Lake County fires impact Seminole

Those with respiratory problems told to monitor smoke

By BILL KERNE
Staff Writer

Smoke from a 2,450-acre Lake County brush fire hung over Seminole County on Friday, prompting health officials to warn residents with respiratory ailments to stay indoors. Winds of up to 15 miles per hour carried smoke and the scent of the fire north into Seminole and Volusia counties on Friday. In the afternoon, the wind shifted to the west and less smoke could be seen in the area than in the morning.

The stubborn brush fire continues to burn in rural south Lake County. Skies in Seminole County may again be smoky this weekend, depending upon the direction of the wind.

Since Monday, the massive fire has been burning in an area located 10 miles south of Groveland. Smoldering underbrush in the dense, dry swamp area is the source of smoke which has been plaguing Central Florida throughout the week.

"The smoldering is a real problem," said Susan Larson, spokeswoman for the Lake County Fire Department. "It causes a lot of smoke, and the windy conditions further the problems."

SANFORD — During the Korean War, Art Roche was an Army sergeant. For the past 10 years, he's been active in the United States Power Squadrons — teaching a navigation class today at Seminole Community College.

Roche, 72, is particularly excited at the May merger of the USPS and the Team United States Coast Guard Auxiliary to expand an inspection program known as "Vessel Safety Check" for recreational sail and power boaters throughout the country.

"A good thing just got better," said Roche, a resident of Longwood. "The merger will make the safety checks by accredited examiners available

Sanford gets right on track with Dixon

Former Gator track star named new deputy city manager

By BILL KERNE
Staff Writer

SANFORD — Sanford's new deputy city manager believes the city is on the fast track for growth.

The former University of Florida track star knows something about speed. Roger Dixon parlayed skills that earned him a track scholarship into several years as a wide receiver with the now defunct United States Football League for several years in the early 1980's.

"I had never played football before college," Dixon said. "I was in the right place at the right time. But, I was prepared because of my speed."

Dixon spent the 1985 pre-season with the Miami Dolphins. Although head coach Don Shula cut him, he was invited to try out the next season. Instead, he decided to return to Gainesville to complete his undergraduate work.

"I was lacking that football instinct which comes from years of training," Dixon said. "I could run the alternate route, but there were still another four or five more routes to learn."

He earned a bachelor's degree in sociology from the University of Florida in 1987, then a master's degree in public administration in 1991 from Bernard Baruch College in New York through a National Urban Fellowship.

"When I was a junior at UF I decided I either wanted to be a city manager or deputy city manager," Dixon said. "So, I studied and became a student of good government. I want to effect public policy in a positive way."

Dixon comes to Sanford from Broward County, where he worked in community development.

He specialized in working with area developers and businesses. Previously, he worked in small business development for the city of Philadelphia, Pa.

He pursued the deputy city manager position in Sanford because he wanted to play a role in shaping Sanford's growth. Dixon started the new job this week.

People can use call waiting to measure strength of friendship

I have done this in quite a few places over the last few years. I would tell people to keep in their phone that number they were getting another phone call during my own call waiting. They seemed to like it.

And then I would tell all of the other folks I had talk to people at the next table to do just another call. How could I do this? I was trying to get them to make a call to another person to see if they had some time available during my own call waiting.

Red
Green

Waiting is pretty good indicator of your relationship. If they refuse to take the other call no matter what you're doing. If they wait until the other call interrupts several times or they hang up, they're respecting an inappropriate call and therefore care about who that call is. If they hang up the first time, it had better be something that would mean that you have to leave.

Hanging up immediately after another call

THE BIGGER THE BETTER

Most people will hang up if they're doing something important. If they hang up after a few calls, they're probably not interested in talking to you. If they hang up after a few calls, they're probably not interested in talking to you.

of the day. Some segments in the film are representative of the kind of things we expect from our country's political system.

But the most interesting part of the film is the way it depicts the political process. It shows how the political process is not always fair or just, but it is still a way to express our values and beliefs.

The film also highlights the importance of education and the role it plays in shaping our society.

Overall, the film is a powerful reminder of the importance of democracy and the need to stand up for what we believe in.

It is a must-see for anyone who wants to learn more about the political process and the values that underlie it.

Commission to consider site plan for McDonald's

By BILL KERNS
Staff Writer

LONGWOOD — Business is expanding in Longwood.

A fast food restaurant will be rebuilt at 900 W. State Road 434. The Longwood City Commission on Monday will consider approval of a site plan to rebuild the McDonald's restaurant, which includes the existing inside playground.

The proposed restaurant will include

4,215 square-feet and will seat 108 persons. The existing restaurant is 4,893 square-feet, seating 120 persons.

Meanwhile, a day care center in Longwood is expanding to serve an additional 100 children.

American Village Academy, located at 905 Longwood Hills Road, is requesting a conditional use permit for expansion of the daycare from 75 children to 175 children. The request will be considered Monday by the Longwood City Commission.

The expansion will consist of a new building to care for the additional 100 children at 905 Longwood Hills Road.

The business proposes to add additional building space to accommodate the increased enrollment.

In other action, members of Longwood's business community recently came to the aid of a needy family.

On April 9, residents of the Sandalwood neighborhood rallied to assist a family who had come upon difficult times.

Linda Pharo and Sharon Crowder realized that a family in their neighborhood was in need of some assistance, having had health and financial problems, and they decided to hold a fund-raising event with all proceeds to be given to the family.

Residents of Sandalwood gathered on April 9 in Sandalwood Park for a cake sale, car wash and raffle. The organizers approached Longwood merchants, who donated prizes for the raffle.

Participating businesses included the Tire Kingdom, Challenge Car Wash, AIDS Bowling Alley, Grizzley Bar and Grill, Kerrymen Irish Pub, Longwood Video, Subi's Subs, Lee's Half Time, and Sabal Point Country Club.

In addition, Jason Dalton donated free carpet cleaning, and Tammy Cramer donated a basket.

Zoological Park plans Reptile, Amphibian Day for May 13

From staff reports

SANFORD — Living in Central Florida, it is important to be able to identify the venomous and non-venomous snakes you may discover.

Now, the Central Florida Zoological Park is offering the opportunity to not only investigate the snake population, but turtles, lizards and frogs, during Reptile and Amphibian Day set for Saturday, May 13. The event will be held from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m.

"Let's face it, as a group, reptiles suffer from a bad reputation," said Andrea Farmer, public relations director for the zoo.

Ray and Pat Ashton, renowned herpetologists and authors of "The Handbook of Reptiles and Amphibians of Florida," will be on hand to autograph this comprehensive resource.

At 10:30 a.m. and again at 1 p.m., General Curator Fred Antonio and Reptile Keeper Brad Lawrence will conduct a special amphibian and reptile slide program.

Attendees will be able to delve into skulls, skeletons and other bio facts from dinosaurs to reptiles. There will also be displays on eastern diamondback rattlesnake conservation, global amphibian decline, and Central Florida reptiles and amphibians. For those considering a pet iguana or Burmese python, learn more about space requirements, diet, vet care, owner responsibilities, and just how large these animals are when fully grown.

Cost for the special Animal Encounters slide show is $3 to see these creatures up close and personal.

For more information, phone the zoo at 407-323-4450, ext. 149. Admission to the Reptile and Amphibian Day is included in regular admission, which is $7 for adults, $3 for children 3-12, $4 for seniors and free for children 2 and under, and members of the zoological society.

CII brokers sale of Municipal Equipment Co.

Corporate Investment International (CII), the state's leading Mergers & Acquisitions intermediary and business brokerage, recently brokered the sale of a major Southeast distributor of fire protection and safety equipment to an Orlando businessman and a private investor from Illinois.

Russell E. Melki and Robert J. Pennington purchased Municipal Equipment Co. (MEC), a 28-year-old Orlando-based firm that provides fire-fighting equipment and supplies to fire departments and municipalities throughout the southeastern United States.

Terms of the acquisition were not disclosed but intermediaries and Seminole County residents Scott Vierima of Lake Mary and Harold Landry of Longwood, who orchestrated the sale for CII, said the transaction was valued at approximately $2 million.

Grammy nominated Moore to headline theater's opening

By BILL KERNS
Staff Writer

SANFORD — Sanford's hopes for a booming downtown business district will receive a boost next weekend.

On Saturday, May 6, the restored Helen Stairs Theatre for the Performing Arts will hold a Gala Opening and Dedication. Tony Award winner and two-time Grammy Award nominee Melba Moore will headline the gala event.

The theater is expected to hold a pivotal place in downtown Sanford.

"People who come here for business are going to want to know what kind of culture and entertainment we can offer," said Sanford City Commissioner Brady Lessard.

"The theater will be great for the city."

Originally called the Milane Theatre when it opened in 1923, then later the Ritz Theatre, the name was changed by the Ritz board of directors this year to honor Helen Stairs, who spent more than six years working on the $1.5 million restoration project.

During the 1920s through 1960s, the theater offered vaudeville theater, and movies flickered across a big screen. The renovated theater will feature touring shows, live theater, and concerts.

The Helen Stairs Theatre will present a mini season this summer consisting of one play, "Social Security," and a concert by Tom Chapin.

The theater's first official season will begin in September and will last through May 2001. A Holiday concert by the Moscow Boys Choir in December will highlight the season.

The theater, located at the corner of Second Street and Magnolia Avenue, will also offer children's performing arts workshops and after school programs.

Members of the non-profit Ritz Community Theatre Inc. have gathered $470,000 in public grants and $100,000 in private funds to renovate the theater.

"Creating centers of culture and revitalizing downtowns are two essential ingredients in building and sustaining a strong local economy," said Ron Rose, executive director of the Sanford/Seminole County Chamber of Commerce.

The theater was constructed in 1921. It housed a state-of-the-art theater with a 30-by-60 foot stage.

The downstairs area will have a total of 331 chairs when the theater opens. Another 64 padded, folding bleachers will be placed in the upstairs balcony area until additional theater chairs are purchased.

District searching for wells

From staff reports

With millions of gallons of water already saved through the St. Johns River Water Management District's program to plug free-flowing wells, the district is now searching for more wells to plug, particularly in Seminole County.

The history of growing vegetables in Seminole County that led farmers to tap deep into the Florida aquifer for irrigation water leads water managers to believe there are many wells throughout the county that continue to waste millions of gallons of water each year. Because the wells are believed to be on private property, SJRWMD is typically only able to learn about them when notified. Property owners can be eligible to have the wells permanently plugged.

without charge

The SJRWMD and Seminole County have allocated $40,000 this year to plug as many as 50 free-flowing wells. But before they can be capped, they need to be located.

"This program has been an extremely important component of our water conservation efforts, and the annual water savings have been phenomenal," said Wesley Curtis, a district hydrologist. "The most challenging part is actually locating the wells, since most of them are on private property."

The district's work to halt the waste of water from the wells drilled decades ago into the Florida aquifer, most 90 to 200 feet deep, is part of its mission to protect drinking water supplies. There are believed to be over 2,000 free-flowing wells throughout the district's 19 counties in Central and North Florida, with several hundred believed to be in Seminole County. Each well may waste as much as 32 million gallons a year.

The district has worked with local governments and private property owners since 1976 to cap 1,200 free-flowing wells that were no longer in use, saving more than 336 million gallons of water each day. More than $2.5 million have been spent capping the wells, with about $750,000 of that having come from private property owners and local governments. The Florida Legislature mandates the program.

For Seminole County property owners who have free-flowing wells, SJRWMD urges them to contact them as soon as possible. The number is 1-800-741-WELL.

Bank plans to open Sanford branch

Community National Bank of Mid-Florida, which opened its premier headquarters facility in Lake Mary last year, plans to open its first branch facility at 413 W. First St. in Sanford in early August.

Bank Chairman Mike Hattaway said the Sanford location will offer two drive-in tellers and 1,900 square feet of lobby and administrative space.

"Several of our board members and employees live in Sanford and we know that community so well, it was obviously our first choice in selecting a branch site."

Happening

The bank is also looking at several Longwood locations.

Renovations of the office facility in Sanford will be minor, according to Hattaway.

"Our growth has been slightly ahead of our projections and we are very pleased," Hattaway said. "We don't intend to be the largest bank in Seminole County, but we do intend to offer better and more banking services for our community."

At the same time, Community National Bank President Bill Barwick said the bank is now offering VISA and MasterCard accounts. The bank is located at 3001 Lake Mary Blvd., in Lake Mary.

The Way We Were: The Sanford Experience

I recently came across two programs that at first didn't seem related, but as I read and thought through them, I realized that they are. Both were community projects that involved a large number of local citizens, but sadly, both events have not been held in Sanford for many years.

"The Messiah"

The first event occurred on Palm Sunday, March 18, 1951 at 3 p.m. at Holy Cross Episcopal Church. At that time, the Seminole Choral Society presented "The Messiah" by George F. Handel. I believe I'm correct in remembering that this group presented this mighty work several times during that era.

The director was Roger Harris, choir director at First Methodist and also on the faculty of Seminole High School. The organist was Mrs. George Toughy, long-time organist and choir director at First Presbyterian.

Following a prayer by the Rev. H.L. Zimmerman, priest at Holy Cross, Robert Brown sang the beautiful tenor solo, "Comfort Ye My People."

Other soloists were Richard Farrell, Joyce Hetzel, Mrs. Charles Wilke, Mrs. Clara Ginn, Mrs. Richard Farrell and Dr. H.W. Rucker. Mrs. George Hardin sang the lovely soprano solo, "I Know that My Redeemer Liveth," just before the glorious "Hallelujah Chorus," which closed the program. And, of course, the chorus rendered several well-known numbers throughout.

I'm sure you will recall several members of this chorus as most were involved with church choirs or the SHS Glee Club. Several were well-known soloists who performed in other venues:

Sopranos — Mrs. A.M. Phillips, Mrs. Roy Wall, Mrs. J.L. Ingle, Mrs. Roger Harris,

Grace Marie
Stinecipher

Mrs. Bernard Harkey, Mrs. Frank Woodruff Jr., Mrs. L.D. Lingendeller Jr., Mrs. W.G. Fleming, Mrs. Gilbert Blocker, Miss Elsie Hutchison, Altoe — Mrs. Paul Chesterton, Mrs. H.G. Officers of this group were Mrs. James L. Ingle, president; Mrs. W.G. Fleming, secretary; Martin Stinecipher, treasurer; Mrs. F.S. Verney, publicity.

I was a little young for this group, as I would have been a freshman at Seminole High School at the time. I do notice that a few alto and basses were high school seniors. I did sing in "The Messiah" for two years while a student at Maryville College, and it was a glorious experience. Maryville was noted for its excellent Vesper Choir, but this was open to any student and also the community. I know that we had many rehearsals during the fall and performed right before the Christmas holiday.

Community Thanksgiving Service

The other program I have is of the Community Thanksgiving Service sponsored by the Sanford Area Ministerial Association. The service was held Wednesday, Nov. 26, 1975 at the Civic Center.

This is an event that has not been a true community affair in several years. For the past few years, the four downtown churches — First Baptist, First Methodist, First Presbyterian and Holy Cross Episcopal — have sponsored a Thanksgiving service rotating the place among the churches. Of course, everyone in the area is invited and it is an inspiring event, but it seems to have lost the true Sanford community experience.

This service in 1975 was quite a production, involving nine church choirs, the community band, a color guard from the Sanford Naval Academy, and several ministers and laymen.

Following the organ prelude by John Renfroe, Grace Methodist organist, the choir, ministers and color guard processed in while the congregation sang "Come Ye Thankful People, Come."

The invocation was given by Douglas Porter, pastor of Free Methodist. Leo King, pastor of First Methodist and president of the Ministerial Association, gave the welcome and introductions.

The community band played "American Salute," after which the congregation sang "America." Bernard Barga, associate pastor of the Church of Nativity, read the scripture and Phuoc Ten Nguyen, a Vietnamese refugee, spoke on "A New Land, A New Freedom." (Remember that Viet Nam had just fallen and several refugees had been relocated to Sanford.)

The Rev. Ken Holt, pastor of Pinecrest Baptist, next read Psalm 33 and led in prayer, after which Mayor Lee Moore spoke on "The Celebration of Liberty."

The congregation sang "God Bless America." The Rev. Robert Doctor, pastor of St. Paul's Baptist, gave a Thanksgiving prayer and the community band, directed by William J. Hinkle of the Seminole Community College, played "Glory to God in the Highest."

as the offering was received.

The combined choirs and band presented "From Sea to Shining Sea." Harold A. Harris, pastor of First Christian, spoke on "Give Liberty - Give Life," and the choir sang "What Price Freedom." Chaplain James Nelson of the Salvation Army pronounced the benediction.

In just reading this, don't you feel all tingly and patriotic? Thanksgiving is a true American holiday which should be celebrated in like fashion every year.

The choirs which participated were from Central Baptist, Church of Nativity, First Baptist, First Methodist, Grace Methodist, Pinecrest Baptist, Sanford Alliance, St. James AME and St. Paul's Baptist. The combined choir was directed by Charles Davis, Minister of Music and Youth at First Baptist.

The committee which organized this inspiring program was composed of Ken Holt, chairman; Perry Collins, Charles Davis, Jack Horner, Leo King, Blair McCurvey Douglas Porter.

Perhaps some of you reading this will be inspired to help start a "Messiah" chorus or volunteer to organize a community Thanksgiving service.

There are other groups, once very active, that have disbanded, such as the Sanford Male Chorus, which practiced every Monday night for years under the leadership of Bob Carnie, with Bettye Smith as pianist. Their concerts were always loved and well attended.

There was also a Women's Chorus which even toured Poland! You can probably think of other community groups/activities that are no more.

I realize that any project of this magnitude takes a lot of time and effort, as I have been in charge of similar ones, but wouldn't it be worth it for the community to work together to present such worthwhile events?

New Florida law protects consumers

Florida has made improvements in its consumer-protection laws since the mid-1980s when boiler rooms were operating at a peak.

The Florida Telephone Solicitation Act offers protection for consumers who do not wish to receive telephone sales solicitation calls at home.

Florida law also requires all non-exempt telephone sales soliciting companies to register and post a bond with the Florida Department of Agriculture and Consumer Services.

The law prohibits recorded sales messages. Automated messages frequently instruct you to remain on for a live operator if you are interested. If you receive only a recorded sales message, it is most likely a prohibited solicitation message; please contact the Department for action.

The law prohibits random dialing devices from calling unlisted telephone numbers or numbers that appear on the "No Sales Solicitation Calls List."

If You Are On The List But Receive A Call

If you are currently on the no-calls list and receive a sales solicitation call that does not meet the exemptions outlined above, report it to the Florida Department of Agriculture and Consumer Services by writing to the address below. If possible, include the following information about the caller.

1. Name, address and telephone number of company
2. Name of person making call
3. Your address, name and telephone number
4. Date and time of call
5. Products or services offered

The Florida Department of Agriculture and Consumer Services has the authority to contact the solicitation firm, inform it of the requirements of the law and require it to conform.

The Department will warn the offender once through informal mediation. If the offender does not comply, the law provides for civil penalties of up to $10,000 per violation and injunctive relief through the courts.

Humanitarian award

Monday, May 1, the Sanford Lakeside Lion's Club will present the Deputy Gene Gregory Humanitarian Award to a member of the Seminole County Sheriff's Office. The name of the recipient is being kept a secret until the ceremony at 6:30 p.m. at Logan's Roadhouse Grill, 4649 W. 1st Street in Sanford.

The award is given to the sheriff's employee who goes beyond the call of duty and takes a special interest in people, is caring, and involved.

The cost of having your telephone number listed is $10 for the first year. A yearly renewal fee of $5 is required to keep your number on the list.

Telephone companies will send annual inserts in their billing statements to remind you of your renewal.

Exemptions To The Law

Some telephone sale solicitation firms are exempt from the provisions of the law. Solicitors may make calls:

- In response to an expressed request by the person called.
- In reference to an existing debt, contract, payment or performance.

The Florida Department of Agriculture and Consumer Services has the authority to contact the solicitation firm, inform it of the requirements of the law and require it to conform.

The Department will warn the offender once through informal mediation. If the offender does not comply, the law provides for civil penalties of up to $10,000 per violation and injunctive relief through the courts.

Seminole Schools to honor volunteers

From staff reports

Five hundred very special school volunteers will be recognized Tuesday, May 2, at the Annual Dividends School Volunteer Luncheon. The event will be held at Sheraton Orlando North, hotel.

All of the 500 persons are involved in service in Seminole County Public Schools.

According to Jane Lane with the Dividends program, these volunteers have donated 250 hours and 1,000 hours of service to the students and staff of the county's schools.

Special attention will be focused on the Dividend of the Year, as well as five individual speakers and five groups of speakers that participate in the Community Resource Volunteer Program.

Last year there were over 16,000 school volunteers, representing over $7.4 million worth of services donated to the school district by the community.

Since 1973 Dividends school volunteers have donated over $100 million in services through their selfless efforts on behalf of the school district's students and staff. For most Dividends, their only reward is knowing that they can change tomorrow by volunteering today.

For more information on school volunteer opportunities or the luncheon on May 2, phone the Dividends School Volunteer Program at 407-320-0182.

 live more than two miles to school.
 His wife Candace said that she does not understand why service to the Holderness area has been halted, even buses still serve nearby areas in Wekiva.

"The courtesy buses are still running in Wekiva," said Candace Sacher. "The buses are there, the stops are there, why can't we continue to serve the kids?"

The Wekiva area parents say they are concerned about their students walking to school in the dark. Seminole County high schools start class at 7:20 a.m. A proposal that will be discussed by the School Board on May 9 would push the start of school back 15 minutes for elementary, middle and high schools.

"I would like to know why we had bus service for the last 20 years," said Rick Jenka.

"Obviously, there was a safety issue. Many children will be walking through wooded areas in the dark. There was a girl raped in Winter Park recently."

Before the decision was made to discontinue bus service for the students, the school-district's Safety Advisory Committee evaluated whether there is adequate space for students to walk, the amount of traffic involved, and the ability to provide sufficient crossing guards.

The decision to discontinue bus service for 155 students living along Lake Brantley Road was made in December, and parents were notified in January. It will become effective in August, said Jean Johnson, director of transportation for the school district.

School Board member Bob Goff said he is also upset that bus service was denied to the Holderness Drive area, when others in the same subdivision do ride buses to school. He said that if some residents of a subdivision receive school bus transportation, all residents should.

"We should go from the front door of a subdivision the way we do in zoning for schools," Goff said.

Bus service for those living less than two miles from their zoned school is likely to become an increasingly common conflict in Seminole County. The county is moving forward with an aggressive sidewalk and trail system.

The county is planning to have 55-miles of trails that connect to Volusia, Lake, and Orange Counties. There will be 35 miles of paved trails, and 20 miles of unpaved trails. All the schools and parks in the county will have a connection with the trail system.

"We are going to be seeing more and more and more trails," said Sandra Robinson,
 "That's by design. So, we have a problem that's evolving."

The school district is looking into ways of addressing concerns of the parents. The School Board will address the matter at a future meeting, perhaps as early as May 9.

In 1992, a Lake Mary High School student was killed after getting struck by a tractor trailer.
 The school district's

Transportation Safety Committee was formed to prevent future tragedies. Robinson said that the Board will try to avoid the possibility of a similar accident occurring in Wekiva.

"I will never, never forget that tragedy," Robinson said.

 Coast Guard will be eligible to boating public will then be able — without expense — get the information about all the safe boating courses available in the area where they live or boat.

"We have 155 members in the Seminole Power Squadron," said Roche, who became active in 1990 after retiring from the insurance business. He is a past commander of the Seminole Post and currently serves as its public relations officer.

"There are lessons everyone can learn about safe boating and a number of services we offer," Roche said. "A boater who wants to make sure his equipment is being maintained and that local and state requirements are being met or that registrations are valid can get this all for no cost."

Dixon

"Sanford is better than a diamond in the rough," Dixon said.
 "For the first time in my life, I have a chance to see change happening in my face and effect the change. This is the second fastest growing metropolitan region in the world. Businesses are salivating to assist in the growth of Sanford."

Although it is a topic he would prefer to avoid, Dixon is Sanford's first black deputy city manager.

"I'm an African-American by heritage, by culture and by birth," Dixon said. "I'm the deputy city manager by will, determination and desire."

Several projects Dixon has worked on will likely prepare him for challenges to be faced in Sanford.

Sanford's police department is undergoing reforms that will enable greater cooperation with the community. The challenges may be light compared to those faced by police in Long Beach, Calif., in the early 1990's, where Dixon served as a special assistant for the Chief of Police during graduate school.

This was the same time when riots took place in Los Angeles following the beating of Rodney King. In addition, tensions between Long Beach police and members of the community were also running hot.

In Philadelphia, the city where he was born and raised, Dixon worked with area banks to develop a micro-loan program for businesses. He also worked on an early form of welfare-to-work known as the Philadelphia City Store.

In the program, the first floor of an abandoned building became a restaurant and grocery store. The second floor was used for the development of various skills.

"We took these individuals and developed life skills that they could use during their careers," Dixon said.

His wife Tami and three children are still living in Sunrise in Broward County. They will soon move to Sanford with him. His eight-year-old daughter wants to be an actress, six-year-old son Roger, Jr. (RJ) aspires to be an athlete, and three-year-old daughter Tatiana "wants to run our family," Dixon said.

 medical officials in Seminole County because of respiratory problems caused by smoke on Friday, said Paula Ritchie, spokeswoman for the county's EMS fire-rescue division.

However, there were no reports of serious health problems caused by smoke.

Residents with asthma, bronchitis and other respiratory ailments are advised to stay indoors, and to keep air conditioning on, so long as smoky conditions persist.

The elderly and infants are particularly susceptible to the effects of smoke.
 Anyone with respiratory trouble should stay inside, keep windows and doors closed, and turn on the air conditioner," Ritchie said.

As with Seminole County,
 there have been no serious cases of respiratory problems caused by smoke reported at Orlando Regional Medical Center, said hospital spokesman Joe Brown.

"We haven't had anything of any significance," Brown said.
 "Orlando has had haze in the sky,
 but we haven't seen anything like what is in Lake County."

About 100 firefighters from across Central Florida continued the battle to contain the fire on Friday. All homes in the area of the fire are out of immediate danger, and since Thursday the flames have been contained behind a fire line. However, drivers in Lake County are advised to use caution.

SCC performs latest production

SANFORD - Orlando Theatre
 Project, the professional theatre company in residence at Seminole Community College, will present the Central Florida premier of the recent Broadway hit, The Beauty Queen of Leinenweber, by Martin McDonagh.

Winner of four 1998 Tony Awards, as well as Best Play awards from the Drama Desk,
 Drama League, Outer Critics
 Circle and the Lucille Lortel Awards, the Beauty Queen of Leinenweber tells the darkly comic tale of middle-aged Maureen Folan, and Mag, her manipulative aging mother. Mag's interference in Maureen's first and possibly only chance for love results in a funny and frightening story that tricks and tantalizes all the way to its stunning conclusion. Set in a small Irish town, the play blends the comic and the ferocious, the hilarious

"Driving will continue to be a problem for at least two weeks," said Larson, the Lake County Fire Department spokeswoman. "What we really need is to have a good rain."

However, rain is not expected in the Central Florida area this weekend. Not until the middle of next week will the area have a chance of rain, said Scott Kelly, meteorologist for the National Weather Service in Melbourne.

"We're not expecting rain," Kelly said. "It will be dry and sunny with low humidity. High temperatures will be in the low to mid-80's."

Winds in the area are expected to blow in a westerly direction this weekend, carrying smoke from the Lake County fire to the east.

Dry conditions across Central Florida make containing the Lake County fire difficult, and raise concerns that additional fires may start.

The Ketch Byron Index, used to measure the potential for wildfires, indicates that conditions are dry statewide. A value of over 400 on the index

denotes a significant fire danger. At present, in most of the state, the level exceeds a value of 500.

Seminole County has a Ketch

Bronx Index level of 563 on a scale of 800, with 0 indicating monsoon conditions and 800 indicating desert conditions.

Lake County's index level is 526, Orange County is

504, and Brevard County is up to 618.

"Across Central Florida the fire danger is high because of dry and warm conditions," Kelly said. "The concern is that if a fire is started for whatever reason, the dry conditions would help spread the fire."

Longwood commission to elect a mayor Monday night

By BILL KERK
Staff Writer

LONGWOOD — Longwood is electing a new Mayor on Monday.

However, there are no campaign signs along roadsides. The business of the city has not come to a halt amid political mudslinging.

In an annual ceremony held at the start of the City Commission meeting each May 1, the commissioners will select one person from their ranks to serve as Mayor.

Paul Lovestrand was selected to serve as Mayor one year ago. If someone else is selected, Lovestrand will not make a concession speech. He will simply hand the gavel over and continue serving as a commissioner, a position he has held for six years.

"I'd like to continue serving as Mayor," Lovestrand said. "That's up to the commission. There's no more pay, and you have a few more jobs to do, such as ribbon cuttings."

One of the responsibilities Lovestrand will still fulfill comes on Wednesday, when he will give away free ice cream from 7 p.m. to 9 p.m. at the Baskin Robbins within the Longwood Village Shopping Center.

As part of the Celebrity Charity Dip, for every scoop Lovestrand gives away, $2 will be donated to the Central Florida Society for Historic Preservation.

Meanwhile, in other city action, Lovestrand is proposing that the city purchase a 7.5 acre property located on the corner of 12th Street and Lommler Street. If the commission approves the purchase, Lovestrand said the property could serve as a park with soccer fields.

Other items to be considered Monday include:

- The Fire Department recommends the City Commission

authorize the Mayor to sign a Hazard Mitigation Grant modification between the city and the state that will provide additional funding to replace the overhead doors at both fire stations with hurricane rated doors.

After the February 1998 tornado the Federal Emergency Management Agency made funds available for hazard mitigation projects. The city was awarded a grant of $64,750 to purchase shutters for several city buildings.

Longwood has been offered additional funding to replace the non-rated overhead doors at both fire stations with 150 mph wind rated doors, which increased the grant total to $80,340.

- The Police Department recommends the City Commission approve the donation of $1,000 from the Police Division Confiscation Trust Fund to Lake Mary High School for Project Graduation.

Military News

Christina M. Aguilar has joined the United States Army under the Delayed Entry Program at the U.S. Army Recruiting Station, Sanford.

The program gives young men and women the opportunity to delay entering active duty for up to one year.

The enlistment gives the new soldier the option to learn a new skill, travel and become eligible to receive as much as $50,000 toward a college education. After completion of basic military training, soldiers receive advanced individual training in their career job specialty.

The recruit qualifies for a $9,000 enlistment bonus.

Aguilar, a 1999 graduate of Seminole High School reported to Fort Jackson, Columbia, S.C. She is the daughter of Janice M. Robinson of Sanford, and Jerry Aguilar of Largo.

Army Pvt. Kyle P. Roush has arrived at Fort Benning, Columbus, Ga., to complete basic military training.

During the training, the soldier will receive instruction in drill and ceremonies, map reading, tactics, military customs and courtesies, physical fitness, first aid, and Army history and traditions.

Roush is the son of Debra J. and stepson of James M. Grand of Lake Mary.

He is a 1999 graduate of Seminole Community College.

To Sanford & Seminole County

Please forgive me for letting down the Lord and this community.

I was a Pastor of Zion of Judah House of Worship in which I fell from grace. I would like to thank Mayor Dale for his love & compassion he showed me his very vital needed help in the ability to complete the new location of the church.

Sister Tammy, I ask your forgiveness as well.

God's work will go on & souls will be saved.

Sincerely,

Mark D. Still

Emery and Jacob Warren made him work for it.

David started on the outside pole against Emery and everyone expected Rogers to take the lead easily. No go. Emery stayed right with him for five laps until Rogers finally squeezed by.

Emery lost control and spun and that let Jacob Warren try for the top spot. Jake gave it a good try, but came up second. Travis Kittleman #84 ran a solid third. Billy Pratt #43 was fourth. Is Rogers' Dodge as fast as his Chevy?

Jimbo Bjorklund put his Crantina's Auction #66 Chevy Late Model out front and stayed there. Chad Allman and Randy Dye put the pressure on, but the #66 was too wide to get around. A small field, but great action up front.

Ted Vulpis was back in the #71 Greener Side Up Ford and was able to out run the #90 Champ Clark for the win. The #84 of Dubois was third. Martin Berger and Charlie Staats rounded out the top 5.

In the Modified feature, Robert "Hollywood" Ham nearly lapped all the field for an easy apparent win. Wayne Southard claimed the motor and the team declined. This gave the win to Guy Hellyer who successfully passed the P.A.G test at tech.

Afterwards, there was a heated discussion regarding the validity of the claim. The rules were called into question regarding a lapped car and if it was "running competitively". We will be hearing more about this.

Chuck Abell returned to the Cool Time #7 Camaro and dominated the field. This car was clicking off 20.20's and may be surprising. It is clearly a new car to beat. Chuck has a top notch crew. This team is going to be hard to beat.

Roger Wren gave the #90 a good run for 2nd. Randy Dye in a first time effort drove the #43 to third. Ian Huffman and John Nusbaum were on the top five sheet at the pay window.

Oldsmobile Winterstein made good on his claim that "there ain't no Chevy gonna beat me" by passing them all and winning easily. Brad Johnson tried, no luck. Bill Spauld, Greg Taylor and Charlie Merz gave it all they had, but...no...luck. This week, remember, Rich Clouser won 48 races in an Olds in 1998.

Three cars showed up in Strictly Stock. They finished 3, 70 & 37.

Next Saturday night, May 6th, the Tommy Patterson Memorial/SARA Modified 100 will be contested along with heats and features in the Super Late Models, Late Models, Mini-Stocks, Sportman, Super Stock and Strictly Stock.

General Henry Sanford

Time traveling
Sanford Museum offers a tour through history

By Nick Platnow
Staff Writer

For people who have never visited the Sanford Museum, stop in and take the whole family. You'll be pleased at the exhibits. For those who may have been there before, stop in again and see the constantly upgraded displays and new additions.

Although not situated in what could be called a historic building, the museum has a colorful history. Having undergone a number of renovations and expansions since it was first built in 1957.

Alicia Clarke, curator of the museum for the past 12 years explained that the museum was first created through a fund-raising effort by the local Daughters of the American Revolution (DAR) chapter, which had many historical members in its number. "They actually started the fund drive," Clarke said. "But there are many others who played a big part in the creation of the museum, including help from Rollins College, the Connecticut Museum, and others, especially those who indexed and sorted the papers and books."

Although Clarke is highly enthusiastic about the physical displays she added that the museum is, first and foremost, a caretaker of papers, most of which are from General Henry Sanford, credited with being the founder of the city. The Sanford papers, memorabilia and furnishings of the various rooms date from the 1820s to 1870.

"Henry Sanford died in 1891," she explained, "and for

Strange Florida

Charlie Carlson Jr. discusses his interest in the paranormal

Historian Charlie Carlson is a collector and a researcher. As a result, he has published several history-based books, including the Seminole bestseller, "When Colony Was King." Next week, his newest publication, "I Got My Dives Tails Wet In Soda Water Creek," will hit the streets. The book takes a look back at Lake Monroe's history through his mother's writings. Although Carlson no longer resides in Sanford — he moved to Edgewater to get away from the city's congestion — he takes an active role in numerous community organizations, including the Seminole Historical Society where he currently serves as president. Besides being a self-proclaimed history buff, the 10th-generation Floridian has one other major interest — the unusual and unexplained. Following hundreds of investigations into unidentified flying objects, the Florida Skunk Ape, witches and ghosts, Carlson wrote "Strange Florida," a book filled with stories about strange occurrences in the Sunshine State. Taking his love for the unusual even further, Carlson played Professor Moonhouse in the Sci-Fi Channel's 1998 "Curse of the Blair Witch." Recently, Seminole Herald Managing Editor Michelle Jorda caught up with Carlson to learn why he explores the paranormal. She found out it all began with the Florida Skunk Ape.

Q. Why are you interested in the paranormal?

A. I had my own experience when I was a kid camping out along west Highway 46. Back then, there wasn't much traffic in the area. We saw this great big thing. It was about 8 feet tall and smelled awful — like rotten cabbage or a skunk. In my child's mind, I probably imagined it was bigger than it actually was. People might not have believed us, but there were other reports about an ape-like thing breaking into greenhouses in Apopka. Other sightings were reported by credible people such as anthropologists and lawyers. These were people with up-close encounters with the skunk ape. Who knows, it could be some kind of primate that lives in Central Florida, kind of like the sightings in Washington. Everyday, scientists are discovering new species of animals or animals they thought were extinct. The skunk ape could be one of them.

Q. So, you believe in the unusual, such as UFOs, witches and ghosts.

A. I believe there are things that can't be explained with our technology — things that are still unknown to us. But, there are things that can be explained, such as the Oviedo lights, which appear as a result of methane gas. That phenomenon can be explained. But, what about the guy who sees an object with portholes and has to be taken to the hospital because of radiation burns. There is something to it. It may be an experimental craft or it may be something from another planet, who knows.

Q. What is the strangest thing you have ever seen?

A. I think the strangest thing, and probably the thing that has the most credibility to it, is the skunk ape. So many credible people have reported seeing it. There is definitely something to it.

Q. What is the craziest hoax you have ever seen?

Sanford's miracle child

Sealey named ambassador to Children's Network

From Staff Reports

Named ambassador to Florida Children's Miracle Network (CMN), Sanford's Colton Sealey is a 4-year-old true miracle. At 10 months, physicians discovered Sealey had a life threatening condition that caused his aorta and the arteries that branched from it to become so thin that blood could not flow to his vital organs. The surgical procedure needed to save Sealey's life had never been done before, and the risk was high, according to Kathy Smith, chairman of CMN Bowling For Miracles.

Sealey survived the operation and proved miracles do happen. Today, three years later, Sealey is quite a little trooper. "He steals everyone's heart he meets with his little smile as big as the state of Florida," Smith said.

Sealey's family is a member of the IOF Foresters, Court Gator No. 463, in the Orlando area. The family has been attending as many of the functions and CMN fund-raisers as possible.

According to Smith, Sealey has drawn the tickets for door prizes and the auctions at each function he attended during the last two years. The Foresters, through Court Gator, have raised more than $3,583 for CMN this year through "Bowling" and "Golf For Miracles."

Sealey will be going to Washington in May as the representative from Florida for CMN. He will also appear June 3 and June 4 on the CMN Telethon, which will be televised on Fox 35.

On April 12, a profile on Sealey was filmed for the telethon in Fort Mellon Park in Sanford, which was sponsored by the IOF Foresters. In attendance was the Easter Bunny (aka Remi Zecman, Foresters district manager), members from the Sanford Police Department, members from the Seminole County Sheriff's Office with Mike, the bicycle riding puppet, Sanford City Commissioner Brady Leonard, Entertainer Eddy Rivers, Helen Stairs and members of the Sanford Chamber of Commerce.

"We were honored to have many children attend the Forester's Day In The Park, including the children from Mama Jean's Daycare Center in Sanford," Smith said. "Everybody enjoyed the activities and lunch."

Standing with Doughty are Jackie Sealey holding her son Colton, who is Sanford's "miracle child," and Colton's brother, Austin. Pictured below, IOF Foresters Public Relations Officer Kathy Smith holds Colton, who was recently named ambassador to Florida Children's Miracle Network.

At right, Sanford and county officials and community leaders gathered together for the filming of Colton Sealey's profile, which will air during the Children's Miracle Network Telethon. The IOF Foresters, through Court Gator, also presented a check for more than $3,000 to the Children's Miracle Network. almost 60 years, his papers were stored in Connecticut, where he made his home when not in Sanford." She said the papers were eventually obtained and, through a series of moves, are now housed at the museum. "We have his books and personal papers in seven separate languages," she said. "Students of such matters as the Belgium Congo, or the secret service during the Civil War have found these papers to be excellent resources."

Three large European landscape paintings, originally in Sanford's home in Belgium, hang on the wall of the Henry Sanford wing, along with several portraits of the Sanford family.

Originally known as the Henry Shelton Sanford Museum, the name was changed to Sanford Museum in January 1993.

The change was brought about in connection with the almost doubling in size of the structure, financed through a $25,000 grant from the Historical Society, $100,000 from the reserve fund of the city of Sanford, a $150,000 grant from the Tourist Development Council and $240,000 from the Sydney O. Chase family.

Among with individual items on display, one will see a French perfume still, circa 1880, which Clarke said was located in the Chase and Company old warehouse.

One of the newest exhibits is the Seminole County/Sanford Sports Exhibit. It houses memorabilia of all the great sports legends who called the Sanford area home, including Buddy Lake, and Tim Raines, as well as a few who played a prominent part in Sanford's past, such as Babe Ruth.

The sports exhibit is constantly being improved. "The objects may change from time to time," Clarke explained, "But the exhibit itself is to be permanent."

The drive at the present time is to obtain memorabilia and artifacts centered on the history of the Sanford Naval (Auxiliary) Air Station. Two uniforms have already been donated, along with a flight helmet and other items.

"We know there must be people who have items we could use in the museum regarding the Navy," she said, "and we hope they will contact us here at the museum."

The Sanford Museum, located at 520 East First St. in Sanford, on the shore of Lake Carolia, is a division of the City of Sanford Recreation and Parks Department.

Brockmans bid Sanford a fond farewell

"So long, Sanford," is the theme song of Glenna and Estes Brockman these days. After living in our fair city for the past 31 years, the popular couple are saying farewell to their many friends.

Doris Dietrich

It's not that they wanted to just pick up and leave, but the time came to make a decision. They concluded they are not getting any younger and wanted to be near their only child, Beverly Haines, and her husband, Dr. Gordon Haines, in St.

George, Utah. This tranquil community is located in the southwest corner of the state and has a tropical climate complete with palm trees.

Beverly was in Sanford for quite some time helping her parents pack and sell their home. It wasn't easy picking up roots and discarding belongings for the trek out west with many a tear shed.

In 1984, Estes retired from the Seminole County Clerk's Office where he was employed as a statistical analyst. He was also a member of the Sanford Kiwanis Club. Glenna retired in 1986 as secretary to the circuit administrator of the State Parole and Probation Department. They have been active members of the First United Methodist Church.

On April 24, Glenna was honored at a farewell fete at the Rose Cottage Tea Room and Continental Cafe.

Hostesses for the lovely event in a charming Old World atmosphere were Nellie Coleman and Jewell Williams.

Sica Nacu, owner of the tea room, left no stone unturned in preparing an authentic Victorian tea. The guests raved over the delicious repast and Glenna said, "It was great."

The guests all signed an appropriate farewell card, and Linda Robb read a farewell poem she wrote for Glenna. A nostalgic trip down Memory Lane was the order of the day.

Others invited were Edith Myers, Mary Nancy Terwillegar, Denise Swain,

Rose Payne, Jean Norris, Clayda Jones, Joyce Sawyers, Mary Boone, Georgia Banks,

was considered quite a privilege during that historic era.

Ira Morton, chairman, presided over the business session. The announcement was made that a book was to be purchased and presented to the Sanford Library in honor of the late Mrs. Charlotte Smith, a former club president who was also president of the Florida Federation of Women's Clubs. The presentation upgrade annually in memory of Mrs. Smith on her birthday in April.

New officers of the group elected to serve during the 2000-01 season are: Charlotte Knowles, chairman; Mindy Indie, secretary; Zelda Siskind, treasurer, and Vivian Buck, telephone.

Members have begun lining up programs and hostesses for the new season which will begin in October.

Attending the meeting were: Bettye Smith, Betty Halback, Shirley Mills, Charlotte Knowles, Ruth Gaines, Fran Morton, Zelda Siskind, Vivian Buck, Libby Prestett, Mindy Indie, and Rose Edith Jacobson.

Book reviewed for Literary Group

The Literary Group of the Sanford Woman's Club met at the home of Bettye Smith, club president, for the April meeting. The hostess served a variety of delicious tea sandwiches, pastries, fruits, juices and coffee in the elegant dining room.

Bettye also gave a review of the book, "Georgiana, Duchess of Devonshire" by Amanda Foreman. The biography traced the duchess and her positive political and social powers during the 1800s. The well-liked personality was popular with aristocrats as well as commoners and just being in her company was great!

Lake Mary AARP learns about asset protection

One of the biggest problems that seniors today face is the prospect of long-term care. An unexpected illness could force an extended hospital stay or necessitate long-term nursing care. Either could wipe out a person's entire savings. That's why Ellen O'Toole of the O'Toole Group was the speaker at April's meeting of the Lake Mary AARP Chapter.

She explained to the members about Nylac Asset

Preserver from New York Life. Nylac is a single premium universal life insurance policy with an option that allows policy holders to access the death benefit during the insured's lifetime to help cover the cost of long-term health care. Don't think it can't happen to you. Once a senior reaches 65, they have a 60 percent of needing some type of long-term health care during the next 20 years.

Medicaid does pay for some long-term care.

But with Medicaid, you have to have very few assets before you can qualify. That's why some type of supplemental insurance to protect your self is advisable.

If you're not sure whether you need supplemental insurance, start looking now. But before you buy extra insurance, either from a local agent or from one of those commercials on television, talk to someone impartial.

The AARP has trained volunteers who will help you look at all your insurance policies and assets and let you know what you should have. To talk to one of the AARP insurance volunteers, call Senior Coordinator Paulette Stevens at 407-324-3060.

Decades Day a hit at Lake Mary High
Do you wish that for just one day you could go back in time and "shake your groove thing"? Well, juniors and seniors at Lake Mary High School weren't around in the '70s, but they still got to take a little journey back in time. It was Decades Day at Lake Mary High School. The students got to dress up in outfits from their favorite decade. Decades Day is a way for the history teacher at Lake Mary High to show their students a little living history. The students show off their outfits to the underclassmen. They also get to spend one period of the day on the football field just hanging out with all the other decades.

By far, the most popular decade was the '60s. At least for dressing up. Possibly because students could go into their parents' closets for the clothes.

An Austin Powers CD was playing on the football field, so those movies could also have played a role in the decades choices.

In another area of the field, a Woodstock CD could also be heard.

The other "choice" decades for the day were the '20s, the '50s and the '70s.

A. A fellow from the Mutual UFO Network and myself met in Deltona to talk to a man who claimed to have seen a flying disc-like object while standing on a golf course in Deltona. It is a heavily populated area, so we were a bit skeptical, since no one else reported seeing it. Well, he got off the subject and started talking about a big bird, about 15-feet tall, that he had seen while driving on the road. It was just like the one he saw while he was in New Jersey, and it was wearing boxer shorts. The more he talked, the more he came up with stuff. He even told us about the time the Space Shuttle hovered over his house with a ladder hanging down from it so he could come on board. At that point, we both closed our notebooks and left.

Q. What do you say to the skeptics?

A. I think skeptics are good. I am a skeptic myself. They balance this business out. There are people at one extreme end of the scale and then there are others at the opposite end who will believe anything they hear. It makes investigators fall somewhere in the middle of the scale, like myself. Fifty percent of the things I run across I throw out, while the other 50 percent I find interesting. Those things can't be disproved. You don't know what they are. That's what makes things exciting.
