Nixon Deplores Situation New Attack On Poverty Proposed

By HARRY F. ROSENTHAL
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — In May this year, President Nixon admitted that "20th century Americans still go hungry."
"We have long thought of America as the most bountiful of nations," the President told Congress. "That hunger and malnutrition should persist in a land such as ours is an embarrassing and intolerable."
He proposed a renewed attack on a problem that has plagued the untillied land in search of food. And once again the politics of hunger was set into motion and is continuing today at a White House Conference on Food, Nutrition and Health. It's purpose is to advise the President on how to alleviate America's hunger.
The latest round in the politics of hunger may have started in 1967 when the Senate poverty subcommittee, chaired by then Sen. Joseph A. Clark of Pennsylvania, found "stark, horrifying hunger" in Mississippi.
"And not long after, a special committee of private citizens concluded after a nine-month study: 'if you will go look, you will find America is a shocking place.'
"A thousand people who must go without food for days each month would be shocking," wrote a board set up by the United States in the last decade of the 19th century.
CBS television produced a 50-minute documentary report entitled "Hunger in America" and the program was attacked by a number of congressmen.
Sen. Clark's subcommittee, meanwhile, continued to hold widely publicized hearings but the Johnson administration, under pressure of the Vietnam war and domestic inflation and unrest didn't want to embark on an expensive new program. Congress also let the issue slide.
A year ago, the Senate Select Committee on Nutrition and Human Needs, headed by Sen. George McGovern, D-S.D., began hearings, calling more than 200 witnesses.

Two weeks after the Nixon administration took office, McGovern urged the new secretary of agriculture, Clifford Bardin, to start emergency food aid programs in all U.S. counties which lacked them or had inadequate aid. He said there was "a national emergency."
"But Sen. Allen J. Ellender, D-La., described reports of hunger in Louisiana and other southern states as gross exaggerations."

Hippie Chief Held

By KEVIN HOSKINS
Associated Press Writer
INDEPENDENCE, Calif. (AP) — Charles M. Manson, accused in mountain-desert area of rustling four-wheel-drive vehicles, has emerged as a key figure in the investigation of the killings of Sharon Tate and seven others in Los Angeles.
The bushy-haired, wild-haired little man, with piercing brown eyes has been tabbed the leader of a hippie-type roving band whose members call him "god" and "Satan" and now two attorneys say claim members killed the actress and others.
Manson, 35, who with others is accused here of running a stolen car ring from a commune near Death Valley, sat steadily Wednesday through his preliminary hearing. After witnesses said they saw him driving stolen cars, he was held for trial.
"There are no charges against Manson in Los Angeles. But two attorneys there said Wednesday that a woman member of 'an' Manson's mostly female 'family' shot or stabbed with Miss Tate, 26, blonde actress wife of Police director Roman Polanski, at her $200,000 home in Bel Air last Aug. 9 where Hollywood hair stylist Jay Sebring, 35, coffee heiress Abigail Folger, 26, Polish playboy Voytk Frawosky, 27, and Steven Parent, 18, a friend of the caretaker.
Miss Atkins' attorneys Paul Caruso and Richard Caballero, said she was among those who dressed in black and invaded the two death homes. But they said she was under Manson's 'hypnotic spell' and "had nothing to do with the murders."
Caruso said there were three women and two men. Caballero said it was four women and one man, and said Miss Atkins told him Manson was not among them. Police say the makeup of the group was different each night.

Demos Split On Poverty

By JOHN BECKLER
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — A bitter struggle over antipoverty legislation has widened the split between Speaker John W. McCormack and liberal House Democrats.
Over McCormack's strenuous objections, liberals Wednesday forced postponement of the controversial antipoverty bill moments before it was due to be called up.
The almost unprecedented action was designed to give backers of the bill, which would continue the present antipoverty program with only minor changes, more time to line up support.
Otherwise they feared defeat at the hands of a Republican southern Democratic coalition backing an alternate proposal to shift major responsibility for the antipoverty effort from the federal government to the states.
McCormack, under pressure to wind up the current House session by Dec. 20, refused at first to consider demands for a delay. But he was forced to yield during a stormy morning in his office Wednesday meeting.
Rep. Carl D. Perkins, D-Ky., chairman of the Education and Labor Committee and manager of the bill, told the speaker he would not appear on the floor to call it up.

Perkins was backed by most of the committee's Democrats, who decided their position at a earlier meeting before conferring the speaker.
Members present at the hour-long meeting with McCormack described it as "a rough session" in which long-standing dissatisfaction with McCormack's leadership was aired and an open threat was made: To oppose him when he seeks re-election as speaker in 1971.
The disclosure that the anti-poverty bill had been called off by the Republicans, who had hoped for a quick vote on the altered a strategic move of their time proposal.
The last minute delay countered a strategic move of their own in which they withheld details of their plan until Tuesday in order to minimize attacks on it.
Supporters of the committee bill hoped many Democrats, leaders and others who oppose turning the antipoverty program over to the states will mount a whirlwind campaign to defeat the substitute proposal now that its contents have been made public.
They also hope President Nixon will lend a hand. He has requested passage of the two-year extension bill without crippling amendments. His antipoverty director, Donald Rumsfeld, has called the substitute proposal "disastrous."
"There is no indication when the bill will be called up again. Nearly three-fourths of earth's population lives on less than $70 per cent that comprises the vast floor—remains virtually unemployed and unused."

Rathel 'Forgets' Airport Client

By FRED VAN PELT
"Forgetfulness" on the part of the director of the Sanford Industrial Commission was blamed today for Sanford losing 110 jobs for the repair of nine Air Force fighter planes under a $434,400 contract. The blame was placed by Bill Coley, president of Aero Corporation, Lake City, in a long distance telephone interview shortly before noon today.

Aero Corporation is Lake City's largest industry, with 1,100 jobs, but runways at Coley Field (named for Bill Coley) cannot handle the newest jets.
"When we were bidding for this Air Force contract to inspect and repair nine F-104 jet fighters," Coley told The Herald, "it was done so with the thought in mind we would complete a lease for space at Sanford Airport. I had been down to your city, talked with your SIC director (I forget his name) and we were all set to accomplish this operation at Sanford."
"However," Coley continued, "when we landed the contract I got in touch with your man and he informed me, 'I'm sorry but I forgot to tell you we leased your building to someone else.'"
Asked if the Sanford contact was Don Rathel, SIC director, Coley replied: "That's the man. He didn't even give me the courtesy of first refusal on the building. I thought we had a verbal agreement but he said no. So we looked around, found acceptable space at Spence Air Base industrial park at Moultrie, Ga., and we're very happy there."
Rathel said this afternoon Coley did come to Sanford Airport and did look at the building "and then I didn't hear from him again; so I went ahead and leased the facility to Page Airways."

And before you go making your mind up about the alleged massacre, why don't you read the AP analysis of the war on Pg. 8... where there are little kids dynamiting some of our trucks... and other civilians working for the army and bombing the very desks of our superiors... not to mention those cute little kids who steal some of the soldiers' grenades — and then lay 'em back at 'em while the troops are sleeping.
Give us new perspective to the problem.

Seven Area Men Survived Pearl Harbor Americans Recall 'Day Of Infamy'

By CHARNER LEONE
It was an infamous day that seventh day of December, 1941. Twenty-eight years ago, the bomb which still holds 10,000 men, and which rallied a nation, was formed. That day, Pearl Harbor, the pride and the showplace of the U.S. Navy was attacked by the Japanese, who have since joined the ranks of our allies.
Many men from Seminole County got a dunking in the ocean that day, as the shells burst overhead. Some of the men came back. Some did not. Seminole County was well represented. The Pearl Harbor Survivors Association, a nationwide organization, has seven members here. There are other men who are eligible to join the association here, too.
"We Were There!" Men 40 years old just escaped the bomb. For the first time. Their purpose was to remember their friends who died on Dec. 7, 1941. But as they pay homage and tribute to the fallen heroes of the "Day of Infamy" they also remember.
"My tag was in drydock," said the skipper G. O. Nordgren, who was then a chief petty officer. "We didn't have anything to fight with." His men had just escaped the bomb.
USS Sotayama, before the Destroyer Shaw fell on top of it, felled by a bomb.
He swears to share that night, and saw the Oklahoma go down. The waters that mark the grave of the Oklahoma and her men now commemorate all of the brave men of that fatal day in Pearl Harbor.
"All hell broke loose!" said Grosvenor Kirlaw, 1105 Laurel Avenue. He was chief boiler-maker on the USS Vetter. He (Continued on Pg. 8A, Col. 1)

RISING SUN (red circles) on the strating Japanese airplanes and a rain of shrapnel told the Americans at Pearl Harbor that this attack was "for real." Seminole County members of the Pearl Harbor Survivors Association (from the left) are C. T. Hampton, C. H. Westbrook, G. O. Nordgren, Wayne N. Norris, Chris Portever and E. G. Kirlaw. For The George Boston Family

'Best Christmas' Promised

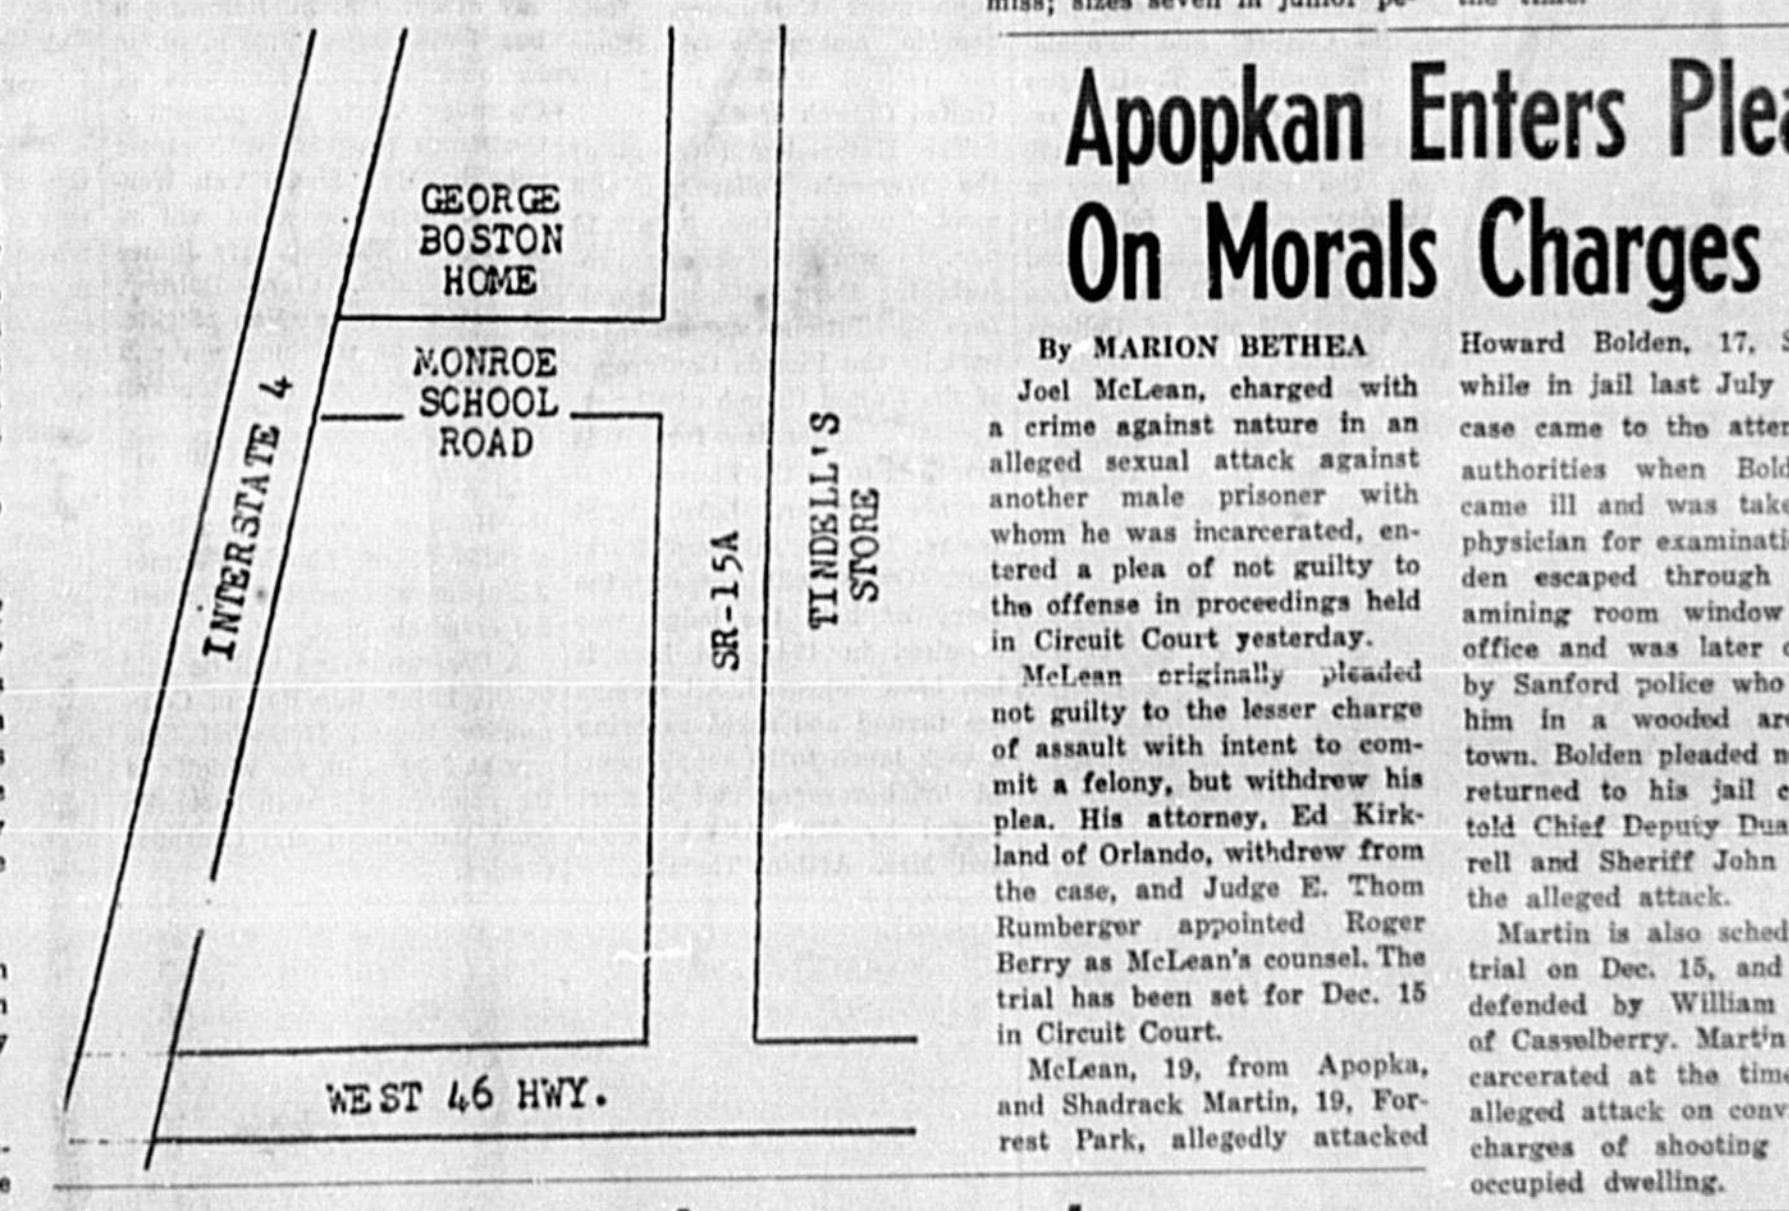

By BILL SCOTT
The people of Sanford and Seminole County have hearts of gold!
This was visibly demonstrated by the many phone calls and personal visits made to The Herald by concerned persons wanting to help a poverty-stricken Lake Monroe family have a Merry Christmas by providing gifts and clothing.
The Salvation Army has offered to receive the many contributions offered by local residents and will take them to the George Boston family.
Capt. Jack Owens, of Salvation Army, said today his office would serve as clearing house for those persons wishing to contribute to this nine-member family.
To help those who would like to take clothing items and other gifts to the family, The Herald is publishing a map showing how to get to the Boston's two-bedroom home.
As further assistance, the clothing sizes for the children are also given. Family consists of five girls and two boys.
Sizes include: girls' dresses, sizes nine and seven in Junior sizes; sizes seven in Junior sizes; sizes seven in Junior girls; sizes seven-eight in little girls; sizes three-four in little girls.
Boys sizes include: 14 shirt and 14 pants; 10 shirt and 12 pants. Captain Owens has assured the people of Sanford that the Boston family will get the "best Christmas ever."
Owens said, "The Salvation Army always has and will continue to help people in need all the time."

Back Pay Held For 9 Persons

Happier holidays may await $10 Florida workers who will get some unexpected help with their Christmas shopping if their names appear on a list just released by the wage and hour and public contracts division regional office at Atlanta.
Amounts due each worker range from $25 to $208. The total is more than $40,000. To claim back wages, the worker must identify himself by mailing his Social Security number and his present address to the Wage and Hour and Public Contracts Division, U. S. Department of Labor, Room 331, 1371 Peachtree Street, N.E., Atlanta, Ga., 30309.
This letter should be written promptly as the back wages must be claimed within a specified time period; for some the time ends in February 1970, Huetter reports.
The workers in this area and their last known post office are: Altamonte-Donna Brown; Park-Bonny Crawford; North Orlando-Jane D. West; Oviedo-Jerry L. McStiff; Ann Meadows and Betty Scallan; and Sanford-Norma Denver, Marie Drier, and Kathryn Benn.

Bulletin

First National Bank of Tampa late this morning approved a $1 million FHA-insured loan for the construction of an apartment complex between Ponce de Leon and Mangrove Avenues. Owners of the Seminole Gardens apartment complex are Earl Germain and Ernest Rapp, of Orlando. John A. Burton IV, Sanford, is architect for the facility. (Detailed article will be published in Monday's Herald.)
Sentenced in proceedings in Circuit Court this morning before Judge Roger Dykes was Jeffrey Lee Parker, manslaughter, 10 years probation. Lance Richardson, two counts assault and battery, three years probation; Estelle Eyrk, assault with intent to commit a felony, second degree murder, sentence delayed; Lovine Henry, possession of narcotic, marijuana, six months to four years in prison; Shadrack Martin, violation of probation, arraigned, pleaded not guilty, hearing to be held on Dec. 18.
Howard Bolden, 17, Sanford, while in jail last July 10. The case came to the attention of authorities when Bolden became ill and was taken to a physician for examination. Bolden escaped through an examining room window in the office and was later captured by Sanford police who spotted him in a wooded area near town. Bolden pleaded not to be held Chief Deputy Deane Farrell and Sheriff John Polk of the alleged attack.
Martin is also scheduled for trial on Dec. 15, and will be defended by William Conrad, of Casselberry. Martin was incarcerated at the time of the alleged attack on conviction of charges of shooting into an occupied dwelling.

Doing Their 'Thing'

By DORIS WILLIAMS
Gaiety and glamor will reign at Sanford Civic Center tonight when Champagne Ball revelers will do their own thing at the sixth annual gala, sponsored by Seminole Mutual Concert Association.
A touch of cosmopolitan splendor will be reflected in the circular, candlelit driveway where uniformed doormen will greet merry-makers, rolling out the carpet and giving them the full VIP treatment at the sparkling holiday formal affair.
Amid dazzling Christmas decor, featuring a melange of vivid blues and greens, the champagne ball begins promptly at 7 p.m.
The luxurious and festive surroundings include a gleaming silver champagne fountain gracing the center of the vast auditorium surrounded by a revolving hors d'oeuvres table.
An exotic buffet dinner, featuring an array of tempting and tantalizing Continental cuisine and also favorites of America, will be served, beginning at 8 p.m.
Dramatic lighting effects will further enhance the night of splendor as local belles bow out in their minis, pant outfits and traditional, swishing ball gowns on the arm of the favorite man in their lives who will be all decked out in his formal regalia.
Patrons will dance to the music of the Top Hats of Valdosta, Ga., a popular brass band who will swing out with favorites of today and yesterday.
Proceeds from the glittering gala will be used by Seminole Mutual Concert Association to further attract professional concert artists to the area as the cultural growth of Seminole progresses by leaps and bounds.

With Him

By RICHARD L. MARSHALL
AP Religion Writer

The last time we wrote for this column, we dealt with the anticipation of visiting the land of our Lord. At this writing, that dream has been realized, and it is possible to say, "I walked today where Jesus walked, in days of long ago." As you can well imagine, such an experience was a sublime thrill, and brings measurably to the heart of the Christian.

Yet it is not necessary to journey thousands of miles to walk with Christ. Neither need we be content with only memories of that which happened "in days of long ago." The marvelous reality of Christianity is that it is a matter of daily, personal walk with Christ. It is not just a matter of "church membership," or only a human fellowship, rewarding as these may be, but in essence a personal relationship with the personal Christ.

Jesus made His presence with His people through all time of the most emphatic truths of His teaching. As His followers were commissioned to make disciples of all nations, He said, "and I am with you always, even unto the end of the world." (Matt. 28:20) In the preceding verse He had told them that such disciples were to be baptized "into the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Spirit," in baptism we come into a personal relationship with Him.

Paul further instructs us of this personal nature of Christian baptism when he writes, "Or are ye ignorant that all we who were baptized into Christ Jesus were baptized into His death? We were buried therefore with Him through baptism into death: that like as Christ was raised from the dead through the glory of the Father, so we also might walk in a newness of life." (Rom. 6:3-4) He stresses this truth again in Colossians 2:12 when he writes, "having been buried with Him in baptism when ye were also raised with Him through faith in the working of God who raised Him from the dead." Buried with Him, raised with Him... this is the beauty and the power of Christian baptism.

When our Lord instituted the Lord's Supper He said, "But I say unto you, I shall not drink henceforth of this fruit of the vine unto that day when I drink it new with you in my Father's kingdom." (Matt. 26:29) The Lord's Supper is so intimately called the Communion service, because as the church meets upon the first day of the week to observe this memorial feast (Acts 20:7) it is with the glorious awareness that the Lord is "himself" present.

Reader, do you just know about Him? Or do you walk with Him?

It tends to "perpetuate an image of the ministry as a second-class profession," and causes "unhealthy feelings of inferiority" in ministers.

On the other hand, the Rev. Michael Baldwin, a Columbus, Ohio, Methodist pastor, said "frustration is on the rise" among clergymen, and they "no longer want to feel like kept men and second-class professionals."

The Rev. James Allen Kestle, a Lansdowne, Pa., Methodist pastor, said that although he himself doesn't depend on discommodities, the criticism of them fails to consider the financial "harsh realities many clergy face even in this day of affluence."

Disputing claims that it makes clergymen feel inferior, he said many of "limited income can and do hold up their heads as they along with the more affluent—shop for discommodities."

He said, "I am with you always, even unto the end of the world." (Matt. 28:20) In the preceding verse He had told them that such disciples were to be baptized "into the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Spirit," in baptism we come into a personal relationship with Him.

After viewing the so-called annual Christmas parade, supposedly the longest ever, now really 125 units, I cannot but help to write and comment on how disappointed and ashamed I was at the sight of these people have to say it was the "greatest ever." Not only were the bands in terrible display (with the exception of Sanford Junior High, Lynnwood High, Jones High and the Orlando Naval Training Center bands), the floats could have been better, and there could have been more if the big merchants and financial institutions had participated.

I'm sure people from out-of-town were disappointed and, in fact, I know the majority to speak with some, as well as a great number of local patrons. Dedicated at the service, the organ was given as a memorial by relatives and friends of the late Mr. and Mrs. William G. Kilde, who died in July as a result of an auto accident. The couple had been members of the church for more than 55 years. A Book of Memorials and Memorial Desk were dedicated to the memory of Mrs. Augusta O. Bilbrey and a bookcase for the new library was donated by Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Smith. (Lis Mathieux Photo)

"Run-Off" Election: Time For Sober Discussion

Sanford's run-off mayor-commissioner election to be held on Dec. 16 is an event filled with promise and peril.

Such leadership which could be resolved in the run-off election would be shown as Messrs. Moore and Higginbotham pondered the issues — many of which have been the agenda during the years when both have been city commissioners — and took time to issue written statements which we would be glad to print in our news columns.

How does each candidate stand on the matter of a new City Hall? And even more important to the government of Sanford, what is each one's conviction in regard to a new city charter?

Some word on this would be most helpful for voters to use in assessing the attitude of each candidate towards the manner of helping Sanford grow with Sanford leaders in control.

Questions ? ?

- There comes a time in the minds of the electorate when one thought makes itself known in no uncertain terms. And that would be a desire to have both of our Mayorally candidates "clear the air" and speak on specifics concerning projects or thoughts we can understand.

Interpretive Report:

Nixon Administration Baffles

By RICHARD WILSON WASHINGTON, D. C. — What makes the Nixon administration so baffling to the Washington community who have been in Washington a long time is its ability to identify with and exploit conventional and traditional thought.

Some goals for our social contacts in life, such as learning how to carry on any type of conversation with a superior and confident manner, are being taught in the view of the permanent Washington community.

Living Disposal

In a two-hour experiment to dispose of garbage and possibly find a less expensive method — used a Norman, Okla., census in grinding up household wastes, plastic, paper and tin can linings and using the residue as part of the diet for several head of cattle.

was aboard ship, getting ready to play softball, when the surprise attack began.

The first bomb was a direct hit and shattered Kinlaw's leg. He spent the next 11 months in the hospital and was discharged for sea duty as a result.

After his retirement from the Navy in 1948 he returned to his home in Sanford, Fla., to a job with Civil Service at the Navy base here. He had lived here since 1918, when he was six years old.

"I was mad," he said, in summation of his feeling about the attack. "It was a dirty trick."

"It just can't be!" said Wayne Norris, a Longwood resident. "It was a total surprise. It was hard to conceive that it was actually happening."

A crewman on the USS Trecy, a minesweeper with a crew of about 90 men, Norris was not aboard ship at the start of the attack. His ship, as were all of the ships in the area had put in for repairs in Pearl Harbor. On the weekend of Dec. 7, Norris was spending the weekend with his brother at nearby Hickam Field.

The sleeping man was awakened by the sound of the explosions. "I thought it was the blasting on a nearby channel," he explained. "I looked out the window," he continued. "It was raining shrapnel!"

He noticed the red circles of the Japanese air force on the wings of the planes that were buzzing overhead directly above him.

He returned to the scene of the devastation an hour later. He joined others in fighting fires, cleaning up the debris, and carrying away the bodies.

His ship, the Trecy, had no guns on the deck when the bullets broke loose. The men who were on the ship dragged up two 30-caliber machineguns and mounted them and fought until they were taken to the USS California to fight.

Norris retired in 1960 after 22 years in the Navy. He is now working with the Barnes Drapery and Floor Covering Company in Orlando.

A Caselberry man, Clifford T. Hampson, was a member of the USS Medusa, a repair ship. His friends were aboard the USS West Virginia. He has just been transferred to the Medusa, where he was serving as a pharmacist.

"I was in the shower in the sick bay area," said Hampson. "I ran out on deck directly from the shower when someone told me the attack was for real. The planes were so low I could have hit me with the bar of soap I was holding."

He dressed, and reported to his position in the sickbay. The Medusa shot down three planes and sank a two-man miniature submarine. The repair shop immediately joined the effort to salvage other ships in the harbor, trying to save the electrical and optical equipment that was so vital to the ships before radar.

"Their aim was to cripple the battleships," explained Hampson. Ironically, it was the aircraft carriers that the Japanese deemed unimportant that turned the tide of the war.

"They sunk or damaged every one of the battleships, and hit about 24 percent of all of the ships in the harbor. The nearby USS Curtis, next to the Medusa, was hit directly by a Kamakazi — perhaps the first of the war."

Hampson retired in 1959 from the Navy. He is now a dental technician in Caselberry.

GIs Have Reason To Kill Civilians

EDITOR'S NOTE—Allegations that American GIs massacred South Vietnamese civilians during a raid on a village complex last year have stunned the United States. How could it happen? Is the most frequently asked question. In the following analysis, John T. Wheeler, who reported the war in Vietnam for the Associated Press for several years, gives an insight into the conditions of a strange war in which anything can happen.

By JOHN T. WHEELER
Associated Press Writer

To try to understand the alleged massacre by American GIs of civilians at My Lai it is necessary also to understand the atmosphere of a war which has led many U.S. fighting men to feel they are as much at war against Vietnam as for it.

While the communists speak of battles involving companies and battalions—the clash of professional soldiers doing their grim job—each GI carries with him the certain knowledge that in any village there may be men, women, and even children who are also the enemy, waiting for the time and place to attack him.

Brutality and indifference to human life, are commonplace in Vietnam. Even the disfigurement of dead GIs is common.

In Vietnam the killing of civilians was a practice established by the Viet Cong as a major part of the war long before the first U.S. ground troops were committed in March 1965.

20,000 civilians had been murdered by that time in enemy excursions aimed at so thoroughly terrorizing the countryside that none would resist. The total now is more than 40,000, including more than 2,000 killed by the enemy in Hue when they held part of that city for 24 weeks. At Hue, the victims were predominantly civilians of all ages. Many were killed simply by tying their hands behind their backs, shoving them into a trench and burying them alive.

It was into this conflict that the American troops were plunged. They had been told to kill the Viet Cong who were bad and who the peasant who were good and who the enemy because he had no choice. Given a chance, the official line went, Vietnam wanted to be free and democratic just like America.

But the GIs found a war of wretched families, and divided allegiances to any regime, either Viet Cong or Saigon.

There is no front in Vietnam, no rear, no safety. To the GI a rifle company everyone out the perimeter can be suspected of plotting to kill him.

In Vietnam the word civilian does not describe accommodations. It describes dress more certainly than occupation.

In Vietnam the GI has plenty of reason for his distrust and fear.

Item: U.S. Marines found begging children to whom they had been giving food were stealing grenades that were tossed back at the Leathernecks during the night.

Item: One Green Beret commander found his desk booby-trapped by one of the Vietnamese working for him. The Green Berets began using lie detectors because their mercenary forces in some camps were running as high as 30 percent Viet Cong.

Item: A U.S. truck was blown up, killing all aboard, on Highway 17, called "bloody Route 17" because of the frequency of mineings. GIs from another truck quickly traced out the electrical wires to the detonator and found a young girl still holding the handle. They shot her.

VCs Agree To 3-Day Truce For Christmas, New Year

By GEORGE ESPER
Associated Press Writer

SAIGON (AP) — The Viet Cong announced today that its forces would observe Christmas and New Year's truce of three days each, two days longer than those proclaimed Thursday by the Saigon government.

The Viet Cong radio said the Christmas truce would start at 11 a.m. Dec. 24, 12 noon Dec. 25, and end at 1 a.m. Dec. 27. It said the New Year's truce would run from 1 a.m. Dec. 30 to 1 a.m. Jan. 1.

President Nguyen Van Thieu proclaimed 24-hour cease-fires to start at 6 p.m. Christmas Eve and 6 p.m. New Year's Eve. The U.S. Command said American forces would join in the truce proclaimed by Thieu.

The U.S. Command said today it had received reports for the first time in the way that North Vietnamese army officers executed at least a dozen of their soldiers who tried to desert.

In a special memorandum to newsmen, the command said armed guards to prevent desertions were reported accompanying North Vietnamese units in North Vietnam, where desertion has been a problem in the South Vietnamese army for years.

The U.S. Command said its reports came from three North Vietnamese defectors who escaped last August and September.

Two of them said they were prisoners, both born in Ha Tay Province and both with the North Vietnamese army's 3rd Division.

The 17 years old, arrived in Saigon in Vietnam last March. He reported that "a number of men from his battalion deserted in North Vietnam, where they were south and that 10 soldiers who attempted to desert were shot by the unit's officers," the U.S. statement said.

A delegation of six participants planned to meet with the President today to stress the concern of the conference.

"There is a hunger and malnutrition emergency in this country today," the conference statement said Thursday.

"Therefore, the President must immediately declare that a national hunger emergency exists, and under existing authority must now free funds and implement programs to feed all hungry Americans this winter," the statement said.

As an interim measure only all present food programs should be reformed and expanded, the statement said.

'Action For Hungry' Urged From Nixon

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon's White House nutrition conference has told him in effect what has been done for the nation's hungry is not enough and what should be done should be done now.

The 3,000 delegates from all walks of life showed acceptance of a statement calling on Nixon to declare a national hunger emergency, the government to guarantee an annual income floor of $3,500 and free lunch and breakfast programs for poor children.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Democrats, moving rapidly to take the lead in the tax reform bill raising Social Security taxes by 15 percent effective Jan. 1.

The Democrats took action Thursday to get the rider into position for adoption today. The bill as GOP senators were believed planning a similar move.

The rider is identical to the Social Security bill approved Wednesday by the House Ways and Means Committee.

Long and Sen. Albert Gore, D-Tenn., chief sponsors of the amendment said they were convinced this procedure was the best way to assure passage of the Social Security bill before the 1969 session ends.

Sniper Kills 1, Wounds 1; Captured

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Police say a man who fired shots from a third-floor window killed one and wounded another before exchanging fire with police for nearly three hours.

He finally fled from a rooming house, where he was arrested.

The gunman fired sporadically into the street even though police hurled barrage after barrage of tear gas into the building.

Police were summoned to the building, in the city's Hill District, about 10 p.m. Thursday when firing into the street was reported. Then the battle in heavy smoke and sulfurous temperatures began.

At one point, police opened upon the building for 30 seconds to make sure rifles, pistols and tear gas. The man withstood the onslaught, however, and continued firing.

In a follow-up barrage of tear gas, the man's room caught fire. He fled and police made the arrest.

Derarkisian was charged with murder, assault with intent to kill and violation of the firearms law.

The dead man, tentatively identified as Nathaniel Brown, was lying at the third-story landing when police entered the building. His body was removed by police 45 minutes before Derarkisian was captured.

The wounded man, William Miller, 38, was found lying on a sidewalk outside the building. Police retrieved him shortly after the shooting began. Miller was reported in satisfactory condition with a back wound.

Police were not immediately able to pinpoint the exact location of the shooting, which was reported in a newspaper column, unless he is coming up.

Asst. Sup. J.P. Kelly said Derarkisian was a 30-year-old man of very normal language, unless he is coming up.

After initial attempts to flush the man out of the building with tear gas failed, police sent in attack dogs.

Three dogs were reported shot but the unsuccessful force.

The short, stocky, heavily bearded Derarkisian was reported to be the only white man living in the neighborhood.

He is the only fish that lives in the sea.

Hippie Pledges To Relate Murders

By LINDA DEUSCH
Associated Press Writer

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A young woman, whose attorney pledges she will tell who killed Sharon Tate and her others, testifies before a grand jury today.

Prosecutors are seeking to indict the bearded leader of her hippie-style clan for conspiracy to commit murder.

Miss Atkins, charged with murder in a separate case, accompanied members of the clan as they killed Miss Tate, actress-wife of Polaris film director Roman Polanski, and the others last summer, Caballero said.

But he said she was temporarily insane, under the clan leader's "hypnotic spell" at the time and "had nothing to do with the murders."

Miss Atkins' jail cell conversations led to arrests in the Tate case. But the Los Angeles Times, to which Caballero made his statements, said prosecutors were expected to seek her indictment anyway.

Also among the 18 scheduled witnesses was producer Terry Melcher, 27-year-old son of singer-actress Doris Day. Melcher declined comment on his testimony.

Miss Atkins' attorney said Melcher was visited by Charles M. Manson, 35, known as the leader of a quasi-religious clan of hippie types who knew Manson as "God" and "Satan."

Manson was unsuccessful in seeking Melcher's help to record some songs when Melcher lived in the Tate home in fashionable Bel Air before Miss Tate and her husband moved in, the attorney said.

Deputy Dist. Atty. Aaron Stovitz said Thursday he would ask the grand jury to indict Manson on a charge of conspiracy to commit murder, and would seek murder and conspiracy indictments against at least five other persons.

It was the first word that Manson, held for trial in Independence, Calif., on charges of possessing stolen property and driving a stolen vehicle, would be a target for prosecution in the slayings.

Shot or stabbed with Miss Tate, 26, at her rented $200,000 home last Aug. 9 were Holly wood hair stylist Jay Sebring, 35, coffee heiress Abigail Folger, 26, Polish playboy Voltyek Proskovsky, 37, and Steven Parant, 18, a friend of the caretaker.

A wealthy market executive, Leno LaBianca, 44, and his wife Rosemary, 38, were stabbed to death at their Hollywood home the next day.

Miss Atkins' lawyers said she told them that members of Manson's group, who dressed in black for the occasion, committed the Tate slayings, then killed the LaBiancas to prove their nerve. They reported she said Manson was not with them.

Police have said three of the indictment targets are Patricia Krenwinkel, 21, in custody in Mobile, Ala.; Charles D. Watson, 24, jailed in McKinney, Tex.; and Linda Louise Kasabian, 20, arraigned here Thursday. Police said they were involved in the LaBianca slayings.

In addition to them and Miss Atkins, the Times said others against whom prosecutors are expected to seek indictments are Steve Grogan, 18, also known as Glen Tufis, and Leslie Sankston, about 20, a young woman. The newspaper identified them as members of Manson's hippie-style "family."

Top Cop Arrested For Dope

MIAMI (AP) — A 31-year veteran on the Miami police force has been charged in connection with a $100,000-a-week marijuana smuggling operation involving what officials say may be the biggest haul of marijuana in the city's history.

Inspector Francis L. Napier, who ranked directly below the chief, was arrested on the conspiracy charge while on duty as night supervisor of criminal investigation Wednesday.

Police Chief Bernard Garrine said Napier and two other men, the customs investigator, and Peter J. Millican, 21, were taken into custody following a U.S. customs investigation.

Adrian was arrested three blocks from the police station. Officers said they found 400 pounds of marijuana in his car. The case was reported to lead agents to a warehouse where they found another 1,000 pounds of marijuana.

Assistant U.S. Atty. Michael Osman said the case could be one of the "greatest single seizures of marijuana in Miami's history."

Commander 'Did Not See' Massacre

Army Lieutenant Called In Probe

By FRED S. HOFFMAN
AP Military Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — An Army board lined up testimony today from 1st Lt. William L. Calley Jr., charged with murdering Vietnamese civilians.

Calley's company commander ordered them shot when they refused to return to their unit, the U.S. memorandum said.

The guerrilla "further stated that the North Vietnamese army cadre have increased their supervision to combat desertions while on operations in base areas and on food gathering missions.

Meanwhile, more fighting was reported along the Cambodian border west of Saigon.

Two of them said they were prisoners, both born in Ha Tay Province and both with the North Vietnamese army's 3rd Division.

The 17 years old, arrived in Saigon in Vietnam last March. He reported that "a number of men from his battalion deserted in North Vietnam, where they were south and that 10 soldiers who attempted to desert were shot by the unit's officers," the U.S. statement said.

A delegation of six participants planned to meet with the President today to stress the concern of the conference.

Marine Invites Investigation

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — Maj. Charles Robb says he is anxious for the Pentagon to investigate charges of "indiscriminate killing" by U.S. troops.

The charge was made in a letter to Percy from Anthony Martin-Trigona of Champlain, Ill., a Vietnam veteran.

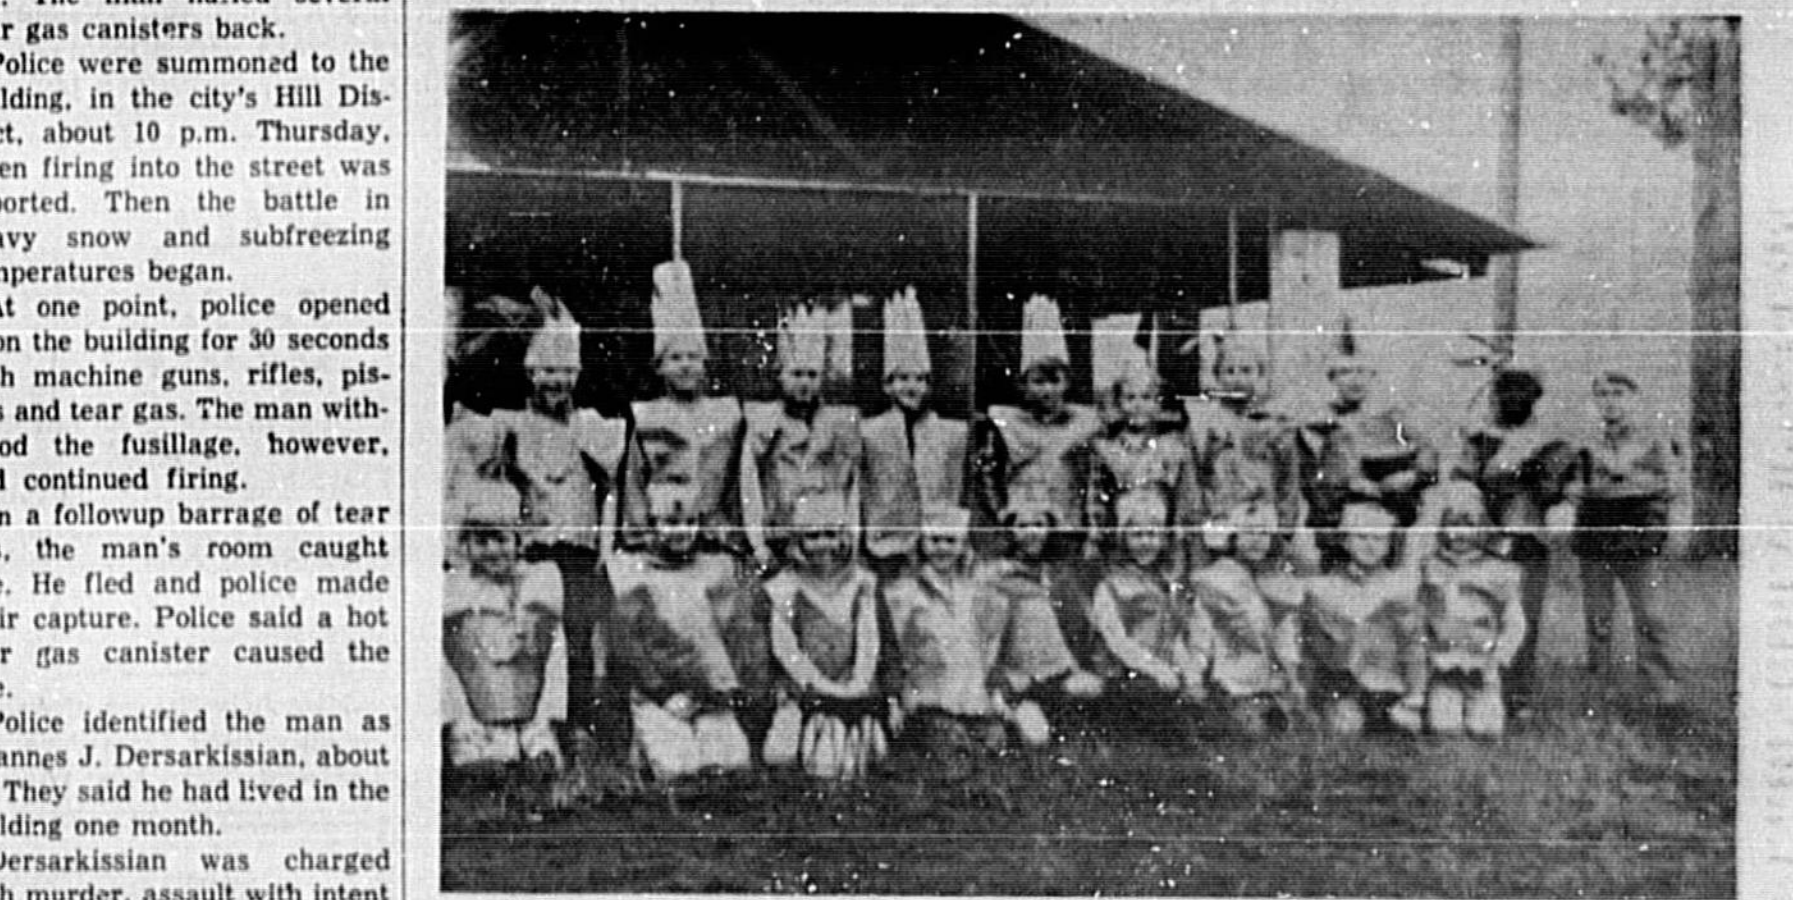

Columnist Jack Anderson said Thursday in an article published in the New York Post the letter claims the killings were committed by members of Robb's Marine company. Martin-Trigona visited Vietnam as a newspaper correspondent.

At a Las Vegas news conference Thursday, Robb said he had informed him of the letter and referred the matter to the Defense Department for investigation.

Pertaining to Martin-Trigona, Robb said newsmen, "I have found something you didn't tell anybody about it there? I would like to know how it happened. I would like to know how it happened. I would like to know how it happened."

Robb said he had 250 men under his command and could not swear atrocities hadn't happened without his knowledge.

The officer was here for a Marine district meeting.

Magical Recipe To Assure Ultimate In Holiday Happiness

By DORIS WILLIAMS
Society Editor

Christmas is happiness. Recipe for Christmas and Holiday happiness, guaranteed to please and delight all ages—First, mix together in one large studio, two vivacious, talented instructors (Miriam and Valerie Rye) and 23 graceful, energetic and inspired dancers; stir until well-blended and rehearsed; add dazzling and glittering costumes, two twirling toe shoes and sparkling smiles. Next blend with exciting dances and lavish sets. Pour all ingredients into Seminole High School auditorium Dec. 20. Top with the full pleasure of the Christmas season and there is a dream come true for the Ballet Guild of Sanford-Seminole as they proudly present the enchanting and living "Nutcracker Suite."

The magic of Christmas will be reflected on the stage which will be transformed into a mid-victorian, fashionable living room for the opening scene, complete with burning fireplace and glowing Christmas tree. The authentic setting would, in reality, do credit to the lavish refined and homes of the Tchaikovsky era.

From the moment the curtain opens, the audience will be entranced with the splendid scenery, rousing music and memorable dances.

"The Nutcracker Suite," a traditional ballet, moves swiftly from Clara's dream sequence about the toy nutcracker given to her by her godfather, "Old Drosselmeyer." The Fantasy of the nutcracker carries the audience to the land of the Sugar Plum Fairy and other Utopian Elysiums where the dedicated dancers are costumed elegantly to portray the native scene. For 75 years this beautiful ballet has brought delight to audiences around the world. Tchaikovsky's score abounds with curious instrumental combinations. The favored instrument in the entire score is the celesta, heard by the composer in Paris, who ordered that it be secured for him secretly. He used it as a surprise in "The Nutcracker" as the sugar plum fairy's own musical signature. First introduced by the Russian Imperial Ballet in 1892, our own local talent of Ballet Guild will dance through the Russian Classical Ballet with the finesse of concert artists.

The fast-paced production, geared to the young and young-at-heart, will be featured twice on Dec. 20, matinee at 2:30 p. m. and evening, 8 p. m. You'll be glad you added the attendance of the performance to your "must" list for Christmas.

Advice To Career-Minded

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Writer
Girls planning a career might profit from some tips suggested by Miss Hall, Deputy Commissioner of the New York State Department of Commerce. Many girls enter the work world right after high school, sometimes before they've had a chance to figure out what it is all about she says.
Miss Hall points out that it's extremely important not to goof-off on a job. If you want to get ahead, give it your very best.
If you aren't sure what your attitude is, try this test, she says.
If you had completed your work assignments and an emergency arose in your office, would you:
a) See what job had to be done and do it.
b) Organize with others to do it to the most efficient way.
c) Not knowing how to do it, do nothing.
d) Do only the part of it that promotes your personal ambition.
e) Feel no responsibility to do it, doing only what you must.
f) Not quite understand what needs to be done, but try to do something.
g) Not see the job to be done or even feel any need to be busy.
The first two attitudes are best. Good employees hop right to it when there is a job to be done, says Miss Hall, a former newspaperwoman.
"In addition to advising women on ways to improve their work lives and market their work services, New York State is providing a how-to booklet prepared by cosmetic expert Estee Lauder. Miss Lauder is a member of the Women's Council, an outstanding group in business, industry, education and the professions appointed by Gov. Nelson Rockefeller.
A job interview is like a blind date, the booklet explains. Neither person knows what to expect. A job may be lost before an interview begins. You must prepare to be unaffected, attractive, assured, friendly, neat and clean. Here are some tips:

Colonel Confirms Herald Exclusive

By FRED VAN PELT

News content of an article published in last Friday's Sanford Herald about the losing of a substantial lease at Sanford Airport to Aero Corporation, of Lake City, was condemned today by Don Rathel, director of the Sanford Industrial Commission, but was confirmed by Col. Kenneth Juhn, Air Force.

Friday's article pointed out that Bill Coley, president of Aero Corporation, came here to view Sanford Airport and reached a verbal agreement for a lease contingent on receiving an Air Force contract to repair nine F-104 jet fighter airplanes for $434,400, providing 130 jobs. However, Coley was quoted that after receiving the contract he contacted Rathel only to be informed that the desired property had been leased to another party.

Rathel released a statement to the news media, hitting Friday's news article as "yellow journalism." (Rathel's statement appears on this page.)

Coley obtained the needed facilities at Spence Air Force Base industrial park at Moultrie, Ga., and is setting up his F-104 operations there, with Colonel Juhn, now retired, in charge.

Coley said today: "I have no bones to pick with Mr. Rathel and I'll leave it to Colonel Juhn to confirm that your Friday article was absolutely correct."

Colonel Juhn was reached by phone and confirmed that Friday's article, including the statements attributed to Coley, were correct. "We have no useful purpose in pursuing this matter now," said the retired Air Force officer, "but we did spend a day and night there (during our Labor Day pageant). We have in our files the blueprints of the airport, the utility rates, and I know we gave the impression to Mr. Rathel that we were going after the Air Force contract with Sanford Airport in mind."

"As Mr. Coley told you Friday," Colonel Juhn concluded, "we were informed we could not have the Sanford Airport space after we obtained the contract and it was then we searched around for other space and found it at Moultrie. Your article Friday was correct."

Editorial Comment

Yellow Journal? That We Are Not

"Yellow journalism — sensational; said of some newspapers, their makers, etc." — Webster's unabridged dictionary. Meaning, in a broader sense, a newspaper which publishes articles without thought for veracity or truthfulness but merely to make headlines and sell papers.

The Sanford Industrial Commission director used the phrase, "yellow journalism," loosely when he issued a statement (below) of charges against an article appearing in last Friday's Herald (see story of verification in columns 1, 2 and 3 of this page).

Could it be considered "yellow journalism" the publication of Dr. Luis Perez's statement that falling-to-vote-by-reds-communism? Could it be considered "yellow journalism" that this paper publicized the need of the Boston family, with its unbelievable response by the reading public? Could it be "yellow journalism" that the editorials "The Fall of Last Shadow On Municipal Election," published last Thursday, met with such reader response that it is being quoted today by Nick Pfeinauf in the editorial segment of news broadcasts over WESH-TV, Orlando?

Statement

Sanford Industrial Commission

5 December, 1969

The column appearing in The Sanford Herald Friday afternoon claiming a forgetfulness on the part of our newspaper in dealing with a supposed client for airport facilities constrains me to set the record straight.

Mr. Coley of AERO Corporation did look at the facilities at the airport. He did not at any time ask for, either in writing or verbally, the facilities at the airport in order to lease them for a supposed contract that he was after. At a later date I received a phone call at my home on Saturday evening from Mr. Coley asking about the availability of facilities at the airport. At that time I informed him that the facility he was interested in had been leased; therefore was not available. That, in essence, closed the negotiations with AERO Corporation.

If Mr. Coley had bid a job with the Air Force using the Sanford facility as the place where he would accomplish the job, we could so without any written or verbal commitment from the Sanford Industrial Commission. I feel that this is a cheap attempt to involve the Sanford Industrial Commission in the local political situation, and I'm sorry that the writer does not obtain facts before he loosely condemns an individual who is looking out for the best interests of Sanford. I have put up with this local yellow journalism for as long as I feel any person should, and it's time that the news media forgets about personalities and starts dealing in facts and not wild accusations.

If the writer has any facts to present, I'm sure the Industrial Commission will be very happy to consider these facts. We have shown the airport to many companies involved with aircraft overhaul, but the only company to come forward with a satisfactory contract was PAGE AIRWAYS, and the Industrial Commission therefore leased these facilities to PAGE AIRWAYS.

Seminole Responds To Plea

The George Boston family now have enough blankets to place two on each bed and thus will sleep warm on cold nights.

This was revealed this morning by Fern Boston, 36-year-old mother of seven children, who disclosed that Sanford and Seminole County people have been very kind and considerate to her family after reading of their poverty plight in Thursday's Sanford Herald.

Mrs. Boston, owner of one dress, is now the possessor of eight dresses which she said will require some renovation before wearing.

The Bostons received can foods of all kinds, flour, potatoes, rice and the children received clothing, especially the girls.

Three-year-old Ginny now has two pairs of shoes. The Boston's two sons have not done as well as their sisters in receiving Christmas "blessings" although shirts and trousers have been given to the youths.

The Sanford Salvation Army is collecting items for the Boston's and will soon make delivery of items received at the army's 214 East Second Street office.

"The do-nothing Democratic leaders from Duval and Dade Counties have turned this urgently needed road session into a anti-the-Republicans (also, State Rep. E. Pope Bassett declared this morning from Tallahassee, where he is attending Gov. Claude Kirk's special session seeking approval of his $8 million, 16-year road improvement program.

"Refusing to even let the Governor's road plan be presented for a vote," Bassett stated, "the Democrats have preferred to continue their personal vilification of the Republican administrative officials. With-bunting with half-truths and irrelevant hearsay does not meet our road needs."

Complex Is Started

Construction was started this morning on the $1 million Seminole Gardens complex. Builders are Earl Gorman and Ernest Hupp, who said construction should be completed within eight months.

The complex—designed for the underprivileged with the federal government subsidizing the rents partially—will be located on seven acres of land at Mangrove Avenue and Seventh Street.

There will be 107 living units of one-, two- and three-bedroom, plus a recreation building and a laundry building. The structures will be two stories and of concrete block.

First National Bank of Tampa approved the $1 million FHA-insured loan last Friday.

John A. Burton IV, Sanford, is the architect.

Promoter Looking To Rock Fete Here

By BILL SCOTT

A northern promoter is seeking to lease Seminole County property for an Easter weekend rock music festival.

This was disclosed today by a county property owner, who wishes to remain anonymous for business reasons.

He said he had been approached a week ago by two men from New York City wanting to rent property for a rock-fest, but had turned them down after hearing that Seminole County Commission assessor John E. Polk had declined to issue a permit for another group.

Both John Alexander, County Commission chairman, and Polk acknowledged their opposition to the festival.

Alexander said a New Jersey group, through an attorney, had called him before leasing 400 acres near Chulota for an Easter weekend rock music festival.

Alexander said the attorney following sentencing of her mother to ten months to four years in state prison on charges of possession of narcotics (to wit morphine).
