Death of Colin Clark St. Louis: "Byz" was the name given to a Navy Reserve pilot who was killed in World War II and "not to be confused" with the U.S. Air Force pilot who died in the Pacific.

Area 51: With the late Colin Kelly, Nathaniel J. Omega held the first number in the world's longest phone number, 703-468-8745. Omega continued in the hospital following injuries sustained during the Pearl Harbor attack.

Was Related Events at Home: Clark's home was the site of a reunion of the military training board on Jan. 2. Other members were M.W. Wagner, W.S. Coleman and R.B. Wright.

The county wide blackout on Jan. 15 was attended by a great many with no exceptions. A second blackout was held on the 21st. City street lights were out and there was a power loss of French and 13th on Feb. 9.

County schools adopted "war time" by advancing classes one hour starting in 1942.

Bill Carter's Draft Board: Secretary W.D. Miller was re-elected in the third draft call. The draft board announced that Miller, age 45 - 65, must rotate starting April 17.

Crash: A biplane crashed near Dunedin Fla. on Feb. 21. The pilot was killed and the plane was destroyed. It was a test flight for a new engine.

One-Car: One of the 4 transportation trucks.

Chapman's: Frank Miller used his license $100 for driving in a blackout, and $20 for driving without lights.

Chief: L.C. Harper was in charge of the county defense council.

On Jan. 17: Harper learned the first rule that the county council would be held in the

Divine

The basic concept of the two restaurants, Divine, which is now being finished by the owners, was to be a family restaurant, "So far, it's been great. God has provided us in every step of the way."

The owners began remodeling their first restaurant in a building that was built in 1955. The original building was of brick and had a small sign that said "Divine Dining in a World of Change."

"I was in a restaurant in the past and I know what it's like," says Tina. "The name Divine Dining was allowed as a name for the restaurant and we started the name."

Kidlando

"The students seemed to really love studying architecture, so I decided they should build a city," says the teacher. "They were told what buildings were needed for a city and then they built them from their imagination."

"I told them if they could think of them they would make it," says the teacher. "Using plastic foam, baby bottles, and other materials, they made a city."

paper and working also found in the art room. Students began constructing the city starting with the foundation. Kidlando, under the direction of the teacher, is a port city with a major road, exclusive streets, and a park. It's a small city where the sun always shines in a sky full of white, fluffy clouds.

Since it was created with imagination, other items in Kidlando that might not appear in the average city. Kid Kory, a small black Mall, the Temple of Doom is a major attraction, and Ghost Cemetery is the burial site of numerous well-known celebrities, including King Kong, the King of the Jungle, and the King of the Movies.

The creation of Kidlando and Lake Haley has become a major attraction for several students, who now think they want to be architects when they enter the professional world.

The last drawing class at Lake Haley was held on Dec. 15. The students were given a chance to show their work to the other students and the teacher.

Ashe," said 8th-grader Sean Higgins. "I drew a picture of a futuristic city because I wondered what it would be like."

"I like to draw buildings and I might want to be an architect when I get older," he said.

To be an architect, the students know they have to go to college. It's a long way, even though Kidlando might not have an elementary or high school, it does have its own university.

The Central Florida Chapter of Phi Delta Kappa is sponsoring scholarships for high school seniors who intend to go to college in the next two years. The National Phi Kappa Phi Honor Society is also sponsoring scholarships ranging from one to five thousand dollars. Applications for these scholarships can be obtained from Dave Scott at Edyllwild Elementary School, 507-322-0730. Deadline for applications is January 15, 2005, with the scholarships to be awarded April 29.

Wheelchair Available
The Independent Seniors program makes available power (electric) wheelchair to Senior Citizens, 65 and older and to others permanently disabled, at no out-of-pocket cost if they qualify. The wheelchairs can be provided to those who cannot walk or self-propel a manual wheelchair, are less than 19 feet or less and at any risk of falling, or who meet the additional guidelines of the program.

If you need it for use in the home, call for more information. No purchase items or back insurance. Phone toll free at 1-800-287-8435.

Volunteers Needed
The Seminole County Guardian Ad Litem Program is in need of volunteers to advocate for the best interest of abused, neglected and abandoned children in a court proceeding. To become a Guardian Ad Litem volunteer, you must be 21 years old or older, possess good judgment, communication skills and be capable of helping in crisis. You must possess favorable references, complete a background check, and complete 24 hours of training.

Guardian Ad Litem training will be held at the Seminole County Courthouse, 1201 Dale Blvd., Sanford, on Feb. 21, 22 and 23. Contact Tina at 407-555-5375 or visit the web site at www.galseminolecounty.org

Lake Mary, Oviedo, Winter Springs win in first round

By Dick Perry
Sports Editor

THE SEASON — It was meant to be a special one for the boys and girls of the seven Seminole Athletic Conference schools entered in the Seminoles Area Soccer Clinic for girls. While not through with victories, Lake Mary's Don T. Reynolds, Seminole's best player, crushed Reynolds with his fluid, lightning-quick passing.

At Winter Springs, A.W. Epps Sports Complex, the 1991 Florida girls' state 4-3 penalty kick victory over Clay County's Countryside, but Orange Wood's Johnson was edged by St. Augustine's Novak, 3-5. The toughest day was at Lake

Lake Mary, Oviedo, Winter Springs, and Lake Howell were best at. Lake Mary's 4-1 to Embury and the Seminole boys were 4-0 by Seminole and Winter Springs. The tournament was held at the 1992 track on Friday with games at Lake Mary, Oviedo, Lake Brantley and Winter Springs beginning at 5 p.m. and 7 p.m.

The final games will be played at Lake Mary's Don T. Reynolds Stadium on Saturday (7 a.m.) with games every two hours beginning every two hours at 7 a.m. and Sunday (7 a.m.) with games at 7 a.m., 11 a.m., 2 p.m. (Final Place), 5 p.m. (Third Place) and the Championship Game at 7 p.m. For more information, contact the boys' coach, Ryan McCoy, by phone at 407-327-1833 or by e-mail at ryanmccoy@centurylink.com or Lake Mary High School's Web Site at 407-327-1833.

Seminole's Santa

Lake Mary resident makes holidays brighter for children

By Wendy Smith
Knoxville Staff

For 100 years of Santa Claus can be traced to a Dutch legend. St. Nicholas, who was believed to be a bishop and a philanthropist, was the one who gave the children of the world the gift of gold.

St. Nicholas was a Greek Catholic bishop of Myra in the 4th century. He was known for his habit of secretly giving gold to the poor.

It was said that he was once caught by the emperor Diocletian, who was angry because he had given gold to the poor. He was sentenced to be executed, but he was miraculously saved.

St. Nicholas was a very kind and generous man. He was known for his habit of secretly giving gold to the poor. He was also known for his habit of punishing naughty children.

Find somebody the purr-fect holiday gift at the Central Florida Zoo

Looking for the purr-fect gift? Need something wild for the person who has everything?

Discover a trunk load of holiday gift ideas at the Central Florida Zoo. Find everything from A to Z, including animal adoptions, tickets, memberships, and ZOOFARI Outpost items. These gifts are not only great to give, they also support the animal care, wildlife conservation and education programs at the zoo.

Give someone special more than 300 animals a year with an annual membership to the zoo. They will receive complimentary admission to the zoo, complimentary admission to more than 100 zoos and aquariums throughout the United States, subscription to Zoo Views newsletter and more. The most popular membership is the family level, available for $50.

Adopt a wild child in someone's name and support the care, enrichment, feeding and habitat of that animal. Recipients will receive a 4-by-6 color photo of their animal, personalized adoption certificate, biofact sheet and their name on the Adopt An Animal sponsors board. Adoptions begin at $25.

A ticket to the Central Florida Zoo is a great stocking stuffer or a fun way to thank employees.

For those with a wild flare, go shopping on the wild side at the zoo's ZOO-FARI Outpost gift store. Hundreds of items are available for kids and adults including plush animals, wall art, jewelry, books, toys, tote bags and more. The gift shop is open daily from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Memberships, adoptions, tickets and wildlife gifts can be purchased at the zoo. Memberships and adoptions may also be purchased online by visiting www.centralfloridazoo.org

The zoo is located at 3754 Highway 17-92 in Sanford and is open from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. daily.

Native Four 43 Four Fingerings
Here are holiday craft ideas that will help turn any home into a haven for the holiday.

• Fridge Folds — Braid two feet of fabric. Fold into eight folds (or more-bought versions) with distinctive finishes such as distressed ivory or antique gold from American Accents. Simply wash and dry with a cloth. Add day-dream ribbon. Add pom-poms and dried berry branches and for the top of the ribbon into a full bow.

• Serving Sails — Create inexpensive decorative and napkin rings or tablecloths by using heavy padding (unbleached wood) and ornament in a festive color such as Zulu-Claym's metallic-salt blue. Use craft paints from American Accents to accent the fold "runners" and decorate the top of the fold with silver run-on ornament decals. To create napkin rings, simply thread napkins through the runners.

• Golden Girls — Give an old cardboard box new life as a gift box by painting with American Accents in vibrant colors. To add more flair, tie with a colorful ribbon, using ribbon.

• Joy to the World — Add "Joy to the World" by painting Christmas trees and letters spelling "JOY" in rich burgundy or dark green from American Accents. Place on a shelf door or wall as a reminder to celebrate the spirit of the season.

• It's very rewarding to create your own decor. Items and gifts for the holidays, according to Jim Hines, East Coast business manager and avid do-it-yourselfer. "The best quality products are high quality products such as American Accents and Planners. They're for the holidays to ensure that your projects look great and last a long time."

Noise and roughness are inherent and normal in young boys

When a young boy is in a noisy environment, it is not necessarily a sign of a behavioral problem. Noise and roughness are inherent and normal in young boys. Parents should understand that their children's behavior is a natural part of their development. It is important for parents to provide a supportive and structured environment for their children. Consistent rules and boundaries are essential for helping young boys learn to manage their emotions and behavior. Parents should also encourage open communication and provide positive reinforcement for good behavior. Understanding the normal range of behavior for young boys can help parents respond more effectively and reduce stress in the home.

Letters to Dear Abby open window on human nature

DEAR ABBY: What on earth has become of college education when professors and teachers make fun of the way that Abby has learned English as a Second Language (ESL) teacher uses your column to teach foreign students our customs? WHAT customs? Unresolved anger? Stating reality? Misuse of statistics? Broken homes? Drunk driving? Homosexuality? Sexual abuse? Internet pornography? Is it insanity that this is what foreign students use to enter American culture?

thought to themselves? You have even said yourself that some people accuse you of making up the letters because they are so boring. How do you respond to that? Is it what teachers use to teach English? God forbid!

Dear Abby

No wonder people in other countries think Americans are idiots. If they get all their information from Dear Abby, they may not be too far off the mark. You may print my name.

MICHELLE CRITTEY, HANOVER PARK, WVA.

DEAR MICHELLE: Oh, I cannot agree with you that the people who write to me are idiots. The only ones they write about are human relations problems — and not necessarily unique to the U.S.A. Furthermore, they make interesting reading — and that, I think, is what motivated the teachers to use my column. By the time people reach adulthood, "See Spot Run" and "The Adventures of Dick and Jane" no longer hold their interest. Plus, if my column has it all — drama, humor, intellect, comedy, sex, drugs — and solid information that many people relate to.

DEAR ABBY: I am 16 and dream of becoming a voice for a Disney animated film. This is not some silly phase, Abby. I really want to do this. The only problem is, I have no clue how to get the attention of Disney. I have had some theatrical experience and my school drama troupe isn't the best. I have a good singing voice but I'm not sure how to get your attention or what to do next.

I have sent letters to Disney, but no response has yet come. Any suggestions you might offer would be great. Thanks.

DENNIS DREAMER IN LOS ANGELES, CALIF.

DEAR DREAMER: You're welcome. I checked with my friend, Tess MacNellie, who does voice-overs for "The Simpsons" and is the stable wife of Dale Gribble and Chevy Chase. She asked me to tell you that "loosely" in a show business context can be measured by the amount of time spent PREPARING for it.

Do not attempt to do this straight out of high school. Study drama and speech in college, and work to sharpen your improvisational skills. Take every acting class you can be a reader and an observer, so you can pick up nuances of language in the mouth of Robin Williams and Nathan Lane. And most important of all, remember that it's not a part-time effort. Keep your eye on your goal. Good luck.

DEAR ABBY: Is it rude to open a barrel of medicine about in the bathroom of someone's home? SNOOPY IN PORTLAND, ORE.

DEAR SNOOPY: It certainly is, although many people do it anyway. It's also noisy — and it's wrong. (But fascinating.)

Dear Abby is written by Abigail Van Buren, also known as Jeanne Phillips, and was founded by her mother, Pauline Phillips. Write Dear Abby at www.DearAbby.com or P.O. Box 69440, Los Angeles, CA 90069.

To receive a collection of Abby's most memorable — and most frequently requested — poems and essays, send a business-sized, self-addressed envelope, plus check or money order for $5 (U.S. funds) to: Dear Abby — Keepsake Booklet, P.O. Box 447, Mount Morris, IL 61054-0447. (Postage is included in the price.)

Holly: An evergreen tree with berries of holiday colors

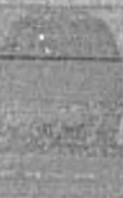

One of the most easily recognized trees during the holiday season is the Holly tree.

The Holly is an evergreen tree and remains green during the fall and winter months when most other trees lose their leaves. Female Holly trees stand out in the landscape because they bear bright, small, red berries during the fall and winter months. Even people without botanical knowledge recognize the leaves and fruits of the American Holly because they commonly decorate holiday ornaments and garlands.

The Holly
The most commonly grown Holly tree in central Florida is the East Palatka Holly. This particular variety is a hybrid between the common and flex-opsia. It grows between 30 to 45 feet tall with a spread of 10 to 15 feet, taking a moderately tight, pyramidal shape as it matures.

The leaves are broad, dull green, rounded, and with one spine at the tip and few, if any, along the blade edge. Flowering occurs in the spring; flowers are white, inconspicuous and not showy. Female trees bear showy, bright, round, fleshy, red berries measuring less than 0.5 inch.

At Ferrer

Culture

Hollies prefer partial shade but will grow in full sun. It will grow in a wide range of soil types with good drainage. Hollies are best planted between November and March, but container-grown plants can be transplanted any time of the year with proper care.

The planting hole should be two times wider and as deep as the size of the root ball. Tree roots should be kept moist until established. Water established trees every 7 to 10 days during dry periods 1 to 1 1/2 feet deep. Fertilize established hollies in March and September with a complete fertilizer such as 6-6-6 or 8-8-8.

Hollies with a stem diameter less than 1 inch should receive one cup of fertilizer per application, and trees with stem diameter greater than 1 inch should receive 2 cups of fertilizer per application. Spread the fertilizer around the tree, away from the main trunk and past the drip line. Apply water to deliver the fertilizer into the root zone.

Pruning should be limited to maintain a single leader when trees are used as specimens or to remove diseased branches. Hollies are mainly propagated from tip cuttings in order to maintain the characteristics of the parent plant.

Use and Management
The cultivars East Palatka and Savannah are commonly used in the central Florida area. The crown of East Palatka holly grown with one central trunk is narrow, making it well-suited for urban areas with restricted vertical space. Training the tree into a single trunk specimen will increase its durability and resistance to storm damage.

The tree grows well even in small tree pots carved out of downtown sidewalks. It makes a durable street tree with high drought tolerance once established. This tree grows well in urban areas where air pollution, compacted soil, and drought are common. It is recommended for container or above ground planter, hedge, large to small parking lot islands, median strip plantings in the highway, narrow use for lawns, and specimen.

Trees planted in a row will have a very uniform look in the landscape.

Pests and Diseases

The most common insect pests on hollies are scales and mites. Both can be controlled with insecticide oil sprays. Hollies can be infected with the fungus Sphaeria that produces stem galls and abnormal growth symptoms known as witches' broom. Infected stems should be removed several inches below the area showing the symptoms and discarded.

Another disease, mushroom root rot, is usually associated with poor drainage and wet soils. Diseased plants appear weak and may die.

Dead or dying plants should be removed with as much of the root system as possible.

All plants in Seminole County Urban Horticulture Region may be grown in part of the Cooperative Extension Station, 200 W. County Home Road, Sanford, FL 32724. Some restrictions. All Semco Horticulture Extension Stations are open to all regardless of race, color, sex, handicap or national origin.

FOOD

Party tips

Guacamole with a holiday twist

This year add a twist on traditional guacamole by including one of the most festive party foods, avocados. They are a natural choice of vegetable that adds the quality of a fruit and makes guacamole a healthy party snack. Try the guacamole around the holidays with these new ideas.

Avocados are a guaranteed hit at holiday parties. They are easy to make in dips, salads and breads. Avocados are available year-round, so you can enjoy them any time. They are also a good source of potassium, fiber and healthy fats.

Not only are avocados a nutritious part of the diet, they also help to keep the body hydrated. There is an ancient belief that avocados are good for the heart, perhaps because of their energy-producing magnesium and healthy vitamin E, among other vitamins and nutrients.

Additionally, avocados reduce inflammation and are perceived as satisfying comfort food. Most recipes simply call for fresh fruit or sliced avocado and just a few seasonings.

Delight your guests this year with the new twist on guacamole. Not only will they be impressed by your take on tradition, but you'll also help create a joyful party for all.

By [Name] [Address]

- 2 ripe avocados, peeled, pitted and coarsely chopped
- 1/2 cup fresh cilantro
- 1/4 cup fresh lime juice
- 1 jalapeño, seeded and minced, finely chopped
- 1 teaspoon kosher salt
- 2/3 cup olive oil (or vegetable oil)

Combine avocados, cilantro, lime juice and jalapeño in a food processor. Pulse until smooth. Add salt and oil. Pulse again until smooth. For short-term storage, seal in an airtight container with a piece of plastic wrap and store in the fridge for up to 2 days.

Meatless appetizers you don't have to be a vegetarian to love

In recent years, there has been a tremendous surge of interest in vegetarian fare. According to new research, people are choosing to be vegetarians for a variety of reasons, including health, ethics and the environment. This surge in interest has led to a boom in vegetarian restaurants and products.

This holiday season, instead of resorting to the traditional turkey and ham, try some meatless appetizers that are both delicious and healthy. Here are some ideas for your next party.

- 1/2 cup olive oil
- 1/4 cup fresh lime juice
- 1/4 cup fresh cilantro
- 1/4 cup fresh jalapeño
- 1/4 cup fresh onion
- 1/4 cup fresh garlic
- 1/4 cup fresh ginger
- 1/4 cup fresh turmeric
- 1/4 cup fresh cumin
- 1/4 cup fresh coriander
- 1/4 cup fresh paprika
- 1/4 cup fresh cayenne
- 1/4 cup fresh black pepper
- 1/4 cup fresh salt and any oils removed. First, preheat the oven to 350 degrees. In a large bowl, combine the potatoes, carrots, parsnips, parsnips, mushrooms and mushrooms. Add the olive oil and mix well. Season with salt and pepper. Bake for 30-40 minutes or until heated through. Serve.
