

St. Johns Comes From Behind To Win From Kilgore

Truckers Score 13-5 Victory Over Lowly Seedmen After Endlicato Is Hurt

Old lady Misfortune continued her double dating with the lowly Kilgore Planters. Last night she topped things off with an injury to Endlicato in the fourth with the score tied up 4-4, and thereafter Britt, the substituting Planter pitcher who took over failed to slow the Truckers who scored. Final score was 13-5 with the red light crashers on the long end of the count at the Diamond-ball park last night.

The truckers started things off in the first when Beckwith singled, Squires collected a walk advancing Beckwith to second. Jenkins drove out a double scoring Beckwith. Squires was nabbed off second. Jenkins took second on a wild pitch and then scored on McMillan's single.

In the first of the second Nelson drew a pass. Endlicato popped up to the shortfield. Nelson advanced when Estridge was safe on an error. Nelson and Estridge advanced on a wild pitch and then Nelson came home when Waita was safe on another error which advanced Estridge to third. Waita took second on a wild pitch and Arant slammed out a single to score both men. Arant stole second and then took third while the Truckers were nabbing Altman at first. Arant then scored on a wild pitch to give the seedmen a 4-3 lead.

In the last of the fourth Evans peaked out a single and then stole second coming around to score when Atkinson slammed out a double. Atkinson stole third and then started on home when a fly ball got away from Gordy. Endlicato came in to take Gordy's peg from the backstop. The runner coming in from third with the tying run hit the dirt sliding into Endlicato who was facing the other way. Britt next came in for Endlicato when he left the game, but from then on in the Truckers continued piling up the runs. Accumulating four more runs in the fourth, adding four more in the fifth plus a single tally in the last of the sixth.

The other Seedmen runs came in the first of the fifth when Waita banged out another double and then scored on McCracken's double.

Scores by innings:
St. Johns 2 0 0 4 1 0
Kilgore 0 4 0 1 0 0

Four Holdovers Sign Contracts To Play In '39

Jeter, Hudson, Pinder And Langston Will Play With Sanford

Hudson, Pinder, Jeter and Langston, four players signed contracts yesterday to play with the Sanford entry in the Florida State League for the '39 season. F. H. Lamton, business manager of the team announced yesterday.

Three of the lads, Hudson, Pinder and Jeter were on last year's mound crew while Langston played most of the season in right field for the local club.

Sid Hudson, the long, lean Chattanooga lad saw plenty of service with last season's club and Manager Alexander has gone on record as expecting much from his fellow Tennessean this season.

Joe Pinder, who hails from Butler, Pa. is another mound hold-over from last year along with Cleo Jeter, a Beauford, Ga. boy who joined the local squad for the last half of the season.

Club officials are hopeful that the mid-season fix that dumbed Outfielder Langston in the hospital with appendicitis, just when he was beginning to hit his stride, will not catch up with this promising local youngster again this season.

Business Manager Lamton stated that all of the boys who have signed seemed in fine condition and are now hard at work training in preparation for the rapidly approaching opening row with DeLand at DeLand on Apr. 16, the first home game is scheduled for the 17th when DeLand's squad will come here for their first return engagement.

Chattanoogaans To Meet Baltimore In Daytona Beach

Lookouts To Play Orioles In Daytona Beach Tomorrow

Following a 7-4 defeat at the hands of the Washington Seconds from Orlando Sunday afternoon, the Chattanooga Lookouts will attempt to even up the loss with a victory over the Baltimore nine in Daytona Beach tomorrow afternoon.

The Chattanoogaans continue their exhibition schedule against Sanford's bid for the Florida State League pennant at the Municipal Athletic Field Thursday afternoon at 3:00 P. M. It will be the first appearance on the diamond for the local state loop entry.

Manager Kiki Cuyler of the Lookouts, has not announced the list of payers he intends to use against the Orioles but the full Chattanooga squad will make the trip into the camp of the International League team and it is probable that many substitutions will be made by Manager Cuyler in order to give the club entry in the Southern Association.

No Veteran Fans Are Reported To Be Holding Out

By DILLON GRAHAM
TAMPA, Mar. 21.—Every major-league club has its share of rabid enthusiasts who wouldn't think of missing a ball game during the season, sit in the same seat daily and know the players personally. But the real fans are those hardy gents who trail the teams to training camps year after year.

You'll find one or more of them in every spring camp—fellows who have been coming south for five years or 10 or 15. A six-month season isn't enough for them. They've got to get the jump on the siestas and make an early inspection of the rookie talent.

Dr. Curtis L. Claassen of Brooklyn has been visiting the Doogers' camp for years, maybe for as many as 30 years. He likes to dress in the clubhouse, put on a uniform and take an abbreviated workout with the boys. Sometimes he umpires games between the regulars and the yanigans.

Dr. Claassen doesn't say so, but chances are he enjoyed the Spring sessions even more a few years ago when Uncle Winder Robinson was bossing the Doogers. They were really the Baltimore boys then. There was always a laugh in the Brooklyn camp because you couldn't tell what those screwballs would do next.

More than a dozen Boston fans are quartered at Sarasota observing the drills of Joe Cronin's Red Sox. One of them is Dr. J. J. Sullivan, who spent three weeks with the players. He rode the team's bus to all the exhibition games. He's been down so often he knows most of the major-league players and gets quite a kick out of renewing acquaintances at the exhibition contests. Another Boston rooter of long standing is Dr. W. M. Ross. (Don't ask us why so Washington's chief fan. He has been getting the No. 1 pass ever since Owner Clark Griffith went to the Senators' back when 'tall was President. Every St. Patrick's day he sends shamrocks to Griffith and to his favorite players. The shamrocks are imported from Ireland.

One of the Chicago Cubs staunchest fans is "Firmman" Dan Canull. The story is that he's been going to the Cubs' camp for nearly 40 years.

Elks' Benefit To Be Held At Longwood Oval Tonight

The hounds will ramble tonight in the cause of charity with the Elk's Harry Anna Home for crippled children at Umatilla coming in for a percentage of the gate receipts according to Rev. Father John Kellaghan, chairman of the arrangements committee for the local Elk's benefit night at the Sanford-Orlando Kennel Club. The benefit was made possible through the courtesy of the track management.

An Elks feature will be run over the futurity course with Don Doland, with 5 firsts, 5 seconds and 5 thirds in 30 starts looking like the mutt to beat. Another poor racing thoughtful attention on the basis of record to date would be Count Me breaking out of the No. 1 spot with a 4-3-4 record behind in 27 starts.

Other dogs entered in the feature tonight include Nina May Joyce, Fast Billie, Com-O-Don, Silver Hero, Sandy Rex, and Wild Chum.

Big'ek beat the stars of Longwood last night when he broke the six box like a shot in the featured futurity and stayed in front all the way.

The time for the race was 23 2-5.

The renovated Florida Power & Light Hot Shots tangle with the second place Eckerson Cannons in the main feature of tonight's double-header at the Diamondball park.

The Power & Light outfit has been coming along nicely since the shakedown, having won both of their last two starts. Eckerson's are now tied for second place with

Memel Is Added To Expanding Germany

Lithuania Surrenders Principal Port After Nazi Threats To Occupy Country

Hoare Proposes League Meeting

Nations In Southeast Europe Have Troops On Every Frontier

Adolf Hitler today wrested Memel from Lithuania—his second territorial prize within a week, marked by mounting European tension. Tiny Lithuania yielded to Nazi pressure by ceding the Memel territory bordering Germany's northeastern frontier along the Baltic.

Although the Memel seizure itself brought little opposition, home secretary Sir Samuel Hoare told the British house of commons the government was considering calling a special meeting of the League of Nations to consider Germany's rapid expansion.

The cabinet discussed a proposed "stop Hitler" bloc of nations which would include France, Poland, Soviet Russia and Britain. Hitler is taking over Memel, added 1,000 square miles with a predominantly German population of 150,000 to his rapidly growing empire which was swollen a week ago with the absorption of Czech-Slovakia and a year ago by the annexation of Austria.

Lithuania lost her principal port and a territory increasingly troublesome since Nazi ideology. Prussian frontier for return of the region was settled in Germany in a post-war settlement.

Nations of southeast Europe had troops on virtually every border fearful of development. Rumania in particular kept a watchful eye on Hungarian and Bulgarian frontiers. France bolstered military preparations, while Italy in a statement by Premier Mussolini warned joint action to halt the Rome-Berlin axis might cause war.

It was reported in Kaunas, Lithuania capital, that Hitler had threatened to occupy the entire country if Memel were not handed over.

Sir Samuel Hoare said in his commons' speech in London that Germany had threatened military action if demands were not met.

Rumania had night called up several classes of military reserves to "counter-balance" similar measures in neighboring countries.

The development gave the southeastern facility a good chance of inclusion in the omnibus naval base bill, now before the Senate naval committee.

As before, the board recommended establishment of a supplement base on Banana River near Cocoa. The cost of the smaller base was estimated at $1,500,000, while the Jacksonville base would cost $15,000,000.

The board recommended construction to begin immediately.

State Manager V. P. Miller outlined the progress being made by the Woodmen of the World in Florida and also made a report on the nation-wide campaign of the organization for new members at the regular meeting of the local camp in the Woodmen Hall last night, according to Secretary C. C. Collins.

The labeled visitor also gave an outline of the tentative program arranged for the annual convention, to be held in Lakeland, Apr. 9-11. In his address to the members at the local camp, during the business session, which was presided over by Col. Commander J. F. McKeen, one application for membership was approved and plans made for a special entertainment program for next Tuesday night's meeting.

Jax Air Base Site Is Again Navy's Choice

$15,000,000 Project May Be Included In Naval Base Bill

WASHINGTON, Mar. 22.—(AP)—The Navy again chose Jacksonville today as the best site for a southeastern air base.

Reaffirming a former recommendation, the Hepburn naval board chose the North Florida location over determined bids from Miami and other southeastern cities. The decision was read to the House naval committee by a clerk.

WPA Probe Is Requested By House Group

Georgia Representative Is Author Of Proposal Given Overwhelming Vote

WASHINGTON, Mar. 22.—(AP)—The House Rules Committee today approved a resolution directing the Appropriations Committee to make "thorough investigation" of the Works Progress Administration. The members said the Rules Committee voted overwhelmingly for the proposal.

Rep. Cox (D-Ga.) is author of the measure, which may be brought before the House later in the week. It contains no references to particular points, but the inquiry should touch upon.

The House Appropriations Committee approved the $185,672,028 deficiency bill for "critical" Army equipment and seacoast defenses.

The Senate debated the move to reverse the 46-43 vote by which it sharply limited the president's powers under the house-approved government reorganization bill.

Legislation designed to "fix the profit out of war" by a drastic step-up in incomes taxes was introduced in Congress yesterday by 50 Senators and four Representatives.

Senator Bone (D-Wash.) who offered the Senate the bill bearing more than enough signatures to pass it through that chamber said the legislation would "make it impossible for any human being to profit in case of war."

Bone explained that, in case of war, taxes on individual incomes would range as high as 93 percent of net incomes in excess of $20,000, with a similar step-up in corporation income.

The legislation has been advocated for several years by the Veterans of Foreign Wars and other civic and peace groups.

The bill was entitled a measure "to tax the profits out of war by steeply graduated income and other taxes, in order to provide for an effective national defense, to promote peace and encourage national unity, to discourage war profiteering, to distribute the burden of war, and to keep democracy alive."

Senators Andrews and Pennington were among those signing the proposal.

Huge Cost Of Crime Cited By Chapman

Prison Head Says Enforcement Of Laws Costs Floridians 12-Million Annually

Suggestions Made For Crime Curb

Talk Made At Combined Meet Of Rotary, Lions And Kiwanis

Four recommendations for the elimination of "The Luxury of Crime" were presented by L. F. Chapman, superintendent of the State Prison Farm at Raiford, at a combined supper meeting of the Kiwanis, Lions, and Rotary clubs at the Mayfair Hotel last night.

Mr. Chapman said that crime costs the people of Florida $12,000,000 a year, or three times as much as the actual cost of operating the constitutional branches of State government, and that while the courts, the sheriff's, the police departments and the detective agencies are powerless to prevent crime, the people of the State themselves are in a position to stop it, if they want to.

Prior to Mr. Chapman's address, George Rollins, president of the Rotary Club, was presided, introduced John Melchior, Jr., president of the Lions Club, Dr. H. D. Caswell, president of the Kiwanis Club, and O. P. Herndon, who in turn presented County Commissioner W. B. Ballard, J. E. Patten, F. A. Dyan, O. J. Pore, W. G. Killen, and County Attorney R. E. Haskins.

Mr. Chapman commended the spirit of good fellowship which he had found in Sanford as exemplified by the meeting together of these three civic clubs and Rotary, and also praised the beauty of the surrounding countryside. The rotary field, he said, provide one of the show spots of the State.

The State of Florida has $2,200,000 invested in plant and equipment at Raiford. Mr. Chapman declared, adding that this investment covers some 17 shops and factories, 1,500 acres of farm land, 1,000 head of beef cattle, and 200 dairy cows. The average prison population, he said, consists of about 1,800 persons.

Being that "crime collects," and that every person in the State pays his share of the $12,000,000 a month revenue crime toll, Mr. Chapman listed the cost of court houses, salaries of judges, sheriff, police and State attorneys, the loss of productive power among criminals, their destructive power while engaged in their illegal activities, and the rehabilitation essential to carrying for their families, as part of the cost of crime.

The four recommendations for the prevention of crime were listed as follows: 1—the development of a greater sense of responsibility to the public among the legal profession; 2—the treatment of crime impersonally by the public; 3—the training of young people not to be delinquents; 4—a change in the idea of the value of money.

Stressing the fact that his remarks were not directed at all lawyers, but at what he called a "5 percent minority," Mr. Chapman declared that some attorneys connive with criminals to defeat the law even before the crime is committed. Then, instead of helping the jury toward clear and accurate thinking with respect to the case, they seek to befuddle the minds of the jurors, to falsify the evidence, and confuse the issues, so as to free their client and defeat the aims of justice.

Mr. Chapman said he did not deny to any man the right of a fair trial or representation in court.

The Next Grab

Within less than a week after the seizure of Czechoslovakia, and with scarcely any opposition at all, Hitler has made his next move...

Simultaneously come reports of troop movements in the vicinity of the Lithuanian border and far to the south near the Roumanian border.

And all this talk about Mussolini eying with some degree of jealousy the aggrandizement of his partner on the other end of the Rome-Berlin Axis...

For the time being a more powerful Germany plays right into Mussolini's hands. Alone and unaided he could not get to first base in realizing his demands against France.

Mussolini may not trust Hitler. We don't see how anybody could. But for the time being, it is certainly to Mussolini's advantage to play ball with the German dictator.

In the end we have no doubt that Hitler and Mussolini would have to fight the Armageddon of all history if they are successful in realizing their present dreams.

The world is not big enough for two men such as Hitler and Mussolini to realize their full ambitions.

A Loaf of Bread

Showing conclusively the superior advantages of working conditions in the United States over those in any other country in the world, Bernard MacFadden, magazine publisher, condemns both fascism and communism...

Answering the argument that the lower wages paid for labor in Germany will buy more goods than the same wages paid in this country, Mr. MacFadden reveals that even our higher prices have not reacted to the disadvantage of labor.

And so he finds that an hour of labor in the United States will buy 7 1/4 pounds of bread. In Russia the same amount of labor will buy less than two pounds of bread.

"The outstanding advantage of our wage system in buying power is thus clearly illustrated," says Mr. MacFadden. "One hour of labor in this country will buy more than three times as much bread as an hour of labor in Russia, and three times as much as it will buy in Germany, and more than twice as much as it will buy in Italy."

"And how about various other advantages that are enjoyed by the workers through Americanism that are denied them in other countries? Under Fascism and Communism the workers have practically no individual rights.

"In other words, under Fascism and Communism, workers are ordered around like a lot of slaves. They are told what to do... how much work they should turn out, and their wages are fixed by governmental orders; and the result of this dictatorial governmental regimentation is shown with startling emphasis in the bread illustration.

"All that is required to stop all the discussion about the various items that are so prevalent at this time is to use a little of the horse sense that we referred to frequently in this country in bygone days. Ordinary everyday intelligence or common sense is all that is needed to appreciate the American system.

"To be sure, there are many defects to be corrected. We will never attain perfection, but with our system of democracy we can expand and progress."

Sollie Speaks In Organized Labor Behalf Of Canal To East Coast Rate Parity Fight

JACKSONVILLE, Mar. 22.—Stressing the benefits as he envisions them to Jacksonville by the opening of a canal connecting the St. Johns and Indian Rivers, Arthur Sollie, Duval county engineer, was the speaker at yesterday's luncheon session of the Engineering Professions Club in the Remonte Hotel.

Sollie is one of a board of three engineers appointed by the St. Johns River Improvement Association to prepare detailed reports on the feasibility and practicability of the proposed canal, and he gave the Jacksonville group some of the benefits of his studies.

The engineer said the project would cost about $2,800,000, estimating, however, that the annual saving to farmers in the area because of frequent flooded lands would be $40,000, and that vast areas of fertile grazing lands would be opened to the cattle industry because of drainage resulting from the digging of the canal.

The canal, he said, would provide "an ideal waterway and summer storage to yachtsmen leaving their craft in the state following winter cruises." He expressed the opinion property values would be enhanced from Mayport to Titusville if the canal is dug.

In regard to the road patrol and the driver's license law, Mr. Leonard said he was heartily in favor of a statute of this kind and said that it might have been enacted at the last session of the Legislature had the bill introduced by him been less of a hog-spoor.

Large Number Of Violators Tried By Judge Miller

One of the largest numbers of violators to be arraigned before Judge Frank L. Miller in a session of the Municipal Court for several weeks was arraigned this week, according to municipal court records.

Paul Patrick charged with tampering public property was arraigned a contemner, as was Frank Perdue who was charged with drunkenness.

Four prisoners tried were arraigned last session. C. C. Miller was sentenced to 30 days on a drunk and disorderly charge. James Jones was sentenced on the same charge to 15 days and 30 days on a drunkenness charge. Jim Douglas, negro, received a straight 30 day sentence on a drunkenness charge.

TOO LATE TO CLASSIFY

By RUSSELL KAY

During every political campaign you and I have listened to the oratorical outpouring of countless political aspirants who, with tears streaming down their cheeks, pictured the plight of the "poor widow woman," the overworked and underpaid school teacher, the "weary and overburdened working man." These were the folks they would serve; these were the constituents in whose name they sought election and to whom they pledged their fearless and undying support.

Many who made such pledges and promises will occupy seats in the 1935 Florida Legislature and while they may not be able to do all that they so glibly promised, they can at least throw a life-line to thousands of poor unfortunates in this State who for years have been at the heartless mercy of the conscienceless "loan shark" and "salary buyer."

The extent of this unchecked and uncurbed evil among the poor, ignorant and unfortunate of this State, brought to light in a survey recently published by Representative J. T. Marchant of Polk County, is appalling and beyond belief. This survey cites numerous cases where victims have paid interest on small loans of from 150 to 300 percent per annum. Like the fly embedded in the silken web of the wily spider, once these unfortunates fall into the clutches of the "loan shark" and "salary buyer" they are utterly helpless.

Every effort to bring these usurers to justice has failed miserably, mainly because the criminal laws on our statute books, like many other laws, do little if anything to relieve the situation. Conviction, for numerous reasons, has remained practically impossible.

In Duval county the grand jury returned 26 indictments against "salary buyers," it costing the county somewhere in the neighborhood of $30,000 for the investigation, together with the prosecution, and there was not a single solitary conviction.

In Duval county, as well as Hillsborough, numerous indictments were brought, with subsequent investigation and prosecution, without result.

Records from these investigations and others reveal that from 25 to 40 percent of the employees in lower salary brackets of most of the departments of the City and Federal government, as well as most all large private business and industrial concerns, are in the clutches of the concerns who practice this contemptible business.

An investigation among the negro school teachers of Hillsborough county disclosed that 96 percent of the 160 negro teachers are involved. By actual check over the negro teachers' signatures, they were paying over $3,000 per year in interest alone.

While the percentage of the white teachers involved is not as large, nevertheless an amazing number have, through misfortune or hardluck, fallen into the hands of these "salary buyers," for, because of their high sense of honor and integrity, they seem to be singled out as special prey of the "loan shark."

"Why, you might ask, does anyone intelligently enough to become a school teacher, ever get mixed in by such a racket?" I'll tell you. "HOW"—Suppose you've struggled to make both ends meet, barely eking

Queen Gets Wardrobe For American Tour

LONDON, Mar. 22.—(AP)—Queen Elizabeth is spending a lot of time being fitted for the 50 costumes she is choosing for her "American tour."

For evening the Queen has chosen mostly pastel shades to tone with her fair skin, with darker outfits for traveling. Most mornings before 10:00 o'clock a half-dozen dressmakers, fitters, and maids troop into Buckingham Palace to stage a private fashion show in the Queen's first floor suite. The shows are informal affairs, and Princess Elizabeth and Margaret Rose often accompany their mother when she reviews "the dressmakers."

Huge Cost Of Crime Cited By Chapman

(Continued From Page One) court by an attorney of his own choosing, but he insisted that every attorney had a responsibility to the public, as well as to his client, and that his duty ended with a fair and honest presentation of the evidence and an impartial argument for his client.

The public, Mr. Chapman said, as well as some members of the legal profession, is inclined to treat crime "personally."

"When a crime is committed," he said, "they get mad. They want to lynch someone. Get a rope! someone shouts, and away they go. Then another crime is committed."

"There is no reason to get mad when a crime is committed," he said. "The scientists did not get mad when they discovered the malaria fever germ. They immediately set about the task of finding how to come, and doing something about it."

"That is the way we should be about crime. When a murder is committed, we should try to find out why. What was the matter with that man that he wanted to kill someone? What was wrong with his mental development, with his home life? What can we, the public, do to prevent the same thing from happening again to someone else?"

And then, he said, the practice of American people of moving about the country from one place to another, always on the go, looking for new pastures, also leads to crime. Insisting that the young people of America should be trained away from drifting, he pointed out that drifting was an almost universal characteristic of the inmates of Raleigh.

He cited a number of cases with which he was personally familiar to show that the road to crime began when the individual was torn, or tore himself loose, from his moorings and began a life of moving about from one place to another, leaving his job, family and friends, to follow the life of a hitch-hiker.

Mr. Chapman was particularly emphatic on the question of money as an inducement to crime.

"Money," he said, "is at the basis of almost every crime. People want money, so they rob, murder, kidnap, do anything to get it. They want money, because they think it will get them what they want most in this world, happiness. But money isn't everything. You cannot solve any of the really fundamental problems of this world by money alone."

"Money never did any of the really big things in this world," he said. "Character, sacrifice, service are the things which built this nation and all things which endure. The worship of money, as we see it today, is an entirely false philosophy. Our forefathers who crossed the mountains over narrow trails and built their log cabins in the middle of the forests, laying the foundations of this nation, never had any money. But they had energy, courage, and the will to do things, and that is why we have a great country today."

Nazi Pressure Brings Surrender Of Memelland

"As determined by the crown council the government has taken all precautions and decided to call up several classes of reserves in order to counter-balance similar measures in neighboring countries," the communique said.

"These reserves will stay far behind the frontiers and are called for instruction purposes only. As soon as other countries diminish their reservists we will do the same."

The number of new troops called to arms was not revealed but it is estimated that since the Nazi seizure of Czechoslovakia and Hungary's annexation of Carpatho-Ruthenia, Rumania has moved approximately 200,000 troops to her borders under a state of emergency.

Fear of war rose rapidly among Rumanians after reports of the moving of 300,000 Hungarian troops near the border and rumors that four columns of the German army were marching across Slovakia, headed toward Carpatho-Ukraine and the Rumanian northern frontier.

PRAGUE, Mar. 22.—(AP)—The parliament of the vanished Czechoslovak republic was dissolved last night and a new totalitarian state structure was formed to fit Bohemia and Moravia as a Nazi protectorate.

Emil Hacha, last president of the republic, dissolved the parliament. An official report of the constitution said nothing about the constitution. Presumably it has died a natural death.

Bohemia and Moravia are to be ruled by a state committee of 12 persons, with Hacha as president and a council of 100 as advisers. The plan calls for both committee and council to be appointed without election.

Konrad Henlein, Nazi boss of the Sudetenland, who was named civil administrator in Bohemia to work with the army—which still rules Bohemia and Moravia—was understood to have ended his function and returned to Reichenberg, his headquarters.

Czech Fascists, it was understood, will not participate in the governing state committee. Gen. Rudolf Gajda, the Fascist leader, was said to have been left out of the new formation.

Rudolf Beran, who was last premier of Czechoslovakia, was expected to be one of the 12 on the state committee.

Friends last night reported the arrest of Dr. Frang Preisinger, chief of the Czech secret police, and Frano Vancura, president of the Czech League against Anti-Semitism. Vancura was released.

Prague police denied wholesale arrests had taken place and that suicides had increased since the German Reich declared a protectorate over Bohemia and Moravia. They also denied that concentration camps had been established.

It had been reported that at least four of these camps existed.

HOW to make your Highway Dollars Work Forever

Florida needs more and better highways. Yet taxpayers demand lower taxes while the expenses of government mount steadily. How can Florida go ahead with a progressive program of building long-lasting roads and satisfy the taxpayer, too?

Limerock supplies the answer! Florida's own superb road-base material makes highway dollars work forever.

As a road-base material Limerock is everlasting. Limerock base roads are less expensive to construct than any other so-called permanent pavement. They cost less to widen and modernize for future traffic. For long-range economy, they are far less expensive than temporary hard surfacing that must be replaced every few years.

Florida's long experience with Limerock-base roads proves that no properly constructed Limerock-base highway has ever failed in service . . . that Limerock is the most economical permanent road-base material. Today's Limerock-base roads are unsurpassed for riding comfort and non-skid safety. Low-cost maintenance, necessary for any type of pavement, is all that Limerock-base roads require. Make road tax dollars work forever. Keep down your own future taxes by insisting on roads built with everlasting Limerock as the base. Limerock is the life of a good highway . . . everlasting, resilient, indestructible.
