Alabama Storm Kills 17 And Injures Score; Property Loss Heavy

WAR CONTINUES WHILE PEACE IS BEING DISCUSSED

PLANES WRECKED AT BALTIMORE BY SUNDAY'S STORM
 Seventeen Naval Ships Are Torn From Moorings While Seven Are Total Loss; No Crews Were Aboard Planes

BALTIMORE, Md., Oct. 26.—(AP)—Seventeen of twenty-three United States navy seaplanes here for a navy pageant today, broke away from their moorings near Sollers Point, in a 75-mile gale Sunday and were strewn along a five-mile stretch of beach tonight. Another plane moored off Bay Shore Park, tore free and disappeared.

Seven of the derelict planes were total wrecks when found. The other ten might be partially salvaged, Commander T. C. Ellysay, in charge of the moorings, said only the six which held their anchors would be able to take part in the pageant, which is slated to precede the Schneider cup race at the Bay Shore Park. Two of three pursuit planes moored at Bay Shore Park rode out the storm and were safe tonight. No report had been received regarding the whereabouts of the third. It pitched out of sight on the bay, riding a high running sea.

None Were Occupied.
 None of the planes was occupied during the gale. They were moored with 500-pound anchors and towed from the moorings one by one. All of the Sollers Point escapes eventually were deposited on the beach. At Bay Shore there were no boats of sufficient speed or seaworthiness to pursue the plane which tore free there. Boats from the U. S. S. Shawmut, moored here for the Schneider races, were rounding up the planes tonight.

Captain Ellysay said the fleet of moored planes had been under the care of a skeleton crew pending their use in the navy pageant tomorrow. As they broke away in rapid succession before the rising wind the crew was helpless. The planes were moored six miles from the mouth of the U. S. S. Shawmut and all but six which remained at anchor tonight had gone with the gale before word could be sent to the Shawmut for aid. Commander Ellysay had assumed command of the salvage work tonight. It was expected that the engines of the damaged or totally wrecked planes would be salvaged. The other ten suffered chiefly from twisted or broken wings, tail and pontoons.

Baltimore Is Struck.
 The storm which swept the seaplane fleet made itself felt also in the city of Baltimore where a ten-year-old boy was killed by a falling tree, another child and an aged woman and woman were injured by wind-driven debris, roofs of small buildings were carried off and plate glass windows blown in.

At Bay Shore Park the wind, in addition to sweeping one naval pursuit plane, destroyed the first Schneider cup race, and endangered the canvas hangars of the racing ships. The hangars stood, with minor damage, and the racing planes had not been injured last night.

Hundreds Homeless As Residents Begin Work Of Rebuilding Wrecked Area

Crenshaw County Origin Of Tornado

Injured List Is Not As Heavy As First Indicated, Reports Show

TROY, Ala., Oct. 26.—Residents of many portions of Pike, Barbour and Crenshaw counties were today endeavoring to bring order out of chaos that resulted from a tornado, which claimed a death toll of 17 lives and many injured.

It rendered hundreds homeless and left thousands of dollars damage in its wake. The Troy Red Cross forces and local physicians were mistakingly to the needs of stricken people to adjust themselves, and were assisting them.

The tornado seems to have had its origin in Crenshaw county, where it swept down with tremendous force and then tearing its way across the breadth of Pike county and an eastward into Barbour where it appears to have spent its force.

The list injured will not be as heavy as at first indicated, reports today showed. With the reconstruction of a part of the wire facilities, it was indicated that not more than a score were hurt.

Many Dead.
 Loss of lives was reported in the Goodhope section, at Luverne, in the Oak Grove neighborhood, at Union Springs, in Comer and Springhill, the last three places being in Barbour county, and at Eufrata, where three negroes were reported killed and several persons injured.

The dead are: Whites: Ralph Knight, 18; Ruby Knight, 16; Frances Knight, 6; Mary Ellen Knight, 3; Mrs. Eliza Davis, 65; Negroes: Beatrice Tillis and baby, Ella Lee B. Lee.

Mont Luverne two are known to be dead, both white. They are Mrs. Penock, 105; Tom Long, 70; The injured are: Walter Knight and wife, not expected to live; Herman Knight, Ray Knight, Frank Davis, Bob Jordan, J. P. Davis, Mrs. Frank Davis; Pat Swanson and wife, negroes.

In the Oak Grove neighborhood, Noah Griffin's home was destroyed and Mr. Griffin, his wife and one child seriously injured. Two children escaped uninjured.

In the Good Hope section, seven miles west of Troy, four members of one family were killed instantly and the parents are not expected to live.

Store Demolished.
 At Oriou, on the Montgomery-Troy road the home and store of Walter Kelly was completely demolished. Mr. Kelly and his family all escaped injury while a brother was slightly injured.

In the path of the storm which came down from the west and passed out to the south and east, a trail of wreckage was left, homes demolished; barns blown down; cattle and other live stock wandering aimlessly about; household goods strewn along the pathways and through the fields; and timber laid low and farm crops completely ruined.

In one neighborhood, Good Hope, five people were killed and one whole family of nine almost wiped out. Fourteen houses were completely destroyed. Noah Griffin, one of the seriously injured, was hit on the head by a heavy piece of timber which was blown through the window of his home just before the tornado picked it up and scattered it to the winds.

The residents near the path of the storm were rescued by the terrific wind and the cries of the injured, and worked in a heavy down pour of rain and vivid flashes of lightning for hours rendering aid to the injured and searching for the missing. The dead in injured were scattered along the roads and in the fields, and around the demolished homes.

Aid Is Sought.
 An emergency call was sent to Troy for aid and an ambulance was sent to bring the injured to Troy for attention. Doctors of Troy are using every means of relieving the suffering and a committee is raising funds to relieve immediate distress of the stricken. According to reports reaching Troy, much damage was done at Brantley, Glenwood and Goshen. Report from these places is reported from either place.

The tornado followed intense heat and threatening weather Saturday night and was accompanied by a severe electrical storm. Reports reaching here indicated the tornado struck first in Pike (Continued on Page Three)

Man Suffers Broken Neck In Fall From New Building Here

F. Reynolds, 28, of Paola, is in the Fernald-Laughton hospital suffering from a broken neck, sustained in a fall yesterday at the plant of the Phoenix Utilities Company now under construction of the city. His condition today is reported as critical by Dr. R. E. Stevens, who is attending the case.

According to accounts of the accident, which happened at 10:15 o'clock Sunday morning, Reynolds, a carpenter in the employ of the E. W. Spraul Contracting Company, which has the contract for building the plant, was working on the engine tank room roof when he slipped and fell to the ground, a distance of approximately 25 feet.

Workmen nearby hastened to his assistance and the local surgeon was summoned when it was seen that the man had been seriously injured. He was rushed at once to the hospital where it was discovered that his spinal column had been fractured. At noon today his condition was said to be critical, and little hope is held for his recovery.

Reynolds, who is married, and has two small children, is said to have come to this city about 10 days ago from his home in Georgia, since which time he has been working at his trade on the new building that will house the new electric plant. His family are at his bedside today, according to the report.

"Lone Wolf's" Sudden Death Believed To Have Been Caused By Bootleggers

CHICAGO, Oct. 26.—(AP)—James Asher, known as the "lone wolf" of the prohibition enforcement service here, died suddenly Sunday under circumstances which led police and enforcement officials to suspect that he may have been poisoned by bootleggers when he had been continuously harassed during his three years as a federal agent.

Edward C. Yellowley, prohibition administrator, who is aiding in an investigation of the death, said Asher several times had been threatened. A necropsy will be made and the vital organs examined for possible poison traces.

Told of Headache.
 About 8 o'clock yesterday morning Asher complained to his wife, Mary, that his head ached. A little later, after a hot bath, he went to bed, saying he thought he was dying. A physician called in the morning managed to keep him alive for an hour and a half. He pronounced death was due immediately to cerebral hemorrhage.

Asher was 47 years old and has a street in the prohibition service in an Eastern city, Yellowley said.

Sanford Facts Will Be Published Again By The Sanford Herald

The Sanford Herald today begins the publication of a series of short sketches giving important features of the "City Substantial" under the caption "Sanford Facts."

The features, first published by The Herald last year, met with unusual interest and proved a source of much information, not only to local citizens, but also to Sanford visitors.

Beginning today one sketch will be published daily for an indefinite period. Each day some salient feature of the city will be briefly but accurately described. The series begins with a resume of water transportation facilities available here.

In announcing the publication again of "Sanford Facts," The Herald calls attention to the fact that in each case the subject will be brought up to date so that information supplied in this connection will contain the latest data.

REDUCTION OF MANY FEDERAL TAXES CERTAIN

Modification Of Estate Tax And Repeal Or Reduction Many Miscellaneous Levies To Be Included In New Bill

Mellon Favors Repeal Of All Estate Taxes

Cut On Automobile Tax Also Receives Favorable Mention; Committee Silent

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26.—(AP)—Proposals for modification of the estate tax and repeal or reduction of many of the miscellaneous levies, as well as cuts in the income rates, appear almost certain of incorporation in the new revenue measure the house ways and means committee will begin drafting a week from today.

The estate and miscellaneous taxes received considerable attention in the first week of public hearings last concluded by the committee. Proposals for changes in these taxes will form the main fighting points in revision of the law, reduction of the income surtax and normal rates being generally taken for granted.

Chairman Green of the committee, one of the advocates of Federal taxation of estates, announced yesterday he favored modification of this levy along lines suggested by the national committee on inheritance taxation, which urged repeal after six years of graduated curtailment.

Secretary Mellon, however, recommended immediate repeal of the estate tax, and his proposal is present appears to have the support of a majority of republican members of the committee, while the ranking democrat, Texas Representative Clegg, is reported to favor the inheritance tax.

Green approves.
 In approving the inheritance committee report, Chairman Green said he favored it because it allows five years for states to enact uniform laws on inheritance taxation. He also approved the suggestion advanced at the same time that a credit of 80 per cent be allowed in computing the federal levy for state inheritance tax payments. The present allowance is 25 per cent.

While Secretary Mellon, in discussing the miscellaneous taxes, proposed repeal of the tax on automobile trucks, tires and accessories but not on passenger cars, there is a strong feeling among committee members that perhaps some of the more important levies in this group, including those on automobiles, might be reduced.

Many Cuts Named.
 In addition to the $300,000,000 tax reduction program advanced at the opening sessions of the hearing by Secretary Mellon, many suggestions have come from representatives of industry and business including cuts in the corporate tax and reduction or repeal of the rates on admissions, cigars and automobile passenger cars.

More than 75 persons representing almost fifty national business and industrial organizations have appeared before the committee, and about as many more will be heard this week. The hearings are to be concluded Saturday, and the committee will start work immediately on a bill which it expects to have ready to present to the house when congress convenes December 7.

The hearings have not brought forth any conclusions from committee members, aside from the declaration by Chairman Green on the floor that, although various attitudes are known to exist relative to the treasury's proposals for a cut in the maximum surtax rate from 40 per cent to 20 per cent and for reductions in the normal taxes.

ENGINEERS ON RIVER SURVEY VISIT SANFORD

Frank J. Clark And Aid, On Inspection Trip, Announce Government Reconnaissance To Be Started In November

Operation Will Work South From Palatka

Move Is First Intimation, Of Action Taken By Rivers-Harbors Board At Hearing

With the arrival in the city this morning of Frank J. Clark and C. C. Warner, engineers from the office of Lieut. Col. G. A. Youngberg, district engineering officer of the U. S. Army, at Jacksonville, it became known that the first preliminary reconnaissance survey to be made of the St. Johns river in connection with the proposed 16-foot ship channel dredging project between Sanford and Palatka will begin about Nov. 15.

The purpose of the trip today, as explained by Mr. Clark, who is in complete charge of all engineering activities along the river, is an inspection of the areas which will be covered in the survey, and to make arrangements in Sanford for supplies, to be secured here during the three months which he says will be necessary to complete the work.

It was announced that the party will be established in a houseboat at Palatka about the middle of next month, and that the survey will proceed south along the river from that point. The party, it is explained will be in charge of Mr. Warner.

After visiting local authorities this morning the engineers returned to Jacksonville aboard the inspection boat Timoga.

The visit today is shown by officers of the Chamber of Commerce here to be the first concrete action resulting from the recent hearing of the proposed venture before members of the United States Rivers and Harbors Commission, in Washington, at which time a physical survey of the St. Johns river was ordered to secure data for another hearing later.

The movement to have the present river channel deepened to 16 feet was started here some years ago, when the Sanford Chamber of Commerce, together with civic bodies of other communities comprising the Florida Water Ways Traffic League, employed J. M. Braxton, a Jacksonville engineer, formerly connected with the Army Engineering Department, to prepare a report showing the beneficiary results to be gained by increasing the capacity of the river basin for steamer traffic.

This, it is explained, was done under the proposal laid before Col. Youngberg, as the district officer, following this preliminary procedure the matter was referred to the divisional offices of the U. S. Engineers at Charleston, and finally, after the approval of the local engineering officer was secured, the project was heard by the Rivers and Harbors board in Washington.

The approval of this body is seen in the survey which will begin next week, and local residents who are interested in the movement point to the fact that action on the project once started, will move along as rapidly as possible. They are much encouraged over the announcement today, it is said.

CAPITAL FAILS TO HEAR OBJECTION AGAINST BOWLEY

Report That Mitchell Will Object To Officer Sitting On Court Martial Is Unconfirmed In Capital Circles

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26.—(AP)—Reports current in Raleigh, N. C., that friends of Col. William Mitchell have protested against the appointment of Brig. Gen. Bowley as a member of the court martial which will meet here this week to try the air service officer on disciplinary charges lacked confirmation here last night.

While the matter may have been taken up informally with Secretary Davis or other officials, the regular procedure in challenging the right of any court martial member to sit in any particular case would require that the question be raised before the court itself at its first session. The members of the court other than the officers challenged, would decide the question.

Davis Names Court.
 In view of the fact that the personnel of the Mitchell court was carefully selected by Secretary Davis himself, it is regarded as entirely improbable that the war department would entertain any protests except such as might be submitted by the colonel or his counsel at the opening of the trial.

Since the reported ground for protest against General Bowley was announced, he expressed disapproval with Colonel Mitchell's views on air service matter, it is believed to be particularly unlikely that Secretary Davis would consider any request that he be replaced on the court by some other officer.

It has been pointed out repeatedly that the Mitchell court martial proceedings are disciplinary and have nothing to do with his views as to the air service nor with any difference in opinion that may exist between him and other high officers as to the proper function of aircraft in national defense.

Duty Of Court.
 The court will not be called upon to pass judgment on any question except that of Colonel Mitchell's alleged insubordination in making certain public remarks criticizing the administration of the air services and navy.

The truth or falsity, whatever charges he made against the two services is specifically excluded from the court martial proceedings. Under the circumstances, any views of General Bowley may have expressed could have no effect on his availability as a member of the court unless they dealt with the limited question of the charge of insubordination that has been placed against Colonel Mitchell.

Do You Know

—that the Atlantic Coast Line issued bonds for 7,000,000 for double tracking and improving their facilities from Richmond to Jacksonville? —that the Florida East Coast Railroad issued 7,000,000 worth of bonds for the double tracking of the stem through Florida? —that the Seaboard-All-Florida Railroad issued 7,000,000 worth of bonds for improving their facilities in Florida? —that the Seaboard Air Line issued $10,000,000 of consolidated 6% bonds for the improvement of their facilities through the South to Florida? —that the Illinois Central Railroad, controlling of Georgia Railroad, issued $20,000,000 bonds for the improvement of their facilities the South and to Florida?

THIS does not take into consideration current issues and regular equipment bonds, etc., which would increase the total between $175,000,000 and $200,000,000 worth of securities recently sold for the enlarging and improving of the equipment of these railroads.

DO YOU KNOW—

- that the Florida East Coast bonds were sold through the offices of J. P. Morgan & Company? —and that the Seaboard Air Line securities were sold through the financial house of Dillon, Read & Company? —and that the Illinois Central bonds were sold through the National City Company of New York?

Well, that is all true!

Now then, do you think that these railroads would expand as they have, and make such tremendous issues of bonds sold for the purpose of improving their railroad facilities throughout the South and Florida—do you suppose that such financial institutions as J. P. Morgan & Company, Dillon, Read & Company and the National City Company, would offer such securities if Florida did not warrant their sale? Then why bother any more about asking questions as to the stability of Florida and the South?

The First Unit

is priced to make Substantial Profits for Investors.

DAYTONA SHORES, Inc.

NINE keen-minded business men sat around a table three months ago at Daytona and asked themselves this question, "What can we do to make the development of Daytona Shores establish a new record in Florida Real Estate activities?"

These men included several bankers, successful real estate men, and merchandising experts. Men who are keenly analytical of the public mind, whose years of experience has taught them what it takes to give confidence and accelerate sales.

And their UNANIMOUS answer was, "give so much EXTRA VALUE in the first unit that the appreciation of values will be unprecedented in real estate annals."

And so we have chosen as our FIRST UNIT the wonderful CAUSEWAY SECTION which is the very HEART of the Daytona Shores properties.

—and we have PURPOSELY priced the lots in this first unit to expedite p icts for first investors.

Need we say more to potential investors?

Except, perhaps, to add that this is the section of Daytona Shores which has ocean frontage,

—this is the unit in which the proposed causeway is to be located, joining both banks of the Halifax and giving every section of Daytona Shores an outlet to the sea,

--this unit has THREE shore-lines, one on the ocean and two on the Halifax River,

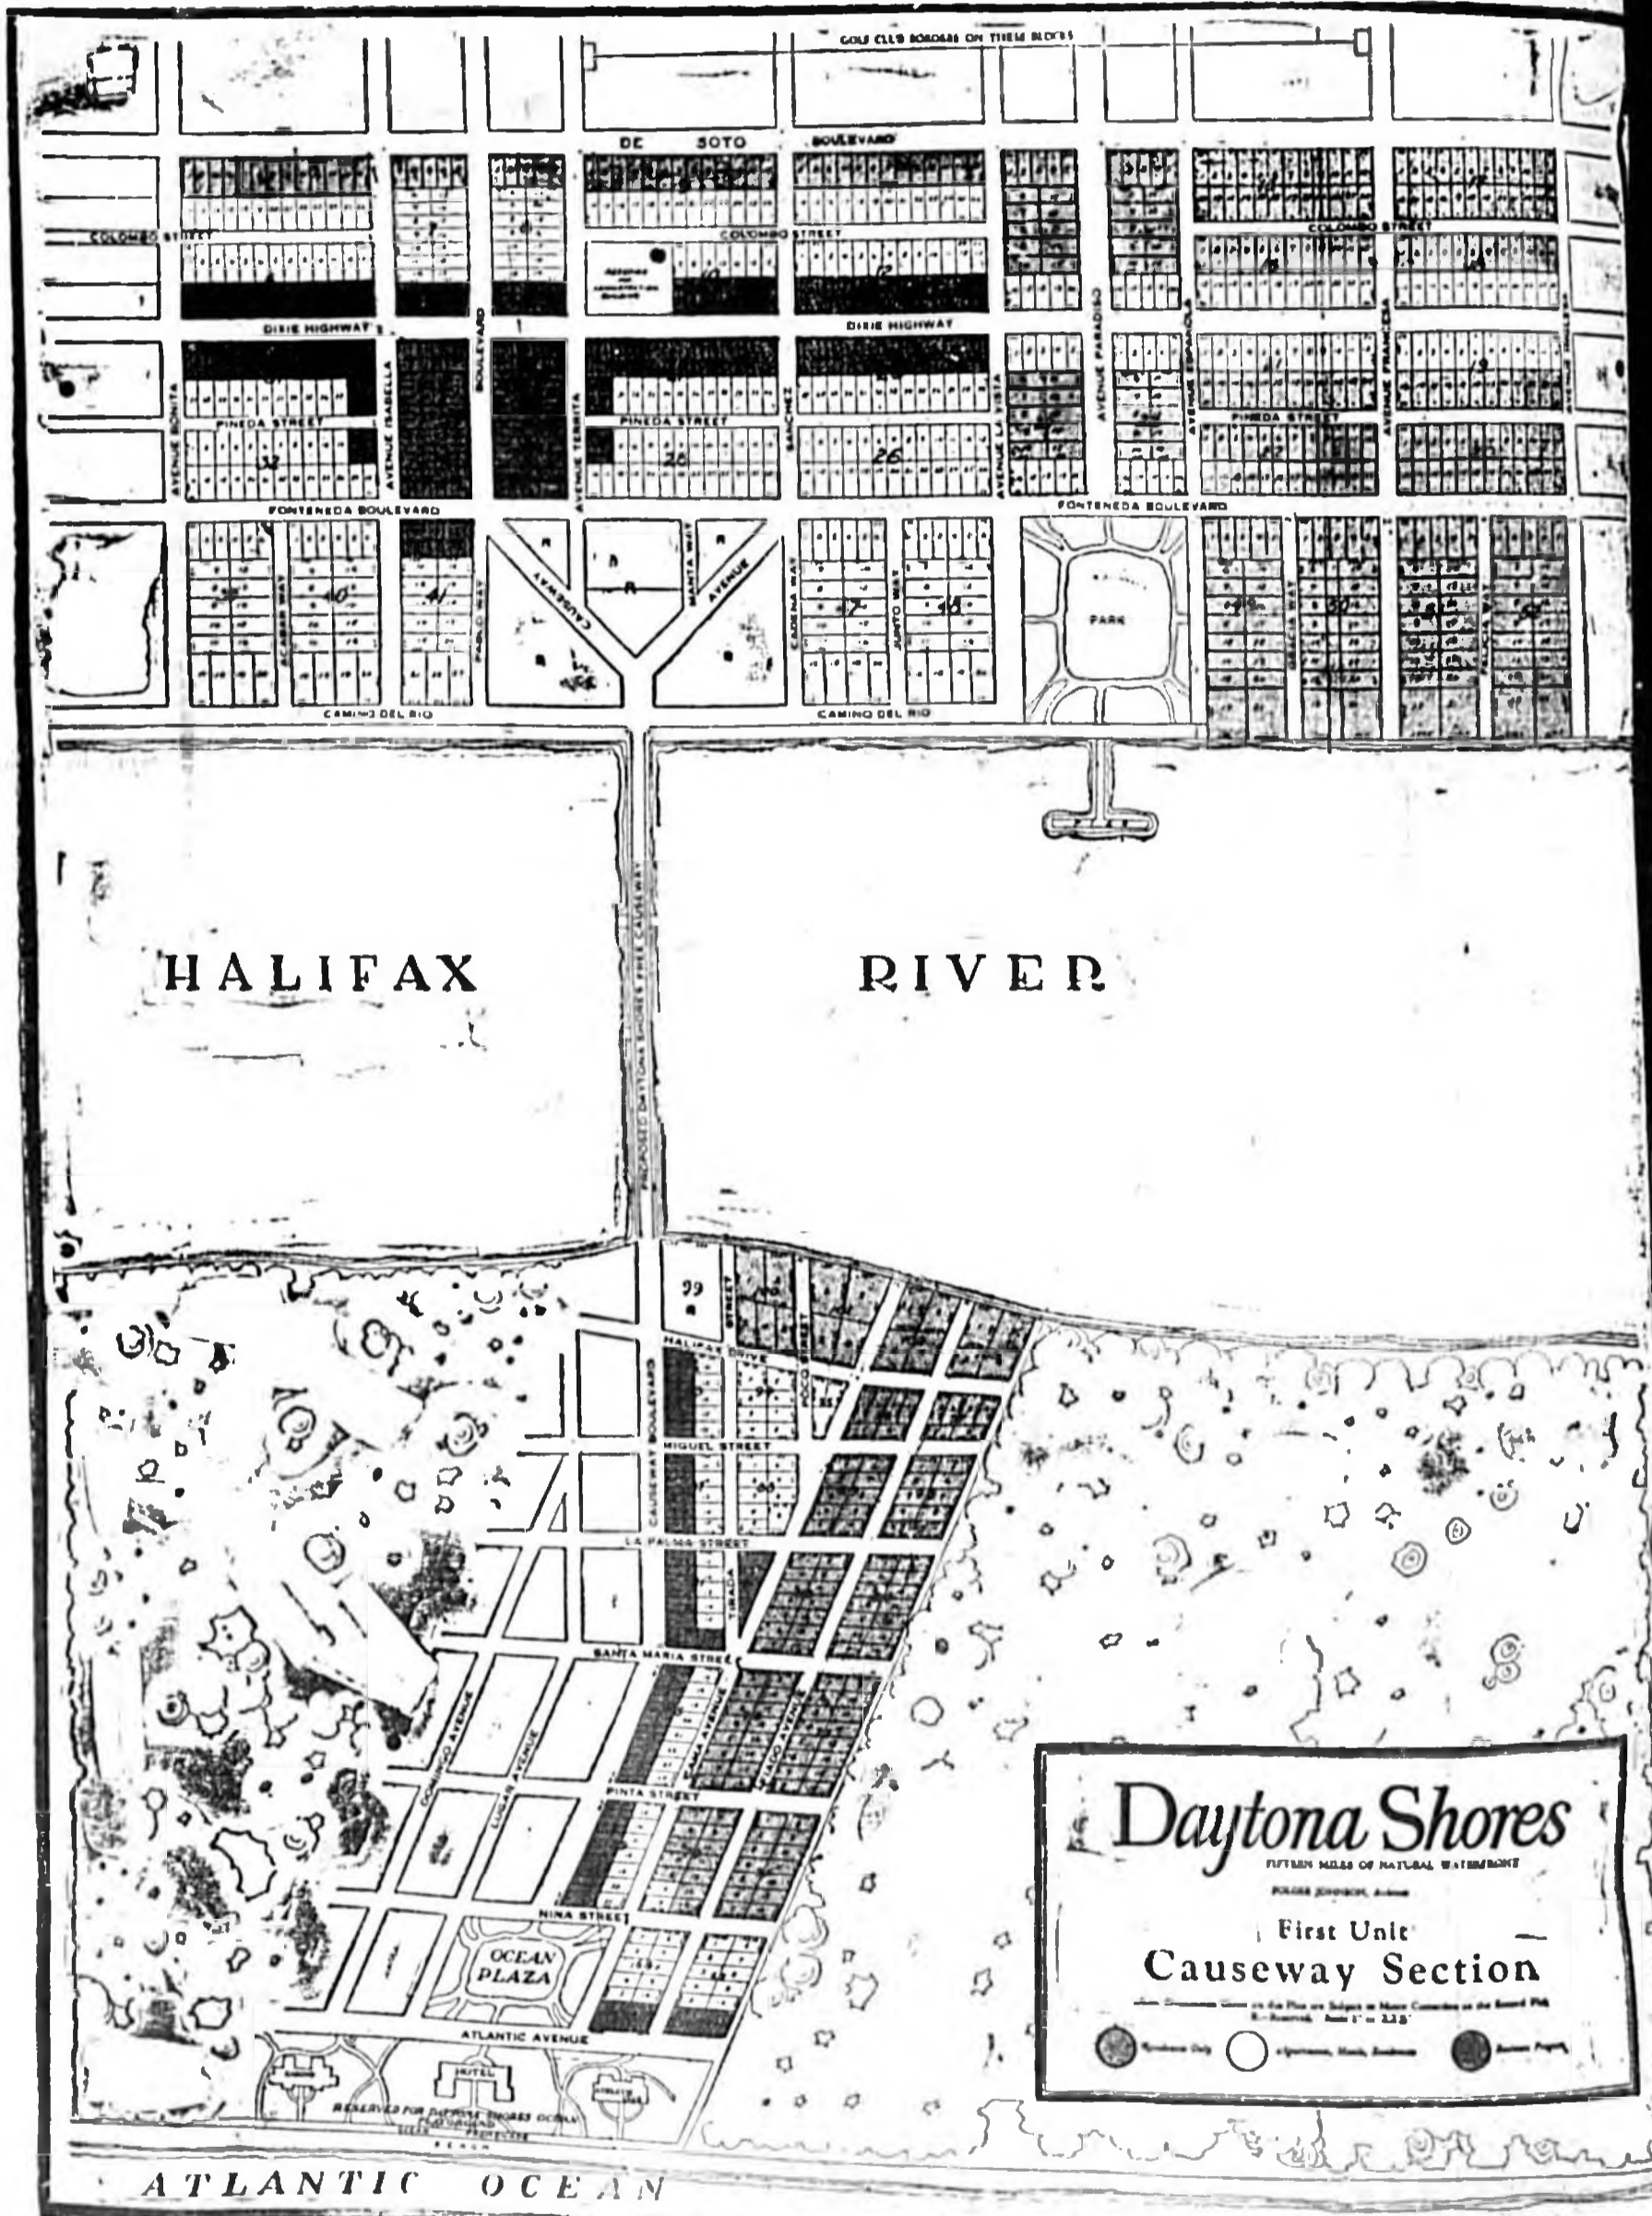

—this unit embraces the proposed new ocean plaza and the great ocean playground,

—this unit centers about a great park bordered by proposed wide boulevards,

—this unit embraces eighteen blocks of lots on the Dixie Highway,

—this unit is, in short, the cream of the investment opportunity existing at Daytona Shores.

Investors who are interested in getting in on the ground floor of an opportunity which is based on the deliberate plan of giving the earliest investors the cheapest values and the greatest increases are invited to communicate with our office named below.

Seven Deaths Reported NEW YORK, Oct. 26.—(P)—A disastrous Sunday gale swept the middle and north Atlantic states and an 85 mile wind bearing rain caused seven deaths and much property damage in five states. At Woburn, Mass., 500 houses were shattered and ocean and coastal shipping demoralized.

Begins to Repair Damage. WOBURN, Mass., Oct. 26.—(P)—After a night in which national storms rattled the storm-littered coast, the present outlook for this town today began optimistic efforts to repair the devastation wrought by a miniature tornado which twisted through the business center, causing one death and half dozen injuries and property damage running into hundreds of thousand dollars.

The finance minister began by recasting the various interior charges with which the state was faced, amounting in all to three hundred billion francs, in addition to huge exterior debts growing out of the war and its aftermath. He discussed a capital levy as a possible solution meriting serious consideration but one which would lead to chaos and ruin.

Finally he proclaimed as his financial policy a system of progressive taxation striking severely at opulence, a "pitiless" tax on luxury, "special contributions upon every form of fortune" at moderate rates and a rigid system of public economies.

M. Caillaux's virtual defiance of the socialists and radicals who are demanding the imposition of a capital levy serves to heighten the critical nature of tomorrow's cabinet meeting and strengthen the opinion of those who believe his resignation is a certainty unless by a miracle he can win over all the other members of M. Painleve's political family.

Realty Valuation Is Increased At Tampa TAMPA, Oct. 26.—(P)—Valuation on real estate, personal and railroad property in Hillsborough county, jumped more than $20,000,000 for the new fiscal year beginning Oct. 1, according to figures released today by S. E. Sparkman, county tax assessor.

A CORRECTION In the Sanford Herald of Saturday, Oct. 24, it was erroneously stated that the trial of Jerry Walker in Municipal Court Friday, on a disorderly conduct charge, had been continued until Wednesday. One Thin Woman In 20 Days Skinny Men Can Do The Same That's going some—but skinny men, women and children just can't help putting on good, healthy flesh when they take McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Compound Tablets. As chock full of vitamins as the masty, fishy tasting cod liver oil itself, but these sugar-coated tasteless tablets are as easy to take as candy and won't upset the stomach. One woman gained ten pounds in twenty-two days. Sixty tablets, sixty cents and money back if not satisfied. COLDS THAT DEVELOP INTO PNEUMONIA Persistent coughs and colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an unadulterated creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with two-fold action: it soothes and heals the inflamed membrane and inhibits germ growth. Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membrane and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs. Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, bronchitis and other forms of respiratory diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. Creomulsion Company, Atlanta, Ga. (adv.)

do you get up feeling rocky? ARE you full of "pep" and vim when you get up—hungry as a bear, spreading joy throughout your home and fairly eager to get at your work? Or, do you feel all tired-out and aching in every bone and muscle—bad taste prevailing—not wanting any breakfast—grouchy and miserable and just driving yourself to work by main force? When you feel this way you are immediately beaten before you start. And it's all because your red-blood-cells are below normal. That's why you need S. S. S. And when you build up your blood with S. S. S. that sluggish, let-down feeling, as well as rheumatism, pin-ples, boils and other skin troubles disappear. Begin taking S. S. S. today. Build up your blood. Feel the quick return of health, strength and energy. And you'll get up in the morning glad you're living. S. S. S. is sold at all good druggists. Get the larger size. It's more economical.

Sanford Can Become "A Town In Bloom"

Sanford could easily win national attention and become known far and wide for its beauty, if it would continue its beautification work and capitalize on its natural advantages.

Some time ago The Herald urged the planting of more flowers. It suggested that the parkways and the roadsides be planted in various colored flowers so that this winter when tourists arrive they will find Sanford a city of flowers.

Perhaps we are all too busy to bother with the appearance of our town. Perhaps we don't realize the importance of making our community as attractive as possible to those people who come here for the first time.

Known at a distance as "The Land of Flowers," Florida often proves to be a great disappointment to people visiting the state for the first time.

Just now the accumulation of money seems to be uppermost in the minds of Floridians and things beautiful seem to be shoved aside. Perhaps when Florida communities awaken to the fact that there is money in city beautiful work, the state as a whole will go into the business of flowers-planting.

With the appointment of members of the City Street and Park Beautification Committee, we may expect to see within a few months, Sanford radiant in a thousand colors with flowers blooming all around us and with parkways and streets presenting the neatest and most attractive appearance.

The new committee has an opportunity for real worthwhile work.

Speak Kindly To, And Of Animals

Why, asks David Lee Wharton in a recent article in the magazine "Dumb Animals", do we persist in likening evil and disagreeable people to animals that do not possess their undesirable traits?

Mr. Wharton declares that the comparison of people who have distasteful and offensive peculiarities with animals that are decidedly opposite in characteristics, is nothing but a habit and decidedly unfair to the animals.

In his article, the author points out the falseness of many common expressions. This business of calling coarse and boisterous laughter a "horse laugh" is absolutely wrong, he asserts, and says as a matter of fact, horses never indulge in rudeness.

Why is a crabbed and morose person said to be "as cross as a bear," when a bear is noted for his rollicking good nature?

Why is an unkind and meddling woman styled "an old hen," when a hen is one of the kindest and most motherly of creatures, attending strictly to her own business?

Why is one who is deceitful and dishonorable alluded to as "a dirty dog" when a dog's heart is clean and honorable to the core?

Why should a coward be called "chicken-hearted" when chickens will fight to the death, not only to protect themselves and their young, but to bring financial gain to their owners.

Why is a man who turns upon his benefactor, and seeks to injure him, termed "an ungrateful cur"? Such a thing as an ungrateful cur does not exist.

Why is a guilty looking or shame-faced person supposed to look "sheepish"? Sheep never look guilty or ashamed, as they do nothing which would cause such a look.

The author points out that there are many other sayings equally unjust and uncalled for, some of which tend to teach cruelty to children. "Skinning the cat" is one of these. This feat, he points out, dear to the hearts of all youngsters, could and should be called by some name less suggestive of cruelty.

In offering a remedy for the teaching of cruelty Mr. Wharton suggests humane education. "Speak kindly to, and of, animals always," he urges.

THE LODGE ATTACK ON WILSON

The late Senator Lodge's review of the years 1913-20 in "The Senate and the League of Nations" would be more ingratiating if it did not reveal traits which Mr. Lodge displayed in political life. It would be more convincing if it were not full of essential contradictions.

Stranger Than Fiction

TAMPA TIMES

Here is what is declared to be a true story that is much stranger than the fiction of the nature story fakers, and it is unusual, for it tells of a crippled little girl who played with a pet terrapin.

It was in 1893 that Henry Hess, whose home is at Bossevain, W. Va., found the terrapin or tortoise and carried it home to his little crippled daughter. The child played with it and it became as tame as a kitten.

Soon the terrapin, or dry-land turtle, needed the aid of Mr. Hess drilled a hole in either side through the rim of the creature's shell and rigged up a harness and the terrapin pulled a toy wagon to amuse the child.

Horses of the terrapin breed are sometimes contrary things and sometimes they balk and failed to respond to his driver and the little girl would make believe she was whipping her "horsy" and the thing would withdraw into its armor, pull up its legs and draw in its head and make itself into a small brown package.

A few Sundays ago the terrapin returned. It was known by the holes that the father had drilled in its shell. Who knows but that it came back to play with the little girl from some flash of the old custom returning?

There are many instances of terrapins having had initials cut on their hony backs, and being found many years after, the initials still being clearly defined.

All that is merely guessing. This terrapin did come back after thirty years and found the little girl who had been its playmate gone. She had been gone for twenty-two years. That it came back is the thing which is not at all to be understood. But truth is many times stranger than fiction.

The Way Of A Maid

Reducing ATLANTA GEORGIAN

A scientific gentleman says the human nose can distinguish the odors of about a dozen objects only. Any car in the street can recognize fifty different human beings in the dark without hearing their voices.

Human beings judge by sight. They rely on the eyes too much, unfortunately for moving picture gentlemen. A more civilized race will develop all the senses fully.

The Delaware County Tubercular Association of Pennsylvania reports that high school girls are "staring" themselves, trying to retain "the" in silhouette figure. Being undernourished, they invite an attack of tuberculosis.

And unfortunately, too often in this day, the mother is trying to eat at least half way thin, while the father has long ago given up trying to be the boss. About all he can do is to give up in his daughter's opinion of what a father should be and do provide.

HURRAH, A NEW FOOTBALL, THEY'RE OFF AGAIN

THE VANISHING FARM

MIAMI HERALD

The department of the interior has issued a statement to the effect that since nineteen twenty the number of farms in this country has decreased by 75,737.

The importance of manufacturing as a basis for prosperity has been strongly emphasized in recent years. No city is considered a stable city which does not have what are called industries.

Manufacture rests back upon agriculture. Many of the raw materials which the factories consume are produced on the farms.

There is no cause for alarm in the rapid increase of manufacture. There may be cause for alarm if the decrease in the number of farms indicates a probable decrease in farm production.

THE CATTS MENACE

TAMPA TIMES

The old-time question as to who struck Billy Patterson seems easy to answer beside the present day one of what office will Sidney J. Catts run for?

Several months back the information was leaked out that it was his intention to seek the nomination of congressman from the 1st district. About a week since we were assured that his campaign for the governorship in 1925 was already under way.

Whatever may be the office for which he may offer and whenever we do know, however, that there is but little doubt that the former governor has not yet decided that it is impossible for him to stage a political come-back. So long as he is without this knowledge he is a menace to Florida.

Miss Elizabeth Nixon Given Surprise Party

Miss Mary Elizabeth Nixon was tendered a most delightful and enjoyable surprise party on the occasion of her birthday Saturday, contrary to the general rule of parties of that nature, the affair was totally unexpected by Miss Nixon and was a delightful surprise.

The Nixon home was beautifully decorated with Autumn flowers and plants. There was a profusion of golden rod and Shasta daisies and the color scheme of black and gold was carried throughout.

About 28 guests were present to celebrate the occasion and Miss Nixon received many beautiful and valuable presents. Many interesting games were played and the afternoon passed all too quickly. Mrs. Nixon served delicious refreshments of ice cream and cake.

Living Costs Hits Art Hard Blow In France

PARIS, Oct. 26.—(AP)—The high cost of living seems to have hit modern art a hard blow. The teachers for some new school of painting have had to economize in canvas and paint the Autumn salon is reduced to about half its usual proportions.

What there is of it is sufficiently striking, however. The full length portrait of a woman in the role of Oedipus with indigo blue blood running out of her eyes, is the chief monstrosity. It is accompanied by the usual debauches of flesh—athletic and obese.

SAVE and THRIVE in 1925

HOW FAR IS IT TO "INDEPENDENCE TOWN"?

What do the "road signs" say? How long will it take you to get there? Let's see.

If you are willing to save $12.00 a week—with 4 per cent compound interest added semi-annually you will have $7,500 in less than 10 years. If you save less it will of course take you a little longer.

But it really isn't far to "Independence Town", is it? If you want to go there start now with a savings account at the First National Bank.

Just swing into a good "savings stride" and keep going. We will help you.

"Ten Years to Independence Town". All right. We're off.

Shawls Are Gaining Ground in their wrapped one over the other. This shawl is embroidered in bright colored wools and has a long white fringe. Beneath it in the sketch is shown a shawl that is very, very new. It is of bois-de-rose velvet printed in gold with gold fringe. At the upper left hand corner is shown a green and brown wool shawl of the sort that women carry motoring or for sports.

When shawls came into fashion before—that is in the early nineteenth century—they stayed there for nearly three quarters of a century. A pretty long time for one fashion to remain good, you will agree. So if history repeats itself, then we need have no fear that the present vogue for shawls will soon wane. The fact is that we are just on the fringes of the fashion. Mayhap before many years have passed shawls will be worn for street wraps as they were eighty years ago. But of course that's just conjecture. The important thing is that shawls are very generally worn in the evening now, and some women make use of a sport's shawl.

At Deauville last summer the fashion for shawls received a great boost. Exquisite examples of Spanish shawls were nightly displayed at the Casino there. There were also marvelously embroidered Chinese crepe shawls and some prominence was given to the shawls of purely modern inspiration. Seemingly the essential thing about the modern evening shawl is the fringe. The shawl would be far less tempting if it were not for that. To be sure long silken fringe has a maddening way of catching on beaded embroidery, metallic lace or bugles, but this must be put up with when such trimmings and shawls are in the limelight at the same time.

A number of women have taken to collecting fine shawls, but bear in mind that it requires a large bank account to support such a hobby.

Sometimes the purchase of a lovely shawl solves your problem of suitable attire for some special occasion better than a new frock could do. For an interesting shawl may be worn over a frock so as to give it an entirely new aspect, and can be used again and again without fear of going out of style. The same shawl may be given entirely different aspects by wearing it with different frocks and by draping it differently.

No woman's wardrobe is quite complete nowadays without at least one fine embroidered shawl. The white catimir shawl in the cut is worn a triangular fold with ends drawn around to the front where they are either left to hang

BIG THREE LOSE HOPE OF GLORY AS CONTENDERS

Defeat Of Princeton By Colgate And Dartmouth Victory Over Harvard Marks Final Elimination Of Elite

NEW YORK, Oct. 26.—(AP)—Reviewed by play which defied the elements in running true to form and forecast, Eastern collegiate football tonight had recovered fully from rude jolts of a week ago and was ready to push on to another round of titanic struggles with every member of the "big three" apparently counted out of the championship quest.

The elimination of Princeton in the title chase by versatile Eddie Tryon and Colgate, adding a new chapter of reversals to the fall of Yale before Pennsylvania and the decline of Harvard, was paralleled by a bold challenge hurled at the cleared feet of Pennsylvania and Army from the hills of Hanover, N. H. Swooping down on hapless Harvard to crush the Crimson as they never had crushed them before, Dartmouth warriors showed themselves into position alongside the Quaker and tonight stood conspicuously in the front row of sixteen undefeated Eastern contingents.

Cornell, also unbeaten but unruffled by keen opposition, straddled the path of both Dartmouth and Pennsylvania, while Army, adding St. Louis yesterday to its list of middleweight victims, saw the championship goal line obstructed by a growling Yale Bulldog, which had been refreshed and strengthened by a welcome banquet at the expense of the Providence Brown Bear.

Syracuse and Colgate, two remaining contenders among the teams with clean slates, were faced with the possibility of elimination either by formidable opposition from other elevens or in a battle which brings them together at Syracuse November 14. Penn State and Ohio Wesleyan confront the Orange in the next two weeks, however, while Colgate men, whose title hopes are dimmed somewhat by a tie with Lafayette, apparently meet their only remaining major test in the Syracuse struggle.

Navy, Washington and Jefferson, Lehigh and Holy Cross, also among teams with unbroken victory strings for the campaign, as yet have failed to bring forth sufficient offensive power to chain the consideration which Army, Dartmouth and Pennsylvania have received. Navy's tie with Princeton likewise tends to diminish Annapolis' chances.

BEAR DEFEAT BY OLYMPICS MERE CHECK IN CAREER

Recent Defeat, First Since Ohio Game In 1920, Spurs Californians In Collegiate Games On 1925 Schedule

BERKELEY, Cal., Oct. 26.—California's sensational run of successes has finally been halted. The great Andy Smith brigade, the famous Olympic club eleven was the one to check the stellar advances of the Andy Smith brigade. The great Ohio State eleven of 1920 was handed a wallop in its stant out to the coast that is still fresh in the minds of the Buckeye followers. Last year a strong Pennsylvania outfit, one of the best that institution ever turned loose, was sent back east defeated, a grim reminder of its trip across the continent to tackle the Golden Bears in their own lair.

Always formidable, California indeed, stood out as one of the leading aggregations of football, always formidable, always dangerous. While its recent defeat by the Olympic club came as a sort of surprise, in justice to the Smith eleven it is only fair to mention that this fall's Olympic outfit ranks as one of the best in the country.

Only the week previous it doled out a whipping to another unusually great far western team—Stanford. And, when you are trimming such elevens as Stanford and California on successive Saturdays, you're accomplishing quite a little.

So, while the reserve stopped California's long winning streak, it doesn't necessarily mean that the Golden Bears won't be right up with the topnotchers this campaign. On the contrary, Smith and his proteges are likely to cut quite a swath in collegiate circles ere the end of the chase.

Inlay a Marvel
"Tuesday, Andy Smith has a griddle of the highest material. In Dixon, he has an all-around star, runner, passer and punter. Out on the western slope Dixon has few, if any, superiors. Evans and Baze are likewise good performers. And there are others as well, who are almost certain to carry the Californian standards to success this season.
