FP&L Will Add $250,000 Payroll To Area

Florida Power & Light Company President Robert H. Fite (left) and Volusia County Commissioner James Dixon (right) with other officials at Lake Monroe Park last evening. Fite revealed that orders for major equipment already have been placed with Westinghouse for the turbine-generator, and with Foster Wheeler for the boiler. A contract for engineering and construction has been negotiated with Mid Valley, Inc. The new plant will add a 150,000 kilowatt unit to the area's economy, the FP&L proxy estimated. (Staff Photo)

Altamonte Sewer Pact Gets Final OK

By DONNA ESTES
 First phase of Altamonte Springs' city sewerage system, after months and months of planning and discussion, is finally set to get underway with authorization by the City Council for execution of contracts to let the work begin.
 Council on a four-to-one vote, with Councilman William Nuckols casting the only "against" ballot, authorized Mayor Lawrence Swafford to sign contract with Bumbo and Simpson to construct water line extension and sewer main phase one to the property west of 14 known as Spring Lake Hills Subdivision. Contract calling for payment of $4,042,725 is to be executed when all easements, to be obtained without cost, affecting the contract are approved by City Attorney S. Joseph Davis Jr.

Nuckols Airs Audit Reason

The "bad condition" of the city books for fiscal 1967 was on in the city," he declared, listed as the major reason for his signature on a letter requesting a state audit of Altamonte Springs' records. City Councilman William Nuckols declared at a meeting of the municipal governing body last night.
 In a blast at the records kept in 1967, Nuckols said the city auditor, Greene and Dyxus, had reported the books were in a "bad condition" because Rep. Sandy Bassett prevents their being placed on the agenda for consideration.
 Some avaricious thoughts occurred to a couple of members of the audience at the Altamonte Springs City Council meeting Wednesday night when they noted the high attendance rate they've been having lately — one fellow considered going outside the front door and charging admission.
 At only a quarter a head that would be at least $10 a meeting, and only 11 meetings would pay for a new 16 1/2 radio for the fire department. Another man spoke up for the popcorn concession.
 "Maybe that's a solution to some of the budget problems — stage a fight and charge the spectators. With closed-circuit television, the possibilities are tremendous!"

Meat Price Hike Hits Family Purse

By CHARNER LEONE
 It's no news to the housewives, but it's a sad day for the budget-minded. Local meat prices have gone up and probably will continue to climb.
 "Stores are paying more for beef than at any time since the Korean War," says Paul Maloney, meat manager for Public.
 The chains have held meat prices down over the last two or three months, hoping the prices would go down, Maloney claims. He explained the prices from Swift and Company, suppliers for Public, went up three or four months ago. The suppliers inched up a couple of cents a week to the stores and finally the stores had to go up.
 "Primarily, the profit is going to the middle man, and some to the farmer, but not to the store, the meat manager says."
 "Generally speaking the stores haven't been making money on beef," Maloney added, in when the demand for beef went up and the supply went down.
 How long would it last?
 "Hazarding a guess, Maloney said, "If anything, it probably will continue to climb. But, of course, there could be a drop. It's hard to say. For sure."
 In spite of the hike in price, there doesn't seem to be any change in the buying habits locally, he said.
 Today's best buy? Pork and chicken.
 Maloney cited the time a few years ago when bacon was selling for $1.09 a pound. The reasons for the inflated cost were the same as those for beef. But the price of pork did come down, almost to its previous level, as the supply caught up with the demand.
 Prices for home in stirlion, for instance, range from 88 cents a pound, but retailers are selling it at $1.29 for USDA inspected meat. Ground stew beef runs from a low of 68 cents a pound to $1.09 locally.
 The stores stocked for this article were Food Fair, Public, A & P and Park in Shoop.
 It appears that beef like will affect everything from hot dogs to filet. And if the prices haven't already gone up on some steaks, they will very soon. So, fill your freezers! Soon!

Page Airways To Run Port

By BILL SCOTT
 Today's signing by Page Airways of a lease making the Rochester-based aviation firm the San Air port's fixed base operator (FBO), could mean the beginning of an industrial upsurge at the facility.
 The delayed action on rezoning requests for Maitland Avenue until 7:30 p.m. next Wednesday. Citizens were on hand at the meeting to oppose rezoning to permit construction of multi-family dwellings on the street.

SIB Hires Planner

Thomas H. Wallis Jr., landscape architect with the firm of Wallis-Sirena and Associates, has been retained by the Sanford Scenic Improvement Board to plan for the beautification of the downtown Sanford area.
 Funds allocated by the City for the planning study total $5,000.
 Wallis, graduate of the University of Florida, has his business base in Winter Park. The firm has received statewide recognition for several beautification projects in Orlando.

Bulletin

Robert Short, owner of the Washington Senators, this morning agreed to come to Sanford for further discussion leading toward the possible selection of this city as the spring training site for the major league baseball team, Associate Editor John Spokki telephoned from Washington early this afternoon.
 Short accepted the invitation of Spokki, City Commissioner W. Vincent Roberts and John Krifer, Chamber of Commerce manager, as the result of "my close personal friendship with John Spokki." Also attending this morning's meeting at the National Capital was Ed Roberts, Senators' public relations director.
 "I am especially delighted," said Short, "that this committee came to Washington and extended the invitation to visit Sanford. All things being equal, I feel Sanford is one step ahead of all others in consideration of a spring training site as a result of my friendship with Spokki and his deep pride in Duluth and Sanford."
 Ed note: Spokki will give a detailed report of today's Washington meeting in Friday's Herald.

The clockmaker has learned that Sheriff John Folk's budget request for next fiscal year will be approximately $400,000. This is much less than his predecessor, Peter Milliot, sought a year ago when a half-million-dollar budget was submitted. Milliot, after a Tallahassee budget hearing and a confrontation with the county commission, finally got around $300,000. Chances are that Folk will get most of what he seeks because of the "closer" working arrangement with the budget boss.

Some avaricious thoughts occurred to a couple of members of the audience at the Altamonte Springs City Council meeting Wednesday night when they noted the high attendance rate they've been having lately — one fellow considered going outside the front door and charging admission.

At only a quarter a head that would be at least $10 a meeting, and only 11 meetings would pay for a new 16 1/2 radio for the fire department. Another man spoke up for the popcorn concession.

Maybe that's a solution to some of the budget problems — stage a fight and charge the spectators. With closed-circuit television, the possibilities are tremendous!

Astronauts In Landing Craft; Will Lower Toward Moon

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — Two Apollo 16 astronauts transferred into a lunar landing craft today and prepared to make man's closest approach to the moon's surface, a daring descent to within 36,000 feet of the Sea of Tranquility.

For 28 minutes, they pointed the camera out the window and showed pictures of a bleak, barren landscape of crater-pocked plains, boulder-strewn plateaus and rugged highlands.

The touchdown target for Apollo 16, near the crater Molke, was in partial darkness but appeared relatively clear of craters and rocks. Although it is one of the smoothest stretches of moon-escapes, the area is scarred by craters ranging from the size of a dime to a football stadium.

The two spacecraft were to be apart more than eight hours, with Young continuing to circle the moon at an altitude of 60 miles, ready to fly a rescue mission if Stafford and Cernan encounter trouble.

During the two flights over the landing site, the LEM pilots hope to obtain a total of 12 hours of radar ranging, photography and visual observations.

Then they are to execute a series of tricky maneuvers to rejoin Young in the command ship. Duplicating moves the Apollo 16 landers must make after they blast off the moon.

The linkup must be made at Stafford's return to Earth. The LEM, a little, bug-like ship, was designed to operate in airless space and on the moon and can not return to earth.

If the maneuver is successful, and Apollo 16 flashes safely back to earth Monday night, the linkup will be set on the lunar landing mission 15 days later.

Our Two Ports-Ready To Build Economy

One-by-one the steps are being taken leading to a new economic base for Sanford-Seminole on which an era of unexcelled growth and prosperity may be cultivated and enjoyed. This has been a period of waiting, of quite a few false dawns for those who have the best interests of this delightful area — Central Florida solidly lodged in their hearts. Today, however, the fact of a large port on the St. Johns River and an airport with proper facilities and proper servicing in the vacated acres of the old Navy Base is no longer a matter of conjecture or of inspired dreams. Why do we make this comment? Very simply on the logic of a saying as old as can be: "Money makes the mare go." Take a look at the Port of Sanford situation. Now the years of planning, wrestling with the spathy which was easy to understand but hard to overcome are over. Those early boosters can rest on their laurels for a moment and heave sighs of relief. Approval of the project by the United States Department of Housing and Urban Development has been received and the Port Administrator Francis Roumilat, Jr., is wasting no time in calling a conference for discussion of preconstruction problems. If no blocks are encountered the actual construction of the facility by Civil Works Construction International, Inc., of Farmington, Mich., with its bid of $1,533,000 is to begin. The significance of this port with its wharf to handle and a transit warehouse to service bulk cargoes can now be only guessed at. But the whole economic picture in this area with Walt Disney World construction adding the glow of its billion dollar expenditures needs the low-cost factor of waterfront traffic. Thus the large port will be built and its traffic will come into Sanford where there will be railroad transportation and air transportation (we expect) to move it to other destinations. There will be the need for transportation over the roads. What we have now is not adequate even for present needs. True the port is close to I-4, true S-46 could provide a fine east-west roadway. But there can be no denying that roads are the one means of transportation which present a glaring lack. This must be done away with! But the feeling of promise which comes when the large port and its possibilities are considered is basically sound and its harsh hand of events themselves will force a solution of the highway problem. When the Sanford Airport is viewed, the feeling of a dawn of true accomplishment is quite in order. This day the formalities of the signing of agreements between the Sanford Industrial Commission — the City of Sanford — and Page Airways, Inc., a highly regarded and proficient organization to become the fixed base operator is to be inked. What this means to this area is the entrance of a stabilizing force which could and probably will provide the kind of service which an important facility with the great possibilities of Sanford must enjoy. After all, the acreage is primarily that which has been used for and designed for aviation. In a section which is so underserved by airport facilities as Central Florida, the creation of a modern civilian airport in Sanford with such an experienced operator as Page on the job is a major and positive develop-

Don't Work Too Hard

It's against the law now to be too good at your job. At least that's the implication of a Supreme Court decision that upheld a union's right to punish workers who produced too much. Somewhere this pendulum has to stop swinging. The sweat shop days are indeed gone — and good riddance. Job security and pay scales, once so cautiously denied, are facts of life. The older order has changed but the momentum of that change has produced some inattention on the other extreme. The all-union shop has proliferated, compelling many unwilling employees to join and to pay dues for purposes opposed by some of the dues-payers. The blacklist is a reality of industrial life. By withholding membership card a union can deny a man his right to an occupation and a paycheck anywhere in the country in some cases. Now we have come to the point where productivity can be regulated — while the same government bellows from the other side of its mouth the greater worker productivity is one of the key weapons against higher prices and foreign competition. Somehow it seems to have been forgotten that generations grew, flourished and passed on to their children a better life because of their willingness to work a little harder than the next guy. And that little extra led to the great strides we have made. When industry mistreats its workers the government establishment should step in and put a stop to it. Let it about time to make the same moral and legal rules applicable to the national labor movement? There's a need for the hurry on both sides of the bargaining table. The Supreme Court's latest decision mocks that principle. — Tulsa (Okla.) Tribune

YOU CAN LEAD A CAMEL, TOO!

Case K-84, Sadtler E. aged 20, is the one who dropped out of college and has been living with a male student. "Dr. Crane" her mother tearfully phoned me months later. "He never married." "But Sadtler insisted that didn't matter." "She argued that a lot of college do as she does, for this is a modern age where my ideas are old-fashioned." "Her daddy and I couldn't reason with her. In fact, the more we pointed out the folly of her action, the more vigorously she defended this boy. "But six months have now passed since my husband talked to you." "Sadtler's boy friend has moved out." "He is pregnant and so how that she attempted suicide a week ago." "We heard about it when the hospital finally called us after insisting that she tell them where her parents lived." "Now her daddy and I are left with the 'old-fashioned' problem of what to do with an unwed pregnant daughter who is penniless and with a ruined college career in journalism." "Dr. Crane, what do you advise us to do?" The Bishik tells the story of the foolish virgin who also didn't look ahead. And thousands of college coeds perfectly fit that pattern nowadays. They think it is so ultra modern and smart to defy the standard laws of society imposed by promiscuity, sex on a g. drinking and even joining in demands that men be admitted to the bedrooms of college coeds and vice versa. This is patently juvenile immaturity. These same coeds and male students are "kept" youth, sponging off their parents for tuition, as well as other food,

Interpretive Report:

Nixon's Vietnam Hard Choice!

By RICHARD WILSON WASHINGTON, D. C.—Before President Nixon's recent television address on Vietnam he gave an extemporaneous resume of his decisions to top level officials of his administration. They responded with applause and there was no doubt what they were applauding. This was undoubtedly the major decision of President Nixon's first four months in office. He recognized at the same time that he is "pledged" to end the war. "I am determined to keep that pledge. If I fail to do so, I expect American people to hold me accountable for that failure," he said. The receipt to President Nixon's speech on Vietnam was clearly gained him more time to fulfill his pledge by satisfying, for the time being, both sides in the Vietnam agreement. But time is all that has been gained, if the Communist side does not respond to what both hawks and doves regard as a reasonable U. S. proposal, the problem will arise again on how to end the war. The pledge to end the war is by no means a "disguised" or "double" commitment. These commitments may lead to the Vietnam stalemate. Then Nixon may have to decide if the only way to fulfill his pledge to end the war is by giving up the Vietnam commitment. They are more likely to be the result of a possible for the Communist side to continue or by accepting disguised defeat. Nixon has taken the gamble of convincing the American public that what he is doing is the right thing. He has made a better case for the Johnson-Rusk policy than they were able to make. When the crisis comes in the future he may be able to command greater public support than President Johnson and Secretary Rusk for the Vietnam policy. Those who have taken their time in measuring Nixon's television speech along with the explanations of it at the White House and the public reaction to it tend to the conclusion that his main emphasis was on not quitting in Vietnam. A White House source said that Nixon was making himself, the President and his advisers, know the difference between an honorable settlement and a disguised defeat. When it comes to reducing forces in Vietnam the same source said it would be done as a sign of confidence in Nixon's responsibility and not to create a public relations effect with the American people. "These are not the kind of statements likely to be made by those engaged in a slow back out from the Vietnam commitment. They are more likely to be the statements of men who are willing to face the unpleasant alternatives the future may bring." What Nixon cannot do, under his pledge to pull out of Vietnam unilaterally in a disguised defeat and let Asia go hang. Secretary of State William P. Rogers said later, "President Nixon is not going to back away from our responsibilities in Asia. He is not going to do so."

Global Comment:

Britain's Wilson: A Symbol

By LEON BENNETT WASHINGTON, D. C.—The plight of Britain's Prime Minister Harold Wilson is a symbol of the political fortunes of the Socialist parties in most nations of Western Europe. Like the totalitarian "socialists" who rule in the Communist countries, the democratic socialists are discovering that even their brand of moderate Marxism cannot solve the problems or cure the ill that plague humanity in the modern age. The bored offspring of the affluent middle class who seek the romance of revolution among the New Leftists and Wilson's resignation as prime minister and leader of the Labor party. Yet only five years ago Wilson was hailed as a brilliant "young" leftist leader. He was going to nationalize Britain's banks and basic industries. He hoped to create a welfare state which, unlike the Communist version of socialism, would be based on democratic freedom and human decency. Now he is denounced by the younger members of his own Labor party as a middle-aged failure who betrayed Marxist Socialism. Wilson's tragedy is, in a sense, also the tragedy of former Premier Lyndon B. Johnson and Vice President Humphrey. Like many politicians before him who promote the liberal idealism, he was confronted as prime minister with the complex realities of power in a free society. Wilson's mounting difficulties, however, he is a skilled politician who has already weathered many storms. He can cling to power until the election in 1971. He may yet outwit his detractors in and out of the Labor party. But his light is symbolic of the troubles facing the anti-socialist socialists in France, Italy, West Germany, Japan and elsewhere in the free world. They, too, are engaged in an uphill struggle against new idealizing forces on the left and right.

H. L. Hunt Says:

Now A "Freedom Season"

Patriotism is not a very "fashionable" virtue at the present time. Most highly publicized are the so-called intellectuals who denounce their country's efforts to defend freedom and who call for surrender to communism. Radical students on college campuses near down our flag and replace it with a Viet Cong flag at the same time as fanatic young men give their lives to preserve the Viet Cong from destroying all freedom in South Vietnam. Patriots are deeply disturbed by these events and want to know what they can do to counteract this trend, to show their loyalty to their country and the values for which the United States stands. The state legislature in California has provided one answer to this question. Representative B. J. Baker introduced a resolution requesting the Governor to proclaim July 4 as "Freedom Season." Citizens throughout California are urged to take special steps during the period from Flag Day and Independence Day to show their patriotism and their dedication to our country, which has done so much to preserve freedom throughout the world.

Motorist Robbed

A Sanford man complained to Sanford County Deputy William H. Robbins that he was robbed and beaten by two teenage youths when he stopped his car at an intersection.

Concern Expressed

Concern over the widespread use of marijuana and other drugs by students and disapproval of the sex education program being taught in some of the county schools was expressed at the monthly meeting of the Sanford Women's Republican Club held at the Loch Arbor home of Mrs. Olin W. Bostwell. Attention was called to House Bill 488, entitled "An Act Relating To Health Education," the latter part of which states "providing for health education courses in elementary schools and in junior and senior high schools."

Crane's Worry Clinic:

By GEORGE W. CRANE PH. D. M. D. CASE K-84, Sadtler E. aged 20, is the one who dropped out of college and has been living with a male student. "Dr. Crane" her mother tearfully phoned me months later. "He never married." "But Sadtler insisted that didn't matter." "She argued that a lot of college do as she does, for this is a modern age where my ideas are old-fashioned." "Her daddy and I couldn't reason with her. In fact, the more we pointed out the folly of her action, the more vigorously she defended this boy. "But six months have now passed since my husband talked to you." "Sadtler's boy friend has moved out." "He is pregnant and so how that she attempted suicide a week ago." "We heard about it when the hospital finally called us after insisting that she tell them where her parents lived." "Now her daddy and I are left with the 'old-fashioned' problem of what to do with an unwed pregnant daughter who is penniless and with a ruined college career in journalism." "Dr. Crane, what do you advise us to do?" The Bishik tells the story of the foolish virgin who also didn't look ahead. And thousands of college coeds perfectly fit that pattern nowadays. They think it is so ultra modern and smart to defy the standard laws of society imposed by promiscuity, sex on a g. drinking and even joining in demands that men be admitted to the bedrooms of college coeds and vice versa. This is patently juvenile immaturity. These same coeds and male students are "kept" youth, sponging off their parents for tuition, as well as other food,

Volusia Co-operates On Rec Plan

By VIRGINIA SCRUGGS (Fourth in a Series) DeLand reduces the expense of operating the swimming pool by opening it the week before school is out in the summer, then closing it again the week after school begins in the fall — a 12-week schedule. Main maintenance is done during the off-season by the community volunteers. The maximum return from their investment is realized through co-operation. A couple of hundreds of children are brought over each Thursday from New Smyrna. While some swim, others play DeLand youths in an inter-city softball game, part of the summer program. Then on Friday, two hundreds of DeLand children are transported to Deltona beach, near New Smyrna, to return the visit. "It's worked out well for both of us," says T. W. Sprinkle, DeLand's recreation director. Winter Park offers one swimming pool and a lake beach. The pool and the beach are free to residents of the town. Half the costs of the pool were paid by the Negro community in which it was built, but it is open to everyone who wants to use it. Then, Wm. W. P. Fleming, Winter Park recreation director, states that though it costs the city $219 a month to operate the pool with an additional $75 a week for lifeguards, and the attendance drops off the first of June as residents seek the stupider lake beaches, the pool is still kept open. As a recreation director in another city said, asking not to be named, "You do lose money on them (municipal pools)—you just can't expect to break even." Since money is such an important consideration to the City Fathers, there are two other avenues open to a good

Good, Now Lucky... Seaver Muffs Atlanta Sluggers

By MIKE RECHT
Associated Press Sports Writer

Tom Seaver has been a good pitcher ever since he came to the New York Mets two years ago, but now he's getting lucky, too, and when a pitcher is good and lucky... well, that's just great.

The 24-year-old bulwark of New York's young pitching staff is certainly looking that way after mugging the hard-hitting Atlanta Braves on three hits in a 3-0 victory Wednesday night.

The gem was Seaver's fifth straight triumph in which he has given just seven runs, raised his record to 6-2 and lowered his earned run average to 1.86.

Seaver's way has been made easier by a little rain and with the Mets finally scoring some runs behind him.

Victory No. 4 came when the Mets scored eight runs in the eighth inning after Seaver left for a pinch hitter in the lining which he was losing 3-0.

"The first time I can recall seeing a game with the Mets after I was out."
And last Sunday, Seaver avoided a possible loss when rain washed out a game in which he was losing 3-0.

Clayton Jones, the leading hitter in the major leagues, singled in two first inning runs off Phil Niekro, 6-3, and Bud Harrelson wrapped up with a three-run triple in the eighth.

And for Seaver, the best might still be to come.

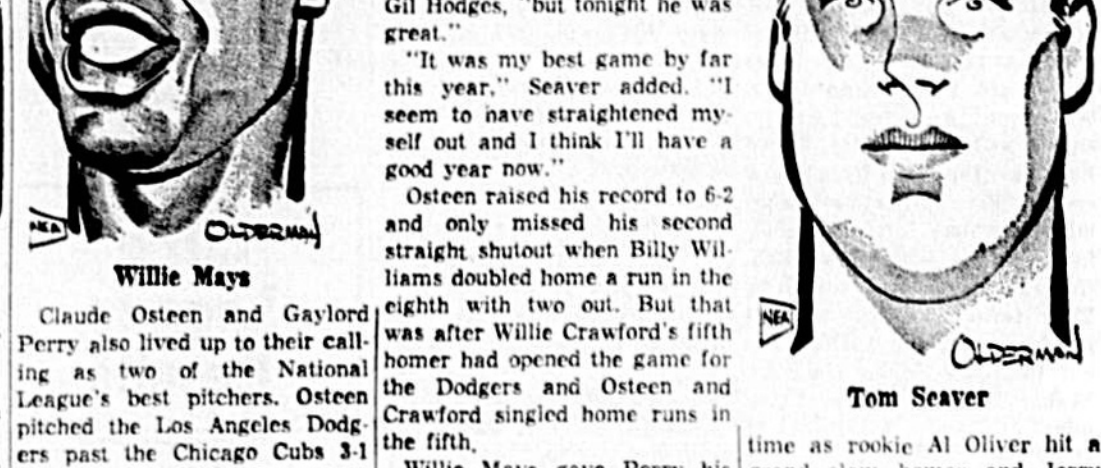

"It's been a little down on himself after losing a couple of real tough ones," said Manager Gil Hodges, "but tonight he was great."

"It was my best game by far this year," Seaver added. "I seem to have straightened myself out and I think I'll have a good year now."

Osteen raised his record to 6-2 and only missed his second straight shutout when Billy Williams doubled home a run in the eighth with two out. But that was after Willie Crawford's fifth homer had opened the game for the Dodgers and Osteen and Crawford singled home runs in the fifth.

Willie Mays gave Perry his seventh triumph against the Sox, but after watching Rod Laver and Arthur Ashe, one wonders if that record hasn't gone the way of the dodo bird.

Claude Osteen and Gaylord Perry also lived up to their calling as two of the National League's best pitchers. Osteen pitched the Los Angeles Dodgers past the Chicago Cubs 3-1 with a five-hitter and Perry held off St. Louis as San Francisco nudged the Cardinals 4-3.

Bob Moose notched a five-hitter behind a 15-hit attack as Pittsburgh whopped San Diego 11-1. Houston continued its comeback with a 3-2 triumph over Montreal and Cincinnati edged Philadelphia 6-5 in other games.

In the American League, Baltimore trounced Minnesota 4-3, the New York Yankees slipped by Oakland 6-3 in 11 innings, Boston swept California 5-2 and 8-1, Seattle defeated Washington 6-5 and Kansas City blanked Cleveland 4-0. Detroit and the Chicago White Sox were rained out.

Seaver, whose fast ball and sharp control led him to a 6-2 record in the year record in 1967, followed by a 16-12 mark last year for the light-hitting Mets, hasn't lost since April 25, and his only two defeats were by 3-1 scores to Bob Gibson and Ferguson Jenkins.

Speed And Things

NEW YORK (UPI)—Speed is a favorite topic when friends gather for a time after a day of consumption, as well as speed in games. But in which game does the ball travel fastest?

The column may not answer the question, though it might start some fights.

The speed of a golf ball, when struck by a Jack Nicklaus, may not be faster than a speeding bullet, but it does get there it's going in a hurry.

A few years ago Gene Sarazen, the knickerbocked old pro, and a racing car were pitted against each other. The car was the golfer at the moment this feat was recorded. From this test, the velocity of the ball was determined to be 130 miles per hour.

Another time, the force of a propelled golf ball was measured by another pro. A lefty whose club with over 200 pages and nearly an inch thick was placed some four feet in front of the tee. The driven ball tipped right through the book at an initial speed of 111 m.p.h., and then rolled 100 yards farther.

(As for the speeding bullet, the highest muzzle velocity of any rifle bullet is believed to be 2,785 m.p.h., from the 220 Swift Super Speed.)

Tennis serves by the great players are of course prodigious. According to the Guinness Book of World Records, the fastest serve was recorded at 104 m.p.h. by Billie Jean King in June, 1962. But after watching Rod Laver and Arthur Ashe, one wonders if that record hasn't gone the way of the dodo bird.

Several years ago Bob Feller, whose right arm was the forerunner of the Cape Kennedy launching pad, was clocked throwing a baseball at about 100 m.p.h. (In baseball, however, speed is not all that counts. There must be "stuff" on the ball to be effective. And rookie pitchers who impersonate cannons often find their services departing hats at equally incredible speeds.)

"Crockett pitches, or 'hooks' have been clocked at 80 m.p.h. The pelita in Jai-alai was measured at over 150 m.p.h.

Table tennis serves would seem to be fantastically fast. No studies are available, but it is believed that the greatest smashes of one of the greatest players, China's Chen Tsing-tung, traveled only about 60 m.p.h.

The highest velocity recorded of a soccer ball kick was 23 m.p.h. It is believed that a football, given equal momentum, would be effective. And rocket pitches, who impersonate cannons often find their services departing hats at equally incredible speeds.

It All Depends On Denny

By JOE MOSHLI
Associated Press Sports Writer

CHICAGO (AP)—When Detroit's chances to repeat for the American League pennant were being assessed, two statements became loudly repetitive:

"Don't look for Denny McLain to win 30 games again."

"Another time, the force of a propelled golf ball was measured by another pro. A lefty whose club with over 200 pages and nearly an inch thick was placed some four feet in front of the tee. ## Detroit Looking Ahead To Series Time

By JOE MOSHLI
Associated Press Sports Writer

DETROIT (AP)—Denny McLain may never be asked to win 30 games again, but Detroit fans are looking ahead to series time.

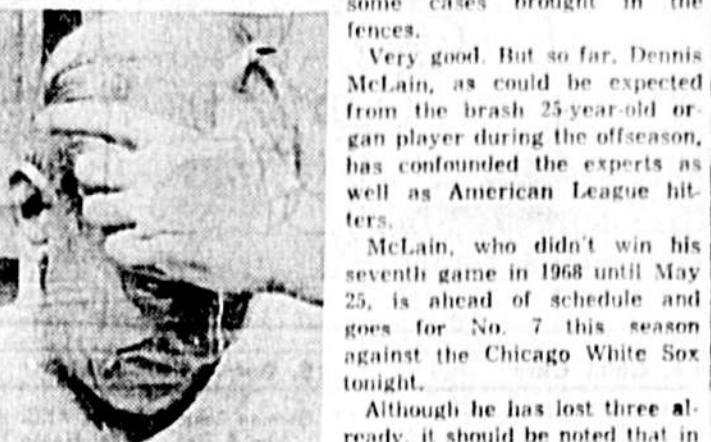

McLain, who didn't win his seventh game in 1968 until May 25, is ahead of schedule and goes for No. 7 this season against the Chicago White Sox tonight.

Although he has lost three at-bats, it should be noted that in two of the losses the Tigers were shut out.

Two successive 30 game seasons? It was last done in 1912-13 by Walter Johnson. And since this deduction was generally accepted in baseball circles despite the fact McLain won 31 ball games in scoring during the more recent 21 season with a 19.5 average, it is a feat that has not been done since.

"Certainly, the possibility is there," said McLain. "But it's so remote, it's tough to say what the chances are."

"So many things have to happen. The little things which can make you or break you. One thing which might stop

As told to Bob Cochran.

INDIANAPOLIS — (NEA) — For the past four years I've been offered some pretty good rides at the Indianapolis 500 but I've always turned them down. Frankly, I didn't feel I was qualified.

After all, every American driver looks to Indy as the country's most prestigious race. It's awesome. The absolute best drivers are there and I wanted to feel sure I was ready. Well, I still have mixed emotions, but Roger Penske, the man for whom I drive, felt that it was about time I see what the brickyard was like.

Service News

Seth Rook
Postwar's Mate Third Class Seth T. Rook, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Seth J. Rook of Route 1, Orlando, Fla., and husband of the former Miss Kathy Stamatou of 1802 Egan Drive, Orlando, Fla., is serving aboard the guided missile destroyer USS Goldsborough at Pearl Harbor, Hawaii.

The ship recently completed a six-month deployment to the Western Pacific off the coast of Vietnam.

The Goldsborough provided gunfire support for two major land operations and one major amphibious operation against enemy forces ashore.

Air and ground spotters credited the ship with the destruction of five automatic weapon positions, 20 bunkers, 20 tunnel and cave storage complexes, 92 military support structures and six secondary explosions.

John Patterson
Machinist Mate First Class John H. Patterson, USN, of Route 1, Sanford, Fla., is aboard the USS Luce in the Caribbean off Puerto Rico.

The ship is participating in a joint service, amphibious and airborne exercise, "Operation Exotic Dancer II." The exercise is designed to test and improve existing joint service procedures.

Elements of Army and Air Force units as well as Naval ships and aircraft and Marine Corps units are participating in the 14-day operation.

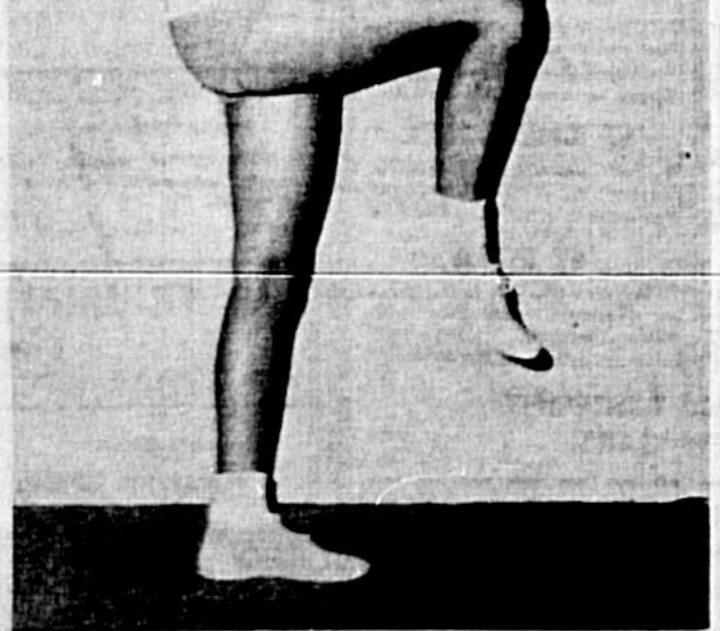

Amphibious forces are using both surface attacks on beaches and airborne assaults with helicopters from ships off shore.

During the exercise, Atlantic Fleet ships and aircraft are simulating shore bombardment and air strikes in support of the amphibious forces.

Roger Sulzer
Roger J. Sulzer, son of Mrs. E. Hulin, 962 Spring Garden Drive, Altamonte Springs, Fla., was promoted to Army major March 28 near An Khe, Vietnam, where he is serving with the 1st Cavalry Division (Airmobile).

Major Sulzer, commanding officer of Company D of the division's 15th Transportation Battalion, entered the Army in June 1957.

He received a B.S. degree in 1962 from Bucknell University, Lewisburg, Pa.

FIRST place winner in the Talent Show sponsored by the Forest City Community Association was Diane Turner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Wilson, Bear Lake. # Onassis' Yacht Changed Little By Jackie

Jacqueline Onassis may have redecorated the White House as first lady of the United States, but as first mate of the good ship Christina, she simply moved in as is.

Recent visitors to the Christina, which is resting at Miami's Dodge Island port, say there are few visible signs of the presence of shipping magnate Aristotle Onassis' wife of seven months.

Their observations are confirmed by Onassis' butler, Charles Bosco.

"You know Mr. Onassis, everything belonging to the ship must be in the same place," Bosco said.

Although the luxurious decor of the Christina has changed little since Jackie and her children, Caroline and John, came aboard, they have added a number of small personal touches.

A poem by Caroline entitled "To Mummy...Autumn," hangs on the golden wall to the right of a king sized bed in the rich master stateroom. The poem, decorated with a border of pale animals drawn in colored pencil, begins:

"Snuggling warmly in my bed,
"A frag or mouse is by my head."
John's touch is found in his stateroom, where the books "More Children's Letters to God" and "King of the Golden River" are stacked on a bedside table.

The Christina's library, a masculine sanctuary with marble fireplace and beamed ceiling, now contains a fleecy rug of llama or alpaca, apparently a gift to Onassis from his wife.

Photographs of the Kennedy children and Onassis' own children, Christina and Alexander, are spotted throughout the yacht.

The Christina, a Canadian frigate converted to its present use by Onassis in 1964 at a cost of $2.4 million, is named for his daughter.

Unlike other years when visitors were taken around the yacht, the tour stopped short of the master bedroom. "She doesn't like it," said an officer.

"She" is Mrs. Onassis whose auspicious profile can be seen on the left bedside table.

Occasionally, as Bosco did during the tour, people slip and say "Mrs. Kennedy" instead of Mrs. Onassis. Bosco said she understands the mistake. "She is very nice and always smiles," he said.

Barbara Jones, Mervin Denton Exchange Vows

JOY CIRCLE of the W.S.C.S. of Grace United Methodist Church joined other community groups in observation of Mental Health Month and sponsored a benefit luncheon. Mrs. Roger Harris, left, retiring president, is shown presenting a check for $67 to Mrs. J. J. Siczowski, local MHI chairman, to be added to the current building fund. Others from left, are Mrs. Charlotte Scudder, new W.S.C.S. president, and Mrs. Samuel Green, Joy Circle chairman.

Barbara Jones, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Norwood M. L. Jones of Summit, Miss., became the bride of Mervin Denton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Denton of Lake Harney Estates, March 10, 1969, at the Summit United Methodist Church.

Rev. Charles H. Piggott officiated at the double ring, candlelight ceremony.

Mrs. John L. Hurst, organist, accompanied. Miss Mary Elizabeth Simmons, soloist, who presented two well chosen favorites: "One Hand - One Heart," and "The Lord's Prayer."

The church was appropriately adorned with floor standards of white flowers and banded with green ferns. The seven-branch chandelier held long, burning white tapers.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride groom for her wedding a floor length gown of white organza and lace. The skirt featured a triple tier of deep ruffles at the hemline and long bishop's sleeves which featured a deep cuff of lace at the wrists. The bodice and standing away collar were also flared at the waist.

The veil, which formed a cathedral train, was of Alencon lace secured to a white satin pillow and she carried a magnificent cascade of white roses, lilies of the valley, centered with a removable orchid corsage, showered with white satin streamers and lovers knots.

Serving the bride as matron of honor was her sister, Mrs. Michael R. Legner of Westmont, Ill. Her gown was an original floor length creation of golden shaded silk taffeta, trimmed in a matching lace, fashioned on the princess silhouette. Organza leaves in the form of a wreath adorned her hair. She carried a cascade bouquet of burning roses. Mrs. Legner was her sister's aide attendante.

Shannon Lynn Jones, niece of the bride, was flower girl. Her gown was pink linen with an elegant lace trim. She carried a basket of pink roses.

Lash Jones, nephew of the bride, wore an elegant coat-suit dress of off-white silk with matching accessories. A green orchid corsage completed her ensemble.

Mrs. Denton, mother of the groom, chose a blue silk dress with white accessories and a white orchid corsage.

Immediately following the wedding a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents. The bride's table was covered with a lace cloth over white satin centered with an elegant arrangement of yellow roses flanked by white candles in triple branched candelabra.

The traditional tiered wedding cake was served as well as mint mints and punch served from a gleaming silver punch bowl.

Miss Margaret Jones of El Dorado, president, over the bride's book. Flanking hostesses were Mrs. Charles V. Jones, Brookhaven, Miss., Mrs. Norwood Jones Jr., El Dorado and Miss Joan Raper of Little Rock, Ark.

Geneva Personals

Well, that just goes to show you that even the higher-up in the weather prediction department can sometimes be wrong. I don't mean maybe. The Geneva Elementary School postponed their Parent-Teacher Organization "Fun Festival" which was to have been held this past Saturday, May 17, until Saturday, May 24, from 10 am until dusk.

Please mark it on your calendar so that you will not forget it. It is for a most worthy cause - Our School - and it would be a pity to let them down. Then after the "Fun Festival" I am heading straight toward Lake Golden in Sanford for the Laua where yours truly will entertain.

As usual the book lovers of Seminole County responded to the Geneva Community Library book sale held in downtown Sanford last Saturday and made it a real success. The proceeds from this sale will enable the Library to operate for another year "in the blue." The success of this sale was quite gratifying to those library workers who work so diligently to prepare the book and by the same token, it is a great let-down whenever a sale is held for so many and some of them show a definite lack of interest. Considering our library is but a mere suggestion project, I am proud indeed to tell you that we are fortunate to have so many good books relating to varied subjects. It would truly be a good idea to use this facility more and show Mrs. Norton and Mrs. A. D. Smith just how much we do appreciate them and their untiring efforts!

While we are on the subject of books let me tell you that our principal, Kenneth Echols, took some of our 6th graders to the park for an orientation program.

Gooh, time flies! It seems as if only yesterday these youngsters were just starting elementary school and here they are going into Junior High School already!

Mrs. Eileen Busen, our local Postmistress, tells me that she has found a ladies wedding ring and that anyone who can identify it may have some news for her mother.

Mrs. Carolyn Hice has been called out of town to Kansas because of the very serious illness of her mother.

That recent hail storm which covered Geneva with all manner of destruction surely was a "duzy." Eveywhere you chanced to look the earth seemed to be covered in ice and oak leaves. I tell you that I have not seen such a sight since the last violent hurricane we had to come through. The Norris Thompson trailer was really on the receiving end of a bad bout with those hail stones. The Melvin Harpers yard was almost a snowman's paradise from the ice balls. The Schussmeyer's pool cabana was completely destroyed and Billy and Lalun's service center suffered extensive damage to the roof. B. J. Pover's jeep wagon lost its roof completely and to say that Todd, Don and I were not scared to death is the understatement of the year. Joe was at a meeting and it just seemed worse without him to stand close to.

Roy Nichols is a patient in Seminole Memorial Hospital. Henry Levy is home from Seminole Memorial and doing well and would enjoy seeing his friends for a few minutes. I hope that these two jolly fellows soon are well on the road to recovery.

Dan Myers, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Myers of Rest Haven, Lake Harney, is home from Holiday Hospital and after speaking to his lovely mom, Shirley, I learned that he will be going up to Gainesville for further tests. Dan suffered a severe eye injury from a very freak accident while target practicing with a B.B. gun.

Did we ever have a treat? Dear brother - in - law, Orie brought us a bag full of Florida peaches so ripe and fresh that a mere push of the fingers peeled the skin. While we are speaking of treats let us not forget to tell you that Mrs. Betty Woodham was out doing a good deed yesterday and chanced to stop over with a pan of piping hot home-made buttermilk biscuits.

Oaks Gardeners Install

OAKS GARDEN CLUB of Altamonte Springs held their election and installation of new officers at a dinner meeting. The executive board members include (from left), Mrs. Nicky O'Hair, treasurer; Mrs. Pat Lockley, president; Mrs. Gloria Allen, corresponding secretary; and Mrs. Patsy Wagner, first vice president. Mrs. Bev Dannello will serve as recording secretary (top photo). Guests of honor at the installation meeting were, from left, Mrs. James Harris, assistant director, from Clermont; Mrs. Raymond Todd, newly elected president of district 7, also from Clermont; and Mrs. Frank Woodruff, III, from Sanford, outgoing district 7 president (center photo). Other officers installed included, from left, Mrs. Judy Shears, devotions; Mrs. Judy Pyle, parliamentarian; Mrs. Alice Theall, flower show chairman; Mrs. Gretchen Tope, membership; and Mrs. Susan Sowers, year book chairman (lower photo).
