Chambers do a good job

Webster's New World Dictionary lists the word "commerce" as "coming together, merchandise, or trade on a large scale, as between countries."

A "chamber" is, "an assembly hall, a legislative or judicial body, a council, etc."

Why then should anyone believe a

Chamber of Commerce should be anything but an assembly of people who join together to deal in trade: It may be large scale such as the national chamber, or a local scale such as city and county chambers.

The role of a chamber should be to promote and support those entities which deal in trade, the selling or buying of merchandise, and, as included in one definition, deal with transportation with which such merchandise is moved.

We find it little wonder therefore, that the Greater Lake Mary/Heathrow Chamber of Commerce Board of Directors has publicly announced support of the Economic Incentive Plan.

While the Greater Sanford Chamber of Commerce has yet to make an official decision, President Bobby Von Herbulis says members are studying the situation. Much of his question is, if the program continues and grows, will there be some other important financial assistance program which has to be eliminated in order to keep the Economic Incentive going. He said the chamber is looking into it very diligently at the present in addition to helping promote commerce, it is also a chamber's job to do whatever it can to respond to questions about the local communities; and its business climate. For some residing which intermitations often ask about the local jax structure, availability of employable persons, living conditions, the economy, natural resources, and average income levels.

They want to find a new location for their business or corporation, and there may be several areas under consideration.

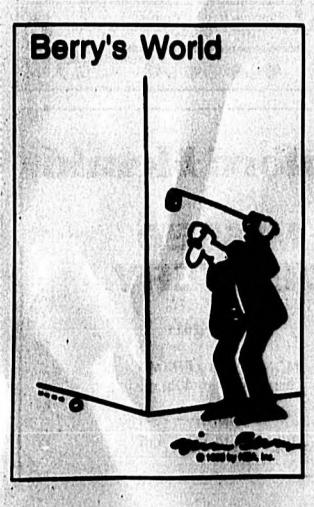

AT&T for example, now with two divisions operating in the Lake Mary area, checked into five locations across the nation, asking these same questions, before locating here in Seminole County.

Regardless of whether people support the Economic Incentive program or think of it as some do, as "Corporate Welfare", let's not complain about our chambers of commerce which have as a primary goal, the improvement of the commercial life of our communities.

Each of our area chambers have been and are continuing to do a good job. Let's not think they are supposed to be doing something else.

Aliens cut off from public assistance

It has taken two years and the enactment of a new federal welfare-reform law, but California taxpayers are finally going to be relieved acomewhat a of the expensive burden of subsidising the state's 2 million illegal immigrants. In 1804, it may be remembered, Californians overwhelmingly passed a ballot measure a Proposition 187 a that was supposed to deny most government benefits to noncitizens who steal across the U.S. border.

But a liberal federal judge blocked implementation of Fron 187 on the highly questionable grounds that the state could not withhold such benefits as health, education and welfare unless Congrues passed a law explicitly empowering the states to do so.

The recent passage of federal welfare reform provided California the clearance it needed to put much of Frop 187 in force. The new federal law effectively ends the sta-decade-old guarantee of federal assistance, develving that authority to the states.

California's Pete Wilson was the first of the nation's governors to act on the federal welfare-refers law. He issued as executive order directing state agenties to cut off public assistance to undecumented alters as "expeditiously as reasonably presticable."

What that means is that the 2 million illegal immigrants living within California's borders

New, of course, there are probably a lot of folks living in parts of the country that haven't been overrun with fliegal aliens who wonder why California's governor is going to the trouble of ordering his state agencies to deny welfare benefits to fliegals. After all, it's already against the law for undocumented aliens to receive public assistance.

But the Hiegais have been able to get around U.S., welfare lowe as easily as they have been able to penetrate the U.S. barder. Nonettients who are expectant percets innew, for instance, that if they have their baby in a U.S. maternity ward they can acquire a plethorn of welfare benefits in the name of the "citizen" child.

They also know that if they take a job here in the United States — usually by showing an employer blue documents — they become eligible for the same benefits as working American citizens, like uncomployment, disability and retirement.

A recent article authored by Sean Paige for the quarterly newspaper "Government Waste Watch" details the cost of flegal immigration to California taxonomy.

Watch" details the cost of slegal immigration to California taxpayers.

In 1993, he notes, the state paid $830 million to deliver more than $5,000 belies been to alten mothers. That accounted for 40 percent of publicly funded births in the state.

Medical care for Hegal immigrants cost California $731 million in 1906, in 1994, more than 180,000 citizen children received $450 million in Aid to Families with Dependent Children payments in Les Angeles Quanty alone.

True public education for flegal alters cost California taxpayers a whopping $1.5 billion in 1906. Also, in 1906-66, more than 45,000 noncitizens received $116 million in college grants and loans by falsely claiming to be American citizens.

Restoration: Back to the future

thanks for telling us that old Bob Dole wants to "build a bridge to the past."

Thus, as nestly structured by Clinton, we have an apparently easy electoral equation: a contest between the future and the past. Let's be bold, says the president, let's take that bridge to the future. Le is is. Vote for me.

Getting real, it should be understood that the argument is about what each candidate envisions on the far shore, on the other side of the bridge. There were fat hints in both Clinton's and Dole's convention speeches.

The biggest and saddest clue in Clinton's speech were words that were not speken: "The era of big government is over." That, after all, was the highlight of Clinton's triumphant State of the Union speech earlier this year. That's what the great "turn to the center" was all about. That was the central legacy of the New Democrate, popularised and electionised by Richard Morris. That's what so many Americans have wanted to hear a Democrate say, finally. But he didn't say it.

Not any were the words not there, the thought was havely in sydence, instead, the

Hard facts about homeownership

As a writer on women's issues, I get a lot of faxes and press releases about programs directed toward women. And there are days when I'm sure that if I see the word "empowerment" one more time I'll hit the roof. So I can understand the women who say that programs aimed at women are patronizing, that they emphasise women's weaknesses rather than strengths. (Indeed, I can sympathise with the critics who say that the very notion of "women's issues" suggests that notion of "women's issues" suggests that women's concerns are somehow different from the "real" news, but that's another

This feeling passed over me as I read about a recent ini-Drepartment of Housing and Urban Development, which is designed to educate and counsel w o m e n a b o u t homeownership. Do women need special counseling? Are they less intelligent about home-buying than HUD's numbers

Certainly, HUD's numbers indicate that there is a problem. Currently only 49.5 percent of female heads of household own their own homes, as op posed to 65 percent of the general popula-tion. Even more revealing, the homeown-ership rate among women has barely budged since 1983, when it was 48.4 percent.

The most obvious reason for the discrepancy is simple math: Women who head households by and large have less money than the general population, and therefore fewer resources for purchasing a But there are other factors working against comen, says Johnn Kane of The McAuley inetitute, a group that studies women's housing issues. For instance, the income that women do have is frequently discounted. Many lenders will not credit alimony, child support or part-time work as income on a loan application.

And there are more incidious forms of discrimination, though Kane, whose group is working with HUD, admits that the evidence is anecdotal.

"It's a more subtle form of discrimination in that they (the lenders) just won't talk about remedies with you." says Rane. This has been a problem for minority applicants as well. It's not that the lenders ful to come up with adequate reasons for rejecting the loan - such as a too-low income or a hiemsched credit record - it's that they ful to mention that there are alternative ways for people with such handleaps to finance their home - alternatives that ARE frequently mentioned to more traditional home buyers.

The irony, says Robert Gusiada of the

Morris said at the chamber breakfast meeting, Seminole County has invested $2,500,000 in application for $32,000 for Arteral Industries application for $32,000 for Arteraft Industries received tentative approval by city commissioners. In both cases, the city governments will have five years to pay that amount back to the county. City manager John Litton stated that there is yet another proposal pending, for another business coming to Lake Mary.

"It's an incredibly successful partnership," Morris went on to say. He added that a $1.4 million investment by the county in 1996 will break even" in 1996, and will show a profit of $1.5 million in 1990 and a $19 million return

But many critics of the program call the economic incentive program "corporate welfare." Grant Maloy, contender for the District I seat held by Pat Warren, has campaigned against the program. Maloy said by effecting this program to large companies the county is ignoring the real problem.

"In going decr-to-deer in my campaign, I've talked to business owners who have said that they would never open a business in Beminele County again." Maloy said adding the feeling in the business community is that the security is not business community is that the security is not business-friendly. "Small businesses are being equashed by abusive policies." In creating the EIP, Maloy said that government is "creating a government program to fix a problem that government created."

Maloy cited, as an example, read impact fees ranging as high as $14,000 per thousand equare feet for a typical drive-thru fast food restnurant of 10,000 square feet.

A report presented in the Business section of last Sunday's Sanford Herald contained an error regarding a location. Alaqua, a country club community, was incorrectly identified as being located in Heathrow.

It is Stirling International Realty, exclusive marketing and sales agent for Alequa, which is located in Heathrow. The Herald regrets this error, but Markham Woods Road isn't far from Heathrow as most local residents know.

WASHINGTON — Several of the cruise missiles aimed at Iraq this week "did not fire as planned," but back-up weapons were dispatched instead, the Pentagen says.

In response to Saddam Hussein's attacks on Kurdish minorities in northern Iraq, the Navy and Air Force Isunched 44 cruise missiles at surface-to-air missile sites, command-and-control units and radar sites inside Iraq. The attacks came in two waves.

Defense Department epohesman Kenneth Bacon said Friday that the problems involved about a half-dozen cruise missiles. Some were fired from Air Purce B-62 bembers, while others were launched from Nevy ships in the Persian Gulf.

On the first night, Bacon said, complex computerised targeting systems on several of the cruise missiles "weren't programmed completely in time" to be fired.

On the second night, he said, "several missiles did not fire as planned," but back-up missiles were fired from another Navy vessel.

Bacon declined to specify what those problems were, or say exactly how long it takes to program targets for the missiles, which can fly upwards of 800 miles to their targets.

Signing of defense budget bill

By JOHN BLANOND Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON - President Clinton's announcement Saturday that he will sign a $200.6 billion defense budget bill that is $11 billion bigger than he wanted avoide a cam-paign-season battle with Republican challenger Bob Dole and the GOP-run Congress. A veto might have handed the Republicans a ready-made issue because the bill contains a 3 percent pay raise for the uniformed military, which a senior administration official eaid was top priority.

The bill, covering the flacal year starting Oct. 1, still requires a final vote by the Senate, expected Tuesday, before going to the White House.

Under the measure, military spending would increase slightly - $1.3 billion — over the cur-

- $1.3 billion — over the current level, not enough to erase the effects of inflation. But the bill adds $11.2 billion to what Cliston requested.

Previous statements by the president's Office of Management and Budget had indicated concern over the hefty increase.

The senior administration official, speaking on condition of anonymity, and White House anonymity, said White House chief of staff Leon Panetta will seek to negotiate a reduction in a companion defense appropriations bill still before lawmakers.

While the authorization bill sets broad policy and spending ceilings on defence programs.

the appropriations measure provides the actual dollars. "We reserve the right to per-suade them on the defense appropriations bill to redirect several billions of that bill towards domestic priorities," the official said. "And the key issue for us is more funding for

The depth of the White House concerns about the bill eased considerably after House-Senate negotiators dropped two House-passed measures establishing social policies that Clinton vehemently opposed.

One of the deleted provisions would have re-established the ban on homosexuals serving in the military; the other would have forced dismissal from the military of service members with the AIDS virus.

Republican conservatives held sway on two other social measures. The bill leaves unchanged the ban on abortions at U.S. military hospitals abroad; the Senate had voted to repeal that ban. And the bill includes a ban on the sale of crotic magasines and videos on military

While the legislation adds $914 million to Clinton's $2.5 billion missile defense budget, it omits any change in the administration's policy on the timetable for deployment. Republicans had wanted initially to accelerate the deployment of a defensive system to 2003 and to add language making it easier for the Peritagon to get around restrictions in the 1972 Anti-Ballistic Missile Treaty.

Three-fourths of the $11.2 billion added by Republicans would go to increase weapons purchases and research, mostly on programs included in Clinton's original request. Among the key systems financed in the

Once again it was the Tribe's special teams that did in the Seminole as they missed two field goals (32 and 36 yards) and an extra point. And they also got burned on a Lyman point after touchdown try as, with most of the two teams lined up on the left side of the ball and only the snapper, holder and kicher in the middle, Greyhounde holder Rico Brock got to his feet and found a wide open Charley Banks in the right aide of the end sone. # Scott leads Lions to rout of University

By TOWY Beganster Herald correspondent

ORLANDO — When discussing the Oviedo High School football team, the phrase, 'Great Scottl' gets tossed around frequently.

On Friday night, for example, senior running back Leon Scott rushed 12 times for 188 yards and a pair of touchdown in Oviedo's 41-26 win over the host University Cougars.

His younger brother, junior running back Jaimie Scoti, added 110 yards and a pair of touchdowns of his own on five carries.

Also contributing were Leroy Jackson (18 carries for 108 yards), Josh Greer (eight catches for 150 yards and two touchdowns), and Andy Neufeld (180 yards through the air on 11-for-14 passing).

"They executed like they were supposed to," said Oviedo coach Jack Blanton. "We scored the first six times we had the ball.

"In the second half, we only had the all twice. We had to punt once, fumbled the ball away once, and just tried to run out the clock the third

While generally pleased with the offensive effort, Blanton was concerned that the Lions needed almost every yard and every point.

Guided by quarterback Pat Prewitt (who rushed for two touchdowns and passed for two touchdowns), the Cougars scratched back from a 35-7 deficit with 7:43 left in the second quarter (yes, quarter) to get within two touchdowns, 41-36, with 5:27 left in the third quarter.

But the Lion defense snuffed the Cougar comeback, forcing University to turn the ball over on downs at the Oviedo 11 and 23-yard lines on successive series.

"Offensively, they (University) are a very good football team," Blanton said. "Oviedo's not used to giving up that many points in a game."

Much of the credit has to go to Prewitt, who took advantage of a Lion defense spread put in an attempt to keep the strong-armed University

Lake Howell pulls off upset of Winter Park

WINTER PARK — The Lake Howell Sliver Hawks converted a fourth quarter rally into pay dirt defeating cross-town rivel Winter Park 27-30 Friday night at Richard Evene Field.

After scoring two touchdowns in the last 4:00 of the game the Sliver Hawks defease dug in and caged the Wild Cata offease on a final declaive "de or die" goal line stand to chaft up the win.

"I can't give enough credit to the offease and defease," Lake Hawelt cought title Stanglis said. "I thought we were going to give them a teach-form there at the end on penalties, but we did what we needed to do to win. It is always goed to win the opener and start the season of with a victory."

The Silver Hawks offense seemed to struggle for much of the first half, trailing the Wild Cats by as much as 14 points at one point.

Lake Howell broke its scoring drought with 1:00 left in the first half when Guy

Two series' later, however, Lyman got another amazing break. Eason was roughed on a pass attempt and had to leave the game momentarily with an injured wrist. On the next play, the back-up quarterback mishandled the snap and Steve Cole recovered for the Greyhounds.

The home team again took advantage of the break, going 65 yards on eight plays with Tarik McCall doing the honors on a three yard run. The pass for two failed.

Seminole outgained Lyman 188 to 160 in total yards, but it could not overcome the mistakes. Eason led the Tribe in rushing, carrying the ball eight times for 46 yards. He also completed

What's Up in the NFL 1996....Week Two

Well here we are in Week Two of the season and I'm feeling great! Last flunday was full of surprises, and it lests like we're in fer an exciting season. As predicted, the level of competition around the League has interessed. Teams like the Jaguars, the Broncos, and Miami made statements that they are here to compete. As for the LOCK OF THE WEEK, we got off to a slew start. The closing line in Vegas for the game was three points, Buffalo was by a field goal in overtime. This means we pushed which should never have happened. This makes we very angry, and bookies don't like itse when I'm angry. I hate to do this to Vegas se early in the season, but I'm seriously considering releasing my patented DOUBLE LOCK OF THE WEEK.

Pocusing on Florida's teams, let's talk about the Dolphine. The long swatted debut of the Jimmy Johnson era was a amashing success. Jimmy went as far as to say that Sunday's victory against the Patriots was the biggest win of his career. I find that hard to believe, remember this man has won Super Bowls and National Championships. Regardless of the statements validity, it's obvious that the Dolphin squad has responded to Johnson's high expectations and refentless metivation. They have certainly improved on defense and with Marino the offense continues to rank with the best. However, before any of you Delphine fans start looking to buy Super Bowl tickets, let's talk about reality. Miami will not be participating in the super Bowl, they may not make the playoffs. One solid performance, against a Patriots team that made more errors than the New York Mets, doesn't mean much, sepecially this early in the season. If I were you, or Jimmy Johnson, I would be taking this season one week at a time.

Turning our attention towards the Bay, I have nothing but contempt for the Bucs' performance against the Packers. I told you last week that Trent Differ would be as bad this year as he was last season, but I had no so the defense would also full to show up. Brett Favre destroyed Tony Dung's revamped Brett Favre destroyed Tony Dung's revamped defense, and the Tampa offense had nothing in return. In my opinion, which is often taken very seriously by coaches in the N.F.L., the Bucs can still salvage the season by benching Differ. I don't say this because he had a bad game last week, there is a pattern of incompetence that has spanned two seasons and the time to got I serves to new $25.00 for any and it's time to go! I refuse to pay $26.00 for a ticket to see this joker struggle to get a first down. This is the National Football League, and Differ is making more than a million dellars a year, it's time to demand results. Let's take a look at Sunday's schedule, and

MANGAS GETY (RL) vs. OAKLAND. The bookies haven't set line yet, and I'm sure it has to do with whether Hostetler will be able to play. Regardless, the Chiefs will roll to victory after equaliting by the Oilers on Sunday. Depending on the line, you can take this one to the bank. Jewels will be furious. Chiefs $3 Raiders 10

PITTESURGE (-4) vs. SALTIMORS. The Ravens are en fire after beating the Cheaters lest week. Testaverde seems potsed to win MVP honors after putting up some great numbers. Just kidding, Vinny is still a burn, but the Steelers are hurt so bad they've summented a number of their moms to patch the bruisse. Take ap advance on the credit cards, this one is money in the bank, Jack. Ravens 34 Steelers 20

ATLANTA (NL) ve. MINNESOTA. This is the first week I've ever seen with two games having no line set. This makes it difficult for those of no line set. This makes it difficult for those of us that need to wager on everything. Warren Moon is hurt which accounts for the questionable outcome. As I correctly predicted last week, four days before Sports Illustrated. Warren Moon is finished. As a backup, Brad Johnson isn't bad, but will be no match for a Jeff George fighting for respect.
Falcone 31 Vikings 17

BUFFALO (-4) vs. NEW ENGLAND. Both teams coming off disappointing openers, but the Bills did squeak out a victory. The Patriots disappointed a number of players, including a future City Commissioner with mistakes that made them look like a college team. Look for them to improve this week, but not enough to beat the team that I think will win the A.F.C. Bills 27 Patriots 21

INDIANAPOLIS (-5) at NEW YORK. The Colts looked like rookies in their victory over the Cardinals and the Jets looked even worse in their loss to the Broncos. This game will prove that I truly am one of the elite football handicappers in the nation. Not only will the Jets cover, I'm calling for the biggest upset aince "Broadway Joe" guaranteed victory in the Super Bowl many moons ago. Jets 17 Colts 14

DETROIT (-11) ve. TAMPA BAY. The Lions win this one by default which is a shame. The Bucs have stolen not only my heart, but much of my money through my betting career. I'm getting ill. Lione 36 Bucs 10

WASHINGTON (Even) vs. CHICAGO. This game will be wonderful to watch, a fan's dream. These are two terms that ream. These are two teams that without a doubt, will give everything they have on Sunday. I will bet this game, but unfortunately it probably won't be on TV Once again we'll have to watch the Jaguars, which is a disgrace when there are great games on at the same

Bears 27 Skins 17 NEW COLLANS (-3) vs. CARCLINA. The only thing good about New Orleans right now is that new song, "God save the King of New Orleans." That reminds me I'll be riding in a Mardi Gras parade again this year, it's the most insane three hours of the year for me.

Panthers 21 Saints 10

JACKSONVILLS (-2) vs. HOUSTON, I'm using the Januara this week in my season long water that I'm counting on to pay for my annual Super Bowl trip. I'm a little nervous that the line is so small, I thought they'd get a bigger bounce after beating, up on the Steelers. The Otlers played Kansas City tough, so this isn't etched in stone. Jaguars 24 Oilers 20

DALLAS (-8) vs. NEW YORK. The Cowboys are reeling from last week's loss at Soldier Field, so look for them to come out swinging. The Giants feel good about themselves after staying close to the Bills in a game they should have forfeited. With or without Emmit. the Cowboys will beat the Giants so badly they'll press charges. The Cowboys are used to legal troubles so it will have no effect on the

Cowboys 42 Giants 13 SAN FRANCISCO (-12) vs. ST. LOUIS. The Niners are prepared to return to the top of the N.F.C., but the Rame think they belong there as well. The Nebraska convict, I can't remember his name, will have a 100 yards but it won't be enough. Jerry Rice to just too fact. Niners 31 Rammies 17

DESIVER (-5) at SEATTLE. The Brences crushed the Jets last week but that was the Jets? and they were at home. The Brences under the direction of assistant couch Jessenth, who has a sweet house on Queen Assest Hill, will steal this one in an aerial shoot-out. Seahawks 42 Denver 31

Scanawis 42 Denver 31

SAN DIEGO (-7) vs. CINCIPATI. The Bengale will look for vengance after being embarrassed in their season spatter. I'm sticking with my prediction that Blake will load this team to the playoffs and beyond; this will be the first win in a string of victories. The Chargers won't be able to stop the passing game, which is a lucky break for the Bengale because they still don't have a running game. Bengale 23 Chargers 17

MIAMI (-6) at ARISONA. The Dolphine should have no problem going 5-0 against the lewly Cardinals. Jimmy has the team fired up and realizes that if they can't win here, they are not going to the playoffs. Look for Miami to end this one early to get Marino out of the game, Arisona has a talent for hurting quarterbacks and Miami - can't afford to look Quarterbacks and Mismi - can't afford to loce Marine.

Dolphins S1 Cardinals 13

GREEN BAY (-8) vs. PRILLY. I'll be honest with you, everybody and their uncle will be betting on the Packers in this game. I think it's too many points, but maybe not. Favre is on fire, and this is the second week on the read for the Eagles. If I had to bet it, and it's Monday night so I do, I'd play the Packers. The eight points make me nervous, but I heard Favre is back on the painkillers.

Packers 36 Eagles 30

Each week I seeme what I consider to be the best pick against the spread in the schedule. This is the game that after research and contemplation. I feel most confident releasing as my LOCK OF THE WEEK. After least week's tie, I owe you my patented DOUBLE LOCK OF THE WEEK, which I am giving DALLAS (-8) OVER NEW YORK and DETRIOIT (-11) OVER TAMPA will put so much money in your pocket, you'll have to wear a fanny sack. # Fish get more flavor with the new Cuprit Burst Worm

Culprit has introduced a worm taht is filled (and re-filled) manually with the supplied feeding stimulant gel so fish get a BURST of taste sensations when they strike the lure. The Burst Worm is touted by Culprit as the first worm product that, when the fish strikes, has a feeding stimulant release rate hundreds of times greater than any "scent impregnated" soft-plastic lure could possibly release, all while possessing the same qualities of the Original Culprit Worm.

The problem with ordinary stimulant-enhanced soft-plastic lures to that the stimulant to "locked" inside the plastic body and what little is on ond the surface rinees off after the first cast. Even stimulant sprays or pastes wash off too quickly. According to Dr. William Carr withthe Whitney Laboratory at the University of Florida. "natural feeding stimulants are only effective when they are released from a batt in amounts that exceed the natural background levels of the same stimulants which are al rieady present in most bodies of water." Dr. Carr has conducted extensive laboratory tests over the past two years on the feeding behaviour of La reemouth base and the effectiveness of the Burst Worm product. "Our testing has shown that fish have very sensitive receptors when it comes to taste. However, their natural habitats already contain levels of potential feeding stimulants that exceed the very low levels released from other schent-impregnated lures. The Burst Worm is desinged to release a 'burst' of stimulant when a fish strikes. This burst of stimulant greatly, exceeds the

The special stimulant gel will "hold" inside the worm for at least 20 casts before re-filling is required, and the gel is 100% artificial and biodegradable. Lou Gibbs. president of Classic Fishing Products and designer of the Burst Worm, says, "We wanted to make the gel totally Annie Laura and Curtie Hall Sr. have reached a milestone that few ever attain as they approach their 65th wedding anniversary. They represent a wealth of historical significance in Seminole County.

The couple were married Sept. 13, 1931 by Judge Sharan at the Seminole County Courthouse.

Annie Laura, born in Geneva on July 31, 1915, is the daughter of the late Fannie and Albert Geiger who ran Geiger Fish Camp at the Mims bridge on the Volusia and Seminole County line. She was reared in Geneva and attended the Geneva school.

Curtis; son of the late Albert and Margaret Hall, was born April 19, 1908, at Eustis. He owned and operated Hall's Garage on Celery Avenue in Senford for more than 45 years where he earned esteem and respect from a roster of well-satisfied customers.

The family lived on Celery Avenue across from the garage and later purchased a home at 1206 Palmetto Ave. Four of their five children were born at the Celery Avenue home and the fifth child, Frances (Mrs. Lewis) Williams of Geneva was born at the Fernald Laughton Memorial Hospital in Sanford. Annie Laura was a homemaker until the youngest children entered school when she bagan packing oranges, a job she held until she was 70 years old.

Frances, who left her job in 1994 with Sprague Electric, spends most of her time caring for her mother in the Geneva home that the children gave their parents on their 56th wedding anniversary. This home was mostly built by the children and their families which they all help to maintain. "We have always been a close family." Frances said.

The children, along with Frances are: Maggie /"Sister" Enerud, who died on Feb. 13. 1993; Curtis (Debbie) Hall Jr., Geneva: Barbara (Mrs. Raymond) Stevens, Geneva: and Shirley (Mrs. John) Green, Sanford. There are 13 grandchildren, 14 great grandchil-dren, and two great great grandchildren with a third one on the way.

Frances described her parents as gentle home lovers who placed the family first. She said her father rode with the late Sanford Police Chief Roy Williams and later Joe Hickson which he enjoyed and they en-joyed having him. "They wanted to deputize him (her father), and give him a gun he was so faithful," she said. "But Daddy laughed and said. 'Now. I can't do that, I might have to arrest one of my friends."

Through the years, the family has always gathered for fish fries, holidays and special oc-casions. "They all brought in food and now we gather at Mom's house," Frances said. All of the family members live close by and Frances said that it is nothing for "55 or 60" to show up at all family gatherings.

No big anniversary celebration will take place due to Anna Laura's health. Frances said. But the family will be in and out all day to wish Annie Laura and Curtis a "Happy 65th."

Frances stressed the importance of family unity and concluded, "I believe the reason Mom and Dad have lived so long is family. We have always been close...they weren't party people or anyhting like that."

wood and saw, carve, color and shape it into a masterpiece.

Martin and Jean, his wife of 51 years, have worked with New Tribes Mission for 36 years. He attributes his initial interest in woodworking to a desire "to wit ness to a neighbor." Laughing he said,"I decided to sak him about the woodworking to witness to him and lead him. to witness to him and lead him to the Lord. I never led him to the Lord but I did learn a lot about woodworking."

A devout minister, Martin has found that when he and his wife are not traveling to as far away as a Navaho reservation or as close as a local Baptist church he tries to find a moment to keep busy with his hobby. So, since 1982 Martin stretches his time to make a few creations

The couple have lived in Sanford only a year but in that space they have made a way to preach, woodwork and paint their treasures. "I do buy craft books to get ideas," he said. "My wife goes to craft shows and gets other ideas for me. You name it, we have it. My wife is always interested in getting me to make one more thing."

Going from duck and bird carving to confederate soldiers and furniture, Martin keeps plugging away at one more project. With a little toll-painting added his work has been known to draw a few dollars when the demand is high.

"I just rough cut the wood out of a ban saw," he said. "Then I use power tools such as a drill. I work the detail with a wood-

When Martin's mood changes he may begin a bit of tole-pain-ting. "I like to call it folk art" he said. "I take a piece of wood and paint an animal or a picture on it. I do use patterns sometimes or make my own designs. I'm very versatile."

Flexible and full of talent sums up Martin. At one time he made numerous pieces of wood fur-niture. "I made TV tables and other small tables. I made my own bedroom and dining room

For many carving projects Martin stands firm with base wood but other endeavors may be crafted with black mahaganey or pine. As he put it." I use my electric drill a lot. It's like a dentist drill and I put my own bits on it."

His "country theme" is present throughout all of his woodworking. Shelves and numerous other items fill his home with that personal touch

A bit of compassion goes a long way IN THE MIDDLE IN MIDLAND

DEAR ABBY: Eight years ago, I was a reasonably good-looking 27-year-old woman. Then I survived a very serious automobile accident. Despite numerous surgeries, my face was badly acarred.

Before the accident, I was fairly popular and had plenty of dates. But after the accident, I was not prepared for the reaction I would get from people. Although I bend over backward to be friendly, nobody (including co-workers) spends any more time with me than is necessary. I'm never asked to join them for lunch. It's as though they are embarrassed to be seen with me.

I live in Los Angeles and because of my job, I meet many celebrities. Most seem a bit shocked when they first see me, but they are at least courteous.

However, there are three people who not only never flinched when they met me; they went out of their way to be friendly and make me feel comfortable.

They are former president Jimmy Carter, and two actors, Paul New-man and John Travolta. These three men are heroes in my book, and I shall never forget their kindness.
FOREVER GRATEFUL IN LOS ANGELES

DEAR FOREVER GRATE-FUL: Thank you for sharing your poignant stery with me as I could share it with my readers. God bless Carter, Newman and Travolta. In spite of their celebrity status, they have remained sensitive and compa-sionate. We would all do well to follow their admirable example.

DEAR ABBY: This is in response to "Depressed in Dixie," the mother concerned about her 25-year-old son marrying a divorced woman with a

2 1/2-year-old child. When my never-before-married husband took my 4-year-old daugh-ter (Jessica) and me to meet his family for the first time, they

BLESSED IN DIXIE, A.K. SYDNEY FULBRIGHT, PORT SMITH, ARK.

DEAR BLESSED IN DIXIE: The mail inspired by the letter from "Depressed in Dixie" was heartwarming. Read on:

DEAR ABBY: I'm writing in response to "Depressed in Dixie," whose son decided to marry a divorced woman with a 2 1/2-year-old child.

The interesting thing is that Dad had been married before and had six children of his own, but he still treated us special, as though he still treated us special, as though we were his flesh and blood.

I just want to tell "Depressed" that I don't know where I would be if Dad hadn't married my mom because she had been married and had children. It would have been selfish of either of them to deny because of a child.

Oh, and one more thing, "Depressed," I thank God every day for bringing my dad into my life. HAPPY AND LOVED NINTH CHILD IN AURORA

DEAR ABBY: I'm a 21-year-old single female in love with a 26-yearold male (I'll call Freddy) whom I hope to marry one day. Freddy and I have been dating for a year and have talked about marriage, but there is nothing definite yet.

The problem is Freddy's roommate, Ralph. Ralph's girlfriend, Debbie, moved in with him and Freddy. I'm not exactly jealous, but I hate the idea of the three of them living together in that little apartment. It's only big enough for two, and it must be very crowded and uncomfortable. Freddy says Debbie is only staying there until she and Ralph get married, but no date has been set yet and they don't seem in been set yet and they don't seem in any hurry.

Abby, if Ralph and Debbie want to live together, don't you think they should get their own place? All my friends think it's the pits, and they keep asking me how I can let it go on. I'm really upset and don't know what to do. Is there some way I can get Debbie out of there? Or should Freddy move out? Please advise.

DEAR IN: As I see it, you are not in the middle. You are more appropriately on the granide — Prodey is in the middle, if he's erowded and uniquelity table, he should move out, The desistent is his, not your.

DEAR ABBY: "Ignored Mother" asked for words of wisdom to com-fort her for not being acknowledged on Mother's Day. And she's afraid if she reminds them, then future remembrances will be done only out of a sense of duty. Are holida test? She needs to stop seeing her-self as the hapless victim and take her happiness into her own hands. Commission was established to protect the history of Lake Mary. The Lake Mary Historical Museum is located in the Frank Evans Center. The commission meets the first Monday of every month from September to June at 7 p.m. at the Frank Evans Center. Due to Labor Day and the elections, the first post summer meeting of the year will be held on Tuesday, September 10. The commission produces a calendar every year to help cover the costs of their projects. The 1997 calendar, which features Lake Mary children from the present and the past. will go on sale within the next couple of weeks.

This year, the commission has scheduled a Girl Scout Day. On October 26, commission members will help all age levels earn historic recognition. The Brownies will earn a Listening to the Past Try-It, Juniors will earn the Local Lore badge, and Cadettee and Seniors will earn the Heritage Hunt Interest Patch. On Saturday, March 33, the Historical Commission will once again put on Olde Lake Mary Days, Olde Lary Mary Days is a city festival that gives the commission a chance to talk about and dispaly the city's history. ### Garden Club

The Lake Mary Garden Club meets the fourth Thursday of every month at 1 p.m. at the Frank Evans Center. The group will start up on Thursday, Sept. 26. This first meeting will be a get-acquainted meeting. New members are welcome to just walk right in. At some meetings. the Garden Club invites speakers and they occasionally participate in plant exchanges. They also have field trips. Past field trips have included visits to Blue Springs, Leu Gardens, Big Tree Park, and a rather sticky visit to a cactus farm near Apopka.

The Garden Club's ongoing projects include the Yard of the Month. Every month from September through May, members look for yards in the city limits that should be considered for the honor. A Yard of the Month must be one that is taken care of by the owner and not by a service.

Recent community projects have included beautifying an island on Country Club near the railroad tracks. The club recently added a plaque to the project. Upcoming projects under discussion include planting wildflowers in the city.

For more information about the Lake Mary Garden Club, call Ellie Sorrenty at 322-5797.

Camera Club

photographic skills and to keep photographic and to keep them up on new advances and trends in photography. One of their spring meetings involved a display of stereographic (S-D) photography and stereographic cameras. Interested parties are invited to stop by for the next meeting. Wednesday. Septem-

Girl Scouts. Boy Scouts

The Lake Mary Cirl Scouts are, officially, the Stardust Service Unit of Girl Scouts. The girle come, mostly, from Wilson Elementary, Heathrow Elementary, and Lake Mary Elementary. Girls who start in this unit usually remain in it no matter which middle or high school they attend. There are about 27 troops of all ages in Stardust. The troops participate in a lot of activities together throughout the year. The big events this year are Camporee, scheduled for Camp Winons in November: Olde Lake Mary Holidays, December 7 at Lake Helidays, December 7 at Lake Mary City Hell: International Day and the Stardust Clympics. If your child missed roundup (the recruitment night) but would still like to join Girl Scouts, you may call one of the school coordinators. For Lake Mary Elementary, call Patty Kemp at 323-1353; For Heathrow Elementary, call Brenda Anderson at 862-3634 For Wilson Elementary, call Cindy Stump at 324-99 Diane Hood at 323-1296; for middle and high school stu-dents, call Mary Rowell at 321-1498. Middle and high school students are our smallest percentage of girls, but when Juliette Low founded Girl Scouts, it was for this age group. Younger girls were added much later. All older girls, whether they have ever been in scouts or not, are welcome.

Boy Scouts is a great piace for boys. To join a Boy Scout Pack near you, for Wilson Elementary, call Cary Ratcliffe at 322-4490; for Heathrow Elementary, call Al Leining at 321-6024 or Debra Abbott: for Lake Mary Elementary, call Mike Johnston at 321-2652. Boy Scout packs are also organised in several churches in the area.

For information on Indian Guides and Indian Princesses, call the Seminole Family YMCA at 321-8944.

Free services are available to get your business started

One of the most consistent questions that I am asked is about grants for start-up businesses. I am forced to tell clients necess. I am forced to tell clients that no matter what you have heard on late night television, the government to not going to provide you with free money. We could debate for hours on the philosophical right or wrong of this position and probably never agree. However, it would be a mietake to assume that the various levels of government don't encourage the formation of amail businesses.

Beginning with the aptly named Small Business Admin-istration, the federal government acts as the largest lender to small business. They do this through the means of loan through the means of loan guarantees to banks for 80 percent of the loans made under their programs.

If this were all they did, it would represent a tramendous help to entrepreneurs and the economy. But fortunately, the SBA also recognises that lack of capital is only one of the causes of business failure. As part of the effort to encourage new businesses and enhance existing business, the SBA funds Small Business Development Centers throughout the country.

In Florids, the Small Business

In Plorids, the Small Business Development Centers (BBDC) are funded through the State Uni-versity system. In Seminole County, Seminole Community College (SCC) has an SBDC through a cooperative agree-ment with the University of Central Plorida. This means that PREE help is available to county residents who have a business or are considering starting one.

By Phillip Alder

Have you played bridge with an Oscar winner? I have had that plea-sure twice, partnering Stephen Schwartz. With Alan Meuchen, he wan two Occars for the words and music of "Pecahontas." Schwarts and Menhon also worked together on "The Hunchback of Notre Dame." We will have to wait until next year, though, to see if they rake in any more gold-col-ored statuettes.

If only he wouldn't waste so much time dreaming up lyrics, Stephen could be an excellent bridge player. He handled this four-heart contract nicely. How would you have managed the cards after noting that West began with three rounds of clubs?

Two spades is a game-try, showing the values to try for game and, usually, four spades. Sitting North, I was happy to jump to game with my fitting spade card and good trumps.

Then he cashed the spade ace, creased to dum-my with a spade and led a spade back to his queen. If the spades had breben 3-3, Stephen would have drawn the stephen would have drawn the saing trump and claimed. But here a luck hold. The player with the four noise also started with three trumps, ophen ruffed his spade loser in the many, played a dismand to his acc, ow the last trump and concoded a smead trick for a juicy rubber to us, mover, as we were playing against ophen's wife, Carole, and his methophen's wife, Carole, and his methophen's wife, Carole, and his methophen's wife, Carole, and his methops to the saint sphen's wife.
