Fire Prevention Week Is Planned By Jaycees; Local Firms Cooperate

Emergency Appeal Made To Citizens For Blood Donation

Mrs. Marie Wilkins, who lives at the Sanford Teller Park, has appealed to Sanford citizens for an emergency donation of blood which will be needed within the next couple of weeks.

Mrs. Wilkins told The Sanford Herald today that she has already had two pints of blood and will need about two quarts during the emergency.

She pointed out that she is Type A Plus. However, local officials of blood banks say that donors of any type blood may be secured for the blood bank and the required type will be issued.

Harry Robson, of the Lions Club Blood Bank, said yesterday that the Lions Club would be happy to contribute the blood for Mrs. Wilkins but their bank does not have sufficient credits to issue a check for the contribution.

A recent blood bank drive netted only one pint of blood, Robson said.

Those who would like to contribute blood for Mrs. Wilkins are asked to call 722-W.

Five Boy's State Delegates Report Daily Experiences

The Sanford Kiwanis Club yesterday heard the five Seminole High School representatives to Boy's State tell of their daily experiences during the week's stay in the Florida Capitol city.

Prior to hearing the five young men tell of their Boy's State experiences, six new members were inducted into the Kiwanis Club yesterday. Lester Tharp, Kiwanis Club Education Committee chairman, assisted by Representative Mack N. Cleveland Jr. and the Rev. Milton Wyatt, Jr., and the Rev. John B. Schellentrager, Lewis Dinkins, Irvin Eugene Estridge, Robert C. Whitmore, the Rev. Perry L. Stone, and Martin A. Dyer Jr., into the Sanford Kiwanis Club.

Guy Allen, program chairman for the noon luncheon meeting yesterday, introduced the first speaker of the Boy's State group, Kenneth Ramsey, who expressed appreciation for being sent to the week long American Legion sponsored event in Tallahassee. Ramsey then introduced Ernest Morris who told of the first two days Saturday and Sunday. He said, "On arrival, we were given our town, party, room, shirt and cap. And then we were welcomed by Dr. Poak S. Campbell, FSI president."

Howard Allred, giving experiences for Monday and Tuesday told the Kiwanis Club that "Americanism speakers were chosen from counties and were given subjects to study for one minute and then allowed to speak for three minutes."

John Clark, describing activities for Wednesday and Thursday said, "We listened to legislators and senators who were actually taking part in the legislature."

Jim Hawkins, telling of the Friday and Saturday activities said, "We had a general assembly after each meal. But the highlight was the graduation exercises and the Governor's Ball."

After relating the experiences of the six days, the 1954 President of Boy's State from Sanford, David Gatchell, now a member of the Sanford Kiwanis Club, praised Boy's State and the Key Club. He said, "Kiwanis became my ideal because of activities in the Key Club." Joel Field, Sanford Postmaster and Kiwanian, asked Gatchell to speak and to tell of his experiences as a guest of the Georgia Boy's State at its first meeting.

David Gatchell outlined his experiences riding in Highway Patrol cars of both Florida and Georgia, appearing on WFB, and his being a guest at the Governor's Ball.

Guests at yesterday's Kiwanis meeting were: Harry Faulk of DeBary and C. T. Cooper of the H. & Reynolds Tobacco Co.

The Seminole County Junior Chamber of Commerce is planning an all-out effort for the most successful Fire Prevention Week ever staged in the county.

Under the chairmanship of Garfield Willett, the Jaycees have planned to distribute Home Inspection Blanks, Fire Prevention Comic Books, a free movie for children to climax the week, and a trip to the Sanford schools by the Fire Department's motorized hook 'n ladder.

Willett has also enlisted the help of the Jaycees who will aid in the distribution of fire prevention week literature to the schools of Seminole County.

Beginning with Oct. 9, the Jaycees will be "Fire Prevention" conscious and their entire week program centered around the life-saving event. The civic club group will even have their Thursday "Fire Prevention Week" luncheon at the Sanford Fire Station as guests of Chief Mack N. Cleveland Jr. Undoubtedly, during the midst of the luncheon, there will be a fire call to some remote section of the city and the Jaycees will get the thrill of "going to a fire."

During the week of Oct. 9, the Sanford Fire Department's hook and ladder engine will visit all of the nine Sanford schools where Chief Cleveland will display the huge fire fighting apparatus and demonstrate its use. A surprise fire drill will be on the program for each school to find out which school has the best emergency evacuation program.

Home Inspection Blanks will be distributed to school children to take home with them and to be later brought back filled in and for the inspection of Chief Cleveland. Comic books will be distributed to school children to increase interest in Fire Prevention.

Climaxing the busy week, there will be a free show at the Ritz Theatre for children. During this show a short subject of Fire Prevention will be shown along with the feature. Children are invited to the show at 9 o'clock Saturday morning, Oct. 15. Admission to the show will be the Fire Prevention Pledge appearing on the back of the comic books that will be distributed.

Garfield Willett said today that the free show is being made possible through the cooperation of the following Sanford firms: John Williams Insurance, Boyd-Willis Insurance, Curran & McKittrick Insurance, Crumley & Monteth Insurance, H. James Gut Insurance Agency, Kams Insurance Agency, A. R. Key Insurance.

Edward Lane Insurance, Noughton Insurance Agency, Irving Pryor Insurance Agency, William H. Stempfer Insurance, Thomas M. Stringer & John R. Alexander Insurance, Frank L. Woodruff Insurance, George W. Smith Jr. Insurance, Stine, Macklin & Soper Company, Sanford Auto Parts, Ralph Lewis, Sr. Fry-Fryer Insurance, Lane Sherman Company.

Revival services will be held at the Central Baptist Church during the week Oct. 9 through the 19, said the Rev. J. W. Parham, pastor of the church.

The Rev. Leon G. Lowder, visiting evangelist, and pastor of the Ferndale Baptist Church of North Charleston, S. C., will deliver the message at the evening services which begin at 7:30 p. m.

The services will begin, said the Rev. Parham, with the laymen in charge of the worship hour Sunday morning. Charles Hayes will preside and other laymen will take part in the service. The pastor, J. W. Parham, will deliver the sermon for the Sunday evening service. The Rev. Lowder will begin his series of sermons on Monday night and then throughout the revival services.

Peron Should Get Out Of Country

BUENOS AIRES (AP)—Argentine firmly told Paraguay today that Juan D. Peron should get out of that country.

The new government told Paraguay it felt Peron's continued stay there would be "incompatible with the maintenance of harmonious relations between our two countries."

Over 4 Thousand Envelopes Mailed

More than four thousand envelopes were mailed last night to every Seminole County Community and for Seminole County citizens asking for the countywide search for the Harry-Anna Clipped Children's Home at Umatilla.

The envelopes, said Roy Green, chairman of the Elk's Lodge Thankgiving Seal Committee, contained a sheet of stamps for use on mail and envelopes.

"We have mailed envelopes to citizens in Sanford, Lake Mary, Oviedo, Altamonte Springs, Longwood, Casselberry, Fern Park, and Maitland," Green said.

Each envelope, besides the sheet of stamps, contains a self-addressed and stamped envelope for the return of contributions, he said. "We sincerely hope that everyone will mail their contributions as soon as possible," Green commented.

Bus Drivers, Patrol Meet Last Night

Sanford's Police Chief Roy Williams and Patrolman Arnold Williams met last night with school bus drivers and with school bus patrol members.

The meeting, held at the high school farm building, included a discussion with bus drivers over matters of complaint and the giving of instructions to the school bus patrol.

Chief Williams swore in the School Bus Patrol members following their pledge, and badges along with belts and flags were issued. "We have a smooth running organization," Chief Williams said, "and each one is pledged to carry out all instructions for the safety of children riding school buses."

Location Changed

It was announced today that the Seminole County School Food Association will not have its next meeting in Orlando as scheduled but has changed the meeting place to the Sanford Grammar School. The date is Oct. 18 at 2:30 p. m.

BURGLES CONSIDERATE JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP)—Burglars who took a safe from the Standard Feed Store were considerate about one thing. They carefully wrapped checks, inventory books and other papers in the safe so they were undamaged by weather when the battered safe was found. The burglars got $400 in cash.

17-92 Discussion Held At Luncheon

Richard L. Moss Pledges Fraternity At Emory University

Richard L. Moss, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl H. Moss of Sanford, has pledged the Emory University chapter of Alpha Tau Omega social fraternity, after a week's University-wide "rush" activities here. Moss is a freshman in Emory's College of Arts and Sciences.

Emory University offers students participation in 23 organizations, including 13 social fraternities, 9 women's social clubs and more than 20 honorary and professional groups. There are also opportunities in such activities as sports, dramatics, student government, publications and in the famed Emory Glee Club, "The South's Sweetest Singers."

Emory's student body of 2,500 includes schools of medicine, dentistry, nursing, law, theology, business administration, a graduate school, a liberal arts college and a junior college at Oxford, Ga. Last year saw the admission of women to all divisions of the university, for the first time in its 118 year history. Emory's School of Nursing is observing its golden anniversary, and theandler School of Theology, its fortieth year.

The Atlanta institution has recently expanded its graduate program, which now includes courses of study leading to the Ph. D. degree in nine fields, and is entering its fourth year of a ten-year plan aimed at doubling its $21,000,000 endowment. The school's history goes back to 1836, when it was founded as a college in Oxford, Ga. The University was moved to its Atlanta campus during the World War I years.

Patrolmen yesterday, in the business section of Sanford, were notifying motorists and shoppers of the new requirement. We are being lenient, Police Chief Roy Williams said this morning, in that it has been several months since coins were required for the parking on Wednesday afternoons.

"We hope that the motoring public will cooperate with us," Chief Williams said, "so that our traffic department personnel won't be taxed with an overload of parking meter violation tags to issue on Wednesday afternoon."

ADDITION STARTED FOR ELK'S CLUB

Work has been started on the addition to the Elk's Lodge Club house, said Donald J. Bales, Executive Ruler of the local Elk's Lodge.

"The present room is being doubled in size, he said, "in order that we might take care of our ever increasing membership."

Over 1800 square feet of floor space is being added, Bales said. With the added space, Bales reported, we hope that plans for the Annual Charity Ball staged each winter as a highlight of the Sanford social season, will include holding the ball at home.

An addition of 25 feet has been started with footings already in place and work soon slated to begin on the building itself. This is just one phase of the expansion program and plans that we have for the Sanford Elk's Lodge, Exalted Ruler Bales said.

Judge Housholder Tells Advantages Of Organized Effort

The Seminole County Jaycees met Tuesday night at the Sanford city hall to hear Judge Ernest Housholder tell them of the advantages of organized effort.

Introduced by Bob Rye, program chairman for the group, Judge Housholder said, "It is a novel experience to speak to a group of young men who voluntarily listen."

"To get results as a group," the Judge explained to the Jaycees is the reason that men want to become members of an organization. "This group is learning to live," he said. You see, the Judge pointed out, it is almost impossible to live alone and you are getting a start earlier than most people.

It is a challenge to do more than the world ordinarily expects of you, said Judge Housholder. And, he said, "You're a most distinctive thought. If a man feels he can, he will accomplish much more than would ordinarily be done either individually or in a group."

"In my practice as an attorney," Housholder pointed out, I try to give more than I ordinarily think I should, and find out that I get more out of the giving than I do out of my other work."

Judge Housholder advised the Jaycees to spearhead a drive to advise the people about their government and offered to furnish them copies of a book published for the Bar Association with the understanding that the members of the club would read them.

"You only get what you ask for," Housholder told the Jaycees and advised the group to ask for the things they want. "It's difficult for the older people to understand the needs of the young people of today," he said as he stressed the working together as a group to achieve bigger and better results.

"I have never talked to an organization," Judge Housholder concluded, "that gave me a better feeling from the very beginning of my talk than you young men have afforded me tonight."

Following the address by Seminole County Judge Ernest Housholder, the Jaycees appointed a committee to investigate the possibilities of having an organized drive stop. The committee will confer with the Seminole County Jaycee Safety Committee, Group T, Mark Mack and Patrolman Arnold Williams, and report back to the club at the next meeting.

Garfield Willett, Fire Prevention Week chairman for the Jaycees attended the Jaycee meeting and was assured the cooperation of the club in the distribution of fire prevention literature to Seminole County Schools.

Tommy Stringer, Jaycee advisor to the Jaycees also attended the meeting which was presided over by the Jaycees president Tommy Wyatt.

Sales tax collections in Seminole County are nearly seven thousand dollars above the same period last year.

According to Ray E. Green, State Comptroller, sales tax collected for the month ended Sept. 30, 1955 amounts to $26,312.83. This is in comparison with $19,459.68 which was collected during the same month in 1954.

Sales tax remittances to the State in September, which represents collections by merchants on their August sales, amounted to $4,064,643.41. This is an increase of over $800,000, or approximately 16 per cent, over the same month in 1954.

The actual increase in Seminole County amounted to $4,873.13.

Enlistments Told

A total of sixteen enlistments in Central Florida during September was announced today by the Orlando Army Recruiting Station. Of this total four were from Seminole County. They are: Lewis Wade of Ocala, Ralph A. Flowers, Lake Monroe and Ernest B. Wright and Nathaniel Johnson both of Sanford.

Commerce Report Released

No Celery Listed In Specific Crops

A United States Department of Commerce preliminary 1954 Census of Agriculture for Seminole County was released this morning. The census includes a summary of Farm, Farm Characteristics and Farm Products for the county. In some instances, the report includes comparative data from the 1950 census of agriculture. It is pointed out that the census is preliminary and figures quoted are subject to change. A similar report is being made for every county in the United States.

The report states that there were 740 farms in Seminole County in 1954 compared with 541 for 1950 with an average tilling 182.95 or 88.7 per cent of the county's area. The report also states that the value of land and buildings per farm is estimated at $28,128 or $18.90 per acre.

According to the 1954 Seminole County Census of Agriculture there were 615 operators of farms residing on the farm itself and 167 not residing on their farms. The report also stated that 406 operators stated that they had other income exceeding the value of the agricultural products sold with 292 of the farm operators working off their farms. A complete rundown of the size of Seminole County farms from under 2 acre size to over 1000 acre and over size. The report points out that there are 6 croppers on Seminole County farms in 1954 compared to 10 in 1950.

Equipment on Seminole County farms is listed, with 530 farms reporting the use of telephone, 765 with electricity, 374 with television sets, 716 with power and running water, 261 with home freezers, and with only one farm reporting the use of a grain combine.

The report points out that there were 49 Class I farms in 1954 which sold products valued at over $25,000 while the class II farms in 1954 were 100.

Two members of the Seminole County Chapter of the American Cancer Society will attend the Florida Division of the American Cancer Society's 1955 Annual Meeting at the Tides Hotel and Bath Club, Redington Beach this week-end. Those attending from Sanford will be Mrs. Julius Dingfelder and Mrs. Don Bales.

Members of the Board of Directors of the Florida Division and representatives of more than forty county units will attend the meeting.

Dr. Donald G. Cabagen of Ft. Lauderdale, Division President, stated that this meeting follows the most successful cancer Crusade in the history of the Florida Division. The $400,000 raised through public contributions will make it possible for the Society to expand its program of education, research and advice to the cancer patient. Plans for greater activity will be approved at the coming meeting.

The meeting will get started tomorrow night with a session on the subject of Cancer Registries for hospitals having cancer diagnostic and treatment programs which have been approved by the American College of Surgeons and the Florida Cancer Council. The installation of such registries will be explained by Dr. Elliot Scarborough, Director of the Winship Clinic at Emory University Hospital, Atlanta, Ga., and by Dr. Aubrey Schneider of the National Office of the American Cancer Society.

While the Division's Executive Committee is meeting Saturday morning, County representatives will participate in a series of Cancer Crusade Clinics to formulate plans for the 1956 fund raising campaign to be conducted in April. Following luncheon Dr. Scarborough will speak on the subject of "The Role of the Community"

Unfinished Crime

CHAPTER TWENTY-SEVEN
SARA took a deep breath. "Because I saw the real Gerry Hone tonight? Just what happened?"

"What? In her papers had been to startle Clive, she had certainly succeeded."

"He wasn't a diphtheria. He was as real as you are, sitting here, in this room, talking to me. I didn't just see him, I heard him. I touched him. The fake Gerry is a former movie actor named Mark Clifford. The real Gerry was his stand-in long ago."

Clive's face was harder than she had ever seen it before. "Will you tell me just what happened?"

It was a relief to talk to Clive. Sara was careful to tell her tale concisely, marshaling all the facts in chronological order. "Now," she said at the end. "Does that sound like the detestation of a parasite?"

"No. It sounds much more serious." Clive was on his feet. He paced to the window and turned to face her again.

"What could be more serious than insanity?"

"Crime." He spoke slowly. "This becomes fascinating. Hone has a problem in chess. The various possible combinations."

"I see only one," retorted Sara. When Gerry disappeared, an impostor took his place, because the impostor believed Gerry had hidden the ruby in his apartment or his office."

"And why hasn't the real Gerry unmasked the impostor yet?"

"Maybe he wants to give the call enough rope."

Clive's keen eyes glittered in the lamplight. "My dear, are you tough-minded or tender-minded?"

"I hope William James would class me with the tough-minded, though I'm sure Mickey Spillane would not."

"Are you strong enough to stand one more shock this evening? A shock that may bring you the final truth about this whole matter?"

"After so much doubt and uncertainty any truth would be a relief, however shocking."

"Algebraic problems are often solved by inversion. Try inverting this business of Gerry Hone."

Sara's brows beat in thought.

"How?"

"There was an impostor who did impersonate Gerry Hone. Your premise was right. But one of your inferences was wrong. You inferred that the impersonation was the result of a disappearance and, therefore, took place after the disappearance. Actually, the impersonation took place before the disappearance and the disappearance was a result of the impersonation."

"What do you mean?"

"The man who met you in the 30-cent store and escorted you to the Automat was the impostor, Mark Clifford. It was then and only then that any impersonation took place, until his visit to you this evening. The man who appeared in Gerry Hone's apartment this morning was the real Gerry Hone, returning from a visit to Mrs. Harrison, as she and everyone else, but you, stoutly maintained."

Sara's head was ringing as if she had received a physical blow. But when the dimness waned all the facts began to click into their appointed places.

The impersonation had lasted only a few minutes. No successful impersonation could last much longer in real life. Yesterday the few glasses she had got were only two days old, making everything lighter and clearer. Anything about the fake Gerry that she had never noticed before in the real Gerry—like the medals—she would distribute subconsciously to the new glasses. When the real Gerry appeared, she saw him clearly for the first time in her life through the new glasses. Of course, that made him look unfamiliar and she knew instantly that he was not the same man she had seen in the 10-cent store the day before.

And the voice? The real Gerry was hoarse with a bad cold the last few times they were together before the impersonation. If the fake Gerry's voice sounded a little deeper and clearer at first, she would think he had simply got over his cold. But when the real Gerry returned, without any hoarseness, she would notice how high and light his voice sounded in contrast to the other Gerry and it would seem a further proof of impersonation.

"Why?" Her voice was a broken whisper. "Why did he want me to think he was Gerry Hone when we met in the 10-cent store?"

"He didn't plan it that way," returned Clive. "Remember how it happened? You saw him before he saw you. It was you who hailed him first. It was you who addressed him as Gerry. He was surprised when you informed him that since his disappearance an impostor was taking his place as Gerry Hone. All he had to do then was to play along with the explanation you had invented for him. He told you about the resemblance between Hone and Clifford because he had to give some substance to the idea of impersonation if you were to go on believing in it. He didn't tell you that he himself was Clifford because he didn't want to alienate you then by admitting he had played a trick on you. He needed your good-will because he wanted to get the ruby from you."

"Why was he in Gerry's apartment that evening and how did he get in, if he wasn't Gerry himself?"

"Didn't you say the real Gerry left his keys in his letter box in an envelope with one corner sticking out through the slot? Clifford could have used those keys and replaced them afterward. That was when he left his fingerprints in Gerry's apartment. He went there, of course, to wait for the thief who had stolen the empty box. When that thief found the box he had stolen empty, he would go straight to Gerry Hone's apartment, if he believed that Clifford was Hone and that Hone still had the ruby. He would believe both these things if he heard you address Clifford as 'Gerry Hone' and saw the boxed ruby go into Clifford's pocket."

"What would Clifford want to see that thief?"

"Because Clifford didn't have the ruby and didn't suspect then that you had taken it. The thief was the only person who might be able to tell him if there was anyone else in the crowd who knew about the ruby, and who had had a chance to take it."

"Suppose the real Gerry had been there?"

"Clifford knew him already, Clifford would simply enlist his aid in dealing with the thief without, of course, telling Hone the true story. (To Be Continued)

"We need you to buy the ruby," said an agent on Clive. "And then offered to carry the box. He suggested going to the Automat because a crowded cafeteria would be the best place to give you the slip. He installed you at a table and vanished into the crowd, ostensibly to get coffee, actually to get away from you with the ruby in his pocket before you had a chance to discover that he was not Gerry Hone."

"He knew he couldn't hope to play the role of Gerry Hone for any length of time without saying something inconsistent that would make you suspicious. He walked out the side door believing he had the ruby in his pocket. The box was there and he had every reason to think the ruby was still in the box."

"You would never have seen him again if he had really had the ruby. But when he found the empty box and realized you could have taken the ruby while he was getting change, he had to come high and light his voice sounded in contrast to the other Gerry and it would seem a further proof of impersonation."

"Why?" Her voice was a broken whisper. "Why did he want me to think he was Gerry Hone when we met in the 10-cent store?"

"He didn't plan it that way," returned Clive. "Remember how it happened? You saw him before he saw you. It was you who hailed him first. It was you who addressed him as Gerry. He was surprised when you informed him that since his disappearance an impostor was taking his place as Gerry Hone. All he had to do then was to play along with the explanation you had invented for him. He told you about the resemblance between Hone and Clifford because he had to give some substance to the idea of impersonation if you were to go on believing in it. He didn't tell you that he himself was Clifford because he didn't want to alienate you then by admitting he had played a trick on you. He needed your good-will because he wanted to get the ruby from you."

"Why was he in Gerry's apartment that evening and how did he get in, if he wasn't Gerry himself?"

"Didn't you say the real Gerry left his keys in his letter box in an envelope with one corner sticking out through the slot? Clifford could have used those keys and replaced them afterward. That was when he left his fingerprints in Gerry's apartment. He went there, of course, to wait for the thief who had stolen the empty box. When that thief found the box he had stolen empty, he would go straight to Gerry Hone's apartment, if he believed that Clifford was Hone and that Hone still had the ruby. He would believe both these things if he heard you address Clifford as 'Gerry Hone' and saw the boxed ruby go into Clifford's pocket."

"What would Clifford want to see that thief?"

"Because Clifford didn't have the ruby and didn't suspect then that you had taken it. The thief was the only person who might be able to tell him if there was anyone else in the crowd who knew about the ruby, and who had had a chance to take it."

"Suppose the real Gerry had been there?"

"Clifford knew him already, Clifford would simply enlist his aid in dealing with the thief without, of course, telling Hone the true story. (To Be Continued)

Radio-TV Highlights

NEW YORK (U) — Omnibus launches its fourth year on CBS-TV Sunday, Oct. 9, with plans that show just how mature television entertainment can be. First program of the season will concern itself with the renaissance, that era of history that has well been called the birth of modern times.

Robert Saudek, director of the TV-Radio Workshop of the Ford Foundation, which produces Omnibus, recalls that he and his staff have been kicking around the idea for a program on the Renaissance for more than three years.

Omnibus has many other big plans for this year. One is a three-part study of the present state of civilization.

"It will be a World's Fair without walls," says Saudek. "Viewers will go and see the real thing directly instead of replicas of the real thing. We can't undertake this without the scope of three full programs since we plan to view such things as the state of industry, science, entertainment and many other aspects of life."

In television these days, Saudek says, "bigness of concept is important in itself. 'Bigness' means ambition—ambition in planning. It has an impact on people. The test we give an idea is whether it is exciting to us. If it is, we've learned that it will be exciting to many others. The difference between Omnibus and most other programs is that its concepts are not handed down from above. Its ideas are actually generated by the staff."

Omnibus set out to prove that a TV program can be successfully commercial at a high cultural level. It has succeeded.

Spotlight On Hollywood

CHERBOURG (U) — Film star Rita Hayworth returned to France today, bringing her 8-year-old daughter Yasmin to visit the child's father, Prince Aly Khan.

The lithe-haired actress also brought along her 10-year-old daughter Rebecca, Rita's daughter by a previous marriage to Orson Welles.

She was wearing a simple grey tweed suit and a black pullover sweater trimmed with grey to match the suit. Her hair, now in its natural red-brown hue, was almost shoulder length.

She appeared fretful and somewhat tired during a news conference on the liner Queen Elizabeth.

Rita lifted her hands nervously but smiled for photographers. She declined to answer questions as to her feelings toward her present husband, singer Dick Haymes, saying it was a private matter. She was wearing his gold wedding ring.

She brought Yasmin to Europe to see Aly Khan under the terms of their divorce settlement, which entitles the father to have custody of the child a certain number of weeks each year. She said she would turn Yasmin over to Aly Khan in Paris, probably tomorrow.

Los Angeles Finds New Trainer Cuts Costs

NEW TRAINER A SUCCESS—Hollywood High School students given half their behind-the-wheel training on this unique classroom device, called the Aetna Drivotrainer, proved to be on a par with pupils trained solely in real cars, according to report by Los Angeles City School System.

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 4.—Successful use of a revolutionary classroom trainer that cuts the costs of teaching high school students how to drive was reported to the City Board of Education yesterday.

On a battery of scientific tests, students trained with the new device, called the Aetna Drivotrainer, proved to be on a par with those who took the conventional course in real cars.

Details of a research program utilizing the Drivotrainer were presented to board members in an 84-page report by Superintendent of Schools Claude L. Reeves.

The experiment was conducted at Hollywood High School, with a group of 120 students being taught driving fundamentals on the classroom machine and then compared with a similar group which took the regular instructional program in standard automobiles.

The experiment is part of a nationwide research program sponsored by the Aetna Casualty and Surety Company, which developed the device in an effort to meet the needs of schools for an effective, economical way of teaching youths to drive. Other studies are still in progress in the New York City schools and at Iowa State Teachers College.

Introduced several years ago, the Drivotrainer has attracted nationwide interest among educators as a possible answer to the high cost of driver training. A summary of the Los Angeles report is being sent to 5000 school administrators to familiarize them with results of the research study.

Since the Drivotrainer enables up to 18 students to take behind-the-wheel training at the same time, compared to the one pupil a teacher can instruct in a real car, it substantially reduces the high teaching costs that have retarded the spread of driver training in the nation's schools.

With the Drivotrainer at Hollywood High, on which 480 students can be trained a year, per pupil costs would be reduced 15 per cent, but a larger unit designed to handle 960 would double the rate at which costs could be cut, producing yearly savings of nearly $12,000, the report shows.

In submitting the report to the Board of Education, Superintendent Reeves observed that in addition to reducing costs the Drivotrainer may help meet teacher shortages, provide an added safety measure for beginning drivers, and be "most advantageous in standardizing teaching procedure and course content."

One hundred forty students participated in the Los Angeles study, which was directed by Cecil G. Zant, Los Angeles city schools' safety supervisor.

"Results indicate that practically the same progress in driving skill and knowledge will be experienced by a student trained by either the experimental method, using the Aetna Drivotrainer plus three hours of on-the-road training, or the California State prescribed course," the report states. California's standard course calls for six hours of on-the-road training.

On two of four tests used to measure student performance at the beginning and end of the program, Drivotrainer students showed significantly greater improvement. On the other tests and on a road exam given only at the end of the course, there was no significant difference in the two groups.

Driver attitudes, recognized as a major underlying cause of highway accidents, in one of two areas where Drivotrainer students make a better showing.

As a result of the study, the report states, "there is a greater awareness of the infinite scope of the contribution the Aetna Drivotrainer may make to the total of driver education."

Information For Veterans

Here are authoritative answers from the Veterans Administration to four questions of interest to former servicemen and their families:

Q. My deadline for starting school under the Korean GI Bill comes in November. I applied to start class this fall, in plenty of time. A family problem has come up so that I won't be able to begin until around the first of the year. Will I still be able to get in under the Korean GI Bill, since my deadline will have passed?

A. No. Under the law, a veteran actually must begin his Korean GI training before his starting deadline. Filing an application alone is not sufficient and the law grants no exceptions.

Q. A friend of mine applied to VA for disability compensation about two years ago, then failed to report for a physical examination when he was asked. He now would like to reopen his claim. Is it too late?

A. It is too late to reopen the original claim, since VA considers that claims are abandoned when the veteran takes no action to comply with VA's request within a one-year period. However, the veteran may file a new application. If he does, and if it is approved, his payments may begin from the date of the new application to the old one.

Q. If I buy a house with a GI loan, I understand I will have to make a down payment of two percent. Does the lender have any right to ask for a larger down payment?

A. Yes. The lender has the right to request a larger down payment.

than the two percent minimum.

Q. I am a disabled Korea veteran. If I apply for vocational rehabilitation training, will I receive the same GI allowances as a veteran training under the Korean GI Bill?

A. No. The vocational rehabilitation training program operates differently than the Korean GI Bill program. Under the former, VA will pay all training costs directly to your school and, in addition, pay you a monthly subsistence allowance. Veterans under the latter program receive a single check each month, out of which they must meet their own costs of training.

(Veterans living in Central Florida who wish further information about their benefits, should write the VA office at 42 E. Central Ave., Orlando.)

Explosion, Fire Kills Two Youths

WHITE CLOUD, Kan.—An explosion and fire in a gymnasium where a high school basketball squad was cleaning the floor killed two youths and burned eight other persons yesterday.

Mayor Bill Scheer said gasoline was being used as a cleaner. The gymnasium is in the basement of the community church.

Fatally burned were Charles Baskins and Donald Todd, both 14. Two other students—Claude Franklin Collins, 15, and John C. Bowen, 16—were reported in critical condition.

To avoid loss of Social Security benefits, disabled persons should inquire about the "disability freeze" at their Social Security office.

Stolen Statuettes Finally Recovered By Brooklyn Police

NEW YORK—Eight art treasures stolen from the Brooklyn Museum by two mischievous boys have been recovered, police announced today, but the lads' troubles are far from over.

Three of the valuable items—tiny silver statuettes—were located yesterday and officers found the others today in such places as sewers and incinerators where the boys, having grown panicky, tried to get rid of them.

In Brooklyn Children's Court, the youngsters were adjudged juvenile delinquents.

Parents of the two pleaded with Children's Judge Louis Lorenze for a chance to take the boys home.

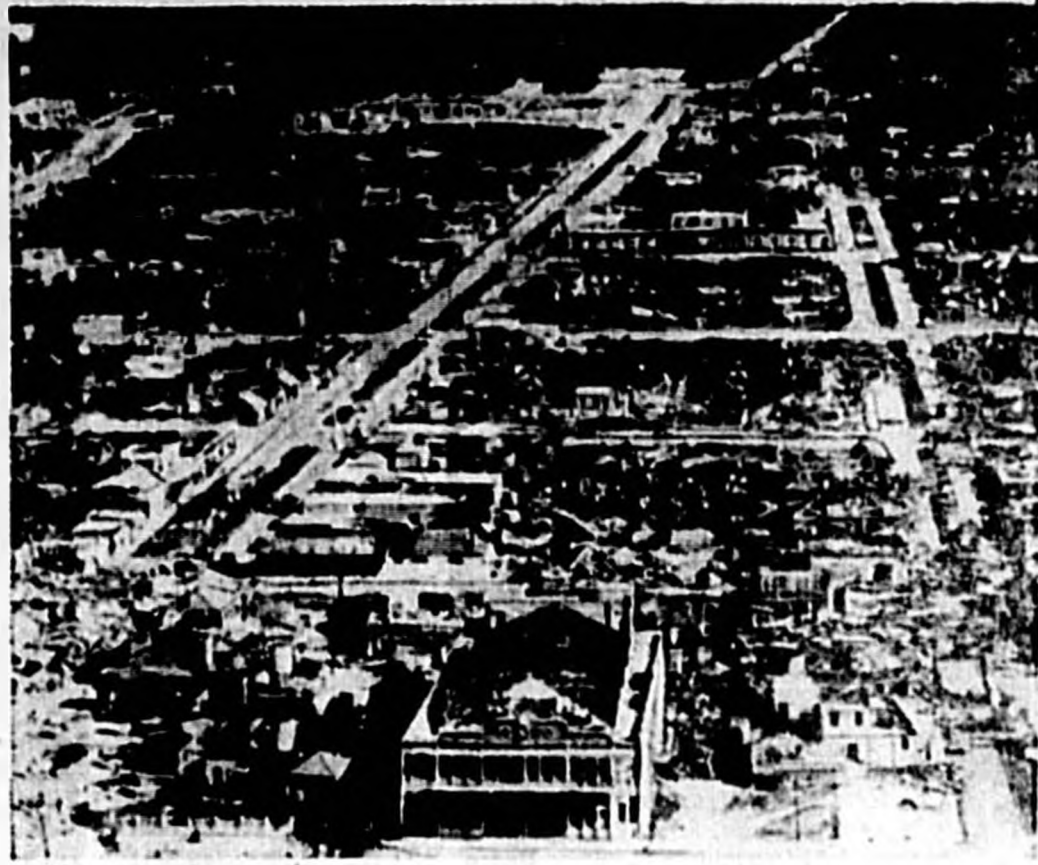

The judge, however, said he could not agree to do so because of the seriousness of their theft. He said the pair were high school boys and old enough to know right from wrong.

In addition, he said, one of them already is on parole for having fired six rifle shots at a police car, with one bullet very nearly striking an officer.

Several of the figurines stolen by the youngsters, whose names were not made public, had been loaned to the Brooklyn Museum by the Boston Museum, the Walters Art Gallery of Baltimore and the Seattle Art Gallery.

The boys, 14-year-old cousins, told police they became scared when they read of the furor their prank had stirred up, and they decided to get rid of the little figures, which ranged from 1 1/2 to 4 inches tall. They were part of a 30-piece exhibit in silver sculpture that had been loaned to the museum.

Museum officials said the antique figurines were irreplaceable and priceless.

After spending its first fury on the Tampian area, Janet suddenly regained strength and hit unexpectedly in other sections. U. S. PLANE TO HELP

MIAMI—A Pan American World Airways clipper, with two picked crews, will help evacuate homeless victims from flooded Tampico, Mexico.

The 10-passenger plane left Miami and will be based at Mexico City.

Reports indicate Tampico had thousands dead or homeless from floods after the area was pounded by hurricanes Hilda and Janet last month.

Electric Oven Catches Attention Of Russian Experts

BOSTON—An electric oven at eye level height, to avoid stooping, caught the attention of visiting Russian construction experts Wednesday during a tour of a housing development at nearby Braintree.

The 10 Russians, visiting the U.S. under State Department auspices, are spending three days as guests of the House Builders Assn. of Greater Boston and the Rental Housing Assn. of the Boston Real Estate Board.

Their program today called for visits to Greater Park development, a community or ranch-type project within the neighborhood of $12,500 at Braintree, about 10 miles south of Boston, and to Massachusetts Institute of Technology at Cambridge.

About a night-school bus taking time to Braintree, the Russians viewed in a happy mood and showed interest as the bus rolled past a football stadium and a sewerage system.

They took various notes and sketched rough diagrams of what they saw.

Bomber Crashes; Crew Is Safe

GALVA, Kan.—A B-17 jet bomber crashed 100 feet from a producing oil well near this central Kansas town Monday but the crew parachuted to safety.

The plane burned but there was no damage to the well.

The B-17 was a few hours before crashing and a crew member was quoted as saying it developed trouble soon after takeoff. The plane was from the Smoky Hill Air Force at Salina, Kan.

The crew included Maj. Robert Hughes, Greer, S. C., aircraft commander; Capt. William Beckley, Monmouth, Ore., observer; 1st Lt. Gerald Weimer, Titusville, Fla., pilot; and Capt. James Harding, Ashland, Ky., instructor-observer.

How Do We Stand On 17-92 ? More Cooperation Is Necessary

A lot has been accomplished there remains a lot to be accomplished.

An astounding turnout of Seminole County citizens attended the meeting of the Seminole County Commissioners last Tuesday when upward of 800 people packed the Seminole County Court House court room and "standing room only" was a premium.

Not only did the citizens attend the meeting, but they spoke up and asked questions, had their say, so to speak, on a question vital to Seminole county as a whole.

How do we stand now?

First: there is a motion on the record and in the minutes of the meeting held last Tuesday, placed before the county commissioners by Commissioner B. C. Dodd and seconded by Commissioner Brown Miller, authorizing the county to go ahead and spend money for right-of-ways from Five Points to the Orange County line and authorizing of the 5 mill levy for right-of-way purchases. Then, in addition, there is a resolution, suggested by County Attorney Mack N. Cleveland Jr., placed before the commissioners by Commissioner Dodd and seconded by Commissioner Brown Miller, "authorizing County Attorney Mack N. Cleveland Jr. to proceed with legal work connected with the condemnation proceedings and declaration of taking."

It is to be explained that the adding of a 5 mill ad valorem tax isn't a 5 mill increase in the tax bill for citizens in no sense of the word. It is an increase of only 3 mills since there was a reduction of 2 mills. The fund of approximately $125,000 from the entire five mills will do much toward paying for the right-of-ways from Five Points north to Section 902 when the purchase becomes necessary.

There is much to be done before the four-laning, widening and paving of the Sanford-Orlando Highway from Five Points south to the Orange County line. The right-of-ways must be obtained immediately, legal technicalities must be ironed out, plans must be inked and sent to Tallahassee from DeLand, contracts must be let, and then the work will actually get under way.

An interested and an alert public must keep its eyes open every step of the way to assure themselves that the job they want done is being accomplished as fast as possible and that every phase of the work is being expedited so that Seminole County will benefit to the tune of $800,000 worth of paving.

We want 17-92, from Five Points to the Orange County line paved this year, at least the contract let so that the work can get underway. Road Board member William Dial of Orlando has publicly told us that the contract would be let, even if it had to be done on Christmas Day, but Seminole County must provide the right-of-ways.

Dial has further stated that the rest of 17-92 would be paved "into Sanford" next year when the first portion is let and gets underway this year. We stand to profit more ways than one; economically, morally, and certainly physically because of the strategic placement of the road to save lives and limb.

We are pleased with the comment from W. Pitt Varn when he told the group attending Tuesday's commission meeting that the paving of 17-92 "would be a bargain even if it cost one million dollars." With the attendance at Tuesday's meeting, citizens can be assured that the project, proposed from Five Points to the Orange County line is the most important project ever to face the people of this county before.

Now that the Seminole County Commissioners have acted for the people of their county, what we need now is ACTION on the part of everyone concerned to see that the project in which thousands are interested gets underway as quickly as possible and that plans be forwarded in the utmost speed. Everyone must cooperate—County Commissioners—County Employees—State Employees—Citizens—everyone who believes that the life blood of Seminole County is wrapped up in the completion of a project that will not bring one, two, three or four people to our community—but thousands upon thousands of people, tons of necessary material for the building and advancement of trade in Seminole County—the shipping of tons and tons of produce—the bringing of shoppers to our stores—yes, everything that is needed to make a successful, forward looking, aggressive, and progressive county.

It's everybody's job now! Let's everybody work to see that the project is completed.

Let's Relax With Happy Dodgers

WASHINGTON (AP)—Let us relax with the triumphant Dodgers of Brooklyn this fine fall day and enjoy in full measure this old crowd ball world.

After seven failures, the Dodgers finally win their first world championship by beating the New York Yankees 2-0 in the seventh game of the World Series. The proud, gleeful Yanks are humbled. The Yanks sit in the plush seats of the night.

The Umpires and Umpires may not know that the Dodgers are the world champions. But there you are. And Ben Bricker (R-Ohio) has told a news conference nothing is impossible these days. "If a dog-eating should land from Mars," he said, "I would say, 'What have you been waiting for? I've been expecting you for a long time.'"

These are the days of surprises, catches and unusual happenings. Already, a 200 year before the elections, the politicians are stillish and presidential hopefuls are peaking from under their brows hoping the mark of a nominee will be stamped on them by popular demand of the people—this mark being two wings sprouting from a halo which hovers over a leg eagle.

These are the nights when the crap shooters, the faro players and the slot machine set will leave their gambling to crowd into a Las Vegas night club and listen to a Metropolitan Opera star—Patricia Munnell—sing "A Sleeping Beauty." Just incidentally, Miss Munnell appears in the Venus Room of the New Frontier Hotel wearing a curve-hugging costume which includes a pair of pink, sequined tangerine pants.

These are the days when the Boston Museum of Science is able to prove that two heads are not better than one, thus exploding another cherished saying. At least these two Boston heads are not better than one because both heads are on one turtle which ever can make up his mind. On head controls the two left legs and the other head supervises the right legs.

The Museum's education director, Norman D. Harris, says: "When he saw all four feet going in the same direction, it's just a happy accident."

These are the days when the 200-year-old Harvard University has had its first ever get its hands on a Frank Cleveland Jr. of Sanford took his mother's name and name from the top of a refrigerator. They found him later climbing the empty

Most Americans Are Good Risks

NEW YORK (AP)—The millions who buy on time—are they still good risks?

Some 1,000 finance men from all over the country are meeting today in Boston to discuss such matters. And in Washington there's headwagging over the steadily rising total of consumer debt.

But leaders of the firms that make the loans maintain that the vast majority of American families who buy on the cuff are still good risks—just as they've always been.

Roughly one half of American families make some installment payment each month—on house, car, appliance or personal loan. Whether that's good or bad depends largely on the individual family. Generalizations, or averages, can be quoted without proving too much. Credit executives say delinquencies still hold at about one per cent of total loans outstanding.

Companies represented at the Boston meeting of the National Consumer Finance Assn. deal exclusively with cash installment credit—lump sums paid back at regular intervals. They expect to make more than three billion dollars in cash loans this year.

This is a modest portion of consumer credit, which according to latest Federal Reserve figures totals $15 billion dollars, with the installment phase of it topping $6 billion. This credit and its rapid rise this year to record highs admittedly is one of the main props of the retail side of the business boom.

George P. Johns, a division chairman of the Associated Credit Bureau of America, says: "Retailers are keeping their bad debt losses to less than one half of one per cent. As long as they maintain that small loss percentage, there seems to be no reason to believe that there's any great danger in mounting consumer credit."

At Boston today Selby has praise for the ordinary American family's budgeting ability. He says it prides itself on meeting its obligations and "is the best judge of whether it has extended itself too far."

Concern centers largely in what Jack Dempsey will play the role of an assistant radio broadcaster in "Tomahawk Up There Lies Me," a film based on Rocky Graziano's life story.

Robb Roberts and Don Newcombe were the only major pitchers to hit the 25-game mark in victories during 1935. Roberts won 23 games and Newcombe 20.

HAL BOYLE Vest Is Making Quiet Comeback

NEW YORK (AP)—Paris and fancy, from the Oddity Almanac: Friends of the vest may be pleased to learn that this handy item of male apparel is making a quiet but steady comeback.

Time was when a clothing salesman sneered at you as old-fashioned if you demanded a vest. But some New York stores are now featuring the three-piece suit again. There are also signs of a revival of the double-breasted suit, the fat man's friend.

Gaudiest new bait to tempt the peacock male, however, is a new sheared beaver coat for men. Next year mink, fellows?

Everyone has heard of the tired businessman. But business girls get tired, too—and no wonder. The average girl typewriter jockey performs 41,430 typing operations a day. Incidentally high school students, who some critics hold have forgot how to spell, may also be in the process of forgetting how to write by hand.... 75 per cent of the students now use a typewriter in their school work. Children who bemoan the passing of the 42 hotel room might be interested in a 1790 tavern bill on display at the New York Historical Society... a breakfast of "cold meat with a pint of good beer or cyder" cost a dime.... "A good clean bed with clean sheets for a single person" cost six cents, or if two slept in the same bed, it was four cents each. Do you like to make a phone call while making a shower? The Tuscany brags it is the only hotel in town that has a telephone in every bathroom.

Signposts of the atom age: Carl Thrasher of Seagoville, Tex., built his own backyard atomic shelter for $2,600... complete with bed, electric heater, food supplies and snorkel-type ventilation pipes, it will hold 25 people.

Odd ways to make money: Mrs. Ruth Nagle, a Billings, Okla., farm wife, learned to "paint" with a sewing machine. Her needle stitched portraits and rural scenes now sell for $50 to $75 each.

Almanac statistical department: The average beginning pipe smoker uses 10 matches for every bowl of tobacco. A survey shows that 72 per cent of boys and girls 5 to 12 years of age prefer TV Westerns to space ship programs.

Despite the fact marlinas are getting Sahara dry, Americans are consuming more vermouth than ever. In the first six months of this year $14,318 gallons were imported, compared to 800,828 gallons in the same period of 1944.

Almanac health department: The common cold is still flourishing. About 80 per cent of the entire U.S. population will get at least one cold this winter. But two out of every three persons will get the sniffles three times before next summer.

The ordinary cold remains one of America's most expensive ailments. The nation's annual toll of 500,000 colds, it is estimated, will cost more than five billion dollars, counting medical expenses and time lost from work, or $10 a cold.

Microphone Put In Jury Room Examined By Group

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The Justice Department is investigating the planting of a microphone in a federal jury room in at least five cases tried last year in Wichita, Kan., the Los Angeles Times said today.

In a dispatch from its Washington bureau, the Times reported that the "bugging" of the jury room and recording of jury deliberations was done with the consent of U.S. Dist. Judge Delmas C. Hill.

The Times' story further asserted: The recordings were made by a University of Chicago Law School team financed by the Ford Foundation.

The jurors were not aware of the eavesdropping, but counsel on both sides of the cases involved were said to have agreed to the project.

Later, however, the recordings were played at a semipublic meeting in Denver, leading to the current probe.

The laboratory study of the American jury system is under the supervision of Dean Edward H. Levi of the law school.

The Wichita project was under the direction of Prof. Harry Kalven Jr., assisted by another lawyer and a sociologist.

Judge Hill reportedly concealed the recording apparatus in his judicial chambers and not only admitted but defended his stand to investigators, the Times' dispatch said.

In Washington, a Justice Department spokesman declined to comment on the story.

"So unthinkable, apparently, is the idea, that a microphone could be secreted in a jury room that legal experts so far have been unable to find any law, civil or criminal, against it," the story continued.

Mother Is Scared, Baby Unruffled, Bear Just Curious

THURMAN, N.Y. (AP)—Charley Billie, 14 months, is not likely to remember the day the black bear visited him. His mother will never forget it.

Mrs. Edith Billie said Charley suddenly began jabbering with enthusiasm in his play pen on the porch of their house in an isolated section near this Adirondack community the other day. She found him "sticking his finger out through the play pen slats, smiling and cooing." A big black bear was standing nearby on its hind legs.

"I grabbed up the baby and ran into the house and into a bedroom and slammed the door," she said. "The baby didn't seem to be scared at all, just wondering what I'd do."

The bear just plodded away.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

JOE TERRELL sends in a story that goes all the way back to Joe another Joe—Miller—and that is printed today in the hope nobody else will go to the trouble of mailing it to "Try and Stop Me" for another fortnight.

First citizen: Say, Mark, how did that ruckus with your wife come out last night? The whole town could hear you two giving each other what-for!

Second citizen: Aw, there was nothing to it. Inside of five minutes I had her coming to me on hands and knees.

First citizen: Do tell! What did she say?

Second citizen: She said, "Come out from under that bed, you contemptible coward."

The boss had dined with Wilkins and his bride. The following morning he observed, "That's a fine, hard-working wife you've got, Wilkins!"

"I sure have," agreed Wilkins. "I only wish I had a couple more like her!"

Citrus Fruit Supplies Substance For New Drug

By HERMAN H. BROWN, M.D.

BLACK eyes and other black and blue marks will no longer cause embarrassment, evidently, because of a new discovery.

A New York doctor has found a way to help the body resist bruises and clear them up quickly once they do occur.

Dr. A. Leo Lichtman says the treatment is designed especially for athletes. In fact, many of those treated in the tests, he explains, were athletes appearing in Madison Square Garden, down the street from Manhattan's Polytechnic Hospital.

To prevent bruises, he suggests that athletes be conditioned before their encounters with opponents—a substance found in citrus fruits, especially in the rind, is used.

These derivatives from citrus fruits strengthen the capillaries, the smallest blood vessels in your body.

A bruise, you must understand, is mainly a mass of constricted capillaries which permit blood to leak into surrounding tissues.

Even if they are functioning well, capillaries will break under a heavy blow. However, Dr. Lichtman reasons, healthy capillaries will resist damage better than overtaxed ones.

There Is Work To Be Done In P-TA For Today's Children That Won't Wait

(This is the second article in a series The Herald is running in cooperation with Mrs. Marion St. John, Seminole County Council P-TA president. This one is entitled "The P-TA Needs You.")

The P-TA needs you because there is work to be done for America's children and youth work that will not wait. It doesn't take a child long to grow up, and growing up under undesirable conditions may mean tragedy for the child and loss to the nation. By joining forces with 8,822,894 other citizens who are members of 39,008 P-TA's

You can—

1. Help build a nation of homes in which children are loved and parents and children alike enjoy a satisfying home life.
2. Establish good home-school relations so that the child's parents and teachers can do together for the child what neither can do alone.
3. Open the doors of educational opportunity to all children—and to all adults who believe that education never ends.
4. Guided by trusted leadership share in determining the kind of school program that inspires good teaching and effective learning. Most parents, it is safe to say, want the schools to give their children: (1) fundamental knowledge, (2) skill to find and hold a job, and (3) faith in God, their country, their fellow men and themselves.
5. Take an active part in doing something practical and effective about juvenile delinquency—not only in its treatment but in its prevention.
6. Add your voice to millions of other voices that demand and enforce laws protecting children and youth.
7. Make a strong and successful attack, beginning with your own community, on all influences that tend to destroy children's happiness and security.
8. Keep informed on the findings of those who have made a life-work of understanding young people, and see that these findings are put into practice.
9. Join in carrying out the pledges made to America's children at the Midcentury White House Conference. These pledges are all designed to help children develop the mental, emotional, and spiritual qualities essential to individual happiness and responsible citizenship, and to create the conditions necessary for this development.

10. Strive with like-minded men and women to hasten the advent of a world at peace.

In the P-TA you, as an individual, count and are counted upon. The great and growing parent-teacher organization will continue to represent the highest hopes and best efforts of the American people to preserve for their children America's heritage of freedom. There's a new and better world to be fashioned for all children and for all mankind.

Many persons in critical posts at home and abroad venture to say that the P-TA Way may be the way to world understanding and lasting peace. Already the parent-teacher movement has spread from the United States into Canada and across the seas to Great Britain, Germany, Japan, Turkey, the Philippines, and other countries.

This, then, is a cordial invitation to you to join the P-TA. Its goal is better homes, better schools, better communities. The P-TA needs YOU whether you are a mother, a father, a teacher, or any other civic-minded adult. It needs your ideas, interest, inspiration, service, strength and support.

America's children and youth are calling you. Don't fail to answer. They need the example of responsible adults working toward responsible ends. The P-TA offers you the best chance to give them this high human example.

Nashua To Race At Belmont Park For Big Stakes

NEW YORK (AP)—Nashua won't join Citation as a turf millionaire this season, but the Belair Stud's 8-year-old stallion will surpass one of the Calumet Comet's proud records today if he can cap the $25,000-added Lawrence Realization at Belmont Park.

When Citation ruled the 3-year-old race in 1948, winning 19 of 28 races, he collected $709,470 which stands as a record for one year. Nashua meets three 3-year-old opponents in the Lawrence, a race made in tradition that first was held at old Sheepshead Bay in 1888 with Eddie Arcaro up, the Belair beauty is expected to go off at 3-5, or perhaps shorter in the parimutuels.

A winner of seven $100,000 races this year, Nashua has headed $900,700 for owner William Westward Jr. With four starters by Lawrence will have a gross value of $27,550. The winner would gain $18,500, and victory for Nashua would hold his one year total to $718,200. Citation retired with $1,085,700 and Nashua's one-year total is $692,565, nearing $700,000.

Nashua has a tough assignment, for he must carry 130 pounds—meet in his career—and go a mile and five eighths. He won the mile and one half Belmont Stakes by nine lengths, but all eight starters had 120 pounds.

The Christiana Stable's Thinking Cap, probable second choice at 4-1, has only 114 pounds today. Breckinridge Long's Westward Ho has 125, and Mrs. Gerard Smith's Sweet Christ, a British colt, has only 110. Thinking Cap won the Travers at Saratoga for his biggest score this season and Westward Ho accounted for the Kent Stakes at Delaware Park and the recent Discovery Handicap at Aqueduct.

Little Lyman is trying desperately to pull himself together, after a season of rainy weather that retarded practice and ended in an epidemic of virus, in time to successfully invade a "hepped-up" Tavares team. "I believe our boys are good enough to take Tavares," said Greyhound coach Jim Payne. "But we just can't seem to be able to weather the storms of the powers that be."

Sugar Bowl May Land Army's Team

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—The Sugar Bowl may land Army's football team for its next game if the academy's rebuilding program produces an impressive season. The last major scholastic obstacle was brushed aside with the change of examination dates from Christmas week, when prebowl practices reach their peak, to late January. Sugar Bowl officials have made no secret of their longing for Army teams since five major conferences have committed their members to other bowls and big-time football has declined in the East.

McDonald Reason For Oklahoma's Winning Streak

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
One of the principal reasons why Oklahoma is able to whip Pittsburg and keep football's longest winning streak going through its 21st game last Saturday was half-back Tommy McDonald. Tommy scored two touchdowns on runs of 43 and 9 yards, raced 23 yards on a key play in another Sooner scoring drive and racked up an impressive 124 yards by rushing as Oklahoma turned back the big Eastern team 26-14. In addition he hit 2 of 5 passes for 39 yards.

Players Await Checks

NEW YORK (AP)—The situation in Brooklyn once again is normal but it'll be many a day before the last word is uttered about the Brooklyn Dodgers winning their first world baseball championship. The shouting and tumult that followed the Dodgers' final-game triumph over the proud New York Yankees had died long since. The great Flatbush fan off to the great catch of Sandy Amoros in the seventh game, the slugging of Duke Snider or the spirited play of Pee Wee Reese and Jackie Robinson.

JV's Outclass DeLand; Bring Home 13-6 Victory

By R. HUGH ANSLEY
The J. V.s for the fighting Feds completely outclassed the DeLand J. V.s last night in DeLand. The Feds capitalized on the mistake of DeLand: once a blocked punt, and again on an interception pass, to ring home a neat 13-6 victory. Most of the game was a seesaw battle of defensive work with Seminole dominating the game and keeping DeLand's back to the wall.

Phillies Sell Bob Kuzava To Columbus

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The Philadelphia Phillies have sold Bob Kuzava, southpaw pitcher who starred in the 1951 World Series for the New York Yankees, to Columbus of the International League. Announcement of the sale came yesterday a few hours after the Phillies gave unconditional releases to two veterans, first baseman Eddie Waitkus, in the major leagues for 14 years, and outfielder Harry (Peanuts) Lowrey, in the majors for 13 years. Each played with several clubs.

Main Question Is Will Michigan Finally Beat Army?

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP)—Army's point-a-minute powerhouse runs into Michigan's strong defense this Saturday in the resumption of college football's "million dollar" series. Michigan expects to fill its 97,000 stadium but the size of the crowd is not the main question. It's this: Will Michigan finally beat Army? Since it started playing football in 1879, Michigan has beaten Army 10 times.

Mack's Condition Said Satisfactory

Basilio, DeMarco Schedule Nov. 30 15 Round Title Bout

BOSTON (AP)—Welterweight champion Carmen Basilio of Coscatota, N.Y., and former champion Tony DeMarco of Boston were scheduled today to sign, at an afternoon luncheon, for a 15-round title bout Nov. 30 at the Boston Garden. Basilio will be making the first defense of the title he won by stopping DeMarco in the 15th round at Syracuse, N.Y., last June 18. He has won non-title bouts since then.

Tampa University Has Rough Practice

TAMPA (AP)—Tampa University backs worked overtime on its punting today and the entire football team scrubbed up its defensive play in getting set for Southeastern Louisiana Saturday night. The Tamps ended their rough workout yesterday and drills today and tomorrow were in the nature of sprucing up the weak points.

Your carrier is an independent businessman. It seems odd to a lot of people that a boy so young could be in business, but he is.

Under the "Little Merchants Plan" we of the newspaper sell him the papers and he goes and delivers them, collects and keeps his own books.

So, when you fail to pay him you hurt "Tomorrow's Leaders." Give him a boost and help him when you can, he's a good investment.

We of The Sanford Herald wish to take this opportunity to salute our carriers and carriers all over the world.

Committee To Report Local Moral Situation Confronting Youth

YOEMAN KIMME

First Nomination For Outstanding Bluejacket Told

First nomination for this week's column for outstanding bluejackets attached to Caspelle Squadron Five at the SNAAS is Yoeman 21c, Willie D. Kimme. Kimme has been with VC& since May of 1953 when he reported from the Naval Training Center at Memphis. Now 21 years old, Kimme hails from Washington, Missouri where he expects to settle after his release from the Navy next year. Bill's job as Savage Son of Sanford has been in the squadron personnel office. He has served as secretary, typist, and transfers and reports yeoman. Squadron deployment to the Mediterranean last year saw Kimme serving aboard the USS Coral Sea for three months and the remainder of the tour in French Morocco. At this writing Kimme's orders to Attack Squadron 106 based at Cecil Field, Jacksonville have been issued. He leaves VC& having earned the respect of his officers and co-workers by his friendliness and devotion to duty. While at Sanford Kimme has made full use of the recreational facilities offered by the USO both here and in Orlando. He attended All Souls Church in Sanford.

Paul J. Slime, general manager of the well known machinery and industrial supply distributing firm, Harry P. Lou, Inc., of Orlando, will discuss Community and Club Service with his fellow Rotarians among whom are numbered two brothers of the speaker, Andrew C. Slime and George A. Slime. He is well known throughout the state as a church and civic leader and "will be coming back home" on the occasion of his visit here, Monday.

Gov. A. Harriman To Visit States

NEW YORK (AP)—Gov. Averell Harriman, often mentioned as a possible candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination, will visit Oregon, Washington and Idaho next month. Although Harriman has said that Adlai Stevenson, the unopposed Democratic presidential candidate in 1952, is his choice for next year, it appeared probable his western trip would be accepted as evidence of his availability for the presidential nomination. Harriman said yesterday his trip was intended to help two old friends, Sen. Wayne Morse of Oregon and Warren G. Magnuson of Washington, both Democrats in the coming re-election next year. The dates for his visit have not been set. On Oct. 28 he will address a fund raising dinner in Des Moines, Iowa. All of his western appearances are being arranged by Democratic National Committee.

The Seminole County Ministerial Association met yesterday at the Seminole High School under the leadership of the Rev. David S. Carneth presiding. The Rev. O. D. Cressy, formerly of Old Hickory, Tenn., new pastor of the church of God of Prophecy, was elected to membership in the association. The Rev. John Miller of the First Baptist Church and the Rev. Perry L. Stone of the First Christian Church were appointed to study and bring recommendations concerning funeral processions. It was decided to hold the annual union Thanksgiving service at 9:30 a. m. Thursday, Nov. 24, at the Little Brown Church on the Hill. The host pastor, Dr. J. B. Root, is to arrange the program and special music. The Rev. Robert Speer of the Church of the Nazarene was appointed as the speaker for the occasion, with the Rev. J. W. Farham as alternate. Unworthy movies, salacious literature on local newstands, and profane news novels were discussed. The Rev. Milton Wyatt, Rev. Chester Plank and Chaplain Farrell Kempton were appointed as a special committee to bring to the next meeting a report on the general moral situation confronting the youth of the community. The Rev. Plank and the Rev. S. Cressy were commissioned to investigate the Big Brother Movement and bring a recommendation concerning it to the November meeting. At the request of the Seminole High student council, the association voted unanimously to accept as a privilege the responsibility of furnishing ministerial speakers at monthly assemblies, as well as for Holy Week and Easter Sunrise services. The Rev. Stone was selected as the assembly speaker for Nov. 10.

Pastor Of Church Tells Of Campaign To Begin Sunday

The Sanford Church of God this Sunday will launch an extensive Sunday School enlargement campaign, according to the Rev. H. W. Henderson, pastor. He said the local drive is being held in connection with a six weeks national Sunday School contest sponsored by the National Youth Department of the church. The Rev. Mr. Henderson said a "host" and "hostess" will be selected for each Sunday, to serve as an official welcoming committee. The couple having the largest attendance will receive an award. Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Johns will serve Sunday. Also the individual bringing the most new members over 25 will receive a wrist watch, now on display at Frank Noel Jewelry. The entire membership is showing great enthusiasm, Mr. Henderson stated, with almost every teacher offering awards for outstanding activity. This Sunday following Sunday School at 9:45 and morning worship at 11:00, a basket lunch will be served at the church. Mr. Henderson said anyone desiring transportation may call the parsonage phone, 580-W, and members of the transportation committee will be glad to respond.

Taxi Driver, 28, Taken Into Custody

Jose Juan Vegas, 28-year-old taxi driver, of Rosenhayn, N.J., was charged with "failing to have his car under control," when taken into custody on State Road 46 one-half mile west of the Geneva Bridge. Constable J. Q. "Slim" Galloway, who investigated the accident, said that the 1951 Chevrolet passed truck, traveling at an apparent high rate of speed, left the highway pavement for 120 yards and then crashed into a ditch. The accident, which occurred shortly before 3 o'clock this morning, caused property damage estimated at $800 but there were no injuries. Constable Galloway said that the driver had only yesterday brought a load of farm laborers to a south-of-Sanford destination from New Jersey.

Charges of "driving while intoxicated" were preferred against Ruben Ellis Walley, 30-year-old white Navy man attached to the Sanford Naval Auxiliary Air Station following a crash of his 1953 Mercury into the ditch on State Road 46. The smashup occurred five miles west of Sanford about 7 a. m. this morning when the automobile, traveling east, left the road along the shoulders of the highway, and then skidded into the ditch coming to a standstill on its top. # 17-92 5-Mill Levy Is Rumored Illegal

Chairman To Verify Monday Unable To Contact State Road Heads

The 5 mill levy for the purchase of 1700 right-of-way from Five Points to Sanford, according to information reaching Sanford, cannot be assessed. The new levy, approved by the Seminole County Commissioners at their last Tuesday's meeting, would be earmarked for the right-of-way. Seminole County Board of Commissioners Chairman John Meisch said this morning that he had heard that the proposed 5 mill levy was illegal but had not been able to verify it. County Attorney Mark N. Cleveland Jr. is out of town and officials in Tallahassee are not in their office today, said Meisch. "We will not be able to verify the news reaching Sanford until Monday morning," he said. Commissioner Ott Forsythe was the first to mention that the tax could not be assessed because of the fact that it is earmarked for a specific project and for specific spending. The right-of-way from Five Points to Section 92 has been estimated at approximately $118,000 in a letter to Seminole County Commissioners prior to the actual approval of the parcels by two teams of appraisers headed by C. E. Dickworth Sr., of Orlando. The 5 mill levy, approved by the commissioners, and funded by more than 100 citizens attending last Tuesday's commission meeting, would raise an approximate $125,000. If the 5 mill levy is approved for the Road and Bridge fund, according to one commission, 50% of the amount would go to municipalities within the county leaving about $100,000 for right-of-way purposes. At this rate, the commission said, it would take at least 10 months to raise enough funds to purchase the parcels from Five Points to Section 92.

U. S., Britain Submit Resolution For Second Confab

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—The United States and Britain proposed formally today that a second atomic-peace conference "be held under the auspices of the United Nations in about three years." The two Western powers submitted a resolution a few hours before the General Assembly's 60th annual Political Committee began debate on the peaceful uses of atomic energy. The resolution expressed satisfaction with the results of the atomic-peace conference held in Geneva last Aug. 8-20 and proposed that the Assembly continue the advisory committee, which planned the Geneva meeting. The proposal also noted "with satisfaction that substantial progress has been made toward negotiation of a draft statute" establishing an international agency to promote the peaceful uses of atomic energy. The statute, the resolution said, has been circulated to all interested governments for their consideration and comment.

They are Wee-wee, Mullet Lake and Cameron-Wright Parks. Different projects for each month of the year will be set, said the sportsman association president.
