Armed Trio Abducts Pair; Woman Foils Rape

By Susan Loden
Herald Staff Writer

One man is in jail and police are looking for two more in connection with the weekend abduction of a Sanford couple during which armed bandits commanded their car and tried to rape a 22-year-old woman.

The 26-year-old accused assailant who was captured Monday refused to give police his address when he was booked into jail after his arrest at the Sanford police station at 4:25 p.m.

Lester Clyde Bagley has been charged with two counts of kidnapping, two counts of aggravated assault, sexual battery, armed robbery, grand theft and use of a firearm in a felony.

The female victim reportedly identified a suspect in a photo lineup at the police station Monday. She also identified a belt buckle and a ring that her attacker had allegedly been wearing during the assault. She told police that a bracelet found in the suspect's possession was one that had been ripped from her arm in the attack.

Detective Mike Ansley reported that the couple, a 19-year-old man and a 22-year-old woman, were abducted when they stopped their car at the intersection of 13th Street and Olive Avenue, Sanford, at about 9 p.m. Saturday.

Two men jumped into the car and ordered the man to drive down the street. The driver told Ansley that as he drove along he saw a third suspect running beside the car. The man was ordered to stop at 17th Street and Mangoustine Avenue, where the third suspect waited to join the group.

When the man tried to speed away, both suspects in the back seat displayed firearms and hit him on the head with the handles of the guns, police report.

When the car stopped, the third suspect brandished a knife with a four-inch blade, pulled the woman from the car and forced her across a ditch. The two other suspects demanded cash from the man and searched him, but got no money, Ansley said.

While the two gunmen held the man, the third suspect took the woman's purse, and ripped a bracelet from her wrist. He forced her to perform a sexual act and attempted to rape her, but failed "because of her resistance and other conditions," the police report said.

The two gunmen fled and the third man ran when the male victim shouted that police were coming.

The woman was examined in the emergency room of Central Florida Regional Hospital, Sanford, and was released after being treated for cuts and bruises.

To Modernize Apartments

Housing Authority Gets $1.7 Million

By Donna Estes
Herald Staff Writer

The Sanford Housing Authority has been awarded a $1.7 million grant by the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development to modernize about 50 apartments in the Castle Brewer Court public housing development at 10th Street and Oleander Avenue in the city.

Joseph Caldwell, chairman of the authority, said today the modernization is expected to begin by mid-October.

The housing authority, at its 7:30 p.m. meeting Thursday at Redding Gardens, is expected to set a schedule for the project and approve the execution of various documents accepting the grant, Caldwell said.

He said 50 units at Castle Brewer Court were modernized under a prior program.

Setting a tentative starting date of mid-October, Caldwell said, "We want to go ahead and use the money or we might lose it."

There are 480 units of public housing in six developments in the city of Sanford including Castle Brewer Court, Redding Gardens, William Clark Court, Higgins Terrace, Cowan-Moughton, and Lake Monroe Terrace. The housing authority is responsible for administering the developments.

The units are a combination of one, two and three bedrooms apartments and some four-bedroom units, Caldwell said.

He added that the authority is beefing up its inspection of apartments to make sure they are being properly maintained by the tenants in accordance with their agreements with the authority.

"We want to make sure the federal money coming in for these projects is used properly and the tenants appreciate the areas they live in," Caldwell said.

For the past year, Caldwell especially has been encouraging the public housing tenants to take pride in their developments.

"There has been a change to pride in community by the tenants over what the attitude was two or three years back," he said.

He added, however, that even today it is "not satisfactory."

"The key now is to preserve and maintain these apartments once we use this type of federal money to bring them up to standard," he said.

Turtle-Pace Turnout

"They aren't running over each other to get to the polls," Elections Supervisor Sandy Goard said of the two percent voter turnout early on this election day. This photo of the polling place at Seminole High School shows a no-wait opportunity for voters. "I predicted a 34 percent turnout and hope the voters don't disappoint me," Mrs. Goard said, adding that things are going smoothly as expected. You have until 7 p.m. to vote.

Holiday Toll 13 In State

From Staff and Wire Reports

The Florida Highway Patrol credited a crackdown on speeders with keeping the state's death toll to 13 in Labor Day weekend traffic accidents. No traffic-related fatalities were reported in Seminole County.

During the holiday period, however, Seminole County authorities arrested 8 people for driving under the influence of alcohol.

Statewide troopers worked two to four hours overtime after their regular shifts, strengthening patrols for drivers who exceed the 55 mph speed limit. The FHP had predicted 34 people would die on the roadways between 6 p.m. EDT Friday and midnight Monday.

"I think we can see a drastic drop," FHP Trooper Marty Duncan said Monday. "We look back to last year when we had about 29 on Labor Day weekend, and we have saved many lives to due to the crackdown on speeders."

$40 Million Winner Says It's A Family Windfall

CHICAGO (UPI) — Michael F. Wittkowski says he'll look after his family now that he's won the world's single biggest lottery prize of $40 million — and he'll go right on working.

"My family won $40 million — I didn't," the 28-year-old printer from Chicago said after claiming the Illinois Lotto jackpot Monday. "Everybody (in my family) gets what they need."

"I go back to work Wednesday morning and I don't want anything to change," Wittkowski said.

Well, almost nothing. The win will push up the date of his marriage to his girlfriend, Francine Pappas, 22. He said the two plan to marry as soon as she sets the date.

One of his first purchases will be an engagement ring, but Pappas said she's not dreaming of a multicarat diamond solitaire.

"I'd settle with a little one. I don't care," she said.

"My lifestyle will probably not change," Wittkowski said. "I've got a beautiful life with a family and a future fiancée."

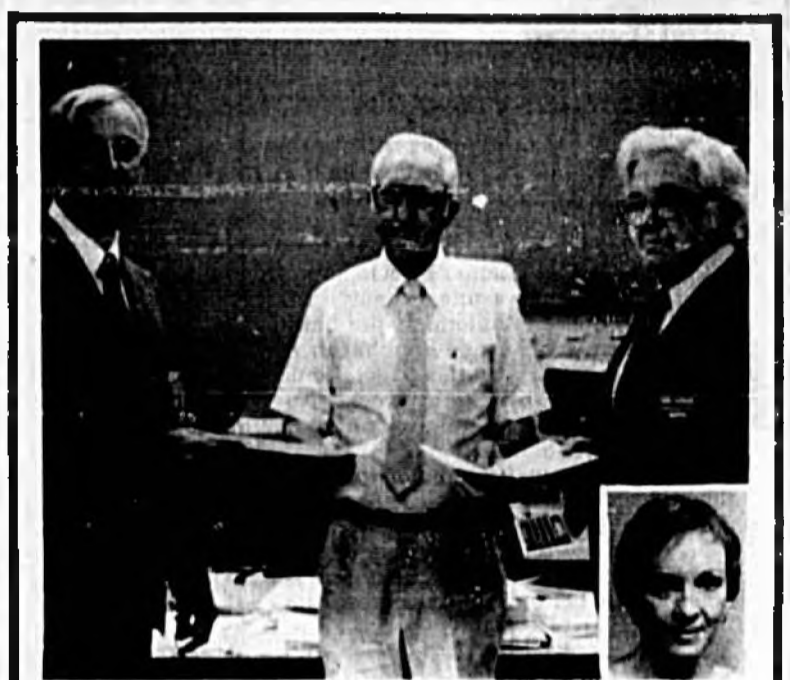

"I'm going to pay off a few bills. Beyond that, it's a family project. We're that close. We're a family."

Wittkowski said he and his family — his father, Frank; his brother, Dan; and his sister, Eileen — spent about $35 combined on the $1 Lotto tickets last week. He said he had been buying tickets the "last 10 or 12 weeks."

Wittkowski will receive a check for $1.55 million in four to six weeks, the first of 20 annual payments. The lottery withholds 22.5 percent from major prizes to cover federal and state income tax.

Another winner in Saturday's drawing was Donald Pollak,

Two people were injured, one a Sanford resident, at 10:40 p.m. Monday, when their cars were involved in an accident at 13th St. and S. French Ave., in Sanford. Treated and released from Central Florida Regional Hospital were Claudia Shammis, 22, of 703 E. 1st St., and Larry Miller, 20, address unknown.

Knowles Wants Private Industry To Take Care Of Trash Disposal

Sanford City Manager W.E. "Pete" Knowles is calling on county officials to seek innovative approaches to the disposal of garbage and trash and to consider asking private industry to come up with solutions.

Knowles says several years ago, the county looked into using "solid waste" to generate energy.

"That study did not go far enough. It did not address the whole problem and did not allow for consideration of the private industry proposing a possible solution," Knowles said.

"Another look is indicated by the proposed increased economics and the state's intervention with more costly and restrictive regulations," he said.

Knowles' remarks are the result of a county consultant's proposal that the price of garbage disposal be nearly doubled at both of the county's transfer stations at Upeala and off Douglas Road in Altamonte Springs, as well as at the county's sanitary landfill at the old Qcecola Airfield near Oviedo.

Knowles said if the new rates are adopted by the county commission, it will mean a 13.6 percent increase in garbage and trash collection fees across the board for all classes of

Discovery's Robot Arm Knocks Ice Off Hull

By William Harwood
UPI Science Writer

CAPE CANAVERAL (UPI) — Discovery's astronauts used the shuttle's robot arm to knock a potentially dangerous, 15-inch chunk of ice off the ship's hull today, clearing the way for a safe return to Earth Wednesday.

"We sure are glad we had the arm along," Judy Resnik told mission control in Houston. "It served us well again."

The concern had been that the jagged-looking ice sticking out from the left side above a water discharge nozzle might break off during the ship's re-entry into the atmosphere and damage an engine pod in the tail.

"We see the chunk floating by at this very moment," Resnik said shortly after the arm whacked the ice at 6:25 a.m. EDT.

Engineers worked through the night planning today's operations, dubbed "Icecube Ops" by the flight control team at the Johnson Space Center in Houston.

A smaller 5-inch icicle remained frozen to Discovery's side but NASA spokesman John Lawrence said it did not appear solid. However, it is that smaller chunk of ice that has blocked the waste discharge port and thus use of Discovery's toilet remained restricted.

Resnik, mission commander Henry Hartfield, co-pilot Michael Coats, Steven Hawley, Richard Mullane and Charles Walker are scheduled to end the six-day maiden voyage of Discovery Wednesday with a landing at 9:39 a.m. EDT at Edwards Air Force Base, Calif.

Besides putting the new shuttle through its paces in space for the first time, the astronauts' accomplishments included the successful launching of three communications satellites during the first three days of the mission and three days of flawless testing of an experimental solar sail generator.

Walker also produced a relatively large amount of a secret hormone in a commercial biological processing machine. He has had numerous problems with the machine, but kept it going to process most of the protein solution carried aboard.

Once the ice-breaking job was completed, the astronauts fired up hydraulic system turbines briefly and checked out Discovery's flight control system. This was a routine series of tests of landing systems performed on the day before a shuttle's high-speed gliding return into the atmosphere.

Hartfield was at the controls when the 50-foot, Canadian-built mechanical arm was moved in to dislodge the larger piece of ice.

"Good job, Hank," astronaut Sally Ride in mission control told Hartfield. Ride, who is married to Hawley, is an arm expert who worked out the ice breaking procedures.

The astronauts first tried to dislodge the ice by using howitzer-like rocket blasts that jolted the craft like a bucking bronco. But they reported no luck.

Then Hartfield tried the arm. It was a tricky maneuver because he was unable to see the ice as the arm approached it. The end of the arm was about a foot above Discovery's wing and engineers did not want the arm to damage the wing's vital insulation.

The ice buildup was discovered late Sunday around two exterior nozzles used to dump excess and waste water overboard.

Because the shuttle's waste water dump valve, as well as another water discharge nozzle, was blocked by ice, the male astronauts were forced to use Apollo-era plastic bags instead of the toilet for liquid waste because the ship's holding tank has limited capacity. Resnik continued to use Discovery's on-board commode.

Record Crew Ready For Shuttle Challenger

SPACE CENTER, Houston (UPI) — A record crew of seven astronauts will crowd on board the shuttle Challenger next month for an eight-day mission that includes the first spacewalk by an American woman in a demonstration of space refueling techniques.

Veteran shuttle commander Robert Crippen told reporters Monday the simulated refueling will prove valuable for servicing satellites that have run out of gas and for NASA's planned space station in the 1990s.

Challenger is scheduled to begin its sixth flight on Oct. 1 from the same Kennedy Space Center launch pad used for the previous 12 shuttle missions.

Challenger's crew, the largest in the history of manned spaceflight, also includes pilot Jon McBride, 41, and Kathryn Sullivan, 32, Sally Ride, 33, David Leezena, 45, Paul Scully-Power, 40, and Marc Garneau, 35.

Garneau, a weapons systems engineer in the Canadian Navy, will be the first Canadian to fly in space. Ride, the first American woman in orbit, will be making her second flight and Sullivan will become the first American woman to walk in space.

Four States Hold Primaries

United Press International

A former congressman is favored over three contenders today to win the right to take on rookie Sen. Howell Heflin, D-Ala., who has been targeted for defeat by the national Republican Party.

In addition to Alabama, Florida, Georgia and Nevada are also holding primary contests today.

In Florida, three contenders are battling for the right to take on Democrat-turned-Republican Andy Ireland in the fall. (See separate story this page). Democratic Rep. Claude Pepper, who will turn 84 this week, also faces two Hispanic challengers in a Miami district where half his constituents have family ties to Cuba.

In Georgia, primary runoffs were expected to choose a Republican candidate to face Democratic Sen. Sam Nunn and challengers for two congressmen.

In Nevada, Republican Peggy Cavnar, who lost to Democratic Rep. Harry Reid in 1982, faced token opposition in her bid to oppose him again.

Holiday Death Toll Passes 400

United Press International

Seven people died in a flaming crash on a Chicago expressway and three died in a motorhome that caught fire on a Los Angeles freeway in the closing hours of the Labor Day holiday weekend, pushing the highway death toll past 400.

The latest United Press International count today showed 404 fatalities, including 51 in California, 38 in Texas, 22 in Illinois, 15 in Wisconsin, 14 each in Florida and Michigan, 13 each in Georgia, Indiana, North Carolina and Ohio, 12 each in Kentucky, Massachusetts, Missouri and Virginia, 11 in Tennessee and 10 in Colorado.

The National Safety Council estimated 450 to 550 deaths and as many as 23,000 disabling injuries would occur in traffic accidents during the 78-hour holiday which began at 6 p.m. Friday and ended at midnight Monday.

During last year's Labor Day weekend, 480 people were killed on the highways and 19,800 others were injured seriously.

FLORIDA

IN BRIEF

Homes, Not Industry, Polluting Treated Water

TAMPA (UPI) — Tests show treated sewer water in two Florida counties routinely contains cancer-causing chemicals and environmental officials say household products poured down kitchen and bathroom drains are the probable source.

A survey showed chemicals including Benzene, 1,2-dichloroethane and toluene were commonly found in municipal sewage treatment plants in Hillsborough and Pasco counties. Further testing is expected to show a similar problem throughout southwest Florida. The Tampa Tribune reported Monday.

The contaminants, found largely in residential areas, most likely came from household solvents — items like motor oil, paint thinner or flea killer — that enter sewer systems through thousands of kitchen and bathroom drains, officials said.

Officials are concerned contaminants in the treated water, which often is used to irrigate lawns and golf courses, could enter groundwater supplies.

Nationwide the death toll reached 404, far less than a 400 total last year.

At least five of the 13 traffic deaths in Florida were alcohol-related, the FHP reported.

Of the eight drivers arrested for DUI in Seminole County, seven were male, six of them 30-years old or younger. Their ages ranged from 18 to 43. Five of the eight lived out of the county and one each from Sanford, Longwood and Winter Springs. Half of them were arrested Sunday.

Three of the drivers were arrested in Altamonte Springs, one on Interstate 4 in that city and two on state Road 436. Two people were arrested in Longwood and two in unincorporated county area. One driver was arrested on I-4 in Lake Mary.

Orange County's "Batmobile" crews nabbed 51 persons over the weekend.

Elsewhere in the state, an elderly man and woman were passengers in a car that crashed in Brevard County when the driver failed to negotiate a curve and smashed into a tree on Johns Road Boulevard Sunday. They were identified as 74-year-old Warren Weyher and 75-year-old Patricia Pierce Dickens. Troopers said the accident was alcohol-related.

Double Execution Set For Thursday

STARKE, Fla. (UPI) — Lawyers looked to appeals courts today to halt the electrocution of two convicted killers Thursday in the nation's first double execution in 19 years.

Ernest John Dobbert Jr. is scheduled to die in the electric chair for the murder of his 9-year-old daughter, and Nollie Lee Martin, 38, is condemned for the slaying of a convenience store clerk who was kidnapped and raped during a robbery.

A Florida prison spokesman said the executions would begin at 7 a.m. EDT Thursday, but he did not know which inmate would die first. The last double execution in the United States took place in Kansas in 1965. There have been no double executions since the Supreme Court lifted the ban on capital punishment in 1976.

In the past eight years, two men have been executed on the same day — April 5, 1984 — but in different states. Elmo Patrick Sonnier, 35, was put to death in Angola, La., and Arthur Frederick Goode, 30, was electrocuted at Starke. U.S. District Judge Susan Black denied a stay of execution for Dobbert Monday night and attorneys filed an appeal with the 11th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals in Atlanta.

Martin, whose appeal was rejected unanimously by the Florida Supreme Court last week, was to get a hearing before U.S. District Judge James King today in Miami.

Dobbert, who has escaped two previous death warrants, was sentenced to die in 1974 for the strangulation of Kelly Ann Dobbert. He also was sentenced to life in prison for the death of his 7-year-old son, Ryder.

Dobbert was convicted twice of child abuse in St. Francis, once for badly beating his namesake, Ernest John Dobbert III, and again for holding the boy's hand over a gas stove flame, court records show. Dobbert received a year's probation for the first offense, a $50 fine for the second.

Martin, a native of Tabor City, N.C., was sentenced to die for the 1977 slaying of Patricia Greenfield, a clerk who was kidnapped from a Delray Beach, Fla. store and raped.

Sanford's Sherry Kilner, left, is the first woman member of the Florida Jaycees. Mrs. Kilner was sworn in at a state Jaycee meeting in Miami, which was held last month. Getting involved in her new role, she and past president of the Sanford Jaycees, Mike Kyle, look over an agenda held by Ron Ryan, president of the Sanford Jaycees. Until a recent Supreme Court ruling, women weren't admitted as members of the Jaycees. Prior to that change, Mrs. Kilner was a national vice president of the Jaycee Women.

Pressure Mounting For Tighter Controls On Day-Care Centers Rocked By Scandal

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — Public support of tighter controls on day-care centers is rising because of reports of sexual abuse, lawmakers say, but the increasing number of families who rely on the service may also play a part.

"I view this as something that gives us the opportunity to finally grapple with the issue," Rep. Elaine Gordon, D-North Miami, said of the allegations.

An aide to Gov. Bob Graham said politicians also are feeling increasing pressure to reconsider day care legislation as more mothers go to work.

"Upper middle class women, and upper middle class parents, in general, are suddenly having to turn to day care," said the aide. "Women's issues are becoming issues."

Graham is pursuing the issue with alacrity. He plans to spend one day working as a child abuse counselor this fall and has ordered a state investigation into reports of abuse. Graham also is considering whether to call a special legislative session for late this year to confront the problem.

David Pingree, secretary of the Department of Health and Rehabilitative Services, supports the idea of a special legislative session to upgrade enforcement.

The HRS budget allows for just 39 workers to investigate complaints against the nearly 3,500 licensed day-care centers in Florida. Pingree says twice as many inspectors are needed. He also advocates creation of training standards for day-care workers, who currently can be as young as 16.

Concerns over sexual abuse could be an incentive for legislators to pass stronger regulations, Pingree said.

"I'd hate to lose the momentum," he said. "If we've got it, let's go for it now. The timing is right."

A Graham aide said a special session would make it difficult for the legislature to refuse tighter legislative controls on day care.

Gordon, however, said constructive changes could better be made during regular session in the framework of the budget-making process.

"What needs to be done is to provide more funding and that only can be done through the appropriations process," she said. "We need that to enforce what's already on the books."

All Eyes Are On Switchover Ireland Race

By United Press International Primary elections across Florida are scheduled today, but both the Democrats and the Republicans have focused most of their attention on central Florida congressman Andy Ireland's 10th District congressional campaign.

The primaries include 27 Democratic and 14 Republican races for the Florida House along with 10 Florida Senate races and nine contests for congressional posts.

The nine congressional races on the ballot include a three-way fight for the Democratic nomination against Ireland, who changed from the Democratic Party to the GOP earlier this year.

With no U.S. Senate race and seven incumbents unopposed this year, both parties are watching Ireland's campaign.

Ireland, a "boll weevil" Democrat who voted for President Reagan's tax cuts and budget plans of 1981-82, announced March 17 he would seek reelection as a Republican.

In races for the state legislature, a record number of 62 state lawmakers are getting a free ride this year — 52 in the House and 10 in the Senate.

They include House

Speaker designate James Harold Thompson of Quincy and his successor, Rep. Jon Mills of Gainesville, the speaker-designate for 1985-86. A solid nucleus of Democratic committee chairmen and floor leaders in both chambers also escaped opposition in the primaries.

Nine of the contested primaries pit two Democrats, with no Republican nominee, so the winner will automatically be elected in November. Three other intra-party races have three or more candidates — requiring an Oct. 2 runoff if none gets a first-round majority.

In the Senate races, some powerful leaders of the chamber face bitter struggles.

Two of Tuesday's winners will be assured a four-year term in the Senate, with no general election opposition in November.

Probably the most heated Senate campaign has been in Pensacola, where former Sen. John R. Broxson of Gulf Breeze challenged Sen. W.D. Childers, D-Pensacola. Childers, a former Senate president, trounced Broxson a dozen years ago when they both ran for a single Senate seat left to their district after 1972 reapportionment.

Sanford customers — residential and commercial.

The fee to homeowners would go up from $8.50 per month to $9.86, he said.

A public hearing has been scheduled by the county commission for 10 a.m. Sept. 11, on the recommendations of Professional Engineering Consultants Inc. of Orlando that fees to commercial haulers using compact trucks be raised from $9.75 per ton to $18 at transfer stations and from $7.75 per ton to $15 at the landfill.

The consultants were hired after the state Department of Environmental Regulation demanded that Seminole "cap and cover" — surround compacted solid waste with an impervious material — before burial to keep the water from the solid waste in and the ground water out, said Ken Hooper, county director of environmental services.

Hooper has estimated the cost of capping and covering the 200,000 tons of solid waste generated in Seminole County annually and buried at Ocoola, near Oviedo, at $500,000 a year.

Knowles complained that when Sanford used a privately owned site for garbage and trash disposal from December 1979 to 1982, the cost to the city per year was about $35,000.

In the 1982-83 fiscal year when the city used the privately owned site for eight months and county facilities for four months, the disposal costs jumped to $64,000 per year.

For the 1983-84 fiscal year the costs are $127,145.84.

If the rates anticipated for the 1984-85 year come to pass, the city's cost will jump to almost $235,000, an increase of 85.5 percent, or $108,720, Knowles said.

Sanford is a growing community with 2,200 dwelling units now "in process" of construction, Knowles said. Solid waste generation will increase due to growth. This occurs not only in Sanford but throughout the county and other municipalities, he said.

"A central solid waste disposal program for the county was proposed and studied several years ago, but rejected," he said. "The disposal economics, the transportation costs, the increased collection labor time lost, are all factors not previously studied as a total concept. These matters need to be studied and considered as a total picture," Knowles said.

The space agency initially downplayed the seriousness of the ice growth, but Monday an analysis by Rockwell International, builder of the shuttle, indicated the problem might be more serious.

"Rockwell believes it's a safety concern," said flight director John Cox Monday.

That prompted controllers to order Hawley and Mullane to prepare for a spacewalk should that be necessary to get rid of the ice.

Engineers suspect a similar ice chunk damaged the shuttle Challenger's rear engine pod in February as the craft made its soaring glide home from space.

"We really appreciate all the work that you've done, and all the other folks, to come up with this procedure," Hartsfield told Ride after the ice was knocked off. "It worked like a champ."

Report: Orphan Embryos Should Be Allowed To Die

MELBOURNE, Australia (UPI) — Two frozen human embryos orphaned by the death of their parents will remain in storage until the Australian government decides whether to follow a committee's recommendation to destroy them.

"In any case of accident, death or dissolution, where an indication concerning disposition has not been given, the stored embryo or embryos shall be removed from storage," the Waller Committee, convened to consider the case, said in its report released Monday.

The two embryos were frozen in June 1981 when their biological mother, Elae Rios, of Los Angeles, Calif., joined the Queen Victoria Medical Center's in-vitro fertilization program.

A third embryo was implanted in Rios' womb but the pregnancy failed after 10 days. Rios asked doctors to keep the frozen embryos and promised to return for another try at getting pregnant, but she and her husband, Mario Rios, died last year in a plane crash in Chile, leaving behind a million-dollar estate.

The committee supported continuing the in-vitro program but strongly opposed the practice of surrogate motherhood, the practice in which an infertile couple enters an agreement with a woman to bear a child for them.

Typhoon Ike Kills More Than 330

MANILA, Philippines (UPI) — Typhoon Ike left more than 330 Filipinos dead and 200,000 others homeless in a two-day sweep across the central Philippines, official reports said today.

Communications lines remained cut off to severely hit provinces that bore the brunt of the most powerful cyclone to strike the country in 14 years and officials feared the death toll would rise.

Ike, the strongest typhoon to hit the Philippines since Joan killed 575 people in 1970, came four days after tropical storm June killed 53 people.

A social welfare ministry spokesman said more than 1 million Filipinos either lost their homes or their sources of income in the back-to-back storms.

Rival Maneuvers Begun

BONN, West Germany (UPI) — NATO and Warsaw Pact forces are on the move again in Europe in large-scale annual training exercises that will test the combat skills of one-third of a million troops.

The rival fall maneuvers began Monday as nearly 58,000 British troops began crossing the English Channel to join NATO's "Autumn Forge" exercise and a 60,000-strong East bloc force opened its "Shield 84" war games in Czechoslovakia.

The opposing displays of military might opened just two days after Europeans marked the 44th anniversary of the outbreak of World War II, which divided their continent.

Man Once Followed Reagan

Bombing Linked To Papal Visit

MONTREAL (UPI) — Police investigating a bomb blast that tore through the city's main rail station, killing three people, today questioned a 65-year-old American suspected of writing a rambling tirade against the Vatican that almost exactly predicted the date and time of the explosion.

The bomb exploded in a baggage locker in Central Station at 10:20 a.m. EDT Monday, sending fireballs of burning luggage and debris shooting through a concourse packed with scores of Labor Day travelers.

Three people were killed. Twenty-nine people were treated for burns, cuts and shock and two were hospitalized in serious condition, hospital officials said.

Police late Monday arrested a 65-year-old Rochester, N.Y., man they suspected of writing a barely coherent, anti-Vatican diatribe delivered to a Central Station ticket agent last Friday.

The Globe and Mail of Toronto quoted a Montreal police spokesman as saying the American was under surveillance by the U.S. Secret Service until about a year ago because he had been following President Reagan.

The spokesman said the man's son, a priest in St. Louis, told police his father was once declared mentally unfit and had spent time in an institution. Neither report could not be independently confirmed.

In Washington, the Secret declined to comment on the report.

Two Canadian national broadcast networks, Newsradio and Standard Broadcast News, said police had identified the American as Thomas Brigham.

Pope John Paul II is scheduled to arrive Sunday in Quebec City for an 11-day visit to Canada. He is to arrive by train Monday evening at Montreal's Windsor Station, a block from Central Station, and stay at the Roman Catholic archdiocese in the block between the two terminals.

Nicaragua Warns More Americans Will Die

United Press International

Nicaragua insists that despite Washington's denial, two men killed in a rebel air attack were "soldiers of fortune of the CIA" and warned more Americans would die in the U.S.-backed effort to oust the leftist Sandinista government.

Nicaraguan Defense Minister Humberto Ortega told a news conference Monday that the guerrilla attack on a military school 6 miles from the Honduran border proved "with participation and blood" the direct U.S. involvement in the rebel war against the Sandinista government.

An American-made OH-58 helicopter was shot down Saturday when it accompanied a three-plane air assault by CIA-backed Nicaraguan rebels on the military training school in Santa Clara, northwestern Nicaragua.

The death toll, according to the Sandinistas, included the three helicopter crew members, four Nicaraguan children and an adult. Two other Nicaraguans were reported injured.

"Now they (the American government) claim that they are mercenaries and that they are not from the CIA," Ortega said of two unidentified Americans reported killed in the helicopter crash. "Nobody will believe that story. What is important is that they are mercenaries and in any case, are from the CIA, soldiers of fortune of the CIA."

Added Foreign Minister Miguel D'Escoto in a separate interview, "Nothing in the mercenary army happens independently of the United States' knowledge."

"We expect to see more U.S. citizens involved and more of them killed."

In Tegucigalpa, Honduran Foreign Minister Edgardo Paz Barrios said Nicaragua's claim that the attack originated from Honduras "is lacking in truth." From Honduras, spokesmen for the rebel Nicaraguan Democratic Force said they were "investigating to find out what happened" in the incident.

Nicaragua's Foreign Ministry lodged an official protest with the U.S. State Department, charging the Reagan administration with escalating its undeclared war that has received $55 million in U.S. funds since 1981.

Once the bodies of the alleged mercenaries are identified, Ortega said the Nicaraguan government would turn them over to their families.

Burglar Appeals 5-Year Sentence For Violating Probation ... Again

An Orlando man arrested eight years ago for burglarizing three Casabelly businesses has appealed a five-year sentence given him for his second violation of probation stemming from the crimes.

Gary Vincent Walker, 24, was sentenced by Seminole Circuit Judge Dominick J. Salfi July 23. Salfi gave Walker credit for 857 days served for a probation violation in 1981. With credit for time served, Walker, in effect, received a 2-year, 8-month sentence.

Walker has appealed Salfi's ruling to the 5th District Court of Appeal in Daytona Beach by stating that under state sentencing guidelines he should have received not more than one year in the county jail. Further, he contends, he is not guilty of violating his probation. According to court records, Walker was arrested Sept. 25, 1976 for burglarizing three adjoining businesses at 402, 404, and 408 U.S. Highway 17-92, Casabelly. They were Pet and Pli Shop, Citrus Signs, and Wirz Realty.

On Dec. 8, 1976, Walker, then 16, pleaded guilty to the charges and in Jan., 1977, received a five-year sentence split into two years prison time and 3 years probation. He was given credit for 113 days already served in jail.

On June 20, 1979, he was found guilty of violating his probation by leaving his home without telling his probation officer of his location and not paying for his probation supervision. He was sentenced in Dec. 1981 to four years in prison to be followed by five years probation. He was given credit for 20 months served.

Walker was arrested Oct. 19 for a burglary committed in Orlando. At the time of the offense, Walker's probation officer believed Walker was in California where he had told the officer he would be and had his supervision transferred.

Walker appealed in August, saying that he did not violate his probation because he was not convicted of committing the Orlando burglary. Instead he was found by the court to be only an accessory to the crime. He also said the weight of the evidence presented against him was not sufficient to find him guilty of violating his probation and that the sentence Salfi issued was too harsh.

WEATHER

NATIONAL REPORT: Thunderstorms brought a noisy end to the summer vacation season on much of the East Coast as lightning struck an airliner and several houses near Washington, D.C., and forced cancellation of a Michael Jackson concert in Philadelphia. Thunderstorms today extended from southern New England across eastern Georgia and west across the Gulf Coast states to eastern Texas. Another band of showers and thunderstorms extended from Minnesota across eastern Nebraska. Storms packing 55 mph winds whipped through the Washington, D.C. area late Monday. Lightning struck a Piedmont Airlines plane that had just landed at National Airport, injuring six ground crew members. Other bolts set afire four homes in Washington suburbs, causing $65,000 damage. The 112 passengers and crew aboard the flight from Charlotte, N.C., were just disembarking about 6:40 p.m. EDT when lightning struck the plane.

The Sakharovs, Arms Control

Only the Soviets know the current condition of the dissident Andrei Sakharov and his wife, Yelena Bonner.

Although videotapes released by the Soviets to the West German newspaper Bild, and through that paper to ABC News, apparently show Sakharov alive as recently as July, and Bonner alive and well at some recent time, concern has arisen in the West over their fate since then.

This is especially true after recent reports that Bonner, who suffers from a heart condition and eye ailments which can best be treated in the West, had been sentenced to five years of internal exile — reports that an unnamed Soviet official confirmed in an interview with Bild.

But of the true fate of the Sakharovs, nothing is certain. To borrow a phrase from Winston Churchill, the truth is "a riddle wrapped in a mystery inside an enigma."

Although their condition is unclear, the manner in which the Sakharovs, and hundreds of other anonymous dissidents, have been handled does lead to disturbing questions for Western leaders.

The Soviet Union and other nations have signed treaties, such as the Helsinki agreements and the Madrid accords, guaranteeing human rights. What does the Soviet's treatment of dissidents suggest of its observation of these treaties?

And more importantly, what does the Soviets' flouting of these accords suggest about Soviet compliance with treaties such as arms control agreements?

In recent years there have been unconfirmed reports that the Soviets have violated several arms agreements.

If these allegations are true, this country must seriously consider the verification aspects of arms negotiations before returning to the bargaining table with the Soviets. The Soviet treatment of the Sakharovs is another indication of their deviousness.

It is perhaps appropriate that the greatest legacy Sakharov, who helped design the bombs which now so terrify the world, and his wife may leave the West is the grim message that control of those weapons remains so perilously distant.

Peer Review

Albert Shanker, president of the American Federation of Teachers, has contributed to the debate over school improvement by endorsing the creation of committees of specially qualified teachers to take part in the hiring, firing and promotion of other teachers.

A similar suggestion has been made by the Rand Corp. Some school systems have already experimented with forms of peer review.

There is substance in the idea that teachers can help improve their profession by identifying peers who need improvement in teaching skills and those who are incompetent.

Who is more qualified to evaluate the effectiveness of teachers than other teachers?

To be sure, many of the administrators who make personnel decisions regarding teachers have teaching experience themselves. Shanker noted that one poll indicated a preference among some teachers for being rated by supervisors rather than fellow instructors.

Much of the talk about improving the public schools has focused on teachers' salaries. But there are other ways of upgrading the profession as well, and a wider use of peer review could become one of them.

BERRY'S WORLD

Rick Brunson

Leaving a comfortable job and familiar surroundings to enter a foreign culture and labor under extreme conditions is not many people's idea of the "American Dream."

But two members of First Baptist Church, Oviedo, have done just that.

Dr. and Mrs. Ernest Erickson recently left for Malawi, Africa, where they will serve as missionaries for the next 18 months. Their service there is part of the Southern Baptist Convention's Mission Service Corps volunteer program.

Dr. Erickson, an electrical engineering professor at the University of Central Florida, will teach at the Polytechnic University in Malawi. The couple will also be assisting the Rev. Carl Houston at the Baptist church in Blantyre, Malawi.

Youths from local Baptist churches recently returned from "Centerfuge," a conference for young people held in Greenville, S.C.

About 600 youths from the Southeastern United States attended the event. An entourage of 21 — 18 youths and five counselors — trekked from First Baptist Church, Sanford.

The theme was "Getting Your Signal Straight" and various activities centered on establishing Christian-oriented goals and priorities for life.

Carrie Haines, 15, of First Baptist said she enjoyed the food and "getting away from the house." She added, however, that the fellas who went may have had different goals for the week.

"The boys just wanted to go and meet new girls. You know how they are."

One of the gospel performers who will be featured at Walt Disney World's "Night Of Joy" Friday and Saturday nights used to sing a different tune. Leon Patillo, former vocalist and keyboardist for the group Santana, went from singing songs like "Evil Ways" and "Black Magic Woman," to tunes like "Born Again" and "Praise Ye The Lord."

In 1974, after he had been with Santana a year, Patillo started dating a girl whose brother was a Christian. He kept telling Patillo that he needed to get saved, at which Patillo asked "From what?" Music had afforded him his every desire, he said, but left him spiritually empty. He became a Christian that year.

Patillo now plays about 120 concerts a year, combining his hi-tech synthesizer and baritone voice to spread the word. In his concerts and on his four albums he encourages people to consider the often-neglected spiritual aspect of their lives.

"Most people need to start reaching out to their Creator and trying to get that side of themselves together."

Emotions Linked To Cancer

By Joanna Morgan

TORONTO (UPI) — Cancer patients who suppress their fears and anger may produce fewer of the body's natural killer cells to fight the disease's spread than people who admit their feelings, two U.S. research teams said Tuesday.

Sandra Levy, a clinical psychologist at the University of Pittsburgh School of Medicine, said first results from a study begun in 1981 of 75 women with breast cancer showed those with higher levels of "NK" cells — a type of lymphocyte that appears naturally geared up for killing cancer cells — also tended to have "significantly fewer" malignant lymph nodes.

Presence of cancer in the nodes indicates it has spread into the body beyond the original tumor site in the breast. The more lymph nodes are affected, the poorer the prognosis.

Levy stressed that although the biology of a tumor is the major factor in prognosis, emotional reaction is thought to be accountable for slight variance in some cases.

Those patients in the study who had low NK activity and a higher rate of cancer in the nodes were observed in interviews conducted after their first surgery to be reacting to their conditions "with fatigue-like symptoms — lack of vigor, listlessness, and apathy," she said.

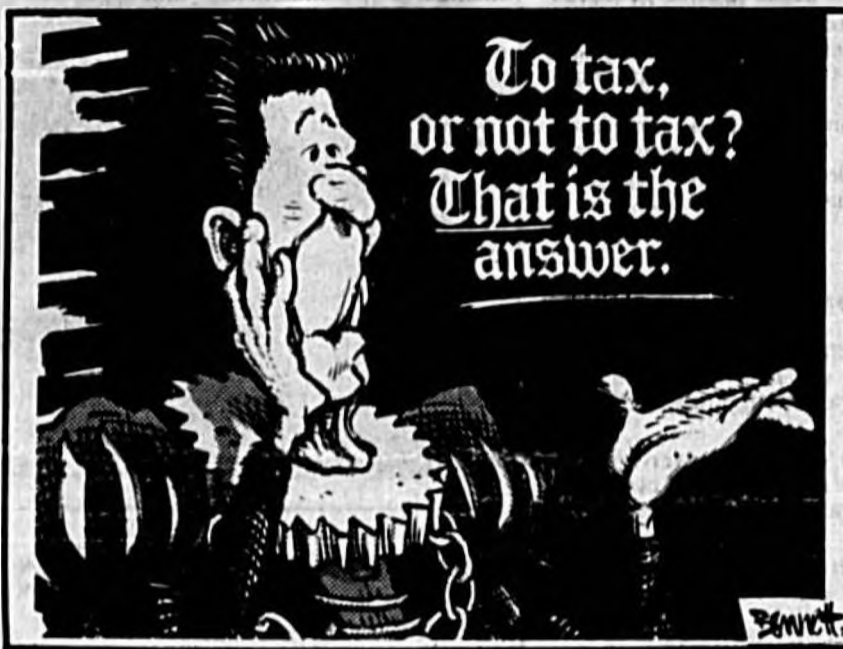

To date, 18 cases of recurrence had been found. The group under study ranged in age from 28 to 74 and was originally diagnosed either with Stage 1 cancer, confined to a tumor in breast tissue, or Stage 2 cancer, where the disease had spread to the axillary nodes under the arm.

The results, she told a panel at the American Psychological Association's annual meeting, indicated the value of a patient's spirited response.

In dealing with a patient who showed a listless reaction, "I certainly would work with them to try to get them to express their perception of the situation, articulate what was going on inside them," she said.

More conclusions from the study, assisted by Drs. Marc Lippman and Ron Herberman of the U.S. National Cancer Institute, were expected in about a year.

Another study of the coping styles of 38 men and women with malignant melanoma, presented by Madelon Vaintainer and Ron Casey, psychologists at the Yale University School of Medicine, found those with greater anxiety and hostility when their disease was first diagnosed showed an increase in NK cell activity nine months later. They were also less disturbed about their disease later on.

JEFFREY HART

Buying Poverty

For some time now Rep. Jack Kemp of New York has been saying that when you subsidize something you get it, and last week New York City statistics confirmed his point. We have subsidized poverty and we have it, and we have subsidized family breakdown, and we have that too. Congratulations, how your tax dollars are being spent.

In 1983 in New York City 37 percent of the babies being born were illegitimate. In central Harlem, a black neighborhood, the figure was 80 percent; in parts of the Bronx, the figure was over 70 percent.

In 1983, before President Lyndon Johnson declared his war on poverty, the illegitimacy figure in New York City was 11 percent. Since LBJ declared war on poverty, we have spent about a trillion dollars on the project and this is how it works.

The war on poverty, beginning in the mid-1960s, made it easy for unmarried teen-age girls to obtain welfare, educational, medical and other assistance. By the simple expedient of getting pregnant, a New York teen-ager can get out of her crowded apartment and into a place of her own, courtesy of the taxpayer. Successive illegitimate children bring her greater rewards from the public treasury. This certainly beats working.

New York's Governor Mario Cuomo has just signed legislation enabling pregnant teen-agers to obtain pre-natal care at public expense without their parents' consent, a "progressive" measure as these things go. This "pre-natal care" merely subsidizes the illegitimacy treadmill, buying more of it by paying for it with your money.

In response to the shocking New York illegitimacy figures, Eleanor Holmes Norton, chairman of President Carter's Federal Equal Employment Opportunity Commission, observed that "The city's most basic building block, the family, is not functioning so as to guarantee a decent start in life to children." Sociologist Kenneth Clark thinks "the young people are unemployed. There are very few pleasures in life for them besides sex and drugs."

But people like Horton and Clark do not suggest lowering the minimum wage so that young people could be employed for what they are worth, and they do not suggest ending the public subsidy we are paying for sex, illegitimacy and drugs.

The cumulative effect of these "war on poverty" programs is certain to be enormous. When you subsidize illegitimacy and break down the family, you create future welfare clients. These teen-age mothers, whose income and personal existence depends upon producing illegitimate children, are also producing future dependents on the public treasury. A well-intentioned and humanitarian "aid-to-dependent-children" program has become a civic cancer.

Not surprisingly, New York Governor Mario Cuomo recently launched an effort — struck down by the courts as unconstitutional — to use state employees to register people on the welfare lines to vote, knowing, of course, that very few of them would vote for Ronald Reagan or a state candidate like Lewis Lehrman. Roll on, roll on, Mr. Cuomo is saying, the wagon train of social disintegration.

Does anyone care, as the economist Walter Williams tirelessly points out, that black teen-age unemployment in 1940 almost exactly equaled white teen-age unemployment? Does anyone care? Does anyone care that we have managed to quadruple illegitimate births in New York within 20 years?

Ask Governor Cuomo, and the Party of Compassion.

The astonishing thing is how viciously the Party of Compassion attacks anyone who points out those elementary facts.

Making A GOP Majority

By Arnold Sawiak
UPI Senior Editor

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Republicans left Dallas talking about a 1984 landslide of such heroic proportions that it would give them what five victories in the last nine presidential elections have failed to yield: GOP majority status.

Starting way back in the 1930s, the national polls have shown that more Americans identify as Democrats than Republicans. It both galls and frightens Republicans that no matter who they put on the ballot and no matter how overwhelmingly they win elections, they simply cannot seem to catch up to the Democrats in terms of voter identification.

Right after the 1980 election, some Republican officials felt they had made the breakthrough at last. Ronald Reagan won with an electoral vote landslide (although only 51 percent of the popular vote), the Republicans took over control of the Senate and at least one poll showed the GOP had overhauled the Democrats.

But this proved to be a blip on the screen. Before 1982, the Democrats were back in first place and in some polls the Republicans were running third behind independents.

At last count, the GOP was about 12 percentage points behind the Democrats, even though Reagan enjoys a comfortable lead over Walter Mondale in most presidential election trial heat polls.

Actually, the Republican leaders put the liability of running behind in voter identification to practical use. In exhorting Republicans to work for the Reagan-Bush ticket at Dallas, GOP National Chairman Frank Fahrenkopf repeatedly warned them: "Don't ever forget; we are in the minority."

But Fahrenkopf and the Reagan campaign team also see the possibility of a 1984 electoral vote landslide comparable to Richard Nixon's 1972 feat of carrying every state except Massachusetts and the District of Columbia.

The GOP chairman told wire service reporters in Dallas that the polls he had studied showed the president ahead in every state except Minnesota, West Virginia and the District of Columbia. Fahrenkopf hastened to add his opinion that the race would tighten up before Nov. 6, but he clearly savored the idea of a runaway election.

Such a result, coupled with hoped-for victories in congressional and state elections, would give the Republicans the best chance since 1972 — when the opportunity was blown by the Watergate scandal — to establish themselves as the majority political party.

Vesco Linked To Big Drug Ring

WASHINGTON — Federal agencies have amassed volumes of evidence linking fugitive American financier Robert Vesco to a mammoth drug smuggling operation in unholy alliance with Nicaraguan government officials. My sources say the profits from the illicit drug traffic have exceeded $25 billion.

Firsthand evidence comes from a former Vesco associate in the scheme, Jitza Koolstra, a European dope smuggler who fled to the Bahamas in 1981, one jump ahead of the law. Lured into a trap by U.S. Customs Service agents, Koolstra turned state's evidence and was allowed to plead guilty to relatively minor charges.

Koolstra's account of the Vesco-Nicaraguan connection is laid out in a government report marked "sensitive." It was obtained by my associates Donald Goldberg and Corky Johnson. Here is Koolstra's story:

Koolstra had been smuggling hashish from Iran to Western Europe for two years when his partners were arrested. According to Koolstra's statement, he escaped with $2 million to the Bahamas, where he was approached by a bagman for longtime Prime Minister Lynden Pindling. Koolstra got permission to operate in the Bahamas.

At about the same time, Koolstra met Vesco, who lived nearby and was making payments to the prime minister through his bagman. Koolstra and a Vesco associate, Adolph Loia, went into dope dealing in the Caribbean, including the sale of Bolivian cocaine to distributors in the United States.

Loen proposed a venture, to be bankrolled by Vesco, to smuggle coke from Nicaragua to Western Europe. According to Koolstra, Vesco also supplied the Nicaraguan contact, Faradico Vaughn. He was to buy the cocaine in Colombia, bring it into Nicaragua with help and connivance of corrupt Sandinista officials and ship it from Nicaragua to Europe. There Koolstra and Loia would distribute it through Nicaraguans — apparently diplomats — whose names were provided by Vaughn.

The first shipment to Europe was secreted in a crate containing a marine winch. The share of the profits due to Vaughn and officials in Nicaragua was sent back in cash by a Nicaraguan ambassador using the diplomatic pouch.

As further evidence of Vaughn's — and thus Vesco's — relationship to high officials in Managua, Koolstra said Vaughn at one point proposed a marijuana smuggling operation that would involve the Nicaraguan minister of agriculture.

Koolstra's tale may be challenged, but other sources have provided details about Vesco that lend at least some credibility to his claims. For example:

— Vesco reportedly was introduced to the possibilities of drug dealing four years ago in the Bahamas by a Cian dope trafficker who advised him on profit-laundering through offshore corporations.

— Vesco and the Colombian began working with the Cubans in 1980, about the time the United States started its crackdown on drug smugglers. The Cubans pro Vesco's smuggling boats a safe haven in return for his agreement to run guns from Cuba to Nicaragua and other Latin American countries.

— Vesco reportedly met Cuban President Fidel Castro in 1982, and the two developed plans to expand drug traffic and to smuggle high-technology equipment into Cuba from the United States.

Victim Flees Through Bedroom Window

A Sanford woman fled her home through a window after the burglar who opened it jumped on her bed and grabbed her.

As the woman broke free and scrambled through the window, the intruder hollered "Bernard wife," three times, according to a Sanford police report.

Karen Bonita Sanders, 26, of #59 William Clark Circle, told police that at 3:20 a.m. Sunday, she was awakened by a man who removed a screen from her north bedroom window, climbed through, jumped on her bed and grabbed her.

After she fled, the man left the house through the front door, according to the report.

Two children asleep in the home were not bothered and no explanation of the attacker's "Bernard wife" statement was included in the report.

Police said they planned to interview the victim today to see if she could shed some light on the matter.

Damage to the window was estimated at $20.

SHOTGUN ARREST

A Seminole County sheriff's deputy who spotted a suspect who "has had several complaints filed against him and a suspended driver's license" stopped that man as he drove along South Sanford Avenue, Sanford, Saturday, and charged him with carrying a concealed firearm and possession of a short barrel shotgun.

The officer reported seeing the stock of the gun sticking out from under carpeting on the passenger side floor of the suspect's car.

The man was arrested at 10:25 a.m. and the 410-gauge shotgun, which had both its barrel and stock shortened, was confiscated. The gun was loaded and cocked, the deputy reported.

Edmond Glenn Jones, 20, of 1788 Bell St., Sanford, was arrested and released on $5,000 bond.

COCAINE CAPTURE

Two women who were allegedly using cocaine in the parking lot of the Holiday Inn at state Road 436, at Wymore Road, Altamonte Springs, were charged with possession of cocaine after an Altamonte Springs policeman spotted them in their car.

After watching the women for a few minutes, the officer approached the car. As he did so, the woman one on the passenger side of the car allegedly tried to hide the objects she was holding. The officer recovered the following items from the floor of the car — less than two grams of cocaine, a mirror, a razor blade and a straw.

The women were arrested at 12:13 a.m. Sunday, and the passenger, Cynthia Lucille St. Jorman, 36, of Georgetown, Fla., was also charged with possession of a controlled substance in an unauthorized container. The officer allegedly found a pill marked "Tylor" in a vialum bottle in her purse.

The other woman arrested was Nancy Bradley Quillen, 40, of 1000 Lake of the Woods Blvd., Fern Park. Both were released on $8,000 bond each.

SLEEPER WITH POT

A 33-year-old Orlando man got a rude awakening when a highway patrolman nudged him from his nap and charged him with possession of under 20 grams of marijuana and drug paraphernalia.

The man was reportedly sleeping in his car along Interstate 4 just north of Lake Mary when the trooper spotted him. The engine of the man's car was running, although he was asleep behind the wheel, the officer reported.

Loula Rusnell Truett Jr. was arrested at 8:20 p.m. Saturday after the trooper reportedly spotted a pipe and some marijuana in his possession. He was released on $500 bond.

BATTERED WIFE

A 32-year-old Casselberry man who allegedly punched his wife in the nose and pushed her from a car into their yard has been charged with spouse abuse.

Rebekah Patten, 29, of 514 Elm Drive, reported to Casselberry police that her husband attacked her at about 1:30 a.m. Sunday.

Paramedics treated her for a nose bleed at the scene and she received further treatment at Florida Hospital-Altamonte Springs. She told police she feared for her safety and wanted to press charges in the case, police report.

Karry Lee Patten, was arrested at his home at 1:35 a.m. Sunday. He was released on $500 bond.

TRAPPED BY POLICE

Oviedo officers pursuing an alleged speeding, reckless driver, trapped the man on the road when one officer pulled in front of his car and slowed down from a 93 mph chase, and a second officer drove behind the man cutting off his possible rear escape route.

Oviedo police report spotting the suspect speeding east on state Road 520, Oviedo, at about 5 a.m. Saturday. The man allegedly ignored the officer's signals to stop and led the lawman on a chase that ended at state road 434 and state Road 419 just outside Winter Springs.

Other officers joined in the chase, including two from Winter Springs. The first lawman who spotted the suspect eventually passed him on a curve and blocked his path while a second Oviedo officer cut him off from behind, police report.

At 5 a.m. Saturday, Ronald Alan Kling, 19, of 2401 Duquense Ave., Apopka, was charged with fleeing and attempting to elude police, reckless driving and possession of marijuana after a bag of pot was reportedly found in his shirt pocket. He was released from jail on $500 bond.

ODOMETER TAMPERING

An Orlando car dealer has been sentenced to five years probation for altering a car's odometer.

Grover E. Murphy, 47, was also ordered by Seminole Circuit Judge Dominick J. Salfi to spend 15 weekends in the county jail and to advertise a statement about what he did in auto newspapers.

Murphy, who was sentenced Aug. 24, was accused of altering the odometer July 26, 1983. He was arrested Nov. 17 by Casselberry police.

Murphy could have received up to five years in prison for the third-degree felony.

DUI ARRESTS

The following persons have been arrested in Seminole County on a charge of driving under the influence:

—Ben Arthur Lowe, 30, of Zellwood, was arrested at 12:28 p.m. Sunday on state Road 436, Altamonte Springs, after he failed to maintain a single lane.

—Timothy Ray Wicks, 18, of 2160 E. Triangle Drive, Longwood, at 2:19 a.m. Sunday on Camelia Drive, Longwood, after he was spotted driving 55 mph in a 35 mph zone and on the wrong side of the road.

—Emich Eugene Turner, 22, of Orlando, at 10:30 a.m. Sunday after he was seen traveling 79 mph and weaving on Interstate 4 near Lake Mary.

—Alan Scott Nelson, 23, of 511 Barton Lane, Sanford, at 9:25 p.m. Saturday after his car ran off the road and crossed the center line on county Road 46A, Lake Mary.

4 Men Await Sentencing On Various Drug Charges

Four men in separate incidents charged with possession of controlled drugs from Vallum to oxycodone have pleaded guilty in Seminole Circuit Court and are awaiting sentencing.

—Juan Angel Schillelki, 24, of 704 Skylark Circle, Longwood, pleaded guilty Monday to a charge of possession of cocaine. He was arrested May 8 after he met with agents at his home after being introduced by an informant.

He asked them to leave the house to make a deal because he did not want his stepfather to see the transaction, a sheriff's report said.

The agents and Schillelki met on Raven Avenue, at Meadow Lark Court, in Longwood, where Schillelki was arrested.

Judge Robert McGregor set Nov. 13 for sentencing. Schillelki could receive up to a year in the county jail.

—Michael Steven Cohn, 20, of 1701 Markham Woods Road, Longwood, pleaded guilty to possession of oxycodone.

He entered the plea before McGregor who set Nov. 13 for sentencing. Cohn could receive a year in the county jail.

He was arrested May 9 after he was stopped for a traffic check by Altamonte Springs police. According to court records, he was arrested for driving with a suspended driver's license. After he was placed in the patrol car, he reportedly asked the officer to park his vehicle.

The officer who parked the car noticed a capsule of oxycodone in the vehicle and charged Cohn with possession of a controlled substance.

—Richard Lawrence Grabowski, 23, of Orlando, pleaded guilty Thursday to possession of vallum.

According to court records, in March an Altamonte Springs officer learned by a computer check that the license plate on a 1972 van in the parking lot of the Hot Line Bottle Club, 803 W. Altamonte Drive, Altamonte Springs, was supposed to be on a 1974 Volkswagen.

The driver of the vehicle, Grabowski, could only produce a partial Pennsylvania license and no registration, the officer reported. He had a title to the vehicle but there was no name on it.

Grabowski gave the officer permission to search the van and a small amount of a green leafy vegetation was found. When the man emptied his pockets, he had a prescription bottle not made out to him with Vallum tablets in it plus the remains of marijuana cigarettes and an unidentified brown tablet.

Circuit Judge C. Vernon Mize Jr. set Oct. 26 for sentencing. Grabowski could receive up to a year in the county jail.

—Ronnie Cole, 21, of 2100 Howell Branch Road, Maitland, pleaded guilty Thursday before Mize for possession of cocaine. Mize set Oct. 26 for sentencing. Cole could receive up to a year in the county jail.

According to court records, an Altamonte Springs officer stopped a car for a traffic check May 17 at 5:10 a.m. in the 700 block of state Road 436, Altamonte Springs.

The officer reported seeing marijuana in the car and searched the vehicle. Cole was arrested for possession of cocaine and marijuana. In exchange for the guilty plea on the cocaine charge, the marijuana offense was not prosecuted.

A co-defendant, David Williams Staton, 24, of Orlando, arrested on two counts of possession of marijuana, has not had a trial date set.

Diet Pill Sweeping U.S.

New Grapefruit 'Super Pill' Guarantees Fast Weight Loss No Dieting — Eat All You Want

BEVERLY HILLS, CA. (Special)—An amazing new "super" grapefruit pill has recently been developed and perfected that reportedly "guarantees" that you will easily lose at least 10 pounds in 10 days. Best of all, it allows you to "eat as much as you want of your favorite foods and still lose a pound a day or more starting from the very first day until you achieve the ideal weight and figure you desire."

This "super" grapefruit pill is a dramatically improved version of the world famous grapefruit diet. It is far more effective than the original and eliminates "the mess, fuss, and high cost of eating half a fresh grapefruit at every meal."

"Pill Does All The Work" According to the manufacturer, "the pill itself does all the work while you quickly lose weight with NO starvation "diet menus" to follow, NO calorie counting, NO exercise, and NO hunger pangs. It is 100% safe. You simply take the pill with a glass of water before each meal and the amazing combination of powerful ingredients are so effective they take over and you start losing weight immediately."

Pill Contains ALL Daily Vitamins The powerful and unique combination of ingredients are what make this a "super-pill." It contains highly potent grapefruit concentrate and a diuretic to help eliminate bloat and puffiness. No need to take any vitamins to maintain your good health and energy. The pill is fortified with ALL (100%) of the U.S. Government daily vitamin requirements.

Contains Japanese 'Glucomannan' Each pill also contains an amazingly effective amount of "glucomannan," the remarkable natural dietary fiber discovery from Japan (used successfully for over 1500 years) that expands in your stomach and gives you a full and satisfied feeling all day long.

The super-pill is already sweeping the country with glowing reports of easy and fast weight loss from formerly overweight people in all walks of life who are now slim, trim, and attractive again.

Now Available to Public You can order your supply of these highly successful "super" grapefruit pills (now available directly from the manufacturer by mail order only) by sending $12 for a 14-day supply (or $20 for a 30-day supply, or $35 for a 60-day supply) cash, check, or money order to: Citrus Industries, 9903 Santa Monica Bl., Dept. 246, Beverly Hills, Calif. 90212. Tullis: Patriots Can't Rest On '83 Laurels

By Chris Flater
Herald Sports Writer

It's hard not to look back, especially after compiling an impressive 8-3 record. Coach David Tullis and his Lake Brantley Patriots, nevertheless, have to put the 1983 season behind them and are concentrating on 1984.

The Patriots had much to be proud of last season as they were among the best teams in Central Florida. They hope to use last season's success for motivation, but they can't count on it to carry them through this season.

The Patriots have a number of returning starters on offense and in the defensive secondary, but the defensive line and linebacking corps were hit hard by graduation and plugging the holes left by such stalwarts as Donnie O'Brien, Pat James and Byron Bush will be important to the success of the 1984 squad.

"We lost a lot of talented defensive players to graduation," Tullis said. "The defense has been a little suspect so far in practice and in Friday's jamboree. We have a lot to improve on on defense. We gave up some big plays in the jamboree (a 10-8 loss to DeLand) and we can't do that and expect to have a winning season."

Defense was the trademark of the Big Blue in 1983 and Lake Brantley has lost 7 of 11 defensive starters from last year's team to graduation including linemen Clark Millikan, linebackers O'Brien, Bush and James and defensive backs Ricky Phillips, Jeff King and Clark Lee.

The number of starters rose from seven to eight when senior defensive tackle Dean Shirley was lost for the season with a knee injury. That was a crushing blow to the Patriots' defensive line, which was anchored by Shirley in '83. Shirley underwent knee surgery over the summer but it didn't heal in time for him to play in 1984.

The Lake Brantley defense will not be as strong in 1983 so the Patriots will rely on the offense to put up a lot of points in 1984. The offense has five returning starters along with a number of players who saw a lot of action last season.

Quarterback Dennis Groseclose, a three-year starter, will be looked to for leadership in his senior year. Curt Mull and Bill Neville will anchor a big, strong offensive line which will pave the way for running backs such as Steve Emmons, the Patriots' leading rusher in '83.

Lake Brantley opens the season Friday night at 8 at Orlando Colonial. Tullis is assisted by Merv Williams (defensive coordinator), Brian Smith (offensive coordinator), Gary Smith (linebackers), Glen Priesing (offensive line) and Mike Iacardi (defensive backs).

OFFENSE

Backfield — Emmons, a sprinter on the track team, returns for his senior year after leading the team in rushing last year (over 500 yards). "He's been our top back in the preseason and we'll rely on his speed a lot this year," Tullis said. The Patriots lost three talented runners, Allen Armstrong, Greg Shatto and Chuck Stallings, to graduation but stepping in to fill those spots will be seniors Bobby Garrison, Kurt Marn and Scott Salmon. Marn and Salmon also start in the defensive backfield. Other running backs on the team include seniors Craig Marlen and Phil Collard and juniors Chris Walsh, Cornelius Friendly and Ed Garrison. Mike Beams, who gained over 1,000 yards for the junior varsity, last year decided not to play football and concentrate on baseball, according to Tullis.

Groseclose has been the starting quarterback for the last two years and will be the starter again in '84. But, the Patriots have a pair of talented juniors also battling it out at quarterback in David Dellafacco and John Gowan.

Scott Salmon

Curt Mull

Dellafacco was the leading receiver on last year's junior varsity team while Gowan was the quarterback. "Will look to Groseclose for leadership," Tullis said. "But all three quarterbacks have looked good in the preseason."

Receivers — Senior split ends John Mondo and Rich Pearce will be the main targets for the Lake Brantley quarterbacks. Mondo led the team in receiving last year and Tullis has been pleased with the progress of Mondo and Pearce in the preseason. Other receivers include juniors Sam Sears, Chris Derden, Mickey Perez, Steve Stark and Andy Pizil.

Seminole Runners Race Lions

Seminole High will open the 1984 cross country season today at 4 p.m. in a dual meet with Oviedo High at the school's new course. The girls race will begin at 4 p.m. with the boys race starting at 4:30 p.m.

Seminole's new course is located near Lakeview Middle School and, "is a great spectator course," according to coach Ted Tombroe.

Seminole will not only christen its new course today, but it will also unveil its vastly improved cross country program. Both the boys and girls teams will be among the best in Seminole County in 1984.

The top runners on the girls team include junior Debbie Coleman, freshmen Shonda Martin and Dorell Webster, seniors Kaitrina Walker and Olinda Bass and sophomore Jennifer Roberts.

Top runners on the boys team include juniors Billy Penick, Kelly Faint and Kelvin Abney and sophomore Larry Cosby.

Today's race will be a tuneup for Saturday's Greyhound Opener at Lyman High School which is the first big meet of the 1984 season.

O-Twins Split, Need Playoff To Earn Berth

ORLANDO — Orlando Twin Paul Gibson has beaten the Charlotte Orioles three times already this Southern League baseball season. If he can add number four tonight at 7:30 at Tinker Field, the O-Twins will earn a playoff berth against the Greenville Braves.

The O-Twins split a double-header with Jacksonville Monday, winning the first game, 10-6, but dropping the second, 5-3, while Charlotte pulled out an 8-7 13-inning victory over Greenville.

The Monday results left Orlando and Charlotte tied for the second-half title in the East Division. Both had 45-29 records while Greenville, the first-half winner, was 42-28. Tonight's winner hosts the first two games of the playoffs beginning Wednesday.

Orlando holds a 12-4 edge over Charlotte for the season, but most of those wins were picked up before John Hart took over the managerial reins for the Orioles. Hart, who won a state championship at Boone High four years ago, is an up-and-comer in the minors. He has pulled the Orioles together, and with the addition of a few new players, turned them into a contender.

A sweep Monday would have given the Twins an outright championship, but the explosive bats which battered Jax in the first game went silent in the second except for Stan Holmes who socked his 25th homer and Jerry Lomastro who clubbed his 15th. Dave Hoeksema clouted a grand slam off Jay Pettibone for the big blow in the second game. Juan Portugal, 14-7, who went the distance, scattering nine hits to win the first game. Stine Poole slugged his sixth homer for Orlando.

Stretching Ex-Seminoles

Reggie Branch, above, loosens up his legs prior to Saturday's meeting with Florida State in Tallahassee while Isaac Williams, left, gives John Lonata's neck a turn for the better. Branch, East Carolina's 230-pound fullback, and Williams, a 260-pound defensive tackle for FSU, both played on district championship teams for Seminole High coach Jerry Posey. Branch ('79) ran for 61 yards on 10 attempts Saturday. His 28-yard burst set up East Carolina's only touchdown as FSU romped, 48-17. Williams ('81) contributed six tackles for the victorious Seminoles.

McEnroe, Connors Continue On Collision Course At U.S. Open

NEW YORK (UPI) — Bearing not so much a scratch nor a scare for their first week's work, John McEnroe and Jimmy Connors seem almost certainly bound for a date in the semifinals of the U.S. Open Tennis Championships.

Between them they have captured the last six men's titles, and it appears inevitable that one will take his place in Sunday's final.

Through each's first three matches, neither has conceded a set. McEnroe, the top seed, has been touched for a mere 12 games and Connors, the two-time defending champion, has dropped 24.

Both men were scheduled for fourth-round matches today, with McEnroe going against qualifier Robert Green, who is ranked No. 132 in the world.

Connors faced a tougher assignment but still was expected to reach the quarterfinals against No. 16 seed Joakim Nystrom.

Pro Tennis

For a pleasant change of pace, it's the top seeded women who are running into a little more difficulty than the men.

On Monday, defending champion Martina Navratilova made it into the women's quarterfinals after managing only a single break in each set in subduing 15th seed Barbara Potter, 6-4, 6-4; Chris Evert Lloyd dropped the first three games before rebounding for a 6-4, 6-0 victory over No. 12 Bonnie Gadusek; and No. 3 Hana Mandlikova was down 4-2 in the second set before overtaking unseeded Lori McNeil, 3-6, 6-4, 6-2.

For fourth seed Pam Shriver, it couldn't have been easier. She earned a berth in the quarterfinals when Susan Mascarin was forced to default with a sprained right ankle.

All three men's seeds to complete their fourth-round matches Monday won in straight sets. Second seed Ivan Lendl beat No. 14 Anders Jarryd, 6-2, 6-2, 6-4; No. 5 Andrea Gomez defeated No. 12 Vitas Gerulaitis, 6-4, 7-6 (10-8), 6-1; and No. 15 Pat Cash topped Greg Holmes, 7-8 (7-5), 6-3, 6-1.

The match between fourth seed Mats Wilander and Tim

Mayotte was suspended by rain at 3-3 in the opening set, and was to be resumed today.

The only women's seed to be eliminated Monday was No. 7 Lisa Bonder, a 4-6, 7-5, 6-4 victim of Helena Sukova in a match that featured 15 service breaks.

Otherwise, No. 13 Wendy Turnbull topped No. 8 Claudia Kohde, 6-3, 6-1, and No. 14 Carling Bassett routed Petra Delhees Jauch, 6-1, 6-1.

Twins Scratch Past KC Increase Lead To 2

United Press International Kansas City manager Dick Howser thought he'd seen the end of "Winning Ugly" after last season. Now the style is coming back to haunt him again.

Last year, it was the Chicago White Sox who won the AL West by "winning ugly," fashioning runs in unspectacular fashion. Now it's the Minnesota Twins who are clinging to the West lead by scratching out victories.

The Twins gave Howser a taste of it Monday night. In the second inning, they used a hit batsman, a walk, an error and a groundball single to score twice and it was enough to send them on their way to a 4-1 victory over the Royals.

John Butcher made the 2-1 lead stand up by scattering just four singles through seven innings and the Twins, who had lost five straight, pushed the game out of reach by scratching out two more runs in the ninth. The victory left them two games ahead of the Royals.

Kansas City starter Bud Black hit Kent Hrbek with a pitch in the second and shortstop Buddy Biancalana booted a two-out grounder by Tim Teufel. After Tim Laudner walked to load the bases, Ron Washington bounced a two-run single to right.

Minnesota's two insurance runs in the ninth were not pretty either — a bases-loaded sacrifice fly by pinch-hitter Randy Bush and an infield single by Darrell Brown.

"They got four runs but they didn't wear anybody out," Howser said.

A's 6, White Sox 2 At Chicago, Mike Heath drove in two runs, including the game-winner, and Chris Codrill and Chuck Rainey combined on a five-hitter to pace Oakland. Carney Lansford had a three-run homer for the A's to pad their lead to 8-2.

A.L. Baseball

Red Sox 6, Brewers 5 At Milwaukee, Jim Rice and Tony Armas homered to power Boston. Rice's 24th homer, a solo shot in the fifth, was the 300th of his major-league career. Armas hit his league-leading 36th homer in the sixth for an 8-3 lead. Dennis Boyd raised his record to 10-9 by striking out seven.

Yankees 2, Blue Jays 0 At New York, Joe Cowley and Dave Righetti combined on a four-hitter and Dave Winfield hit his 17th homer to lift the Yankees. Bobby Meacham drove in the game's first run with a seventh-inning sacrifice fly. Cowley raised his record to 8-1.

Indians 6, Angels 5 At Cleveland, Mel Hall and Joe Carter had solo homers and Mike Hargrove added a two-run double for the Indians. Hall's sixth homer, with two out in the first, gave Cleveland a 1-0 lead. Hargrove's double in the fifth helped the Indians to a 5-1 advantage and Carter hit his eighth homer in the sixth.

Orioles 7, Tigers 4 At Detroit, Mike Young hit reliever Aurelio Lopez's second pitch for a grand slam in the eighth to snap a 3-3 tie and lift Baltimore. Young's two-out homer, his 13th, came after starter Jack Morris, 17-10, loaded the bases on three walks.

Mariners 7, Rangers 3 At Arlington, Texas, Barry Bonnell singled in the game-winner during a four-run fourth inning to lead Seattle. Rookie left-hander Mark Langston, 14-9, and Ed Nunez combined on a nine-hitter to give the Mariners their sixth straight victory in Arlington dating back to last September.

Phillies' Boots Boost Cubs — Andujar, Sutter Stymie Mets

United Press International The obituary for the 1984 Philadelphia Phillies, which may be written any day, should have a few words misappellated. In a microcosm of their bumbling season, the Phillies made two errors in the 12th inning Monday at Veterans Stadium to hand Chicago a 4-3 victory. The loss dropped Philadelphia to 73-63, 9 1/2 games behind the first-place Cubs in the East. "It's frustrating to lose like that," said Philadelphia manager Paul Owens after seeing his club's error total reach 248, tied with hapless San Francisco for the most generous team in the majors. "That's the way we've played. We hang in there long enough to get beat by one run." With the score 3-3, rookie second baseman Juan Samuel booted an easy grounder by Chicago pinch hitter Rich Hebner to open the 12th. After a sacrifice and a fielder's choice, Ryne Sandberg stole second. He scored when Gary Matthews' grounder bounced away from shortstop Kiko Garcia for another error. "Hebner runs as well as I do, and I might be a little faster," said the 60-year-old Owens. "There's no reason in the world why he (Samuel) has to make a play like that on the run." The Phillies survived a brilliant 15-strikeout pitching performance by the Rick Sutcliffe, but they couldn't pull out a game they had to win.

Pirates 3, Expos 0 At Montreal, Jason Thompson clouted his 15th homer and Larry McWilliams and Kent Tekulve combined on a four-hitter to pace the Pirates. McWilliams, 9-9, who shut out the Expos earlier this season, surrendered three hits over eight innings and lowered his ERA to a league-leading 2.41. Tim Lincecum went 0-for-4 and didn't steal any bases for the Expos.

Braves 6, Astros 4 At Atlanta, Dale Murphy belted his 29th homer to break a fifth-inning tie. Craig McMurtry, 9-14, started in place of Pascual Perez, who was scratched by Manager Joe Torre because the Braves' right-hander arrived late to the stadium.

Padres 4, Dodgers 3 At Los Angeles, Kevin McReynolds and Terry Kennedy homered and Mark Thurmond won his 12th game, helping the Padres snap a four-game losing streak. San Diego leads the West by 10 games.

Line — The nucleus of the Patriots in '84 will be the powerful offensive line which averages 225 pounds. "The offensive line is the main strongest area of this year's team," Tullis said. "We're really counting on the experience of the line. Consistency has been a little bit of a problem but we should work that out."

All State candidate Mull anchors the offensive line at his center position. His massive 6-6, 275-pound frame paved the way for numerous big plays in '83 and he will be counted on to do the same in '84. An injury in practice slowed Mull down last week and he missed Friday's jamboree, but he was back in practice Monday.

Another returning starter is guard Bill Neville, a 6-2, 211-pound senior. Neville, an all-county selection, was an important figure on last year's offensive line. Starting at the other guard will be Matt Gabrovic, a 6-11, 200-pound junior. Greg Riese, a 6-10, 170-pound senior is also expected to see a lot of action at guard. Adding more bulk to the offensive line is 6-2, 258-pound tackle Andy Craft. Starting at the other tackle is 6-1, 225-pound junior Mark Bousquet. Starting at tight end is 6-3, 170-pound junior Joel Miller. Rex Black, a 6-5, 190-pound senior, will also see plenty of action at tight end.

DEFENSE Backfield — The strongest area of the defense will be the backfield according to Tullis. Leading the way are returning starters Salmon and Marn. "We have some experienced and skilled players in the secondary," Tullis said. "Salmon and Marn have both been impressive in the preseason." Salmon, a 5-9, 170-pound senior, was one of the top defensive backs in the Seminole County last season and he should be one of the best in Central Florida again in '84. Starting along with Salmon at cornerback is Derden, a 5-8, 140-pound junior. Marn will start at one safety spot with DeStacco filling in the other. Depth in the defensive backfield comes from Gowan, Garrison, Aaron Kindel, Pearce, Perez, Marlen and Brown. Linebackers — With all three starters from last year graduated, defensive end Scott Hubbard, a 5-11, 187-pound senior, was moved to linebacker. Tullis said Hubbard made the move smoothly and has been the top linebacker in preseason drills. Jeff Morris, a backup on last year's squad, and Bousquet will start alongside Hubbard. Morris is a 6-1, 182-pound senior. Depth in the linebacking corps comes from seniors Mondo, Collard and Larry Mula along with juniors Will Freeman, Jeff Peterson, Jim Conchelas, Matt Wilson and Ed Garrison. Line — The loss of Shirley was devastating, but the Patriots have a pair of talented players to take his place. Larry Froemming, a 5-7, 193-pound senior, and Gabrovic will fill in Shirley's spot at defensive tackle while 6-6, 192-pound senior Sean O'Brian will start at the other tackle spot. Bobby Bodo, a 6-0, 166-pound junior, impressed Tullis in the jamboree and will see a lot of action at tackle this season. "It's hard to replace a guy like Shirley,"

Rogers Holds On For Victory

NEW SMYRNA BEACH — Long-distance specialist David Rogers held off extra-hard charging ALL-PRO regular Butch Lindley and fastest qualifier LeRoy Porter to win the 100-lap Labor Day Weekend Late Model championship on Sunday night at New Smyrna Speedway. Lindley, in the Hodgdon/Frankie Grill Firebird, came out of the pits late and had to join the full field in last place at the start. Driving the Wayne Denach Firebird, Rogers, who defeated the ALL-PRO troupe during their annual Florida tour last June, started fifth. Saturday night's 50-lap feature winner was LeRoy Porter. The other weekend winners were David Russell and Rick Lokey in the thundercar division. David Snodgrass dominated the street stock class with two wins in the Jim Kinsey-prepared Carland Camaro.

BEDWETTER

LET THEM HAVE A DRY BED

The greatest gift you can give a bedwetter and the rest of the family, too, is an end to this serious problem, and make no mistake, bedwetting is serious. It can cause complicated psychological problems that last a lifetime. It's so needless because bedwetting, when not caused by organic defect or disease, can be ended. Send for our free brochure, "Bedwetting — What It's All About and How To End It" — No obligation. "Equally Effective for Adults."

WEIGHT WATCHERS' Quick Start PROGRAM

DEAR ABBY: Our daughter, "Etta," who is 22, went steady with "Rick" for four years. He's 23. Five months ago they drove to a distant state, found employment and started living together there. Last week they phoned to say that they had been married by a justice of the peace. But listen to this: Etta says she would like to come back home next summer and have a big church wedding like her sister had. She says it's always been her dream to walk down the aisle on her father's arm.

My husband doesn't want to give her a church wedding. He says since she's already married, she doesn't need a church wedding.

I tried to tell him it's not unusual for couples who have been married by a justice of the peace to get married again in a church.

He says to write to Abby, and if she says it's OK, he will compromise and give Etta a small church wedding.

What do you say, Abby?
 IN THE MIDDLE

DEAR IN: Many couples who have been married in a civil ceremony by a justice of the peace choose to be married again in a religious ceremony.

It need not be large to be beautiful and memorable. Don't deny Etta a church wedding. Be glad she wants one.

DEAR ABBY: Will you please tell me why the three major networks (ABC, CBS and NBC) treat us, the listening/viewing public, as though we are a bunch of illiterate morons?

After President Reagan or some other dignitary has talked for 20 to 40 minutes, some newscaster comes on for another half-hour to tell us what was said. We are quite capable of understanding English and do not need an interpreter to tell us what the speaker has already told us.

I, for one, resent it! Care to comment?

Toledo Company One Of The 'Best Run' In America

By Donna M. Davis

TOLEDO, Ohio (UPI) — A longtime industrial gem based in the relative obscurity of Toledo is sparkling brightly enough to catch the eye of the business world.

Dana Corp., automotive and industrial equipment parts manufacturer, in the past two years has won mentions in two books and two national magazine articles.

Thomas J. Peters' "In Search of Excellence: Lessons from America's Best-Run Companies" and Robert Levering's "The 100 Best Companies to Work For in America" mentioned Dana, as did Savvy magazine in an article on good companies for women, and Fortune on the 10 best-managed factories in the United States.

Dana employees say the recognition is deserved; that outsiders are just starting to notice management and personnel policies that have been evolving for years.

After a rash of publicity, the company has had "a lot of requests for speakers about our management style and opportunities," said Don Decker, public affairs director.

Dana was started in 1902 by Clarence Spicer as a New Jersey-based manufacturer of drive shafts. In 1914, Charles A. Dana of New York joined him and moved the company to Toledo because of the city's proximity to the automotive center of Detroit. The company name was changed from Spicer Manufacturing to Dana Corp. in 1948.

Today Dana has more than 300 manufacturing plants, warehouses and distribution centers worldwide employing 34,500 people.

Like other companies in the automotive field, wage freezes and personnel cutbacks enabled the company to withstand the recession of 1981 and 1982. Sales climbed to $2.9 billion in 1983 from $2.4 billion in 1982 and are continuing to rise this year.

Dana is progressing with the help of a unique philosophy whose key points include promotion from within and decentralization, Decker said.

"We don't hire anybody from the outside except at an entry level job in the person's chosen occupation," he said. "We don't hire anyone to an upper level management (position) from the outside; we promote from within 100 percent."

For Dana employees, Decker said, the "bottom line is, 'Your future is up to you.'"

Decker said over the years Dana has reduced its corporate staff from a peak of 325 to about 85 executives. "We've pushed more and more responsibility out into the divisions," he said. "We want people to manage themselves."

To succeed, a Dana employee must be willing to work in a variety of areas and to relocate.

"We want people to have experience in more than one discipline," he said. "So, if you start in accounting, somewhere along the line you'll have to get some experience in manufacturing."

"A personnel manager, for instance, is much more effective after he has had manufacturing experience because he knows what problems are out there," Decker said.

Managers learn about supervision, speaking and cost and asset management at a company training center. All employees are encouraged to purchase Dana stock and about 70 percent have.

The Savvy article singled Dana out as an excellent employer for women, but Decker and women executives said the company offers women who are willing to be versatile the same opportunities as men.

Karen Strand, the first woman to manage a manufacturing plant for Dana, said, "Women that come in playing on the fact they are women have a hard time. I work very hard to be generic — 'the boss.'"

Lois Kennedy who moved from secretary to director of investor relations over a 20-year career, said she has been asked what makes Dana a better place for women to work.

"It's probably the same things that make it a good place for anybody to work," she said.

High Interest Rates Put Homes Out Of Reach

NEW YORK (UPI) — The recent sharp increase in interest rates has again placed home ownership beyond the reach of a substantial portion of the American public, Manufacturers Hanover Trust said in its weekly economics publication.

"With mortgage rates now approaching 15 percent for a fixed-rate conventional loan, the perennial pursuit of the American dream remains just that for many would-be homebuyers," MHT economists said.

Sales of new single-family homes now stand some 17 percent below the peak reached last December. This leaves builders with about a 6 1/2-month inventory of unsold new homes, one of the highest in almost two years.

"Not surprisingly, single-family home construction declined 10 percent in July, the third monthly drop in a row," the bank said. At the same time, building permits, an indication of future housing activity, fell almost 12 percent month-over-month.

MHT economists said the effect of high mortgage rates "would have been even more dramatic had it not been for the growing popularity, not to mention availability of adjustable rate mortgages."

ARMs now account for about two of every three new mortgages originated, MHT said. They enable homebuyers to borrow at rates initially several percentage points below those on conventional mortgages, but with the possibility of a dramatic increase if market rates rise.

Pets Buckling Up

ST. LOUIS (UPI) — Shane Hussey says he used to have a terrible time traveling with Tuffy, the family Cockapoo. Now Hussey is marketing a product he says solves the problem — seat belts for cats and dogs.

Called Buckle-Up, the seat belt for pets consists of a vest which fits across the animal's chest and is fastened on the back by adjustable straps. One of the straps is attached to a fastened car seatbelt and allows the animal some freedom of movement while keeping it confined to the seat.

Buckle-Ups will sell for $12.95 to $14.95, Hussey said.

Free Hearing Tests Offered At Orange Hearing Aid Center

Meet Harry Powers, one of the hearing aid consultants at Orange Hearing Aid Centers. For the convenience of those in the Sanford area with hearing problems, Harry administers electronic hearing tests free of charge each Monday from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. In the testing facilities at Medco Discount Drugs, 2701-D South Orlando Drive, Sanford.

Harry is licensed by the state of Florida and certified by the National Hearing Aid Society and the National Board for Certification in Hearing Instrument Sciences. He also wears two hearing aids so he has first-hand understanding of the problems and needs of the hearing-impaired.

In fact, it was through his hearing aids that Harry became associated with Orange Hearing Aid Centers. He first worked as hearing aid consultant in Illinois in 1948. When he moved to Florida five years ago, he went to the Orange Hearing Aid Center at 120 S. U.S. 17-92 in Casselberry to be fitted with his hearing aids.

After learning of Harry's background, Bernard Fisher, Orange Hearing Aid Centers vice president and licensed hearing aid dispenser, who runs the Casselberry office, invited him to join the staff. He's been there ever since.

Orange Hearing Aid Centers have a full line of hearing aids including the Presidential Hearing Aid, which is the custom-made canal type aid worn by President Reagan. The tiny inconspicuous aid comes in several sizes and is also available in 14k gold plating.

HEARING TESTS SET FOR SANFORD/CASSELBERRY AREA

Electronic hearing tests will be given free of charge at the Orange Hearing Aid Ctrs. 2701 S. Orlando Dr., Sanford (Monday only) and 120 S. Hwy. 17-92 Casselberry, Monday-Friday this week. H. Powers and B. Fisher, certified by the National Hearing Aid Society will be at these offices to perform the tests.

Anyone who has trouble hearing or understanding is welcome to have a test using the latest electronic equipment to determine his or her particular loss.

Everyone should have a hearing test at least once a year if there is any trouble at all hearing clearly. Even people now wearing a hearing aid or those who have been told nothing could be done for them can find out about the latest methods of hearing correction.

The free hearing test will be given Monday thru Friday — this week at the Casselberry office and Monday at the Sanford location. Call the number below and arrange for an appointment, or drop in at your convenience.

Owner Gene Szara stands ready to improve your home with the best in aluminum materials.

Paramount Aluminum: Building A Business On Pride, Friendliness

If you've ever considered adding a screen room or aluminum siding to your home, now is the time. Paramount Aluminum in Longwood is having a fall special through Oct. 31. As a bonus for a full siding job, they will give you aluminum shutters free, or if they install a screen room, they will give you free indoor/outdoor carpeting.

At Paramount Aluminum, owner Gene Szara and his workers take tremendous pride in their work; so much that they guarantee it 20 years. "That's what we're building our business on," he says.

As contractors they do residential and business work. In addition to siding, they do soffit and fascia (overhang) and other improvements. They use quality materials from reputable companies like Alcoa, Reynolds and Bethlehem Steel.

Paramount Aluminum works by contract and gives accurate, free estimates. Gene says he will never jump the original estimated price he gives a customer.

He is so confident of the quality of workmanship that he says his customers will always be "satisfied with us, the job and the price."

They are licensed, insured and belong to the Greater Seminole County Chamber of Commerce. They are also members of the Aluminum Association of Florida. References from satisfied customers are available for inspection Gene says. "We take our business personally. We make friends. Some of our customers want us to come back and visit," he says.

So for friendly service and a good job, give Paramount Aluminum a call at 331-9079.

Labor Day

Politics, Parades And The Last Sunburn

By United Press International

Americans celebrated Labor Day — the last holiday of the summer — by packing beaches and picnic grounds, listening to the opening hoopla of the 1984 presidential campaign and then trying to get home on jammed highways.

While President Reagan opened his bid for re-election with red, white and blue balloons and big crowds in sunny California, the Mondale-Ferraro ticket marched through New York in an annual Labor Day parade that drew few spectators.

The Democrats then headed for Wisconsin where they arrived in time for it to rain on their parade. They completed their coast-to-coast swing in Long Beach, Calif.

Although the politicians worked, most Americans took the day off — including United Auto Workers President Owen Bieber. Bieber and the UAW are locked in contract talks with General Motors and Ford and the union membership already has authorized a strike if an agreement is not reached by Sept. 24.

But Bieber took Monday off to march in Detroit's annual Labor Day parade with AFL-CIO President Lane Kirkland, Michigan Gov. James Blanchard and Joan Mondale.

Labor parades were also held in Pittsburgh and Indianapolis. Terre Haute, Ind., and Princeton, Ind.

In the Clifton-Morenci area of southeast Arizona, a peaceful Labor Day march was held by striking copper workers on Sunday. Police had feared violence in the parade by 800 union workers who have been on strike 14 months against the Phelps Dodge Corp.

Labor Day was first celebrated by the Knights of Labor in 1882 and was made a federal holiday in 1894. The first Monday in September is also set aside in Canada as Labor Day.

While financial markets and government offices across the country closed for the holiday, America's beaches and picnic grounds were packed.

Carter Hammers While Mondale Marches

NEW YORK (UPI) — Former President Jimmy Carter, clad in work clothes and wielding a hammer, tolled with 40 other Georgia church volunteers to renovate a dilapidated tenement in New York's drug-infested Lower East Side.

While Carter spent Monday using his carpentry skills in one of the city's poorest neighborhoods, his former vice president, Walter Mondale, marched in the Labor Day Parade up Fifth Avenue to open his White House campaign.

Carter said he hopes Mondale wins in November but declined to talk politics as the construction crew from the Marantha Baptist Church of Carter's hometown of Plains, Ga., set about its task.

"I'm not running for anything. I'm a Christian and this is part of my Christian duty. I believe in this project," he said amid the buzz of power tools.

He was garbed in a blue workshirt, khaki pants and sneakers as he spoke to reporters outside the six-story building.

"I've always been a working person; it's not anything new for me. I've worked around the farm. I've worked around the factory, and I helped build a house in Georgia," said Carter.

The church group arrived in New York by chartered bus Sunday to work on the tenement, which is being rehabilitated by Habitat for Humanity, a nonprofit ecumenical organization based in Americus, Ga., eight miles from Plains.

The rundown building stands between Avenue C and Avenue D in "Alphabet City," an area with more vacant lots than buildings and plagued by drug dealers and drug abusers.

Work at the site started in October, with volunteers gutting the structure to prepare it for renovations.

The hard-hatted Georgians, who plan to rebuild the building's roof, floors and beams, started the job at 7 a.m. EDT Monday.

"This is a terrific idea. I'm glad I came," said Charles Smith, of Americus. "I don't have much skill; I'm mostly tote and carry."

Habitat officials are negotiating with the city to buy the building and estimate it will take $700,000 to finish the building's 19 apartments. Each unit will be sold to a neighborhood resident who meets the income requirements.

The apartments are expected to cost between $20,000 and $35,000 each.

"It is not a charity project. The families will have to pay, and they'll have to work on the project," Carter said. "It's the kind of thing people can look back on with pride."

Conservatives Favored In Canadian Election

TORONTO (UPI) — Polls show the Conservative Party, led by businessman Brian Mulroney, will defeat Prime Minister John Turner's governing Liberal Party by the largest margin in 26 years.

About 16 million Canadians were eligible to participate in the balloting from 9 a.m. to 8 p.m. local time today in Canada's 282 electoral districts.

The most recent Gallup poll, conducted early last week, showed the Conservatives with the support of 50 percent of decided voters, to 28 percent for the Liberals and 19 percent for the NDP. Ten percent of those surveyed said they were undecided.

For both Turner and Mulroney, it was the first campaign as head of their parties. Under Canadian law, the party that wins the most seats forms the next government.

Turner, ineligible to vote in his adopted electoral district in Vancouver because he does not reside there, cast an absentee ballot in the Toronto constituency where he makes his home.

Polls showed Turner running well behind incumbent Conservative Bill Clark, a 12-year House of Commons veteran. A loss would make Turner the first Canadian prime minister in 39 years to lose his own district.

Turner, 55, has been prime minister since June 30 when he succeeded Pierre Trudeau on his retirement. Turner resigned from the House of Commons in 1976 after resigning as Trudeau's finance minister.

Mulroney, a 45-year-old Montreal lawyer and businessman chosen as leader of the Conservative Party at a convention in June 1983, planned to vote early in his hometown of Bala Comeau, Quebec.

The election culminates an eight-week campaign in which a desire for change emerged as the voters' prime concern.

14 Die, Hundreds Injured In Riots

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (UPI) — Police mobilized in armored vehicles and fired on rampaging blacks around Johannesburg on the day South Africa's new constitution took effect. At least 14 were killed and hundreds injured.

Police spokesman Lt. Henry Beck said 10 people were shot to death in "police countermeasures" and at least four more people were killed by rioters who burned churches and other buildings and vehicles Monday in seven black townships outside Johannesburg.

Police said rioters hacked to death Sam Dlamini, the black deputy mayor of Sharpeville — where the worst disturbances were reported about 40 miles south of Johannesburg — after he fired at two black youths. Another black town official also was reportedly killed by rioters.

The death toll was expected to rise as police entered areas where the rioting had been heaviest.

Beck said police traveling in armored vehicles used semi-automatic weapons, buckshot, rubber bullets, tear gas and plastic whips to subdue the blacks.

The violence was the worst so far this year in South Africa, where elections for mixed-race and Asian parliamentary lawmakers last month were marred by unrest. The non-white legislators were to be sworn in today.

Under South Africa's new constitution, which went into effect Monday, the nation's system of segregation known as apartheid will remain intact. Blacks are excluded from the government, which will continue to be dominated by minority whites.

The latest rioting was blamed on rent and electricity rate increases that went into effect Saturday and triggered a strike by thousands of black workers Monday.

Arthur May Strengthen; Another Storm Forming

MIAMI (UPI) — Two of the first three tropical storms of the 1984 hurricane season have virtually faded but Arthur, the season's first such system, has been showing signs of strengthening near Puerto Rico.

Forecasters at the National Hurricane Center Sunday night said the system still posed a threat to land.

Meanwhile, forecasters were also watching another system growing in the tropical Atlantic and moving toward the Windward Islands. Forecaster Bob Case said reconnaissance airplanes would investigate the movement sometime today.

Arthur was downgraded to a tropical depression Friday, but continued its northwesterly course. By 10:30 p.m. EDT Monday it had top winds of 35 mph and was centered 275 miles northeast of San Juan, Puerto Rico. The system was moving northwest at 8 mph.

A "shearing-off" effect — upper-atmosphere winds going against the swirling flow of the depressions — had hindered both storms' development until Monday, said hurricane forecaster Bob Case.

"Satellite pictures show that the showers and thunderstorms in Arthur are better organized than 24 hours ago and it could intensify," Case said.

Don't Ban All Sweets From A Balanced Diet

Dr. Lamb

DEAR DR. LAMB - Can you give me some advice about my mother's diet? My mother is 84 and complains of being weak. She has been an active and physically strong woman. Until last summer, she did her own lawn mowing and gardening, and she took care of a small orchard. She still tries these activities, but can't do them alone any more.

She does not eat regular meals, but snacks on potato chips, candy and "junk food." Recently she was visiting my brother and brought along a bag of candy, apparently to sustain her energy. She became very upset when the bag accidentally spilled onto the ground.

DEAR READER - Good nutrition is important at all ages. I am not so concerned with your mother having sweets as with the vitamins, minerals and protein she may not be getting if she is not eating a balanced diet.

Many older people develop a craving for sweets and may not care so much for meat and vegetables. Don't fight it - just keep in mind that you want your mother to consume all the nutrients her body needs. A good milkshake may satisfy the sweet craving while providing complete protein from the milk plus important calcium. She may even be willing to let you add protein powders to the milkshake, providing even more protein.

Don't fall into the trap of thinking that just because it's sweet, it's bad - or, put another way, that because it really tastes good, it must be harmful.

Desserts can include puddings, ice cream and even sweetened fruits. Again, you can provide needed milk in many of these.

Sugar or sweets are a good source of immediate energy when one has exhausted one's sugar (glucose) levels, usually from hard work. And it is true that concentrated carbohydrates are helpful for endurance athletes and for people who must do heavy labor.

A major source of energy in the muscles is muscle glycogen. This is "animal starch", and is made up of molecules that are hooked together. It takes two or three days to get the muscles loaded with glycogen. Then, when the individual works, runs or engages in other activities, that energy is immediately available.

It takes time to "recharge" the muscles with glycogen, which is why a person needs to rest two days between bouts of vigorous work or exercise.

WIN AT BRIDGE

By James Jacoby

"How can I set this contract?" is the question that a defender should ask himself on every deal. His answer will help determine his level of expertise. Sometimes one correct answer leads to another question.

South's response of two no-trump showed a balanced hand of 13 or more high-card points without a four-card major suit. East won the opening lead with the spade king and wondered how he could set the contract. Declarer should have the spade jack or queen, so continuing spades would be a fruitless endeavor. East did have the club king for an entry, so there was hope in the heart suit if West had a high honor.

Having answered the question of whether to shift to hearts, East had one more important decision to make. Which card should he lead? The correct choice is the 10 of hearts. This has the effect of encircling the nine of hearts in dummy and establishing East's heart suit whenever his partner holds either the ace or the king. Note the result if the three of hearts is selected for the return. South will play low and West will win the king. But now declarer will be able to win both the ace and the jack later. East's lead of the 10 denies declarer two heart tricks and defeats the contract.

Bridge hand diagram showing North, South, East, and West cards and a vulnerable East-West deal.

HOROSCOPE

What The Day Will Bring...

YOUR BIRTHDAY

SEPTEMBER 5, 1984
You could be extremely fortunate this coming year with projects or ventures that you personally conceive. Act upon your bright ideas.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Do not be reluctant to express your views today if you feel you are thinking more clearly than those with whom you're involved. State your case. The areas in which you'll be the luckiest in the year ahead are revealed in your Astro-Graph predictions for the coming year. To get yours, mail $1 to Astro-Graph, Box 489, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019. Be sure to state your zodiac sign.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Financial trends continue to look favorable for you. However, even though several opportunities exist, it will be up to you to ferret them out.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Someone of whom you're fond may impose upon you for a favor today. Even though it will be an imposition, you will gain from it in an unexpected way.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Success in your endeavors is likely today but it might not come easily. Be persistent and don't quit when confronted by obstacles.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Strive to be alert today because this will enable you to perceive pitfalls or advantages your companions might fail to recognize.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) In career or financial matters today, take the long range view rather than the immediate one. Benefits are in the offing if you are farsighted.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) This is a good day to bring to the surface a misunderstanding you had with a close friend. The discussion will help bring you closer together than before.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Your tasks will not be as difficult as you previously envisioned if you approach your work in a positive frame of mind today. See efforts that are successful.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) It may be unwise to delegate the managerial role to an associate today in a matter that requires your personal supervision. Hold onto the reins.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Let the majority rule in family financial affairs today. Although your point of view might differ, the general consensus is apt to be right.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) This should be a profitable day for you where your commercial interests are concerned if you're not too timid to bargain a bit. Call the other guy a bluff.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Devote some thought today to better organizing and sorting out your financial affairs. Planning well now will lead to greater returns later.
