That ACL-Pipeline hassle will come to an abrupt end Monday night when the Navy s-p-e-l-l-s out what the story could be for Sanford... Anything more to be said.

How about some more litter baskets along First Street? Those planters are being used a little too much for butts and assorted garbage.

The salary for a county commissioner is now $2,400 and $100 per month car allowance. That makes his salary $3,600 annually. Not bad when you consider who spends $100 per month on their car.

Don't be surprised if officials don't ask for a pay hike from the legislative delegation starting in 1965.

And don't be further surprised if one commissioner doesn't ask the delegation to abolish the fee system and let the commission rule what each officer makes.

I don't envy Mack Cleveland Jr. that day.

Plans on that DeBary Nursing Home should be completed next week.

Oh, that corner of Park and Commercial is gonna look so pretty. Why doesn't Mr. Woodruff notice it and what could be done at Park and Firal.

If Seminole's public school teachers have to take a teacher's exam to measure their competency, then why not School Board members?

NOBODY ASKED ME, but why should those responsible for the Sarepta dance promotion change the date from February to April 20? This is just a week before the Semi-Centennial celebration on April 27 brings in a leading "name" dance band for their big wing-ding at the Mayfair Inn... It will be tough competition for anyone hoping to raise money... Maybe the February date should be rescheduled for Sarepta affair... That is, whoever is sponsoring it wants to make money.

Speaking of the Seminole County Semi-Centennial, the committee promises a FULL day starting at 9 a.m. and headlining the world-famous Blue Angels and the Shooting Stars, the Navy precision flying team and their buddies in the free fall parachuting group... Big eats for very little money, baseball, beauty contest, fireworks, exhibits, open house at NAS... Get set for a thriller on April 27... It also will feature a spectacular square dance exhibition by teams from southeastern states that show on Friday night and the show-stopping big dance Saturday night at the plush Mayfair Inn... Whoooo-eeeee!

The Chase and Co.-Chung King scholarship grantees are fulfilling the expectations of the sponsors, according to Sonny Powell, committee chairman.

Debra Horner, Seminole High School, and Thomas Forese, Lyman High School graduate, have both been commended by the University of Florida dean for the high caliber of their work, Powell said, and added that the Seminole County students' grades are at "about the 3.75 level of the perfect 4.0." Both Forese and Miss Horner are carrying "heavy" schedules and are justifying the confidence of the committee that selected them from a score of worthy candidates for the scholarship, according to the chairman.

Julian Whigham will be the next postmaster for Sanford. He is presently working for an insurance company and he was No. 1 on the eligible list.

How Do You Like Your Reading?

Want to know the names of some books which, apparently, are "interesting" reading? Ask any high school student.

A group of books popular with local students has created a storm among parents at Edgerton, Wis., according to a UPI report today. But a check this morning reveals the books haven't even created a ripple of complaint here.

Some 450 angry parents converged on the Edgerton School Board Tuesday night demanding the banishment of such "filthy" books as "The Ugly American" and "1984."

The board supported the continued use of the books, with such remarks as "we are no longer living in the age of Longfellow" and "we can't keep a fence around our children."

A Catholic priest disagreed, saying: "Parents have the right to put a fence around their children." And he objected on moral grounds to "The Catcher in the Rye," "1984" and "Brave New World."

A physician whose wife is a school board member told the board: "Young men have enough ideas of their own without getting more."

Classed by the parents as "filthy" and "vulgar" were these books: "The Catcher in the Rye," by J. D. Salinger; "Brave New World," by Aldous Huxley; "1984," by George Orwell; "Of Mice and Men," by John Steinbeck; "Crime and Punishment," by Fyodor Dostoevsky, and "The Ugly American," by William Lederer and Eugene Burdick.

All these books are on the shelves of the Sanford Public Library, according to Mrs. Sara King, head librarian. Most calls for their reading are from high school students, she added.

Queried whether any complaints had been received by her for having these books available, Mrs. King replied: "No, not really. The father of a high school senior did complain last year at City Hall. But, so far as I know, there have been no other complaints."

A. J. Bracken, Seminole High School principal, said three of the books—"1984," "Crime and Punishment" and "The Ugly American"—are included among the school library's 5,000 books available to the students. The three books in question, he stated, are included in Wilson's Standard Catalogue for High School Libraries.

He added none of the books are "required" reading for the students "and besides they have enough 'required' reading to do to keep up in their studies." He said books listed in the Wilson catalogue are considered educational reading for the student's personal choice.

(Ed's note: We wonder how all these angered Edgerton parents and the priest learned these books are "filthy" and "vulgar." Surely not by hearsay. Hmmm? And an aside to Mrs. King: Prepare for an avalanche of requests. It always happens when a book is labeled as "unfit.")

'Savage' Red Guerrillas Nabbed In Viet Nam

SAIGON, Viet Nam (UPI)—Authorities today announced the capture of 42 Communist guerrillas who slaughtered helpless Vietnamese trainees at a camp run by the U. S. Army.

Informed sources said the Viet Cong guerrillas were part of a 40-man force which murdered 40 anti-Communist trainees and wounded 25 others with machine guns, grenades and clubs in a planned raid Jan. 3. Two Americans were wounded in the nearly five hours of fighting. One of the Vietnamese victims was beaten to death with spiked clubs. Another was tied to a tree and shot.

The sources said the Viet Cong suffered 50 dead and an unknown number of wounded in a hastily-organized counter-attack.

The raid took place before dawn at a U. S. special forces camp near Plei Mrong village on the Cambodian border, about 25 miles north of Saig-

Casselberry Agrees To Consider 'Quickie' Water Rate Boost

Tests Ban Talks Move In 'Secrecy'

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The United States, Britain and Russia went into the second day of nuclear test ban talks here today with their discussions shrouded in secrecy.

Representatives of the three nuclear powers met at the State Department for nearly four hours Tuesday and announced they had agreed on two things: —To meet again at 3 p. m. today.

—Not to discuss the meetings publicly.

The talks follow an exchange of letters between Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev and President Kennedy in which Khrushchev somewhat eased his position on a test ban. For the first time since 1961 Khrushchev accepted in principle on-the-spot inspection of Soviet territory to check against violations.

The Soviet premier agreed to two or three trips a year to Russia by international inspection teams, and also to permit foreign personnel to station up to three unmanned monitoring devices on Russian soil. U. S. officials considered neither the number of trips nor the number of unmanned devices enough, but hoped this could be negotiable.

U. S. disarmament chief William C. Foster declined to comment on whether Tuesday's meeting made progress, or whether cautious U. S. hopes raised by Khrushchev's letters still stood.

One by one, the negotiators of the three countries filed out of the State Department building shortly after dark with the same story for newsmen.

United Nations Nikolai T. Fofarenko said, "Tomorrow at 3 p. m. He quiet and patient."

British Ambassador Sir David Ormsby Gore said, "It has been agreed to make no statement on the meetings."

Foster told newsmen the pact of silence would stand "until broken," unless there was an agreement to change it.

Violence Threatens Desegregation Woes

By United Press International The Southland's desegregation problems heightened Tuesday with a shooting in North Carolina, a fight in Arkansas, jeers and taunts in Mississippi and defiant words in the South Carolina Legislature.

A Negro who said he feared for his life as a result of the shooting incident at Yanceyville, N. C., surrendered to highway patrolmen Tuesday night.

Jasper Brown, father of four children enrolled Tuesday in formerly all-white schools, allegedly shot at a group of white men, wounding two of them. Authorities declined to give details of the shooting.

A warrant was issued prior to Brown's surrendering which charged him with assault with a deadly weapon with intent to kill. The brother of the president of the Arkansas chapter of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP) fought with a white youth outside a recently integrated high school at Pine Bluff, Ark., Tuesday. The man, William Howard, was placed in protective custody by police.

The fight began after rocks were thrown at a station wagon used by Howard to transport two Negro pupils to the school. The white youth, Johnny Irvin, 18, was hospitalized with a knife wound after the fight.

At Oxford, Miss., Negro student James H. Meredith left the University of Mississippi campus after concluding his first — and perhaps final — semester at the racially troubled school.

Students jeered the 29-year-old Air Force veteran and a caravan of 30 cars followed him out of town. There was speculation that Meredith, who was reported having scholastic difficulties, may not return to the university next semester.

Meredith drove to Memphis after finishing his first semester, which started with rioting which killed two persons and injured scores of others.

Negro Harvey Gantt cleared the last legal hurdle in his bid to enter Clemson College when a federal judge in Spartanburg, S. C., issued an injunction prohibiting interference with his admission to the all-white school.

Casselberry MYF Has Banquet

By Jane Casselberry Weaver Hall of the Casselberry Community Methodist Church was the setting for a Japanese Banquet held Sunday evening by the Senior and Intermediate MYF departments of the church.

The room was gaily decorated with Japanese lanterns, fans, parasols and paintings and each table was centered with a beautiful Japanese style floral arrangement. Several tables of information on Japan, as well as curios and photographs, were on display.

Members of the Senior MYF who served the food were attired in Japanese costumes as were many of those attending the event. The young people and their guests sat upon cushions on the floor and banquet tables were lowered by folding the legs and using concrete blocks as supports.

The food, which was eaten with chopsticks, included bite size pieces of fried chicken, chicken soup, rice, soy sauce, seaweed, pickled beets and fortune cookies.

The MYF hopes to contribute towards missionary work in Japan by sponsoring a radio evangelism broadcast.

Nuclear Power Efforts Slowed

LONDON (UPI) — Red China's progress toward becoming a nuclear power has been considerably slowed down by the withdrawal of all Soviet help, authoritative sources said today.

Until the ideological conflict developed between the two giants of communism, Russia was aiding Communist China in nuclear research for peaceful — if not military — purposes.

Now, even this small assistance has stopped.

All Soviet-supplied nuclear reactors have remained, however, and it is largely, if not exclusively with their help, that Red China apparently has been producing sufficient uranium to date to work up some nuclear device nearing the experimental stage.

But authoritative sources here agree with U. S. experts that it will be some time yet before Red China has an "operational" nuclear bomb, and many more years before she can muster the vehicles to deliver the deterrent.

Longshoremen Expected To OK President's Pact

United Press International Longshoremen were expected to ratify presidential panel-mediated settlement terms today ending a $700 million, 31-day Atlantic and Gulf Coast dock strike.

The end of the long dispute would provide a big break in the worst stage of labor unrest across the land in many months. Millions of persons have been affected, and more than 110,000 workers have been killed.

Diamonds Are A Girl's Best

Mrs. Gladys Hannaford, education consultant for the American Diamond Syndicate dashed the eyes of members of the Gamma Lambda Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi, Monday, when she displayed an exhibit of diamonds, on which she lectured.

Real diamonds, paste replicas of famous diamonds and rough uncut stones were all part of the collection with which Mrs. Hannaford conducted her talk on facts about diamonds, when the group met at the Florida State Bank Lounge.

Just back from a tour of the diamond mines of Africa, Mrs. Hannaford told the sorority members that more than 90 percent of the world's diamonds come from African mines, and described mining methods used to search out the rich treasures.

Mrs. Hannaford also spoke on fashions in diamonds, uses of diamonds in industry and how to care for them.

She noted that of all the diamonds mined, only 20 percent will be used as jewelry to beautify the women of the world with the other 80 percent used for industrial purposes.

The cutting of diamonds is an exact and precise business, Mrs. Hannaford pointed out, and noted that although the best diamond cutting centers are in the United States, American diamond cutters study abroad for six years.

"A diamond cutter must do his job perfectly the first time," she said. "He gets no second chance."

John Kader, local jeweler who made Mrs. Hannaford's visit to the sorority possible, introduced her as "one who probably knows more about diamonds than anyone else in this country."

Mrs. Hannaford travels all over the world, lecturing on diamonds, displaying them and carrying on the job of public education.

Move On To Construct Grid Stadium

Boosters To Hear Pitch At Meet

The Executive Committee of the Seminole High School Booster Club will have ready for presentation Jan. 31 to the general membership, the results of their recent study on the building of a sports stadium at the high school, President D. H. MacGillis said today.

Winter Sports Banquet Set By Boosters

Seminole High School football players, basketball players and cheerleaders of both the varsity and junior varsity teams will be guests of honor at a Winter Sports Banquet being given for them by the Boosters Club, Jan. 31 in the high school cafeteria at 6:30 p. m.

"No awards will be given at this dinner," said D. H. MacGillis, Booster Club president. "We just want to do something for the players in appreciation of their successful efforts this season. We plan to have another banquet for Spring Sports in April which will take in Track, Baseball, Swimming and Golf."

The club plans to furnish the "meat and potatoes" with members of the Booster Club bringing covered dishes of vegetables, salads and desserts. All the athletes and cheerleaders will be allowed to bring their dates, and persons who are not members of the Booster Club may attend by signing up for membership at the door.

The dinner will be followed by a meeting of the general membership of the Booster Club in the school auditorium, to discuss the proposal for building a sports stadium at Seminole High School.

Cudas Nip Lyman, 49-45

With the lead changing hands over 10 times, New Smyrna squeaked past Lyman 49-45 in an overtime victory Tuesday night.

A field goal by Steve Dennis and two free throws by Ray Pettit for the Cudas proved to be the margin of victory.

The Cudas took an early 9-4 lead, maintained it at the half to 18-17, and, at the start of the final period, 29-28.

A field goal by Lyman's Donnie Smith with two seconds left in regulation time enabled the Greyhounds to tie it at 45-45 and forced the tilt into overtime.

Smith and Gene Griffin led Lyman scorers with Smith dumping in 13 points and Griffin, 10.

It was the ninth loss of the season for the Greyhounds.

New Coach

LOGAN, Utah (UPI) — It took Utah State University only four days to fill its vacant head football coaching position and new coach Tony Knap hopes to use similar speed in producing a winner.

NEW YORK (UPI) — Quarterback Y. A. Tittle of the New York Giants named his sons Pat and Mike. "It's better than Yelberton Abraham," he says.

The study has been underway for several months, according to MacGillis, and they are now ready to present financial figures and sketches of the proposed stadium.

"We are not going to urge this on the membership," MacGillis said. "We will present the facts and discuss the feasibility of building our own stadium, if the present stadium at the ball park is used by a baseball farm training team."

The idea of building a stadium at the high school became a serious proposition after it was rumored that a baseball farm team would take over the Giants dormitory and the adjacent baseball stadium.

The cost of re-converting the field from baseball to football each year was more than the Booster Club and Athletic Assn. felt that they could afford to pay.

It was suggested that for the cost of conversion for several years, the school could build their own stadium, and be able to hold all sports activities on the school grounds. The Booster Club went to work to make a study of the feasibility of such a proposition, MacGillis explained, and now feels that they are ready to present realistic facts and figures.

The general assembly will be held following the Winter Sports Banquet scheduled for 6:30 p. m. in the school cafeteria. After the dinner, the membership will adjourn to the school auditorium where the general meeting will be held, at approximately 8 p. m.

Top SOKC Speedsters To Compete Tonight

It's a crowd-pleasing program at the Sanford-Orlando Kennel Club tonight with 24 of the track's fastest speedsters going to the post in three Grade A events.

Fred Whitehead's veteran trophy collector, Mac Tray, Derby and Inaugural winner, has gone to the post the favorite in his five Grade A starts this season and has come up with two first, one second and two thirds.

In tonight's big midweek feature, the ninth event, fans may shift their attention to Harold Robertson's Pretty's Heat, a sensational pup who will not be two years old until May. In Saturday night's main event this 87-pound bundle of speed outran Mac Tray to become the first greyhound to register three wins this season. And at the same time she turned in the season's fastest clocking, a sizzling 81.08 for the 5/16-mile distance.

Pay Hike For Mantle?

Yankee general manager Roy Hamey said today he will talk to Mickey Mantle this weekend and it probably will turn out to be a $90,000 conversation.

"I don't anticipate any trouble at all with Mantle," said Hamey.

"We're reasonable and I've always found him to be the same way, too." That sounds like the 31-year-old Mantle will be offered a $10,000 raise when he and Hamey get together at the New York Baseball Writers Dinner Sunday.

None of the other Yankee players will do as well financially as Mantle, of course, although few, if any, will be asked to take a cut. "We won," Hamey said "and will pay accordingly."

"Besides," he went on, "it has never been the Yankee policy to cut salaries. Oh, there may be one or two small cuts but nothing major. We're not expecting any trouble at all."

Nor did the Detroit Tigers have any trouble signing southpaw Hank Aguirre on Tuesday.

The lanky, 30-year-old reliever-turned-starter signed the best contract of his career, calling for $25,000, and he earned every penny of it by compiling the league's top earned run average, 2.21, while winning 16 games and losing eight. Aguirre, who received $13,000 last season, was the 20th Tiger player to sign.

Ex-Pittsburgh shortstop Dick Groat signed his first contract with the St. Louis Cardinals and said he hoped to play 162 games this year just as he did last.

Groat's old club, the Pirates, satisfied four different players by signing him to a $22,000 contract.

Outfielder — first baseman Willie Stargell, infielder Julio Gotay, catcher Ron Brand and righthanded pitcher Pat Donnelly were the Pittsburgh signees.

Two hopefuls, pitcher Bob Turley and outfielder Ken Hunt, agreed to terms with the Los Angeles Angels.

The Chicago Cubs stayed ahead of all the other major league clubs by signing their 29th and 30th players in pitchers Jim Brewer and Barney Schultz.

'Red Hot' Oviedo Dumps FMS, 75-61

The Red Hot Oviedo Cagers, sparked by the accurate shooting of Mickey Tesinsky and Jimmy Courier rolled over Florida Military, 75-61 in cage action Tuesday night.

It was the third win in a row for the locals as Courier dunked in 22 points and Tesinsky, 19.

Oviedo opened up a 15-8 first period lead and kept ahead through the half, 32-24.

The Lions pulled way ahead in the final period with amazing accuracy dumping in more than 50 percent of their shots from the floor.

Pradera Wins Benefit Match

Arratibel and Iriarte had it pretty much their own way in the featured All Star Doubles Tuesday night at the Orlando-Seminole Fronton when they vanquished the opposition who trailed by four points.

Arreola and Echanis managed to score three points before Badiola and Lorenzo picked up their three and the final score was Arratibel and Iriarte, who played out of the sixth post position, with seven points, Arreola and Echanis with three and show money went to Badiola and Lorenzo who also picked up three points in a playoff with Uribe and Urizar.

Highlight of the evening was the presentation of the trophy for the eighth game singles match, sponsored jointly by the Lions Clubs of Sanford and Casselberry and the Seminole Hospital Eye Bank Association. The winner of the match was Pradera who displayed considerable prowess in his victory and accepted the prize from Jack Stempier, president of the Sanford Lions Club.

Tonight the Fronton will host a bevy of beautiful girls from Cypress Gardens. The trophy for the featured singles match will be presented by the reigning Tangerine Bowl Queen Sylvia Finer and a court of beautiful aqua-maids.

Stenstrom Holds Lead

Stenstrom Realty held on to its lead in the Hi-Nooners Bowling League when they won three points from M & R Bar.

Shoenaker Construction and Grapeville Nursery split their points 2-2.

CPO Wives won three points from Mayfair Inn although Dot Button (Mayfair) rolled high game 182 and high series 495 this week.

Nationwide Insurance won three points from Mar-Lou Restaurant.

Garage Holds League's Lead

Harold's Garage still holds the lead with 46 wins in the Shooting Stars Women's Bowling League. Jim Spencer's is second with 42 wins and the Gaslighters follow with 40.

Elaine Kostival came through with a high game of 191 for a 311 series, followed by Lorraine Spotts with a high of 170-455 and Betty Allen with a 444 series.

Stelson Plans Special Courses

Stelson University will offer this summer an Advanced Studies Program for ambitious high school juniors and seniors who wish to increase their knowledge and improve their skills in English, mathematics, problems of American civilization and reading.

The eight-week program, beginning on June 18, includes two former University programs—the Early Admission and Advanced Studies Program, for unusually able students; and the College Skills Program, for underachievers who need special work to raise their level of performance prior to senior year in high school or admission to college in the fall.

Both high school and college level courses will be offered in English and mathematics by the Stelson summer program. The most advanced mathematics course will deal with the history and use of digital computers; the University's 1620 IBM computer will be available for use by students in this course.

Two college level courses in problems of American civilization will be offered, the latter emphasizing American national character with emphasis on the impact of depression, prosperity, and current changing international tensions.

All students will participate in a developmental reading laboratory. The more able students may be able to exempt this course if they wish after participating for the first two or three weeks.

Citrus Board OK's $250,000 To World Fair

LAKELAND (UPI)—The Florida Citrus Commission has approved the appropriation of $250,000 to the Florida's World Fair authority for use in preparing the state's exhibit for the New York World's Fair of 1964-65.

The money was allocated Monday as the commission approved a revised budget of $12,892,000 for the year, which began last July 1.

The revised budget was based on the post-freeze crop estimates of the U. S. Department of Agriculture and represented a drop of about $3.5 million from the pre-freeze budget.

Ladies Aid Installs New Officers At Joint Meeting Of Two Circles

A joint meeting of both circles of the Ladies Aid of the Lutheran Church of the Redeemer was held Thursday evening at the church for installation of 1963 officers. Pastor Herbert Goerss conducted the services. Those installed were Mrs. Vernon Feddersen, who is serving her second year as president, Mrs. George Daniels, vice president; Mrs. John Senkarik, secretary, and Mrs. Ed Senkarik, treasurer.

Mrs. Feddersen conducted the business meeting, calling on various chairmen for their committee reports. It was decided to hold a pancake brunch Feb. 17, after Sunday morning services. Reservations should be in by Feb. 13. April 27 was set as the date of the next smorgasbord.

The program, following the business meeting, was conducted by Mrs. R. L. Anderson, who gave a very interesting talk on orchids, displaying several plants and blooms.

Swopes Return From Trip To Miami Beach

By Jane Casselberry
Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Swope of 330 S. Triplet Dr. in Casselberry returned home last Saturday from Miami Beach where they attended the National Automobile Dealer's Association Convention with their two sons and their wives, Mr. and Mrs. Sam G. Swope, of Louisville, Ky., and Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Swope of Elizabethtown, Ky.

The sons are automobile dealers in their home towns and, although he is retired, Mr. Swope still has a financial interest in the business.

Mrs. Swope made the trip at her family's insistence in spite of a broken right arm and found the Miami sunshine to be "just what the doctor ordered."

Dear Abby: By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I believe in being a good neighbor, but I think my husband has been overdoing the good neighbor policy. For the past three years our house has been in a state of being "remodeled." We have holes in the floor, unpaneled walls, untilted floors, doorless and drawerless cupboards. Our driveway needs to be paved and our faucets all leak. Yet my husband finds time to build fences for the neighbors, fix their TV sets, spread concrete and what not. When he isn't volunteering, they are coming over and getting him. I am proud of my husband because he is a handy man to have around, but he's never around.

MR. FIXIT'S WIFE

DEAR WIFE: The only reason a man will knock himself out doing odd jobs for the neighbors when his own fence needs mending is quite simple. He likes the "thanks" they give him.

DEAR ABBY: A friend of mine passed away some time ago. He weighed around 230 pounds and was about six feet, six inches tall. What I would like to know is, how did they get him into a six-foot casket?

CURIOUS

DEAR CURIOUS: There are caskets made to order, so there is no reason to assume that a man six-foot-six was buried in a six-foot casket.

DEAR ABBY: I am 17 and am considered a reliable baby-sitter. The lady next door has a two-year-old child with whom I have sat many times. I was asked to sit with their baby from seven in the morning until after midnight on Saturday because they intended to go out of town. I agreed and got up at 6:30 to take the job. At five to seven she called and said, "We decided not to go, so we won't need you. Ha Ha." I turned down a date to our football game and the big dance afterwards for this job because I needed the money. Other sitters have been cancelled out at the last minute. How would the lady like it if the sitter called five minutes before she was due to show up and said, "I just got a date and can't come. Ha Ha"? What is your advice?

JUST PLAIN ANGRY

DEAR ANGRY: Anyone's plans can change suddenly. However, if signals are switched on you more than once, refuse to sit for the person who stood you up.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "FAMILY SECRETARY": To each his own, but I think students should get their own reference books. If I were to ask all my readers (over 40 years of age) whose mothers went to the library to get reference books for their children, I doubt if I would get a dozen letters.

Jacoby On Bridge By Oswald Jacoby

Since the spade suit outranks all others it would appear that any time you have any excuse to bid spades you should do so. In the early days of contract this principle was followed. Early books on the game recommended that if a player held two biddable four card suits he should open the higher ranking.

It didn't take long to find out that when you held four spades and four clubs of about the same strength a club opening was far more advisable. It didn't take much longer to find out that in many cases a three-card club opening was preferable to a open these four-carders when the suit is very strong and there is no other satisfactory opening bid.

Thus, even for a player who does not open four-card spade suits the South and is a proper third hand spade bid. South plans to pass at his next turn and his partner's jump to three spades does not change his mind.

It is just as well that he passed. There is no play for four spades, but South has no trouble making three. He has an anxious moment when he leads a club to dummy, but West has the ace and dummy's king of clubs is a winner.

Mrs. DeWit Hostess For Garden Therapy Program

A rare opportunity came quite unexpectedly to the Sanford Garden Club recently. It was learned that Mrs. Dugold Black, therapy chairman of the National Council of Garden Clubs would be in this area for only a few days. She was visiting her sister, Mrs. Alton H. Parker, a member of the Palm Circle, of which Mrs. Helen P. DeWit is president.

It seemed imperative that Mrs. Black be asked to meet with the therapy chairmen of the local club, which she graciously consented to do. Mrs. DeWit contacted Mrs. J. L. Andrews, general chairman of the garden therapy committee, and all circle therapy chairmen as well as circle presidents were asked to meet with Mrs. Black.

Plans and procedures for carrying out a successful therapy program as related to gardening were discussed. Mrs. Black reminded her listeners that gardening had its beginning in the Garden of Eden, that Solomon caused plantings to be set about the Temple, and that men of religious orders tended their vineyards and made good use of their bounty.

Therapy, in connection with gardening, was practiced by our frugal and hardworking ancestors. For them it was a natural activity and needed no label. They planted, cultivated, preserved and shared the results with the sick and those less fortunate or possibly less frugal than they. What our ancestors did naturally, according to Mrs. Black, is the same activity which is practiced by the therapy branch of our garden clubs. Pointers on organizing and developing this activity were discussed.

She also touched on other phases of garden club work in which she has participated. She spoke of flower-show judging, in which department she is an accredited judge, and of the very important department of horticulture, especially roses which, when she lived in Indiana, was her specialty. She has been National Associated Horticulture Chairman, and was one of the founders of the Council's permanent home in St. Louis, Mo. Mrs. Black's therapy leadership began 10 years ago when she was chairman of that committee for the state of Indiana. She went on to be Indiana's State Garden Club President. She is a life member of both the Indiana State Club and of the National Council. Quite recently Mr. and Mrs. Black have become residents of Darian, Conn., which locally, she says, presents a new challenge in horticulture for her. Mr. Black is on a business trip to Japan, but rather than go on the trip with him, Mrs. Black chose to visit her sisters in Orlando and

Driftwood Circle Makes Plans For Benefit Party

The Driftwood Circle of the Sanford Garden Club met at the home of Mrs. John Barlow, 1908 Magnolia Ave., for the January meeting.

During the business session, Mrs. J. W. Taft was appointed secretary to replace Mrs. George Jensen, who recently moved to Ohio.

Plans were discussed for the circle's part in the benefit bridge party scheduled for Feb. 11, at the Sanford Woman's Club. It was also voted to continue support for the Blue Star Memorial.

In the absence of the horticulture chairman, the president, Mrs. D. C. Hamilton, gave the monthly report.

Members enjoyed a program and discussion on flower show technique and fresh flower arrangements.

Others present were Mrs. H. L. Monroe, Mrs. K. Enny, Mrs. G. Zimmerman, Mrs. H. Husome, Mrs. R. Wright and Mrs. B. C. Hamilton.

Guests were Mrs. Jean Musgrove, Mrs. C. W. Edwards, Mrs. Robert Lavender and Mrs. Nora Sharp.

TV Previews

7:30-8:30 p.m. CBS. CBS Reports: "Eisenhower 1963." Last week President Kennedy gave his "State of the Union" message in an address that was noted for its frank appraisal rather than political opportunism. Tonight, former President Eisenhower reports in kind, in an informal conversation with Walter Cronkite, taped at the Eisenhower's Palm Desert, Calif., home.

7:30-9 p.m. NBC. The Virginian. "Say Goodbye to all That." This series made a notable beginning by using top talent to sustain dramatic intensity over its 90 minutes. Tonight they drop that format in a play starring Fabian as a young man whose father was wounded by Trampas. Through the father's goading and his own need to assert his manhood, the youngster sets out to fight Trampas. The powerful smooching of Charles McGraw as the father, and the introduction of a marauding grizzly bear, do much for the production. Doug McClure stars as Trampas, with James Drury, Gary Clarke and Roberta Shore.

7:30-8:30 p.m. ABC. Hollywood: The Fabulous Era. Special. Henry Fonda's narration is very good in this documentary that could have been extra-special if concentrated on a specific time in movie history rather than a cavalcade of film clips from 1927 to the present. It's recommended viewing, however, particularly for pure nostalgia.

Men's Garden Club Meet Set

Women of the Sanford Garden Clubs have been invited to attend the meeting of the Sanford Men's Garden Club, Thursday at 7:30 p. m. at the courthouse to hear a special program by Prof. Edgar Warren of the University of Florida.

"At Home with Landscaping" is the theme of Prof. Warren's talk, and it is expected that he will deal particularly with frost-proof plants, which can be selected to provide beauty even through a hard winter. Prof. Warren is head of the department of Ornamental Horticulture at the University of Florida and also serves as Extension Horticulturist for the state.

"The program will come first, promptly at 7:30 p. m.," said program chairman Humer Osborne. "Wives of Men's Garden Club members are also invited."

"Lotor" is the Latin name for the raccoon and means "washer." The animal is noted for washing its food before eating it.

A Public Service

The Jaycees have asked the public to help select a deserving young man to receive the distinguished service award to be presented at the climax of Jaycee Week this week.

They also are planning awards of recognition to other young people in the county, including the outstanding young teacher, young farmer and young sailor. The idea is to focus attention on what people between the ages of 21 and 35 are doing in the way of community service and other endeavor.

This philosophy of public service is expressed in the Jaycee creed:

"We believe:
 "That faith in God gives meaning and purpose to human life;
 "That the brotherhood of man transcends the sovereignty of nations;
 "That economic justice can best be won by free men through free enterprise;
 "That government should be of laws rather than of men;
 "That earth's great treasure lies in human personality;
 "And that service to humanity is the best work of life."

Dr. Crane's

Worry Clinic

Rita's husband could have used psychological DDT on Rita's "butterflies" of the stomach, if he had sent for some of the non-profit sex booklets offered via this progressive newspaper.

Girl, beware of mistaking erotic stage fright with true love!

CASE U-439: Rita R., aged 29, has been married to Tom six years.

"But, Dr. Crane," Rita protested defensively, "I am in love with another man."

"We was a former suitor of mine and his name is Bill. I had dated both of them a great deal but I thought Tom was the one I really loved, so I married him."

"And we were very happy for a year or so. Then I noticed that his kisses didn't inflame me as they had before our wedding day."

"He became so preoccupied with his business problems that he'd just give me a dutiful little peck on the cheek when he rushed out to catch the subway train to work."

"And when he would occasionally telephone me from the office, his voice didn't give me butterflies in my stomach or excite me."

"Then I happened to meet Bill on the street, quite by accident. He asked me to have lunch with him, so I decided there was no harm in doing so."

"And he took me to a Chinese restaurant which was one of our favorite haunts when he was courting me prior to my marriage."

"After lunch, he asked me if I had anything special to do and I didn't, so he suggested we drive out along Lake Michigan."

"He took me to a spot where we used to sit and watch the moon over the waves."

"And he turned on the radio. Quite by chance, he disclosed into a program of music in which one of our pet songs was included."

"He asked me if I remembered that song, and of course I did. Then he slipped his arm around me and kissed me."

"Well, Dr. Crane, my heart was racing so fast I could hardly get my breath. And his kiss inflamed me so I felt young and giddy."

"Since then, I have had several more dates with Bill. And now I am sure it is Bill whom I really love, for I am not physically attracted to my husband the way I am to Bill."

"Don't you agree that I am more suited to Bill because of this physical bond that exists between us?"

"For Bill gives me butterflies in my stomach even when I am talking to him on the telephone, while my husband doesn't."

"And isn't a strong physical bond essential for a happy marriage?"

If Rita's husband had sent for the sex bulletin below, he could easily have applied psychological DDT to those so-called "butterflies" that Bill now produces in her stomach. Rita doesn't distinguish between true love vs. "butterflies."

Backstairs At White House

By Merriman Smith
 WASHINGTON (UPI) — Backstairs at the White House:

One of the more fascinating news items of recent interest put culture and status in curious perspective for a nation's capitol caught in the bubbling spirit of a new Congress.

The item came from the office of a congressman and was issued in mimeographed form, to wit:

"Congressman Edward J. Patten, (D-N. J.), joined President and Mrs. Kennedy, members of Congress, Supreme Court, diplomatic corps and the arts, and others VIPS, Tuesday night, at a special showing of the Mona Lisa in the capitol."

"Patten and Mrs. Patten were invited to the viewing of the famous Leonardo Da Vinci painting by the National Gallery of Art, which installed a canopy used only for important occasions, over the gallery's three front entrances."

"Patten hailed the display and urged an increased exchange of cultural works between nations. He said this would increase international understanding."

There are several interesting aspects of Patten's announcement. One is that he was careful to put himself, but not his wife ahead of the Kennedy's in the listing. Mrs. Patten did not show up until the second paragraph.

Also, it would seem that according to some cultural standards, the length of a canopy can be quite important in measuring the significance of a painting.

Mimeographed handouts of this sort are quite common on Capitol Hill. Lawmakers issue them primarily to let the folks back home glimpse the fabulous affairs of Washington through eyes of a duly elected representative.

It makes the politically-conditioned mind reel to think of the Patten technique if employed, for example, by a Massachusetts Democrat senator from Massachusetts, Edward M. (Ted) Kennedy.

The names Ted could blend into a folksy news announcement might cause quite a stir back home.

And speaking of stirs, a man who caused one on television not long ago by including Alger Hiss in a program about Richard M. Nixon is about to examine the cultural and social aspects of the New Frontier.

Howard K. Smith is putting together an in-depth TV show on Frontier life, the tastes and habits of Frontiersmen and how they play, as well as work.

There is no foundation whatever to reports that Smith plans to include Mamie Eisenhower in this show.

And since this seems to be an appropriate time to examine publicity reports from virtually everywhere, another character this week came from headquarters of the inaugural anniversary salute. This was the Democratic party's $100-a-person fund-raising show honoring the President Jan. 18, Producer of the immense variety show is Richard Adler, the brilliant young composer and ardent Kennedy supporter.

Far down in an ecstatic publicity release about the show, a bedazzled press agent reports:

"With Richard Adler signing new stars every day, there's no telling who may be here by Jan. 18."

Which is about as frank as a press agent can be.

Political Notebook

WASHINGTON—(NEA) — President Kennedy's belief that tax cuts now will mean "tens of billions of dollars more each year in production, profits, wages and public revenue," is based on what happened after the last big tax reduction in 1954.

That was a $7.4 billion cut. Five billion dollars of it came from expiration of Korean War taxes. It repealed excess profits and some excise taxes. It introduced a 10 per cent cut in individual income taxes right across the board. It also adjusted depreciation schedules and introduced dividend credits benefiting business.

$2.4 billion a year. With individual income tax receipts reported at $30 billion for fiscal 1953, the 10 per cent tax cut was $3 billion. Total tax receipts of $64.7 billion in fiscal 1953 dropped a little to $64.4 in 1954, the year the cut was made. This was followed by a sharp drop to $60.2 billion in 1955, but that was caused by the post-Korean War recession from July 1953 to May 1954.

There was a rapid build-up after that. Gross national product of $365 billion in 1953 dropped $2 billion in the 1954 recession, but rose to $397 billion in 1955 and $419 billion in 1956—a 15 per cent rise for the two years. Tax receipts for 1956 rose to $67.9 billion.

Corporate profits, which were $18 billion in 1953 and dropped to $34 billion during the 1954 recession, rose by nearly $11 billion to $44.9 billion in 1955.

The unemployment rate, 5.6 per cent, or 3.6 million out of a labor force of $54.5 million in 1954, dropped to a rate of 4.2 per cent, or 3.8 million out of a labor force of 67.5 million in 1956. The only two postwar years that the United States has had relatively full employment were 1953 and 1956.

Whether the 1954 tax cut can be given credit for all of this is questionable, for the good effects didn't last. There was a further recession in 1958-59 and a further setback, or at least slow growth, beginning in 1960 and continuing even now.

The Kennedy administration loses its present case on the theory that a tax cut now is what's needed to boost the economy. A tax cut is expected to have a much greater impact now than in 1954, because of economic growth in the last 10 years.

Gross national product of $531 billion for 1962 is 65 per cent higher than in 1953. Personal income tax payments of $45.7 billion in 1962 are 50 per cent higher than in 1953.

So the equivalent of a 10 per cent tax cut now would mean that $4.5 to $5 billion more would be made available for consumer spending during the first year the cut is in full effect.

There is, of course, a delay.

ed reaction to any shot in the arm the economy receives from a tax cut. Tax experts figure that 93 per cent of consumer income after taxes is spent, 7 per cent going into savings. But experience shows that even where there is a sharp rise in purchasing power, there's always a lag in actual spending. The length of the lag cannot be predicted.

It may take half a year or more after the tax cut is in effect before spending habits change measurably. This makes it difficult to predict when there will be business expansion to take care of the expected increase in demand.

Businesses that figure they will get a certain per cent of the increased spending power generated by a tax cut may start to build up inventories fairly soon, but expanding plant capacity to meet the demand is even trickier for businessmen to figure.

An industry now operating at 80 per cent of capacity won't expand immediately. If now operating at high rate, an industry might expand plant capacity more rapidly.

President Kennedy's plan for making the tax cuts apply gradually over a three-year period is intended to limit the impact on the federal budget. If a first-year $8 billion tax reduction out of a total $10 billion planned tax cut is approved by Congress, that will be to stimulate business.

The increased tax receipts from this new business are then expected "to pay for" the remaining $4 billion in tax cuts, without increasing budget deficits after the first year.

Letters

Dear Editor: I am writing this letter to point out what I consider a very serious abuse of authority that exists in this area.

On Friday 17 of this month I was stopped by the Delray (Volusia County) constable for making an improper U-turn on the highway. Since I have just recently moved to the state I still have my out of state license plates. In the course of the conversation with the officer I volunteered the information that I also lived in Delray since I was temporarily assigned by my company to work with the U. S. Navy at Sanford Naval Air Station. I was then taken to the town justice of the peace, charged with improper license plates, improper driver's license and fined $30.

I believe this fine to be excessive and the manner in which it was extracted from me, while undoubtedly legal, was certainly of the shoddiest nature.

In my opinion this type of situation is not only detrimental to the tourist trade but also gives the state of Florida a black eye.

India Charged
 TOKYO (UPI)—Communist China charged today India is using the Red-proclaimed cease-fire on the Sino-India border to intensify "war preparations."

The Indian Foreign Ministry in New Delhi said Thursday the Communists violated their own cease-fire 34 times between Nov. 21 and Dec. 2 on the eastern front alone.

Legion Begins Building Work
 By Joan Magin
 Chulotua's American Legion George M. Jacobs Memorial Post 223 announced today that building construction has been started on the American Legion lot at the corner of Christmas and Chulotua Roads.

W. M. Jepson, post commander, advised that the property has been re-surveyed by Cyrus Willard and burned off by the Forestry Service rangers.

The building will be of block construction, 28 feet by 46 feet in dimensions. William Plutner will be in charge of the project with Ray Pentz heading the building committee.

Jepson pointed out that volunteers will be needed, day by day, to assist the builder and asked that those who can donate some time to the work contact him or Plutner.

Lyle C. Wilson Says: Cop Still Has Whistle

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Hyperbole is an egghead word that precisely describes the ruckus on the opening day of Congress about the membership of the House Rules Committee.

Hyperbole means extravagant exaggeration of which President Kennedy and several Democrats and Republicans in the House are equally guilty. President Kennedy fixed the level of exaggeration when he told a national TV audience that his legislative program would be wrecked if the Rules Committee were cut back from 15 to its original 12 members.

Republicans assailed the Rules Committee packing project as comparable to FDR's spectacular 1937 effort to pack the Supreme Court, an excellent example of hyperbole. The really significant and revealing aspect of the controversy was the vote by which the House on opening day chose to make the expansion to 15 committee members permanent.

The vote was 235 to 196, a margin of 39 votes. The same expansion was voted temporarily two years ago by a margin of only five votes. This time the expansion was made permanent and by a comfortable majority. That well may foreshadow some Kennedy triumphs in this new Congress that were defeats in 1960-61 by close margins. The 39-vote margin also suggests that the impact of the 1962 election on the House of Representatives was strongly in Kennedy's favor.

But to believe that the House now has voted control of the Rules Committee to the administration leadership is nonsense. The left wing splinter group, Americans For Democratic Action, ticked off the situation adequately in a statement made public here last week. ADA said the president's hotly publicized campaign to continue the rules committee at 15 members was no more than a pillow fight.

The Rules Committee is a legislative traffic cop. It determines what bills shall be submitted to the House for consideration. It deals with these bills after the legislative committees have considered them and reported them for a House vote.

There are several interesting aspects of Patten's announcement. One is that he was careful to put himself, but not his wife ahead of the Kennedy's in the listing. Mrs. Patten did not show up until the second paragraph.

Also, it would seem that according to some cultural standards, the length of a canopy can be quite important in measuring the significance of a painting.

'63 Tax Cuts Appear Doubtful
 WASHINGTON (UPI) — Senate leaders believe the chances for a tax cut this year, as proposed by President Kennedy, are doubtful. Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield, Mont., predicted Sunday it will be 1964 before Congress completes action on a new tax program.

He differed with Kennedy by insisting that any tax cut be accompanied by revenue-producing reforms in the tax system.

Not Worth It, Payne Decides

By Vernon Scott
HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Movie stardom can be as deadly as a creeping cancer, according to actor John Payne, who says: "I'm quitting the rat race. From now on I'm going to stroll."
 After seeing his friends Clark Gable and Tyrone Power die at the heights of their careers, Payne has taken it easy.
 "Many actors make the mistake of forgetting the years," he said.
 "They start out as handsome young athletes who can do anything asked of them. For years they ride horses, climb mountains, swim rivers, stay up late, work 60 and 70 hours a week, and they die of a heart attack. If only they had stopped and said to themselves, 'My God, I'm not 25 years old any more. I'm 50, and I'm tired.'" Payne began his career in 1936 with Sam Goldwyn. He and Power were contemporaries who headed the 50th Century-Fox contract list.
 "I've been around this town for more than 25 years and during that time I made a lot of friends," he said.
 "I'm shocked to look around and see how many of them are no longer around. Death has been dashing through the streets of Hollywood too much lately. I'm going to get off the highway."
 "What is the sense of having plenty of money, fame, security and all the other things that go with stardom if you lose the pleasure of growing up with your children. What is the good of seeing your wife only a few minutes a day, work until you're blind tired and grouchy, and then die of a heart attack?"
 "My youngest boy is 14. He wants to be a ball player. Well, I'm going to slow down, and watch him grow. I'm going to eat, read, travel and sleep."
 "I've tasted the heady wines of May, and they were great. But there still is plenty of rich autumn beer left to be sipped."

Jaycees Name Young Sailor

The Herald was notified today that the Young Sailor of the Year has been selected by the committee which is headed by Rhett DeWolaki.
 The name will be kept secret until the announcement is made at the Distinguished Service Jaycee Banquet to be held Saturday at the Civic Center.
 The Good Government award winner was selected by public nomination last fall, and will also be revealed at that time.
 The young man who will receive the Distinguished Service Award has also been selected and his name will lead the list of the award winners at the banquet Saturday.
 Two others, the Young Farmer, chaired by Bob King and the Young Teacher, by Freeman Baggett are still under study by the committee.

"SERVING ALTAMONTE SPRINGS, CASSELBERRY, FERN PARK, LONGWOOD, MAITLAND, NORTH ORLANDO AND SANFORD." . . . from HIGHWAY 17-92 and STATE ROAD 436

Anyone ever thought about forming a little theatre group for Sanford?

Overheard in the drugstore . . . Mack Cleveland Jr., Bill Hutchison, Karlyle Housholder, Gordon Frederick, S. J. Davis . . . I went something like this . . . There goes my golf game . . . I'm shocked . . . I thought he wouldn't call a session unless he could swing the right number of votes . . . He's our most executive governor . . . Eh . . . It was 28 in Tallahassee . . .

Notice the new look on Fulton St.?

It was 38 degrees here at 8 a.m. . . .

If John Fitzpatrick forgets about a $3,000 pay raise for the commission, I'll forget about the Palms. OK?

I wonder why urban renewal was thrown on the dump heap? Are our city commissioners afraid of the legislators?

John Burton is adding something new at the Caribe Lounge (Valdez). Workmen are in the process of paving the parking place.

Have any old French books and texts in your library? Junior High French teachers would appreciate having them for the volunteer French class. Good cause.

Weatherman says to be sure to protect your car water system tonight. Even if you drain the radiator, watch out for the water pump. One chap we know during the last freeze hung a light on an extension cord inside the hood next to the radiator. Worked, too.

Don't forget public drive Saturday . . .

Boasters had better forget about that $30,000 stadium.

St. Johns-Indian River barge canal will get a boost Friday when the Florida Waterways Association directors meet at the Mayfair. This canal would tie in with the Cross State canal. Later would route water traffic up St. Johns to Jax. St. Johns-Indian River canal would lead the traffic proceed down toward Cape Canaveral.

Those legislative hearings will still be held Feb. 1, special session or not. . . . Indicates Mack Cleveland Jr.

Even Washington will get in the act Monday night . . . Navy really wants that pipeline here.

Watch for announcement soon for Hunt Co. to start work on 200 apartments.

Road Supt. J. C. Lavender deserves a pat on the back . . . He took two beat up trucks from the dump yard and salvaged them for operational use.

Twenty-fifth St. will be delayed as county crews start expensive work on Seminole Blvd.

Jack Burns was named chairman of the Casselberry Planning and Zoning Commission at an organization and discussion meeting of the group Monday night.

If there's any money left over from the Seminole Blvd. project it will be returned on a pro rata basis by Casselberry to Seminole Raceway.

The only thing holding up Casselberry's annexation of Seminole Plaza at Hwy. 17-92 and SR 436 is the town's decision on whether or not to approve the proposed water rate raise for Casselberry Utilities Co. The company and Plaza owners already have come to terms for water and sewer service to the shopping center.

Seminole Braces For Murderous Freeze

Punishing Cold Slaps Southland

County Crops In Jeopardy

Old Man Winter, already gripping the North, was bracing himself today ready to launch the season's second freezing blast at Seminole County's multi-million-dollar agricultural industry tonight.

Weather prediction here today was a low 15-20 degrees for tonight in this area, a repeat of the 16-20 degrees which hit Seminole County last Dec. 12-13.

The Weather Bureau at Miami warned all interests to guard against freezing temperatures as far south as the Everglades tonight.

The Florida Experimental Station here offered a glimmer of hope, though, late this morning. Low reading last night was 37 degrees at the station's farm, with a 38 at 8 a.m. and 41.5 degrees at 10:30 a.m.

However, B. F. Whitner Jr., assistant horticulturist, said "the thermograph shows a good slant downward and it appears it will stay that way for a while."

He added that "we hope the crux comes during the daylight hours today" so that citrus and vegetable crops will be spared a second freeze.

"It looks bad," was the expression of Cecil Tucker, county agricultural agent, reached this morning by The Herald by telephone at Tavara where he is attending a meeting.

"If the mercury drops down to 25 degrees," he said, "we can look for considerable wood damage to our citrus trees."

He explained that, following last night's freeze, the citrus damage ran into the thousands of dollars. "There has been a considerable amount of 'flushing out' of our citrus trees. They now are more susceptible to a freeze than they were before the first freeze. A second freeze could have a drastic effect."

Tucker continued that the cool weather since the December freeze has held down the "flushing out" after the tree damage and "that is what we like." He said that "it is nature's way to help trees come back but a second freeze could prove more damaging than the first."

The agent continued: "We are always fearful of an early freeze because the citrus trees and crops then are more susceptible to damage or complete loss from subsequent freezes."

Nurserymen and others advised citrus growers, flower lovers and others, after the December freeze, to do no pruning until March or April, to protect plants from subsequent low temperatures such as are predicted here for tonight.

The Casselberry Board of Aldermen and officials of Casselberry Utilities Co. will meet at 7:30 p. m. today at the Women's Club at which time the board is expected to act on the company's request for a water rate raise.

Under consideration will be the proposal made Tuesday night by the company setting a $3.50 minimum for the first 7,000 gallons; 25 cents per thousand up to 20,000 gallons and 22 cents per thousand thereafter.

Any agreement reached between the town and the company on a rate raise will of necessity have a bearing on the original 10-year franchise agreement scheduled to run until 1965.

The sweeping nature of the plan was the surprise element in a 9,000-word message in which Kennedy spelled out his anxiously awaited request for a three-step reduction in personal and corporate tax rates.

His blueprint also called for new tax preferences for most persons over 65, for many working mothers and for professional athletes, authors and others whose earnings fluctuate widely. He urged tougher tax treatment for the oil and gas industry, stock dividends and stock options enjoyed by some corporation executives.

'Last Futile Attempt', Bryant Says On Session

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — Gov. Farris Bryant said today he has no assurance that the special session of the Legislature he has called for next Tuesday will adopt an acceptable reapportionment plan and conceded the chances are only "50-50."

Bryant said he called the session simply in a last "desperate" effort to attempt a solution by the Legislature before the federal court takes over.

"We're in a political jungle and have to fight our way out thickly by thickly," he said. "Both sides in the reapportionment battle wanted a last opportunity to attack the problem again and I wanted to exhaust every possibility."

Bryant said he will not address this session and outline a plan for its consideration as he did in two previous extraordinary sessions in the past five months.

"They know my plan by heart," he said. Bryant has been trying hard to sell the legislators on a 42-Senator, 144-Representative plan but said he had failed miserably.

He also has recommended a Senate reshuffle within the existing 38-Senator seats but was unable to get a majority commitment on that either.

The governor said he not only has no assurance that the Legislature can agree on a plan but has no assurance that if they do, it will win approval of the federal court which ordered the reapportionment and must pass on any approved by the special session.

The only commitment he has, the governor said, is that

If the Legislature reaches a stalemate within one week, leaders will make every attempt to adjourn the session and go home without lifting out the full 20 days allowed under the call.

"I have not got a majority commitment on this, but I have the word of the leadership that a try to adjourn will be made."

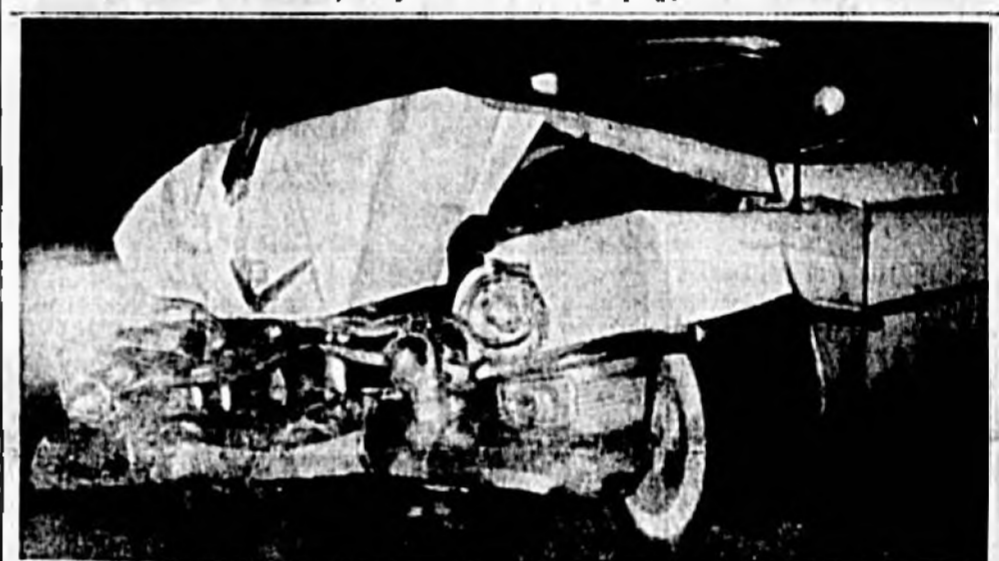

The governor said there is no chance for anything except a simple statutory apportionment since a constitutional amendment would require at least three months to get to the people and would not meet the court mandate for reapportionment by the time the regular 1963 session convenes April 2.

Bryant said he is toying with the idea of asking the Florida Supreme Court for an advisory opinion on whether a statute increasing the size of the present 38-Senator, 95-Representative Legislature would violate the state constitution.

But he may not ask for the opinion, he said, "because I am afraid of what the answer will be."

Three Injured In Road Mishap

Three persons were injured, one critically, and all charged as the result of a two-car collision at 1 p. m. today on Highway 17-92 at Fern Park.

Highway Patrolman C. L. Tomlinson charged Norma Vest, of Apopka, with carrying concealed weapons. He said she was carrying a .22 caliber revolver.

Charles R. Ward, of Oviedo driver of one car, was reported in "poor" condition later this morning at Orange Memorial Hospital, Orlando. Hospital attaches reported the condition of Miss Vest as "good."

Patrolman Tomlinson said Ward and Miss Vest were thrown from Ward's car to the pavement from the impact.

Dick Rhodes and Bill Chandler, Seminole County sheriff's deputies, assisted Patrolman Tomlinson in the investigation.

The officer reported Ward was making a U-turn when struck by Shirley's car.

Ward was charged with violation of the right-of-way and Shirley with unlawful speed, the patrolman reported, adding that "the personal injuries would have been far less had the motorists been using seat belts."

The 49-year-old man, who had been a school teacher in Orange County for the past seven years, this year was devoting full time to the Raceway.

He is survived by his wife, Suzanne, a teacher at Boone High School.

Winds Ravage Midwest

By United Press International
Howling winds, accompanied by blinding flurries of snow and sleet, battered the Midwest and southland today in one of the most punishing cold waves of the century.

The bitter cold was blamed for at least 10 deaths in Michigan and four in the South—three in New York, two in Alabama and one each in Georgia and Tennessee.

As the gale-force gusts drove through Dixie all the way to the Mexican border, temperatures fell as much as 50 degrees within hours.

Paris of Mississippi, Alabama, Tennessee, Virginia and North Carolina were buried beneath the most vicious snowfall to hit the South in many years.

It was Michigan, however, that bore the heaviest brunt of the storm.

An elderly man in Monroe, Mich., near the Ohio border, was found frozen to death in his home Wednesday. He was sitting in a rocking chair in front of an open window. His death and another in Detroit raised the toll of storm victims in the Wolverine state to 10.

In Detroit, the mercury plummeted to 12 below, a record low for Jan. 23 in the Motor City. It also was the coldest reading there since Feb. 8, 1954, when the temperature dropped to 10 below.

Nonetheless, the Michigan weather story was not without its lighter aspects.

In Nankin Township, a Detroit suburb, power lines weighted down by ice snapped and "marooned" several customers in Herby's Bar for about two hours. Police said a "good crowd" waited patiently at Herby's until men from the Detroit Edison Co. came and cut the power lines, making it safe for them to leave.

In Clare, Mich., snow and sub-zero temperatures failed to dishearten Mrs. La Vina Hadalaugh, the hardy housewife who is camping out for eight days to win a $150 bet. The 47-year-old nature lover has been augmenting her meat ration of four steaks and one pound of bacon by catching fish since she entered the woods last Friday.

The cold wave also failed to dampen the spirits of movie lovers in Little Rock, Ark., where occupants of 18 cars braved 7 degree temperatures to sit through a double feature at the Razorback Twin Drive-In Theater.
