F. E. Breckenridge Accepts Position With Deland CoFC

An announcement was made today by Clyde Bennett, president of the Deland Chamber of Commerce that Forrest Breckenridge, recently manager of the local Chamber, had accepted the position of Chamber Executive Manager at Deland.

Breckenridge has served as manager of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce for the past five years, having come to Sanford from the Suwannee County Chamber at Live Oak. Prior to that time he was connected with radio stations in both South Georgia and North Florida.

He is presently serving as vice-president of the Florida Chamber of Commerce Executives, a statewide professional association. He is also the secretary of the St. Johns-Indian River Improvement Assn. and has made several presentations before congressional committees and other groups relative to the proposed Sanford-Titusville Canal.

He is actively interested in aviation, and is Central Florida Group Commander of the Florida Wing, Civil Air Patrol, Air Force Auxiliary. He is a member of the Aviation division of the Florida State Chamber of Commerce and served as a member of the State Committee to obtain the Air Academy for Florida. He served as a member of the US Air Force in World War II for five years, with overseas service in Alaska and the Aleutian Islands.

Breckenridge stated "I have enjoyed serving the people of Seminole County as manager of their Chamber of Commerce for the past five years. . . I am glad to have played some small part in the progressive planning and its resultant growth and development of the Sanford area during this period of time. . . My family and I naturally feel a measure of sadness in moving from a community in which we have made many friends. However we are happy that we will be only a few miles away and that we will still reside in Central Florida."

Sportsmen Will Meet Thursday

The Seminole County Sportsmen's Association will hold its regular meeting Thursday night, August 30, at the Seminole County Court House.

John Melach, president of the Seminole County Sportsmen's Association issued the announcement of the meeting and urged all members to attend "to make this meeting a success."

Official Navy Inquiry Of Air Crash Ordered

Sanford's worst tragedy in many years occurred at noon yesterday when a Navy plane attached to VAH-7 of the Sanford Naval Air Station crashed yesterday after radiating the operations tower that it was returning to the base because of engine trouble.

Crash crews were standing at readiness on the NAS landing strip waiting for the crippled plane to come in as they watched streaming smoke as gasoline was being dumped from the nearly four tons of fuel being carried for its flight to Norfolk, Va.

First signs of the crippled plane were noticed as hundreds of local citizens watched the plane lose altitude as apparently the pilot struggled to bring his plane onto the landing field at NAS.

In an apparent attempt to bring the plane, already on fire, onto ACL railroad tracks between Orange and Yale Avenues, the home craft came directly over two homes on Yale Ave. taking TV antennas with it and then smashing into two pine trees sheering them off, some right at the ground.

The plane first smashed into the ACL track taking a section of the track with it and twisting two sections of rail.

It is then believed that the plane catapulted, topside first, landing directly on top of the home owned by William M. "Cotton" Brown, a former Navy Chief and Seminole County Deputy Sheriff. Brown was at home alone at the time, his two children having left shortly before to play, and was making a local telephone call when noise of the plane became loud. Brown, going to the door of his home was blown out into his airport which fell on him. He crawled from the burning mass apparently uninjured.

The home of L. J. Lowe Jr., immediately to the south of the Brown home, was also struck by a part of the plane and was engulfed in flames. Apparently, Mr. and Mrs. Lowe and their son David, 6, were blown onto the lawn of their home badly burned and in a state of shock. Their three-year-old daughter, Marilyn Sue was found by Fire Chief Mack N. Cleveland Sr. of the Sanford Fire Department killed by the flames.

Mr. and Mrs. Lowe and the young son were taken first to the Naval Air Station dispensary and later transferred to the Seminole Memorial Hospital. They are reported, this morning, to be in "fair" condition. However, it is believed that (Continued on Page Eight)

Mahoney is Named Demo Candidate For U.S. Senate

BALTIMORE (AP)—George P. Mahoney, who narrowly lost the Democratic primary last May, was tagged last night to replace the ailing Millard E. Tydings as the party's candidate for the U. S. Senate.

The State Democratic Committee, by a 57-45 vote, selected the 54-year-old Baltimore contractor over Mrs. Eleanor Tydings, wife of the former senator and daughter of former U. S. Ambassador to Russia Joseph E. Davies.

Early today, Mahoney said he would revive the bitter 1950 campaign between Tydings and Republican Sen. John Marshall Butler as an issue. "I'm going to take out after Butler throughout this state and make sure the people know about the fraud perpetrated on Tydings six years ago," he said.

Committee members were urged by Mrs. Tydings' supporters to name her so she might carry on her husband's vengeance campaign against Butler.

Tydings, who served 24 straight years in the Senate, was ousted by Butler in a bitter campaign for which Butler's side was reputedly aided by a Senate elections subcommittee. It said "back-street type" tactics were used.

Cabinet Seeking New Man To Head Prison System

TALLAHASSEE (AP)—The Cabinet began a new search today for a man to head up Florida's prison system after its No. 1 choice Reed Cozart declined the job.

Gov. Collins said that Cozart, now pardon attorney for the Department of Justice, would not come to Florida because he was unable to make arrangements for his federal retirement pay.

Egypt Says Will Meet With Team

LONDON (AP)—Egypt agreed today to meet with a committee charged with presenting a proposal for international control of the Suez Canal but made no commitment to accept the plan.

President Nasser made known his willingness to see the five-nation committee. In a terse letter to its chairman, Prime Minister Robert G. Menzies of Australia, he mentioned neither time nor place for the meeting.

Samy Aboul Tetouh, Egyptian ambassador to London, called on Menzies to deliver Nasser's letter. The text, as made public in Cairo, read:

"I wish to acknowledge receipt of Your Excellency's letter dated Aug. 24 in which you informed me of the request of the committee under Your Excellency's chairmanship to meet with me to place before me and to explain to me the views of the governments mentioned in your message concerning the Suez Canal. I agree to the proposed meeting as requested by the committee."

The letter did not bear out an earlier report from Egyptian officials that Nasser had specified Cairo at the site for the meeting.

On getting Nasser's reply, Menzies went to 10 Downing St., residence of Prime Minister Eden where the Cabinet was in session. The Cabinet was informed of Nasser's reply and the meeting broke up soon after.

The Menzies committee was named by 18 of the 22 nations attending the London conference. It was assigned the task of presenting the majority proposals to Nasser for an international board to run the canal. The plan would make Egypt a member of the board and the agency to the United Nations.

Representatives of the Campbell-Loring Post were on hand when the discussions were concluded and the transfer of property approved.

Commissioners will wait for an interpretation of a Supreme Court decision relative to merchants placing merchandise on sidewalks outside their stores.

Commission Approves '56-57 Utility Budget

The Board of Sanford City Commissioners last night put their stamp of approval on the 1956-57 Utility Department budget for the city.

The budget, $47,000 higher than the previous year's budget will include an operation lower than the previous year's. The commissioners approved the $296,964 money spending bill for the sewer and water program department of the city.

Also approved was the purchase of the property and building of the American Legion at Celery and Mellenville Aves., and the transfer of a tract of land on 17-82 near the well fields which will be used as the Legion Fair site.

Representatives of the Campbell-Loring Post were on hand when the discussions were concluded and the transfer of property approved.

Commissioners will wait for an interpretation of a Supreme Court decision relative to merchants placing merchandise on sidewalks outside their stores.

City Attorney William C. Hutchison told the Board of Commissioners that "It has been my opinion that it is the city's responsibility should injuries come from the placing of merchandise on streets causing obstructions."

Commissioner A. L. Wilson said that "I don't think that any merchant wants to put merchandise on the sidewalks—it is just that the merchants don't like to be told what to do with their own businesses."

A request to place a "road sign" on public property was turned down last night when Don Gunderson of Orlando, an outdoor advertising executive, appeared before the commission to ask for the sign. City Attorney Hutchison informed the commissioners that the city code does not permit the construction of any sign or billboard on public property.

A resolution was adopted last night expressing the deepest regrets of the city to the families involved in yesterday's air crash.

Tomorrow Big Day For Young Anglers At Fishing Rodeo

Tomorrow is a day of fun for boys and girls of Seminole County 14 years of age and younger! And the fun is all on the Jaycees.

The 7th Annual Jaycees Fishing Rodeo will get underway at Lake Carola, in Fort Mellon Park in Sanford, at approximately 2:30 when the arrival of school buses from over the county is slated.

Jack Sewell, chairman of the Seminole County Junior Chamber of Commerce Fishing Rodeo said yesterday "The Jaycees have completed the readings of fishing poles, lines, hooks, floats and sinkers for more than 600 children expected to take part in tomorrow's fishing contest."

The lake has been amply stocked with good sized fish for the youngsters to catch. The stocking of the lake was under the direction of the State Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission and the City of Sanford.

George Andrew Spear, president of the local Jaycee organization, said "The entire Seminole County Jaycee Membership is looking forward to seeing to it that every boy and girl attending the seventh Annual Jaycee Fishing Rodeo has a good time."

Chairman Sewell said that all of the plans for the event have been completed. "All we're waiting for now is for the boys and girls to begin showing up tomorrow."

Sewell stated that the merchants of Sanford have generously donated gifts to be awarded to boys and girls in every classification and age group catching fish tomorrow at Lake Carola.

The Sanford merchants who have donated the gifts are Ted Williams Lumber and Hardware Co., Kader's Jewelry, Stanley Rogers Hardware, Sanford Avenue Amoco Service Station, Firestone Store, Hill Hardware Co., Robson Sporting Goods, Rita Thea, McCree's Five and Ten Cent Store, St. Johns Realty, Frank Noel Jeweler, Roumillat and Andersons, Goodyear Service Store, Sweeney's, and Powell's Office Supply Co.

Hooks, lines and sinkers for the event were contributed by Seminole Sporting Goods and the worms for bait are being furnished by the Seminole County Sportsmen's Association.

A registered nurse, furnished by Seminole Memorial Hospital will be on hand from 2 until 5 o'clock with first aid supplies to take care of any minor injuries which might occur.

Approximately 50 Jaycees will be on hand to issue fishing poles to the youngsters, serve ice cream and cold drinks to each participant, take care of questions and conduct the fishing contest.

There will be four judges to weigh, measure and judge the fish caught by the youngsters. They are: John Melach, Seminole County Commissioner and President of the Seminole County Sportsmen's Association, Fortie Lansing, past president of the Seminole County Sportsmen's Association.

Gloria Vanderbilt Marries Television Director Yesterday

NEW YORK (AP)—Millionaire Gloria Vanderbilt, ostentatious "poor little rich girl" of Park Avenue, was married yesterday to a television director who grew up on the lower East Side.

Miss Vanderbilt and Sidney Lumet, both 23, were married in a surprise ceremony. It was her third marriage, his second.

She was previously married to Hollywood agent Pat DiCicco and white-haired orchestra conductor Leopold Stokowski. Lumet's first wife was movie actress Rita Gam.

The newlyweds postponed their honeymoon. Miss Vanderbilt, now an actress, is appearing nightly in a play at the Millburn, N. J., summer theater.

The bride, a great-great-granddaughter of railroad magnate Cornelius Vanderbilt, hit the headlines in 1954 as a "poor little rich girl" entangled in a bitter custody fight between her aunt and mother. The aunt won.

Miss Vanderbilt inherited five million dollars on her 21st birthday.

Bill Holden Says He's 'Just Curious'
HOLLYWOOD — William Holden is carrying around one of the biggest lumps of curiosity in Hollywood.

This has hurtled him through the air, across land and sea and into faraway lands. It is largely responsible for his latest episode: smashing the sound barrier in a jet plane.

If he isn't the first movie personality to break the barrier, he's the first to talk about it.

"Why did I do it? Just curious, I suppose," he says.

The idea came to him after he had completed a picture about the development and testing of the rocket plane, the Bell X-2, called "Toward The Unknown."

"I wondered how it would feel so I arranged a flight with the air force," he said.

Holden, a former administrative officer with the air corps in World War II, underwent a flight physical prior to the hop, even "flying" to 40,000 feet in an oxygen chamber.

The actual flight took place in a two-seater T-28D sabre jet over California's Mojave Desert. The air force assigned Brig. Gen. Stanley Holtoner, commander of Edwards Air Force Base, Edwards, Calif., to fly Holden.

"I expected it would be a little more dramatic," he said.

"First we climbed to about 30,000 feet, then dived toward earth, picking up speed. It's real weird up there when you are racing ahead of the sound of the plane. It's so unrealistically quiet."

Bell Telephone Laboratories Reveal 'Picture Phone' Invention

An innovation in telephone service, announced last week by the Bell Telephone Laboratories, will cause some changes in telephone answering habits no doubt.

Without predicting just how soon the new innovation for telephone users would be made available for distribution, it is presumed that most folks who immediately add the modern improvements to their utility sets, are beginning to rearrange their mode of answering phones installed in various locations throughout the home.

According to the announcement released last week, scientists of the Bell Telephone System have "been seeing each other over the phone" since July 30 on the "picture phone" invention revealed last Wednesday by the Bell Telephone Laboratories.

Heretofore, it has been the habit of telephone users to rush for the phone to immediately recognize the voice of a caller or attempt to visualize the appearance of the stranger on the other end of the line.

Winston E. Kock, the scientist who devised and developed the picture phone in the Bell labs at Berkeley Heights, N. J. said he was convinced the picture phone would be improved to a point where it could be installed in every home and office as separate optional equipment at a reasonable cost.

Now, before many moons have passed, we will be able to both talk with and see our phone callers on the other end.

That's the thing that will change the habits of telephone users.

Right now, one can grab a towel and rush for the phone, relax and lounge as we talk, pay no attention to appearance or garb whatsoever, and feel free to chat with curly hair and a fringed fringe without even a comb run through it.

More than likely, the coming art of seeing one's telephone callers will necessitate the added time for primping, a quick fixing of the hair, or maybe even the change of dress or shirt.

According to the scientists who made the announcement of the new type of telephone service only one wire will be required in addition to the regular voice wire. Thus, according to the announcement, long distance picture-phones calls would cost about twice the present rate for long distance voice calls.

The picture on current model picture-phones ranges up to two by three inches and appears as a miniature TV screen in a box-like apparatus which also contains the camera which takes the caller's picture.

Only the head and shoulders of the persons connected by picture-phone can be seen. But according to the announcement, facial expressions are clear and there is good black and white contrast.

There will be somewhat different attitudes comes the time when we can look at one another while participating in a telephone conversation.

Safety Suggestions

Another long holiday weekend is just around the corner—another occasion when millions of Americans pause in their daily labors to relax and enjoy themselves for three full days. Unhappily, too, it's another occasion for some needless slaughter on our highways.

Last year 488 people lost their lives in motor vehicle accidents over the Labor Day weekend. We see no reason why the toll should be any less this year.

Year after year, the holiday death rate remains more or less constant, regardless of warnings like this. Frankly, we sometimes wonder whether it is futile to go on repeating these admonitions. Everyone, it seems, has the idea that a highway crackup is something that happens to somebody else.

On the chance that at least a few motorists may heed them, however, we bring you once again safety suggestions for the long weekend ahead.

First: never exceed posted speed limits.

Second: check your steering mechanism and braking system before you start on any weekend trip.

Here are some other recommendations: Avoid night driving whenever possible; stop every two hours for a break, whether you think you need it or not; don't trail the car ahead too closely—leave at least 50 to 60 yards of space; and, don't travel on tires with worn treads.

Early Marriages

Many writers have casually referred to the age at which Americans marry as if it were a well established and incontrovertible fact that both men and women are older today when they enter into matrimony than were their parents or grandparents. Statistics prove this to be an erroneous conclusion.

According to statistics of a large life insurance company which has delved into reports of the Bureau of the Census, there has been a general trend toward earlier marriages for more than half a century. This trend has been greatly accelerated since World War II.

Today the men who marry at all do so before the age of 28. For women the median age is 20 years.

Population of the U. S. now includes more than 81 million persons who are married, compared to 60 million in 1940 who were married. At present 70 per cent of the population aged 15 and over is married, compared to 60 per cent in the decade prior to World War II.

The proportion of married men in to 20-24 age bracket has doubled since 1940—from 27 to 51 per cent.

A younger marriage age undoubtedly has contributed greatly to the current period of prosperity. It has boosted the demand for goods and services in every category.

Too Late To Classify

BY RUSSELL KAY

The ill-advised action taken at the recent caucus of Florida House members to punish voters for daring to elect Republican members to office by denying such members the same rights and privileges as Democratic members in the handling of local legislation, was most unfortunate.

The House Democrats adopted a resolution that would treat local legislation proposed by Republican members in a different manner from similar legislation proposed by Democratic members in that G. O. P. bills would not be considered by the Democratic majority of the House until such bills were first approved by local Democratic leaders.

Good Americans, regardless of their political affiliations, love fair play and good sportsmanship and will resent such a high-handed, contemptible effort to nullify the will of the sovereign voters.

It is the right and privilege of the voters of Pinellas, Sarasota, Palm Beach or any other county to elect the candidate of their choice, be he a Democrat or a Republican, and any attempt at political dictation from either party won't set well.

The proposal at the Democratic caucus is so unfair and so un-American that it will do more to strengthen Florida Republicans and drive both Democratic and Independent voters into the Republican column next November than anything I can think of.

While the rule has not been finally adopted, since the action was taken at an exclusive Democratic caucus and must be acted upon by the House as a whole, the fact that it even received favorable consideration serves to discredit the Democratic party in the eyes of anyone who believes in justice and fair play.

When voters of any political subdivision elect a man to represent them they naturally assume that such representation will be as full, complete and unrestricted as that of any other member of the House and Senate.

Suppose a Republican majority in Congress were to attempt to deny our Florida representatives full privileges simply because they bore a different party label. Would we like that? We would not, and by the same token our local Republican friend won't like it coming from the Florida legislature and they will work and fight harder than ever before to make Florida a two-party state and build Republican strength.

Florida Democrats faced a tough enough battle to return the state to the Democratic column in November without giving the opposition something like this to point to. My guess is that we will find more Republicans elected in Florida, rather than less, as a result of this action. I am confident that Florida voters will insist that the same rules of lawmaking apply to all lawmakers regardless of their affiliation.

We can lead voters to Democratic ranks but we can't drive them by force or intimidation, and the sooner we stop such silly actions and conduct the party in a manner that will make voters want to be Democrats and quit telling

Few Realize They Have Glaucoma

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (U)—Odd facts a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

That many highway accidents are probably caused by people who are slowly going blind and don't know it. The National Society for the Prevention of Blindness estimates that fewer than half of the one million Americans suffering from glaucoma, a vision destroying ailment, realize they have it.

That Katenellenbogen is the longest name in the current Manhattan phone directory.

That the pretty lady whose portrait appears on some $100 Confederate bills was Lucy Halcombe Pickens, an ancestor of singer Jane Pickens.

That while most of us spend our lives trying to understand economics, fewer than five per cent of U. S. high school graduates ever took a course in the subject.

That Saturday is a more dangerous day than Sunday for motorists. Last year Saturday accidents took 3,320 lives, Sunday 7,410.

That the first self-service "honor system" restaurant, the Exchange Buffet (the cashier took the customer's word for what he ate), opened here Sept. 4, 1885.

That the average American farmer, who in 1900 raised enough food to supply six other persons, now—according to the U. S. Department of Agriculture—raises enough to feed 18 persons besides himself.

That every hour the sun shines it sends the earth an amount of energy equivalent to that produced by burning $1 billion tons of coal.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERR

AT 2:20 A.M. ON April 15, 1912, the liner Titanic sank on its maiden voyage across the Atlantic, after an iceberg had ripped out its bottom a few hours previous: 705 survivors were brought to New York aboard the rescue ship, Carpathia. Over 1500 lives were lost.

Walter Lord's "A Night to Remember" gives a graphic and unforgettable picture of the Titanic disaster. It also calls attention to an amazing coincidence.

Fourteen years before the Titanic sank, an author named Morgan Robertson wrote a novel called "Futility" which described a catastrophe at sea so prophetic as to seem almost unbelievable. Robertson's ship also hit an iceberg, it also was on its maiden crossing, it also was heralded as "unsinkable." It also carried enough lifeboats to care for only a fraction of its passengers. But most startling of all: Morgan Robertson's imaginary ship was named the Titan!

Ed. Note: Walter Lord and other marine authorities say work now on the radar-shaded collision between the Stockholm and the Andrea Doria — the latest of "unsinkable ship" sea mysteries.

Florida's Future Bright As Leaders Wish To Make It

JACKSONVILLE (U)—The future of Florida, says William S. Johnson, executive vice president of the Jacksonville Chamber of Commerce, is just as bright as its leaders wish to make it.

"Under existing Florida and local laws, industry and business may operate in a climate free of many of the harassments found in other locations," he told the Florida chapter of the International Assn. of Personnel in Employment Security Wednesday.

"It is possible, however, that unthinking action such as restrictive legislation with its resultant increase in cost of doing business, haphazard zoning and one-sided employer-employee regulations could overnight change our present friendly reception to one of cold rebuff," he said.

Johnson said Florida has made great industrial progress since World War II and predicted that with a favorable economic climate this expansion will continue at a rapid rate.

Old-Time Pain Relievers

By HERMAN H. ROBINSON, M.D.

THE old-time mustard plaster which grandma praised so highly still has its place in medicine.

A counter-irritant, it helps relieve local pain. While producing inflammation of the skin over the affected area, it also causes a reflex action which lessens pain in the underlying tissues.

When your doctor advises a mustard plaster, here's how to make it:

For adults, mix one part mustard with four to six parts flour and add enough tepid water to make a smooth paste. For children, use 12 parts flour.

Spread the paste over a piece of muslin somewhat larger than the area to be treated. The paste should be about one-quarter inch thick. Then cover this with another piece of muslin and fold the open edges in so the goo won't spill out.

While preparing the poultice, it might be a good idea to place the under piece of muslin over a hot water bag to prevent the paste from cooling.

Next, place the plaster on the patient's skin, which has been lightly oiled, and hold it firmly in place with a cloth binder.

You've got to be careful to avoid blistering. Examine the skin every five minutes to check inflammation. Remove the plaster as soon as the skin assumes the shade of a definite pink.

Wash skin. After removal of the plaster wash the skin with soap and water and dry it thoroughly. Then grease it with petroleum and cover it with a warm cloth.

A flannel poultice is used the same way. It maintains its warmth for a much longer time, however, and is used simply as another means of applying heat.

Add one cup of flannel to one and a half cups of water and boil until it becomes doughy. Turn off the heat, add one-half teaspoonful of soda bicarbonate and then beat the mixture thoroughly for a few minutes.

This allows air to mix in with the dough.

Spread it one-half to one inch thick on the muslin. Leave it in place on the affected area from 30 to 45 minutes or as long as it is still warm.

Ike, Adlai See Brand New Era Ahead

WASHINGTON (U)—Mild talking President Eisenhower may have to be tough-talking if he's re-elected. His pleasant relationship with Congress doesn't figure to last through a second term.

For his second term must be his last one, under the constitutional amendment adopted in 1951. It's almost axiomatic that a president serving his last term has influence on Congress.

This was recognized in Corwin's and Kennan's recent book, "The Presidency Today," when they said:

"It has been repeatedly found that, once the end of the incumbent's tenure is definitely known, his influence in Congress dwindles and his programs come to a standstill."

In his first term Eisenhower relied mainly on gentle persuasion with Democrats and Republicans to get his programs through Congress. Much he got. Much he did not.

Critics complain he would have accomplished more if he had asserted more leadership, fought harder, been tougher.

Some of the strongest opposition to Eisenhower during his first term came from within the Republican ranks in Congress. But it's no wonder the words of the word die down as the election approaches.

Eisenhower wasn't running. They thought he was running. They thought he was running. They thought he was running. They thought he was running.

Eisenhower did that for them in 1952. They lost to the Democrats in the 1952 off-year elections when Eisenhower wasn't running. They looked steadily forward to 1954. So long as it was possible he could run again this year, they could hope not only to retain their

Petersburg Police Force Starts Daily Target Practice

PETERSBURG, Va. (U)—Daily target practice has been decreed for members of the Petersburg police force.

Chief W. E. Traylor decided the practice was overdue when a couple of his detectives failed in an attempt to capture two gunmen who several times had broken into a drive-in restaurant.

The detectives, lying low in the restaurant, surprised the gunmen, all right. The gunmen fired. The detectives shot back.

Next day, 21 bullet holes were found in the restaurant, but nobody had been hit and the gunmen got clean away.

Sen. Knowland of California, Republican Senate leader, backed Eisenhower repeatedly on foreign affairs. And this year he started for the presidential nomination only to withdraw when Eisenhower said he'd run.

As for the Democrats: He got cooperation and opposition from

J. L. Horton Home Scene Of Shower For Miss Dobson

Miss Lois Ann Dobson, who will be married to Paul P. Drozhuk on September 9th, was feted with a lovely bridal shower on Friday evening when Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Young and Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Horton Sr. entertained at the Horton home on Palmetto Avenue.
Games and contests were enjoyed throughout the evening, with prizes being awarded to Mrs. Lester Doerr, Mrs. W. C. Clause, Mrs. Johnny Blair, Harry Falk and Chan Vail.
A beautiful arrangement of pink roses in a blue container, flanked by crystal blue vases, centered the lace covered dining table. Various hibiscus were used in the living room, while an arrangement of pink roses, gladioli, and tube roses centered the white, cut work covered table in the yard, from which refreshments of white individual cakes, decorated with pink wedding bells, mints, nuts, and punch were served.
A green water spray can suspended from the white festooned clothes line carried a dozen pink ribbons down to the many gifts in the up-turned umbrella and card table below, creating the novel arrangement for presenting the gifts.
The invited guest list included the adult department of the First Christian Church Sunday School, where Lois Ann has acted as Secretary for the past five years.
Those present were: Miss Dobson, Mr. and Mrs. Lester Doerr of Mt. Dora, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Falk, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. O. D. Landress, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. De Bary News

By MARY FOWLER
Baby showers are everyday affairs in most towns but even one is so unusual in DeBary that all the grandmothers who have retired to this pleasant village smile at the news and reminisce over similar functions long past. The future, however, was upmost in the greetings given young Joseph Brenner, Jr. and his mother at his 'third week birthday' when neighboring matrons and children trooped in to present him with a colorful bathinette filled with gifts suitable to a newly arrived DeBary resident.

Appropriately decorated cakes were brought, too, and served by the hostesses, Betty Faron and Elsie Perko. Among those present were: Mrs. Dorothy Nettles, Mrs. Iva Corbett, Mrs. Lydia Rayner, Mrs. Lynn Miller, Mrs. Lydia Rayner, Mrs. David MacFarlane, Mrs. Elsie Faron, Mrs. Libby Redman, Mrs. Pat Trinowski, Mrs. E. Miss Betty Bryan, was entertained at a Bridal Shower recently, hostesses being Mrs. W. W. Tyre and Mrs. J. C. Davis.
A pink and white color scheme was used and refreshments of punch and cake were served to the guests. Miss Helen Alexander was winner in the game division.
The honoree was then presented with an array of fine and useful gifts, the hostesses' gift being a dinner plate to match her china pattern.

Kim Novak Takes First Apartment

By JAMES BACON
HOLLYWOOD — Kim Novak, a bona fide movie star now, has taken her first apartment since coming to Hollywood—and I, for one, wished she still lived at the YWCA.
As every dyed-in-the-wool fan knows, Kim is a famous alumna of the studio club. That's an inexpensive home-away-from-home for pretty young girls who want to make a name for themselves in Hollywood. It's also, as a department of the YMCA, a no-nonsense land.
But her studio apartment figured in too unglamorous an address for the Chicago blonde, fresh from success in "Picnic" and "The Eddie Duchin Story" and soon to star in "The Jeanne Eagles Story" and "Pal Joey."
So when she returned from her triumphant tour of Europe, she leased a fancy Beverly Hills apartment.
As a discoverer of Kim, I was given the honor of being the first male reporter to see the new apartment. I wish I had been second.
The night before she had given a housewarming dinner. Judging from the number of dishes used, it looked like something out of Perle Mesta.
Sink or stacked on the kitchen floor. All dirty, of course.
"You know I'm bohemian, we'll clean up these dishes quick," she added, whipping out two aprons. By the time she had tied the last bow on my apron, I got the whole horrible impact of her use of the pronoun "we."
I stuttered: "You're kidding!" Three hours and a hundred or more dishes later, she beamed.
"I'm going to tell your wife what a good dish wiper you are."
I got news for Kim Novak. She's never going to see my wife again if I can help it.

IT HAS TO BE RIGHT
SEATTLE — John Franco was puzzled by the meticulous care workmen were displaying in putting acoustical material on the ceiling over his bar.
"Why," Franco asked the foreman, "are you being so fussy. It looks all right to me."
"Listen," the foreman replied, "my boss spends most of his time in here. This job has got to be just right."

I understand the girls who were in Miami Beach this past weekend attending the Jaycee Conference really had a "wonderful" time. I wonder if any them succumbed to the temptation which I'm sure must have been brought on by all those beautiful clothes displayed at the fashion show to which they were treated. I'll have to look into that more closely.
Two of Sanford's young socialites really received a tremendous thrill yesterday. Miss Myra Francis Strickland and Miss Marilyn McDaniel who have been visiting relatives in Atlanta, Ga., were allowed to return by plane, it being the first flight for both of them. They left Atlanta about 2:00 p.m. and were scheduled to reach Orlando at 5:30 p.m., and I'll bet they haven't gotten over the excitement yet.
From Mrs. E. A. Covington, who returned last week from the Board of Assembly in Ridgecrest, N. C., come more raves about those mountain breezes. "So cool and nice in the mountains," says she. From the looks of these foggy mornings we've been having lately, it won't be too much awarded ribbons for the individual winners, with Rin Tin Tin books for the tug of war "fraters". A throwing contest finished the afternoon's entertainment. Parents brought the makings of a splendid dinner which was served to the young combatants and all twenty young men called it a dandy day at DeLand.

Mrs. Harold Lynch, publicity director of the DeBary Garden Club announces that there was a board meeting yesterday to plan for the fall and winter programs.

Miss Lettie Caldwell reports so many new arrivals in our city, that it's difficult to introduce them all to you. But I hope you are taking advantage of the names I give you to go over and make yourself known to those who live in your neighborhood. I'm sure they will appreciate your thoughtful and friendly gesture. Here are some of the newest additions to our list: Lt. Cdr. S. M. Thompson and family, here from Silver Springs. The Thompsons have three boys age nine, six and three and two girls ages seven and ten months. They are making their home at 301 E. 15th Street. . . Mr. and Mrs. K. S. Torbett, 1325 E. 24th Street, moved here recently from Norfolk, Va., with their two boys aged twelve and three. . . Mr. and Mrs. B. D. Creel, 210 West 15th Street have a son aged 13 and two daughters aged 12 and nine. Mr. Creel is a dispatcher with the A. C. L. Railroad. . . David A. Laude moved here recently from Knoxville, Tenn. with his wife and 18-month-old daughter. They are living at 2303 Coronado Ct.

CHAPTER TWENTY-NINE

MEMO. SHUT within her own misery, was dimly aware that her friends were worried. One layer of her mind was sorry, but she could neither see nor control her own misery. She thought of two people only, Anna Larkins and Kemp; they hurried into a torturing suspense that threatened her.

She had meddled with life and was being punished. She had interfered with David's destiny and because of it Anna was alone. If he had gone to prison, he would not have left Anna when he was free.

She had tried to keep Kemp from Anna, the result being that she had gone without Kemp, without her. If she had been the right kind of a wife, she would have followed him anywhere.

Not only had she driven Kemp out of Anna's life, but she had behaved as if she had no husband at all. She remembered James's kisses and writhed with shame. James knew a loose woman when she saw one! A woman and a mad dog, that was the situation Beatrice saw all right. And she had ended up with exactly what she deserved—nothing! Nothing but a sense of guilt, blood on her hands. She had killed Kemp as surely as if she had shot him!

It was the middle of July when Beatrice puffed up the stairs to announce visitors.

"Being who they are, I hadn't the question to shut 'em off without telling you. But if you say the word, off they go—bankers' wives or not."

Meg turned her head on the pillow. "Bankers?"

"Mrs. Linden and Mrs. Chin-sam."

"Bring them in," Beatrice said. "Bring them in if you like."

For the first time in weeks, she knew a stirring of interest as she watched Beatrice and Charlotte enter. Flat in bed she might be but they shouldn't outcrow her if she knew it!

"Nice of you to call." She hadn't been her father's hostess for years without learning how to put snootiness as well as sweetness into her tone.

"My dear, I should have come much earlier had I had any notion of the severity of your illness!" Beatrice had started out to be patronizing but she heard her own voice with irritation. She sounded conceited! Ridiculous to know how a little bit whose sole income depended on a two-by-four bed shop, whose husband was dead. Beatrice coughed. Meg hadn't said a word, just looked at her with those big dark eyes. "My dear, I won't pretend this is merely a social call. Although naturally I'm delighted to see you looking better. The grapes and peaches were delivered, I trust?"

"Very thoughtful of you."

Beatrice flushed though Meg's tone had been polite enough. That branch of the Strattons had always been high-hat. Randall Stratton could have thrown a corps of diplomats off their dignity.

"I have a different sort of gift today." Beatrice heard her own sprightliness with discomfort. She rushed on, feeling more irritated with Meg and with the silent Charlotte every moment. "I had a letter from your father yesterday. He's concerned about your widowed state. Really, my dear, I do think—of course, the young are always thoughtless—but I do feel you should have informed him. It must have been embarrassing for him to hear from a total stranger—that is, I assume Mrs. Fleur is a stranger to him."

She waited but Meg said nothing. Beatrice rushed on. "It just so happens that I intend to go to Boston next month. Well, your father has asked me to act as your companion on the trip and to stop off for a short visit in Strattonville. Your father left the entire plans in my hands. He sent a—yes, a very sizable draft. After the ticket has been purchased, my husband will see that you receive the balance of the funds."

"Do you mean to tell me," Meg demanded, biting off her words as if they were brittle in her teeth, "that my father sent money to you and asked you to deliver it home like an express shipment?"

"Well, I'm sure he never meant me to infer—I mean knowing you were ill, and with two children—and Mrs. Fleur saying—"

"I forgive Jenny," Meg said. She didn't raise her voice, but even Charlotte Linden, motionlessly and lowly, stirred uneasily. "Jenny didn't understand I'd rather starve to death, I'd rather scrub floors in the Tenderloin, I'd sooner live there—than to accept one single solitary penny from Father?"

"Really, Mrs. Beaumont, I—you're distraught... you don't understand—"

Beatrice bleated. "But I don't forgive Father!"

Meg said. "He knew how I'd feel. He hated Kemp! Now that Kemp's gone, he's willing to take me back, to forget my children are Kemp's too. I wouldn't put it past him to want to change their names to Stratton. Johnny's name anyhow. Well!"

Meg threw back the quilt. She put her feet on the floor, glared at Beatrice. "My dear, I ing at Beatrice. "You tell my father I don't want a cent from him! You tell him I'll never come back unless it's in a coffin. And that even then if he buries me in the Stratton plot, I'll haunt him! You tell him that!"

"Good—good heavens!" Beatrice said faintly.

Charlotte said nothing at all. She merely stared.

Meg got to her feet. She picked a robe from a near-by chair, threw it about her. She gripped the bedpost but she was triumphantly sure neither of her visitors saw any weakness in her.

"Is that clear, Mrs. Chin-sam?"

"Yes. Yes, of course," Beatrice backed to the door. Charlotte followed. "I'm—I'm sorry."

Beatrice almost ran down the stairs. She had the satisfaction of finding Charlotte at her heels once they were on the front porch.

Charlotte glanced over her shoulder. "Penny," she murmured. "I thought Michael was crazy when he said she was pretty. But do you know, she was? At the last anyhow."

Meg waited until the front door closed behind her guests. She slipped precariously from her window and saw Meg get into the London carriage. Trust Beatrice to choose a companion who could furnish one!

Slowly Meg walked back to the bed. Her stomach felt hollow but she was oddly stronger than she had been for weeks.

What a fool she was! All right, so Kemp was dead. She couldn't make up to him for what she had done but she could certainly keep from crawling back to her father. She had two children. She had a strong back and a strong will, even if she couldn't give herself top rating in the mental department. She owned half of a hat shop. With these assets, she would make good and sure that Johnny and Honora Jane shouldn't ever take charity from their grandfather. Through them, she had a chance to make up to Kemp. She had a fierce longing to see her children. Why had she ever allowed Gretchen to absorb them? She had been a luxury penny from Father."

Meg looked at her feet. Good heavens, she had given Beatrice Chin-sam her walking papers in bare feet!

Her jaw set. Send her home, would she? Not while she had breath in her body! From now on, she'd keep the reins in her own hands. Father could think twice if he believed she'd ever come crawling home a failure.

Campy Hits Single With 3 On In 8th

By ED WILKS
The Associated Press

Roy Campanella, Brooklyn's big catcher who wins the most valuable-player award every other season and then slumps in between, is following the same old script again. But with one ad lib from his bat, the Dodgers are sure, then ever they'll retain the national league pennant.

Campy, at $5, the highest paid Dodger ever, won the NL's MVP award in 1931, '33, and '35. But he was a "bust" in '30, '32 and '34. And at the moment, true to the "even-year jinx," he's wobbling along with a .220 bat average with a scrawny 57 runs batted in.

Things have been so bad for the big guy this season, Milwaukee decided to walk Jackie Robinson—loading the bases with two out—to get to Campy with the score tied 3-3 in the eighth inning yesterday. The Braves were speculating in percentages. Campy had not hit in his last 11 at bats. He now has one hit in his last 12 at bats—a lined single that scored three runs and lifted the Brooks into a 6-3 victory and whitened the Braves' first-place edge in two games once more.

It was the only game scheduled in the NL, leaving the Brooks two full games ahead of third place Cincinnati.

In the only American League game scheduled, Cleveland hopped Washington 5-3 as Bob Lemon hung up his 19th lifetime victory.

Campanella's single salvaged a split in the two-game set for the second place Dodgers and gave them a victory in their last game of the season in Milwaukee for a 4-7 record at County Stadium. It was there that the Dodgers had nailed the 1933 and 1935 pennants with victories on their last visit of the season.

This one carried no such guarantee. But after coming back from a 3-0 deficit, the Brooks are sure they've got the flag in the sack. The Braves are still the team to beat, but now just one game back in the "lost" column the Brooklynians feel they can do it—helped along by an "at home" schedule to and the season. They figured they needed "only six or seven" victories on their current 11-game finale in the West this season and now they've won five of the first seven, with only four games left at Chicago against the last place Cubs.

Joe Adcock's 33rd home run, and his 11th against Brooklyn, and Bobby Thomson's 19th built the 3-0 Milwaukee lead against 20-game winner Don Newcombe, who has finished only one of his last four pitching starts, left for a pinch-hitter because of a tummy ache in the sixth when Duke Snider hit his 35th homer, a two-run shot, off Gene Conley to start the Brook revival.

Robinson's double and a single by Sandy Amoros tied it in the seventh. Then came the eighth and Conley's fifth straight losing start against the champs since May 12, 1935. Don Besant's one-hit relief over the last four frames brought the young right-hander his first 1935 victory.

It was Conley's hesitancy on Carl Furillo's chopper in the eighth that may have been responsible for his eighth defeat in 15 decisions. With runners on third and first, Conley's homer, but a fielding Furillo's homer, but a rundown between third and home. Then came the pass to Robbie—who looked like the Jackie of old scoring from first on Campy's single when the outfield threw it to second.

Chico Carraquel drove in three runs with two homers for the Tribe and scored another after doubling. Rocky Colavito also homered, his 17th, for the second place Indians, one more within seven games of the New York Yankees. Lemon, winning his 17th of the season, gave eight hits and walked home an unearned run in the eighth. The big right-hander now is even with Milwaukee's Warren Spahn in the race to see who'll be the first to join the 200-victory circle. But the Braves' southpaw is scheduled to go again tonight, shooting for his 19th opposing Pittsburgh.

Officials Iron Out Details Of Fullmer, Robinson Battle

CHICAGO (AP)—Officials of the International Boxing Club expect to iron out details today for a middleweight title fight between champion Ray Robinson and Challenger Gene Fullmer.

Truman Gibson, secretary of the IBC, said Robinson would be contacted in New York today after learning that Sugar Ray had capitulated to IBC President Jim Norris.

Robinson two weeks ago said he was through with Norris and the IBC because he couldn't get enough money from them but yesterday announced "I'm ready, willing and able to defend my title on Sept. 25 or a later date at Yankee Stadium."

Gibson and Norris returned to Chicago last night after giving Robinson a deadline to meet "our offer."

Robinson had demanded 47 1/2 per cent of the net plus 60 per cent of all money received from theatre or home television with a guarantee of $60,000.

Tourney Qualifying Rounds Start Today

NEW YORK (AP)—More than 1,500 golfers, hope high in all their hearts, swarmed down on courses around the country today for the qualifying rounds of the National Amateur tournament.

When it is all over, the record entry of 1,612 will be cut down to 200 who will compete in the all-match play tournament at the Knollwood Club at Lake Forest, Ill., Sept. 10-13.

Only nine of the 200 spots go to exempt players. Those who don't have to go against the crowd are defending champion Harvie Ward; former Amateur champions Charles Coe, Dick Chapman, Willie Turpea and Chick Evans; former British Amateur champions Bob Sweeney and Joe Conrad; public links champion Junie Buxbaum and Junior Amateur champion Harlan Stevenson.

Thirty-two spots already have been filled in the three qualifying rounds already played. Last week in San Francisco, five players made it including Ken Venturi and former Walker Cupper Johnny Dawson.

Yesterday, the Chicago area qualified 24, headed by Bernie Katz' 72-71-143, and the three northwest berths were filled at Portland, Ore. Two of them went to ex-Walker Cuppers Bruce Cudd and Dick Yost.

Mossor Gets Berth On Southern Assn. Pennant Express

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Veteran right-hander Earl Mossor, found wanting at Fort Worth and Louisville this season, has been ushered into a cozy berth on what the Atlanta Crackers call their Southern Assn. pennant express.

The lanky hurler with the big curve posted his sixth victory in eight decisions last night, restricting Nashville to seven hits as Atlanta stretched its league lead to a game and one-half by trouncing the Vols 8-2.

Second place Birmingham led to Chattanooga in 14 innings 6-5. Mobile and Montgomery were rained out. Memphis and New Orleans were not scheduled.

National League Pennant Race Is Still Unchanged

MILWAUKEE (AP)—The so-called "Little World Series" as folks here were calling the two-game series between Milwaukee and Brooklyn, is ended today but the nerve-wracked National League pennant race remains unchanged.

The Dodgers, who stormed into this town Sunday bent on sweeping both games and wrest the lead from Milwaukee had to settle for one victory, a 6-3 triumph yesterday—and remained two games behind the pace setting Braves, one in the important "lost" column.

There was obvious relief in the Dodger clubhouse after the hard-earned triumph, which was accomplished by Roy Campanella's three-run single in the eighth inning after the Brooks had to overcome an early three-run deficit.

"We would have been in bad shape," admitted Jackie Robinson, who scored two of Brooklyn's runs, "if we had lost today. This was a big ball game."

Peo Wee Reese, the calm captain of the Dodgers, acknowledged the game was the most important one Brooklyn has won all year.

"Had we lost we would have been four games out," he said. "That's a lot of ground to make up at this stage of the race."

FLY-IN-ONE
CROWLEY, La. (AP)—Here's one of the oddest holes-in-one ever recorded on any links. It happened at the Acadia Golf Club and was hit by Chic Morgan playing a foursome. Chic's shot hit the cup on the fly and never touched the green! When the ball landed it wedged between the pin and the side of the cup. Chic has three flag-begasted witnesses to prove he wasn't seeing things.

UMPIRE KNOWS BEST
KANSAS CITY (AP)—The last time the Yankees played the Athletics here the A's smacked 26 hits—but still lost the game.

A press box observer thought this was a record number of hits by a loser, but umpire Ed Homers immediately scotched such talk. Ed claimed that in his days as a hurler for the old Philadelphia A's, he pitched 17 innings against the Indians, allowed 29 hits and still won the game.

NET AND ERROR
ROSWELL, N. M. (AP)—The life of a baseball official scorer isn't as soft as some folks think. Just ask Max Odendahl. Official scorer for the Roswell Rockets of the Southwestern League.

After a game, one of the Roswell pitchers didn't approve of Odendahl's opinions and attacked him. Max wasn't hurt, but his pride was.

President W. J. Green of the league fined the hurler $50. The Roswell club also returned the pitcher's contract to Sacramento of the Pacific Coast League.

The three injured are somewhat improved.

All three members of the crew were killed in the crash. The local Naval Air Station, VAH-7 of Heavy Attack Wing One, released the names of the crew late yesterday. They were: pilot, Lt. Comdr. Omi Donald Hall, USN, 34, of Rt. 1, Lake Boulevard, Lech Arbor. He is formerly of Kansas City, Mo., and is survived by his wife Gretchen; Navigator-Lieutenant, Lt. (JG) Gerald Michael O'Hara, USN, 32, unmarried and originally from New York City. He is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Martin A. O'Hara of Somerville, Mass.; Third Crewman, William Ballentine Swigonski, USN, 35, an Aviation Electronics Mate, 1st Class who is survived by his wife Mary and three children. They are originally from Reynoldsville, Pa. and reside on Rt. 2, Sanford.

Investigation into the accident was begun yesterday by officials of the local Naval Air Station. Officers began probing into the wreckage and debris immediately following the fire and crash.

However, Admiral Delbert Cornwell of the U. S. Navy in Washington has ordered an official Board of Investigation to include into the details of the air crash disaster. Comdr. J. F. Parham of the local Heavy Attack Wing staff has been designated senior member of a board consisting of three officers and one legal adviser.

In the meantime, the Miami office of the Federal Bureau of Investigation has directed the local FBI representative to assist in the crash investigation and will cooperate with the local Naval authorities.

Captain Robert W. Jackson said this morning that the claims will be processed immediately at the Sanford Naval Air Station.

An estimated crowd of 5,000 people visited the scene of the tragedy yesterday afternoon and last night. Hundreds of sightseers continue to pour by the area for a glimpse of the wreckage and damage.

The entire crash crew of the Sanford Naval Air Station fought the blazing inferno yesterday assisted by Chief Mack N. Cleveland Sr. and the Sanford Fire Department.

At the scene, assisting the Security Officer and his crew of military police, were the Sanford Police Department headed by Chief Roy Williams, the Seminole County Sheriff and his staff of deputies as well as the Florida Highway Patrol.

FLORIDA CITRUS TO HAVE GREATER FOREIGN MARKET CAMP MCQUARRIE
Over 500 sales of Florida citrus will top four million boxes next season, Martin Hearn, Florida Citrus Mutual export coordinator, told the Citrus Growers Institute yesterday.

For an even greater foreign market in the future, he called for intensified efforts at government and congressional levels to obtain further worldwide import relaxation on Florida products.

President On Way To Capitol; Adlai Continues Tour

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
President Eisenhower heads for Washington today—amid signs his re-election campaign soon will slip into high gear—while Adlai Stevenson plunged into the second day of a 7,000-mile "pre-campaign" trip.

Even as Eisenhower wound up a four-day golfing vacation at Pebble Beach, Calif., yesterday, Stevenson told Democrats in Santa Fe, N. M., that what he called the "failures" of the Republican administration will be laid at the President's doorstep this fall.

Stevenson and his running mate, Estes Kefauver, got a shouting New Mexico welcome yesterday before conferring with Southwest political leaders. He also made his first public address since accepting the Democratic presidential nomination.

At a news conference, Stevenson was asked if he intend to attack Eisenhower personally in the campaign. He replied "I hope I shan't attack him at all."

He had added that Eisenhower as head of the Republican administration will be held responsible for "its conduct and its failures."

The subject of presidential health wasn't covered during the day's activities, but in Washington yesterday a Democratic National Committee publication said "there is no doubt that President Eisenhower's health is going to be an issue in the 1956 campaign."

The publication said Eisenhower's Sept. 24 heart attack would disqualify him to serve even as an Army officer, and that his illness attack, for which he underwent surgery June 9, makes him a bad risk for disability insurance. Hagerly told newsmen at Pebble Beach yesterday that Eisenhower's doctors now feel his convalescence from surgery is at an end.

Tampa Officials Are Concerned About Explosives

TAMPA (AP)—Tampa officials are getting concerned about the quantities of explosives trucked through the city on the way to being loaded on ships here.

County Commissioner Nick Nucio has asked that measures be taken to stop it. Port Manager Jack Fitzgerald said he would like to see an isolated part of the waterfront used for the loading so that the trucks would not have to go through highly populated areas.

Cmdr. William T. Corfield, head of the Coast Guard inspection unit here, said Tampa is the center of dynamite shipments to mines and oil fields of South America.

Reasons for this are Tampa's geographical position and the fact it does not place a limit on the quantity of explosives that can be taken through the city at one time.

Mobile and New Orleans have 10-ton limits, he said, and all other Gulf ports have some limit.

Accidents on farms cost the American people about one and one half billion dollars annually.

Communist China Reports Shooting Down Aircraft

WASHINGTON—Communist China has informed the United States Red Chinese planes shot down an aircraft off the China Coast last Thursday and that apparently there are no survivors.

Secretary of State Dulles reported today the Peiping regime contends however, that the plane downed was a Chinese Nationalist plane.

A U. S. Navy Mercator patrol plane, with a 16-man crew, was being missing since Thursday—Tokyo time—after reporting it was under attack. U.S. searchers have found wreckage and the body of one crewman, with bullet wounds.

At a news conference, Dulles said that in answer to an American inquiry through the British Embassy in Peiping, Red China has conceded only that Chinese air force fighters did shoot down a plane in that general area about that time mentioned.

Dulles reported that the note, as he put it, was entirely negative regarding an American inquiry about the whereabouts of any survivors.

Dulles said he read a memorandum of the Chinese reply a few hours before the news conference. He said he did not recall precisely whether the Reds stuck to a story they previously broadcast by radio that a Chinese Nationalist plane was "damaged" and then disappeared toward the sea.

260-Pound Nurse Admits Shaking 3 Infants To Death

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP)—Police say a 260-pound pediatric nurse has admitted shaking to death three infants because they got on her nerves or refused to take their formula.

"It was all uncontrollable," Virginia B. Jaspers, 33-year-old daughter of a county official, told the coroner. "I didn't know why I did it. Children sometimes get on my nerves."

Miss Jaspers, who is six feet tall, also admitted breaking the leg of another infant and inflicting a head injury on a fifth, said Coroner James J. Corrigan.

A private pediatric nurse for 12 years, she often lived in with the parents of the children and was not connected with a hospital.

Police said the deaths dated back to 1948. Miss Jaspers was taken into custody as the result of the death Thursday of the 11-day-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Allen Kapsnow of New Haven.

Police Chief Francis V. McManus quoted her as saying she shook the infant violently because it refused its formula.

The Kapsnows thought their child had died of natural causes. McManus said the case developed after Dr. Sterling Taylor, acting medical examiner, reported the Kapsnow child had suffered head and body injuries, apparently caused when she was "picked up and shaken violently."

NEW YORK (AP)—Sonny Fox, the master of ceremonies who kicked up a fuss last June when he inadvertently gave away half an answer on CBS-TV's "The $64,000 Challenge" has been dropped from the quiz show.

CBS announced yesterday that Ralph Sorey, a Los Angeles radio disc jockey, has been signed to replace Fox starting with next Sunday night's program.

The network gave no reason for dismissing Fox. He will continue to do a CBS Sunday noon show called "Let's Take a Trip."

Pryors Attend Company Confab; R. Barber Speaks

Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Pryor have returned to Sanford following a month-long vacation during which time they attended the convention of State Farm Insurance Companies held at the Hotel Statler in New York.

On Aug. 10, said Irvin Pryor, Red Barber, Radio and TV announcer, addressed the convention on "An A Man Thinketh." Barber, originally from Sanford, talked at length with Pryor, following the address, about Sanford.

The same day at a luncheon for 800 of the ladies attending the convention Mrs. Pryor offered the devotion.

Following the convention, Mr. and Mrs. Pryor left for Salisbury, Md., where they participated in a family reunion banquet in the Ocean Room of Johnny and Sammie's Restaurant. They were both residents of Salisbury before coming to Florida in 1948.

Pryor was among the top 80 agents at the convention in New York of the state farm insurance companies covering all of the Southern states.

Police Searching For Silver Dollar Valued At $10,000

WASHINGTON (AP)—An 1804 silver dollar, valued by its owner at $10,000, was the object of a police search today.

Mrs. George D. Taylor told police yesterday the coin was missing upon her return home from a vacation at Portsmouth, Va.

Also missing, she said, were three other silver dollars minted in the 1850s and about $5 in old nickels.

Mrs. Taylor said the coin was given her by her parents. She said she believed it had been in her family's possession since it was minted.

A Washington coin expert said the 1804 dollar, minted in Philadelphia, was one of only about 500 known to exist.

FBI Holds Dio, 3 Others As Plotters Of Riesel Blinding

NEW YORK (AP)—The FBI today held racketeer Johnny Dio and three other hoodlums as plotters of the acid blinding of Victor Riesel, labor columnist.

Their motive was to intimidate Riesel from testifying on labor racketeering before a federal grand jury, said U. S. Atty. Paul W. Williams.

Williams said a "punk"—Abraham Teitel—was hired for $500 to hurl the acid and was slain after demanding $50,000 for the job.

"When Teitel first was approached and got the job to throw the acid he thought it was a man named 'Marshall' and that I was only a husband and wife job, and worth only $300," Williams told newsmen.

"When Gondolfo Miranti, one of the accused conspirators, fingered Riesel, Teitel then knew who the victim was. He then went back and asked for more money."

"Teitel was just a punk and some of the co-conspirators said the job was worth $50,000 and they said Teitel had been used. Then Teitel sent word back to Dio, and Dio did give him more."

"Teitel was originally slated to get $500 but Johnny Dio sent him $1,500 in all, but some of it stuck to the hands of some of the co-conspirators who were to deliver the money."

Riesel was blinded April 5 when acid was tossed in his face outside a Broadway restaurant. Teitel was found shot to death July 28 in an East Side street.

U. S. Will Support Canal Plan

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower today declared firm U. S. support of the Western plan for settlement of the Suez canal crisis and urged its backing by every country which believes in "international justice and conciliation."

The President expressed pleasure at Egyptian President Nasser's decision to meet with a five-nation committee and to hear the proposal for international control of the Suez waterway.

Eisenhower's statement, issued after a long conference between the President and Secretary of State Dulles, was read to newsmen by Dulles.

Before he began reading, White House press secretary James C. Hargety said the President had asked him to express publicly his appreciation to Dulles for "the fine and wonderful job" Dulles did at the 22-nation London conference.

The presidential statement asserted Eisenhower's belief that it was of "great significance" that 18 of the 22 countries which attended the London conference had agreed upon the conditions contained in the Western plan. The countries represent 95 per cent of shipping traffic through the Suez, he said.

The proposed conditions, Eisenhower went on, are "indispensable to give confidence that this waterway internationalized by the treaty of 1956 will be operated so dependably to serve its appointed purpose, Eisenhower said.

Already checks have begun to flow in to relieve the suffering among the members of the families affected.

Two families lost their homes completely with everything being destroyed — clothing, furniture, food and personal belongings nothing was saved from either of the homes directly hit by the flaming blast.

One family has lost two of its members — the mother and young three-year-old daughter.

Needs in both instances can be tremendous as they attempt to revise their homes.

Checks from friends and generous citizens may be made payable to the Florida Sea Bank marked for the plane disaster victims fund. The contributions can be mailed or taken by the Florida State Bank or left at The Sanford Herald office.

Airman Kills Wife As Son Looks On

ORLANDO (AP)—M-Sgt. Samuel B. Wilson Jr., shot to death his attractive 31-year-old wife Blanche as their son looked on last night but it appeared to have been "purely an accident," Sheriff Dave Starr said.

The sheriff quoted the son Samuel Wilson V, 13, as saying his parents argued at the kitchen table about their respective families and finally his mother told his father "go get a gun and I'll shoot you."

The boy said Wilson went to a bedroom and came out carrying a .38 caliber pistol which he was attempting to unload. The boy said he heard at least one bullet hit the floor. Starr said five bullets were found on the floor.

Back in the kitchen, Wilson pointed the gun at her head and pulled the trigger, the boy said. She collapsed into Wilson's arms.

Starr said Wilson told a story identical to the boy's. He quoted the sergeant, a career Air Force man, as saying, "She was the best woman in the world. I should be dead."

Wilson was turned over to authorities at Pinecastle Air Force Base in "technical custody" to be held until the investigation is completed.

Adlai Says Only Demos Concerned About Farmers

SIoux CITY, Iowa (AP)—Adlai E. Stevenson said today after his arrival here for a conference with Democratic leaders from seven Midwestern states that only the Democratic party is concerned with how the farmer is getting along.

The Democratic presidential candidate and Ben. Estes Kefauver, his running mate, reached here in the early morning after a 2,700-mile flight that started at Santa Fe, N. M., and included a political foray into the Pacific Northwest.

Stevenson, in a statement issued after his arrival, started right in to woo farm votes.

"Historically," he said, "the American farmer has gotten into trouble when the Republicans were in the White House. And he has prospered under Democratic leadership."

"Our party has always been the party and the only party that is concerned about how the farmer is getting along. Our party is the party that is concerned about the farmer's plight today."

Stevenson said that for every $4 the farmer got in 1952, he is getting less than $3 today; the farmer's share of the housewife's food dollar has dropped from 47 cents in 1952 to 38 cents this year and farm mortgage debt rose 2.4 billion dollars between 1952 and 1955.

"And we know too, that when the farmer goes broke the rest of the country is going to be in trouble too," Stevenson said.

Ben. Humphrey D-Minn and Gov. Orville Freeman of Minnesota were listed as co-chairmen of the conference at which Stevenson said he and Kefauver wanted to get suggestions on what they should do to help the farmer "when we get to Washington next January."

AFL-CIO Leaders Discussing Plans To Help Defeat Ike

FOREST PARK, Pa., (AP)—AFL-CIO leaders, having decided to cast their lot with the Democrats in the coming election, turned today to planning how they can help defeat President Eisenhower.

The powerful AFL-CIO Executive Council wound up a long, closed door argument by voting to recommend formal support for the Democratic ticket of Adlai Stevenson and Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee against Eisenhower and Vice President Nixon.

The decision was reached late yesterday with some misgivings. Some council members felt their 16 million member labor organization would be sticking its neck out and cutting itself off from any chance for favors from the Republican party.

But the council, reportedly against the advice of AFL-CIO President George Meany, voted 14-8 to make an endorsement and then cast that endorsement by a 17-5 count to the Democrats.

The AFL-CIO leaders today called a meeting of their political operating arm, the Committee on Political Education to discuss plans for marshaling votes for the Democratic Stevenson-Kefauver combination and for labor-endorsed candidates for Congress and key state offices.

No formal endorsements or the union leaders planned to go over the records of rival candidates and lay the basis for picking and choosing among contenders in major contests.
