Marshall States Stark Opposed To Dec. 7 Warning

General Convinced Of Trouble When Told Of Possible Relations Break

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7. (AP)—Over the protests of General George C. Marshall, the Pearl Harbor Investigating Committee today made public correspondence in which he asked Thomas E. Dewey to withhold from the 1944 political campaign information that the United States had cracked the secret Japanese codes.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7. (AP)—The Pearl Harbor Investigating Committee has heard from General George C. Marshall more details of events preceding the Japanese attack four years ago today. General Marshall told of his conversations with Admiral Harold R. Stark on the morning of Dec. 7, a few hours before the Japanese struck. General Marshall said that at first Admiral Stark, then Chief of Naval Operations, thought warnings to Pacific commanders that day would confuse them. General Marshall said that intercepted Japanese messages convinced him that something was brewing, that the Japanese might strike that very day. He said he insisted that he was going to send warning messages to Army commanders in the Pacific.

Earlier testimony has shown that the warnings were sent by commercial cable and did not reach the commanders at Pearl Harbor until after the attack. General Marshall said that the intercepted Japanese message which indicated a break in Japanese-American relations might take place at 1 P.M. that day. The general, who was then Army Chief of Staff, declared that after learning of the intercepted Japanese message and after conferring with Admiral Stark, he sent his warning to Pacific commanders. Marshall said he did not specify that the warning should be sent by commercial cable. He declared that the method of transmission was the business of the message center which was opposed to use the fastest means. The general said he did not learn until long afterward that his warnings had been sent by commercial wires.

Conference Is Held Of Power Clerks

The Chief Clerks Conference of the northern district of the Florida Power and Light Company, which is held every two months to discuss matters pertaining to accounting, was held Thursday and Friday at the Hotel Mayfair.

On Thursday, the group enjoyed a boisterous luncheon on a boat on the St. Johns River. The dinner was prepared by Mrs. M.D. Gatchell.

Present for the outing were: R.D. Austin of Palatka; L.V. Abott of St. Augustine; A.D. Clausen, C.D. Brown and A.F. McIntosh of Daytona Beach; B.C. Fallerton of Miami and Mrs. and Mrs. W.O. Livingston, H.H. Coleman, and Mr. and Mrs. J.A. Young of Sanford and Mrs. Anita Merrens of Cocoa. Mrs. Leona Love of Titusville and Miss June Walsh of Melbourne were unable to attend.

FRANCE SURPRISED

PARIS, Dec. 7. (AP)—A French foreign office spokesman expressed his inability today to believe that the United States would violate its agreement for four-power control in Germany.

The spokesman was referring to Secretary of State Truman's comment on Wednesday, Byrnes told newsmen at Washington that the United States would be willing to go along with Russia and England in controlling Germany.

For a different effect, stand army supplies in a deep manner. The war has not been a few

Life In a Lull Told Farm Bureau By Hutchison

Program Of Farmers For '46 Outlined By President Cullum

The wonderful natural resources, the flora and fauna, the game, climate and native life of New Guinea, Morotai and Mindanao were the subject of a highly interesting talk Thursday evening by Brig. General Joseph Hutchison to a large assembly of members of the Seminole County Farm Bureau and their guests at a meeting last night at the Woman's Club presided over by M. L. Cullum.

General Hutchison was given a hearty welcome by the members who stood after the introduction by Perry Whitehurst, farm bureau director. The general was in uniform and wore his service ribbons indicating the following awards for his Pacific theater actions: Silver Star, Air Medal, Bronze Star with Oak Leaf Cluster, Service Medal of World War I, Victory Medal of World War II, National Defense Medal, and ribbons for the American and Asiatic Pacific theaters and Philippine liberation ribbon.

He brought with him the highly interesting surrender document signed by Lieut. General Gyoosaki Morosumi, Jap commander in Mindanao, when the latter surrendered in September. The Japanese signatures were in broad brush made strokes in their language, while the American terms of surrender were typed in English. Exhibited also was a two-hand Jap Samurai sword.

Mr. Cullum, Farm Bureau president, urged the cooperation of all members in supporting the bureau's programs and said: "This is your organization, for you fall to participate and work, you cannot expect magic benefits from the work of others."

School Students To Decorate Window

Three students of Seminole High School, Simon Dingfelder, Larry Leasing and Dorothy Ann Whitner, co-operated in providing a colored scenic background for a window display next to Roulmiller and Anderson's devoted to the Christmas seal sale, and depicting the seal in the form of a small boy holding a wreath.

The model of the boy was provided by the Yowell Company, the trousers by the Hollywood Shop, and gloves, scarf and jacket by the C. C. Fanny Company.

LABOR LEGISLATION

SUGAR STAMPS

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7. (AP)—A new sugar ration stamp will become valid on Jan. 1, but OPA says that sugar will be difficult to obtain in some sections about that time. The most serious shortage is expected on the east coast.

The Atlantic seaboard is dependent on Caribbean sugar imports, and they will not be available in large volume until March.

Four Years Later The Infamy Of Pearl Harbor Is Expounded In Washington

IN THE NATION'S CAPITAL today the threads of mystery behind the Pearl Harbor tragedy are being unraveled as Congress, through a 19-man committee, conducts a public hearing, right, in an effort to get the true story of the infamy. On that December morning in 1941, while Japanese bombs fell on the major units of the U.S. fleet at Pearl Harbor, center above, in Washington, left above, two emissaries from the land of the rising sun, Ambassador Kichiburo Nomura, left, and Special Envoy Saburo Kurusu, right, were in peace negotiation conferences with the then U.S. Secretary of State Cordell Hull, center. The investigation, expected for the three and one-half years it took to bring the "Sons of Heaven" to their knees highlights America's observation of the catastrophic anniversary. (International)

Men Missing On Lost Navy Planes Are Identified

Five Torpedo Bombers, One Searching Plane Long Overdue

FORT LAUDERDALE, Dec. 7. (AP)—Hour by hour, hope is ebbing for the rescue of 28 naval aviators who have been missing off the Florida coast since Wednesday evening. However, a vast sea and air armada still is combing 100,000 square miles off the Atlantic but as yet they haven't found a single clue.

The director of the search—Comdr. Richard Baxter of the Coast Guard—believes there's a chance that some of the men may still be alive. All six ships are equipped with latest life saving devices.

MIAMI, Dec. 7. (AP)—The Navy has identified 14 officers and men aboard the five Navy torpedo bombers that have been missing over the Atlantic since Wednesday night. And officials have revealed the names of 13 crewmembers of a plane that was lost while searching for the bombers.

Capt. Fleming Returns After Overseas Duty

Commanded Military Police Units In Europe And Pacific

Capt. W. G. Fleming, formerly connected with the local Ford agency, has returned to Sanford after serving overseas for a year and six months in both the European and Pacific Theaters of Operation.

Capt. Fleming entered the service in December, 1942, and was commissioned a First Lieutenant. He received training at Camp Hlanding before being sent to Fort Knox, Ky., and assigned to the headquarters of the 79th Military Police Battalion.

The unit later received training at Fort Jackson, S. C., and at Battle Creek, Mich. Just prior to leaving the United States for service in the European Theater, Capt. Fleming was promoted to his present rank, and named commanding officer of his company.

The battalion arrived in Britain in June, 1944. His company was assigned to the United Kingdom Base Section and stationed in southern England.

In July, 1945, Capt. Fleming was sent to the Philippine Islands and was stationed in Manila. He left the Philippines on Nov. 27 by plane and arrived in Sanford recently following an 11,000 mile journey.

Capt. Fleming wears the Unit Meritorious Service Plaque, Liberation of the Philippines ribbon, the European Theater of Operations Ribbon with two battle participation stars, the Pacific Theater of Operations Ribbon with three battle participation stars, the Victory medal and various World War I awards and ribbons.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7. (AP)—The Army plans to reduce the number of its generals to about 1,000 by the end of this month, and to 840 by next June 30. A wartime peak in that department occurred last July when the Army had more than 1,500 generals.

Market Reports Big Demand For Oranges, Lettuce

Movement Of Celery Is Fair But Celery Brings Good Price

Locally grown lettuce of fine quality is in low demand at the Sanford State Market and is selling at from $4.25 to $4.50 a crate.

Movement of cabbage, which yesterday was piled high on the market platform is only fair and is bringing $1.10 a sack. The pre-holiday demand for oranges, grapefruit and tangerines is brisk and packers such as the Market Fruit Company and Sanford Fruit Company are operating at full blast. Celery, due to the cold spell, shows a fine, clear natural color and plenty of leaf and sweetness. Grapefruit and tangerines likewise have the flavor changes are $3.60 C.I.U. Celery is demanding a good price in a range of from $5.25 to $5.50. Tomatoes from the Glades are in the luxury class at $8.00 a bushel. There were no local offerings of those. In fact, the string bean deal is about over, with but a few offerings from the Palm Beach section.

There were a few green peppers on the platform, bringing $2.50 a bushel. Manager J. W. Hall of the Market Fruit Company reported that there was a big holiday demand for the rich and 20 pound sacks of oranges.

Concrete foundations of the new night stall additions to the Market have been laid, and further construction will take place when lumber and other materials arrive, it was reported.

Auto Tag Applicants Break All Records

Tax Receiver Jno. D. Jenkins' new streamlined method of serving 1946 auto tag applicants continues to break all records at his office, and it appears that many motorists are taking advantage of it rather than wait until Jan. 15, the deadline proclaimed by Gov. Millard Caldwell.

To date, tag sales have amounted to $142,209 of which $5,393 was received on Saturday, $2,450 on Monday, $1,304 on Tuesday and $4,000 on Wednesday.

More registrations for tags are being made this year than during other years, Mr. Jenkins reported. Registrations for desired tag numbers that are available, may be made by paying the license fee, plus $1, which later amount by act of the Legislature, will be used by the State Welfare Board for aid to dependent children.

Some oddities crop up in the reservation of tags, according to Mr. Jenkins. One man, for instance, always wants the tag to tell his small daughter's age. A colored man asked for a "lucky number." The number 11, instead of being scorned is in big demand even applications from residents of other counties have been received.

Tags are usually issued in numerical order, but numbers may be reserved when available, he declared. The price of license plates is the same as last year. Applicants should bring title certificates and note down last year's tag number.

Hull Supports American Loan To England

Opposition Is Voice Among British Conservatives Against Accepting The Loan

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7. (AP)—Former secretary of State Cordell Hull has thrown his weight behind the Administration drive to obtain congressional ratification of the loan to Britain. In a statement issued through the State Department, Hull declares that the loan represents a long step forward toward a better world.

"I feel," said Hull, "that this may be our final opportunity to make a peace that will last." Hull's statement then gives unqualified support to the overall economic plan outlined by the Administration.

Supporters of the $4,000,000,000 loan agreement are hopeful that it will pass Congress without any major changes. They fear that should drastic revisions be made, hopes for Anglo-American trade cooperation would be imperiled.

In Britain, too, the American loan is the chief topic of conversation today. The House of Commons has begun its debate on a bill introduced by the Labor government calling for ratification of both the loan and the Bretton Woods Monetary Agreement.

The two bills are considered together, since British acceptance of the Bretton Woods plan has been made a condition of the loan. The Labor government is pressing strongly for ratification.

But less than a week after it introduced its bill, opposition cropped up in the ranks of the Conservative party. Two conservatives offered a motion calling for the rejection of both the loan and Bretton Woods.

They declared that the agreement would be contrary to the "policy" interests because they would be forced to surrender to the gold standard and would compel a return to freer conditions of trade. Just how much support the opposition motion will obtain in Parliament is not yet clear. As the debate continues, the Laborites appeared confident of winning approval for their ratification bill.

Lingle And Cullum Named Grid Captains

Coach George Kettles announced this afternoon that Glenn Lingle has been elected captain of the 1945 edition of the Celery Feds Football eleven and that Bobby Cullum has been named co-captain. Both will fill those positions tonight when the locals meet the Gainesville Purple Hurricanes at the high school athletic field at 7:30 o'clock. The post-season affair is being sponsored by the Kiwanis Club for the club's Underprivileged Children's Fund.

BARNES' DENIAL

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7. (AP)—Major General Patrick Hurley's charges of disloyalty in the State Department drew a sharp denial today from Secretary of State James Byrnes. The Secretary declared that Hurley had failed to produce any evidence to support his charges. Byrnes also upheld the records of John Service and George Atcheson, the State Department officials who were accused by Hurley of undermining American policy in China.

CHURCHES OF CHRIST, SCIENTIST
"GOD THE ONLY CAUSE AND CREATOR" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in Churches of Christ, Scientist, throughout the world on Sunday, December 9.
The Golden Text is: "Thus saith the Lord that created the heavens: God himself that formed the earth and made it: he hath established it, he created it not in vain, he formed it to be inhabited: I am the Lord; and there is none else." (ISA. 45:12).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "For of him and through him, and to him, are all things: to whom be glory forever." (Rom. 11:36).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "The categories of metaphysics rest on one basis, the divine Mind. I therefore plant myself unswervingly on the teachings of the prophets, and on the testimony of the Science of Mind. Other foundations there are none." (p. 249; 13:14, 23-25).

Davey O'Brien Is Positive Football Helms Him In FBI

By BUS HAM

WASHINGTON — Shortly before the war the name of distinctive Davey O'Brien disappeared from the sports pages. The little guy from Texas became an FBI man.

So when Davey popped up the other day, he was deluged with questions. The principal one was whether his football experiences fitted him for a career in the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

Davey's answer was as quick and sure as his passes that Dec. 1 in 1940 when he completed 23 throws for Philadelphia against Washington's Redskins in a record-performance-for-professional football.

"Sure, football helped me prepare for the FBI," he said. "Football taught me that I can meet people under any circumstances. That's the big thing."

Like all FBI men, the modest, 150-pound former Texas Christian and Philadelphia Eagles passing expert been in some pretty tight spots, from drawing room to bar, particularly during the war.

"You have to have confidence in yourself in such situations, and that's what football gives you," he said. "You learn to cope with the situation when it arises. You find out about teamwork, and there's a lot of that in the FBI."

J. Edgar Hoover, FBI chief, likes his organization under a football team — no agent can say that he broke this or that case . . . the team does it.

Hoover also feels that every agent must have some of the qualities that make an outstanding athlete—courage, alertness,

You Should Know

You should know about the 80% collision or upset automobile insurance offered by the State Farm Mutual Insurance Co. If you carry $50 deductible collision or upset insurance on your car or truck—$50 is deducted from each collision and upset claim. If it costs you $50 to repair a damaged fender, you pay ALL. If another fender is damaged and it costs you $50 to repair, you again pay ALL.

If you had 80% coverage you could get both fenders repaired by paying only $20.

The premium after the 1st year is no more than you would pay for the $50 deductible kind and $15 to $25 less than you would pay for the 80% coverage in most companies.

ability to quickly orient himself. "An athlete's experience is a plus value as an FBI agent, other qualifications being equal," Hoover says.

Most FBI agents have legal backgrounds, but Davey as a Texan knew about oil fields. The FBI reasoned that the black-gold areas would be subject to sabotage during the war if history repeated itself.

So Davey became an expert in that field. Eventually he handled every type of FBI case.

And the steady right arm and clear eye that made him an accurate passer in football enabled O'Brien to develop into one of FBI's crack pistol shots.

He once fired 10 straight "possibles"—a record unequalled on FBI's range. A "possible" is scored by placing all shots on vital spots of a silhouette of a man from varying distances and positions.

Yes, Davey would like to take his marksmanship back to the football field—maybe just for a game or two—but that isn't likely because the FBI again got its man. Davey loves it.

not to suffer from freight car shortage, and added that there is a severe shortage at present. He also told of the Bureau's successful efforts by means of complaints to Congress of an EC ruling that allowed only half tank refrigeration, when hundreds of cars of perishables spilled as a result.

He praised the work of Senator L. F. Boyle and Representative L. B. Mann and M. B. Smith in making the Central Florida Experiment Station a reality. He said the Bureau had favored a soil conservation district and that a drainage district may also be necessary here.

He also told of Bureau aid in selling lockers for a proposed frozen food plant in Sanford, but added that this was not a regular Bureau project but that they were interested in seeing such a plant located here.

Henry Thurston, re-elected this year as a director of the Florida Farm Bureau, said that group backed up Seminole County in its projects, and that the American Farm-Bureau Federation backed them up in Washington. He declared that there might not have been any foreign labor in Florida had not the national organization written the original bill that made labor importation possible.

Dr. R. W. Ruprecht, director of the Central Florida Experiment Station, reported progress in getting clear title to the land, and told of re-titling work already done. He cited figures to show that this section is holding its own with Glades production of celery. Additions to the staff of Lieut. Jack Russell, who recently returned, and Dr. A. A. Foster, due to arrive soon, will greatly aid the program, he declared.

Alex R. Johnson, Seminole High School agricultural instructor, reported the largest enrollment yet, of Future Farmers, who now number 53 at the school.

He told of the modern equipment, the mechanized shop and of the training program given the boys which would enable them to follow agricultural pursuits.

General Hutchison said that he found the New Guinea jungles to be much different from his original ideas. He told of the coarse tall grass and thick vines and trees that had to be hacked away with a machete before one could get through, but he added that where there was heavy timber, undergrowth was sparse and troops could get through more readily. Except for coconuts, he said he saw very little organized farming. Bananas, papayas and tropical fruits abounded. Beautiful hardwoods, such as mahogany and teak, were plentiful. Coffee and rubber were described as still in the experimental stage. The trees were full of multi-colored birds, but game was scarce and there were plenty of pythons, which the natives declined to kill.

The Fuzzy Wuzzy natives are well proportioned and strong, he said, but in Morotai were a bit more civilized. He described the heavy rainfall (250 inches a year) and severe heat in New Guinea. He found the natives more intelligent in Mindanao than in New Guinea, although some are more primitive, others were well educated, even among the Moros. Game was plentiful, and a duck hunting expedition resulted in a bag of 208, plus a deer. There are gold mines not yet touched, he said, and the Del Monte interests have large pineapple plantations.

He told of a visit to Manila, which he described as definitely a destroyed city, especially the business section, but that some residential sections remained. Speaking of the morale of American troops, he described them as the best in the world, and added that morale of the men was best when they were up at the front in foxholes, living on K rations. He praised his men of the 31st Division some of whom are from Sanford and predicted most of them would be home by Christmas.

A program of entertainment that included the following pupils of the Coghurn School of Dancing was presented: Phyllis Bach, Norma Jean Sayer, Anita Aiken, Eloise Cook, Ann Whitaker, Jackie McDonald, Dorthea Sackett, Jane Chapman and Gretchen Kirchoff. Nancy Williams played a Chopin selection. Bobo Dean acted as master of ceremonies. The supper was served by members of the Woman's Club under direction of Mrs. O. P. Herndon.

MIAMI, Dec. 7. (AP)—$10,000 open golf tournament goes into the second round today with little Ben Hogan—the Hershey, Penn., pro—like a backseat driver, waiting an operator's license. Hogan is two strokes behind leader Chick Rutan who took a 68 yesterday to pace the field. Hogan scored 80. Eight other entries came in with 89.

The pre-arranged favorite doesn't mind his position, Hogan says. "Back here I don't have to bother about the spotlight being on me."

Starting out even today in second place with 69 are lug McSpaden, Dutch Harrison, Tony Pena, Henry Picard, Fred Annon, George Payton, Ben Yasko and K. Laffoon. Sammy Snead goes out with a 71. The field has been cut to entries with scores of 81 or better.

Harry Ghoul Scores 100 Miami U. Points... CORAL GABLES, Fla., Dec. 7. With Harry Ghoul setting the pace by rolling up 100 points, the University of Miami football team has turned in a flock of record breaking performances this fall in winning eight games, losing one and tying one. That's the best full season record for any Miami team.

Though the Orange Bowl seating capacity was reduced because of work on seats for the New Year's game, home attendance set a new record with 186,541 of fans in attendance. The 1938 team had 184,000 capacity groves—18,000 fell and with the seating capacity available in 1938 would have gone well beyond the 200,000 mark.

Team records set this year were in pass interceptions—no less than 22 enemy jerseys being short circuited while a new punt blocking record was set with nine. The 21 punts rolled up in losing to Georgia 27-21 also set a scoring record for Miami in a losing game.

Harry Ghoul broke four records and equalled another. His 82 yard touchdowns run with a pass interception in the Auburn game was the longest such run for a Hurricane player while his 100 points broke Eddie Dunn's 1938 point in ten games. Ghoul is also the first

Pearl Harbor
 It was just four years ago today that the Japs launched their sneak attack on Pearl Harbor committing an outrage which the civilized world will never forget and for which millions of people, both guilty and innocent, have sacrificed their lives. The Japanese nation has paid, and will continue to pay, most dearly for this outrage against humanity.
 It is perhaps not inappropriate that four years later the details immediately preceding the attack and having to do with the actions and attitudes of our highest public officials toward the security of this country are for the first time being brought to light by the Pearl Harbor Investigating Committee. The testimony of such top ranking generals as Miles, Gerow and Marshall with regard to the extent of unpreparedness in this country as well as to the negligence of officers, sailors, and the general public.
 It is, of course, easy to excuse them all on the grounds that hind sight is better than foresight and that even though they knew the Japs were going to attack, they did not know where. It seems that the Philippines had been properly alerted, but that Hawaii had been led to suspect dangers from sabotage only. But even in the Philippines, as the recent articles of General Wainwright, have made plain, there was an almost total lack of readiness to cope with even a minor emergency.
 In a democracy it is possible always to pass the blame on to the people for, of course, the people govern and upon which to base any sound program for preparedness for war. And yet it was certainly the part of the leaders to lead them up and see that they were provided with the necessary information, which they themselves had upon the spot, to make a sound program for preparedness. The lesson of Pearl Harbor is that the "price of liberty is eternal vigilance" not only with respect to enemies within, but also with regard to those who may attack from without, and that such vigilance cannot be left alone to public officials no matter how highly trusted. It is the people's duty to keep awake with respect to foreign affairs as well as to domestic policies and to demand of their leaders adequate protection at all times.

Finding The Facts
 Whether the exact details of President Truman's fact-finding plan are the best possible is open to question. But it is not open to question that finding the facts in cases of labor strife is of the first and most important importance. No one can take away from any laboring man his right to strike, while the Constitution of the United States of America still stands. Either a man may decide whether he will work or not, and for whom, or he is not a free man but a slave. Cases where men have been forced by economic situations into virtual, if not nominal, slavery, are not here in point. The right to strike is basic.
 But in all this talk of strikes there is not enough question being asked below the level of the strike. Why do these strikes occur? Primarily because neither side trusts the other, and because factions of labor and of management do not trust each other.
 Walter Reuther is sure that GM is able to pay his price, GM, obviously, dare not pay this price even if today it could, because if it yielded, there could be another demand tomorrow which it could not meet and remain solvent. It is just as important for labor that employers remain solvent as for labor that a certain raise, more important, in fact, because if the corporation goes broke there will be no wage.
 If a committee—or a court—elected by labor and management both, of both sides, could be formed, could be empowered to see the books, find all the facts on both sides and state them clearly, more than half the causes of strikes would be gone. If this group were to decide GM can pay 18 per cent more in 1946, then so let it be, with both sides keeping the contract.
 Mutual trust, based on facts, is the key to labor-management peace.

Ghost Of The Past
 A forgotten shade of the past is evoked by the announcement that the 85-year-old Vittorio Orlando may soon try his hand again as premier of Italy. Orlando was premier during the Treaty of Versailles.
 Normally one of the Big Four with Wilson, Lloyd George and Clemenceau, Orlando was definitely second-rate in ability and in the strength of the country he represented. When Italy failed to get her desires in the peace treaty, Orlando fell from power and has been little heard from since.
 It is not likely that a second trial in these stormy days would be much more successful.

E-BONDS LAG
 The government's Victory Loan drive has gone over top, but Treasury Department officials are not too enthusiastic about the results. The reason is that sales of E-bond goal has been achieved. of small-denomination "E" bonds have reached only 85 percent of their $2,000,000,000 quota. Treasury Secretary Fred Vinson says the volunteer salesmen will continue their campaign until the E-bond goal has been achieved.

America Hopes To Revamp Japan On Democratic Lines
 JAPAN, Dec. 7. (AP)—Which the Americans hope to revamp along democratic lines again has felt the iron hand within General MacArthur's glove.
 And for the second time in a week, the Allied Supreme Commander has shown that civilian, financial and industrial leaders will not be immune from prosecution as war crime suspects. Two developments bolster the belief that MacArthur means business.
 One is his refusal to grant the government's appeal that Prince Moriama Naakimata, the 17-year-old brother of a Japanese most powerful politician, Prince Konoze and Marquis Kido.
 This latest move has a two-fold effect: It reaches right into the Imperial Palace within the purview of Emperor Hirohito, and it cracks the democratic facade hastily being erected by the ruling class. Kido has been the manipulator behind the scenes; Konoze has been the front man.
 There have been persistent reports that Konoze was being made a special target by the Chinese, that the Nationalist Government had demanded his arrest. This is not unlikely, for the Chinese feel they have a special score to settle with him. Konoze was the Japanese Premier during the time the Tokyo war lords deliberately touched off the Asiatic fire which still is referred to as the China incident. He was minister, you will recall, was General Tojo who later overthrew Konoze's third cabinet and succeeded him as Premier. Since Japan's surrender, the Prince has been trying to tie on the halo of the great democratic defender. But General MacArthur knocked that away, first by denying Konoze's claim that he was retaining the constitution as the General

SITUATION WANTED
 FARRILL, Penn. Dec. 7. (AP)—When the war ended, a government contract held by the Shomo Steel Corporation of Farrell, Penn., was cancelled. The plant was forced to close down, and 4,000 workers lost their jobs. But the workers have held a strike as a protest against the plant's closure. They want to live in a ghost town. They hoisted their own property taxes by 20 to 25 percent, and authorized the city to forgive the Steel Corporation 100,000 a year in taxes for up to five years, as a gesture of sympathy for the workers. The city is now in a state of emergency, and the plant is still closed.

War Trials In Japan To Start Next Month
TOKYO, Dec. 7, (AP)—Chief United States Prosecutor Joseph L. Keenan said in Tokyo today that the first war crimes trials in Japan are scheduled tentatively for next month. Keenan added that among the first to go on trial will be warlord General Hideki Tojo and members of his Pearl Harbor cabinet.

Keenan declined any comment on the official Allied attitude toward Emperor Hirohito in connection with the war crimes trials. But he did outline the basis on which the prosecution would operate. Said Keenan: "The accused will be presumed innocent until proved guilty. Japanese war criminals must be punished and humiliated so that they will go down in history as ordinary felons of the lowest type."

Keenan added that the death penalty will be asked at all the Japanese war crimes trials. He said both President Truman and General MacArthur are in accord on trial procedure and both want to conclude the trials as rapidly as possible.

United States Reparations Commissioner Edwin Pauley recommended the confiscation of all Japanese assets abroad, including those of the emperor. He also recommended huge slashes in Japan's shipbuilding, steel production and generation of electric power.

Would this be fair?

Can you imagine your milkman, grocer, barber or tailor charging you extra just because you were able to pay more than some people?

Of course you can't. And what a state of confusion everything would soon be in if people tried to operate that way.

Suppose the people GM workers trade with told them, "We know you make more than most industrial workers, so we're going to charge you more for everything!"

Yet this is exactly the principle UAW-CIO leaders are trying to establish in their wage demands on General Motors.

To be logical, union leaders should also say to a company that is losing money, "You're having a hard time making both ends meet, so we're suggesting a cut in wages."

Can you imagine any union leader ever making such an offer? Of course, you can't.

Closely Guarded Secret Revealed By War Department

AKRON, Dec. 6, (AP)—The War Department has unveiled one of the closest guarded secrets of the war. And it's no wonder that a rubber band or a riddle or an automobile tire was a collector's item during the duration. It seems that rubber was one of the grand illusions of warfare, and as such, added the American Army invaluable.

the illusion that seemed the reality. It took the place of huge combat vehicles. The whole story is so fantastic, so much like something out of Hollywood, it seems hardly believable that such a trick could work so well. But it did.

It was all a matter of balloons -- balloons as ingenious and much more practical than the ones you see in parades sometimes, and in Mardi Gras festivals. Several of the country's biggest rubber companies built to actual size great numbers of pneumatic balloon-fabric models of boats, tanks, guns, planes, and other equipment -- to be inflated or deflated, as it was needed. They simply blew up the balloons placed in the air where they wanted them, and presto. There were fleets of invasion craft that didn't exist, loaded with weapons that never were forged, and pointed for attacks that never were planned. But it all appeared so real that the Germans didn't know the difference. Hence, confusion.

As fast as the companies could complete the dummies, they were turned over to the Army and Navy for shipment to Europe. They made the journey inflated and folded, with a minimum demand upon precious cargo space. The last shipment, just before D-Day, was rushed to England by plane.

Tacticians would place what appeared to be an entire army in the field or in British toris at some point where enemy observers would find it. Then while the enemy was concerned with that equipment, the actual armies would move under cover of darkness or camouflage to some point isolated from the illusionary army.

And when the balloon army had served its confusing purpose in one spot, it was folded up and moved by truck to another false base. Confusion of the enemy was a valuable weapon, and these inflated rubber balloon models and the trick.

Marking 'Em Up IN SPORTS

With JULIAN STENSTROM HERALD SPORTS EDITOR

Another step towards getting tennis courts constructed for the people of Sanford who enjoy the game was made Wednesday afternoon at the City Hall. The City Commissioners voted to build the courts (two) in the Fort Mellon Park.

Commissioner James Gut told us yesterday afternoon that there is a good possibility of a double regulation court or a double tournament court being constructed. He intimated that he was in favor of the double court at this time since two separate courts constructed on separate occasions would cost more money.

We agree with Commissioner Gut and trust the construction of the double court will be commenced within a short time after bids are received by the City on Dec. 10.

There are only 16 more shipping days until Christmas and the new motor suits, suits, snow, whether or not Sanford will be represented in the Florida State League when operations are resumed next spring. Since the last meeting held in Orlando, we haven't heard any discussion from club officials of present league cities on the question of operating the circuit as a nine team affair, with the exception of DeLand. Bill Page of the DeLand is pushing the drums in favor of Sanford entering the league.

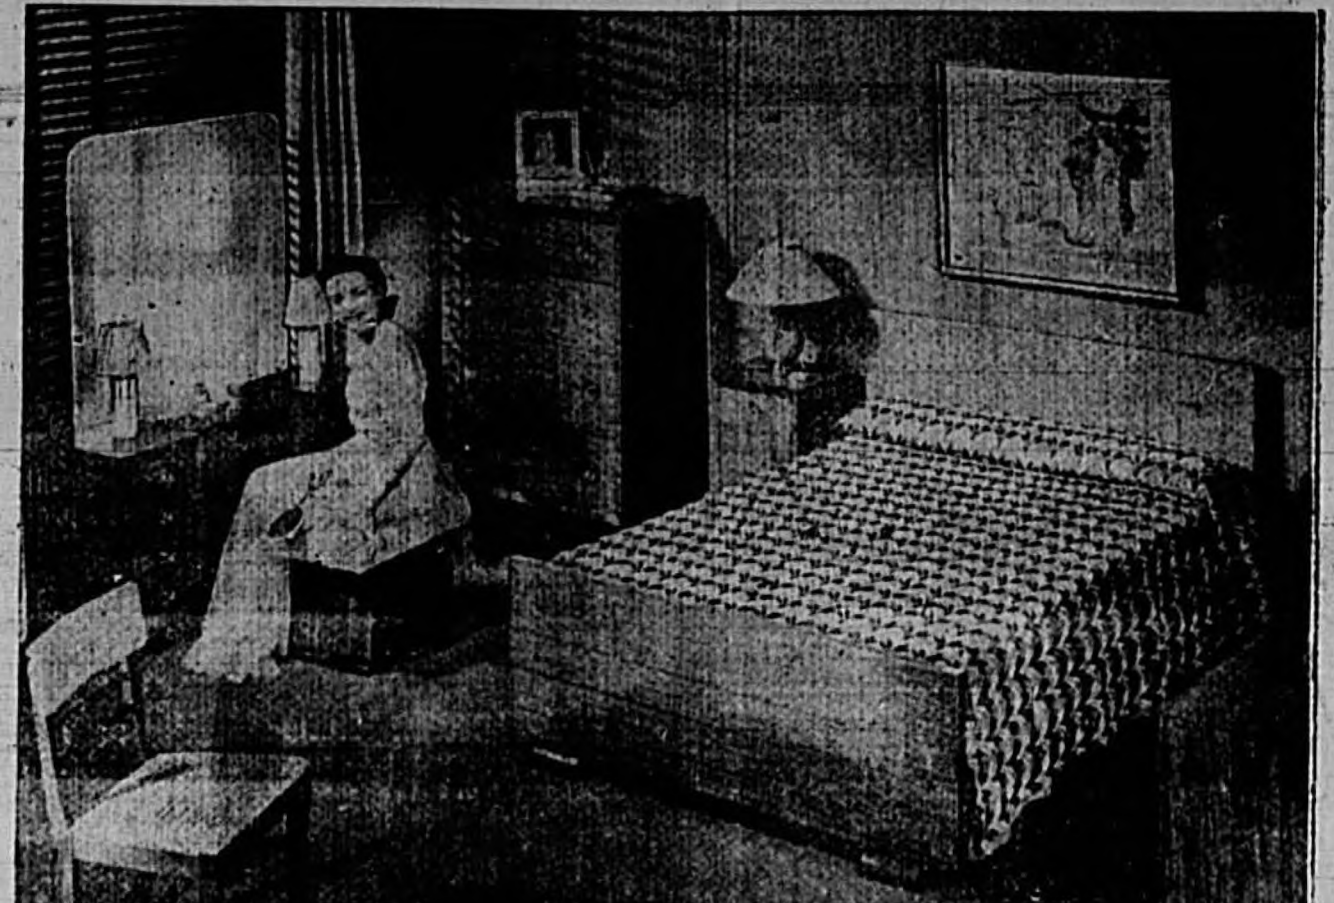

The Sanford question will be brought up before the league for final action during the Leesburg meeting on Dec. 16. Sanford will be represented by Johnny Krider and your reporter and we'll have the franchise money ready to turn over to the league if all goes well. Sanford is permitted to enter the circuit. We trust that Peter Schaal, loop secretary and statistician, has been able to draw up a nine club schedule in such a manner so as to completely satisfy the present eight teams in the league.

We've heard some rumors around that the local Campbell-Lessing Post of the American Legion is planning to sponsor a Legion baseball team during the forthcoming baseball season. It's understood that this team will enter the regional tournament and attempt to bring the way to the national championship. We also hear that Brailley Odham, recently returned Naval officer, will handle the managerial duties.

We would like to propose that the league of late make an effort to organize an American Legion loop in Central Florida. We suggest that possibly the league could be composed of teams representing Legion posts in a number of within the Seventh District which is commanded by Joel Field. They organize leagues in and around the State of North Carolina and most of the national championship teams come from North Carolina. At the present time, Shelby, N. C. holds the title.

American Legion baseball is clean and usually brings a lot of enjoyment to the clubs sponsoring the movement as well as to the youngsters playing. Players can participate if they have not reached their 18th birthday. We were visiting Steve McCrone, former baseball player who was managing Statesville in the North Carolina State League one summer before the war. Stuffy took us to an American Legion tilt between Statesville and Gastonia. The ball game was broken up in the last of the ninth inning. A 15 year old Statesville first sacker smacked the apple over a 375-foot fence with two mates ahead. That was really a ball game.

Warning Sent By Marshall On Jap Move

MacArthur Directive Calls For Action To Free Farmers Of Land Control

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10.—(AP)—Former Chief of Staff George C. Marshall has told the Pearl Harbor Investigating Committee about his personal views on the probability of war with Japan during the month before Pearl Harbor. Under questioning from Senator Homer Ferguson of Michigan, Marshall said he believed during those critical days that the nation would be forced into war if the Japs moved into Thailand.

His statement was made after Senator Ferguson had recalled that on Nov. 5, 1941, Marshall and Admiral Stark, then Chief of Naval Operations, had sent a note of warning to President Roosevelt. The note advocated retaliation in the event that the Japanese moved west of 100 degrees east longitude or south of 10 degrees north latitude. Such a move, Marshall testified, would have brought the Japs into the Gulf of Siam and would have put them at the back door of Singapore.

Ferguson also brought out that on Nov. 6, the American ambassador in London, John G. Winant, had said that the Japs already had started to move southward.

Said Marshall: "I was of the opinion at that time that the governments (American and British) would be forced to accept a condition of hostilities."

Marshall said that he did not recall a Churchill statement on Aug. 24, 1941, that if the United States went to war with Japan, the British would be in the fight in a matter of hours. He said that when the President returned from the Atlantic Conference on Aug. 17, he called in the Japanese ambassador and told him that the United States would not take steps to protect its security if there were further aggressive moves by Japan.

During his testimony expressed the opinion that the Pearl Harbor attack was a sneak but not a proposed invasion at all. Earlier the former Chief of Staff had testified that he had held the opinion in Nov., 1941, that a movement by the Japanese into Thailand and Siam would involve the United States and Great Britain in war.

George McCall, Jr. Is Home Following Service In Pacific

Lieut. (jg) George Robert McCall, Jr., USNR, son of Mr. and Mrs. George R. McCall of 2299 Magnolia Avenue, has arrived home as executive officer aboard the LCI 558 in the Pacific for 18 months.

Lieut. McCall graduated as an ensign from Columbia University in New York City, Feb. 26, 1944, and was commissioned a lieutenant (jg) in July 1945 at Pearl Harbor and at the same time was given the bronze star medal and recommended for a unit citation for outstanding close fire support in Okinawa.

His bronze star citation reads as follows: "For distinguished himself by meritorious achievement from October, 1944 to June 1945, as the gunnery officer of a class-in fire support ship during the assault on Leyte, Lingayen Gulf, Nasirub and Okinawa. Demonstrating outstanding leadership and courage, he caused his ship to deliver accurate and effective fire onto targets of opportunity and to deliver effective anti-aircraft fire against hostile aircraft. Through his skill and personal devotion to duty, he contributed immeasurably to the successful participation of his ship in the assault operations. His conduct throughout distinguished him among those performing duties of the same character." Admiral R. K. Turner, USN, signed the citation.

Lieut. (jg) McCall wears besides the bronze star medal, the Philippine liberation ribbon which was presented by the Philippine Government and three stars for participation in three major invasions.

Ethics Improvement Must Come From The Man At The Top

He was introduced by H. Coleman, chairman of the vocational service committee.

Mr. Smith said that any improvement in business ethics as a rule get talked about much for those who observe them must come from the head of the business because "your employees are not going to tell you how to improve the ethics of your business." He also declared the ethics do not like to boast about it, and those who do not, do not like to talk about it either.

Mr. Edward Kircher presented the Rotarians with a match folder bearing Christmas Bells, the gift of A. B. Peterson, chairman of the Seminole County Tuberculosis Association. He reminded the Rotarians to contribute to the work of the association in its efforts to combat tuberculosis in this county.

Japs Threaten Rice Riots In Tohoku Area

Nation Would Have Been Forced Into War If Japan Had Made Thailand Move

TOKYO, Dec. 10.—(AP)—General MacArthur's newest demands for a revised agricultural policy in Japan have come at a time when rice riots are threatened. Influential farmers in the Tohoku district, in northeastern Japan, say that munition government policies have created unrest in the rich Tohoku district. Only 60 percent of the farmers there are reported willing to sell rice crops to the government. Without a full quota from Tohoku, rice riots are said to be inevitable.

A delegation which has visited the former premier, Prince Higashi-Kuni, has said that the farmers have lost confidence in the government. They would like to see the Emperor visit the Tohoku area to dispel confusion and restore stability among agricultural communities.

The new MacArthur directive abolishes absentee land ownership in Japan, and it threatens to crack the whip for more drastic action to free the Japanese farmers from feudal land policies. General MacArthur also is continuing his task of rounding up war criminal suspects. The most recent list includes many who might be listed as small fry in comparison with some of the officials already in custody—but to Allied and American prisoners of war they would rank high.

The new war criminals list includes the man who commanded the Cabanatuan prison camp in the Philippines from 1942 to 1944, Lieut. Colonel Hanzo Mori, and Col. Genzo Nomura, another Noma directed Japanese police units in Hong Kong from Dec. 1942, until last February. Also named is a second lieutenant Toshino and a civilian known only as Wada. Both of them were aboard the prisoner of war ship Oryoku Maru during the vessel's nightmarish voyage from the Philippines to Japan.

Undersecretary of State Dean Acheson took the witness stand during the session to refute Hurley's statements that he had wrecked American policy in the Far East.
