PROHIBITION AMENDMENT APPEARS UNDER FIRE NEW JERSEY STARTS IT

Suit Declaring Amendment Improper Filed

STATES RIGHTS

ATTORNEY GENERAL PALMER AND COMMISSIONER ROOPER ARE DEFENDANTS

Washington, March 5.—The state of New Jersey, through its attorney general, Thomas F. McCran, today filed in the United States supreme court a suit seeking to have the prohibition amendment declared unconstitutional and to prevent enforcement of the Volstead act. The suit is directed against Attorney General Palmer and Daniel C. Roper, commissioner of internal revenue.

The bill sets forth that the amendment was properly drawn, that in 21 states the legislatures have not ratified it as provided by their state constitutions, and that there is no power in congress to propose a constitutional amendment regulating the habits and morals of the people. It recites further that the amendment is a legislative and not a constitutional matter and that as such it was improperly passed. It says that the amendment centralizes authority without the consent of the people of New Jersey and that it is a violation of their sovereign rights. The Volstead act, having been enacted under authority of the amendment, the petition says, is null and void.

It is claimed that the Volstead act is illegal because, by "depreciating and in a large measure destroying the taxable value of real and personal property within the state," it is "destructive of the state's free and independent government; because it deprives the state revenues from licenses, which in 1918 amounted to $2,442,899 and because it interferes with the internal government of the people and operates to punish them by heavy fines, imprisonment and forfeitures, thus preventing application for licenses for sale of non-intoxicating beverages, authorized under the laws of the state."

Complaint is made that the act restricts the practice of physicians of the state and the operation of its penal, correctional and charitable institutions; that the state has not concurred in the amendment; that if the act is enforced it will nullify the right of the state to direct its internal affairs.

It is claimed that the act is not appropriate to the prohibition contained in the amendment which is expressly confined to intoxicating liquors.

In conclusion, the complaint declares if the amendment is valid the right of congress to legislate under it is restricted to matters relating to "the external concerns of the United States and within the peculiar domain of the federal government to regulate commerce among the states" and that the state alone has the power to enforce the act within its own borders.

SANFORD'S HIGH SCHOOL MAKES RECORD

THE ONLY GRADUATE EXTENSION CLASS IN THE UNITED STATES

Sanford, because it has the only graduate extension class in the United States, would be entitled to a star instead of a dot if a dot were made of the classes that have been organized recently by the General Extension Division of the University of Florida. Every member of the class which is studying Browning, has a B. A., while one has an M. A. degree.

This seminar class has the advantage of personal contact at regular intervals with the instructor, Prof. E. C. Beck of the University of Florida, and is doing regular post-graduate work despite the distance from the campus. Claude S. Ogilvie, principal of the Sanford school, keeps the class records.—Gainesville Sun.

Sanford is the only graduate class in the United States being a record of which we can be all proud. There are eight members enrolled. The class meets every two weeks and Prof. E. C. Beck comes here from the University of Florida at Gainesville to teach the class.

Commissioners Meet
The regular meeting of the City Commission of Sanford will be adjourned from next Monday evening March 8th to Wednesday evening March 10th, 8 P. M.

L. R. PHILIPS,
Clerk of the Commission.

Nationalist supporters predict a war in the spring if the Greeks left Smyrna and French Cilicia. They laughed at the allied threats and naval displays and say the allies cannot wage a successful war in interior of Asia Minor.

DAMAGE FROM COLD OVER TOLD

STATE DID NOT SUFFER AS FIRST REPORTED BUT BAD ENOUGH

Tampa, Mar. 5.

While there is no doubt that the damage to young and tender crops, done by the severe frost Monday night, was considerable in the vicinity of Miami, later inspection shows that the first estimate of $5,000,000 is an overestimate.

The rest of the state suffered in spots only, the cold wave apparently acting in a freakish manner, landing hard on some localities and dealing lightly with others. Temperatures generally were much higher yesterday, and still on the rise, with a probability of rain in the northern part of the state.

U. C. Zeluff of the Federal Plan Board, said that while he had made no comprehensive survey of the situation he believes that the damage to citrus in this section is confined to setting back the new growth from six to eight inches. Cabbage in some sections of the central part of the state was ruined, while others it was unharmed. The next season's crop of citrus is practically uninjured by reason of the fact that February was an unusually cold that the new bloom was not fully developed.

In the Fort Myers fruit and vegetable district the damage according to a statement of John M. Boring, demonstration agent for Lee county, consisted of damage to cucumbers, and watermelon crops of 40 per cent tomato and eggplants 20 per cent but the beans, potatoes and peppers escaped serious injury. According to the latest reports from the weather bureau there is no more cold weather in sight at present.

By a peculiar freak of the cold snap it was colder at Miami and Fort Myers than at Tampa, a hundred miles further north, and the damage was greater further south than in this section. The Manatee section was not a great sufferer. There was not considerable damage to tender truck crops in Polk and Pasco counties, while in the tier of counties further north first plantings were wiped out, but the crops were not as far advanced as in the lower tier.

Miami March 5.—Reports reaching this city today were to the effect that the loss to the winter vegetable growers of southern Florida from Monday night's freeze is not so great as was first reported. First reports was that frosts had visited the extreme southern portion of the state had done considerable more damage.

The loss, however, will amount to several million dollars, hundreds of farmers having all their crops literally wiped out.

Ex-Governor J. F. Hanley of Indiana is to reach Sanford this afternoon and speak tonight at the Baptist Temple. Admission Free. Collection will be taken.

FLORIDA IS FUR STATE AT PRESENT

HIGH PRICE OF FURS MAKES THE GAME INTERESTING EVEN IN FLORIDA

It would not occur to many people that a highly profitable industry in Florida just now is trapping. Trapping has nearly always been associated with the cold climates where animals with heavy furs are to be found. A brown muskrat pelt that was worth a dollar two years ago is worth fifty-one dollars now. The pelt of one skunk, a much despised animal is worth several dollars hunting in Florida woods.

The industry, however, has not always been profitable in Florida for the very good reason that the demand for furs has not always been as great as it is now for every kind of fur. A brown muskrat pelt that was worth a dollar two years ago is worth fifty-one dollars now. The pelt of one skunk, a much despised animal is worth several dollars hunting in Florida woods.

A few woodsmen along the St. Johns river have found that there is money in trapping fox, coons, skunks and beaver. They find a ready market and eager demand for all the pelts they can secure.

A recent article from the Boston News Bureau says that all eyes point to this country becoming the most fur-bearing nation, with the possible exception of the Eskimos.

While London still disputes the fact American fur dealers say this country has become the center of the fur industry. It is interesting to note the 12,000 Alaska realskins offered for sale on account of the United States Government were dressed dyed and machined in this country instead of at London as formerly.

The fur catch last year was entirely inadequate compared with the demand and if present consumption keeps up in spite of mounting prices, the next few years will see a serious shortage in furs for market.

That Australian Canada and the United States are considering more stringent game-conservation laws, some of which will probably be in force this year, only aggravates the situation. Already Canada has many important fox farms, where the most costly variety, like the silver fox, are being bred solely for fur-selling purposes.

America apparently has not taken to the monkey-skin style so prevalent in France and England at present, but dealers believe they will have to supply such a demand next year and are preparing for it.

The house is beyond the city limits, several miles and had no protection. A small insurance was carried and the sympathy of their many friends is extended to them in their loss.

Tourists Willing To Pay For Fast Travel

COST IS NO OBJECT

TOURISTS WILL GO HOME THIS YEAR BY THE AERO ROUTE

Aerial passenger transportation as a regular business between cities has become a fact in Florida, East Coast tourists clamoring for passage on the big airships from Miami to New York and Palm Beach to New York. Sometime ago the Aero Limited which has been giving service between Palm Beach, Miami, Havana, Nassau and Bilini announced that it would carry a certain number of passengers to New York from Palm Beach and Miami. Immediately there was a wild scramble for reservations on the big aeroplanes.

Sixty passengers have been booked at $750 each and still there is demand. According to a statement made by the manager of the Aero Limited corporation several trips may be made to accommodate all of those who wish to avoid the crowded trains by taking to the air.

From Miami to New York is approximately 1,300 miles air line. Using hydro-planes with an average speed of between sixty and seventy miles per hour not considering the effect of winds, a continuous flying trip of about twenty hours would be required. This will be broken up by relays from point to point up the Atlantic coast, as neither passengers nor pilots could stand a continuous flight even if planes withstood the test. It is figured by those backing the plan that about four days with a flying time of about five hours per day will be used.

This is the greatest booking of passengers for travel by air yet announced in America and is believed to be a world's record for number and distance. Many prominent people are among those booked for the trip.

NEWS OF THE GREAT STATE OF FLORIDA

Compiled In Tabloid Form For Busy Herald Readers

The Duval High school quintet known as the Tigers, will play a return game with the Lake City high school team on the courts of the Y. M. C. A. in Jacksonville tomorrow night. The Lake City boys were defeated early in the basketball season by the Jacksonville high school lads and are going to Jacksonville Saturday determined to even up the score.

At the State Retail Clothier's Association convention, which closed a three day session in Jacksonville on Wednesday, Fred Wolf, of Tampa, was chosen president, and Tampa was selected as the meeting place for the next convention. A vote of thanks was extended Emil Berstein, retiring president, for his successful efforts in the past year.

The Ladies' Friday Musicales of Jacksonville will give a complimentary recital to the music-loving people of the metropolis on the evening of March 4th, at which time they will present Miss Marion Rous, head of the piano department at Rollins College, Winter Park, in her lecture recital. The Times-Union says: Miss Rous gave this recital before the McDowell Memorial Association at Peterboro, N. H., last summer, before a large audience of delegates from all parts of the United States. The recital was enthusiastically received. Miss Rous is in great demand having recently returned from an engagement in Philadelphia and is booked to appear shortly in Atlanta, Chattanooga, Louisville, Cleveland and many other cities.

St. Petersburg is now sheltering more winter visitors than was ever known before. The registration books yesterday showed that more than 18,200 had registered, which would mean that more than 30,000 are in the city now. At this time last year the registration books showed 15,858 registrants. Owing to the blizzards in the north, only few people arrived last week, but it is expected that many will come when the weather moderates. As usual Ohio leads with more than three thousand visitors. New York is second, with 2,056, and Michigan is third, with 0,843.—St. Petersburg Times.

Mation county's board of commissioners has called a bond election to decide whether or not an issue amounting to more than three-quarters of a million should be approved for the development of the roads of that county. It is our confident belief that Marion county will not be unlike other Florida counties which have in recent years been called upon to decide for or against the issuance of bonds for permanent roads. Money spent in road building is money well spent, and especially so for permanent roads. All Florida counties have come to realize this and we are certain that Marion county is no less appreciative of this fact than any other county. Therefore there is but little question but that the bond issue will pass and that another big link in Florida's now rapidly developing system of good roads will be assured.—Jacksonville Metropolis.

Palmetto showed 163 varieties of fruit at the Manatee county fair.

Progress is being made looking to the adjustment of the claims of the castor bean sub-contractors. Senator Park Trammell who has been working for weeks in behalf of the claims of the Florida growers has been advised by the War Department that more than three hundred of these claims have been approved for payment and that checks will be immediately sent to the claimants. He was also assured by the Department that settlement of the remaining claims would be expedited.

William D. Barnett one of the leading financiers in the state, died at his home in Zellwood, Lake county, Saturday afternoon. Mr. Barnett was sixty-eight years old and has been prominent in the business affairs in Florida over forty years. In 0880 he joined his father in establishing the Bank of Jacksonville and finally the Bank of Jacksonville which afterward became the National Bank of Jacksonville and finally changed to the present Barnett National Bank of Jacksonville. Mr. Barnett was also interested in many other lines.

Near Punta Gorda last Sunday, while F. R. Blount was out driving he came upon a crowd of strangers, who, possibly hearing a lot about "free range" in Florida, took it for granted that orange groves are included in free range and were helping themselves to the fruit on trees in Dr. McQueen grove. Mr. Blount happened to have his camera along and made portraits of the crowd, so if the doctor wants to know where his fruit is going and who is taking it he should consult Mr. Blount.

The Tampa Tribune says the Tampa Board of Trade is having printed a new booklet of the city describing its many advantages. The book is profusely illustrated and has an interesting and instructive text. The front and back cover illustrations are especially worthy of notice, as the former shows the court house, plaza during a band concert, with the city hall in the background, and the latter shows a night scene of the Tampa Bay hotel. The color work of both is excellent, especially the back cover.

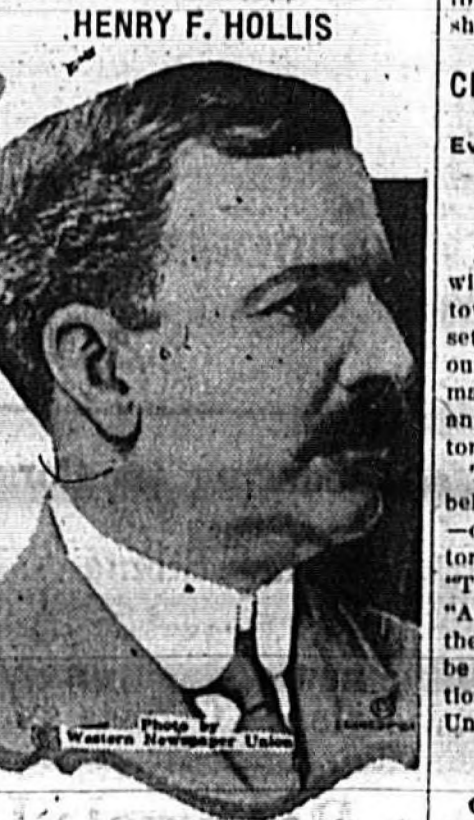

The Punta Gorda Herald, says: "The mass meeting held in the Masonic hall last Friday night for the purpose of re-organizing the Punta Gorda Board of Trade was one of the most enthusiastic and largely attended meetings held in Punta Gorda in many months, and resulted in the organization of what will be known as the Punta Gorda Commercial Club. Fifty men had signified their desire to organize and become members of a trade body and practically all of these were present, in addition to perhaps fifteen or twenty others."

Small Russian Boy Mascot.
Liverpool.—Trudging down the gangplank of the steamship Onlar from Archangel, close at the heels of a British officer was a little white-faced, under-nourished, thirteen-year-old Russian boy, his eyes wide with astonishment. He was the mascot of the last detachment of British troops of the Oxford and Bucks light infantry to leave Archangel, having been adopted by the officer. His father was killed in the Russian army fighting the Germans, and his mother now is a prisoner of the bolsheviks.

HENRY F. HOLLIS
Former Senator Henry F. Hollis of New Hampshire, who has been given by the French government the rank of chevalier in the Legion of Honor in recognition of his services during the war. After retiring from the senate Mr. Hollis was a member of the liquidation board, upon which he served until November last.

'BLOND LADY' AS CHIEF OF SPIES

Beautiful Woman Who Beguiled Unwary Into Giving Secrets to Germans.

RELATIVE OF VON HEINRICH

At Her Headquarters in Antwerp She Collected Information Which Was Forwarded to German Headquarters—Had Two Accomplices.

London.—Many details about the life of the "blond-haired lady," who served as a German chief of spies in the war, have been given by a colonel in the French counter espionage service who knew her well, according to a London Times Paris correspondent. This colonel, who was then a captain, spent some months during the war at Antwerp and saw most of the people who visited the lady, for it was his duty to supply these visitors with false information or true information when too late to use. The chateau, which the witnesses at Lille believed to be outside Antwerp, was in reality in the center of the city. It was a house in the boulevard de la Loi, a majestic building which those who were brought blindfolded in a motor car with drawn blinds might well have taken for a chateau in the countryside.

Related to General von Heinrich, the blond-haired lady was certainly a relative of General von Heinrich, though the exact relationship still remains uncertain. She was a fine woman, being slim and unlike the majority of her fellow countrywomen. The Frau Doktor, as she was addressed by her colleagues, spoke French without a trace of a foreign accent and bowed by her manner and dress that she had lived for a long time in France, and probably in Paris. She used to address her agents with a French cigarette between her lips, smiling back seductively in a large armchair. She never spoke harshly, but, on the contrary, in sweet, even tones, no doubt gaining much which her masculine confederates of the German general staff lost through their air of brutality.

Accomplices of the German Spy.
Two men lived in the "chateau" with her, a man who posed as an English fop with a monocle pretending to be a journalist on a London paper, and an officer of the German G. I. Q. The fop, the French colonel states, was the proprietor of a hotel in the same boulevard de la Loi, and the German officer, Ketter by name, had as his last duty the control of the information upon the allies' submarine bases at Calais and Dunkirk, and the numbers and changes in the north of France. The blond-haired lady, besides using part of her time in beguiling poor unfortunates into betraying their countrymen, collated her information before forwarding it to Germany.

FRENCH "VETS" ADMIT YANKS

Ambulance Volunteers, Foreign Legion and Escadrille Members Eligible to Society.

New York.—American volunteers who served in the ambulance corps, the Foreign legion or the Lafayette escadrille are to be accepted as associate members of the Federation of French Veterans of the Great War, it was announced here at the New York headquarters by Charles Bournez, the general secretary.

The organization, formed to "entice a spirit of loyalty to the United States and attachment to France," will extend its activity, it is said, to Canada and Mexico. Elliot Norton of the Norton-Hajes ambulance and R. Howard Gamble of the American field service, have been designated by the federation executive committee to pass upon applications for associate and honorary membership.

CHILDREN'S CHIMES PLANNED

Every Child in United States to Be Asked to Give Cent for Victory Set.

New York.—Every child in America will be asked to give at least one cent toward the erection in New York of a set of "victory chimes," which will ring out in daily reminder of the sacrifices made by Americans in the war. It was announced by the newly organized Victory Chimes and Carillon association. The plans call for a series of 48 bells—one for each state in the Union—on which will be played daily a victory anthem composed for children. "The Star-Spangled Banner" and "America." A forty-ninth bell, to be the largest bell in the world, would be sounded only upon the inauguration or death of a president of the United States.

Chico, Cal.—After being parted from his sister for a period of thirty years, William Simpson of Virden, Manitoba, Canada, arrived here yesterday to be the guest of his sister, Mrs. L. F. Eggers in Chico. Simpson is accompanied by his wife and son Gordon, who was wounded in action in France while serving with a Canadian contingent of the British army in the world war.

TAKES MEAT TO TIGER CAT

Negro Caught Stealing Bacon Has an Explanation for the Judge.

Kansas City, Mo.—As head of a thriving household, Charles Webb, a negro, employed by the Fred Harvey Company, was a faithful provider. There was no question about it. Charles always "brought home the bacon." C. H. Edminski, special officer for the Harvey company, caught Webb taking some fifteen pounds of first-class bacon that he had stolen from the firm's commissary. According to the officer, Webb had cut the bacon into strips, which were concealed in various pockets of his clothes. In the South Municipal court Webb attempted to explain to Judge Edward J. Fleming why he had taken the bacon.

"Ah was jes takin' home a little meat foh mah cat, Judge," explained Webb. "Must have been a tiger," said the judge. "$100. Suppose the poor cat will starve now."

Evangelist in Tampa says that man did not come from monkey. Glad to hear that. We can again resume relations with the doubtful ones.

Times do change. Several northern states are now clamoring for states rights. Some time since we fought for those rights and were told to go way back and sit down.

We are not getting our share of Florida sunshine but we are better off than those poor folks who are living in the northern states buried under the snow drifts and freezing to death.

That rich Philadelphia draft dodger should be sent up for life. The young man with plenty of money and no dependants should be made to go to war or take the counts for life. He is one man who had no reasonable excuse for staying at home when his country needed him.

Remember that the Board of Trade will hold a meeting next Tuesday night and some real business will come before that body. The active members will take a most active part in all that pertains to Seminole county this year and some of those who have been standing on the outside looking in will find out that they are really on the outside for life.

Every tourist that has come to Sanford this season and had real accommodations is carried away with the city and they all say they will return next season for a much longer stay. This is what real hotels will do for your city. With more hotels and apartment houses next season Sanford will soon take her place as one of the tourist centers of the state.

GREAT PROBLEMS FACE THE RAILROAD OWNERS

Some interesting facts concerning the railroad situation were contributed by Sen. Alton Pomerene in an address before the Traffic Club in New York city, a few nights ago. He gave a resume of the results of government management, and some indication of what the owners will have to contend with in their handling of the roads, which have been returned to them. Among other things, he said, government ownership as a solution of the national railroad problems, is being advocated in this country, by a class of men "whose heads are always above the clouds, and whose feet are never on the earth." He said further that no man could be trusted with the management of the roads. "Let us remember," said Sen

Pomerene, "that with an increase of passenger rates approximately 50 per cent, and in increase of freight rates in excess of 25 per cent, in two years of government operation, there is a net loss conceded of over $700,000,000 and unliquidated claims held by the railroads for depreciation aggregating $375,000,000. And, if the amount ultimately found to be due in this behalf should be only 33 1-3 per cent. of the total, it would add another $125,000,000 to the $700,000,000 of loss already admitted, making the total loss of $825,000,000, or more than $1,000,000,000 over during the period of government control."

New equipment must be provided at once, and good authorities estimate that 100,000 refrigerators, coil, box and miscellaneous cars are needed before the railroads can care for the nation's business with anything like satisfactory efficiency. Not less than 4,000 new passenger cars are needed and 2,000 new locomotives. The aggregate cost of this new equipment, imperatively needed, will be at present prices, approximately $723,000,000. From half a billion to one billion dollars will be needed per annum for several years to come. This gives some idea of the magnitude of the problems confronting the owners of the roads.

The senator furnishes some illuminative ideas, also, regarding the ownership of the roads. He declares the popular impression that they are owned by men of great wealth is only partly correct. Some great systems are owned and controlled by comparatively few men, such as the Philadelphia & Reading, and the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy, but on the other hand, the great Pennsylvania company, has more than 100,000 stockholders, and the 20 largest stockholders own less than 9 per cent. of the stock. Over 46 million shares of the greatest roads of the country, nearly one-half of all their shares are owned by 619,629 men, women and children.

It is a gigantic problem which confronts the owners of the roads, and the public, which undoubtedly prefers private management to that of government, will be required to exercise due patience with the efforts of the owners to extricate the roads from the chaos into which two years of government control have plunged them. We must not expect them to operate smoothly and successfully from the start, faced as they are by a disorganized force clamoring for an increase of pay, and a paucity of equipment, greater than was ever known.

RUTH PROVES THEORY

Ruth Roland in "Adventures of QJ Ruth" At The Princess Today Just because she had some very clear and definite ideas as to picture making, Ruth Roland, star of the new Pathe serial, "The Adventures of Ruth" which will be seen at the Princess to-day, every Friday, caused Gilson Willetts, Pathe Scenario Editor to pack up and move bag and baggage, from his New York home to Los Angeles during the filming of the serial.

On a visit to New York several months ago, at the conclusion of work on her former serial, "The Tiger's Trail," Miss Roland brought the manuscript of a story she wrote herself. She called it "The Adventures of Ruth" and had decided to make it the first production of her own company. Mr. Willetts, who wrote many of Miss Roland's past serial successes, took the manuscript and began work on the scenario. When Miss Roland had her company organized, she requested him to come at once to Los Angeles and assist in the production.

"The scenario writer is nearly as important to the actual making of a picture as he is to the preparation of the continuity," Miss Roland declared. "He is the man who visualizes the story and the settings and the business, and he should be right on the ground while the picture is being made."

Agreeing perfectly with the logical reasoning, Mr. Willetts went to Los Angeles, and the finished picture proves the wisdom of Miss Roland's contention.

A five reel feature also given.

Hawks Not All Enemies. The department of agriculture says that of the 50 principal varieties of hawks 47 are of benefit to the farmer since they catch great numbers of rodents that injure crops. It is even said that a hawk on the farm is as valuable as a cow. There are three varieties of hawks that are deadly to chickens and should be shot on sight.

Musical Instruments of Insects. Buzzing or humming is mainly due to rapid vibrations of the wings, which often strike the air more than a hundred times in a second, but there is sometimes a special quivering instrument near the base of the wings. Chirping or trilling is due to some sort of "stridulating" organ, one hard part being scraped against another, as the bow on the fiddle—it may be leg against wing.

CHURCHES PLAN BUSY PROGRAM

Interchurch World Movement Outlines Activities In South For Months Ahead

Beginning with a campaign of education of the church member to his financial obligation to the church, a comprehensive and continuous program of activities from the present time through the month of June has been decided upon by the Interchurch World Movement in the South. This campaign of education in the duty of giving to the support of religious activities is commonly known in the movement as the Stewardship campaign. It will culminate on Washington's Birthday in the observance of National Stewardship Enrollment Day in all churches participating in the movement, February 22 this year, changing to fall on Sunday. The Stewardship enrollment observance will be followed by the observance of Sunday, February 29th, as Life Enlistment Day of Prayer for Students. February this year, for the first time in forty years, will have five Sundays. This fifth Sunday observance is to be made a day of significance throughout the Interchurch World Movement's organization. The month of March is to be given over to the promotion of the campaign of life-work and evangelism, culminating in the observance of Acknowledgment Day on Palm Sunday, which this year falls on March 28th. Every church taking part in the movement is expected to hold special evangelistic services during the month. During March also there are to be held a series of state pastors' conferences in the principal cities of the South to bring the pastors more closely in touch with the purposes and scope of the Interchurch World Movement in its relation to the individual church, community and denomination. Join the Church Day and Commitment Day, when thousands of new members are expected to be received into the churches in the South, will be observed on Easter Sunday, April 4th. This day will be marked by a great ingathering of Christians in the churches inspired with the thought and determination of doing a greater service for Christianity.

The next fortnight in April will be spent in active preparation for the great financial campaign to be conducted April 21st to May 2d, inclusive. Local teams and committees will be organized and thoroughly drilled in the duties to be expected of them in the making of this canvass for funds to carry out the constructive program of the churches. Throughout May and the early part of June the Movement will be directed toward the organization and perfection of conservation and extension plans. Later in June summer conferences of missionary education will be held.

Women Selling Their Jewels. It seems to be the fashion just now for women with plenty of money and heavily stocked with jewel cases to sell any rich and rare stones that they may possess, not because they need the money but simply because they like the excitement of getting a big figure for articles that they probably seldom wear and certainly do not actually miss.

It is reported that the woman who is now Mrs. Jack Gillatt and was previously the widow of the eccentric magnate of Anglesey, recently went through her jewel chests and collected quantities of old-fashioned, quaintly set gems which she sent off to be sold by auction.

The result was a very satisfactory sum of money that ran well into five figures, with which she purchased a beautiful little estate, where she is indulging in her pet fad of chicken farming.

And He Deserved It. After a ruthless process of rejection there were five applicants for the post of errand boy left for the head of the firm himself to interview.

It was one of his flippant mornings, and he sought to amuse himself by asking the eager boys puzzling and quite irrelevant questions to test their general knowledge.

"How far away from the earth is the North Star?" was the question he fired at the third shiny-faced youngster.

"I'm sorry I cannot give you the exact figure offhand, sir," was the reply, "but on a rough estimate I should say that it is far enough away not to interfere with me running errands."

He got the post.

Japan's Ships. On August 1, Japan had a total of 724 vessels of more than 1,000 gross tons in coast and ocean trade.

It's Blamed to Rats. Besides damage to food, rats bring the dreaded bubonic plague, trichinosis, scarlet fever, typhoid, diphtheria and many other infectious diseases. Mr. Worthington says that "of the thousands of fires of 'unknown' origin having their origin in the walls, attics or ceilings, probably 90 per cent are due to the material accumulated by rats—mainly by spontaneous ignition."

Woman's Club

There was a splendid attendance at the annual meeting of the Woman's Club, Wednesday afternoon with Mrs. W. L. Morgan presiding.

The president's annual address was excellent in which several points were emphasized, criticism of the club and its members, being one of them. Mrs. Morgan stated that club women should be above criticism or criticism; better attendance at department meetings and co-operation was stressed. The address included a report of the president's work during the club year. Reports of the officers and departments were wonderfully good. The report submitted by the first vice president, Mrs. W. E. Watson who is also chairman of finance, among other good things showed the club debt entirely cancelled.

The second vice-president Mrs. E. M. Galloway and chairman of membership reported fifty-three new, reinstated and associate members during the year.

Mrs. J. W. Dickens, who served the club faithfully and loyally for so many years as president and in various other capacities, was unanimously elected an honorary member of the Woman's Club of Sanford. "Moonshine, A Ford, Three Young Men"

Moonshine was the cause of a bad smashup on North Orange avenue last night at about 10:30 when a Ford or driven by three Sanford young men came to grief when recklessly turning a corner. The car was overturned and the "boys" were pulled from underneath the car by a passerby. One was taken to the Orange General Hospital, severely battered up. The others were just able to navigate, the "shine" seeming to act as a pretty good anesthetic.—Orlando Sentinel.

Thrift begins with trifles and leads toward contentment. The difficulty is to begin saving just a little when you have plenty. It is so much easier to spend the whole surplus from week to week and from month to month while things are coming easy.
