile with a person suspected of black market

The ruling, an important one n the court's long series on rights of officers to make arrests. set aside the conviction of Michael DiRe, of Buffalo, the automobile-passenger, on a charge of violating the Second War Powers Act. Counterfeit gasoline coupons were found when he was searched and he was sentenced to a year in jail and fined

Justice Jackson delivered the majority's decision which upheld Dike's contention that his arrest under the circumstances violated the Constitution's guarantee that "the right of the people to be ecure in their persons, houses, mapers and effects against unreasonable searches and seizures shall iot be violated."

Chief Justlee Vinson and Jusduckson wrote:

"It is said that if such arrests and searches cannot be made, law enforcement will be more difficult and uncertain, but the fore-fathers after consulting the lessons of history designed our Constitution to place obataclus police surveillance, which they seemed to thisk was a greater danger to a free people than the escape of some criminals from punishment.
