"Matter" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in Churches of Christ, Scientist, throughout the world on Sunday, September 17.
The Golden Text is: "Every plant, which my heavenly Father hath not planted, shall be rooted up" (Matt. 15: 13).
Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "For all flesh is as grass, and all the glory of man as the flower of grass. The grass withereth, and the flower thereof falleth away: But the word of the Lord endureth for ever. And this is the word which by the gospel is preached unto you" (1 Pet. 1: 24, 25).
The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "The crude creations of mortal thought must finally give place to the glorious forms which we sometimes behold in the camera of divine Mind, when the mental picture is spiritual and eternal. Mortals must look beyond fading, finite forms, if they would gain the true sense of things. Where shall the gaze rest but in the unsearchable realm of Mind?" (264: 3-10).

Soil Conservation News

By LESLIE A. JACOBSEN
Plannin' Technician of U. S. Soil Conservation Service

Last Tuesday we enjoyed going over the 120-acre ranch John Talton is developing with his brothers just east of Apopka. Mr. Talton is a cooperater with Orange district and is doing a fine job of developing his land according to its use capabilities as described in his soil and water conservation plan.

He has soils varying from very light drouthy sands to wet sticky muck. He realizes that proper forage plants must be selected for planting on soils where they can be expected to grow best. This summer Mr. Talton planted a mixture of Alyce Clover and Pensacola Bahia on the more sandy dry portions of his ranch. He knows that the Alyce Clover will provide nitrogen for the grass to use as well as grazing for his cattle. The Pensacola Bahia was chosen for planting on this class of land because of its deep rooting habits which make it stand up well during dry periods and because it makes a good winter and spring pasture. Pangola grass was planted this summer on soils intermediate between his real dry land and his bottom land and will be used primarily for summer grazing.

About Oct. 15 Mr. Talton plans on seeding a mixture of Louisiana White Clover, Kentucky 31 Fescue, Dallis and Carpet grasses on the 31 acres of bottom land which surrounds their 15-acre lake. This pasture mixture will provide grazing throughout the year but will be most valuable as a winter and spring pasture. The various classes of land with their adapted forage plants will be separated by fences. Fencing land in this manner simplifies the problem of liming, fertilizing and pasture management and permits controlled seasonal grazing where the forage plants are grazed at the proper stage of growth. Mr. Talton wanted to do something to improve fishing in his chart on the wall indicating the effect of alcoholic intake. Up to .05 percent of alcohol in the blood was marked blue, or safe. None of the tests made last night exceeded this limit. Five to 15 hundredths were marked orange, or questionable. Fifteen to 45 hundredths were marked red or illegal. Fifty hundredths or one half of one percent was black, indicating a fatal percentage.

Judge Douglas Stenstrom was much interested to learn that in a Tampa case the State Supreme Court had upheld a Circuit Court conviction of drunkenness based on a blood test, and he examined the lake. Howard Bisland, Soil Conservation Service Biologist, examined the lake this summer and found it out of balance which meant that the ratio of forage and carnivorous fish was not as it should be. We will remove the present fish population soon and the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Hatchery at Welaka will restock the lake with the proper ratio of bass and bluegills. Mr. Talton will fertilize the pond to increase its fertility and manage it for maximum fish production.

At the conclusion of our visit Mr. Talton said to us, "If this plan doesn't work properly, you will hear about it; if it does, you are always welcome to have steak with us." With good beef at a premium, that was a challenge we were glad to accept.

Just sharpen your pencil— and there you are!

ACROSS this broad land there are thousands of people who have been doing themselves a disfavor. Seems they "just naturally assume" a Buick is beyond their reach—and so pass up the car they're really itching to own. Now why "assume" anything as important to your happiness as a new car? Why not see for yourself how delivered prices run—how close Buick matches your own budget—how frequently it is priced under some cars you may be considering? Then—if there is a particular car in mind—sharpen up your pencil a little. Is it a six—or an eight, like Buick? If an eight, is it a valve-in-head eight? That adds a plus in efficiency, you know, even without the extra edge of Buick's Fireball power.

Will you ride on four soft coil springs, as in Buick—pr on only two? Will the drive be through a sealed torque-tube that keeps the rear wheel assembly firmly aligned? It is in a Buick. Do you get soft, low-pressure tires as part of the price—or as extras? Will you have bumper guards built as part of the bumper, or a one-piece cast-metal grille that can be costly to repair or replace? Does the price include air cleaner; oil filter; dual horns, windshield wipers and sun visors; an automatic dome light; self-locking luggage lid; a single key for all locks? And is there an automatic drive*, or one in which gears still shift in normal driving? *Optional. Drive is standard on Roadmaster, optional on other Buick models.

LOCAL DELIVERED
Buick prices begin at $2149.00
$2233.00
Optional equipment, state and local taxes, if any, additional. Prices vary slightly in adjoining communities due to shipping charges. All prices subject to change without notice.

Hollywood

HOLLYWOOD Sept. 25.—(AP)—Where are the stars of tomorrow? Asks Dana Andrews, one of the stars of today.

The handsome actor, who rose to prominence during the war, is now one of Hollywood's established stars. He has managed to jump the gap between being a new star and one with a degree of permanence, or as much permanence as anyone can have in this peripetous business.

How do I know Andrews is established? Well, his salary is probably close to $100,000 a picture. And he owns a yacht and this week is driving his first Cadillac. That's how I know.

Dana was reflecting about the new crop of stars between scenes of "The Saint Woman" (That's the name of a ship, they tell me.)

"I keep hearing that the industry needs new stars," he said, "but where are they? In the past year there have been hardly any new faces that look as though they might last. Eventually, the industry is going to suffer, because Hollywood's success has always been based on the creation of exciting new stars."

Andrews said the lack was especially noticeable in the ranks of the feminine stars.

"Just at some of the top names—Betty Grable, Joan Fontaine, Olivia DeHavilland, Irene Dunne, Claudette Colbert, Bette Davis," he said. "They were all in the business before I entered it, and I've been in it 11 years. Very few new stars have been developed since then."

The fault, he hinted, lies in Hollywood's selection of new talent.

"Apparently they don't pick the young people who are willing to work for what they get," he said. "I know of one example of a guy who had a good future at 20th Fox, but all he wanted to do was leading roles. When they asked him to help out on tests, he refused. Or if he did them, he sloughed off. The guy was just a specimen doing tests at Monogram."

It's hard work becoming a star, Andrews said.

"I get mad when people call a new star an overnight hit. In my case, I studied a year for Sam Goldwyn, just making tests before I had a screen role. Then I picked up several leads in pictures that starred Tyrone Power or Henry Fonda. All this time I was spending my evenings at the Pasadena Playhouse doing plays."

"I got my big break at Fox when the male stars were away in the service. Roles that were designed for Power and Fonda fell to me and some other names developed during the war."

Dana, I might point out, is the only one of the wartime crop remaining on the studio's contract list.

Talk of the town... how Bette Davis' film fortunes have soared again because of her new pictures... the Lita Taylor-Slick Hilton squabbles (son soon?)

Hints To Housewives

By Anna Mae Sikes

SUGAR ON SHELF
Aging does not improve sugar, even though this is a staple food which keeps well for a considerable time in a closed container, sugar specialists of the U. S. Department of Agriculture say.

However, they remind housewives that sugar kept too long hardens to "cakes" and then is more difficult to use. This is particularly true in humid summer weather when sugar may become damp.

Retail grocers the country over have reported that demand for sugar has tripled in recent weeks. Many housewives have been buying extra for preserving, as usual at this season, but current demand is far beyond normal. Heavy runs on sugar are reported from large cities where few women do canning. Many retailers have been forced to ration sugar to their customers simply because they have not been able to bring in supplies fast enough.

The run on sugar has caused unnecessary temporary shortages in some places and will mean that the woman who has overstocked eventually will have to use up hard, raked sugar—or will wait.

The temporary shortages have made the entertaining job at Jul... the entertaining job at Jul... is doing in Korea—

Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Hawkins today announce the birth of a son John William, eight pounds and three ounces, on Sept. 20 at the Fernald-Laughton Memorial Hospital.

Dug bones have been found in Ohio Indian mounds.

Some because retineries have been unable to refine and deliver sugar to keep pace with current buying. There is no overall shortage in fact, supplies of sugar are more than ample for the needs of this country, the sugar specialists say. Cuba still has 400,000 tons in U. S. reserve and other supplies which could be sent in if needed. Hawaii and Puerto Rico also have larger supplies than the quantities estimated as needed by the U. S. Moreover, the sugar crop of this country is expected to be very large this fall and may be record-size, and the cane crop in Louisiana and Florida is expected to be large.

Mississippi And Kentucky, Tulane And Alabama Week's Headliners

By STERLING SLAPPEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Southeastern Conference brand of football will be on display Saturday from California to Florida but the rain showrooms will be in New Orleans, Lexington and Starkville, Miss.

The Alabama-Tulane and the Mississippi-Kentucky are neck and neck in claims as the SEC's principal scraps. Tennessee's visit to Starkville for a game against Mississippi State Saturday is of slightly lesser importance.

Wally Butts takes his Maryland murdering Bulldogs to San Francisco to meet St. Mary's at Kezar Stadium Friday afternoon. Duke's Georgia's great upset of Maryland 27-7 Saturday, this week's outing in San Francisco can't be considered anything like a major inter-sectional meeting.

St. Mary's has one of the lightest teams in college football and its prestige, after losing last week 40-0 to The College of the Pacific, isn't good.

The College of the Pacific turns from St. Mary's to Baton Rouge Saturday night for a game against Louisiana State. Auburn Meets Vanderbilt in Nashville Saturday afternoon, while South Carolina plays Georgia Tech in Atlanta.

Duquesne meets Florida in Gainesville Saturday night. Alabama, the 1950 SEC dark horse, gets its first genuine race from Tulane, the defending champion, in Sugar Bowl stadium.

If New Orleans fans don't turn out in a bunch of from 60,000 to 70,000 they don't know how to pick their football games. It will be the season opener for Tulane, Red Drew's Alabama Red Elephants walloped Chattanooga one of the better small teams Saturday 27-0.

Two new Alabama names were added to the honor roll against Chattanooga. Sophomore back Larry Chiodetti and Bobby Marlow were among the stars.

The only conference victory of the season thus far belongs to Kentucky and it was a good one—

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON

NEW YORK, Sept. 25 (AP)—This corner is straining along with Joe Louis to win Ezzard Charles Wednesday night for the simple reason that they've been picturing Ezzard as a fighter who thinks . . . and you can hardly find a more thoughtful explanation than that the one Ezzard gave for taking the fight: "I got to thinking that there was no sense in having an idol when it was costing me money. . . There's some question about how much Louis has slipped and whether looking good in training is the same as being good in the ring . . . But there's no doubt that Ezzard knows what his former idol has done in the past and that a guy with brains and imagination is just the one to remember those things at the crucial moment. . . Without implying that Ezzard is likely to score easily, we have the idea that his thinking may lead him to be unduly cautious. . . Ray Arzel, who has packed eleven of Louis' fallen foes back to their corners, had the say on that: "You can't win running away from Louis; you gotta punch."

Combes His Hair Harry Combes, Illinois basketball coach, was berating one of his players, big Red Fletcher, about "You gotta get off your feet and his defensive rebounding. . . control the ball after free throws. Combes explained excitedly: "When the ball comes off the rim, I want you to go up like this. . . Harry neglected to look up before his demonstration and he smacked his noggin against a steam pipe running across the ceiling. . . The impact sent Harry to his knees but didn't disturb his mental equilibrium. . . "See what I mean," he said, rubbing his head, "rebound if it kills you!"

Monday Matinee John Jacoby says he's happy to have Hobby Riggs associated with his all-star baseball barnstorming team because "Maybe we can get Gusie Moran to coach at third base. . . Since Steve O'Neill took over the Red Sox in June, less

Feds Back At Work Getting Ready For Eustis Panthers

The Seminole High School Celery Feds, well pleased with the showing they made against the Orlando Tigers, are nursing their wounds today and preparing for their first home game with the Eustis Panthers here Friday night.

Walter Routh, Sanford left tackle who suffered minor back injuries in last Friday's game was reported as doing nicely this morning by Principal H. E. Morris. Confined to the Orange Memorial Hospital in Orlando, he is being held for observation.

With the loss of Routh and Kenneth Gano, who suffered a cut and bruise, the Fed line will have some weak spots when they go against the Panthers.

Although the victims of an 18-0 defeat by the Tigers the Feds won the admiration of the city as well as an estimated 7,000 fans who witnessed the contest.

The Feds, fighting against heavy odds, outplayed their opponents in the first half. After kicking off to the Tigers, the Feds eleven held them deep in their territory, forcing them to kick.

Taking the ball on their own 28 the Feds marched downfield. With the aid of Tiger penalties and some sparkling plays by the Feds, they carried the ball to the Tiger six yard line before losing it on downs.

Orlando's first tally came in the second quarter when they kicked a 16 yard kick on the Sanford ten yard line. Two plays later the Tigers hit pay dirt when Huddlewell went over right end.

When the half ended the Tigers had scored only once against the game Sanford team, and the score was 6 to 0.

The determined Tigers came back in the second half to score twice on the Hing Feds. On drives of 60 and 80 yards the Tigers racked up the insuring margin.

In an after-game comment Friday night, Orlando Coach Red Houston said, "Well, we had the fitters and those penalties hurt

Big Ten Teams In For Tight Race, Early Games Show

JACKSONVILLE, Sept. 25.—The 13 teams of the Big Ten High School Conference have started what may be one of their tightest races.

There are many question marks but at this stage it looks as though five or six teams could fight for top honors all the way. Lakeland and Landon were most impressive in first games.

Lakeland averaged last year's only loss to Hillsborough. Landon beat West Palm Beach by a big margin. Miami Jackson also jumped off on the right foot against Fort Lauderdale.

But those losers all have potentials that could make them contenders yet. West Palm Beach halfback Lincoln Knowles is regarded by many as one of the best backs in the state.

Hillsborough has veteran in the middle of the line and offensive defensive star Jack Custer to anchor an inexperienced but promising squad.

Uncertain reserve strength is expected to handicap Fort Lauderdale early, but development could make a big difference.

Defending champion Lee lost 20 letters by graduation but figures as a contender with a supply of rugged material. Edison, Ed Parnell returning as coach, will bid for a return to top ranking.

Jacksonville Jackson Coach Jim Coram says there's nothing wrong with his big, rough red apple of a squad that a polish job wouldn't fix. He has T-mastor Jerry Diefenbach back at quarterback.

Jefferson can field a pretty good first eleven left from the squad that won seven last season, but green reserves hold the key.

Plant again is too light for its heavy schedule. Nine lettermen and a junior squad figure to bring Orlando above the mediocre level.

St. Petersburg's Green Devils also are improving and hope to get well out of the conference cellar they occupied the past two seasons.

Today the Feds are back at work preparing a warm welcome for the Eustis Panthers who are slated to invade Sanford Friday night.

The Panthers, victorious over the Apopka Blue Darters last Friday night by a score of 20-12, will be out for revenge of a 27-0 defeat handed them by the Feds last year.

Gator Sophomores Edge Citadel, 7-3 As Nichols Goes 78

GAINESVILLE, Sept. 25.—(AP)—Florida's football team looked like a bunch of sophomores in beating the Citadel, 7-3, Saturday night. A bunch of sophomores is exactly what they are.

They were lucky sophomores, too. Coach Bob Woodruff, starting a seven-year contract, said so yesterday. They stumbled and fumbled around for three and a half quarters before Jack Nichols took a punt on his 25-yard line and did a neat chance-of-pace run along the sideline for 78 yards.

Lakeland, the sophomores' foe in last Friday's game with little help from blockers. He slowed down, then turned on the speed to go right by tacklers.

Florida's offense other than Nichols' run was centered in the passes of sophomore quarterback

Skip Alexander Hurt In Indiana Air Crash

EVANSVILLE, Ind., Sept. 25.—(AP)—A Civil Air Patrol plane crashed and burned in a railroad yards near here last night, killing three officers and seriously injuring Skip Alexander, top-flight professional golfer.

Neighbors found the 32-year-old Haywood Sullivan. He threw 21 and completed 11 of them. Only one was intercepted.

Neither the passes of Sullivan nor the runs of Floyd Hugkins, Sam Oosterhoudt and half a dozen others could get Florida across the goal when they moved inside the 10-yard line four times.

On defense it was another matter. As Coach Woodruff put it: "Our defensive boys played above expectations and especially good jobs were done by tackle Charles Laprad, and Mike Kelly, line backer Joe Wright and guard James Reeves.

Robinson's 'Boncr' Erases Tiger Hopes For American League Flag

By RALPH RODEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

The 1950 American League pennant race is just about over but it will be remembered as long as baseball is played as the year that catcher Aaron Robinson pulled one of the most colossal "Boncrs" in history.

Robinson's blunder gave the Cleveland Indians a 2-1 ten-inning victory over Detroit yesterday and practically erased the Tigers' pennant hopes.

The defeat dropped the second place Tigers 3 1/2 games behind the New York Yankees, who virtually knocked third place Boston out of contention by trouncing the Red Sox, 9-5.

New York needs only six victories out of its remaining eight games to clinch its second straight championship. If the Yankees win only four games the Tigers will have to win all of their seven to beat out the Bombers.

Robinson's "Rock" in one of the strangest games ever played. At game time in Cleveland it was so dark because of dust and smoke that the lights were turned on.

The astounding play occurred as follows: Bob Lemon tripled to start the Cleveland tenth. Tiger Manager Red Rolfe ordered Ted Gray intentionally to walk the next two batters to set up a force play at every base.

Larry Doby then popped to first baseman Don Kolloway. Luke Satter followed with a grounder to Kolloway. Kolloway stepped on first to retired Easter and pegged to Robinson.

Robinson grabbed the throw and stomped on the plate while Lemon was starting his slide about eight to ten feet away.

Umpire Bill Summers thumbed Lemon out, but the pitcher slid across the plate. Robinson apparently thinking he still had a force play, made no attempt to tag Lemon. The Cleveland bench died at Summers and brought a first base umpire Charley Berry along. When it was pointed out Lexington, N. C. clothes crawling into a field, his golfer affair. At Deaconess Hospital, he was expected to recover.

Alexander had finished sixth in the $15,000 Kansas City open golf tournament yesterday and was on his way to his home at Lexington, N. C. Bob Hamilton of Evansville, a former professional golf champion, said Alexander told him in the hospital he had "hitched a ride on the military plane, intending to go as far as Louisville.

Later, he had planned to go to Venezuela to play golf.

In other National League games the Chicago Cubs trounced the St. Louis Cardinals, 9-3, and the Cincinnati Reds and Pittsburgh Pirates divided a doubleheader, he Reds won the opener, 7-1, behind Earl Blackwell and the Pirates the nightcap, 3-2.

GI's Japanese Girl Friend Prays That He Will Come Back To Her

By HAL BOYLE

KOREA—(AP)—One day on a hillside north of Taegu I was talking with a group of doughboys about their Japanese girl friends.

A major had told me that at least 30 per cent of American troops who have spent much time in Japan have set up some kind of arrangement with a Japanese girl.

There is something endlessly fascinating in these romances between our occupation forces and the women of an alien land and alien culture. Many reflect only male opportunism. But others reflect the human tendency to find stability and love.

The odds are against these impromptu housekeeping setups ever ripening into permanence. There are many barriers to cross. But it is amazing how often the unions have developed into deep and genuine partnerships which the soldiers themselves seek to perpetuate by Christian marriages.

"One thing about a Japanese girl—once she falls for you she will stay faithful," said one soldier on the hillside. "I don't worry about that as much as the guys who have girls back in the states."

"Japanese girls don't try to hold-dig you," a young private said.

"They're willing to give more than they get. They don't ask anything of you."

Rather shyly he pulled out a letter and handed it to me. Just then an enemy sniper opened up on our position and I had to read the letter lying face down in a nearby ditch. It was from a girl who worked in a Tokyo cabaret, and apparently a real earnest girl who had been trying to write the private.

"Some sergeant told me you died," she wrote in quaint pidgin English, "so I thought you died in I prayed to get your present fruits and beer to your ghost yesterday."

"But your letter come today. I trust nobody except you."

"Please come back to anywhere in Japan. I'll try best to find you. You saying you want know way for send money for me but I can't tell you about money because you fighting for peace. I don't have any hope except you."

And then she told her absent lover:

"We can look only one thing together. Do you know what? That is moon. Always look at sky and remember."

"I'm surely will be nice girl waiting for you. You forget me. I'm worry one thing only—If something happen you, I pray your safety and good lucky."

She signed it with her love. When the sniper's fire had lifted I handed the letter back to the private and he slipped it into his pocket over his heart.

Then he picked up his rifle and went back to his business. War is strange and peace is often stranger. But unless the gods of battle send a bullet through that letter I feel sure the private's little coherent girl will fare better than did Madame Butterfly when this reply time is past.

"This is the first of two columns on this subject."

The condition of Miss Wilke, who was taken to Fernald-Laurton Memorial Hospital, was reported much improved this afternoon by her attending physician, Dr. J. N. Tolar, and she was due to be sent home.

Adroit handling of the Chevrolet by Charles Hamill, who was driving north on the highway, is credited with saving the lives of not only the three passengers in his car and driver but four occupants of a 1946 Pontiac station wagon, which was reported to have been sidwised on the highway. Noting this in his path he quickly swerved to the left, his right fender hitting the other car which was driven by John E. Willard. Orlando motorcycle patrolman James to each automobile was estimated at $350.

The other two passengers in the Chevrolet were Donna Witt and Charles Wright who were reported unharmed. Three unidentified passengers were in the other automobile. State Patrolman R. D. Harrison inspected the accident.

Forensics fought through winding alleys, uphill and down, from hut to hut, capturing large stores of American equipment which a spokesman said the Reds had seized in the fall of Taegu in July.

Ohan was the town where trailing 24th Division Americans entered the Korean War in early July, only to be pushed down "Heartbreak Highway" all the bloody way to Taegu.

American troops were storming back up Heartbreak Highway in mighty strides from the south.

The 24th Division captured Kumsuon, 30 miles northwest of Taegu, against bitterly-resisting elements of the Communist Ninth Division. The Communists had been ordered to hold upon the main route north at all costs as an escape route for crumpling Red Korean divisions in the south.

"We are likely to run into the whole enemy Ninth Division before this is through," said Maj. General Frank W. Milburn, First Corps commander. "I would just as soon destroy them here as any place."

But while the 24th Division smashed against this Red stronghold, against bitterly-resisting units made a wide and sweep to the north against virtually no resistance and rolled all the way to Chonju, 71 air miles northwest of Taegu.

They were only 10 miles from Chochiwon, another key junction on the main Taegu-Seoul highway, 58 miles northwest of Kumsuon, which the 24th Division captured.

The First Cavalry's four troops leapfrogged Taegu, scene of the bitterest American defeat of the war. It was there the 24th Division had lost its commander, Maj. General William P. Dean in retreating combat.

Allied troops smashed out sharp new gains all along the old southeast beachhead against surprisingly light Red resistance.

On the east coast, South Koreans captured the shell of the abandoned Yongdok and pushed two miles northward.

South Korean sources at Pusan said AP correspondent William Shinn that the Fifth's Maj. General Kim Chang Duk had been killed north of Pohang five days ago while fleeing north to join the Communist 13th Division.

There was no explanation of the apparent discrepancy in the two reports.

The New York Times in a dispatch from Korea said a Russian major was reported killed and another Soviet officer taken prisoner by an American company in the Seoul-Suwon area.

But dispatch quoted a Seventh Division spokesman. This was the first report that Russians had been captured or killed in Korean ground fighting.

Income Tax Receipts Put U. S. Out Of Red

WASHINGTON, Sept. 25.—(AP)—Heavy quarterly income tax payments in September, mostly from corporations, have put the government's receipts ahead of its spending for the first time since the fiscal year began July 1.

The treasury reported today that, as of Sept. 21, revenue topped expenditures by $209,219,454.

That was considerably better showing than a year ago when the government had a deficit of $1,609,395,316 at this point. It ended that fiscal year last June 30 in the red by $2,122,102,367.

In the July 1-Sept. 21 period this year, the government took in $2,178,728,062 compared to $1,956,810,223 in the similar period last year. Outlays this year were $1,969,508,599 compared to $2,078,928,546 a year ago.

Some officials say the government may end this fiscal year with a surplus despite the costs of the Korean fighting and rearmament program.

Opium Raid On St. Paul Hotel Brings Death To US Agent

ST. PAUL, Minn., Sept. 25.—(AP)—One federal narcotics agent was killed and another wounded in a Sunday morning opium raid on a downtown hotel here.

Four men—one of them wounded in an exchange with the agents—were taken into custody.

Killed by a bullet through the heart was A. M. Hanes, 59, chief of the U. S. Narcotics Bureau for the northwest area. Joseph Winberg, 27, a narcotics agent, was shot through the side.

John Wong, 50, is held under guard in a hospital. He was wounded five times. Doctors said both wounded men have a chance to recover.

Hanes, Winberg and a third agent, Virgil Magnusson, found Wigwe and three other men in a hotel room where they were smoking opium. Leaving Magnusson to guard the other three, Hanes and Winberg took Wong to his room after he told them he had more opium there.

Hanes, Winberg and a third agent, Virgil Magnusson, found Wigwe and three other men in a hotel room where they were smoking opium. Leaving Magnusson to guard the other three, Hanes and Winberg took Wong to his room after he told them he had more opium there.

"He went into the closet and brought out this jar of opium," said Winberg in a statement from his hospital bed.

Hanes asked him if that's all he had. He reached back and whipped out a gun.

"We both jumped him and he shot me first and I fell and the three of us were in the closet and wrestling around and he shot Hange too. I grabbed his gun to keep him from shooting any more and Hanes finally pulled his gun and he shot Wong."

The three other men were backed on charges of suspicion of murder and as material witnesses. They were taken into custody as Jimmie Wong, 43, Mason City, Ia.; Leo Wong, 47, St. Paul; and Yee Wong, 47, St. Paul. They said they were not related.

Charges against John Wong await completion of an investigation being conducted by St. Paul police, Treasury agents and FBI agents.

ations by an American airborne force was the holding of Bagin Airborne Division rolled into action on trucks and on foot.

Early reports from Kimpo mentioned for about 2,500 men in the air being conducted by St. Paul police, Treasury agents and FBI agents.

The regular organizational strength of an airborne regiment is 3,375 men. Such a regiment normally is equipped with 42-inch mortars, 3.5-inch bazookas, 75 and 81 millimeter recoilless rifles and long-range anti-tank guns. This gives the present airborne regiment nearly double the firepower of the average World War II airborne regiment.

It is customary to strengthen the regiment, as battle conditions dictate, by attaching heavy artillery and tanks from ground forces in the area in which the airborne regiment operates.

An airborne division usually consists of three regiments, with a supporting battalion of 105 millimeter howitzers.

The news dispatches yesterday made no identification of the airborne unit arriving at Kimpo.

However, the Army presently has only two operating airborne divisions, the 82nd and 11th.

On the other hand, the 11th gliderborne, whose home base is Camp Campbell, Ky., is a veteran of Far East service. It was, until about a year ago, part of the Japanese occupation army. Its officers and at least some of its enlisted personnel would be wise to the ways of the Orient.

tie with anti-tank mines. A U. S. Low-Flying American planes dropped thousands of the "Surrender or Die" leaflets on Communist-held positions before the city was seized.

When the ultimatum were rejected, the planes opened an aerial assault on the Communists. The leaflet put a machinegun out of action with rockets.

Chingju once was a prosperous city of 50,000 people in the heart of the southern agricultural belt. Today it was abandoned and dying.

Twenty-one square blocks in the center of Chingju were destroyed.

The American headquarters of the North Korean Sixth Division was wrecked.

Prisoners revealed the command post location and a U. S. dive bomber used as headquarters of the North Korean Sixth Division was wrecked.

While Torman's force entered from the south, infantrymen of Maj. General William B. Keane's 25th Division attacked from the eastern approach.

The Reds were caught flat-footed. They had built defenses only on the east side of the city. The Communists moved in so fast a Communist soldier ran out of a building and jumped into an American jeep thinking it was his.

The surprised Red realized his mistake, started to shoot his way out and was killed automatically.

Torman said two Communist officers in a captured jeep rolled up to the lead tank, shouted a command and then blanched when he realized its occupants were Americans.

Both were captured. Eight other Red officers and 30 enlisted men were seized.

Four hundred Reds were killed. Two American casualties were reported.

The first American infantrymen entering the city were commanded by Col. Henry C. Fisher of Los Angeles. They dug out snipers all day. The task force remained in the city's southern section.

By nightfall, the city and heights surrounding it were secured. U. S. armor started beyond Chingju to the west.

A miles-long column of American men and armor was under command of Lt. Col. W. G. Dolvin of Greensboro, Ga., a West Point-trained tank expert.

In the long line were low slung Patton tanks with 90-mm. snouts, jeeps mounted with recoilless 75- and 57-mm guns, trucks mounting 20 and 30-caliber machineguns and truckloads of infantry.

$45,000. Other loans, said Mr. Williams, will be made under this contract when necessary in order to complete the construction of the project.

The loan was made by the Fiscal Branch of the Securities and Investment Unit, Public Housing Administration, Washington, D. C. and was in the form of a check drawn on the treasurer of the United States.

The annual contributions contract was executed between the Sanford Housing Authority and the Public Housing Administration on Sept. 12, 1948. The annual contributions contract provides for a maximum development cost of $1,430,000.00 and for a maximum loan by the PHA cost.

At such time as it will be possible to ascertain definitely the final development cost of the project, bonds will be issued by the authority. Out of the proceeds of the bond issue all temporary loans made by the PHA will be repaid. The bonds are to be retired in equal annual installments over a maximum period of 40 years.

The PHA agrees to make annual contributions over a period of maximum of 4 1/2% of the total development cost of the project to be used in retiring the bonded indebtedness of the Authority. Such contributions, however, will not be made unless in any one year the excess of the rents rethe pressure on Yugoslavia by provocative border incidents almost daily.

Although he did not mention the Soviet Union or Communist China by name, Kardelj's meaning on Korea was obvious when he said: "Those who are inspiring the policy and activities of the North Korean government have embarked upon an aggressive course, whose consequences will have to be borne by the people of the whole world."

Kardelj's statement regarding the 38th Parallel came at a time when it appeared likely U. N. forces in Korea soon might reach that old dividing line. He made no specific reference to U. N. troops. In the Security Council Yugoslavians abstained on the June resolution ordering military action against North Korea.

The United Nations, Kardelj said, "should strive to find a solution which would bring about a cessation of hostilities and the temporary re-establishment—pending the achievement of Korean unity—of the former demarcation line along the 38th parallel."

Kardelj, who also is Yugoslav's foreign minister, charged the Soviet bloc has accelerated its campaign against his country by provoking new border incidents.

Simultaneously Yugoslavia introduced two resolutions designed to strengthen the Assembly's efforts to prevent aggression.

One calls for the establishment of a permanent mediation commission made up of small powers. The other requires a nation involved in armed conflict to issue a cease-fire order within 24-hours and to withdraw its armed forces from disputed territory. Failure to do so automatically would brand the country as an aggressor.

Kardelj said when the Soviet Union speaks of peace and cooperation the statements are nothing but words as far as Yugoslavia is concerned. When Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei V. Vishniewski in all countries "He ought, in the first place, to achieve this in his own country," Kardelj said.

Declaring that widespread political and propaganda activities have been organized against the Yugoslav people, he said: "Incidents are being organized and provoked almost every day along our frontiers. Groups of spies and saboteurs are being sent into our country, etc. The economic blockade of Yugoslavia has been carried to such lengths that Romania for instance has, in violation of all international obligations, severed all rail and postal traffic between Yugoslavia and Romania."

year to support prices of perishable farm products by means of government payments.

Under the Brannan Plan, consumer prices would be lower than under the present price support system in which the government buys and removes surplus perishables from the market.

Kline has made many speeches bitterly opposing the Brannan Plan.

Brannan wrote that Kline's personal spokesman, Roger Fleming, chief of the bureau's Washington office, said in a speech at Columbia, Tenn., Aug. 1, that the Brannan Plan would have "displaced the reserves of corn, cotton and wheat and other storable crops."

Brannan said this statement— which he branded as "wholly untrue and a disservice to farmers"—was repeated in a Farm Bureau publication.

"It is an attack designed to use the Korean situation as a means of destroying the confidence of all groups of Americans, not just farmers, in the present administration of farm programs."

Forest Fire Smoke Darkens Sun Over Wide Area Of North

ALBANY, N.Y., Sept. 25.—(AP)—Below-freezing temperatures chilled many New Yorkers today. The Weather Bureau reported overnight lows ranging from 25 at Utica into the 40s in the western section of the state and New York City. Albany's 31 was four degrees below the record for the date, set in 1912. New York's 42.9 was 1.6 above the low for the date, set in 1887.

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

A chill blast hit a large area of the nation again today under a heavy layer of smoke from Canadian forest fires.

But the smoke, about 3,000 feet thick, was moving out into the Atlantic Ocean and the Weather Bureau expected temperatures to return to the autumn normals as the sun again comes into view.

The smoke moved in yesterday over the area from the Great Lakes eastward to the seaboard and as far south as the Ohio Valley. The New York weather forecaster said he never had heard of such a thick layer of smoke over such a wide area.

It made many places so dark street lights were turned on and in Cleveland and Pittsburgh baseball parks major league afternoon games were played with floodlights. The Pittsburgh-Detroit college football game at Detroit also was played under lights.

An airplane pilot, who landed at LaGuardia Field, New York, said the smoke haze was at about 14,000 feet altitude and its base about 17,000 feet. It was moving seaward at about 35 miles an hour.

The smoke was carried along from smoldering forest fires in Northern Alberta and the District of Mackenzie in Canada.

Temperatures were already on the rise early today in the central and northern plain states and the weather service played with floodlights on the Pacific Northwest.

The mercury ticked into the 30's today as far south as Kentucky, where Cordin had a low of 38 degrees. Other early readings included: Evansville and Indianapolis, Ind., 34; Philadelphia, Pa., 36; Greensboro, N.C., 43; Albany, N.Y., 36; Burlington, Vt., 32; Carlisle, Pa., 30; Boston, 39; Duluth, Minn., 32; Joliet, Ill., 36; and Chicago, 45.

"The military preparations and measures which are being organized along our borders are also part of the cold war against Yugoslavia. Trenches are being dug along the borders, fortifications constructed, troop movements are taking place, war material is being sent into the frontier zones, etc."

The two Yugoslav anti-aggression proposals were brought in as the 49-nation Assembly began its second week of its current session.

Crime War Breaks Out In Windy City

2 Investigators Are Slain In Separate Shootings By Chicago Gangsters

CHICAGO, Sept. 26—(AP)—Two crime investigators were slain last night in separate shootings shortly before they were to have reported on activities of Chicago gangsters.

William J. Drury, 48, a former Chicago police lieutenant, was riddled with shotgun pellets while a representative of the U. S. Senate Crime Committee was trying to arrange a meeting with him.

A short time later, Marvin J. Bas, 45, an attorney who had been digging up crime syndicate information for a Republican candidate for Cook county sheriff, was shot down on a northwest side street.

Both killings were coldly efficient. Drury's slayers waited in a garage behind his home until he had backed his new Cadillac into the structure. They fired four shotgun charges point blank through the left windshield.

A .45 caliber slug also tore the automobile's cowl just below the windshield. Drury was hit by at least 10 slugs, some penetrating his brain.

Two women saw Bas shot to death by two nattily dressed gunmen. The lawyer was noticed struggling with them. He broke away and ran. They followed, dropping him with a pistol shot. And one leaped over him and finished him with a shot below the left ear.

Drury, long an implacable foe of the Capone crowd, had offered "important information" in his newspaper column.

Hiss Prosecutor Named Head Of Graft-Shaken Police Department

NEW YORK, Sept. 26—(AP)—Thomas F. Murphy, an ace federal prosecutor, was sworn in today as commissioner of New York City's police department in the midst of a spectacular graft inquiry. Simultaneously, two more top police officials joined former Commissioner William P. O'Brien in moves to step out of the department, rocked to its foundations by a gambling-bribery scandal. Chief of Detectives William T. Whelan and John E. Flynn, head of the chief inspector's confidential squad, submitted applications for retirement from the force.

By ART EVERETT
NEW YORK, Sept. 26—(AP)—Thomas F. Murphy, a giant of a man who prosecuted Alger Hiss for the federal government, takes over today as the new commissioner of New York's graft-shaken police department.

His first job—in the face of a growing clamor—may be to turn the 18,000-man department upside down and shake loose its "rotten apples." He apparently has a free hand to do so.

Commissioner William P. O'Brien quit last night in the middle of the police-boogie scandal unceremoniously by a racketeering Brooklyn grand jury, which said, "I find my position as police commissioner untenable," said the 58-year-old O'Brien, son of a policeman and a veteran of nearly 35 years on the force. He was not accused of any dishonesty, himself.

Acting Mayor Vincent R. Impellitteri also said O'Brien's position was untenable, and that they both agreed a resignation was in order.

The acting mayor revealed he had decided definitely on the O'Brien-Murphy switch yesterday after receiving a communication from the Brooklyn grand jury.

The police commissioner is removable by the mayor or the governor. Impellitteri's term runs out at the end of the year. Impellitteri, campaigning for election in November, ditched any plan he may have had to pick a new police commissioner from the ranks.

Instead, he turned to the 44-year-old Murphy and made him the first non-policeman to head the force in 16 years.

The grand jury, backed by Brooklyn District Attorney Miles F. McDonell and county Judges Samuel S. Leibowitz, county demanded a civilian commissioner yesterday to clean up "an awful mess."

As for further changes in the police department, Impellitteri said last night, "I am entirely up to the new police commissioner."

Impellitteri, an independent Democratic candidate for mayor, said he talked things over with O'Brien and the commissioner agreed to resign.

"I honestly believe that his personal integrity is not involved in the present situation," Impellitteri said.

The mustached, six-foot-four Murphy won a national reputation in two trials that ended with Hiss' conviction for perjury.

Hiss, formerly a high-ranking State Department official, was convicted of lying when he denied being a federal grand jury that he had passed up department approval for a Soviet spy ring before World War II.

WOODSTOCK, N. Y., Sept. 26—(AP)—Eugene O'Neill, Jr., 40-year-old son of the famous playwright, killed himself yesterday in an apparent dependency after a broken engagement.

A classical student and a teacher of drama, literature and ancient Greek, he chose a form of suicide traditional with the Roman aristocracy. He slit his wrist with a razor. Ulster County Coroner Ernest O'Leary listed the death as a suicide.

Before O'Neill died, the coroner said, he staggered downstairs. His body was found on the lower floor by a neighbor who came to call. The house is located in an artists' colony, known as "the Catskills" Mountains, north of New York City.

State police, who searched the house later, said they found an unsigned note reading: "I am leaving you. Never let it be said that I failed to empty a bottle."

"Hail and farewell."

Friends said O'Neill had been in deep depression since Ruth Landau, an artist's agent, had broken off her engagement with him last Saturday.

"Everyone knows about my engagement being broken," Miss Landau said after learning of the death.

"I'm very sorry, very unhappy, and broken up about the whole thing."

The marriage was to have taken place next Saturday. They were married and divorced several times. His mother is Mrs. George Pitt-Smith of (Continued on Page Two)

Thousands Of Reds Believed Trapped; Next Front Is Seen At 38th Parallel

WITH U. S. 24th DIVISION, Korea, Sept. 26—(AP)—The first American war prisoners to be rescued from the Red Koreans were liberated today by U. S. 24th Division infantrymen. Three American doughboys, all wounded, were released from a jail near the recaptured city of Yongdong. They are Sgt. Frank Freede and Blair E. Mackrall of the U. S. Second Division's 23rd Regiment and Pvt. James E. Martin of the U. S. First Cavalry Division's eighth regiment. The three recovered men apparently had not been abused but were suffering from hunger.

SEIUL, Sept. 26—(AP)—An Army spokesman tonight said U. S. troops south of Seoul had made contact with First Cavalry tanks speeding up from the southwest beachhead. If the link-up is solidified, thousands of North Korean troops will be hopelessly trapped in southwest Korea. The spokesman said the first contact was made when tanks of the First Cavalry met units of the Seventh Division between Osan and Suwon, 29 miles south of Seoul.

CHINJU FRONT, Korea, Sept. 26—(AP)—A U. S. 25th Division column raced more than 30 miles northwest of recaptured Chinju from dawn to dusk today in a drive to trap the Reds in Korea's southwest corner.

Frontline officers predicted the tanks and motorized infantry might reach the west coast of Korea around Kusan within 48 hours. Kusan is about 110 air miles northwest of Haman, the 25th Division's kickoff point in the United Nations offensive 11 days ago.

Another armored column raced 10 miles west of Chinju, which is 20 miles west of Haman. It overran many small bands of retreating Reds.

The 25th Division has been assigned the mission of mopping up all southwest Korea. Once the west coast port of Kusan is reached, all of this section of Korea below Parallel 38 will be punched off by U. N. forces.

83 Miners Killed In Underground Fire In England

Hope Is Abandoned As Wall Of Fire Traps Men In Mine

CRISWELL, England, Sept. 26—(AP)—A raging underground fire trapped and killed 83 men today at the Criswell coal mine.

Eighty of the men were caught behind a wall of flame and choked to death by gas and fumes. Three others were brought out dead by fellow workers who crept to safety on their hands and knees.

Smoke and intense heat drove back rescuers and hope for the trapped men was abandoned at 1 P. M. (7 A. M. EST) when the fire had been burning for nine hours.

The decision to give up rescue attempts and seal off the burning section of the mine was announced by Sir Hubert Houldsworth, chairman of the East Midlands division of the National Coal Board.

He said a census showed that 80 men were missing.

More than half of the approximately 150 men working in the mine when the fire flared escaped crawling through dense smoke and rubber fumes to reach the main shaft.

This afternoon Sir Hubert and the miners' union, in a joint statement, said despite rescue efforts "it was not possible to rescue any of the trapped men."

The statement declared: "All possible steps were taken to combat the fire but it was impossible to prevent it spreading. After a full inspection underground it was the unanimous opinion that there was no possibility of any of the men remaining in the districts affected by the fire."

It was also considered that any attempt to recover the bodies was bound to fail and that such attempts would inevitably involve further loss of life.

"It was thus unanimously decided that no rescue could be attempted to seal off the affected part of the pit. This work is now taking place."

Some long women went up from waiting wives and children of the trapped men when the decision was announced.

Virtually the whole community of 4,000 persons had been clustered around the pit head since early morning.

A rescue worker who came up from the mine said: "It was a tragedy."

Eclipse Goes Off On Schedule But Smoke Layers Black It Out

WASHINGTON, Sept. 26—(AP)—The eclipse of the moon took place last night as advertised, and not one astronomer was shot. This shows (despite the outcry of some cynics) how far mankind has advanced since the year 1952 B. C.

That's the year of the first eclipse ever recorded.

"The sun and the moon did not meet harmoniously," was the way the ancient Chinese reporter put it.

According to legend, the hereditary astronomers, Hai and Ho, were supposed to stir up a revolt to keep the monster from devouring the sun. Instead, these unfortunates took on another kind of smoke layers blown from forest fires in Canada blacked out the sky.

In New York, a television show of the even was a flop. At Hopedale, W. Va., a woman who had been able to see through the smoke screen called a newspaper office to ask if the eclipse had been postponed.

But as I said, most of our astronomers came through last night's eclipse unscathed. And so did the citizens.

There was a time, though, when (Continued on Page Two)

SAME OLD HULL
LONDON, Sept. 26—(AP)—A British Foreign Office spokesman said today the statement of Jacob A. Malik, Soviet United Nations delegate, favoring a meeting of Soviet and American leaders to settle differences, was familiar stuff which did not warrant detailed comment.

Concerning Malik's proposal for "free interchanges of ideas and information," the spokesman commented that Russia has the most intense censorship in the world, making it almost impossible for western reporters to visit the Soviet Union. He said it should also be noted that last recently Soviet officials made it impossible for the British to publish their Moscow Russian-language weekly, "British Ally."
