

WORK PLANNED FOR SENATE IN REGULAR MEET

Tax Reduction Bill Is Main Problem Of Sessions To Be Settled Before Christmas

By William K. Hutchinson
International News Service Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON, Nov. 30.—Prompt enactment of the tax reduction bill, a quick decision in the case of Senator-elect William S. Vare (R) of Pennsylvania, and passage of the new tariff bill through the Senate by Christmas, was the tentative program adopted today by administration leaders for the regular session of Congress, starting Monday.

While billions of dollars worth of federal appropriation bills will be given the right of way at long administration intervals, they were anxious to get the tax reduction bill through Congress at the earliest possible moment. Thus far this proposal has the approval of Democratic and insurgent leaders and probably will be carried to a successful conclusion.

The Republican Senate leaders were hopeful too of reaching a decision within a few days in the case involving the right of Vare to a senatorial togo. Prompt action may come by postponing the decision until next year, pending completion of a report asked by House, by an immediate vote on a resolutionousting him because of an $800,000 primary expenditure. In either event, Republican leaders were urging prompt action to clear the way for the tariff bill.

The tariff measure, already before the Senate for more than six months will be held before it until passed. Its initial passage will by no means insure its prompt final enactment, since the measure must go to conference after passing the Senate, where all differences between the House and Senate must be compromised. This final goal may not be reached before April 1, although administration leaders hope to see the bill on the statute books by Mar 1.

This program has the approval of Senate, James E. Watson, of Indiana, the Republican floor leader in the Senate, who returned from a vacation in Florida to pacify rebelling factions in the Republican ranks of the Senate. In a series of conferences with other Republican leaders, Watson was believed to have worked out a program leading to restore peace in the Republican ranks on all issues, save the pending tariff bill.

The peace negotiations were understood to include various appointments to vacancies on the Senate's important committees and the pending shakeup in committee chairmanships. Some of the appointments will be announced by the naming of Senator Jones to the chairman-ship of the Committee on Pensions.

Local Citizens To Vote For Officials Who Will Run City

Tuesday the citizens of Sanford will designate their choice for the City Commission by casting their votes in the general and special elections to be held on that day. Four candidates are seeking election, Mayor Vivian Spear, in group two, H. J. Lehman in group one, and B. W. Herndon and W. A. Taffler will oppose each other, in seeking to fill the unexpired term of former Mayor Nelson Gray, who resigned.

Mr. Spear and Mr. Lehman were nominated in the November primary to run in the general election called for Dec. 3, while Mr. Herndon and Mr. Taffler were each nominated by a petition bearing the names of 25 qualified voters, to run in the special election next Tuesday.

According to F. S. Lamson, city clerk, a voter does not have to register for this coming election if he qualified for the primary election.

FAIR WITNESS IN ROTHSTEIN CASE BLUSHES AT QUIZ

Asheville Widow Embarrassed On Being Asked About Actions

By James K. Kilgallen
International News Service Staff Correspondent
NEW YORK, Nov. 30.—Mrs. Marion T. Putnam, attractive, pink-checked widow of Asheville, N. C., was stalling herself today, no doubt for the good, also must undergo Monday when she resumes the stand for further cross-examination in Broadway's famous murder case—the trial of George McManus, charged with slaying Arthur Rothstein in the Park Central.

So far it's been rather embarrassing for Mrs. Putnam, what with the attorney for the defense, James D. C. Murray, subjecting her to a ruthless attack on her private life and forcing her to make annoying admissions. She didn't want to get mixed up in "the Rothstein case" in the first place; even "if used" to keep out of it.

But it was Mrs. Putnam's tough luck to have been the occupant of Room 320 of the Park Central on the night of Nov. 14, 1928, when Rothstein was shot—legally in Room 313 which was McManus' room. She happened to see and hear things that night that have projected her to the position of the state's "star witness" to date.

Blushing to the lips of her eyes, Mrs. Putnam, a very refined—at least in appearance—woman, admitted her room was engaged for "Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Putnam, Asheville, N. C." Murray refreshed her memory by showing her the hotel registration card. Now, it happens Mrs. Putnam is a widow, her husband having died in 1913.

"Who are Mr. and Mrs. Putnam indicated on this card?" asked Murray, a tone of triumph in his voice.

"I am Mrs. Putnam."

"Well, who is Mr. Putnam?"

She fingered one of her diamond rings. Then she said: "He is the man to whom I am engaged to be married."

Murray became curious about the Putnam girl at Asheville, conducted by Mrs. Putnam. Didn't have both with certain?

"Yes—very nice both."

"Is she still living? Rather indignant."

Agents Probe Case Of Man Injured By Bomb Sent In Mail

MARYVILLE, Tenn., Nov. 30.—(INS)—Federal inspectors today were investigating the strange case of Clark Scott, 26, of Townsend, who was seriously injured by the explosion of a bomb when he opened an aluminum box received through the mail and addressed to him from Orlando, California.

The explosion occurred while he was removing the screws from the top of the box. His left hand was so badly mangled that an amputation just above the wrist was necessary. He was also badly burned about the face. Several other persons, present when the lid was lifted, received minor hurts.

Thirty minutes after the explosion, Scott received a telegram from the postmaster at Los Angeles telling him not to open the box but "throw it in the river." Scott formerly lived in California, but has resided here for the past two years.

SOUTH ENJOYS GOOD BUSINESS SAYS REPORT

Bank Review Reveals Southeastern Area Structurally Fine Despite Bad Breaks

By Gordon Pullin,
International News Service Staff Correspondent
ATLANTA, Ga., Nov. 30.—The industrial, business and financial structure of the southeastern states during the month of October remained strong despite external influences which tended to impede progress and prosperity as a whole.

This was revealed in the monthly review by the Federal Reserve Bank of Atlanta, released today. The review showed only slight fluctuations in general business conditions in the sixth district, or southeastern states, with one exception, that of building and construction activities.

In the volume of prospective building, evidenced by building permits issued in 20 regularly reporting cities, October last showed the smallest figures since December, 1921. Permits issued by the 20 cities aggregated $1,814,658, a decrease of one-third compared with the total of last September, and a decline of one-half from the figures of the corresponding month last year.

Regardless of this decided fall in construction, six larger cities of the district reported increases in building activities. These cities were Montgomery, Miami, Pensacola, Alexandria, Nashville, and Miami Beach.

Confidence was the keynote of the report of wholesale trade, which showed that October reached the highest total in two years. The combined sales of 121 reporting wholesale firms gave an increase in all lines of commodities. Retail trade, reflecting the confident tone of wholesale trade and helped by the seasonal increase in buying, also rose to a new high level for the year although it was slightly below the volume a year ago.

Production in basic industries showed a further reduction in October as a general rule although cotton and wool-textiles ranked higher.

House To Consider Measures Bearing On Business World

WASHINGTON, Nov. 30.—(INS)—The House will consider measures of vast import to the business world in the new session beginning Monday but will not rock the business boat by spectacular investigations or halt the Hoover prosperity drive by radical legislation, Rep. Bertrand H. Snell (R) of New York, chairman of the rules committee, which frames the House program, predicted today.

Instead, he declared, the House will act promptly on the administration tax reduction plan and other legislation designed to speed the wheels of industry.

Although demand for congressional investigation followed the recent New York Stock Exchange slump, there apparently is little likelihood of the House instituting an inquiry by a special committee. Any congressional investigation, it is expected, will be conducted by the Senate.

"Up to the present time no one has presented to me any good reason to believe that any group could be accomplished for the country by a mere investigation of the recent happenings on the stock exchange," said Rep. Snell.

"It never has been the policy of the rules committee to approve investigations unless someone presents very definite evidence which they should be made, and is able to show that the country as a whole may be benefited."

GERMANY EXCITED

BERLIN, Nov. 30.—(INS)—All Germany waited with pent-up excitement today to celebrate in fitting fashion the evacuation of the second Rhineland zone by the Allied armies. At 11:23 this morning, the French flag was hauled down from the flagstaff of the fortress at Ehrenbreitstein, headquarters of the occupation of the second zone.

SOLONS TO HURRY ACTION UPON TAX LEGISLATION BILL

Quick Adoption Of Resolution For Reduction Being Predicted

WASHINGTON, Nov. 30.—House and Senate leaders will probably legislate action on the $100,000,000 program for reduction of taxes on 1929 incomes in an effort to bring it before President Hoover as soon as possible after Congress convenes next week.

Chairman Hawley, of the Ways and Means committee, predicted today that before the regular session is five days old, the house will adopt the bill, which will call for a 10 percent cut on normal income of individuals and corporations.

Quick approval by the Senate was forecast by Chairman Snell, of the Finance committee, who expected only one day would be required for that branch to complete action. He would be willing, he said, to defer consideration of the bill in order to present the tax resolution to the Senate quickly.

There has been no apparent disposition in either house seriously to oppose the program which has been agreed upon by the administration and leaders of the majority and minority in both branches. Senator Borah, republican independent of Idaho, said, however, that he was opposed to delaying the bill for any legislative proposal before the Senate, and would not consent to consideration of the tax reduction unless assured it could be passed in one day.

Given the legislative right of way in the house, the resolution will be introduced Monday by Hawley and be brought before the Ways and Means committee Wednesday morning for 30 minutes. Hawley plans to seek a special rule to bring the measure up for consideration Thursday.

The plan would receive a reduction of about $600,000,000 in the corporation taxes, would be cut approximately $200,000,000. It applies to incomes of 1929, good after the returns in the fiscal year of 1928. If such a measure is not enacted during the following year, the present tax rate again would become effective.

Needy Persons Given Articles Of Clothing

Over 150 articles of clothing and 16 blankets containing Thanksgiving dinners were distributed throughout the county to the needy persons by the Seminole County Welfare Board this week, according to Mrs. Helen T. Morse, supervisor of the board, who said that the Board wished to thank the people of Sanford and Seminole County for the splendid answer made to the plea in the Herald last week for donations of clothing and food.

The supervisor further made it known that donations were continuing to be brought to her office. This morning she said there had been donated 20 pieces of garments ready for distribution.

Scuth Is Gripped In Year's Coldest Snap

ATLANTA, Ga., Nov. 30.—(INS)—The South today was gripped in the coldest snap of the winter. Snow blanketed Kentucky and the mountain regions of Virginia and North Carolina. A temperature of 15 degrees was recorded at least one death from cold and two burned to death from fire starting from an overheated stove. The national club body of Post Oil, 17, of Baltimore, a Catholic Institute of Technology I school was found on the steps of Mrs. H. H. Brown, the school at 230 A. M. today. Mournful officials said there were two slight abrasions on the right cheek and expressed the belief that Oil had been walking in his sleep.

Trading Upon Stock Market Has Eased Up For This Week

By W. S. Cousins
International News Service Financial Editor
NEW YORK, Nov. 30.—Partly because of the falling off in demand for "margin" stocks and the drying up of forced liquidation, and partly the action of the stock exchange governors in closing down the high board from Wednesday night until next Monday morning, trading in the stock market dwindled to midsummer volume this week. Transactions in the three big sections, averaging about 3,000,000 shares each, were less than on any of the boisterous trading days of last week, when the 120,000,000 of selling were well up.

Developments in the money market, the bond market and in other sections of American industry and business were of more consequence than the idle chattering of the stock market this week. Leaders of American industry meeting with the President at Washington put squarely on the record their plans for expansion and rearmament in industrial organizations in the immediate future, and many of the governmental projects were passed ahead on the calendar in order to obviate the laying off of workmen at a time when the loss of wages would work hardship to them as well as retard business recovery from the stock market debacle.

Both in the call and time money markets borrowing rates are back to the level of July 1928, with the natural effect on those sections of the financial markets which thrive best on low rates. United States government bond prices have risen to the highest levels of the year; banker acceptance rates have been marked down to below 4 percent at months ago and had been lodged in the local jail.

King was caught in Inverness, yesterday; Patterson in South Carolina, and Stevenson out the West Coast, several months ago. According to Mr. Williams, the three men, charged with breaking and entering will be brought before the grand jury next week, the Chief further stated.

FARMERS AROUND WAUCHULA BRING PRODUCTS THERE

Vegetable Markets Of City Serve Growers In 80-Mile Radius

WAUCHULA, Nov. 30.—That Wauchula's vegetable market is serving growers in an 80-mile radius, was revealed today in a checkup which showed that growers from half a dozen in more counties are coming here to dispose of cucumbers, peppers, eggplants, beans and squash.

Many growers from as far south as Fort Myers, 75 miles away, make regular trips to market here. Some come from Sarasota and Manatee counties. Produce also is brought from that little, DeSoto, Highlands and Polk counties, and telephone calls are received almost daily from growers in these sections asking about the market here.

Nine carloads of produce went out last Saturday, while seven carloads left here Wednesday night of this week.

Prices are such that growers are well paid for their wares. Pepper was quoted as high as $7 a crate. Watermelon with 66 and 68 lbs. being a good average. Cucumbers were bringing $4.50 and $2.50 for fatty and chaser grades on the cash market. Eggplant sold for $3.25, beans for around $2, and well-washed squash $2.50 to $2.75. White pepper was quoted at around $1.75.

On two days, the first of the week, Monday and Tuesday, extra 30 cents included, 328 hampers of beans, 168 hampers, 115 hampers of 48 eggplant, 45 peppers, and three potatoes.

Several quarts of berries have been brought to the local market but so far none have been shipped. Many growers have reported picking a few pecks or quarts but no one has had enough to load a refrigerator.

The Hardee County Growers' Inc. were operating the week usual any one of such produce. Most of this was sold at the packing house for cash at more than the open market was paying. Buy their produce that is packed in the packing house and is uniformly graded.

Last Member Of Gang Of Thieves Is Nabbed

George King, negro, the third and last member of a gang of thieves alleged to have been hunting local stores here last summer, was caught in Inverness, yesterday by local authorities, assisted by members of the Sheriff's force, it was learned today from Chief of Police Roy G. Williams, who said that the other two members of the gang, Emory Patterson and T. J. Stevenson, both negroes, had been captured several months ago and had been lodged in the local jail.

King was caught in Inverness, yesterday; Patterson in South Carolina, and Stevenson out the West Coast, several months ago. According to Mr. Williams, the three men, charged with breaking and entering will be brought before the grand jury next week, the Chief further stated.

CHRISTMAS SEAL SALE IS BEGUN BY COMMITTEE HERE

Sixty-Five Percent Of Proceeds To Be Used In Seminole County

The twenty-second annual Christmas seal sale was begun yesterday by the Seal Sale Committee, according to an announcement made this morning by Mrs. Helen T. Morse, secretary-treasurer of the Seminole County Health Council, who stated that 65 percent of the proceeds collected would be used in Seminole County wherever it was needed.

Mrs. Morse further said that this was the only fund used for the purpose of assisting in tubercular cases, and for carrying on corrective and nutritive work, and that any child in the schools of this county needing their tonsils removed, teeth repaired, or other attention would be taken care of out of this fund. While 65 percent of the proceeds remain in the county for health purposes, the other 35 percent is transferred to the state and nation to be used for similar purposes.

The Seminole County Health Council is composed of the following officers: Linton E. Allen, president; Mrs. L. N. Hansell, vice president; and Mrs. Helen T. Morse, secretary-treasurer. The council appointed the following committee to carry on the work of selling the Christmas seals throughout the city and county.

Mrs. J. D. Woodruff, chairman; Mrs. L. I. Frasier, Mrs. Brown Miller, Mrs. Grover Spearling, Mrs. Roby Laing, Mrs. M. B. Hutton, Mrs. Cawthon Hutchinson, Mrs. Paul Biggers, Mrs. H. M. Rumbley, Mrs. John Meisler, Jr., Mrs. Linton E. Allen, Mrs. W. W. Potter, Mrs. L. F. Boyle, Mrs. A. B. Wallace, Mrs. W. C. Woman Kills Lover And Then Attempts To Finish Own Life

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Nov. 30.—(INS)—Physicians today held five doubts for the recovery of Mrs. Blanche Hall, 37, who early yesterday shot and barked to death Herman A. McClain, 29, years of telephone lineman and roomer in her home, and then attempted suicide by shooting herself also in the heart.

Late last night Mrs. Hall underwent a blood transfusion, and today she will undergo another. The life fluid was given by her husband, a railroad employe, who was away from their home at work when his wife, according to her own note, killed her alleged paramour.

Mrs. Hall left a number of notes, including one to her husband and another to McClain's mother in Fulton, Ky., in which she described how she backed the boy to death after he came home drunk—and accused—abused—and threatened her.

"He was hard to kill," one of the credited notes read. "I shot him. Then I hit him with an axe and still he struggled. Then I cut him with his pocket knife and he died."

In event of the woman's recovery, she will be charged with first degree murder, according to Sheriff Will Knight.

Light Docket Seen In Municipal Court

The docket of the Municipal Court held yesterday morning with Judge W. E. White on the bench consisted of four cases, three of which were transferred to the county, while the fourth was sentenced to pay a $5 fine.

George King, charged with breaking and entering, J. E. English charged with larceny, and Fred Weaver charged with larceny were transferred to the county, C. Gordon was sentenced to pay $5 for speeding.

Explorer Returns To His Base Following Successful Flight In Antarctic Region

NEW YORK, Nov. 30.—(INS)—Commander Richard E. Byrd today was hailed by the world as the first man ever to have flown across the North and South Poles.

Last night, the New York Times, the St. Louis Post-Dispatch, and newspapers affiliated with them publishing reports from Commander Byrd's antarctic expedition, announced that the Commander had safely returned to his base, Little America, after a successful flight across the South Pole in which he surveyed much adjacent territory.

Three years and seven months before, in May, 1926, the intrepid pioneer of air exploration started the world by flying across the North Pole with the late Floyd Bennett at the controls of his plane.

The Commander and three companions, Pilot Bert Balchen, Aerial Surveyor Capt. Ashley-Bryley and Harold I. Gurn, who manned the radio, left their base at 3:29 P. M. Thursday (10:19 P. M. N. Y. time), according to the New York Times, on the 1,800 mile flight to the South Pole and return in a tri-motored Ford plane.

In returning to their base without mishap, they accomplished one of the most hazardous flights in history, braving the unknown perils of the antarctic wastelands to the goal which only two other expeditions had ever succeeded in attaining.

The first man actually to reach the South Pole was Roald Amundsen, the dauntless Norwegian who lost his life in June, 1928, when he set out in a plane in the hope of rescuing members of the ill-fated Italian expedition in the Arctic.

Amundsen reached the South Pole on Dec. 14, 1911 using the ordinary dog-sled method of arctic and antarctic exploration. He lived to fly over the North Pole and until Byrd's latest feat was the only man to have seen both Poles.

The second expedition to reach the South Pole was that led by the Englishman Capt. Robert F. Scott, who reached his goal on Jan. 18, 1912 but lost his life in attempting to return to civilization.

Commander Byrd's flight to the South Pole clinches the efforts of the most prestigious expedition ever undertaken. The expedition, consisting of 65 men, each a specialist in his line, 100 trained expedition dogs, four airplanes and two years supply of food got underway in October, 1928.

Yacht On Scientific Expedition Is Total Loss After Blast

WASHINGTON, Nov. 30.—(INS)—The non-navigable yacht Carnegie of the Carnegie Institution of Washington, which was a total loss as the result of a gasoline explosion in Apia Harbor, Samoa, yesterday at 1:40 P. M., which ruptured the death of Capt. J. P. Ault, and the injury to four members of the crew, according to a message received by the Institute today. A cabin boy is missing.

The message, which came from W. C. Parkinson, senior scientific officer, said that two of the injured were the mechanic and the engineer, the latter's hands were said at the Institute to be slightly injured.

Parkinson's message said: "I deeply regret to report destruction of vessel due to gasoline explosion. Four of the crew in hospital, cabin boy missing. All others safe."

A second dispatch amplified the first and said the explosion occurred at 1:40 P. M. yesterday, the fire spreading so rapidly that there was no possible chance of salvaging any of the equipment. The yacht of Apia was expected to arrive this morning to give whatever aid possible.

Tulane Wins Dixie Gridiron Title As Tennessee Is Tied; Pittsburgh Leads In East

By David J. Walsh
International News Service
Sports Editor

NEW YORK, Nov. 29—Its race all but run, football was getting the winning numbers today in five of the seven major sections of the land, the slate calling for a pay-off on Pittsburg in the East; Tulane in the South; Utah in the Rocky Mountain district; St. Mary's on the coast; and Nebraska in the Big Six. Champions all, they closed the ledgers on the 1929 season yesterday by winning the play-off games that meant the difference between everything and nothing.

In brief, the holiday results of yesterday "talked from the book" except in the case of Tennessee, which played a 0 to 0 tie with Kentucky and thus blew its chance at the southern conference title on the final day of the season. Meanwhile, Tulane just breezed with Louisiana State, 20 to 0, and thereupon came on with the championship. Neither beaten nor tied, Tulane thus joins Pitt, Notre Dame, Purdue, the Big Ten winners, Utah and Texas Christian at the head of the national parade. St. Mary's isn't even so much as a step behind anybody, either, in spite of its careless tie with California early in the campaign.

I say this advisedly after noting what the Gaels did to Oregon, joint-leader in the coast conference, yesterday. St. Mary's won in a common letter, 31 to 0, from a team that had outpointed all comers on the coast, except Stanford. That's reasonably impressive football, I'd say, particularly in view of the fact that Oregon's touchdown in the final period was the first score against the Gaels all season. Pitt was equally convincing with its 20 to 7 defeat of Penn. State. So was Utah in scoring over Utah Aggies by 26 to 7. Nebraska took the Big Six prize with its 31 to 12 decision over Iowa State, scoring twice in the final period after State had made a play for a tie or better in the third period.

The honors that are Pitt's, Tulane's, Purdue's, St. Mary's and Utah's today are theirs, to have and to hold—by a margin amounting up like a pool of rain, as far as the 1929 season is concerned, whereas Notre Dame still faces its final thing with Army (tomorrow) and Texas Christian must survive its meeting with Southern Methodist, another unbroken outfit. The Southwest conference title goes with Arizona.

Therefore, great as their record has been, neither Notre Dame nor the Christians can call their seasons a success until tonight tomorrow and maybe not then.

But the race closed yesterday by Pitt, Utah, Tulane and St. Mary's and ended gloriously. They say it takes a stake winner to come from behind and Pitt did that yesterday with Penn. State. The Panthers could fight with a passing attack but St. Mary's again and scored, to take a 7 to 6 lead at the half. Whereupon, Pitt marched 94 yards to its second touchdown and 75 yards to its third. That's football what is football, so to speak.

Tulane, St. Mary's and Utah went out and got theirs early and then played safe the rest of the way. Unfortunately, Tennessee wasn't in a position to play safe yesterday. It didn't get a first down until after Kentucky had earned its touchdown in the final period and only a "desperately" pass of 35 yards to McKiver got the Vols their tie. The championship hung on Hendrix's try for goal and that's where it finished—hung.

The Volunteer's tie drops them down with Fordham, Southern Methodist and a few others who, in the national ranking, are near the top but not at it. The result of this affair was one of the few upsets of the day, another being Georgia's 12 to 0 defeat of Alabama.

The rest of the returns more or less conformed with the expected. Georgia Tech won readily from Auburn, 19 to 6. Pennsylvania came from behind to beat Cornell, 17 to 7, as many expected it to do. Syracuse out-stepped Columbia, 6 to 0, as everybody expected. Colgate gave another impressive show in beating Brown, 32 to 0, while Bucknell returned to its smashing game with a 7 to 0 romp with Dickinson. New York University wasn't expected to lose to Carnegie Tech by 20 points but then, New York University wasn't expected to commit a total of 11 fumbles.

Gridiron turf in Miami declared to be excellent. Preparations are being made for game with Oregon, Dec. 7.

GAINESVILLE, Nov. 29—The best football field I have ever seen is a turf comparable to many golf course greens," as declared James R. Boyd, assistant athletic director of the University of Florida today following a visit to the new Miami Madison Square Garden stadium where the "Fighting Gators" of the University of Florida meet the University of Oregon Dec. 7 in the South's greatest inter-sectional gridiron classic.

Preparations are going forward in Gainesville looking toward the Miami game, the first major football game of the season scheduled to be played in the Magic City, Florida with its view over Washington square in Jacksonville. Thanksgiving hopes to finish with a win over Oregon, which would give the cohorts of Charlie Bachman a highly successful season with eight wins against but two defeats. Florida won seven out of ten games in 1927 and eight out of nine last year.

The clash with the Webfoots, in the opinion of well informed football folks will be the most severe test of the year for the "Fighting Gators." While many are inclined to believe that the warm weather in Miami in December will affect the visitors, from the northwest, the President Hall of Oregon recent valedictorian Tiger of Florida said that the Webfoots had played one game this season with the temperature 110 degrees.

Florida's football team has never appeared in Miami, and it is believed that the Dec. 7 game, if a success, and that seems assured at this early date, will bring about the establishment of a great football classic in the Playground City of America every December.

University of Florida athletes, while recognizing that next year's football team will unlikely measure up to the 1929 squad, are not backward in tracing another difficult schedule.

That's why on the 1930 team, Florida has definitely booked the Universities of Alabama, Georgia and Tennessee, and Georgia Tech, among the South's very strongest.

won $219,000 in paper from Rothstein, he was asked if he tried to collect. He said he "saw" Rothstein several times thereafter but did not collect.

"I never got a quarter," Raymond said, sadly.

The reason he trusted Rothstein was he "understood" Rothstein was "good for the money."

"I was a stranger in the game," the witness said. "I took it for granted he would pay the next day."

"Did you ever discuss the honesty of the game with McManus later?" Pecora asked. "No, I did not."

Raymond could not recall having told Pecora the dealer in the game (one unidentified "Red") was the same man he had previously seen in a gambling establishment in Saratoga. On the famous $40,000 one-card bet, Raymond let Rothstein cut the cards, he testified.

Raymond admitted he was stopping at the Park Central Hotel the night Rothstein was shot—allegedly in McManus' room, number 419. But Raymond said his room number was 763, on the seventh floor, where he was stopping with his wife. He emphatically declared he never saw McManus in the Park Central. He was shown a sheet of papers, but was unable to identify them as Rothstein's record of his "I. O. U."

Raymond was excused and Benjamin Hickey, civil engineer, was called. He identified diagrams he had made of the alleged scene of the murder in the hotel.

COACH'S BAD LEG HAS BEEN ASSET TO IRISH OUTFIT

Rockne Has Made Use Of His Disability To Play Upon Emotions

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Nov. 29—(INS)—How a coach's crippled leg resting in a wheel chair a thousand miles or so from the scene of battle can be an asset to his charges may be a mystery to some, but to others it is an accepted and logical situation today.

They will tell you that Knute Rockne's crippled leg is not as much of a liability to Notre Dame's gridiron hopes this year as it is an asset, and this despite the fact that the famous mentor has been away from the practice field for weeks.

Rockne's coaching record demonstrates that his work has not been confined entirely to teaching the fine points of thumping opponents out of the way or to the approved styles of tackling.

When other things are going haywire this year, the details of his team's fight with the Army over the radio has invariably been able to use an emotional appeal to bring the desired results.

The death of George Gipp, for instance, who contracted pneumonia and died because he went on the field against the Army when he should have been in bed. This epic of football history has inspired more than one Irish team to rise and take the day when it looked as though the walls were crumbling around them.

After the first half in the game against Southern California two weeks ago Rockne realized that something besides football was needed to upset the warriors from the West Coast. He was trundled into the dressing room in his wheel chair.

A pitiful sight this. Several of his first string men swallowed hard. Assistant Coach Tom Leah told them that their beloved "Rock" had risked his life to see them win that game at Chicago. And were they going back on

KENTUCKY ROBS VOLS OF GRIDIRON TITLE OF SOUTH

Tulane Leads Pack As It Disposes Of L.S.U. With Easy Victory

By Frank Durant
International News Service

ATLANTA, Nov. 29—Snarling over the snow-tucked lines grass of Old Kentucky in a chemical repetition of performance, the Kentucky Wildcats sidwiped Tennessee's grasp for the southern conference title for the second successive time yesterday, a 4 to 0 left Tulane, with a less creditable schedule, riding atop the percentage column with six wins, no losses and no ties.

This time history repeated itself in two straight years. Last year the Volunteers had the crown almost cinched when along came the Wildcats with traditional ferocity and won the laurels for the then worthy Yellow Jackets of Georgia Tech. This year it was the same accomplishment. Tulane won yesterday 21 to 0.

Tulane, which eased over a nice victory against an ancient state rival, L. S. U., owes its throne today to none other than the Felines, for should Tennessee have emerged with a spot as record also, it would have held the title by virtue of its past performance, even though the team technically were on a level of accomplishment. Tulane won yesterday 21 to 0.

While all this was going on, the University of Chattanooga, Meigs' put up a powerful effort to stem the invasion of the Orange thorpe Petrels, and clinched the S. L. A. title for the second successive year. The score was 16 to 6, although several times the Chattanoogaans saw their hope of conference laurels tottering.

Thanksgiving just about ran down the curtain on southern football, as a quarter million fans turned out to see the grand finale. There are a few scattered games to be played Saturday, but they will have no bearing on the championship. The choice Saturday moral is the South Carolina-North Carolina State battle at Raleigh.

With the exception of the championship tilt at Lexington, Georgia's upset of Alabama's Crimson Tide, in a game of 12 to 0, was the outstanding conference battle of the day. Florida which boasts a record of six victories and one defeat—that to Georgia Tech—had an easy time in displacing of Washington and Lee 25 to 7.

Georgia Tech got back into its old swing and romped over the newly Palisades of Auburn 19 to 6. It was a battle between two great teams that had seen far greater days. Vanderbilt had an easy assignment in its collision with the University of the South and won, 26 to 6. Mississippi A & M, and the University of Mississippi fought to a 7-7 tie.

Here's how the teams stack up today, so far as wins and losses and percentages go.

They raced out for the second half; it is a matter of record now how Joe Savoldi rammed across the touchdown and extra point that meant victory, just six minutes after the half began.

Throughout the season the Irish battle cry has been "it's for McManus leg." Savoldi muttered it when he ground through the Trojan wall. The Cadets will probably hear it muttered between clenched teeth tomorrow.

FOLLERIN' THE BAND

WHO hasn't "follered" the band up Main street, or up Broadway or Michigan boulevard? Heart pumping joyfully, feet beating the ground in time! Greatly intoxicating moment of childhood!

And later in life—who hasn't felt a thrill as the conductor lifted his baton for the overture to begin! A moment pregnant with the glamour of the theatre! Music casts its spell throughout all the Ages of Man.

Is it wise then, in this enlightened and prosperous day to countenance substitution of a shadow of music for the real thing in the theatre?

Imagine the Irish following a Music Box on St. Patrick's Day! Or figs and drum music by a Machine on Memorial Day! Incongruous? Of course, but not congruous!

Greatly intoxicating moment of childhood!

Talking pictures—a new dramatic form—the radio—both DOES reflect the artist's mood of the moment! The photograph in the home—where living music usually is not available—are not less here. We are discussing only the SUBSTITUTION OF MECHANICAL MUSIC FOR REAL MUSIC IN THE THEATRE. In consequence of which Real Music is being eliminated in theatres.

OVIEDO

By Mrs. S. R. Wainright

Mrs. C. T. Niblack who has been confined to the Fernald-Laughton Hospital following her recent operation has returned to her home and is reported as doing nicely.

Prof. and Mrs. Gifford of the North have returned to their winter home. Many of the friends of the visitors have expressed their delight on the return of two Oviedo's winter residents. Prof. Gifford is a talented violinist. Last year he played at the Methodist church, the school, and other places.

The lower grades of the Oviedo school gave the following program Tuesday evening in the school auditorium:

1. Selection—Orchestra.
2. Thanksgiving Song—grades 1 & 2.
3. "When Betty saw the Pilgrims"—5 & 6. (cast of characters.) Mother, Dorothy Lee, Father, Roy Clout, Robert, their son, William Henry Martin, Betty their daughter, Elizabeth Gore.
4. Selection—Orchestra.
5. Song—Grades 1 & 2.
6. Selection—Orchestra.

Thanksgiving day was observed with a sunrise prayer service at the Methodist church.

Paul W. Ellis will preach at the Methodist church at Oviedo at the 11 o'clock worship hour Sunday. It was also announced that the quarterly conference will be held at the church.

Last Sunday morning a special Thanksgiving program was carried out at the M. E. Sunday School. The leader in charge was Mrs. D. G. McNeill. There were communion and special Thanksgiving Sermons Sunday evening at both League and church services. Mrs. West delighted the audience with her beautiful solo.

The junior and senior high schools will put on their first entertainment of the year on the evening of Dec. 6, it being the night set aside for their annual "Stunt Night."

Mrs. J. C. Wainright of Sanford who spent the summer in Washington, D. C. and North Carolina and while on a visit with friends in Atlanta, Ga., was laid up in a auto, is well again and returned to her home in Sanford recently. She is again ministering among the faculty of the Sanford Junior High School. Mrs. Wainright was a guest of relatives in Oviedo Tuesday evening.

Mrs. Augusta D. Covington is left last week to be the guest of her brother-in-law in Bainbridge.

Mrs. Jones, nee Miss Maddeline Jackson is the guest of her aunt, Mrs. C. E. West for a few days before sailing for her home at Rio De Janeiro, S. A., where she will again join Mr. Jones.

Rev. C. J. Johnson and family of the Baptist Church were pleasantly surprised Wednesday evening after prayer meeting when members of the church showered them with many useful gifts as a thank offering. Among the gifts were a set of dishes and a turkey, men and etc. A most enjoyable time was had by all.

The little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. V. H. Sley is suffering from illness this week.

WATSON RETURNS TO CAPITAL, IS READY FOR WORK

Senator Will Supervise Work Of Picking Big Committees

WASHINGTON, Nov. 30.—(AP) Senator James E. Watson (R-I) of Indiana, publican leader in the Senate, returned to Capital Hill Friday after a vacation in Florida, to iron out differences in the ranks of his senatorial party.

Watson will supervise a pending revision of the Republican committee on committees, which in turn will fill a number of important vacancies in chairmanships and committee assignments. The most important thing will be the naming of Senator Jones, of Washington, as chairman of the Senate appropriations committee to succeed the late Senator Warburg of Wyoming. This promotion of Jones will result in his being named as assistant floor leader, and the selection of another senator as aide to Watson.

The promotion of Jones will bring changes in the chairmanships of a number of other committees. This list will be reported by the promotion of Senator Johnson (R-I) of California, to the chairmanship of the Senate committee on education, with its control over certain shipping, food control and commercial aviation legislation.

Vacancies on the foreign relations, finance and appropriations committees also must be filled, along with less important positions. At present, the three Republican assignments appeared likely to go to Senators Robinson of Indiana, Senator LaFollette of Wisconsin, and Senator Johnson.

Watson meanwhile announced he would confer with leaders in the next few days to arrange early action on the President's proposal for an immediate coalition in case. Although the measure will start in the House, Watson said he expected to construct before Christmas.

Radio's Richest Voice Is Boast Of Sparton

Only actual listeners can know the marvel of "Radio's Richest Voice," according to manufacturers of the Sparton Radio, who believe that their make of radio enables the listener to almost see the thrill of their personality.

The makers of the particular brand of radio further point out that a "face-to-face realism" is found in all their models.

The Sanford Machine Company on West Second Street is local dealers of the Sparton Radio.

Crosley Radio Shows Great-Tone Quality

"Everything you could want in a radio" is the slogan of the Crosley Radio today, as a statement of the new line of radios, the Crosley Radio, is being distributed.

The San Juan Machine Company on West First Street, local dealers for this brand of radio, invite the public to its place of business for a demonstration of the new features of the Crosley Radio. The manager says that "the volume and tone quality of the radio is unique."

Victor Radio Dealer Stresses Tone Phase

Victor manufacturers suggest that the buyer of a radio should take note of the excellence of tone rather than the beauty of the cabinet.

The Randall Electric Company, at 112 Magnolia Avenue, announces that it will join with the Victor dealers throughout the country in celebration of Victor Radio Tone Week. The firm further suggests that the buyer should be kept in mind of the following questions before purchasing any make of radio: "Has the maker any sound table experience in construction of the kind of sound reproduction? Is the name of the manufacturer well known and established?"

NOAH'S ARK

NOAH'S ARK, starring Dolores Costello and featuring George O'Brien, is a Warner Bros. production of this novel. It is based upon the scenario by Darryl Francis Zanuck.

SYNOPSIS
 Three friends, a French girl, Marie, an American, Travis, and Al, and a priest, meet on a Continental train. The three friends quarrel over the girl, but Travis and Al resolve to sail across to Paris. Marie is declared, Marie follows Travis to Paris, but he and Al return to America. Three weeks later Marie, heartbroken, finds the priest and the three friends at a dinner party. In her despair, Marie confesses, in the days of Noah, she had become a prostitute. She is forgiven and she and the priest sail for Paris. The prophet Noah is seen in a vision, and the ark is built. Noah's ark is seen in a vision, and the ark is built. Noah's ark is seen in a vision, and the ark is built.

 Just at evening the bird thrashed back, weary, but in its mouth it bore an olive branch. Then Noah knew that the waters would be drying, and that soon there would be more and more greenery appearing, and the waters would fall to their beds. At last one day there was a rinding, scurrying noise, and the ark rolled precariously over the ark and then righted itself. Noah looked out of the window, and in the shallow depths of the water he could see land below. And as he brought forth another lamb, and he performed the necessary ceremonies, and he laid it on the altar, where it was swallowed up in the flames. And as he did this and so on was prescribed, a strange light shined through the windows. And then, in the sky, a rainbow appeared, colored like that which had been seen at the end of the days of Noah. The ark rolled upon its side, and it reached up high into the sky. And as the ark rolled, the world in Noah's mind was as if it were a vast plain, and he saw the ark in the distance. And as he saw the ark in the distance, he saw the ark in the distance. And as he saw the ark in the distance, he saw the ark in the distance.

And as he saw the ark in the distance, he saw the ark in the distance. And as he saw the ark in the distance, he saw the ark in the distance. And as he saw the ark in the distance, he saw the ark in the distance. And as he saw the ark in the distance, he saw the ark in the distance. And as he saw the ark in the distance, he saw the ark in the distance. And as he saw the ark in the distance, he saw the ark in the distance. And as he saw the ark in the distance, he saw the ark in the distance. And as he saw the ark in the distance, he saw the ark in the distance.

And as he saw the ark in the distance, he saw the ark in the distance. And as he saw the ark in the distance, he saw the ark in the distance. And as he saw the ark in the distance, he saw the ark in the distance. And as he saw the ark in the distance, he saw the ark in the distance. And as he saw the ark in the distance, he saw the ark in the distance. And as he saw the ark in the distance, he saw the ark in the distance. And as he saw the ark in the distance, he saw the ark in the distance. And as he saw the ark in the distance, he saw the ark in the distance.
