

Burglary Growing At An Alarming Rate Fighting Crime: How To Foil Neighborhood Hood

By BARBARA HARTUNG Copy News Service

A front door of its decorative glass panes, an unlatched window, a sliding glass patio door and a lowered glass kitchen window are invitations to burglars.

To even the novice burglar, these and a few other inadequacies blatantly announce that there is a likely victim.

For about $1 (varying with different manufacturers), a dead latch plunger type of lock can be installed in the manner of the spring latch.

This type of lock requires a unit completely different from the spring type and can be purchased for about $11, according to Hank.

Three types of latches are commonly used in the spring latch, which is also the easiest to open, says Heimlich. If a sharp instrument or even a credit card is inserted, the bolt can be slipped back and the door opened.

A wide variety of door view devices is available ranging from a 1/2-inch diameter view in brass case with optical glass lens for $2.25 to a larger 2 1/2-inch viewer at $8.25 that can be revolved around to enlarge the viewing area.

As a final precaution, Heimlich suggests the installation of an observation device so that day or night you do not have to open the door to see who is there.

One of the most "jimmy-proof" according to one survey, is a vertical bolt type which is secured to its mating plate just as is a hinge on a door.

Schools' Need For More Cash Outlined To State Lawmakers

By BILL SCOTT

Seminole County School Board, at a Tuesday night dinner-meeting with the Seminole-Orange legislative delegation, placed all its money troubles before the lawmakers in seeking financial help for the fiscal session opening in April.

The School Board used the talents of its administrative staff, including Walter Teague, school finance officer, and Steve Gatchel, assistant instructional superintendent, in outlining the county educational monetary needs.

The major problem faced by Seminole, according to Teague, is the fast growth rate which keeps the school system at bay trying to catch up with the high dropout rate, due to the high proportion of students who continue to pour into the county, particularly in the south area near the Orange County line.

Teague said Seminole enrollment has increased from 50,000 to 100,000 in the last five years. He stated that the county would be fairer to counties with faster growth rates.

Sen. John Ducker persisted among legislators that due to the high dropout rate, school boards would be as strict in catching truants under his proposal since as long as attendance they will make sure enrollees are present.

Teague said Seminole enrollment has increased from 50,000 to 100,000 in the last five years. He stated that the county would be fairer to counties with faster growth rates.

There is a need in place funding the amount of increase from one year over another, he continued.

The minimum foundation program allows $800 a year per child but this year Seminole received only $715 for each student. Teague said the board would have to levy 16 mills in excess of present 15.5 mills next year to obtain more school funds.

If the Legislature would give us more than the $600 minimum foundation money and the local populace would vote us additional funds, we could go a long way toward solving the problem," Teague said.

Sen. Kenneth Plante said he would suggest the Legislature set up a trust fund for counties with high growth rates based on a formula taking the past three years growth rates.

Teague reports that Seminole County is now equal to Orange County in paying teacher salaries and would like to move forward.

Sen. William Guter disclosed there would be a move in the next legislative session by trial lawyers to remove the sovereign immunity of public bodies to allow law suits to be filed against them.

The immunity statute was set aside for the 1969 year as a trial by the lawmakers, but restored in 1970. Guter said the bill already has passed the House of Representatives and is now in a Senate committee.

Gatchel advised the group of still other money needs in explaining the county is spending nearly twice as much for pupil transportation than is received from the state.

The meeting was sponsored by the Seminole Education Association, a teacher union, and hosted by Peter Baker, SEA president.

Fog, Clouds Bring Fighting To Near Standstill In Laos

B52s Continuing To Hammer Communists' Supply Trails

By ROBERT TUCKMAN
Associated Press Writer
SAIGON (AP) — Fog and low clouds enveloped the Laotian Panhandle today, bringing fighting to a near standstill.

The South Vietnamese command reported only light, sporadic action, and the U.S. Command said only 120 helicopters sorties were flown Tuesday in support of the Laotian operation, compared with a previous daily average of 1,000 or more.

Lt. Col. Tran Van An, the South Vietnamese military spokesman in Saigon, said the troops in Laos were building defense fortifications around Sepone, 23 miles west of the border. But he added that under the new tactic of mobility, the government forces have no fixed positions.

The spokesman indicated there had been no further westward movement by South Vietnamese forces beyond the Sepone area 23 miles west of the border. The South Vietnamese in Laos are operating on a front extending about 25 miles south of Sepone and Route 9, and on an undefined and changing front from north of the east-west highway.

There was also no significant action reported in the parallel drive by the South Vietnamese into eastern Cambodia, which started Feb. 4. There the South Vietnamese have pushed 20 miles into the former Communist sanctuary region and are operating at scattered points along a front of about 50 miles.

Despite the weather over Southern Laos, U.S. B-52 bombers continued to hammer the Ho Chi Minh trail and the U.S. Command said tactical fighter-bombers flew 46 strikes in Laos between daybreak Tuesday and dawn today.

Before the bad weather moved in, U.S. aircraft and South Vietnamese artillery were reported to have knocked out a column of North Vietnamese tanks 10 miles southeast of Sepone.

The U.S. Command also announced the loss, from unknown causes, of a U.S. Army U-2L small jet transport with five men aboard. The two pilots and three enlisted men were listed as missing. The plane disappeared last Thursday in Quang Tri Province, the northwesternmost province of North Vietnam.

Calley CO, Medina, Testifies

By HARRY F. ROSENTHAL
Associated Press Writer
FT. BENNING GA. (AP) — Capt. Ernest Medina, who directed Charlie Company in its bloody sweep of My Lai three years ago, takes the stand today in the trial of his subordinate, Lt. William L. Calley Jr. Medina, who earlier this week was ordered to stand trial himself on charges of slaying 107 Vietnamese, has been called as a witness by the jury in the Calley trial, a procedure unique to courts-martial.

Calley has testified on five occasions during the trial that Medina gave an order to kill everybody in the village. The captain has denied it.

Medina's lawyer, F. Lee Bailey, told newsmen Tuesday that his client would testify, although he declined to elaborate on what Medina might say.

"He's never refused to answer questions about My Lai," Bailey said.

Also scheduled to testify at the invitation of the Calley jury are Col. Oran K. Henderson, who was an American Division brigade commander and faces trial on charges of covering up the My Lai affair, and S. Sgt. David Mitchell, a squad leader in Calley's platoon. Mitchell was acquitted of assault with intent to murder in connection with the My Lai raid.

Judge Reid Kennedy ruled out one juror's request that the entire panel be sent to Vietnam to look at My Lai for themselves.

Vietnam War To Be Last, President Nixon Opines

NEW YORK (AP) — President Nixon said in an interview with the Vietnam magazine, "In fact, I seriously doubt if we will ever have another war. This is probably the very last one," the New York Times reported today.

Times columnist C. L. Sulzberger reported that the President stressed that the United States must maintain its responsibilities in the world, warning against a course that is described as neoisolationism.

Sulzberger's rare on-the-record interview with Nixon took place Monday in the President's private office in the Executive Office Building across from the White House in Washington.

The Times gave this account:

"I'd like to see us not end the Vietnam war foolishly and find ourselves all alone in the world," Nixon said. "I could have chosen that course my very first day in office."

"But I want the American people to be able to be led by me, or by my successor, along a course that allows us to do what is needed to help keep the peace in this world."

Nixon said it was ironic "that the great internationalists of the post-World War II period have become the neoisolationists of the Vietnam war period and especially of the period of the ending of that war."

"Part of the answer," he emphasized, "is simply that Americans, like all idealists, are very impatient people. They feel that if a goal is going to happen it should happen instantly."

Teacher Unrest Is Seen

By WILLIAM J. WAUGH
AP Editor
WASHINGTON (AP) — Taxpayer revolts and shrinking federal-aid aid threaten public schools with massive teacher layoffs and more strikes, according to a National Education Association survey released today.

"I can't say that it's at the panic stage but economically we are headed into the tightest period for school districts in the past 25 years," said NEA Executive Secretary Sam Lambert.

The 11-million-member NEA considers the matter as serious. He said that it is drafting guidelines for its state affiliates to resist efforts to dismiss teachers and increase class sizes.

Some states reduced or eliminated health programs, Lambert said, hitting hardest the children of lower income families who need assistance for eye, hearing and speech defects.

"I hope they don't start cutting mass immunization programs. Few people realize that the schools are one of the best vehicles for mass control of health," he said.

The NEA survey showed the more populous states to be in the greatest trouble, he said.

Many states, said school boards are resisting teacher demands for increased pay. Lower salaries and quality of education could lead to more teacher strikes, Lambert said.

Some states, he said, are using the predicted school board's financial bind will first recommend reducing faculty and increasing class sizes.

No Breakthrough Soon Pictured For Cancer

By CARL C. CRAFT
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The U.S. surgeon general says there is "a waiting period" of unknown and possibly anguishing duration ahead for mankind before scientists can cure cancer.

Although encouraging leads were found during the past decade, said Surgeon General Jesse L. Steinfield, it is expected 2.5 million Americans will die from some form of cancer over the coming 10 years unless rapid progress is made against the disease.

Appearing Tuesday before a Senate subcommittee on health, Steinfield endorsed a concentrated campaign against cancer but argued against a proposal to set up a National Cancer Authority independent of the current National Institutes of Health.

Steinfield said it would be a serious scientific and managerial mistake to have a new agency do the job, as proposed by a panel of Senate consultants and backed by health subcommittee Chairman Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Banking Committee has reaffirmed its approval of William J. Casey to head the Securities and Exchange Commission after Republicans charged law, David Eisenhower, from Naval Officers Training School, Eisenhower's grandmother, Mrs. Dwight D. Eisenhower, will be unable to attend the ceremony because she is in Palm Springs, Calif., and does not like to fly. The Nixon family is expected to go to Key Biscayne, Fla. after the graduation to spend the weekend.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Nixon's daughter Tricia is expected to go to New York later this week to begin planning her June wedding to socialite Edward Finch Cox.

Official word of her engagement and the wedding announcement are expected Tuesday night during a St. Patrick's day eve celebration at the White House.

Fox, 23, a Harvard law student, has given Miss Nixon a diamond and sapphire engagement ring, made up of family heirlooms, but she is not wearing it in public.

County School Board Ends Double Sessions

By BILL SCOTT
Seminole County School Board action precipitated a series of statements from Mil-Other improvements wanted by the boosters could wait until next year, Mercer said.

Douglas Stenstrom school at Torrey, stated the school must have a 40-year lease on the football field, which is owned by the city and leased to the schools, before the state will allow the system to put funds into something owned by someone else.

Dr. Stuart Culpepper then moved to ask the commission to give the stadium to the schools for $1 with a reversion clause that if the stadium is ever used for something other than athletics, it would become the property of the City of Sanford.

After more discussion, it was decided to hold a later work session with Mercer to further discuss the stadium improvement.

Four one-act plays being presented by Lyman High School students Friday at 8 p.m. will be preceded at 5 p.m. with an open house in the English department, being featured as "Department of the Month."

Faculty members of the English department will host and serve refreshments. Work shows by students throughout the year will be displayed.

The Friday plays, Aristophanes' "The Frogs," and Oscar Wilde's "The Importance of Being Earnest," are comedies adapted into one-act versions.

On Saturday, Edmund Berens' "Cyrano de Bergerac," and a futuristic satire, "The Leaden Casket," written and directed by Lyman instructor Barbara Kuhn, will be presented at 8 p.m. All four plays will be given Saturday at a 1 p.m. matinee performance.

Directing the two comedies will be Mrs. Nancy Harrison, drama intern from Florida Technological University, while Mrs. Kuhn will direct both of the tragic dramas.

The directors encouraged the Drama Club to choose four one-act plays instead of the traditional three-act production this year for two reasons. According to Mrs. Kuhn, "Students who view the four productions get a vivid picture of drama history — everything from Greek comedy to dramas of romantic France, Victorian England and futuristic life on another planet." The second reason...

Father Testifies Visited Bruised Daughter In Hospital

George Bennett, father of three-year-old Lana Bennett, took the stand this morning in the trial of his former wife, Charlene Powers, charged with second degree murder in the death of the child.

Bennett testified that following his divorce from his wife he saw her again in September, 1969, at which time she was living with her parents in Orlando. He said he came home from overseas on an emergency leave to help her and their four children move to an apartment, which she shared with a girl friend. He continued that he only saw her with Ronald Powers, also charged in the same case, after they were married.

He returned to Orlando again in February, 1970, following a telephone call from Mrs. Power's mother stating that Lana was in an Orlando hospital. He continued that he visited the child in intensive care and found her bruised and discolored and semi-conscious.

Bennett further testified that he saw the child again after she was operated by Dr. Ron Egert and at that time she was rapidly losing consciousness. He continued that he remained with the child until moments before her death.

In further testimony in direct examination, Bennett said that he had his children living with him at Patrick Air Force Base in 1965 and that Lana had no accidents while living with him. In answer to a query by Assistant State Attorney David Purser as to whether the child had a propensity for falling and hurting herself, Bennett answered, "No."

On cross examination by defense attorney Clark Jennings, Bennett admitted that he did not attend the funeral of his little girl.

Bennett's testimony culminated at this point when the prosecution objected to several questions being outside the scope of direct examination.

Also taking the stand was Dr. Thomas Hegert, Orlando pathologist, who performed an autopsy on the child on Feb. 6, 1970. Dr. Hegert said that the child's death was caused by peritonitis resulting from a traumatic bowel constriction. He went on to explain that a previous injury to the blood supply of the small intestine caused the intestinal tract to diminish in size.

On cross examination, Dr. Hegert's testimony was also abruptly halted when the prosecution objected to several questions being outside the scope of direct examination.

This was in reference to questions as to hospital procedure in preserving specimens extracted from patients during surgery. Jennings told the court that Dr. Hegert was one of the most important witnesses in the case and that he anticipated calling him as a defense witness and interrogating him for an hour.

Dr. David testified Tuesday that he visited the child in Orange Memorial Hospital in critical condition with distended abdomen, dehydration and multiple bruises. He went on to say that peritonitis was indicated. Subsequently he performed abdominal surgery and found every abdominal organ covered with a thick layer of exudate. The intestines were separated, Dr. David said, with leakage from the ileum. One area of the intestine was devoid of blood supply, he said, with fat from the vessels absent. The child expired three hours following surgery.

In explanation of the cause of the child's condition, Dr. David said that there was a trauma of the abdomen caused by a blunt injury to this area. "This falls under the category of a battered child," he said, and continued that this is the medical picture as a doctor looks at it with multiple severe bruises inures over a period of time which do not stem from normal child's play.

In cross examination, Dr. David said that the cause of the battered beam was part of the whole picture of a trauma caused by blows, and contusions to the child, which Dr. David said was "unlikely but possible."

Altamonte OKs Increase For Council, Mayor

Mayor Swofford expressed his desire to see the project underway and the council agreed it would be to the city's advantage. It was decided that a representative would attend a March 15 meeting at Winter Park City Hall where more particulars would be given.

APPROVED

The council voted to advance Smith-Sweger Construction Company $50,000 at no interest until such time as the city receives HUD funds. The council's progress report for February. The money will be drawn from the general account. Councilman A. Dorman said he could not see any reason why the city should go into the banking business.

It was pointed out the city is in with Smith-Sweger states payment will be made for services by the 10th day of the following month. Therefore it was the city that was at fault and the company should not be put to a financial hitch.

The city was offered a new franchise from Florida Power Corporation. The Council decided to prepare a franchise ordinance to be voted on at the next meeting.

STREET RESURFACING

Smith-Sweger has made a proposal to the city to completely repave the street in the area of Heights, where sewer pipes were laid, for 60 cents a square yard rather than merely patch the disturbed areas as the contract reads. Council felt that if one street were resurfaced all city streets disturbed should be treated equally. Thus it was decided to approach Smith-Sweger as to the possibility of it doing all the streets involved at the same price of 60 cents a square yard.

BUILDING INSPECTION

An ordinance was directed to be prepared providing for $1 minimum inspection fee for building and construction work and an additional amount for work performed. The revenue for this ordinance will be used to pay the salary for a qualified building inspector.

The council authorized Mayor Swofford and Rodney L. Leyer, city clerk, to accept resumes for the position of building inspector, and bring the best of these to the council for final hiring. The salary is to be in accord with what is presently being paid in other areas.

The Barnett Bank of Seminole County) was named depositary for the city's interim financing amid strong protests from Councilman Dorman.

Oviedo Dedication Sunday

By HERRY CUSH
What started out as an ordinary dedication may become an "honor dedication" in the case of the Oviedo High School dedication scheduled this Sunday at 2 p.m.

Oviedo citizens, students and administrators may be proud of their new facility that houses the educational system and in more ways than one.

One of the reasons for the mention above to be proud of their high school is the honor paid it by the high school publication of "Educational Specifications — Creates New Look for Florida Schools, 1970." In that publication Oviedo is cited by story and picture as one of 39 schools represented in the book and one of only six high schools featured.

The above mentioned publication and articles were designed to spotlight the newest and most modern schools in the state of Florida. That publication is put out by the Department of Education Bureau of School Facilities.

Sunday's dedication, which is open to the public, will get underway at 2 p.m.

Featured speaker is Harry L. Pelley, prominent educator of the state of Florida and a former high school principal and superintendent.

Several other distinguished guests will be on hand to help with the ceremonies.

Tours of the new school also will be conducted the day of the dedication.

Revenue Sharing Poses Tough Problems

The President's plan to rescue the states and cities from serious financial distress through greater revenue sharing from Washington has become an issue cut across party and regional lines. The outcome of this fiscal-political struggle could alter the future character of the federal-state system, which has made the United States of America unique among the nations of the world.

The President's proposal comes in two packages. A "general revenue sharing" of $5 billion would go to the states and cities without strings. It would be distributed primarily on a population basis.

A "special revenue sharing" of block grants would turn over $1.1 billion, now incorporated in 30 federal programs, for administration by the states.

Much of the federal welfare bureaucracy created during the Johnson Administration would be dismantled. The block-grant portion of the President's program is not drawing the fire. It is on the $5 billion, no-strings sharing plan that opponents led by Rep. Wilbur Mills, chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee, are concentrating.

Mr. Mills contends that the federal government, with a deficit this year of $15 billion and perhaps an even larger one next year, is no better off financially than the states.

He argues that the U.S. Treasury is already providing one of every seven dollars being spent by states and cities. He asks where the additional billions to be shared will come from if not from higher taxes upon the very regions that now need money the most.

Conservatives and liberals alike are wondering if state and city governments can be trusted to spend this federal revenue wisely when they are not directly accountable to the taxpayers in all parts of the country who provided it.

Accountability is at best lost when a government which collects money is not responsible for supervising its expenditure.

The $5 billion to be disbursed from the U.S. Treasury cannot be regarded as a promise or relief to the taxpayer. Rather it is a promise of salvation for local governments that find themselves in financial straits.

In this regard there is reason to worry whether states and cities, having geared their spending to a $5 billion handout from Washington next year, would not require $10 billion the year after.

Nevertheless President Nixon deserves applause and support in his effort to place the disbursement of public monies at a level closer to the people. This, after all, is fully consistent with our republican form of government.

The additional problem facing him in his revenue sharing plan is to fix a corresponding accountability with the distribution of these funds. Until this is done, critics of his plan will continue to have an abracadabra cause.

The Longer Day

A firm in New Jersey has announced development of a 15-hour clock. It records 26 hours a day instead of the usual 24, and was designed for "executives who never have enough time."

Officials of the Economics Press, Inc., in Fairfield, N.J., said the unique clock will give those harried executives "an extra hour for work and an extra hour for pleasure." Such an extension of time is a luxury that most people, executives or not, would gladly pay to enjoy.

Unfortunately, the 15-hour timepiece is not for sale. It was invented by a management specialist to dramatize the need for better planning. "Anyone can convert an ordinary clock to 15 hours," the specialist said. "Just take off the minute hand and put on a new face with 15 hours instead of 12."

The rub is that the device won't give its holder any more time. As the management specialist noted, "The only way to really get more time is to make better use of the time you already have. That takes a little planning."

So, the 15 hour clock is just another gimmick. But even if it doesn't tell time very well, it still has an important message. — Greenville (S.C.) News

Piece Of Pie

A little statistical fuel for arguments over the need for federal revenue sharing with the states:

Americans paid an average of $480 in taxes to state and local governments in fiscal 1969, reports Commerce Clearing House. This is a leap of $42 over the previous year.

Per capita state-local taxes — which grew heavier in every state — ranged from a low of $221 in Arkansas to a high of $276 in New York. California was a close second with $240 per person.

Total state-local tax take was $76.1 billion in fiscal 1969, up $9.14 billion over 1968 and an increase of 60 per cent over 1964. Collections in 25 states are now past the $1-billion-a-year mark. — Waynesboro (Va.) News-Virginian

British Act To Offset Soviet

By LEON DENNEN
UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (NEA) — Britain's Prime Minister Edward Heath is one Western statesman who has the courage of his convictions. His decision to sell marine helicopters to South Africa was condemned by "antiracismists" in and out of the United Nations. But it put the spotlight on another strategic area where the Russians are expanding their sea power — the Indian Ocean.

Almost unnoticed, the waters south of Asia have become a hotbed of Soviet warships. Only three years ago this would have been as big a surprise as the presence of the American Navy on the Volga River.

However, when Britain's previous Labor government decided in 1968 to pull out "East of Suez," the Russians, as all ways, were ready to plug the gap.

They quickly established naval bases in Yemen, Brunei, Somalia and Somalia, a strategic island at the entrance of the Red Sea.

After his recent visit to Washington, Heath agreed with the Nixon administration that it has become too dangerous to let Russia go unchecked.

To those who ignored the United Nations embargo and decided to go ahead with limited arms sales to South Africa. This Britain is obligated to do under the 1955 Simonstovon agreement.

To no one's surprise, UN Secretary General U Thant, who seldom says or hears of where Russia is concerned — released the prime minister.

India's Premier Indira Gandhi threatened to withdraw from the Commonwealth which ostensibly supplanted the empire once ruled from London.

So did the president of Tanzania, Julius Nyerere, and other African leaders, who regard President's apartheid as a greater menace to world peace than Russia's oppressive colonial empire. The Kremlin leaders believe that naval power brings political rewards.

The Soviet Mediterranean fleet and Communist political influence in the Mediterranean have grown in less than a decade from nothing to a significant force.

It is certainly imprudent to assume that Russia's naval presence in the Indian Ocean will not grow the same way.

Eight now the reopening of the Suez Canal is the Russian's major target at the Middle Eastern peace talks. This will enable them to link their Mediterranean and Indian Ocean fleets.

In the Indian Ocean — as in the Mediterranean and Caribbean seas — the Kremlin leaders are testing the value of their navy as a power symbol.

As the British see it, there has been a continuing shift in Russia's favor in the strategic balance at sea which has given Moscow a new option to intervene in the Indian Ocean.

They fear Russia's potential capacity to launch an offensive against the crowded shipping lanes around the Cape of Good Hope which is the main route for West Europe's oil supplies.

Admittedly, Russia does not

Political Notebook:

Muskie Fumble, McGovern Gain

By BRUCE BLOSSAT
WASHINGTON Correspondent

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Sen. George McGovern of South Dakota, the only declared candidate for the 1972 Democratic front running Sen. Edmund Muskie has won the first four or five 1972 primaries to stay high in the race.

Corollary to this assertion is the notion, openly accepted by McGovern, that Muskie's strength comes purely from his "winner image" gained in the polls, and that he will be quickly done in if anything happens to what that picture.

What we have here from McGovern is more than a rather bold forecast. In reality, the view is at the core of his strategy of hope for 1972. "Hope" has to be a key word for a candidate who, at this stage, scratches up a bare two or three per cent in the polls.

If, by the way, it seems much too early to be talking about the campaign, the answer is that it is not. So many primaries are in store next year (28 in the present prospect) that the serious candidates have no choice but to work some states very hard in 1971.

The tightly bunched early primary season is saying to Muskie much that without fail are those planned for Florida, New Hampshire, Arkansas and Illinois and Wisconsin.

The South Dakota lead cut his strategic judgments in an informal, late-hour chat in the first of his first campaign probe into New Hampshire.

He said if Muskie wins the first five next year, and according to indicated schedules they should all be under the belt by April 4, then the crazy New Englander could perhaps afford to lose one or two in April and May, when there will be certain or potential primary battles in Rhode Island, Massachusetts, Pennsylvania, Alabama, Indiana, Ohio, Nebraska, West Virginia, Maryland and Oregon.

What McGovern did not say in the chat is this: The logic of his argument is that if Muskie does win the first five outings, then McGovern himself will be largely out of contention. More than once he has publicly stated that no one who falls to do well in the early tests can expect to get the kind of big money needed for the costly June primaries, involving more than one-third of the delegates votes required for nomination, set for California and New York.

McGovern clearly believes he has the potential for sticking the early course, that Muskie could falter, and that Democratic voters thereafter might make the crucial switch. This aspect of the matter will be the subject of a second report, since it goes to McGovern's view of himself, his emotionally charged anti-war attitudes, the mood of the country, and his contrasts with Muskie.

McGovern's strategy of hope may be harder to achieve than he perhaps foresees. Sensibly, in light of evident sentiment, he does not expect to gain more than a "respectable showing" in New Hampshire.

He counts on doing very well in two states where the delegates are not legally bound by the presidential preference test — Florida (11 votes) and Illinois (17). But soundings in these states cast heavy doubts on his prospects in a head-to-head fight with Muskie.

General southern resistance to McGovern as too liberal and too dovish also makes him a poor bet for the developing match in Arkansas.

What it really comes down to is that McGovern's best chance to force a Muskie fumble is in the vital Wisconsin primary next April 4. He does not talk for the record, but the indication is he expects to do extremely well in the state. Eugene McCarthy won handily in 1968. Doing well there probably will not be enough. Almost surely, McGovern will have to win Wisconsin or fade.

Remember Capitol Bombing

By RAY CROMLEY
WASHINGTON Correspondent

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Two things to remember when analyzing the bombing of the United States Capitol:

This type of violence is also recommended by Mao Tse-tung when, in a tactical situation, the underground wants to create a diversion. It is impossible to see such a situation as this in the present bombing of the Capitol.

Guerilla history is filled with movements as a whole in growing more violent. In this report, in fact, individual acts of extreme violence tend to increase the amount to nothing but movement begin to lower their fire.

Like a losing gambler grows group, feeling itself on the frantic, each weekend splintered down hill skids, attempts to recoup its losses (defense) by ever-greater sensationalism here interpreted as violence.

As these splinter groups become less influential, they lose what moderate members they have, leaving only a hard core, the idiot fringe.

"This bombing was not well-designed to achieve any purpose whatever.

Letters To The Editor

Reds Sneak In Back Door

Editor, Herald:

I would like to be able to understand your reasoning behind the "Around the Clock" column on March 1st. When you commented about the bomb in the Capitol, you made it sound like a violent reaction of the anti-American Patriots who, in desperation, are trying to express their dissatisfaction with the Viet-Nam War. When actually it was another well-planned act by Cuban trained terrorists under express order and direction from Havana, whose only purpose is the creation of chaos and confusion in this mighty country, which they know can not be conquered in a frontal attack — at least not yet.

The Viet-Nam is only the excuse — not the reason. It is a serious problem and a dirty bloody war, but the number one problem, the real serious threat to this U.S.A., is a lot closer — only 90 miles from Key West — the small island of Cuba.

The screen of the anti-war demonstrations has blinded many Americans — but I never believed that you were one of them.

Do you realize that there is a small Viet-Nam going on in practically every Latin American nation? Do you realize that the Tupamaros in Uruguay and the so-called "Liberation Movements" in Brazil, Argentina, Panama, Guatemala, Nicaragua, etc., all trained in Cuba, are kidnapping foreign diplomats, among them Americans, killing — in cold blood — government dignitaries, and robbing banks to support their military and sabotage activities with practically absolute impunity? The Quebec Lib-movement, which produced serious international kidnappings recently in Canada, where did they go when the mission was accomplished? To Cuba — their Alma Mater — and were received as heroes. The S. D. S. the minute faction, the Black Panthers, just to mention three organizations, all confirmed and confessed Communists, are the members of the "front" and the direct instigators of every act of bombing, sabotage, and riots in this country. And all the leaders — where did they get that training? — in Cuba, every one of them.

Look at the map of South America, Chile has a communist government; Bolivia and Peru are on the "front" with a leftist anti-American type of government; and thousands of Russians as "technical advisors." Look at the map and see what happened to the Pacific coast of that continent — most of it is in the hands of the Russians, and if the Communists can't beat neutralize (and they will probably try to) central Ecuador and Colombia, the whole coast will be under their absolute command and, for the first time, in history, they will have bases on this side of the Pacific.

Now, put together the situation of Cuba and that Pacific coast, and tell me, how long

Corporate Tax 'On The Line' Askew Still Favors Special Session

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — Gov. Bob Askew said Tuesday he is still in favor of calling a special session of the legislature before April 6 to consider putting his corporate income tax proposal before the voters this year.

But a key Republican member of the Broward County House delegation indicated Tuesday there was little chance the governor could pick up more votes for his measure than he got in the recent special session.

Askew wants to hold an emergency referendum this year to amend the state constitution to permit taxing the income of corporations to provide urgent needed revenue. The last special session voted to put the matter on the ballot at the next scheduled election in November of next year. This will be to late in being in any revenue for Askew's 1971 budget.

The governor said Tuesday he will call another special session before the legislature's 60 day regular session begins April 6, but only if the House leadership can line up more support for the corporate tax referendum.

The House (all nine votes short of the needed three-quarters majority required to hold an emergency referendum) did not vote, although the same measure passed the Senate easily.

However, Fort Lauderdale Republican Rep. Joel Gustafson said he and other Broward County Republicans who voted against the emergency referendum before have little chance to change their minds. Gustafson said Askew's recommendation for school funding in the new budget would adversely affect Broward County.

Prison Chief Ouster Bid

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) — Florida NAACP Field Secretary Marvin Davis demanded Tuesday the dismissal of Division of Adult Corrections Director Louis Wainwright.

Davis charged in a Capitol news conference that Wainwright was responsible for the "racist" policies of the prison system and for unconstitutional "cruel and unusual punishment" inflicted on inmates during February disorders at Ruffalo State Prison.

"We insist that Louis Wainwright must be the first to go," Davis said, adding that Wainwright's replacement of Ruffalo Supt. Don Hassard was meaningless. He called Hassard "a completely racist system." He said, "He has not allowed blacks to come in there. We know of many blacks who applied for jobs out there and they have not been hired."

The NAACP state director criticized the delay in Askew's receiving a report on a tour of Ruffalo undertaken by Press Secretary Don Pride and aide Hugh MacMillan.

He said the delay "leads us to believe that the citizens of Florida must be prepared to witness the greatest whitewash in Florida history."

Davis said that "certainly there is no attempt to whitewash the situation and there will be no whitewash. We plan to meet with the governor later in the week to discuss the Ruffalo situation."

He contended that prisoners were beaten with rifle bullets and billy clubs in violation of their constitutional rights as officials restored order in the prison's East Unit on Feb. 16.

GOPer Defends Nixon In Stand On Document

WASHINGTON (AP) — Proponents of the Cross-Florida Barge Canal are twisting the words of a Nixon administration science advisor in an attempt to prove the president stopped work on the canal for political motives, Rep. C. W. "Bill" Young said Tuesday.

The Florida Republican, long a foe of the 107-mile ditch which was halted by President Nixon in January, said canal supporters were taking out of context phrases from a document sent to Nixon by Russell E. Train, chairman of the Council on Environmental Quality.

Young said canal advocates were touting only a couple of paragraphs from Train's report to Nixon while ignoring the rest. The paragraphs in question work on the canal for political motives, Rep. C. W. "Bill" Young said Tuesday.

Oil Spill Regulation Challenged

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP) — Florida's right to file a complaint responsible for an oil spill is under challenge in federal court by a group of companies calling it unconstitutional.

The suit, filed in U.S. District Court at Jacksonville Tuesday, asks a temporary injunction at a hearing scheduled Thursday, and later a three-judge court to decide the constitutionality issue on a permanent basis.

Edward, LeRoy Collins and two other lawyers filed the suit on behalf of 15 companies transporting oil and chemicals and the American Waterways Operators Inc., an organization of barge and towing firms.

They say the Florida law is faulty in these ways:

- That it authorizes the Florida Department of Natural Resources to make a finding of fault without giving the accused company a chance to be heard.
- That it amounts to confiscation of property.
- That it interferes with the right of contract.

Hi Twelve Hears Talk

The Deltona High Twelve Club met at the Deltona Inn on Feb. 21, with 46 members and two guests present to hear Charles Cottrell speak on "The 20th Century Climate." His message was well received by those present and he was accorded a standing ovation at its completion.

President Henry Bower, inducted Carl Bussemann, 946 Hickory Hill, Deltona, from Balder Lodge 1653, Brooklyn, N.Y., into full membership in the club.

The next regular meeting will be on March 10 at the noon luncheon meeting at the Deltona Inn. All Master Masons are invited to attend. The charter was draped in black in memory of Edward C. Droge, once a member, who died on March 1.

"THE ART OF MAKING MONEY PLENTY IN EVERY MAN'S POCKET"

By Doctor Franklin

"At this time when the general complaint is that money is so scarce it must be an act of kindness to inform the moneyless how they can reinforce their purses. I will acquaint all with the true secret of money catching, the certain way to fill empty purses and how to keep them always full."

"Two simple rules well observed will do the business. 1st Let honesty and labor be thy constant companions; 2nd Spend one penny every day less than thy clear gains; Then shall thy purses soon begin to thrive, thy creditors will never insult thee, nor want oppress nor hunger bite, nor naked freeze thee, the whole hemisphere will shine brighter, and pleasure spring up in every corner of thy heart."

"Now thereby embrace these rules and be happy."

Strikes And Spares

BY JOHN A. SPOLSKI
Gee, what a thrill it must have been for Price Penick this Tuesday night!
Penick hasn't been bowling for too long a period of time; but he hadn't rolled a 200 set either. I offer that as a token to you, knowing that he is capable of bowling some big 200-plus games. However, when it came to trying three good games together, he averaged a 200 or more for the night.

BRUCE ANNETT and Richard Westfall had one of their better days of bowling this past Saturday when Annett, who is nine years old, picked up the difficult 4-6-10 split; Westfall tied four strikes together and finished near the 200 mark.

Who says that the two sports... bowling and golf don't mix? Take professional Wally Geary, for example. This Johnson County Club pro, who bowls in the current Toyota Mixed League started the night with a 220, dropped just a bit in the second game, came back strong in the final with a 190 for a fine 281 set. (But, just like a true linksman... try and get him to admit that it's easier to drop a putt than it is to get a strike.)

Others who bowled well in this league, also, were Jack Finch 190, Les Parlin 190 and 199, Ed Lee 188. At Bowling 262/230, Don Brevitt 185, Brenda Lewis 262/251, Jack Rogers 192 and George Partmann 190.

However, the high for the night went to Gil Filizer as he unloaded a gigantic 247 game and finished with a 569.

Polly Price picked an excellent time to do it... I mean, how so very well. During Saturday night's Bowler of the Week competition, Polly entered with her current 142 average and finished after three games with a nice 102 pins.

In order to qualify and compete for these weekly honors, a bowler must be at least 30 pins above average... that's a heap of bowling in any man's league (oops, in any girl's league!).

Others who made the scene were Rose Patrick, Clarence Martin and Mary Martin.

A LITTLE KNOWN FACT... some of our youngsters competed in the Junior Bowling Tournament... statewide last year down in Cocoa... and all during that time period of approximately 21 months, they never did get their trophies.

For one reason or another, and after a series of at least 25 letters and phone calls, our men's association secretary Rod Mackley did track 'em down. And would you believe that this past Saturday, the kids finally got what was theirs in the first place.

On behalf of all those kids... Thank You, Rod Mackley.

John Falcone had a good afternoon of bowling during the Friday Deltona Pin Busters League. Started the series with a 238, and sorta set the pace for many of the others in the league... Ed Conley 185, Jack Hudson 187, Charles Solomon 174, Ross McCall 189/512, Gus Reindl 178, Kenneth Keller 185/582.

Bertha, though in the league thought we forgot about the highest rolled that day... a 219 by Agnes Marriott. Congratulations to one and all.

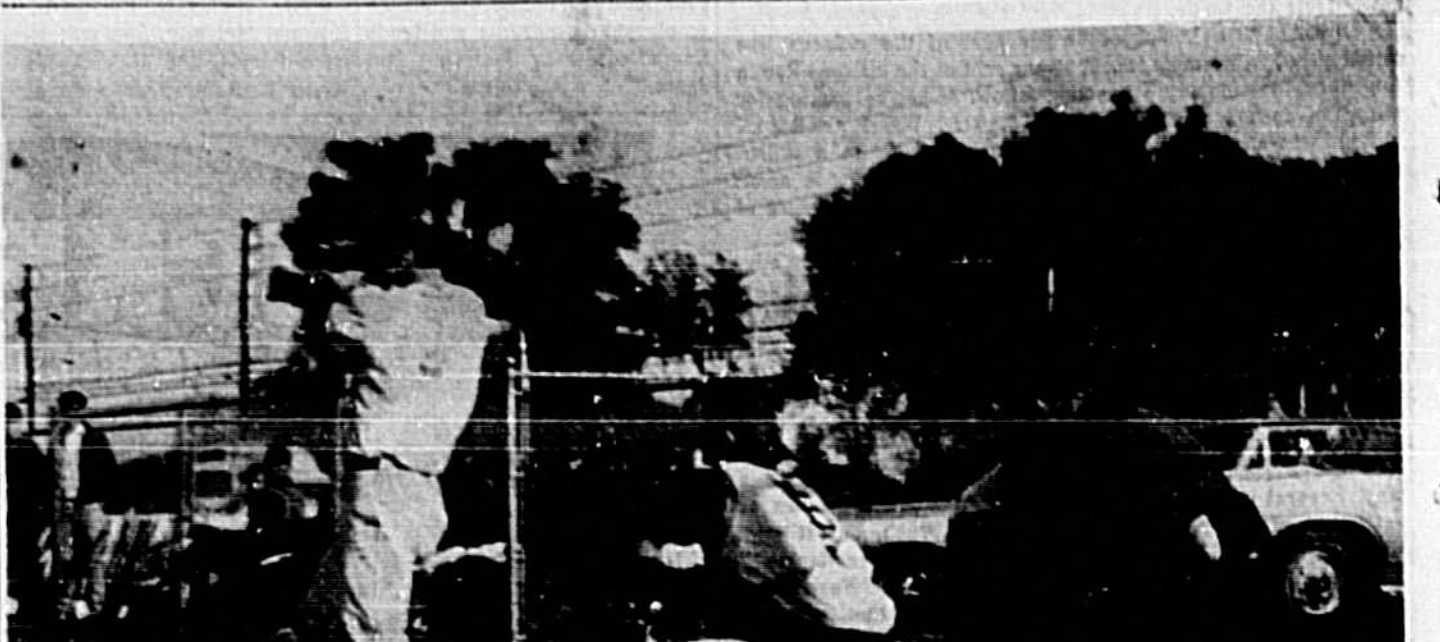

Merrill Tops Hospital League
With each delivery of the ball, on those nights when it seems you can't do anything wrong, H. Merrill of the Friday evening Simmons Memorial Hospital League clipped a record game series of 188, 212, 202, 202. That was the only one which made it into the "charmed circle"... Gene Rogers had a 211/233, B. Gross made an attempt at 188, Jim Nader missed by eight pins at 187, and Margie Auguste continues to hit that one-three pocket as shown by her 194, 195, 179/368 series.

It seems like such a long time since we last had Larry Brown's name in this column. This former Junior Bowler of the Year honoree was having his problems on taking out the ten pin... but, came through with one of his better series this past Saturday during the Jr.-Sr. League play.

Big Rivalry Renewed Raiders Host Valencia At Conrad Tonight

The Seminole Junior College Raiders play host to their arch-rival, Valencia, tonight at 7:30 p.m. at Conrad Park in DeLand. Many boys that played together in high school, in both Sanford and Orlando, will be pitted against each other. There is also a brother vs. brother battle with Bruce Frankham hurling for Valencia and Jeff Frankham a pitcher for the Raiders.

out of the starting lineup. Skip Senich has been away rehabilitating to work in relief. The Raiders are now 6-4 on the season and have just completed six straight games on the road, winning five of them. They have finally started to "click."

Lockett Paces Seminole

When somebody mentions Mississippi, one might think of Archie Manning. Well, how about Charlie Lockett? The "Mississippi Murderer" led the Seminole Junior College golf team to its third consecutive victory, 318-332, over a sluggish Daytona Beach team yesterday at Mayfair Country Club.

Lockett fired a two-over par 74 on Mayfair, but the course definitely played to its full par. Pin placements were in precarious positions on side hills, in corners, or just about anywhere that wasn't easily accessible.

Although the sun-burned Lockett topped the medalist honors for the day, he was followed by Hal Marchman, the Apopka product that played so well in last year's State JoCo Tournament held at Fort St. Louis last May. Marchman had his troubles on the front, but shot a 37 on the back side to finish with a 77.

Billy Gordon, still hot from his recent tying 69, faltered down the home stretch and closed with a 78. He was followed by El Liskovic who rallied on the last nine to wind up the nippy afternoon with a nine over par 81.

Bob Ronchetti and Jim Rick entered with their troubles at the pair shot 83. Ronchetti's trouble was primarily in his short game, whereas, Rickbacher had trouble getting to the green.

The SAC linkmen have had little problems marching down the fairways of victory this year, excluding a narrow escape against Pulk Junior College in the season's opener.

Coches Arnold and his stalwart crew are bidding for a second consecutive regional championship this year. SAC has an odd schedule in that all of its home matches are taking place at the start of the season with no away matches.

This will give the Raider golfers a good chance to sum up their opposition before hitting the road. Lake City is SAC's next opponent, as the Timberwolves trek to Mayfair next Tuesday for an 18-hole affair.

Record Second Win

Lion Nine Blanks Blue Darters

By LARRY NEELY
Herald Sports Writer
Louie Tulp hurled a one hitter yesterday at John Courier Field as the Oviedo Lions evened out their Orange Belt Conference record at 2-2 with a 7-0 blanking of the Apopka Blue Darters. Overall the Lion diamond squad now stands at 5-4.

The Lions initiated their scoring in the bottom of the first inning with a single score and then added a pair in the second frame. The Oviedo nine went scoreless in both the third and fourth innings. Meanwhile, the Blue Darters were unable to even get a hit off the arm of Tulp.

In the fifth inning John Kirkpatrick got on first on an error. A double off the bat of David Bell brought Kirkpatrick home. Joe Mikler laced a single to bring in Bell to put the Oviedo lead to 5-0. Mikler stole second and came home on a sacrifice by Greg Hutchinson.

Oviedo notched their seventh win in the bottom of the sixth when Tulp was given home on a balk by Apopka pitcher Dave Robinson. The score added to Tuesday night's only games Los Angeles blanked St. Louis 4-0 and Montreal led Vancouver 3-1.

Exposito scored his 17th goal Sunday against St. Louis and needs one more to tie the record set by Bobby Hull of the Chicago Black Hawks two years ago.

The Seals haven't won a game in two weeks. They lost 7-0 last Thursday night at Boston, but shut out Espinoza.

Because of injuries, the Seals have only four defencemen available and one of them is 21-year-old Dick Redmond, obtained from Cleveland of the American Hockey League Sunday.

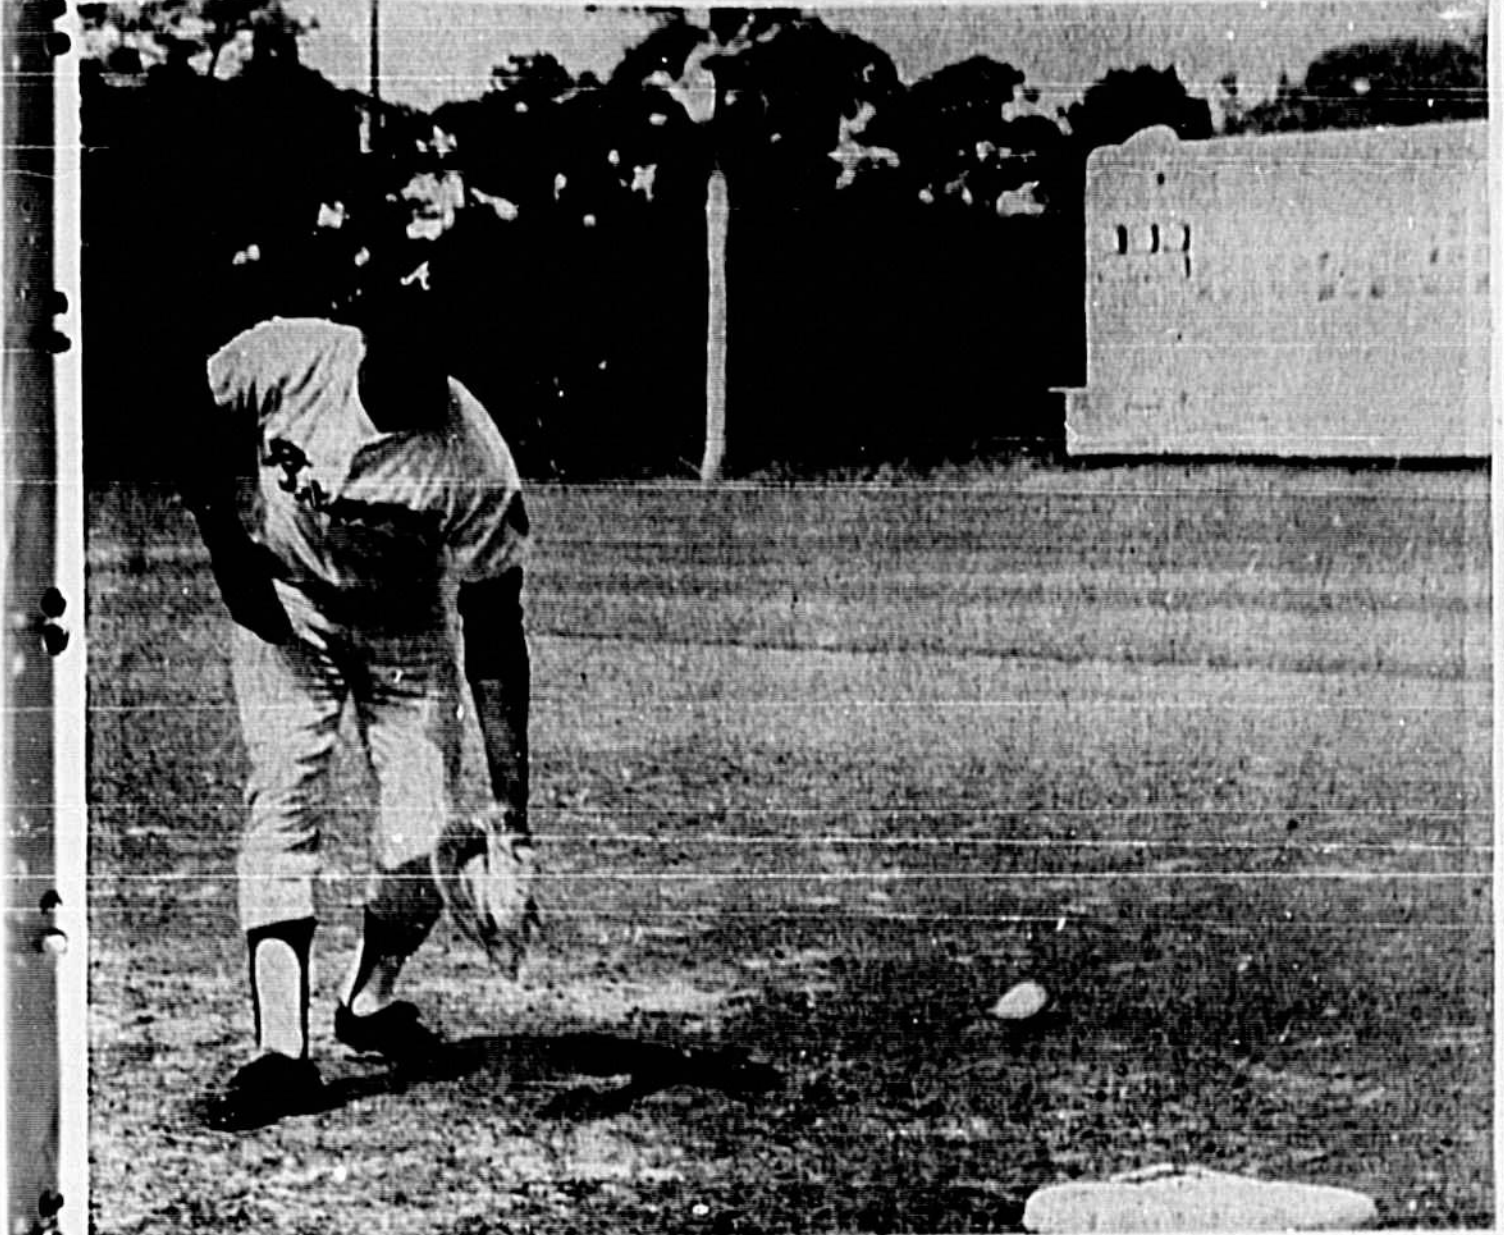

In the annual amateur draft, where the Seals could pick up prized young talent, they have traded away their first-round choices through 1973.

The Montreal Canadiens will draft in the Seals' spot the next three years and are sure to take Guy Lafleur of the Quebec Remparts this summer. Most NHL scouts rate wing Lafleur as the best prospect since Bobby Orr, Boston's superstar defenceman.

Los Angeles' first-ever victory over the Blues in St. Louis was helped along by Mike Byers, who scored one goal himself and got credit for another that was carried into the net by the Blues' Gary Unger.

Byers 19th goal of the season gave the Blues a 2-0 lead in the second period after Matt Ravlich had connected in the first.

Vancouver got its first win against Montreal on Sunday. Montreal's third period goal, Rosaire Palement had the Canucks' other two goals.

Sports Is Big Business; Athletes Earn Big Money

By PAUL CORCORAN
Copley News Service
A look at the salaries earned by professional athletes confirms a fact of life: sports is big business and the people involved make big money. With the possible exception of women athletes, that is.

And the name of the game is bargaining in an era of inflation, with salaries totally out of the reality so far as compensation for work accomplished is concerned.

Almost all major sports figures are drawing extremely high pay, but pro basketball has surpassed football so far as individual salary is concerned. The reason is simple: there is a way for talent to get the with reality so far as compensation for work accomplished is concerned.

Not all announced salary figures are accurate, and the deals made today are far more involved than when an Enos Slaughter survived on a $12,000 salary at the peak of his career with the St. Louis Cardinals.

It is hard to find any athlete who will sign a contract for a straight salary basis. To say the "star" is more avaricious than any other individual is oversimplification; that is the truth in that men in professional athletics realize the limitation of the time they can perform and demand every dime they can get.

For example, the spotlight is on an outfielder for Atlanta, who stands by the batting cage prior to the Grapefruit League opener with the Dodgers Saturday.

The stars of professional football — the Joe Namath, the Lance Alworth, the Johnny Unitas and Gayle Sayers plants that clog waterways. This is a form of pollution clearance of our waters.

Food was good and plentiful. The following day, off-duty guests were kept busy cooking or serving; Herb Packman, president, Jerry Amundson, Bill Williams, Art Connell and Everett Hartman.

Watch for announcements of the following activities of the club: a trip to Orlando to a ballgame; a surf, sand and fishing picnic at Daytona Beach; and a Club Shad Derby. All this is planned for the month of March.

there is today. Stars in other sports are getting plenty of money to get dressed and hit the field. But the men who block for them, the Ron Yarys, Glen Hickersons, and Walt Swartzes, are getting journeyman pay for an indispensable service. And, with few exceptions, they will last only five or six years before returning to a West Virginia coal mining town or a Detroit auto factory.

What seems totally out of line in the money game of pro sports, then, is the difference between the money paid the stars and the fellows in the trenches.

Every man may be equal in the eyes of the Declaration of Independence, but, as the saying goes, some are more equal than others.

Professional sports is no exception.

Allen Pleases Crowd

By GARY TAYLOR
Herald Sports Editor
VENUS BRACCH — Ralph Garr, an outfielder for Atlanta, was standing by the batting cage prior to the Grapefruit League opener with the Dodgers Saturday.

Garr and Allen started chatting and soon the subject of Allen's two baseball playing brothers came up. "I met them both in triple A league," commented Garr, adding, "They were both real nice guys."

To that Allen said, "Yes, I know, I'm the bad guy." Allen may have been the "bad guy" in Philadelphia, but to Los Angeles fans, he's the good guy, even if he doesn't wear a white hat. Allen was the first on the plane to fly to Vero Beach, and was the first player to get dressed and hit the field.

On the second day of practice, Allen was all by himself running at 8:30 a.m. He came into the clubhouse for a 10 a.m. meeting, went through a work out with the rest of the club and then changed his shirt before heading back out to work-out some more.

Rookie Efforts Are Useless Against These 'Old Timers'

By HERSCHEL NISENSEN
Associated Press Sports Writer
Ah, the flowers that bloom in the spring, Willie Mays... Frank Robinson... Harmon Killebrew... Al Kaline.

Willie Mays

The four creaky old codgers took some of the exhibition baseball play away from the phenoms Tuesday and probably sent a hopeful rookie or two packing for the rest but to the bushes.

Mays, less than two months away from the age where life begins, belted a single, double and triple and drove in four runs to lead the San Francisco Giants to a 7-3 victory over San Diego.

Robinson, 35 years young, walloped his first spring homer, a two-run shot, as the Baltimore Orioles edged Montreal 5-4.

Killebrew, who'll be 35 before the All Star break, cracked his second homer of the exhibition season in Minnesota's 6-1 triumph over Kansas City and Jim Perry, a knee youth of 34, hurled three scoreless innings.

Kalene, 36, hit a base-loaded sacrifice fly in the bottom of the ninth inning that gave the Detroit Tigers an 8-7 win over winless Cincinnati, despite two

Bucks Win String Snapped By Surprising Chicago Bulls

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
 "The Bucks Stop Here," read the sign on President Truman's desk. Now it belongs to Chicago's Bulls.

The Bulls stopped Milwaukee's Bucks cold Tuesday night as reserve guard Bobby Weiss scored six of his 12 points in a furious overtime session that gave Chicago a 116-103 victory and cut the Bucks' record-setting National Basketball Association victory streak to 29 games.

Bob Love hit 23, Jerry Sloan and Tom Boerwinkle had 21 apiece and Chet Walker added 20 to lead the Bulls' balanced attack that nullified Lew Aycinena's 39 points for Milwaukee.

In other NBA games Seattle tripped the New York Knicks 114-99, Philadelphia topped Cleveland 124-112, Phoenix stopped Detroit 114-108, Baltimore belted Los Angeles 107-85, Boston bombed San Francisco 134-112 and San Diego snapped a 30-game losing streak at the Knicks and end a nine-game losing streak in New York. Walt Frazier had 19 points for the Knicks, who held the lead in the early going.

Philadelphia scored the first 10 points of the game and never looked back as the 76ers hand the Cavaliers their 42nd defeat in 75 contests. Billy Cunningham had 23 for the winners and Bobby Smith scored 22 for Cleveland.

Phoenix stayed within 14 1/2 games of Chicago in the battle for the Midwest Division's second playoff berth by rallying to overtake the Pistons after blowing a 17-point halftime lead. Dick Van Arsdale's 21 points and Clem Haskins' 25 countered the 49-point explosion by Detroit's Dave Bing.

Clay Is Asking Frazier For Rematch Of Fight

NEW YORK (UPI)—Joe Frazier, boxing's man of the hour, contemplated his future today while Muhammad Ali talked of another crack at the heavyweight title and the promoters of Monday night's bout counted the returns from closed circuit television.

Frazier, 27, was under heavy pressure from his manager and handlers to retire but already has promised Ali a return bout "at any time."

All stripped of the aura of invincibility that once surrounded him but with no reason in the ashamed of his 15-round defeat at the hands of Frazier, blamed his loss on his own "clowning" in the middle rounds and predicted, "Next time it will be different."

Jerry Perenchio and Chartwell Artists, the promoters of the bout, said returns from the closed circuit telecasts had totaled $12 million and that they might top $20-million. Last-minute rushes for tickets were reported in many areas where closed circuit ticket sales had lagged during the fight buildup.

Frazier as a great slugger and offered no alibi for his defeat. His manager, who wanted to make a telephone call to his advice to retire. He is believed to be receptive to a return bout in early 1972 at Jack Kent Cooke's Forum in Jglewood, Calif. It was Cooke who put up $4.5 million of the $5 million guarantee to be split between Frazier and Ali for Monday night's bout.

The thinking in Frazier's camp is (1) that a second bout with Ali this year would be unrealistic because of tax bites and (2) that Ali is the logical next opponent for Joe because George Foreman, the fast rising former Olympic champion, is 18 months to two years away from challenging for the title.

One cloud hanging over the thinking is that Ali could be forced to serve a five-year jail sentence if he loses his Supreme Court appeal to overturn his draft evasion conviction.

All topped up, alive and well Tuesday afternoon in a mid-town hotel, and said he thought he won "at least two rounds." At the same time, he praised Frazier as a great slugger and offered no alibi for his defeat.

Bitter Cold Hampers Work Germans Prep For The Olympics

By PETER BYTHINER
 Copying News Service

MUNICH, West Germany—Despite a bitter cold winter, "smile" is the official word here as Munich feverishly prepares for the 1972 Summer Olympics.

The focal point of Olympic construction is an old airport site at Oberwiesenfeld, a one-square-mile area only 2 1/2 miles from downtown Munich. Here workers have created rolling hills from Munich's World War I bomb rubble and transplanted over 4,000 trees from its parks and city streets making a wondrous 4 1/2 miles, now preserved by a blanket of snow. Another 8,000 trees, a man-made lake and a typical Bavarian beer garden are to be added before opening day Aug. 26, 1972.

At the foot of the already completed 500-foot concrete television tower (symbol of the 1972 Games), an 80,000-seat track and field stadium, a 12,000-seat indoor stadium and an enclosed swimming hall are being built. Next to the stadium there will be training facilities and a bicycle track. Across the way an Olympic Village for 12,000 athletes, a radio and television center and underground and suburban rail road stations are under construction.

The first Olympic archery competition since 1920 will take place in the English Garden, Munich's green "oasis" which runs through the center of town. And at Kehl, 550 miles to the north on the Baltic Sea, the Olympic yachting championships will sail on the

Middies Defeat Howey; Pitchers Hurl No-Hitter

CHUCK SEDERGER hurled a no-hitter, with help twice from Doug Bullock as Sanford Naval Academy stopped Howey 6-0.

The Middies are 1-0 on the season and 1-0 in the Lake and Hills Conference.

Bullock came in from his third base position in both the fifth and sixth innings with the bases loaded and two outs and fanned a batter to retire the side. Sedger jammed the bases with base on balls in these two innings. He walked the 4-4 million tickets the least-nerve in the game, but fanned nine.

Sanford Naval Academy jumped ahead 2-0 in the first inning. The first run crossed the plate on a passed ball and the score came when Rob Yates slammed a single.

Harmon Shines In Meet

Yesterday afternoon in Winter Park, Lyman's Kenny Harmon proved to be the only bright spot for the Lyman track team, as the Greyhound track team, at the Greyhound track, finished last in the field of four Metro Conference participants. Winter Park won the meet with 127 1/2 points far ahead of the rest of the field. Evans and Jones followed with 63 1/2 and 48 points, respectively, with the Hounds winding up the field scoring 19 points.

Harmon captured the 100 yard dash in a time of 10.1 seconds near the beginning of the meet, and later, in another short distance run, the Lyman junior third-year student, an other blue ribbon performance with a time of 23.3 seconds.

The Greyhound's next event counter is this Saturday at Shawnee Park at the Winter Park Relay. The Greyhound's next regular track meet will be at Edgewater next Tuesday.

For Houston Astros Billingham Wants To Be A Starter

By GARY TAYLOR
 Herald Sports Editor

COCOCA — Jack Billingham has one goal set for the 1971 season. He wants to be in the starting rotation on opening day and remain there for the entire season.

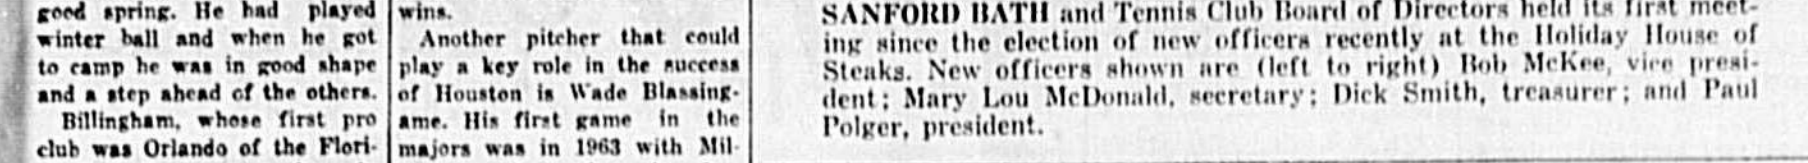

Billingham is a pitcher for the Houston Astros, and their number two winner last season. But he had some difficulty breaking into the starting rotation. He spent the first two months in the bullpen, but broke into the starting five on June 3. In his last five starts of the season, he completed four games.

Billingham feels he is throwing pretty good, thus far this spring, especially with the breaking ball. "I still am not really letting out on my fast ball," he commented.

Last year Billingham had a good spring. He had played winter ball and when he got to camp he and his good mate and a step ahead of the others.

Billingham, whose first pro club was Orlando of the Florida State League, was born in Orlando, graduated from Winter Park High School and now makes his home in the off-season in Altamonte Springs.

Billingham broke into the majors in 1968 with the Los Angeles Dodgers. He was a 3-0 pitcher, appearing in 50 games and posting a 3-0 record. Then he was the number one pitcher selection (fifth overall) of Montreal in

Teams Use Gimmicks To Draw Big Crowds

By PAUL CORCORAN
 Copying News Service

Major league baseball clubs are trying to find ways to attract more spectators to the ball park.

Baseball — with what Jim Brosnan aptly described as the "Long Season" of 162 games — is using every gimmick possible to lure people away from their television sets and the beaches to watch the sport in person.

For one thing, the success of the Chicago Cubs with all games played in daylight has induced many other teams to increase the number of day games.

New York's Yankees, a poor second in Gotham attendance to the Mets, have decided to play only 32 night games and bid 20 doubleheaders.

The Yankees are trying something else this season. They will have a "businessman's luncheon" game starting at 12:30 p.m. on a June 29 game with Cleveland.

Some teams are curtailing the number of games per week, day and night, because fans tend to stay home on Mondays and Tuesdays. San Diego, with a poor early week draw, will play only four "v" time week at home. Most cold weather teams will do the same early in the season, banking on big weekend draws.

But all the gimmicks in the world won't help if you do not have a winning team, or an almost fanatical following as is the case with the New York Mets, Los Angeles Dodgers and the Cubs.

Some of the money put into promotion might well be used to buy more player talent, the wise heads of baseball believe.

After all, green and yellow uniforms with white shoes didn't bring success to the Oakland A's, who hope finally to win fan approval with one of the best young teams in the game in 1971.

Leo Not All Lip Durocher: Cubs Have Chance

By JOE SARGIS

SCOTTSDALE, Ariz. (UPI)—Through the years Leo Durocher has been accused of a lot of things, some true and some otherwise.

While the accusations have covered a lot of bases no one has ever called the Chicago Cubs skipper a con man.

On the contrary, he is one of the more realistic men around in baseball today, so when he says his Cubs have as good a chance as anyone in the National League East to win it, you have to stop and listen a minute.

"The Pirates won last year and if anything have improved over the winter," Durocher said the other day reviewing the M.L. East. "I'd have to say they are the team to beat this year, but I don't count the Cardinals, Mets and Cubs out of it, not for a minute."

Cubs Can Win

The Cardinals made the most moves (trades) during the winter and right now are a mystery team, and the Mets have all that good pitching plus depth, so you know they have to be tough."

How about the Cubs? They finished second two years running, which still rankles Durocher because he thought he could win it all both times. What are their prospects for 1971?

"We can win," he says cautiously. "But all the pieces have to fit in and we have to avoid the kind of slump we fell

Bridal Coffee Honors Miss Candy Collier

By DORIS WILLIAMS, Society Editor

A charming bridal atmosphere was captured Saturday, March 6, at the beautiful Mayfair home of Mrs. Ouida Lee when she and Mrs. Richard (Peggy) Packard entertained at a post-nuptial coffee honoring Miss Candace (Candy) Collier daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Collier of Sanford.

Pretty Candy will become the bride of John Wesley Fly Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Fly Sr., March 27, at First Methodist Church, Orlando.

Spring burst into full bloom throughout the distinctively decorated party rooms which featured creative arrangements of colorful Spring blossoms to enhance the interesting furnishings and accents.

Mrs. Harry Lee Jr. greeted the high fashion guests at the door and presented them to the receiving line which reflected a kaleidoscope of color.

Candy received the guests wearing a smart black and white print long-sleeved dress and black sleeveless coat. Mrs. Collier bowed out in a citrus print frock; Mrs. Fly chose a three-piece, turquoise, double knit ensemble; Mrs. Lee was attired in a black, red and white print outfit and Mrs. Packard wore a melon double knit dress.

Centering the picturesque refreshment table, which was overlaid with an exquisite white imported cutwork cloth, was an arrangement of white mums in a silver bowl. Macha Creme was poured from a handsome crystal bowl and gleaming silver appointments were tastefully arranged with a variety of dainty party fare. All in green and white.

A SERIES of pre-nuptial parties complimenting Candace Collier got underway Saturday when the attractive bride-elect was guest of honor at a bridal coffee. All smiles over the lovely Spring happening are, from left, Mrs. Ouida Lee, hostess; Miss Collier, honoree; Mrs. Charles Collier, her mother; Mrs. John Wesley Fly Sr., mother of the bridegroom-to-be; and Mrs. Richard Packard, hostess. Ballet Guild Rated 'Best In Show'

By DORIS WILLIAMS

There are heroes, heroines, stars, winners and top teams! Just for the record, Ballet Guild of Sanford Seminoles captures all categories.

Mrs. Tom (Pat) Largen, president of the guild, has received a certificate honoring the local ballet group for the performance presented in the recent Spring Festival at Jacksonville Civic Auditorium.

The certificate reads "highest honors" which translated is "best in show" of all the Florida groups participating, who have had years of experience in opposed to Sanford Seminoles Ballet Guild which was founded in 1968.

This citation came as a surprise to the president and board of directors but not to the capable instructors Miriam Rye and Valerie Rye Weld.

The local dancers stole the hearts of their audience with their interpretation of Civil War days. "The Blue and Gray

So hats off to the dedicated instructors and the troupe of talented dancers for a job well done.

On Saturday, March 13, Ron Colton, president of Southeastern Ballet Association and artistic director of the Augusta (Georgia) Civic Ballet Company, will visit Sanford to adjudicate Ballet Guild for final acceptance into the Southeastern Regional Ballet Association.

Should the group of dancers be accepted into the association, they will appear in the Annual Ballet Festival for the South-east, encompassing eight states, which will be held at Augusta this year.

Chicken Saute de Bordeaux

By TOM HOGE
Associated Press Writer

There's an old saying that better than half the world's great wines come from France. And the people of Bordeaux insist that better than half the great French wines come from their region.

This is a broad claim, considering there are only a few really great wines. But Bordeaux has plenty going for it, with a quantity and quality of wines that is unmatched. The wines of the region range from such noble reds as St. Emilion, Medoc and Pomerol, to the dry white Graves and the sweeter Barsac and Sauternes.

Not all the wines of Medoc, to name one, are of the same quality. But if the bottle carries that label and the shipper's name is reliable, you are pretty sure to get something good, and perhaps great.

Less well known and usually less expensive are Bordeaux wines from such regions as Entre-Deux-Mers, St. Croix-du-Mont, Blave and Bourge. It is traditional in Bordeaux to refer to vineyards as chateaux. These are usually spacious country homes, but they may be mere storage buildings situated in vineyards.

The owners guard the reputation of their labels and, on occasion, will refuse to put their name on any wine if it should turn out to be a poor year. Wine experts may be purists who tell you a red Bordeaux is the thing to drink with red meat and a white one with chicken, turkey or fish. You can't go wrong that way certainly, but as far as I see, a good wine goes with practically anything edible.

Why one vineyard should produce a run-of-the-mill wine and another should produce something celestial, is a question that has stumped experts for centuries. The best they can do is determine which vineyard is putting out the superior product and which the mediocre.

The best way to learn about wines is to seek out a reliable retailer, then try the types he recommends. Eventually you will settle on wines that please your palate.

Apricots Copycat Cookery

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
For the past several years a delectable sweet has been sold in candy shops—candied apricots! They are unusually delicious but expensive.
What fun, then, to make your own version of this dessert. The magic is wrought by cooking canned apricots in a syrup.
But first a few tips. Use a saucepan or a kettle with a real wide surface. This will help the evaporation and make for faster cooking, thus reducing the number of batches cooked. And buy the least expensive apricots because in this recipe they hold up better than the fancier ones that are riper when canned or have had more processing. Firm apricots are easier to work with and give the best product.

CANDIED APRICOTS
1 can (1 1/2 pounds) 14 ounces apricots in heavy syrup
2 cups sugar
1/2 cup light corn syrup
Granulated sugar for coating
Drain apricots, reserving syrup—about 1 1/2 cups. If apricots are whole, pit and halve.
In a large wide saucepan stir together the sugar, corn syrup and reserved apricot syrup. Cook over moderate heat, stirring constantly, until temperature reaches 234 degrees on a candy thermometer or until syrup spins a 2 inch thread when dropped from a fork or spoon.
Add apricot halves in a single layer to the syrup. Bring to a full boil; reduce heat and boil gently until apricots look transparent around the edges—25 to 30 minutes.
With a slotted spoon gently remove apricots to a wire rack placed over wax paper; allow to drain. Continue with a second batch if size of saucepan will not accommodate all the apricots at one time. Let apricots dry on rack, uncovered, for 24 hours at room temperature. Turn once while drying.
Roll in granulated sugar to coat.
Store in a tightly covered container.
Makes 25 to 29 apricot halves, depending on size of the apricots in the can.
NOTE: The syrup left after candying the apricots is delicious strained and used over pancakes. You should have between 1 1/2 and 1 3/4 cups syrup leftover.

It's fun to have a spirited homemade cordial on hand.
2 cups boiling water
1/4 cup sugar
3 tablespoons instant coffee
2 1/2 cup vodka
1 teaspoon vanilla
Stir together the water, sugar and coffee; add instant coffee and coffee are dissolved; cool. Add the vodka and vanilla; stir well to blend. Pour into 1 or 2 bottles; cover tightly and refrigerate. Makes about 3 cups. Serve as a sauce for vanilla ice cream or as an after-dinner beverage.

1 can (1 1/4 ounces) condensed green pea soup
1/2 cup commercial sour cream
1/4 teaspoon curry powder
1/4 cup flaked cooked crab
Toasted sliced almonds or flaked coconut
In a 1 quart saucepan stir together the soup, sour cream and curry powder. Gradually stir in 1/2 cup can of water. Add crab. Heat, stirring occasionally. Top individual servings of soup with almonds. Makes 2 to 3 servings.

Cauliflower Is Base For Italian Dish

By AILEEN CLAIRE
 NEA Food Editor

A different vegetable dish suits those who particularly favor Italian dishes. This is a Cauliflower Cacciatore (Hunter Style) and takes little work to prepare since the sauce comes from a can. When served with Italian sausages this combination makes a complete meal. Or some will enjoy it with just a salad and a light dessert.

CAULIFLOWER CACCIAOTORE (Hunter Style)
 1 head cauliflower
 1/2 cup water
 1 can (15-oz.) homestyle spaghetti sauce with mushrooms
 1/2 teaspoon onion powder
 1 teaspoon curry powder
 1/4 cup dry white wine (optional)
 Parmesan cheese
 Wash cauliflower, cut off heavy stalks and leaves. Boil 1/2 cup water in saucepan. Add cauliflower and cover. Simmer 25 to 30 minutes until cauliflower is tender. In another saucepan, mix together spaghetti sauce, with seasonings and wine. Simmer for 10 minutes; uncovered until flavors are well-blended. Place cauliflower in a serving dish. Top with cacciatore sauce and grated Parmesan cheese. Makes 6 servings.

Few think of a delicious cake as being nutritious. One that fits this description tastily features applesauce, spices, raisins and quick or old-fashioned oats. It is a moist cake which makes it ideal for feeding in plastic wrap to tuck into a luncheon.

APPLESAUCE-OATMEAL CAKE

Cake:
 1/4 cup canned sweetened applesauce
 1/4 cup quick or old-fashioned oats, uncooked
 1 cup raisins
 1/2 cup butter or margarine
 1/2 cup firmly packed brown sugar
 1 egg
 1 1/2 cups sifted all-purpose flour
 1 teaspoon soda
 1/4 teaspoon salt
 1 teaspoon cinnamon
 1/4 teaspoon cloves

icing:
 2 tablespoons butter or margarine
 Dash of salt
 1/4 cup milk
 2/3 cups sifted confectioners sugar
 1/2 teaspoon vanilla

For cake, heat applesauce, add oats and raisins; cover and let set 20 minutes. Beat butter until light and fluffy. Add sugar and egg; mix well. Stir together flour, soda, salt, cinnamon and cloves; gradually add to batter. Add applesauce with oats and raisins; combine thoroughly. Four butter into preheated and floured 8 inch square baking pan. Bake in preheated (350 degrees) oven for 36 to 40 minutes. Cool in pan on wire rack. For icing, beat butter and salt until light and fluffy. Add milk. Gradually add confectioners sugar. Stir in vanilla. Frost top of cooled cake. Garnish with raisins and maraschino cherries; cut in pieces. Makes 8 servings.

Crunchy walnuts give school youngsters something to get their teeth into when mixed in an applesauce cupcake batter. Dates, of cocoa, cinnamon and nutmeg make the cupcakes a walrusy way to top off lunch.

WALNUT APPLESAUCE CUPCAKES
 1 cup California walnuts
 1/2 cup shortening
 1 1/2 cups granulated sugar
 2 eggs
 2 1/2 cups sifted all-purpose flour
 1 1/2 cups ground cocoa
 1 1/2 tsp. soda
 1/4 tsp. cinnamon
 1/4 tsp. nutmeg
 1/2 cups canned applesauce

Frosting:
 Chop walnuts medium fine. Cream shortening and sugar together well. Beat in eggs, one at a time, and continue to beat until light and fluffy. Beat in flour with cocoa, soda, salt and spices. Blend into creamed mixture alternately with apple sauce. Stir in walnuts. Spoon in muffin pans lined with paper baking cups, filling about two-thirds full. Bake at 350 degrees about 30 minutes. Cool. Top each cake with a swirl of frosting and a walnut half. Makes about two dozen.

Family Gnocchi Delicious

By CELLY BROWNSTONE
 AP Food Editor
 GNOCHI LUNCH

FAMILY GNOCCHI
 A small size recipe for one of our favorite Italian-style dishes.

1/4 cup fatina
 2 tablespoons cornstarch
 1/2 teaspoon salt
 2 cups milk
 1/4 cup butter
 1/4 cup grated Parmesan cheese

1 large egg, beaten until thick
 In a 3 quart saucepan stir to gether the fatina, cornstarch and salt; gradually stir in milk. Cook over medium heat, stir constantly, until mixture comes to a boil and boils 3 minutes. Remove from heat. Stir in the butter, Parmesan and egg, blending well after each addition. Spread evenly in buttered square cake pan (8 by 8 by 3 inches). Chill 1 hour or until firm—may be left, covered, overnight. Cut into 2 inch squares. Place squares, about 1 inch apart on lightly buttered cookie sheet. Dot each square with extra butter and sprinkle with extra Parmesan. Bake in a preheated 350 degree oven about 15 minutes. Makes 4 servings.

Here's Another Coffee Crunch Cake

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor
Coffee Crunch Cake is going the rounds. The first recipe for it we ever encountered appeared in a Colorado cookbook. Now we find another version of this dessert in "Our Best," a collection of about 400 recipes compiled by the Volunteer League of San Fernando Valley, Calif.
Here's our version of the Coffee Crunch Cake in the "Our Best" cookbook.

COFFEE CRUNCH CAKE
1 package (14 1/2 ounces) angel food cake mix
Coffee Cream Frosting, see recipe
Coffee Crisp, see recipe
Prepare and bake cake in a 16-inch angel food cake pan according to package directions. Cool completely. Cut into 4 layers.
Stack layers spreading about 1 cup Coffee Cream Frosting and about 1 cup Coffee Crisp on each layer and remaining Coffee Cream Frosting and Coffee Crisp on top of cake. Chill until ready to serve, but no longer than 2 to 3 hours; if chilled longer Coffee Crisp will begin to melt.

Makes 12 to 16 servings.

COFFEE CREAM FROSTING
2 containers (each 1/2 pint) heavy cream
2 tablespoons sugar
1 teaspoon instant powdered or freeze-dried coffee
2 teaspoons vanilla

Whip cream until slightly thick gradually beat in sugar, add coffee and vanilla; and continue to beat until cream is very stiff. Makes about 4 cups.

COFFEE CRISP
1 tablespoon instant powdered or freeze-dried coffee
1/4 cup hot water
1/4 cups sugar
1/2 cup light corn syrup
1 teaspoon baking soda
In a heavy 3-quart saucepan dissolve the coffee in the hot water; stir in the sugar and corn syrup.

Over medium heat bring to a boil, stirring until sugar dissolves. Continue cooking, stirring occasionally to keep from scorching, until temperature reaches 300 degrees on a candy thermometer or until a small amount of mixture dropped into very cold water separates into threads that are hard and brittle. Remove from heat. Add baking soda. Stir until light colored and thick; do not destroy foam.
Pour into an ungreased square cake pan (9 by 9 by 2 inches); do not spread. Cool. Pound candy into small pieces. Makes about 3/4 pound or 4 cups pieces.

NOTE: If the Coffee Crisp is made ahead, leave it in large pieces and store in a tightly covered tin box or tightly closed plastic bag. Pound it into small pieces shortly before using on cake.

ANGELFOOD is split and filled and frosted with whipped cream and a candy called Coffee Crisp.

Soup Tops St. Paddy Fun

By AILEEN CLARK
NEA Food Editor
Traditions surrounding foods soften reality as easily as a summer breeze. For example, the Irish are noted for their use of cabbage in cooking. Now many food historians point out that eating cabbage and potatoes, another delectable favorite of the Irish, once was considered a good way to ward off whatever plagues a chap felt after lifting a "few" against the cold, damp island air. So be it. Whatever its reason for being, a hearty cabbage soup is a lively way to serve up some St. Patrick's Day joy. And don't forget the corned beef.

CABBAGE SOUP
2 cans (10 1/2 oz. each) condensed beef broth
2 1/2 cups water
1 can (18 oz.) tomato sauce
2 teaspoons lemon juice
1 cup (1/2 medium head) shredded cabbage
2 cups diced apples
1 1/2 cup onion flakes
1 tablespoon caraway seeds
1 teaspoon sugar
1/2 teaspoon instant garlic powder
1/4 teaspoon ground black pepper

Tough On Gamblers
HONG KONG (UPI)—Police arrested a record 47,673 persons in gambling raids in 1970, about 1,000 more than in 1969. The average number of raids was more than 100 a day and the average daily arrests were more than 130.

In a large saucepan combine broth, water, tomato sauce and lemon juice. Bring to boiling point. Add remaining ingredients. Cover and simmer 20 minutes. Serve with sliced rye bread, if desired. Makes 6 to 8 portions.

Borrowed recipe provides ideal cabbage soup for St. Patrick's Day.

Legality Of Viet War Challenged By Preacher Opposing Violence

By DON McLEOD
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP)—Bomb throwing is the easy way to dissent and working within the system the most difficult, says the author of a Massachusetts law challenging the legality of the Vietnam war.

When I see things like this, Wells gestured toward the Capitol. "I feel like busting my head against the wall. Things like this can undo in a minute all we've been able to accomplish in two years."

He spoke angrily as he stood on the steps of the Supreme Court, where he seeks to bring the war issue and looked across at the U. S. Capitol, torn by a bomb March 1.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Stripped of his general's star and accused of taking bribes in Vietnam, retired Army Col. Paul Franklin Cole was called in to the Senate witness stand today following allegations he covered up a web of corruption.

Witnesses said Vietnam sales entrepreneur William J. Crum boasted Cole was costing him $1,000 monthly for such services as protecting his sleazebag and whiskey-distributing firms from the police and for causing raids on his competition.

By STAN BENJAMIN
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP)—Despite contentions a superjet transport fleet might alter the world's climate, the Nixon administration brushed aside the idea of an international moratorium on SST construction.

It is the constitutional issue which is important, Wells said, and all his efforts were focused on getting the Supreme Court to rule on how the nation legally can go to war.

Deviates 'Phone, Molest Women

The rash of county attacks on women by sex offenders continued Wednesday with three reported incidents wherein a woman was knocked unconscious, another was grabbed and kissed and a third received a telephone call from a man purporting to have been the person responsible for the rape last weekend of a 17-year-old Sanford girl.

Sanford police are investigating a report from a divorcee that a man unknown to her tried to assault her when she answered an inquiry at the front door.

She reported the man asked the whereabouts of another man, whose name she did not know, then kissed her cheek after turning out the porch light and grabbing her in the darkness.

In the struggle, the woman broke free and managed to escape inside the door and lock it.

She described the man as about 25 years of age, wearing heavy sideburns, a jean type coat and work boots. His hands smelled of fuel oil or gasoline, she added.

A woman, whose truck driver husband was away from home, complained to county authorities that a man knocked her out when she entered her Longwood-Markham Road home.

She stated the man followed her inside as she arrived home and she observed a "hippie" type character wearing a head band and a suede poncho outside in a car.

The woman said she fled to the kitchen with the man in pursuit and grabbed a knife, which she threw. The blade struck in the man's shoulder but he withdrew it, cursed and slugged her in the head, she said.

When she awoke the man was gone, she concluded. Finally, a Sanford woman reported receiving two obscene calls from a man who told her he was the person who raped a Sanford girl last weekend after lying up the girl's family.

She said the voice told her she would be his next victim.

Solons OK Airport Authority Sanford Scores As Seminole Loses

By BILL SCOTT
Sanford received approval for its airport authority creation bill but Seminole County thumbs down on three pieces of intended legislation at Wednesday night's Seminole-Orange legislative delegation hearings at Masonic Temple.

The county bills, two of them aimed at annexation and one to establish a study commission to probe consolidation of governments and boards, were turned down after strong vocal opposition from south Seminole municipalities.

The annexation bills would have limited the county cities in the ways by which they can annex property and forbade the annexing by highway rights-of-way.

Attorneys Longwood City Attorney S. J. Davis Jr. and Dr. Edith Duerr, Casselberry Council chairman, spoke long and loud against the annexation bills, as did Edna Norman, representing the Seminole County taxpayers group, who traditionally oppose all plans of annexation.

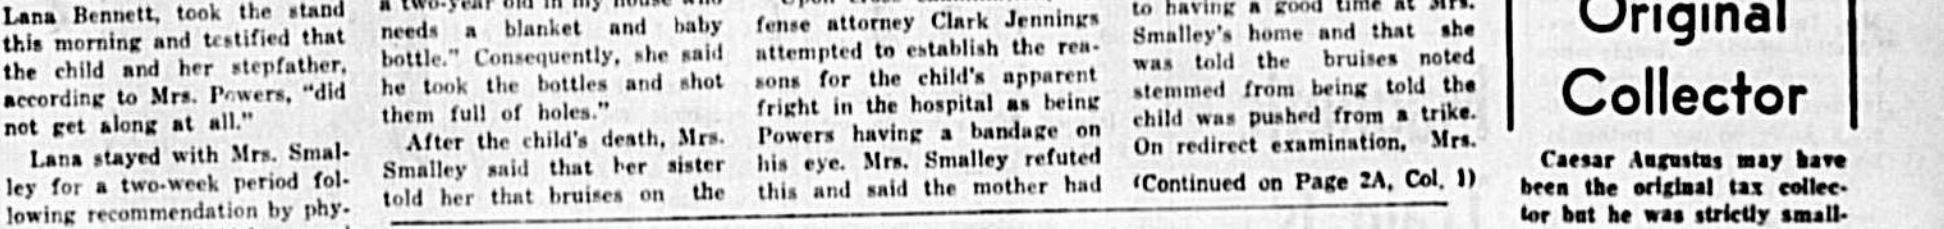

Mrs. Norman said she wanted to live in the country and did not need city services. She said the broad annexation bill would allow only one referendum, which would include both in-town and outside residents and which would be a referendum on whether or not the arrangement whereby outside residents would be annexed was not fair.

The woman favored the second county bill which would have prohibited cities from annexing highways. Mr. Duerr said the bills were not well drafted and unworkable. Davis asked why adopt a bill punitive to just Seminole County but adopt a statewide bill that will affect all counties.

Speaking in support of the bills was Greg Drummond, County Commission chairman, who explained the problems caused by cities annexing highway rights-of-way.

The plan for a consolidation study commission with an appropriation to investigate the workings of county and city governments within the county also went down to defeat with (Continued on Page 2A, Col. 6)

Child Frightened Of Stepfather, Aunt Testifies In Murder Trial

By MARION BETHA
Mrs. Sharon Smalley, sister of Charlene Powers, charged with second degree murder in the death of her daughter, Lana Bennett, took the stand this morning and testified that the child and her stepfather, according to Mrs. Powers, "did not get along at all."

Lana stayed with Mrs. Smalley for a two-week period following recommendation by physicians that the child be moved to another environment due to her many hospitalizations in which child abuse was suspected.

Mrs. Smalley testified that on Christmas day, 1969, the child had a bump on her forehead and had black eyes. On Jan. 31, 1969, Mrs. Smalley said, the child was pale, ill and complaining of stomach pains. During subsequent hospitalization, she said, when Ronald Powers visited the child, "her eyes widened, color drained from her face" . . . "she appeared frightened." The stepfather asked the child to shake his hand, which she did, her hand shaking.

She said the voice told her she would be his next victim.

Little Man Carries Tax Load

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP)—The little man carries the biggest share of Florida's tax load while the state's corporations enjoy the lowest tax rate in the South, an economist told the Florida League of Women Voters Wednesday.

Seventy-six per cent of Florida's total tax collections come from sales taxes while businesses contribute only 9.7 per cent, said Dr. Samuel Skjotstad, an economics professor at the University of Georgia.

Speaking at a tax seminar sponsored by the women voters Skjotstad said 1967 data showed that while Florida businesses were contributing less than 10 per cent of the state's taxes, their counterparts in Georgia were paying 13.3 per cent and North Carolina businesses paid 23.4 per cent.

The national average for businesses was 17 per cent, he said. Skjotstad said he did not endorse a personal income tax but added such a tax took a fairer share of the income of all classes.

Original Collector

Cesar Augustus may have been the original tax collector but he was strictly small-time when it comes to the tax collectors that pile the bits on American taxpayers each year.
