

WORLD IN BRIEF

540 Quake Dead Counted; Toll Could Reach 4,000

BUCHAREST, Romania (AP) — The official earthquake death toll in Romania has risen to 540 dead although rescuers are finding a few survivors in the ruins. Most of the casualties are in the capital. Western diplomats estimate 4,000 persons may have died in Bucharest. Twenty deaths and 120 injured have been reported in Bulgaria and one death and more than 100 injured in Yugoslavia. The quake, which registered 7.2 on the Richter scale, was felt from Moscow to Rome.

Amin Hopes To Visit U.S.

KAMPALA, Uganda (AP) — President Idi Amin says he wants to improve relations with the United States and hopes to visit New York later this year. "President Carter one day will be one of my best friends," Uganda's ruler said Sunday in an interview with The Associated Press. CBS and NBC. Amin said he hopes to visit United Nations headquarters in New York this year.

Thousands Greet Elizabeth

CANBERRA, Australia (AP) — Queen Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh were greeted by about 3,000 people, including 18 busloads of children, when they arrived here today at the start of a three-week Australian tour.

The royal couple arrived by jet from New Zealand and was met by Sir John Kerr, governor-general. Also on hand to greet them was Prime Minister Malcolm Fraser.

Tight security included guard dogs around the airport perimeter.

NATION IN BRIEF

5 Senators File Bill For Campaign Tax

WASHINGTON (AP) — Decrying the increased flow of special interest money into congressional campaigns, five senators today introduced a bill to extend public financing to Senate races.

The new order challenge by the Oklahoma Publishing Co. took on added significance when the American Newspaper Publishers Association, in a friend-of-the-court brief, urged the justices to use the case to establish "perimeters" within which courts may issue prior restraints upon the press, if there is any such.

The court today did not go that far. The justices last November temporarily struck down the effects of the gag order issued by Oklahoma County Judge Charles E. Bailey, allowing the three newspapers owned by the Oklahoma Publishing Co. to report fully on the young boy's trial and sentencing.

The publishing firms own the Daily Oklahoman, the Oklahoma City Times and the Sunday Oklahoman.

Larry Donald Brewer, 11, was arrested last July and charged in the shooting death of an Oklahoma railroad switchman. The boy's name and picture were widely displayed by the local news media after reporters attended a preliminary hearing.

Halley then issued a pretrial order prohibiting further display, ruling that the boy's right to rehabilitation outweighed any freedom of the press considerations or the public's right to know.

The youngster was later convicted of delinquency by second-degree manslaughter. The Oklahoma Supreme Court ruled that reporters should not have been at that hearing since state law provides for secret proceedings for juveniles charged with criminal offenses.

The Seminoles County Board of County Commissioners, as prime sponsor for the Comprehensive Employment and Training Act of 1973 (CETA), as amended, request eligible agencies to submit a proposal to administer the Summer Youth Program for Seminoles County youth, ages 14 through 21. Proposal packages may be obtained from the following office:

Seminole County Manpower Division
Seminoles Plaza—Hwy. 17-92-424
Casefile 32787
Phone 831-4449

Eligible agencies are: Educational, governmental and community-based organizations. Complete proposal packages must be in the Manpower Division Office by Monday, March 14, 1977, 5:00 P.M. Proposals will be reviewed by the Youth Sub-Council of the Seminoles County Prime Sponsor Advisory Council and recommendations are made to the Board of County Commissioners.

SAVING THE RIVER

Boy Killer Name OK By Court

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court today struck down a decision by Oklahoma courts barring three Oklahoma City newspapers from publishing the name and picture of an 11-year-old boy charged in a shooting death.

The court's unsigned opinion was the first free-press decision since it ruled last June that prior restraints on reporting rarely could be justified and that judges must take all other available measures to insure fair trials before resorting to so-called "gag orders."

The high court said that an Oklahoma judge abridged freedom of the press by issuing his gag order. The court said the information barred from publication was obtained in a public hearing and could not be suppressed.

The gag order challenge by the Oklahoma Publishing Co. took on added significance when the American Newspaper Publishers Association, in a friend-of-the-court brief, urged the justices to use the case to establish "perimeters" within which courts may issue prior restraints upon the press, if there is any such.

The court today did not go that far. The justices last November temporarily struck down the effects of the gag order issued by Oklahoma County Judge Charles E. Bailey, allowing the three newspapers owned by the Oklahoma Publishing Co. to report fully on the young boy's trial and sentencing.

The publishing firms own the Daily Oklahoman, the Oklahoma City Times and the Sunday Oklahoman.

Larry Donald Brewer, 11, was arrested last July and charged in the shooting death of an Oklahoma railroad switchman. The boy's name and picture were widely displayed by the local news media after reporters attended a preliminary hearing.

Halley then issued a pretrial order prohibiting further display, ruling that the boy's right to rehabilitation outweighed any freedom of the press considerations or the public's right to know.

The youngster was later convicted of delinquency by second-degree manslaughter. The Oklahoma Supreme Court ruled that reporters should not have been at that hearing since state law provides for secret proceedings for juveniles charged with criminal offenses.

The Seminoles County Board of County Commissioners, as prime sponsor for the Comprehensive Employment and Training Act of 1973 (CETA), as amended, request eligible agencies to submit a proposal to administer the Summer Youth Program for Seminoles County youth, ages 14 through 21. Proposal packages may be obtained from the following office:

Seminole County Manpower Division
Seminoles Plaza—Hwy. 17-92-424
Casefile 32787
Phone 831-4449

Eligible agencies are: Educational, governmental and community-based organizations. Complete proposal packages must be in the Manpower Division Office by Monday, March 14, 1977, 5:00 P.M. Proposals will be reviewed by the Youth Sub-Council of the Seminoles County Prime Sponsor Advisory Council and recommendations are made to the Board of County Commissioners.

Friends of the St. Johns Inc. has kicked off a fundraising and public awareness campaign in its drive to help end pollution and other destructive actions along the route of the St. Johns, Florida's longest river. Among the initial contributors is Wayne Densch of Orlando (center) who gave $500 — to the pleasure of J. T. Turnipseed (left) and Jim Knight, officials of the group. Goal: minimum $30,000.

Boy Killer Name OK By Court

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court today struck down a decision by Oklahoma courts barring three Oklahoma City newspapers from publishing the name and picture of an 11-year-old boy charged in a shooting death.

The court's unsigned opinion was the first free-press decision since it ruled last June that prior restraints on reporting rarely could be justified and that judges must take all other available measures to insure fair trials before resorting to so-called "gag orders."

The high court said that an Oklahoma judge abridged freedom of the press by issuing his gag order. The court said the information barred from publication was obtained in a public hearing and could not be suppressed.

The gag order challenge by the Oklahoma Publishing Co. took on added significance when the American Newspaper Publishers Association, in a friend-of-the-court brief, urged the justices to use the case to establish "perimeters" within which courts may issue prior restraints upon the press, if there is any such.

The court today did not go that far. The justices last November temporarily struck down the effects of the gag order issued by Oklahoma County Judge Charles E. Bailey, allowing the three newspapers owned by the Oklahoma Publishing Co. to report fully on the young boy's trial and sentencing.

The publishing firms own the Daily Oklahoman, the Oklahoma City Times and the Sunday Oklahoman.

Larry Donald Brewer, 11, was arrested last July and charged in the shooting death of an Oklahoma railroad switchman. The boy's name and picture were widely displayed by the local news media after reporters attended a preliminary hearing.

Halley then issued a pretrial order prohibiting further display, ruling that the boy's right to rehabilitation outweighed any freedom of the press considerations or the public's right to know.

The youngster was later convicted of delinquency by second-degree manslaughter. The Oklahoma Supreme Court ruled that reporters should not have been at that hearing since state law provides for secret proceedings for juveniles charged with criminal offenses.

The Seminoles County Board of County Commissioners, as prime sponsor for the Comprehensive Employment and Training Act of 1973 (CETA), as amended, request eligible agencies to submit a proposal to administer the Summer Youth Program for Seminoles County youth, ages 14 through 21. Proposal packages may be obtained from the following office:

Seminole County Manpower Division
Seminoles Plaza—Hwy. 17-92-424
Casefile 32787
Phone 831-4449

Eligible agencies are: Educational, governmental and community-based organizations. Complete proposal packages must be in the Manpower Division Office by Monday, March 14, 1977, 5:00 P.M. Proposals will be reviewed by the Youth Sub-Council of the Seminoles County Prime Sponsor Advisory Council and recommendations are made to the Board of County Commissioners.

Heart Menu: Real Baboon Ala Barnard

CAPE TOWN, South Africa (AP) — South African heart surgeon Christian Barnard says he plans to transplant baboon hearts into humans as a temporary means of keeping a person alive in heart emergencies.

The plan appeared likely today to clash with beliefs of South Africa's powerful Dutch Reformed Church.

Barnard, who has specially tested baboons standing by at Cape Town's Groot Schuur Hospital, said over the weekend he would transplant a baboon's heart only as a last resort to save a patient's life.

The 53-year-old surgeon, who pioneered human heart transplants 10 years ago, said that because of rejection problems the baboon heart could give no more than a temporary respite to a dying patient.

"It (rejection) may take three or four weeks, but I'm not sure," Barnard said. But he estimated the temporary heart would beat long enough to allow the patient's own heart to make some recovery or to keep a patient alive until a suitable human heart became available.

The Rev. D. Beuka, moderator of the Reformed Church, to which most members of the ruling National Party belong, said the plan needed "careful consideration" by the church.

"One's first reaction is that it is not acceptable as it disregards the great difference the Lord made between man and ape when he created them," he said.

There was, he added, a "lot of difference" between the baboon plan and surgery which involved putting plastic valves into human hearts.

FLORIDA IN BRIEF

Killer Escapes Prison After Serving 26 Years

RAIFORD (AP) — Police watched throughout North Florida today for a man who escaped prison after serving nearly 26 years for killing a Jacksonville banker.

Col. W. M. Ellis, chief of guards at Union Correctional Institution, said Charles Bashlor, 43, slipped out a window in the prison's psychiatric ward early Sunday and scaled three fences to escape.

He was convicted of shooting and killing John E. Stephenson in August, 1951. The man's daughter testified that Bashlor had slipped into their Jacksonville home in an apparent early-evening burglary.

Bashlor was 16 when he was convicted. He was released from the Caloosahatchee River.

Investment Check Urged

TALLAHASSEE (AP) — With Gov. Askew and others scouting Europe to encourage investment in Florida, an economist says someone should monitor where the foreign money goes in the state.

"Public policy should not be made in ignorance," says Dr. Mira Wilkins of Florida International University.

She says present foreign investment reporting is required primarily in banking and insurance, and that the state doesn't try at all to keep track of money crossing the seas to buy Florida real estate.

Her report to Secretary of State Bruce Smathers suggests that investors might file something like annual reports corporations file with his office.

Alcohol Outkills Guns

MIAMI BEACH (AP) — Alcohol, not the handgun, is the real cause of about two thirds of this nation's murders, says Dade County's medical examiner.

"Drunken brawls result in death from gunfire, stabbing, strangling, beating with clubs and tools and other assorted means at hand," Dr. Joseph H. Davis told a seminar of clinical pathologists here Sunday. "Remove one weapon and another appears."

Davis said alcohol breeds violence in the home as well as in bars. He called for more study of alcohol-related homicides.

Davis spoke on opening day of a joint meeting of the American Pathologists and College of American Pathologists.

FLORIDA IN BRIEF

Killer Escapes Prison After Serving 26 Years

RAIFORD (AP) — Police watched throughout North Florida today for a man who escaped prison after serving nearly 26 years for killing a Jacksonville banker.

Col. W. M. Ellis, chief of guards at Union Correctional Institution, said Charles Bashlor, 43, slipped out a window in the prison's psychiatric ward early Sunday and scaled three fences to escape.

He was convicted of shooting and killing John E. Stephenson in August, 1951. The man's daughter testified that Bashlor had slipped into their Jacksonville home in an apparent early-evening burglary.

Bashlor was 16 when he was convicted. He was released from the Caloosahatchee River.

Investment Check Urged

TALLAHASSEE (AP) — With Gov. Askew and others scouting Europe to encourage investment in Florida, an economist says someone should monitor where the foreign money goes in the state.

"Public policy should not be made in ignorance," says Dr. Mira Wilkins of Florida International University.

She says present foreign investment reporting is required primarily in banking and insurance, and that the state doesn't try at all to keep track of money crossing the seas to buy Florida real estate.

Her report to Secretary of State Bruce Smathers suggests that investors might file something like annual reports corporations file with his office.

Alcohol Outkills Guns

MIAMI BEACH (AP) — Alcohol, not the handgun, is the real cause of about two thirds of this nation's murders, says Dade County's medical examiner.

"Drunken brawls result in death from gunfire, stabbing, strangling, beating with clubs and tools and other assorted means at hand," Dr. Joseph H. Davis told a seminar of clinical pathologists here Sunday. "Remove one weapon and another appears."

Davis said alcohol breeds violence in the home as well as in bars. He called for more study of alcohol-related homicides.

Davis spoke on opening day of a joint meeting of the American Pathologists and College of American Pathologists.

Trial Jumper Returned, Gets No Bail This Time

By BOB LLOYD Herald Staff Writer

A North Carolina truck driver has been returned to Sanford following her arrest by Altamonte Springs police on charges of retail theft, misdemeanor marijuana possession and felony possession of cocaine.

OTHER WEEKEND ARRESTS

In other weekend arrests, Casselberry police jailed Michael Ray Schultz, 18, of Winter Park, in lieu of $8,000 bond on a burglary charge.

Debbie Lynn Marshall, 21, of Orlando, was released from county jail on bond following her arrest by sheriff's detective Ralph Salerno on a circuit court warrant charging aggravated battery, petty larceny and attempted robbery.

Ida Mae Joyner, 48, of 401 Basewood Lane, Altamonte Springs, was jailed in lieu of $5,000 bond on an aggravated assault charge. Sheriff's deputy Robert O'Connor reported Ms. Joyner was arrested after a woman allegedly shot twice with a pistol and missed Dennis Cox, 35, during a domestic argument.

Deputies today are investigating the reported theft of a $2,400 Glitter Bug boat from an anchorage in Prairie Lake in south Seminole.

Gabriel J. Rhodes, of 716 Gladwin Ave., Fern Park, told deputy Randy Pittman that the 13-foot craft equipped with a 50-

Trial Jumper Returned, Gets No Bail This Time

By BOB LLOYD Herald Staff Writer

A North Carolina truck driver has been returned to Sanford following her arrest by Altamonte Springs police on charges of retail theft, misdemeanor marijuana possession and felony possession of cocaine.

OTHER WEEKEND ARRESTS

In other weekend arrests, Casselberry police jailed Michael Ray Schultz, 18, of Winter Park, in lieu of $8,000 bond on a burglary charge.

Debbie Lynn Marshall, 21, of Orlando, was released from county jail on bond following her arrest by sheriff's detective Ralph Salerno on a circuit court warrant charging aggravated battery, petty larceny and attempted robbery.

Ida Mae Joyner, 48, of 401 Basewood Lane, Altamonte Springs, was jailed in lieu of $5,000 bond on an aggravated assault charge. Sheriff's deputy Robert O'Connor reported Ms. Joyner was arrested after a woman allegedly shot twice with a pistol and missed Dennis Cox, 35, during a domestic argument.

Deputies today are investigating the reported theft of a $2,400 Glitter Bug boat from an anchorage in Prairie Lake in south Seminole.

Gabriel J. Rhodes, of 716 Gladwin Ave., Fern Park, told deputy Randy Pittman that the 13-foot craft equipped with a 50-

Action Reports

★ Fires

★ Courts

★ Police Beat

horsepower outboard motor was taken from the rear of his residence, according to sheriff's reports.

Bill Solitto of Air Ducts of Florida reported to deputies that more than 150 rolls of copper tubing, valued at $2,000, were stolen from a storage yard area on Markham Woods Road.

CHULUOTA VANDALS

Sheriff's deputies reported vandals smashed windows at three Chuluota businesses early today.

Windows were broken at the Rec Shack, Chuluota Barber Shop, and the East Seminole Co., all on Seventh Street, during a firestorming.

Sanford police today were investigating the reported theft of televisions valued at $800 from the Cowan-Moughton Terrace residence of Ralph Beasley. Patrolman D.L. Anderson reported a color television and a black and white model were listed as missing following a break-in at the residence.

Patrolman Ray Bronson reported weekend burglars entered Guy's House of Bar-B-Q at 2101 French Ave. through the roof and made off with $47 in coins.

LAB CHECKS ON ARSON

Investigators said today that evidence from an auto firebombing Friday night has been submitted to the Sanford Crime Lab for determination of what type flammable fluid was used.

Detective Tom Bernosky said a 1964 Ford Mustang parked at the 2401 Palmto Ave. residence of Michael David Lynch failed to ignite.

A second firebomb, apparently thrown under the auto, ignited and scorched the side of the auto before burning out, Bernosky said.

Bernosky said the firebomb apparently burned out without being noticed and was discovered Saturday morning. City fire officials said records show no response to the address on a car fire.

Bernosky said investigators so far have found no link between the auto firebombing and a firebomb thrown from a late-model, light-colored compact car at Idylwild Elementary School Friday night.

The device struck a culvert and burned out harmlessly, according to sheriff's deputies.

In Name Of Beauty

Woodrow Clark, azalea chairman of the Greater Sanford Chamber of Commerce, takes a moment to reflect on the success of Saturday's beautification program, in which 3,000 azaleas were sold at cost.

Clark estimates he "could have sold twice that many." Proceeds from the sale will benefit the beautification efforts of the chamber's Civic and Community Affairs Committee. No figures are available yet.

Food Stamp Line: Nery Experience

Juliano is accused of delivering five small packets of alleged hashish to a sheriff's agent on Jan. 24 in south Seminole, according to county jail records.

Karen Sue Huffman, 21, of 263 Spanish Trace Dr., Altamonte Springs, was arrested after a telephone call and found out what had to take with me when I applied for "Uncle Sam's coupons."

The eight-page application itself was mind-boggling. It required my name, address, such information as whether or not I was an American citizen, whether I had cooking facilities where I lived (those without them are ineligible for food stamps) and whether anyone in my household was presently on any drug-treatment program.

I demanded that I state my present income, anticipated income and any potential significant changes in my income situation.

Any changes? "I certainly hope so," I wrote. "I'm trying to get a job!"

My age, birthdate, Social Security number and all other pertinent details were also required. The application was only the first piece of paper required for the conference to determine my eligibility. Rent receipts, a photostat of my one monthly check, a copy of my utility bill were also required.

Probably the most humiliating thing was that I needed a letter from my mother. Because she had been loaning me the money to buy food and do other lesser things — like paying my light bill — I had to obtain a letter from her stating that the monies which she provided me were a loan, not a gift.

Having passed all the tests, I was immediately okayed for food stamps at no cost. They would be available to me after three days.

SOUTHFIELD, Mich. (AP) — One of the robbers who held a family at bay while ransacking their suburban Detroit home this weekend had heart — he paused to feed a crying infant before leaving.

Three or four men wearing ski masks burst into the home Saturday, bound three family members with telephone cords, placed bedsheets over them and searched the house for some 40 minutes, Southfield police said.

When a 6-month-old boy woke up crying, one of the bandits asked the family where the baby's bottle was kept, warned it, and fed the infant, said the family, which asked not to be identified.

Mother Sues Bank...It Let Girl Rob Her

MIAMI (AP) — Dot Rudolph says a banker offered her a toaster when he learned $124,000 was taken from her accounts without her knowledge.

Now the 66-year-old grandmother is suing for her money. Police say Mrs. Rudolph was widowed by a daughter who forged her name on withdrawal slips. The daughter, Ros Djo-kai, was convicted of forgery and spent three months at South Florida State Hospital.

"I should have known when I didn't get any statements from the bank," says Mrs. Rudolph. "Ros would always run out and meet the mailman."

Mrs. Rudolph says she deposited the money in 1970 when her husband died and an insurance company paid on his policy. She hid the savings books in an envelope under her mattress.

About that time Ros and her husband, Imer, moved in. Mrs. Rudolph says the two spent most of their time at the dog track, and told her they were winning. They went to Europe, and bought a car, she says.

Two classes of 40 children who through tests have been found to have learning disabilities, emotional handicaps or for various other reasons are available to work well in the average large classroom situation. The criterion for placement in the program is for the child to be at least two years behind his grade level in several areas of basic skills, such as reading, spelling, math, handwriting and language.

Pupils in the class are not frozen into the system but may move in and out of the special classes as their need changes. "The open door swings both ways," said Mrs. Gravelly. Children in the group may take some studies in regular classrooms as well.

The curriculum is individually designed to meet each child's needs and each

Admiring Little Red School House Award received by Woodlands Elementary School are (from left) Bobby Hohman, Kim Allen, teachers Mrs. Carole Reindl and Mrs. Martha Gravelly, Elizabeth Aguilera and Roger Happ.

Impact Class Wins Woodlands Award

By JANE CASSELLBERRY Herald Staff Writer

Woodlands Elementary School, Longwood, has received the Little Red School House Award for its impact pilot program initiated this year by fourth and fifth grade teachers Mrs. Carole Reindl and Mrs. Martha Gravelly.

The award presented to Principal Herbert Heckenbach by State Commissioner of Education Ralph Turington at the Florida Elementary School Principals conference last week in Daytona Beach, was only given to 10 schools in the state. Woodlands is the first Seminole County School to receive the award, which is given in recognition of schools which have found a local need and have come up with a program to meet it, using local resources.

The teachers have in their

Mother Sues Bank...It Let Girl Rob Her

MIAMI (AP) — Dot Rudolph says a banker offered her a toaster when he learned $124,000 was taken from her accounts without her knowledge.

Now the 66-year-old grandmother is suing for her money. Police say Mrs. Rudolph was widowed by a daughter who forged her name on withdrawal slips. The daughter, Ros Djo-kai, was convicted of forgery and spent three months at South Florida State Hospital.

"I should have known when I didn't get any statements from the bank," says Mrs. Rudolph. "Ros would always run out and meet the mailman."

Mrs. Rudolph says she deposited the money in 1970 when her husband died and an insurance company paid on his policy. She hid the savings books in an envelope under her mattress.

About that time Ros and her husband, Imer, moved in. Mrs. Rudolph says the two spent most of their time at the dog track, and told her they were winning. They went to Europe, and bought a car, she says.

Two classes of 40 children who through tests have been found to have learning disabilities, emotional handicaps or for various other reasons are available to work well in the average large classroom situation. The criterion for placement in the program is for the child to be at least two years behind his grade level in several areas of basic skills, such as reading, spelling, math, handwriting and language.

Pupils in the class are not frozen into the system but may move in and out of the special classes as their need changes. "The open door swings both ways," said Mrs. Gravelly. Children in the group may take some studies in regular classrooms as well.

The curriculum is individually designed to meet each child's needs and each

Admiring Little Red School House Award received by Woodlands Elementary School are (from left) Bobby Hohman, Kim Allen, teachers Mrs. Carole Reindl and Mrs. Martha Gravelly, Elizabeth Aguilera and Roger Happ.

Impact Class Wins Woodlands Award

By JANE CASSELLBERRY Herald Staff Writer

Woodlands Elementary School, Longwood, has received the Little Red School House Award for its impact pilot program initiated this year by fourth and fifth grade teachers Mrs. Carole Reindl and Mrs. Martha Gravelly.

The award presented to Principal Herbert Heckenbach by State Commissioner of Education Ralph Turington at the Florida Elementary School Principals conference last week in Daytona Beach, was only given to 10 schools in the state. Woodlands is the first Seminole County School to receive the award, which is given in recognition of schools which have found a local need and have come up with a program to meet it, using local resources.

The teachers have in their

When special help is needed

People turn to us at a time when they're confused and at a loss. Our purpose is to understand their needs and do everything for them that we can.

Where to go for all the information you need about your new community.

HARRIET DEAS JEAN BRYANT 834-912 Sanford

SHIRLEY MILLETT 834-912 Casselberry/Winter Springs

Forest City Altamonte Springs Longwood

RUTH TUECH 834-912 Altamonte Springs Longwood (E-51)

KAYE TALMADGE HILDA RICHMOND 743-147 Deltona

GRAMKOW FUNERAL HOME 130 WEST AIRPORT BOULEVARD SANFORD, FLORIDA TELEPHONE 322-3213 WILLIAM J. GRAMKOW

Monday, March 7, 1977—Vol. 69, No. 169

Published Daily and Sunday, except Saturday and Christmas Day, by The Sanford Herald, Inc., 706 N. French Ave., Sanford, Fla. 32771.

Second Class Postage Paid at Sanford, Florida 32771.

Home Delivery: 35 cents. Month, $2.40. 6 Months, $12.70. Year, $22.40. By Mail: In Florida same as home delivery. All other mail: Month, $2.70. 6 Months, $14.20. 12 Months, $27.40

STOP ANNOYING NOISES WATER MASTER

Thrust-Back Callor TOILET TANK BALL

FUNERAL NOTICE</

Monday, March 7, 1977—4A

WAYNE D. DOYLE, Publisher
NORMAN H. OSHRIN, Editor
JOSEPH D. VAN BRACKLE, Advertising Director

Home Delivery: Week, 55 cents; Month, $1.40; 6 Months, $14.20; Year, $28.40. By Mail: In Florida same as home delivery. All other mail: Month, $2.70; 6 Months, $16.20; 12 Months, $33.40.

Conditions Set On Cuban Talks

Secretary of State Cyrus Vance had barely been sworn in before he hinted at a major change in U.S. policy toward Cuba. Washington, he said, is now ready to talk to Havana about a resumption of normal relations "without preconditions."

This would be an abrupt turn-around from the Cuban policy inherited from the Ford administration. Although former Secretary of State Henry Kissinger had been quietly trying to break the ice in 1975, that effort came to a halt when Cuban troops turned up in Africa helping the Soviet-backed faction in the Angolan civil war.

Vance's hint seemed to be buttressed by the now-celebrated remark of U.N. Ambassador Andrew Young in Africa — an observation that Cuban forces were bringing "a certain stability and order" to Angola. Young later managed to soften the implications of what he said, but we were left with an impression that the Carter administration was looking at Cuba and Fidel Castro in a new light.

That was before President Carter was questioned about Cuba during a recent appearance before Agriculture Department employees. Having heard from the President himself on the subject, we're faced with another case of ambiguity in his foreign policy.

Yes, said Mr. Carter, he is ready to move toward normalizing relations if Cuba stops being an "aggravating influence" in other countries of the Western Hemisphere, stops participating in violence overseas (i.e., Africa), and ends the suppression of human rights within Cuba.

If those aren't "preconditions, what are they?" In fact, they are virtually the same preconditions that have stood for years during the ebb and flow of interest in changing our Cuban policy.

What may be new is Mr. Carter's reference to human rights — in keeping with his new concern with that subject in Eastern Europe and the Soviet Union. That Castro might soften his police-state rule in Cuba to court American favor has been the most far-fetched of hopes. Our diplomats in the past would have settled for changes in his foreign policy.

All of this is hard to square with the opinion of Rep. Jonathan Bingham of New York, who just returned from a visit to Cuba, that "the ball is in our court" to make the move that would start a new U.S.-Cuban dialogue.

Castro told the congressman that the first step he is waiting for is lifting of the U.S. trade embargo. Since that is the "step" from which Cuba has the most to gain, we would place it well down the line.

Our guess is that Mr. Carter would, too. If there is a ball in the air, it is heading toward the Cuban court — and it looks very much like the serves Fidel Castro has refused to return in the past.

Amin A Liability

The bids of the developing nations of Africa for global assistance and cooperation in achieving economic stability are jeopardized by repeated evidence of political instability on the part of some Third World leaders.

President Idi Amin of Uganda has contributed to his own unenviable reputation among international critics. The recent charge that he was responsible for the alleged assassination of three individuals accused of plotting Amin's ouster is only the latest incident in what the International Commission of Jurists in Geneva called "a consistent pattern of gross violations of human rights in Uganda."

Andrew Young, U.S. ambassador to the United Nations, said Amin's actions are examples of "malicious and sadistic elements... that must be confronted."

At the same time, he added, "policy of good will in every society... need to be encouraged."

The people of Uganda must make the ultimate decision on a move to progressive leadership.

And the forward-looking Third World countries can use their considerable clout in the United Nations to spotlight the urgency.

BERRY'S WORLD

"I'm really just a nobody, but my 'blesser' makes me FEEL important!"

Around

The Clock

BY AUDIE MURPHY

I was so impressed by the television special "Roots" that I recently decided to investigate my own family's background.

After several days of rigorous research, and after talking with a certain leprechaun who has been hanging around my family for 900 years, I can now publish my findings:

The year was 1794. My ancestor Toby Murphy was walking in the woods on the coast of Ireland. He was searching for a Bonga tree to make a drum. Because there were no Bonga trees in Ireland, he had been searching in vain for six months.

Suddenly Toby was pounced upon by white slavers. They tied him up and forced him to accompany them to their ship, where he was forced to climb to the crow's nest. He had to spend the entire journey to America in that crow's nest, which was very crowded with crows and eggs, etc.

Once in America, Toby was sold to a man named Schwartz, who was in the garment business. Mr. Schwartz was a very cruel man. He tied up Toby and logged him with a tape measure.

"What is your name?" Mr. Schwartz snarled. "Toby," my ancestor replied, only to be flogged some more.

"From now on your name is Muhammad Ali," said Mr. Schwartz, who liked exotic names. Toby (or Muhammad, as Mrs. Schwartz called him) was a good worker. He worked in the garment factory, loading racks of clothes — coats, pants, jackets, etc. — onto wagons.

"Watch where you're going, you jerk-in-carrier," the drivers would tell him. Later this was shortened to, "Watch where you're going you jerk!"

Finally Toby found his opportunity, and he escaped. He ran away to New Jersey, where he opened a used-horse business. He married, and had a daughter, whom he called Tizzy.

Tizzy was a very bright little girl, and after high school she went on to college, majoring in engineering. Inspired by her father's tales of the garment business, she designed a very tight-fitting corset for women. This garment became very popular, and eventually whenever a woman became flushed and hysterical, people would whisper that she was "in a tizzy."

Tizzy had a son, Ronald, who changed his name to William Fillmore. He became President of the United States, and was never heard from again.

But Ronald had an illegitimate son, who came to be known as Chicken John. Fred would say "I could cure him, but I need the eggs."

Fred was later sent to prison for stealing jokes from Milton Berle.

Before Chicken John uttered his last catch, he managed to father a daughter, who was to become my grandmother, Gloria Steinem.

Such is the history of my family, and it is a proud history. It is a history that shines like a beacon among the tangled genealogy of mankind.

And it is a history that will be continued by my son: Alex Haley.

'NOT EXACTLY PEANUTS' IN A NUTSHELL, MR. PRESIDENT, HERE'S WHAT NEW YORK CITY NEEDS...

JOHN CUNIFF

Cents-Off Coupons Pay Off

NEW YORK (AP) — If present trends continue, Americans will receive more than $6 billion in cents-off coupons this year, delivered to them by their newspapers and magazines, in the mail and on products themselves.

Two-thirds of American households are said to be interested in coupons. At least 45 billion of the certificates are expected to be distributed this year and, depending on the definition, maybe even 70 billion.

While only a small percentage of these will find their way back to the issuer, the amount of money returned to customers won't be small. Last year it came to around $300 million, based on an average redemption value of 14 cents.

The poor save coupons, but the rich apparently do so more assiduously. Children save them from product boxes. Office-drinkers save them, and recently were still getting 40 cents off on the instant product.

Newspaper readers are expected to them as in a number of cases. Last year, according to A. C. Nielson Co. Clearing House, 74 per cent of all coupons were delivered by newspapers, sometimes in whole pages of coupons worth 17.5.

In truth, America has become a nation of coupon clippers, with more than 200 distributed for every man, woman and child, and a total of more than 3 billion redeemed in a year.

Do retailers like them? Some don't, of course, but others look upon them as a source of income.

JACK ANDERSON

American Youth Problem: Junk Diets

WASHINGTON — The exemplar of American manhood is a harassed family man, with a paunch hanging over his belt buckle. His doctor has warned him to watch his diet. But because of a lifetime of poor eating habits, it may be too late.

The seduction of the young starts early with baby foods. Infants acquire a taste for salt and sugar, which are added to commercial baby foods. These seasoners are added more to appease the taste buds of the parents than the baby. Some baby food companies are now removing sugar and salt from their products. But Gerber, who stands himself with too much salt, fat, sugar and cholesterol.

Measured in calories, Americans are the best-fed people in history. Yet they are suffering, ironically, from acute malnutrition. The lack of wholesome foods in the midst of plenty, warns a Senate study, "may be as profoundly damaging to the nation's health as the widespread contagious diseases of the early part of the century."

An investigation by our reporters, including a visit to the futuristic food factory that packages lunches for Army Carter's school, indicates that

American pick up their poor dietary habits as small children. The food industry pushes its best junk foods on children, like a neighborhood heroin dealer, while the government watches passively.

The selection of the young starts early with baby foods. Infants acquire a taste for salt and sugar, which are added to commercial baby foods. These seasoners are added more to appease the taste buds of the parents than the baby. Some baby food companies are now removing sugar and salt from their products. But Gerber, who stands himself with too much salt, fat, sugar and cholesterol.

Measured in calories, Americans are the best-fed people in history. Yet they are suffering, ironically, from acute malnutrition. The lack of wholesome foods in the midst of plenty, warns a Senate study, "may be as profoundly damaging to the nation's health as the widespread contagious diseases of the early part of the century."

An investigation by our reporters, including a visit to the futuristic food factory that packages lunches for Army Carter's school, indicates that

DON OAKLEY Will Carter Have Payoff, Secrets, Too?

All the world now knows that the Central Intelligence Agency made secret cash payments to eight, 10 or maybe a dozen foreign heads of states or national leaders. In the case of King Hussein of Jordan the "financial relationship" ended over a period of 30 years.

The Republic has not fallen. Soviet tanks are not rumbling in the streets of Washington.

The same information would have been available to Americans seven years ago in a book called "The CIA and the Cult of Intelligence," written by Victor Marchetti, a former CIA official, and John D. Marks, a former State Department officer. Would have been, then, had it not been for the fact that the CIA is a secret agency, and its activities are not to be disclosed to the public.

What the Republic has fallen then, or Soviet tanks have rumbled in the streets of Washington? Evidently the club believed the danger to the national security was great enough to warrant one of the rare instances of press censorship in our history. No doubt the CIA would still be preventing disclosure of the information if it could.

The truth will out, as they say, and although the named recipients have to be mentioned, the allegations, such as they are, are not the result of a civil suit brought against the authors by the CIA.

Would the Republic have fallen then, or Soviet tanks have rumbled in the streets of Washington? Evidently the club believed the danger to the national security was great enough to warrant one of the rare instances of press censorship in our history. No doubt the CIA would still be preventing disclosure of the information if it could.

The truth will out, as they say, and although the named recipients have to be mentioned, the allegations, such as they are, are not the result of a civil suit brought against the authors by the CIA.

Would the Republic have fallen then, or Soviet tanks have rumbled in the streets of Washington? Evidently the club believed the danger to the national security was great enough to warrant one of the rare instances of press censorship in our history. No doubt the CIA would still be preventing disclosure of the information if it could.

The truth will out, as they say, and although the named recipients have to be mentioned, the allegations, such as they are, are not the result of a civil suit brought against the authors by the CIA.

Would the Republic have fallen then, or Soviet tanks have rumbled in the streets of Washington? Evidently the club believed the danger to the national security was great enough to warrant one of the rare instances of press censorship in our history. No doubt the CIA would still be preventing disclosure of the information if it could.

The truth will out, as they say, and although the named recipients have to be mentioned, the allegations, such as they are, are not the result of a civil suit brought against the authors by the CIA.

Would the Republic have fallen then, or Soviet tanks have rumbled in the streets of Washington? Evidently the club believed the danger to the national security was great enough to warrant one of the rare instances of press censorship in our history. No doubt the CIA would still be preventing disclosure of the information if it could.

The truth will out, as they say, and although the named recipients have to be mentioned, the allegations, such as they are, are not the result of a civil suit brought against the authors by the CIA.

Would the Republic have fallen then, or Soviet tanks have rumbled in the streets of Washington? Evidently the club believed the danger to the national security was great enough to warrant one of the rare instances of press censorship in our history. No doubt the CIA would still be preventing disclosure of the information if it could.

The truth will out, as they say, and although the named recipients have to be mentioned, the allegations, such as they are, are not the result of a civil suit brought against the authors by the CIA.

Would the Republic have fallen then, or Soviet tanks have rumbled in the streets of Washington? Evidently the club believed the danger to the national security was great enough to warrant one of the rare instances of press censorship in our history. No doubt the CIA would still be preventing disclosure of the information if it could.

The truth will out, as they say, and although the named recipients have to be mentioned, the allegations, such as they are, are not the result of a civil suit brought against the authors by the CIA.

Would the Republic have fallen then, or Soviet tanks have rumbled in the streets of Washington? Evidently the club believed the danger to the national security was great enough to warrant one of the rare instances of press censorship in our history. No doubt the CIA would still be preventing disclosure of the information if it could.

The truth will out, as they say, and although the named recipients have to be mentioned, the allegations, such as they are, are not the result of a civil suit brought against the authors by the CIA.

Would the Republic have fallen then, or Soviet tanks have rumbled in the streets of Washington? Evidently the club believed the danger to the national security was great enough to warrant one of the rare instances of press censorship in our history. No doubt the CIA would still be preventing disclosure of the information if it could.

The truth will out, as they say, and although the named recipients have to be mentioned, the allegations, such as they are, are not the result of a civil suit brought against the authors by the CIA.

Would the Republic have fallen then, or Soviet tanks have rumbled in the streets of Washington? Evidently the club believed the danger to the national security was great enough to warrant one of the rare instances of press censorship in our history. No doubt the CIA would still be preventing disclosure of the information if it could.

The truth will out, as they say, and although the named recipients have to be mentioned, the allegations, such as they are, are not the result of a civil suit brought against the authors by the CIA.

Would the Republic have fallen then, or Soviet tanks have rumbled in the streets of Washington? Evidently the club believed the danger to the national security was great enough to warrant one of the rare instances of press censorship in our history. No doubt the CIA would still be preventing disclosure of the information if it could.

Citrus Winner Gary Koch Wins On 'Own Playground'

ORLANDO (AP) — Gary Koch set out on the pro golf tour this year with a two-goal in mind — one of an immediate nature, one more far-ranging.

"I wanted to win a tournament and make the top 60 money-winners for the year," the slender Koch said. "More importantly, I wanted to continue to improve."

"I'm awful young, only 24. I figure if I can continue to improve every year, then by the time I'm 27 or 28 or 29, well, I ought to be just fine, be in fine shape."

He achieved that immediate goal — a tour victory and an almost-certain grasp on a spot in the top 60 money-winners — with his two-stroke triumph and the 40,000 first prize Sunday in the friendly, familiar confines of the 6,200-yard Rio Pinar Country Club course, a favorite playground for Koch since the age of nine.

And the victory, his second in as many years on the tour, put him firmly on the road to that long-range goal of continued improvement and placed him solidly among the seemingly endless ranks of the emerging young men who are turning the rich turf into their own private playground. Throw out Jack Nicklaus, and the average age of the winners this year is 25.7.

"I can't think of anyone I'd rather win than here in central Florida," said Koch, a resident of nearby Temple Terrace, Fla., a product of the University of Florida whose legions of alumni followed Koch with almost constant cries of "Go, Gators, Go."

He won it with a gritty, last-second, two-under-par, and a 274 total over the hot, humid, heavily-wooded Rio Pinar course. That's where he played his first competitive tournament, at the age of nine and the site of his victory, at 15, in the national pee-wee competition. Koch started the year with a two-stroke advantage and never relinquished the top spot despite challenges from Joe Inman and South African Dale Hayes.

Hayes, who carried two putters in his bag, and the fidgety Inman, each with a clogging 68, tied for second at 276.

Steve Melnyk was fourth, his best finish in years, with a 68-77. At 278 were Bob Zender, Victor Regalado of Mexico, and Zender had 71a, Regalado a seven-under-par 65. Masters champ Ray Floyd was 69-80, with other established stars well back. Defending title holder Hale Irwin was 75-86, Arnold Palmer 75-87 and Les Trevino, in his second start since major back surgery last year, was out of the money at 76-95.

Gary Koch, 140,000 10-99-65-70-74 Date Hayes, 118,500 71-69-68-68-71a Joe Inman, 118,500 68-69-71-68-76 Steve Melnyk, 95,000 72-68-69-68-77 Graham Marsh, 52,500 72-68-69-68-77 Bob Zender, 52,500 70-69-68-71-78 68-67-71-71-78 Vic Regalado, 52,500 67-74-72-65-71a Bill Rogers, 55,900 68-67-71-67-77 Mike Reid, 54,266 71-67-67-70-70 Dale Douglass, 54,266 69-71-67-69-70 Bill Kratzert, 54,266 70-73-68-69-70 Ray Floyd, 54,266 71-70-70-69-70 Grier Jones, 54,266 71-73-67-69-70

By The Associated Press
Bernard King, Tennessee's two-time All-Southeastern Conference basketball star, says the Vols have started a trend.

"I just don't think Kentucky can beat Tennessee anymore," King said Saturday after the Vols overcame an 11-point second-half deficit to trim the second-ranked Wildcats 91-89 and virtually clinch the SEC's berth in the NCAA Midwest Regional tournament.

"It's no longer luck," King said of the 11th-ranked Vols fifth consecutive victory over Kentucky. "It's confidence and ability."

The regionally televised battle left the two SEC giants in a deadlock for the conference lead at 15-2, with each favored to win regular season finales tonight.

Tennessee will entertain cross-state rival Vanderbilt and Kentucky will visit Georgia. In the event of a tie tie, Tennessee would win the Midwest berth by virtue of its two victories over the Wildcats this season.

"We've got great confidence when we play Kentucky," said Vol Coach Ray Mears. "When they got us down 11 we could have cracked. We were darn close to cracking. Another basket or two by them and we'd have probably been out of it."

Instead, point guard Johnny Duren triggered a deadly fast break and King, who had a game-high 36 points, destroyed the Wildcats inside.

NEW YORK (AP) — "It was the end of an era when Red Holzman said he won't be back next season," Willis Reed said sofly. "Almost from the beginning until now, he has been basketball."

Holzman, who has been around the National Basketball Association every year since 1948, announced Saturday that he will step down at the close of this season.

NEW YORK (AP) — "It was the end of an era when Red Holzman said he won't be back next season," Willis Reed said sofly. "Almost from the beginning until now, he has been basketball."

Holzman, who has been around the National Basketball Association every year since 1948, announced Saturday that he will step down at the close of this season.

NEW YORK (AP) — "It was the end of an era when Red Holzman said he won't be back next season," Willis Reed said sofly. "Almost from the beginning until now, he has been basketball."

Holzman, who has been around the National Basketball Association every year since 1948, announced Saturday that he will step down at the close of this season.

NEW YORK (AP) — "It was the end of an era when Red Holzman said he won't be back next season," Willis Reed said sofly. "Almost from the beginning until now, he has been basketball."

Holzman, who has been around the National Basketball Association every year since 1948, announced Saturday that he will step down at the close of this season.

NEW YORK (AP) — "It was the end of an era when Red Holzman said he won't be back next season," Willis Reed said sofly. "Almost from the beginning until now, he has been basketball."

Holzman, who has been around the National Basketball Association every year since 1948, announced Saturday that he will step down at the close of this season.

NEW YORK (AP) — "It was the end of an era when Red Holzman said he won't be back next season," Willis Reed said sofly. "Almost from the beginning until now, he has been basketball."

Holzman, who has been around the National Basketball Association every year since 1948, announced Saturday that he will step down at the close of this season.

NEW YORK (AP) — "It was the end of an era when Red Holzman said he won't be back next season," Willis Reed said sofly. "Almost from the beginning until now, he has been basketball."

Holzman, who has been around the National Basketball Association every year since 1948, announced Saturday that he will step down at the close of this season.

NEW YORK (AP) — "It was the end of an era when Red Holzman said he won't be back next season," Willis Reed said sofly. "Almost from the beginning until now, he has been basketball."

Holzman, who has been around the National Basketball Association every year since 1948, announced Saturday that he will step down at the close of this season.

NEW YORK (AP) — "It was the end of an era when Red Holzman said he won't be back next season," Willis Reed said sofly. "Almost from the beginning until now, he has been basketball."

Holzman, who has been around the National Basketball Association every year since 1948, announced Saturday that he will step down at the close of this season.

Lyle, Yankees In Pact Hassle

By The Associated Press
Sparky Lyle says he isn't signed by opening day but he won't play his option. He just won't play his option.

The New York Yankees' left-handed relief ace arrived in camp Sunday — almost a week late — and met twice with club president Gabe Paul while the rest of the American League champs worked out.

Why didn't he suit up? "Why should I?" Lyle wanted to know. "They're going to have to do something one way or the other first."

The Yankees originally offered Lyle the same $90,000 he received last year. Sunday, Paul raised the offer to an estimated $250,000 for '76 years.

"They're not even close to what I want," said Lyle, who is a rising $500,000 over three years. "I told Gabe I'd play for the same thing I got last year for the next three years, but he said I want guaranteed for when I'm out of baseball in the problem. I want guaranteed money that's going to be there come hell or high water, if the club is defunct or not."

What else did the 32-year-old Lyle tell Paul? "I said I either wanted to agree with them or be traded by the time the season starts. One thing I don't want to do is play out my option. I will not play here without a contract. If they haven't signed me or they haven't traded me, I won't play when the season starts. That's it in a nutshell."

The Yankees also are having salary problems with starting pitcher Doc Ellis, a 37-game winner.

"Their offer," said Ellis' lawyer, Tom Reich, "is less than the average salary being paid to a rotation pitcher on a winning team."

Meanwhile, California Angels' Tom Seaver, who is being offered a $1.5 million contract, is also having trouble with his option.

All we know is that the revelations restate one of the most difficult questions that can face a democracy: How far can a free nation go in defending itself against its enemies before it risks destroying the very bedrock principle on which it is founded, the principle that government ultimately rests upon the informed consent of the governed?

At a handling fee of 5 cents a coupon, large supermarkets might take in $250 a day for redeeming 5,000 coupons.

Some retailers also offer their coupons. The 45 billion estimate is for manufacturers only. Add in those offered by retailers, says Dan Pratt, an authority, and the total might come to 70 billion.

Pratt's company, Marketing Corporation of America, is the largest distributor via newspapers. As vice president, Pratt convinces 10 or 15 separate manufacturers to offer coupons on a single newspaper page.

The full-page advertisement is then run in 156 different newspapers with a combined circulation of 23.5 million. If readers redeemed all coupons on a single page they would receive discounts of 17.5.

Seldom is this the case. Eighty per cent of households might be interested in coffee discounts, but the percentages drop off sharply for other products that, as he puts it, have a lower "repeat purchase rate."

The highest redemption rate of any type of coupon is the "on package" at 17 per cent. Direct mail, but somewhat by high postage costs, scores 12 per cent, magazines 3 1/2, and Pratt's program about the same.

However, the vast distribution afforded by newspapers results in a greater share of the coupons sent in for redemption.

Committee, too foods that are high in fat, sugar and cholesterol.

General Foods has even gone into the schools to promote its cereals. The company has offered to purchase physical education equipment for elementary schools that push Post cereals, thus associating physical development with breakfast foods of questionable nutritional value.

A reported 31,000 elementary schools are actively backpacking the Post products.

Pre-planned lunch menus are the latest fad, replacing the school cook and the dietitian. This is particularly true in the inner-city elementary schools, whose children are most in need of healthy food.

New York Jets' fragile Joe Namath. "He ought to quit," the ex-Colts quarterback said. "He has all the money he needs plus TV and movie commitments. He hasn't contributed to football since 1966."

Unitas was asked what he thought of the football future of the New York Jets' fragile Joe Namath. "He ought to quit," the ex-Colts quarterback said. "He has all the money he needs plus TV and movie commitments. He hasn't contributed to football since 1966."

Unitas was asked what he thought of the football future of the New York Jets' fragile Joe Namath. "He ought to quit," the ex-Colts quarterback said. "He has all the money he needs plus TV and movie commitments. He hasn't contributed to football since 1966."

Unitas was asked what he thought of the football future of the New York Jets' fragile Joe Namath. "He ought to quit," the ex-Colts quarterback said. "He has all the money he needs plus TV and movie commitments. He hasn't contributed to football since 1966."

Kauffman, Bennett Win Weekly Derby 'Not Luck'

Clarence Kauffman and Timothy Bennett walked off with last week's prizes in the Sanford Shad Derby, and the stage is set for a final wrap-up in the last week of competition.

Kauffman, of Pleasant Lake, Ind., caught a 4-pound, 5-ounce shad while fishing out of Marina Isle for the top catch of the week in the seniors division.

Bennett, a 12-year-old from Johns Island, S.C., landed a 3-pound, 10-ounce, tops in the junior division.

The early leader in the junior division this week is Donald Covel, 13-year-old Sanford youngster who has won four weeks. He caught a 2-pound, 7-ounce out of Lemon Bluff.

unbeaten string and the Canadians hope of breaking the 25-game record shared by the Boston Bruins and Philadelphia. So much

SCOREBOARD

Pro Basketball

Table with columns for National Basketball Association, Eastern Conference, Atlantic Division, Central Division, Western Conference, Midwest Division, Pacific Division, and NBA Finals.

Tournaments

Table listing various basketball tournaments including the National Basketball Association, Eastern Conference, Atlantic Division, Central Division, Western Conference, Midwest Division, Pacific Division, and NBA Finals.

A KNEE HIGH

by Alan Mavor

STOCKTON WILL SEE HIS FIRST ACTION AGAINST AUSTRALIA IN WASHINGTON ON MARCH 10-13.

Lanier Out, But Pistons Roll On

By The Associated Press
The Detroit Pistons are working smoothly again after a nifty trade.

WOMEN

Evening Herald, Sanford, FL Monday, Mar. 7, 1977—18

Golden State Warriors 94-89, Los Angeles Lakers outlasted the Cleveland Cavaliers 104-99, the Houston Rockets beat the New York Nets 99-91, the Kansas City Kings nipped the Milwaukee Bucks 109-108, and the Indiana Pacers defeated the Boston Celtics 114-106.

Tuscowilla Talent Show

BY ELDA NICHOLS Herald Correspondent

Tuscowilla Middle School's first annual talent show will be presented at the PTA meeting Tuesday, at 7 p.m.

Twenty-one acts will be presented, free to the public, with a surprise performance by the faculty. Students will see the show today at school.

Pro Hockey

Table with columns for National Hockey League, Eastern Division, Western Division, and NHL Finals.

World Hockey Association

Table listing World Hockey Association results including the Cincinnati Stingers, New York Rangers, and others.

Prep Basketball

MIAMI (AP)—The Florida High School Activities Association has set this schedule for the prep basketball playoffs this week at Lakeland Civic Center.

Dog Racing

SANFORD-OLANDO MATINEE RESULTS
Class AAAA
1. Do's Pally Cake (1) 20.2

Michigan No. 1 Heading Into NCAA Tournament?

By The Associated Press
The Michigan Wolverines started the 1977-78 basketball season as the nation's No. 1 team, and Coach Johnny Orr thinks they should start their "second season" the same way.

What's 'Decent' Gal Doing On Oil Rig?

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN
DEAR ABBY: My husband works for an oil company, offshore seven days and onshore seven days.

Area Engagements

Mrs. Frances Taylor and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Smith, all of Sanford, a 1970 graduate of Terry Parker High School.

Table listing various sports events and results, including basketball, hockey, and tennis.

GOODYEAR advertisement featuring a large image of a tire and text: 'Custom Power Cushion POLYGLAS PAR SALE SAVE $20.70 to $36.60 WHITEWALLS'.

DOG RACING NOW advertisement with a dog image and text: 'POST TIME 8 PM MATINEES MON. WED. SAT. Post Time 1:45 p.m. Doors Open at 12:30'.

IT'S BAKERY FRESH advertisement with a bakery image and text: 'THIS WEEK'S SPECIALS BUNS New York Crumb Reg. 6 For 79¢ Hot Cross 90¢ For 99¢'.

Seminole Fifth In Track Meet
In boys high school track action Saturday, Oak Ridge won the Lyman Invitational.

GOODYEAR advertisement with a tire image and text: 'Sole Prices on Other Sizes Low. Blackwalls 100% Less Per Pair'.

GOODYEAR advertisement with a tire image and text: 'Just Say "Charge It!" Goodyear Revolving Charge. Our Own Customer Credit Plan + Master Charge + BankAmericard + American Express Money Card + Carte Blanche + Diners Club'.

PHILIPS Decoding Den advertisement with a woman's face and text: 'For Estimate Call 305-322-3315 No charge or obligation'.

College Basketball
EAST
Columbia 57, Dartmouth 57
Harvard 77, Cornell 71

GOODYEAR advertisement with a tire image and text: 'No-Hassle Auto Service Values. Lube & Oil Change $488. Front-End Alignment $1188. Brakes—Your Choice $4088'.

GOODYEAR advertisement with a tire image and text: 'No Trade Needed. Sale Ends March 19th'.

PHILIPS advertisement with a woman's face and text: 'We have a NEW GROOMER. 7 YEARS EXPERIENCE AS A PROFESSIONAL GROOMER'.

Lake Brantley Nine Triumphs
Lake Brantley High School's baseball team won their third game of the season Saturday, beating Boone 5-4.

GOODYEAR advertisement with a tire image and text: 'No-Hassle Auto Service Values. Lube & Oil Change $488. Front-End Alignment $1188. Brakes—Your Choice $4088'.

GOODYEAR advertisement with a tire image and text: 'No-Hassle Auto Service Values. Lube & Oil Change $488. Front-End Alignment $1188. Brakes—Your Choice $4088'.

PHILIPS advertisement with a woman's face and text: 'We have a NEW GROOMER. 7 YEARS EXPERIENCE AS A PROFESSIONAL GROOMER'.

Community Band Concert Scheduled

The Seminole Community Band will present a concert Tuesday, at 8 p.m. in the Fine Arts Building concert hall at Seminole Community College.

The concert is open to the public with no admission charge.

know your Carpeting

Needlepunched CARPETS. Needlepunch is a word used to describe a type of carpet construction.

Needlepunched construction is used primarily for indoor-outdoor carpets and artificial grass surfaces.

PHILIPS Decoding Den

For Estimate Call 305-322-3315 No charge or obligation

PHILIPS advertisement with a woman's face and text: 'Good buy, soft sandal!'.

PHILIPS advertisement with a woman's face and text: 'We have a NEW GROOMER. 7 YEARS EXPERIENCE AS A PROFESSIONAL GROOMER'.

PHILIPS advertisement with a woman's face and text: 'We have a NEW GROOMER. 7 YEARS EXPERIENCE AS A PROFESSIONAL GROOMER'.

