It is planned to reach all the people white and black in the Conference and thus making the meetings as far reaching as possible. Dr. Rodgers, director of the conference, is delighted with the prospects and predicts a spiritual awakening such as Sanford has not experienced for a long while.

Dr. Ostrom spoke yesterday afternoon on the "Authority of the Bible." Dr. Guille spoke on "The Gospel." Beginning today Dr. Guille will speak on the Book of Hebrews, and Dr. Ostrom will speak on "The Re-Discovery of the Church."

The music, which is one of the features of the meetings is under the direction of Prof. Boyd, of the Sanford Methodist church. A large chorus made up of singers from the choirs of the city will sing each evening at 7:30.

Dr. Rodgers, director, and the pastors of the local churches co-operating, urge all the people of Sanford to take advantage of these opportunities to hear the Bible message.

SERVICE IN RESTAURANTS MUST BE OBSERVED SAYS TAMPA OFFICER

(By The Associated Press) TAMPA, Jan. 10.—Service is an essential ingredient of fried-trout and French-fried potatoes, according to Police Lieut. J. E. Carter, and a person failing to receive it is entirely justified in leaving the food on the table unpaid for.

A man was brought before Lieut. Carter, recently on complaint of a local restaurant proprietor, that when he came from the kitchen with the trout and potatoes the customer had gone. The customer explained that his appetite had waxed sharp as he waited at the table to see the proprietor in the dual role of patrons in the restaurant to the chargin of the man who desired trout and potatoes he went upstairs to show a guest his room. He tired of waiting, the customer said, and went across the street to appease his appetite. He was quite right, Lieut. Carter said.

MOON LIGHT DANCE AT NEW PAVILION THURSDAY, JAN. 12

FINE MUSIC, BOAT RIDES, ETC., AND WILL BE GREAT EVENT

The Tourist and Convention Committee of the Sanford Chamber of Commerce has completed arrangements for the Moon-light Dance which will be held Thursday, January 12th, at the lakeside pavilion.

The proceeds from this dance will be used to pay the deficit on the pavilion and it is hoped that a large number of Sanford people will patronize this affair and assist the organization in making it a complete financial success.

The dance has been given wide publicity in adjoining counties and it is expected that a large number of visitors will be present.

An excellent dance orchestra has been engaged and as an added attraction, Captain Atkinson will take out those who desire it, for a moon-light ride on the Lake.

A moonlight dance is an innovation and being held so near the Lake at the time of the month when we have a full moon, should prove a great drawing card for those who are looking for something new in the way of diversions.

The price of admission will be 10c per couple per dance and the boat ride will cost to those desiring to view the beauties of Lake Monroe by moonlight, 25cents.

This is an opportunity for Sanford people to have a real good time at small expense, and those who do not dance will have the privilege of enjoying themselves in a way that has never been previously offered.

The dance begins at 9:00 o'clock or immediately after the band concert. Present arrangements are to have the band parade from Central Park to the pavilion. In the event that Thursday should prove stormy, the dance will be held the following evening.

Brown Will Visit Number Florida Cities Speak to Chambers

Of Commerce In Florida Representing The U. S. Chamber of Commerce

In response to an invitation from Florida Chambers of Commerce, Colvin B. Brown, of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, with headquarters at Washington, will visit twenty-five cities in Florida during January and February for the purpose of discussing local organization problems. Mr. Brown is an authority on the subject of commercial organization work.

The Chamber of Commerce of the United States is a federation of more than 1,400 business and industrial organizations. As head of its organization Service Bureau, Mr. Brown is a specialist in organization methods and activities. His efforts during the past five years have been directed toward assisting commercial bodies in strengthening their organizations.

The Organization Service Bureau is the repository of the most complete data with respect to organization methods. This information is distributed to commercial organizations through letters and the spoken word.

Years spent in studying the subject have qualified Mr. Brown to give expert advice with respect to activities that can successfully be undertaken, and those that should be avoided by business bodies.

In his visit to Florida chambers of commerce, Mr. Brown will confer with directors and committees on local organization problems, and then talk to the membership on organization and co-operation.

During the last five years, Mr. Brown has visited hundreds of organizations in the various states. He is known as the author of works on commercial organization. His publication, "Building and Maintaining a Local Chamber of Commerce" has been widely circulated. This publication is principally for the community which has no commercial organization and is endeavoring to establish one. It is of great value, however, to communities seeking to reorganize their chambers, and to those desiring to study the most approved methods in organization structure.

Mr. Brown visited the following cities in Florida: Quincy, Jan. 3; Tallahassee, Jan. 4; Lake City, Jan. 5; Gainesville, January 9 and Jacksonville today, January 10.

The balance of Mr. Brown's itinerary in Florida is as follows:
January 11.—St. Augustine.
January 12.—Daytona.
January 13.—New Smyrna.
January 16.—Fort Lauderdale.
January 17.—West Palm Beach.
January 18.—Melbourne.
January 19.—Titusville.
January 20.—Sanford.
January 23.—Orlando.
January 24.—Eustis.
January 25.—Montverde, afternoon; Clermont, evening.
January 26.—Leesburg.
January 27.—Ocala.
January 30.—Tarpon Springs.
January 31.—Clearwater.
February 1.—St. Petersburg.
February 2.—Bradentown.
February 3.—Wauchula.

By the First of February According to Plans of Promoters

A BIG PROPOSITION

WILL BE ABLE TO PRECOOL 12 TO 15 CARS DAILY OF SANFORD PRODUCTS

The new pre-cooling plant being erected here by the Sanford Farmer's Exchange is now seventy-five per cent completed, according to advice received from officials of this organization, and will be in operation by February 1st. The plant, when engaged to full capacity, will be able to pre-cool from 12 to 15 cars of produce daily. The cost of this project when completed will amount to over $135,000 and has been underwritten by the members of the exchange. The Sanford Farmers' Exchange is affiliated with the Florida Citrus Exchange and has amongst its membership a large number of the progressive growers of this section. Their action in this matter is sufficient testimony to the broad-minded, far sightedness in successfully promoting a project which will eventually place the growing of produce on a substantial basis as will be found in those sections of the west where the pre-cooling of fruits and vegetables has proven to be a remunerative proposition.

The present system in vogue in this section is to load cars with produce, whose latent heat has been accumulated in the field by that of the sun, bringing up the temperature of the car to such an extent that in a great many cases, decay occurs before shipment is started. Shipments of perishables are presumably re-iced at different points, but in the event that, through oversight or any other cause, the shipment goes through without being re-iced it arrives in the market in such a condition that the price offered for it will not pay the freight.

Practically all celery is washed, re-stripped and re-packed at destination and then re-shipped to various markets. New York and other large markets handle it this way, and the re-packed standardized Sanford product often finds its way back to Miami and other Florida cities. This accounts for the great difference in price paid the grower and that charged the consumer.

It is the intention of The Sanford Farmers' Exchange to strip, wash and pre-cool before shipment and ship a standardized brand to the markets, and obviously bring a greater return to the grower. Being pre-cooled will also insure the product from harm accruing from a failure to re-ice.

In fact it will eliminate the necessity for re-icing as pre-cooled shipments have gone forward to destination with but the original icing and have arrived in as good and some cases better condition than those which were re-iced along the road. The saving to the shipper in re-icing charges will amount to $40 per car. If the entire shipment of perishables from Sanford last season, amounting to over 5,000 cars, had been pre-cooled there would have been a saving of over $200,000 in re-icing charges.

The members of the Sanford Farmers' Exchange are to be congratulated upon their initiative in taking the preliminary steps to place the growing of produce in this section on a substantial basis and those growers, outside of the Exchange, who avail themselves of this system which guarantees placing their produce on the market in prime condition, will have cause to thank those who were responsible for promoting this project.

The success of pre-cooling, having been assured, the possibilities for profit in this business, has already appealed to outside investors, and the Sanford Chamber of Commerce has been advised that engineering and legal preliminaries are now being settled for the establishment of a sixty car plant at Sanford which is to be financed by New York capital.

OUR PUBLIC OFFICIALS

Attendance at the meetings of the county commissioners or the city commissioners or even the weekly luncheon of the governors of the Chamber of Commerce will convince anyone that officials working for no salary and devoting their time to city and county affairs are doing a great work and it is solely a work of love. These people give up many hours of their time every day for the good of the city and county. Take the county commissioners and the city commissioners and their long drawn out meetings in which they spend an hour or more over some little communication "taxpayer" or "pro bono publico" or some other prominent citizen and they sit and talk and try to get the best results for the prominent citizen or taxpayer and still do their duty toward their city and you wonder just why these gentlemen ever consented to take the position. A MATTER OF TIME IMPORTANCE TO FLORIDA.

The Fourth Southern Forestry congress will be held in Jackson, Mississippi, February 6th, 7th and 8th, 1922. While Florida leads all other states in production of naval stores, the quantity is getting smaller each year. There are hundreds of thousands of acres of cut over and idle lands which would be growing new crops of pine timber for future turpentine operations, for crate material and for lumber if the areas could be protected from fires which kill or stunt the little seedlings that come up voluntarily.

The Florida Development board hopes that there will be a large delegation from Florida at the congress, as the program will be very interesting and Florida needs more people with a vision and the inspiration to discuss this subject in every city and hamlet throughout the state.

W. B. Greely, chief, United States Forest Service has said: "The national importance of the forest resources of the South is well matched by their value to the Southern States themselves. Consider for a moment the vast quantities of lumber which this region will need in the development of her agricultural lands and industries. Aside from the improvements of farms and construction of homes an abundant supply of timber and timber products is essential currently to highly developed agriculture."

"The greatest forest asset of the Southern states in the long run is the growing power of her vast acres of timber growing land, the rapidity of wood production in this region exceeds that of any other part of the United States. The economic progress of the South will be measured by the degree and extent to which the soil is profitably employed. The greatest danger confronting the Southern states today is that of idle lands."

"The first step in my judgment should be to create a public agency in each state to assume charge of her forest resources and furnish leadership in practical provisions for their future. The obvious second step is organized fire protection, or control, extended to all classes of forest lands whatever their present condition. The razorback hog should not escape its clutches in the long leaf pine sections of the South doubtless also in the other forest types."

NOTABLE SAYINGS OF "MARSE HENRY"

"I came out of the war like many of the young fellows of the south, a very picked bird, indeed. In order to escape tax humiliation of borrowing from a northern uncle, whose politics I did not approve, I went with my watch to an 'uncle' who had no politics at all and got $50 on it."

"I shall stay where I am. Office is not for me. Beginning in slavery to end with poverty, it is odious to my sense of freedom," Col. Watterson declared after a term in Congress and thereafter preached that an editor should not seek public office.

"Journalism is the art of knowing hell is going to break loose and having a man there to cover it."

"One of my boys."

"No man can write his best under alcoholic stimulation. What you call limited stimulation is apt to be generate into habitual stimulation, and thence into dropping the delinquent from the payroll. A clear brain, a full mind and an honest purpose are the essentials to good and useful writing, the only kind of writing that has any real value."

While convalescing from a previous illness he consented to read some advance obituaries of himself. His comments were characteristic:

"I am getting a foretaste of my own funeral—sitting upon the grave, as it were, and reading the obituaries—and grinning at the boys, but very

(Dispatch from Galva, Ill.) The following want ad. appeared in a local newspaper last week:

Strayed—Holstein heifer, about ten months old. Any information leading to her recovery will be rewarded by a good drink of whiskey. A. F. Deem, supervisor.

Next day Supervisor Deem was looking over a dozen heifers brought in by farmers all claiming to have found the lost animal. All were willing to swap a heifer for a drink. Deem finally located his heifer in the midst. It had been found by H. C. Sweet, who lives a short distance east of Galva. Sweet's wife objected to his collecting the reward.

to make poultry and dairy products carry current expenses.

I am going to start, this year, on a program that will enable me to own my own farm, free from encumbrance.

I'm not going to follow a one-crop system of farming; I'm going to raise my own feed and as much of my food as possible.

I'm going to have on my farm at least two milk cows, two brood sows, 75 purebred chickens, one-half acre of home orchard and garden and five stands of bees.

I will conserve the fertility of my soil by including a legume in my crop rotation, by returning manure and straw to the fields and by terracing my land wherever it is needed.

My farm and my home should have as many labor-saving devices as I can afford to buy. If life's worth living at all, it's worth living on a farm where barns and home are provided with modern conveniences. From this time on, I'm going to see that they get them.

SEVEN THOUSAND ACRES WILL BE DRAINED IN HALIFAX DISTRICT

(By The Associated Press)

PALATKA, Jan. 10.—Work is expected to be started in a few weeks on the drainage of 7,000 acres of land included in the Halifax drainage district, the contract for the work having been awarded the Florida Drainage and Construction Company of Palatka.

The company agreed to accept in payment for the project January 1. The drainage work is to be completed within 15 months under the terms of the contract.

The work will consist of the construction of a main canal 11 miles long, from Rose Bay to the Hill road, and two outlet canals, one extending from the hammock to the river and another extending from the main canal to the river. The two outlet canals already are in existence, but must be widened and deepened to suit the purpose for which they are intended. They are about one and one-half miles in length.

The main canal will vary in width from 116 feet at the bottom and the two outlet canals will be 26 feet wide at the bottom. They will vary in depth from three to seven feet, except where the canal crosses Ridgewood Avenue, at which point it will be from 12 to 15 feet deep.

Both of the canals to be used as outlet canals will be 26 feet wide at the bottom. They will vary in depth from three to seven feet, except where the canal crosses Ridgewood Avenue, at which point it will be from 12 to 15 feet deep.

Both of the canals to be used as outlets across the tracks of the Florida East Coast railroad and while the dredging work is in progress it will be necessary for the railroad work to detour at both points.

HURLEY DENIES HE MADE ANY PROMISES

WASHINGTON, Jan. 6.—Edward N. Hurley, of Chicago, former chairman of the shipping board, denied at the hearing yesterday by the board's claims commission of the case of the Tampa (Florida) Dock Company against the emergency fleet corporation, that, as alleged, at a meeting in Philadelphia he had predicted that the war would continue three to five years and had promised wooden ship builders sufficient contracts to reimburse them for their investment in yards. The meeting was in June, 1918. The Tampa Dock Company case is regarded as a test case involving about $6,000,000 in amortization claims made by wooden ship builders against the government.

Mr. Hurley testified he told the shipbuilders the government would treat them fairly in any readjustment of contracts that might be necessary, but he had no idea of committing the government to any obligations not set forth in the written contracts. The shipbuilders, he explained, were objecting to the form of their contracts and he merely assured them of fair treatment.

(By The Associated Press)
MIAMI, Jan. 7.—Mrs. J. R. Bryan, 73, said to be the only woman in the country who had two sons serve in the United States senate, died here today after a brief illness. She was the mother of former Senator Nathan P. Bryan, Florida, now judge of the fifth circuit court of appeals at New Orleans, and Senator William James Bryan, who took his seat in congress when thirty-one years of age, the youngest member ever to have occupied such position. William was appointed to fill a vacancy caused by the death of Senator Stephen R. Mallory and himself died within a year after taking office.

NEWSPAPERMAN TESTIFIES
HE HEARD SENATOR CLABO
ACCEPT A BRIBE OF $3,000

FRANKLIN, Tenn., Jan. 6.—Testimony regarding rumors of legislative corruption and of an effort to detect alleged bribery activities featured the beginning of State Senator E. N. Clabo's trial here today on a charge of accepting bribes.

Reese T. Amis, managing editor of the Nashville Tennessean, the first witness told of a conference held in his office with Speaker W. W. Bond of the senate, and others, when it was agreed that an effort would be made to detect alleged bribery activities in the legislature.

Sam. L. Felts, Nashville attorney, he said, took charge of the movement. The witness read from what he said was a memorandum of occurrences in an adjoining room, first of what sounded like a drinking party, and after the dispersal of members of it, of Felts' conversation with a man whom he addressed as "Senator Clabo" FFelts had said.

"I am giving you $300," and the reply was, "you can rely on me."

$100,000 WORTH OF LIQUOR IS SEIZED

NEW YORK, Jan. 7.—Prohibition agents today raided Jack's restaurant at Sixth avenue and 43rd street and hauled away nearly $100,000 worth of liquor in motor trucks. A large crowd of shoppers witnessed the raid.

The agents left a summons for the proprietor, John Dunston, some employees of the restaurant claimed that the liquor comprised his personal stock, kept in his home in the same building with his establishment.

Mr. Ulmer stated officers of the association anticipate the largest meeting in Orlando ever held by the organization.

All the judges in the state will be requested to recess their courts the week of the meeting so as to permit a large attendance by practicing attorneys. The program of the meeting will be announced later. A number of jurists of national reputation will address the gathering.

It was decided by the council that the Bar association continue its efforts to pass the bill to regulate the bar which was approved at the last annual convention. This bill it will be remembered was passed by the senate of Florida but was not reached by the house before adjournment because of the congested condition of the calendar. Every effort will be made to have this bill passed at the 1923 session of the legislature.

Members of the executive council of the state association include, Judge

BUNCH OF CLASSY ENTERTAINERS HERE TONIGHT

Among them all Joe Coburns Minstrels have established themselves as clean clever classy entertainers making quality and not quantity the keynote of popularity. And who does not enjoy a good minstrel show? From the big brass band and snappy parade, bright costumes, scenery, and raggy, jazzy dancing coons, splendid singing and vaudeville novelties to the closing numbers of old time darky and pickaninny fun, the snap and pep of something doing every minute serves to keep minstrel a strong favorite with the American public. "Come on boys, make it snappy," from rehearsals to the close of the season is "Coburns" constant spur to one and all in the company, and he gets results. He is one of the gang at all times except in business, there he, and they, must deliver the goods. This year's show, with everything new is said to be the best he has had. For over twenty years they have been coming each season with a bigger and better show, strong favorites in the seasons list of entertainers. They are billed for the Princess Theatre, Tuesday night, Jan. 10.

ROTARY CLUB LUNCHEON HAD GOOD ATTENDANCE

Sanford Rotary Club had a fine attendance today at the regular weekly luncheon and the boys are going after a record in January attendance. At the luncheon today Randall Chaso was welcomed as the newest member and D. L. Thrasher, in a fine five minutes talk gave him an outline of what Rotary really meant. Randall replied in like spirit and the meeting was most interesting from start to finish. President Harry Stevens admonished the various committees that he expected big things from them and especially the entertainment committee for next Tuesday night which will be "ladies night" and some of the new members will probably find out more about Rotary than they have ever dreamed for the fun will be hot and heavy. There will be all kinds of stunts at that time and a general good time will be furnished by the stunt committee.

SHOES ARE SELLING MERCHANTS REPORT GOOD BUSINESS

Shoes are selling just now in Sanford as never before so reports from Thrasher & Garner and Lloyd's Shoe Stores—both of these firms putting on special sales—reported today to the Commercial reporter of the Daily Herald. S. M. Lloyd said that he had been most agreeably surprised at the excellent returns of his special shoe sale as he had been told that business would be dull after the first of the year for a few weeks. The way to cut out dull seasons is to go after the business with special sales and all the stores that are putting on sales this week reports a fine trade.

THE WEATHER

For Florida: Unsettled with probably local rains tonight and Wednesday; warmer in the Northeast portion tonight.

SANFORD'S TEMPERATURE

Down to 60 last night and nice weather at that. It looked like a heavy fog for Charlie Gano and Joe Coburn to plod through in the parade today but their advance agent swept the clouds away and the bass drum will sound as clear as ever. Big doings today. Court opens, Coburn's Minstrels here and Percy Mero gets married. Where there's life there's hope so don't forget to subscribe for the Daily Herald:

CHARLEY GANO BUSTED BUT NOT LITERALLY ONLY IN JOKING WAY

"Joe" Coburn owner of Coburns Minstrels in an enthusiastic angler of the finny tribe as for entertainers and novelties in his company, believes Florida is the ideal State and delights to display to friends the beautiful drives and world renowned beach at his home, Daytona as well as motor along the Halifax and other streams where fishing is excellent. Charlie Gano with a party of friends were off for a days fishing with "Cobe" the past summer and among other good things in the lunch baskets was some home made pie. Gano is not strong for fishing but is long on pie. After his third piece Cobe said, "Charlie if you eat any more pie you'll sure bust man." "All right, pass the pie and get out of the way" was the comical reply. Its evident he did not "bust" however as he is coming to the Princess Theatre on Tuesday, January 10th.

PRESBYTERIAN C. E. NOTES

Christian Endeavor was led Sunday night, January 8th, by Anna DuBose. All Endeavorers present enjoyed the earnest and helpful talk of Dr. Guille. Dr. Guille is one of the speakers of the Bible Conference held under the auspices of the Ministers Association of Sanford during this week at the Presbyterian church. C. E. is having some splendid meetings, so don't miss them.

Christian Endeavor was founded by Dr. Francis E. Clark, in the Williston Congregational Church, Portland, Me. February 2, 1881. When Dr. Clark started this Christian Endeavor he had no thought of this movement ever being used outside of that one church but during the forty-one years of its growth it has spread to eighty-seven denominations with 80,000 societies and 4,000,000 members.

The Presbyterian C. E. of Sanford is doing its bit in this Christian Endeavor movement. If you do not belong to some young peoples association of this city you are cordially invited to attend the Presbyterian C. E. Sunday night at 6:30 o'clock.

This is publicity month for Christian Endeavor in Dixie. Watch for posters, bulletins and news items during the month of January.

SMITH BROTHERS BUY THE LEFFLER BUILDING

Smith Brothers, the well known firm of furniture dealers, have purchased the old Leffler building at the foot of First street from the Staten interests of Orlando and will remodel the building and occupy two of the store rooms for their rapidly increasing business and will make many changes in the first floor. On account of the fire ordinance they might tear off the entire second floor and make it a one-story building. Their plans are not complete but they will make the building much better than it is at present. Smith Brothers are among the new firms in the city but they are rapidly forging to the front and are doing a big business throughout Seminole and surrounding counties.

PUSSYFOOT JOHNSON WILL CLEAN ORLANDO

That William E. "Pussyfoot" Johnson will speak in Orlando Thursday evening, next, at 7:30 o'clock at the Methodist church, was announced this morning by representatives of the Law Enforcement League, a newly organized civic body of this city.

Details of the forthcoming lecture by the celebrated temperance advocate were made at a meeting of the Law Enforcement League held yesterday afternoon at the Baptist church.

It is openly stated by the representatives of the league, which is an outshoot of the Wesleyan Bible class, of the Methodist church, that "Pussyfoot" is being brought here as the inception of a movement to clean up this district of Florida, to start the ball rolling for an effective drive against the bootlegger and the shine maker.

Mr. Johnson it is anticipated will develop an active sentiment in the community looking toward this end.

He it was, it is declared, more than any other individual who put America in the "dry" column. Later he fought in England to establish the ground work of a prohibition movement, and lost an eye in a conflict following a meeting at which he stirred up the enmity of a group of college men. Lately he has been in India. Just now he is speaking on the chautauqua platform.—Reporter-Star.
