

SPECULATION ON NEW CABINET IS HANDED REBUFF

Roosevelt States He Has Made No Offers On Official Family

NEW YORK, Jan. 13.—(AP)—All cabinet speculation was ruled out of order yesterday by President-Elect Roosevelt with the statement he has made no offers and probably will make none until next month.

Turning from a series of conferences revolving principally about the arm relief problem, the President-Elect in a meeting with newspapermen brushed aside the cabinet speculation, adding that it would be guess work now even on his own part to write on the makeup of the official family.

It also was made emphatic Roosevelt intends to know very well and talk with those he invites to sit about the council table with him.

Only one person is regarded here as a certainty in the Roosevelt cabinet—James A. Farley, of New York, chairman of the Democratic national committee. He is slated for postmaster general.

Harry H. Woodring, retired governor of Kansas, led off the farm discussions yesterday at the Roosevelt home. Woodring said immediate action was necessary to increase farm and commodity prices to "meet the economic crisis."

DRASTIC CUT IN ALCOHOL MADE IN BEER BILL

(Continued From Page One) constitutional," but favored the reported support of President-Elect Roosevelt, received 139 Democratic, 63 Republican and one Farmer-Labor votes to 101 Republican and 50 Democratic votes.

Florida's representation yesterday threw its entire strength behind the Democratic emergency farm relief bill, embodying the domestic allotment plan, which passed the House 203 to 150. Representatives Drane, Green, and Yon voted for the measure, while Mrs. Ruth Bryan Owen was paired with Representative Boehne who opposed the measure.

Six days of debate and labor on its complex provisions preceded the final vote. A crowded and noisy chamber. Members were impatient and voted again and again to shut off debate.

A motion to return the bill to the agriculture committee, made by one of its chief Democratic foes—Beam of Illinois—was defeated. McFuglin, Kansas Republican, tried to substitute the export debenture plan, but the chair ruled it not germane.

"This bill has been so encumbered by bringing in other commodities," Beam warned, "that any possible effectiveness is lost. By leaving hogs in you are making the biggest mistake of your life and by putting dairy products in you are intensifying it."

Shannon, Missouri Democrat, sought to postpone action, saying he had heard Democratic whispering "It will never see the light of day in the Senate." He also was ruled out of order by the chair—Representative Warren (D., N. C.).

From both Democratic and Republican ranks, the tariff provisions of the bill were assailed. Ragon, of Arkansas, told his colleagues that "because I understood this bill had the support of my President-elect, I tried to be loyal and support it."

"But after three more commodities were added," he said, "and when you try to force down the highest tariff ever proposed, I stop."

AUTO RACES AT TAMPA FAIR

Three days of auto races are scheduled over the newly rebuilt South Florida Fair speedway with nationally known drivers in competition. The first race meet is scheduled for Tuesday, Jan. 11, the second on Saturday, Feb. 4 and the third on the closing day of the fair, Saturday, Feb. 11. The fair grounds course has been resurfaced with brick clay which officials say will make it one of the finest auto racing tracks in the country.

"Upon full payment of the loan, such stock shall, if still outstanding, be cancelled at par, or, in the event that such stock shall have become impaired, at the estimated value thereof as approved by the Federal Farm Loan Board, and the proceeds thereof shall be paid the borrower.

"Each such borrower shall covenant in his mortgage that, whenever there are ten or more borrowers who have obtained from a Federal Land Bank direct loans under the provisions of this section aggregating not less than $20,000 and who reside in a locality which may, in the opinion of the Federal Farm Loan Board, be conveniently covered by the charter of and served by a National Farm Loan Association, he will unite with such other borrowers to form a National Farm Loan Association.

"Such borrowers shall organize the association subject to the requirements and the conditions specified in this section, so far as the same may be applicable, and in accordance with rules and regulations of the Federal Farm Loan Board. As soon as the organization of the association has been approved by the Federal Farm Loan Board, the stock in the Federal Land Bank, held by each of the members of such association, shall be cancelled at par, and in lieu thereof, the bank shall issue in the name of the association an equal amount of stock in said bank, which stock shall be held by said bank as collateral security as provided in this section with respect to other loans through national farm loan associations.

Three Resignations Accepted By Sholtz

TALLAHASSEE, Jan. 13.—(AP)—Governor Sholtz today accepted the resignations of W. S. McLin, state motor vehicle commissioner, E. C. Strickland, state shell fish commissioner, and W. S. Morrow, state auditor and appointed Bryan Willis, West Palm Beach accountant, as Morrow's successor. The three resignations and Willis' appointment will be effective Feb. 1. Sholtz said he expected to name the successors to McLin and Strickland shortly.

How CARDUI Helped 'Weak, Nervous Woman'

"I was nervous and weak and my back hurt," writes Mrs. Emma Nichols, of Murfreesboro, Tenn. "I could hardly rest. I had a nervous, weak trembling in the lower part of my body, and a bearing-down feeling. I had read of Cardui and decided to take it. After my first bottle, I felt better and kept taking it. It helped me to take three bottles, and by then I was much improved and rid of the nervousness, so much so that I have recommended Cardui to my daughters and friends. I think it is a splendid medicine to build up the whole system."

Take Cardui to give you a better appetite, to give you more strength from the feet upward—to build up and increase your feeling of well-being. Aches and pains go away as you build up with the help of Cardui. Sold at drug stores here.

Cultural Program Planned By Miami Group For Winter

CORAL GABLES.—Winter vacationists who are accustomed to the best music, art and literature in their northern home cities will find many cultural advantages predominating in the resorts of South Florida this winter. Greater Miami will offer through the University of Miami, located in this city, some unusual opportunities to hear artists and lecturers during the winter season.

The University of Miami, around which the cultural events center, has an unusual plan of study and intellectual recreation. This year the university has changed from the semester plan to the three term plan, permitting the student to enroll Oct. 3, Jan. 2, and Mar. 27.

The second annual winter institute of literature, directed by the university opens Jan. 18. This provides first-hand contact between the men and women who are making literature today and those who read it. Eunice Tietjens, poet; Harry Allen, novelist; Walter Prichard Eaton, dramatic writer; Sydney G. Morley, archivist and lecturer, and Edward Davison, English poet, will be among those lecturing here.

The Pan-American Victor Institute, directed by Dr. Victor Andres Belande, Peruvian statesman, historian and head of the Latin-American department of the university, will seek to build a background for closer, amity between the countries of the western hemisphere and to discuss current problems of diplomatic, trade and cultural relations between North and South America.

Other lecturers will be presented among whom will be Dr. Clarence Henry Haring, professor of Latin-American economics and history of Harvard University. The Pan-American Institute will be conducted along the lines of the Pan-American Round Table held here a few seasons ago which aroused wide interest.

'BOWLING NOTES'

A triple tie for first place in the Sanford Merchants Bowling League now exists as the result of the Smith's Barbers team winning two out of three games from the Sanford-Oviedo Truck Growers team last night.

Jake Bolly of the Growers was high man, getting 210 points for high single game of his team and 545 points in three games. Noble Hale of the Smith team had 532 points in three games while Roy Holler had high individual score of 221 points.

Scores: Smith's Barbers: N. Hale 195 189 157 541; J. H. Bach 174 136 175 485; H. Holler 151 172 120 443; J. L. Stephens 144 181 130 455.

New York's Mayor Calls For Drastic Cuts In Operation

NEW YORK, Jan. 6.—Pledging himself to economy in the municipal government and revisions in its charter, Mayor John F. O'Brien was Tuesday formally inducted into the office to which he was elected after the resignation of James J. Walker. He has the remaining year of the expired Walker term to serve. A mayor for the three-year majority must be elected next fall.

Mayor O'Brien in his inaugural address called for drastic cuts in the cost of city government, the elimination of all unnecessary positions, bureaus and departments, a general reorganization of city departments and the elimination of waste and extravagance wherever found. Everything possible must be done, he said, to find new sources of revenue to lessen the burden on real estate, but in the zeal to economize, it must not be forgotten that one of the city's first duties was to take care of the poor.

One of Mayor O'Brien's first tasks will be the reduction of the 1937 budget by the $20,000,000 pledged to the bankers in return for further city financing last month, when the city merged on default. The board of estimate al-

Wearing Our Presidents Out.

"What is the greatest gift within the power of the American people?" a school teacher asked a crowd of lusty urchins one morning. "The presidency of the United States," they shouted in unison.

And then there are the proud mothers who, gazing down into the starlit eyes of their new born babes, explain hopefully, "Just think, some day he may be president of the United States."

Ugh! What worse fate could be wished for him! To be shouldered with the responsibility of the personal welfare of a hundred and twenty million persons? To be called upon to dedicate every cornerstone placed in a federal building whether the sun be warm and shining or obscured by clouds which drench the multitudes to be compelled to stand smilingly for long hours shaking hands with thousands of persons who thoughtlessly call to pay their respects!

The recent death of former President Coolidge has reminded many an American citizen that we do not honor our presidents in this country, we slay them. Physical assassinations, as they are known in many of the Latin American countries, are comparatively few here, but we accomplish practically the same purpose by working them to death.

During the Coolidge administration, Dr. James F. Coupal, who was charged with the responsibility of keeping the president on his feet, said, "The United States alone, of all the worthwhile nations of the earth, demands of its head that he would be a social puppet as well as a master of statecraft. In the monarchies, a king goes about to the laying of cornerstones, the dedications of memorials, the review of troops and the greetings to nice old ladies belonging to this or that. A prime minister has the responsibility of directing the political affairs."

"We insist that our president not only shall conduct our domestic and international problems with a maximum of skill and political acumen, but that he also shall take time every day to indulge in a lot of handshaking with visiting tourists."

"The physical indolence of the presidency are a disgrace. A president desiring to concentrate on a serious national problem is obliged to lay it aside to indulge in greetings to long lines of men, women and children. At the precise moment he thinks he has evolved a formula on a troublesome problem which might affect the lives of millions of people, he is reminded by his valet that it is time to bathe and dress and shake hands with two or three hundred persons at a White House reception."

President Taft while he was still in office once discussed one phase of this presidential strain as follows: "I cannot exaggerate the waste of the president's time and the consumption of his nervous vitality involved in listening to congressmen's intercession as to local appointments. Why should the president have his time taken up in a discussion over the question who shall be postmistress at the town of Devil's Lake in North Dakota? How should he be able to know, with confidence, who is best fitted to fill such a place? If we were to follow ordinary business methods in a matter which concerns business only and does not concern general political policies, as we ought to do, would we not leave such appointments to the natural system of promotion for efficiency?"

In order to get all things done which he is supposed to do, President Hoover arises at 6:30 in the morning, frequently works until 12:00 or 1:00 o'clock at night. In these times when we hear so much of six-hour days and five-day weeks, it is interesting to note what we still expect of our presidents.

A Challenge To Law.

An interesting contrast has been furnished between existing social conditions in England and America in pictures depicting the departure of gold from Southampton and its arrival in New York.

The scene surrounding the shipping point was one of routine calm as stevedores picked up the boxes of metal and carried them about as if they were no more than crates of celery, while a lone policeman stood by and watched the procedure with almost unconcern. It is ten to one that he even didn't carry a pistol.

What a different picture awaited the photographer in New York. Scores of heavily armed policemen and detectives followed with eagle-like alertness the work of transferring from ship to armored cars. The whole area about the docks had the appearance of a policeman's convention and the roads which the armored cars traversed were guarded by more alert minions of the law, while accompanying the caravan of gold-laden trucks were cars filled with bluecoats carrying riot guns.

It is rather paradoxical that the country which has such little gold, only about $500,000,000 worth of it, should be the one where there is no need to guard it closely, while the country which has more gold than all the European countries put together, must employ a veritable army lest some one might steal the precious metal.

The reason for this condition may be accounted for in the old axiom that the more one has the more he wants, hence the greater urge to rob. But we rather believe that a more reasonable explanation can be found in the contrasting concepts of law and order as exist in England and the United States.

The following are the nominees for officers: president, executive and advisory committee, E. O. Chase.

LIGHT PROBLEMS GONE INTO HEADS OF CITY

(Continued From Page One) fered the following suggestion which was later approved. "I may let's try and get this contract and franchise changed so that we can install dynamos and furnish electricity for the white-way ourselves, paying the power company only for the other electricity we use. I believe that Joe Gill and his crowd are men enough to help us if they are satisfied, as we can show them or as they probably already know, that we are broke. My idea is that since the company is interested in the development of Sanford it might change the contract rather than see us go from bad to worse as far as street lighting is concerned. I believe that Sanford would grow and prosper and that probably within five or ten years they would make more money by canceling the present contract and making a new one based on our present ability to pay than by grinding us into the dirt because of our present inability to pay."

Mayor V. A. Spear's comment on this suggestion was that "I believe that's the best way to dispose of this question. We could then light all of our 448 white-way lights to the benefit of both parties. We could balance our budget. But, it must be done by the agreement of both groups."

The Commissioners voted unanimously on this suggestion. Both Commissioners Lehman and W. A. Laffler asked Mr. Coleman whether he believed his company would consider changing the contract at this time. Mr. Coleman answered in the negative.

During the meeting City Attorney F. R. Wilson said that he had prepared an opinion as to whether or not the City could, under its present contract with the power firm, install dynamos and furnish electricity for the white-way system. Commissioner Lehman several times asked that the opinion be read.

After the Commissioners had voted to make an appeal to the power firm, Commissioner Lehman again asked that the opinion be read. As Attorney Wilson started to read the opinion, Commissioner Dumas said, "Just a minute, if he reads that thing in open meeting it'll be broadcast to the world. Maybe there's something in it we don't want released just yet so I think we'd better go into executive session." Upon his motion, the meeting was adjourned and The Herald reporter left the room.

Under the City's present contract with the Florida Power and Light Co., street lighting costs the city annually $10,191. When the Commissioners drew up the 1932-33 budget, they decided that this cost should not exceed $9000 per year. At a meeting of the Commissioners early in November, Clerk F. S. Lamson was authorized to write the power firm and ask that the contract be revised so as to bring the cost of electricity within the $9000 budget figure.

Another letter was written to the power firm late in December, stating that the City, beginning Jan. 1, would pay only about $710 per month for electricity instead of an approximate $850 per month. On Jan. 1, 1933, the City had unexpended of its $9000 budget for electricity $6,421.66 or enough to pay $713.57 per month for the remaining nine months of the fiscal year. Electricity for the first three months of the year had cost the City $2578.34, or $859.44 per month.

Mr. Coleman's eight suggestions that are designed to bring the cost of street lighting down to below or near the $9000 budget figure, are as follows: 1. Discontinue the use of 50 overhead all night lights. This would make the annual cost for electricity $3801.16. "This is the best saving I can work out," Mr. Coleman said.

2. Reverse the burning schedule of the system for four months of the year. That is, all suspension lights now burning all night are to burn only until midnight during the four summer months. The 58 white-way lights that burn from dusk to midnight are to burn from midnight to dawn for eight months of the year, and the 128 white-way lights that burn all night, should burn from midnight to dawn during the summer months. This would save $485.85 annually, or $1455.45 per year.

3. Instead of reversing the present schedule for four months of the year, reverse it for all months. This would have $732 per year or $2196 per year.

4. Discontinue the use of 40 overhead lights. This would save $1000 or bring the cost down to $9001 per year.

5. Change the 128 white-way lights from an all-night to a dusk to midnight schedule, saving $721, and making the annual cost $2280.

6. Change all white-way lights from 100 to 80 candle-power, saving $333, making the annual cost $1947.

7. Change all white-way lights from 100 to 80 candle-power and have them burn only until midnight, saving $985.10, making the annual cost $961.90.

8. Discontinue 50 one-hundred candle-power white-way all-night burning lights, saving $1200, making the annual cost, $861.90.

9. Discontinue the use of 40 overhead lights. This would save $1000 or bring the cost down to $9001 per year.

Sunshine Filters Into Deliberations Of Geneva Parley

GENEVA, Jan. 14.—A little ray of sunshine filtered into the hitherto gloomy session of the preparatory commission for the World Economic Conference, now sitting here when it was realized during a recent discussion that there is probability that the war debts questions will be settled before the conference meets in the spring.

If the Roosevelt administration advocates some reduction in tariffs as expected here, thus blasing the way for a general lowering of the barriers to trade, two of the most important obstacles to the success of the conference will be removed before it convenes.

It is generally recognized by the delegates that not only war debts, but private international indebtedness must be subject to revision before the world's economic and financial situation can be stabilized. As one noted economist expressed it recently, "The first step toward readjustment is humility. Regarding private as well as public debts, those who loaned unwisely must admit their mistakes. Then needed rectifications can be made and recovery will be possible."

The plan for an international fund for financial assistance is making some progress. The Bank for International Settlements which would administrate this fund is ready to assume such responsibility. The scheme is a logical extension of the arrangement advocated by the Stress conference, but would be broader in scope and not limited to Europe.

as in the case of the fund proposed at Stress. Possibility of England's return to the gold standard was much discussed in the committee. The British spokesman, Sir Frederic Leith-Ross, has outlined conditions on which this depends. He maintains that the gold standard is no longer as desirable nor practical as formerly, and recommends the artificial raising of prices as a necessary preliminary to its restoration. This view is being contested by French and American spokesmen.

ACTRESS WEDS HAVANA—Helen Costello and Arturo Del Barrio, member of Cuban family, succeeded in keeping their "secrets" six days. An entry in court records disclosed their marriage, Jan. 6.

Better Breakfasts

What makes a "better breakfast"? The answer is easy. It is that unexpected touch of individuality—different from the other three hundred and sixty-four breakfasts of the year. This touch doesn't be much—just a new taste, a new tang, a new color, an unusual combination. There is a "better breakfast" for instance, which gives a new taste, tomato—and a new tang, onion—to an old dish, scrambled eggs—adds a new color, red—to what usually is all yellow, and offers an unusual combination in this main dish. Here's the menu:

Greenish White Cornmeal Mush with Top Milk or Cream Eggs Scrambled with Tomatoes White Fried Hash Toast Marmalade Coffee

All of these things are fragrant and easy to make except the unusual main dish. Red and Yellow Eggs Scrambled with Tomatoes: Fry two tablespoons chopped onion in two tablespoons butter for a few minutes, add one cup of canned tomatoes and stirmer a short time. Beat four eggs lightly with a fork, add to tomatoes, and cook gently, stirring lightly until creamy. Season to taste, and serve plain or on toast. Serve four.

And if you want this breakfast to be "better" all the way through, be sure to use coffee that comes in the cans marked "vacuum packed." For all the fever and aroma of coffee packed in vacuum is always there when you open the can.

Free Lunches Are Discontinued By Red Cross Chapter DAYTONA BEACH, Jan. 14.—East Volusia chapter, American Red Cross, has discontinued furnishing free lunches to undernourished school children of this city, Port Orange and Holly Hill, it became known yesterday. Discontinuation was ascribed to lack of funds in the local treasury as a result of inability to raise more than the chapter's quota in its recent annual roll call. Letters notifying school nurses and principals in these schools of this action have been mailed out from the secretary's office and became effective Jan. 1. The chapter, however, will continue furnishing milk to the undernourished for the balance of the present school year if funds hold out. The Palmetto club will contribute $100 a month for school lunches for the balance of the school year, Mrs. J. Halton Wells, president, said yesterday. This fund, she explained, will be distributed by the public welfare department of the city, of which Mrs. Hiram Adles is chairman. The department is planning to give at least one card party each month to raise additional money for the lunch fund, Mrs. Wells said.

WHITE HYACINTHS

... to feed the soul

A GREAT department store, one of the largest in the country, published a most unusual advertisement. "Buy something you don't need," it read. And there is a sound and worthy philosophy beneath that seemingly cold and calloused plea... a philosophy that has endured for centuries.

"If I had two loaves," wrote the Persian poet, Sadi of Shiraz, "I would sell one, and buy white hyacinths, to feed my soul." And throughout all history, men have sold their loaves to buy white hyacinths.

We would modify the exhortation of the department store. Buy something you could do without, but something you very much want... The antique chair you've been promising yourself. The new carpeting for the dining-room... The electric grandfather's clock, or the sterling silver.

Values were never so great, for the amount expended, as now. You have only to turn to the advertisements in this newspaper to be convinced. Here is written a story too important for you to miss. And very often you will find you may keep both loaves and have your hyacinths as well.

Clark Gable, Jean Harlow Are In Film

By BEN ARNOLD

A brutal, fever-bound, dangerous, but withal glamorous existence in Indo-China is revealed in the dramatic perspective in "Red Moon," which opens at the Milano on Sunday as a co-starring picture for Clark Gable and Jean Harlow.

Apparently no effort was spared in bringing the Wilcox Colliers' stage hit to the screen with all its original sparkle. To put it mildly, this picture has "everything" from a thrilling love scene between Gable and the seductive Jean Harlow, to intensely exciting situations in which the entire cast is involved. Shots of terrific jungle storms and hurricanes that sweep through the hills known locale of the story provide many breath-taking thrills.

If there ever was a perfectly cast picture, it is this one. Gable offers a brilliant performance as the installed plantation overseer who requires a girl of his own size when a French engineer brings his beautiful young wife to the tropics. Miss Harlow is splendid as the woman of easy virtue who makes regular trips up the river from Saigon, eventual findings which she really wants to see with her eyes, and then has to put up with the fight or him.

Hills Entertain For Card Club Members

Quantities of sweet peas and gladioli in pastel shades were used to adorn the rooms of the home of Mrs. and Mrs. W. C. Hill, 1900 Magnolia Avenue, when they entertained the members of the Evening-Briggs Club with a bridge party given last night. Taliesin and other party accessories bore designs in pastel shades.

After several programmes of bridge, high scores were set for the ladies, a pair of children, boys, went to Mrs. Frank L. Miller, who high score sets for the week, a pair of scores, was awarded to E. F. Hensholder.

At a late hour refreshments were served and social relations of the Evening-Briggs Club were held.

Big Throng Attends Country Club Dance

Another of the series of cabaret dances, being sponsored by the Sanford Country Club this season, took place last night at the club house with a large number of persons in attendance. Dancing began at 9:30 o'clock and continued until a late hour to music furnished by Mero's Orchestra.

The club rooms were opened en suite for the occasion and decorated with vines and holly and pine branches and ferns. Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Hall, Mr. and Mrs. John G. Cogburn, Mr. and Mrs. Lucien Cropper, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Ligie, Dr. and Mrs. Walter R. Campbell, Captain and Mrs. E. T. Loucks, Mr. and Mrs. Rupert Strickland, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. ## Unusual Species Of Fish Caught By Pensacola Party

PENSACOLA, Jan. 14.—An unusual species of fish at the market of F. L. Adler, has waterfront fishermen perplexed.

In fact the negroes of the crew on the Buncano, which drew the fish out of 200 feet of water, were afraid to touch it so they brought it to port with a string tied around it.

On first sight it appears to resemble the jelly fish, but close examination shows its skin to be as rough and tough as a shark's.

It is vari-colored like the rocks and plants at the bottom of the sea; its four fins are on its under side and appear almost to be a cross between fins and feet, resembling in that respect a seal; apparently it has no gills though fishermen are at a loss to understand how it could breathe at such depth, a small "intestine" that looks like a small's horn, extends from its head just above its mouth to attract smaller fish on which it fed. It is not more than a foot long though is about as wide as it is long.

When drawn from the water it swelled up like a balloon, remaining inflated for several minutes before its skin contracted and became loose and flabby.

Adler says he is going to have it mounted for display at the market.

Musical Program Planned

Mrs. R. B. Edwards, of Boston, who is spending the winter season at Lake Mary, will give concerts at the musical program to be given by the Music Department of the Woman's Club on Tuesday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock at the club house.

Rare Metal With Extreme Hardness Is Reported Found

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 14.—(AP)—Charles C. Berg, Beverly Hills civil and mining engineer, said recently that a rare ore, yielding a metal comparable in hardness with the best alloys, has been discovered in the Little Tujunga mining district near Glendale, Calif.

Mr. Berg, for several years chief engineer of the International Nickel Corporation, said an announcement of the discovery had been withheld for three years while experiments were made in Detroit, Toledo and elsewhere. He calls the find "X metal."

One test confirming extraordinary hardness of the metal, Mr. Berg said, was made by Conrad Jobat, precision engineer of the Libby-Owens interests of Toledo. Another, he asserted, was made by Walter Brown, metallurgist of the Detroit Seamless Tube Company. He estimated that ore within easy reach will exceed 20,000,000 tons.

"As Mr. Berg told the story, James Brown and his wife, about 18 years ago homesteaded three claims in Gold Creek Canyon. For 14 years Mr. Brown eked out a living in placer mining. Then he found a peculiar black ore. Smelting it, he recovered a small quantity of grayish metal, which Mr. Berg said defied the use of the hardest files and smery wheels."

Farley Warns Against Fight Over Patronage

NEW YORK, Jan. 11.—(AP)—The Liberty Loan drives of the World War period may be revived in a modified form, and for a definite purpose, if proposals in some financial and political quarters are adopted.

These proposals, which contemplate the launching of a government loan program to fund a good part of the $4,000,000,000 of the federal government's floating indebtedness, are receiving serious study in prominent banking quarters, some authorities holding that it might go far toward liberating credit to its normal channels.

Almost one-third of the total government debt of $15,800,000,000 is in securities which mature within the next two years and until this indebtedness is placed on a more permanent basis bankers say it is difficult to forecast probable developments in the money market, and it is consequently difficult to invest their deposits.

This very uncertainty has facilitated further additions to the government's short-term debt, for loans have been made available on terms within a few months, at almost no interest, knowing that whatever the money market may do, they will get their principal out intact when the government issues mature. A pinch in the market, sending rates up, would naturally send long-term bonds down.

The fact that the market for highest grade long-term bonds has been very strong of late has led bankers to wonder if a good time were not approaching for the government's financing.

Albert H. Wiggin, retiring chairman of the Chase National Bank, in his recent annual report, warned that "the treasury should not overstay the market." He said he had no sympathy with the view that the funding of the debt must await financing the budget.

Farley Warns Against Fight Over Patronage

BALTIMORE, Md., Jan. 11.—The Democratic national chairman, James A. Farley, to whom has been delegated the weeding out of the patronage lists for the Administration of President-Elect Roosevelt, left his study of the mountainous pile of applications for federal posts long enough Saturday to warn his party that he is not unduly hampered by the clashes of key Democrats for precedence in this regard, in a speech at the Jackson Day dinner of the County Club here.

Mr. Farley's call for party unity stressed that Mr. Roosevelt's responsibility transcends even the obligations of gratitude, and insisted that the President-Elect "should not be hampered in his selection of the best men possible for every office by the insistence of men to whom he owes a debt of gratitude on particular individuals for particular places." There would be "no man behind the throne" and "no invisible strings" in the Roosevelt Administration, he declared, asserting that while Mr. Roosevelt would listen with attention to his cabinet officers on important issues, "when he speaks it will be his own decision."

Regarding the natural desire of important men of the party to reward their aides in the November campaign with placement in some of the many thousands of offices that must be filled by the new administration, Mr. Farley asked that these Democrats place their loyalty to the President-Elect before their wish.

"Mr. Roosevelt's duties to the country, on the adequate performance of which depends whether he is to be the first of another long chain of Democratic presidents or whether his term will go down in history as simply an interim in the line of government by special privilege, are bigger than political debts, graver than partisan satisfaction, more important than the gratification of personal ambitions," he continued.

Turning to the situation in Congress, Mr. Farley brought the charge of sabotage against the Republicans in that body in what he declared were their endeavors to force an extra session. He declared frankly that an extra session apparently would be "compelled" and in the most vigorous fashion sought to place blame for it in advance on the Republican "lame ducks" and President Hoover's potential vetoes of Democratic legislation. The most glaring example of the "subordination of public duty to partisan sabotage," he said, was the defeat of prohibition repeal at this session.

guests were Mrs. Helen T. Morse of the Welfare Board; Mrs. S. O. Chase, Jr., of the local Red Cross chapter; Rev. H. Irving Louttit, Rev. Smith Hardin, Rev. E. D. Brownlee, City Commissioner T. L. Dumas, T. W. Lawton, superintendent of schools; Jm. D. Jenkins, county tax collector; F. E. Forster, and S. O. Chase, Jr.

During the evening a choir of nearly 25 voices was heard, while a male quartette offered several vocal selections. Featuring the program was the reading by Callie Johnson of a paper on "How Friendly Relations Between the Races can be Strengthened and Maintained." Over 100 negroes were present at the mass meeting.

Rev. S. J. Johnson, pastor of the church, acted as master of ceremonies, and introduced the honored guests, each of whom responded with short talks. These

War Days Liberty Loan Drives May Be Held Once More

FORT MYERS, Jan. 14.—(AP)—A five-day working week, with the sixth day to be given to the unemployed, was the suggestion Monday of Mayor Josiah H. Fifth as one way of helping to relieve the unemployment situation here. The plan has been in effect with the city's labor force for many months, he said, and had resulted in many destitute men being given at least some financial help.

The mayor's "share-the-work" plan would involve no additional expense for employers, although it would reduce the week's wages of each regular employe by one day. "But in these hard times," the mayor added, "those holding regular jobs should be willing to share a little of their pay with those entirely without resources."

"I believe the plan is workable," the mayor said, "and would result in the employment of more help at no greater cost to the employe. If those higher wages held would employ each help for five days a week, add reduce their pay accordingly, employing other help for the sixth day, it would give a little more money towards the support of worthy citizens now in desperate need. This is no new idea. It is the putting into effect of the five-day labor week. But it would be putting it into effect by the mutual agreement of the employe and employer."

YOU WILL PURSUE HOOVER ANTI-WAR POLICY

Won't Recognize Nations Which Violate Kellogg Pact

NEW YORK, Jan. 14.—The Roosevelt Administration will continue the Coolidge-Kellogg-Roever-Stimson policy of non-recognition of powers which violate provisions of the Kellogg-Briand Pact outlawing war, it has been learned in high quarters here.

This policy was explained to President-Elect Roosevelt by Mr. Henry L. Stimson, secretary of state, in detail during their five-hour talk together and, while it was declared that Mr. Roosevelt in no way committed his administration, it was said by persons in a position to be informed that he favors this stand and will uphold it even though it has some to be primarily identified with Republican policy.

The President-Elect had Col. Edward M. House as his luncheon guest recently, and there is little doubt that, since Colonel House is known to be one of Mr. Roosevelt's closest advisers on foreign affairs, they went over carefully the points touched upon in the Roosevelt-Stimson conference.

Verisimilitude is lent to reports that Mr. Roosevelt favors the Republican policy of supporting the pact to end war with all the force at his command in the fact that Colonel House himself is known to favor it, seeing in it a policy analogous to that of the Woodrow Wilson Administration, in which he was one of the most influential, if unofficial, of Mr. Wilson's counselors.

Indications here recently are that, while it is on the slate to continue in support of the Kellogg-Briand Pact in foreign relations, the Republican policy is in a fair way to be revised.

While Mr. Roosevelt has never declared himself in favor of recognition of the Russian Soviet State, the feeling in quarters best acquainted with his views that he looks on trade with Russia as a distinct advantage to the United States.

The question of Russia, it was said, was brought up in his talk with Mr. Stimson by Mr. Roosevelt rather than by the Secretary of State. Mr. Stimson all along has taken a stand in favor of the policy of non-recognition of Russia initiated by Charles E. Hughes as Secretary of State during the Harding administration.

The meeting with Mr. Stimson on matters relating to his department is expected to be followed by others between Mr. Roosevelt and members of President Hoover's cabinet, including Ogden L. Mills, Secretary of the Treasury, and Arthur M. Hyde, Secretary of Agriculture.

Use Your Bean

If you are your own boss, you can find many new ways to serve that satisfying vegetable bean so that it will always mean something new. We've been using our own bean in this problem, and here are a few suggestions:

Kidney Bean Luncheon Dish: Turn the contents of two No. 2 cans of red kidney beans into a casserole, and add the contents of one 10-ounce can of crushed Hawaiian pineapple and two dried oranges. Cook for six to eight minutes and serve. This serves eight.

Beefed Beans in Tomato Sauce: Cut off stems from the tops of six large ripe tomatoes, and scoop out centers. Put inside with salt and brush with the richest suspension of prepared tomato. Fill with the contents of a one-pound and one-half can of baked beans, and sprinkle the tops with one-third cup ground cheese. Bake for twenty to twenty-five minutes in a 375 oven. Serves six.

Curry Favor with This:

Curried Baked Beans: Fry one-fourth pound bacon, and remove to dish to keep hot. Add two shreds ground beef to the pan, and add onion until golden brown. Add the contents of two No. 2 cans of beans, and one-half cup tomato sauce, one-half cup onion, one-half cup green pepper, and one-half cup curry powder, and simmer fifteen to twenty minutes, or until slightly thickened. Serve parished with the baked beans and fried onions. Serves eight.

EXCESSIVE COSTS EVERY FEATURE OF GOVERNMENT OF WORLD'S FAIR CALLED MENACE WILL BE READY

S. P. Robineau Decries High Taxes Which Real Estate Carries

MIAMI, Jan. 14.—Unless excessive costs of government are reduced, Florida and the nation may be compared to Russia, S. Pierre Robineau, state legislator, told members and guests of the Committee of One Hundred at a weekly open house meeting Tuesday night in the club house.

"The main difference will be that in America we have politicians and in Russia there are commissars, making everybody work for the government.

"A sad state of affairs is presented by property being sold for taxes in two years. There is not much difference between our government and the tax gatherers of ancient Turkey.

"In Palm Beach alone 39 percent of the value of the property goes for taxes. Even a gold mine will not stand that kind of taxation very long."

Mr. Robineau explained that practically every city in Florida has defaulted on municipal bonds with the exception of Miami Beach and Jacksonville, and cited the need for the next legislature to do something.

"No commonwealth in the country has developed as fast as Florida. Just contrast what Florida was in 1912 to what it is today, with its great influx of population, wealth and modern facilities. This rapid expansion necessitated the borrowing of excessive sums of money for development while Northern cities developed slowly, without incurring such large debts."

"There has not been enough discussion as to how much the cost of government should be. Conditions will not improve until the cost of government is reduced. In 1920 Florida government cost $8,000,000 and in 1931 it cost $44,000,000. Population increased only 50 percent while the cost of government increased more than five times that of 1920.

"The duty of government is to govern and not supply jobs. Some say this will contribute to unemployment. Why should not government employ those who are not needed by the rest of the state instead of in the state trough."

Mr. Robineau stated that repudiation of debts should not be tolerated by any city, state or sovereign country. He also disapproved of unfair preferences being shown for some bondholders and the neglect of others.

Co-Operation With Holders Of Bonds

FORT PIERCE, Jan. 14.—Co-operative and unified study and action looking toward a solution of the bond and taxation problems of this community are to be initiated at a meeting of representatives of local taxing bodies and civic organizations to be held at the court house at 7:30 o'clock Thursday night.

The meeting is being held under auspices of the Kiwanis Club, which has invited every taxing body of the county and civic organizations to be represented at the gathering.

While unified action on bond and taxation problems has been frequently advocated, the meeting will mark the first definite step toward that end and is looked upon by students of the situation as of great importance. The problems, they point out, are too great for any one body of men to handle alone, and with practically the whole county involved in the several districts, the question is one which demands community-wide attention.

To Repeal Payments

SANFORD, Fla.—Calway's intention of repealing payment of its foreign debts as soon as domestic and international conditions permit is reflected in establishment of an autonomous institution for the amortization of public debts.

The president of both the Radical and Conservative parties, which dominates the new Congress, assert that no question of repudiation is being discussed. "Our people," they stated, "would repudiate us if we talked about repudiation." Even the Socialist elements in Parliament admit that the overwhelming majority of Chicanos want debt repayments to be resumed at the earliest possible opportunity.

The suit seeks to compel the court that the rights of a citizen to the protection of government take precedence over the payment of public debts.

Asserting that this municipality is liable for debts of all kinds aggregating about $24,000,000 and would need more than $7,000,000 to pay past due debts, Calway's suit argues that the assessed valuation of all local property is only $20,000,000, and there is not $7,000,000 in "treasure" in the community, and that the city therefore is "hopelessly insolvent." He also contends that many West Palm Beach municipal bonds are void, having been issued illegally.

He asks the court to restrain the city commission from levying the tax; to prevent the bondholders from forcing such a levy; and to decide which of this city's bonds should be paid and which are worthless.

represented are the city, county, North St. Lucie, and Fort Pierce Farms drainage districts, port district and St. Lucie County Sanitary district.

HITLER REGIME APPEARS TO BE ON DOWN GRADE

Nazi Leader Loomed As Inevitable Dictator One Year Ago

BERLIN, Jan. 14.—The great political issue that intriques Germany as the threshold of the new year is the fate of National Socialism. Only a year ago a Hitler dictatorship seemed inevitable, but today the movement appears to be on the down grade. President Hindenburg and Chancellor Kurt von Schleicher stand between the Nazi leader and the dictatorial power that he craves. The first test of strength between the government headed by the general and the Reich's greatest political party will come at the end of January, when the Reichstag re-assembles after the Christmas holidays. General von Schleicher is "suaviter in modo" but "fortiter in re." Although he has held out the olive branch to the Nazis and the Reichstag, he does not flinch from a show of might.

The Reichstag will be called upon to declare how it stands toward his Cabinet and policy. If Parliament pronounces against him, the Reichwehr head will dissolve it and call new elections. Will the Nazis persist in their policy of "all or nothing" and run the risks of incurring fresh losses in a new general election instead of making peace with the government? Apparently the Nazi leaders have so tied their hands by their own pronouncements that they can hardly do anything else but continue to fight the government.

Certainly there are signs of willingness to compromise in Adolf Hitler's New Year's manifesto to his followers. In this statement of policy the Nazi

Farming Project Planned To Bring Relief To Jobless

PLANT CITY, Jan. 14.—The East Hillsborough Unemployed Relief Council moved last Thursday to work out a plan of more permanent relief and rehabilitation for needy persons and families in this section through the proposal of establishing a farming project which would have for its objective the production of staple crops which would aid in meeting the food problem of future months for the unemployed. The matter was presented to the council by Dr. C. T. Young, chairman of the work in East Hillsborough, at a meeting Thursday morning and received the approval of the council.

Declaring that unless something of a more permanent nature be done in this section a serious situation might develop here, Dr. Young outlined the proposal which it is believed will tend to place those in need on a more self-sustaining basis and at the same time tend to weed out those who have shown a tendency to avoid work. The project is being provided through the unemployment agencies. In accordance with this plan J. G. Smith, superintendent of the county agricultural school here, M. E. Cone, assistant city manager, C. P. Wright, county agent, and Col. Phillip F. Murphy, head of the relief work in the county, planned to make a survey of lands available for cultivation in the city and perhaps in this vicinity. Following this survey the City Commission will be asked permission to use such city lands as are available for such a project. A committee composed of Commissioner A. R. Borine, W. C. Wells and G. R. Patten was named to put the matter before the Commission at a special meeting.

Under the plan proposed and approved Thursday, the farm project would be established along lines similar to those which have proven successful at Tampa. Unemployed labor would be used in the production of crops under the general supervision of Mr. Smith and Mr. Wright, but no crops would be produced in competition to those being produced by farmers in this section, the objective of these farming operations being to provide food for needy families and at the same time give effective employment to those employed under the relief agency.

Palatka Deputy To Resign When Asked

PALATKA, Jan. 14.—Denying rumors that he will not resign as county commissioner, W. J. Revels, recently appointed sheriff's deputy, yesterday stated that he would tender his resignation "just as soon as the committee could meet to name a successor."

Revels's resignation has not yet been made to the governor, he stated.

Meanwhile M. B. Cochrane, county Democratic executive committee chairman, announced yesterday that a meeting called for Jan. 11 to recommend a successor had been cancelled, when he learned that Revels had not yet resigned.

He told Okaloosa county officers, headed by Sheriff John Steele, that he took a pistol with him when called from his house. He said he returned fire at the attackers who drove away hurriedly in their automobile, and believes he hit one of them.

In addition to the buckshot wounds he suffered, the little finger of his left hand was torn off by one of the bullets.

Powell said there were several people in the car but he did not recognize any of them.

Man Wounded When Seen In Orange Grove

DAYTONA BEACH, Jan. 14.—William W. DeLoach, 40, of Halifax District hospital today with a broken leg as the result of an unsuccessful attempt to escape officers when caught Tuesday night "stealing oranges from Ganymede grove on Canal road. Steele's companion, Charlie Harrison, is being held in city jail. Steele was shot in the leg by Officer George Campbell after he had refused to stop when commanded. The .38 calibre bullet struck Steele in the leg, six inches above the knee, throwing him to his strike and causing him to fall. Dr. Joseph N. Fogarty examined Steele and said the fall probably broke his leg.

Plant City Ships Over One Million Pints Of Berries

PLANT CITY, Jan. 14.—Strawberry growers who marketed their berries in Plant City, Wednesday night had marketed their first million pint of berries for the current season and in return had received in excess of a hundred thousand dollars. The movement through Wednesday night out of here for the season was brought to 1,067,042 pints of berries for which growers had received an estimated return of approximately $111,587.75.

The movement out of Plant City the first half of the week was rather consistent as was also the price on the yard. Monday six express refrigerator cars were forwarded while on Tuesday seven and a freight car went out. Wednesday the carlot movement was six express refrigerator cars. Thursday is usually an off day and the price low, was somewhat off Friday with indications pointing to a 7 1/2 cent average for the week. Saturday the average for the two previous days. Monday the price was 8 1/4 cent strong, according to reports of buyers. The same was true on Tuesday with the price up a quarter of a cent. Some were of the belief that the average Tuesday rose close to 8 3/4 cents. Wednesday the average was generally conceded to be 8 1/2 cents the pint.

Each of the first three days of the week were marked by the forwarding in excess of one hundred thousand pints of berries, out of here and the return to growers for the three-day shipments totaled approximately thirty thousand dollars. Last Saturday, a week ago, proved to have been the biggest day of the season thus far when nearly 150,000 pints of berries were shipped in eight express refrigerator cars and a number of pony refrigerators.

Rain is still very much needed over the berry area and unless it is forthcoming soon, it is predicted that many patches will show a lull in production.

Solons Of Many States Seeking To Reduce Taxes

CHICAGO, Jan. 14.—An apparent desire to lighten the tax burden of the people without curtailing necessary governmental services or refusing necessary relief to the needy, prevails among the legislators of 43 states who are getting down to work this month, reports the American Legislator's Association, on the basis of inquiries received by its interstate legislative reference bureau.

"Legislators are eager for information as to how governmental economy can best be brought about," the association reported in a comprehensive survey recently.

day night "stealing oranges from Ganymede grove on Canal road. Steele's companion, Charlie Harrison, is being held in city jail. Steele was shot in the leg by Officer George Campbell after he had refused to stop when commanded. Fogarty examined Steele and said the fall probably broke his leg.

"and they inquire repeatedly concerning new forms of revenue and ways of recovering old taxes."

Early reports indicate that the question of county consolidation will receive consideration in 20 states. It has been pointed out that there are over 3000 counties in this country each with its own taxing and administrative machine, and that retrenchment and the elimination of duplicating services in small areas will afford an opportunity for economy.

"The sales tax has been widely discussed because of the increasing dissatisfaction with the real property tax—the sharp competition between the states and federal government over income and inheritance taxes—and the need for a stable source of revenue during a period of depression," the report said.

"Although there are conflicting differences of opinion on this subject, many legislators are looking to the consumption or sales tax as a revenue producer in many cases as a last resort. Many legislators will also consider income taxes in their efforts to balance the budget."

Following the lead of Wisconsin, legislatures of several states will consider state-wide systems of employment insurance, it was said. Legislation enabling counties, states and cities to qualify for federal aid is likely to have an important place on the dockets, it is indicated.

Pensacola Man Is Victim Of Ambush Attack In Evening

PENSACOLA, Jan. 14.—Although 18 buckshot took effect in his body, none was deep, and D. A. Powell, Crestview man, who was called from his home Tuesday night and shot, is expected to recover sufficiently in the next day or so to be discharged from Pensacola hospital.

Powell's unidentified assailants had not been arrested last night.

It was learned that Powell had been accused of giving information to federal prohibition agents, and was expecting an attack. He chief justified his refusal to cooperate with the government on the ground that it would mean "playing the part of ministers without the power," and declared that he will make no compromise with his political enemies.

"In the coming year we will be prepared to make sacrifices, to fight and rather die ourselves than to allow the Nazi movement to perish—a movement which constitutes Germany's sole remaining strength and hope for the future," he said.

Certainly the National Socialist party is in a bad way at present. The myth of the inevitability of its victory has been destroyed by the Reichstag elections in November, which brought the loss of 2,000,000 votes and thirty-five seats in the Chamber to a party which ever since 1928 had gone from victory to victory. In every by-election in the cities and rural districts since then the Nazi poll continued to drop. Furthermore the strain of repeated elections resulted in a heavy drain on the party finances. Eloquent evidence of this fact is the sight of brown-shirted storm troopers standing on the street corners begging for coppers in every city in Germany.
