Pay raise rejected Teachers' unions, district return to table

By VICKI DeSORMIER Herald Staff Writer

SANFORD - The Seminole County School District has rejected the recommendations of the Special Master who reviewed the positions of each side in the negotiations between the district and the unions which represent the noninstructional employees.

They suggested, however, that the two sides return to the bargaining table to try to hash out their differences.

Despite the request, the school board will be asked at their meeting tomorrow night to schedule a legislative hearing at which they will preside to hear the case.

"Because the district has rejected the Special Master's recommendation," negotiator Ken Bovio explained, "We have to schedule the legislative hearing, but we would like to return to the bargaining table."

The district, in a letter to the union representatives and to Florida PERC (Public Employee Relations Commission), reiterated that they wish to return to the table to "bargain in good faith."

Nancy Wheeler, executive director of Seminole UniServe, the organization which represents the three unions, said they will "always return to the bargaining table," but she expressed little optimism about what might happen there.

The first session has not yet been scheduled. but it is expected to be in early January.

Wheeler said it is the unions' position that the district has the finances available to give the employees the raises they have asked for, but Supt. Paul Hagerty disagreed.

"I believe it would be fiscally irresponsible to present the Special Master's recommendations as presented," said Hagerty with regard to the request by the unions for an increase in salary for employees.

The unions have accepted the Special Master's recommendation for a salary increase this year of four percent for bus drivers and two percent for the clerical and other non-instructional employees.

The district has maintained the position that they do not have the money to pay for the salary increases that have been suggested. The union says they have plenty of money.

Developers clear mall's final hurdle

By J. MARK BARFIELD Herald Staff Writer

HEATHROW - The final challenge to a regional mall here is about to be removed.

A settlement has been reached in the affordable housing complaint filed by the Florida Department of Community Alfairs and Sanford Housing Authority Resident Council that could cost Heathrow Town Centre developers up to $4.3 million to assure nearly 600 units of affordable housing will be available to mall workers.

The settlement of the two-year-old challenge is awaiting approval of the governor and Cabinet. No hearing date has been scheduled. No construction date has been set for the 1.2 million-square-toot mail west of Interstate 4 and north of County Road 46-A.

"It's fair," said Jonathan Hewett, attorney for the SHA residents group. "The developer has agreed there is going to be an impact on the community and one of the impacts is going to be a significant demand for low-cost housing Under the terms of the settlement, mall developers Heathrow Town Center Associates Ltd., which includes Beathrow developer Jeno Paulucei and The Hahn Co., will be required to conduct a survey of available affordable housing within 10 miles or a 20-minute commute of the mall. The agreement also requires the developers to use a survey method created by the East Central Florida Regional Planning Council Affordable Housing Task Force. The method calls for surveying individual apartment complexes to determine the number of available units within See Mall, Page 5A

The event is open to all Chamber members, prospective members and invited guests. To RSVP or for further information, phone 834-1924.

Sanford to review plans for improving use of waterfront

By NICK PFEIFAUF Herald Staff Writer

SANFORD - During a political forum at the Greater Sanford Chamber of Commerce before the city election. Mayor Bettye Smith told the audience, "Very soon, we will be taking a look at a master plan for the riverfront, and I think it's going to be a great improvement in the use of our lakefront area."

Tonight at the Sanford City Commission workshop meeting. Smith's comment will be carried out and the discussion will start.

Commissioners will review the Riverfront Master Plan during their workshop meeting today at 4:30 p.m. in the city manager's conference room on the second floor of Sanford City Hall, 300 N. Park Avenue.

Commissioners are not scheduled to take up the plan at their formal meeting tonight at 7 p.m. in City Hall.

City Planner Jay Marder is presenting the first overview on the project, in the form of the Riverfront Master Plan. Commissioners called for the riverfront

NEWS FROM THE REGION AND ACROSS THE STATE

Ranger, fishing partners arrested

FORT MYERS - A state park ranger and two North Fort Myers men were arrested after the ranger allegedly allowed the men to illegally fish in a state park, officials said. Howard Randolph Clausen, 48, was arrested Friday by undercover officers with the Florida Marine Patrol and charged with commercial netting in a state park, state environmental officials said.

Clausen, resident ranger at Lovers Key State Recreation Area in south Lee County, was released from the Lee County Jail on Friday after posting $250 bond.

Officers also arrested Robert G. Carpenter, 38, and David M. Carpenter, 40, on charges of netting in a state park. Robert Carpenter was released on his own recognizance Friday; David Carpenter was released Saturday on $250 bond.

Joseph Subic Jr., a captain for the state's Department of Natural Resources, said Clausen allowed the men "to do their netting for a dollar amount to make money for Christmas."

Stephens named police chief

ST. PETERSBURG - Darrel Stephens, head of a Washing-ton-based law enforcement think tank, has been named St. Petersburg's next police chief.

A five-year contract will guarantee the department stability and demonstrate Stephens' long-term commitment to the job, City Manager Norman Hickey said Friday in concluding a four-month search.

Stephens, who will be paid $89,000 a year, officially starts Jan. 25. He faces an organization plagued by racial friction, political factions and rotating leadership. "I think the racial tension that has been in the department and, to an extent, in the community has to have a pretty high priority," he said. "I think I've got to give the entire community a sense that the police department is a competent organization."

'Shots heard around the world'

PALM BEACH — Racial siurs allegedly uttered by Cincinnati Reds owner Marge Schott were "shots heard around the world" that will unite people against bigotry, the Rev. Jesse Jackson said.

Jackson said Saturday he will meet with baseball owners in January to push for a constructive plan to employ more minorities in management.

minorities in management. If no change is forthcoming, Jackson said he would ask President-elect Clinton to skip the traditional task of throwing out the first ball on opening day in Cincinnati. "We'll meet them at the turnstiles in April." he warned. "While we find the words used by Schott repugnant and a source of agony, it's the institutionalised racism and behavior found in baseball, football, and basketball that's works." Schott has admitted making some alurs and denied others. Without progress, Jackson said he would use his political clout in Washington and challenge professional sports special antitrust privileges, already the subject of Senate hearings.

SANFORD - The Knights of Columbus ap-pear to be profiting from their regular bingo games. The money is being put to good use throughout the community.

Several months ago, the Knights sent money originally allocated for use in a Columbus Day celebration to church organizations in the Dade County area, to be used in helping persons who had suffered losses from Hurricane Andrew.

The latest use of bingo profits have gone to four area churches who requested assistance. According to Frank

Joyce, bingo chairman, "We distributed $3,485 in our profits to organizations such as the All Souls Gymnasium, All Souls Thrift Bhop, Christian Bharing Center and the South Sem-inole Sharing Center."

He continued, "We sent the money out just before Thanksgiving, and we hope to send out some more financial support for pro-jects at various other organizations, possibly before Christmas, or as soon as possible."

Joyce commented, "We have been giving support like this for a long time, but some people have wanted to know more about what happens to the profits from our bingo games, so we want everyone to know the money is really being used to help people who really need this support."

are overdue, as events illustrate daily.

As to the former, the most severe impediment is not constitutional but inertial. As recently as 60 years ago inaugurations were held in March. Thus the "traditional" date of Jan. 20 is, like so many American traditions, a relatively recent innovation. To move it back even further, or to move the election date up to late December or early January, would be a surmountable legislative and constitutional hurdle - if the president threw his muscle behind it.

What that would require in turn would be more difficult, but would substantially improve the presidential selection process. The parties would have to end the current divorce between campaigns and governance. Presidential nominees would have to decide the composition of their cabinets almost as quickly as they decided the tactics of their fall campaigns. Both are eminently possible.

Changing the inaugural date would be child's play compared to creating a U.N. force. Even now, at a moment when everyone pays lip service to the need for collective action, member states are $1.2 billion in arrears on their regular dues and peacekeeping assessments. The United States and Russia account for two-thirds of the total, at $410 million each.

WASHINGTON - Perks, patronage, power lunches, and pork barrel politics have a bad name in the United States, but they should be utilized by President Boris Yeltsin to break the anti-reform gridlock in the Russian Congress.

That's the private advice Yeltsin heard from former U.S. Ambassador to Russia Robert Strauss. Though some observers were concerned about Strauss' appointment new industries having located in Sanford in the past 12 months. He listed eight businesses, providing at least 200 new jobs.

The area that must also be added is the big-daddy of all local growth, the proposed Seminole Towne Center Mall, on Sanford's western side. It will not only provide over a thousand jobs when operational, but will provide a great deal of employment for people in the construction, land clearing, and related fields while it is being built.

Near the Mall, plans are expected to materialize for the creation of new hotels as well as professional office areas that will again add to the construction and operational employment and economy of the entire Sanford area.

We welcome these new businesses and industries to the Sanford area. They have made a wise choice.

For others, there is still room for you in Sanford. Look at the future as you will, but from an economical and employment standpoint, the new year could be brighter than some might lead you to believe.

LETTERS Message in the bells

Christmas bells are ringing! Church bells will ring out this Christmas season in New York and in Florida, in Boston and in San Francisco. They will also ring out this year in Moscow and St. Petersburg, in the Ukraine and in Poland — places where not long ago church bells were silent on Christmas Day.

The bells are ringing to celebrate the nativity of the Messiah and to re-echo the message, "Joy to the World, the Lord is Come." The Christmas belis ring forth as a reminder that God is seeking to bring peace and happiness, joy and meaning to people whose lives have too often been clouded over with pessimism and discontent.

Perhaps more significant than all the holiday trappings, more pertinent than all the clamor and bustle of the season, are the deeper meanings implied by religious faith. Christmas — and Chanukah - remind us that it is time to crase the hatreds and sordidness which so often cloud much of our daily lives. It is a season for sharing, for making merry, a time for dispelling the drabness and harshness from our daily lives. It's a time for replacing the negative aspects of life and replace then with love and brotherhood, peace and good will.

As the Christmas bells ring out, we are challenged to catch a vision to rise above the material and external aspects of the season, and capture the deeper inner spirit of religious faith. The Christmas promise and hope is that we can bring to fulfillment in the world about us the promises of the angelic choir 19 centuries ago, "Peace on earth, good will between all people!" Our sincerest prayer this Christmas season is that all of us may become "peacemakers" in extending the spirit of brotherhood and understanding, of compassion and peace.

There are barriers to overcome. Sometimes the bells are silent. Sometimes the nations are too preaccupied with their own problems. But many millions in the Balkans, the republics of the shattered Soviet Union, in wide areas of Asia and Africa are waiting for the bells to ring. The Christmas message, "Peace, Good Will..." is God's measure for all peoples. May the leaders, the politicians, the bigots in all these areas open their cars and listen. The Christmas bells are ringing across the continents. May mankind have the humility and compassion to accept the message God is seeking to bring to them. For then we will have peace and brotherhood among the disen-chanted and fretful, and fear will turn to hope and BRAUFANCE

The spirit of Edward R. Murrow

Thomas Jefferson used to say that this peculiar institution - as he called constitutional democracy - would survive only if the citisenry were well enough informed to govern themselves. And that was the job of the press. Jefferson came to despise the press but even in later years, he forced himself to admit there was no other way for the people to have some idea of what was going on.

For a long time, most print journalists regarded themselves clearly as the primary couriers of essential facts and analyses. Television reporters skimmed the news and anyway, had no time to dig long and deep. Then came Edward R. Murrow, whose documentaries brought stoop laborers right into American living rooms and so deflated Joe McCarthy that the pall of fear he had cast for so long began to dissolve.

I saw Murrow once "live." Chain-smoking, he was about to do a radio commentary. I was not often in awe of anyone, but that night, looking through the glass into the studio. I felt as I did in the presence of Duke Ellington . The networks seldom do the Murrow kind of documentaries anymore - the kind that people talk about the next day at work. An exception is the Public Broadcasting System's "Frontline." Another exception is the work of Pamela Hill. For 10 years she was in charge of ABC-TV's bold and far-ranging investigative documentary unit, "Closeup." Now she is executive producer of CNN's Special Assignment Unit, where she keeps the spirit of Ed Murrow alive.

As part of a CNN series, "Democracy in America," under Hill's segis, Kathy Slobogin recently produced "A House Divided," a petrating look at Detroit - which during the past 30 years has lost 60 percent of its white population to the suburbs. Out there, the whites who fied "have started removing public basketball hoops to keep outsiders from coming in." Among those who had to stay --not only in Detroit but in other ghettos as well - the nation's "two class school system ... leaves minority children three to four years behind white children."

On the other hand, in Chicago there is actual evidence the American apartheid can be broken through. Fifteen years ago, the CNN documentary reports, a discrimination suit against the Chicago Housing Authority re-sulted in the court mandating that some families from the projects had to be moved out to racially integrated neighborhoods — some in the city, some in the suburbs.

"Over 4,000 families have been moved so far, the rent subsidized by the city." The 14th Amendment - equal protection under the laws - still has some life left.

A 10-year study of the families who moved from the ghetio to the suburbs under this court ruling found that "90 percent of their children were in college or working: and 95 percent had graduated from high school. In fact, across the board, the children from the projects who moved to the suburbs dramatically outperformed a similar group in the city. And parents who had never had jobs before were 50 percent more likely to be working than those in city.'

Cora McPhee, who was thus able to leave the projects, is first seen driving her children in the ghetto, and pointing to a gray shack: "Where that black garbage can is, that's where Selena found that dead body. If you don't stay in school and get grades. you're gonna end up living back here." Her 16-year-old daughter is on the Honor Roll, as is her son. The oldest daughter, her mother says, "has finished school, she has a degree, she's in the Navy and she went in as an officer."

What made the difference? Says Cora McPhee: "Staying in school and working came natural because now this is all they're seeing." In terms of cost effectiveness, subsidizing the rent of the families in the programs cost Chicago about half of what it would to keep the same families in a public housing project. What this part of the CNN documentary shows is that there is a lot of unknown potential among those who are so easily and coldly categorized as "the underclass." It's important to write about this, but since so many Americana get much of their information from television, journalists like Pam Hill are vitally important among those, print and broadcast, who are doing what Jefferson hoped would be done by the press. Cora McPhee, by the way, was once a pregnant teenager on welfare in Chicago. She now owns her own house in a racially integrated suburb.

pose a threat to the Yeltsin agenda of political and economic reform.

"He wouldn't think of inviting people over for lunch. 10 guys sitting around, or take them to his dacha," says Strauss. "He can get out to the areas they're elected from and speak for them or against them. He has jobs to give out. He has rewards as any president has. He can elect to give money to one area as opposed to another area (like) pork barrel projects."

Yeltsin recently had a reform program he wanted passed by the Russian Congress. But Strauss notes that Yeltsin proceeded without a lobbying campaign or any effective means to push his program. "The Yeltsin ad-ministration doesn't really have lobbyists." says Strauss. "He sent the program to the Supreme Soviet two or three months ago and they turned it down. The thing that amazed me was not that it was turned down, but he just sent this controversial proposal up. No preliminary work done on it. No one made calls as we would make calls on the (Capitol) Hill here."

Strauss believes Yeltsin needs a better source network to keep him apprised of what's transpiring among the warring factions in the Russian Congress. For his part, Strauss made a point of having good behind-the-scenes sources himself.

For example, Strauss assigned one of the U.S. Embassy's most highly regarded political officers the job of keeping tabs on one member of the Russian Congress because he had "a foot in every damn camp" and "knew everything." Strauss describes the embassy official as an attractive woman who "had a fine mind and knew how to use every asset she had, intellectual and physical."

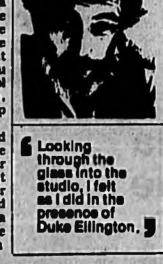

"I want you to see that guy every morning (and) I want you to see him every afternoon before he goes home so we'll know everyday what's going on in this Congress," Strauss recalls telling her.

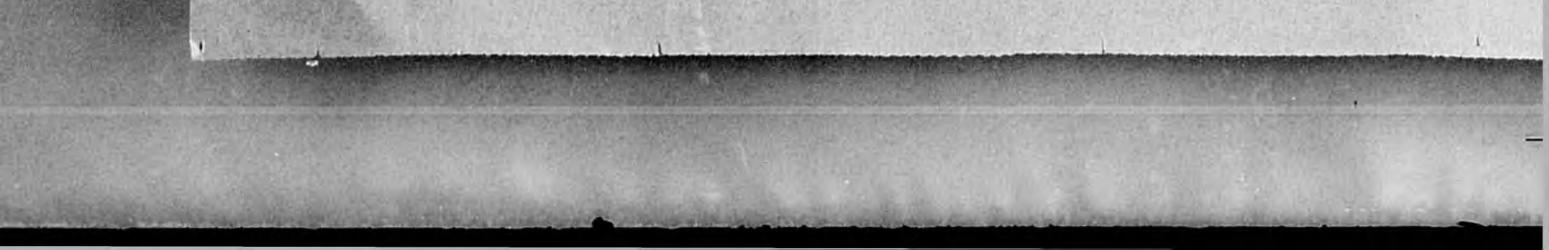

One day, Strauss personally met with this member of the Russian Congress, probing him for the latest inside information. What he heard in response confirmed just how effectively he had burrowed into the Russian bureaucracy. "You're asking me?" the Russian repeated three times in mock amazement. "You know everything you know, plus with that girl you know everything I know. Why ask me?

Strauss says that he before he left Russia. he and Yeltsin discussed the need to create a political party - an idea that Yeltsin is now seriously considering. But Strauss believes that it would bring both gains and losses.

"It's very appealing to say I belong to the people, I have no party," anys Strauss.

RUMA. III. (AP) - Three Amerthan nuns killed in war-torn Liberia-were remembered as devoted servants to the poor as they were laid to rest in a place of honor.

Archbishop Michael Francis of Monrovia, Liberia, presided over the Sunday service attended by more than 300 friends, relatives and members of their order.

"They could have left long ago and come home," he said. "They could have come back to their own country, the United States, where you have everything, but they wanted in a special way to serve the Lord in the poorest of the poor."

Sisters Shirley Kolmer, 61; Kathleen McGuire, 54; and Agnes Mueller, 62; were shot Oct. 23 outside the gate of their convent in Monrovia, the capital of-Liberia. Their bodies were recovered a month later by U.S. diplomate escorted by West African peace-keeping forces.

Kolmer's cousin, Stater Mary Joel Kolmer, 58, and another nun, Sister Barbara Ann Muttra, 70, were slain Oct. 20 while on a mercy mission. Fierce fighting has prevented their bodies from being recovered.

All of the nuns were members of the order of the Adorers of the Blood of Christ, which is located in Ruma, about 40 miles south of St. Louis.

Their bodies, each in a silver the others.

Family members took turns sprinkling holy water on the caskets, and mourners softly sang the hymn, "Glory Be To Jesus.

The coffins were placed in a section that's a place of honor for those who've distinguished themselves. Two other gravesites have been set aside there for the nuns whose bodies are still to be recovered.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. - Part town meeting, part teach-in and part radio call-in program, President-elect Clinton's national economic conference is designed to showcase his newly-formed team of top advisers and help fill in the details of his economic revival plan.

Clinton was scheduled to deliver opening remarks as the sessions got under way today and then moderate the two days of talks with more than 320 executives from businesses both large and small, labor leaders, community activists and academics from all 50 states.

The hotly sought invitations went not only to the heads of some of America's biggest cor-porations - Xerox, Dow Chemical and Citicorp — but also to small-business people such as Kathleen Piper, who runs the Pied Piper Flower Shop in Yankton, S.D.

ning economist at the Massachusetta Institute of Technology, and John White, the economist who drew up Ross Perot's austere deficit reduction plan, the conference will turn in the afternoon to the international economy.

Most of Tuesday was to be focused on short-term and long-term initiatives for improving the country's growth prospects, as well as such specialized topics as the environment and recommendations for overhauling the way the government does business.

Aides said a principal goal of the finishing touches on the program Clinton will present Congress in January.

Among the items yet to be nailed down are the exact size of the short-term stimulus program, how to craft Clinton's promised middle-class tax cut so it doesn't bust the budget and whether to balance that tax reduction with possible tax increases in other areas such as gasoline.

Clinton campaign director Mickey Kantor, who organized the conference, dismissed speculation that Clinton might be considering dropping the middle class tax 'cut because some private economists have argued it would send the wrong signal to financial markets worried about widening budget deficits.

"It's going to happen. We are going to have a middle class tax cut. The middle class got pounded in the '80s and there needs to be some beginning of reform in that ares," Kantor said

Tis the season for SOS wishes

Seminole Ornament Society (SOS) grants gift wishes for children and seniors. Organized in 1988 by a group of concerned Central Florida citizens, SOS was established for the purpose of making the holidays merrier for others less fortunate.

"SOS obtains the names and desired 'wish lists' from numerous agencies including HRS, Foster Care, the School Board Social Workers, Chapter 1 Migrant Program and the Good Samaritan Home for Sentors" said Bonnie Manjura, president. "The names of the children and seniors are matched with sponsor companies and individuals who in turn purchase the 'wished for' gifts.'

The traditional black tie "Holiday Ball" and gift frive was held this year on Dec. 6 at the Orlando North Hilton and Towers, where the corporate sponsors and their guests brought the gifts to representatives from the agencies for distribution to the children and seniors.

The evening of entertainment and celebration featured The Bob Cross Orchestra and The Doo-Wop Delites. Five hundred fifty people attended and enjoyed the music, food and fellowship. Heathrow Women's Club was well represented at this affair.

Sponsors Connte and Dennis Prebenda of Fann Emblem Company said that "in addition to the gifts and funds collected this evening, additional donations and gifts that come in go to fill all the wishes that weren't envered or for names that come In after the fact. HRS caseworkers who handle 600 to 800 cases of children, senior citizens, as well as caseworkers from the school system, turn in names also," said Arlene Walther, board member of SOS.

Dinosaur Museum

Mrs. McNeal and Miss cAfee's students have turned their portable classroom into a dinosaur museum. Student experts gave tours to their schoolmates on Thursday and Friday mornings, Dec. 3 and Dec. 4. Parents were invited to an Open House on Friday, Dec. 4 from noon until 1:30 p.m. Donated recycled materials were utilized to make murals, dinosaur eggs, palm trees and a volcano. The class had a fantastic learning experience creating the Dino-Museum while learning and writing about dinosaurs. The children drew and painted dinosaur murals, in Mrs. McNeal's class they wrote reports on dinosaurs, made fossils, constructed a time line to show how long ago each of the represented dinosaurs lived, wrote poetry and stories. These children represented first through fifth graders.

Heathrow lighting ceremony

Holiday entertainment was provided by choral groups from Lakeview Middle School, Heathrow Elementary School and Seminole High School along with the Seminole High School Show Band and Dazzlers.

Escorting Santa was a parade of antique cars from the Greater Orlando Model-A Club, the Heathrow Fire Department and a group of Santa's favorite clowns and elves. A display of more than 20,000 twinkling lights covered the grounds of Heathrow and the Market Square Shopping Center.

Holiday refreshments were compliments of Gooding's supermarket which is scheduled to open mid-December and Market Square merchants contributed the door prizes.

School news

Lake Mary Elementary School has lots of news:

Principal Sherrill Casey is happy to report to that Mrs. Janel Stormer, a first grade teacher who was seriously injured in an automobile accident. last sumemr, has finally been released to return home to Lake Mary. She arrived in time to spend Thanksgiving with her family.

"We all join in welcoming her back to Florida." Casey said. "She optimistically plans to return to work in January."

There have been questions regarding computers. To clarify, during the first nine weeks the majority of computers are utilized in the media center to teach computer literacy skills. A computer lab with a bank of 10 computers is still located in the media center. The remaining computers have been placed in those classrooms that did not have them for the first nine weeks. Good news is that the school has ordered five additional McIntosh computers. This will mean that by second semester, at the latest, all classrooms in grades three-five will have computers, and kindergarten-second grade will each have three computers to share among the classes.

Congratulations are in order for September and October Good Citizenship award winners as well as the students in grades three, four and five who made the A and B honor rolls for the first grading period.

Holiday in the park

Holiday in the park was celebrated Monday, Dec. 7, in the park by City Hall with entertainment by Lake Mary Dance Academy, "Soda Pops" — Miriam and Valerie's School of Dance Arts, Lake Mary High School "Madrigals," and local Brownie troops. Brandon Polley sang the national anthem. Mayor Randall C. Morris conducted the swearing in ceremo-

Falcons rout Bucs

TAMPA - Southern hospitality. Tampa Bay-style? Wade Wilson loves it.

Wilson threw for 324 yards and five touchdowns Sunday, leading a 35-7 rout that gave Atlanta (6-8) its first victory on the road this season.

Michael Haynes scored on receptions of 8 and 60 yards, and Andre Rison. Mike Pritchard and Deion Sanders also caught TD passes from Wilson, who's had four of the best games of his 12-year career against Tampa Bay.

The loss was the ninth in 10 games for Tampa Bay (4-10), which clinched a 10th consecutive season with double-digit losses. Last week, the Bucs blew a 24-point halftime lead in a 31-27 loss to the Los Angeles Rams.

Sanders, who leads the NFL in kickoff returns but got only one opportunity to run one back Sunday, got into the act in the fourth quarter. Wilson found him streaking up the left sideline ahead of Darrell Fullington for a 37-yard touchdown that ended the Falcons' scoring.

No. 18 Miami women romp

MIAMI - Holly Rilinger scored a game-high 29 points to lead 18th-ranked Miami to an 80-58 win Sunday over Florida International.

Miami (2-0) had jumped out to a 19-12 lead. keyed by Dellarcese Wilson's nine points. The Lady 'Canes stretched it to 33-25 at halftime on Rilinger's 14 points, including four 3-pointers.

Florida International (1-2) cut the margin to 39-34 four minutes into the second half. But Miami went on to outscore the Golden Panthers 13-2 over the next six minutes.

Albena Branzova led Florida International with 13 points and Karlin Sedlacek added 12. Rachel Matakas had a game-high eight rebounds.

Wilson scored 13 points for Miami. Vicki Plowden and Carla Harris each added 11 points.

COCOA - Did anyone get the license number of that truck?

The Seminole Community College men's basketball team ran into a buzzsaw in the form of long-time nemesis Lake City Community College and suffered a 114-84 loss in the finals of the Byrd Plaza Christmas Tournament at Brevard Community College Saturday night.

The game was not as close as the score indicated as the Raiders used a huge late rush to cut the margin to 30. SCC trailed 62-21 at halftime and trailed by as many as 52 in the second half.

Host Brevard Community College claimed third-place with a 111-89 victory over Patrick Air Force Base.

The Raiders finish their preholiday schedule with a 5-10 record. The team will not return to action until January 6. when they open their Mid-Florida Conference schedule at Florida Community College at Jacksonville. Lake City raised its record to 10-4. SCC actually controlled the early part of the game and led 8-4 after a dunk by Sanford's Jeff Hall. But behind the play of tournament Most Valuable Player Tony Atkins (a sophomore from Orlando), Kenny Simmons and Maxwell Kelly, the Timberwolves ran off 12 unanswered points and the rout was on Between the 13:08 and 6:29 mark SCC head coach Bernard Merthie used three time outs trying to stop the onslaught, but nothing worked as Lake City outscored the Raiders 25-10 during that period. Things only got worse from there as the Timberwolves continued to score at will and outscored SCC 21-3 the last 6:29 of the half. Lake City hit a remarkable 24 of 38 attempts from the floor (63.2 percent) in the opening stanza, including seven of 10 from threepoint range. Kelly had 14 points and Simmons 13 points, while Atkins came of with 11 of his game-high 14 assists.

MIAMI — As bad as the Miami Dolphins have looked lately, it's been a long time since their playoff chances looked better. Despite five losses in the past seven games, a win tonight egainst the Los Angeles Raiders would all but guarantee at least a wild-card berth for Miami (8-5). The Dolphins can even carn a division title for the first time since 1985 if they win their final since 1985 if they win their final three games and Buffalo loses once, or if they win their final two games and Buffalo loses

4-0. "Over the 11 years I've played with the Dolphins, they always play us tough," receiver Mark Duper said. "It's just like when we play the Jets — they can have the worst record in the league, and they'll still play us tough." The Raiders' Monday night record is 29-9-1. Miami is a distant second at 26-17. "I talk to the players about Meanwhile, the Raiders (6-7) needs something approaching magic to pull out a wild-card berth. Six AFC teams have at least two more wins than Los Angeles; six teams will make the playoffs. Another loss virtually eliminates the Raiders, and their final three regular-season games are all against teams with win-are all against teams with win-ning records. "As long as there is a mathe-matical chance, you have to hope," defensive end Howie Long said. While the Raiders are trying to recover from an 0-4 start, Miami has stumbled after winning its first six games. In an attempt to stem locker-room grumbling, several veterans last week called a players-only meeting. "It was time to do some soul-searching," said safety Lif-fort Hobley, a fifth-year Dolphin.

All about Poinsettias Showy plant most popular symbol of holiday season

The poinsettia was first introduced into the United States in 1825 from Mexico. And has been widely used and beloved as one of the most popular symbols of the Christmas season ever since. No other flower makes as brilliant a show of bright red color throughout the festive holidays as the poinsettia.

Despite their popularity, many homeown-ers seem to be a little confused about the actual flowers of the poinsettia. The true flowers are small, green and yellow and inconspicuous. The showy red parts, often mistaken as the flowers are not parts, often flower: instead, they are highly modified petal-like leaves which are called bracts. These bracts are formed below each flower.

When you go to the garden centers. florist shops or nurseries to select your poinsettias. here are a few tips to help you purchase a healthy one. First, select a plant that has green foliage or leaves nearly to the soil line. Older plants or ones that have been through some water stress will usually have some of the lower leaves missing. Foliage drop can also be the result of fluctuating temperatures, gas fumes, soil problems and insects.

Second, the red bracts should be large and extend over the foliage. The usual color of the poinsettias is red, but pink and white and combinations are available.

Third. select only plants with small. tight green button-like flowers in the center of the bracts. These little buttons will eventually develop into open flowers. If the poinsettia is already producing pollen and showing yellow, the plant has already finsihed a good portion of its display life and the colorful red bracts will soon begin to fade.

Once you get your poinsettia home, or if you received one as a gift, it is important to care for it properly so you will get the maximum use out of it. The poinsettia is especially sensitive to chilling temperatures and prolonged exposure to them will cause the plant to drop its lower leaves. The poinsettia should be placed in a cool place in your home away frm extreme heat or cold drafts. This means placing it away from radiators and other heat sources. The ideal night temperature is between 60-70 degrees.

The watering practices can determine the life expectancy of your poinsettia. Proper watering involves applying water in sufficient quantities to thoroughly soak the soil in the pot until it runs out the bottom and adding no more water until the soil aproaches dryness again. Your finger stuck inthe soil a few inches is the best indicator of soil moisture. If your poinsettia is in a plastic sleeve, make sure that water does not accumulate in the bottom. Standing water can cause root rot and should be emptied-out after each watering. Poinsettias should be checked for moisture freugnetly and not watered if the soil is still moist. If your poinsettia suffers from lack of water, some of the lower foliage will yellow and be lost leaving a leggy plant.

Poinsettia flowers can be used to decorate the home as cut flowers, too. To have them last as long as possible as cut flowers, first you must seal the cut end of the stem to coagulate the milky sap and reduce wilting. This can be done by immersing the cut end of the stem in hot water for one minute or flaming the cut end for a few seconds, then placing it immediately in cool water.

The poinsettia flowers should be cut a least 24 hours before they are to be used and stored in a cool place after sealing them.

Poinsettias can also be placed in the landscape after the holiday season for years of enjoyment. Cut off the faded blooms to about a 6-8 inch height and place them in a sunny area of your landscape about the end of February or when all danger of frost has passed.

As a nurse who has worked with older residents in a nursing home for many years, it breaks my heart to see families bring knickknacks, flowers and candy when residents are wearing when residents are wearing threadbare clothing. May I offer some holiday gift suggestions: - Lap robes, long enough to be tucked around the legs when sitting in a chair. Full house slippers - "mules" with no backs are always falling off. Better yet, get some woolly socks with skid-proof soles. Bathrobes with buttons are hard for some patients to manage - get one with snaps or a zipper down the front. Warm nightgowns are always appreciated. Men prefer nightshirts to pajamas. For summer, light-weight nighties are useful. Warm-up suits (called jogging suits) are big favorites.

- For patients who are able to walk, soft. flexible, lightweight tennis shoes are a favorite. Get the kind that alip on - without laces.

- Rich face cream for dry skin is apprciated, but Vaseline is just as effective and less expensive.

- If you give cologne, avoid those with heavy fragrances. (Some residents have a diminished sense of smell and tend to overuse colognes.) - Address labels with the resident's name, address and room number are good. Also, stationery writing papers with lines, envelopes and some ballpoint pens, as well as a nice supply of postage stamps, make great gifts.

If you are really stumped, ask the person what he or she wants. My own suggestion: Men and women who live in nursing homes appreciate material gifts, but the best gift you can give someone in a nursing home is a visit.

GERIATRIC NURSE

DEAR ABBY: I don't want to appear ungrateful, but after teaching in a public school for more than 25 years, I do not look forward to another mug. sculpture made of clothespins. a crocheted bookmark. or a nov-city plaque that says "World's Greatest Teacher."

May I offer some creative suggestions for those who wish to give a favorite achoolteacher a holiday gift: A gift certificate from a grocery store or one of those fast-food member them all and appl them at the table, your game is sure to improve.

There are many example deals. Today's isfrom Tip 185. Some players would double on the first round with that North hand, but with minimum points and 4-3-3-3 distribution, I don't approve, South, though, must double in the pass-out seat. North's two-club cue-bid shows a good hand. Three hearts is invitational; four hearts is aggreasive. South hoping to collect the J-10. This means that West's distribution must be 4-3-3-3 with four spades. That leaves East with only three spades. So it seems as though it is 4-to-3 that West has the spade queen. But check the points You have seen 13 from West. And what is the range for their one-no-trump opening? If it's 15-17, he cannot have the spade queen. If it's 16-18, play West for the queen - but don't be surprised if you're wrong.

By Bernice Bede Osel YOUR BERTHDAY Dec. 15, 1992

Advancement and recognition in your chosen field could come about in the year ahead through an unusual chain of events. However, they will be precipitated by your talents, not your luck. SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Conditions in general are quite unusual today, and there is a strong possibility you might derive some type of unexpected windfall from a least expected source. Be vigilant. Know where to look for romance and you'll find it. The Astro-Graph Matchmaker instantly reveals which signs are romantically perfect for you. Mail 82 plus a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope to Matchmaker, c/o this newspa-per, P.O. Box 91428, Cleveland, OH 44101-3428.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Don't be reluctant to discard an outdated program or plan in exchange for something that is more progressive. Ideas you im-plement today have excellent chances for success.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) Today, a quick decision, as well as prompt action, might be required to face an opportunity of a unique nature. Don't be afraid to make snap decisions.

PIECES (Feb. 20-March 20) Ideas or suggestions from a friend regarding social matters should be quite sound today; but in situations pertaining to your career, it's best to think for yourself.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Today and tomorrow could offer some unique possibilities for advancing your personal inter-ests, both business-wise and socially. Don't let opportunities alip through yourfingers. TAURUS (April 20-May 20) If you add an imaginative twist today to something that has always been a standard procedure, it could prove helpful to you and to others.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) With a little imagination today, you can do wonders to brighten up your surroundings, even if all you have to work with are someone else's asstoffs.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Instead of succumbing to presoure today, concentrate on heightening your faculties and resourcefulness. This will give you an edge over people with whom you'll be involved.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) This is a very good day to present your new ideas to the powers that be: If your higher-ups like them, and peripheral bendits are sure to surface. chances are this will be the case, VIROO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) A chance meeting today with someone you recently met could turn out to be very interesting. You have much in common, and a good relationship could result. LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Starting today, things could begin to move of of dead center regarding a matter you deem to be very significant. You may be rewarded for the inconvenience you've suffered.

BCORPSD (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) A friend with a vivid imagination could have a favorable influence on your thinking today. Your fresh concepts could succeed where your staleones failed.
