Seminole Teachers Snub 'Protest Action'

Astronauts Land At Jax, Go To Houston

HOUSTON (UPI) — The happy astronauts, James McDivitt and Edward White, returned home to their families today and the start of a week-long round of ceremonies in honor of their record space flight.

JACKSONVILLE (UPI) — Spacemen James McDivitt and Edward White returned home from space and the sea today, and to the cheers of thousands set foot on dry land for the first time since they soared into space one week ago.

All smiles and looking healthy and relaxed, the astronauts waved to a crowd of more than 3,000 persons as they strode down the gangplank of the carrier USS Wasp and onto a red carpet. A band played "Happy Birthday," in honor of McDivitt, who is 36 years old today, and then went into "Around the World in 80 Days."

Gov. Haydon Burns presented the astronauts a plaque of the great seal of Florida and told them: "Welcome to terra firma, welcome back to the United States and welcome to the great state of Florida."

It was the first public welcome for the astronauts since they were hurled aloft one week ago today, to spend four days in space. They were plucked from the Atlantic Monday, and taken aboard the Wasp to undergo a series of debriefings.

McDivitt and White were on the ground only about 10 minutes, speaking briefly to the Governor, before they walked further along the red carpet and clambered aboard a twin-engine jet waiting to take them to Houston and their wives, children and parents.

"Thank you," both men replied to Burns when he presented them with the plaque. The Governor added to McDivitt: "Happy Birthday."

"We got started here in Florida and ironically we ended up here," McDivitt said, referring to the launching of their flight from Cape Kennedy.

The Gemini-4 capsule, the astronauts' home in space during their flight, was visible on the deck of the carrier. At Houston, their wives, children and parents were waiting to greet them with open arms. Only newsmen were to be permitted on the field to witness the personal welcome home.

NEA TO LEARN 'PARTICULARS'
WASHINGTON (UPI) — Two representatives of the National Education Association (NEA) will visit Tallahassee soon to find out "the particulars" of a Florida Education Association (FEA) request for an investigation in the state.

Dr. Richard B. Kennan, executive secretary of the parent group's National Commission on Professional Rights and Responsibilities, said the representatives should make the trip to Florida in the next 10 days.

The FEA directors made the request for the NEA investigation last month, charging that "politics" played too much of a role in Florida education. The action came in the wake of the Legislature's refusal to go against Gov. Haydon Burns' opposition to new taxes by voting a teacher pay raise.

The purpose of sending representatives to Tallahassee, Kennan said, "will be to find out what FEA wants, to try to find out if a full investigation would be feasible, and if it is, to establish the nature and the timing of the investigation."

HILLSBOROUGH TEACHERS PROTEST

Big Picture Of Progress

By Paul Brookshire
A junior college . . . a port . . . countywide telephone service . . . industrial expansion . . . lakefront development.

All these pieces of the "Big Picture of Progress" hopefully painted for Seminole County in January are beginning to fall into place. "Progress has been very gratifying," Loring Burgess, president of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce, said today in reviewing the half-year mark of the Chamber's objectives for 1965.

"The progress made thus far will very definitely have an economic and commercial impact on this area," Burgess declared. "All of these projects will lead to our growth."

The Chamber president said he was "very pleased" with the progress made in the first six months of the year. "We also are pleased with the excellent support we had from our legislators," Burgess said.

Here is a rundown in capsule form on the major projects undertaken by the chamber:
LAKE MONROE DEVELOPMENT — Dr. Vincent Roberts, chairman. "Prospects of early construction of the marina are extremely bright. Work on preparation of the city's financing ordinance is right on schedule. Engineers' reports have been favorable. All necessary legislation has been passed."

PORT AUTHORITY — Francis E. Roumillat Jr., chairman. "The Port Authority will come into being July 1 under the act passed by the Legislature. We now have the tools to give the county a port. Our task as a committee is to coordinate co-operation among the various agencies."

AGRICULTURE — Gen. J. C. Hutchinson, chairman. "Funds have been voted by the Legislature for the expansion of the Central Florida Experimental Station."
ARMED FORCES — Mack N. Cleveland Jr., chairman. "Congress has approved $7.3 million for expansion at Sanford Naval Air Station. We expect some or all of the money to be appropriated. Extension of the North-South runway, a new aircraft control tower, a new enlisted men's barracks and bachelor officers' quarters are included in new building plans."

METROPOLITAN TELEPHONE — George Touhy, chairman. "A hearing by the Florida Public Service Commission has been pledged as soon as possible—probably in July. The Commission will rule on the county-wide toll-free phone service this summer. It appears that this stumbling block to Seminole County progress will soon be removed. We are confident that before 1965 passes into history, we will have our Metro phone system."

INDUSTRIAL — W. Scott Burns and Carl Schilke, co-chairmen. "Expansion of the Cobia boat plant already is underway with the addition of a new $120,000 building. Another plant in Sanford is expected to announce plans for a big expansion soon. Other industries added this year include Blake Paint Company, American Hickory Company, General Battery and Sparkplug. Most of the industrial committee members spent a great deal of time in working on Port committee."

OAS Mediators To Try Again
SANTO DOMINGO (UPI) — Inter-American mediators will try again today to persuade rebel Col. Francisco Caamaño Domo to agree to a compromise settlement of the Dominican crisis.

Portrait Of Football Hero Turned Murderer

EDITOR'S NOTE: Last Friday, a tall, well-dressed young man entered a small bank in the cattle town of Big Springs, Neb., and shot four persons. Three of them died. Today, a college football hero is being hunted across the country, accused of the deadliest bank robbery in modern history. A UPI reporting team of William Briston of the Topeka, Kan., bureau; James R. Quinn of the Omaha bureau; and David Smothers of the Chicago bureau was assigned to discover what happened and why. The following is their report.

BIG SPRINGS, Neb. (UPI) — Eleven days ago, Duane Pope had a brand new college degree and a brand new gun. Today, he is the most wanted man in the country. It is the firm belief of the men hunting Duane Pope that some hidden turmoil, some desperate compulsion, led him from the graduation exercises at McPherson College in central Kansas last May 30 to this sleepy Nebraska panhandle town and mass murder. Three persons are dead: Andrea (Andy) Kjeldgaard, 17, longtime president of the Farmers State Bank of Big Springs; Glenn Hendrickson, 60, Kjeldgaard's cashier and working companion for almost 40 years, and Mrs. Lois Ann Holman, 35, bank teller and recently widowed mother of two young sons. Franklin Kjeldgaard, Andy's 25-year-old nephew and right-hand man, lay in a Denver hospital gravely wounded and paralyzed from the waist down. The little red brick building by the side of U. S. 138 last Friday contained the most ruthless and deliberate slaughter committed in the robbery of a bank in modern memory. Duane Pope, 22, an all-American boy with a grin as big as the Kansas prairies, was named as the killer. If what follows is the true story of Duane Pope, it is an American tragedy played against a background of county towns, football fields, gravel roads, lonesome farm homes, and the infinite, rolling vastness of the great plains. It is a Horatio Alger story with a sick ending. Duane Pope had nothing going for him but a farm boy's muscle and a determination to get ahead. Also, a knack of slipping past offensive tackles and cutting down the quarter-

FEA Endorsed But Censure Bypassed

By Dottie Austin
Seminole County Education Association has no plans to demonstrate any "protest action" here, President Ernest Cowley said today.

"We endorse the request of the Florida Education Association (FEA) for a National Education Association (NEA) investigation but local teachers have been more (Related story on page 10.) or less promised some sort of raise, so there has been no discussion of censure or protest here," Cowley said.

Two years ago Seminole teachers received an across-the-board increase boosting starting salaries from $4,200 to $4,400 with scaled increases for older teachers. Indications are that the county school board will work out another increase this year to keep the salaries of local teachers in line with that of surrounding counties. (School board meeting was scheduled for 1 p.m. today.)

REAR ADM. William A. Evans, chief supply officer in the U. S. Atlantic Fleet, will retire June 30 from active duty after 31 years service in the Navy and will make his home at Sarasota. He will become a member of the new board of naval supervisors of the Sanford Naval Academy.

Sanford Pilots Practicing For Deployment

Navy flyers this week began a two-week period of intensive night carrier landing practice in preparation for deployment aboard aircraft carriers of the Pacific Fleet in the near future.

Several steps to minimize distracting flight activity during evening hours are presently being taken. Flights are being scheduled as close together as possible in order to finish as early as possible.

RVAN-3, RVAN-7 and RVAN-11, the squadrons involved in the night landing practice, are combining periods of practice whenever possible in an effort to lessen flying time.

The East-West runway is used to keep aircraft away from populated areas. The station's other runway is closed for runway extension testing and is not available for use.

The increased flight activity is necessary to prepare the three squadrons for upcoming carrier operations. Night carrier landings require hours of practice. Each of the 22 pilots currently involved in night carrier landing practice must make 200 landings before he is eligible to attempt a carrier landing.

The practices are necessary for defense of the country, as well as the safety of the pilot and his multi-million dollar aircraft, Navy officials said.

Navy officials said they are aware of the distraction caused by this increased night activity and are making every effort to reduce the temporary annoyance.

The present schedule calls for night landing practice during weekday evenings through June 23.

Portrait Of A College Football Hero Turned Murderer

"He hated to hurt things," Petrucci recalls. "I remember one time he asked me not to step on a spider crawling across the floor of our room. He said 'Let it live.'"

"He was a great guy, one of the greatest guys I ever will know."

Merlin L. Frantz, dean of academic affairs at McPherson, remembered "he's the kind of fellow who always had a grin. He was the kind of fellow you expect to find walking down the hall smiling at you."

Buddy Taylor of Thomas, Okla., quarterback on the football team: "He was always by himself. Girls liked him, but he didn't make a play for them."

And assistant football coach Don Widring: "I don't believe I ever saw Duane with a girl in four years."

But there were girls. There was Ramona Lowe of McPherson, daughter of a retired United Brethren Church minister.

"I don't think many people tried to like him," Ramona said. "He was shy and withdrawn. He'd blush when a girl said 'Hi' to him."

And there was another girl, after Ramona. She attended McPherson for one semester and left without giving a reason. Today she was under police guard at a home for unwed mothers in Fort Worth, Tex. Her baby was born Monday.

Sometime shortly after the slaughter at Big Springs, police believe Duane telephoned the girl at Fort Worth.

Last month, graduation day on May 20, he priced a second-hand gun at Carlos Crabb's town and country store in McPherson, went away and came back a week later. This time, Crabb said he could have a 22 automatic Strum-Ruger — a nine-shot weapon with a six-inch barrel — for $37.50. Ten dollars down and the rest on time, Crabb said. It was a deal.

Three days later, Duane Pope became a bachelor of arts. That day, he told Ramona Lowe he planned on working around McPherson. He told his older brother Gerald he didn't quite know what he planned to do.

At that moment, Duane Pope had more than $1,000 in bank loan debts, a caterpillar tractor and an ancient but sporty 1939 Buick convertible which he had bought with his wheat harvest earnings last summer.

But now, the college graduate was taking it easy back home. A week ago last Wednesday he borrowed $50 from his father. He said he was going to Oklahoma to look for work—any kind of work.

And the melodrama of Big Springs began.

At Salina, Kan., early last Thursday, a gangling young man came to Phil Martin's car rental agency and rented a 1963 light green, two-door, Chevrolet Impala. He signed the rental papers Duane Pope. That evening, just before dark, the green Chevrolet wheeled up to a motel at Ogallala, Neb., a storied cattle trail town 450 miles from Salina and 22 miles from Big Springs. The long-jawed, longlimbed young man with the gold-capped front tooth who was driving registered as Duane Pope.

He checked out at 8 o'clock the next morning. The daughter-in-law of the motel owner said the young stranger sat in his car in the parking lot for an hour afterwards. He seemed to be reading.

The day was beginning in Big Springs.

Andy Kjeldgaard and his brother, Carl, had owned the Farmers State Bank since 1927. They were first generation Danes and they had flourished on the prairies. Carl and his son, Wayne, 38, ran the family's considerable cattle and wheat operations. Andy and Carl's son, Franklin, took care of the bank.

"Andy could be a little hard-nosed about a loan," Deuel

County Atty. Robert E. Richards recalled. "But if there was somebody with a hard luck story or a kid starting off to college, he'd lend them money on nothing. A lot of people didn't know that."

There are only 310 persons living in Big Springs and nothing much has happened there since outlaw Sam Bass and his gang held up a Union Pacific train at the depot in 1877 and got away with $60,000 in gold. It is a free and easy place, with a rich flavor of the West. A sign close to town says "Warning: Swedes on their way to town have the right of way."

At 11:15 a.m. the green Chevrolet came over the crest of a hill and down into the valley of Big Springs.

The car came down U. S. 138, veered off into a side street, came back along a gravel road, and stopped alongside the bank.

If the man in the car had been wearing levis and a blue workshirt, Big Springs folks might not have paid much attention. But the man who got out of the car was dressed in a neat dark business suit, white shirt, striped tie, and he carried a brief case. Such people are watched in Big Springs. At least four persons say they saw him go into the bank.

Franklin Kjeldgaard has told what happened afterwards.

The man walked to Andy's desk and asked for a loan on a farm. Andy said "you'll have to go to Ogallala for that" and turned toward his private office. The man drew a Strum-Ruger from his brief-case. The bandit ordered Franklin to bring him the money from the tellers' drawers. Franklin obeyed. The man told Mrs. Rothan to get the money from the vault. She brought bills from an old safe in the vault but did not open a newer safe.

Why not? The man with the Ruger asked. It has a time lock, Mrs. Rothan said.

"Lady, don't play games with me," the stranger said. He ordered everyone to lie face down on the floor behind the counter.

Then he proceeded to kill them.

There was a silencer, apparently homemade from a piece of iron pipe, on the automatic. Andy got it first—first through the heart and then in the neck. Franklin was shot next, but the bullets missed his heart and came within a fraction of an inch of his spinal column. Mrs. Rothan and Hendrickson died in succession.

Each victim got two bullets. Somewhere in the process, FBI agents later determined, a ninth bullet was wasted. The killer's gun was empty — and at that moment the front door opened.

Otto Mauser, a 74-year-old wheat farmer from six miles out of town, wanted to make a deposit. He pushed open the glass door of the bank and found himself facing the young stranger. The man muttered "How do you do," to Mauser, and went out the door.

Six persons saw him come out and drive north out of Big Springs on U. S. 138 the way he came.

Mauser heard a groan and saw the bodies. Franklin Kjeldgaard dragged himself high enough to trigger the alarm underneath the counter. Roadblocks were set up. Yet the tall man in the green car sped on along the country roads and, when capture seemed sure, the very elements saved him.

"If the rain had held off for five more minutes," Richards said later, "we would have had him."

The green car, Richards believes, had shot up U. S. 138 two miles to U. S. 30, turned right, dashed 11 miles to Brule, Neb., and then headed south for Kansas on a gravel county road. Two planes from Imperial, Neb., to the south, were converging over the area.

A few more minutes of clear skies and the Big Springs killer was trapped.

But the clouds opened up, the rains poured down—three inches deep before the gully-washer was over — and the planes turned back.

The green car sped on. In the briefcase on the front seat was precisely $1,589—chicken feed by the standards of any professional thief.

"If he wasn't such a goof, such an amateur, we'd have caught him," Richards said. "He did everything wrong. Picking the bank with a time lock. Wearing those clothes. Advertising his own name. Not wearing a mask. And killing to wipe out the witnesses. Killing is the last thing a pro wants to do."

Duane Pope is hunted from the Sandhills to Texas. In the wheat and cattle country, almost any tall, young man with a long jaw is suspect.

13 Gray Ladies Are Named At Pinecrest School

Thirteen women were presented certificates, caps and pins at a "Capping and Pinning" ceremony at the Pinecrest School May 28 at 7:30 p.m. and officially became Gray Ladies.

The Red Cross conducts a 17-hour training class and when the women receive their caps and pins they assist with the health program in the various schools.

This particular group will take turns working in the Health Room at the Pinecrest Elementary School, where one Gray Lady is on duty every school day to help with any emergency or ailment that needs attention by the children.

Those receiving their credentials were Judy M. Boice, Evelyn Crabtree, Nancy L. Fehd, Lola Gilson, Mary E. Henderson, Elizabeth Horton, Dorothy MacDonald, Doris E. Phillips, Evelyn Rodgers, Betty J. Sullivan, Pat Dunn, Doris J. Thornton and Margaret Tucker.

Dr. M. A. NeSmith Jr., chairman of the Seminole ARC, presided at the ceremony. Mrs. Esther Court presented the caps; Mrs. Slovenhay, of the Seminole County Health Department, presented the pins, and Dr. NeSmith awarded the certificates.

GOP Leaders Snub Goldwater

COLUMBUS, Ohio (UPI) — Republicans had their mobilization orders for 1966 today and it was clear many of the party leaders are not counting upon former Sen. Barry M. Goldwater to lead the attack in next year's campaign.

Nobody read the titular head of the party out of the ranks of the fight being mobilized for next year's congressional and state races but a battalion of top GOP leaders never mentioned his name in a series of speeches across Ohio Wednesday night.

The party's standard-bearer of only eight months ago wasn't even invited to the big unity feast because none of them.

"Nobody wanted him," Ohio finance committee chairman Richard P. Niehoff said during a news conference in which former Vice President Richard M. Nixon, caught off base, had explained Goldwater's absence through an apparent conflict of schedules. Nixon smiled and said he was sure Goldwater had plenty of speaking engagements.

The series of eight $100 a plate dinners which netted the Grand Old Party more than $1 million had speakers of many shades of Republican belief.

They included former President Dwight D. Eisenhower, Nixon, three big state governors, two senators, a congressman and two potential candidates from California and Illinois. All paid tribute to Republican National Chairman Ray C. Elias.

Mrs. Dorothy Miller, chairman of the Gray Lady in the school program, led the Gray Lady pledge and the main address of the evening was given by Larry M. Solomon, National Field Representative of the American Red Cross.

Herold Heckenbach, Pinecrest principal, explained the school role in the program and Dr. Frank Leone, director of the County Health Department, spoke on the department's work in the program.

Following the ceremony a social hour was enjoyed and refreshments served by the school PTA with Mrs. W. B. Richards, president, in charge.

Democrats To Have Workshop

By Donna Estes

A precinct workshop will be conducted at regular meeting of the Seminole County Democratic Association scheduled for 8 p.m. Tuesday at the Allamonte Springs Town Hall located on Longwood Avenue (SR 427) one block north of SR 436.

Mrs. Betty Carter, vice chairman of the Orange County Democratic Executive Committee, and Miss Alice McMahon, vice president of the National Young Democrats and secretary of the Orange County Democratic Executive Committee, will conduct the workshop.

DeBary AARP Sets Discussion For Group Insurance Plans

Discussion of insurance programs for senior citizens is on the agenda for Friday's 10 a.m. monthly meeting of the DeBary Chapter, American Association of Retired Persons, at the Firemen's Recreation Hall.

Vasil Clay of DeBary will outline proposals for a group program for automobile liability insurance for retired people. Current practice of some companies in cancelling policies of their older insureds or of increasing premium rates has raised the question of possible group planning as protection against arbitrary cancellation.

A question and answer period will follow Clay's presentation.

Mrs. Marge Ulrich, chapter president, has announced that since the speaker for the May meeting on health insurance found it necessary to cancel his speaking engagement, Alvin Stevenson of Insurance Service of AARP in Washington, also will be at Friday's meeting to explain.

sports sittings

by Barry Lawes

When it was announced that a new coach for Seminole High School had finally been named, we practically kicked our heels in joy. When it further developed the new mentor was a "local boy coming home" we felt even better.

But then we got to wondering just who Buck Metts was. (This is the new coach.) We asked SHS Athletic Director Fred Ganas about him. Fred, it seems, coached the new coach in football back in the early 50's. Only he wasn't called "Buck" then—he was known as "Junior."

Ganas said that when "Junior" went to FSU to play ball for Tom Nugent, Nugent told him (Metts) "we can't have anybody on my team named Junior." Thus, he became Buck.

We looked back in the files to find out what sort of athlete Metts was during his days at Seminole High. He apparently was fantastic, excelling in all he undertook. Since he will be chief grid mentor here, we were more concerned with his football prowess. The following story, written by Kent Chetlain, then sports editor, is reprinted from The Sanford Herald of Nov. 28, 1952.

"Another chapter in the Seminole High School gridiron saga came to an end last Wednesday night. With its close, just as in preceding chapters, the 1952 edition had its distinctive and outstanding features to embellish the perpetuating Colery Fed football history.

"Considering all the various interlocking achievements and players of the 1952 season, there comes into view an incandescent star rising above all others, never wavering, withstanding all the acid tests of gridiron feats, leadership and the more important qualities of manhood.

"It is respectfully called 'The Lake Monroe Locomotive'—Junior Metts, a little, somewhat inconspicuous, dark-eyed lad who earned the respect and admiration of his opponents and teammates alike, not only by his prodigious athletic prowess and three-letter feats, but in a greater sense through his humility, friendliness, undying competitiveness and incomparable esprit de corps—a fancy phrase for team spirit.

"These latter qualities even more than his unprecedented football records have imprinted the name of Talmadge Virgil 'Junior' Metts indelibly among the mythical scrolls of gridiron immortals of Seminole High School.

"Long after the athletic exploits of this triple threat star have fallen by the wayside, the symbol of the clean living and team spirited Junior Metts will be long remembered, just as is Lou Gehrig remembered in baseball as the unequivocal exemplification of true sportsmanship.

"Turning from the man to his acts we must appraise the record and statistics that speak for themselves.

"Metts carried the ball 140 times and ate up 1,101 net yards of the Seminoles' 2,004 this season. The taut muscle-packed 16-year-old dynamo maintained the best average per try with a 8.5 yard mark. Of the team's total 802 yards gained in the air, Junior accounted for 263, completing 21 of the 22 (completed) Colery tosses for a .956 percentage.

"With only short legs and an abbreviated physical fulcrum, the kicking power of the Lake Monroe athlete is aptly illustrated as he maintained a robust 27 yard average per boot, good enough to stand up in the best collegiate circles. This punting record was not one of just a few kicks either. Metts booted all the punts, 34 this year and they carried an aggregate 1,259 yards.

"The all important scoring department was led by this super effort of 1952 called—Junior. Metts penetrated into the opposition's goal lines on 17 different occasions while bolting over for two extra points for a sterling 104 point total.

"He also passed for two TDs and a pair of conversions for 14 more points, thus accounting for 118 points of the team's total of 172. Metts accounted for all of the team's passing yardage having caught Ray Davis' 39-yard aerial for a sum figure of 302 yards by the air. Adding this to his rushing mark we find that the Lake Monroe Locomotive accounted for 1,493 yards of the 2,004 total by the Feds this year.

"The 5-foot-9, 165-pounder has only one liability when it comes to college recommendations—comparatively small stature. But how can any collegiate coach or scout overlook his record?"

"Junior Metts is Sanford's choice for All-Southern in 1952."

Larry Tillis, grandson of Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Tillis, 221 W. 17th Street, Sanford, and son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. (Late) Tillis of Orlando, made quite a name for himself while participating in sports activities while in the Air Force at Vandenberg AFB, Calif.

Tillis' sports record in all fields was such that during his time in the service, he won 10 different trophies. His basketball prowess was good enough to win him a scholarship to Cal Western at San Diego.

A graduate of Boone High in Orlando, young Tillis has just returned home for a visit following his discharge. In the fall, he will return to California to enroll in Allan Hancock College before moving on to Cal Western.

The San Francisco Giants will hold their annual tryout camp at Adelson Field, Plant City, June 17-19. The camp will be conducted by scout Nick Shinkoff.

Boys between 16 and 21 are eligible to try out. Players who are participating in the American Legion baseball program are required to bring written permission from their coach or Post Commander. All players must bring their own uniforms, gloves and spikes.

Sessions will start at 9 a.m. and successful candidates will be assigned to the Giants farm system.

FSU Ousted; Lorenzen Captures Pole

OMAHA, Neb.—Rick Monday, a 19-year-old sophomore who was top choice in the major league draft, belted a home run, double and single to lead Arizona State to a 9-4 victory over Ohio State in the battle of the unbeatens at the NCAA college world series here last night.

Arizona State, the only team with a perfect record in the double-elimination tourney, now meets St. Louis University while Washington State and Ohio State collide in the other game today. St. Louis eliminated Florida State, 8-5, and Washington State ousted Connecticut, 3-1.

ATLANTA — Ten more stock stock car drivers sought to qualify today for Sunday's Dixie 400 race at Atlanta International Raceway.

Fred Lorenzen of Elmhurst, Ill., driving a 1955 Ford led the first 10 qualifiers Wednesday and captured the pole position. Lorenzen sped around the track with a 143.407 average. His fastest clocking was 143.884.

Marvin Panch of Daytona Beach, Fla., in a 1955 Ford, was second with a time of 143.103.

Weary Willie Wallops Wonderous Hits For Giants

By George C. Langford
UPI Sports Writer

A weary Willie Mays has a bad cold and would dearly love a "real day off" if Manager Herman Franks could afford it. Franks would be glad to oblige, but if he had rested Willie in either of the San Francisco Giants' last two games, they would have lost.

Because Willie played, the Giants won both. "I wish he (Franks) would tell me just to stay away from the park for a whole day," Willie sighed after the Giants had beaten the New York Mets 4-2 Wednesday night on his two-run homer and run-scoring single.

Mays has been "rested" several times this season, but he has appeared in every game—usually as a pinchhitter in a critical situation when he isn't in the starting lineup.

"For me, that's tougher than playing nine innings," Mays explained. Franks realizes Mays' condition, but he's a freshman manager trying to win a pennant in a pressure-packed National League race and has little choice.

Mays understands and he said he'll play as long as Franks wants him in the lineup. "I'm not going to ask him," Willie said. "He's under a lot of pressure."

In other National League games, St. Louis whipped Cincinnati, 6-4, Philadelphia topped Los Angeles 7-3, Chicago stopped Milwaukee 4-2, and Pittsburgh beat Houston 11-3.

Cleveland clipped Minnesota 2-1, the Boston Red Sox tripped the Chicago White Sox 4-2, Washington edged Baltimore 3-2 in 10 innings, New York flattened Kansas City 5-1 and Detroit defeated Los Angeles 4-2 in American League games.

Horton In First Win Of Career

Florida State turned the tables on the Navy Acey Deucys last night, winning 11-10. Casey Dunn, Andy Steele and Tommy Barks sparked the Bankers at the plate with two hits apiece while Jimmy Grimley received credit for the mound decision.

Florida State tied the score 10-10 by crossing the plate four times in the fourth inning and then scoring the deciding tally in the bottom of the last inning.

Scott Harris homered for Navy and David Bach, along with Mike Parrish, each had two hits for the losers.

Rickey Smith Blanks Sens On 1-Hitter

By Jim Baechus
Herald Sports Writer
Ricky Smith hurled a one-hit shutout last night to give the Longwood Braves a 7-0 victory over the Altamonte Senators in South Seminole Little League play at Caselberry. A lead off single by Senator Phil Mars in the fourth inning was the only safety Altamonte could manage in the contest.

Smith retired 13 batters on strikeouts in six frames. Ronnie O'Neal led Longwood's seven hit attack with a double and a single. Tim Young rapped a pair of singles for the Braves and Ronnie Allman, Ricky Goodall and Donald Gano had a single apiece.

In Senior League play last night Mickey Hawks, a converted catcher, won his first game on the mound, a 10-1 victory for the Altamonte Senators over Longwood. Hawks scattered three hits in seven innings and fanned 12 Braves. Tommy Austin had a double for Longwood and George Simpkins and Larry Roid each had a single.

Jamie Cornell belted a home run for the Senators. Tom Pincock and Mike August had doubles. Hawks rapped a pair of singles and Mike Bailey chipped in with a single to round out the Senators six-hit assault.

Legion Nine Plays In Orlando Tonight

Sanford's Campbell-Lossing Post 53, defending champions in District Six American Legion Baseball, hope to hike their mark above .500 tonight with a 7:30 visit to Orlando Post 19 at the Oak Ridge High School Field.

The Sanford nine will take a 1-1 mark into the game and Manager Frank Thomas expects to start Donnie Smith on the mound. Post 53 will have a busy weekend, playing Caselberry Post 256 at Pinehurst Saturday night and hosting an Albany, Ga., team in a double header at Pinehurst Sunday afternoon.

Jazy Is Still Not Satisfied

RENNES, France (UPI)—Michel Jazy of France is not satisfied, despite a world record mile in 3:53.6, five-tenths of a second under the previous mark of New Zealand's Peter Snell.

"Naturally, I am delighted at this record," the amazing refreshed Jazy said Wednesday night following his triumph, "but I believe I could have gone a full second faster if the race had been held at the start of the meet."

"After an hour of running on the track, it got churned up and definitely slowed down," he continued.

To Rejoin Club CINCINNATI (UPI)

Catcher Johnny Edwards of the Cincinnati Reds, out of the lineup since last Saturday with a strep throat, will rejoin the team Friday in Chicago, the club announced Wednesday.

DOWNTOWN SANFORD

Miss Geni Klinefelter was guest of honor at a graduation patio party and cookout at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Spencer on Escambia Drive.

Co-hostesses were Mrs. Spencer and daughter, Arlene.

The buffet table was covered with a white linen cloth and held a beautiful arrangement of greenery and white gardenias centered with a crystal candelabra holding novel triangular blue candles.

Blue plates and napkins carried out the class colors. Two ows, wearing graduation caps, were perched on the table as if watching the proceedings.

The menu included hot dogs, hamburgers, baked beans, potato salad, deviled eggs, cake and cold drinks. The large sheet cake was iced in white and decorated in blue with the inscription "Success to Geni."

The hostesses' gift to Miss Klinefelter was a collection of colognes.

Following the dinner, the girls toasted marshmallows, danced and signed autograph books. About 18 classmates and friends were invited to attend.

Miss Carol Torres, a graduate of Seminole High School, was guest of honor at a graduation party given in her honor by the members of her Sunday school class at the Geneva Methodist Church. Carol and friends were invited to attend.

In a way-out Oriental atmosphere, 22 seniors made "creations" of chapeaux from aluminum foil, ribbons, flowers, pipe cleaners and other odds and ends. The "creations" were so original, outstanding and hilarious that they decided to wear them to school the following day.

The black lacquered dining table was decorated with one side of a huge elk antler, a large handmade candle and a black limb, twisting upwards and over the table. Upon the wall above the table was a picture (made by the hostess) containing a variety of bones.

The girls thoroughly enjoyed a dinner of cold turkey with orange nut cranberry sauce, glazed baked ham, a variety of salads, cucumbers and sour cream, deviled eggs, hot rolls and butter and fruit punch.

For dessert there were two huge Waldorf red cakes, frosted and decorated with their own secret white frosting.

Upon leaving the guests signed the guest list with comments and the hostess presented them with an oriental memento which "contained their future."

The women members of the faculty feted Mrs. Judy Drommerhausen and Mrs. Patsy Barnes of the English Department Tuesday night at the home of Miss Thelma Moss-holder in Sanford with a shower.

The two teachers are taking a maternity leave from their teaching posts.

Miss Judy Cochran was honored recently with a buffet dinner given by Mrs. Blanton Owen at her home on Orlando Drive. Mrs. Owen was assisted by the honoree's mother, Mrs. Lloyd Cochran, and her grandmother, Mrs. W. G. Mashburn of Star, N. C.

VERALYN VIETS, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Viets, Alhambra Dr., Forest City did not want a party on her 8th birthday, only a swimming pool. So her mother gave her an adorable cake with a maypole and dancing dolls and a big plastic swimming pool. She is a fourth grade pupil at the Bear Lake Elementary School.

Mrs. Bowery presented Miss Poole with a blue and white corsage. She also received an assortment of gifts from the guests. The menu included steak, potatoes, tossed salad, relish tray, rolls, tea and cake.

Following the dinner the group enjoyed the regular floor show presented at the Capri.

Others sharing the enjoyable evening were the Misses Pat Lyon, Margaret Baker, Cleo Cohen, Penny Nichols, Martha Keel, Sandy Burk, Linda Rich and Nancy Sturm.

Rev. and Mrs. A.F. Stevens Honored With Housewarming

By Frances Wester

A miscellaneous shower was held in the Educational Building of the Community Presbyterian Church of Lake Mary recently for Rev. and Mrs. A. F. Stevens, who very recently moved into the new manse that was built since he became pastor of the church.

As the guests arrived, their gifts were placed in a replica of the manse made by Mrs. W. C. Hopkins and Mrs. Howard Goble. "Happy Shower" was sung by all to the couple just before the gifts were opened by both of the honorees. Many beautiful and useful gifts were received.

On the decorated refreshment table, a cake, made in the form of a house, was the center of interest. The punch bowl was circled with blue hydrangeas and pink hibiscus. Day lilies were used in another flower arrangement on the piano.

Guests taking part in the affair were Mr. and Mrs. John Ulmer, Mrs. Mildred Donaldson, Mrs. H. M. Cochran, Mrs. Ed Zimmerman, Mrs. LuVera Harrison, Mrs. Lillian Goodwin, Mrs. Emma Washara and Mr. and Mrs. Homer Gleason.

Also Mrs. Genevieve Cochran, Mr. and Mrs. P. D. Anderson, Rev. and Mrs. Thomas Barton of Winter Garden, Rev. and Mrs. James M. Thompson, Mrs. Verlie Crocker, Mrs. Ruby Sjolom, Mrs. Ruth Goble and Debbie Goble and Mrs. Maxine Hopkins.

NEWSPAPER ENTERPRISE ASSN.

Dear Abby:

DEAR ABBY: What is your opinion of a man who constantly smokes cigars? CURIOUS: He is courteous, self-confident, masculine, sophisticated and uninitiated. Or would like to be.

DEAR ABBY: My sister, who is planning to be married in September, has a problem I think maybe you can help her with. (I'll call her Sharon). Well, Sharon borrowed her girl friend's wedding gown because she didn't want to go to the expense of buying one. About a week ago Sharon's fiancé's aunt, who lives in Texas, sent her a beautiful brand new bridal outfit. This woman has never met Sharon, but because Sharon's fiancé is her favorite nephew she wanted to do something real nice for his bride. The outfit looks very expensive and it seems a shame for her to spend all that money on a bridal outfit when Sharon already has one. And besides, Sharon would much rather have a TV set. Should she keep it? She hates to hurt her girl friend's feelings by not wearing the gown after accepting it. But she doesn't want to hurt her fiancé's aunt's feelings, either. What should she do?

HER SISTER: DEAR SISTER: Although the aunt meant well, she should not have sent a bridal outfit as a gift without knowing whether or not it was needed — or wanted. Sharon should return it with a letter of thanks, explaining that she has her bridal ensemble. But no mention should be made about what she would prefer instead, unless she is asked.

DEAR ABBY: I am 21, not had looking, have a good personality but I am a little shy until I get to know a person. I don't have a steady boy friend. I work in a large office building, and I keep running into a very nice-looking young man who must be about 24 years old. I know he's noticed me, but he has never made any effort to get acquainted with me.

One of the girls who works where I work was with me when he passed by and she said she didn't know his name, but she knew in which office he worked and she was sure he wasn't married. I would like to meet him. I have an idea that he would also like to meet me, but he is also shy. How do I break the ice? A nice girl can't just start talking to a strange man, can she?

SHY BUT INTERESTED: DEAR SHY: No, a "nice" girl cannot just start talking to a strange man—but if you want to "break the ice"—crack a smile, and leave the rest to Providence.

Palmer House in Chicago on August 4 and 5, and also a successful tournament player. She points out that North has a perfect Stayman response to his partner's opening no-trump and can afford to raise to three spades after North dutifully shows that he has four spades.

South goes on to game and has no trouble making it. He wins the first heart, starts after trumps and eventually loses one heart trick and the ace and king of trumps.

Without the use of the two club convention North and South would never find the spade suit. West would open a heart against whatever no-trump contract South played and the bidder would be held to seven tricks.

Jacoby On Bridge

Jacoby and Son

The Stayman convention is used primarily to allow a partnership to find a four-four major suit fit after a no-trump opening.

Basically it uses the two club response to an opening no-trump as a forcing bid. The opening no-trump bidder rebids two spades with four spades; two hearts with four hearts; and with out four spades; and two diamonds without four cards in either major suit.

From that point on there are almost as many variations as there are expert players, but the bid is an essential to successful play and every bridge teacher includes it in her advanced classes.

Dorothy Jane Cook of Wilmette, Ill., is a former president of the American Bridge Teachers Assn., chairman of the program committee for this year's meeting at the

We The Women:

By Mrs. Muriel Lawrence
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

DEAR MRS. LAWRENCE: We recently moved from our old home to another one that is nearer our children's school and where we hoped that they could find more playmates. But our older one—a girl of 7—is shyer than her brother and less able to make new friends. What worries me is that she tries to bribe the three little girls who live on our block to play with her. I have told her that we can't buy friends with cola and offers of candy.

ANSWER: Why did you tell her that? Because some child guidance book told YOU that?

Fellow parent, don't you offer candy and drinks to people you want to get to know? When you want to make a hit with people who don't know you, don't you offer to share your belongings with them: your best china, best recipes? Don't you use the appeal of these belongings of yours to suggest that their owner is even more appealing? Or are you "bribing" them to like you with this appealing hospitality?

You know, we just can't afford to disappear like this—and let some child guidance expert define our child's behavior for us. Yet disappearing is exactly what we do when we operate on the expert's opinion without first testing its sense against our own experience. We become the child who is seen and not heard. Like a repressed child, we accept the expert's view that soliciting friendship by offering hospitality is "bribery" without any protest, any use of our own brains and experience at all.

How can you expect to become a real flesh-and-blood woman to your child if you don't put yourself into what you think and say to her? The experts aren't around her. She can't make friends with the absent experts. Nor can she make friends with a button that releases a lever marked "bribery" and immediately responds with the automatic answer: "We can't buy friends with cola and candy."

If we are not levers operated by the experts, this kind of thing becomes simple. When the child wants to offer sodas and candy to possible friends, we think: "What a lovely hospitable impulse!" And delighted at her wish to entertain, give her the sodas and candy, so conveying our pleasure in her hospitable impulse that she finds delight in it, too—and plays out her hostess role in fine, self-confident style.

DEAR ABBY: Your advice to "Telephone Sweetheart," that 17-year-old girl who became fascinated with the stranger who dialed her number by mistake, was good. I hope she takes it. Four years ago the same thing happened to me, only I wasn't a 17-year-old kid. I was old enough to know better. I should have hung up the moment I heard that deep resonant voice. It changed my life. Man's Eye View
International Hairlines
At a smart reception at his "Town House Salon," the famous international haircutter and stylist, Aurelien Lintermans, had something important for my after-forty readers. I asked him the questions and he gave me straight answers. He said: "For the mature women, I prefer hair pieces rather than wigs — they are more becoming and, if the proper hair piece is selected and worn correctly, they look more natural than a wig. "The haircut is the most important, since your hair is seen more times without a hair set than with a set."
"Both long and short hair should be brushed out and combed every day. At times, the mature woman feels that she is not very agile with her hair, and she is afraid to comb and brush it between visits to the beauty shop."
"Since the complexion of a woman changes between the ages of twenty and fifty, lighter tones of hair are the most flattering. I think a good streaking or frosting job is most attractive. I also think gray hair is most becoming, with the proper kind of rinse. I suggest that women stay away from red hair dyes — artificial red is never a true color."
"For women over forty, it is more a matter of the allhouette of the woman; the height and width should be taken into consideration for the proper hair style. The face is only part of the body!"
"A haircut gives shape through the cut. Women after forty should have a lift in their hair styling — if it's

Eight Winners Selected In Garden Contest

By Margaret Cooby
North Orlando Garden Club escorted judges Mrs. Volle A. Williams Jr. and Mrs. Warren E. Knowles, both of the Ixora Garden Circle of Sanford, and Mrs. Oliver W. Holmes, of the South Seminole Garden Club, on an inspection tour of gardens in North Orlando to determine eight winners of prizes in the club's annual Beautification Month contest.

At the home of Mrs. Carl Hyatt, chairman of the garden of the month program, judges deliberated some time before announcing decisions. Considering overall appearance of lawns, front and back, neatness in care of the garden, and proper landscaping to enhance the home to best advantage, the judges named the grand prize winner of the club's $50 cash award and blue ribbon to be the 110 Lombardy Road home of Mr. and Mrs. Horace E. Boardman.

Second prize of $25 given by the Village of North Orlando, went to Mr. and Mrs. William MacKintosh for their 51 North Devon Avenue garden.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph P. Schutnow's home on Algiers received the third prize of a year's subscription to The Sanford Herald.

Carl Hyatt's cash prize of $5 went to fourth place winners, Mayor and Mrs. David G. Tilson at 91 North Bombay and William Elder's home, also on North Bombay Avenue, won the fifth prize of a gallon of motor oil.

A plant went to the sixth place garden of Mr. and Mrs. William Higginbotham at 11 North Edgemon Avenue and a rake for seventh place was won by the Jakob Harich garden at 31 South Cortez Avenue. Eighth place, gift from an area dress shop, went to the George T. Casalou garden at 31 South Devon.

Judges noted that the Boardman garden is a veritable masterpiece of home gardening and that many gardens were immaculate in appearance and very tastefully landscaped. They especially thought the use of the common periwinkle at the Casalou home was very well done.

"It was an enjoyable experience to view so many lovely gardens," Mrs. Williams stated, and all judges agreed.

Following announcement of prize winners, the club served a covered dish luncheon. Hostesses for the afternoon were members of the garden of the month committee, Mrs. Hyatt, Mrs. W. W. Anderson, and Mrs. George Duquette, and the club president, Mrs. E. W. Harville.

Russians Pay Up Under Protest

GLEN COVE, N. Y. (UPI) — It was from Russia—but not with love.

It was an envelope, for the city of Glen Cove, containing a check from the Soviet Union for more than $38,000 as a part payment on the back taxes it owes for the 36-acre estate, Killenworth.

The Russians contend they should not have to pay taxes. The reason they give is diplomatic immunity.

But this Long Island community contends it should not have to subsidize the Russians and that their failure to pay taxes would put an extra burden on other residents.

The State Department several years ago sought to enter the dispute on behalf of the Russians, but eventually gave up.

The city was adamant that the Soviet Union had to pay its taxes like everyone else. Glen Cove Mayor Joseph Reilly said the Russians still owe $38,000 plus interest in taxes.

However, Reilly added that the $38,000 payment was sufficient for the time being and effectively avoids foreclosure on tax liens on the estate, which would have taken place at the end of the month.

Present Puzzles Pope Paul VI

VATICAN CITY (UPI) — Vatican officials have a first-class problem on their hands: What do you do with two 130-pound lion cubs?

The seven-month-old cubs were a present to Pope Paul VI from the governor of Gujarat, India.

A Vatican prelate who had been sent to receive them at Rome's Fiumicino Airport gave thanks to the Indian officials—but had no clear idea about what to do with the animals.

There is hardly a place in this 108.7-acre state where lions can safely and usefully be kept.

O! Satchmo!

BUDAPEST, Hungary (UPI) — The Hungarian news agency MTI reported "great interest" in the forthcoming appearance here of American trumpeter Louis Armstrong and his band. It said 72,000 tickets already had been sold for his concert in Budapest.

Uruguay is the smallest of the South American republics.

Flag Day Rites Slated Sunday At Elks Club

Special Flag Day services will be held Sunday at 5 p.m. at the Elks Club, 1006 East Second Street. Guest speaker will be Judge Volle A. Williams Jr.

A special presentation will be conducted by Maj. H. T. Chen, U. S. Marine Corps, Sanford Naval Air Station. Members of the Boy Scouts will present six American flags, beginning with one bearing 13 stars in the field and ending with the present 50-star flag. As each flag is presented, its history will be told.

Flag Day services are mandatory for Elks Club members, but the public is welcome to attend. National Flag Day is Monday, June 14, but the Elks Club is observing the day early.

The Elks have requested that all citizens and places of business display the American flag on Flag Day.

WALKOUT ENDS
FORT LAUDERDALE (UPI) — Longshoremen at Port Everglades were under court orders today to end the walkout that began last Friday in a dispute over who should handle the mooring lines of cargo ships.

FEA Stand For Teachers Explained

George Dabbs, president-elect of the Florida Education Association, said today salary is not the primary concern of the FEA but improvement of Florida schools.

"The FEA feels that neither the state nor county, in many cases, is accepting its responsibility to provide for the education of our children," Dabbs said.

The Seminole County educator said the board of directors of the FEA has requested a thorough and impartial investigation of the political atmosphere in Florida in relation to its effect on the quality of public education.

Dabbs, who is principal of Bear Lake School, said the National Education Association has been asked to make the probe.

The future president of the FEA made these points in his remarks about Florida education:

1. Florida spends $80 less than the national average per pupil for all school expense.
2. Only 83 high schools in Florida are fully accredited by the Southern Association.
3. Schools and school buses in many counties are overcrowded.
4. Florida is in the bottom half of the states in financial support of its schools.

Dabbs charged that the Legislature has done little more than provide the money needed to take care of the growth in population.

"Many counties in the state must re-assess property to provide taxes to support their schools," he said.

"The teachers know that, even though schools are poorly financed, the pupils are getting a good education," Dabbs said. "But we cannot keep on doing this with the money we are forced to operate on."

Dabbs said the state is losing many of the good teachers because of poor financing of schools. He said the state needs about 4,000 teachers each year from outside the state, yet about half the states pay teachers better than Florida.

"Why should teachers come to Florida to teach more children with less teaching materials and get paid less money," Dabbs asked.

Dabbs said the teachers of Florida have not asked NEA for sanctions but for an investigation.

"The teachers of Florida are concerned for our schools," Dabbs concluded.

"You have given us money for poor schools and we have given you good schools. If you will give us money for good schools, we can give you fine schools. We cannot even hold the line unless we get the support of the public and public officials."

Wind Of Death

The winds of change are blowing through Southeast Asia. These are real winds, the winds of the monsoon, which annually bring life-giving moisture to the thirsty land but which this year may also produce a rich harvest of death.

Derived from the Arab word "mausim," monsoon is the name for the seasonal reversal of the prevailing wind pattern. For half the year, winds blow out of the north off the land. In May, as the sun heats up the land masses of Asia, moisture-laden winds begin to move from the cold waters of the Indian Ocean and Gulf of Siam into the warm, low-pressure areas of Southeast Asia.

The heaviest rains come in June and July. Around October, as the land cools, the wind changes again and blows toward the sea until the next cycle.

Movies and novels to the contrary, the monsoon months are not invariably marked by incessant, pouring rains. A season of wide-spread flooding may be followed by several of sparse rainfall. According to climatologists with the U.S. Weather Bureau, Saigon may receive as much as 20 inches of rain during the height of the monsoon or as little as four.

The fear in Saigon today is that heavy monsoon rains and mists will curtail aerial operations in Viet Nam and encourage a major ground offensive, or series of offensives, by the Viet Cong guerrillas.

It was fog and cloud cover that enabled the Germans to mount the unexpected Battle of the Bulge in Belgium in 1944. That weather advantage, however, lasted only a matter of days. The monsoon season is six months long.

Thought For Today

Jesus said to them, "I am the bread of life; he who comes to me shall not hunger, and he who believes in me shall never thirst."—John 6:35.

To believe that this terrible machine world is really from God, in God, and unto God, and through it and in spite of its blind fatality all works for good—that is faith in long trousers.—George Tyrrell.

Dr. Crane's

Worry Clinic

Robert Cramer is an experienced publisher with a varied career in newspapers and magazines. So he gave a superb address and stressed the fact that nowadays the family living room is the communications center of America! With the true scientist's outlook, he also asked for the tachistoscopic data below.

CASE W-416: Robert S. Cramer is the versatile head of Parents' Magazine.

His address immediately followed mine at the Industrial Editors Institute which Dean John Drewery had scheduled at the University of Georgia's famous School of Journalism.

Cramer outlined the tremendous influence of the printed word both in newspapers and magazines.

"The family living room," he stressed, "is the communications center of America!" Later we were luncheon guests of Dean and Mrs. Drewery, where we continued our discussion of the power of the printed word.

"Tell us more," Cramer said, "about your experiments with the tachistoscope."

During my address I had mentioned use of the tachistoscope (the quick-flash, exposure gadget) by which printed copy can be shown to readers for a brief instant of time.

Contrary to our usual teaching of English composition, that gadget showed several improvements in the mere layout of printed material.

For example, viewers would not notice such words as "three" or "four" on short exposure.

But they would catch the corresponding Arabic numerals, such as 3 or 4.

For Arabic numerals are an alien form of print symbol and thus stand out distinctly against the Latin letters of the alphabet which we employ in printed copy.

It would thus make the page more easily comprehended if we were to use Arabic numerals for all numbers from two and upward, instead of writing out the numbers as printed words.

"Dr. Crane," you may protest, "why do you start with and go onward? Why not begin with '1' when using numerals?"

Well, that is a logical query, but that numeral "1" is simply the 12th letter of our alphabet and thus doesn't strike the eye as being an alien print symbol.

Another result of the tachistoscopic tests showed that short paragraphs attracted the reader's eye better than long paragraphs that may run 10 to 20 lines deep.

The latter vaguely repulse the viewer for they suggest "textbook" copy. Moreover, 1½ and two-column widths are less appealing than single-column width.

Short paragraphs, even when lacking quotation marks, connote dialogue, and thus have far more dramatic or human interest value.

But the most dramatic print symbols of all are quote marks! Why?

Because they indicate dialogue.

For dialogue usually means at least two people are present, so all sorts of complications can arise, ranging from love to war, sexual assault to intrigue, horror, etc.

When you employ quotation marks, however, try to break your quote so you can get three sets on the opening line of a newspaper column.

Contrast these:

"Dr. Crane," he said, "how can a wife, etc., etc.?"

"Dr. Crane," how can a wife, etc., etc.?" he said.

Note that the first example offers readers three sets of quote marks on the opening line and thus trebles the eye-catcher appeal.

Send for my booklet "How To Write Salable Copy," enclosing a long stamped, return envelope, plus 20 cents and learn more about "Print Psychology."

(Always write to Dr. Crane in care of this newspaper, enclosing a long stamped, addressed envelope and 20 cents to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his booklets.)

GRADUNAUT

Letters

To The Editor

Editor, Herald:

The DeLand Humane Society regrets that it can no longer accept animals from Sanford and Seminole County unless a donation is left at our shelter to help with the expense of their food and care. In the past month about 40 animals, both cats and dogs, were brought to our shelter from Sanford and Seminole County, and except in a few cases, no donation was made.

The DeLand Humane Society has its own problems in raising sufficient funds to maintain the shelter and provide for the more than 2,000 animals that will be admitted from West Volusia County during 1965; 247 were admitted in May alone. It should be evident from these figures that a small organization like the DeLand Humane Society cannot add to its financial burdens by caring for out of county animals.

Homes are found for cats and dogs whenever possible, but many of the unwanted animals turned over to us, especially unsprayed females, cannot be placed and must therefore be put to sleep humanely and buried. This last involves a great deal of labor and is a drain on both the time and strength of our one caretaker. That is another reason why we cannot add to his already heavy load.

Until Seminole County succeeds in establishing a humane society of its own, our society will be glad to accept unwanted pets from Seminole County owners provided the owner is willing to make an adequate donation for his pet's maintenance while in our Shelter.

Edith Swetsaer, President, DeLand Humane Society

Editor, Herald:

The June 4 issue of The Herald carried a blast against the John Birch Society by a neighboring politician. I know not where Mr. Petree got his information; but I do know he is completely misinformed.

I, Sir, am a member of the John Birch Society, and I resent being called something worse than a Communist.

The John Birch Society is opposed to the Communist Conspiracy to take over the world — the United States not included. The Society is not against churches, religion, education, and the Democratic form of government of the United States. However, we are opposed to the Communist infiltration into these areas of our everyday life.

If one thinks there is no conspiracy, such as mentioned above, he is either ignorant of current events, or completely duped by the Communist propaganda abroad in our land today. One would be naive to think for a moment the Communists had no intentions of trying to change our way of life to suit their own atheistic, tyrannical greed to possess absolute power over all peoples of the world.

The John Birch Society is made up of some of the finest, outstanding, patriotic citizens of the United States, and I defy Mr. Petree, or anyone else, to name specifics and stop speaking in generalities with no facts to corroborate their charges. It seems to me that these self-appointed dogooders should try to save America from the socialistic trend that is being crammed into the lives of the American public by exposing the Communist Conspiracy. But, for some unknown reason these defamation-spreaders never say one word against the Communist infiltration. Why? Are they afraid of what might be the results? God help us if the conspiracy ever becomes a success.

The John Birch Society is dedicated to exposing this threat to the freedom of Americans.

The Lighter Side

WASHINGTON (UPI) — There has been a lot of discussion recently about French President Charles de Gaulle's criticism of U. S. activities in Viet Nam, the Dominican Republic and elsewhere.

All sorts of theories have been advanced to explain his behavior, and it has caused a certain amount of resentment in this country.

For instance, some observers have suggested that he assumed the role of gadfly for reasons of personal vanity.

But I don't think there is anything to the rumor that he wants to buy the Rock of Gibraltar and change its name to "de Gaulle Stone."

More logical, in my opinion, is the theory that de Gaulle fears that France is in danger of becoming "Americanized" and is steering an independent course to help his country retain its individuality.

In that connection, I call your attention to several recent developments that may shed some light on the matter.

Item: A Paris professor wrote a book in which he complained that the French language was being corrupted by American idioms and terminology.

He noted that the French adopted such words as "mile-a-minute," "self-service" and "weekend," not to mention "pullover," "hot dog" and "cocktail."

The book itself, incidentally, became the best overseas beef salesman we have."

He said that European beef, when grilled, has about the same degree of tenderness as "high quality shoe leather."

Item: Peanut butter, heretofore virtually unknown outside the United States, was introduced to Europeans at a 1963 food fair and has since been spreading rapidly on the continent.

Which means that French children will soon have their faces smeared with peanut butter-and-jelly sandwiches.

Conclusion: De Gaulle's criticism of U. S. politics may be a form of retaliation.

GENERAL TENDENCIES

Most everyone is so determined to get his or her way that you do not tread upon the toes of another or that they do not unintentionally make you angry because of their preoccupation with their own success. Take time out to be thoughtful and kind and you win where others lose out.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Much trouble can come if you do not pay your obligations on time, be they in business or personal life. Don't be envious of others. By the same token, do not be taken in by others.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Avoid arguments with partners and show understanding courtesy instead. Steer clear of those who want to tell you what to do all the time. Use your own good judgment and logic.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) You may be called upon to do more than you feel is necessary, but be a good sport and follow through. Be understanding with a co-worker — he is under strain of some sort. GROW.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Better keep busy with your work though you are inclined to step out for fun. You could easily spend more money than you are truly able. Endeavor to keep security intact.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Home life could prove to be very frustrating today, so make the outside world your oyster instead. Complete any unfinished calls, business, etc. Clear the path for new beginnings.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Traffic signals should be watched with great care and be also careful in speech and motion. Get information you need, but not at the expense of others. Be pleasant.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 23) Spend your time finding ways to be more economical and you will not get into trouble others may find themselves in. Invest wisely. Show others you are a level-headed person.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 to Nov. 21) If you do not control that temper of yours, much trouble can ensue. Diplomacy will get you farther with everyone. And this also includes your romantic life.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Although you are bogged down with private worries, do not take your ire out on wrong people. Be charming, especially in business. Get love life on a more even keel.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Whatever you have planned to do in the hope that your pals will assist you must await a better day. They are too busy. Avoid going after what is not worthwhile.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) If you observe every law and rule that applies to you, you can certainly keep out of trouble today. Remember that conventional practices are the norm. Be wise — keep them.

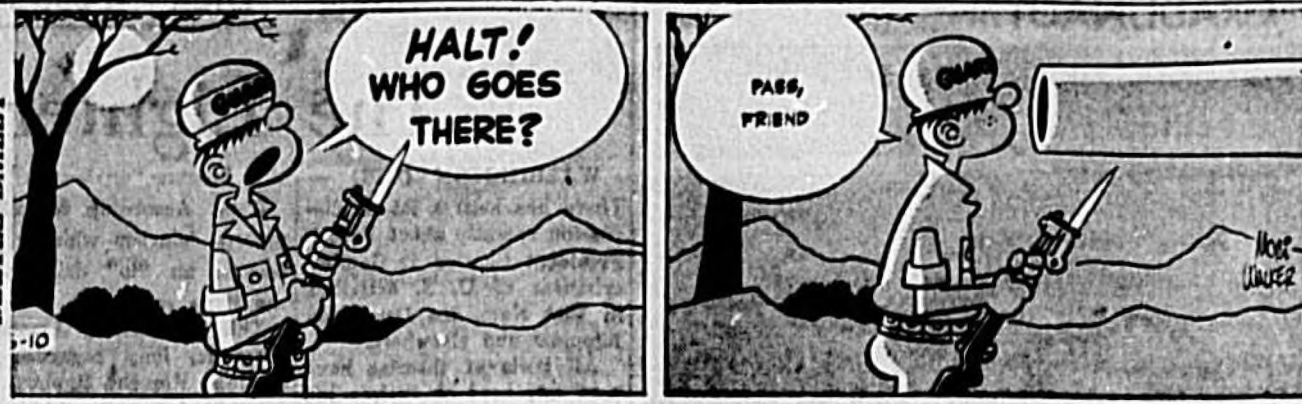

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Do not jump right in and make radical changes as yet which new friends have advised. Get your abode, office more charming, practical. Prepare yourself to win out.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY, it will be easy for your progeny to solve problems, both personal and impersonal, upon reaching adulthood, but you must teach to control his or her temper early and be somewhat of a disciplinarian. There is a tremendous amount of energy here and sports at an early age would be very advisable. This person could easily get to the top of any profession chosen.

"The Stars Impel, they do not compel." What you make of your life is largely up to YOU!

Mrs. W. W. Anderson
Garden Club Prexy

By Margaret Cooby
June meeting of the North Orlando Garden Club was held at the home of Mrs. Jesse Wallace on South Edgemon Avenue. Assisting Mrs. Wallace as hostess was Mrs. Thomas Landress.
Since this was the final meeting of the 1964-1965 year, all chairmen presented their annual reports which were accepted by President Etta Harville, with thanks and praise for a job well done. It was the consensus of the meeting that goals for the year had been reached and that the club's projects had all been completed.

OCALA (UPI) — Seven escaped prisoners were hunted today along the North Florida border after officials decided the men had "taken off in a half dozen different directions."

The men broke out of the Marion County jail Tuesday. Police in states as far away as California were asked today to help find the men.

Slight Error
Of 1,000 Miles

MIAMI (UPI) — A navigational error added nearly 1,000 miles to William Verity's planned 5,000-mile voyage in a homemade sailboat from Mexico to Ireland.
The Fort Lauderdale sailor, who was reported more than 20 days overdue on the first leg of the trip, was located by the Coast Guard about 170 miles south of Pensacola.

The club regrets that it will be losing one of the most enthusiastic members, Mrs. James Mayer, who will be leaving soon for White Sands, N.M., but was delighted to welcome Mrs. John Ridley back after her 10-month sojourn in England.
Mrs. Harville stepped down from her office, turning the gavel over to the club's newly-elected President, Mrs. W. W. Anderson.

Mrs. Anderson named the following chairmen for the ensuing year: Mrs. Ridley, program; Mrs. Thomas Landress, beautification; Mrs. R. E. West, hospitality; Mrs. Glen Atchison, telephone; Mrs. C. E. Rowell, ways and means, and Mrs. Raymond Ware, reporter.

A colorful buffet table had been set and refreshments concluded the final meeting until the club resumes activities in October.

War On Poverty
'Fought In Dark'

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The U. S. Chamber of Commerce today pictured the "war on poverty" as a campaign being fought in the dark.

Carl H. Madden, director of research for the chamber, appeared before a House Republican task force conducting its own inquiry into anti-poverty programs.

The House education and labor committee last month approved a $1.9 billion spending program for the "war on poverty" in 1965-66.

The Republicans charge the Democrat-controlled committee didn't even try to find out if the current $750 million is working.

Sanford Marines suffered the first "casualty" of their field exercise in Ocala National Forest Wednesday.

The Marines had rescued a young deer which had gotten caught in some underbrush and were tending it at their command post. However, during the night the CP was attacked by "enemy" forces and the young animal went into convulsions and had to be destroyed.

Groundbreaking for the new Commodore Apartments on Onora Road at Magnolia Avenue will be held Monday morning.

The showing of a Viet Cong battle flag by Maj. B. T. Chen, Marine Barracks commanding officer, will be a highlight of "Flag Day" ceremonies to be observed by the Sanford Elks Sunday at 5 p.m.

Meredith Lee Scott, who will get his M.D. from the University of Florida Medical School Sunday used to be a "ball boy" at 50 cents a day for the old Sanford Giants, pro baseball team.

Teenage vandalism within the last six weeks has cost the city of Sanford nearly $500. We recently spoke of the painting of numerals "43" and "66" on traffic safety signs and other places. A memorandum from City Manager "Pete" Knowles says it has already cost $300 to repaint or replace the defaced signs, and it will take another $200 to remove the marks from walls of the municipal stadium and Civic Center youth wing.

Mrs. John H. Skewes of Lake Mary has received word from her son, O. H. Skewes, of Manassas, Va., and formerly of Lake Mary, Fla., that he arrived safely in India where he is electrical superintendent in charge of construction of a new power plant some 35 miles from Calcutta. Skewes expects to be located on his present job for at least the next four months.

Savings and loan association accounts have increased 10 per cent in Seminole County, according to the Florida Savings and Loan League. An estimated $16.8 million is now in these accounts in Seminole County.

"Surprise entertainment" is promised to graduates of the Seminole High class of 1955 which is holding its 10-year reunion Saturday at 7 p.m. at the Police Benevolent Building.

Mariner-4 True On Mars Course

WASHINGTON (UPI) — America's Mariner-4 spacecraft has less than five weeks to go before it passes within 5,600 miles of Mars.

Today was the 195th day of the 575-pound probe's 228-day space flight to a point of vantage from which to take up to 21 television pictures of the red planet's enigmatic surface.

At 9 a.m. today Mariner was 104,409,770 miles away from earth and increasing the gap at more than 55,000 miles an hour.

Bitter Battle At Dong Xoai

SAIGON (UPI) — Government troops drove the Viet Cong out of Dong Xoai today in one of the bitterest battles of the war and probed northward to try to rescue what was left of a shattered relief column.

It was feared government casualties might run as high as 500.

Eight more Americans were killed today when their plane crashed in the central highlands far to the north of Dong Xoai.

The fighting at Dong Xoai, itself, cost 31 American casualties according to a U. S. spokesman—one known dead, 17 missing and 13 wounded.

Groundbreaking Slated Monday

Groundbreaking ceremonies will be held at 9 a.m. Monday for the new Commodore Apartments complex to be built at Onora Road and Magnolia Avenue.

Construction will begin immediately on the new $200,000 units, and it is anticipated they will be ready for occupancy by mid-September.

Announcement was made today of selection of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Sole, Casselberry, as resident managers for the 26-unit apartment buildings. Sole previously served as manager of an Orlando apartment building and is currently assistant manager of the Seminole Cinema Theater in Seminole Plaza.

WINTER PARK (UPI) — Sara H. Howden, a trustee of Rollins College, will become acting dean of women, succeeding Mrs. Helen Watson, who has resigned after 10 years in the job.

College President Hugh F. McKean announced the appointment of Mrs. Howden Thursday. She currently is administrative assistant to State Sen. Beth Johnson, of Orlando.

Hurricane Hunter Probes

'Anna' Will Be First Of New Season

MIAMI (UPI) — A hurricane hunter plane was sent today to check a "slightly suspicious" low pressure area in the southern Gulf of Mexico. It was the first such check of the 1965 hurricane season.

Gordon Dunn, chief hurricane forecaster here, said weathermen had been watching the low pressure area in the Yucatan Peninsula area, off the western tip of Cuba, for the past 24 hours.

"We don't expect any material development in the area," Dunn said, "but it was suspicious enough to be checked."

The reconnaissance plane left Jacksonville at about 8 a.m. and is not due to return until mid-afternoon, Dunn said.

The low pressure area and an accompanying band of squally weather was first sighted in the Caribbean Sea several days ago. Dunn said the low pressure area "has caused steady precipitation in the western Gulf for the past 24 hours and also has dropped a lot of water over Florida."

The hurricane season officially opened June 1, and the first tropical storm will be named "Anna."

The low pressure system has caused nearly three days of drought-relieving rain in Southern Florida and along most of the state's western coast.

Dunn said it was impossible to predict how active this hurricane season would be "because it's just too early in the season."

During the last hurricane season, hardly a week passed when there wasn't some type of tropical disturbance in the so-called "hurricane belt."

Two hurricanes hit Florida. Cleo slammed ashore at Miami and ripped half way up the state's East Coast before moving to sea. Cleo left behind millions of dollars worth of damage.

Later in the season, huge hurricane "Dora" plodded up the East Coast a short distance from shore before plowing inland around St. Augustine.

Dora tore across the northern part of the state, causing relatively little wind damage in the middle and western parts of the state, but causing severe flooding.

Gemini Twins Commencing Earth Travel

SPACE CENTER, Houston (UPI) — Gemini twins James McDivitt and Edward White, home at last, were set today to tell the nation and President Johnson what it was like to take a cosmic walk and to see other satellites in space.

Thus begins the earthly travels of the two men who now hold every U. S. record in space.

Ahead lay visits to Chicago, Ann Arbor and Jackson, Mich., and San Antonio, Tex., for celebrations on the note sounded by a youngster who greeted spacewalker White in Houston:

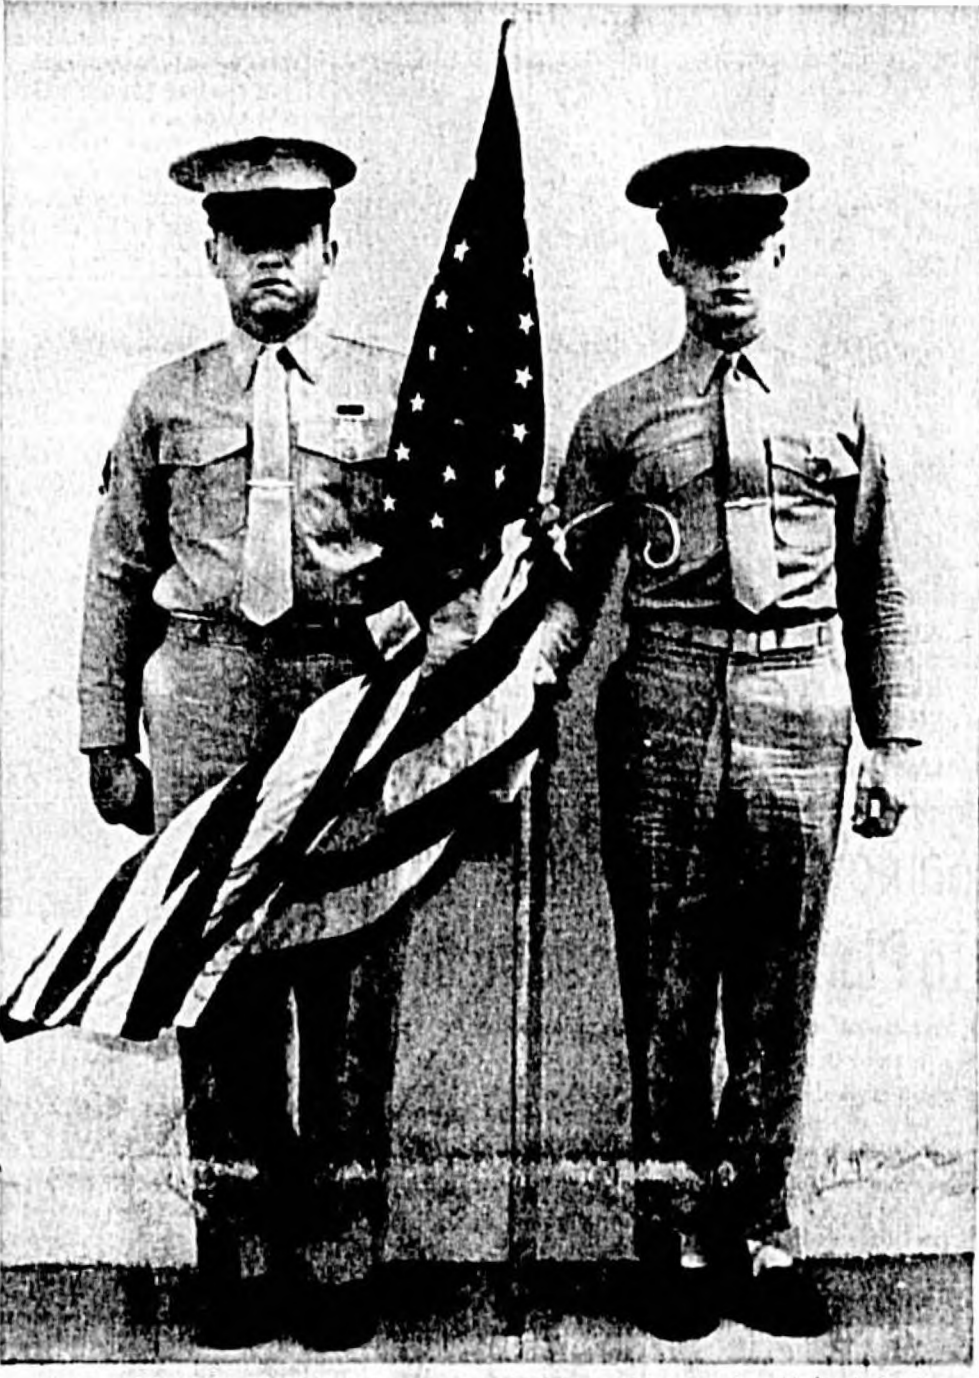

"I touched him! I touched him!"

The two astronauts were scheduled to face a major news conference today to relate, before a nationwide audience, the spacewalk, the unsuccessful "rendezvous" attempt, the satellite spalling by McDivitt, and the grueling ordeal of the four days in Gemini-4 starting on June 3.

Then was to come a personal visit with President Johnson, who promised to stop by the Manned Spacecraft Center near Houston today en route from Washington to his Texas farm near Johnson City.

McDivitt and White left the aircraft carrier USS Waap at Jacksonville, Fla., Thursday and started "the greatest" journey back home to Houston and their patiently waiting families.

A White House spokesman said the astronauts probably will visit the LBJ Ranch later this summer.

THE AMERICAN FLAG is protected the world over by United States Marines. And here two Sanford natives, Cpl. Thomas Butner (left) and Lance Cpl. Carlton Prevatt, assigned to the Marine Barracks at Sanford Naval Air Station, present Old Glory in keeping with "Flag Day" on Monday, June 14.

Zoning Board Appointments At Longwood

By Donna Estes

Although Longwood Council Chairman Carl Lommler announced at 8 p.m. that the meeting of council being held Thursday night was a "work session," and no minutes would be recorded, a continuing session was called to order at 9 p.m.

Council voted to appoint Willard Young, Richard W. Zartman, Ronald L. Baker and Fred L. Stickle to the zoning board. A fifth man to serve on the board will be recommended by those appointed Thursday night with approval of council.

In other official action, council agreed to employ a police officer for night duty at a salary of $300 per month. Councilmen R. H. Ferrell and John Deaton urged that the patrolman hired be qualified with past experience. Mayor David R. Wentworth recommended that the present part-time policeman be given the job but was overruled by Lommler that hiring of the additional man was at discretion of Police Chief Claude Layo.

Committee appointments announced by Lommler were: Percy White and Deaton, streets, Denton and R. L. Helms; fire department, Deaton and White; cemetery, Denton and Helms; buildings, parks and grounds, Helms and Ferrell; finance, Ferrell and Helms. First man named in each case will serve as chairman of the committee.

Junior College Appointments Considered

By Dottie Austin

Request of the Seminole County Teachers' salary committee was approved by the school board Thursday afternoon along with a promise to study the possibility of "further improvements" should the budget permit.

No increase in starting salaries was requested. Increments were asked for teachers with a bachelor's degree in their ninth and 10th year of continuing contract and in the 10th and 11th year for those with master's degrees. Larger increases also were authorized for longevity raises in salary.

All the requests of the committee were aimed at "keeping the teachers we now have by giving them more lucrative goals to work toward."

The package deal amounts to about $55,000.

The board has not closed the door on recommendations of the insurance committee for greater participation of the board to give broader insurance coverage. They also have indicated that the budget would be studied closely to see if more money can be found to increase salaries of teachers other than those requested by the salary committee.

President of Seminole County's new junior college must be appointed before Jan. 1, school board members learned.

The board also must take immediate steps to appoint an advisory committee of five members, two of whom will serve for three years, two for two years and one for one year. All board members were instructed by Chairman Mason Wharton to submit the names of several qualified persons as soon as possible.

After board members selected the names will be submitted to the state for approval and steps will be taken to appoint a president, employ a secretary and set up offices.

The board authorized Wharton and Supt. R. T. Millwee to sign and submit to the state board by July 1 a resolution of intent in order to receive the $30,000 in planning and organization money set aside for this fiscal year. During the 1966-67 fiscal year an additional $219,000 will be made available to start classes in temporary facilities.

Following appointments of the president and the advisory board, the local school board will begin looking at possible sites for construction of the school. It is expected to be technical and vocational as well as academic.

Constable Takes Two Escapees

Two prisoners, at large since escape at 10:04 a.m. Thursday from an Oakhill Road bridge repair job, were taken into custody at 8:15 a.m. today near Lake Ashby by constable Irving Velno Jr. of Osteen.

The pair were found hiding in a pasture drainage ditch within a short distance from the Boy Scout camping area on the north side of the lake after William Johnson, resident, reported seeing them in the nearby woods.

Camping overnight in the area during the intensive search were Sheriff's Deputy Ronald Velno and Capt. Cecil Hardy, of the DeLand Prison Camp.

The men were identified by the constable as Everett Radcliff, 35, and Robert Nelson Goodwin, 23. A third man, Edward Bruce Daniel, 22, was captured within a half mile after the trio's escape.

LBj Faces Power Struggle

WASHINGTON (UPI) — "together," seemed today to be locked on a collision course with the 89th Congress.

The issue was as old as the United States. And as fresh as today's fat Congressional record.

The question: Where does the authority of Congress end and the President's powers begin?

The most recent crack in Johnson's relations with Congress came Thursday, when the House approved and sent to the Senate legislation to give Congress the power to veto pending and future closings of military bases.

The move pointed up a power struggle that Presidents since George Washington and Congresses since the first have fought out with varying results.

But up to now, Johnson and the present majority on Capitol Hill have been such buddies that nobody much but Republicans have noticed out loud it was Johnson who was running the country.

Most members believe the start of the rift came Jan. 3, when Rep. L. Mendel Rivers (D-S. C.) took over as chairman of the House armed services committee. Rivers had waited a long time for the job, and he served notice at once he intended to fill it.

The outbreak of hostilities was signaled Monday when Johnson vetoed a Northwest flood relief bill. He said in a polite way that Congress had gotten too big for its britches in the bill.

The bill provided that in administering the flood relief projects the President would have to seek advance approval in each case from the House and Senate public works committees.

Constitutionally there is a lot to be said against provisions like that — and Johnson said it.

Summer School Opens Monday

Courses are offered for advance work and make-up needs.

The adult business education program at the Seminole County Business School also begins Monday with evening classes held from 6 to 9 p.m.

Dunn said it was impossible to predict how active this hurricane season would be "because it's just too early in the season."

During the last hurricane season, hardly a week passed when there wasn't some type of tropical disturbance in the so-called "hurricane belt."

Two hurricanes hit Florida. Cleo slammed ashore at Miami and ripped half way up the state's East Coast before moving to sea. Cleo left behind millions of dollars worth of damage.

Later in the season, huge hurricane "Dora" plodded up the East Coast a short distance from shore before plowing inland around St. Augustine.

Dora tore across the northern part of the state, causing relatively little wind damage in the middle and western parts of the state, but causing severe flooding.

Gemini Twins Commencing Earth Travel

SPACE CENTER, Houston (UPI) — Gemini twins James McDivitt and Edward White, home at last, were set today to tell the nation and President Johnson what it was like to take a cosmic walk and to see other satellites in space.

Thus begins the earthly travels of the two men who now hold every U. S. record in space.

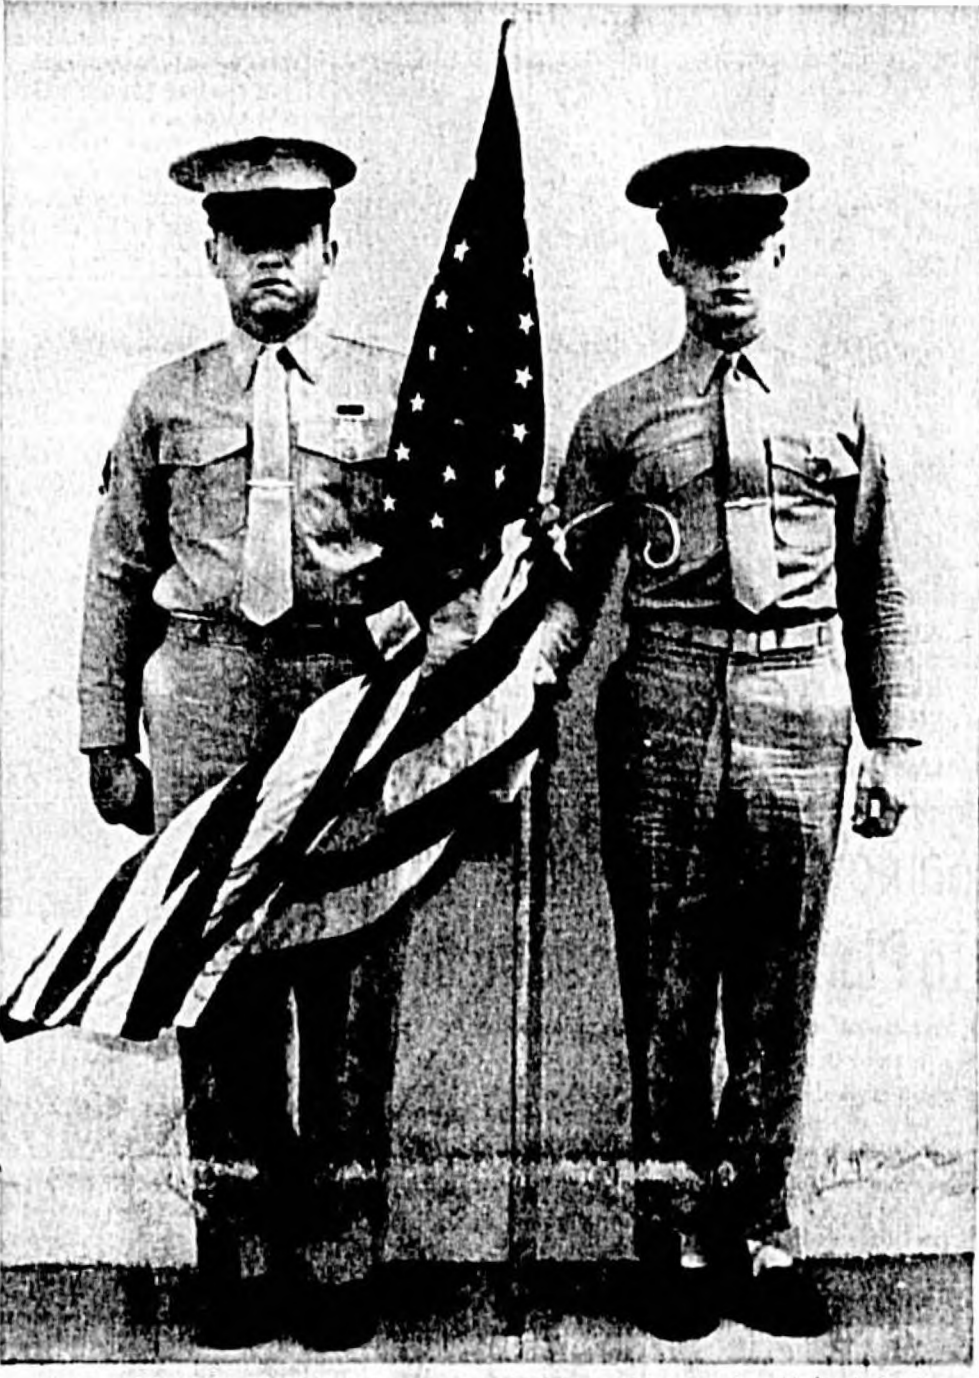

Ahead lay visits to Chicago, Ann Arbor and Jackson, Mich., and San Antonio, Tex., for celebrations on the note sounded by a youngster who greeted spacewalker White in Houston: "I touched him! I touched him!"

The two astronauts were scheduled to face a major news conference today to relate, before a nationwide audience, the spacewalk, the unsuccessful "rendezvous" attempt, the satellite spalling by McDivitt, and the grueling ordeal of the four days in the Gemini-4 starting on June 3.

Then was to come a personal visit with President Johnson, who promised to stop by the Manned Spacecraft Center near Houston today en route from Washington to his Texas farm near Johnson City.

McDivitt and White left the aircraft carrier USS Waap at Jacksonville, Fla., Thursday and started "the greatest" journey back home to Houston and their patiently waiting families.

A White House spokesman said the astronauts probably will visit the LBJ Ranch later this summer.

LBj Faces Power Struggle

WASHINGTON (UPI) — "together," seemed today to be locked on a collision course with the 89th Congress.

The issue was as old as the United States. And as fresh as today's fat Congressional Record.

The question: Where does the authority of Congress end and the President's powers begin?

The most recent crack in Johnson's relations with Congress came Thursday, when the House approved and sent to the Senate legislation to give Congress the power to veto pending and future closings of military bases.

The move pointed up a power struggle that Presidents since George Washington and Congresses since the first have fought out with varying results.

But up to now, Johnson and the present majority on Capitol Hill have been such buddies that nobody much but Republicans have noticed out loud it was Johnson who was running the country.

Most members believe the start of the rift came Jan. 3, when Rep. L. Mendel Rivers (D-S. C.) took over as chairman of the House armed services committee. Rivers had waited a long time for the job, and he served notice at once he intended to fill it.

The outbreak of hostilities was signaled Monday when Johnson vetoed a Northwest flood relief bill. He said in a polite way that Congress had gotten too big for its britches in the bill.

The bill provided that in administering the flood relief projects the President would have to seek advance approval in each case from the House and Senate public works committees.

Constitutionally there is a lot to be said against provisions like that — and Johnson said it.

Junior College Appointments Considered

By Dottie Austin

Request of the Seminole County Teachers' salary committee was approved by the school board Thursday afternoon along with a promise to study the possibility of "further improvements" should the budget permit.

No increase in starting salaries was requested. Increments were asked for teachers with a bachelor's degree in their ninth and 10th year of continuing contract and in the 10th and 11th year for those with master's degrees. Larger increases also were authorized for longevity raises in salary.

All the requests of the committee were aimed at "keeping the teachers we now have by giving them more lucrative goals to work toward."

The package deal amounts to about $55,000.

The board has not closed the door on recommendations of the insurance committee for greater participation of the board to give broader insurance coverage. They also have indicated that the budget would be studied closely to see if more money can be found to increase salaries of teachers other than those requested by the salary committee.

President of Seminole County's new junior college must be appointed before Jan. 1, school board members learned.

The board also must take immediate steps to appoint an advisory committee of five members, two of whom will serve for three years, two for two years and one for one year. All board members were instructed by Chairman Mason Wharton to submit the names of several qualified persons as soon as possible.

After board members selected the names will be submitted to the state for approval and steps will be taken to appoint a president, employ a secretary and set up offices.

The board authorized Wharton and Supt. R. T. Millwee to sign and submit to the state board by July 1 a resolution of intent in order to receive the $30,000 in planning and organization money set aside for this fiscal year. During the 1966-67 fiscal year an additional $219,000 will be made available to start classes in temporary facilities.

Following appointments of the president and the advisory board, the local school board will begin looking at possible sites for construction of the school. It is expected to be technical and vocational as well as academic.

Zoning Board Appointments At Longwood

By Donna Estes

Although Longwood Council Chairman Carl Lommler announced at 8 p.m. that the meeting of council being held Thursday night was a "work session," and no minutes would be recorded, a continuing session was called to order at 9 p.m.

Council voted to appoint Willard Young, Richard W. Zartman, Ronald L. Baker and Fred L. Stickle to the zoning board. A fifth man to serve on the board will be recommended by those appointed Thursday night with approval of council.

In other official action, council agreed to employ a police officer for night duty at a salary of $300 per month. Councilmen R. H. Ferrell and John Deaton urged that the patrolman hired be qualified with past experience. Mayor David R. Wentworth recommended that the present part-time policeman be given the job but was rebuffed by Lommler that hiring of the additional man was at discretion of Police Chief Claude Layo.

Committee appointments announced by Lommler were: Percy White and Deaton, streets, Denton and R. L. Helms; fire department, Deaton and White; cemetery, Deaton and Helms; buildings, parks and grounds, Helms and Ferrell; finance, Ferrell and Helms. First man named in each case will serve as chairman of the committee.
