All 'Go' For Downtown Redevelopment Project

With all apparent legal obstacles removed, the Sanford City Commission voted unanimously Tuesday night to approve the redevelopment and beautification project for downtown Sanford.

"Why not start the thing and get it in the making?" said Mayor Lee P. Moore. The redevelopment plans have been discussed for five years and it is time to take action, he said.

Commissioner Eddie Keith agreed, saying there was no reason for the commission not to start the project.

The commission voted to start the redevelopment plans anew after the city attorney, William Colbert, said that there were no suits filed against the city's redevelopment and beautification project.

George Algernon Speer, a Sanford attorney who has opposed the project and filed suits to halt the city's plans, said earlier this year he would carry his objection to the U.S. Supreme Court if necessary.

Speer, doing research at his law office today, was unavailable for comment, according to his secretary. He made his Supreme Court threat in April after the Fifth District Court of Appeal in Daytona Beach upheld the wishes of redevelopment proponents.

The original plans for the redevelopment and beautification called for widening the sidewalks in the downtown area, constructing planters for flowers at designated areas, resurfacing streets, installing new street lights and closing a one-block section of Magnolia Avenue to vehicular traffic to create a pedestrian mall.

Speer said on previous occasions that he would oppose the plan because the city was going to spend $250,000 for the "non-public purpose" of helping downtown merchants. Speer said he thought the project was unconstitutional and his legal maneuvers have halted the project for more than two years.

In other action Tuesday, the commission:

- Discussed the rebuilding of United Solvents of America, Inc. The firm's 44,000 square foot building was destroyed by fire in October. At issue was whether the business, which was a condition use in the zoning it was located, can be rebuilt as a business with a conditional use or because of the extent of destruction, does the business have to re-apply for conditional use status. According to the city manager, the conditional use status of the business in the zoning was imposed after the plant was in operation. The point of discussion was a Sanford ordinance stating that if 60 percent of a business is destroyed, the conditional use status is void.

The matter will go to the Planning and Zoning Commission.

- Approved an appeal to reconsider a denial of conditional use made by the Planning and Zoning Commission not to allow a one duplex residence on a portion of property lying between Maple and French avenues between 20th and 22nd Streets was passed by a vote of 4-1 with Commissioner Milton E. Smith voting nay. The developer can now proceed with the building of the conditional use residential unit in the commercially zoned area if he meets other city requirements.
- Noted that Lake Mary now has 1,226 water connections though the city is only approved to have 1,057. Item was discussed though no action taken because of the current water crisis and the willingness of Lake Mary officials to assist Sanford in its problem.

Both boys are students at Pinecrest Elementary School. Items left at Salvation Army pick-up points are supposed to be deposited in the box, according to local corps commander, Captain Mike Waters. He said if items are too large or the box is full, call local Salvation Army headquarters for pick-up.

Crisis Official

Sanford Turns To State With EDB-Water Woes

By Deane Jordan
Herald Staff Writer

With three of 15 city wells contaminated by potentially dangerous levels of a suspected cancer-causing agent and three other wells expected to be determined contaminated, the Sanford City Commission formally declared a state of emergency Tuesday night, passed measures to curtail water consumption within the city, and asked the state for aid.

City Manager W.E. "Pete" Knowles told the commission so little is known about handling water contaminated with EDB (Ethylene dibromide, a pesticide) that Sanford may be forced into "pioneering" new methods.

While the city commission approved a letter to Gov. Bob Graham requesting the state immediately provide the city with an experimental filter to pilot test its effectiveness in removing EDB, referring to state and federal agencies, Knowles said:

"We're getting a lot of sympathy but damn little action."

Following his remarks the commission unanimously agreed to impose a 60-day moratorium on new construction in the city and to issue a proclamation mandating the citizens of Sanford use less water.

The city's water production will be at one-third its normal capacity if three more wells are shut down, said assistant city manager Steve Harriett. Preliminary tests indicate three additional wells may be contaminated but the results will not be known until Thursday, Harriett said. That would bring the total number of wells with EDB contamination to six.

And there's no guarantee, the city manager said, that any new wells dug would be contamination free. He added that reports of local and state agencies providing Sanford citizens with an emergency supply of water when needed are inaccurate.

commissioners David Farr and Eddie Keith, attorney William Colbert and City Manager W. E. Knowles.

Conserve Water...

Sanford residents are directed to conserve water by using it only for cooking, drinking and hygiene during the water shortage emergency. Lawn and garden watering, car washing and like uses of water are prohibited.

The letter to Graham also requests the state immediately provide agency support to prepare permitting, testing, and activation of temporary water supply wells; coordinate efforts with the Department of Environmental Regulation on a means to remove EDB from a large water system; and to establish if the unacceptable level of EDB is actually an unsafe level of that chemical in a water system.

The proclamation directs the citizens of Sanford to "conserve water by using this resource only for essential processes such as drinking, cooking and hygiene..." Further, the directive states:

"...throughout the duration of this water shortage emergency, all watering of lawns and gardens, the watering of automobiles, etc., within the city of Sanford water shall be prohibited."

As an emergency measure, the ordinance, under state statute, did not have to go through the usual first and second reading, according to city attorney William Colbert. It took effect immediately with the commission having the authority to suspend the ordinance if and when the crisis passes or to extend the measure if needed.

Knowles said two city wells, which have not been used for 10 to 12 years, have been opened and water from them is undergoing testing for EDB with results expected Thursday. He said two other shut-down city wells will be opened and tested plus two new irrigation wells will also be investigated as to whether the water is uncontaminated.

Even if the four old wells and the two new ones can be used, said Knowles, they will not be a replacement for the three contaminated wells and the other three wells expected to be contaminated. He said they would only supplement the wells in use. The six troubled wells are located next to a golf course where EDB was used.

Knowles said the city's problem with well contamination by EDB is so acute, that the city is being forced into "pioneering" a solution which he said amounts to a gamble.

He explained that it was probable the chemical contamination was not coming from recent application to immediate surface areas but rather from chemical use perhaps "ten years ago or ten miles away."

If the underground water supply is contaminated, he said, then it would be possible for a new well to be contaminated and to date there isn't a proven filtering system to remove EDB from a large volume of water.

Knowles said the Environmental Protection Agency was not going to get involved with Sanford's EDB problem because "they're not sure what is a safe or unsafe level."

Sunshine Threatens Freeze-Damaged Crops

From Local and Wire Reports

Harvest crews raced against rising temperatures to salvage freeze-damaged citrus and other crops across Florida today and preliminary estimates put losses at $300 million.

In Seminole County loss estimates were to be made this afternoon. Bill Llewellyn, Multi-County Extension Agent in charge of commercial vegetable crops, and his team were scheduled to survey crop damage around the county today.

He said this morning that the extremely high temperatures today following on the heels of the severe freeze would accentuate the damage to citrus and cabbage. A few more warm days like this will cause the fruit to soften up and drop from the trees, he said.

Cabbage, the main vegetable crop in the county this time of year, was frozen solid for two days in a row and this will accentuate the flowering, seedling process, as well as making the heads vulnerable to plant diseases over which the farmer has no control, he said. Other crops such as pepper, eggplant, cucumbers, and squash were destroyed by the cold.

Citrus nipped by the freeze cannot be marketed fresh. But if it is picked before warm weather rots it, the fruit can be used by juice plants.

Another cold front was headed toward Florida, with freezing temperatures predicted in the northern tier of the citrus belt Thursday night.

The Florida Citrus Commission scheduled an emergency meeting and public hearing Thursday to consider an embargo on fresh citrus shipments to assure no freeze-damaged fruit gets into the hands of consumers.

Gov. Bob Graham eased weight restrictions on trucks hauling citrus and sugar cane to processing plants to help speed the salvage operation.

C.E. "Pete" Knight, director of the state Division of Fruit and Vegetable Inspection for the Department of Agriculture, said, "If the weather stays cool it would be the best thing that could happen."

"It's just like your refrigerator: If you've got some perishable vegetables and then put them in a hot room they spoil. The cool, dry weather helps hold down bacteria and spoilage."

Officials were hesitant to set monetary amounts on crop losses, but Earl Wells of Florida Citrus Mutual, said Florida orange growers face freeze losses that could equal those of Texas, California and Arizona combined.

Wells said the freeze may have cost Florida growers up to 27 million boxes of oranges.

Buffalo Propane Blast Kills 6; Injures 70

BUFFALO, N.Y. (UPI) — A spectacular propane explosion that killed six people, five of them firefighters, and left a twisted landscape of brick and blackened wood was being investigated today by officials who said owners of the building had no permit to store flammables.

At least 70 people were injured, several critically, in the blast at a warehouse and ensuing fire that also destroyed at least 10 nearby homes and a bakery supply store, ripping them apart like matchsticks. Five of the dead were firefighters who were checking a reported propane leak at the warehouse at about 8:30 p.m. Tuesday when the blast crumpled their fire truck like a tin toy.

They were identified as Michael Austin, 39, Michael Catanzaro, 37, Matthew Colpoys, 47, James Lickfield 43, and Anthony Wazkielewicz, 37.

Buffalo Fire Commissioner Fred Langdon said all other fire department personnel were accounted for, ruling out the possibility more firefighters were buried in the blast.

One civilian, Albert Arnold, was also killed in the explosion.

"It's like Vietnam all over again," said Erie County legislator Barry Robinson, a Vietnam veteran. "This is terrible, Jesus."

"It was amazing how anyone could have survived it," said Mayor James Griffin. "It was like Beirut. It's hard to explain unless you saw it."

NATION IN BRIEF

Jackson Reconsidering Plans For Trip To Syria

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Democratic presidential candidate Jesse Jackson, saying he has accomplished much of what he set out to do, is reconsidering his plans to fly to Syria today to seek release of captured U.S. airman Robert Goodman.

Jackson, who twice tried to reach President Reagan by telephone Tuesday, said he wanted Reagan to ask him personally not to go and said he probably would abide by such a request.

But earlier in the day, Reagan, who said he would be willing to talk to Jackson, made clear that he thought Jackson's trip was ill advised.

"I would like to have some better understanding of what is contemplated there because sometimes efforts of this kind can be counterproductive," Reagan said. "We are doing everything we can ... and it's possible that someone with the best of intentions could change the balance unfavorably."

Jackson said he did not plan to negotiate with the Syrians, only to carry a humanitarian plea for Goodman's release.

Maury Wills Arrested

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Maury Wills, the first baseball player to steal 100 bases in a major league season, has been accused by police of car theft.

The former All-Star shortstop was arrested Tuesday in a stolen car, and police seized a vial they said contained cocaine. Wills, 51, was booked for grand theft auto and freed after posting $1,500 bond pending a Jan. 6 hearing in Municipal Court.

Police said other charges could be filed following an investigation.

Capt. John Sparkenbach said officers spotted the car about 5 a.m. PST on the Harbor Freeway and grew suspicious when they saw a window had been rolled down, despite a driving rain.

WORLD IN BRIEF

Lebanese Army Denies Plans To Attack Shiites

BEIRUT, Lebanon (UPI) — The Lebanese army moved in tanks and troops to strengthen positions facing Shiite Muslim gunmen in the southern outskirts of Beirut, but government officials denied they planned to attack the Shiites.

The army bolstered its presence after renewed fighting broke another short-lived cease-fire Tuesday as the Shiite militias, which are fighting the Christian-dominated government, attempted to push out of their stronghold.

The U.S. Marines at Beirut airport, who man positions just south of the Shiite zone, spent 90 minutes in their bunkers after four shells smashed into the airport runway. The airport remained open, state-run Beirut radio said. No Marine casualties were reported.

Over Marine Bombing In Lebanon

Military Commanders Won't Be Disciplined

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Reagan, hoping to soften blows contained in a report critical of the security measures that preceded an attack on the Marines in Lebanon, has ruled out disciplinary action against U.S. military commanders.

Instead, Reagan said blame for the lack of preparedness at the Marines' base Oct. 23, when 241 Marines were killed by a terrorist explosion, lay with him.

"If there is to be blame," Reagan said Tuesday, "it properly rests here in this office and with this president. And I accept responsibility for the bad as well as the good."

The Pentagon delayed releasing the unclassified version of the 166-page report, compiled by the five-member commission headed by retired Adm. Robert Long, with little comment, saying only that they were waiting for a go-ahead from the White House.

Administration officials said the unclassified report was critical of the lack of safety precautions taken before the attack. They said the report recommended disciplinary action be taken against the officers, but the president decided against such a move.

Reagan spoke after reviewing the conclusions that blamed the entire military chain of command, including the commander in chief, for the suicide attack.

Reagan asserted state-supported terrorism is a new phenomenon and said, "I do not believe, therefore, the local commanders on the ground — men who have already suffered enough — should be punished for not fully comprehending the nature of today's terrorist threat."

Oviedo Woman Raped By Man She Met In Bar

A 26-year-old Oviedo woman reported that she was raped by a man she was driving home from a Winter Park bar around 2:15 a.m. today.

The woman told Seminole County sheriff's deputies that she met the man at Two Flights Up, Park Avenue, and left the bar with him and drove to a Tencoco station on State Road 434 where he bought two soft drinks.

The woman said she drove to the second dirt road off Lake Emma Road, north of Longwood Hills Road, Longwood, where the man stepped from the car and returned and hit the woman on the head with a soft drink bottle.

The woman was stunned by the blow, but was not unconscious. The man raped her and fled on foot, a sheriff's report said.

The woman drove to her home and reported the assault to the sheriff's department. Deputies said she returned to the scene of the rape with them and investigators found the soft drink bottle, a cigarette wrapper and cowboy-type boot prints.

The clerk at the Tencoco station said he recognized the suspect as a regular customer and would be able to identify the man.

OFFICER ASSAULTED

A Sanford resident who was involved in a domestic dispute faces charges of battery to a police officer and disorderly conduct after allegedly hitting a Sanford police officer, who had been called to calm the disturbance at 39 Lake Monroe Terrace.

Lynn Barnard Williams, 19, of 1211 W. 13th St., who was arrested at 3:23 a.m. Sunday posted a $5,000 bond and was released from the Seminole County jail.

THEFT ARREST

A Rochester, N.Y., man charged with grand theft auto is being held in the Seminole County jail in lieu of $5,000 bail.

Earl Sutton, 30, was arrested at 2:14 a.m. Sunday on U.S. Highway 17-92, Sanford, as he was leaving Church's restaurant.

A Sanford police officer who had spotted Sutton earlier in the day had run a check on the car he was driving and found that it had been reported stolen in New York, a police report said.

He was arrested by a second officer who recognized

A guard at the storage facility reported that in August the lock on Tanner's storage building appeared to have been tampered with, but the incident was not reported to either Tanner or the sheriff's department, a sheriff's report said. A suspect has been named in the case.

RING GONE

Karen Price-Williams, 23, of 119 Wayland Circle Sweetwater, Longwood, reported that a diamond ring valued at $600 disappeared from a dresser in her bedroom between 8 a.m. Friday and 10 a.m. Saturday. Ms. Price-Williams told sheriff's investigators that several workmen had been in her home when her ring disappeared, a sheriff's report said.

CAR STRIPPED

Two tires, the hood, an ignition coil and other parts valued at $613 were stripped from a car that was being repaired beside the home of owner William Allen Findley, 65, of 2481 Island Drive, Longwood. Findley reported to the sheriff's department that the items disappeared between Dec. 18 and 24.

U.S. Steel Closing Will Cost 15,000 Their Jobs

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — U.S. Steel Corp.'s decision to close or partially close 30 steel mills and mines at a loss of 15,000 jobs infuriated steelworkers but raised hopes on Wall Street that the firm's steel operations might finally crawl out of the red.

The No. 1 steelmaker announced Tuesday it will shut down all or part of 30 steel mills, iron ore and coal mines and other facilities, representing 16 percent of steelmaking capacity, by April 1984.

The closings will lead to a $1.2 billion pre-tax write-off and put more than 15,000 employees out of work, the company said.

U.S. Steel Chairman David Roderick said the closings were "unavoidable in light of global, economic and market conditions in steel."

The cutbacks — the worst since U.S. Steel shut down 13 facilities in 1979 — had been anticipated since fall, but their magnitude stunned some steelworkers.

But Wall Street experts said the closures were expected and probably overdue.

"It really makes sense to abandon those businesses," said David Healy, vice president and steel analyst for Drexel Burnham Lambert in New York.

"They're closing down uneconomical facilities — plants that really had no chance of paying for themselves," Healy said.

Scientists Hope 1984 Will See Breakthrough In AIDS Research

By Jan Ziegler
UPI Science Writer

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Nobody has come up with a cure for AIDS yet. Nobody knows what causes it. There is as yet no effective treatment. But researchers have some ideas.

They are looking increasingly at viruses. One group in particular is highly suspect, and some researchers have theorized another, more common virus — hepatitis — might also be involved as a carrier.

Health authorities discovered during the year AIDS was also around in Zaire, the Congo and other central African countries in 1979, about the same time it was described in the United States.

But they also hoped the grim new statistics would provide more clues for the arm of specialists investigating the disease at hospitals, universities and government research centers worldwide.

"Because of the intensity of our efforts, we hope that 1984 will be a breakthrough year in combating AIDS," Health and Human Services Secretary Margaret Heckler told United Press international.

As of Nov. 21, there had been 2,803 cases of Acquired Immune Deficiency reported to the national Centers for Disease Control in Atlanta. Of those victims, 1,146 died.

AIDS was reported in 32 other countries outside the United States, prompting the World Health Organization to convene an international meeting on the issue in November. Doctors at the meeting said the number of cases in Europe had doubled within a year.

Mrs. Heckler declared AIDS the agency's No. 1 priority, organized an inter-agency AIDS advisory committee and set up a hotline that she said has received more than 600,000 calls since July.

She said her agency planned to spend $48.2 million in fiscal 1984 on AIDS programs, including research at the CDC, National Institutes of Health and other agencies. HHS budgeted $25.1 million in 1983 and $5.3 million in 1982, she said.

AIDS knocks out the body's immune system, apparently by weakening disease-fighting cells called T-lymphocytes and causing abnormalities in B cells, which secrete antibodies. Victims fall prey to a number of ailments, including Kaposi's sarcoma, a soft tissue cancer, and Pneumocystis carinii pneumonia, a parasitic lung infection.

Researchers believe the disease is transmitted by intimate sexual contact and blood transfusions.

Those at high risk of contracting AIDS are homosexual men, hemophiliacs, Haitian immigrants and intravenous drug users. Spouses and infants of victims constitute a small number of the victims. Some victims have no apparent relation to high risk groups.

"The information increasingly over the past two years has pointed to an infectious agent, and that's reasonably solidly accepted now," said Dr. James Curran, head of the CDC's task force, in a telephone interview.

'Information increasingly ...has pointed to an infectious agent.'

"The suggestion that the disease is transmitted sexually and also perhaps through blood and blood products is more consistent with a virus and other types of infectious agents."

One suspect virus group is HTLV, or human T-cell leukemia virus, so-called because it can cause a type of leukemia in humans.

In May, the Harvard University School of Public Health, the National Cancer Institute and the Pasteur Institute in Paris reported they had found evidence of HTLV past infection in AIDS patients or those at high risk for the disease.

Researchers involved in the reports said HTLV virus is prevalent in the Caribbean, including Haiti, and Africa. It is apparently spread by intimate contact.

Gallo said his laboratory has continued to follow the HTLV trail since the reports in May and expects to present other findings soon.

Another theory is based on the similarity in the way AIDS and hepatitis B virus are transmitted. Both appear to spread the same way and affect largely the same groups of people.

A team from Duke University proposed AIDS might be caused by an agent — perhaps HTLV virus — carried by hepatitis B virus.

If this is true, the team wrote in a report in the British Journal The Lancet, "effective vaccination against hepatitis B might prevent or even eliminate AIDS."

Researchers from the CDC, NIH and Belgium recently found AIDS has been present in central Africa at least since 1979 and discovered it affected as many women as men. A similar pattern was found in Haitian victims, 25 to 30 percent of whom have been women.

Dr. Malcolm McDonald, a member of the Duke team that reported in Lancet, said this suggests there is a mode of transmission researchers haven't discovered yet.

"It's possible, it's fascinating to predict the next development might come out of Zaire," said Dr. David Durack, head of the infectious diseases division at Duke Medical Center and chief author of the report in Lancet.

Treatment of AIDS has presented a different problem. Lacking a cause, doctors have had to concentrate on the symptoms of the disease.

Some progress was reported in the use of interferon, a naturally occurring disease-fighting substance, and Interleukin-II, a substance produced naturally by the white blood cells of healthy people.

John Carlton, 68, left, and two Seminole firemen ponder over an old oil heater which scorched the interior of Carlton's four granddaughters' bedroom. Luckily, the children, ages 1 to 6, were not in the bedroom at the time. The heater, one of the firemen commented, was a very old model and probably not very safe.

Overtown A Year After The Riots

MIAMI (UPI) — A year after a white policeman fatally shot a young black man in a video game arcade — igniting three days of rioting — residents of the Overtown ghetto are divided when asked to assess their lot.

Some say the neighborhood where former Miami officer Luis Alvarez killed Nevell

Johnson Jr. a year ago today is improving in appearance, spirit and its rapport with the police force. Others say living conditions have deteriorated.

Johnson's shooting sparked looting and burning in which a looter was killed, 26 people were injured and more than a dozen businesses destroyed.

With Alvarez' manslaughter trial looming Jan. 3, the incident is anything but forgotten in Overtown.

Bill Perry, head of the Miami branch of Operation PUSH, said factors that lead to the black youths' rampage remain.

Loans

FmHA Reinstates Farmers' Economic Emergency Program

The Farmers Home Administration (FmHA) will resume making economic emergency loans by the beginning of next year, according to FmHA County Supervisor James E. Merrick.

They must show that they have tried unsuccessfully to get a loan from another source before coming to FmHA and that they can repay the loan over a period of time, depending on the use of the funds. The funds can be used to finance 1984 crop production, to refinance delinquent farm and family operating debts and related uses," Merrick said.

"Economic emergency loans are designed for farmers who are in a cost-price squeeze or face other financial difficulty beyond their control," Merrick said. "In other words, the loans are for a financial emergency rather than a natural disaster such as a drought or flood."

The interest rate for direct loans fluctuates with the cost to the government of borrowing money. The interest rates for guaranteed loans, which are made by commercial lenders and backed by the government, are negotiated between the borrower and the lender.

The economic emergency or "EE" program was in operation from 1978 to 1981. The program expired in 1981 but was later reauthorized by Congress. It is being reopened under an order by the U.S. district court in Washington, D.C.

Applications for economic emergency loans will be available at the FmHA county office located at Suite 3, 200 Commercial, Sanford, Florida 32771 or telephone 1-322-4251.

"Under the program, loans will be available to farmers who are suffering an economic emergency through no fault of

Obituary Or Renaissance?

Is nuclear power ready for an obituary? Plans for building 87 nuclear power plants have been canceled since 1975. Runaway costs and an unexpected flattening of demand for electricity have had disastrous financial consequences for some utilities heavily into nuclear power. A recent study by the Worldwatch Institute found that where capital investment in new plants is concerned, nuclear is far more expensive than plants burning either coal or oil.

But that is only part of the story. There is also good reason to regard nuclear power as something other than a dying industry or a technology that failed to live up to its expectations.

The amount of electricity generated worldwide by nuclear power will probably increase by 50 percent within the next two years. The 297 power reactors in 25 countries now represent 10 percent of the total generating capacity in the world, according to the International Atomic Energy Agency. Because so many plants are nearing completion, the nuclear share will rise to 15 percent by the end of 1985.

Even in the United States, which seems to have developed an allergy to nuclear development, the atom's contribution to our electrical output is sharply on the rise. The U.S. Energy Information Administration says the country is currently getting 12.6 percent of its power from nuclear plants, and completion of plants now under construction will increase this figure to 19 percent by 1990.

What is perhaps most significant in the energy statistics is that the cost of nuclear power stands up poorly against costs of power from coal and oil only when cost figures are drawn from the most recent plants to be built. In the longer perspective, including plants which were completed before inflation, safety problems and regulatory delays changed the economics of nuclear power, we see a different picture.

Once in operation, nuclear plants accumulate significant savings in fuel costs. This has been especially true since the price of oil made its spectacular jumps in the 1970s. In its 16 year history, Unit 1 of the San Onofre, Calif. plant has generated power at one-third the cost of power generated by fossil fuels.

Baltimore Gas & Electric Co. reported in 1981 that its Calvert Cliffs nuclear station had saved customers $1.3 billion over a six-year period. Arkansas Power & Light calculated a $167 million savings over eight years from its twin-unit nuclear station.

The U.S. Committee for Energy Awareness, a pro-nuclear lobbying organization, asserts that nuclear electricity over the last decade has saved American consumers at least $30 billion.

The committee estimates that the 77 nuclear stations which were operating in this country in 1982 saved between 44 billion and $11 billion, based on the cost of generating comparable power with coal or oil.

The outlook for nuclear power is confusing to say the least. Given the right circumstances, nuclear technology provides an efficient source of power without the environmental problems associated with burning coal or the necessity of importing oil from abroad. As a practical matter, however, it is doubtful that a public utility would order a new nuclear plant in the foreseeable future.

But how far is the foreseeable future?

A study by the U.S. Department of Energy (DOE) predicts that the current pause in planning for major new power plants will end in the late 1980s, and that circumstances may well point a resumption of orders for new nuclear plants at that time. There is no reason to believe that the present advantage which nuclear power enjoys over coal and oil in terms of fuel costs is going to change. By 1990, nuclear power may well look like the most efficient way to meet increased energy demand going into the new century.

The DOE study points out that in order for a nuclear renaissance to occur, the government and industry must work out regulatory reforms that would shorten the time for construction of plants, thus helping reduce their costs. Research must be directed toward standardized design and simplified safety systems. Rate-setting policies must be adapted to provide the capital needed for plants that may still be expensive to build but will bring a savings to utility customers in the long run.

Is nuclear power worth saving? Consider the problems arising over acid rain and the "greenhouse effect" which raise questions about the planet's ability to absorb continued burning of fossil fuels. Consider the likelihood that before the end of the decade the price of oil and natural gas will again be rising. Although we can now expect to be getting 19 percent of our electricity from nuclear power in 1990, when that year rolls around we may wish the figure were twice as high.

"My client had a deprived childhood, your honor. His parents didn't buy him a personal computer."

By Jane Casselberry

Here it is the end of the year and it seems just like yesterday when I resolved to be more organized and balance my checkbook, and keep track of all those receipts and things needed for my income tax return, get more exercise, wash my windows, and other stuff I never seemed to get around to.

Somehow it seems the years are getting half as long, but there are twice as many things to do.

Then all of a sudden here I am staring another new year in the face and 1984 events already clamoring to be included in the Calendar and to be written up for the Herald.

Beginning Jan. 4, Seminole Community College will offer a Nursing Assistant course leading to state certification. Classes will be held Monday through Friday 8 a.m. to 3 p.m. for eight weeks.

Cost of the course will be $50.

Nursing Assistants in Florida are now required to be certified by the Department of Education.

To register, go to the Admissions Office in the Administration Building. For more information call extension 282 at 323-1450.

A short specific Cardio Pulmonary Resuscitation (CPR) course will be offered in early February by Marion Eggers, American Red Cross certified instructor, at the Casselberry Senior Center, 200 N. Lake Triplet Drive, Casselberry. The Heimlich maneuver will also be included. Check with the center office for details.

Valerie Barber, manager of the center, says line dancing can be fun for senior citizens, especially when they can learn the steps to the Hully Gully, Alley Cat, and other old tunes. Florence Kelley is willing to get together with those interested in learning the steps either on Monday or Wednesday afternoons.

Call the center to express your preference if you are interested between 9:30 and 1:30 on week days at 831-9171.

The regular monthly dance to "Big Band" music with Pete Klein is scheduled for Saturday, Jan. 21 at the center.

The Seminole YMCA is seeking single parent mothers with children in kindergarten through second grade to participate in the Indian Braves program. Pattered after the popular Indian Guide and Princess programs, the braves seek to foster closer relationships between mothers and their children.

Activities include tribal ceremonies, camping, Christmas parades, canoeing and other special events. For information call the Y at 862-0444.

Vitamin C, Gum Disease

By Jan Ziegler

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Contrary to what some authorities suggest, researchers say large doses of vitamin C do not prevent or hinder periodontal disease, the major cause of tooth loss among American adults.

Although a deficiency of vitamin C — ascorbic acid — may contribute to periodontal disease, age, oral hygiene and general diet are far more important factors, University of Michigan researchers reported.

"Intake of ascorbic acid in amounts larger than those recommended by the dietary standards does not seem to be associated with better periodontal health," the researchers wrote in the December Journal of the American Dental Association.

"The results of this study also suggest that dental practitioners are better advised to concentrate on plaque control rather than vitamin C supplements to prevent and control periodontal disease in their patients."

According to the American Academy of Periodontology, the major cause of periodontal disease is plaque, a sticky mat of bacteria that collects on teeth every day.

The bacteria adhere to the teeth, continuing to multiply and accumulate. The first sign of periodontal disease is swelling, red or bleeding gums. The disease, if untreated, can progress deeper, destroying supporting tissue and bone that holds the teeth in place.

The only control for plaque currently available is removal — by brushing teeth, flossing and having teeth professionally cleaned.

The Michigan researchers said smaller studies in the past had shown only a shaky relationship between periodontal disease and ascorbic acid, but some authorities continued to recommend large doses of the vitamin to ward off the disease.

The Michigan study considered 8,609 people age 25 to 74. The participants were divided into groups who took vitamin C and other vitamin supplements, some who took no vitamin supplements and some who took only vitamins A, D, E, iron and calcium supplements.

Those in the non-supplement group who had vitamin C deficiencies were the only ones who had a slightly higher incidence of periodontal disease, the researchers said.

Those who had low vitamin C intake also tended to have low incomes, however. Low-income groups tend to visit dentists less frequently and take less care of their teeth, the report said. These factors could also be responsible for the increased incidence of periodontal disease.

The major problem with the study, the researchers said, was that there is no agreement on what constitutes a deficiency of vitamin C.

The Food and Nutrition Board of the National Academy of Sciences recommends 40 milligrams of vitamin C a day. The Food and Drug Administration recommends between 30 and 60.

Collecting War Trophies Is Fatal

WASHINGTON — This season is an appropriate time to give yourself and your loved ones the greatest gift of all — life itself — by asking your police department or nearest military base to check out any war souvenirs you may have in your home.

An astonishing number of supposed "duds" or practice rounds are actually explosive enough to kill you, your children and your neighbors.

This warning comes from the heart. My associate Dale Van Atta, his wife and two children lived in mortal danger for several months without knowing it. A cluster bomblet he brought back from Lebanon last year and stashed on a shelf in his garage turned out not to have been defused as he had thought.

If a fire or careless handling had detonated the live shell, it would have demolished his house and anyone in it. The 13-inch-long, bell-shaped Rockeye bomblet was armed with a "shape charge" designed to penetrate a foot of

JEFFREY HART

A Radical Proposal

I have a proposal to put forth that sounds startling at first, but the more you analyze it the better it looks.

President Reagan has the option of seizing the "peace" issue for himself, and swarming all over his Democratic opponent in the 1984 election.

My premise here is that the Soviet nuclear arsenal is the only thing that makes the USSR a "superpower."

That nation has no other characteristics of a superpower. It is an economic basket case. The Soviet Union manufactures nothing, except vodka and caviar, that anyone wants to buy. In the international marketplace, there is no Soviet automobile, camera, suit of clothes or piece of cheese. There is no Soviet Sorbonne, Oxford or MIT. The Soviets are not competing with Boeing for the international passenger jet market. The Soviets are a petroleum-exporting nation, but by the end of this century they will have to import oil.

Unlike the great powers of the past, England during the 19th century, for example, or the United States today, the Soviets do not have a political and social system that anyone admires. Almost nobody is emigrating to the Soviet Union. In what must be a first in human history, the Soviets shoot people who are trying to get out of their country. In contrast, so many people want to get into the United States that controlling our borders has become a major problem.

"Marxism" is dead as a political vision, except in some Third World backwaters — and on the American college campus, which may be the same thing. There is today no major European intellectual who is a "Marxist," and Soviet intellectuals do not believe in it either.

Strategically, the Soviets look at problems whenever they turn their gaze.

Their Eastern European empire is a mess, with nationalism boiling just under the surface. The real leaders of Poland are Lech Walesa and the Pope, not the pitiful military puppet with thick glasses who signs the laws.

To the south, the Soviets confront a bizarre Moslem upheaval in the form of the Ayatollah that threatens to spill across their borders. Afghanistan is a nightmare. In Asia, what are the odds that 100 years from now Siberia will not be Chinese?

Without their huge nuclear arsenal, the Soviets would not be a global power.

All right, suppose, say, next Easter, Reagan goes on television with a dramatic proposal. Both the United States and the USSR will reduce their arsenals to 10 nuclear warheads apiece, on mobile launchers, with international spot checks by an inspection team.

This proposal would address the "fate of the earth" concern. Even if all 20 warheads went off, it would not finish off the human race.

On the other hand, 10 warheads would be enough for deterrence. If the Japanese had possessed one nuclear warhead on a submarine in 1945, we would never have A-bombed Hiroshima and Nagasaki.

Moreover, 10 warheads would be enough to take care of the "Qaddafi" problem. If he got his hands on a bomb and blew up Boston, four or five bombs would settle Libya permanently.

But, what about Soviet "conventional" superiority? Their 40,000 tanks pointed at West Germany?

You do not need nuclear weapons to stop tanks.

The Israelis have proved that repeatedly in wars with Egypt and Syria. "Conventional" explosives today are enormously powerful, and a cruise missile with a conventional warhead would do very well against Soviet armor.

Here is Reagan's opportunity. He goes on television and offers the world a proposal that it cannot refuse. We and the Soviets go down to 10 warheads apiece.

The Soviets cannot accept it. To do so would reduce them to a declining regional power, not a global one. That is why the Soviets refused Eisenhower's "atoms for peace" proposals and his "open skies" offer.

But the fact of the Soviet refusal would clarify the nuclear issue with, as used to be said, the whole world watching.

Power In The Capital

By Steve Gerstel

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Howard Baker and John Tower between them have logged 40 years in the Senate, an impressive statistic for two Republicans who cracked the barriers against GOP statewide candidates in Tennessee and Texas.

But, with a congressional session to go, Baker and Tower have announced they will not seek re-election in 1984, aborting their Senate careers at a time when both are at the peak of their political powers.

Baker, as Senate majority leader, is the most influential Republican ensconced on Capitol Hill.

Only Sen. Paul Laxalt, through his personal friendship with President Reagan, even comes close.

And Tower, as chairman of both the Republican Policy Committee and the Armed Services Committee, is also power in the nation's capital.

What makes their decisions even stranger is that Baker and Tower are only 58, considered swaddling age in the Senate.

Sen. Strom Thurmond, R-S.C., will seek re-election although he is past 80, as did Sen. John Stennis, D-Miss., two years ago.

Clearly, neither Tower nor Baker are ready for a rocking chair. There must be new careers in their futures.

Baker, among other undertakings will launch a four-year campaign for the GOP presidential nomination, a goal which eluded him in 1980.

And he is almost certain to join a law firm, one which provides both money and time — money to recoup expenses incurred in political forays and time to move his campaign around the country.

Tower, who came from the classroom at Midwestern University, wants to return to Texas and eventually resume his teaching career.

But the vest pocket Texan, who is always impeccably dressed and brandishes a silver cigarette case, might be tempted by big-money offers sure to come from the defense industry. His name at the top would add luster to any corporation.

There is another post-Senate possibility for Baker and Tower, not mentioned so far, which hinges on Reagan running for re-election and winning a second term.

Despite Reagan's intense loyalty to those who serve him, there are bound to be some cabinet resignations at the start of term two.

There has been speculation that Secretary of State George Shultz wants to bow out after next year and return to the Bechtel Corp.

And Caspar Weinberger, the defense secretary with the huge appetite for money to feed the war machine, might be another to move.

If Shultz and Weinberger did step down, and there is no solid indication they have any such plans, Reagan should take a long, hard look at Baker and Tower.

Tower, by many accounts, was the initial choice for the Pentagon post but was eliminated by fears that a Democrat would win his seat in a special election and undercut the Republicans' fragile majority in the Senate.

capable of detonating with tragic results. Consider these examples from Army files.

— Earlier this month, two 8-year-old boys in San Diego were killed by the explosion of a World War II mortar round they found on an old Marine firing range.

— Four boys in Pittsburgh were killed when a missile they were playing with exploded. The parents had thought it was a practice round (which is no guarantee that something is harmless).

In Beach Grove, Ind., two 10-year-old boys were killed and five playmates wounded when one of them dropped a rifle grenade.

— In Colorado Springs an 11-year-old boy staggered into his home, his hands blown off and his body torn apart by grenade fragments. He cried, "Mommy, I'm dead!" — and died minutes later. He had pulled the pin on a grenade he thought was a toy.

— In Manitou Springs, Colo., an 8-year-old boy, his sister and two playmates were using a 37mm tank shell to punch a hole in a cardboard box. The shell exploded and killed the boy.

— In Great Falls, Mont., a 4-year-old girl was rummaging through a box in her home and dropped a supposedly empty mortar round on the floor. She was killed in the explosion.

A headline says it all: "Wanted for Murder — Explosive War Trophies that Kill and Injure our Children."

There are more than 800 Army explosive experts who will check out potentially deadly explosive devices in your home. Safe items will be returned to you.

All you have to do to make sure that the souvenir is safe is to call your local police department. They'll call in the Army experts. The service is free — but it could be the most precious gift you could ever give.

Experiments Proposed

Soviet Economy Posts Gains

MOSCOW (UPI) — Kremlin leaders, armed with encouraging statistics for 1983, meet this week to consider organizational changes that could lead to the most far-reaching set of economic experiments in Soviet history.

The 300 Central Committee members convene this week for a 2-day meeting Western analysts say will be devoted to improving the effectiveness of the economy, which registered 4.2 percent growth in industrial output this past year.

High on their list of priorities will be a set of economic experiments, proposed by President Yuri Andropov in August, to relax the rigid control of centralized planning. The reforms are set to begin Jan. 1 and their outcome could shape future economic policy.

"They will be attempting to change some attitudes and the atmosphere surrounding reform, lighting fires under people in terms of productivity," one Western diplomat said. "It's imperative they keep the momentum going."

Most high-level decisions are made by the Central Committee and then presented to the 1,500-member parliament, the Supreme Soviet, for approval. The Supreme Soviet convenes Wednesday.

Within weeks of taking power in November 1982, Andropov made it clear he would shake up the economy. He launched campaigns against the traditional targets of corruption and alcoholism.

Eleven-month figures for 1983 showed a 4.2 percent increase in industrial output, 1 percent more than expected, and a 3.6 percent growth in labor productivity.

The growth rates are a big improvement over 1982, when national income and industrial production grew at the lowest rate since World War II.

Consumption statistics are not in yet, but it is doubtful that Soviet citizens feel any wealthier. Shoppers still report a lack of consumer goods.

Western analysts say getting workers on the job, and sober, has been beneficial but that the improvement may be a short-time phenomenon due in part to favorable weather.

Deep-rooted changes in the unresponsive central planning system are needed to maintain economic growth, the Western analysts said.

Plans to give live ministries — heavy industry and transport machines, the electronics industry, food in the Ukraine, light industry in Byelorussia and local industry in Lithuania — greater say in deciding what is produced, how to use resources and to set prices could lay the groundwork for such deep-rooted changes.

The planned economic experiments are hotly debated. Recent newspaper articles indicate that although officials agree change is needed, no one is sure how it should be implemented.

The Soviet news agency Novosti made it clear what will not happen. "The Soviet Union will never replace its planned economic system by the market system," it said.

EDB-Tainted Food May Be In Stores For Months

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — A top Agriculture Department official says although the state has recalled food products tainted by EDB, it will be months before all of the products are taken out of food stores.

Vincent Giglio, director of inspections for the department, said the state has not inspected every retail outlet for EDB-tainted products and that it has no system to tell such stores which products should be removed.

The department has only 67 inspectors who are responsible for examining more than 13,000 stores statewide, he said. And stores checked before Agriculture Commissioner Doyle Conner's Dec. 9 recall may not be checked again for another three months.

Giglio said the inspectors also have other duties in addition to checking for EDB-contaminated products, such as checking the fat content of hamburger and the amount of water in which oysters are packed.

Conner has ordered three rounds of stop-sale orders involving 66 corn and wheat products since Dec. 9. Last week, a federal judge rejected a food producers' request that enforcement of the orders be delayed.

Conner said stores that have not been checked can learn what products need to be removed through the news media.

Giglio said he did not think the state's action on EDB had caused any unreasonable fears. Other state officials say there is no need for people who have eaten the EDB-tainted products to rush to a doctor, but they warn against consuming the products over a long period of time.

EDB has been found to cause cancer in laboratory rats.

Possible Abuse Prompts Study Of Forfeiture Law

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — Fears that some Florida police agencies are abusing the state's criminal forfeiture law to fatten their budgets have prompted the Florida Bar to begin studying the three-year-old statute.

Separate Bar panels are looking at both the use of the forfeiture law and the increasing number of so-called "reverse sting" operations.

Some defense lawyers contend that some police agencies are more interested in confiscating cash, boats and other property than in stopping crime.

Quadriplegic Loses Bid For Emergency Court Hearing

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Attorneys for a quadriplegic who wants to starve herself to death in the hospital lost an emergency appeal to the California Supreme Court to stop the forced feeding that is keeping her alive.

American Civil Liberties Union lawyers asked the state's highest court Tuesday to hear their appeal on an emergency basis, insisting an immediate decision was needed to prevent Elizabeth Bouvia from being discharged against her will from Riverside County General Hospital.

The state Supreme Court, based in San Francisco, transferred the petitions for relief to the state Court of Appeal in San Bernardino, saying there was no reason to bypass normal channels.

"She wants her lawyers to block her eviction from the hospital and prevent the hospital from further violating her rights," said Carol Sobel, associate director of the ACLU of Southern California.

Superior Court Judge John Hewa, who ruled this month that doctors did not have to cooperate with Mrs.

Bouvia's efforts to kill herself, last week issued a temporary restraining order directing the woman either to give up her fast or submit to forced feeding.

When she disobeyed his order by accepting only water for several days, doctors inserted an intravenous feeding tube last Thursday. She bit a hole in it that night and a foam restraint was placed on her arm. Sunday, the intravenous tube and the restraint were removed and a nasogastric tube was inserted into her stomach through her nose.

Ms. Sobel said the cerebral palsy victim was in no condition to be released from medical care and hospital officials — who had previously threatened to put her on the sidewalk if they found no other place to discharge her — said they would not release her if she did not have a place to go.

Dr. Hameeb Bacchus, Mrs. Bouvia's physician, said he hopes the woman could be released as early as today to another facility, such as a hospice, but noted she has refused offers to stay with friends or relatives and said she will not go to any facility that does not agree to allow her to die.

"I have never felt as abused as I have by this patient the past few days," Bacchus said. "She is really opposing us, very aggressively but in a passive way. She has not reciprocated our offers of kindness and friendship. We feel frustrated and abused."

ACLU attorney Andy Roth, meanwhile, complained that hospital officials do not have Mrs. Bouvia's best interests at heart.

"It seems to me their attitude now is to do everything they can to get Elizabeth Bouvia out of their hair," Roth said. "Since last week, we haven't heard much talk about preserving her life."

"They never made a serious effort to find a place to accept her before things heated up. Now their solution is to put a starving woman out on the streets — and that's just a solution to their problem."

Over Use Of Peat As Fuel

North Carolina Fishermen, Environmentalists Locked In Struggle

PLYMOUTH, N.C. (UPI) — Modern technology has been applied to tapping peat as an energy resource in electricity-generating plants in Ireland, Scandinavia and the Soviet Union. Why not in the United States?

Officials of Peat Methanol Associates say the resource is worth developing as a hedge against future oil shortages. They want to start in North Carolina.

Fishermen and environmentalists object. They say it would sacrifice coastal wildlife and waters to corporate development.

"We estimate there is as much peat (in the United States) as coal," said Robert W. Fri of Energy Transition Corp., which administers the PMA project in eastern North Carolina.

"So when the demand for synfuels grows, and it will, we will be in a position to go ahead and meet this need."

PMA officials predict their $540 million plant will provide 200,000 gallons of methanol a day for use in gasoline-alcohol fuel blends. After the acidic peat is stripped from the ground, they say thousands of acres of prime farmland will be uncovered where nothing but scrub brush and rattlesnakes now thrive.

North Carolina has substantial stocks of peat, most of it in low-lying coastal areas. A wet, brown fuel formed when plant matter decays in poorly drained conditions, peat has been used for heating and cooking for thousands of years.

Fishermen and conservationists contend, however, that peatlands will be stripped of wildlife and vegetation. They say mercury released from the mined peat and acidic fresh water will flow into the Albemarle and Pamlico sounds, killing North Carolina's multimillion dollar commercial fishing industry.

"This whole Pamlico-Albemarle sound area is our nursery area," said Hildred Golden, a Stumpy Point fisherman. "When you go to disturbing the peat, which is an accumulation over the years, and drain that out in the nursery areas, why it just keeps them from breeding and growing."

Opponents argue the project is not feasible in the current oil-glutted economy and never would have gotten off the ground without a letter of intent from the U.S. Synthetic Fuels Corp., promising PMA $465 million in methanol price supports and loan guarantees.

Some claim the project has received an unfair push because of the powerful men who are counted as its backers. CIA Director William Casey and four prominent Ford administration officials are investors in Energy Transition Corp. ETCO president Fri was acting administrator of the Environmental Protection Agency.

The average man could not have done it," said Wayne Braddy, a Belmont, N.C., fisherman. "But this peat mining started from the top and worked its way down. They got money, they got power ... and people have been getting out of their way."

Antitrust Immunity Helps Small Firms To Compete

BOSTON (UPI) — Small high-technology companies rarely have the capabilities to bid on larger government contracts, being unable to provide more than small parts of most projects.

A group of New England firms got around that problem this fall by promoting Attorney General William French Smith to invoke a virtually overlooked provision of the Small Business Act of 1958, allowing them to act together with antitrust immunity.

This month the Small Business Technology Group, a collection of eight small companies with about 500 employees and sales of $24 million between them, put in its first government contract bid since Smith approved their activities.

The Justice Department said the Small Business Technology Group was the first to be granted such immunity, as far as anyone could tell.

Anita Irick of the Small Business Administration in Washington said there has been increased interest in the concept since the New England group was approved, but none has actually applied for the same protection.

"There has been some inquiry from other companies involved in the same kind of joint thing. In fact, the agency had anticipated approving several others after the announcement. That hasn't come to fruition yet," she said.

The SBTG is run by Joanne Fitzgerald McCrea from her office at Pacer Systems Inc., one of the eight member companies.

Ms. McCrea said she and Pacer President Jack Reindle first became interested in forming a group of technology companies to bid particularly on Army and Air Force projects when they were delegates to a White House small business conference.

They thought Pacer, which is 15 years old, could be a central part of a technology cartel because of its ability to integrate products with one another.

"Initially we were discouraged by procurement lawyers who said there was too much (antitrust) liability for Pacer," she said. "What we uncovered was this mechanism in the law that takes away the concern."

Under the provision, the SBTG looks for business that its members would be interested in and then decides which should bid on the contracts. It administers contracts that are awarded and divides the profits among the participating companies.

Members of the group are eligible to bid on their own if they choose, and outside sub-contractors can be used if the SBTG wins a particular contract.

Pacer is the dominant partner in the group, a role Ms. McCrea said was important for someone to take. "They (the government) want to know who is going to stand up" if there are complications in a project.

Ms. McCrea won't say much about the group's first contract bid, what it concerns or which companies are involved.

Affair Triggers Fatal Shooting Of Hubby, 72

OAKLAND, Calif. (UPI) — A "sweet, sensitive" 70-year-old woman, described by a lawyer as upset by her husband's decade-long affair with another woman, is being held on charges she shot him to death on Christmas Day.

Creasie Woods was charged Tuesday with first degree murder in the death of her husband, Ben, 72. She was being held in the Oakland City Jail.

After spending most of Christmas Day at home alone, Mrs. Woods loaded the family's handgun and drove to the other woman's home at 10:20 p.m., police said. She began shooting at her husband of 22 years when he walked out of the house, police added.

"She's such a sweet, sensitive woman," said Jeanne Schumann, an attorney who interviewed Mrs. Woods at the jail.

Ms. Schumann said Mrs. Woods told her that she and her husband had been quarreling for at least a decade because of his off-and-on affair with a younger woman in the neighborhood.

Pulp Cap

Sometimes during the course of treating a tooth, the pulp tissue (which consists of connective tissue, nerves and blood vessels) can become exposed to environment of the mouth. This usually occurs when the decay has advanced far enough into the tooth to cause a direct opening to the pulp. In other words, the decay is too deep, or a deep seated old filling may cause the problem - or we may be dealing with a particularly large pulp.

However, the pulp tissue does have the ability to cause an injured tooth to heal if the afflicted area is treated with the proper medication, which is calcium hydroxide. The presence of the calcium hydroxide pulp cap stimulates the pulpal area to heal by developing a protective layer of tooth structure.

If the pulp cap is successful - and they generally are - then we will have no further problems. However, there is always a possibility that the procedure will not be successful. In this case, the tooth will lose its vitality and this loss of vitality is usually accompanied by a rather sharp toothache. It is also possible (but not probable) that the tooth will develop a root end abscess. It's a chance which we must take. The odds are way in our favor.

If run-and-gun is your style of basketball, don't miss tonight's 8 o'clock shootout between the Lake Howell Silver Hawks and Sanford's Fighting Seminoles in the semifinal round of the Lady Hawks Invitational at Lake Howell High.

Both teams used racehorse basketball to blow away opponents in Tuesday's opening round. Seminole, 9-1, notched its eighth straight victory by pulling a quick trigger on Merritt Island.

The Lady Seminoles shot out to a quick 18-4 first-quarter lead, then gunned down the Lady Mustangs with a 24-2 blitz in the second quarter en route to a 80-29 victory.

Lake Howell, 9-3, fired blanks for the first quarter and a half against Winter Park. Then the Johnson girls — Tammy and Mary — combined with 5-9 Christy Scott to scatter the Lady Wildcats in the third quarter for a 74-45 victory. Tammy Johnson, a senior guard, poured in 33 points to set a new school record.

Tonight's battle — the second in two weeks — should feature the same intensity which has marked these two teams' meetings over the past two years. Lake Howell won all three contests last year en route to a district title. Seminole took the only meeting this year, 79-77, when Dielre Hillery hit a 17-footer with 10 seconds to play for the game winner.

Hillery, who had her 10th straight double-double with 17 points and 15 rebounds against Merritt Island, is very much on the minds of Lake Howell coach Dennis Codrey and his Johnson hotshots.

"Dielre...Dielre," said Codrey. "That's who we have to control. She beat us last time (28 points). We'll mix up the defenses on her and see what we can do."

Mary Johnson agreed. "We didn't rebound very well last time and we let Dielre control the game," said the senior point guard. "We can't let her do that again and we can't get behind early again."

Catherine Anderson applies the defense. The Seminole sophomore had the best night of her career with 15 points, eight rebounds and four turnovers against Winter Park, but rectified it midway through the second quarter when Christy Scott, who ripped down 23 rebounds, took over the backboards.

"We're a much better team when Christy starts playing," said Codrey. "We played poorly early because of the (Christmas) break. Everybody did all day."

With four minutes to play, the Hawks led, 21-19. But as Scott took control, they ran off a 12-1 streak which pushed the margin to 33-20 with two minutes to play in the half. In third quarter, a string of Tammy Johnson breakaway layups sent the Parkers packing.

"I just stand back and wait for Mary to get it," said Tammy about the Lake Howell game plan.

Mary Johnson, who passed up several buckets of her own to feed her blonde-haired counterpart, said she has no problem with the benevolence. "As long as she (Tammy) makes them, I don't mind giving them to her," said Mary.

Johnson hit 14 of 18 floor shots and 5 of 8 free throws for her school-record outburst. Scott finished with 12 points. Her 23 boards were just one shy of the school record.

Seminole, on the hand, wasted little time in disposing of hapless Merritt Island. Guards Mona Benton and Maxine Campbell made life rough for the Lady Mustang

Eagles Trip Rams; Lady Trojans Roll

By Chris Fister
Herald Sports Writer

Lake Mary's Lady Rams did what they wanted to do Tuesday against Orlando Edgewater's Lady Eagles, they made the Eagles play to their tempo. However, the Lady Rams didn't have the killer instinct Tuesday as Edgewater claimed a 44-36 victory over the cold-shooting Lady Rams in the opening round of the Lady Hawk Invitational at Lake Howell High.

"We did what we wanted, we slowed them down," Lake Mary coach Bill Moore said. "But, when we slowed them down, we fell asleep."

The Lady Rams, 3-5, go up against West Orange's Warriors in a loser's bracket game today at 2 p.m. while Edgewater, 10-0, takes on unbeaten Orlando Evans, 5-0, in a battle of the Metro Conference powers in tonight's first semi-final game at 6 p.m. Evans advanced via a 49-36 rout of West Orange on Tuesday.

Lake Mary came right out and established the tempo in the early going Tuesday, but, while Edgewater couldn't find the shooting touch, the Lady Rams couldn't find the handle on the ball. Lake Mary committed 11 turnovers in the first quarter as Edgewater took a 6-4 lead into the second.

Edgewater showed signs of coming around in the second quarter but couldn't take control of the game. Lake Mary received a big boost of the bench from Courtney Hall who did a good job on the boards and helped the Rams stay within striking distance, 18-15, at the end of the first half.

Hall led Lake Mary with five points in the first half while Tari Phillips poured in eight for Edgewater.

Andrea Fenning scored Lake Mary's first four points of the second quarter to keep the Lady Rams within three points, 22-19, but the Lady Eagles scored a couple quick baskets to take a 26-19 lead. Laura Glass hit one of two free throws for Lake Mary to cut it to 26-20, but it was the last point of the quarter for the Lady Rams.

In the last five minutes of the third quarter, Edgewater outscored Lake Mary, 6-0, to take a 12-point lead, 32-20, into the fourth. Edgewater maintained its 12-point lead until Lake Mary made its move with just over a minute left. The Lady Rams cut Edgewater's lead to six points, 40-34, with just 17 seconds left on a jumper by Lisa Gregory. Phillips came back to hit a layup for the Eagles with 13 seconds left to ice the victory for Edgewater.

Phillips took high-scoring honors with 14 points while Tris Bell added 10 for the Lady Eagles and Mary Joiner telled in eight. Gregory led Lake Mary with eight points and Hall added seven.

"Nobody played with any fire for us today," Moore said. "We're capable of playing with a team like Edgewater but we haven't played a good game yet this season."

The two teams that have won the Lady Hawk title the last five years, Edgewater (1978, '79 and '80) and Evans ('81 and '82) will battle for a spot in the finals opposite either Sanford Seminole or Lake Howell. Lake Howell won the first ever Lady Hawk tourney while Seminole was runnerup last year.

Like Edgewater Tuesday, Evans' Lady Trojans had a cold-shooting night. But, the Lady Trojans had a rather easy opponent in West Orange's Lady Warriors and came away with a 13-point victory after a surprisingly close first half.

Evans went up by as many as seven points in the first half, the last time at 21-14, but West Orange scored the last four points of the half to go in the lockerroom down by only three points, 21-18.

West Orange stayed relatively close until Evans' Cynthia Williams took matters into her own hands. Williams scored six of the Lady Trojans' last eight points of the third quarter, and 16 of her game-high 25 points in the second half, to lift Evans to a 11-point lead, 35-24, going into the fourth.

Evans kept padding its lead in the fourth quarter and went up by as much as 19 points midway through to sew up the victory and a place in tonight's semi-finals.

Behind Williams' game-high 25 points, Cassandra Cameron added 12 for the Lady Trojans. Traci Jones carried the offensive burden for West Orange as she poured in 24 of the Lady Warriors' 36 points.

Bucky Copeland-Inspired 'Seed' Is A Must To Read

I'm glad my wife gave me the book a week before Christmas. After reading The Seminole Seed — no, after devouring The Seminole Seed — I know that I would have wanted to have had this delightful experience as soon as possible.

I read a lot, and I have read almost everything written about tennis that has been published in the last 20 years, but I must admit that I not only read this book, but I got involved with this book.

I still think of the characters every day and visualize their lives and situations. I still play that final match of the story, over and over. I can still see the main character, Kirby Tree, hitting that old tennis ball up against a barn with a homemade racket.

I loved the story, and I would recommend that anyone that loves tennis or loves "God's Florida," run out and buy it.

The Seminole Seed is a fictitious story that takes place in Central Florida. It was written by Robert Newton Peck. The Seminole Seed is dedicated to Bucky Copeland. When Peck came to Central Florida to write the book, he searched for a young tennis professional to help him with the finer points of tennis.

He wanted someone raised in Florida, one who could play the game superbly, teach it expertly and enlighten the author. Bucky Copeland fit that description perfectly, and became the model for the hero of the book, Kirby Tree.

Though Bucky passed away before the book was completed, he was instrumental in its success and is there on each and every page.

The Seminole Seed is just simply a good book for those who love tennis and those who love Central Florida. It's fun to try and figure out who some of the characters in the book are and exactly where this story really took place.

For example, much of the story centers around a huge development and tennis club called Sweetgum Country Club — I wonder where that is? And, millionaire car dealer, Art Gossage, is chairman of the tennis committee. I wonder who Art Gossage, car dealer, is?

Norm Copeland is in the story as the coach of Rollins men's tennis team. I guess that's because he is the coach of Rollins tennis team. There are countless references to people and places that pop out at you and you say, I know who that is, or I know where that's at.

It's a great book and is made so much more meaningful for us all because Bucky was part of it. Do yourself a favor, read The Seminole Seed.

Mona Benton heads for another layup after stealing the ball from Terry Lane during Tuesday night's win over Merritt Island. Benton had six steals and six rebounds for the night.

Kelly Kicks Rams Past Seabreeze, 2-1

ORLANDO — "We won, but it wasn't pretty," said Lake Mary soccer coach Larry McCorkle after his Rams defeated Seabreeze, 2-1, in a first round game at the Pizza Hut Invitational High School Soccer Tournament Tuesday at Bishop Moore High School.

But when you've never beaten a team, looks is the last thing you're worried about, so McCorkle and his Rams relished Tuesday's win over the state-ranked Sand Crabs.

In other first day action, Orlando Evans defeated Lyman, 3-1, Orlando Edgewater upset Lake Brantley, 3-1, and Lake Howell slipped by Winter Park, 1-0, in overtime.

Seabreeze opened the scoring when Kennin Quick scored with less than four minutes gone in the game, but Lake Mary center-forward Don Kelly came back with two goals in the first half to put the Rams ahead to stay.

"Kelly played good," said McCorkle. "But not good for him. He missed a few goals that he should have had."

With the score tied 1-1, Kelly had four shots on goal without hitting paydirt. But with four seconds left in the first half, Kelly took the ball at midfield, dribbled down the right side, and poked in the winning goal.

"We played good ball in the first half but in the second half we just played jungle ball," McCorkle said. "We just didn't play skillfully."

This victory was a sweet one for the Rams. Seabreeze defeated them twice last year and was looking to protect its state ranking in this game. But the Rams would have no part of that as they came out aggressive and kept the pressure on all game.

"Part of the problem last year was that we were not aggressive enough. We lost a lot of games in the second half because of it," said McCorkle. In the Seabreeze game, the Rams were whistled often for fouls. So much for lack of aggressiveness.

Lake Howell won its game over Winter Park by winning the sudden death shootout on a goal by Steve Droze. Regulation time ended with a hard fought 0-0 tie.

The Silver Hawks had a chance to win the game in the first shootout when goalie Jeff Spraker got an outstretched hand on Derck Handy's shot to deflect the ball.

But with the score tied, 4-4, and a chance to win with a goal, Lake Howell's last penalty shot was blocked to force the sudden death.

Lyman outshot Evans, 17-12, but could manage only one goal in its loss to the Trojans. "We played decent ball but had a couple defensive breakdowns," said Greyhound coach Jim Buckman.

Gators Still 3-Point Favorite Despite 6-Year Victory Famine

JACKSONVILLE (UPI) — Don't tell the 11th-ranked Florida Gators they have the home-field advantage in Friday's Gator Bowl against 10th-ranked Iowa.

Jacksonville may be only 80 miles from Gainesville and nearly 1,000 miles from Iowa City, but Florida, which plays at least once a year in the Gator Bowl Stadium, hasn't won there since 1977.

The stadium annually hosts two college classics — the Florida-Georgia game, which Georgia has won the past six years, and the Gator Bowl, in which Florida was a 13-0 loser to Maryland in its last appearance in 1975.

Still, Florida, 8-2-1, is a three-point favorite over Iowa, 9-2, for their 8 p.m. EST clash.

It is the first game between the two teams and you have to figure the oddsmakers included the bowl location in their calculations.

Florida was paced this season by senior quarterback Wayne Peace, who threw for 2,079 yards and a Southeastern Conference second-best 7,206-yard career total. The Gators lost to No. 3 Auburn and to No. 7 Georgia. The tie was at Southern Cal in the second game of the season — a week after they handed No. 4 Miami its only loss of the season, 28-3.

Iowa's All-Big Ten junior quarterback Chuck Long threw for 2,434 yards despite missing the Hawkeyes' season-ending 61-10 romp over Minnesota and wound up ranked as the No. 2 passer in the nation behind

Gator Bowl

All-America Steve Young of Brigham Young. The Hawkeyes lost at fifth-ranked Illinois and at eighth-ranked Michigan.

The Hawkeyes, posting their best record since 1960, tuned up for their third straight bowl appearance by outscoring their last four opponents by an average of 39-8. If Iowa beats Florida, it would give the Hawkeyes their first 10-win year.

Hayden Fry, in his fifth season as Iowa coach, had the Hawkeyes in the Rose Bowl in 1981 and in the Peach Bowl in '82.

Iowa is only the second Big Ten team to play in the Gator Bowl. The other was Ohio

State in its 1978 loss to Clemson, the game in which Woody Hayes hit a Clemson player, leading to his later dismissal as coach of the Buckeyes.

Like Iowa, the Gators closed their regular season with a lopsided victory, beating Peach Bowl-bound Florida State 53-14.

The nationally televised Gator Bowl is expected to attract a crowd of about 82,000 (second only to the Rose Bowl) and shapes up as an offensive duel. Iowa, the Big Ten total offense and passing champion, averaged 34 points (No. 4 nationally) and 488 yards (No. 3) per game. Florida averaged 27 points and 398 yards per game.

6.1 per ca.ry), and junior tailback Lorenzo Hampton 465. For Iowa, senior Eddie Phillips and junior Owen Gill gained 740 and 715 yards, respectively, from the tailback position and senior fullback Norm Granger had 429 while averaging 6.9.

Peace's favorite target is senior wide receiver Dwayne Dixon, who caught 47 passes this season and 45 the previous one. Iowa senior split end Dave Moritz caught 50 passes for 912 passes in '83.

Florida, led by senior linebacker Wilber Marshall who will be the only All-America player in the game, had better defensive statistics, giving up 284 yards per game — No. 11 nationally and 59 yards less than Iowa. The Gators led the SEC in pass defense.

Murphy Leads Jax Past Cats — Two Houston Players Quit

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (UPI) — Wake Forest Coach Carl Tacy says his Demon Deacons will "have our work cut out for us" tonight against Jacksonville's Otis Smith and Ronnie Murphy in the championship of the Gator Bowl Basketball Tournament.

Wake Forest reached the championship by downing Auburn 76-67 Tuesday. Jacksonville's Murphy, a former standout at Oviedo High, sunk two high-pressure foul shots with 16 seconds left against Villanova's Wildcats, then dunked the ball on a steal for a 67-63 win.

Villanova, now 3-4, faces the 6-3 Auburn in the opener tonight. Jacksonville enters tonight's competition 4-3, while Wake Forest is 7-0.

"When you play in any tournament, the opening game is as important as anything you do," Tacy said Tuesday. "Tonight the bench gave us some help when we needed it. We made some poor judgments against their press, but we hit some big free throws when we needed them to keep the point spread the way it was."

"We'll have our work cut out for us against Jacksonville," he said. "They have excellent forwards in Otis Smith and Ronnie Murphy."

Smith came up with a game-high 24 for Jacksonville's Dolphins. Murphy had 16.

In the Auburn-Wake Forest match, the Demon Deacons jumped to a 13-6 lead, held a 31-24 halftime advantage and held the lead from there.

"Their quick start at the half was a big factor," said Auburn coach Sonny Smith. "They took the ball inside the Kenny Green ans a great player. I feel we were somewhat intimidated by (Anthony) Teachey."

Teachey, Wake Forest's second highest scorer, had 14 for the night Tuesday. Green was high man with 15.

HONOLULU (UPI) — Juniors Benny Anders and

College Basketball

Braxton Clark quit the Houston Cougars basketball team, forfeiting two more days in warm and sunny Hawaii to return to cold, icy Houston.

Anders and Clark booked a flight out of Hawaii and flew home late Monday before the Cougars were to play in the finals of the Chaminade Classic. The No. 3-ranked team, which was upset by Fresno State 68-61 Tuesday, was not scheduled to return home until today.

Coach Guy Lewis said Anders' action surprised him since the two had talked on Monday about the player's request to see more action. Anders and Clark have had less playing time as Lewis has played freshmen Ricky Winslow and Greg Anderson.

Anders, of Bernice, La., was averaging 7.3 points per game, fourth best on the team. He had not started since the Cougars' opening game.

Teammate Akeem Olajuwon, who did not score a point in the first half against Fresno State, was upset over the matter.

"We can't win the conference without Braxton or Benny, we just cannot," he said. "I just don't know what's going on. We need them coming off the bench."

He said while Anders packed to leave he complained about lack of playing time.

"He said he couldn't sit on the bench again for the third year and play just five minutes a game," Olajuwon said.

Clark, of San Francisco, led California Junior colleges with a 32-point average at DeAnza Junior College last season, but was scoring only 2.3 points per game for Houston.

guards, sophomore Catherine Anderson turned in a solid all-around game and Hillery, a 6-2 senior, cleaned up anything leftover.

"Anderson has really come along for us," said Merthle about his prize sophomore. "She was nervous earlier in the year, but she's become seasoned fast. She has a good outside shot, handles the ball good and plays good defense."

She did all three Tuesday. Johnson tossed in a career-high 15 points, grabbed eight rebounds and made three steals. Seminole, which also received nine boards from Sherri Carpenter and eight from Tammy Pringle, pounded the backboards for 69 rebounds.

Benton was at her best defensively, making six steals while adding 14 points. Campbell chipped in 10 points, eight rebounds, four assists and two steals. Andell Smith came off the bench to score 12 points. Gene Stallworth added seven rebounds.

Seminole used a series of streaks to blow the game wide open. After Beth Rogers scored to open the second quarter for Merritt Island, Sanford ran off the next 14 points, 11 by Hillery, to assume a 32-6 bulge.

Terry Lane came back with the Lady Mustangs' second bucket, but Seminole ran off nine more before Lane scored again to take a 42-10 advantage into intermission.

Turnovers helped seal Merritt Island's fate. Seminole forced 12 miscues in the opening period and 14 more in the second quarter.

UTEP Reaches Down, Survives

EL PASO, Texas (UPI) — The Miners had to reach way down for this one.

Two free throws by Frank Reynolds with six seconds left in the game gave 10th-ranked Texas-El Paso a 72-71 victory Tuesday night over No. 14 Michigan in the opener of the Sun Bowl tournament.

The Miners, 9-0, tonight will face Arizona, which defeated Texas Tech 51-49 in overtime.

"Our offense probably played a lot better than our defense," said UTEP coach Don Haskins. "We've got to make sure we come out play hard tomorrow night (Wednesday). Anybody can beat you on any given night."

Free throws almost cost UTEP the game. Leading 70-64 with 2:34 left in the game, the Miners missed the front ends of two bonus situations, allowing the Wolverines to catch up.

Michigan's Roy Tarpley had a chance to tie the score from the foul line with nine seconds left. He made the first shot but missed the second, and Reynolds got the rebound and was immediately fouled.

"We didn't shoot well," said Michigan coach William Freider. "We're a bigger ballclub, but we were out-rebounded. We made some very careless mistakes. Any time you play like that, you deserve to lose."

Texas-El Paso had five players in double figures, led by Dave Seitz and Juden Smith with 13 each. Michigan's Tim McCormick was high scorer with 20.

"Smith played his best game this year," said Haskins. "It was the kind of play he was doing before he got hurt last year."

College Basketball

The score was tied four times in the first half and the lead changed hands on 13 occasions. At the end of the half, the Miners led 37-34.

In the second half the Miners extended their lead to 59-50 with 7:53 left in the game on a layup by Reynolds. Michigan dropped to 8-1.

Eddie Smith scored three points in the final 53 seconds of overtime for Arizona.

In the ECAC Holiday Festival in New York, Brad Daugherty relieved All-Americans Michael Jordan and Sam Perkins of the scoring burden with 22 points to carry No. 2 North Carolina to a 74-61 victory over Iowa.

In the opener, Chris Mullin scored 19 points and No. 7 St. John's recovered from a stagnant first half to beat Fordham 56-52. St. John's made 11-of-12 shots from the floor in the second half. The Redmen will play the Tar Heels in the title game Thursday night.

In the Music City Invitation Tournament at Nashville, Tenn., Charlie Bradley scored 14 points in the second half to lead South Florida to a 73-47 victory over Texas A&M. In the nightcap, Phil Cox scored 20 points to lead Vanderbilt to a 69-52 triumph over cold-shooting Air Force.

In the Gator Bowl Tournament at Jacksonville, Fla., Kenny Green scored 15 points to lead No. 11 Wake Forest to a 76-67 victory over Auburn. Ronnie Murphy scored four points in the final 16 seconds to boost Jacksonville to a 67-63 victory over Villanova.

In the Golden Triangle Basketball Classic in Pittsburgh, George Allen scored all 14 of his points in the second half to lead Pitt to a 64-59 victory over cross-town rival Duquesne. Pitt will meet Illinois State tonight for the championship. Illinois State, sparked by Hank Conley's 16 points, overwhelmed Baylor 65-36 in the first game.

In the Milwaukee Classic, Kerry Trotter scored 17 points, Dwayne Johnson added 16 and Marquette shut down Joe Dumars, the nation's second-leading scorer, with a 69-55 rout of McNeese State. In the opener, Miami (Ohio) used Chuck Stahl's 17 points to race to a 34-11 halftime lead on its way to a easy 70-52 defeat of Davidson. The Redskins will meet Marquette, 6-3, in tonight's final.

Otis Jennings scored two free throws with a minute left in overtime to lead Washington State to a 55-53 victory over Portland and Oregon State, led by Charlie Sitton, rolled to a 33-15 halftime lead en route to a 61-42 victory over Boise State.

In the Rainbow Classic at Honolulu, Greg Hicks scored 17 points and reserve guard Crossett Speight led a pair of second-half scoring bursts that pushed Hawaii to an 84-79 victory over Holy Cross. In the opener of the eight-team tournament, Tennessee freshman guard Fred Jenkins scored 18 of his game-high 24 points in the second half to help the Vols' defeat previously unbeaten Navy 76-61.

Clippers End Road Losing Streak — Blues Win First OT Game Of Season

HOUSTON (UPI) — The San Diego Clippers, wandering nomads in search of a victory, found an oasis in Houston Tuesday night.

Having lost 29 straight games on the road, the Clippers finally won away from home with a 110-95 decision over the Rockets. Their previous road victory was Feb. 17 at Golden State.

The Clippers, however, are not about to break into song and dance.

"As far as the losing streak is concerned," said San Diego guard Norm Nixon, "I wouldn't care if we lost 41 on the road as long as we win at home and make the playoffs."

Nixon finished with 28 points (14-of-22 shooting) as did Terry Cummings, who also grabbed 19 rebounds. James Donaldson did a strong defensive job on Houston center Ralph Sampson, who was limited to 13 points and nine rebounds.

Pacers 115, Bucks 104

At Indianapolis, rookie center Steve Stipanovich scored 20 of his 24 points in the first half and the Pacers won two straight games for the first time in over a year.

Bullets 116, Nets 106

At Landover, Md., Jeff Ruland and Rick Mahorn scored 19 points each to power Washington. The Bullets have won five of their last six games.

Pistons 140, Trail Blazers 100

At Pontiac, Mich., John Long hit for 27 points and Kelly Tripucka added 25 to carry Detroit in a roll. Portland, down 70-52 at the half, was paced by Mychal Thompson's 19 points.

Hawks 112, Mavericks 109

At Atlanta, Dan Roundfield scored 18 of his 22 points in the second half and Dominique Wilkins finished with 23 for the Hawks. Atlanta forward Sly Williams suffered what appeared to be a broken right foot. Mark Aguirre led Dallas with 32 points.

Bulls 102, New York 98

At Chicago, rookie Ennis Whatley's 21 points sparked Chicago to its sixth consecutive victory, the Bulls' longest winning streak in three years. Ray Williams had 24 for the

Celtics 115, San Antonio 100
At San Antonio, Texas, Larry Bird scored 38 to power Boston. He hit 10-of-14 from the floor for 23 points in putting the Celtics up 62-45 at halftime. Robert Parish added 21 and Kevin McHale 20 for Boston.

76ers 112, Kings 109

At Kansas City, Mo., Bobby Jones made a 3-point play with two seconds left and Maurice Cheeks sank two free throws a second later as Philadelphia ran its winning streak to six.

Lakers 118, Nuggets 116

At Inglewood, Calif., Jamaal Wilkes hit a short jumper with five seconds left to carry Los Angeles. Denver's Kiki Vandeweghe, out the last four games with a bad back, had 34 points but missed at the buzzer. The Nuggets have lost nine of 10 games.

Jazz 111, Warriors 102

At Oakland, Calif., the Jazz won their second straight and fifth in a row on the road behind Darrell Griffith's 27 points and Mark Eaton's tough play in the middle. Adrian Dantley had 22 points to surpass Pete Maravich as Utah's all-time scoring leader.

EAST RUTHERFORD, N.J. (UPI) — The St. Louis Blues finally received some pay for working overtime.

Brian Sutter's 13th goal of the season, a 45-foot blast from past the faceoff circle at 2:25 of OT, gave the Blues a 5-4 comeback victory over the Devils.

It was St. Louis' first decision in five overtime games this season. New Jersey is 0-3-2 and has lost its last two games in overtime.

"Because this game was on the road and because we play Toronto at home for second place (Thursday), this win was ever so important for us," said Sutter, who beat goalie Glenn Resch high to the glove side.

"Bernie Federko was coming down the middle and he called for the puck," added Sutter. "As soon as he hollered, Resch moved over a little bit to cover Federko. When I shot, he was leaning the wrong way."

Bobby MacMillan scored three goals for New Jersey but late third-period scores by Joe Mullen and Doug Gilmour lifted the Blues to a 4-4 tie.

"We deserved a better fate," said Devils' coach Tom McVie. "Tonight we forechecked them well, we worked hard and I feel sorry for the guys because they worked so hard. Twice we couldn't get out of our own end and it cost us both times."

The Devils are 0-3-2 in overtime and 5-7-2 in their last 14 games.

"McVie's magic spell is not over," said McVie. "There never was any magic. It's spelled hard work, and that's what we have to do."

St. Louis took a 2-1 first period lead when Jack Carlson scored for the Blues at 7:28 and newly acquired Gary Paslawski followed at 17:53. MacMillan scored for New Jersey at 10:45.

MacMillan tied the score at 10:02 of the second period when he combined with Bridgman and Lever on a 3-1 break, beating St. Louis goalie Rick Heinz. At 13:15, Jan Ludvig tipped a point shot by Phil Russell past Heinz for a 3-2 New Jersey lead.

MacMillan completed his hat trick at 5:44 of the third period by picking up the rebound of shots by Joe Cirella and Ludwig and tapping the puck past Heinz.

St. Louis then got a goal from Joe Mullen on a power play. Gilmour tied it at 15:27 of the third period on a rebound.

St. Louis is 2-15 on the road.

Nordiques 7, Whalers 3

At Quebec, Randy Moller notched his first goal of the season and set up two others while Michel Goulet scored twice to help the Nordiques to their third straight victory. Hartford has a nine-game winless streak against Quebec.

Tax Time

4.5 Million IRS Packages Will Turn Up Soon

More than 4.5 million Florida taxpayers will soon be receiving their federal income tax packages, according to Merlin W. Heye, Internal Revenue Service district director for Florida.

Taxpayers will receive either the Form 1040 or Form 1040EZ and 1040A package, depending on which form they filed last year. The 1040EZ, containing only 11 lines to complete, is designed for single taxpayers who have no dependents, whose taxable income is less than $50,000, earned from wages, salaries and tips, and no more than $400 in interest. The 1983 Form 1040EZ contains the same information as last year, but the appearance of the form has changed in order for the form to be processed by optical character recognition (OCR) equipment. "This is a major technological advance for IRS. The OCR equipment can read and record up to 2,000 characters a second," Heye said.

The 1040A form may be used by any taxpayer with taxable income of less than $50,000 in wages, salaries, tips, unemployment compensation, interest or dividends. Two new lines have been added to this form for payments to an Individual Retirement Account and the Credit for Child or Dependent Care Expenses. It is a two-page form with a Schedule 1 attachment.

New IRS equipment 'can read and record up to 2,000 characters a second.'

Generally, as in previous years, the Form 1040 is for those taxpayers who itemize deductions or claim such tax credits as residential energy credit, investment credit and credit for the elderly.

Since filing their tax forms last year, some Floridians may have had a change in their tax status and need a different form than that received in the mail. Federal tax forms and schedules are available at most post offices, many banks and some public libraries. The most convenient way to obtain additional forms is by using the handy order blank in the tax forms package, or by calling the IRS toll-free tax forms number 1-800-241-3860.

The tax forms package received in the mail has a pre-addressed, peel-off label and a large, pre-addressed envelope which is useful to the taxpayer and to the IRS. "By using the label and envelope, the taxpayer can help to speed up the processing of the tax return, decrease the chance of errors and often receive a refund faster," Heye emphasized.

If the mailing label has incorrect information, such as a wrong address or Social Security number, the correction should be made directly on the label.

Each tax forms package contains complete instructions on the preparation of the form in the package. If additional information is needed on credits, deductions, exemptions or income, the IRS offers more than 100 free publications on these and many more subjects. These publications are also available by using the order form in the tax forms package or by calling the IRS.

There have been a number of changes to the forms this year because of recent tax legislation. Beginning in 1983, taxpayers can only deduct medical and dental expenses that are more than five percent of their adjusted gross income. Taxpayers can claim a deduction for non-business casualty and theft losses only if the total of the losses is more than ten percent of adjusted gross income.

The tax rate for all brackets has been reduced for 1983. "However, taxpayers do not need to compute this since the reduction is already built into the Tax Table and Tax Rate Schedules," Heye added.

Can't Beat It

Schaltee rolls over and plays dead to the delight of an audience at a Sanford flea market last week. Schaltee's trainer, Baptist Schreiber of St. Augustine, also brought a his monkey Peegy who does tricks and plays the drums. Schreiber is a native of Germany who came to this country in 1952. He had a trained animal act with Ringling Brothers Circus until he retired in 1962. He now puts on show to benefit children's charities.

Managers Make Switch At FP & L

Al Montgomery of St. Augustine, formerly manager of the Flagler operation of the Daytona District of Florida Power & Light Co., is serving as manager of the FP&L Sanford District until December, 1984.

He is replacing Bruce Berger, Sanford District manager, who is on special assignment for a year to work out of the Daytona District office on a budget project for the company.

Montgomery has been with FP&L for 15 years. Prior to his appointment to the Flagler office three years ago, he was customer service supervisor in St. Augustine. He is married and has two teenage children.

He is a Rotarian and is attending the Sanford Rotary Club luncheon meetings.

"I am gradually meeting folks," Montgomery said, "and I am looking forward to being here."

Only Size Of Loans Has Changed

After 40 years in the finance business, Les Trasher says all that has changed about making loans is the amount of money involved.

Trasher was discharged from the Navy after World War II ended and went to work for a finance company in Florence, Ala.

"Back then, most loans were $5 to $50," he said. "You'd borrow $5 and pay back $1.50 a week for four weeks." Trasher said it was easier to get the smaller loans.

"To borrow $5 all you had to do was get through the door. Of course, $5 was a lot of money. You could eat at a cafe for 15 cents, ride a cab for 20 cents. People were only making $7.50 a week."

The 66-year-old Trasher said he always tried to remember most people were honest and "the percentage of deadbeats was small."

The Duncans Mark 60th Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Grady L. (Myrtle) Duncan, 1120 Palmetto Ave., Sanford, were honored by their children, grandchildren and great grandchildren on their 60th wedding anniversary.

Friends and family of the couple met in Gainesville for a weekend celebration.

The Duncans were married Nov. 4, 1923 in Canon, Ga. They were both born in Franklin County in Northeast Georgia and have lived in Sanford since 1926.

The couple are the parents of three children, Margo Powers, Gainesville, and Peggy Conrad and Michael Duncan, both of Royston, Ga. They have six grandchildren and five great grandchildren.

Attending the celebration from Sanford were Duncan's brother and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. W. Hugh Duncan, and his sister and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. William Wray.

"We have been very happy in Sanford," Mrs. Duncan says. "We like to do the same things and enjoy being with people. We enjoy friends we made during the years." Mrs. Duncan was employed by Yowell's Department Store, Sanford, for 15 years.

Duncan was employed by the City of Sanford for 20 years in the building code department. Later, he traveled with National Forest Products. Today, he likes to fish, hunt and garden. Mrs. Duncan shares the secret of a happy, 60-year marriage: "You have to meet each other half way. You have to give and take."

Hosts Should Help Friends Have A Healthy New Year

DEAR READERS: Are you entertaining for the holidays? Whether you are having just a few friends over, or a houseful, if you plan to serve alcoholic beverages, here are a few timely suggestions:

Many folks (more than you think) prefer something non-alcoholic, so let your guests know that soft drinks, iced tea, fruit and vegetable juices are available, and give them a choice. (It's cheaper, too.)

Always serve something to nibble on with cocktails. (Food retards the flow of alcohol into the bloodstream.)

Don't serve alcoholic drinks in king-sized glasses. They hold too much.

Never "load" drinks or force "just one more" on anyone. That kind of generosity does no one a favor.

While wine (a favorite these days) tends to go down more easily, so people are apt to consume more wine than liquor, but be aware that wine is no less intoxicating. And don't sell beer short as an intoxicant, either.

Never offer a departing guest "one for the road." Stop serving alcohol well before the party is over, and bring out the coffee, tea and snacks. This is to allow the guests who have a buzz on time to sober up before they buzz off.

If a guest shows any signs of intoxication, do not let him drive home! Call a taxi or drive him home yourself. Or insist that he stay all night. (Better your sofa, or even your floor, than a hospital bed — or heaven forbid, the morgue.)

I want to emphatically state that everyone does not have the same tolerance level for alcohol, so the best rule to follow is: If you drink, don't drive, and if you drive, don't drink.

Have a happy, healthy, safe New Year. And if you're a host or hostess, help your friends to have one, too.

Dear Abby

DEAR ABBY: In a recent column dealing with burying pets, you noted that special arrangements could be made according to "religious preferences." Would you please tell me how I can determine the religion of my pet? I wouldn't want it observing Christmas when it should be celebrating Hanukkah.

EDGAR J. BURNS, PORT ORANGE, FLA.

DEAR MR. BURNS: Pets raised in a Christian home are assumed to be Christian. Pets raised in a Jewish home are assumed to be Jewish. I once knew a terrier in Sioux City, Iowa, named "Tex Lansburg" who refused to eat anything that wasn't kosher.

DEAR ABBY: You published a letter from a reader in Woodside, Calif., who insists that all fat people are gluttons, and there is no way a person can be overweight and healthy. Please give me equal time.

I am a woman who is and has been approximately 60 pounds overweight for years. I will be 70 next month and my blood pressure is the envy of my blender doctor. I am not gluttonous as most people assume when they see an overweight person.

Recent scientific studies have shown that a person who is 10 percent overweight will probably live longer than the person who is 10 percent underweight.

Doctors are now finding that excessive running and jogging can be damaging to one's internal organs as well as to the spine, hips and ankles.

I would like to hear from that reader again when he gets to be my age — if he makes it, that is. Sign me...

Chicken A Budget Booster

Frequently a good buy at the grocery store, chicken is a perennial winner at mealtime. Prices vary depending on which cut of chicken is purchased.

Boneless chicken breasts demand a premium price due to the extra labor involved in boning them. At the other end of the price scale are chicken quarters. Sometimes advertised at a lower price per pound than whole broiler-fryers, chicken quarters are an excellent buy.

Apple Stuffed Chicken Quarters is a unique recipe because it dresses up economical chicken quarters by teaming them with an easy apple raisin stuffing. Glazed to perfection with a spicy honey sauce, this chicken dish is simple to fix. Using an oven cooking bag keeps the chicken moist and tender and eliminates messy cleanup. The chicken bastes in the sauce and doesn't dry out in the bag. Crispy brown in appearance, the chicken quarters are an excellent choice for budget-watchers. With the addition of a vegetable, this meal is complete.

APPLE STUFFED CHICKEN QUARTERS
 2 tablespoons flour
 1 cup chicken broth
 2 to 3 pound broiler-fryer chicken, cut in quarters
 1 tablespoon vegetable oil
 2 cups herb-seasoned stuffing mix
 1 cup apple, cut in cubes
 1/4 cup raisins
 1/2 cup hot water
 3 tablespoons butter or margarine, melted
 1 apple, cored and cut in 4 rings
 1/4 cup honey
 1/2 teaspoon ground cinnamon
 1/4 teaspoon ground ginger
 1/4 teaspoon salt
 1/8 teaspoon garlic powder

Preheat oven to 350°F. Shake flour in large size (14"x20") oven cooking bag; place in 13x9x2-inch baking pan. Add chicken broth to bag; squeeze bag gently to blend. Saute chicken in oil until lightly browned on both sides; drain on paper towel. While chicken is browning combine stuffing mix, apple cubes, raisins, water and butter. Spoon 1/4 of the stuffing into 1/2 cup measure, pack tightly and mound on one apple ring. Repeat for each apple ring. Place stuffing mounds and apple rings in bag; top with chicken. Combine honey, cinnamon, ginger, salt and garlic powder. Spoon over chicken. Close bag with nylon tie; make 6 half-inch slits in top. Cook 45 minutes or until chicken is done. Immediately remove apple stuffing and chicken with large spatula. Stir sauce; strain and spoon over each serving. Makes 4 servings.

DILLY RICE SALAD
 3 cups cooked rice, cooled

1 can (15 ounces) red kidney beans, rinsed and drained
 1 medium carrot, chopped
 1/2 cup sliced celery
 1/4 cup thinly sliced green onions, including tops
 1/4 cup cider vinegar
 1/4 cup vegetable oil
 1 tablespoon sugar

Cheesecake Offers A Healthy Treat

A homemade cheesecake is a special dessert. And, every cheesecake can be about as special and diverse as the company you make them for.

Among the many variations on the classic cheesecake recipe, the Kraft Kitchens offer one that features the healthy combination of raisins and carrots in this suggestion for Carrot 'N Raisin Cheesecake.

With cream cheese in the recipe, you can be assured of a creamy, rich consistency. Let your friends know they're special by serving them the best of your cheesecake collection.

CARROT 'N RAISIN CHEESECAKE

- 1 cup graham cracker crumbs
- 3 tablespoons sugar
- 1/4 teaspoon cinnamon

3 tablespoons margarine, melted

- 3 8-oz. pkgs. cream cheese
- 1/2 cup sugar
- 1/2 cup flour
- 4 eggs
- 1/4 cup orange juice
- 1 cup finely shredded carrot
- 1/4 cup raisins
- 1/2 teaspoon ground nutmeg
- 1/4 teaspoon ground ginger

- 2 tablespoons orange juice
- Dash of salt
- 2 1/2 cups sifted powdered sugar
- 1/4 cup raisins

Combine crumbs, sugar, cinnamon and margarine; press onto bottom of 9-inch spring-form pan. Bake at 325°, 10 minutes.

Combine 2 1/2 packages softened cream cheese, sugar and 1/4 cup flour, mixing at medium speed on electric mixer until well blended. Add eggs, one at a time, mixing well after each addition. Blend in orange juice and combined carrot, raisins, remaining flour and spices. Pour over crust. Bake at 450°, 10 minutes. Reduce oven temperature to 250°; continue baking 55 minutes. Loosen cake from rim of pan. Cool before removing rim of pan.

Combine remaining cream cheese, juice and salt, mixing until well blended. Gradually add sugar, mixing well after each addition. Pour over cheesecake. Top with raisins.

The classic cheesecake recipe has numerous variations. For a healthy combination, raisins and carrots are added to this tempting recipe.

Tasty Pepper Boats

Macaroni and cheese is a familiar staple in many homes. It has many uses, as a salad, side dish or even a main entree. Here, the Kraft Kitchens suggest a tasty macaroni and cheese mixture in this recipe for Macaroni Pepper Boats.

By combining one package of macaroni and cheese dinner with cottage cheese, chopped onion, dill weed and pepper, you have an easy-to-make stuffing for green peppers. Just top it with whole wheat bread crumbs tossed with melted margarine and bake.

This recipe can also be made in the microwave oven for quicker preparation.

MACARONI PEPPER BOATS

- 3 large green peppers
- 1 7 1/2-oz. pkg. macaroni and cheese dinner
- 1 cup cottage cheese
- 1/4 cup chopped onion
- 1/2 teaspoon dill weed
- Dash of pepper
- 1/2 cup fresh whole-wheat bread crumbs
- 1 tablespoon margarine, melted

Cut peppers in half lengthwise to form boats; remove seeds. Cook in boiling salted water 3 minutes; drain. Place in baking dish. Prepare dinner as directed on package. Add cottage cheese, onion and seasonings; mix well. Fill peppers; top with crumbs tossed with margarine. Bake at 350°, 35 minutes. 6 servings.

Microwave: Cook peppers as directed. Microwave 3 cups water and 1/2 teaspoon salt in covered 2-quart casserole or bowl on High 7 to 9 minutes or until boiling. Add macaroni; stir. Microwave uncovered 8 to 9 minutes or until tender, stirring after 4 minutes. Drain. Add margarine, milk and the cheese sauce mix; mix well. Add cottage cheese, onion and seasonings; mix well. Continue as directed. Microwave 8 to 10 minutes, turning dish after 5 minutes.

BEEF FILLED MUSHROOMS

- 1 pound medium mushrooms
- 1 package (4 oz.) cookin' bag creamed chipped beef
- 1 teaspoon instant minced onion
- 1 package (3 oz.) cream cheese, softened
- 1/4 cup finely chopped almonds
- 1/4 cup Italian bread crumbs
- 1/2 teaspoon parsley flakes

Remove and chop stems from mushrooms. Remove creamed chipped beef from bag and place in medium microwave-safe bowl. Add mushroom stems and onion. Heat, covered, on HIGH 2 to 3 minutes or until creamed chipped beef is thawed. Stir in cream cheese, almonds and bread crumbs. Stuff cream cheese mixture in mushroom caps. On microwave-safe serving platter, arrange caps with larger caps toward the outside. Heat, covered, on HIGH 2 to 3 minutes or until hot, rotating plate once. Sprinkle parsley on top. Makes approximately 16 appetizers.

Schnapps add flavor to French toast topping

Host Easy Big Apple Brunch

There are two criteria for a successful New York Sunday brunch: simplicity and sophistication. This entertaining philosophy, which has served millions of Manhattanites well, travels perfectly anywhere. To tantalize your guests with the flavor of the Big Apple, the menu should be keyed to convenience, with one outstanding, festive dish that will draw rave reviews.

One idea that meets those requirements is Apple Barrel French Toast Topping, a savory blend of DeKuyper Apple Barrel Schnapps liqueur, butter, raisins and spices.

In this case, one luscious topping performs brilliantly with an array of bases — French toast, pancakes and waffles. Surround the Apple Barrel Topping with serving dishes filled with either fresh-made or purchased goodies which allows your guests to choose their entrée.

Ideal candidates for fill-ins on the brunch table include fresh fruits, a selection of cheeses and a platter of sausage, bacon and hot slices.

In addition to coffee, brunch calls for a light yet special beverage such as Big Apple Spritzer, which blends white wine with DeKuyper Apple Barrel Schnapps. Have a tray on the buffet table so that guests can help themselves.

Decorations for the affair should be low-key yet distinctive, with country-style objects setting the theme. Use lengths of calico fabric — in holiday colors — as table runners, with matching fabric basket liners for the French toast, pancakes and waffles. A basket of pine cones will make a wonderful centerpiece. Try a patchwork quilt as a cloth on a sidetable that can showcase an array of cookies in baskets for dessert.

The results will be a breezy and warm elegance that will be a welcome addition to holiday parties.

APPLE BARREL FRENCH TOAST TOPPING

- ¾ cup schnapps
- ½ cup golden raisins
- ¼ cup unsalted butter or margarine
- 2 tablespoons light brown sugar
- ¼ teaspoon ground cinnamon
- Dash ground nutmeg
- 1 tablespoon water
- 1½ teaspoons cornstarch

In a small saucepan combine schnapps, raisins, butter, sugar, cinnamon and nutmeg; bring to a boil. In a small cup, combine water and cornstarch; stir into mixture in saucepan; boil 1 minute until slightly thickened. Serve hot over French toast, pancakes, waffles or ice cream. Yield: About 1 cup.

BIG APPLE SPRITZER

- 2 cups white wine, chilled
- 1 cup schnapps
- Strips of lemon peel. Yield: 4 to 6 servings.

Low-Calorie Macaroni And Cheese

Enriched pasta is a healthy food and an integral part of diets throughout much of the world. Often we think of pasta dishes as being fattening. Five ounces of enriched pasta is a low 210 calories. It's the add-ons that increase the calories.

Here is a macaroni and cheese dish with 382 calories per portion. Helping cut calories is the use of skim milk and lower calorie cheese product slices.

SVELTE MACARONI AND CHEESE

- 2 cups elbow macaroni (8 ounces)
- 1 tablespoon salt
- 3 quarts boiling water
- 2 tablespoons butter or margarine
- ¼ cup slivered red pepper
- 2 tablespoons minced onion
- 2 tablespoons flour
- 2 cups skim milk
- 7 slices (about 7 ounces) sharp Cheddar flavor cheese product

Gradually add macaroni and salt to rapidly boiling water so water continues to boil. Cook, uncovered, stirring occasionally, until tender. Drain in colander.

While macaroni is cooking, melt butter in medium saucepan over low heat. Add red pepper and onion and cook, stirring frequently, until red pepper is just tender-crisp, 2 to 3 minutes. Stir in flour until smooth. Gradually add milk, stirring constantly, until well blended. Cook, stirring constantly, until mixture thickens and comes to a boil. Add cheese slices and cook and stir until cheese is melted. Stir into macaroni. Turn into a 2-quart casserole. Cover and bake at 375 degrees about 25 to 30 minutes. This kitchen-tested recipe makes 4 servings; 382 calories per serving.

Let Kids Bake 'Gold' Date Treats

Nutritional gold, that is. Dates are a good source of potassium, iron and niacin, low in fat and sodium and only 22 calories per date. They lend moistness and rich flavor to all kinds of dishes but do especially great things for cookies.

Baked in the oven or cooked in a skillet, cookies rate tops with the young crowd. A glass of milk and some energy producing date cookies will keep the youngsters bouncing.

No-Bake Skillet Cookies are even fun for the kids to make after school or on a rainy Saturday.

NO-BAKE SKILLET COOKIES

- 2 eggs, beaten
  - ¼ cup sugar
  - 1½ cup chopped Sun Giant dates
  - 1 teaspoon vanilla
  - 2 cups oven-toasted rice cereal or slightly crushed corn flakes or whole wheat flakes
  - Shredded or flaked coconut
- Mix together eggs, sugar and dates. Put into cold, lightly buttered skillet. Cook over low heat for 10 minutes, stirring constantly. Mixture will brown during cooking. Remove from heat and add vanilla. Blend in cereal. Shape into balls and coat with coconut. Cool on waxed paper. Makes 3 dozen.

CALIFORNIA DATE NUT BARS

- 5 eggs, separated
  - 1 cup sugar
  - 1 cup flour
  - 2 teaspoons baking powder
  - 1 cup chopped Sun Giant dates
  - 1 cup chopped blanched almonds
- Beat egg yolks until light, add sugar and beat thoroughly. Sift dry ingredients and add chopped dates and almonds. Mix well so dates and almonds are well coated. Add flour mixture to egg and sugar and mix well. Beat egg whites until stiff but not dry and fold into mixture. Pour into greased and floured 9 inch baking pan and bake for 30 minutes at 325°. Cool and top with sifted powdered sugar. Cut into bars and remove from pan.

DATE ORANGE DROPS

- 2¼ cups sifted all purpose flour
  - 1 teaspoon baking soda
  - ½ teaspoon salt
  - 1½ cups firmly packed brown sugar
  - 1 cup vegetable shortening
  - 2 beaten eggs
  - 1 teaspoon vanilla
  - 1 tablespoon fresh orange juice
  - 1 tablespoon grated orange rind
  - 1½ cups chopped Sun Giant dates
  - ¾ cup coarsely chopped nuts
- Sift together flour, soda and salt, set aside. Cream sugar and shortening until fluffy. Add eggs, vanilla, orange juice and rind and beat well. Add dry ingredients and mix well. Stir dates and nuts into cookie mixture. Drop by teaspoon, about 2 inches apart, on lightly greased cookie sheet. Bake in 375° oven for 8 to 10 minutes or until just golden in color. Makes about 4 dozen cookies.

One inexpensive beef round roast makes two meals, Spicy Skewered Beef and Dixie Beef Stew

Tangy Grapefruit Juice Tenderizes Cuts Of Beef

When you see a nice cut of beef in the market at a good price, think in terms of several delicious meals for two and beat the high cost of living. For example, one beef round, inexpensive and boneless, tenderized in marinades based on sparkling grapefruit juice from Florida, can yield three interesting meals for two.

Cut one-third of a 2 1/4 pound roast into one-inch cubes and marinate in grapefruit juice, soy sauce, salad oil, molasses and seasonings to make Spicy Skewered Beef. Broil for just 10 to 15 minutes for a sensational treat.

A completely different approach is used for the remaining meat. Dixie Beef Stew is marinated in garlic-spiced grapefruit juice which is then combined with brown sugar, vinegar and herbs and used to braise the meat gently with vegetables. The grapefruit juice from Florida breaks down much of the beef's fiber, so that cooking time is less. And, the one-pot dinner makes clean-up easy. The recipe makes four servings but since the stew freezes beautifully, leftovers will provide another thoroughly satisfying dinner when time is limited.

SPICY SKEWERED BEEF

- 1 cup grapefruit juice from Florida
- 2 tablespoons chopped scallions
- 2 tablespoons soy sauce
- 1 clove garlic, minced
- 2 teaspoons salad oil
- 2 teaspoons molasses
- 1 teaspoon ginger
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 3/4 pound beef round, cut in 1-inch cubes
- 1 green pepper, cut in 1-inch pieces
- 1 tomato, cut in 1-inch pieces
- 1 large onion, cut in 1-inch pieces

Combine first 8 ingredients in medium bowl; mix well. Add beef cubes; refrigerate overnight, turning beef once. Remove beef from marinade; string on skewers, alternating with green pepper, tomato and onion pieces. Brush beef and vegetables with marinade. Broil 10 to 15 minutes, turning to brown all sides. Baste with remaining marinade during broiling. Serve with hot cooked rice, if desired. Yield: 2 servings.

DIXIE BEEF STEW

- 1 cup grapefruit juice from Florida
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1 clove garlic, minced
- 1 1/2 pounds beef round, cut in 1-inch cubes
- 2 tablespoons salad oil
- 1 large green pepper, cut up
- 1 large onion, sliced
- 1 cup chopped fresh tomato
- 2 tablespoons brown sugar
- 1 tablespoon red wine vinegar
- 1 teaspoon dried leaf rosemary
- 1 bay leaf, crumbled
- 1/2 cup sliced, pitted ripe olives

Combine grapefruit juice, salt and garlic in large bowl. Add beef cubes; refrigerate overnight. Drain beef, reserving marinade. Heat oil in heavy kettle or Dutch oven. Brown beef on all sides; add green pepper and onion; saute 3 minutes. Add tomato. Combine reserved marinade with brown sugar, vinegar, rosemary and bay leaf. Add to beef. Cover, simmer 45 minutes or until beef is tender. Add olives, simmer 5 minutes longer. Yield: 4 servings.

Apple Cake Real Treat For Dieters

Those on certain restricted diets often bemoan the loss of favorite sweets. However, you may create desserts that are lower in cholesterol, saturated fat and salt with no loss of delightful tastiness.

Here is a variation of the classic Tarte Tatin that fits this category well.

CARMELIZED UPSIDE DOWN APPLE CAKE

- 1/4 cup corn oil margarine
  - 4 medium apples, peeled, cored, sliced
  - 1 1/2 cups sugar, divided
  - 1/2 teaspoon ground cinnamon
  - 2 1/4 cups sifted cake flour
  - 2 teaspoons baking powder
  - 3/4 cup skim milk
  - 1/2 cup corn oil
  - 2 teaspoons vanilla
  - 3 egg whites
- In large skillet, melt margarine over medium-low heat. Add apple slices; sprinkle with 1/2 cup of the sugar and the cinnamon. Stirring frequently, cook 6 to 8 minutes or until tender. Arrange apple slices in bottom of 13-by-9-by-2-inch baking pan. Spoon liquid over apple slices. Into large mixing bowl, sift flour, 1/2 cup of the sugar and baking powder. Add milk, corn oil and vanilla. With mixer at medium speed, beat 2 minutes. In small bowl with mixer at high speed, beat egg whites until soft peaks form. Gradually add remaining 1/2 cup sugar. Beat until stiff peaks form. Fold egg white mixture, half at a time, into batter. Spoon over apple slices. Bake in 350-degree oven 25 to 30 minutes or until cake tester inserted in center comes out clean. Loosen edges; invert on serving platter and cool 10 minutes before removing baking pan. Serve warm. This kitchen-tested recipe makes 12 to 16 servings.
- Note: To substitute all-purpose flour for cake flour, use 2 cups sifted all-purpose flour and 1/4 cup sifted corn starch.

What The Day Will Bring...

YOUR BIRTHDAY DECEMBER 29, 1983
This coming year old, established friends will take on new meaning. Each will try to do whatever he or she can to help the other, drawing you even closer together.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Unfortunately, unpleasant tasks will not perform themselves. Bite the bullet today and try to clear up those nasty little duties.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) This is a good day to fulfill a social obligation you've been reluctant to take care of. If you change your attitude, it could be fun.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) If a family problem arises today, suggest everyone sleep on it rather than try to force a solution. Tomorrow, calmer heads will prevail.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Take care your comments are not caustic or biting today. You may be in a serious frame of mind and unable to express yourself lightly.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Should you feel a pinch in your purse today, remember: you did the squeezing. Don't blame others for what you now can't afford to do.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Advancing your self-interests will be important to you today, but take care your intensity in fulfilling your aims doesn't alienate companions.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) This is one of those days when you might feel others have more control over your destiny than you do. Bucking the tide will make things rougher.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) If at all possible, try not to place yourself in competitive situations today. There's a chance the odds may be tilted in the other guy's favor.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) You're not apt to buckle under today if confronted by difficult problems. In fact, you're likely to enjoy the mental exercise in seeking solutions.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) It may be necessary to take a firm position today in joint ventures. Stand up for your rights or be tread upon.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) You may find yourself involved with someone today who'll be extremely hard to get along with. Don't complicate matters by emulating his or her behavior.

Therapy Helpful Following Stroke

Dr. Lamb
DEAR DR. LAMB — In one of your columns you mentioned a machine that would speak phrases when buttons were pressed. I am wondering where one can purchase these. My husband, age 62, suffered a stroke last July and suffers from aphasia. He can speak some words, but not more than three words at a time. He had speech therapy for two months, but because of the long distance to the hospital it had to be discontinued. He is very intelligent. He has a loss of speech and the right side is paralyzed, but I feel that he could learn to use such a machine.

DEAR READER — If at all possible, you should continue with the speech therapy. In fact, therapy should begin immediately after the stroke. That means within days, or as soon as it is safe for the patient to participate. With any speech disorders, the sooner the speech therapy has begun, the better the outlook is improved. A good speech therapist can direct you to several different devices that might be available to aid in communication. Since the basic problem is regaining communication, a speech therapist also may help a stroke victim discover other means of communication if speech cannot be restored. Don't overlook learning to write with the left hand if the right hand is paralyzed.

The Handi-Voice is manufactured by Phonic Ear Inc., 250 Camino Alto, Mill Valley, CA 94941. However, your speech therapist might decide that some other device would be more suitable in your husband's case. To give you more information on rehabilitation after a stroke, I am sending you The Health Letter 16-6, What You Need to Know About Strokes. Other readers who want this issue can send 75 cents with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for it to me, in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10091.

DEAR DR. LAMB — My husband likes to eat dinner between 8:30 and 9 p.m. and says that you recommend eating at a late hour so as not to gain weight. I am hoping this recent study I've enclosed about eating and exercise will modify your position. DEAR READER — The item you sent me was interesting, but what it really shows is the value of exercise in controlling calories, not that calorie values change with the time of day you eat. A calorie is a calorie, in the morning, in the evening and in the night. The study you sent supports the idea that a person who does some mild exercise after eating increases the effects the exercise has on using calories. On the basis of the study, it doesn't matter whether you eat at mid-night and exercise after eating or eat in the morning and exercise after eating. A good walk after eating any time of the day or night is a good idea. Note that if you overeat one day and exercise the next day, the exercise will use far more calories than if you had eaten regular meals. This again points out the value of exercise, not the time of eating, in helping to control obesity. So the study does prompt me to emphasize again that it is good to have some form of moderate exercise after each meal to help the body eliminate excess calories. Send your questions to Dr. Lamb, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, N.Y. 10019.

As South you duck for two reasons. Sometimes the leader will shift to another suit. Maybe West started with K-Q-J-x and when he continues with the queen, he will drop his partner's 10. Nothing good happens. The queen of clubs is led and East shows out. Of-hand, it looks as if you will have to guess between a spade and a heart finesse, but there is a fairly simple way to avoid any guess at all. You take your ace of clubs and start on diamonds. Three diamond leads are necessary to get rid of West's diamonds and you now have him on the roasting fork. Just throw him in with a club. He can and does take three club tricks. You chuck a spade and a heart from dummy and the six of spades from your own hand. Then you can show West your hand since either a heart or spade lead will give you the rest of the tricks.

By Oswald Jacoby and James Jacoby
West attacked with the king of clubs. Any other lead would have given South an easy road to at least nine tricks, but, as usual, the defense refused to help declarer.
