

Badman Bill Cook Arraigned Under Kidnapping Law

Five Bodies Of Mosser Family Discovered In Abandoned Mine

SAN DIEGO, Calif., Jan. 16.—Desperado William E. Cook, suspected killer of eight persons, huddled in and meek in jail here today as authorities prepared to press Lindbergh law kidnapping charges against him.

Almost simultaneous with the announcement of the ex-convict's capture in Mexico, came word yesterday that the bodies of all five members of the Carl Mosser family, who he is charged with murdering, had been found near Cook's home town of Joplin, Mo.

Discovered in water in an unused mine shaft were the bodies of Mosser, 33; his wife, Thelma, 29; Ronald Dean, seven; Cary Carl, five, and Pamela Sue, three. All had been shot, the parents and older boy having been bound and gagged first.

They were last seen alive with Cook some two weeks ago. The findings of their blood-soaked auto near Tulsa, Okla., Jan. 3 touched off an exhaustive search for them and the 23-year-old badman.

Cook was flown here here yesterday and arraigned on federal charges of kidnapping. He also is charged with fleeing to avoid prosecution on a charge of murdering Robert E. Dewey, 33, Seattle salesman, near Blythe, Calif., Jan. 6, and flight to avoid prosecution on Oklahoma robbery charges. A hearing was set for Jan. 29.

Cook told reporters he couldn't remember anything for two weeks after "I got drunk with a man in Blythe (Calif.) Christmas night."

Ill with dysentery, he had a fever of 101.

The desperado submitted to arrest without a struggle Sunday when Joplin police chief Francis Krueger, Morales and a posse confronted him in a vale at Santa Rosalia, a small mining town 600 miles below the border on the Baja California peninsula.

With Cook were two prospectors, James Burke and Forrest Johnson, both of El Centro, Calif. They said Cook had stopped the mobster about 20 miles below the border on Jan. 7 and forced the desperado to drive to Santa Rosalia.

"About of the same date I drove with him," said Justice. "Cook kept the gun in his belt with the trigger covered. As we went we called out, he sat with the back against a tree or rock with gun cocked. We were afraid to try to escape."

Their Morales was led to Santa Rosalia by reports from two mining men who said they had exchanged greetings with three men on route to Santa Rosalia in a maroon sedan.

After Cook was reported seen in Winthrop, Ark., with the Mosser on New Year's day, the desperado dropped from sight until Jan. 6, when sheriff's deputy Homer Waldrip ran into him at Blythe, Calif.

Waldrip said Cook forced him into the deputy's car, drove him to the desert, robbed him and shot him, after boasting that he had killed seven persons.

Cook reportedly drove to Yuma, where he was encountered by Dewey police who said him propped the body in Waldrip's car and fled in Dewey's auto. This car was found 45 miles below the border when Waldrip left by the prospectors' machine.

This was the last tangible clue as to Cook's whereabouts until the mining men reported seeing three men in the maroon sedan. While they agreed and other law enforcement officers traced down hundreds of false reports that Cook had been seen in the Midwest, Southwest and far west, they believed he remained below the border.

tween 19 and 26 be called up even if some of them are husbands or have other dependents.

Johnson also remarked that some members of Congress might be willing to call up World War veterans with six months or less service if none of that was overseas or in combat.

Earlier, Johnson scolded the Defense Department for not coming up with a detailed legislative draft of its proposal for universal military service and training.

Meanwhile the government's housing chief, Raymond Foley, urged approval of a controversial $3,000,000,000 defense housing program, although he said only limited use of it may be necessary for the time being.

But Democratic Senator Robertson questioned whether Congress should approve President Truman's program at a time when "we face one of the worst inflation threats."

Foley described the program as largely "standby in character." For the present, he said, credit ceilings on building need not be relaxed to obtain needed housing in defense areas.

Robertson declared inflation "might be a ruinous to us as a nation if we do not act now." He demanded the White House clarify what he called a policy conflict.

Robertson said it ought to be made clear whether the Administration is proposing to superimpose "continued maximum production of consumer goods" such as housing—on a program calling for up to $20,000,000,000 for defense material as he figured it.

Nothing that President Truman has asked for at least $10,000,000,000 in new taxes, Robertson declared that neither taxes nor wage-price controls could "stem the tide of inflation if we are serious to prevent over the precipitous billions of dollars in new housing credit."

The proposed housing program would increase by $3,000,000,000 the mortgage insurance authority of the Federal Housing Administration (FHA). The insurance would assist private industry in the construction of defense area homes.

Pres. G. I. Insurance, supplementing the World War II National Service Life Insurance (NSLI) program, was approved unanimously today by the House Veterans Committee.

It is the second time the new service insurance proposal has been reported favorably by the committee. It passed the House without a dissenting vote in the closing days of the last Congress, but not in time for the Senate to act on it.

The bill gives automatic $10,000 indemnity benefits to all servicemen now or in the future on active duty.

Secretary Snyder, asked if the measure is constituting a "sales tax" as part of the Administration's tax-boosting plans, said "every source of revenue" is being considered.

The treasury head replied similarly to other questions at a news conference about what proposals he said are drafting to raise the $11,000,000,000 of new revenue asked by President Truman. He did say definitely that plugging "loopholes" on present laws would be a matter of first consideration.

Secretary Snyder also said he hopes to announce "within the next 10 days" a plan permitting we act before the Soviets strike," said the man who as secretary of state met many times with Russian diplomats.

"We must rouse our friends in Europe (and) impress on them that the time has come to stop talking and begin acting," he said.

On the home front, Byrnes contended there should be no delay in freezing wages and prices. The World War II director of economic stabilization and war mobilization insisted that every day such a freeze is delayed "there will be more inequities, higher prices and additional costs to the taxpayer."

In addition, he continued, "our hope must be that the national Administration will not urge either political proposals or Socialistic programs which are certain to divide our people."

In any event, however, South Carolina will "loyally support the foreign policy of the government of the United States," he promised.

"Unity in support of American foreign policy is essential, he said, and "is not only our duty, it is our great opportunity."

He asserted that "a united America is civilization's last clear chance for survival" while "a divided America is the greatest temptation to Soviet conquest."

Getting specific about Europe, Byrnes urged: "That the Western Republics be treated on terms of equality because its people are treated fairly, will fight with us."

That military supplies should be sent to Spain "as rapidly as possible" since "Spain has more divisions of trained soldiers than any one of the Western European governments."

That "we should seek the friendship of Tito and furnish military supplies to Yugoslavia."

That "we should impress upon Britain, France and all the Western Europe that we want the American soldiers who fight to oppose aggression by the atheistic Communist Russia."

Referring to the Korean war, Byrnes declared "our forces should be withdrawn if the United Nations is unwilling promptly of Seoul, the Allies were outracing military traps.

They could not hold along the 38th Parallel for instance because the Chinese had the men to isolate and cut off sizeable front line units. Battles thus handling fight, the Allies pulled back out to immediate range.

A bitter 16-day campaign around the communications center of Wonsu, was abandoned to the Reds, ended the latest outflanking threat. Communist columns pouring down central Korea at one point threatened to sweep behind the bulk of Eighth Army forces, pulling southward of Seoul.

There now has been sufficient time since the Chinese first struck for the bulk of Allied forces to have left Korea, if that had been the plan. Instead the Tenth Corps, evacuated from Hungnam, has been sent back to Korea and one of its outfits has been in action.

To Allies have kept the Communists off balance with a series of sharp left jabs. One of these already has regained a small bit of territory around Ouan and Suwon. They have built up a continuous line of injuries with air and artillery assaults with tubular ground resistance around Wonsu where the Reds had at least a four-to-one numerical advantage.

These are not the tactics of an Army leaving the battlefield post-haste. But other withdrawals are expected, as the Allies pull back to avoid a Chinese bear hug.

The pace of the pullback has been slower as United Nations commanders profit by the chance to decide where the battles will be fought. Favorable defensive positions, including the old Pusan perimeter, still remain in the slice of territory under Allied control.

This strategy has gained time and has cost the enemy heavily. But it is not designed by itself to win the campaign.

to declare China an aggressor authorize our Air Force to attack the supply bases of the enemy, and join in blockading China."

He said he is aware "some of our Allies fear if China is declared an aggressor, and the Air Force authorized to bomb supply bases in Manchuria, it may provoke Russia to war."

But, he argued, "that is the counsel of fear which I reject. If Russia is ready and willing to make war on the United Nations, she will want no such excuse."

Touching on the race question which bears on state educational matters, Byrnes said "it is our duty to provide for the races substantial equality in school facilities."

It also is "wise," he declared, because the state constitution "provides there shall be separate schools for white and colored children."

More than half a century ago the U. S. Supreme Court held that such a provision was not in conflict with the United States Constitution provided the facilities for the races are equal.

A former Supreme Court justice himself, Byrnes expressed hope that tribunal will turn down appeals in cases which seek "to abolish segregation in all schools."

It was critical of the national Administration for directing the Attorney General's office in an effort to "declare unconstitutional any law requiring separation of the races."

Byrnes, who resigned from President Truman's Cabinet in disagreement over various matters he previously accused the Administration of trying to centralize government in Washington, he said it was encroaching on states' rights guaranteed by the Constitution.

Byrnes, now 72, said the governorship of his native state will be his last public office.

COLUMBIA, S. C., Jan. 16.—(AP)—James F. Byrnes, in becoming governor of South Carolina today, swore that he had not engaged in a duel since 1881. He pledged himself also not to duel while in office. That oath is required by the state constitution

Byrnes took this pledge: "I do solemnly swear that I have not since the first day of January, in the year of 1881, engaged in a duel as principal, second or otherwise; and that I will not during the term of office to which I have been elected in a duel as principal or second or otherwise."

The last recorded duel in South Carolina was fought with pistols in 1880.

Byrnes asserted that "the overwhelming majority of colored people in South Carolina do not want to force their children into white schools."

INTERVIEW
MISS ETHEL WILLIAMS
Miss Williams isn't lost for words this year for she's going around school whistling and singing.
She is a pretty little blonde about five feet two inches, light complexion without any freckles, of course.
We were talking with Miss Williams about how she is liking her senior year and she said, "I just love it and if I had all four years to go over again I would gladly do it. While carrying on our conversation with Miss Williams, we asked her what she is planning on doing when she finishes this year. And she stated, "I'm undecided whether to be a housewife or a nurse. I might be both."
Miss Williams is a very popular student and has excelled in her school work. She says she has enjoyed her education in every way and she has high regard for all the school facilities. Miss Williams wants the teachers to know how she appreciated all they have done for her and she will have some say for them.

REV. P. E. CARLSEN

Missionary Meeting To Open On Thursday

The Annual Missionary Convention of the Christian and Missionary Alliance will open on Thursday night at 8:00 o'clock, Rev. Glenn E. Smith announced today. Featured speakers include Rev. P. E. Carlsen, French Indo China, and Mrs. Michael Kurlak, French West Africa.

Honored by the French government on several occasions, Mr. Carlsen has had unusual opportunity to know the actual state of the French-Indo-China political situation which is one of the danger places of the world at this moment, Rev. Smith stated.
Mrs. Kurlak lived for some years in Timbuctou. Her work has carried her far beyond that famed city into the heart of Africa. Many of her messages are dramatized with the use of native costume. Both she and Mr. Carlsen will present picture slides of their work.
The services at the local Christian and Missionary Alliance church will be 8:00 nightly, and at 11:00 A. M. and 7:30 P. M. Sunday. All are welcome to each service.

Mrs. Russi Honored At Stork Shower

Lattin a rayon seersucker, Mrs. William Stenper a striped chambray, Mrs. Douglas Stone, a blue and white cotton plaid, and Mrs. Tim Crawford, gray chambray. Children in the scene included Jonelle Lee and Kayser Funder in Disney's playclothes; and Kay Fatigan and Dottie Williams in ray cotton school dresses.
For the "tea" scene, tables were set up against a background of palms and native greenery with a backdrop representing the pool. Seated at the tables were Mrs. Funder in a three-piece play suit of red, blue and white; Miss Rachel Johnson, wearing a striking bathing suit of nylon; Miss Betty Lou Partin, "Miss Sanford", was lovely in a one-piece lagoon fabric swim suit.
Later in the scene Mrs. Funder appeared in pedal pushers. Suited for a game of tennis was Mrs. Crawford in a three piece suit of white pique.
The next scene included grand-mother, portrayed by Mrs. S. G. Harriman, wearing a coat dress of Glorilyn, a linen weave rayon while Mrs. Johnson, as mother, chose a rayon shantung with air-puff closing and diagonal tucks. The "June in January" theme was emphasized by Allison and Jonelle while Mrs. Johnson, as mother, combined with organza. Kay Fatigan's dress, designed for teenage activity, was a dark muted plaid. An outstanding model in this scene was a pure linen dress of beige combined with bright green with a cummerbund of orange modeled by Mrs. Stenper.
Shirley Crawford, appearing in a nautical white waffle pique, together with Allison and Jonelle Lee in little Sister dresses, opened the "before the races in the park" scene. Dottie Williams joined the party wearing an old fashioned blue and white checked cotton with a battle back. Mrs. Stenstrom and Mrs. Stenper represented a "big sister duo" with Mrs. Stenstrom wearing a spring model, suitably named "Sunset Boulevard". Mrs. Stenper's suit, of black and white rayon, cloth, was finished with colorful buttonholes and great, wide pockets encircling the hips. Miss Johnson looked very feminine wearing a spring dress of wheat color combined in contrasting color while Miss Partin was smart looking in her suit of navy and red gabardine with belted cuffs.
To the closing scene Mrs. Funder was stunning in a smoked "Angelic Night" robe and smoked choker in nylon tulle. The gown was softly elasticized with ruffled wings, shod in red at the shoulders. The peignoir had soft, loose sleeves, smoked at the wrists and finished with nylon net tuffles.
During intermission between the scenes the guests were entertained by students of the Duxbury School of Dancing, including Miss Jeanette Ratliff who delighted her audience with a ball number and Miss Deanna Nichols who executed a tap routine. Mrs. Mary Brown had charge of the make-up and soft music was furnished by Mrs. F. R. Blankenship; furniture and props were arranged by Sanford Furniture Company and palms and greenery for decoration were supplied by Mrs. S. C. Dickerson.

The Beach Festival Society's annual program will begin on Mar. 1 at the Knott Memorial Chapel in Winter Park. There will be four programs presented over the period from Mar. 1 to Mar. 3. Outstanding selected voices will comprise the choirs.
All seats are reserved and attendance is reserved for sponsors and guarantors. You may become a sponsor by making the group a check for $1200. The guarantor class is composed of those who contribute $100.
It is important that you act now, however, for there are only a few seats available. In the event that you are turned down, your name will be placed on a waiting list and you will be informed when a vacancy occurs.

Delegates Chosen To D. A. R. Meeting

The Sallie Harrison Chapter, D. A. R., held its regular monthly meeting Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. C. W. Baker. Guestesses were Mrs. W. H. Tanniff, Mrs. A. C. Benson, Mrs. R. J. Holly, and Mrs. R. W. Ruppert.
The meeting was called to order by the Regent, Mrs. A. W. Lee, and plans for the Silver Tea to be held Wednesday afternoon at the Woman's Club were discussed.
Delegates to the state D. A. R. conference to be held in Miami were elected. They are Mrs. C. S. Brown, Regent's alternate; Mrs. L. P. Higgins, delegates; Mrs. C. W. Baker, alternate delegate; Mrs. Hugo, made an interesting and informative talk on fire extinguishers.
The hostesses then served tea from a beautifully appointed table in the dining room. The table was graciously set with a beautiful linen cloth and centered with an arrangement of pink rhodolones in a silver bowl, balanced by pink flowers in tall silver candlesticks. Mrs. R. W. Ruppert presided over the silver service.
Those present were Mrs. Baker, Mrs. Tanniff, Mrs. Benson, Mrs. Holly, Mrs. Ruppert, Mrs. Lee, Mrs. Brown, Mrs. Hugo, Mrs. W. B. Dillard, Mrs. E. E. Holt, Mrs. D. R. Dawson, Mrs. H. E. Johnson, Mrs. J. H. Benick, Mrs. F. E. Romillard, Mrs. Miriam Rossell, Mrs. J. R. Ray, and Mrs. J. St. Clair White.

Meeting Is Held By Baptist Group

The Intermediate G. A. S. of the First Baptist Church met Monday night at the home of Miss Beverly and Louise Denton for their regular missionary meeting.
The president, Miss Beverly Denton, presided under the direction of Miss Carol Daniel, in the form of an illustrated talk on "Peace". Several other members assisted her in the presentation.
Miss June Vance led in a discussion of the lives of some early missionaries.
Refreshments were served by the hostesses assisted by their mother, Mrs. J. L. Denton, to the following: Miss Ellen Driggers, Miss Jane Davis, Miss Jean Wilton, Miss Carol Heard, Miss Lucile Hall, Miss Barbara Hall, Miss Grace, Mrs. Stinson, Mrs. Nancy Roundtree, Miss Gladys Hasty, Miss Barbara Lowe, Miss Jeanne Lane Miller, Mrs. Vance, Miss Daniel, also Mrs. J. M. Glimpsher and Mrs. Douglas Stenstrom, sponsors of the group.

Miss Kathleen Isely Weds Barney Smart

Miss Kathleen Isely of Tucson, Ariz., became the bride of Barney G. Smart of Jacksonville at a lovely ceremony Nov. 10 at All Saints Church in Tucson.
Formerly from Milwaukee, Wis., the bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ben C. Isely.
Mr. Smart, who was born in Sanford, is the grandson of the late Charles E. Haskins of Sanford. He is now a sergeant in the Army Air Force, stationed at Davis-Monthan Air Force Base at Tucson.

Celeryfeds Overcome New Smyrna Court Five 41 To 29

Wise Hardin Loops In Eleven Points To Lead Local Squad To Second Victory

By ED HARPER
Lashing out with a flurry of points, in the second quarter the Sanford Celeryfeds were never headed in an impressive 41-29 victory over a hapless New Smyrna five.

Wise Hardin, lanky Celeryfed center, came through brilliantly scoring 11 points and playing a sterling defensive game to lead the local squad to its second victory of the year.

After trailing 9 to 5 in the first quarter the Celeryfeds suddenly caught fire and pushed to a half-time lead of 5 points.

Depending on teamwork rather than individual skill for the first time this season, the team played as a smooth working combination. Sharp passing continually kept the Barracudas defense off balance as the Celeryfed sharpshooters found the sage consistently throughout a high-scoring second half.

Clause, Smith and White played with the calm assurance of old varsity hands, but Coach Ganas unveiled a surprisingly effective second string group in Davis, McCall and Metz in the decisive second quarter.

Hustle and fire characterized the entire contest as the local team seemed determined to win this one at almost any cost.

Defensively, again for the first time this season, the Celeryfeds were an eager, scrambling crew under the basket. Sixteen of 33 first half rebounds were recovered as Hardin and Covington utilized their height advantage to the utmost.

"Georgous Gussie" Praised On Tennis By Pauline Betz

By BOB MYERS
LOS ANGELES, Jan. 17—(AP)—Gussie (Gussy) Moran has been taking a "lum rap" on her ability as a tennis player on her professional tour with the Bobby Riggs troupe.

Authority for that observation is her opponent, Pauline Betz, four time women's amateur champion before turning pro herself.

The gorgeous one, declared Miss Betz, a comely young matron herself, is a lot better player than she gets credit for being. Her ground strokes are splendid and I can vouch for the fact that there is nothing missing in her competitive spirit.

Miss Betz, Gussy and the two male stars of the quartet, Jack Kramer and Pancho Segura, appear before their Los Angeles friends for the first time during the current tour Thursday and Friday nights. All but Segura learned their tennis here.

The "lum rap" started when the pros opened the tour in Madison Square Garden in New York Nov. 26.

"Gussy was very nervous, and to was I that night. I think Jack Moran, the titan haired Pauline, continued. "We knew we didn't play well that night, and it took us four or five matches before we began to play good tennis."

"But the critics jumped on Gussy and the feeling has persisted that she is well, not a good player. They shouldn't have condemned the tour on the one evening match."

"I can promise that on many occasions during our tour I would rather be playing someone else—yes, including Louise Brough or Margaret Osborne DuPont—rather than Gussy," Miss Betz declared.

"That was no reflection on the two amateur stars, either, because Miss Betz thinks they are the best players in the world."

Miss Moran, Yumona (for her last name) on the tennis court, seemed astounded as Miss Betz asked her how she liked the idea of touring pro, the Santa Monica girl answered, "I like it when I win and I don't like it when I lose. From the way things were going here, you can tell how I feel."

The score stands 28 wins for Pauline and nine for Gussy.

L. I. U. Blackbirds Defeat Duquesne; Harvard Wins 1st

North Carolina State Rips Wake Forest; Baylor Beats Rice

NEW YORK, Jan. 17—(AP)—L.I.U. is white-hot. Right now, the Blackbirds perhaps are playing the best basketball in the land, Oklahoma A & M and Kentucky included.

That may sound like a tall statement; but Long Island is a tall team—both on height and on talent.

The Blackbirds, ranked No. 4 in this week's Associated Press poll now rate above Bradley's bruised Braves. And one mull by A & M or Kentucky might push LIU even higher.

Long Island displayed its great scoring power last night at Madison Square Garden with an 82-52 bludgeoning of a fair Duquesne team. It was LIU's best performance of the season.

There was never any doubt of the outcome. LIU zoomed to a 25-7 lead midway in the first half, and it was all over. Sherman White again paced the Blackbirds, this time with a 29-point burst.

His playmate, little Leroy Smith, chipped in with 20 points.

This Long Island team has been coming for weeks. After a couple of tight squeaks against Kansas State and Denver in the opening games, the Blackbirds have improved steadily. The choice plum on their victory tree is a 74-62 whipping of St. Louis.

St. Louis gets a crack tonight at Oklahoma A & M, the nation's No. 1 team, at Stillwater, Okla. This game should help clarify the national situation, since St. Louis lost to LIU and need second-ranked Kentucky.

Ninth-ranked North Carolina State ripped Wake Forest, 64-45 to strengthen its hold on the southern conference lead. Sammie Hanzine led the winners with 19 points. It was State's eighth straight conference triumph.

Otherwise, there wasn't much action involving the top teams. In the East, Holy Cross outlasted Rhode Island State, 69-66. Manhattan nipped DePaul 69-69.

Harvard registered its first league victory with a 68-52 verdict over Dartmouth.

In the southwest, Baylor pummeled Rice, 69-55, and SMU knocked off Texas A & M, 51-44. A & M's loss left Texas as the only upstart in southwest conference play.

Lakewood Park Golf Competition Begins

LONG BEACH, Calif., Jan. 17—(AP)—Golf's winter campaigners took their final practice swings today before moving into action tomorrow in the $10,000 Lakewood Park Invitational Golf Tournament.

First round action on the 6250-yard Lakewood Park course will be split, with half the players going out tomorrow and the rest on Friday. Most of the big names will be in the Friday pairings.

Most of the stars who competed in the Los Angeles Open 10 days ago and in the Bing Crosby Professional up north will be on hand for the Lakewood event.

The field also includes some top-notch late comers, notably Fred Haas Jr. of New Orleans, the defending champion. He finished 18 strokes under par to win with the '72 hole event last year with a 208.

The pre-tournament favorite is supposed to be Lloyd Mangrum, who won the L. A. Open, but didn't fare too well in Crosby's tournament. His main opposition is expected to come from Henry Ransom, Dr. Cary Middlecoff, Marty Furrol, Clayton Heafner, Jimmy Demaret and Johnny Palmer.

The Mississippi-Missouri river system is approximately 3,985 miles long.

Minor Leagues Steeped In Gloom Over Darkening Outlook For 1951

By STERLING SLAPPEY
ATLANTA, Jan. 17—(AP)—The roots of baseball—the minor leagues—are quivering because of money, manpower and the military.

Proposals to solve baseball's many problems before the opening of the 1951 training season in February and March are varied. Some of the proposals unmentioned in an Associated Press survey of 28 leagues and 224 teams may become happy solutions and give the little cities and towns of America and Canada the professional teams to which they've become accustomed.

Others may prove to be simply ill-fated ideas which didn't work out.

Solutions range between one club owner's "I am finished" epithet, to borrowing more money, hiring Cubans, finding new club owners, operating as six-team clubs instead of eight-team leagues, and finally to a growing practice which sounds like the law of the jungle—the survival of the fittest.

A heavy sprinkling of minor leagues, which one had, trained and promoted the major league stars of today, are attempting to find replacements for defunct or dying teams by filling their ranks with teams from other leagues.

This policy, whether the switch is a promotion for a team to a higher classification league or a move to a league of similar class, may have one league for operation this summer. But it also transfers trouble from one league to a less fortunate league.

There are dozens of proposals for team switching. Here are a few:

The class C Rio Grande league plan to operate this summer but the league is in trouble. Plan to replace fast growing Corpus Christi, Texas, Corpus Christi left the Rio Grande to join the Gulf Coast, recently upped from class C to class B because of technicalities in scheduling, leagues need eight or eight teams, preferably eight.

The once healthy Georgia-Florida league, which the majors consider one of the best class D outfits, has lost a member—Tallahassee—and may lose another—Thomasville. The Tallahassee franchise of the Pittsburgh Pirates has been placed at Brunswick, Ga. If Thomasville drops out the eighth team may become Tifton, Ga. The class D Georgia State, if Tifton goes into the Georgia State, the apparently will be short and in trouble.

Owners of the 1950 championship Oil City, Pa. team of the C Middle Atlantic League, as they won't field a team this summer. Youngstown, in a doubtful Middle Atlantic member since it has signified its intention to transfer to the class A central league. A solution will be sought at a meeting Sunday. Every Middle Atlantic team lost money in 1950 and Vanderbilt dropped in mid season.

Class D, C and B lower minor aren't the only ones with troubles. The strong South Atlantic (Sally) usually one of the soundest of the four class A outfits, is worried about one of its members—Greenville. B. C. Sally president Earl Blue says he will know tonight if Greenville will be able to solve its player shortage and operate in '51.

Baseball managers, unlike their football counterparts, are an optimistic breed. So are club directors and league presidents. Seldom do they predict anything short of "our greatest season in history is coming on" or "we're a pennant contender."

Optimism isn't anything like that high this season. Few if any league presidents expect attendance to match the big year of 1947, 48-49.

As low as some presidents feel, there were no statements from any of the 28 leagues covered in the survey which said their leagues would not operate.

Few officials deny that some leagues are on the borderline of existence, but their inherent optimism keeps them from officially predicting the worst.

Many baseball men, however, will tell you unofficially and on condition that you won't use their names, that the face of minor league baseball soon will be changed radically because of war and mobilization.

And the face won't be lifted they say. It will be lowered with dozens of teams going out of business.

(Tomorrow, the second installment in a three-story series, outlines major troubles besetting minor leagues and teams and gives a list of 16 leagues which are suffering.)

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, Jr.

GALESTON, Tex., Jan. 17—(AP)—The Southwestern Conference carried out statistical study to help the football rules committee settle a problem of just when to start the time clock on plays.

Curtis, who compiled the figures, came up with some interesting ideas as a result. One suggests the clock should begin to turn as soon as the referee spots the ball and gives the "ready" signal, but that teams should be given only 30 seconds to get the ball in play.

They're allowed 25 in college games and 30 in the pro league.

Some pro clubs have averaged as little as 13.5 seconds; one of the greatest honors in that league is to be the team that starts its plays quickest," Curtis argues.

"If you'd cut the time down it would impress the teams with the necessity of speed; they would get in more plays and shorten the over-all time of games about six minutes." It is our impression that the average referee doesn't know or care a heck of a lot about when the ball starts, but he won't see as much action as possible and go get home— or wherever he's going—easy.

Right Of Way
Mike Kelly, the sporting goods man, is getting a few laughs in the lobby re-telling Mike McNally's stories of his escapades with Babe Ruth.

Seems that when the Babe wanted to see a town, in his younger and livelier days, McNally usually was detailed to go along and keep him out of trouble.

They were returning from one such evening, with the Babe driving in his usual carefree manner, when their car slowed up a bit but without the ball starting, and he came face to face.

The rabble took one look and exclaimed: "Oh, I'm Babe, say, I'm sorry, Babe. Just send a bill and I'll pay it. I was driving on the wrong side of the street."

Imagination Stagg-ored
Another sporting goods man, Joe Kelly, was collecting autographs of the rule-makers on a football.

He came to 28-year-old Amos Alonzo Stagg, who wrote the firmest, most legible signature of all then apologized because his hand was "shaky."

And a few days ago Stagg, who was nicknamed "old man" when we were a kid, was standing around a hotel lobby chewing the rag with some coaches.

"No, I don't especially like the situation," Mr. Stagg politely told the young fellow. "But if you're tired, I'd be glad to go over and sit with you."

The Mississippi-Missouri river system is approximately 3,985 miles long.

Doris Hart Takes Tennis Exhibition From Shirley Frye

Miss Doris Hart, volleying superbly at the net, defeated Miss Shirley Frye 6-4, 3-6, 6-3 in a tennis exhibition at the John B. Stinson University courts yesterday.

Miss Hart, displaying a severe service and a mastery of the net, game was hard put to take an exceedingly hard fought first set which saw Miss Frye take the lead 4-2 at one point in the set.

Showing the stamina and court skill which has caused her to be seeded in the first ten nationally for the past five years, Miss Hart lost down to take the next two games and pulled even.

Miss Frye, whose ground strokes were exceptionally steady, came back strong in the second set to win handily by a score of 6-3.

In the third and final set of the match Miss Frye took the lead in all departments of the game and wore down her younger and less experienced opponent with neatly placed passing shots and a brilliant game at the net.

Charlie Morrison served as umpire at the match and Mayfair Professional Teddy Berick acted as service line judge.

Manpower Problem Hits Professional Football Leagues

By JERRY LISKA
CHICAGO, Jan. 17—(AP)—The National Football League tomorrow opens its annual meeting beset with war-borne manpower worries and the problem of what to do with the downtrodden Baltimore Colts.

Club delegates will have a sharp eye on the subject of hired hands in face of the growing war riddle as they conduct the yearly player draft—No. 1 item on the league's four-day agenda.

The fate of Baltimore's question-mark Colts, who won only one of 12 league starts last season, must be decided to clear the deck for the 1951 schedule-making.

Alto Watner, recognized as the Colts owner, presumably will poll the other 17 club operators for player help to bolster the Baltimore entry which suffered at least an $85,000 loss last season.

It may not get it, since owners are campaigning for re-alignment of the league's two divisions and a 12-team loop would necessitate the one-club team.

Each club last season.

The draft list which will be tapped for 50 players by each club sparkles with such names as Southern Methodist's Kyle Rote, Michigan's Chuck Ortman and Don Dufek, Kentucky's Bob Cain, Oklahoma's Leon Heath, Notre Dame's Jerry Groom and Bob Williams, Texas' Bud McEadin, Vanderbilt's Bucky Curtis, Alabama's Ed Rains, and Michigan State's Sonny Grandelius.

But the owners will look beyond glamor in lining up personnel they hope will be handling the pigskin instead of a rifle for the next year or so. Family men, ex-servicemen and likely 4-F's will be preferred.

Rote, the Mustang's one-man gang who incidentally is married and has a youngster, is reported the No. 1 choice of six clubs among nine eligible for the draft-opening bonus draw.

Sitting out the bonus ceremony are four clubs—the Bears, Lions, whom had a whack at a bonus pick previously.

Fair Catch Rule May Be Restored By NCAA

GALESTON, Tex., Jan. 17—(AP)—The National Football League tomorrow will vote on whether to restore the fair catch rule to college football.

The group has discussed rules and possible changes for two days. The vote today will wind up the annual meeting.

Yesterday there was considerable discussion on returning the fair catch rule to the books. And there was a number of reasons given why it shouldn't be restored in its old form.

Other matters discussed yesterday included what Chairman H. O. (Fritz) Crisler of Michigan said was a "lot of technical stuff."

Most of these points wouldn't mean much to the ordinary fan, but the fair catch rule was eliminated last year because it had fallen into disuse. But the American College Football Coaches Association requested that it be put back.

Sportswriters Fear Worst In 1951; All Sports To Feel Effect Of Draft

NEW YORK, Jan. 17—(AP)—The nation's sports writers and radio casters are a gloomy lot as they contemplate the coming year. A great majority of them fear that athletics of every type, both professional and amateur, will feel drastically the effects of the world situation.

Of several hundred experts who answered an Associated Press year-end questionnaire, fewer than a dozen are ready to predict that sports will do "business as usual" in the face of the draft and possible all-out mobilization.

Typical of the terse replies received from every section of the country are these:

"Threat of war may wreck minor baseball leagues, put colleges back on war-time standards." "Speculators may have to be content to see 16-year-olds and guys over 40 perform."

"Expect a slump at the gates and layoffs on sports by draft boards."

"Sports in '51? Where? Here or in Korea? It looks from here like all sports will be in uniform."

If there is a declared war, the vast majority agree that no professional sport will survive this time and that college sport will be extremely hard hit.

Several writers point out the desirability of an immediate cessation of war as a means of saving large assemblies in the event of war—possibly as late as the announcement of total mobilization.

Even those who take the optimistic view that the world situation will not worsen during '51 and that sports will rock along more or less as usual concede that the draft is bound to reduce the caliber of competition.

First to be hit, and hardest, says the correspondents, will be the minor baseball leagues. One of the most gloomy warnings predicted that at least a dozen of the country's lesser leagues will vanish in the sponge before the season opens and that as many more will fold during the year as the draft widens its scope.

As for the major leagues, "the best that we can expect to see as the year goes along is inferior performance by inferior athletes," says an observer. "If there is war, all sports will be cut off at the hip pockets."

Numbers of those who answered the poll predict that even college football team will play freshmen next fall, as they did during World War II, and that the balance of football power will again shift to the service academies, by consensus it is that attendance will drop.

There are, it is stated, a handful of experienced observers who predict that there will be no marked change in the sports scene—at least during the present year.

"People need recreation during troubled times," said one of them. "This is where all sports is at its best."

"There will be athletic despondency," declared another. "Americans demand it."

One voter, showing signs of haste, signed off with "This is in fact official act as sports editor—'been drafted!'"

Regimental Paper "Eagle Forward" Gives Troops News Of Korean War

By HAL BOYLE
WITH U. S. TROOPS—(A) In the waiting the men at the front—those who do the most fighting—usually know the least about what is going on.

It is hard to get news up to a man in the foxholes and therefore the "big picture" to him too often is limited to what the enemy on the hill ahead is going to do next.

But the men in the foxholes do have a real hunger to know what is happening on the other fronts. And like everyone else they want fresh news.

Col. John T. Corley of Brooklyn is one battlefront commander who has taken steps to see that his men are kept informed. Corley, at 36, is one of the army's most decorated officers. He holds 13 medals for heroism and meritorious service. When he took over command of the Negro 24th regiment he started a daily paper for his troops. He called it the "Eagle Forward."

The little two-page mimeographed newspaper has become one of the most popular publications in Korea. It is as crisply breezy a Corley himself—a cheerful, tough-minded young officer.

The first page is devoted to world news of importance, including the latest war developments in Korea. The second page tells the activities of different units within the regiment and the achievements of individual soldiers. It usually has a chuckle or two.

One recent item, for example, noted that one private could keep himself amused for hours in his foxhole as a result of a Christmas gift from his eight-year-old sister. She sent him two all-day suckers.

One of the most popular features, called "The Old Soldier's Aid," was Corley's idea.

It consists of a daily bit of advice on how troops can protect themselves from the weather or the enemy. Lately the "Old Soldier" has been giving sage tips on how to take proper care of the

All Is Quiet On Korean Front As U.S. Awaits Attack

Allied Tanks Clash With Reds In Hot But Local Battle; Patrol In Wonju

TOKYO, Jan. 18—(AP)—Tank-led Allied troops battled two companies of Chinese Reds tonight in a brief but fierce local clash on the Korean western front.

The U. N. patrol, under air cover, then smashed out of a threatened enemy envelopment.

Allied commanders expected a general Communist offensive may come at any time.

"All hell might break loose soon," an officer said.

A U. N. raiding patrol, one of several exploring the strength of enemy troops massed all along the battle front, jabbed in and out of Kumyangjang, 25 miles southeast of Seoul.

The commander of the Allied motorized patrol said he met strong resistance in Kumyangjang and called for air support when it appeared his troops were being flanked.

But after 90 minutes of tough fighting he said both his patrol units had safely withdrawn from the battered town.

Associated Press correspondent Jim Becker reported.

The fight started at 4 P. M. Thursday (E. A. EST). Becker said and when the U. N. units disengaged they had taken one prisoner.

Touhy Tells B&PW Of Opportunities In Business World

Members of the Business and Professional Women's Club held last night at the Montezuma Hotel here to take advantage of the occupational opportunities now available to them in the business world.

The speakers were George Touhy, personnel director of Florida Fashions, and Mrs. Lois Smiley, local chief operator for the Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Co. Mrs. Touhy was introduced by Mrs. P. M. Gingles, club president, and Mrs. Smiley by Mrs. E. J. Routh.

Mrs. Smiley pointed out that at one time the doors of almost every occupation in business were closed to women.

"From their employers women now expect equal rights in job opportunities in every competitive field, and the right to pursue themselves freely in the business in which they are engaged in matters concerning them," she said.

Women now have equal rights to promotion on merit alone, she stated. In the telephone companies, she added, women have been placed in every department, whereas 20 years ago, only men were employed.

Among the factors she listed as contributing to advancement of women in business are personal tidiness, willingness to learn, courtesy, regular hours and emotional stability.

Mrs. Touhy told the group that when applying for a job a person likes to investigate the security of the company to which they are applying and should determine if the company is financially sound.

Employers like to know something of the background of applicants, their capabilities, and what can be expected from each employee in relation to his company as time goes on, he stated.

Mrs. Carl Price, announced that the club will start a "speech clinic" in February. Co-operation of the club with the Welfare Dental Clinic was reported. Mrs. Robert Zittrower of the Tuberculosis Association, asked for volunteers to aid with the mobile X-ray unit which will be here soon. A district B. & P. W. meet was scheduled at the Mayfair Inn on Jan. 23.

Truman Says He Will Act If Necessary

Troops To Europe To Be Sent, If Needed, Whether Congress Approves Or Not

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18—(AP)—President Truman said today the government will bring prices and wages under control just as rapidly as it can. He told his news conference that he could not attempt to pin down the date of a price-wage freeze or other action, but said ceilings will be imposed as soon as practicable.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18—(AP)—President Truman today described as very nice and one that speaks for itself a magazine article which said he does not choose to run again. The article, by Edward T. Fullard, White House reporter for the Washington Post, appears in the January 18 issue of Look magazine. Fullard wrote at one point that Mr. Truman hopes he won't have to run again, and at another point that it could be said the President does not choose to run because he does not believe in the doctrine of the indispensable man.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18—(AP)—President Truman said today he will appreciate it highly if the Senate approves sending more troops to Europe, but repeated he will do whatever is necessary to meet the world situation.

He told his news conference he is not asking the Senate to take such action. However, he said he is happy the Democratic majority is working on an affirmative resolution expressing approval of the use of U. S. troops in Europe under General Dwight D. Eisenhower's new western defense command.

The President last week insisted he has constitutional authority as commander-in-chief to send additional troops to Europe with or without approval of Congress. The Democratic move to back him up developed after Senator Wherry of Nebraska, Republican floor leader, offered a resolution to bar sending additional troops unless Congress first approves.

Mr. Truman also told reporters:

1. He had made his position clear last week that he was willing to consult with Senate committees on the troop controversy and was willing to talk with any Senator who requests it, but would not be bound by congressional action. He said his statement then was not printed in a single newspaper in the country. Reporters sharply challenged this, saying his statements were untrue.

2. The United States will press vigorously in the United Nations for a resolution to brand Red.

United States To Ask UN To Brand Chinese As Aggressors In Korea; Hershey Asks Draft Of 18 Year Olds

Selective Service Director Gives Warning Of Impending Manpower Shortage

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18—(AP)—Major General Lewis H. Hershey "dangerous" manpower shortage in his fighting forces unless Congress permits the drafting of 18-year-olds.

Hershey, head of Selective Service for the last 10 years, urged an indefinite extension of the draft act with authority to induct men from 18 through 25 years.

He gave full support to the Administration's universal military service and training bill sent to Congress late yesterday by Secretary of Defense Marshall.

Even before General Hershey had completed his testimony before the Senate preparedness subcommittee, Chairman Lyndon Johnson (D-Tex.) left to introduce the UMST measure on the Senate floor.

Johnson offered it in behalf of all 13 members of the Senate Armed Services Committee as a substitute for the first bill offered this session. That was a universal military training bill expected to operate when the present emergency ends.

Hershey said Secretary Marshall and Assistant Secretary of Defense Anna M. Rosenzweig had been "too conservative" in expanding manpower needs of the Army, Air Force, Navy and Marine Corps for the next year or two.

In order to build up to the 3,000,000 manpower goal asked by President Truman in the next six months, Hershey said Congress will have to induct the 18-year-olds "or take fathers and veterans" between 19 and 25 years old.

With recent draft calls of 800,000 or more in each of the next three months, Hershey said the draft manpower pools need "a cushion of between 600,000 and 800,000."

Hershey said inability to call 18-year-olds would result in a "deficit of 200,000" in the draft pool within six months.

If draft calls could go up to 1,000,000 or more monthly, "then you are wrecked," he testified.

"No matter what you do on the 18 year old new the mortgage is on him," he said at one point. (Continued on Page Two)

Korean Death Toll Reaches 7,000 Mark

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18—(AP)—Total announced U. S. combat casualties in Korea rose to 45,137 today.

The total, disclosed by the Department of Defense, was based on notifications to next of kin through Jan. 12. It was 2,214 more than the figure for the previous week.

The Department listed 6,029 killed, 29,951 wounded and 8,077 missing in action.

The wounded total includes 772 who have since died of wounds. Total deaths reached 7,203, including deaths from wounds and 22 known dead among the missing in action.

Andy Carraway Welcomes Barr Umpires To City

Three-Hundred People Attend Third Annual Geo. Barr Opening

Acting Mayor Andrew Carraway yesterday welcomed the Grand Barr Umpire School to its third consecutive season in Sanford before a crowd of 300 people gathered to greet the students at the Sanford Naval Air Station.

Mr. Barr expressed his gratitude to the people of Sanford for their kind reception to his school and told the prospective umpires that they could expect a warm welcome from the local people.

Dick McLaughlin, southern representative of the George Barr School, acted as master of ceremonies for the occasion introducing John Kridler, Florida State League president, who told the group that Mr. Barr was without doubt one of the finest men ever to practice the difficult trade of umpiring in the National League.

In praising Barr, Mr. Kridler said that the umpire is probably one of the most undervalued people in baseball—and one of the most important in maintaining the present high standards of play and competition.

Father Anthony McGowan, in welcoming the umpires on behalf of the Catholics of Sanford, said he was one of the best and most respected of the opinion that baseball will prove effective against influenza.

The board of directors includes Mr. Foville, Mr. Doudney, Mr. Harper, Mr. Van Hoy, H. James Gut, A. Edwin Shinholster and George Touhy.

U. S. May Be In For Influenza Epidemic

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 18—(AP)—The influenza epidemic now sweeping England will spread to the United States, the president-elect of the American Public Health Association predicted yesterday.

Dr. Gaylord W. Anderson of Minneapolis, Minn., expressed hope in an interview that new methods of treating pneumonia will prove effective against influenza.

The physician said there have been six or eight world-wide influenza epidemics since the big one in 1918. The world is just about due for another one, he said.

$100,000 Increase In Assets Listed By First Federal

Members of the First Federal Savings and Loan Association of Seminole County at the 18th annual meeting of members and directors yesterday.

He was also re-elected for a three-year term as director. A retired building contractor, he lives in an attractive home at 1817 Park Avenue. He has been a director since 1948.

Re-elected also for a third term as a director was J. H. Van Hoy, who lives at 900 Magnolia Avenue and who is eastern representative of Hired Roofing Co. He has been a director since 1943.

Other officers re-elected were E. C. Harper, Sr., first vice-president; Sanford F. Doudney, second vice-president; Mrs. H. E. Chapman, secretary-treasurer; and Mrs. Marie Sathler, assistant secretary-treasurer.

An annual increase in total assets of approximately $100,000 was reported for 1950. Total assets are listed at $1,810,465. 156 new mortgages were granted, adding that number of residents to own their own homes.

The building adjoining the former Princess Theater was recently purchased and remodeling has been started and the First Federal Association will occupy the west part of the building. The east portion will be leased.

Improvements will include a vault and modern equipment will be installed, including air conditioning.

The Association was first organized here in 1934, and is a local organization, governed by local members and was established to encourage thrift and home ownership.

The board of directors includes Mr. Foville, Mr. Doudney, Mr. Harper, Mr. Van Hoy, H. James Gut, A. Edwin Shinholster and George Touhy.

Production And Other Costs Were Higher, Anderson Asserts

The Farmers of Seminole County experienced a terrific loss on all produce grown in 1949-50, but they did not experience a lower cost on production and processing," Sandy Anderson, manager of the Sanford State Farmers Market told Kiwanis yesterday.

"The Farmers of Seminole County experienced a terrific loss on all produce grown in 1949-50, but they did not experience a lower cost on production and processing," Sandy Anderson, manager of the Sanford State Farmers Market told Kiwanis yesterday.

"If Congress is going to propose this county to defend itself from a military standpoint, it had better begin by strengthening not only the Farmers in Florida, but farmers in the nation," he added.

"Like the boys in uniform," said Mr. Anderson, "the farmers are willing and anxious to serve their country. They are willing to endure any necessary hardships that will protect us. They are willing to go all-out on production of farm products. But they cannot produce adequately without a fair price for their crops in keeping with production costs."

"The basis of American strength," he pointed out, "must lie in its agriculture. Food and fiber for civilian and military population must come from the farms. If the farmers produce these essential crops they must have something more than the cost of production. The farmer does not control this cost but is a creature of circumstances. He must buy his supplies and labor at market prices and he must pay whatever is asked. He has no choice."

"Farms that farmers receive for their produce have never been (Continued on Page Three)

Discharged Marine Fights In Toughest Battles In Korea

ST. PAUL, Minn., (AP)—A discharged Marine who served in the Korean War is fighting in the toughest battles in Korea.

Among the Lethbridge-based troops are the 1st Marine Division, which is causing some consternation and local scratching.

"This is no place for a civilian, according to his company commander, that's just what Washburn is."

Shortly before the Korean war broke out, Washburn was notified verbally that he had been discharged on his own request. He was told he would receive his discharge certificate by mail.

Came the war, Washburn's reserve unit was reactivated. He was called up believing his discharge had not yet taken effect. In the meantime, Washburn's wife, Constance, was making inquiries at Camp Pendleton, Calif.

Soon Washburn's company commander, Capt. Almond S. Soling, of Hagley, Minn., received orders to investigate the corporal's case.

Soling determined that the corporal had in fact been discharged. He turned the matter (Continued on Page Three)

France Favors Plan In Principle But May Seek To Delay Immediate Action

LAKE SUCCESS, Jan. 18—(AP)—The United States is ready today to call on the United Nations for an indictment of Communist China as an aggressor in Korea.

In Washington, President Truman told his news conference the United States will bring every pressure it can to brand the Chinese Communist aggressors.

Some countries, however, may try to delay action until they have had more time to consider Peking's peace terms, received last night along with rejection of the latest U. N. ceasefire appeal.

India was expected to oppose the plan strongly, along with the Soviet bloc.

As the delegates prepared for a 3 P. M. meeting of the General Assembly's 40-nation political committee, U. S. representatives still were trying to line up co-sponsors for the American plan to put the aggressor label on the Chinese Reds.

A spokesman said the proposal would be ready if all the prospective co-sponsors received instructions from their home governments in time. If not the introduction of the proposal might be delayed until tomorrow. At any rate, the spokesman said, chief U. S. delegate Warren R. Austin was prepared to blast the Chinese Communists in a speech and reject their peace terms.

Reports from abroad also indicated intense diplomatic activity in many capitals. France was reported to have agreed to endorse the Peking signature. A foreign Ministry spokesman said in Paris:

"We quite agree with the principle of declaring Communist China an aggressor, but we do not favor rushing into any such declaration before we have carefully considered all the consequences."

Indian Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru also in Paris, was reported to believe that the (Continued on Page Five)

"The Farmers of Seminole County experienced a terrific loss on all produce grown in 1949-50, but they did not experience a lower cost on production and processing," Sandy Anderson, manager of the Sanford State Farmers Market told Kiwanis yesterday.

"If Congress is going to propose this county to defend itself from a military standpoint, it had better begin by strengthening not only the Farmers in Florida, but farmers in the nation," he added.

"Like the boys in uniform," said Mr. Anderson, "the farmers are willing and anxious to serve their country. They are willing to endure any necessary hardships that will protect us. They are willing to go all-out on production of farm products. But they cannot produce adequately without a fair price for their crops in keeping with production costs."

"The basis of American strength," he pointed out, "must lie in its agriculture. Food and fiber for civilian and military population must come from the farms. If the farmers produce these essential crops they must have something more than the cost of production. The farmer does not control this cost but is a creature of circumstances. He must buy his supplies and labor at market prices and he must pay whatever is asked. He has no choice."

"Farms that farmers receive for their produce have never been (Continued on Page Three)
