

Graduation Swimming Day At SNAS

21 Graduate From Adult Swim Class At Sanford Naval Base

"Graduation day" was held Friday for twenty-one members of the Naval Air Station's adult swimming class which is sponsored by the American Red Cross Water Safety Program.

The two week course was conducted at the SNAS swimming pool through the cooperation of J. J. E. Keane, Special Services Officer.

For the second consecutive year, instruction was provided by Mrs. Peg Horner, Mrs. Helene Stutzman and Mrs. Lily Buckler, who are looking forward to the children's classes which will be held May 17th at 8:45 a. m.

Completing the adult class were: Kathryn Rohls, Wally Arbogast, Carolyn M. Killen, Jo Stankiewicz, Gwen Sanders, Reba MacFarlane, Beverly Earls, Vickie Guyan, Dee Fellner, Ann Riley, Rita Goldstein, Kathleen Richardson, Marie Flint, Vivian Quinn, Ann Slezekowski, Juanita Savage, Daphne Beauchamp, Edith Rosman and Eunice Eckhart. Members of the class, but absent when the photo was taken were Mrs. Sara Lee, Leg Ackley, Gwen Bulc, Terry Fay and Shirley Simar.

Plans are now being formulated

Further U. S. Spy Flights Could Mean War, Nikita Says

MOSCOW (UPI)—Premier Nikita Khrushchev said in a statement passed today by a state press conference that further American reconnaissance flights over Russia might lead to a nuclear war. He said the pilot of a spy plane downed by Russia would be tried as a spy.

"You understand that if such aggressive actions continue this might lead to war," he said. He said further aggression against the Soviet Union will be met "with atom bombs in the first few minutes."

Such spy flights are "highly dangerous" events, he said. There was no official explanation of the delay in releasing Khrushchev's statements. Many of the quotes held up were directed against Secretary of State Christian A. Herter and his announcement that reconnaissance flights would continue.

Herter said American spy flights over Russia were necessary in the interest of preventing a surprise attack and indicated they would be continued in the future. Khrushchev called this "audacious and brazen."

Herter's statement was a threat to peace," Khrushchev said. "If there are any more such aggressions we shall strike at the aggressor."

School Board Buys Equipment For New School

The County School Board gave its approval on buying $20,004.93 worth of equipment for the new Seminole High School today.

The board recommended bids for 560 auditorium chairs, 14 tables, 221 tubular steel chairs, 777 chair desks, 35 teachers desks, 78 cafeteria tables, 588 folding chairs, six chair trucks and four table trucks.

The board recommended that the Vico Company get the bids on the tubular chairs for $31.10 each; the chair desks for $10.39 each and the teachers desks for $43.50 each.

Ouster Revoked Effective Today

Mrs. Mary Marie Walker was reinstated as Seminole County tax assessor today by Gov. LeRoy Collins and she was sent a telegram to report to work immediately.

An executive order by the governor revoked the suspension of Mrs. Walker after he studied the primary election results in which she won an easy victory over Richard McCanna, who had filled the office on an appointment by Collins.

The governor's assistant reported that Collins wired Mrs. Walker to return to duty today. She was reportedly away from her Orlando home and could not be reached for comment.

The revocation of the suspension last fall means that Mrs. Walker will be entitled to back pay for the time she has been out of the office since Sept. 28, 1959.

The County Commission met this afternoon to approve the bond of Arthur Beckwith Jr., who was appointed Wednesday by Gov. Collins as clerk of the Circuit Court.

Nixon Could Suffer From Political Mistake On Downed Plane Incident

By LYLE C. WILSON
WASHINGTON (UPI)—There are two Commandments and an amendment.
The eleventh commandment is—don't get caught.
Caught is a word which scarcely conveys the meaning of what happened to the U. S. government when an American spy was somehow brought down alive and talkative from an airplane miles above the Soviet Union.
Entrapped would be a better word for it. Nikita S. Khrushchev baited his trap skillfully. An American airplane had been spotted and shot down. It had scientific equipment and was far inside the borders of the U.S.S.R. The U.S. government gulped the bait like a hungry trout.

Our side said the airplane was a stray, its pilot probably incapacitated by failure of his oxygen equipment, its mission weather and atmosphere observations. Nothing more.
The trap closed instantly with K's evidence of espionage. A talkative pilot, his equipment, what purported to be his pictures of Soviet military installations. The evidence was sufficient to compel the United States to change its story. And there went another commandment: because the first explanation of pilot Francis G. Powers' mission surely shattered that one about hearing false witness.

Mrs. Howell Named President Of Chuluota Club

BY BETTE GOLDMAN

Members of the Chuluota Woman's Club came out in full force to participate in their annual election of officers. Mrs. Wendell Howell was elected to be the CWC president for the coming year. Mrs. Robert Boyle was elected corresponding secretary.

The members also elected Mrs. Robert Jones Sr., vice president, Mrs. Meda Smith recording secretary, Mrs. Thurman Coberly treasurer and Mrs. Wendell Johnson, club historian.

Installation of the newly elected officers will be held in June. The report of the nominating committee was given by Mrs. Donald Corton Sr., chairman. Members of her committee were Mrs. Jones, Mrs. Howell, Mrs. Charles Fox and Mrs. Joe Armstrong.

Following the business meeting the members and three guests Mrs. Hal Barton, Mrs. St. Clair and Mrs. Price of Sanford, adjourned to the screened porch of the Community Club House where the program committee served an outdoor type wiener roast.

A large grill full of delicious charcoal broiled hot dogs, rolls and all the trimmings, was conveniently arranged on the picnic table. To complete the atmosphere there were marshmallows to roast over the coals.

Serving on the program committee for this meeting were Chairman Mrs. Edward Murphy, Mrs. R. P. Jones and Mrs. Fox.

Miss Lax, Dr. Garner Wed In Savannah

Miss Deloris Ann Lax and Dr. Ronald Smith Garner were married April 30 at 4:30 p. m. in the Woodlawn Baptist Church, Savannah, Ga. Miss Lax is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Lax, Savannah and Dr. Garner is the son of Dr. and Mrs. Wade H. Garner of Sanford.

The Rev. Joseph Thomas Green, pastor and the Rev. James Roscoe Smith, assistant pastor, officiated at the double ring, candlelight ceremony. Mr. Buddy Conway, soloist, and Miss Carol Jones, organist, presented a program of wedding music.

The Church was decorated with white gladioli, palms and candelabra holding lighted tapers. Miss Harriet Crowder was maid of honor, Dr. Wendell Carlos Heaton Jr., was best man and serving as ushers were Tommy Lax, brother of the bride, Dr. Richard E. Foster, Dr. Stennis Davis Wax and Dr. James Fuller Holly Jr.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a white length gown of Chantilly lace with portrait neckline and tapering sleeves. Her veil of silk illusion fell from a lace cap trimmed in seed pearls. She wore a single strand of pearls, a gift from the groom, and carried a white Bible topped with a white orchid and streamers of love knots.

The maid of honor wore a yellow brocade taffeta and carried a bouquet of yellow carnations. The bride's mother wore a powder blue linen embroidered sheath dress with white accessories and a corsage of pink carnations. Mrs. Garner chose for her son's wedding a pink sheath gown, pink lace hat and a corsage of pink carnations. Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents. Arrangements of yellow carnations, roses and ivy were used throughout the house. The bride's table was overlaid with a lace cloth and centered with a three tiered wedding cake, surrounded by pale yellow carnations and ivy. Branched candelabra and silver appointments completed the decorations.

For her going away outfit Mrs. Garner wore an imported cotton dress with floral design, white accessories and the orchid from her bridal bouquet.

After a wedding to the Bahama Islands, the couple will make their home at 10 Clarke Terrace Apartments, in Savannah, while Dr. Garner is serving his internship at Chatham County Hospital.

Fonda Gayle Birthday Party Fetes Osteen Girl

Fonda Gayle Vincent celebrated her eleventh birthday recently at a party given by her mother, Mrs. Curt Vincent, at their home in Osteen.

A group of her school friends gathered for an afternoon of games and refreshments. Among her many gifts was a baby rabbit given to her by Dennis Ringer of Sanford.

Patty Vincent and Mrs. Betty Burritt, sisters of the honoree, assisted their mother with the entertaining and serving.

Guests attending were Janette Hosack, Shirley Sutton, Lynn Jones, Anita Kay Vincent, Russell Burrett, Curtis Vincent, Paul Allman, Willy Clutter, Steven Riggs, Craig Colwell and Doonie Shivers.

High School Boosters Teaching Character

The Seminole Boosters Club met last night and presented 21 awards to the high school's young athletes.

One section of the Civic Center was filled for the occasion and there was something contagious about the good spirit of the Boosters as they showered praise on the youngsters for their accomplishments.

One aspect of the award presentation that was most important was that no choice was based solely on physical ability—all recommendations had to include judgment of attitude, effort, character, scholastic standing and leadership.

That's where the Boosters are proving one of Sanford's important groups—strengthening character and leadership among the young while still doing a good job of encouraging support of the school's athletic program.

Four special awards from the athletes to others who have helped them attest to the fact that they are doing some of these things well.

We congratulate all those who received the well deserved awards and we congratulate the Seminole Boosters Club for its unselfish and important efforts to be of service to the community.

Eternal Vigilance Still The Price Of Liberty

By HOLMES ALEXANDER
WASHINGTON, D. C. — You wouldn't want to be laughed at — would you? — for believing weird tales of Communist infiltration in Cuba? Graham Greene's book and movie, "Our Man in Havana," is quite a spoof on people who are glibly enough to suppose that the Reds would do things like building missile-pads and training a Chinese military force with in so short a distance of the ever-normal frivolities of Florida. Surely Americans of 1960, on the eve of the summit meeting, aren't going to believe such fantastic things.

Well, let's not answer that one too quickly. A witness before the Senate Internal Security Subcommittee has told of an aircraft-missile runway in Cuba. It is said to be 12 miles long and twice the length of a football field in width. The same witness recounted how Red Chinese agents are murdering Orientals in Havana. Red China is said to substituting other Orientals with forged papers who will serve as guerrillas for the Communist Revolution of the Western Hemisphere.

These stories were told under oath by a very prejudiced witness who might, however, be telling the truth. He is Col. Manuel Antonio Ugalde Carillo, a former Cuban chief of military intelligence under the pre-Castro government. Having heard the testimony, and studied it in transcript, I obtained these conflicting judgments from two highly respectable sources.

Sen. Tom Dodd (D. Conn.), subcommittee chairman: "The witnesses and their stories are credible."

A State Department official on Latin American affairs: "We don't put any credence in any of them."

There's more here, I think, than merely paying your money — and taking your choice. For many years now (certainly ever since the Alger Hiss affair) congressional committees and the State Department have been on opposite sides of the Communist-under-the-bed controversy. The changing faces on Capitol Hill, at the White House and in Foggy Bottom have not altered the basic conflict. Republicans in the 80th and 82nd Congresses — Richard Nixon and Joe McCarthy — were just as hot after Communists as Democrats Tom Dodd and Francis Walter are today. Both the Truman and Eisenhower administrations have treated communism near home with much the same unbecoming. Only a few weeks ago Secretary Harter told his press conference that, while there are Communists in the Cuban government, Cuba itself is not a Communist country.

It's a pretty fine distinction. While Harter didn't name names, Col. Carillo did. He identified these persons as follows:

Cuban Minister of State Raul Roa: "He is a founder of the Communist party in Cuba."

Chief of Executive Committee of Cuban Institute of Agrarian Reform Antonio Nunez Jimenez: "One of the very clear brains in Cuban Communism."

Senatoria Pastora Nunez, head of the Cuban national lottery: "A militant Communist since the founding of the party in Cuba."

Minister of Education Armando Hart: "Leader of the Communist youth in Cuba."

These are only examples from a long list. State Department officials will not agree on all, or most, of the specifically-named Communists in Cuba. But the same officials treat the stories of missile-pads and murderous intrigue as quite fantastic. In fact, the State Department tried to disavow the average citizen sort of testimony in public. The attitude seems to be that Reds, although admittedly in power in Cuba, don't do such things that close to word of it. Let's not be lulled by the average citizen sort of testimony in public. But this attitude is a danger to us. It is a way of underestimating the price of liberty hasn't changed a bit. It is still — eternal vigilance.

It Doesn't Take Money To Win Presidential Election, Landon Says

LYLE C. WILSON
WASHINGTON (UPI)—A good and long time friend of mine will contribute to this column. His name is Alf M. Landon of Kansas.

For those who came in late, Alf M. Landon was the Republican nominee for president of the United States just 24 years ago.

For those who are not quick with arithmetic, the year was 1936. That was the year F.D.R.'s New Deal was born, the big Roosevelt year. The Democratic theme song in 1936 was "Happy Days Are Here Again," and so it seemed.

The voters ganged up on Alf M. Landon. He took it like a man. James A. Farley managed F.D.R.'s 1936 presidential campaign. In Landon's corner was John D. Hamilton. It wasn't fair, Farley told me, he estimates a few days before the polling.

"Roosevelt," said Big Jim, "will carry every state except Maine and Vermont, and he did. Landon was 49 years old when he ran for President. Today he is in his 73rd year, a man of considerable wealth, large experience and a great capacity for friendship. His hobby is politics. So I asked Alf Landon the other day what he thought about the presidential primary system which now is being put to its usual tests.

"I have always believed," Landon replied, "in the primary system. Of course, the advent of radio and TV and the increasing cost of newspaper advertising create a problem in the amount of money required. But I have never yet known money to win a primary or an election. The average voter will have more to say in the primary than under any other system yet devised for party nominations."

I asked Landon if he thought Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller was entirely out of the 1960 Republican and vice presidential scene.

"I believe he is entirely out of the presidential picture," Landon replied. "Fred A. Seaton (secretary of interior, on his record as a state senator (Nebraska), U. S. senator, executive assistant to the President and secretary of interior, is amply qualified, not only for vice president but, in the event of tragedy to be President.

Envy is more irreconcilable than hatred. —La Rochefoucauld

Three Minutes A Day

By JAMES KELLER
A disappointed television viewer took a strange revenge. Armed with a 25-cent screwdriver, he went to the shop where he had bought his defective set and smashed every television set in sight.

This angry outburst climaxed a series of disappointing experiences. Time after time, in the midst of the family's favorite program, the set would repeatedly go dark or break down.

For a long time the owner of the faulty set brooded over the repeated frustrations. When he could stand it no longer, he took the matter into his own hands and paid his revengeful visit to the TV shop. It solved little. He was sentenced to 6 months in jail.

It takes only a few moments longer and a little added effort to employ orderly ways and means in trying to solve abuses, whether they concern your TV set, local politics or higher taxes. God bless those who faithfully adhere to the principles of charity, peace and justice.

"The patient man is better than the valiant; and he that ruleth his spirit than he that taketh cities." (Proverbs 16:32)

Deepen in me, O Lord, a sense of self-restraint in meeting daily problems.

'Try My Rocker, Grandpa!'

THE WORRY CLINIC by Dr. George Crane

CASE E-459: Paul W., aged 37, is a war veteran who lost an arm and a leg in battle.

"Dr. Crane," his devoted wife began, "Paul often gets blue. He feels sorry for himself at times, as would be natural."

"And I think he needs some hobby that would divert his attention."

"So what would you suggest?" "Your age," said Emerson, "is determined by where you dwell in your thinking. If you look constantly upon the past, you are old."

"But if you keep thinking forward into the tomorrow, then you are young."

That is a truism of modern psychology, and doubly valuable for you folks who grow blue or worry about your "innards."

Millions of such patients hound us doctors for treatment, just because they have too much unused intelligence!

Remember, people with high IQ are more likely to become the neurotics and "worry warts," for their routine daily tasks don't consume all their available mental ability.

So they use the surplus to fret about cancer or gall bladder or other medical problems.

What they need as an ideal medical and spiritual tonic, is to turn their attention outward in the form of wholesome hobbies.

The "Compliment Club" is an ideal tonic for such people. It demands that you quit focusing on yourself and start ferring out virtues in your companions.

Then pay them honest bits of praise on those obvious merits.

Prize contesting is another superb hobby that helps weld husband and wife together in a stimulating, zealous task.

Newspapers and magazines, business firms and manufacturers are constantly offering prizes for clever slogan or last lines of rimes (limricks) or 25-word letters.

These contests cause you to do enough creative thinking to keep the rust out of your brain cells! You often will consult the dictionary or an encyclopedia.

And after you bend in your entries, you then look forward till the awards are announced. This "forward-looking" makes you young, as per Emerson's definition.

Mrs. Crane and I entered hundreds of prize contests the first year we were married and enjoyed them immensely. I'd try to write a 25-word letter while she fixed up an attractive layout for the contest entry.

We started winning $1 or $2 prizes and ended that year with two first prizes of $1,000 apiece in national contests.

So encourage invalids and retired oldsters to develop the prize contesting hobby.

It is excellent marriage insurance for newlyweds, too, and you always have a chance at a prize, which adds extra zest.

Paul soon got caught up in the contest epidemic and before six weeks were over, he and his wife were working till midnight, gathering data for their contest entries.

When they won their first prize, which was $10 in cash, they were elated. And since then, they have won 245 additional awards, including 10th, 20th, 30th, 40th, 50th, 60th, 70th, 80th, 90th, 100th, 110th, 120th, 130th, 140th, 150th, 160th, 170th, 180th, 190th, 200th, 210th, 220th, 230th, 240th, 250th, 260th, 270th, 280th, 290th, 300th, 310th, 320th, 330th, 340th, 350th, 360th, 370th, 380th, 390th, 400th, 410th, 420th, 430th, 440th, 450th, 460th, 470th, 480th, 490th, 500th, 510th, 520th, 530th, 540th, 550th, 560th, 570th, 580th, 590th, 600th, 610th, 620th, 630th, 640th, 650th, 660th, 670th, 680th, 690th, 700th, 710th, 720th, 730th, 740th, 750th, 760th, 770th, 780th, 790th, 800th, 810th, 820th, 830th, 840th, 850th, 860th, 870th, 880th, 890th, 900th, 910th, 920th, 930th, 940th, 950th, 960th, 970th, 980th, 990th, 1000th.

WASHINGTON by Ed Koterba

WASHINGTON — That great acetic of the Senate, Paul H. Douglas (D. Ill.), was so intent on proving a point in economics that he violated his own code of ethics.

For years, the big white-haired raw-boned senator has been ranging far and wide in denouncing the practice of giving and receiving gifts among government officials.

So intense is he about this practice that he set down a law for himself to follow. Never, he announced, would he accept payola beyond the value of $2.50 (two dollars and fifty cents).

But then the other day, wrapped up in fierce emotion born of a personal attack on him, he forgot himself and broke his own rule.

He went out and purchased a full case of orange juice — a dozen No. 10 cans — and presented the gift to a high, influential government official.

Cost of the gift: $3.90 (three dollars and ninety cents).

Recipient: Frederick H. Mueller, Secretary of Commerce.

Ever since I can remember, Douglas has stamped his feet and swung his arms wide in renouncing gifts of hams, furs, turkeys and coats to government officials.

And, then, as if he suddenly ascribed to a double standard, he makes the gift to a high, influential government official.

To top it off, the senator then had his secretary go to the mimeograph machine and announce it to the world.

The gift is a case of influence peddling as its subtitle, Douglas is attempting to influence the commerce secretary to cut out alcoholic drinks at official functions.

It all came about when Douglas and other senators cut $3,000 from Mueller's official entertainment budget.

On the floor of the Senate, Douglas said later: "I am sending the secretary of commerce a case of orange juice to substitute for the more powerful poison which undoubtedly would have been purchased if the $3,000 item remained in the appropriation."

Actually, Mueller had brought this whole thing on himself.

He had made the mistake of making a speech in Philadelphia denouncing liberal Democrats like Douglas for heavy spending. He told his audience that he certainly hoped that some future Spartans Congress would cut federal spending.

A few days after the speech, Mueller was before the men of Congress asking for money to run his office. The first thing the committee did was read Mueller's Philadelphia speech. Then they started acting like Spartans.

Not only did they cut out the $5,000 entertainment allowance, they tossed out $161,325 he wanted for his personal office staff.

As for the juice, it was still sitting in his office 24 hours later. And Mueller and his men preferred to forget the whole thing.

City Municipal Pools To Open Daily Starting This Saturday

Sanford's two municipal pools, Ft. Mellon Park Pool and the Goldsboro Pool will be open afternoons beginning Saturday.

Pool hours during May will be 8:30 to 6 p. m. Monday through Friday and 1:30 to 6 p. m. Saturday and Sunday. Admission prices remain the same, 15 cents for youngsters through high school and 35 cents for adults.

The pools, operated by the Recreation & Parks Department, are having the final touches applied to them in preparation for full time operation at the end of the school year. The Ft. Mellon Park Pool has new metal coin-operated lockers for safe checking of clothes and valuables. Basket rental service is available at the Goldsboro Pool.

The following rules and regulations for the safety and health of all pool users were announced by Ron Perry, Sanford recreation and parks director. All girls no matter what age must wear bathing caps. No running, pushing or wrestling will be allowed. Goggles, snorkels and fins not allowed in the pool. Perry emphasized the rule concerning bathing caps for girls which has been lax in the past. He stated that the problem of hair getting in the drains has been one of the biggest problems faced in maintaining high standards of sanitation and that this rule along with the others will be strictly enforced.

All life guards are qualified senior life savers and have been given strict rules of water safety to carry out in their positions as city pool employees.

Seven out of every 10 workers covered by insurance programs under collective bargaining receive part of their salary when they are off the job because of illness or injury not connected with their work.

Land Inventory Cited By Hancock

By United Press International

W. R. Hancock said Wednesday he will push for an inventory of all state-owned lands if he is elected commissioner of agriculture.

The Groveland candidate said there is presently no listing of public lands. He said one should be drawn up before administration of the lands passes from the Department of Agriculture to the Cabinet Trustees of the Internal Improvement Fund "under the agriculture department reorganization plan which I helped write."

"Too often," Hancock said, "we have witnessed the release of lands that were in demand for public use as waterfront parks, recreation areas, boat launching sites, and so forth."

A charter was also presented to the group by Mrs. Hancock. (Herald Photo)

FBI Called In To Stop Unsolved Murders

TAMPA (UPI) — Congressman William C. Cramer said Wednesday residents of his district "are sick and tired" of unsolved gangland murders and asked the FBI to investigate the latest.

Cramer asked for federal help in the investigation of the murder of Sam Toto Ferrara, 33-year-old former underworld bodyguard found dead with four bullet holes in his body in a lonely spot in Pasco County.

Cramer said there had been 22 such unsolved gangland killings in his district in the past 30 years. One was Ferrara's former employer, Joe Antinori, who was shot in death in an Ybor City bar in 1953.

California Youth Sentenced To Life For 7 Killings

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. (UPI) — Dennis Whitney, 17-year-old California youth who confessed to seven killings, was sentenced to life in prison Wednesday.

He was convicted last week of killing Mrs. Virginia Selby, 68, of Hialeah after stealing her car to flee Miami.

Officials in Miami said a decision on whether to have Whitney taken there to stand trial for two other killings would be reached "within two or three days."

He told police he killed two gas station attendants in Miami and four other persons in Arizona and California.

State Atty. Phil O'Connell, who prosecuted the case here, said after sentence was pronounced that he had "suggested and urged" Miami officials to try to get the death penalty on the two Miami killings.

He had asked the jury here to return no recommendation of mercy, which would have meant the chair, but the jury didn't go along with him.

Circuit Judge James E. Knott asked Whitney if he had anything to say before sentencing. Whitney hung his head.

"I'm just sorry it ever happened," he said. "I wish it could have been avoided."

Paving Project Nearly Completed

Work to be done by the Florida Power Corp. and Winter Park Telephone Co. is all that's holding up the paving of Palmtoe Ave. in Longwood, Town Street Superintendent John Farina said today.

The two companies have to lay power lines before the surfacing of Palmtoe can be finished. In the other parts of the current Longwood street surfacing project, Wilma Ave. has been sealed and needs just two coats of rock to finish it. Grant Ave. is finished except for rock topping, and a few more pipes to be put in, Farina said.

Philanthropist Rockefeller Dies

TUCSON, Ariz. (UPI)—The body of John D. Rockefeller Jr., a philanthropist who gave nearly half a billion dollars away and still remained one of the world's richest men, will be buried in the family plot in New York state.

His son, Nelson, governor of New York, and Laurance, said they planned to fly back to New York today to complete funeral arrangements preceding burial at Sleepy Hollow Cemetery in Tarrytown. His body rested in Arizona Funeral Home here.

Nelson said his stepmother, Mrs. Martha Baird Allen Rockefeller, took Rockefeller's death very hard. She was in deep mourning, he said. Martha and Rockefeller Jr. married in 1901, three years after the death of his first wife.

Rockefeller, known by many associates as "Mister Junior," died at the age of 88 Wednesday of pneumonia and heart strain in Tucson Medical Center. He had been in failing health for some time and entered the hospital Monday.

A shy, retiring man, he devoted his life to his family and sharing his father's Standard Oil wealth.

Philanthropist by the Rockefeller family began with his father, "JDR Sr.," but reached their full abundance when Rockefeller Jr. took over as head of the family after his father's death in 1907.

By the time of Rockefeller Junior's death Wednesday, donations by the family to peoples in the U. S. and many parts of the world totaled at least three billion dollars. His personal philanthropic donations during his lifetime amounted to more than 475 million dollars.

Sanford Junior High Begins English Concentration Program

Sanford Junior High has started a program to raise the achievement level of its seventh grade students in English.

Though the seventh graders' achievements in mathematics far exceed their math ability, their literature achievement level is below their verbal ability, Principal Hugh Carlton pointed out.

So seventh graders now have two English classes each day instead of one. Each student studies the two English subjects in which he is most deficient. He may have classes in literature, grammar, handwriting and spelling, or reading. The new class replaces a study period.

Sanford Junior High has been using this deficiency concentration program in mathematics for the past three years, Carlton said. He hopes that's the reason why the seventh graders rate so high in math achievement. Concentration in English is aimed at the same effect.

The program was started in the seventh grade so that the faculty would have three years to see its effects on the students.

"The faculty wants to do these things because they feel they can better help the children," Carlton said. The teachers are willing to take on the extra class and the work of scheduling children according to their needs in English, even though this takes time from other parts of their programs.

Sanford's Starlight Promenaders will be host to the second annual square dance institute of the Central Florida Square Dancers Association Saturday.

More than 200 square dancers are expected.

The institute will be held all day Saturday with instructional sessions including styling taught by Bob Rust of Daytona, Joe Curtis of Orlando and Bob Stone of Melbourne. A big dance to climax the day will feature six callers, including Joe Johnson, Eric Sahn and Chuck Durant.

This dance in Sanford climaxes the association's year of activity and is expected to be the biggest dance to date for the association.

Sanford's Starlight Promenaders were organized by the Recreation Department two years ago and is one of the largest in Florida at the present time.

Balloon Launch Postponed Again

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (UPI)—America's plans to send a 100-foot communications balloon into orbit around the earth were called off early today for the third time within a week.

The Air Force said the postponement came because of indications of "technical problems" in the first stage of the 22-foot-tall Thor-Delta rocket scheduled to carry the satellite.

No new launching date was scheduled immediately for the balloon, which was tightly packed in the nose of the rocket's third stage.

The balloon, taller than a 10-story building, was to have been placed into an orbit about 1,000 miles above earth to try out a new system of communications which could lead to instantaneous world-wide television.

The sphere, coated with highly reflective aluminum, was to be inflated in space. Once in orbit, the balloon would be bombarded with radio signals from ground stations around the world.

New Howe Store A Family Affair

The new "Howe Fashions" store on Park Dr. is really a family affair.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Calvin Howe own the dress shop and their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Howe help run it. The Howes opened their new shop at 2528 Park Dr. the beginning of this month.

They moved a whole dress store operation from their old site at 2810 Oak Ave.

Ladies' and misses' dresses, sportswear, and accessories will be sold in the new store. The building which was finished in April is a two unit affair, with each unit 17 by 46 feet. The Howes are using one of the units for their shop and intend to rent the other section to a compatible business.

Mrs. Howe has been associated with stores for her whole life. Her father owned a department store, Mrs. Howe and her husband owned a general store and had a restaurant for 18 years after that.

Largest acreage for a single truck crop in Florida during 1959 was for watermelons.

Plenty of Drama In Washington Despite Shortage Of Theaters

By DICK WEST
WASHINGTON (UPI) — In the field of drama, the nation's capital has only two legitimate theaters and, as far as the police and I know, no illegitimate ones.

Compared with some other cities, this might appear to be a meager display of the performing arts, but it does not necessarily mean that we have a dearth of dramatics.

We have other forms of theatrical activities that are not found elsewhere. For instance, we have Everett McKinley Dirksen.

As the only practicing U.S. senator with cable strings for vocal cords, Dirksen is lionized by concert lovers because his speeches sound like chamber music.

On occasions when, in the course of his duties as Senate Republican leader, he is called upon to lament over some Democratic misdeed, his total quality has been favorably compared to the Budapest String Quartet.

I think, however, that Dirksen's true forte lies in theatrics. This is especially true on certain Tuesdays when he gives two matinee performances that can almost invariably be classified as show-stoppers.

If the President is in residence on Tuesday, the Illinois senator joins a troupe of GOP congressional leaders that calls at the White House. Afterwards, he and Rep. Charles A. Halleck (R-Ind.), his counterpart in the House, get up a tandem act, otherwise known as a briefing, for the benefit of newsmen.

Longwood-Oviedo Road Survey On

State Road Dept. surveyors are making their measurements on the Longwood-Oviedo Rd. in North Orlando preparatory to widening the road.

Surveyor Tom Howard said the survey work will take the rest of May. The results will be sent to DeLand for a design of the road to be drawn. The design will go to Tallahassee for approval. The Seminole County Commission is working with the SRD towards widening the road. North Orlando Mayor Roy Lidditt said.

Club Hears Peters

Seminole High German exchange student Herbert Peters told the Sanford Kiwanis Club about his native Germany at the Kiwanis Civic Center luncheon Wednesday.

Red Cross Meeting

The Seminole County Chapter of the American Red Cross will meet at 4 p. m. May 24 at the Chamber of Commerce Building to elect officers for the coming year, William E. Grey, secretary reported today.

Nikita Revives 'Cold War' As Summit Meeting Nears

By PHIL NEWSON
UPI Foreign Editor

Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev has revived the cold war almost on the eve of the summit conference which was supposed to pave the way to world peace. It is logical to ask why.

Obvious reason was his charge before the Supreme Soviet (parliament) that the United States had sent a reconnaissance plane over Russia on a spy mission. He said a Russian ground-to-air rocket brought the plane down and that the pilot, who lived, now may be brought to trial.

Presumably it would be a show trial.

Khrushchev quickly linked the incident of the narrow plane to theoretical case in which a plane might carry a hydrogen bomb. The United States, he said, might logically expect one in return.

This is talk as tough as any of the old cold war days of the late Soviet Premier Josef Stalin.

While the State Department said there was no Washington authorization for such flights, it did admit the plane was on an intelligence-gathering flight over the Soviet Union.

Incidents of similar nature, occurring on both sides of the Iron Curtain, are not particularly new. Spy charges, one against the other, are not new either.

But of this time, Khrushchev made a particular issue which kept him talking for three days. Khrushchev's tough talk in advance of the summit has been getting tougher daily.

He began with a renewed warning that, unless the Western Allies agreed to his own plans both for disarmament and an overall peace treaty for Germany, he would make his own separate peace with Communist East Germany. This, he said, automatically would cut off Western access to free West Berlin.

As Khrushchev renewed his hard line, other events also were taking place. As the summit drew nearer, Red China stepped up its own propaganda attacks against the United States.

Simultaneously, a summit meeting of Soviet satellite states was occurring in Moscow. Either because of Red China or as result of developments in the satellites, something may have occurred to chill Khrushchev's own enthusiasm toward the summit.

In the works at the same time was a far-reaching shakeup inside the Soviet Union's own governing machinery. It is not unusual for Kremlin leaders to step up their attacks against the West at a time of far-reaching developments within the Soviet Union. It diverts the people's attention.

Russia has not been alone in taking an increasingly hard line toward the summit.

Undersecretary of State Douglas Dillon recently warned: "Despite constant talk of 'peaceful coexistence,' there is no evidence whatsoever that Communist expansionist ambitions have altered in the slightest."

Tobacco produced in Florida during 1959, five-cured and wrapper leaf, brought the producer $20,200,000.

Cubans Stage Anti-U. S. March

HAVANA (UPI)—Anti-American demonstrators carrying banners with such slogans as "Down with Yankee Imperialism!" or "Death to the U. S. Senate!" tied up traffic in downtown Havana for two hours Wednesday night.

About 2,000 persons massed at the corner of San Rafael and Galiano Streets to cheer anti-American speeches by Jesus Soto, radical leftist boss of the CTC Union Federation, and other union leaders.

Smaller demonstrations, apparently organized by CTC locals, were reported elsewhere in the city.

Police guards armed with rifles were posted at the U. S. Embassy as an apparent precaution against mob attack, but there was no report of violence or casualties.

The demonstrations were inspired by a statement, issued by the University Students' Federation and published by the rebel organ Revolucion, charging that the United States is planning to attack Cuba.

Integration Working Smoothly At Six Nashville Lunch Counters

By United Press International

Integration of lunch counters at six stores in downtown Nashville, Tenn., has gone off smoothly for the past two days and more Negroes are expected to eat at the stores in the near future.

Officers reported no incidents of violence since the integration plan went into effect Tuesday. Store officials said they have had no "difficulty" with their employees.

But it was a different story in Durham, N. C., where 40 sitdown demonstrators were arrested Wednesday. The demonstration, staged by both white and Negro students, followed the trials of 40 Negroes and six whites who were arrested and charged with trespassing last Friday at an S. H. Kress store.

Some of the demonstrators who participated in Wednesday's sitdown were among those arrested last week for staging a lunch counter demonstration in the same store.

A Durham recorder's court judge found two Negroes and a white man guilty of assault and battery in a fight that occurred at a drug store lunch counter April 30. The three were fined $50 apiece.

In Nashville, while patrons of the integrated stores have paid little attention to Negroes who sit down next to them, and there has been no display of hostility. On several occasions, whites and Negroes have been seen talking to each other at the counters.

Under terms of an agreement reached by Negroes and merchants after weeks of secret negotiations, the local news media were asked to play down the integration to prevent possible acts of violence by whites.

Lundquist Named Top SHS Athlete At Sports Banquet

The Whirling dervish of the Seminole High School baseball, basketball and football teams, Ray Lundquist, was named the school's outstanding all-round athlete for 1959-60 Wednesday night.

The versatile and energetic Lundquist got the top honor, the Whitley McLucas Memorial Award, at the annual meeting of the Seminole Boosters Club at the Civic Center.

Twenty other individual and school trophies were presented to boys and girls athletes and the students turned around and gave out four special awards to adults who have assisted their athletic endeavors.

J. L. Markham was elected president of the Boosters for next year and will relieve Gordon Bradley of that duty. Mrs. Jackie Casio was named vice president and Al Stanley secretary-treasurer for the next term.

Bill Peterson, new head football coach at Florida State University, was guest speaker and told the audience of several hundred that two Sanford players, Bill Tyra and Dave Hinesley, are expected to see a lot of football action for FSU.

Peterson complimented the student athletes, but cautioned them that establishing character is the primary goal on and off the athletic field.

"Concentrate on service, effort and character," he urged. Lundquist wound up with three trophies after an exciting season. He also got the most valuable football player award and shared the most valuable basketball trophy with Jimmy Gracey.

Gracey also won the most improved football player and most valuable track team member awards and Terry Christensen received trophies for sportsmanship in basketball and for being the most improved a squad player.

Other trophies presentations: Most valuable girl golfer, Dedic Dietrich, presented by Mrs. Lundquist. Most valuable boy golfer, Ricky Roth, presented by E. S. Billinger.

Most valuable boy swimmer, Bill Weber, presented by E. L. Perkins Jr. Most valuable girl swimmer, Debbie Bruce, presented by Gordon Bradley.

Most valuable baseball player, George Neave, presented by Gordon Bradley. Sportsmanship in basketball, Charles Oravets, presented by A. J. Bracken. Most improved basketball player, Ken Gutierrez, presented by Raymond Lundquist.

Jack Morrison presented the most valuable trophies to Gracey and Lundquist. The Lions Club football blocking award went to Les Riser and was presented by J. G. Gutierrez. John Kacer and Ray Gracey the most improved player trophy and Elmer Wontany presented the Yowell football sportsmanship award to Johnny Lovelace. J. L. Markham presented the Jim Robson award for the most promising B-squad player to John Phillips.

Lundquist was given the most valuable player trophy by Peter Schaal, who established the award 32 years ago. It is the oldest honor of its kind in the South and has been presented every year since 1928.

Joe Davis made the presentation of the McLucas Memorial Award after introducing Mrs. McLucas, widow of the former athlete and coach in whose memory it is given.

County and Orange Belt Conference basketball championship trophies also were given to Coach Bud Layer, Athletic Director Fred Ganas presented the big OBC trophy, first won by the school since 1938 and complimented Coach Layer and the team on the best season record in history.

Greyhounds Snap Losing Streak, Beating Daytona

By JERRY COVINGTON

The booming Sanford Greyhound bats, which have been rather silent for the past few days, came to life as they rapped out 14 singles to defeat the floundering Daytona Beach Islanders by a score of 8-4 Wednesday night.

LeRhandor Ron (Rooster) Banovic, went all the way for the Greyhounds and registered his third win against one defeat. The victory broke a four game losing streak and once again the locals are right up in the thick of the Florida State League race.

Banovic, although he was tapped for 10 safeties, was never in serious trouble and coasted easily to his third win. He gave up but three walks and fanned 11 Daytona batters. Manager Frank Calo of Daytona was the only hitter to give Banovic much trouble as he went three for four with two doubles and two runs batted in.

All but two of the Greyhounds pounded out two base hits each in the impressive victory. Second baseman Orzie Chavarrin pounded a booming triple in the first inning and singled in the eighth inning. Bill Dukes, Bolivar Hinojosa, and Ken Harrison all hit doubles. Hinojosa drove in two Greyhound runs with his double in the fifth inning and shortstop Dick Green drove in two runs with two singles.

Tonight the Greyhounds travel to Daytona and then travel to Orlando Friday night. They return home Saturday against Orlando and will be in town Sunday and Monday against the Tampa Tarpons. It will be Tampa's first visit to Sanford this season.

Right-hander Joe Petrivic will start tonight against the Islanders and Ken Sanders will go against Orlando Friday night. Bob Gligo, who is 4-1 for the season, will face the Dodgers here Saturday night.

NL Teams Start Cutting Rosters

By United Press International

Brooks Lawrence, an all-star pitcher four years ago, was the principal casualty as National League teams reduced their rosters to the 25-player limit Wednesday night.

The Cincinnati Reds optioned Lawrence to Indianapolis of the American Assn. on a 24-hour recall basis. The 35-year-old right-hander had pitched only 7 1/2 innings this year and allowed 13 runs, all in relief assignments.

The Reds acquired Lawrence in 1956 from the St. Louis Cardinals. He won his first 18 games that season and was named to the National League All-Star team, finishing the year with a nifty 19-10 record.

Lawrence was equally as effective in 1957 when he led the Reds' pitchers in victories as he posted a 16-3 mark. But he slipped to an 8-18 record the following year and wound up in the Cincinnati bullpen last season, finishing with a 7-15 mark.

The Chicago Cubs pared down to the limit by shipping three players to Houston and recalling infielder Jerry Kindall from the same American Assn. team. Pitcher Al Schroll was released outright to Houston while catcher Moe Thacker and infielder Sam Drake were farmed out on 24-hour recall.

The Pittsburgh Pirates cut their roster to 25 players by sending outfielder Roman Mejias to Columbus of the American Assn. and outfielder Joe Christopher and pitcher George Witt to Salt Lake City of the Pacific Coast League. All three were sent down on a 24-hour recall basis.

The Milwaukee Braves optioned pitcher George Brunet and outfielder Lee Maye to Louisville of the American Assn. Brunet was obtained earlier Wednesday from the Kansas City Athletics in an even-up swap for pitcher Bob Gligo.

The San Francisco Giants released veteran right-hander Ramon Monsanto outright to Tacoma, Wash., and optioned pitcher Verle Tientenhaller to the same Pacific Coast League team.

The Baltimore Orioles announced that outfielder John Powers was being dropped from their roster to make room for catcher Valmy Thomas, who was obtained from the Philadelphia Phillies. Powers collected only two hits in 18 at bats from the Orioles this spring.

Athletes Give Four Special Awards

A woman was hailed by some of the Seminole High School football players last night as "the coach of coaches."

John Weichel, speaking for members of the squad who were students of Mrs. Sybil Routh in grammar school, said she not only taught them, but gave them their first coaching in football. She was presented a special engraved award.

John Lovelace paid a special tribute to Dr. John Morgan, the team doctor, on behalf of the players and Bill Weber gave awards to John Colbert and Dr. Watsman, Navy flight surgeon, who helped coach the boys swimming team.

Debbie Bruce presented a special award to Mrs. Don Thompson from members of the girls swimming team.

Mary Esther's Takes Loop Lead

Mary Esther's took four games from Sweeney's to put them in the lead of the Jet Bowleries Bowling League by a half game, 2-1. Sweeney's is in second place in the standings.

Neil's Hair Salon fell back to third place by losing three points to Ivey's Shoe Store. Marge Lyons was the star for Neil's as she scratched up a 504 series and a 190 game. However, Mildred Novers led the shoe store with her 475.

It was a split all the way between Trim-ette Figure Salon and Yowell's as they each took two points. Joan Peterson was the top bowler for these two teams with her 487 series.

House of Rahn's Portraits copped three from the Duke & Duchess team to put them in a three way tie for sixth spot in the league with How's Fashions.

Bo-Jay's continue to come up as they took three more points from How's Fashions. This puts them in a tie with Yowell's for fourth spot.

Sanford Baseball Program Slated For Expansion

The Sanford youth baseball program will be expanded to broaden the program giving boys ages eight and nine a chance to play organized ball.

The new league to be called the Sanford Little League will be the final step in the fulfillment of a total youth baseball program to pick up youngsters when they are eight and allow them the opportunity to play ball up to high school.

Registration for this new league will be at 4:30 p. m. Monday afternoon at the Ft. Mellon softball field.

All boys desiring to play must be present at that time. Also all fathers are urged to come with their sons as the success of the program will depend on their aid. The boys will be required to furnish shoes and gloves; catcher's equipment will be furnished by the Sanford Recreation Department.

Layoff Aids Mathews, Milwaukee

United Press International That five-day layoff apparently was just what Eddie Mathews and his muscular Milwaukee teammates needed to tune up their batting eyes.

The Braves fretted and fumed in enforced idleness since May 5 but they took out their anger on the St. Louis Cardinals with a 12-8 slugfest when they finally played a game Wednesday night. And Mathews, who was off to a slow start, looked like the 40-homer-a-year man he's been for four seasons.

Big Ed hit two homers, a single and a sacrifice fly to drive in five runs and led a 13-hit Braves attack that also included homers by Wes Covington and Del Crandall. The outburst lifted Mathews' average 30 points to .323 and his fourth and fifth homers of the season raised his career total to 304.

Since starting the season Mathews has passed Rogers Hornsby and Chuck Klein on the all-time National League home run list and now ranks seventh. Warren Spahn was the beneficiary of the assault on six St. Louis pitchers.

The victory enabled the Braves to remain firmly planted in third place behind the front-running San Francisco Giants, who beat the Philadelphia Phillies, 1-0, for their fifth straight win, and the Pittsburgh Pirates, who downed the Los Angeles Dodgers, 6-3, in other NL action.

The Detroit Tigers scored their second straight 1-0 victory over the Washington Senators on Al Kaline's 10th-inning homer and the Baltimore Orioles defeated the Kansas City A's, 5-3, in 10 innings in the American League.

Sam Jones struck out 11 batters in an overpowering two-hitter to go with a one-hitter and two three-hitters he previously had pitched in San Francisco's Candlestick Park. Both hits off Jones, who struck out five of the last seven batters, were slightly tainted. Jones himself walked with the bases filled in the second inning to force in the game's only run.

Eloy Face, who had lost three consecutive decisions, gained his first victory of the season when the Pirates scored three runs in the eighth and two in the ninth. Hal Smith's two-run single off Sandy Koufax tied the score at 3-3 in the eighth and Gino Cimoli followed with a single off Larry Sherry that put the Pirates in front.

Frank Lary struck out seven and allowed only one walk and

TV Tonight

Ernie Ford's NBC show features some top performers in the "Country Music" field. Frank Sinatra's hour special is on ABC, replacing "The Untouchables" for the evening. The revue hour on CBS will be devoted to a re-broadcast of "Gold Rush."

New TV Approach Cited For Children

RADNOR, Pa.—Critics of television have been loud in denouncing the type programs TV brings to children. But Dr. Wilbur Schramm, director of the Institute for Communication Research, Stanford University, is more concerned about what children bring to TV. "Television never acts alone on a child," Dr. Schramm told TV Guide magazine. "It always acts with a group of other influences - the family for instance. Dr. Schramm believes that a child approaches TV viewing with a predetermined set of needs, interests, standards and habits. "In a sense, television is like a big cafeteria, from which each of us takes whatever he sees that he is hungry for at the moment," he says. "The important thing, therefore, is what kinds of hunger a child brings to television."

Big Ten Pays, Magazine Says

NEW YORK (UPI)—Football players in the Big Ten Conference are paid to do or die for their teams every Saturday, the magazine Sports Illustrated charged today in an article printed in this week's issue. "Many Big Ten football players are carried on the payroll of industry at $40 or $50 weekly," the article said. "Sometimes they show up for work, and sometimes they stay in bed." The magazine, without naming names or schools, also charged that alumni "angles" in the Big Ten secretly make weekly cash payments to some football players.

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: What do you think of a woman who, at age 50, thinks she is a writer? She lets the dishes pile up in the sink and sits up until two and three in the morning typing. She has been writing a "romantic novel" for three years. She let me read some of it and, Abby, it is positively filthy! She says that's what it takes to get a book sold these days.

This "novel" of hers is full of grammatical errors, but that doesn't worry her. She doesn't even have a high school education. I told her if she had so much spare time she should get herself a set of eighth grade school books and begin her education where she left off 38 years ago. How can I get her to give up this foolishness and do something useful with her time?

LONG SUFFERING HUSBAND

DEAR LONG SUFFERING: No wife should pursue a hobby at the expense of her family, but if she is interested in writing professionally, she should take a course in creative writing and learn the fundamentals. Only a mountain of shocking pink rejection slips will discourage a budding writer, and sometimes it's easier to move a mountain.

DEAR ABBY: I disagree with the answer you gave "CURIOUS" who wanted to know what the churches did with all their money.

I am personally acquainted with a minister who makes $10,000 a year. He pays no rent, and his congregation provides him with a new automobile every year. He gets a discount on everything he buys because he is a clergyman. And people consider it an honor to invite him for free meals.

I know of many small country churches where they can't keep a minister over a year because "The Lord" is always calling him to go to some larger church where there's more money. NO FOOL

DEAR ABBY: Your answer to "CURIOUS" was perfect and covered every phase of church needs.

"CURIOUS" must be one of those people who attends church on Christmas and Easter and thinks the dollar bill he puts in the collection plate will keep the church going all year. FAITHFUL READER

DEAR ABBY: My friend and I were discussing something and it turned into sort of an argument, and we want you to settle it for us.

If a man and woman were married and then divorced, and then they married each other again, which wedding anniversary should they celebrate?

ARGUING

DEAR ARGUING: If they have children, they should celebrate the anniversary of their first wedding. Otherwise celebrate the anniversary of the marriage that "took."

"What's your problem?" Write to Abby in care of this paper. For a personal reply, enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

For Abby's pamphlet, "What Teenagers Want to Know," send 25c and a large, self-addressed, stamped envelope in care of this paper.

Get Rid Of That Excess Baggage

Dear Edith:

If you are fifty pounds overweight, exercise, which you can do easily and so helpfully after you get rid of a few pounds. To obtain a copy of "Diet and Exercise for Beauty After Forty," send me a long, eight-cent stamped, self-addressed envelope and 25 cents in coin. Use the program and you will get good results.

I am a tall woman with big bones and I have always, it seems, been overweight, although not so much. Do you believe that it is necessary for me to go on a diet? I really hate to start this kind of thing as it worries my family.—E.T.U."

"My husband is taking me to a large dinner at a hotel in a nearby town. We will go by car. I am fairly tall, not overweight and have gray hair. What should I wear? The dinner is not listed as formal, it will be over at nine and we will drive back. My husband is wearing a blue summer alpaca suit and a white shirt. Should he wear a hat and tie?—Mrs."

It may worry your family but it will worry them more when you begin to pay the toll on your personal excess baggage! You should run to a diet and you should have a check-up by your doctor. It does make you feel more youthful and you look more youthful when you slim down and, although you may hate it, it is better for your health if you find, after checking with your doctor, that you need a diet, you may have a copy of mine. This recommends mild

Yes, by all means wear a hat. Your dress might be an attractive small print or a less in any becoming color. You can remove your hat and gloves when you arrive home and begin the luncheon.

I would suggest a pretty summer dress. If you do not wear hats I would not be necessary to wear one, although I think you would look smarter. A tie for your husband? Good gracious, YES! He is not in the habit of wearing hats, it is not necessary for him to wear one either.

Tennessee Ernie Meets King Arthur Proves Amusing

By FRED DANZIG

NEW YORK (UPI)—Tennessee Ernie Ford packed his overstuffed bag of assorted goodies Tuesday night and flashed back 1,432 years to give the "Starline" hour one of its smoother journeys.

Ernie's "Tennessee Ernie Meets King Arthur" was a frisky, free-wheeling adaptation by Roland Kibbee of Mark Twain's classic, "A Connecticut Yankee in King Arthur's Court."

Ford, our eyewitness to history, made his journey to understanding with his usual wide-eyed facade and supply of verdant, grass roots humor. His homilies and similes exploited every possible target.

We first met the ol' pecker in his century laboratory, the unwillful subject of a scientific experiment. That lab scene, with scientist bustling about, somehow resembled a commercial for a new cigarette filter. Actually, they were about to put Ernie in the time machine and thrust him back to King Arthur's Camelot in the year 528.

The obvious difference between those days and today's civilization were massaged with innocent, gentle and semi-apologetic little jokes.

Noting that he would be traveling backward in space, Ford referred to himself as a "back astronaut." Told that he had landed in Camelot, he asked, "Is that anywhere near Chattanooga?"

When a servant came along with a tray, Ernie asked, "Whaddya got there? Whaddya?"

The answer: "No. Food."

And so it went.

In one ominous scene, where Ernie was about to be burned at the stake by King Arthur, Ernie appealed for the abolition of capital punishment. But that was about as controversial as the dialogue became. Usually, of Ernie was busy weaving the Camelotian with quotes from Shakespeare, Lincoln, Jefferson, Nathan Hale and "The Farmer's Almanac," and introducing them to such luxuries as hula hoops and yo-yos.

I found King Arthur and his companions a swinging, jolly group around the round table. Times haven't changed much, I guess. Today, for example, the round table equivalent might be an evening around Frank Sinatra's ping pong table.

'Never On Sunday' Looms As Best Picture At Cannes Film Festival

CANNES, France (UPI)—Critics and industry sources at the Cannes film festival said today American director Jules Dassin's "Never on Sunday" is the best picture shown so far in the festival.

Dassin wrote the film, produced and directed it, and played the leading role.

The feminine lead was played by Melina Mercouri of Italy. Both received a long ovation and bravo from the audience of 1,500 who saw the film Sunday night.

"Never on Sunday" satirizes the "Boy Scout type of American"—specifically, a man who goes to Greece to "reform" the natives. He meets a happy prostitute and spends the rest of the film trying to convert her into a "good American." He fails, but in the process wins a lot of friends through his good-natured bumbling.

"Most of us are still Boy Scouts at heart," Dassin said. "This film is not going to hurt anybody."

The Greek location for the film gave Dassin an excuse for throwing a lavish "Greek" party after the screening.

It was the most extravagant
