

An Easy Lesson On How To Get A Coaching Job

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark., Feb. 16.—Take it from Dr. Eugene Lambert, average athletes have better chance of getting coaching and teaching jobs by attending their own state university.

His statement was made in connection with the comment that the University of Arkansas, of which he now is athletic director, must improve its system of obtaining football talent if Razorback teams were to return to the high places attained in the South Conference during the late twenties and mid-thirties.

Arkansas hasn't won a conference football game since the middle of the 1940 season.

"It's easy for stars to get jobs whether they attend their own state university or an anonymous state university," said Dr. Lambert, declaring "but stars are few and far between and, for every star, there are at least a dozen players making the stars' fees possible."

Clarence Gais was a steady and smart quarterback for Arkansas although he didn't make long runs for touchdowns. Lambert said, but Gais is one of Little Rock High School. At Harris, he added, was a loose observing quarterback for the Razorbacks who didn't get the plaudits of the crowd, but he's now coach of Pine Bluff High School.

Other Arkansas footballers he recalled as "average talents" included Emilie, coach of Memphis Technical High; Leslie Nations, former Fayetteville High coach and now assistant at Fort Smith High; and Eustis McDonald, Harrison High coach.

Dr. Lambert said an athlete's own state university would lean over backward to keep a state athlete in school while many schools that desired one athlete from another state would encourage three or more to attend from that state, and later cut off the scholarships from all except the one picked as the best.

One Negro Dies, Another Injured In Sweeping Fire

YONKERS, N.Y., Feb. 16.—Smoke, Chief Cleveland concluded.

If Mrs. Jones recovers, and Dr. Stark gives her a fifty-fifty chance, it will be due to the prompt action of the negro boys, names unrevealed, who returning from a dance heard the screams of Mrs. Jones, as clothing flamed as she fled from the burning home.

Tearing the flaming clothing from the woman, the boys quickly enveloped her in an overcoat, according to Daisy Kinard, a neighbor, who with her husband had been roused from their bed by the screams. Samual Kinard then drove Mrs. Jones to the hospital.

Frank Marshall, orange picker for Chase and Company for whom Jones had worked in the same capacity, was asleep with his wife in another front bedroom. Hearing Mrs. Jones screaming, he stated that he rushed to the rear door and saw the boy tearing the flaming clothing from the woman. He then called his wife, and they escaped without any ill effects from the fire, other than loss of possessions.

City Inspector Grady Duncan who visited the charred home this morning, pointed out that there were three doors in the bedroom in which Jones was trapped; against the one in the front opening to the porch was a trunk, while charred remnants showed that a table had stood against a door at the side. Only the door to the kitchen offered escape and that opened inward.

Calling Negro Man "Mister" Arouses Southern Senators

WASHINGTON, Feb. 14 (AP)—Enrolled over the pros and cons of whether certain government people are "crackpots" and if so what to do about it, the House heard debate recently ranging from the war to Errol Flynn's acquittal.

The outstanding developments on the floor were:

1. Clarence Cannon, Democrat, of Missouri, chairman of the Appropriations Committee, announced that he would ask the House tomorrow to authorize creation of a five-man subcommittee to pass on the qualifications of Federal employees whose loyalty or fitness is questioned. It would hear testimony on both sides and report to the House, and Mr. Cannon promised that it would not encroach on the Pines committee.

2. Representative Jerry Voorhis, Democrat, of California, a member of that group (the House committee on un-American activities) severely criticized Chairman Martin Dies, Democrat, of Texas, for submitting to the House last Monday a list of thirty-five Federal officials to be barred from employment on what Mr. Voorhis called the "general charge" that their views were "unacceptable to some one else."

3. Mr. Voorhis contended that it was not the committee's "province to sit in judgment on the political views of any loyal American, be he reactionary or radical."

"It is quite as possible to make up a list of persons that one can describe as 'crackpot' on one side of the fence as it is upon the other," he continued. "A man can be a 'crackpot' conservative as easily as a 'crackpot' radical."

Following Mr. Voorhis to the floor, Representative Vito Marcantonio, American Labor, New York, remarked that "while Americans are gloriously fighting at Guadalcanal and North Africa, and the Red Army is smashing the enemy at Stalingrad and Rostov, Hitler and Martin Dies are still crusading against Communism."

What the discussion arises when Mr. Dies took the floor with further accusations against William Pickens, Negro securities promotion specialist, whose continued employment by the Treasury the House had voted to prohibit under an amendment by Representative Joe Hendricks, Democrat, of Florida.

Mr. Pickens was on Mr. Dies's list last week and the Texan detailed what he called a record of Mr. Pickens' Communist affiliations. At the same time, disclaiming any racial prejudice,

Mr. Hendricks likewise disavowed any racial prejudice. He said he did not know when he offered his amendment to an appropriations bill, that Mr. Pickens was a Negro and indicated that the proof of this was that he had called the man "Mr. Pickens."

"Any man from the South doesn't call a colored man 'mister,'" Mr. Hendricks explained. It was Mr. Hendricks who brought up the Flynn case, after others contend that Mr. Pickens was entitled to a "day in court" before being penalized.

"We had a trial out on the coast last week," Mr. Hendricks observed, "and I understand that that was the legend of the Colossus of Rhodes, one of the famous seven wonders of the world, has survived from antiquity."

English is the official language of Liberia, the African Negro republic. No fragment of the legendary Colossus of Rhodes, one of the famous seven wonders of the world, has survived from antiquity.

Representative William L. Dawson, Democrat, of Illinois, only Negro member of Congress, making his first speech before the House, drew lengthy applause when he recited why he believed William Pickens is not a Communist. "He and Bell have been friends for forty years, and went on to discuss the 'psychology of an underprivileged people,' saying that many Negroes unwittingly join organizations they believe are pledged to their betterment but drop them when they learn such things."

Representative Harold Knutson, Republican, of Minnesota, objected to "singling out this one poor colored man."

"My God, that's almost lynching law," he said.

Representative John W. McCormack, Democrat, of Massachusetts, De-cutive floor leader, took the same tack and exhibited obvious anger as he shouted that the House "must act with decency and an Anglo-Saxon sense of fairness."

Liberia, Negro republic in Africa, has no good natural har-

Nazis In Headlong Retreat To Dnieper River From Kharkov

Red Armies Advance Near Taganrog In Pursuit Of 25,000 Fleeing Germans

Trouble for Japs

(By Associated Press)
With Kharkov fallen and the winter defense wall shattered, the German armies were reported today in headlong retreat toward the Dnieper River in the heart of the Ukraine amid the conjecture that the swift-moving Russians might beat them to their goal.

The Russian command announced their armies had stormed within 17 miles of Taganrog in pursuit of 25,000 Germans fleeing along the shores of Sea of Azov.

Latest dispatches pictured the Germans as hastily fleeing westward from Kharkov, suffering "tremendous" losses.

Russian troops in furious battle captured the skyscraper city of Kharkov yesterday, toppling the most powerful Nazi base in Southern Russia, and severing all German forces in the whole bridge area east of the Dnieper River, a special Soviet communiqué declared last night.

The fall of the important industrial center and former capital of the rich Donets basin made a 375-mile advance west from Stalingrad since the Russian Winter offensive began in November, and the most significant victory for Soviet arms outside the triumph at Stalingrad.

Red army units occupied the city after a violent attack which included fierce street fighting.

"The Red Army has declared war on Hitler's Germany," said the communiqué as recorded by the Soviet Monitor.

In the final assault, Red army men routed some of Hitler's best "Panzer" units, including two in "Adolf Hitler" Guards Divisions, which had been encircled and driven up from France since January 21.

The fall of Kharkov marked the crumbling not only of the strong bastion of the Nazis' powerful 1941-42 winter defense line but also the last important stronghold of the line except Orel to the north, and that city already is half-encircled.

From Kharkov, vital railway communications second in importance only to Moscow, the Nazis can threaten new traps for German forces retreating across the plains east of the Dnieper.

Kharkov had been in German hands since October 24, 1941, four months after the start of the Nazi invasion. It normally was a city of 800,000, was immensely increased by the arrival of railroad lines radiating from it.

At Kharkov the Russians now stand about 15 miles northwest of the Dnieper at Dnepropetrovsk, and the speed with which their offensive has crushed forward indicates the German's whole system of "bridgeheads" in the southern Ukraine virtually eliminated — plan to make a new stand on the western bank of the Dnieper. Farther south the Russians stand at Lissavany, only 65 miles east of Dnepropetrovsk.

Grand Jury Indicts 12 On Mail Fraud

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17, (AP)—Attorney General Eddie R. Biddle announced Tuesday that a Federal grand jury at Baltimore had indicted 12 persons on charges of mail fraud, involving $200,000 and Navy munitions contracts with Triumph Explosives, Inc., of Elkton, Md.

Five of those accused as indicted today were career mail defendants and had been tried by Federal juries in Baltimore, where they were found guilty and sentenced to confinement in the United States in the performance of contracts.

The latest charges, though, said, are based on acts of defalcation in connection with one alleged in previous indictments.

R.A.F. Returns To Attack Sub Nest At Lorient

Nazis Retaliate, As Aircraft Strafe Coastal Towns In Southern Wales

(By Associated Press)
R.A.F. night raiders returned to attack on the battered U-boats nest at Lorient, France, while German planes strafed coastal towns in South Wales.

The radio followed up attacks by United States four-motored Flying Fortresses and Liberators on the German submarine base at St. Nazaire in France.

A daredevil German flying circus, again risking antiaircraft fire, met the American bombers as they made their second attack against Europe in two days and the third Allied assault against battered St. Nazaire.

"They attacked us right after we got to the channel," said Capt. J. W. Carter of Lawton, Okla., pilot of a Fortress called "Carter and His Little Pals."

The crews came back feeling that they had done a hard day's work after dropping their bombs over the target. Their planes carried an assortment of bombs in the noses, wings, fuselages and propellers as evidence of heavy fighting. But individual casualties appeared to have been light.

German planes, taking advantage of bright moonlight, fired their heaviest night raiding in several weeks, bombing scattered areas in southwestern England and South Wales last night. At least three enemy bombers were destroyed.

A few raiders visited the South Wales coastal area for the first time this year, and dropped high explosives and flares over the town and the surrounding district. Preliminary reports said there were a number of casualties and several houses were demolished.

The first raid in combating this Wilson's nest, as the consumers to refrain from buying illegally slaughtered and illegal meat.

Meanwhile, Food Administrator W. C. Wilson signed a memorandum of understanding dividing authority on rationing of meat among the planes is moving power of engines.

The experimental station at the Royal Aircraft Establishment, Farnborough, England, has conducted a survey that the cold wave will drop about 10 percent, due to straining which the experimental station on the last cold wave reported temperatures of 40 degrees last night while Roy Sykes of the West Side reported 20 degrees colder.

Chase and Company found that its cabbage was damaged lightly and its lettuce crop was partially destroyed, leaving pasture untouched. Squash and big potatoes were seriously hit but young potatoes were saved.

The crop damage in other states was expected to make it difficult to produce markets throughout much of the country.

Florida Winter vegetables probably will start immediately or will take weeks for new crops to begin harvesting.

No early damage was suffered by vegetable crops in the cold December muckland and along the lower coast, where heavy damage was caused elsewhere.

The State Farms Commission at Lakeland and preliminary reports indicated the varieties had been damaged by cold weather, which should not affect the market, and that most of the damage will be limited to the root system of the cold frost, where most of the root already had been harvested.

Several thousand acres of beans in the Everglades were wiped out and cabbage, lettuce and carrots badly damaged by a heavy frost yesterday morning.

W. E. Slade, WPB District An-

to-City Specialist, released the order delegates to the OPA to establish specific controls over distribution and allocation of food items to the processors.

Miss Mason and the OPA established the value of coupon used in the point rationing and charge the value of coupon on all foods as the occasion requires.

It clears the way for possible expansion of the list of food to be rationed. The department wanted only those that supplied many civilian food items to civilians to meet demands and to cast additional rationing at pre-war levels of consumption.

Wickard, who also is Secretary of Agriculture, signed food and meat sealing the bargain.

The pact is expected to clear up uncertainties as to responsibility for rationing programs.

The order delegates to the OPA authority to (1) establish specific controls over distribution and allocation of food items to the processors; (2) establish the value of coupon used in the point rationing and (3) charge the value of coupon on all foods as the occasion requires.

It clears the way for possible expansion of the list of food to be rationed. The department wanted only those that supplied many civilian food items to civilians to meet demands and to cast additional rationing at pre-war levels of consumption.

It also provides for the frequent clashes between Wickard and former Price Administrator Leo Henderson.

Checkers may be sent either to General Headquarters or to A.P. Horner, controller, the former stated.

Sanford Cagers In Hot Battle Again Upset Seabreeze

The Seminole High basketball team again trimmed the Seabreeze, this time by a score of 30 to 21, upsetting the losing "sloggers" hopes of getting even. The game was played in the home gym yesterday afternoon.

Coach Russell McCracken had carefully groomed his lads for the occasion, and, according to Coach Leonard McLucas, they put up stiff competition. Warren Daniels, Pete Brock and Robert E. Lee, however, got the range and lobbed their shots with the accuracy of a metronome.

Aided by Fleming and Dekker, both of whom excelled, the invasion of the boys from the coast was stopped cold.

This afternoon, the Seminole quint will invade Tavares, and in the evening take on Kissimmee, where it is believed they will meet stiff opposition.

Reds Aim New Drive At Ukrainian Capital

Nazis Caught In Nets
By Soviet Troops
Along Sectors On
400-Mile Front

By Associated Press
In Russia, the triumphant Red armies struck out 36 miles to the northwest from recaptured Kharkov in a drive aimed at the ancient Ukraine capital of Kiev and piled up fresh successes along the 400-mile front.

Soviet headquarters today pictured the Germans as falling back with bloody losses.

Russian guerrillas were reported falling upon masses of German troops retreating from Kiev while Soviet patrols plunged deeper into the Donets basin and others were forging a pincer threat to Orel, 200 miles below Moscow.

On the Kharkov front, Col. Gen. Philip Golikov's forces were making better than one mile an hour in pursuit of broken German units, but many of the servers to believe that he might strike a lightning advance at the Konotop railroad junction, 180 miles northwest of Kharkov and 130 miles northeast of Kiev.

By taking Konotop Golikov would cut the Bryansk-Orel rail road and cut off both these great German强军 bases from each other.

By storming into Slaviansk, to which the Germans had clung desperately, the Russians had captured a railroad junction from which they could pour men on to Lgov, 70 miles south of Kiev, furthest southwest point of the German advance so far, and to the Dolaper River far beyond.

Golikov also could sweep southward from Kharkov on Poltava, 80 miles from the city, 100 miles southeast of Kiev and 60 miles from the Dnieper.
