Elderly Face Eviction Due To Zoning Rules Snub

By Karen Talley
Herald Staff Writer

Four elderly women will apparently lose their residence following a property owner and his tenants' failure to adhere to Sanford zoning regulations.

The women, ages 94, 84, 77 and 73, will likely be forced to move from 2005 S. Oak Ave.

They have been cared for at the home during the last month by R.J. Jack and his wife, Connie. But Sanford city commissioners ruled Monday that the couple cannot continue to operate a residential nursing facility in an area of the city not zoned for such use.

Commissioners, while unanimously sympathetic to the elderly women's plight, were also of one mind when it came to upholding city law.

City code prohibits elderly care operations in the single family zone where the home is located, and commissioners said they could not agree to the property owner's request for a special exemption to the ordinance.

All commissioners also said they had seen the residence and were not disputing the manner of care provided there. However, allowing a special exemption in this case could serve as possible harbinger for other, possibly less beneficial special exemption requests, they said.

Mrs. Jack said after Monday's meeting the matter "is not over" and that she'll probably retain an attorney in hopes of overturning commissioners' ruling. She said no arrangements have been made to relocate her four tenants.

However, the property's owner, Charles Cameron, said he anticipates receiving a "time certain" deadline for the operation's closing at tonight's code enforcement board meeting as follow-up to the city commission ruling. The operation was cited by city building inspectors last month, which prompted Cameron's request to commissioners Monday.

Cameron, who owns several properties in Sanford, declined both during and after Monday's meeting to say for certain whether he knew the Jacks planned to open a health care facility when he leased them the property last month.

Cameron also did not respond directly when asked by Mayor Bettye Smith if he knew when he leased the house to the Jacks "that this (the nursing operation) was an illegal use in this zone."

Cameron responded only that the Jacks "have gotten an application to HRS (the Department of Health and Rehabilitative Services) to be licensed by the state."

Mrs. Jack said after the session that Cameron "knew I was involved in nursing care for the elderly," when he leased the home. Both she and Cameron declined to elaborate when asked if this meant he knew she would be using the Sanford home in this manner.

Commissioner John Mercer termed the home "the kind of facility I'd want to take my mother to if she needed that kind of care."

Commissioner Milton Smith said he would consider living in such a place "when I'm older," while Commissioner Dave Farr said "I'd live there now."

Commissioners also heard from nearby property owners Monday, one of who supported the home's continued operation, while two others

Construction Accident Kills Sanford Man

A former Seminole High School star baseball player was killed Monday in Winter Springs when a digging machine fell on him.

Dead is Brett Von Herbulis, 22, who had just moved from Sanford to Briarcliff Apartments, Altamonte Springs.

He was to participate in his brother's wedding Saturday in Sanford.

Von Herbulis was working at 1203 Osceola Trail in the Tusawilla subdivision when a 4,000-pound trencher used to dig foundation footers fell on him, pinning him between the machine and a tractor.

The incident occurred around 10:45 a.m. He died at 12:30 p.m. at South Seminole Community Hospital in Longwood.

According to police, the machine was operating on a grade and Von Herbulis was trying to stop it from overturning. A hydraulic cylinder on the machine used to lift apparatus hit him in the chest. Further details about the incident were not available early today.

"He was a fierce competitor baseball wise," said his former coach Bobby Lundquist, now an assistant principal at Seminole High School.

"He never quit. He could play every position on the field. When you look for a player you look for a player like Brett," Lundquist said.

He said Von Herbulis, who graduated in 1982, tied baseball star Tim Raines' stolen base record at the school in that year.

Homeowners Ask For Land Use Changes

By Paul C. Schaefer
Herald Staff Writer

More than a dozen Maitland Avenue property owners, saying their homes are falling victim to growth which is diminishing their property values, take their case for changes in land use designation to Seminole County commissioners tonight.

The commission will consider a total of 22 small scale development amendment requests to the Comprehensive Land Use Plan during a public hearing set for 7:30 p.m. at the County Services Building, 1101 E. First Street, Sanford.

Fifteen of the requests were recommended for approval by the planning and zoning board for residential professional office use. The comprehensive plan designates land use potential as a blueprint for county growth.

The 15 properties have been recommended for designation change from low density residential to medium density residential by the planning and zoning board, and none of the 15 are accompanied by a zone change request.

The homes line Maitland Avenue in south Seminole County between Florida Haven Drive and the Orange County line. The homeowners say the area is no longer suitable for residential use due to the noise and traffic along Maitland Avenue, which is being widened to four lanes. They also said the traffic is reducing the value of their homes, which have become difficult to rent or sell.

The group had originally requested land use designation changes from low density residential to low intensity commercial, however the planning and zoning board found commercial would hit neighboring residential properties too hard.

Neighboring property owners were against the commercial proposal because they said it would downgrade the rest of the area, cause safety related problems because of traffic, and because of many nearby retail stores and vacant office complexes. There was no opposition to the medium density residential classification proposal, however.

A compromise was struck when the P&Z board and those requesting land use changes agreed to considering a change to medium density residential. Under that classification, which would allow future zone change requests to residential office use.

The board also found that medium density residential does not allow for two story buildings.

Sizing Up The Competition

Jan Brungard's 125-pound Great Dane, Worthington, above, wouldn't hurt a fly, she says. Nonetheless, Alice Shultz's miniature dachshund, Buddy, weighing in at 9½ pounds, wasn't taking any chances. This is about as close as he'd get to Worthington Sunday during day-long showing of breeds from around the state at Fort Meillon Park, downtown Sanford. The twice-annual event is sponsored by the Seminole Dog Fanciers Association. At left, Kathy Zangari of Allendale had no trouble getting her family of basset hounds — Phoenix, center, the mother of Mr. Magoo, left, and Remo — to sit still for photographers. The dogs on parade were puppies being trained for future showing in national events. First, second and third place ribbons were awarded. The show drew more than 1,200 dog lovers from around Florida who entered more than 600 pups.

'Conscience Of Nazi Germany' Wins Nobel Peace Prize

OSLO, Norway (UPI) — Elie Wiesel, the shy literary conscience of a Nazi Germany that murdered 11 million people, a man who has dedicated his life to the documentation of the Holocaust, won the Nobel Peace Prize today.

Since he emerged from a Nazi death camp in April 1945, Wiesel, an author, teacher and journalist, has struggled to understand the systematic killings of 6 million Jews and 5 million non-Jews by Adolf Hitler's regime.

Wiesel, a shy person who prefers the classroom or his typewriter to headline-making, first found himself thrust into the spotlight in 1985 when, as chairman of the U.S. Holocaust Memorial Council, he upbraided President Reagan and begged him to cancel a visit to a cemetery in Bitburg, West Germany, where Nazi war dead are buried.

The plea to the president came as Reagan awarded Wiesel the Congressional Gold Medal of Achievement, the highest honor the government gives to civilians, for his efforts as a humanitarian and writer.

"Elie Wiesel has emerged as one of the most important spiritual leaders and guides when violence, repression and racism continue to categorize the world," the Norwegian Nobel committee said in its announcement.

"Wiesel is a messenger of mankind. His message is one of peace, atonement and human dignity," the statement said.

His belief that the forces fighting evil in the world can be victorious is a hard-won belief," it said.

"Wiesel's commitment, which originated in the sufferings of the Jewish people, has been widened to embrace all repressed peoples and races," the Nobel committee said.

The Norwegian Nobel committee said that Wiesel, who had been nominated several times before he won the prize, is "a convincing spokesman for

Reagan Explains Talks Failure

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Reagan insists the "door is open" for more superpower negotiations and the opportunity to eliminate the threat of nuclear war is "closer than ever" despite the collapse of the Iceland summit.

Reagan, expressing optimism but speaking defensively, made his remarks in a 20-minute nationally televised address from the Oval Office Monday night, explaining why he and Soviet leader Mikhail Gorbachev failed to nail down an arms agreement at the weekend summit in Iceland's capital city.

"I went to Reykjavik determined that everything was negotiable except two things — our freedom and our future," the president said. "We are closer than ever before to agreements that could lead to a safer world

Fake Prescription Call Brings Arrest

An Altamonte Springs man who allegedly called in a fake prescription for a controlled drug to a Casseberry pharmacy has been charged by Casseberry police with attempting to acquire a controlled substance.

The prescription for Vicodin, a painkiller, was called into Super-X, Casseberry Square and when the suspect arrived to pick up the drug, police had already been called by the pharmacist, who had been alerted to watch for fake prescriptions issued in the name "Larry Castle," a police report said.

The suspect left the store just before police arrived at about 11 a.m. Saturday, but the suspect was nabbed within a few minutes eastbound on State Road 436, Casseberry, a police report said.

John Patrick Fizez, 21, of 101 E. Altamonte Drive, #532, has been charged in the case and released on $500 bond.

ESCAPEE IN ALTAMONTE

A Lake County jail guard who recognized a man who had escaped from the Lake County jail Saturday alerted Altamonte Springs police. He told police the escapee had been seen at the Altamonte Mall, State Road 436, at about 9 p.m. Altamonte Springs police found the suspect in the mall parking lot.

William Charles Barnes, 23, was being held without bond in the Seminole County jail, to be returned to Lake County.

WIFE BATTERED

Longwood police reported charging a 24-year-old Longwood man with spouse abuse and resisting arrest after he allegedly hit his wife in the head with his fists and then locked himself inside their home with the couple's 18-month-old child.

The man reportedly refused to let police inside the home after they had talked with Carol Blake, outside her home at 961 Bryan Court, early Monday.

After police broke a window to the home to enter the man reportedly unlocked a door to let them in.

James Earnest Blake, of the above address was arrested at

Police: Coin Thief Had Church Key

FORT LAUDERDALE (UPI) — The thief who stole $39,960 worth of gold Krugerrands from a locked file cabinet at a Presbyterian church must have had the key, police said.

"I don't know what to make of it," said Dr. Collins D. Weeber, assistant pastor of the 7,000-member congregation church.

The coins were stolen Friday from the Coral Ridge Presbyterian Church. Police say the thief must have had knowledge of the church's security and safe keeping system, as well as a key. The thief was also familiar with the Bible. A cryptic note was found in the box which contained the coins.

"There is no bomb, 2 hr. time, Luke 6:30," it said.

The Bible verse reads: "Give to every man that asketh of thee; of him that taketh away thy goods, ask them not again."

Police say the reference to a bomb could connect the theft with a telephone bomb threat the church received Sept. 22.

Servicemen's Whereabouts Told In Roundabout Ways

DEAR READERS: I asked if readers out there had used a secret code to let their loved ones know their whereabouts during World War II. Did I get letters?

DEAR ABBY: My mother showed me some of the letters she had received from my father while he was in the Marines. They had devised the following scheme to let her know where he was: In addressing each letter, he'd use a different middle initial to spell out his location. His first letter was addressed to Betty G., the second to Betty U., the third to Betty A., and the fourth to Betty M. He was on GUAM!

It took 11 letters to let her know that he had been moved to Guadalcanal.

D.L.S., CHALFANT, PA.

DEAR ABBY: You asked your readers to share their "codes" used during World War II to let their loved ones know where they were. I'm reminded of the following:

A radio personality named Maynard Spease told the following story on WCCO in Minneapolis:

A Minnesota farm boy joined the U.S. Navy and left home for the first time. His first letter to his father went something like this:

"Dear Dad: I can't tell you where I am, but yesterday I shot a polar bear."

A few weeks later the father received another letter from his son saying:

"Dear Dad: I can't tell you where I am, but last night I danced with a hula girl."

The farmer didn't hear from his sailor son for several weeks. Then he received this message:

Dear Abby

"Dear Dad: I still can't tell you where I am, but the doctor says I should have danced with the polar bear and shot the hula girl."

E.B. LINDBERG, MINN.

DEAR ABBY: During World War II, I wanted my wife to know that I had moved from Iceland to England (1943), so I simply went into the city of Newquay, Cornwall, bought a postcard with a picture of Newquay, Cornwall, on it, addressed it to my wife and mailed it through the British postal system. Not very original or clever, but the funniest part is this: When I asked the little gray-haired woman at the post office, "How much is the postage for a card to the United States," she replied, "Why, just the same as to the rest of the colonial!"

K.F. CHISHOLM, SUNRIVER, ORE.

DEAR ABBY: I submit the following for your collection of how people beat the censors during World War II:

One American G.I. was held prisoner in a German prison camp. He wrote his friend the following: "The food here is fine, the living conditions are excellent and all the prisoners are being treated very, very well. Please tell this to all your friends in the Army, your pals in the Navy, and above all, tell it to the Marines!" His letter passed through the Germany censor unmarked.

C.G., BRINFIELD, VT.

DEAR ABBY: When my husband (8th Air Force) was shipped out, he wrote, "I can't tell you where we are, but Nick would love it here!"

Our 11-year-old son immediately said, "Dad's in Labrador!" We had a dog — a Labrador named Nick. Incidentally, said son became a career Army officer.

BEE BURNHAM, SAN JOSE

DEAR ABBY: I was 11 years old when my oldest brother, Millard, was shipped overseas on the battleship South Dakota. I learned later that before he left home, our mother had devised a way to learn the whereabouts of her son.

When Millard's first letter arrived, my mother ran to her purse, and pulled out a small map of the world (approximately 6 inches by 6 inches) cut from a national magazine. Opening the letter, which contained several sentences cut out (censored), she placed the left-hand corner of the letter to the left-hand corner of the map, noting a small pinhole placed there by my brother, and announced, "Millard's ship is in the middle of the 'South Pacific'!" (He had an identical map.)

So, throughout the war, we always knew his approximate location.

S.R. IN OKLAHOMA CITY

DEAR ABBY: In World War II, I was sent overseas and wanted my wife to know where I was, so I asked her to let me know the name of the song on the reverse side of Eddie Duchin's theme song. She looked it up and found it to be "April in Paris." She knew I was in France.

HOWARD E. DIEHL, MOMENCE, ILL.

Briefly

Hospital Display Salutes Infection Control Week

"Infection Control Makes Life Bearable" is the theme of a display Oct. 20 to 24 at Central Florida Regional Hospital in observance of Infection Control Week.

The purpose is to remind people that good health and disease prevention are their responsibilities.

It affords an opportunity for people to change unhealthy lifestyle patterns, like inadequate handwashing, eating or drinking after others, getting too little rest, or not keeping immunizations up-to-date.

The message is: "Good health begins with the healthy decisions you make."

Ruth Wade, CFRH's infection control nurse, said that handouts on good personal hygiene/health habits will also be available. She pointed out another method of preventing the spread of infection is that one should not visit patients in a hospital if they have fever, sore throat or runny nose, and a nausea, vomiting, or diarrhea.

"Hand washing is the single greatest way to prevent the spread of disease," she concluded.

Pumpkin Coloring Contest

Kindergarten children attending Casselberry Elementary School will be taking part in a pumpkin coloring contest sponsored by the City of Casselberry Parks and Recreation Department. Over 150 colored pumpkin entries will be placed on display at Casselberry City Hall, 95 Lake Triplet Drive, the week of Oct. 27. Ten winners will be selected by members of the City Parks and Recreation Board and Casselberry Senior Center to receive a trophy each at the Nov. 10 Council Meeting. Coordinating the event for the school is Mrs. Linda Cannon, art teacher.

Bingo Helps Band Boosters

The Seminole High School Band Boosters will hold Bingo games on the second Monday of each month, at 7 p.m.

VFW Post #10108 will provide its hall on U.S. Highway 17-92 for the games.

All proceeds will be put into the band's general funds to be dispersed as needed.

Pre-Natal Classes Offered

Free pre-natal classes are being offered by Central Florida Regional Hospital Tuesdays, Oct. 14-28, from 7 to 9 p.m.

The mini-series will include sessions by an obstetrician, a pediatrician, a dietitian, and nurses from the obstetric department and nursery.

Physical and emotional changes during pregnancy will be explored as well as fetal development, smoking and drugs, labor and delivery, medications and anesthesia.

An important aspect of this special time in a family's life is the care of the newborn. Topics to be covered include breastfeeding, appearance of the newborn, bonding and preparation for the baby.

To register or for additional information call Central Florida Regional at 321-4500 or 688-4441, ext. 607.

Immune System Can Be Altered Beneficially

Dr. Gott

DEAR DR. GOTT — There are now several drugs that are used to treat diseases that undermine the immune system's normal defense mechanisms. How do they work, and isn't it dangerous to upset the immune system?

DEAR DR. GOTT — Yes and no. Drugs that are used to alter the immune system usually are given because the immune system is overreacting or is out of control — a case of 'too much of a good thing. Obviously, a complete neutralization of the immune system would be catastrophic. Therefore, when these medicines are given, they usually are administered for specific reasons and under close medical supervision.

The drugs work in different ways. Fundamentally, they act by suppressing the body's defense responses. This effect can be lifesaving, but, as you suggest, it can be life-threatening unless the medicines are meticulously monitored.

DEAR DR. GOTT — I had a thallium stress test and slept for three weeks after it. Also, my hair is coming out. Could the test have done this?

DEAR DR. GOTT — Sleepiness and hair loss are not consequences of the thallium stress test, in which a small amount of radioactive material is injected during an exercise cardiogram. However, some medicines that are used to treat heart disease can cause these symptoms. Check with your doctor to determine the reason you are having trouble.

DEAR DR. GOTT — I started to feel lifeless and weak. My doctor had blood work done, found my potassium was very low and had me take a potassium liquid twice a day. I started to get bruises all over. These have gone away, but I still have weakness in my arms and legs. Subsequent blood tests have been normal. Do I have leukemia?

DEAR DR. GOTT — Low blood potassium produces weakness. It is sometimes difficult to treat without using large doses of potassium. If your blood count is normal, you don't have leukemia. However, I would make sure that your potassium level has returned to normal and stays that way.

DEAR DR. GOTT — I was diagnosed as having "lower back sprain." After six months of sheer agony and being told "it takes time to heal," I went to a neurologist on my own. Lo and behold, I had a herniated disc. I believe that anyone who experiences lower back pain for more than a few months should be thoroughly checked by a neurologist.

DEAR DR. GOTT — Hear! Hear! Most reputable M.D.s will refer cases of chronic back pain to specialists, such as neurologists.

WIN AT BRIDGE

By James Jacoby
Bidding a slam with the North-South cards would have been a foolish venture. Not only would the declarer need the heart suit to come home without a loser, but he would also need to find the club king with East. And that doesn't even take into account those times when, with the cards distributed differently, West can lead a singleton diamond and get a ruff right away.

It's difficult enough to be in five hearts, certainly not guaranteed to make, when there is no bonus for bidding that high. But declarer must still do the best he can. As the cards lie today, he will be set for sure if he blithely plays the king of hearts first. You and I know the safety play of cashing the ace and then leading low toward the king. Intending to insert the nine if East plays low. That guarantees losing no more than one heart, but how can declarer know he can afford that luxury?

HOROSCOPE

What The Day Will Bring...
YOUR BIRTHDAY
OCTOBER 15, 1986
 Partners will play key roles in your affairs in the year ahead. One alliance that you'll establish for a unique purpose will turn out to be better than all the rest.
LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) If you promise nothing, but then quietly do all you can to deliver what others desire, you will win admiration and respect. Trying to patch up a broken romance? The Matchmaker set can help you understand what it might take to make the relationship work. Mail #2 to Matchmaker, c/o this newspaper, PO Box 91428, Cleveland, OH 44101-3428.
SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) You'll have an abundance of energy and ambition today, but you might not channel your efforts as effectively as you should. Aim for specifics.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) In case you are planning to do any shopping today, it's best you do it in the afternoon rather than in the morning. Before noon you tend to be extravagant.
CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Be careful today not to reward the undeserving while overlooking persons to whom you are indebted. Be generous to the right people.
AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) Someone whom you have prejudged erroneously is actually quite a nice person. Fortunately, you may discover this for yourself today.
PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) It might be a trifle frustrating trying to get a handle on your financial situation today. What you gain with one hand could be disposed of by the other.
ARIES (March 21-April 19) Associates who are unreasonably timid could hamper your progress in competitive career situations today. Team up with bolder allies.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Negative thoughts could cause you to be a slow starter today. However, once you swing into the action, these imaginings will melt away.
GEMINI (May 21-June 20) If you have met someone recently to whom you are attracted, it's going to be up to you to make the first move. He or she is receptive, but shy.
CANCER (June 21-July 22) Take ample time today to carefully analyze a matter of importance. First impressions may emit false signals that could mislead you.
LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Don't put yourself in an untenable position today by failing to use your initiative and, at the same time, being too wary to delegate authority to others.
VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Today you might have to make some small sacrifices for someone who has helped you when you needed it. Do it cheerfully.

Rick and Libby Voltoline, owners of Voltoline Business Equipment

Voltoline: In Line With The Times

Voltoline Business Equipment, celebrating its sixth anniversary this month in downtown Sanford, provides sales, service and rentals for all types of office machines and equipment. Voltoline serves all of Seminole County and a large part of Volusia County.

Owners Rick and Libby Voltoline moved the business to its present more visible location at 200 S. Park Ave. in January. There is both private parking and on-street parking available for customers.

Longtime customers will be glad to know Libby is back after 1 1/2 year absence from the office and is sales manager.

With more space at their new location, they are expanding the stock and the number of employees. They are putting more emphasis on outside sales and have three outside salesmen.

Voltoline is an authorized Canon PC (personal copier) dealer and an authorized Brother and Smith Corona dealer and service center.

They are also in the process of becoming an authorized Sharp dealer and service center.

Brother has the lowest life cycle cost typewriter on the market today, said Libby. Voltoline will have a Brother EM 1000 with word processing when it comes out at Christmas time. They already have available the basic FX series typewriter, which can be upgraded and interfaced with computers.

A lot of their customers buy typewriters to interface with computers instead of printers, Libby said.

There is a one-year warranty on all Brothers typewriters for service and parts.

There will be plenty of holiday gift ideas from the special ordered items which Voltoline will carry.

Among the items which Voltoline has in stock are telephone answering machines, transcribing equipment, calculators, checkwriters, paper shredders, and duplicating equipment.

They also have office supplies such as ribbons, paper, and adding machine tape.

"We service everything we sell," said Rick, "and have free pick up and delivery."

Voltoline Business Equipment sells used typewriters with a 90-day warranty.

The business is open Monday through Friday, 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. and Saturdays (until Christmas) 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. For information call 323-7022.

Southern Automotive: Quality Detailing For Less

You can get your car looking like new and save money by bringing it to Southern Automotive Detailing, Inc., a detailing specialist. Opened four months ago by partners, Mark Brown and Jim Young, their business is located at 2720 W. First St., behind Southern Line Cleaning and just west of the overpass and the Airport Boulevard traffic light.

Southern Automotive Detailing has two locations and plans to open a third toward the latter part of the year. They have 10 employees who are experienced in the detailing field with 10 to 12 years experience each. Although 95 percent of its work is for car dealers, they welcome "drive-in" customers off the street.

The do carpet and vinyl top dyeing, upholstery cleaning, waxing, buffing, body moulding, pin stripping, welding and trailer hitches.

They also do paint and body work and some mechanical work for dealers. Seminole Ford is one of their larger accounts.

Mark and Jim chose the West First Street (State Road 46) location because of its proximity to the Sanford Auto Auction and the dealers who run their cars through the detail shop before putting them on the auction block.

"We owe a great deal of our success to Mike and John at Sanford Auto Auction," said Jim.

Because of their low overhead, Mark and Jim say their's is the probably the most competitive detail shop in the state.

"Our prices are one-third of anyone else's and we feel we do a better job. For the general public a complete detail job (clean exterior, interior, engine, and trunk, polish, put on compound and paint protection) it would normally cost between $85 to $250 at other detailers. We can put most customers out for around $55."

Mark and Jim like being able to serve the public. Last week they said they gave a customer a price for detailing his car and when he picked up he was so excited about such a quality job for a low price that he added an extra $10 to his check.

"We don't make a lot of money, but we're looking for repeat business," Jim said.

For dealers, Southern Automotive Detailing will pick up cars, completely detail them and deliver them back to the auction.

Southern Automotive Detailing's hours are 7 a.m. to 6 p.m. Monday through Friday and Saturday, by appointment only. Call 321-3355.
