Dennis Bernovich Rape Trial Opens

Interrogation of the venire began this morning in the case of Dennis Bernovich, 25-year-old Sanford man charged with the May 2 rape of a 19-year-old Sanford girl. Bernovich, in contrast to his shabby appearance at his arraignment, was nattily attired in a gray business suit, white shirt and black tie. He spoke animatedly with four young women seated behind him at the witness table, and with his attorney, Gordon Frederick.

Prosecuting for the state is Abbott Herring, with Circuit Judge William Akridge on the bench.

It was reported that the jury is to be sequestered during the progress of the trial. At press time, four women and eight men were tentatively seated in the jury box.

Herring is questioning each venireman along the lines of imposition of the death penalty and asked one woman if she believed that a woman could be placed in fear of her life while being raped.

Jewry Celebrates 'Rosh Hashanah'

Synagogues throughout the world were filled today with Jews commemorating Rosh Hashanah, the new year, which began at sundown Sunday.

The new year brings with it a 10-day period of penitence and self-examination that culminates with Yom Kippur, the Day of Atonement.

At the start of the Jewish Year 5732, Rabbi David Plish, president of the Central Conference of American Rabbis, urged: "Let us not only pray for a better world, but more important, vow to do something about it."

Rabbi Dr. Maurice N. Eisenrath, president of the Union of American Hebrew Congregations, sounded a similar note, saying: "Let us join hands with our neighbors of all faiths in a new dedication to God's kingdom to be built, not with vows but with deeds."

The holy day is observed for one day by Reform Jews, for two days by Conservative and Orthodox Jews.

Police Hunt Clues In Murder Of Sanford Avenue Resident

By BILL SCOTT
George Digiovanni, 69-year-old former French Avenue service station operator and extensive property owner, strangled in his own blood after being struck over the head several times by someone wielding a blunt instrument. He was found dead in his home at 2532 Sanford Avenue early Saturday afternoon.

Police Chief Ben Butler said today the man's body, found by his son, Ted, who lives two blocks from his father, was covered by a blanket in the living room, surrounded by a pool of blood.

Butler theorized the killer covered the body after taking an unknown amount of money from the slain man. "The blanket was used to try to keep down any odors in case the corpse remained undiscovered for some time."

Butler said preliminary indications point to robbery as the motive for the man's death.

AT THE SCENE OF THE MURDER

Digiovanni's home on South Sanford Avenue was checked outside by authorities in an effort to locate clues to the killer of the 69-year-old man, whose body was discovered by his son Saturday afternoon. Det. Sgt. William Lykens, far left, peers into the flowers in front of the dead man's home as does Jack Fulenwider, far right, state attorney investigator. Chief Ben Butler, center, is followed by Det. Sgt. Roy Williams as they emerge from the porch of the home.

New Utility Hearings Ordered

By MARION BETHEA
A written order by the Board of County Commissioners on Nov. 17, 1970, in which it found no justification for an increase in water rates charged by Central Florida Utilities, Inc., but which approved a slight increase over the rates then being charged.

has been quashed by order of Circuit Judge Dominick Saffi.

The case, in a civil action, stemmed from a petition for a writ of certiorari (a writ out of a superior court to call upon the records of an inferior court, constituting a review of the decision of the County Commissioners sitting to fix rates for public utilities).

A public hearing on the matter was held on Sept. 4, 1970, and continued on Sept. 24, 1970, as a result of an application of the utility company to have its water rate charges to customers in the county increased.

The petitioner complained that the rate of return as approved by the Commission constitutes a rate of return that is confiscatory and that it failed to comply with the requirements set out by the Supreme Court in a similar action of another water company in the City of Marianna. The petitioner also contended that the Commission made invalid and improper findings in regard to the salaries paid to the officers of the petitioners in that it considered territory outside of the county in making the finding and that said salaries were excessive.

The court concurred that the County Commission was sitting in a quasi-judicial capacity and that the method of review of a quasi-judicial order rendered by a county administrative agency (Continued on Page 2A, Col. 1)

Charter Will Be Discussed

NORTH ORLANDO — Discussion of a new charter for the municipality will ensue at a large portion of a meeting of Village Council tonight at 7 p. m.

The present charter was adopted in 1959 as a development document of the North Orlando Realty Company, and the council feels it to be inadequate for the changing economic picture.

Mayor Granville Brown and Village Attorney Thomas Freeman appeared before the Orange - Seminole legislative delegation hearing last week and requested that the delegation consider the proposal with repeal of the present charter and enactment of a new one with the proviso that it be ratified by the majority of the electorate of the village.

The delegation told the representatives to have the document ready for the next hearing scheduled on Oct. 7, at which time the delegation will "cooperate" in the matter.

Also on the agenda tonight is a public hearing on a request by Roy McClain to operate a beauty shop at his home on the Longwood-Oviedo road.

Florida Land Company, developers in the village, will present plans for the council's approval and signature.

If preparation has been effected by Freeman, council will consider an ordinance of intent to annex road right-of-way on SR 434.

Leonard Casselberry will appear with a request to clear, clear and deepen an unnamed lake off Merton Road in North Orlando.

Exceptions In Zoning Sought For 2 Motels

Probably with an eye to the imminent opening of Walt Disney World, two developers are requesting special exceptions for motels in public hearings tonight at 7 p. m. of the county Board of Adjustment. The hearings will be held in the County Commission chambers of the court house.

Ralph Williams is requesting a special exception in a C-2 commercial zone located west of old SR 441 in southwest Seminole County, to build a six-unit motel.

Piedmont Development and Investment Corporation is requesting a special exception in a C-2 zone to permit a motel and restaurant to be located at the northeast corner of 14 and SR 436.

James Marsh is requesting a special exception in an A-1 agriculture zone for a privately owned and operated recreational facility which will be open to the paying public; a golf driving range to be located on the north side of Red Bag Lake Road.

Lake Monroe Utilities Corporation is requesting an exception in an M-1 general industrial zone to install water and sewer plants on property located on lot one of the I-4 Industrial Park.

Frank Albers is seeking an exception in an A-1 zone to operate a breeding kennel located north of Lake Mary Boulevard and south of Hidden Lake.

St. Johns Presbytery is seeking an exception in an R-1A residential zone for a church sanctuary, educational buildings and office parking on property located in the northwest corner of Wekiva Springs Road and SR 434.

Contract Awarded

Contract for straightening and paving of SR 46 between I-4 and the Wekiva River has been awarded to J. W. Cameron and Sons, Tampa, on its low bid of $55,900. It was reported today by C. A. (Bill) Benedict, district engineer at Deland for the Florida Department of Transportation. Work will be started in less than 30 days and completed in 270 working days.

Campaign Workers Will Meet UF Will Kick Off With Breakfast

Buoyant with the reports that the pace-setter firm and other pilot firms already are achieving 100 per cent participation, Robert M. Morris, chairman of the 1971-72 United Fund campaign, will kick off the annual drive at an 8:30 breakfast Tuesday at House of Steak.

"With these early leaders reporting such success I believe our goal, $71 in '71, is well in sight," Morris remarked, and then quickly added, "But we are shooting for $100,000!"

In revealing plans for the "early bird" rally, the chairman listed his county vice chairman, Lee Moore, for the north, and Greg Drummond, for the south, and division chairmen, John Carli and Don Napier, pilot firms: Mrs. Sheila Roberts, professional; Bill Bush, public employee; G. S. Blake, golf tournaments; Ernest Cowley, county schools; and Gene Taffer, financial.

October 21 will conclude officially the drive when a victory dinner will be held at Sanford Garden Club. Four week-end dinners will be held at Sanford Country Club, Oct. 13, noon, Sanford Kiwanis Club at Sanford Civic Center.

The United Fund of Seminole County is a voluntary federation of non-profit agencies that provides essential health, welfare and character building services to the community. President is Jack Horner.

This year 12 agencies will benefit from the up-coming drive. They are Boy Scouts, Central Florida Shelter Workers, Children's Home Society, Girl Scouts, Good Samaritan Home, Red Cross, Salvation Army, Seminole County Mental Health, Seminole County Visiting Nurses, USO, Mid-Florida Center for Alcoholics and the YMCA.

'Constitution Week'—An Exercise In Relevancy

Observance of Constitution Week, now in process, comes at a time in our history when this great document is undergoing the severest test.

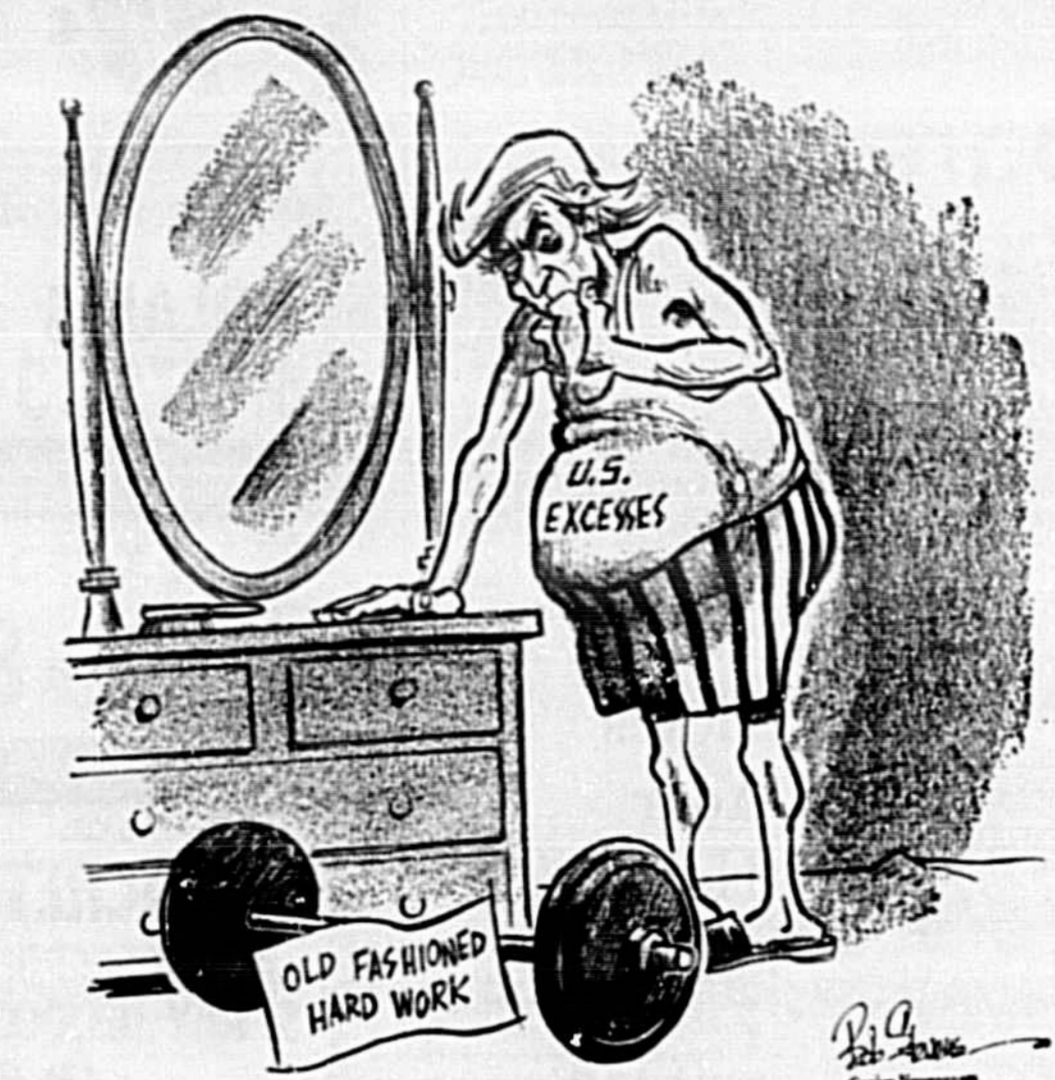

On Sept. 17, 1787, General George Washington, as President of the Constitution Convention, wrote a letter to the Continental Congress, transmitting the document.

Official status in 1956 when the then Senator William F. Knowland, California, introduced a joint resolution naming the week and it was received into public law as P L 915.

Here in Sanford, the Sallie Harrison Chapter bears the name of a lady, direct descendant of Gideon Harrison, Revolutionary War soldier.

National Unity

One of the stirring moments in the history of our Republic occurred on Jan. 20, 1961, when a new president, John F. Kennedy, urged Americans to "ask not what your country can do for you—ask what you can do for your country."

To Support Askew Project Tax Campaign Fund Growing

By RICH OPPEL
TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP)—Gov. Reubin Askew says his Citizens for Tax Reform group can be expected to spend "in the neighborhood of $25,000" selling his corporate income tax amendment to the people.

The first campaign finance report will be filed with the Department of State this week, Askew said, and will show contributions to date of about $1,500. "We will not actively be soliciting contributions," said the governor in an exclusive, hour-long interview aboard his new twin-engine, turbo-prop Grumman Gulfstream airplane.

Askew said "some people" on his 42-member Citizens for Tax Reform group will be making donations, but he stressed they were not selected for the purpose of providing a "ready source" of campaign money.

He said the maximum amount he would permit the committee to accept from any one source is $2,000, and said he planned to "rule out" some potential sources, just as he did in his 1970 gubernatorial campaign.

"I wouldn't accept any money from anyone prohibited by law from giving, of course, and I'll try to assure that nothing would be accepted from anyone who might appear to cause problems in terms of pending legislation," he added.

Persons connected with close regulated business, such as racetracks and liquor distributors, are forbidden by law from making political contributions.

Askew said "at this point" backers of the tax campaign were "talking in the neighborhood of $25,000" in expenditures for the six weeks of campaigning, but that "certainly larger amounts could be raised" if necessary.

Askew is closely watching opposition to the tax vote, and said his greatest concern is the possibility of distortion.

"I've seen a lot of people who are in the business of raising money for the tax vote, and I'm not sure that they are doing it in the best interests of the state," he said.

Askew also said he was still hopeful of strong support from the Cabinet. He said he was counting on only Comptroller Fred Dickinson, who said he definitely would not support the tax because it would be "unfair to the banks," he regulators.

"I don't wish to comment on the comptroller's statement," said the governor.

Youth Organizing Marijuana Group

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP)—A church youth leader who is spearheading a campaign to legalize the sale of marijuana hopes to bolster his ranks with college kids.

John Parker said his organization—Floridians for Reasonable Marijuana Laws—has about 300 members throughout the state.

"We are concentrating on the college campuses this month to increase the numbers," said Parker, a Unitarian Church youth leader.

He said new members of the organization, which hopes to persuade the Florida Legislature to legalize the sale of marijuana, are instructed carefully in the facts about use of marijuana.

"A lot of people aren't armed with the facts," Parker said. "We would just get the adult community to read available material from Canada and from medical researchers, we could turn the tables tomorrow."

"Minds are set, and it's hard to change a position overnight," he said. "We are trying to arm our young people with the facts to show adults."

Parker said youths aren't the only ones in favor of the campaign.

"When we announced our goals about three weeks ago, I had a good many telephone calls," Parker said. "Between 10 and 20 of them were from the over 30 gang-professional people mostly—and they were for us, although most of them couldn't publicly say so."

He said he hopes he can persuade some professional people to testify before legislative committees.

"One thing hurting the organization, he said, is bad publicity from around the nation."

"For example, there was that statement about marijuana causing brain damage in rats," Parker said. "They said the amount given the rats was equivalent to 36 cigarettes a day smoked by a human."

Ultimatum Handed To Orange Schools

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP)—The Orange County School Board, which once voted to go to jail rather than implement a massive busing program, has been given two weeks to initiate a plan involving only 1,000 out of 50,000 students.

A desegregation order, seen as a victory for the school board, was issued Friday by U. S. District Court Judge George Young who ruled that mass busing of young elementary school pupils was "not feasible."

Young's plan was largely based on a proposal submitted by the school board, and he ordered that it be implemented by Oct. 4. The board wanted to wait until the Christmas recess.

The judge allowed the board to sell two school buildings as it had requested, but noted that the busing plan must be carried out "at once" because he was ruling under an order handed down Sept. 3 by the Fifth Circuit Court of Appeals.

"Young set aside a motion by the Congress of Racial Equality, which had asked for more black neighborhood schools."

The National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP), which had proposed a plan involving busing of some 15,000 students, criticized the judge's plan.

"In all probability we will appeal," said NAACP lawyer Norman Woodlark, II.

It was the NAACP which sued for desegregation of Orange County schools.

Robert E. Cascardian, assistant school superintendent, said he expected the board to meet in special session to consider the judge's ruling.

A SEMINOLE ball carrier gets tackled the hard way as he comes down on his head during action Friday night. An Oviedo player brings him to the ground while several other Lions race toward him.

Except Tribe Coaches Everyone's Making Comparisons

By GARY TAYLOR

Seminole defeated Oviedo 60-0 Friday night and already everyone is comparing the 1971 edition of the Fighting Seminole to last year's team. It's not a perfect 100 record, but everyone except the coaches.

Oviedo head coach Ralph Stumpf was quick to point out that the Seminole "are not as good as last year." Many of the fans, however, are not. Stumpf, who was head football coach and athletic director at Seminole before going to Oviedo, pointed out the "lack of depth" as one of the key problems for the Seminole. This was pointed out by the number of boys Sanford had playing both offense and defense.

"I was pretty pleased," commented Perrin, though he added he had some "real glaring weaknesses." One of the strong points mentioned by Perrin was the fact that three boys saw action at quarterback.

Ronnie Howell started at quarterback and threw a pair of touchdown passes. Brent Carl came in to handle the signal-calling.

The run-away victory was called by four minutes left in the third quarter. With just over nine minutes left in the game, the younger Carl gave way to the senior Carl, who played quarterback for five minutes.

NeSmith played wide end on offense and cornerback on defense before taking over at quarterback. He scored one of the Seminole's nine TDs on a 60-yard punt return. At quarterback, NeSmith climbed a score drive with a 16-yard TD pass to Stanley Gordon.

Carl came in for the final two minutes of the game at quarterback, giving him just over 10 minutes at the helm of the team. During that time he threw an eight-yard aerial to

Seminole Blasts Oviedo '11 In 1971 Football Lid-Lifter

By LARRY NEELY

The Fighting Seminole of Sanford might not finish the season 11-0 this year, but Coach Tom Perrin's great team got off to a scintilla on Friday night by walloping the Oviedo Lions 60-0. The struggling Oviedo eleven has yet to upset the Tribe since the cross-county rivalry began.

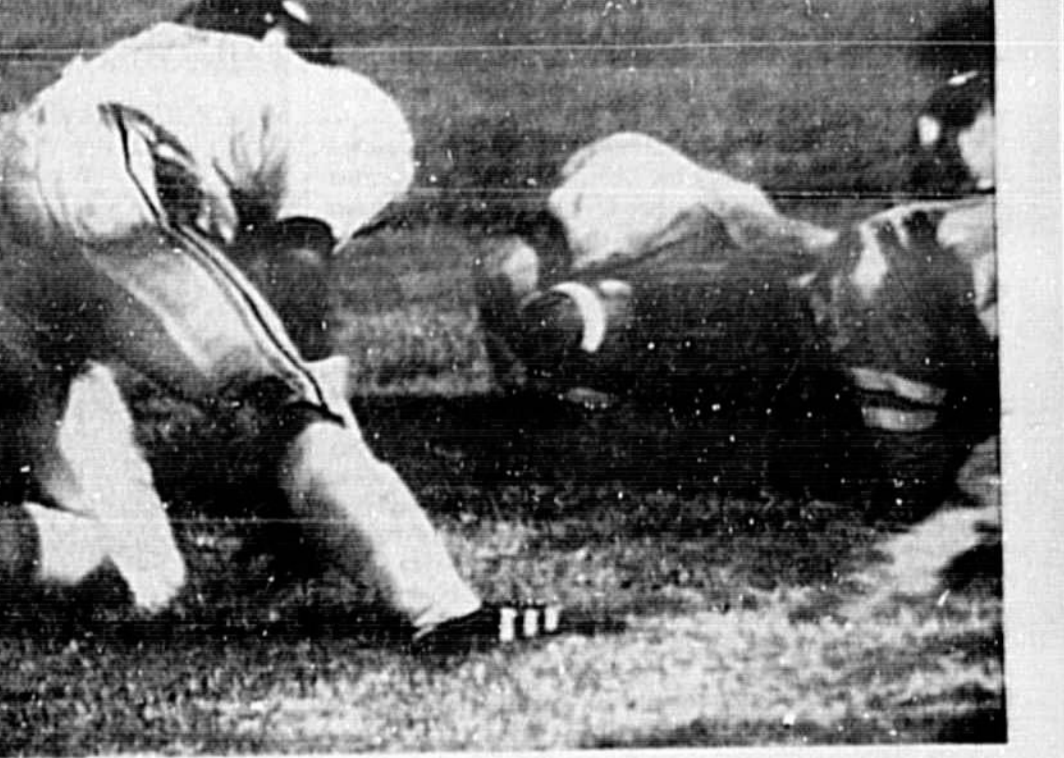

The Tribe started their first sustained drive from their own back marked 30 yard line. Junior Mark Carl plunged the first 26 yards for the drive with 7:37 showing on the clock. Nick Brady tooted the extra point and the Seminole were off and running 7-0.

Just a little more than a minute later in the first period Oviedo's Carlton Brundidge lost the ball and Seminole gained possession. Brundidge charged Ronnie Howell and the ensuing Tribe drive just five yards short of paydirt, but Clifford Martin scrambled the remaining distance and the next play Lynn Burch blocked Brady's kick, but the Seminole held a firm 13-0 command of the game.

Oviedo took the kickoff, but their effort ground to a halt and were forced to punt. The snap was bad from center and the punt went into Oviedo line and the Tribe took over with a first and ten on the Oviedo 22 yard line. The Tribe made it to within inches of the first down, but the Lions took over.

The Lion offense likewise was stymied and were forced to give up the ball. The Tribe offense, directed by Howell, ground their way to the Oviedo goal line. The drive was culminated by a 20 yard aerial from Howell to Ricky Nesmith who gave the Tribe a 19-0 lead in the first minutes of the second period of play. Brady's PAT effort was off the mark, but an offside penalty gave the Seminole place-kicker a second try. It was off the mark as well.

With 4:13 remaining in the first half the Tribe culminated

Can you find the Volkswagen hidden in this picture?

If you can, you'll make us very sad. Because we've troubled ourselves no end to hide it from you.

Our quest for the invisible Volkswagen took us all the way to Turin, Italy.

There we asked the famous Ghia Studios to design us a sporty Italian body.

They did.

Their drawings clutched tightly in hand, we secretly prowled about Europe for the best coach builder we could find.

Success. To the Karmann Coachworks of Osnabruck we handed over Ghia's sketches with the injunction:

"Make it beautiful." (Or else.) They did.

They welded. And burnished. And sculpted. And sanded. And painted.

Until they had shaped in steel what Ghia had shaped in pencil.

Smug in the knowledge that nobody could ever mistake this beautiful car for a Volkswagen, we made it a Volkswagen.

By concealing our air-cooled engine in back. (For better traction.)

And making it go about 25 miles on just one gallon.

Then we gave this Volkswagen its final disguise.

We named it the Karmann Ghia.
