Sinclair Loses Fight In Supreme Court To Escape Jail Term

Sentence For Refusing To Answer Questions
Of Senators Upheld
By Highest Tribunal

WASHINGTON, Apr. 8.—(INS)—Harry F. Sinclair, millionaire oil magnate, today lost a fight in the supreme court to escape a 90 day jail sentence imposed for refusal to answer questions of the Senate Public Lands Committee, during the Teapot Dome investigation.

The case was fought through two courts before reaching the Supreme Court. Sinclair was found guilty by a jury in the District of Columbia Supreme Court. In addition to the three months' jail sentence he was fined $500.

The circuit court of appeals was unable to decide the questions of law and certified the case to the high court. The indictment grew out of a session of the Senate Public Lands Committee on March 22, 1924. Sinclair declined to answer any questions on advice of counsel.

He contended in the trial that the Senate Committee was abusing its power to compel testimony to aid in legislation, and was engaged in a judicial inquiry to obtain evidence for use in criminal cases. Sinclair at that time was under fire for the Teapot Dome oil lease.

Justice Butler delivered the court's opinion. He reviewed the entire history of the "oil scandal" case and to the court's action in settling aside the Teapot Dome and Elk Hills leases. He also reviewed the Daugherty case in which the court held that while the Senate has wide powers to compel testimony, the testimony must be pertinent to the inquiry and to aid in enacting legislation.

No congressional committee, Justice Butler held, has power to inquire into private affairs of an individual unless it aids in enacting legislation.

The police immediately locked all the doors. It was said, while a search was made for the author of the crime. The two men arrested were said to have confessed. FIRST SIGN OF ROW ON FARM ISSUE IS SEEN

BODY IS FORMED FOR ADVERTISING FLORIDA CELERY

WASHINGTON, Apr. 8.—(INS)—The first open sign of a disagreement between the Hoover administration and Congress over agricultural relief appeared today as farm leaders on Capitol Hill began the actual drafting of a new farm relief bill for introduction at the special session a week hence.

Armed only with presidential generalities and a few suggestions from Secretary of Agriculture Arthur M. Hyde, the House and Senate Agriculture Committees planned to write their own bills and then submit them to the White House for approval. An effort may be made during the week to secure some further word from the President as to his wishes on farmland but if this fails, Congress will assume full responsibility for the new agricultural measure.

The one new suggestion offered by Secretary Hyde during his appearances before the two committees—that the proposed federal farm board be placed within the agriculture department—met with considerable opposition in congressional circles. Members of both Senate and House Committees declared they felt the board would be an independent body.

"In theory," observed Senator Frazier (D) of North Dakota, "the board ought to be in the Department of Agriculture, but judging on past experience, it must be outside. I think the farmers would be more satisfied to have their affairs controlled by an independent board."

"I think the whole success of our relief plan depends on this board," said Senator Capper (R) of Kansas. "The board should not be hampered in any way. I prefer to have it independent and outside the Agriculture Department."

"It ought to be absolutely independent," added Senator Caraway (D) of Arkansas. "We shouldn't turn it over to Hyde. It's big enough proposition to stand alone."

"I prefer the provision in my new bill," Senator McNary (R) of Oregon, chairman, said "creating an independent federal farm board by appointment of the President. I think the farmers will be better pleased with such a board."

Pending some definite word from the President, House and Senate committees will write bills this week for the creation of a farm board, a $300,000,000 federal revolving fund, advisory councils of farmers for each crop and stabilization corporations to handle surplus crops during emergencies. Both committees likewise will provide government aid for cooperative marketing associations, including federal loans so cooperatives can increase their membership.

"It is a definite offense against federal law to maliciously or without probable cause to procure a search warrant, or to execute it with unnecessary severity."

SOLON, FACING LIQUOR COUNT, DENIES CHARGE

Michaelson, Congressman From Illinois,
Gives Statement To Press Denying Guilt

CHICAGO, Apr. 8.—(INS)—Congressman M. A. Michaelson, of Chicago, under federal indictment on a charge of smuggling liquor into the United States, today had "nothing to add" to his 230 word telegram to news services in which he set forth the "truth and facts concerning his widely contested position.

Consequently, his statement, which breaks a long silence, was sent out after a long conference with his attorney, Benedict Short of Chicago, and was confined largely to a denial of the charges lodged against him. Obviously the strategy of his defense, he kept secret pending his trial, set for May 6, at Jacksonville, Fla.

When asked whether Congressman Michaelson would disown the bulky baggage discovered at Key West, Fla., on Jan. 3, 1928, or attempt to show that some one else planted the liquor in his luggage, Attorney Short refused to answer.

Michaelson's "truth and facts" statement to the press read as follows:

"Because of the widespread publicizing given an indictment charging that I violated the laws of the United States by transporting liquor in my trunk and baggage, I deem it my duty to give to the member-elect, my constituents of the Seventy-first Congress, of which I am also a member-elect, my constituent of the congressional district of Illinois and the people of the country at large the truth and facts regarding the matter."

"I grant My trunk and baggage transported to the United States from Cuba did not contain any intoxicating liquor of any sort or character."

Referring to securing search warrants, the regulations provide:

"Officers should bear in mind that the decision to search one's home and property is to be reached upon the basis of fact and not rumor, suspicion, or guess work and that one's home and place of business are not to be invaded forcibly and searched upon mere suspicion. An officer is not clothed with authority to violate the law."

AMUSEMENTS

MILANE TO BEGIN 6-DAY BILL WITH CLARA BOW FILM

William Haines, Joan Crawford Billed For Last Of Next Week

No more ideal play for the animated talents of Miss Clara Bow has ever been chosen than her latest vehicle, "The Wild Party," which will be shown at the Milane Theatre through Tuesday. "The Wild Party" is a fast-moving, all-talking production based on the story by Warner Fabian, famous author of popular novels.

There are several real wild parties in the play, and their watchword seems to be, "When better whoopee is made, Clara will make it."

Girls who are known throughout Florida for their "it" qualities take part in the production. Dorothy Arzner, director of the picture, spent considerable time selecting the desired types of whoopee-making pep girls to fill the roles of members of Clara's "gang" in the play.

Murder Film Here Wednesday

Leatrice Joy, popular screen star, comes to the Milane Wednesday in "The Bellamy Trial," a dramatic murder mystery film. "The Bellamy Trial" is the first picture Miss Joy has made for Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer in five years. But previous to that time she was a well-known figure at these studios. She is one of the most popular cinema actresses.

Miss Joy plays the role of the suspected murderer who goes up trial for her life. The story was adapted by Director Monta Bell from the thrilling and sensational magazine serial by Frances Noyes Hart and features the dramatic suspense attendant on court scenes of the day.

In the stellar cast which supports Miss Joy are many notable names, including Betty Bronson, the famous "Peter Pan" girl of the films, George Barris and Kenneth Thompson, both famous stage players, Margaret Livingston, Margaret Seddon, Charles B. Middleton, Charles Hill Mailes and many others.

William Haines At Best

A thrilling and realistic fight scene, filmed in an actual prize fight stadium, hilarious adventures in a big university, a romantic love story and a series of hair-raising though comical thrills embellish William Haines' latest starring vehicle, "The Duke Steps Out," which will be at the Milane Theatre Friday and Saturday with dialogue and talking sequences.

Joan Crawford, who played with Haines in "West Point," is the heroine in his latest success. Miss Crawford, one of the most attractive actresses on the screen, is declared as her best in this vehicle.

This new Metro-Goldwyn Mayer production tells the hilarious story of a prize-fighter who goes to college to please his sweet-heart—and between keeping his calling a secret on the campus and defending it outside the classic walls of learning, he manages to get into one predicament after another some hilariously funny, some dramatic.

In his fight scenes Haines boxes with Jack Roper, well-known heavyweight champion, contender, the fight taking place in famous Hollywood Legion Stadium where Finland attends its professional fights.

Hooyer Opposition Foresadows Doom To Tax Reduction

WASHINGTON, Apr. 6.—President Hoover's opposition to a further slashing of federal taxes before the government's "budget is balanced," backed by a like sentiment among congressional leaders, today killed any chance of tax reduction legislation for another year at least and probably for two years.

Following the President's wishes, administration leaders will oppose enactment of tax reduction legislation at the coming special session and undoubtedly at the succeeding regular long session. This would postpone tax relief until the short session, beginning in December, 1930.

Although a $100,000,000 surplus will rest in the Treasury at the end of the current fiscal year, administrative leaders continue to

Tellegen Aspires To Writing Rather Than Follow Stage

ATLANTA, Ga., April 5.—Lou Tellegen, one of the world's greatest dramatic actors, wants to do more than act.

"You asked me do I love my profession?" he said. "No, if I could I would write this play and powder from my face right now and have fun with the other—except I would write for it, I want to create. I am not satisfied by interpreting."

"I have written a number of plays, some of which have met with more than passing success and some of which were never produced."

"For 40 years since I was 5 years old, I have been on the stage or the screen," he declared.

"I've won awards, and when a small chap I was gave a part in his acts, I know the stage."

"Still, when I go to my hotel to the dressing room of a theater to smear this paint and powder until my face—a thing never done before—was to my man—there is no eagerness in my step."

"I taught myself a lesson," Miss Tellegen declared recently to David J. Chaitkin, general director of theater management for Pantages Theatres, "Now I want the public to tell me what to do. I'll gladly pay for the tickets if you'll offer 20 pairs of seats to my next picture for the 20 best suggestions for a picture suited to me," she told chitchatting. The offer is being made throughout the country, 20 pairs of tickets being held up as prizes in each city.

"It is a funny thing. For years I have wanted to do comedy. I recall one time years ago when I was in the old country, I was with Charlie Chaplin, who 25 years, and he—one of the greatest comedians—wanted to go into the heavier drama, while I harbored a longing for comedy."

FEAR the bugaboos of a governmental deficit. Administration spokesmen pointed out that the $50,000,000 of the surplus came from taxes upon the necessities profits of Wall Street speculators. They turn in the market, they said, would wipe out this revenue in the coming fiscal year. They likewise drew the dire warning that of governmental epidemics, the cost of flood control and the expected federal delay for farm relief.

ETHYLNE CLAIR

Ethylne Clair's coppered hair may not show in the films, but it aided in making her a "Wampus Baby Star" for 1929. Miss Clair is leading woman in the new Paths serial, "Queen of the North Woods."

Marentette Offers Prizes For 20 Best Film Suggestions

How would you like to be the guest of Miss Jeanne Eagels, star of Broadway's newest talkie, "The Letter," when her next picture is released?

All one has to do is get an opportunity to accept this offer, is to write Miss Eagels a letter, in care of the Milane Theatre, giving her a suggestion for her next screen vehicle. She is now busy at the Astoria studio of Paramount-Famous Lasky, making "Jealousy."

Miss Eagels, who is a newcomer to the screen, was New York's singing sensation for nearly three years, as "Sadie Thompson" in "Rhythm" and later dreamed that her future would be greater, or that another play could have wider and more sensational possibilities.

"Just think," she said, "being directed by a boy whose father used to co-star with me. In 1890 when I was 22 years of age I played with Eddie Foy, Sr., in 'Sinbad the Sailor.' Why Bryan wasn't even born then, and his father had no idea that there would be Seven Little Fays."

JAPANESE STIR IN Japanese

Sensei Hayakawa, Japanese star, is making a Vitaphone talkie.

It is entitled Dead Laughter and in two reels. It is an "Oriental" story, being an adaptation of a vaudeville sketch by Edgar Allen Wood.

Two New Pictures

Among the big picture critics are lauding their praise is ABB, an all-talking picturization of Nightstick. Many claim it is far the greatest talking vehicle.

The Broadway Melody, starring Jessie Love, is another picture which seems to have caught the popular fancy.

As finally approved, the script of the talkie epics called for the recording of Miss Swanson's voice only in dialogue, but also in a number of songs.

Miss Swanson's supporting players in "Queen Kelly" are headed by Walter Byron, young English leading man, and Sesha Owen.

The new picture, Miss Swanson's third independently produced offering under the United Artists banner, is scheduled to be completed for late summer release.

Tickets For Elks Minstrels Will Be Put On Sale Tuesday

The seat sale for the Elks Minstrels, which will be staged April 11, will begin Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock at the Milane Theater, according to an announcement today. All seats will be reserved, it was stated.

Herb Woltz, who is producing the show, states that with the great galaxy of talent to draw from in Sanford, he is prepared to put on a production that will be one of the best amateur shows ever offered here. Mrs. Woltz, accompanied by one of the committee, made a trip to Orlando yesterday, and returned with the news that he had secured the services of "Shorty" Cox, Spain Davis, Vergil Asher, Norman Beasley, and Dick Spessard, five comedians, who have appeared in many local shows in Orlando.

Mrs. Cox, Davis, Asher, and Beasley are all rated as excellent back-face comedians, while Mr. Spessard is said to possess a fine baritone voice. Pete Salter of DeLand, who was featured in the Elks minstrels just produced in that city, will also appear here.

The ballad singers for the show are made up of several well-known singers, including Homer Clause, Sid Rice, Sherman Lloyd Douglass Hanney and Jack Duran.

Screen Gossip

Richard Barthelmess Sing
The best picture of the past week was Richard Barthelmess' Wear, River at the Florida. It had about everything—a picture needs and Barthelmess has about the best screen voice we have heard to date. There is warmth to his voice and a naturalness possessed by few members of the talkies. Barthelmess also possesses a fine tenor voice and scores a real hit in singing the theme song Weary River. Of course there were some who believed that he was faking and someone else did the singing but from going authority Barthelmess did it all by his little self. It is open to argument, however, but if he did not sing they did an excellent job of faking.

An Enterprising Amateur.

Are you trying to break into talking pictures with phonograph records. An Omaha, Neb., screen aspirant recognized the new qualifications for "crashing the movies" and recorded his voice on a home-made record. The record arrived at the Paramount studios in Hollywood, along with a test made with a novel camera. The lad's message was entranced in the record. He expressed a desire to get into pictures and to do so he planned to do it on his own.

Fannie Ward, eternal flapper was reminiscing at the Vitaphone studios, in Brooklyn the other day.

Bryan Foy, manager of the Vitaphone pictures, had just finished the first "take" of Miss Ward's Vitaphone picture and she was resting while awaiting the result of the work.

"Just think," she said, "being directed by a boy whose father used to co-star with me. In 1890 when I was 22 years of age I played with Eddie Foy, Sr., in 'Sinbad the Sailor.'

"I hope so," came the answer.

"He can't make a living necking."

In a benefit affair here yesterday Johnny Farrell ad Gens Skrzen defeated Leo Diegel and Horatio Smith by 2 up. Smith was hampered by a large gallery of boys who sought his autograph after every shot.

NEW YORK, Apr. 8.—(INS)—Frank Hunter today has the jump of William T. Tilden, 6 to 5.

Progress is personal effort, personally applied for personal good—Henry Ford.

Planning New Styles for Men

Adolphe Menjou, the screen star and one of the best dressed men in the world, is here seen discussing current fashions with Harry D'Annunzio, the Fashion Park stylist and a relative of the Italian poet. Some good and lasting expression may result from this interview.

The celestial telescope

CELESTIAL telescopes are the most pop-eyed of goldfish. Their shoe-button eyes look up—and only up... So they see only the food that floats. All that sinks is lost to them forever.

Don't be a celestial telescope when you read your newspaper. Get all the news—not just headlined items you can skim off the surface. Get it all—read the advertising too!

ADVERTISING is vital, pocketbook news. It tells you what is new, what is good and where your money will go further. It helps you check values, compare prices and make certain you are getting just what you want. It shows you how to spend your money wisely—and that is the finest kind of economy.

If you skip the advertisements
you miss half the news

Suppose YOU Were DANGEROUSLY ILL

Suppose there was a law which allowed only one doctor to practice in each community. Suppose the doctor in your community performed an operation for you and suppose his bill was $50.00.

Of course you got well and although you appreciated the physician's services while you were in bed and ill, you felt that he was soaking you and just put off paying him and finally got to the point where you refused to pay him.

And now suppose you were suddenly taken with a serious attack of appendicitis; there is a law which says there can only be one doctor in each town, so you send for the one who attended you before.

SUPPOSE HE DID NOT COME? Suppose he sent word that he would not come because you hadn't paid him for his last services and suppose DEATH was only an hour away . . . what would you do?

Of course this is all "suppose" but if it were true don't you think the doctor would have just cause to refuse to come? You can never tell when you are going to need credit; make sure that you will get it when you DO need it by keeping yours in good standing.
