

State's Competing Citrus Areas Have Seen Difficulties

LAKELAND — Florida citrus men, who have had their price worries this season, can be assured competing areas have had troubles too.

Florida Citrus Mutual reports that the Texas grapefruit industry, hard hit by freezes in 1950 and 1951, received another setback from drought this spring.

"Recent rains have given grapefruit trees there a shot in the limb from a growth standpoint but it is too late for them to develop a late bloom fruit," J. C. Strickland, Mutual's fresh fruit expert, said.

Present indications are their crop will be lighter than next season, even on the trees that survived the freezes and were expected to produce a normal crop.

Strickland said California's Valencia oranges are extremely small again this season.

There is an acute shortage of labor in California citrus groves which makes harvesting these small sizes difficult, Strickland said.

California citrus men are finding a good market for some of these small oranges in Canada and abroad, he added.

With Florida's season nearly over, most varieties did well at auction last week.

Indian River oranges advanced 17 cents a box to average $3.82.

Oranges from the interior brought $3.61, a cent less than the week before.

The major grapefruit varieties both showed good gains. White seedless from the interior was up 21 cents a box to $3.18, and Indian River white seedless was 24 cents higher at $4.17.

that the Long Island was one of the 64 and that he had authorized the strike call.

Of the 64 there were 11 — including the Long Island — which agreed to place their cases in mediation under the Railway Labor Act immediately after the pay settlement, which covered 180 major roads.

Shields, in a statement, indicated strike action would be used, if necessary, to obtain agreements with the rest of the carriers.

"We want it clear that we now will turn the full weight of our organization toward the consummation of agreements with those 64 carriers on terms at least as favorable as those we got at the White House," he said.

But Ross Barr of the National Mediation Board, who has been trying to resolve differences which led to the strike, said the walkout "looks like a more or less wildcat affair."

He added, "We're making every effort to get the parties together."

Later Barr reported that National Mediation Chairman Leverett Edwards had joined in efforts to end the strike.

Barr said he was trying to arrange a meeting between the union and the company later today.

Commuters grumbled and did the best they could to get to work.

Rails Praised By Governor Talmadge

SAVANNAH, Ga. — Gov. Herman Talmadge said today rapid and efficient transportation has been "the very life blood for phenomenal growth in the Southern region has enjoyed during recent years."

He spoke at the southeastern convention of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers.

"Efforts of the railroads in the South, their wide contacts, their ever-present willingness to assist and co-operate with new business and industry, their reliability, all of these have been important and indispensable factors in promoting the growth of our region," Talmadge declared.

21 Racehorses Die In Belmont Park Blaze

BELMONT, N. Y. — A groom and 21 racehorses were burned to death early today in a spectacular fire which destroyed half of a big barn at Belmont Park racetrack.

The groom, found burned to a crisp, apparently had been kicked unconscious by a horse. He was trying to save the horse when he was killed.

Police said Alfred Mitchell, 28, Laurel, Md.

Dozens of horses could be heard bawling away, Long Island Racecourse officials said.

Belmont's General Post Office building was closed for several hours as firemen worked to contain the blaze.

Two Of 7 Escaped Convicts Captured

POMPANO — Two of seven white convicts who fled a state prison camp near here were back in custody today.

Blood hounds were helping police in the search for the other five.

Capt. J. B. Kirby, in charge of the camp, said the seven men cut their way through wire mesh at the camp about 8:15 p. m. Sunday.

Kirby said James Ward, 18, was picked up near Oakland Park and attempting to steal an automobile. James Roger Hill, 27, was captured a few hours later.

The search continued in farm-lands and undeveloped areas near the Seaboard Railroad and the power line road on which the camp is located.

Those still at large were identified as William Edward Newhill, alias William Ford, 20; Joseph Borio, 20; Junior (alias Julius) Stealey, 21; William Barley alias Burdell, 20; and Joseph Dimaco, alias Demaro, 21.

Two recent additions to the Monkey Island population of the Sanford zoo are a buck and doe born to Billy on June 11, inspecting the fawns. The 2 1/2 year old Sharon Hoover of Forrest City, Sharon is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Hoover. The hands which comfort and confine the rambunctious deer on the right belong to Jack Davis, keeper of the zoo.

New Arrivals Add To Excitement On Monkey Island At Municipal Zoo

The Sanford Municipal Zoo community has been excited recently by several new arrivals, some strange, some quite natural.

The most peculiar new resident of the beautiful Lake Monroe is the beautiful Lake Monroe is the guinea. This creature you have probably never seen before, nor anything like him. He is the child of a camel and a llama and looks like nothing else in heaven or earth.

Recently purchased from a circus by Jack Davis, the guinea is accompanied by his pal, Billy, a goat, which climbs high wires for fun. Unfortunately there are no high wires as yet at the zoo, and very few wires at all, so Billy has not been able to practice up very much of late. However, according to Mr. Davis, it has climbed everything within reach, and would undoubtedly be only too ready to climb high wires again, if it had one.

The most exciting recent entries in the zoo's social register are the two young children of Billy, a Florida white tail deer, residing among the monkeys on Monkey Island. Huck and Joe, they are the youngest members of the zoo community, born June 11. They have not aroused quite so much curiosity among the anthropoid majority of the island as the birth of a previous fawn did last year, Mr. Davis revealed. Apparently, the monkeys are getting used to this sort of thing.

Another new arrival is a young grizzly bear raised from a cub by the mayor of South Daytona. This grizzly is not yet so fierce as the great grizzly tradition would lead us to believe he'll be one day, and he is happily at home in the bear denelle across the street from the police station.

By the way Peggy Ann, the famous dancing bear, was letting the newcomers know that he better watch his step, because when she dances only too often these people who had promised her a peanut for her trouble, went merrily on their way and tossed the promised peanut to those disgusting hunking geese across the way. Peggy Ann said she was thinking of cutting out this whole dancing affair if business didn't improve.

Former British Mata Hari Found Stabbed To Death

By HAL COOPER

LONDON — A beautiful Polish noblewoman who served brilliantly as a wartime British spy was found stabbed to death early today in a Kensington hotel.

Scotland Yard said a porter confessed to the killing.

The victim was Countess Krasyzna Skarbek, 37, who served in France in actual combat under the French Masurians and accomplished daring feats of sabotage against the Nazis.

Police brought Dennis G. Muldowney, 41, a porter, to court to be charged formally with murder.

Chief Inspector G. W. Jennings of Scotland Yard told the court that when he accused Muldowney, the porter blurted out: "Let's get away from here and get it over quickly."

Muldowney was ordered held for a hearing July 1.

Hotel guests who heard the countess screaming, "get him off me!" found her lying dead in a hall with a gaping knife wound in her chest.

The countess, who became a naturalized Briton in 1947, signed on the liner Winchester Castle six weeks ago as a stewardess. Recently she had been using the name "Christine Granville" — one of her pseudonyms in the days when she matched wits with the Nazi Gestapo.

A former beauty queen in her native Poland, the countess offered her services to British military intelligence at the outbreak of the war.

She was first sent to Hungary to set up communications with underground groups in Poland and occupied Central Europe. Twice she fell into the hands of the Gestapo, but escaped unaided.

Later she took parachute training and was dropped into France to work with resistance groups. She was officially credited with taking part in several actual battles against Nazi troops.

The slim, dark-haired noblewoman also directed underground sabotage teams which blew up bridges, derailed trains and raided various German headquarters.

The British government awarded her the George medal for valor and made her a member of the Order of the British Empire.

Ybor City Becomes 'Independent' With Joking Overtones

TAMPA — Ybor City is no longer a city within a city — it's a country within a country.

Ybor City is a predominantly Latin section of Tampa. Within a few days it has rocketed to a status where "it" has its own national flag, an air force (one plane), an army (all generals), a navy (all admirals), a delegate to the United Nations and a bureaucracy which can compare with that of the United States.

It all began when some one at an Ybor City Rotary Club meeting suggested the section should have an honorary mayor. Tony Pizzo, sales manager for a wine company, was elected.

He took it as a joke, but many people didn't. They began asking him for jobs, making complaints, and seeking all the kinds of help they normally address to Tampa's Mayor Curtis Ilixon.

No Pizzo decided he might as well do things right. He created a seal, spent half a day planning a flag which combined the colors of those of the United States, Cuba, Spain and Italy; and soon expanded his administration from mere city functions to those of a nation.

Now he's so busy he complains he doesn't have time to make a living. The more posts he creates, the more people get interested and want to have a part in this birth of a nation.

Must oxen produce wool as well as beef.

Taft said any such cut was impossible. President Truman said the same thing in a speech Saturday, and Kefauver said Eisenhower must have been thinking of something else when he made the remark.

But Eisenhower insisted he meant what he said: The cut could be made by reducing all government spending, including military outlays.

Taft made two other references to Eisenhower in his TV appearance. He said, like Eisenhower, he "has made no deals" and does not know of any political debts he owes. And he said he doesn't believe the general has won a single new delegate since his return from Europe early this summer.

Before setting out on a final drive for the GOP nomination, Eisenhower scheduled a relatively quiet day in Denver today.

MacArthur Is Unshackled By Army's Ruling

Five-Star General Is Not Subject To Restrictions Against Political Activity

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army today ruled in effect that Gen. Douglas MacArthur is not subject to regulations banning political activity by members of the armed forces.

The Army didn't mention MacArthur by name, but it issued a statement discussing the status of 5-star generals which made MacArthur's status clear.

The Army said when "officers holding this rank and not assigned any duties, they are considered to be in status similar to retired officers and therefore not subject to the prohibitions of A. R. 600-10 relating to political activities."

MacArthur's status had been widely discussed since he was selected as keynote speaker for the Republican National Convention in Chicago next month. The 5-star general has openly supported Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio for the Republican presidential nomination.

MacArthur has remained on the Army's active list but has not been assigned any specific duties since his ouster by President Truman as Far Eastern commander.

The Department of the Army in reply to queries from the press today made the following statement with respect to the obligation of A. R. 600-10 to persons in the Army who might engage in political activities:

"These regulations are designed to limit the political activities of persons who are engaged either in the formulation of military policy or in the execution of any of the tasks of the Army. They do not apply to retired persons who are specifically exempted from their provisions."

"The act of Congress approved June 25, 1949, provides expressly that officers of the Army appointed to the permanent grade of general of the Army do not have to retire."

Engineer Students Study Diesels At Vocational School

Thirty-five students in the diesel engineering section of the Sanford Vocational School are engaged in three full year courses preparatory to their graduation as engineers.

The engineering courses include the study of diesel engines and machinery and elementary and advanced physics. Three examinations must be passed by the students before they are full-fledged railroad engineers.

The courses are taught by three instructors during the day and three at night for the students who are employed during the day.

Although ordinarily all the pupils at the vocational school are adults, Mrs. Maxwell reported that present the school is busy providing make-up work for high school students and that the school also admits young people who for health reasons are unable to attend the public schools.

Adult classes in spelling, stenography and shorthand are provided at the school both during the day and at night. Mrs. Maxwell added, and a number of Navy men at the Sanford Naval Air Station are now students in these classes.

Mrs. Maxwell related the story of a number of adult veterans who wish to attend the school shortly following the war and who at that time could hardly read or write.

Now most of them, she said, are ready for high school, and one of whom, who had always been interested in machinery, is now reading very advanced books on physics.

The school also provides an employment bureau for stenographers, typists and bookkeepers. Mrs. Maxwell said that her only regret was that there are not usually enough students to fill the available jobs.

"DILLINGER," so-called by his pals, lies wounded on a Brooklyn, N. Y. street after he and two others were captured by Patrolman Raymond Herial. Though badly injured, Herial refused to quit after being dragged for two blocks, dangling from a window of the speeding auto. Herial's hand was caught when one of the men rolled the window on it as he reached inside for the driver's license after stopping the car for going through a red light. Steel Strike Is Figuring Deeply In U. S. Economy

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The 2-week-old steel strike showed deeper than ever into the nation's economy today as some plants making war munitions reported curtailments near because of a shortage of steel.

In addition to the 450,000 U.S. United Steelworkers, who walked out June 2 when the U. S. Supreme Court ruled President Truman had no right to seize the industry, more than 100,000 workers in allied industries are idle.

These include nearly 50,000 coal miners in seven states and more than 30,000 railroad employees employed by a dozen carriers.

Nearly 25,000 more are idle in industries dependent on steel. These include sailors on Great Lakes or boat, ore miners, coke workers, river boat crews, oil and gas pipeline workers, construction crews and workers in other steel-related fields.

Announcements that three companies will be forced to stop making munitions this week came as the government and the USW sought to work out a plan to start enough steel flowing from the struck mills to prevent a crippling halt in the production of weapons.

In Cleveland, Lemco Products Inc. said it was forced to halt making mortar shells today because of steel shortages and to lay off 600 employees on the shift.

Lemco had been producing 4,500 mortar shells a day.

The Ordnance Division of General Motors said a shortage of seamless steel tubing will force it to curtail production.

Brewster Of Maine Beaten In Vote Race

Veteran Solon Loses In Bid For Re-Election As Republican Nominee For Senate

By The Associated Press

The presidential race, already in somewhat of a lull, was overshadowed today by the Maine primaries in which Sen. Owen Brewster lost his bid for Republican renomination after 30 years in public life.

Brewster, 63, was defeated by Gov. Francis B. Cook on the basis of returns from all but eight of Maine's 625 precincts. Payne had a 3,000 vote margin and there were not enough votes uncounted to make up the difference.

Unofficial tallies gave Payne 68,485, Brewster 65,337.

Monday's total of 131,281 set a Republican senatorial primary record in Maine.

There were presidential campaign overtones to the Maine battle. Payne is a supporter of Gen. Dwight Eisenhower. Brewster is for Ohio Sen. Robert Taft—but the issue played little part in it.

Eisenhower and Taft, top contenders for the GOP presidential nomination, were slowed down in a walk after last week's furious quelling for delegate support.

Taft was in Washington, attending to his Senate duties. Eisenhower, in Denver, meets with convention delegations from three Western states—Colorado, Wyoming and Utah.

Of Colorado's 18 delegates, 15 are for Eisenhower, two are for Taft and one is for Harold Stassen of Minnesota first and Eisenhower second. Half of Wyoming's 12 delegates are for Eisenhower.

Bradley Says Reds Could Take Europe Now If They Wished

Anti-aircraft Is Being Set Up At Strategic Spots

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army today said it has set up anti-aircraft batteries to defensive positions about some strategic industrial plants, big cities and Air Force centers.

An announcement said the move "has no special significance" but it came on the heels of Air Force orders for an around-the-clock watch for possible enemy planes.

Civilian defense workers will keep the 24-hour watch, beginning July 15, Maj. Gen. Frederic H. Smith Jr., deputy director of the Air Defense Command, said it is necessary because "the Soviets have had the capability for some time to attack us."

The Army said it has deployed anti-aircraft units to field positions to provide "an increased state of operational readiness" for the nation's defense.

The exact locations of batteries were not disclosed, but the Army said they have been placed so as to "provide maximum defense against attack from any direction."

The announcement continued: "The move to on-site positions is a step in continuing the deployment of the United States air defense system."

The Army emphasized that units had moved to these positions periodically for more than a year and that the current move has no special significance.

"In the air defense setup, fighter interceptors will be the first to engage invading air bombers. Aircraft which get through the interceptors will be destroyed by anti-aircraft batteries near vital target areas."

Despite the increased effectiveness of the air defense system, it is expected that a determined attack would result in some enemy aircraft getting through to their assigned targets.

Smith's assertion that Russia has the capability of attacking the U. S. was made at a Pentagon news conference late Monday.

To which Gen. Nathan F. Twining, acting chief of staff for the Air Force, added:

"We can have no assurance of long range forecasting of a decision by the Kremlin to attempt an assault on us. The lack of a thorough 24-hour watch is a weak point in the first of the defense system."

Twining said intelligence is capable of launching at any time more than 400 engine bombers loaded with high bombs, atomic and otherwise, to blast all U. S. metropolitan industrial target areas.

The start of Operation Skywatch was announced late Monday.

MIAMI (AP) — Some 13,000 nobles, 111 bands, 300 horses, eight Missouri mules and scores of wood contraptions marched under a hot sun today in the first of three days of the Orange Bowl parade.

The 6-hour, 8-block procession from a point west of the main business district through the Orange Bowl, moved off at 9:30 a. m.

It proceeded so smoothly that Miami police assigned to the parade had little to do. Regular vehicular traffic flowed "easily," something that rarely happens during Miami's busy parades.

No cases of heat prostration were reported in spite of the sun. The 80-degree heat was tempered by a slight breeze off the ocean.

The crowd that watched the start of the huge parade wasn't as large as expected, but as the hours went by the number of spectators along Flagler Street and in the Orange Bowl increased by thousands.

Imperial Patentee Robert Gardner Wilson Jr., Boston, and other imperial dignitaries reviewed the procession from a tented city in the Orange Bowl.

At 11 a. m., the parade through the big stadium was interrupted while 300 homing pigeons were released in fly home with messages expressing the Shrine's hope for world peace.

Wilson released the first pigeon, which carried this message to the mayor of Boston:

"May tyranny, oppression, prejudice, selfishness and hatred among the great nations of the earth and among all mankind be put aside; and may eternal peace, throughout the world, be prayed and hope of all Shrinedom."

The other birds were released together. They circled the stadium, then headed northward in a single formation.

Top Military Strategist Emphasizes Deterrent Factor Of Atomic Superiority

WASHINGTON (AP) — This nation's top military strategist was on record today as saying Russia could overturn Europe now if the so-called "Reds" wished.

The statement was made by Gen. Omar N. Bradley, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, who added that he believes the Soviet Union has the capability to make a move against Europe for these two reasons:

1. The resources United States superiority in atomic weapons would make her pay a very different price at home for any such move.

2. She recognizes the United States superiority in atomic weapons would make her pay a very different price at home for any such move.

Bradley's statement was made at a secret session of a Senate appropriations subcommittee May 14. Maj. Gen. Frederic H. Smith Jr., deputy director of the Air Defense Command, said it is necessary because "the Soviets have had the capability for some time to attack us."

The Army said it has deployed anti-aircraft units to field positions to provide "an increased state of operational readiness" for the nation's defense.

Gifts To Worthy Causes Can Prove Business Headache

By SAM DAWSON
NEW YORK (AP)—Donating to worthy causes can run into a heap of money — as most businessmen who have tried the most worthy — and saying "No" without losing friends — can be a major headache for many companies.

Corporate contributions for charitable, health and educational purposes are estimated to run around 300 million dollars a year now, five times what it was 10 years ago.

This means that the nation's corporations as a whole are giving about three-fourths of one percent of their profits before taxes. Even so, the federal income tax law leaves room for contributions to grow. The law permits deductions for donations up to five percent of profit before taxes. At the present rate of corporate earnings, this five per cent could be around two billion dollars.

But if the U. S. Treasury should lose such money donated for charitable, health and educational purposes, so would the stockholders. And they have to be sold on the worthiness of the causes aided.

Increased contributions in the future — and many businessmen concede that they will increase — will result from many reasons:

1. The growing needs of an increasing population and expanding social programs, plus the swelling costs of operating charitable organizations.
2. The increasing awareness by businessmen of community responsibility.
3. The shrinking of private fortunes (once the mainstay of charity) under income and inheritance taxes, which make corporations the main source to which organizations can turn.

Some companies meet the problem of how to give by setting up foundations for the purpose. Ford and Sears, Roebuck are examples. Others set up annual contribution budgets, like the Jersey Standard Oil, take the burden off the shoulders of top executives by setting up a committee of officials with a full-time executive secretary. This committee submits a contribution budget annually to the board of directors.

The secretary, Claude L. Alexander, explained to a meeting of the National Industrial Conference Board how the Jersey Standard plan works.

The committee classifies organizations, reviews the work they do, and appraises the benefit to Jersey Standard, direct or indirect, that contributions to them might bring. The size of the donation is determined by a number of things, including these three:

1. Establishing the company's advantage from funds given educational institutions for research closely related to the oil company's activities.
2. Determining that contributions to hospitals and recreational facilities are used in areas where major plants are located, and that the employees will make substantial use of the facilities.
3. Supporting those charitable organizations that are highly regarded in the community.

For donations to organizations engaged in research and public education on national and international economic problems, the company has these rules of thumb: The organization must be really helping solve problems of the day. It must earn and hold the attention of top leaders of business, government and education. And, in turn, the leaders thus reached should be influencing public opinion and public policy.

Fishbein Of American Medical Association Suggests Calmness

By ALTON L. BLANKSLEE
Associated Press Science Writer
CHICAGO (AP)—A key for long life comes from Dr. Morris Fishbein, chief of the busiest men in the nation.

The key is imperturbability, or calmness. Plus five things you should keep low.

Dr. Fishbein is editor, author, lecturer, traveler, advisor, with perhaps a half dozen to a dozen projects going at one time. Today at the American Medical Association convention he took time out—he always seems to have time—to tell secrets for health and long life.

In London, he began, he was talking with Lord Horder, as famous in British medicine as Fishbein is here. Dr. Fishbein consulted Lord Horder on looking so well and being so active at 82.

"Lord Horder asked me, 'How old are you?' 'I'm 82,' I said. He leaned over the table and felt my pulse. 'You will live to be 100,' 'Wonderful, I replied, why?' And Lord Horder said, 'Because you have imperturbability.'

"I've practiced imperturbability since I was 10, I think. I think a person can practice it."

How do you become imperturbable?

A good volume of corn, celery and a fair volume of pepper and eggplant are expected to move this week. The market's fruit packing plant closed the 14th of June and others in the area planned to close," according to a report of the state market system summarized by William L. Other markets in the summary show that the Broker State Market moved approximately 25,000 units of bush beans, black-eyed and crowder peas, corn, pepper, watermelons, cantaloupes and eggplants during the first ten days of June. "The Fort Pierce State Market wound up one of its most successful spring seasons the past week. Lower prices prevailing during the peak of the season were offset by heavy yields reported by most growers and for the first time in the market's history growers were able to complete the harvesting of their tomatoes without being rained out," according to Manager M. E. Williams.

A total of 4,700 bushels of sweet potatoes moved over the Fort Myers State Market the past week with total gross receipts of $7,500. The deal has closed on this market for this season. "The Yellow sweet corn movement over the Starke State Market shows a sharp decline in volume over the same period last year by more than 9,000 crates and bags of five dozen to the unit. Beginning in May the movement was slow but has picked up to 3,000. Shipments from June 1 through June 9 this year totaled 37,331 units as compared to 31,765 units for the entire month of June 1951. A good volume of Bradford County's sweet corn goes into the Chicago market, where buyers are advertising it on television this season. Other commodities moving are bell pepper, black-eyed peas, medium beans, Fort Hook beans, Italy Lima, butterbeans and tomatoes.

"Volume on the Plant City Market dropped almost 50% under last week's on the Plant City State Market with only 40,743 packages of produce gross receipts to growers totaling $67,577.49. All commodities have declined rapidly in volume except eggplant and okra which showed a slight increase. Eggplant held the volume lead with 8,800 bushels of Fancy averaging $1.85, followed by letting Papa-san into the kitchen even for one day a month, opens a whole new world of Western life. The increases allowed range from a penny or two on small items to a dollar or more on furniture, radio and television sets. Doris Opal Jones Weds E. C. Lyons

Miss Doris Opal Jones of Orlando, formerly of Sanford, and Ernest C. Lyons of Longwood were united in marriage on Sunday at 4:00 o'clock in the Community Methodist Church at Casselberry.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Florence Jones of Daytona Beach, and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Roland C. Lyons of Longwood.

Rev. Darwin Sharp performed the double ring ceremony. The church was decorated with large arrangements of mixed gladioli, asters and fern. Jack Symons played nuptial music. The traditional wedding marches were used and "Because" formed a soft background for the exchange of marriage vows.

The bride wore a ballerina length white organza dress fashioned with a strapless tucked bodice and short jacket. The very full, bouffant skirt featured a wide band of tucking across the front. The fingertip veil fell from a white organza half hat with clusters of lily of the valley on each side. She carried an old fashioned bouquet of white carnations backed with scalloped lace.

Miss Barbara Roster, maid of honor, wore an ankle length gown of light blue taffeta with a full pleated skirt, molded bodice and wide off-shoulder collar. She carried an arm bouquet of radiance roses tied with pink streamers.

Fred B. Lyons, brother of the bridegroom, served as best man.

Following the wedding, Mrs. Viola Johnson and Miss Roster entertained at their home at 2005 Illinois Avenue in Orlando. A profusion of appetizing refreshments and glad tidings formed a lovely setting for the occasion. The bride's cake was served from one end of the table by Mrs. C. A. Anderson Jr. of Sanford and at the opposite end Miss Marie Anderson presided over the punchbowl. Other assisting the hostesses were Miss Betty Hall of Sanford and Miss Archie Jones of Orlando.

Mrs. Lyons was born in Lake Wales and attended schools in Sanford, graduating with the class of 1947. Since then she has been employed as a clerk with Florida Fishboats since its organization.

Blues Sign Infielder, Pitcher And Release Bill Godwin

Chuck Aleno Remains Suspended For 3rd Day While Parise

By KENT CHETLAIN

Bill striving to forestall a losing onslaught, the Seminole Blues called up fresh troops to replace some of their basebal weary veterans today with the announcement by the club's high command that a veteran infielder was signed to supplant second baseman Bill Godwin and a Puerto Rican fast baller has been called up to the colors.

Frank Santora, a youthful veteran of the class B Big State League will become the third player to fill the injured Johnny Imbra's shoes at a second base. This is a monumental task as "Chico" Corrales, who was shuffled off to the outfield, and Godwin found it difficult to fill the shoes of the late player. Meanwhile President Joel Field announced that the Blues had inked a rookie fireballer from Puerto Rico, Lewis Remeas in a first year man in the American pro ball ranks but is a veteran of the fast winter Puerto Rican loop.

The Seminole high command hinted that further changes were in the offing though failed to elaborate. It is no secret that the Blues are desperately seeking to solidify their forces for the counter-offensive in the second half. At this writing they have won 32 and lost 51 for a scant eight-point margin above the .500 mark. At one point in the season they had won 22 and lost 19 for a cool .700 percentage. Since that time Joel Field the Seminole high placed Cocca has had the last place Cocca Indians. The Sanford won-loss record for recent retreat reads 10-22 for a .313 mark, while Cocca has maintained a .355 percentage this year.

Meantime, Chuck Aleno's suspension has hurt the Blues in the last two games and League President John Krider announced that the giant third baseman is still on the suspended list. Some hope for local fans can be raised in the knowledge that all indefinite suspensions have at least three days and if Aleno should be extricated within this minimum period he would be ready to play tomorrow night against Daytona Beach in the last game of the first half.

Both General Manager Krider and President Field expressed their pleasure with today's acquisitions but were not going out on the limb to predict that Santora and Remeas can alone lift the Blues out of their doldrums.

Sea Birds Pick Up Full Game On Hats

The Jacksonville Beach Sea Birds crept within a game of the Florida State League lead Monday night when they slugged their way to a 14-8 victory over Daytona Beach while Palatka was beating first-place DeLand 5-3. Buster Kinard's home run smash with the bases loaded in the second inning, plus a double and two singles, led Jacksonville Beach hitting. Tom Mills won his 15th start for the Sea Birds, who got 20 hits. The DeLand Red Hats got 12 hits to Palatka's 11 but left 12 men stranded. Winning Pitcher Bascomb Hamm was relieved in the seventh by Cecil Hutson, who came in to put out a fire after DeLand scored twice and had a man on third.

The Herald is preparing to begin a fan poll to choose the players for the league all-star game slated to be played here on the night of July 25. We would suggest that you begin thinking about who you want to play for the North and the South teams. Palatka, Jax Beach, Daytona and DeLand will comprise the North club while the South will be made up of Sanford, Leesburg, Cocca and Orlando players.

Each fan will be given an opportunity to vote for the starting lineups and rosters of the two clubs. This will be the fans' game from start to finish. They will choose a manager for each club as well as a player for each position and three pitchers. The Herald will carry a ballot every day.

In this sportsmanship-FBI umpire Ken Burkhardt's car was filled with sand after Sunday's game and it is in the garage now being fixed. While fans may not agree with the decisions on the field by the arbiters, is this any reason to carry that grudge off the field and commit a crime? Willing an umpire's mistakes with sand is not the work of a man but a child no matter what age he is. After all an umpire is human just as we are and makes his mistakes. He shouldn't be subject to punishment for the errors he makes. He should be more than we are.

Another tragic twist has been added to the "rags-to-riches" back to rags" story of the Seminole Blues. Manager Chuck Aleno has been handed an indefinite suspension and the possibility of his return to the lineup is tinged by the rumor that he may have played his last game with the Blues.

It is the same old story, a manager must be the scapegoat for a losing ball club. Sanford doesn't imply that he is perfect nor his actions have helped the club all together. But as Zack Taylor, former St. Louis Browns manager, told us last spring, "A ball club is as good as its players and no better."

Aleno has been the power at the plate that paced Sanford on to 17 wins in 19 games during the early part of the season. His hitting is reflected in his domination in the all important run-batted-in department, in which he led the league at the time he Chuck Aleno was suspended. Chuck was well on his way to breaking the FBI record in that category.

Aleno was also tied for the league leadership in homers with Ed Levy at that time. Since the big winning streak Sanford has played miserable .323 ball after amassing a phenomenal .700 percentage. Certainly, the thing going wrong when a club loses and everyone is to blame, particularly a manager.

Some say that Aleno's propensity for arguments has caused him to lose control of the club and has worked against the best interests of the team. This might be correct. But as far as losing control of his club and losing the respect of the players, we must doubt this.

Only yesterday, Joe Parise said that we know Chuck is the best manager in this league. Aleno is too nice a fellow in our opinion, to have any of his players dislike or resent him. Then this leads to another common complaint against the giant manager; he is too easy going and doesn't demand more of his charges and that they should be practicing hunting in the mornings or afternoons when the club is playing here.

All these points are being discussed by the fans. We don't hope to know the solution to Sanford's problems. Some will say they have a solution and if so let's have it.

He thin as it may, every fan will admit that Aleno's loss will almost be irreplaceable. Where will the Seminole Blues get a power slugger to fill Aleno's shoes and bat? Any FBI pitcher will tell you that Aleno is the most dangerous slugger in the circuit. This may be debatable, but no one can dispute that if Aleno is fired it will be a hard thing to replace his mighty bat.

Ted Brooklyn Slams Grand-Slam Homer As Blues Fall To Packers, 12 To 7

I have had several inquiries in regard to clearing the Wekiva River, especially the hyacinth block at the bridge on Route 46. This is an eyesore to the public and especially the tourists.

This river could be made beautiful stream if opened and cleaned so boats could travel from the St. Johns River to the different springs including Sanlando, Wekiva and Rock springs. If the Wekiva was opened, it would be a help to Lake, Orange and Seminole counties, which it runs through. I believe if the county commissioners in each of these counties were asked they would help with this project.

Fred Smith of the Western Auto Supply said that some of the Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission biologists were of the opinion that the State Road Department would help clean the block at the river bridge on highway 46.

Lee Burton, Crescent City sports fisherman, craped the weekly award in the Jaycee Putnam county fishing contest last week when he entered the largest of 10 entries with an 8-pound, 11-ounce black bass captured on a crippled shiner from an inland lake. The bass was weighed in at Morning's Hardware Store in Crescent City.

Roy A. Lord, Evansville, Ill., landed the largest bass ever fished out in the past week, just an ounce and a half lighter than the winner's with an 8-pound 9 1/2-ounce taken on a live shiner from the St. Johns River while fishing out of Sportman's Lodge at Welaka.

The third largest bass last week came from the vicinity of the "Triple B" Lodge at Huntington by a lady angler, Betty Jean Schmidt of Crescent City. This bass was 8-pounds and 8-ounces just an ounce and a half behind the second biggest last week and was caught on a plugging shorty plug to give the first and third place winners last week to artificial plugs.

Last week was the 10th week of the three month rodeo and brings a total of 98 bass caught, weighing over the 6-pound limit to be entered in the contest which provides a weekly trophy for the largest bass, nine grand

All-Stars Of FFL Win 3 Of Last 4 In 7th Place Bid

The Florida International League All-Stars, who'll become the Key West Conchs on Friday, may yet climb out of the cellar.

The All Stars won their third game in four starts Monday night, whitewashing the St. Petersburg Saints, 6-0, to put them eight games back of the Lakeland Pilots who lost to Miami Beach, 3-2.

Tampa's Smokers whipped Miami, 4-1, to cut the Sun Sox lead to a game and a half, and West Palm Beach handed the Havana Cubans their fourth straight loss, 7-2.

Dick Haack on the hill for the homeless All-Stars, scattered eight hits and bested Clarence (Hooks) Iott, who gave up nine. The Saints made four errors and Haack didn't allow a runner to reach second after the second inning.

Miami Beach came up with three runs in the ninth, leading to Whitey Platt's homer. Lakeland had picked up one in the first on Charlie Glock's walk, followed by singles by Buddy Bates and Walt Kowalski. Kowalski doubled in the eighth and Gene Stewart singled him in.

Tampa routed Miami with four runs in the first on two costly errors, three walks, a hit batsman and two singles before Lowell Grosskopf relieved Starter E. Art Selas and put out the fire.

Alex Patterson scattered eight Havana hits and West Palm Beach racked up four runs in the first on two walks and four singles.

Thomson's Homers Are Creating Legends For New York Giants

er ball to Robby, made only one pitch—and he was charged with had been summoned to relieve Will the defeat. The rookie righthander Werle.

In contrast, the victory went to George Spencer, fourth Giant pitcher. He, too, made only one pitch. That was a double play delivery to Del Rice to end the top of the ninth. So we have the unprecedented situation in which two hurlers make one pitch each, one of which is credited with the victory while the other is charged with the defeat.

Pity the plight of poor Wayne Lamaster, who pitched for the Philadelphia Phillies some 15 years ago. He started a game against the Chicago Cubs on May 5, 1938. After three pitches, two balls and a strike to Leadoff Hitter Stan Hack, Lamaster complained of a pain in his arm and was replaced by Tom Reis. Hack drew a base on balls and eventually scored.

Chicago continued to pile up runs at an amazing pace against five Philly flingers and won 21-2. Who was charged with the defeat? Why, Lamaster, of course, since he was charged with the walk to Hack, who scored the run that put the Cubs in front.

In the only other game scheduled in the majors Monday, the Phillies edged out the last-place Pittsburgh Pirates, 5-4, to move into sixth place but the Boston Braves, a triple by Richie Ashburn and a long fly by Granny Hamner broke a 4-4 tie in the seventh.

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The major general who created a furor by saying that the Reds had the power to overrun Korea any time they chose was released today from active Army duty.

Retaining his National Guard commission, Gen. Daniel H. Hudson will return to his civilian job as an oil company executive. He left that post to train and lead California's 40th Infantry Division in the Korean War. Most members of the division are back in the United States.

Upon his return to this country, Hudson said the Communists have too much manpower for United Nations' forces in Korea and predicted the Reds would take over that peninsula if a truce is arranged.

High Army officials in Washington said his views were not shared by this nation's top military strategists.

THRIFT... AN OLD-FASHIONED VIRTUE

Keep it upped in your plans for...
SANFORD

STANDING OUTSIDE THE WHITE HOUSE, Ben Morse (left), president of Jones & Laughlin Steel Co., and Philip Murray, president of the CIO United Steelworkers, chat together during a recess in the Washington talks to end steel strike. A settlement was believed near following a report by Dr. John R. Steilman, acting Defense Mobilizer, that "some real negotiating" was going on.

HOLLYWOOD

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD — This interview with Glenda Farrell could be approached from four different angles:

1. Why she prefers New York to Hollywood.
The smart-cracking blonde who brightened many a Warner film in the 30s is back in Hollywood after a five-year absence. Now playing a role in "Apache Trail," she waxed nostalgic about the old days in pictures. But she hadn't missed the movie routine a bit.

"I have too much fun in the East," she said. "Whenever things get dull, I can always do television or a play. I don't miss my old pals, because I see more of them in New York than I would if I were here. You go to a restaurant in Hollywood and you don't see anybody but agents and producers."

"There's no social life here any more. The only time you see people is when someone throws a big party, and they can't afford to do that any more."

Another reason she chooses to live in New York, her husband, Dr. Henry Ross, has a big practice there. He's the fellow who came to treat her sore throat during a play and ended up by marrying her.

2. How she prefers the stage to movies.
Glenda is a battle-toughened veteran of the film business, but when her contract at Warner ended in 1949, she chose to make the stage her primary career again.

"I went through the mill here," she recalled. "I think I did 20 pictures in my first year at Warner. Sometimes I would be in three pictures that were shooting at the same time. It was good experience, but I preferred to go back to the stage."

"There's something more satisfying about working in a play. You get that immediate response from the audience, and you feel that your performance is your own. In pictures, you get frustrated because you feel you have no power over what you're doing."

"If you've built up a name, you can always go out every year and play summer theaters. And during the season I generally took any play that showed any promise. Even if it looks like a flop, some good might come of it. 'Life Begins' played only seven performances, but it was the show that got me my first movie contract."

3. How she likes television.
"I'm wild about it," she enthused. "I guess I've played about every dramatic show and I'm always doing a panel."

What about the rigors of live TV, which have caused many a movie name to swear they will only do TV on film?
"It's tough work, all right," she admitted, "but I love it. It's not easy for movie people, because they have to remember all their lines. Also, they have to learn how to conserve their energy so they can sustain a performance for an

WORK PLAN OFFERED
LANCASTER, Pa. — Two unusual proposals have been offered to employees of the Hearings Co. of America during negotiations for a new contract.

The company, which has not been struck, Monday offered Local 1035, United Steelworkers of America (CIO) a 5 per cent increase in male employees for each dependent child under 17 and a preferential hiring plan for widows of employees who die while actively working for the company.

There are some 330 production employees in the single company plant. The union did not indicate what action would be taken on the proposals.

DRAFT QUOTA SET
ST. AUGUSTINE (AP)—Maj. Gen. Vivian Collins, State Selective Service director, Monday said some 500 Floridians will be drafted in July.

He also said another 64 registrants who previously failed mental examinations will be re-examined during the month under a slightly lower standard.

The U. S. draft call for July is 31,000, all scheduled to be put in the Army.

to shut down its 3.5-inch rocket plant at Lansing, Mich., on June 23. A spokesman said, however, the company will continue production of 90-millimeter high-velocity tank cannon and loading up to produce internal working parts of the Sapphir jet aircraft engine.

In Detroit, it was reported the Ford Motor Co. may be forced to close down production of 1 1/2 million cars by the end of the week because of a shortage of tubing blamed on the steel strike.

Officials of the General Motors Corp.'s Cadillac tank plant at Cleveland said it has enough steel for from 10 days to two weeks of operation.

The government has been assured by Philip Murray, president of the CIO and the USW, "Count on us to produce the essential military products necessary to carry on our fight against the menace of Communist aggression."

Murray has directed a 4-man committee of the USW to help work out an acceptable plan for defense needs for steel. So far the government has announced no specific way of achieving this output, although it said a plan had been worked out to transport steel stored in truck warehouses to weapons manufacturers.

Plane Attack

It was jumped by the two Soviet fighters about 60 miles off the Soviet - held Estonian coast, in an area where the Russians are reported to be hiding vast sea and air munitions.

Six of the plane crew were flown back to Stockholm Monday night to appear before an inquiry board of high air force officials. The seventh, who had been shot in the arm, remained in a Hango hospital.

Editorials in Stockholm newspapers of all political shades bitterly assailed the Russian attack as "piracy," "gangsterism," and "senseless terrorism."

The Socialist Morgan-Tidningen, mouthpiece of the government, described it as a "crucel and senseless" act, "enraging the whole nation."
