William Kroll

Kroll Elected School Board Chairman

Helping ease "growing pains" of the Seminole County school district by tightening business practices will be William Kroll's aim as school board chairman. He was elected this morning by a unanimous vote of the board.

Kroll said today the system's 42 schools continue to suffer the unprecedented growth of the past 10 years.

"We're growing. We still have pains. But it simply boils down to a lack of money. We're not able to go forward fast enough," he said.

Kroll, of Longwood, was elected at an early morning organization meeting. He replaces Roland V. Williams who has served in the post for the past two years.

District schools now serve 37,629 students in 27 elementary, eight middle and seven high schools. Rosenwald, a center for exceptional education in Altamonte Springs, serves 213 handicapped students. In the planning stages are an additional elementary school and a new middle school.

At this morning's meeting, the board also unanimously re-elected Nancy Warren, Altamonte Springs, vice chairman and reappointed Ned Julian Jr., Sanford, board attorney. Members voted to hold next month's meeting at 3 p.m. Dec. 14 at the board offices, 1211 S. Mellonville Avenue.

Kroll, a sales representative with Commercial Chemical Products, Sanford, was first elected to the board five years ago and served as chairman during the 1980-81 school year. His plans for the upcoming term as chairman include "reinforcement" of board meeting procedures already in use.

"We are the largest business in Seminole County. These are business meetings and we need adequate time to prepare for them," he said.

He added that the state Department of Education is scheduled to conduct a school-plan survey in the district this spring. The results of that study, which are expected to be released near the end of the school year, will determine what directions the board will take to increase funds.

Kroll said the last department study, which was conducted here in 1978, showed the district needed $47 million worth of improvements.

"We're still implementing the 1978 study. We were $47 million behind then and will probably be $90 million or $100 million behind now," he said.—Mary Matlack

3 Deaths Shatter Family

By Jane Casselberry
Herald Staff Writer

The loss of a beloved family member is always a traumatic event, but when the Ludwig family sits down for Thanksgiving dinner this year, three familiar faces will be missing.

The untimely death of a brother, father and mother within the past seven months have left the remaining family members shaken emotionally and financially.

The sudden death of their mother, Ruth Ludwig, 42, of Osteen early Friday was the latest in the string of tragedies faced by the five surviving children.

Their brother, Thomas Ray, 23, of 314 W. South St., Sanford, died to death on April 9 as he was driving himself to Central Florida Regional Hospital for treatment of an injured arm and was discovered in his pickup truck near the hospital by a patrolling policeman. Ludwig left a wife, 18-month-old son and a stepdaughter, 5, and had no insurance.

Concerned friends of the family have set up a Ruth Ludwig Memorial Fund at First Federal of Seminole, 312 W. First St., Sanford, to help with burial expenses.

the oldest of the children, said his father, Earl Sr., who died Sept. 17 at the age of 48, had been in bad health for several years and had suffered three heart attacks. He was unable to work and had sought disabled benefits for five years, his son said.

"When he finally got them he died and they took back the two Social Security checks that came after he died," he added. He had a little insurance, but the family still owes on funeral expenses incurred when he died. He said his mother had very little insurance.

Eddie, who works for a subcontractor for the school board doing carpentry and general maintenance, said his mother had asthma and bad legs and was not able to work either. She had been living off food stamps and $75 a month from welfare since her husband died and was trying to get on Social Security. The Ludwigs moved to Osteen 15 years ago from DeBarv and Mrs. Ludwig recently had learned the house that they rented was being sold and she would have to find a new place to live, and this was upsetting to her, he said.

Susan Elaine Ludwig, 18, was still living at home looking after her mother and driving her to the doctor in Daytona.

Two other children, Mildred May Ludwig, 17, and Lori Ann Dozier, 21, both live in Osteen, while Carolyn Rayfield, 23, lives in Edgewater.

Mrs. Ludwig is also survived by 10 grandchildren.

No Danger, Researcher Says

State Testing Private Wells

By Donna Estes
Herald Staff Writer

State chemists in Jacksonville are today testing 21 water samples taken from seven homes' private wells near the Mayfair Country Club. They are looking for traces of the suspected cancer-causing chemical EDB, found Friday in water from Sanford wells at the golf course.

Meanwhile, Dr. John Darby called it "fantastic" today that anyone could be spared about the minute amount of EDB found in three of the city of Sanford's wells.

"We have used EDB here for the 20 years I've been here and for about 60 years in Florida and I've never heard of a single case of cancer or genetic damage as a result," said Darby, who has headed the Central Florida Research and Education Center of the University of Florida on Celery Avenue in Sanford for 20 years.

"The acceptable level is said to be .1 part per billion," Darby said, adding this translates to 1 part per 110,000 gallons of water. If three of Sanford's wells shows up to .5 parts per billion, five times the acceptable level, that would only mean 1 drop per 22,000 gallons of water," he said.

"All that has been found is that some laboratory animals have gotten cancer from EDB, not humans," Darby said.

Meanwhile, the problem with the Sanford wells may bring about a change in preliminary plans for the location of a new well for the city of Lake Mary.

The city commission there has been considering building its first well and water plant near the golf course, but that may change, said Mayor Walter Sorenson.

Sorenson said he expects comprehensive tests will be made of underground water quality before a new city well is dug and said it would seem logical that a site elsewhere would now be preferred.

The samples from the wells at seven homes near the Mayfair golf course were taken by inspectors from the Seminole County Health Department Monday afternoon and shipped by special courier to the Jacksonville laboratory of the state Department of Health and Rehabilitative Services. Results from those tests are expected by Wednesday at the latest.

Samples were taken from wells at five homes on Far Place and two homes on W. Crystal Drive, said Russ Miller, director of environmental health for the county health department.

The action came after results were announced Monday that a second series of tests on six of seven wells, owned by the city of Sanford, at the golf course showed unacceptable levels of ethylene dibromide in three of them. The three wells closed by order of Sanford City Manager W.E. "Pete" Knowles, last Friday, provided part of the city's water supply.

Upon learning of possible EDB contamination Friday, Knowles also ordered the city's water distribution shifted to the eight city wells in the U.S. 17-92 area.

The tests showed that levels of the pesticide in the water at the three wells ranged from .2 parts per billion to .5 parts per billion, two to five times the level considered safe.

Dr. Jorge Deju, director of the county's Department of Health and Human Services, said the acceptable level is .1 part per billion. Deju and Knowles are stressing that the city's water supply is safe.

Not Punishment, Department Says

Cop Demoted For Interest In Union, Organizer Says

By Charles Cobb
Herald Staff Writer

The head of a police union says a Sanford police officer who expressed interest in joining the union was demoted from duty in a patrol car to walking a beat.

Herb Shea, assistant chief of the Sanford police department, confirmed that the officer had been reassigned to a foot beat but denied it was punishment for his interest in the union.

J. Randall Blankenship, business manager of the Orange County Police Benevolence Association, Inc., said the officer was one of three Sanford police officers who approached the union about two weeks ago in an effort to start a drive to unionize the force.

In response, the association mailed out a letter, brochure, membership card and an authorization card to about 35 patrolmen and sergeants on the Sanford police force, Blankenship said.

"One of the officers who came to me was a patrol officer. He's been reassigned to foot patrol. He'll be walking the lake front, freezing his ... off," he said.

Blankenship declined to identify the officer.

"He's already been retaliated against. I'm sure there would be more retaliation if I divulged his name."

Blankenship said the incident was typical of the type of "favoritism" practiced on the force and is one of the chief complaints of officers.

"There's a lot of favoritism, some people getting select jobs, others getting less attractive assignments like foot beats," he said.

Blankenship said officers also complained of a lack of communication between Sanford Police Chief Ben Butler and the officers and described Butler's attitude as "paternalistic."

"You have an administrator who plays the father role, who says 'I'm the chief of police. I know what's best for you. I'm not interested in your opinions,'" said Blankenship.

However, he said, Sanford officers "seem to be pretty well satisfied with their pay and benefits package."

Shea said the officer Blankenship referred to was reassigned from duty in a patrol car to a foot beat because he "can pretty well sniff out drug problems" and could thus more effectively on foot than in a patrol car.

Shea also declined to identify the officer, saying he did not want to "single him out."

He said that favoritism was not practiced on the force. "I've got a good friend walking a beat."

Shea said he was not aware of any problems on the force. "None of the officers have seen fit to come to me or Chief Butler with any problems."

He denied there was a lack of communication between Butler and the officers. "He's paid to make decisions. But he wants input from the officers and we get it."

"If some officers feel there are problems, they have the right to seek to organize," said Shea.

Blankenship said so far about six or seven Sanford officers have returned the authorization cards. He said if 30 percent return the cards the association will be allowed to call an election that will determine whether the union may represent the police.

He said an attempt by the group to unionize the police force in 1977 failed by two votes.

Thanksgiving Openings, Closings

Thursday will be a day for giving thanks for blessings, but those who will be getting a four-day weekend have extra cause to celebrate.

Getting both Thursday and Friday off will be Seminole County school children, county and state office employees, city employees from Sanford, Lake Mary, Altamonte Springs, Oviedo, Longwood, and Winter Springs. It will be Thursday only for the employees of the city of Casselberry, federal offices, the post office and banks.

There will be no trash pickup on Thursday or Friday this week for Sanford and Altamonte Springs residents. The normal collection schedule will resume next week.

If you had rather shop than eat, before you head out with list in hand, you'd better give the store a call. Some are closing and others are not. At Sanford Plaza, J. C. Penney's will close at 5 p.m. Wednesday and won't reopen until 8 a.m. on Friday, and Publix will be closed Thanksgiving. Kmart in Sanford will be closed, but nearby Zayre Department Store will be opening at 9:30 a.m. Thursday for a 72-hour sale remaining open through the night. Winn-Dixie super markets will be closed Thursday, but Fairway Market will be open. The Park & Shop's two Sanford locations at Park Avenue and Sanford Avenue will also be open Thursday, as well as Walgreen's and Eckerd drug stores.

Mrs. Reagan is visiting her ailing mother in Phoenix and did not attend.

Dallas held a ceremony today honoring Kennedy, about a block from where he was killed, but county Democratic Party officials said services next year would be held on Kennedy's birthday, May 29, rather than the day he died.

New York Gov. Mario Cuomo ordered flags on state buildings to be flown at half staff today.

Comment from Moscow focused on presidential assassins, but newspapers in Sydney and at the Vatican paid tribute to the late American leader.

The historical impact of Kennedy's tenure will be discussed in a speech today by his former press secretary, Pierre Salinger, at a University of San Francisco forum.

The ABC Paris bureau chief said his address would deal primarily with "what would have happened if Kennedy had lived."

"His star is still too bright" to do an unbiased history, Salinger said. "I think it will be another 20 years before his true accomplishments come out."

World Remembers JFK 20 Years After

By Barbara Williams
United Press International

World leaders, the Roman Catholic church and Americans nationwide commemorated the assassination of John Fitzgerald Kennedy 20 years ago today and hailed the 35th president as "a major protagonist of peace." His wife and mother mourned privately.

Most of the Kennedy family early today visited his grave at Arlington National Cemetery. President Reagan joined the family at a special mass in the nation's capital and memorial events will be held throughout the country.

The late president's mother, Rose, and his wife, Jacqueline Onassis, attended a mass near the family compound on Cape Cod. His daughter, Caroline, attended the Washington event, before flying to Hyannis Port. His son, John, is in India doing graduate work.

Sen. Edward Kennedy, D-Mass., and family members gathered at the grave in Arlington Cemetery near Washington before it opened to the public.

The Kennedy family and Reagan attended a special mass at Holy Trinity Roman Catholic Church in Georgetown that will be sung by Archbishop James Hickey and feature a tribute by the senator

IN BRIEF

Five Indicted In Record Tax Fraud Case

NEW YORK (UPI) — Five men are charged with pulling off the nation's biggest tax scam by allegedly providing more than $130 million in phony write-offs to top business executives and celebrities, including actor Sidney Poitier and composer Henry Mancini.

None of the 88 investors, all in the 50 percent tax bracket, has been charged in the investigation, U.S. Attorney Rudolph Giuliani said.

He said that all of the limited partners or customers who took the tax write-offs would probably be audited by the Internal Revenue Service.

The case was "the most substantial tax fraud case ever criminally charged," Giuliani said.

The five operated Sentinel Financial Instruments and Sentinel Government Securities, which purported to trade in treasury securities in 1979 and 1980, the indictment said.

The indictment charged that "no securities were actually bought or sold." The two Manhattan security houses created fictitious trading losses and phony expenses for use as tax deductions by its customers, the indictment said.

Hijacker Punched Out

CHICAGO (UPI) — A man claiming to have a bomb and raving about religion commandeered a jetliner and demanded to speak to Democratic presidential candidate Jesse Jackson but passengers punched the hijacker, sat on him and tied him up with belts.

The danger ended for 36 passengers and a crew of five aboard Republic Airlines Flight 275 bound from Detroit to Chicago Monday when the hijacker, who walked down aisles punching passengers, smacked the wrong man.

The passenger struck back with a knockdown punch, and other passengers swarmed to subdue the hijacker.

Investigators later found that a tote bag the hijacker claimed contained a bomb held only books written in Arabic.

Lily To Appeal Award

COLUMBUS, Ga. (UPI) — The Eli Lilly Co. will appeal a federal jury's award of $6 million in the case of a man who says the company is accused of negligence in the deaths of "hundreds of people" who took the arthritis drug Oraldex.

Community Thanksgiving Service Set Wednesday

A community Thanksgiving service will be sponsored by the Sanford Ministerial Association at 7 p.m. Wednesday at the Central Baptist Church, Sanford.

Principal speaker will be Capt. Mike Waters of the Salvation Army, president of the ministerial association. Other members of the association will also participate in the program and the Seminole High School Chorus will sing.

Offering from the service will go to the Sanford Christian Sharing Center.

Oil Spill

Birds, Shellfish Threatened By Spreading Crude

NEWPORT, Ore. (UPI) — Waves pounded a Japanese freighter wrecked off the coast today, threatening to break up a main fuel tank and spread more oil on a contaminated estuary where endangered brown pelicans and other birds were killed by oozing crude.

"It looks very bad," said Dale Snow, marine biologist with the Oregon Department of Fish and Wildlife. He said many birds brought in by volunteers Monday were beyond saving.

"It looked like somebody had dumped them in a barrel of tar. I'm in my 29th year and I've seen nothing to compare with it before."

The oil slick of 3,000 gallons from the 350-foot Blue Magpie spread 4 miles up the coast and 5 miles up the Yaquina River.

Volunteers tried desperately to save 19 endangered California brown pelicans and at least 200 other birds and one seal were covered by the fuel. A total of 13 birds had died by late Monday, including four pelicans. Shellfish beds also were threatened.

The ship rammed a 15-foot-high rock jetty at Yaquina Bay late Saturday and stormy seas smashed it into three parts. Nineteen South Korean crewmen were plucked from the deck by Coast Guard helicopters.

The midship section was under water Monday, the bow was stuck on the rocks and the stern was "bobbing around," Coast Guard Lt. Kristin Quann said.

Waves pounded over the remains and Coast Guard Chief Lou Parris said that could cause more damage.

"possibly knocking the bow off the jetty and rupturing the main tank in there."

The Blue Magpie had a capacity of up to 75,000 gallons of Bunker C oil for fuel and 9,000 gallons of diesel, but Coast Guard officials were not sure how much oil was still in the ship when it reached the jetty. Officials estimated the ship had leaked about 3,000 gallons.

Tar balls had become wrapped in kelp and were causing a "stain" on the beach, Lt. Quann said.

Crews used containment booms to attack the thick, molasses-like substance. The cleanup was expected to cost $1 million.

Traffic into and out of the bay was restricted. Rep. Les AuCoin, D-Ore., said he was told that poor weather would prevent an attempt at pumping the remaining fuel out of the ship until Wednesday at the earliest.

The Blue Magpie's captain, Kim Gap Bong, was repeatedly warned of the danger of trying to enter the harbor through 15-foot seas, the Coast Guard said. The captain replied several times that he had to get out of the storm. Coast Guard logs showed.

The ship, valued at $10 million and owned by Kenyu Shipping of Japan, was en route to Vancouver, B.C., after unloading Salvadoran coffee in Long Beach, Calif. when it tried to put in at Newport to avoid the stormy seas. It was registered in Panama and chartered by a Danish corporation, officials said.

...Wells Tested For EDB At 7 Homes

Deju said Monday that he doesn't believe any of the nearly 10,000 families served by the Sanford water system have been harmed.

The Sanford water system serves not only Sanford residents, but also much of Lake Mary, Indian Mound Village and the Midway-Canaan area.

State officials say that in the past, the main concern about EDB was the danger posed to workers handling the concentrated chemical. "If these workers drink or breathe too much EDB," state spokesmen say, "they can be quickly poisoned. However, the amount of EDB found in well water has been far below the amount that will make anyone immediately sick."

"However, EDB is a carcinogen and mutagen, which means it could cause cancer or birth defects. The EDB levels found in some wells are known to increase the risk of cancer. In the case of adults, it would take many years of drinking EDB contaminated water to increase the risk of cancer. The risk may be greater for young children," state officials say.

The Sanford wells determined to have unacceptable EDB levels are located on fairways 17, 14 and 13 at the golf course, said Rudy Sellen, manager of the country club, today. Tests on three other city wells at the site did not show the presence of the chemical.

One of the wells there, down for repair, has not as yet been tested, Deju said.

The 63-to-64 year old country club and golf course is owned by the city, but leased to Seminole Clubs Inc., a corporation whose major owners are Mr. and Mrs. Jack Daniels of Longwood.

Sellen said the last application of EDB to the golf course was last July. On Sept. 15, the state banned the use of EDB as a soil fumigant.

"EDB is probably the only chemical there is to treat nematodes and mole crickets," Sellen said, "and it is used at most if not all golf courses."

The golf course and country club which also uses Sanford city water has not been effected by the shut down of the three wells. "We've got excellent play this morning," Sellen said.

Sorensen reminded that Lake Mary's consulting engineer, Paul Porter, reported to the city commission last week that Sanford's wells are already drawing down the aquifer in the Country Club Road area and a different site might be better for Lake Mary.

Lake Mary officials have discussed with principals of Residential Communities of America the possibility of donating a well and water plant site in their planned new "The Hills at Lake Mary" which borders the Mayfair golf course on Rantoul Lane.

Sorensen said that other possible well sites are in the area between Rantoul Lane and Rinehart Road and on city property abutting Rinehart Road.

With Sanford's current problem, it may be well to go to a plan suggested by RCA principal Bill Goodman where Lake Mary's water supply when constructed could back up Sanford's, Sorensen said.

"I don't have a problem with that," he said. "Perhaps the backup of the two systems for each other would be a good idea."

Around the state, more wells have been found contaminated by EDB.

Five more Brandon families were ordered to stop drinking water from their wells Monday when unacceptable levels of EDB were found.

Unsafe levels of ethylene dibromide were also found in irrigation wells on two Hillsborough County golf courses, bringing the total of EDB-contaminated wells discovered in Hillsborough County to 18, State Department of Agriculture officials said Monday.

Water from the golf course wells, at the Temple Terrace golf course and a University of South Florida golf course, is not consumed. But the county will sample drinking water wells in surrounding areas, health department officials said.

As the test results were released, about 100 residents met in Brandon with members of the state House Committee on Community Affairs to discuss EDB contamination.

Several farmers charged that state officials had blown the contamination problem out of proportion.

Plant City farmer Harry Carlton, accused Rep. Sidney Martin, who chairs the committee, of creating "mass hysteria" about EDB.

There is no scientific proof, he noted, that EDB causes cancer in humans.

Rep. Ray Liberti, a committee member from West Palm Beach, responded that even though there is no proof EDB is dangerous to humans, "if you know that something is cancer-causing, you don't wait for a body count."

Jury To Watch Video

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Former EPA chief Anne Burford, testifying against a woman she helped fire from the agency, says Rita Lavelle held up her right hand and swore she did nothing unethical in a toxic waste case involving a previous employer.

Mrs. Burford, who resigned as head of the Environmental Protection Agency earlier this year, testified Monday in the federal court trial of Miss Lavelle, fired head of the EPA Superfund hazardous waste cleanup program.

Prosecutors today were to expect to show the jury videotapes of Miss Lavelle's testimony before House and Senate panels investigating Superfund.

Car Found In Longwood Lake; Driver Being Sought

Seminole County sheriff's deputies were searching today for the driver of a car found Sunday partially submerged in a lake behind Sobick's business office on U.S. Highway 17-92 in Longwood.

Seminole County sheriff's investigators were called to the scene by Longwood police at 10:55 a.m. The officers determined the gold Toyota was registered to Edwin Rosenfeld of 4821 Elderwood Lane, Orlando.

Rosenfeld was called to the scene and identified the car as his. He told the officers the car had been in the possession of Christal Brodie, 56, of Sanford, a report said.

In a phone interview, an employee of Ross Supply, Inc. of Longwood, where both Rosenfeld and Mrs. Brodie work, said that Mrs. Brodie was last seen at the end of the work day Friday.

Investigators are searching for Mrs. Brodie and say the case looks suspicious.

Mrs. Brodie is an executive vice president at Ross Supply, Inc., a heating and air conditioning supply company.

Shaw is on charged with burglary on an occupied dwelling and battery. His trial, before Circuit Judge C. Vernon Mize Jr., began after a six-member jury was selected Monday morning.

According to an Altamonte Springs police report, Miss Garvin was in bed when a man entered her bedroom. She screamed, told the man to get out but he approached her and she got out of bed and tried to flee, the report said.

The man grabbed her, placed his hand over her mouth, she bit his finger and the man fled through a sliding glass door, the report said.

A short time later, two women who lived at the La Plaza apartment complex nearby reported to police that they had seen a man exposing his genitals at their complex. One of the women saw the man on her patio and the other woman spotted him in the laundry room.

A few minutes later, police found Shaw walking in the La Plaza parking lot and detained him. The two women who lived in the complex identified him as the man who exposed himself and Miss Garvin said it was dark when the intruder entered her bedroom but Shaw's general body features and clothing "was close" to the intruder's, the report said.

Shaw had a fresh wound on a finger on his right hand that appeared to have been caused by a bite and he was treated at Florida Hospital in Altamonte Springs, the report said.

Police arrested Shaw and charged him with burglary, battery and two counts of indecent exposure. He has since pleaded no contest to both indecent exposure charges.

Shaw's defense lawyer, Ed Leinster, told the jury that Miss Garvin's identification of Shaw on the night of April 3 was not positive.

Walshes Drop Legal Action Against Sears

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — The parents of Adam Walsh have dropped a negligence suit against the store where their 6-year-old son's abduction-murder began, but did not disclose whether the case had been settled out of court.

An attorney representing John and Reve Walsh refused Monday to discuss why the suit was dropped or whether Sears or the Hollywood Mall had agreed to pay damages.

Adam was abducted from the sidewalk outside of the Sears store at the mall July 27, 1981. Mrs. Walsh had left him in the toy department while she shopped for a lamp elsewhere in the store. A security guard asked the boy leave when a disturbance broke out among several children who were playing video games.

The Walshes claimed the guard was negligent in ordering the boy out of the store, and had asked for unspecified damages.

Jaruzelski Tightens Grip On Military Power

WARSAW, Poland (UPI) — Gen. Wojciech Jaruzelski resigned as defense minister today and was elected immediately to a new military title assuring his continued role as supreme commander of Poland's armed forces.

Police Guard Parliament During Missile Vote

BONN, West Germany (UPI) — The West German Parliament, guarded by police poised to halt any demonstrators from storming the assembly, met today to vote on the deployment of U.S. medium-range nuclear missiles.

But no demonstrators gathered outside parliament today, unlike Monday when 164 protesters were arrested at the beginning of debate on the government's plan to deploy U.S. medium-range missiles in West Germany to counter Soviet SS-20s.

On Monday, 3,000 to 4,000 demonstrators protesting the planned deployment blocked the main street leading to the parliament building on the Rhine River.

Police using water cannons drenched crowds in the street Monday with water mixed with a chemical producing an effect similar to tear gas.

Later, marching crowds threw stones at El Salvador's embassy building on the Rhine-side of the capital but no one was hurt.

Chancellor Helmut Kohl's Christian Democrat-led coalition government has a safe parliamentary majority, which made today's vote for deployment a near certainty.

Kohl said in a speech opening the parliamentary debate that deployment would safeguard peace and freedom.

"We cannot stand aside in a niche of history and hope others will succeed in safeguarding our peace and freedom," Kohl said.

Demonstrations against the missiles culminated Monday night with torchlight parades in Bonn, Stuttgart, Munich and Hamburg. Protesters waved banners with slogans reading "No more war" and "Amis (Americans) out."

About 1,000 people blocked traffic in Bremen, another 1,000 were on the streets of Hamburg and around 400 marched through the city of Freiburg, where 23 people were arrested.

A rally in Bonn Monday included speakers who attacked the West German government's intention after a debate to support deployment of 96 U.S. cruise missiles and 108 Pershing-2 rockets in the country.

"The United States with its aggressive and brutal foreign policy is trying to colonize the world with its nuclear weapons," said one speaker. "West Germany obediently follows the dictates of Washington."

NATO plans to install 572 cruise and Pershing-2 missiles in western Europe over the next five years if the Geneva talks fail.

Tripoli Enjoys Unofficial Truce

TRIPOLI, Lebanon (UPI) — Rival Palestinian factions, apparently honoring an unofficial truce, fortified positions around the coastal port today as civilians explored debris-littered streets for rapidly dwindling supplies.

With the lull in the factional fighting, guerrillas loyal to Palestinian leader Yasser Arafat relaxed, and some, still crouched behind massive sandbagged barricades, sipped black Arabic coffee. Others built new sand barriers across streets along the city perimeter.

Civilians gathered around the few open food stores and bakeries for staples, but the city remained without electricity and other services.

The rival factions were within walking distance of each other. Palestinian rebels were a few blocks from Arafat's former headquarters.

The Day After: 'Where Can You Get A Fallout Shelter?'

United Press International

A telephone hotline in Philadelphia, set up following ABC-TV's The Day After nuclear holocaust movie, is fielding such questions as: "Where can you get a fallout shelter?"

President Reagan is getting a letter from 1,000 shaken Kansas City viewers asking him to "negotiate an end to the extreme danger posed by nuclear war."

And Sen. Alfonse D'Amato, R-N.Y., is daring the Soviet Union to show the movie to its citizens so they can "see for themselves what their latest generation of missiles, bombers and submarines can do."

The nervous inquiries, pleading message and international challenge are part of the mounting fallout from The Day After, which was seen Sunday night by an estimated 100 million Americans. It was the second-most watched program in television history. Only February's airing of the final episode of *M*A*S*H* drew more viewers — 104.1 million.

As politicians and anti-bomb groups debate arms policy following the 2¼-hour film, many rattled citizens are demanding action and others feel doomed.

"I couldn't get to sleep until three this morning," Sue Jackson, manager of a sandwich shop a few blocks from the White House, said Monday. "I'm still shaking. You know it's going to happen. It's just a matter of when."

The White House said the film, which depicted the annihilation of Kansas City and efforts to survive by people 38 miles away in Lawrence, Kan., underscored the need for a strong defense.

But disarmament groups contended the movie's real message was the need to eliminate nuclear weapons before they eliminate man.

By late Monday, one hotline in Philadelphia, run by the anti-nuclear group Physicians for Social Responsibility, said it received about 650 calls.

"For the most part they are people, just ordinary people, who were shocked by the film — not really wiggled out — but asking questions like, 'How can you cure radiation sickness?' or where can they find shelter," said Dr. Joseph Eyer, a biologist at the University of Pennsylvania.

Kennedy: A 'Brilliant Maybe'

Would John F. Kennedy have avoided the major war in Vietnam that was without victory and without apparent end that so embittered a generation of Americans and ushered in an era of U.S. decline and appeasement? Could he have averted the struggle between the races, sexes, and generations that ravaged the country during the 1960s? Would another Kennedy term have redeemed us from our time of troubles?

We think so. But, of course, we'll never know. What we do know is that the assassination of President John Kennedy in the noontime of his life and in the noontime of that day in Dallas, Nov. 22, 1963, ushered in a time of travail in this country without equal perhaps since the Civil War. The United States began to come apart at the seams and, it can be argued, did not begin pulling itself together until now.

There were the subsequent assassinations that scarred the national soul: Malcolm X, Martin Luther King Jr., and the president's brother, Sen. Robert F. Kennedy. There were the racial disorders, burning cities, the tragedy of a hopeless land war in Asia, anti-war disorders, public demoralization with a corresponding escalation in drug abuse and immortality of every kind. There were the virtual abdication of President Lyndon B. Johnson, the Watergate scandal and the resignation of President Richard M. Nixon; the brief term of President Gerald Ford, runaway inflation, and the troubled one term of President Jimmy Carter.

All of these interlocked developments flowed in large measure from the murder of John Kennedy 20 years ago.

The judgment of President Kennedy's 1,000 days in office remains suspended and unclear with the passage of time. Many Americans have found solace in making this resident greater in death than he was in life. But the failures, the contradictions, and the unfulfilled promise have dimmed the shining hour that has come to be known as "Camelot." Mr. Kennedy at 43 was the youngest president ever elected and the handsomest. He was witty, winsome, brilliant, elegant, a war hero, and rich. His wife, the beautiful Jacqueline, possessed a star quality that bowled over the public both here and abroad.

Despite these personal gifts, the Kennedy presidency was largely characterized by disastrous decisions and a series of crises. Only three months after taking office, Mr. Kennedy authorized the invasion of Cuba by 1,400 Cuban refugees under CIA direction. The ignominious Bay of Pigs operation was doomed after the president wavered and withdrew necessary air support for it. Against this bleak backdrop and against the advice of his senior counselors, Mr. Kennedy met Nikita Khrushchev in an ill-fated summit in Vienna only eight weeks later. The Soviet leader interpreted him to be a weak, vacillating, and unseasoned antagonist and moved immediately thereafter to take over West Berlin. Sixty days later, the Soviets threw up the Berlin wall — first barbed wire and then concrete. Mr. Kennedy mobilized U.S. forces and crushed 40,000 additional troops to Europe.

Even when Mr. Kennedy invoked a naval blockade in a breathtaking showdown over removing Soviet nuclear missiles from Cuba in October 1962, he compromised his victory by agreeing never to invade Cuba and to remove NATO missiles in Turkey.

To bolster an image of firmness, Mr. Kennedy made the fateful decision in 1962-63 to resist Communist aggression against South Vietnam. He initiated the tragic war in Vietnam by increasing U.S. "advisers" to more than 16,000 — some of whom were then already engaged in active combat. His administration schemed with South Vietnamese generals in overthrowing South Vietnam President Ngo Dinh Diem, who was killed in the coup.

The long litany of Kennedy failures and misjudgments must include an inability to obtain any major legislation from a generally hostile Congress. But there was one shining success that gave the Kennedy administration drive and direction lacking in subsequent presidencies. He ignited public support for a vastly expanded U.S. space program that led to the landing of Americans on the moon.

Had he lived, President Kennedy would undoubtedly have been re-elected and would have continued the marked growth he demonstrated during his brief term. In that event, the following U.S. years would have been altogether different, and, we are convinced, much better than they were. As a French diplomat said of John Kennedy at the time of his assassination. He was a "brilliant maybe."

BERRY'S WORLD

"What hath Mark Gastineau wrought?"

Congratulations to Joe Oritt, who was named first recipient of the "Kiwanian of the Month" award recently started by the Kiwanis Club of Sanford. The award winner was announced by Lewis Dellarco, chairman of the club's awards committee at last week's meeting. Joe has been a member of the club for eight years and has a record of perfect attendance. A former director, he is editor of the club's weekly bulletin. Joe is also active in supporting community projects, particularly the Central Florida Zoo, where he is on the board of directors.

The Seminole County Historical Commission is proud as punch of their new baby, the Seminole County Museum located in the old county home, which later served as the Agri-Center. It has been a long and difficult delivery, but at last their offspring is here and the proud parents are anxious to show it off.

The grand opening to the public will be on Sunday, Nov. 27 from 2-4 p.m. The pre-opening, to which area officials and those who had contributed to the museum in one way or another were invited, was held Nov. 13. About 75 attended but only two elected officials were among them — State Rep. Art Grindle and County Commissioner Bob Sturm.

Lorraine Whiting, who was one of the first to be appointed to the Historical Commission by the Seminole County Commissioners back in 1965, is serving as curator for the museum. She admits it was hard to compete with the Star of Sanford's VIP cruise, but hopes some of the officials will make it to the open house on Nov. 27.

However, there were two distinguished Sanfordites, who have witnessed a heap of local history, at the pre-opening. They were Ben Whittner, 86, and Martha Fox, 93. Miss Martha told of going by the county home in her younger days and having the ladies in rocking chairs on the porch wave to her. "I always wondered if I'd be living there when I got old," she recalled.

Grabbing her around the shoulders, Mr.

Whittner exclaimed, "Well, Martha, we finally made it to the old county home!"

The museum will be of interest to newcomers and old-timers alike. The various rooms are devoted to different themes such as schools, railroads, steamboats, agriculture, Civil War, genealogy, old-fashioned decor and forts and lakes. There are also historical displays from the various cities in the county.

One of the long time benefits of the facility is its availability for researchers, said Mrs. Whiting. The museum has vertical files with information on the county and taped oral histories by some of the pioneers, as well as genealogical records.

The commission hopes to have a room for displaying items related to the history of the county's Black community. Anyone with anything of historical significance about pioneer families, churches, Black leaders, etc. that they would be willing to donate or loan to the museum should contact the museum at 321-2489.

ROBERT WALTERS 200 Years Of Solid Pollution

WIND POINT, Wis. (NEA) — On a crisp autumn afternoon, the deep, cold waters of Lake Michigan sparkle in the reflected brilliance of the sun. But beneath the surface lies a troubled lake struggling for its survival.

The entire Great Lakes system, which contains one-fifth of all the world's fresh water, has been polluted by sewage, contaminated by chemicals and abused as a repository for society's waste throughout most of the past two centuries.

Lake Superior has been least damaged because it lies closest to the headwaters of the five lakes — but even it has been misused as a dumping ground for taconite wastes from mining operations.

In contrast with relatively pristine Lake Superior on the west, Lake Erie farther east has been so contaminated that in recent decades its water has turned the color of pea soup, its fish have perished in massive numbers and the proliferation of seaweed-like algae has threatened to turn it into a swamp.

The other three lakes — Michigan, Huron and Ontario — all have suffered from being overloaded with dioxin, PCBs and pesticides such as DDT, mirex and toxaphene.

Other contaminants include phosphorus from laundry detergents, ammonia, mercury, lead, zinc and a variety of other heavy metals. In the St. Clair River, at the southern end of Lake Huron, no fewer than 84 different organic compounds have been detected.

"The bewildering assortment of chemical problems is, however, only the latest in a series of environmental crises to hit the Great Lakes area," says Tom Kuchenberg, a specialist on the region, in an article in the current issue of the Conservation Foundation's monthly newsletter.

"In the 1960s, it was stinking water, choking algae and masses of weeds and dead fish piled on once beautiful beaches. In the 1950s, it was the destruction of magnificent food fish by an invading predator. Indeed, in the last 200 years the lakes and their basins have been totally altered."

The five lakes cover about 95,000 square miles, while the far larger Great Lakes basin encompasses an additional 200,000 square miles in the nation's industrial heartland where almost 40 million people live and work.

Concern about pollution and contamination dates back to 1909, when the United States and Canada created a joint commission to deal with the issue. For more than half a century, however, deterioration not only continued but accelerated.

That lack of progress was, in part, attributable to the multitude of jurisdictions which border on the lakes. Authority is shared by not only the two national governments but also the Canadian province of Ontario and the states of Minnesota, Wisconsin, Michigan, Illinois, Indiana, Ohio, Pennsylvania and New York.

DeLorean Pressured To Stay In Deal

WASHINGTON — Automaker John Z. DeLorean was caught by the FBI's candid cameras up to his elbows in a cocaine conspiracy. The incriminating videotapes were shown on coast-to-coast television.

I have now had access to audio tapes, which support his version of the incident. He was lured into the cocaine deal, he says, to save his foundering company. When he tried to back out, the FBI's undercover informant threatened to bash in his daughter's head, DeLorean swears.

The automaker's recorded behavior was less than heroic. But if he was coerced into committing a crime, then the government's conduct was worse. It is important, therefore, to pursue the available evidence.

DeLorean told my associates Tony Capaccio and Indy Badwar he was threatened by the FBI's sting man on Sept. 15, 1982. Earlier that same day, the government taped a conversation between the automaker and an FBI undercover agent posing as a banker.

WILLIAM RUSHER

Some Facts And Figures

TOKYO (NEA) — Conversations with Japanese government officials and businessmen disclose a widespread feeling here that the United States just isn't trying hard enough to sell cars in the Japanese market. Instead, we prefer to resort to a veiled protectionism to keep Japanese cars out of our market. In that game, only the consumers get hurt.

Well, the Japanese have now agreed to limit their car sales in the United States "voluntarily" for the fourth straight year, and they hope devoutly that it's the last. Japanese tariff barriers against U.S. cars are down to zero, and burdensome regulations (emission tests, etc.) are being reduced rapidly. Now, Japan suggests, it's up to Detroit. The Japanese car buyer won't buy a gas-guzzling leviathan for his country's narrow streets and roads, but he has traditionally preferred foreign products when other factors are equal. The difficulty is that economies of scale have prevented Detroit from going after the Japanese market (which, like Britain's, requires a right-side drive), even when American manufacturers got around to making small cars. Whose fault is that?

On the other hand, there is simply no denying that domestic politics underlie the quotas that Japan still imposes on American beef and citrus products. The farmers, it seems, are one of the mainstays of the dominant Liberal Democratic Party (which, despite its name, is staunchly conservative), and their votes give them tremendous clout. "But don't the auto workers vote, too?" I asked a government official, recalling that barriers were recently lowered against foreign cars. "Yes," he replied genially, "but they vote for the opposition." Premier Yasuhiro Nakasone is working on the problem. "Give him time," one American observer here recommended.

Even so, Japanese purchases of American produce may surprise you: She is our biggest customer, buying $8 billion worth of American agricultural products every year. As a matter of fact, counting purchases of cattle feed and fish taken in U.S. waters, one-third of all the calories consumed in Japan come from U.S. sources.

On defense expenditures, the Americans I have spoken to in Tokyo think U.S. critics are giving the Japanese government a bum rap. While the growth rate of every other category of government expenditure in Japan has dropped sharply in the past four years and now hovers around zero, the growth rate for defense expenditures has remained remarkably steady: 6.5 percent in 1980, 7.6 percent in 1981, 7.8 percent in 1982 and 6.5 percent in 1983.

With this kind of dough, Japan is building up its capacity to protect its sea lanes for a thousand miles in all directions. Plans call for modernizing the fleet, and include stepping up anti-submarine patrols as well as increasing production of anti-submarine helicopters.

In a really major confrontation, however, Japan relies on the protection of the United States, including its nuclear weapons. The mutual security pact of 1960, signed by the United States and Japan over bitter protests by the opposition here, has now become an accepted part of the geopolitical landscape, and no one I have talked to seems to share the neurotic fear of some Europeans that America wouldn't really risk the destruction of New York to save Paris or Tokyo. (The so-called "nuclear allergy" to the introduction of such weapons into Japan is a very real, if fundamentally irrational, phenomenon; but curiously the hostility rarely extends, as it does in the United States, to nuclear power plants. By 1990, 28 percent of Japan's electric power will be derived from nuclear sources; even the little coal here is cruelly expensive to mine.)

ANTHONY HARRIGAN

Latin Debt Crisis

The foreign debt of countries in this hemisphere staggers the imagination. Brazil owes $90 billion, Mexico $83 billion, Argentina $40 billion, Chile $21 billion, and Venezuela $16 billion.

Inside these countries, political pressure is building on to default on the debts. Demagogues in these nations would have their governments say, "We don't intend to pay."

No one wants that to happen, for a colossal crisis would result. Fifteen hundred American banks have been involved in this international lending. Some might not survive a default by one or more Latin nations.

The Latin nations, however, would not escape punishment if they defaulted. Their normal trade with industrial countries, on which they depend, would be jeopardized. Financing would not be available for their international trade. It's a complicated situation, with no easy way out. Need exists for Americans to understand the problem. The Public Broadcasting System did not contribute to such understanding when it recently aired a "Frontline" program on the debt situation, which was written and produced by Anthony Sampson. He presented the International Monetary Fund, which is trying to manage the debt crisis, as an ogre that is imposing harsh lending terms. The IMF was depicted as the bad guy, a mean Gringo with no heart or sympathy for the poor of Latin America. This approach isn't surprising to anyone who recognizes Anthony Sampson as a longtime writer for the left-of-center newspaper in England.

The IMF has a duty to contributing nations, including the United States, not to lend more money to the debtor nations unless they enact internal reforms.

The Latin nations are in trouble because of profligate spending on so-called social programs. Taking a cue from North American liberals, they spent money on politically advantageous welfare programs, with no thought as to how borrowed money would be repaid. In addition, most Latin nations must import nearly all the oil they consume. They have been badly hurt by the decline in the prices of their commodity exports.

Still, if the IMF were to grant easy repayment terms, the situation in the lands to the south would only worsen. Moreover, the IMF has a responsibility to those who loaned the money and who are being asked to lend even more. The ultimate providers of the loans are the taxpayers of the United States and other industrial nations.

There's no alternative to strict terms for future lending, though the Latin countries, notably Venezuela, are stalling on agreement to the rescheduling of foreign debt. Latin America can't spend its way into a better future, as the leftists in those countries have attempted to do. The Latins have to tighten the belt even though the process will be very painful.

The agent used the name James Benedict.

DeLorean started by saying, "We have a problem, and I think it's serious." He then explained that the $2 million he was supposedly going to invest in cocaine was actually in the bank account of the British receivership that was trying to rescue his bankrupt, Belfast-based auto works. DeLorean pleaded that he couldn't touch the money.

"Well, you really put me in a bad spot," said Benedict.

DeLorean: "Yeah, I think we're in. I just don't see any way out of it."

Benedict: "You just screwed up a hell of a deal."

DeLorean: "I know. But it isn't a matter of choice. It was the only alternative. I don't see any other way, because that's where it is, and unless you've got some other ideas, there just isn't any other way. Now we're fighting like hell to get financing another place."

Benedict: "So what you are telling me is I went to all this trouble for nothing?"

DeLorean: "I'm telling you that the two million is in the receiver's bank account ... and unless we can come up with the money somewhere else, there isn't any way to get it back."

Benedict: "Now you really put me in a bad spot. I got this man (drug trafficker William Morgan Hetrick) committed to make his phone calls. He wanted to do it for us, his end of it. This is going to make us look extremely, extremely bad ..."

DeLorean: "Well, I'm being very candid with you, because I thought we were set ..."

Benedict: "So what do you want me to do? You want me to kill this deal?"

DeLorean: "I don't see any alternative right now. Unless you got some other idea ..."

Toward the end of the conversation, DeLorean said, "Right now, as I said, it's not optimistic ... I feel as bad about it as you do. I'll tell you."

It was later that night, DeLorean says, that he got the threatening call from the man who turned out to be a government sting man. I also have what some audio experts believe to be a tape of the threatening conversation.

PEN VS. SWORD: Those who complain about the "power of the press" might like to ponder the situation of Jose and Helen Vasquez of Pennsylvania. Vasquez wrote to me asking for help in the vicious murder of his mother and sister in Mexico. With the apparent complicity of local police, the suspected murderers had escaped. Though the victims were U.S. citizens, our embassy in Mexico City had done little to pressure Mexican officials to bring the killers to justice.

My staff began making inquiries, and now the Vasquezes have written to me:

"We are aware that it was the inquiry made by your office last May to the U.S. consulate which enabled us to secure the high level of cooperation we subsequently received from U.S. government officials in Mexico."

The suspected murderers have now been arrested "after much prodding and pressure applied by Mexican government officials and the U.S. Embassy."

UDC Exhibits At Museum

The Norman deVere Howard Chapter United Daughters of the Confederacy has completed a room at the new Seminole County Historical Museum in the interest of the history of patriotic organizations in the county. Mrs. Burch Cornelius, left, shows an old musket from the exhibit while other UDC members, Mrs. Harold Jones, center, and Mrs. Charles Hobson examine a black medical satchel belonging to Dr. Norman deVere Howard for whom the chapter was named.

Bills Pending To Correct Social Security 'Notch'

DEAR ABBY: Your readers may be interested in legislation currently pending in Congress to correct the Social Security "notch" problem. Simply stated, the notch problem can cause a person who reaches age 62 after 1978 to receive a much lower benefit than a person with an identical wage history who reaches age 62 in an earlier year. The difference could be as great as $100 a month and could reach a total of $20,000 for some persons over the course of their retirement.

Bills pending in Congress to correct the notch include:

- BILL NUMBER — SPONSOR
- H.R. 1483 — Rep. Charles E. Schumer, D-N.Y.
- H.R. 1964 — Rep. Barney Frank, D-Mass.
- H.R. 1965 — Rep. Barney Frank, D-Mass.
- H.R. 3013 — Rep. Fernand J. St. Germain, D-R.I.
- H.R. 3859 — Rep. Dan Daniel, D-Va.
- H.R. 3893 — Rep. James H. Quillen, R-Tenn.
- H.R. 3925 — Rep. Carl D. Perkins, D-Ky.
- H.R. 3947 — Rep. Don Fuqua, D-Fla.
- H.R. 4093 — Rep. Edward R. Roybal, D-Calif.

Unfortunately, correcting this inequity will be very costly. Nevertheless, your readers who are affected by the notch may want to contact their members of Congress.

Laurie A. Fiori, LEGISLATIVE ASSISTANT, AMERICAN ASSOCIATION OF RETIRED PERSONS, 1908 K ST. N.W., WASHINGTON, D.C. 20049.

DEAR LAURIE: Thanks for the update. Granted, it will be very costly to correct this inequity, but as I said in an earlier column, that money will be pumped back into the economy because our senior citizens must spend their Social Security checks immediately in order to survive — unlike younger folks who would save for a rainy day. For our elderly, it's already raining!

Hibiscus Circle of the Garden Club of Sanford held the November meeting at the home of Mrs. D. Fauver with Mrs. H. Taylor as co-hostess.

Dear Abby

DEAR ABBY I am 11 years old and I need to know something that I can't ask my mother or anybody else. If a girl goes all the way with a boy before she begins to have her monthly periods, can she get pregnant? Please hurry your answer.

CAN'T SIGN THIS

DEAR CAN'T SIGN: Fertility experts say usually no, but it is possible.

DEAR ABBY: My boyfriend and I were married secretly. We have not told my parents because they disapprove of him. My love for him is stronger than it has ever been, but I also love my family and want them to accept us as one. I am presently attending college away from home and it is about to kill me to keep my marriage a secret. I want to shout it to the world, but I'm afraid my parents will not continue to pay for my education if they know I married this guy.

WORRIED

DEAR WORRIED: Tell your parents that you are married, and if they discontinue paying for your education, find a way to pay for it yourself. (Many students work and go to college.) To lie about your marital status in order to continue getting financial help from your parents is both dishonest and immature.

(If you're single and want to know how to meet someone decent, see page 20 of Abby's booklet, "How to Be Popular," send $2, plus a long, stamped (37 cents), self-addressed envelope to Abby, Popularity, P.O. Box 38923, Hollywood, Calif. 90038.)

Let Sanford Pain Clinic Get To Source Of Headache

Of all the so-called triumphs of the pharmaceutical industry, said Dr. Thomas F. Yandell, Sanford chiropractor, "the 'headache remedy' is the most dangerous to life and health."

"This is not to say that headache remedies are virulent poisons, in themselves dangerous to life - although our government at times had to prohibit distribution of certain types for that precise reason," he added.

"The real trouble is that the less toxic and the more apparently 'effective' a headache remedy is, the more dangerous it becomes," he said. "A headache remedy overthrows or suppresses a mere symptom, while the trouble causing the symptom, remains to progress in gravity, often until a serious condition develops."

Pain of any sort is the alarm bell which nature employs, to signal trouble. Remember this when a headache occurs, you flirt with tragedy when you treat a headache rather than its cause.

Dr. Thomas F. Yandell, of Sanford Pain Control Clinic.

Some headaches have a simple explanation, such as those of the "morning after" - an evening of overindulgence in drink or food. Any other headache, particularly if chronic or recurring, is a warning signal which will send any careful person to his doctor of chiropractic.

Intermediate causes of headache are many. They may include digestive, eliminative, kidney and heart troubles, eye troubles (chiefly eyestrain), infected tonsils, nerve pressure from spinal conditions and sometimes, though very rarely, brain trouble itself. In women, disorders of the reproductive system often are the cause of headaches.

Dr. Yandell provides a primary service to prevent, diagnose and treat health problems for the whole family through chiropractic at his Sanford Pain Control Clinic at 2017 S. French Ave., Sanford.

Determining the basic cause of an illness and effecting its correction without the use of dangerous drugs are the special skills of Dr. Yandell. So when a headache troubles you call for an appointment at 323-5763.

"Do not delude yourself that your trouble is a simple one which can be easily corrected with an 89-cent package of 'Pain Killers.'"

Headaches can, of course, result from many conditions. But research has revealed that a common cause of headaches can be traced to the area of the cervical vertebrae (spinal bones of the neck). Because the neck is extremely mobile, there is constant danger of displacement of one or more of these vertebrae, which may compress and irritate the cervical nerves.

Migraine headache is particularly distressing. It has been determined that it is usually caused by irritation of the upper cervical nerves which affects the cranial nerve fibers and results in the throbbing pain associated with migraine, and which later becomes a steady, dull pain in the "temple" area.

Through reflex action, this condition also may result in stomach or liver pains, nausea, vomiting, fast heart beat and other upsets of internal organs.

Certain activities and vocations may cause unusual stress in the neck. Athletes, mechanics, homemakers, office workers, farmers and others who must twist or maintain unnatural positions for any length of time at their work are especially susceptible to cervical nerve irritation.

The first problem a headache presents is determination of the condition developing under its cover. Correction of the cause must follow. When you seek chiropractic care for headaches, you will be utilizing the most advanced methods available.

Remember, heeding the headache warning can avert serious complications. For safe, quick, and effective headache treatment come to Sanford Pain Control Clinic first.

Dr. Yandell specializes in acupuncture, weight control, pain control and nutritional counseling.

Economic Good Times Seen In '84

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Business economists expect "good times" in 1984, with housing starts totaling 1.7 million, auto sales reaching 10 million units and joblessness falling to 8 percent, a recent survey reveals.

The 200 members of the National Association of Business Economists polled in November also predicted the inflation rate will be 5 percent by the end of next year and real non-residential fixed investment will jump nearly 9 percent.

But they said the current recovery could be shorter than normal, peaking in 1985 or 1986 as huge federal deficits push interest rates higher.

"What we're really talking about is strong evidence of good times in 1984," association President Nicholas Filippello said.

The economists predicted the gross national product will rise about 5 percent in 1984, compared with a forecast of about 4.6 percent in the August survey.

But more than half said they expect the current business cycle to peak in 1985 and another 20 percent saw it peaking in 1986.

"These figures indicate that many of our members are concerned that this recovery may be shorter than normal," Filippello said. "In fact, only 5 percent think the recovery will last beyond 1986 — presumably because of fears that large federal deficits eventually will force interest rates higher."

However, the economists predicted the prime lending rate that banks charge corporate customers — and on which other rates are based — will be only 11.2 percent by December 1984.

Eighty-five percent of the respondents did not expect any major nation to default on international debts in the next six months, although nearly a third said such debt problems recently have become more serious.

Sixty percent expected the dollar to weaken "somewhat" in coming months, but few expected major changes in its international value.

The percentage of economists reporting increased demand, profits, employment and wages at their firms over the past three months jumped sharply from the August poll.

AT&T Divestiture Will Mean Changes In Local Service

For Southern Bell in Florida, the New Year will arrive about six weeks early.

Beginning today, Southern Bell will put in effect changes in how its customers use or obtain certain of its services — changes that grow out of the separation of American Telephone and Telegraph Co. and the Bell operating companies on January 1, 1984.

Larry Strickler, Southern Bell area manager in Sanford, said, "This early implementation of changes will give us several weeks in which to iron out any operational problems associated with our actual breaking away from AT&T."

Strickler said that, at the outset, the divestiture will be "invisible" for most Southern Bell customers.

"In fact, until customers have a question about their equipment, need equipment repaired or want to make changes in their services, chances are that all they will know of divestiture is what they read or hear," he said.

Customers will continue to pay Southern Bell for their service, he said, and to call a Southern Bell service representative when they have questions about the local and long distance portions of their bills. However, as of today, questions about equipment or equipment billing will be referred to another business office which, after Jan. 1, will become a part of AT&T.

He said that residence customers will also need to follow a new procedure to obtain repair service.

"The customer first needs to determine if the problem is with the telephone line or the telephone set," Strickler said. "If it's the line, the customer should call the local Southern Bell repair number in the telephone directory. If the problem is with a set rented from us, the customer should call the number for equipment repair — it's 1-800-555-8111, or the customer can take or send the set to one of our service centers. When actual divestiture comes, these centers will be owned and operated by AT&T."

Single-line business customers will follow similar procedures. Business customers with more than one line will call other equipment repair numbers, depending on the type of leased equipment they have.

During functional divestiture and afterwards, a residential customer who is getting new service will follow procedures and have choices not in effect today.

"As a first step, the prospective residence customer should call one of our residence service centers, which can arrange access to the telephone network, a directory listing and special services such as custom calling and touch-tone pushbutton calling," Strickler said, "then the customer himself will need to arrange for wiring inside his home and for telephone equipment, we can do the wiring for a fee or the customer or a contractor can do it. For now, we cannot provide telephone sets, so the customer will need to call 1-800-555-8111 or any telephone set supplier to order equipment."

New business customers will need first to call a Southern Bell business service center to arrange service.

Everett's Alarm Sounds, Raiders Ring Up Victory

By Sam Cook
Herald Sports Editor

Tick, tick, tick, tick, tick. Wake up Delvin. It's time to play basketball.

The strange case of Apopka's Delvin Everett has haunted his basketball coaches for the past five years. The easy-going 6-5 former Apopka High standout has all the tools to be a great one.

Size, quickness, excellent jumping ability, a nice shooting touch and "dunkability" are all part of the Seminole Community College forward's basketball arsenal.

Concentration, motivation and intensity are sometimes not.

It happened again Monday night. Delvin sleepwalked through the first 27 minutes against the Eckerd junior varsity — then heard the alarm go off. He woke up SCC's offense and promptly put Eckerd to sleep.

In a short three and one-half minute span Everett scored 11 quick points — while he and his teammates held the visitors scoreless — to help the Raiders to an easy 91-67 victory over Eckerd in junior college basketball action at the SCC Health Center before 105 fans.

With SCC holding a slim 47-43 lead, guard Jim Payton knocks in a 22-footer. Everett hustles back on defense to block a shot, which turns into a held ball, which becomes the Raiders' ball because it is their possession turn.

Everett then feeds Bernard Merthie for an 18-foot jumper. Everett grabs the rebound at the other end, starts the fastbreak, and then completes the fastbreak with a sky tip off a missed shot.

Raiders, 55-45, time out Eckerd. Everett then grabs another missed shot and two passes later, Luis Phelps hits a soft jumper for two more. Phelps rebounds, outlets to Merthie and Merthie feeds Everett for a reverse layup as SCC takes a 62-45 lead.

Everett grabs another Eckerd mistle, outlets and 80 feet later takes a pass on the right baseline. He hesitates, then pumps in a line drive 12-footer. Back at the other end, Phelps rebounds, tosses to Payton who hits Everett going fullspeed down the middle. Everett muscles past two defenders, hits the layup and is fouled. His free throw gives the Raiders a commanding 67-47 lead.

All 11 of his points, three rebounds, two steals and a three-point play in just three and one-half minutes. End of ballgame.

"When the team starts to play, I get pepped up," says Eckerd about his wakeup call.

Teammate Merthie agrees. "When Delvin sees everybody else playing, he wants a piece of the action, too," says Merthie.

J.C. Basketball

"Delvin is very inconsistent," says coach Bill Payne. "He knows it and he wants to do something about it. He asks me to yell at him more. But I don't particularly like to do that. I could yell at him the whole game."

"Delvin has so much ability. When he wants to play...he can be awesome."

So ran the Raiders, but the first half wasn't one of those occasions. After five lackluster minutes, Payne grew tired of his first string, which had fallen behind, 11-6, and yanked it from the game.

"We were flat, real flat," said the second-year Raider coach.

"We've been down the last couple of games," observed Sanford's Merthie, one of those first teamers. "We've got to start getting it together the first half. We always play well in the second half."

Eckerd, a pesky little group with just one starter over 6-5, gave SCC all it wanted the first 20 minutes as 6-4 Oliver Coleman dumped in nine points as the visitors raced to a 22-14 lead.

Reserves Artis Johnson, Mike Tolbert, Jim Maher, Mike Phillips and Doug Bell, Jay Adkins, though, pulled the Raiders back into the contest with some inspired play. When the regulars returned with 6:23 to play, there were down by just four points.

Phelps, who along with Merthie led SCC with 13 points, hit two buckets in the closing minute to give the Raiders a 35-34 lead at halftime.

Merthie handed out five assists and grabbed four rebounds to go with his 13 points. Phelps added seven rebounds while Phillips and Everett each scored 11 points.

Monday's victory improved the Raider mark to 4-2 while Eckerd fell to 0-4. Tonight, the Raiders shouldn't need any incentive to get up for their opponent. They travel to Temple Terrace (near Tampa) for a 7:30 encounter with Florida College, the defending state junior college champion. The Falcons return just one player, but he is their best. Donny Jacobs, a 6-5 forward, averaged 19 points per game last year and made the all-state first team.

Eckerd JV (87) Coleman 4-10 2-2 14, Perez 1-0 1-1 5, Johnson 6-10 2-3 15, Thomas 5-12 2-2 12, Rodriguez 3-5 7-8 12, Haddock 0-1 1-2 1, Richardson 1-0-0-2, Schooley 0-1-1-2 1, Horne 1-3-0-0-2, Totals 25 51 (49%) 17-22 (77%) 47.
SCC (81) Everett 5-7 1-1 11, Merthie 5-8 3-4 13, Phelps 4-11 1-1 13, Payton 3-4 0-0 4, Grace 3-7 0-0 6, Tolbert 4-15 0-0 8, Phillips 3-5 5-6 11, Adkins 2-2 2-2 6, Maher 1-2 0-7, Bell 3-4 0-4, Totals 37-76 (49%) 17-22 (74%) 91.
Halftime, SCC 35, Eckerd 34. Fouls — Eckerd 14, Seminole 19. Fouled out — Coleman. Technicals — Eckerd coach Terry Butterfield (3), ejected from game.

Eckerd's Vic Rodriguez grabs a hold of Bernard Merthie in an attempt to stop a layup by the SCC forward. Merthie missed the bucket, but did convert both free throws to help the Raiders rip Eckerd Monday night. Delvin Everett, inset, scored 11 points in three and one-half minutes during the second half to ignite the 91-67 rout. The Raiders, 4-2, take on defending state champion Florida College tonight.

Lake Brantley Banks On Stubborn Defense Against West Orange

By Sam Cook
Herald Sports Editor

WINTER GARDEN — With a defense which has shut out its last three opponents, one could speculate that Lake Brantley coach David Tullis has few worries as his Patriots prepare to take on West Orange here Wednesday night at 8:30 in the Elks Bowl at Ray Screws Stadium.

Overconfidence, however, is the last thing on Tullis' mind. He knows coach Sam Weir's Metro Conference runnersup will not be a patsy, like the last three opponents the Big Blue has faced. West Orange is 7-3 with losses to powerhouses Winter Haven, Winter Park and Apopka. Three teams with just two losses among them (both by Winter Haven).

"West Orange is definitely a good football team," said Tullis Monday night. "They fumbled on their own 22 with just 51 seconds left or they would have beaten Apopka."

The Blue Darters turned the miscue into a touchdown with just seconds remaining and when Apopka QB Rod Brewer fired a two-point conversion pass to Sammie Smith, the Darters escaped with a wild 44-43 victory.

Despite the 44 points, Tullis is also impressed with West Orange's defense. "They're very aggressive and they play a nine-man front which does bother me," he said. "Heck, Apopka can score like that on just about anybody."

Although Tullis is impressed with West Orange's defense, he must be in awe of his own. The Patriots gave up just 98 points in 10 games, which is a school record. They recorded four shutouts and would have had a fifth except Lake Mary's Charlie Lucarelli returned a kickoff late in the game to spoil it.

For the past three weeks, the Patriot 11 has been impregnable. Brantley, 8-2, shut out Seminole (28-0), DeLand (45-0) and Boone (51-0). "Everyone has played a lot better," Tullis pointed out. "Especially Byron Bush. He has really come on. Donnie O'Brian, Pat James, Dean Shirley, Scott Salmon and Scott Horwitz have been consistent all year." Bush had nine tackles, one assist and one sack against Boone. Shirley (9-2-1), James (8-2) and O'Brian (7-4) had their usual games.

Judging by the 124 points in the last three outings, the offense hasn't been too shabby either. Running backs Steve Emmons, Allen Armstrong and Greg Shatto have carried the heavy load. Shatto ran for 96 yards against Boone while Armstrong added 90 and Emmons 24. Emmons was over 100 against DeLand.

The Pats haven't gone airborne too often, but when they have junior quarterback Dennis Groseclose has been up to the task. He had a good passing game in the Patriots' romp over Lake Howell. Last week, he corroborated with junior wideout Rex Black for two TD tosses.

"I always want to throw more than we do," said Tullis. "But when you're averaging 200 yards per game on the ground, you usually don't have to. Groseclose is really starting to come on. He can really throw the ball now. He will surprise some people next year."

Wednesday, Tullis hopes the Patriots surprised West Orange.

Seminoles Rip Lyman, Win Crown

By Chris Fister
Herald Sports Writer

Is anybody out there? Anyone at all? That's what the Seminole High freshman basketball team is wondering after breezing to three straight victories to open the '83-84 season. The Tribe frosh hammered Lyman, 89-31, Monday night to claim the Lake Brantley Freshman Tournament title at Lake Brantley High in Altamonte Springs.

Seminole opened the tourney with a 64-53 victory over Lake Mary on Friday night, then crushed St. Cloud, 82-26, on Saturday to advance to Monday's championship. Lyman beat Lake Howell to advance to the finals.

Rod Henderson poured in 24 points and Sean Fulce added 18 to lead the way for the Seminoles. Jerry Parker added 13 for the Tribe, Mike Edwards tossed in 10, Antoine Cockerhan eight, Todd Kneibbe six, Freddie Grooms four and Eddie Banks two.

The game was a rout from the word go. Seminole came out blazing and scored 12 unanswered points to open the game. The Tribe increased its lead to 20-4 by the end of the first quarter and led by as many as 22 points in the second quarter. Lyman, which couldn't get on track after the early Seminole blitz, managed to stay within 17 points, 36-19, at halftime. But, that was the closest the Greyhounds would get the rest of the way.

The third quarter was all Seminole as the Tribe scored as many points in that quarter as the Greyhounds did in the entire game, 31. Seminole could have left the court in the fourth quarter and let the cheerleaders play and it still would have been a rout.

Seminole built a 67-29 lead by the end of the third quarter, then outscored the Greyhounds, 20-2, in the fourth quarter to make the final 89-31. Some of the talented young players did some things you only expect varsity players to do.

In the third quarter, Fulce made a brilliant behind-the-back bounce pass to Henderson who laid it in for two points. Late in the fourth quarter, Henderson came up with a steal and drove down for a slam dunk. Henderson, Cockerhan and Parker were playing around the rim all night long, grabbing rebounds and dropping in layups while the helpless Greyhounds looked on in agony and awe.

The Seminole freshman prepared for the Lake Brantley tourney by beating the Seminole junior varsity in a practice game, according to coach Bill Klein.

In Monday's consolation game, Lake Howell's frosh upended St. Cloud.

SPORTS IN BRIEF

Rebels Drop Ocoee In OT To Capture Kumquat Bowl

The All-American Rebels Jr. Midgets overcame a tough Ocoee Bulldogs squad, 20-14 in overtime, to claim the Mid-Florida Pop Warner championship in the Kumquat Bowl Saturday at Orlando Oak Ridge High School.

The Rebels yielded their first touchdown of the year when Rod Tenney caught a 35-yard touchdown pass. Todd Fugli returned the ensuing kickoff 76 yards for a touchdown and added the extra point kick to give the Rebels a 8-7 lead.

Rebel defenders Greg Markham, Jeff Froemming, Frank Redding, Robb Boss, Hugh Graham and Steve Ogier held the Bulldogs' offense in check until Tenney hauled in a 30-yard touchdown pass to give Ocoee a 14-8 halftime lead.

The Rebel defense stiffened in the second half, with Scott Stiles, Mike Mandeville and Sean Casterline containing the speed of the Bulldogs. Stiles made a key tackle to stop one Ocoee drive and Chad Groseclose intercepted a pass to stop another.

The Rebel offense was hampered by an uncharacteristic rash of penalties. The Rebels overcame the penalty problem and mounted the drive that tied the game late in the fourth quarter. Skip McMillan picked up important yardage behind the blocks of Jack Campbell and Froemming. A 10-yard bootleg by Kelly McKinnor set up a four-yard touchdown run by Groseclose to send the game into overtime.

In the overtime period, Ocoee took two running plays to gain three yards. Stiles tackled the speedster Tenney for a two-yard loss on a third down flair pass. A furious Rebels rush caused the Ocoee field goal attempt to fall short.

Leading rusher Johnny Griffin snapped the tie when he burst through a hole created by the blocking of Derek Wilfong, Dennis Hoban and Redding for the 10-yard winning touchdown.

The win allows the Rebels to represent Mid-Florida in the Tomoka Bowl on Dec. 3. The Rebels' next appearance is Nov. 26 against the Maryland state champs (Howard County) at 6:30 p.m. on Wymore Tech's field.

Wise Swims To Quick Success — Lady Cagers Open At UCF

Prep Roundup

Although he had just moved from South Carolina, Scott Wise didn't take long to make a name for himself in Florida. Wise, a junior at Lake Mary High, capped off an impressive swimming season by winning the district title in the 100 fly and then placing fourth in the same event at Saturday's 4A State Swimming Meet at O'Connell Center in Gainesville.

Wise qualified for the state finals with a fifth place ranking after the preliminaries and a time of 54.14. He came back in the finals to beat his prelim score by more than a second as he finished fourth with a time of 53.13, his best time to date and a new school record.

"Scott is a good, hard-working athlete," Lake Mary coach Walt Morgan said. "He's also a team person, he's willing to do anything I ask of him."

Wise's time of 53.13 is one second off the time of 52.0 needed to qualify for the Junior Nationals in April. He will try for that time in an upcoming meet in December.

Lake Mary's Shert Clayton, who was third in the district, finished 16th in the state in the 500 freestyle. Lake Mary also had a pair of relay teams in the state meet. The boys 200 medley relay team of Wise (backstroke), Brian Cook (breaststroke), Todd Stebbins (butterfly) and Tim Orrange (freestyle) finished 23rd out of 32 teams while the girls 200 medley team of Teresa Prince (backstroke), Sherry Purkerson (breaststroke), Clayton (butterfly) and Amy Maher (freestyle) finished 23th out of 32 teams.

"It was a good season for us," Morgan said. "We're looking for a better season next year. We're only losing three seniors and hope to get some strong freshman coming in and challenge for the Five Star Conference title."

Perennial powerhouse Winter Park claimed both the boys and girls state titles, the girls winning by 11 points over Gainesville Buchholz and the boys winning by 34 over Fort Lauderdale Nova.

In the 3A State Meet, Oviedo's Andy Gill was third in the 100 backstroke with a time of 52.4 and fourth in the 200 freestyle at 1:42.8. Trinity Prep's Jenny Pence was sixth in the 50 freestyle at 24.95 and sixth in the 100 fly at 59.86.

Four Seminole County girls basketball teams will be in action Wednesday in the opening round of the high school portion of the Sun Roast Tournament held by University of Central Florida at the UCF gym.

In the tourney opener at 2 p.m., Lake Brantley's Lady Patriots go up against Orlando Edgewater. Sanford's Lady Seminoles square off against Orlando Oak Ridge at 4. Lake Howell faces Titusville Astronaut at 6 and Oviedo goes up against Winter Park at 8. The winners of the first two game meet in the semi-finals on Friday at 2 p.m. while the second two winners meet at 4 with the championship scheduled for Saturday night at 6.

Lake Brantley lost three key starters from a year ago including its top two scorers, Linda Triable and Kinonda Vazquez. The top returnees for the Lady Patriots include Michelle Brown, Linda Nunez and Sherry Asplen.

Seminole figures to be in the running for the Five Star Conference title this season with four starters returning including last year's Seminole County scoring leader Mona Benton, Maxine Campbell and Deldre Hillery.

Lake Howell opened the season a week ago with a victory over Spruce Creek. Mary Johnson led the way with 24 points. Mary Johnson, Tammy Johnson and Christy Scott are the top returnees for the Lady Hawks.

Oviedo has a lot of talent returning from last year's team including Fayetta Robinson, the county's leading rebounder and second-leading scorer a year ago. Other top returnees include Natalie Barth, Stephanie Nelson and Mary Lokers.

In the UCF Sun Roast Classic college tournament, Concordia faces West Georgia in the opener on Friday night at 6 followed by UCF's Lady Knights against Edward Waters at 8. The championship is set for Saturday night, at 8.

Punt Return Aborts Saints' Premature Celebration

NEW ORLEANS (UPI) — The New Orleans Saints were celebrating their most significant win story Monday night. The only problem, however, was that the New York Jets were still playing football.

With New Orleans ahead by 14 points going into the fourth quarter, the sellout crowd at the Louisiana Superdome was convinced the Saints had finally reached a plateau never achieved in the 17-year history of the franchise.

But a half hour later, right after Kirk Springs had returned a punt 76 yards for a touchdown to bring the Jets a 31-28 victory, the Saints filed into their dressing room a bewildered, shocked and frustrated football team.

They were the victims of a team that had plenty of reason to call it a night, but which refused to do so.

Even New Orleans coach Bum Phillips was ready to start the party.

"I thought we had the game won," said the Saints' coach. "The Jets won the ball game because they didn't give up."

"It was the finest comeback I've ever had," countered Jets' coach Joe Walton. "I saw a team that finally played for 60 minutes. They never gave up and that's a credit to our guys."

Pro Football

It was only the second win in seven games for New York, which is now 5-7 and clinging to an outside shot at making it to the playoffs. The Saints, meanwhile, remained the only NFL team never to have won on Monday night (0-6 in that department) and stayed a game behind the Los Angeles Rams and San Francisco 49ers in the NFC West title chase at 6-6.

New Orleans built its 14-point lead thanks to a series of big plays from quarterback Ken

Stabler and fullback Hokie Ga-

Jan. But the Jets started the fourth quarter with a 38-yard field goal by Pat Leahy and then crept to within four points on a quick-striking drive culminating in an 11-yard throw from Richard Todd to Jerome Barkum.

That score came with 4:20 left to play and the Jets held the Saints on downs.

Russell Erxleben boomed a punt for the Saints and Springs fielded it at his own 24-yard line. He headed straight upfield, slashed through an opening, cut to the left and was gone.

"I really thought I could break one," said Springs. In his third season with the Jets. "We set it up so well."

The winning touchdown came with 2:11 to play and the Saints managed to move the ball into long-distance field goal range. But with 19 seconds left, kicker Morten Andersen's 51-yard try sailed just wide of the left.

Andersen was sent in to try for the tying field goal even though there was time left on the clock for a sideline pass. The Saints, however, were out of time outs.

"I think it was a good move on Bum's part," said Andersen.

Reagan And Rights: Criticism And Courts

WASHINGTON (UPI) — In its last major act before going out of business, the U.S. Commission on Civil Rights, including three members President Reagan wants to fire, questioned the administration's commitment to equal opportunity.

The panel Monday issued a 220-page report sharply criticizing the administration's reduction of the budgets and staffs of key agencies charged with enforcing federal civil rights laws.

On the same day, the administration asked a federal appeals court to support Reagan's power to fire three commission members.

The beleaguered commission is scheduled to close its doors next Tuesday. It may be replaced by a new independent panel jointly appointed by Congress and the president. If Reagan signs a bill approved by Congress last week.

In a final hurrah, however, the current bipartisan commission, over the objections of its Reagan-appointed chairman, issued a report saying federal civil rights enforcement efforts suffered from a lack of money, staff and policy direction, singling out for special criticism the key rights enforcement agency — the Department of Justice's Civil Rights Division.

"Indeed, the commission believes a wide range of federal civil rights enforcement efforts have been jeopardized as much by division policies as by recent resource constraints," the report concluded.

The commission's final report played a significant role in Reagan's effort to replace members critical of his policies with those sympathetic to his opposition to school busing and affirmative action.

Government lawyer Richard Willard, defending Reagan's purge of the commission, told the U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia that a ruling favoring Reagan is important to bolster his power to fire workers in the executive branch of government.

That power was challenged last month when Federal Judge Norma Johnson prevented Reagan from firing three members of the panel before they released two final reports — including Monday's — on the progress of civil rights.

Willard said Congress has given the president the power to fire panel members.

But long-time civil rights lawyer Jack Greenburg told the court Congress has always used words like "independent," when discussing the commission, which he said means the panel was not meant by Congress to be under the president's thumb.

Cutting Down Salt By Washing Foods

Dr. Lamb

DEAR DR. LAMB — We have been trying to cut down on our salt intake. I learned from my neighbor that I could wash some of the salt out of my foods. We use a lot of cottage cheese and it does have a salty taste. So I have been washing the curds to get rid of the creamy sauce on it. What a difference it makes — the salty taste is gone completely.

I also wash canned meats I use in salads, like tuna, before using it for tuna salad. That helps change the salty taste, too.

My concern is that we may be losing important vitamins that our bodies need. Is there any danger of this? Do you recommend this procedure?

DEAR READER — You are right in that you can get rid of a large amount of sodium in canned foods, including canned vegetables, by washing them. You can eliminate about half of the sodium in cottage cheese by washing it and about three-fourths of the sodium in water-packed tuna, according to recent studies done at Duke University.

You also will wash out about half of the calcium in cottage cheese because it is in the brine and the creamy portion of the cheese. It is also in the water pack of the tuna.

If cottage cheese is an important source of your total dietary calcium, that could be a problem. You also may lose a small amount of iron but you can easily compensate for that by cooking in iron cookware.

You will lose some vitamins, particularly the water soluble vitamins. Fortunately there are sufficient vitamins in most foods that eating a balanced diet will provide all your Recommended Daily Dietary Allowances (RDA).

But food preparation does have a big impact on the vitamin content of your food. That includes storage of food.

Unless a food is very salty, I don't think it is necessary to wash it to remove sodium. After all, the vast majority of people without high blood pressure or medical problems can tolerate a reasonable amount of sodium. If they drink enough water their kidneys will adjust the amount of sodium in the body to the proper level. The salt scare has been overdone.

DEAR DR. LAMB — I am a 78-year-old man in excellent health. For some reason I have been afflicted with jock itch. I have tried different ointments such as Preparation H, Bacitracin, Neomycin, Lanacane and Dermolate without satisfactory results. All of these remedies relieve irritation, but only for a short time.

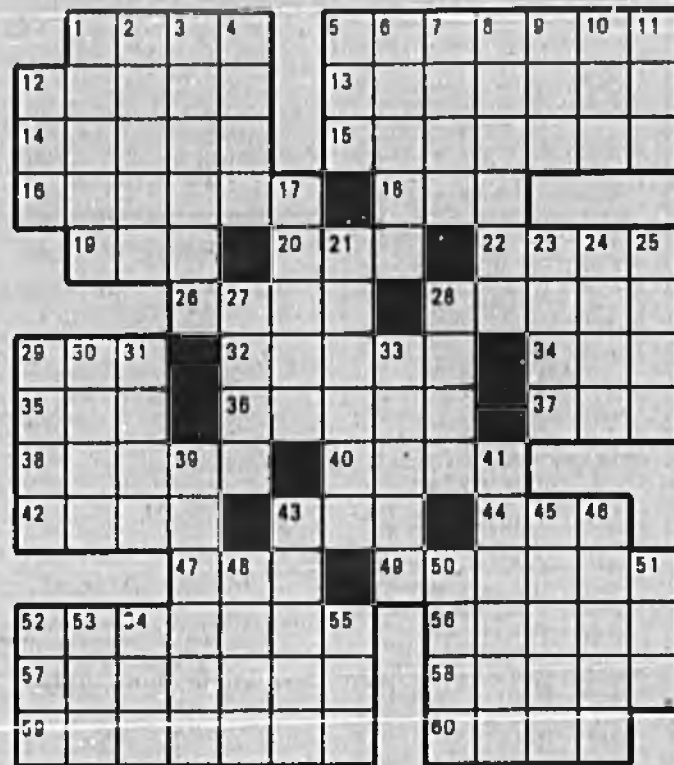

Is there any permanent cure? What would you recommend? Would it be curable by a local physician?

DEAR READER — Your letter amazed me. How did you get some Neomycin if you didn't see a doctor?

If you have jock itch it will not be cured by Preparation H or the other medicines you mentioned.

It is important to know what you are treating. By all means see a doctor, if necessary see a dermatologist and let him prescribe medications that are for fungus infections. If you really have jock itch, self-treatment of self-diagnosed rashes often leads to additional problems rather than cures.
