Tell Your Doctor If You're Allergic

DEAR DR. LAMB—I have three small fibroids in my uterus. They were discovered during a D and C to stop the bleeding. The doctor told me I shouldn't wait more than six months before having surgery. My problem is I'm one of those in a thousand who's allergic to medications. I mean everything. So what can I do? I've been sitting here crying and am depressed and afraid of having it done for fear that I will not make it through surgery. I get so dandy sick whenever they try anything new. They also think I have one bad ovary.

When I think about it I just get cold, sick to my stomach because I know there's no way out except surgery. Isn't there anything they could give for allergic people? How about the cut? Couldn't they put medicine on it so I wouldn't need so much medicine for pain afterwards?

DEAR READER—There are people like you who have enormous problems taking almost any medicine, including antibiotics. The best thing you can do is tell your doctor about your history and give him a list of all the things that you know that you're allergic to. Yes, there are lots of things that can be done to help people with such problems, including medicines to block the allergic reaction. Of course, the best treatment is to avoid the things that a person is allergic to. Other readers might want to know that not all fibroid tumors probably have your ovaries removed as well in view of the comment about having one bad ovary. This might also depend on your age. In some cases, a doctor can do a vaginal hysterectomy which leaves no scar on the abdomen at all. However, the pain after such surgery isn't limited just to the incision through the

Lake Mary Officials Agonize Over Police Funding Moves

There is no danger from lack of police protection in Lake Mary even though the department will be three patrolmen short beginning Thursday, Police Chief Harry Benson said. As a temporary measure, he is shifting two emergency dispatchers, who are qualified police officers, to road duty patrolling beginning Thursday. Two new part-time personnel will take the officers' places on a temporary basis as dispatchers. "I hope this will fill in the bare spots," Benson said. The city in recent weeks has been put on notice it would lose three of its nine-member force to other law enforcement agencies. One left earlier this month. Today is the last day for two others. While the gap is being filled temporarily with the part-time personnel (Benson and a detective on the force), the chief is searching for a permanent solution. The problem is there is no money in the city's budget to hire additional officers. City officials and Benson had hoped that the salaries of three patrolmen would continue to be paid through an extension in federally funded Comprehensive Employment Training Act (CETA) program. But the extension of the CETA grant money specifically those officers whose tenure was to be continued. Since two of those officers have left the city, the city can hope to continue only one under the program, and that will happen only if Lake Mary wins an appeal directed through the U.S. Department of Labor for the extension, Benson said. In addition, Benson is seeking county approval of a CETA grant for two new police officers. Even if that comes to pass, the city would have to supplement the wages of those officers with approximately $6,000 in city funds. CETA grants currently for public service positions have a limitation of $4,000 annually per position. And, all CETA funding for public service positions is currently on hold while the Congress thrashes out differences in wording on an appropriations bill. "We are going to have to do something about getting some more money," Benson said. He said he will recommend to his colleagues that his suggestions concerning additional revenues be seriously considered. Terry suggested several weeks ago that the city create

Flood Waters Sweep Train Off Tracks As Dike Bursts

FORT MAYACA, Fla. (UPI)—An ocean power company dam on a 6,700-acre reservoir burst early today, unleashing a deluge that inundated a 200-yard section of the dam burst at the 18-foot deep reservoir at FPL's Indian River generating plant. The Red Bank area around the Florida Power & Light Co. reservoir at Indian River, Fla., was inundated with water. The water is still rising and is expected to reach 10 feet above the dam in 24 hours. The first wave was about 1.5 m. high and the water had already covered U.S. 401, Waters said. "We don't have any idea yet what caused the dam to break." A FPL spokesman said engineers do not know the cause of the dam break, but said some water from the firm had leaked in the past. Waters said at least 70 Civil Defense workers, sheriff's deputies, Highway Patrolmen and Game and Fish Commission officials were assisting in rescue operations "and we're getting more law enforcement people in here to help with the rescue. We expect it will be taking place shortly." "When the dam broke, people didn't think about anything but their own lives. They didn't want to run to take their children with them," Waters said. "The engine and seven cars of a Florida East Coast Railroad train were swept off of the tracks. Martin County Sheriff's Deputy James Taylor said one of the derailed cars was a trailer containing hydroponic plants. Waters said the train was derailed on the bridge at Fort Mayaca was washed away.

Plane With 90 Aboard Crashes; Most Killed

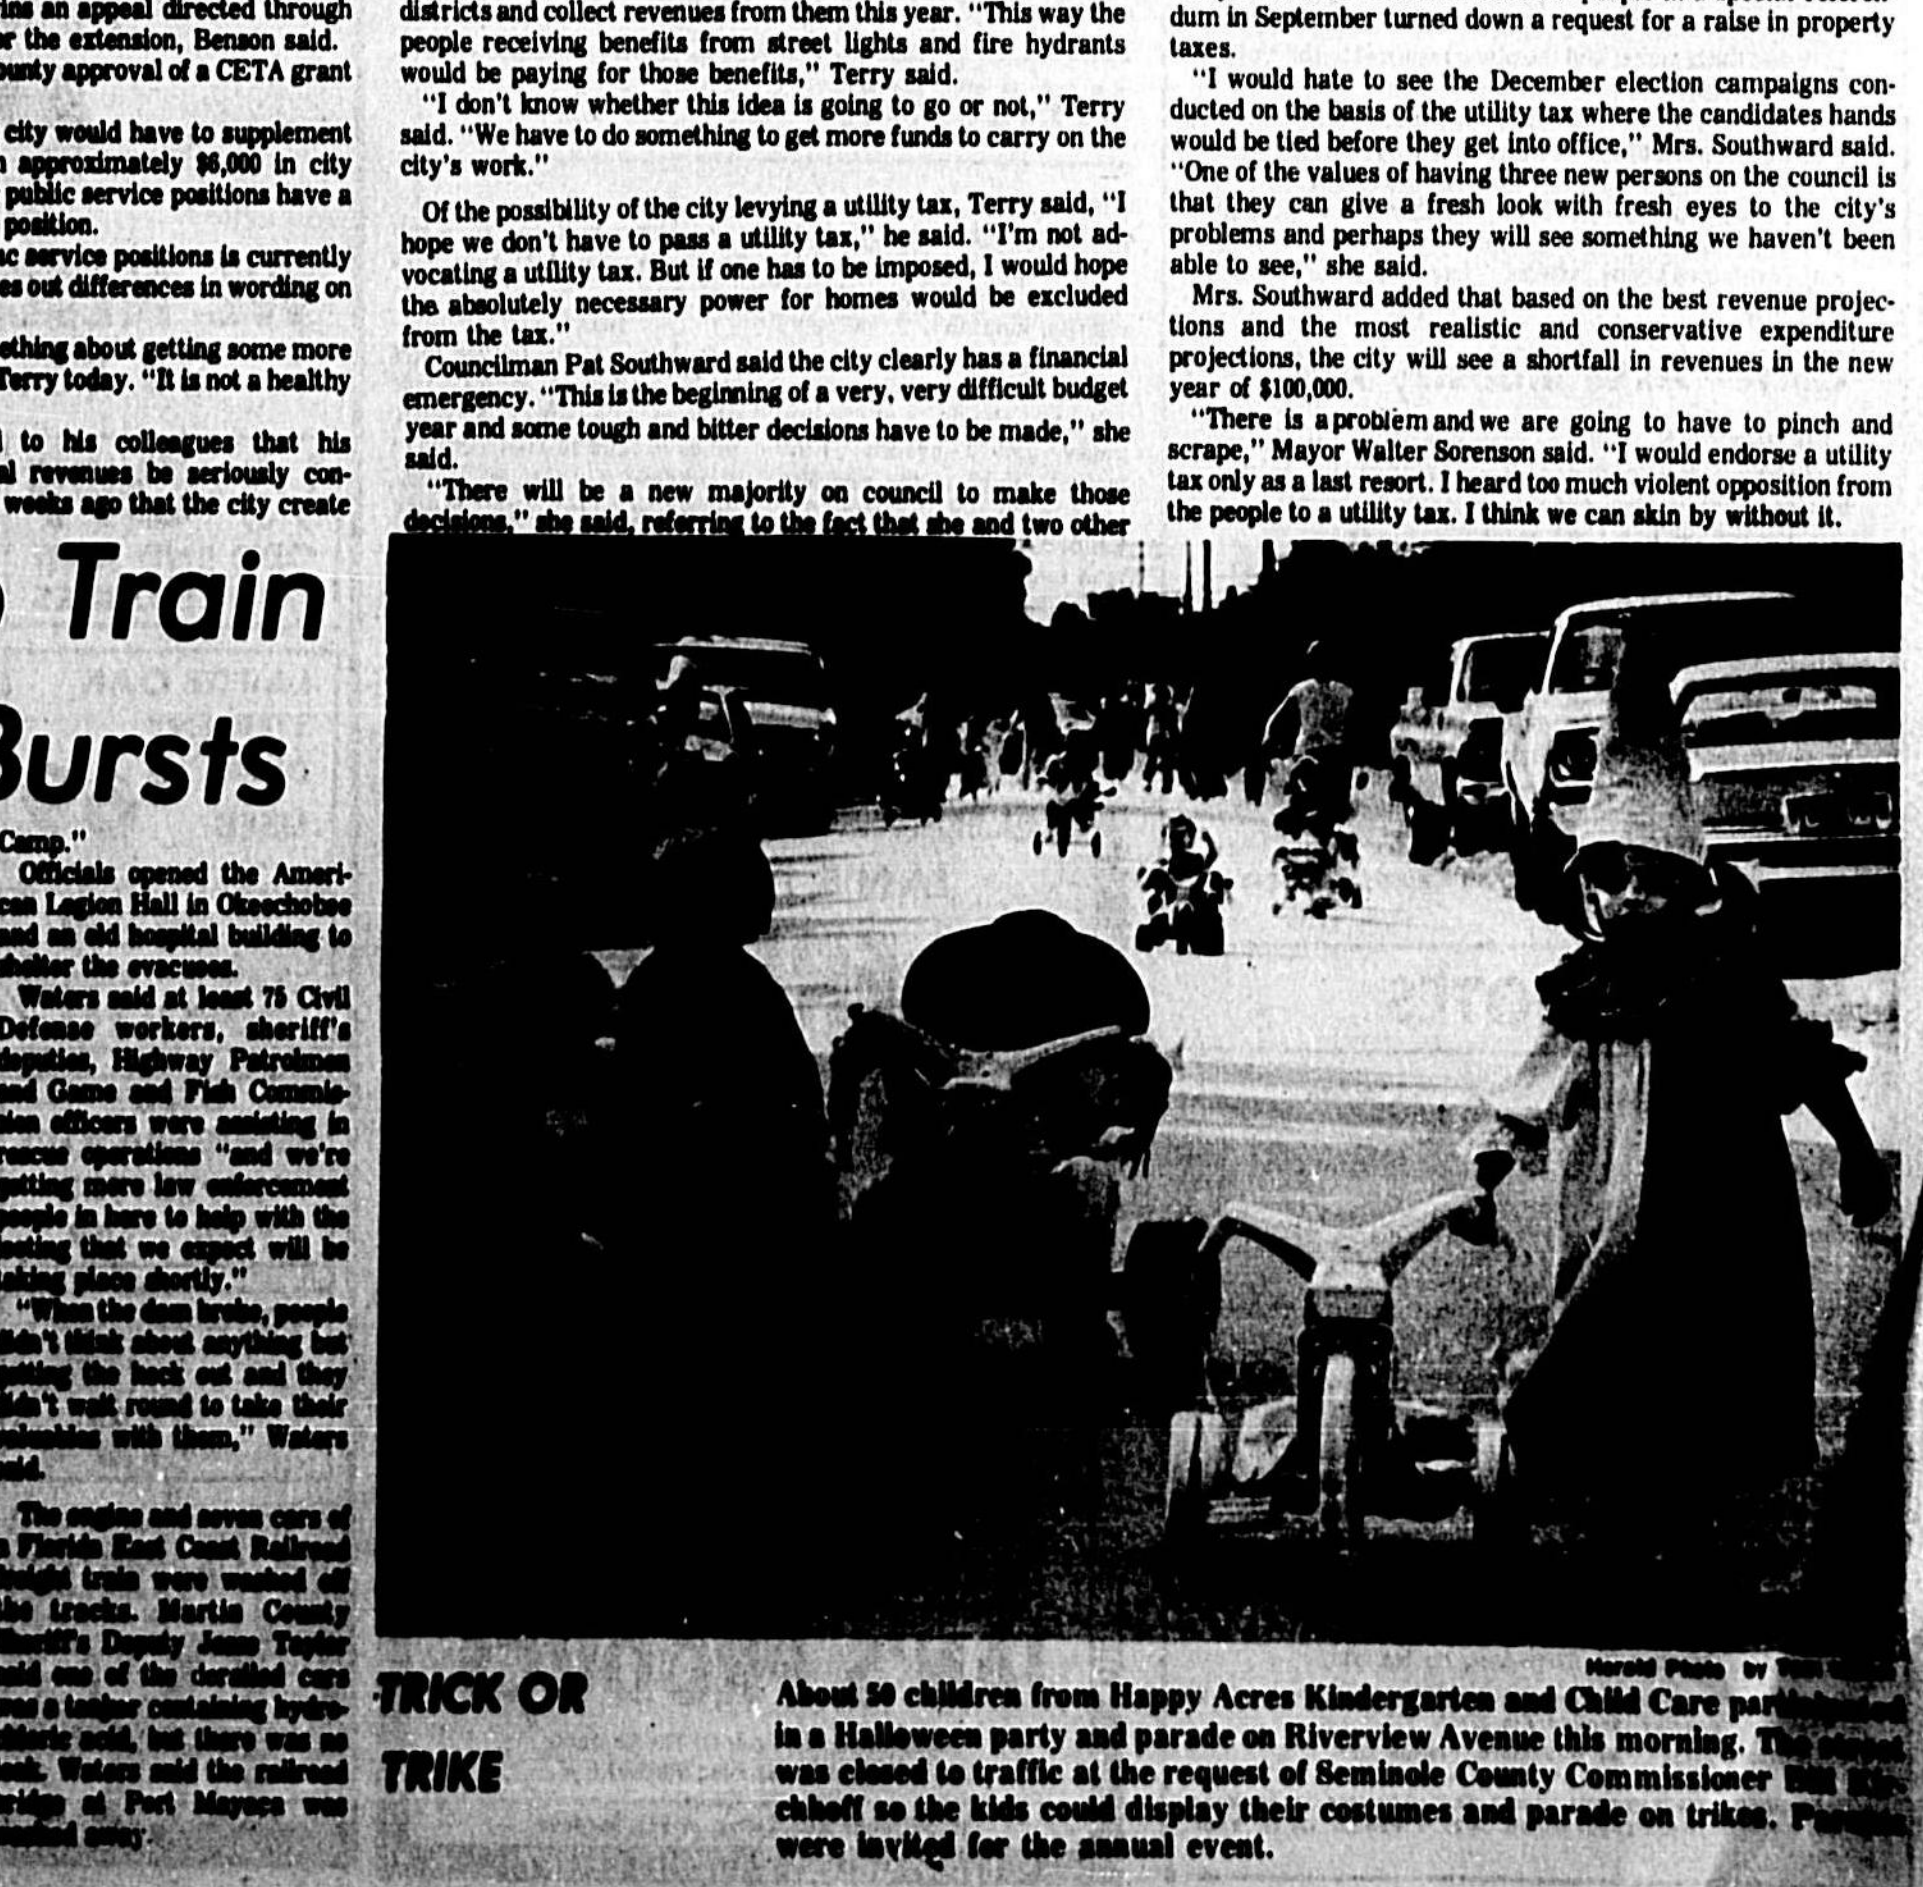

MEXICO CITY (UPI)—A Western Airlines DC-10 from Los Angeles with 90 persons aboard crashed and burned in fog on landing at Mexico City airport today and airport officials said most of those aboard were killed. Immediate reports of the death toll were conflicting. Luis Pasquel, Western's Mexico City manager, told UPI there were at least 15 survivors, so as many as 75 may have died. Reporters at the airport said 56 bodies had been recovered. A survivor who identified herself only as Pandora Dickinson told Mexican television that before the crash, "There were flames and people were screaming 'Oh my God, Oh my God.'" Airport workers did not report seeing flames before the crash. Survivors, some in critical condition, were rushed to nearby hospitals. Witnesses said the plane, which reportedly carried 13 crew members and 77 passengers, hit an airport service building after landing, spun 180 degrees and broke up, scattering pieces as far as 500 yards. The major section of the plane exploded into a fireball that could be seen 10 blocks away, airport workers said. The plane was traveling at about 150 mph when it hit a building housing a large mobile platform used to service aircraft, he said. Witnesses said a wing of the plane hurtled some 500 yards out of the airport and an engine crashed into a nearby house. It was not known if there were people in the house. Valencia said in a television interview he walked away from the crash without a scratch. He said the tail section jammed against a concrete hangar and did not burn. That was where most of the survivors were. He said he walked out and directed firemen and rescue workers to the rear section. The plane was piloted by Capt. Charles Gilbert, veered off the runway after touchdown. Pasquel said three crew members survived, one of them a steward, Eduardo Valencia. Pasquel said, "The touchdown was normal and then Valencia felt the impact of the crash. He was in the back part of the plane." For Rape Exam Fees County: No To Medical Examiner

By DIANE PETRYK Herald Staff Writer The Seminole County Medical Examiner's Office was turned down Tuesday in its request to be paid $500 extra per year for performing examinations in suspected rape and child abuse cases. The board of county commissioners refused to approve an additional contract with the medical examiner for those services which are not covered by his regular contract. According to Florida statute, the medical examiner is under no obligation to deal with unusual battery or child abuse exams. It is the medical examiner's responsibility to perform or perform legal autopsies. But the county is required to provide the services of a physician for examination of all suspected rape, child molestation or abuse victims. Currently, these services are being performed by County Medical Examiner Dr. G. V. Garay, and his assistant, Dr. Sarah Irrgang. The amount of money requested by the medical examiner is based on an average cost of $100 per examination. "They'll have to go to South Africa or somewhere to find someone to work for that small amount of money," Dr. Garay said. "We are doing it as a courtesy," Dr. Irrgang said. "But it's not covered in the medical examiner's act."

TRICK OR TRIKE

About 50 children from Happy Acres Kindergarten and Child Care Center participated in a Halloween party and parade on Riverview Avenue this morning. The parade was closed to traffic at the request of Seminole County Commissioners. The children were invited for the annual event.

NATION IN BRIEF

Historians Seek Documents From Kissinger's Exploits

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The public may share in details of Henry Kissinger's diplomatic exploits while he was national security adviser and secretary of state — unless he can persuade the Supreme Court otherwise. Historians and journalists are seeking more than 25,000 pages of notes of Kissinger's telephone discussions and today in oral arguments are asking the high court give them access to the documents. They want the court to overturn a federal appeals court ruling that withheld transcripts made when Kissinger was head of Richard Nixon's National Security Council, while permitting publication of similar notes from his years as secretary of state. Kissinger's lawyers were to argue the appeals court erred when it ruled typewritten notes of phone conversations could be published because they are government property.

Black Mayor For Birmingham

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (UPI) — Spurred by an unprecedented black voter turnout, the self-proclaimed son of a slaveholder defeated a white opponent to become the first black mayor of Birmingham, a city once synonymous with racism. In an unofficial vote tally, Richard Arrington, a two-term city councilman, was Tuesday by almost 5,000 votes over attorney Frank Parnow, who was making his first bid for public office in an election dominated by the racial issue.

Arrington, 46, won the election on the strength of a black voter turnout of 71 percent and a boost from white voters, who turned out 69 percent strong to cast their ballots. He is the South's third big-city black mayor.

Chrysler Has Huge Losses

DETROIT (UPI) — Chrysler Corp. reported record third-quarter losses of $400 million, dramatizing its bid for help from the government and the United Auto Workers union. The financial report was issued Tuesday, one day before the UAW was to begin rank-and-file consideration of a tentative contract granting significant cash concessions to the firm.

The UAW's 200-member Chrysler Council was slated to meet in Kansas City today to rule on $200 million in contract concessions negotiated to help the company.

Ambassador Clark Backs Ted

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A political coup and embarras President Carter by waging Ambassador Dick Clark, the former Iowa senator, into his campaign. Clark, the administration's coordinator for refugee affairs, earlier told the White House he would stay neutral in the Carter-Kennedy battle.

But pressure from Kennedy, an old friend and political ally, brought Clark into the campaign Tuesday to play a crucial role in the senator's attempt to play catch-up politics in the bay love protest campaign.

Mexico Hijacking Swift

SAN DIEGO (UPI) — A man pretending to have a bomb hijacked a jetliner over Southern California Tuesday night. The plane landed in Tijuana, where Mexican agents arrested the hijacker and the plane returned to the United States safely.

The short, swift hijacking was over before most passengers were even seated. It was one traveler reportedly complained of during the flight.

The Pacific Southwest Airlines Boeing 727, carrying 101 passengers and seven crew members, landed in San Diego only 20 minutes behind schedule, despite the international hijacking.

Carter Asks Industry Aid

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Carter today announced a series of new steps to boost cooperation between government and American industry to meet growing competition from goods made overseas. The "Industrial Revolution" program will cost $40.5 billion.

Carter said he is pleased at increasing the everyday life of Americans through such steps as making patent protection and getting new medicines to the public more quickly. "America has been the world leader in many new products, new services and new techniques, and in securing their wide dissemination and use," Carter said in a message to Congress.

He said the new program "will give our products any needed government support. It will also give our products any needed government support."

County Philosophy Spelled Out In Plan

Basic county philosophies in the areas of mass transit, aviation, ports and electric utilities are now delineated in the Seminole County Comprehensive Plan. The additions to the plan were approved by the county commission after a second public hearing was held Tuesday and drew no response.

By state law, the county is required to address these topics in its comprehensive plan. Mass transit provisions adopted support the present bus system and a connection between the bus services in Sanford and the south part of the county. Additions to the 2-year-old countywide plan concerning ports and aviation simply pledge to promote these activities as a means of attracting and supporting the interests of Seminole County. Concerning electric utilities, the plan is designed to comply with federal and state regulations, encourage cooperation between government agencies and the utility industry and help ensure availability of utility services throughout the county. In other action Tuesday, the board agreed to a request from the health department to hire a staff physician as opposed to contracting with doctors for services. The staff doctor will be paid $20,000 for the rest of this

Shot Fired In Assault At Sanford Grocery

A Sanford man suffered a broken arm when he was assaulted Tuesday morning in the parking lot of Hewson's Grocery on Southwest Road.

Erving McMillan of 1807 W. 13th Place was shot at and beaten by a man who approached him in the grocery's parking lot at about 7 a.m., according to the Seminole County Sheriff's department. He was treated at Seminole Memorial Hospital's emergency room.

The attacker fired one shot which missed McMillan and struck the side of the store. The attacker then beat McMillan with the gun. McMillan told a sheriff's deputy that the attacker is the same person he argued with and shot at Monday night in front of his home.

McMillan told the deputy that one of the two men had threatened him with a hunting knife Monday night. He said he fired a pistol at their feet to frighten them, the deputy added. Sanford police were called to McMillan's home that evening by a neighbor who reported that she had seen him shooting at two men in a car parked in front of his house.

Police reported the car had left before they arrived and found

NOT GUILTY VERDICT
Frank Hall, P.O. Box 1738, Sanford, was found not guilty Tuesday of theft of the property of his former employer.

Hall was arrested March 19, 1976 for the theft that was discovered Sept. 7, 1976 by David Graham, Graham Painting and Paperhanging, Altamonte Springs.

SCHOOL EQUIPMENT TAKEN
Over $1,000 worth of equipment was reported stolen from the Crooms High School horticulture room yesterday.

Thieves broke a rear window and forced a locked door to get at a large quantity of tools and a riding tractor, police said. The theft was reported by John Dimity, a teacher at the school who noticed the open door.

PENDELTON ARRESTED
Leroy Pendleton Jr., of 33 William Clark Court, was arrested Tuesday on charges of grand larceny.

Police say they arrested Pendleton in the stealing of a lawn mower from the Good Samaritan Home on Mulberry Avenue on Oct. 23.

Nuclear Accident Reports Blasts NRC

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The president's Three Mile Island Commission blasted the way the nation traditionally manages atomic power, but limited its toughest remedies to dismemberment of the Nuclear Regulatory Commission.

In the commission's report issued Tuesday, there was no recommendation to halt nuclear power plant construction, as had been urged by environmentalists. A spokesman for the utility industry read it as a go-ahead for nuclear power expansion plans.

The commission was appointed by President Carter to investigate the accident at the Three Mile Island atomic power plant last March near Harrisburg, Pa. Its final report came after six months of study and at a cost of $3 million.

The panel said the present staff, organization and attitude makes the NRC "unable to fulfill its responsibility for providing an acceptable level of safety for nuclear power plants."

Chief among the 44 recommendations was a proposal to change the five-member, quasi-judicial NRC into a regulatory agency with one director, who would focus the agency's attention on safety.

"It's a drastic recommendation and it reflects, I think, a sense by the commission that the NRC is a headless agency," said Commission Chairman Dr. John Kemeny.

Sen. Gary Hart, D-Colo., chairman of a Senate panel that held hearings on the accident, praised the report as "a striking indictment" of the industry and the NRC. He questioned the wisdom of putting a single presidential appointee in charge of nuclear power.

But Rep. Edward Markey, D-Mass., whose construction moratorium proposal awaits House action, accused the commission of "licking the bullet" on the issue. He called the report "tragically flawed" because the panel lacked a blistering attack on the nuclear industry and the regulatory process but stopped short of that final step. It detracts from the seriousness of the findings.

The report found Metropolitan Edison, the utility that owned Three Mile Island, was incapable of operating or maintaining a nuclear reactor properly.

WORLD IN BRIEF

Angola Charges Attack By South African Troops

BRUSSELS, Belgium (UPI) — Angola's ambassador to Belgium said today that airborne South African troops have struck into Angola, hitting sites near a major Cuban air base on the west coast of the African country. In Johannesburg, a spokesman for South Africa's defense ministry denied the report.

Ambassador Luis Jose de Almeida, who said the strike occurred Sunday night, said his country has asked the U.N. Security Council for an urgent meeting "to examine this new aggression by the South African racists."

A U.N. official in New York said no official word had been received at the world organization.

Two Soviet Ships Collide

COPENHAGEN, Denmark (UPI) — The Soviet exploration ship Olenok collided with the Soviet tanker General Shidlovovich in the Baltic Sea today, setting both ships ablaze and forcing 99 crewmen to jump overboard, the coast guard said.

Danish and Swedish vessels in the area rescued 83 crew members, the coast guard said. One crew member died in the collision and another was hospitalized with serious burns.

The ships collided in stormy and foggy weather shortly after 6 a.m. midnight EST in a narrow channel between the Danish islands of Zealand and Fyn, the coast guard said.

KCIA Agents Quizzed In Park Slaying

SEOUL, South Korea (UPI) — Dozens of South Korea's top intelligence officials are being held by military authorities investigating a possible widespread conspiracy behind the assassination of President Park Chung-hee. Official announcements by the Military Law Command have named the assassins of Park and five bodyguards last Friday night on the man who headed the Korea Central Intelligence Agency, Kim Jae-kyu, and five other KCIA operatives.

Military investigators announced Tuesday that Park's chief of staff has been under arrest since Saturday. Kim Kae-won, also a former KCIA director, was uninjured in the massacre, and investigators suspect Park's murder was part of a wider conspiracy, and not simply the plotting of the KCIA director who feared he was about to lose his job, as officially announced in an interim report. "The agency has had its head chopped off," one source said.

A U.S. 7th Fleet task force patrolled the waters south of Korea as a warning to North Korea not to interfere in the crisis in the south, a move officially denounced today by North Korea. In Washington, officials said Secretary of State Cyrus Vance will represent the United States at Park's state funeral Saturday.

Disabled American Veterans Seminoles Chapter 30 Commander John Peters (left) and Jerry Hester, publicity chairman, present flag to Liberty Christian School Principal Carl Ropke. Students in grades kindergarten through 12th attended the presentation at the Sanford school.

Park's chief secretary was one of four men in the dining room of the KCIA annex when the president and his chief bodyguard, Cha Ji-chul, were shot and killed. The aide and the assassin were the only ones who left the room unharmed.

After Kim Jae-kyu killed Park and Cha, five other KCIA men then killed the four bodyguards.

The extent of any army involvement is unknown, although immediately after the killing, Kim Jae-kyu met with army chief of staff Gen. Chung Sung-bwa.

Sources in Seoul said it "didn't appear to be a classic power grab," although the army is now playing a major role in running the countryside martial law.

Sources close to the case said Chung was apparently unaware of Kim's deed and only found out about it when the president's aide called to tell him Kim had just killed Park.

Kim was stripped of the 38-caliber Smith and Wesson revolver he used in the killings and after talking with top Cabinet officials, was arrested. Technically, the civilian government headed by acting President Choi Kyu-hah is still in charge and has been meeting daily to monitor security and economic matters.

U.S. officials said Washington has "a very major interest in seeing this thing hang together, for security reasons, for economic reasons" and hopes that whatever government emerges in Seoul be as broadly based as possible.

Rodong Simun, the official newspaper of North Korea's Communist Party, said today the U.S. decision to send the agency has "had its head chopped off."

The State Department Tuesday emphatically rejected Soviet allegations, as published by the Tass news agency, that the United States was involved in the Park assassination.

Social Security And Medicare

Two years ago Congress appeared willing to admit there is no free lunch, approving a major increase in Social Security taxes to keep the system afloat.

Inasmuch as the maximum amount of salary or wages on which the tax is levied is also rising under the 1977 law, the Social Security bite in the top bracket will reach nearly $2,000 in 1981.

As time draws near for the water to present the tab, the free-lunch syndrome is again gripping Washington. Almost any idea to avoid the 1981 tax increase is getting attention on Capitol Hill.

The proposals of the 13-member council representing business, labor and the public should carry more weight than those which arise largely from political expediency.

The proposals of the 13-member council representing business, labor and the public should carry more weight than those which arise largely from political expediency.

The main argument for taking Medicare out of Social Security is that it does not really belong there in the first place.

The long-running debate on how to finance Social Security has been about to converge with the long-running debate on national health insurance.

But that would indeed establish the principle that hospital insurance for those over 65 is not a benefit earned and paid for via Social Security.

Although socialized medicine remains a bogey in the public dialogue, a consensus is forming that some kind of national health insurance must emerge eventually to cover the population.

ANGLE-WALTERS

Behind Unity Facade

WASHINGTON - Behind the facade of unity being presented to the public by the President's Commission on the Accident at Three Mile Island lies a panel deeply divided about the future role of commercial nuclear power.

The transcripts and interviews with those present during the commission's executive sessions indicate that there were at least four clearly identifiable factions on the panel named by President Carter to investigate the accident last March at the nuclear power plant in central Pennsylvania.

Carlyn Lewis, an associate professor at Columbia University's Graduate School of Journalism, was the most outspoken of the three commission members highly critical of the nuclear power industry and dubious about its ability to operate safely in the future.

Between these two factions were four men torn between a belief that nuclear power is necessary to meet the country's needs for energy and a profound concern about the health and safety problems posed by the potential for nuclear accidents.

SCIENCE TODAY

Laser: Comes The Light

By JAMES J. DOYLE

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (UPI) - A new technique for transmitting laser beams is being tested without fanfare at the roomy Larry Holmes-Barrie Shaver heavyweight title bout in Las Vegas Sept. 28.

The equipment involves a laser transmitter from the camera location to a receiver across whatever distance is involved. Both transmitter and receiver are smaller than a bread box.

"Laser bridges the gap," he said. "We could shoot a beam from the top of the Empire State Building to Central Park with one and little expense. There's no heavy equipment to install and it works independently in any weather except heavy fog."

It is usually necessary to straggle heavy cables from the van to the event. Laying a couple of hundred feet of cable takes man power, time and the cable is subject to vehicular damage.

The Road Back

Two of Europe's largest economies are attempting to do what many historians and economists say is impossible: to put the brakes on the steady march toward state socialism and to reaffirm the principles of a free enterprise market economy.

In Britain, the changes have come swiftly. After six months in office, Conservative Prime Minister Margaret Thatcher has made good on many of her campaign promises. She has cut personal income taxes, cut the growth of the money supply and ended wage-and-price controls.

These steps have not been painless for Mrs. Thatcher. British public opinion polls indicate that after walloping the Labor party in elections last May, Mrs. Thatcher's Conservatives actually trail Labor in popularity now.

Was Postmistress Downed By Car?

EATONVILLE, Fla. (UPI) - Her son thought she could talk her way out of any possible trouble, but the gift for gab apparently failed to sway those who abducted and killed this community's 74-year-old postmistress.

A partial autopsy completed Tuesday led Dr. Thomas Hegert, the Orange County medical examiner, to order further tests, but he said her chest was crushed and another law enforcement officer said she could have been run over by a car.

Dodge City—The Legend Is Profitably Exploited

By TERESA BYRNE-DODGE
DODGE CITY, Kan. (NEA) — Neither the choking dry summers nor raw winters deterred the frontier opportunists who built Dodge City.

Dodge City in 1878, a few years before it settled down

They arrived just after the Civil War to claim a piece of prairie, windy and flat, on the Arkansas (locally called the "Our-Kansas") River.

That generated a bloody era so gritty that today "Dodge City" has become a metaphor for violent, wanton lawlessness.

Today folks in Dodge City mostly take local history—the blazing heat—for granted. Ranch-related manufacturing and meat processing are mainstay industries, and the town is southwest Kansas's medical center. Its 18,000 citizens support two colleges, 30 churches and a modern air-conditioned shopping mall.

Yet, something about the town sets it aside from the hundreds just like it. Maybe it's a main street named Wyatt Earp Boulevard.

Until recently preservationists were considered delinquents. According to Nancy Jo Trauer, a local activist for historic restoration, the Front Street public today practically Dodge City's city emblem—was conceived during a 1922 Rotary convention when Dr. O.H. Simpson, a local dentist, made some plaster skulls and boots and had buried them on Boot Hill as a joke.

mock graves attracted so much attention that they were left there.

Now Dodge City's legends are profitably exploited. The replica of famous Front Street, with its staged gunfights and Miss Kitty's popular variety show, attract well over 250,000 visitors annually. There are dozens of other Western concessions in and around Dodge City, including the Dalton Gang hideout.

Visitors to Dodge City contribute over $5 million annually to the town's coffers, making tourism one of the three biggest industries, along with beef and grain production.

Before the Civil War, long trains of prairie schooners engraved the Santa Fe Trail into the countryside. Fort Holiday — fought to control Dodge City. There was a saloon for every 50 citizens and the population of Boot Hill swelled.

In an attempt to enforce peace, Kansas enacted prohibition in 1880. Dodge City followed suit by passing ordinances for the suppression of gambling, the use of opium, dance halls and houses of ill fame. All were generally ignored. What vice laws couldn't do, the new quarantine laws of 1884-85 managed: The cattle drives came to an end and Dodge City settled down.

Cook Of The Week

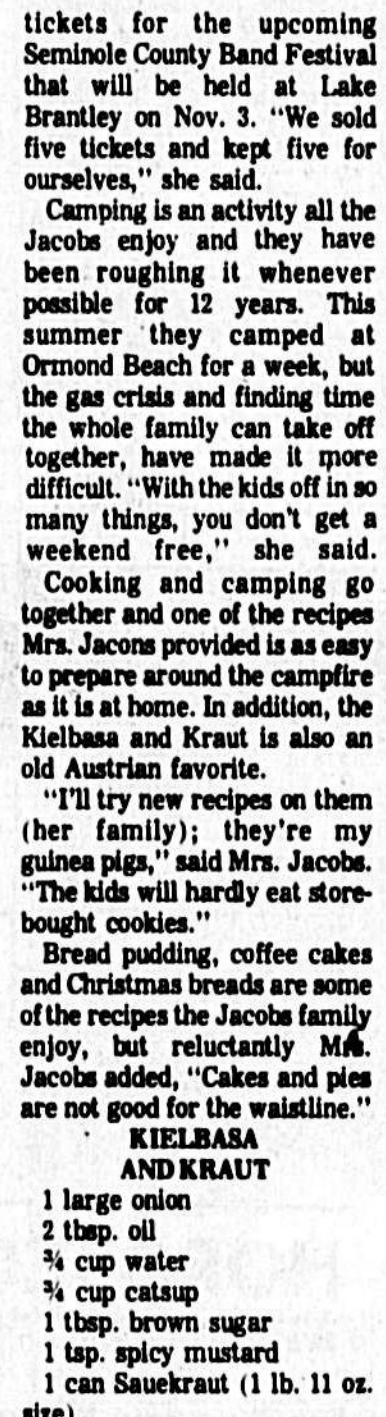

Favorite Austrian Dish A Hit At Camp

By TOM NETSEL
Herald Staff Writer

When Elfriede Jacobs was very young her parents died and she lived with her grandparents in her native Austria. But in 1955 she came to America. "My great, great aunt in Winter Park brought me over," said Mrs. Jacobs, who is called Ellie by her friends.

"She was alone, had no kids, but I didn't stay very long. I met Lee and got married." From Winter Park Lee and Ellie Jacobs moved to Forest City and finally to Altamonte Springs, having been in their present home at 808 Gubery Lane for six years.

Mrs. Jacobs says she remembers the area before it was built up. "There was nothing out this way back then. Absolutely nothing — 435 was a 2-lane highway," she laughed.

Ellie Jacobs prepares kraut dish.

Both the Jacobs are Band Boosters for Lake Brantley and work on projects to help raise money for the band. Mrs. Jacobs was also a chaperone for the band when they took a trip to Mexico.

They are also busy selling tickets for the upcoming Seminole County Band Festival that will be held at Lake Brantley on Nov. 3. "We sold five tickets and kept five for ourselves," she said.

Camping is an activity all the Jacobs enjoy and they have been roughing it whenever possible for 12 years. This summer they camped at Grassy Beach for a week, but the gas crisis and finding time the whole family can take off together, have made it more difficult.

"With the kids off in so many things, you don't get a weekend free," she said.

Cooking and camping go together and one of the recipes Mrs. Jacobs provided is as easy to prepare around the campfire as it is at home. In addition, the Kielbasa and Kraut is also an old Austrian favorite.

"I'll try new recipes on them (her family); they're my guinea pigs," said Mrs. Jacobs. "The kids will hardly eat store-bought cookies."

Bread pudding, coffee cakes and Christmas breads are some of the recipes the Jacobs family enjoy, but reluctantly Mrs. Jacobs added, "Cakes and pies are not good for the waistline."

KIELBASA AND KRAUT
1 large onion
2 tsp. oil
1/4 cup water
1/2 cup catsup
1 tsp. brown sugar
1 tsp. spicy mustard
1 can Sauerkraut (1 lb. 11 oz. size)

1 Kielbasa (1-1/2 lb. sliced thick)
Sauté the onion in oil until clear, add water, catsup, sugar and mustard. Bring to a boil. Drain and wash the sauerkraut. Place in a large casserole and arrange Kielbasa on top. Pour sauce over it and bake uncovered 30 minutes at 350 degrees. If preparing on a campfire, cook covered over coals for 30 minutes, then uncover for 15 minutes more. Serves 4.

CHRISTMAS BREADS
(Makes 3 batches or 1 large double-braided loaf)
1 pkg. dry yeast
1/2 cup lukewarm water
1 cup milk
1/2 cup sugar
2 tsp. salt
2 cup (1/2 stick) butter or margarine
2 eggs, well beaten
Grated rind of 1 lemon
5 to 6 cups unbleached all-purpose flour

Sprinkle yeast into lukewarm water. Let stand for a few minutes without stirring, then stir to blend. Combine milk, sugar, salt and butter in saucepan. Heat, stirring until butter is melted. Gradually beat milk mixture into eggs. Cool to lukewarm, then stir in yeast mixture. Add lemon rind and beat in enough flour to make a soft dough. Turn dough out onto a heavily floured board and knead until smooth and elastic, about 5 minutes. Place in a greased bowl. Grease top of dough, cover and let rise in a warm place until doubled, about 1 hour.

For Kielbasa Cakes:
Knead 1-3rd cup chopped, pitted, dried prunes, 1-3rd cup chopped nuts, 1-3rd cup chopped, candied lemon peel into dough. Cut into 3 equal pieces. Heavily grease three 1-pound shortening or coffee cans. Shape dough into balls and put into cans. Let rise in a warm place until doubled. Bake in preheated oven at 375 degrees for 30 to 35 minutes. Unmold and cool on a rack.

Mix 2 cups confectioner's sugar with enough milk to make water. Roll dough in mixture the consistency of heavy cream. Spoon this frosting over cakes, allowing it to drip generously down the sides. Sprinkle the top of each cake liberally with colored sprinkles.

For double-braided cakes:
Knead dough, adding 1/2 cup chopped, blanched almonds and 1/2 cup chopped, candied cherries. Cut into 4 equal pieces with fingers, roll 3 pieces of dough into 1-inch ropes. Braid ropes on a well greased cookie sheet, turning ends under to seal. Cut remaining dough into 3 equal pieces. Roll these into 8-inch ropes. Braid and put in center of larger braid. Brush top with well beaten egg. Let rise in warm place until doubled. Bake in preheated oven at 350 degrees for 30-35 minutes, or until bread sounds hollow when tapped. Cool on a rack. Prepare frosting as for kielbasa and sprinkle with chopped candied cherries.

SCHNEIDERHAUFEN (Bread Pudding)
9 to 11 oz. thinly sliced bread
1/2 cup melted butter
1 lb. apples, peeled and sliced
1 cup sugar
4 tsp. chopped nuts
4 tsp. raisins
Dash cinnamon
1 tsp. rum
Chopped peel of lemon
2 cups milk
3 eggs
1/2 tsp. vanilla
Sugar to taste, depending on sweetness of apples

Toast bread slices and drip the butter over them. Line the bottom of a pie pan with part of the slices. Crumble the rest and mix with the apples, nuts, raisins, sugar and cinnamon, and rum and lemon peel. Arrange loosely in pie pan. Whisk the milk and vanilla with the eggs and pour over the mixture. Bake at 375 degrees about 45 minutes or until golden brown. Serve hot, sprinkle with sugar. Serves 6 to 8.

GUGELHUPF (Austrian Coffee Cake)
2 pkgs. dry yeast
3/4 cup warm milk
1 cup butter or margarine
1/2 tsp. salt
4 eggs

1/2 cup diced citron
1/2 cup currants
1/2 cup warm water
4 cups all-purpose flour
1 cup sugar
Grated rind of 1 lemon
1/2 cup blanched almonds
1/2 cup white raisins

1/2 cup currants
1/2 cup warm water
4 cups all-purpose flour
1 cup sugar
Grated rind of 1 lemon
1/2 cup blanched almonds
1/2 cup white raisins
Confectioner's sugar

1/2 cup currants
1/2 cup warm water
4 cups all-purpose flour
1 cup sugar
Grated rind of 1 lemon
1/2 cup blanched almonds
1/2 cup white raisins
Confectioner's sugar

1/2 cup currants
1/2 cup warm water
4 cups all-purpose flour
1 cup sugar
Grated rind of 1 lemon
1/2 cup blanched almonds
1/2 cup white raisins
Confectioner's sugar

1/2 cup currants

For Thursday, November 1, 1979

YOUR BIRTHDAY Nov. 1, 1978 This coming year your career could take a giant step forward as a result of the practical, intelligent way you take care of your responsibilities. Large personal rewards could flow from this.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Before involving yourself in numerous activities, take care of situations that help produce a fatter bankbook. You have the necessary smarts today. Find out more of what lies ahead for you in the year following your birthday by sending for your copy of Astro-Graph Letter.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) You stand a marvelous chance of fulfilling your goals today because of the excellent methods you choose. Your procedure is well-timed.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 22) Information you could receive today through one you know socially will prove to be very valuable and fit into your present plans nicely.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23-Jan. 19) Someone who feels he or she can trust you may be confiding in you today. Keep what you are told in the strictest confidence.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) Much can be learned today by sending out and seeing to the places that have the information you seek. People who can help will be very cooperative.

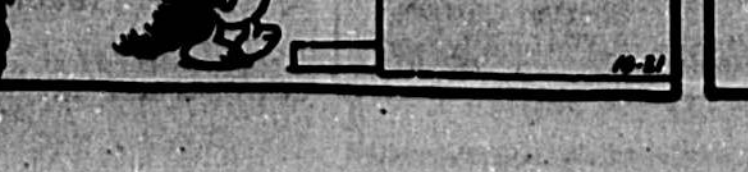

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) To achieve your purpose, you are going to have to speak up.

SPIDER-MAN (Nov. 17-Dec. 17) Don't hold back if a pal needs some advice. You'll have many constructive things to say that will be extremely helpful to this person.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Friends can be worked out advantageously today if you take the time to look into a little deeper rather than putting them off.

Senility Symptoms Are Not Permanent

DEAR DR. LAMB - I read your column in the Hong Kong Standard on changes in senility and I wish you would write about the concept in day care centers for persons such as the older husband that you described in your column. Believe me, the day care centers are a great blessing for the elderly and for the family caring for elderly people.

There are now some day care centers in the U.S. and many of your readers probably don't know it. Some of your readers could see to it that they're established in their own community. This is a great blessing for the elderly and for the family caring for elderly people. There are now some day care centers in the U.S. and many of your readers probably don't know it. Some of your readers could see to it that they're established in their own community.

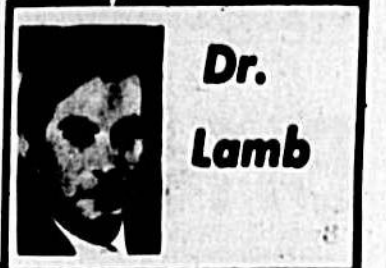

DEAR READER - I'm all in favor of day care centers for elderly people who need to be supervised in a supportive environment.

I'd also like to remind people that not everyone who appears to be senile has irreversible changes in the brain. Many people who have such symptoms do have medical problems which need attention. That's why such individuals should be examined by a neurologist.

I'm sending you The Health Letter number 14-2, The Aging Mind. Older readers who want this issue can call 78 cents a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for it. Send your request to me, in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 184, Radio City Station, New York, N.Y. 10019.

Some people who are thought to be "senile" really are depressed. Depression is one of the most common causes of curable disorders that are mistakenly called senility. Staying involved and feeling needed is one of the best defenses against depression.

I'm particularly glad that you asked about day care centers because I wish every cop-

Survival On The Home Front 4-H Kids May Have Edge Over Others

By JANE CASSELLBERRY Herald Staff Writer While Seminole County 4-H leaders Bonnie Moore, Pam Bragg and Sandy Green were at Rock Eagle 4-H Center in Kalamita, Ga. learning how to be more effective leaders, their families at home were also learning a lot.

Specifically just how much Mom does around the house and how to survive until she gets back. But they think their children may have had an edge over most other kids because of their 4-H training.

Mrs. Moore is in her sixth year as leader of the Cloverettes 4-H Club in Alamoona Springs and Mrs. Bragg is her project chairman. Mrs. Green was called on to take over the Lucky Charms Club in Casselberry only last March so was especially glad for the opportunity to learn.

"I really needed some ideas and inspiration from other successes," she said. "Travelling with two Volusia County leaders, the three Seminole women spent five busy days at Rock Eagle (Oct. 8-12) plus two days of sight-seeing in Atlanta on the way home."

They did not go to the annual Southern Region 4-H Leaders Forum empty handed but took with them 500 plants, donated by Rep. Bob Hattaway from his nursery in Alamoona Springs, as their share items. There were 400 leaders from 15 states, Virginia Islands and Puerto Rico, including 41 from Florida at the conference, and everyone was supposed to bring something to share. "We learned they have the same problems in Oklahoma as we have here," said Mrs. Bragg. "Most states have 4-H in high schools and they can use school home ec facilities and have parent-teacher leader teams."

In addition to other sessions, the Florida leaders got together every day for a state meeting, they said. They hope to expand the 4-H program here to include some of the things they learned. They were especially interested in Georgia's Sunshine brigade 4-H project which stressed citizenship.

Mrs. Bragg and her husband, Tom, have three children, all active in 4-H: Tammy, 13; Tabitha, 11 and Tiffany, 10. She said she stocked a lot of TV dinners and other convenience foods but her daughter Tammy didn't want to use them, preferring to cook from scratch. They all pitched in with the cooking, sewing and housekeeping chores, with Tammy in charge.

"They do love 'em back," Mrs. Moore quoted Tiffany as saying. "Tammy was worse than you are!" Mrs. Moore and her husband, also named Tom, have two 4-Hers in the family: Judi, 11 and Pam, 13. "We planned our meals before we left and the girls took over the homemaker role and Daddy took over mother's duties such as chauffeur's when around. It gave them a chance to get closer," said Mrs. Bragg. They also learned to wash clothes. Mrs. Green's husband Peter is a company commander at the Navy's Recruit Training Center in Orlando and has very long days so she sent her from a plane ticket to come down and look after Raymond, 12 and Wendy, 9 in her absence. Another foster mother looked after the one-month old foster baby who Mrs. Green cares for in her home.

"The sad part was when mother arrived her foot was bothering her we took her by a podiatrist who did surgery then and there so she has not been able to get around very well," explained Mrs. Green. "Both the children have their chores such as setting the table and taking out the garbage and they helped by advising mother on the usual routine," she added.

Wendy has learned cooking and sewing in 4-H and Raymond chose first care and grooming last year and small engines this year. Both have their first place honors for their demonstrations in the county and at district competition, Mrs. Green said. The women attended the forum on scholarship as it was their first time. Financial assistance is provided by the J.C. Penney Co. and its member stores in the Southern Region. They hope that a foundation can be set up for contributions from local businesses so that more Seminole leaders will be able to benefit from the training.

Orchids to Club Leader Mrs. R. L. Buffaloe, center, president of the South Seminole Garden Club, accepts an orchid corsage from Mrs. Helen Hammon, vice-president of Jasmine Circle of Orlando Garden Club, and member of the Orlando Orchid Society. Looking on is Mrs. Ralph Newcomer, vice-president of the South Seminole Garden Club.

Xi Epsilon Ushers In Fall At Socials

Xi Epsilon Sigma Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi (BSP) attended the All-Chapter luncheon held in a Wilder Park restaurant. Highlight of the luncheon was a Fashion Show with Phyllis Miller selected as the Chapter model. She was given a new hair style, facial and modeled a grey suit. The chapters present were shown many ways to combine suits, dresses, pants and accessories for different styles. The Chapter met Oct. 23 at the home of Millie Gilbert, hostess for the second meeting in October. Vice-president Eileen Mack conducted the business meeting. There were eight members present. Plans were made for a Thanksgiving Dinner party with black cats, witches and a full size cabaret with body and sound effects. John Miller and Karen Hillall were chefs for the spaghetti dinner using Miller's special recipe for sauce. Attending were Phyllis and John Miller, Betty and Jim McKee, Cheryl and Steven Gividen, Betty and Joe Barcone, Karen and Mark Hillall, Donna and Emory Spier, Jr., Eileen and Clark Mack, Ginger Brunzley, Robert Rinner, Carolyn Gilbert and Millie Gilbert. Best costume prizes went to Betty Barcone and Jim McKee. Several games were played ending with a skit presented by Cheryl Gividen, Ginger Brunzley and Betty McKee who portrayed the group Diana Ross and the Supremes. Master of ceremonies was Steven Gividen.

Exotic Papaya Is Easily Digested

An exotic of a few years ago is becoming familiar on many mainland menus. It's the fresh papaya. Because the papaya is easily digested as well as tasty, it is a favorite of many older people. The fruit is also popular among dieters and proponents of health foods. (Half a papaya has only 78 calories.)

Papaya is great for breakfast with just a splash of fresh lime juice. And it goes well with chicken and fish. It can be sliced or diced for pies, cakes and fruit compotes.

One of the easiest ways to enjoy this nutritious fruit is in a thick, frothy beverage for breakfast.

HAWAIIAN BREAKFAST BLEND
 1 Hawaiian papaya, peeled and seeded
 1 small ripe banana
 1/2 cup undrained crushed pineapple
 1/2 cup plain yogurt
 1/2 cup milk
 2 tablespoons fresh lime juice

Puree all ingredients in blender. Pour into glasses. Serve chilled. This luscious recipe makes about 3 cups.

BREAKFAST ROLL-UPS
 2 1/2-cup cups biscuit mix
 1/2 cup raisins
 1/2 cup dairy sour cream
 1/2 cup milk
 1-3/4 cup melted butter
 1/2 cup milk
 2 tablespoons wheat germ juice

Roll to 18-by-18-inch rectangle. Brush dough with 2 tablespoons butter, then sprinkle with brown sugar, wheat germ, nuts and cinnamon.

Cut dough in half lengthwise. Roll up each piece jelly-roll fashion from long side. Pinch edges to seal. Cut each roll into 8 pieces.

Place each piece into greased muffin cup, sealed edge down. Brush tops with remaining butter and sprinkle with sugar.

Bake at 400 degrees 15 to 18 minutes or until golden brown. Serve warm or cold. This kitchen-tested recipe makes 12 biscuits.

Hawaiian papaya makes a delicious base for breakfast treats and a variety of beverages.

Pasta Is Favorite Of Budget Watchers

Pasta is often on the minds of those who enjoy cooking and eating. It also is a favorite of budget watchers.

Besides spaghetti dishes with all their sauce variations, pasta casseroles made with leftovers such as turkey or ham will keep most hungry households in a happy mood.

Don't forget, though, the special treat of a hearty soup such as vegetable vegetable, which is a variation on minestrone. It is a complete meal when served with chunks of crusty bread, your favorite beverage and fruit or ice cream for dessert.

VEGETABLE SOUP
 1/2 quart beef broth or bouillon
 2 cups water
 1 (16-ounce) can tomatoes, crushed
 1/2 cup chopped onion
 1 cup grated carrot
 1/2 cup diced celery
 1 (10-ounce) package frozen California Brussels sprouts, cut in half
 1 teaspoon salt
 1/4 teaspoon pepper
 1/4 teaspoon basil leaves
 1 clove garlic, minced
 4 ounces thin spaghetti (vermicelli) broken
 1/2 cup small beans
 1/2 cup grated Parmesan cheese
 1/2 cup olive oil
 1/2 cup chopped parsley
 1 (10-ounce) can red kidney beans, drained
 In large pot or Dutch oven, combine broth, water and tomatoes. Bring to boil. Add vegetables and minestrone. Simmer for 15 minutes. Cover and cook 30 minutes or until vegetables are just tender.

Add spaghetti. Cook until spaghetti is tender, stirring occasionally. Add remaining ingredients and heat. Serve with additional Parmesan cheese. This kitchen-tested recipe makes 8 servings.

MEATY TURKEY SPAGHETTI CASSEROLE
 8 ounces spaghetti
 1 tablespoon salt
 3 quarts boiling water
 2 (16-ounce) packages frozen chopped spinach
 1 cup boiling water
 1/2 cup chopped onion
 2 (10-1/2-ounce) cans cream of celery soup, undrained
 1 cup milk
 1/2 teaspoon thyme leaves
 1/2 teaspoon pepper
 2 cups cubed cooked turkey
 1/2 cup chopped onion
 1/2 cup sliced ripe olives
 1 cup grated Cheddar cheese

Gradually add spaghetti and salt to 3 quarts rapidly boiling water in that water continues to boil. Cook uncovered, stirring occasionally, until tender. Drain in colander. Set aside.

Cook spinach in 1 cup unsalted boiling water, covered, just until spinach separates easily with fork. Drain. Set aside.

Melt butter in large saucepan. Add onion, saute over medium heat, stirring occasionally, until onion is tender, about 5 minutes.

Stir in undrained soup, milk, thyme and pepper. Heat until hot, stirring occasionally. Remove from heat.

Combine a few cubes of turkey and a few olive slices for each serving. Sprinkle remaining turkey and remaining olives to top mixture. Stir to combine.

Spread half of spinach on bottom of ungreased 12-by-18-inch baking dish. (If desired, add butter to bottom of dish may be lined with spinach.) Spoon half of spaghetti mixture onto spinach layer. Sprinkle with half of cheese. Repeat layering, ending with spinach, layer of olives and turkey cubes and olive slices. Cover with aluminum foil. Bake in preheated oven at 350 degrees for 1 1/2 hours. Turn off heat and top is slightly browned. Kitchen-tested recipe makes 8 servings.

NOTE: Leftover spinach.

Give Turkey New Stuffing

Whether you're planning an intimate dinner for two or a festive gathering for a number of guests, here's an elegant main course that will earn you bouquets as a gourmet chef without the work or effort.

Stuffing stuffing is a pleasant, contrasting taste to the subtle veal and beef combination. Beef broth and dry red wine are part of the sauce that transforms the steak rolls into fine cuisine. Pimiento adds color and zest to the stuffing mixture and serves as a colorful and delicious garnish.

If you're tired of your standard "company meal," Pimiento Steak Rolls will make a delightful and tasty change. Send for a free recipe booklet by writing: Associated Pimiento Company, P.O. Box 73, Griffin, Ga. 30224.

Back To The Basics With Tuna

Let's face it — lunches can be the most important meal of the day for many school children. Oftentimes, they get down breakfast in a hurry and rush from the dinner table to watch TV. So what's a concerned mother to do?

Make sure that school lunches are tasty and nutritious — energy-boosting fare that keeps them going through a day of classes. So good they won't want to swap with friends.

A little attention to packing is important here, too. Sandwiches can get squashed in paper bags and that makes them unattractive to kids. Pack lunchtime fixings instead in an airtight carryall, that keeps freshness and flavor intact. The handy lunch box includes convenient containers for sandwiches, salads, milk and beverages. Conned tuna is always a wonderful base for school lunches. After all, kids love the taste of this piquant food staple. And moms appreciate the fact that tuna provides 100 percent of the required daily allowance for complete protein as well as important vitamins and minerals. Now that's a valuable lesson in nutrition!

Tuna Surprise Sandwiches are easy, nourishing fare for school box lunches.

Make Lunch Fare Interesting

Tuna Surprise Sandwich is just the kind of nourishing offering that gets high marks from youngsters. Here are the simple basics — tuna is blended with raisins, mayonnaise and celery and served on wholesome cracked wheat bread that makes them unattractive to kids. Pack lunchtime fixings instead in an airtight carryall, that keeps freshness and flavor intact. The handy lunch box includes convenient containers for sandwiches, salads, milk and beverages. Conned tuna is always a Crunchy munchies are something youngsters love to sink their teeth into, so include cut-up raw vegetables in the lunch. They'll stay fresh for several hours when placed in a Tupperware snack cup from the kit.

In a small bowl, combine tuna, mayonnaise, raisins and celery. Mix well. Spread tuna filling on 8 slices of bread. Place a pineapple ring over filling on four bread slices. Top with remaining four slices of bread, so pineapple slice is sandwiched between the tuna filling. Yield: 4 sandwiches.

CARROT-OUTMEAL COOKIES
 1 1/2 cups all-purpose flour
 1/2 teaspoon baking soda
 1/2 teaspoon salt
 1 cup uncooked quick oats
 1/2 cup grated carrots
 1/2 cup light brown sugar, firmly packed
 1/2 cup butter or margarine, melted
 1/4 cup sugar
 1 egg
 1/2 teaspoon vanilla (optional)
 Sift flour, baking soda, and salt. Combine oats, carrots, brown sugar, butter, sugar, egg, vanilla and cinnamon in a large bowl. Blend in sifted dry ingredients. Drop by teaspoons 1-inch apart on greased baking sheets. Bake in a 375 degree F. oven 12 minutes or until lightly browned. Remove from sheet. Cool on wire racks. Yield: 4 dozen.

Garnie Reflects A Bit Of France

This hearty, easy-to-make fall dish can be prepared and served just as it is presented at the nationally famous Postchartrain Wine Cellars in downtown Detroit.

A bit of France translated, this excellent bistro is noted for its fine food, excellent wine cellar and the invention of Cold Duck.

CHAUCROUTE GARNIE
 6 1/4-inch-thick pork chops
 10 slices bacon
 6 cups washed sauerkraut
 2 teaspoons pepper
 3 tablespoons dill
 3 quarts dry white wine
 6 knaukwaust
 6 unpeeled potatoes, boiled
 Line a big kettle with bacon. Place washed sauerkraut on top of bacon slices. Add pork chops and season with pepper and dill. Add just enough dry white wine to cover the ingredients. Put a lid on the kettle and simmer gently for 4 hours. Then add knaukwaust, and cook 15-20 minutes longer. Arrange sauerkraut on a platter and arrange pork chops and knaukwaust on top. Serve with hot boiled potatoes. This makes a good dish to prepare the day before and reheat. Serves 6.

Beef Rolls Get Cheese Stuffing

Whether you're planning an intimate dinner for two or a festive gathering for a number of guests, here's an elegant main course that will earn you bouquets as a gourmet chef without the work or effort.

Stuffing stuffing is a pleasant, contrasting taste to the subtle veal and beef combination. Beef broth and dry red wine are part of the sauce that transforms the steak rolls into fine cuisine. Pimiento adds color and zest to the stuffing mixture and serves as a colorful and delicious garnish.

If you're tired of your standard "company meal," Pimiento Steak Rolls will make a delightful and tasty change. Send for a free recipe booklet by writing: Associated Pimiento Company, P.O. Box 73, Griffin, Ga. 30224.

Soups On!

Some Savor Second Day's Fare Same As The First

One of the benefits of a turkey dinner is that you get at least another day's meal from the leftovers — and there are some folks who savor the second day's fare as much as the first.

Few turkey dishes are more delectable than a supper soup you make with the meat, vegetables and stock. Good cooks often create turkey soup by heart, rather than recipe. So, to inspire you to your own master pieces we're suggesting you begin with our variations. The first is an old fashioned turkey soup, the kind you might have learned from your grandmother. It's interesting because you use the leftover stuffing to flavor the broth. The second is a turkey chowder in a creamy base with a light sweet touch added by canned cream style corn.

With the proper preparation turkey soups rise to the heights of tastiness. We've added Ac'cent to each recipe to insure the melding and freshness of flavors. Flavor enhancer has the ability to enliven the natural goodness of reheated foods, and in soups, especially those with many ingredients, it "harmonizes" all the good flavors in the dish.

Would you like to know more about turkey? Ac'cent

International is offering a guide to everything you need to know about turkey. It's called "How To Tackle A Turkey" and it's free. Just send a stamped, self-addressed envelope to: Ac'cent International, Inc., Dept. H-7, 131 East Street, Westwood, MA 02090.

TURKEY CHOWDER
Turkey carcass
2 quarts water
1 teaspoon Ac'cent
1/2 teaspoon salt
3 sprigs parsley
2 stalks celery with leaves
2 medium onions, sliced
1 bay leaf
1 bouillon cube
1/2 teaspoon dried leaf thyme
4 carrots, pared and sliced
1-3 cup uncooked rice
1 can (1 pound) cream style corn

Remove meat from carcass; reserve. Break up carcass and place in a large deep kettle. Add water, flavor enhancer, salt, parsley, celery, onions, bay leaf, bouillon cube and thyme. Bring to a boil. Cover; reduce heat, simmer 1 hour. Strain stock and return to kettle. Add carrots and rice; cover and cook 20 minutes, or until rice is tender. Add corn and reserved turkey; heat to serving temperature. Yield: 6 servings.

OLD-FASHIONED TURKEY SOUP
Bones from roast turkey
1 to 2 cups prepared stuffing
12 cups water
1 large onion, peeled and sliced
2 teaspoons salt
1 teaspoon Ac'cent
1/2 teaspoon pepper
1 tablespoon dried leaf thyme
1 bay leaf
4 all-purpose potatoes, pared, cut into small cubes
1 1/2 cups thinly sliced carrot
1 medium turnip, pared and diced
4 stalks celery, diced
2 vegetable bouillon cubes

1 tablespoon chopped parsley
Place turkey bones, pieces of turkey skin, small pieces of meat, and stuffing in kettle or large saucepot. Add water, onion, salt, flavor enhancer, pepper, thyme, and bay leaf. Cover. Bring to boiling, simmer 1 hour. Remove bones; scrape off bits of turkey meat with fork; reserve. Discard bones. Strain broth to remove any lumps of stuffing or pieces of skin. Return broth to kettle. Add reserved turkey pieces, potato, carrot, turnip, celery and bouillon cubes. Bring to boiling; simmer 25 minutes, until vegetables are tender. Correct for seasoning; add parsley. Yield: 6 servings.

Launch Luau At Home Base

If you can't sail to a starry tropical island, why not launch a luau in your living room?

This colorful and exotic sounding meal can be prepared easily on an outdoor grill or in the kitchen. And the appropriate south-seas drink is even simpler using a new line of "cocktail" cocktails. Start the festive evening with a classic Pi'Fu plaster offering a mix of Hawaiian appetizers, such as Rummaki (chicken livers in bacon), Deep-Fried Shrimp, and ChoCho (broiled beef cubes) with a dipping sauce.

You can get all the flavor of an exotic luau by offering two entrées: Chicken Hawaiian and either a smoking pig or barbecued pork tenderloin, accompanied by roast yams, red and green pepper strips doused with sesame oil and sesame seeds, and with pineapple fingers sprinkled with grated ginger and roasted in their skins.

For dessert, serve shortbread in hollowed-out orange shells with a choice of coffee or green tea with fresh mint.

ENTREE
1/2 pound chicken livers, quartered
10 slices bacon, cut in half
1 bunch of scallions cut in 1/2" pieces
1 small can water chestnuts, drained
1/4 cup soy sauce
1/4 cup brown sugar
For each Rummaki: Place a chicken liver quarter at one end of a bacon strip; top with a water chestnut, half and a piece of scallion. Roll up tightly. Shower on a toothpick, puncturing the pick through all pieces. Mix soy sauce and brown sugar; sprinkle over Rummaki. Broil until bacon turns brown. Make 20 Rummaki.

CHICKEN HAWAIIAN
Chicken quarters to serve 12.
Marinade: 1/2 cup each fresh or reconstituted lemon, lime and orange juice, plus the juice of 2 fresh lemons and 1 fresh lime, 4 tablespoons dark sesame oil, 4 tablespoons peanut oil, 4 cloves crushed garlic, 1/2 teaspoon Tabasco, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon black pepper.

Mix the marinade and pour over chicken in large shallow dish. Refrigerate four hours. Grill or broil chicken until tender, basting with marinade on each side after first 15 minutes. Chicken is done if juices run clear when chicken is pricked with a fork.

Cover your table with boldly designed sheets or an odd length of fabric, mixing and matching the vibrant colors of the setting with other decorative touches throughout the party area — groupings of candles, a basket of shells, rows of potted plants.
