THURSDAY, SEPT. 18, 1947... IF WE ARE GOING TO DO ANYTHING FINE AND WORTHY IN THIS WORLD TODAY IS THE BEST TIME.

Justice Jackson of the Supreme Court would alter the laws of war. But since nobody pays any attention to them anyway, we don't see what good it would do.

It took 12 Americans to halt 36 Yugoslavs trying to force their way into Trieste the other night a little prematurely.

Do you know the difference between a storm warning and a hurricane warning? Storms range from 64 to 75 miles an hour in wind velocity; hurricanes from 75 miles an hour up.

Senator Byrd says that all the dollars in America will not cure the ills of the world. In the past two years the United States has spent 20 billion dollars on foreign relief.

We heartily commend NBC's decision to permit no more broadcasting of crime and mystery thrillers, at least until after the children's bedtime.

From Summerville, Ga. comes a report of a violation of one of the fundamental principles of the Bill of Rights in the U. S. Constitution.

Attempts to assassinate President Beneš and Foreign Minister Masaryk of Czechoslovakia during the past few days show that the Communists will stop at nothing to gain their ends.

The move toward voluntary rationing of food was started yesterday when the Hotel Association of New York City agreed to observe two meatless days each week in all hotels and restaurants.

When he is not fooling around with the reformation of the world, Sidney is a press agent—one of the few honest ones.

It just gets you in trouble when you write it," he declared, "so I thought I would be better off in publicity, where you don't have to worry about the truth."

Ascher is currently vying the charms of Lisa Kirk, who is scheduled to burst on the Broadway scene in the elaborate new Rodgers-Hammerstein musical, "Allegro," and to hear Sidney, who is enthusiastic if nothing else, she is the greatest thing since Helen Morgan.

Sidney is very serious about his more comfort-stations campaign. He would like to tie it in with jobs for wounded war veterans, giving them free rent at newstands by the stations in return for their taking care of the stations.

Erratic Hurricane

Sanford and Seminole County have escaped with little damage another dangerous hurricane which blasted away at the lower East Coast for several hours yesterday and then cut a wide swathe across the southern part of the state on its way to the Gulf of Mexico.

Even in the path of the storm there apparently has been little loss of life. The people of South Florida are more "hurricane-wise" than many of them were 20 years ago when more than 1,500 were killed when, thinking that the lull was the end of the blow, they ventured forth to see what had happened.

Even so, we were surprised at the reluctance which many people showed to seek places of safety. Particularly in the Everglades area, thousands of people remained in their homes long after it was obvious that the hurricane was going to strike and that the excessively high water caused by long summer rains might make it impossible for them to get out.

Other venturesome individuals, who sought to watch the tropical disturbance from the vantage point of some remote island, wildly radioed for help when the going got tough and they found themselves standing in two feet of water even on high ground and the winds blowing their shelters to bits.

Though this hurricane did not turn out to be as bad as had been predicted and certainly could not compare with either the 1926 or the 1928 storm either in wind velocity or casualties, still it was an erratic hurricane and might have caused considerable damage had its course not been carefully plotted, ample warnings sent out, and full precautions taken.

There are very few hurricanes which follow a course as far north as this one did, or which move in so nearly a westerly direction. Had the center hit the coast a little farther north, say in the vicinity of Fort Pierce or Titusville, we here in Sanford might have seen some wind, and water, which would have given the old-timers something to talk about for generations to come.

Hidden Reasons For Infidelity

"Philandering is on the increase," says John F. Oliven, M. D. in Your Life magazine. He believes that sex is probably the least of the reasons why married persons go astray. Loneliness, revenge, curiosity, boredom, neurotic restlessness and panicky anxiety head the list of the true motives behind many a philandering adventure.

NEW YORK—The world has gone mad. Gotham is shaking in its cement boots. Mayor O'Dwyer has not yet declared martial law, but these are grim times in New York.

For 10 years, the forlorn borough of Brooklyn, home of the Dodgers and the New York Navy Yard, has been defended virtually to the death by Sidney. He founded, in 1938, the Society for the Prevention of Disparaging Remarks about Brooklyn and it became one of the most talked-of organizations in America.

More than a half-million membership cards were mailed out, and the charter members, included former Mayor LaGuardia and such native West, Eleanor Holm Rose and Edward Everett Horton.

Today I was breaking bread with Sidney in the patio of the Henry Hudson hotel, however, and he was a gloomy man. "I do not," he said, darkly, "consider Brooklyn a fit place in which to bring up my children, of which I have two. I consider Brooklyn uncivilized and barbaric."

GENTLE PROBING REVEALED Sidney is afflicted with the gripes chiefly because of the Brooklyn Dodgers baseball team. He figures that every time the borough makes a little progress toward acceptance as a legitimate metropolis in the eyes of the rest of the world, the Dodgers do something to cancel it out.

I guess Sidney knows what he wants, but Brooklyn would be a fool to let him out of its hands. For a decade he has been the only antidote the place has had for the Dodgers.

This leaves Sidney with only three other organizations to occupy his time—the Jacketless Men's Society of America, the Hayfever Sufferers' Society of America and the Society for the Establishment of Adequate Comfort Stations.

THE JACKETLESS SOCIETY is five years old. Sidney had an appointment one day, the hottest day of summer, and got so incensed that he sent out a clarion call that day to New York's males and the next day 36 of them showed up for a protest meeting.

When he is not fooling around with the reformation of the world, Sidney is a press agent—one of the few honest ones. His clients include Evelyn Knigh, Andy Russell, Happy Fallon, Vic Damon and others, and his friends are, as we say, legion. Sid used to be a newspaperman, until he decided one day, "the readers don't want the truth."

Ascher is currently vying the charms of Lisa Kirk, who is scheduled to burst on the Broadway scene in the elaborate new Rodgers-Hammerstein musical, "Allegro," and to hear Sidney, who is enthusiastic if nothing else, she is the greatest thing since Helen Morgan.

Sidney is very serious about his more comfort-stations campaign. He would like to tie it in with jobs for wounded war veterans, giving them free rent at newstands by the stations in return for their taking care of the stations.

Turkish President Explains Position During Recent War

ISTANBUL, Sept. 17 (AP)—President Ismet Inonu says that Turkey rejected all German overtures which he said grew violent at times—to bring her into World War II against Soviet Russia.

In a lengthy article written for the Encyclopedia Britannica at Chicago and distributed by the official Anatolia Agency today, Inonu defended Turkey's war role which had often been criticized because Turkey swung over to the side of the Allies only a few weeks before Germany surrendered.

Germany, Inonu said, spared no effort to bring Turkey into the conflict. "One of the most important events for Turkey came when Germany started her most threatening political aggression," Inonu wrote.

"In publishing the French documents the Germans worked with all their heart to provoke in this troubled tense atmosphere an armed conflict between the Russians and Turkey. Also, they proclaimed, 'Turkey—left alone—would approach them as did the Romanians, in order to guarantee themselves against Russian aggression.'"

Inonu said Turkey rejected flatly all German demands for passage toward the mid East while the Reich armies were assaulting Egypt. Turkey had a treaty of alliance with Britain which was ideal for the time being.

"It was while this was going on that the Germans announced they could not attack Turkey and proposed a treaty of friendship. The Turks declared they could not conclude this agreement without conditions of safeguarding the alliance with Britain. Germany accepted this disposition."

"It could be seen they had postponed their attack against Turkey to a more favorable date. The Turks judged it necessary to gain time in view of their proper security and from the viewpoint of aid from their Allies."

Later Inonu said Russia had formally notified Turkey that the Soviets were satisfied with Turkey's attitude and said "Turkey's neutrality deserved to be recommended to the Allies."

Inonu declared that Turkey had rendered her greatest service to the Allies by keeping the massed German armies in Germany and Italy from entering the Middle East.

"This act figures as most important, in repercussions on the political and military results of the war," Inonu said. "The Turks managed to keep closed the road of the mid-East during all the years 1939, 1940, 1941 and to the end of 1942; that is until the victory of Stalingrad and El Alamein and until North Africa was occupied by Americans and British."

Inonu asserted he agreed in principle to the Roosevelt-Churchill demands for Cairo to join the war, but asked for a delay until Turkey could be given maximum aid from the Allies.

Inonu said that Turkey had rendered her greatest service to the Allies by keeping the massed German armies in Germany and Italy from entering the Middle East.

Freedom Train Is Christened In Philly

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 18, (AP)—The gleaming red, white and blue Freedom Train was christened yesterday as U. S. Senator Edward Martin (R-Pa) labeled it America's best weapon against Communism.

"I don't know if there are any Communists within the sound of my voice," Martin told several thousand persons at ceremonies in Broad Street Station. "If there are, let me assure them, as well as others—this time they have left themselves and their motives naked."

"I say we can fight that system (Communism) and win without stooping to its tactics." As Martin spoke, a single file picket line of some 30 persons marched around the depot. The pickets, in literature distributed to the public as they walked, identified themselves as the "Philadelphia Committee for Amnesty for all War Objectors."

Attorney General Tom C. Clark, credited with conceiving the idea of the shrine on wheels that will visit more than 300 cities in a year-long cross country pilgrimage, declared "Unless America shares its freedom with all nations, there will soon be no freedom for anyone in the broad reaches of the world."

Clark said the train, carrying America's most treasured historical documents shows the black and white record of U. S. accomplishments. "There is no other record in the world to match it," Clark declared. "This record proves that all men are architects of this country. No one man or group of men can fashion freedom."

Brush Makes Good Gift For Teen-Ager

By BETTY CLARKE
AP Newsfeatures Beauty Editor
Shining hair has played such an important part in the life of the average teen-ager that she would rather have a present of a good hairbrush than a hat or a fancy belt or a pair of shoes.

Most girls understand that a little extra elbow grease applied to the hair and scalp at an early age will condition their hair for glamplated ones weren't a rarity. The youngsters are fussy about shampoos, rinses, brushes and lotions, and back-to-school kits are filled with hair beautifiers, painstakingly selected.

Years ago every dressing table exhibited a brush, sometimes silver, beautifully engraved; gold patted ones weren't a rarity. The three-piece comb, brush and mirror sets were popular presents, indeed. There was only one hitch—often the brush bristles weren't any good and seldom could a brush be used for any length of time.

Most of these beautiful brushes were saved for sentimental reasons or because they were part of the set, though they served no practical purpose.

When buying a brush, remember that the bristles are all-important. The shape and size of the brush play a part, also. Club brushes are usually easier to get grip on. Today you can find brushes in attractive jewel-like colors of ruby, crystal and sapphire. This is good news for the girl who likes to have not only a good brush, but a colorful dressing table accessory.

Brushing is not just an art—it is hard work. You should brush your hair morning and evening, whether you follow the 100-strokes ritual or not. Few teen-agers have permanent waves, so they don't worry about elaborate curls. Most of them are very much opposed to tight ringlets or "set" looking hair. They like simple, easy-to-care-for hair styles.

NOTICE

Effective Sept. 15, 1947, the subscription rate of The Sanford Herald will be increased to 25 cents a week. Monthly and yearly subscriptions will be increased proportionately at the same time. Paid-in-advance subscriptions will be delivered at the old rate until the expiration date.

The Herald regrets the necessity of increasing its subscription rate at this time, but the price of the paper on which we print is three times higher than it was before the war and other production costs have increased more or less to the same extent.

This is the first increase in these rates which we have made since February, 1938. It will be recalled that at the time we resumed daily publication following a period as a tri-weekly during the war, we made no additional charge for the two additional papers, delivered each week to our subscribers.

We feel sure they appreciate our postponing any rate increase as long as possible.

1 Woman Company Services Town

By HERBERT C. LITTLE
AP Newsfeatures

ATLANTA, W. Va.—The 170 subscribers of the Athens Telephone Co. get bills once a year, the board of directors repairs broken lines, and the lone operator knows voices and numbers so well a subscriber gets his party if he simply asks her to "ring over him."

The company has provided this community of 628 persons with hand-crank telephone service for 40 years. Mrs. Nannie Mastin, widow of a doctor, has been the operator for the past 22 years. Every subscriber is also a stockholder. His annual bill, which runs to about $10, is his share of the operating costs. There is no profit involved.

Mrs. Mastin knows all the town numbers by heart and only occasionally has to consult her handwritten telephone book on 17 different long- and short-ring signals. Most of the subscribers she can recognize and call by their first names just from hear their voices. The switchboard is in Mrs. Mastin's apartment, where she lives alone. Her children are grown and married.

Meals are brought to her there and stockholders of the friendly firm frequently stop in to pass the time of day. She says she once stayed in her apartment exchange for three months without going out.

There is a night bell to awaken her for calls after the normal 10 o'clock closing time, but most subscribers respect her hours 24 to not call late unless it is a real emergency.

When Concord college is playing a home game here during basketball season, however, she willingly remains on the job after hours on the news service can get the story.

Mrs. Mastin's bosses are the seven men making up the unpaid board of directors. Each one is assigned a district in which he must make repairs himself when ever there is a line break.

The stockholders and directors hold their annual meeting the second Saturday in August to elect officers and assess themselves for operating expenses.

Jack's role at Warners is that of a workhorse. The big (six foot, 200 pound) lug is perfect for the job. If a man can make a good movie with Carson in it, she's star material.

Carson is getting a little weary of the workhorse routine. "The studio appreciates it, and you get a lot of money that way but you don't get any credit," he sighs. "But what can you do? I work up a new story, with real gags in it for me. I sell it to the studio and what happens? Somebody else plays the movie."

"Maybe someday - I keep hoping - there'll be a Carson movie and you'll be able to find Carson in it."

If you think a recession isn't on the way - and you'd have to hunt hard in this town to find somebody who thinks it isn't - lookit who: Marsha Hunt and Gail Patrick have found: the 1948 wardrobes being put on for them is wear in "End of the Rainbow" coincidentally with the style in two top flight fashion mags of 16 years ago. And 1933, in case you've forgotten, was the year of the great toboggan.

Hollywood

By RALPH BIGHTON
(For Bob Thomas)

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 16 (AP)—You may not think Jack Carson is funny - and even Jack will admit you could be right - but around town he's one of the greatest "dressing room comics" in the business.

That's a left-handed compliment. That's like saying your cologne would be a great perfume if only he were a horse. In the dressing room or during rehearsal, Carson is irrefragable. But on the screen his gags have all the spontaneity of a banker's board meeting.

On his radio program and in most of his movies Jack has fallen back on the old reliable dodge of being the butt of his own jokes. Let a blind man tap on a banana peel and somebody is bound to laugh. The guy who laughs can also be found laughing at Carson's screen gags.

The trouble with Jack's dressing room humor is that "dressing room" is a misnomer. It should be "closet room." It's funny, but not in print.

I stopped by the "April Showers" set to see Carson in a vaudeville routine with 12-year-old Bobby Ellis. They had been dancing all morning, but when Carson stepped down off the stage it was as if he hadn't been dancing at all. It was more like he had been wrestling hogs.

Carson found a seat and sprawled. "Never try to be a dancer late in life," he yipped. "I tried it when I was in his breath back, he pointed to little Bobby, still dancing away on the stage, and said, "Would you believe it, that kid didn't know how to dance six weeks ago. I helped him all I could, and he still learned to dance. He'll probably steal my show."

Which would be an understatement of the first magnitude. People are always stealing shows from Carson. In "Romance in High C" the theft, committed by newcomer Doris Day, assumed the form of a "Carson movie" and "And she," said Jack, "isn't even supposed to be an actress. She sings."

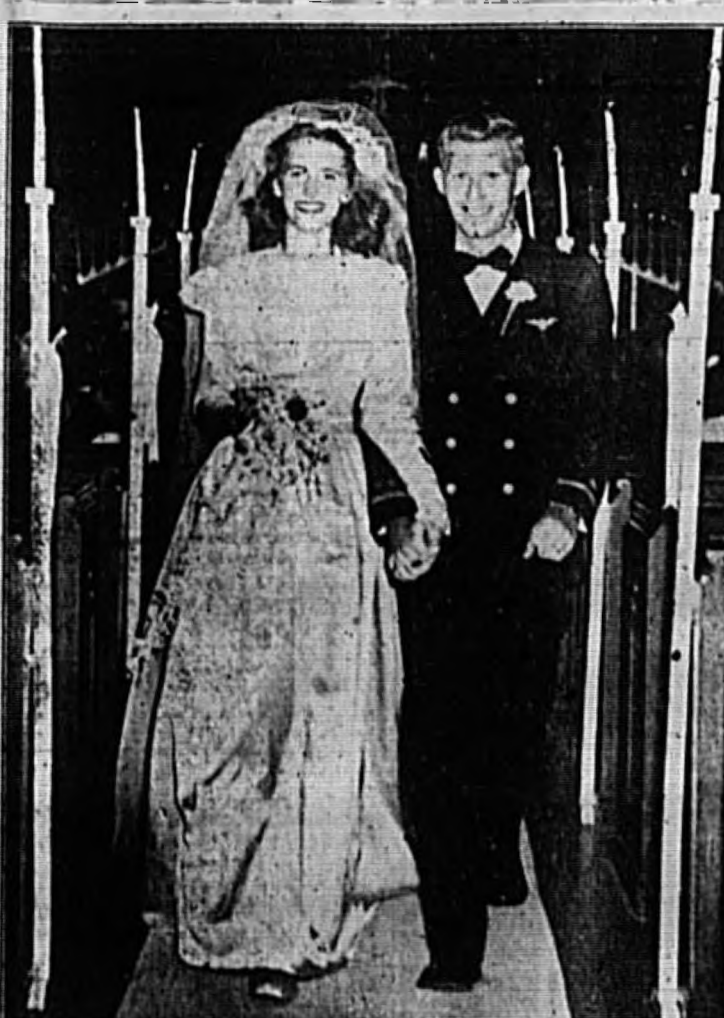

Jack's role at Warners is that of a workhorse. The big (six foot, 200 pound) lug is perfect for the job. If a man can make a good movie with Carson in it, she's star material.

Hanford, Calif., Softball Nine Nipes Clearwater

CLEVELAND, Sept. 18, (AP)—The Hanford, Calif., Nine were installed today as the "dark horse" threat to the Zollner Pistons of Fort Wayne, Ind., as the 15th annual World Softball Championships would play a week of play.

In 15 innings, longest game of the tournament thus far, Hanford whipped the Clearwater, Fla., Blackburn Bombers 1-0 last night on Bill Alexander's pinch double after Lew Ferrero's single. The loss was the first for the Floridaans and for their ace hurler Herb Dudley, who fanned 22.

Roy Stephenson of Mineola, N. Y., Quimmans tossed a one-hitter at the Stratford, Conn., Roofers in the other men's division game to win 7-0 and eliminate Stratford.

The defending champion Fort Wayne team goes against Kavakos Grill of Washington, D. C. tonight at 8:45 (EST) and Toronto, Ontario meets Harlingen, Tex., Hi-Way Inn at 8:15 in the other men's game.

New Orleans Jax girls won their third straight tourney victory 1-0 last night, with Nina Korgan limiting the Phoenix, Ariz. Ramblers to one hit, Virginia Dobson's last-inning triple. The Jax girls are after their third straight world championship.

Washington, D. C., Garfins made 11 errors in absorbing a 16-1 thumping from the Fresno, Calif. Rockets and bowing out of the tourney. Ginny Busick and Vera Miller held the losers to a lone single while their teammates ran up the biggest score in tournament history with a 13-hit barrage that included homers by Kay Rich and Nadine Nichols.

J. & K. Shoes of Columbus, O., play Toronto People's Jewelers at 7:30 tonight in a clash of two unbeaten girls' teams and at 10 P. M. the Fresno, Calif., Rockets and the Phoenix, Ariz., Ramblers meet with the loser due for elimination.

Pennant Winning Moultrie Packers Take G-F Series

TALLAHASSEE, Sept. 18, (AP)—The pennant-winning Moultrie Packers grabbed the Georgia-Florida League playoff finals last night, defeating the Tallahassee Pirates, 5-3, and earning the right to meet the Florida State League Shaughnessy winner in an inter-league series.

The Florida State entry in the series may be determined tonight when St. Augustine, leading 3-2, and Gainesville clash in that league's playoff. Rain and wet grounds forced postponement of the scheduled game last night.

Moultrie piled up an early lead but had to nip a strong ninth-inning Tallahassee rally to win the Georgia-Florida playoffs. Trailing 5-1 going into the final at bats, the Pirates scored two runs and had the tying runs in scoring position before Gowan relieved Herlik and retired the side.

Montgomery Trips Gadsden In Contest

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Sept. 18, (AP)—Montgomery's Rebels and the Gadsden Pilots meet here again tonight for the fifth game of the Southeastern League's Shaughnessy Playoff best-of-seven finals with the series tied at two-all.

The Rebels capitalized on a costly error last night to squeeze out a 3 to 2 victory in a pitchers' battle between Joe Demoran and Gadsden's Jim McClure.

After Montgomery opened up with a first-inning one-run lead, Lefty McClure began to bear down. However, a throw to the wrong base on an attempted fielders' choice in the second put two men on the bags with only one away. A sacrifice and Ray Wilson's steal home brought in what proved to be enough runs.

Classy Field Teed Off In Fulton Open

ATLANTA, Sept. 18, (AP)—A classy field including seven of the year's top money winners and five Ryder Cup players, teed off today in the opening round of the $10,000 North Fulton Open Golf Tournament with Lew Worsham, the U. S. Open titlist, holding the favorite's role.

Worsham, who won his first major golf tournament here last November in capturing the Druid Hills Open, fired a five-under-par 65 yesterday as the touring pros completed their practice rounds. Worsham had 31-35 lb against par of 25-26-71 for the rugged 5,700-yard layout.

Jimmie Demaret, the Masters Champion, and Lloyd Mangrum, winner of the Alhambra Open Sunday when Demaret blew up in the final round, were the last to arrive for the 72-hole event, but had time to get in a practice round.

The field of 100 also includes Billy Key, 16-year-old shortstop from Columbus, Ga., whose triumph last year included a win over George Hames, former National Intercollegiate Champion.

The name of Pakistan, given the new Muslim country carved out of India, is taken from the names of the territories which the area.

Palm Beach Hit

Worth Avenue, the "Fifth Avenue" of anxiety throughout the city, was tightly boarded and only a few windows in its store fronts were broken.

A flash light gleaming spectrally on the Spanish type Everglades Club, whose members must have blood of damage to that haven of the social elite.

But the erosion of wind and waves, although sparing both of the business sections of Palm Beach, caused considerable destruction on the island section facing seaward.

"It'll take several days to learn the full extent of the damage," said Police desk sergeant Frank H. Young.

Most of the clubs have lost their bath houses. The bath house north of Palm Beach pier is gone and the pier itself is in bad shape. So is Ocean Boulevard.

The sea for years has been undermining sections of this famous coastal scenic drive. Patrolman Ed J. Williams said heavy waves crashing over the sea wall had littered the boulevard with broken pieces of concrete and debris.

Tree-blocked roads prevented approach to many estates and to the Bath and Tennis Club and the Sun and Surf Club, two exclusive retreats which were reported to have lost many beach cabanas.

The Everglades golf links and the Palm Beach Golf Club looked like a series of salt water duck ponds. Money built the fabulous homes and playgrounds of Palm Beach and money can repair the hurricane damage to them.

Pensacola Storm

The tropical disturbance, the worst experienced by Florida in a decade, left at least two dead, thousands of emergency-sheltered refugees, and 17 stranded or missing persons, as well as immense property damage.

Ripping into the wealthy "Gold Coast" playground between Miami and Palm Beach at noon yesterday, the savage storm pounded vacation spots and citrus and vegetable-growing farmlands alike with winds up to 120-mph.

Early today 5,000 refugees were clustered around Sebring. And the Red Cross called upon the Navy at Jacksonville to send food for 15,000 meals.

Upwards of 200,000 others in the hurricane's path found haven during the frightful night in emergency shelters near at hand.

Coast Guard and Army planes were criss-crossing coastal waters on both sides of the peninsula today, searching for small boats which might be in distress.

Ferocity of the storm was generally regarded as equal to that of 1928, 1930 and 1935, but unlike those hurricanes there was only negligible loss of life.

Early today indicated one man was electrocuted by a fallen wire at Palm Beach, and one was shot to death in Miami while attempting to loot a damaged store.

In 1928 a total of 2,500 persons were killed or drowned in the West Palm Beach-Everglades area, while in 1935 a storm killed 500 at Key West. The 1930 disaster took 2,000 lives in Santo Domingo and Haiti.

PANAMA CITY, Fla., Sept. 18 (AP)—Many stores were being hurriedly boarded up here today for the first time in history as the City prepared for a carom shot of the great Atlantic-borne hurricane which ripped across lower Florida yesterday and now is in the Gulf.

Tampa Gets Blow

Sarasota rated its heaviest winds unofficially at 60 to 65 miles an hour, with gusts up to perhaps 70 miles an hour.

Power failed in the southern section of Sarasota about 11 P. M. and the State Highway Patrol station was off the air, but the rest of the city suffered only brief, intermittent interruptions.

Bradenton had winds estimated at as high as 50 miles an hour in gusts. Power there failed at 9:30 P. M., for everything except the city-operated street lighting system.

Beach and island residents from Fort Myers through Bradenton were evacuated to their mainland communities, but St. Petersburg and Clearwater deferred a decision until later this morning.

High winds were blowing down many trees and causing numerous scattered interruptions of telephone and light service in Tampa and St. Petersburg, but conditions were not severe.

Lakeland reported winds up to 75 miles an hour without any great damage.

Aiken On Labor Act

Robert N. Denham, general counsel of the National Labor Relations Board, interpreted this to mean that all top officers of the AFL and CIO must file affidavits with the NLRB before any affiliated unions could qualify for the services of the Board.

John L. Lewis, while he is an ardent anti-Communist, refused to comply, and since the United Mine Workers chief is an AFL vice-president, this prevented the Federation's executive council from meeting Denham's terms.

Aiken is a member of the Senate Labor Committee which helped draft the Taft-Hartley Labor Law, but the Communist provision was written in on the Senate floor after the House had adopted it.

The section was revised by Senate-House conference committee to require the filing of affidavits.

"The question of requiring officers of parent labor organizations like the AFL and CIO to file affidavits never did come up in debate," Aiken said, "and it never occurred to me that it would apply to anyone except the officers of a union which was the actual bargaining agent."

Aiken said he would support any amendment to junk the section or to clarify it, he added that he had no plans to offer such an amendment.

Aiken said he believes the provision may be unconstitutional on the ground that it "seems to discriminate against a political party." He added:

"If Communism is to be outlawed I have always thought that would require a constitutional amendment. Otherwise, Communists—unless they advocate the overthrow of the government by force—are entitled to the same rights as Democrats and Republicans."

Aiken and Senator Hatch (D-NM) are co-authors of a pending amendment to strike another section from the Taft-Hartley Law which prohibits political expenditures by unions.

Marshall Reaction

In Berlin, headlines in Russian-controlled newspapers said the Secretary was "trying to dilute" the U. N. Most of them published a story from Tass, Soviet News Agency, alleging that the U. S. was "trying to make the U. N. its tool."

In Britain, newspapers representing many shades of opinion expressed the view that the independent Times of London expressed it:

"While changes in the machinery for the settlement of disputes can improve and quicken the means of conciliation, only the will to settle can make the instruments of conciliation effective."

The Times said the proposed Assembly standing committee would be valuable as an outlet for world opinion which "no power could wholly ignore."

The liberal Manchester Guardian commented:

"Hateful though it is to accept the present situation by which Russia can flout the will of the majority to fit her own unscrupulous policies, it is more hateful to contemplate the alternative, which would rapidly turn the United Nations into an American League against the Soviet Union."

The conservative Daily Graphic, crediting Marshall with having "shown the way" out of the veto impasse, said his suggestions gave the U. N. "what may be its last chance."

In Stockholm, the liberal Stockholms-Tidningen, only newspaper to comment this morning, said that "for the U. N. the plan might be a means of strength, though mostly of a moral character."

The liberal conservative Aftenpost said the scheme was "one of the few possible solutions." It added:

County Home

(Continued from Page One) tion, according to H. T. Brown, superintendent of the Home. Valleys for the radiators are needed, however, he said. During the past winter heating with fire place and oil stoves had been inadequate for the old people in the Home.

He asserted, and added that he did not understand why the radiators were ever taken out.

At present the large building, which accommodates five white men and two women is being painted inside and outside, and porches have received one coat of paint. The pebble dash exterior requires no paint. A new feature is the installation of shower baths. The wooden flooring has a very clean appearance and is finished with wax.

The hazards of slipping by the aged. White and colored dining rooms are neat and clean and tables have attractive linoleum coverings. Plenty of good fresh milk and butter is afforded by the dairy in which there are four cows. Men's beds have been put into the living room during the time rooms are being painted.

There are nine men in the colored section, the oldest of which is Tom Andrews, who was born in Massachusetts and who is reported to be 104. Average age of those at the Home is over 70 years, according to Mr. Brown. He and Mrs. Brown have an apartment at the south end of the building, where his office is also located. The lawn and grounds have a well kept look. Mr. and Mrs. Brown have been in charge since Jan. 1, and formerly lived in Chuluota.

The hospital building has ample accommodations for white, and colored and at present is not occupied by any patients. Other buildings include the smoke house, dairy, garage, chicken house and wash house. The building are grouped in an attractive, well shaded and elevated setting with a 10 acre citrus grove that produced about $2,500 worth of fruit last year. The whole tract of land comprises 91 acres. Water is supplied to the Home from deep wells by means of a pressure pump.

Prices Break

(Continued from Page One) remained weak in later trading. The general market on steels was $1 to $1.50 lower than yesterday, with the top prices $34 today compared with $35.75 yesterday.

Grains regained fractions of extreme losses which were recorded shortly after opening of the Chicago Board of Trade. Wheat at one time was down 10 cents on all deliveries and corn down eight cents—both daily limits. Oats were off four to five cents at one time, with six cent the limit.

The low on September wheat was $2.67, on September corn $2.53 3/8, and on September oats $1.15 3/4.

The sharp price break followed an announcement by the Agriculture Department last night. Number exports would be held to 29,514,000 bushels of grain, compared with an October quota of 48,685,000 bushels.

Meanwhile, proposals by government officials to curb the recent upward trend in prices were sounded throughout the nation.

President Truman's cabinet committee on food appeared headed for a decision to reduce grain exports for the months immediately ahead after the Agriculture Department's disclosure of its cut in November grain export allocations.

New Orleans Struck By Raging Hurricane

Winds Which Crossed Florida Batter In Buildings Along Entire Gulf Coast

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 19, (AP)—A tropical hurricane roared inland today toward southern Louisiana after making New Orleans with destructive power that crashed buildings and flooded exposed areas of the Pontchartraine lakefront.

The Weather Bureau, at 12:30 P. M., (EST.) advised that the storm's center was 20 miles northeast of New Orleans. It was moving northwestward at 15 miles per hour, with winds ranging from 80 to 120 MPH.

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 19 (AP)—A screaming hurricane, which crushed buildings and piled flood waters over the great sea wall, passed over New Orleans shortly before noon today—and moved inland with destructive force.

Baton Rouge braced for the blow, and acting Governor Emile Verret closed the capitol and sent home all the state employees.

The deceptive calm of the hurricane's "eye," which began in New Orleans at 9:40 A. M. (Central Time), ceased at 11 A. M. and thundering winds up to 90 mph beat the hapless city from the opposite direction. Colonel Frank Speiss ordered all National Guard units in New Orleans mobilized in Jackson barracks.

The entire Gulf Coast, from Pensacola westward, was raked by cyclonic winds. More than 1,000 residents of Alabama fishing villages raced for high ground from coastal areas where two giant moans took hundreds of lives in 1916. Water three feet deep was (Continued on Page 3)

Truman Concerned Over Foreign Crisis

ABOARD U. S. S. MISSOURI WITH PRESIDENT TRUMAN, Sept. 19, (AP)—President Truman today underlined his concern over the international situation by limiting his Monday engagements to a White House conference with the ranking State Department official in Washington.

Nearing home after a 12-day sea trip from Rio de Janeiro, Mr. Truman in early afternoon reviewed the European economic crisis which has brought demands in some quarters for a special session of Congress. Presidential Secretary Matthew J. Connolly radioed White House aides to keep Monday open for the discussion of the international situation.

Unless Secretary of State Marshall finds time for a hurried trip from New York where he is engaged with the United Nations General Assembly meeting, Mr. Truman presumably will receive his "fill-in" from Undersecretary Lovett.

The Chief Executive plans to devote tomorrow to work on papers which have accumulated since he left for the inter-American conference in Brazil Aug. 31.

The Missouri scheduled arrival time at dockside in Norfolk, Va., was 12 noon today. The presidential party planned to board the yacht Williamsburg and complete the homeward journey up the Potomac River, arriving in the capital at 7 A. M. tomorrow.

Mr. Truman is estimated to have traveled by the voyage of more than 8,000 miles which wound up the happiest vacation since he took office.

The trip followed previous foreign journeys this year to Mexico City in March and Ottawa in June. The President also plans to visit San Juan, Puerto Rico, and St. Thomas, Virgin Islands, some time this fall.

Schools To Re-Open Monday Morning

Seminole County Schools which were closed Wednesday through today, due to the storm, will reopen on Monday morning. It was announced this morning by Engle W. Lawton. Schools might have been opened today, he pointed out, had it not been for the uncertainties yesterday of the weather.

The two new Chevrolet school buses, recently purchased from the Hollar Chevrolet Co. and which were sent to Lima, Ohio to be fitted with Superior bodies, were delivered late yesterday afternoon and will be put into operation Monday. This is expected to relieve the shortage of buses.

The two new buses, of the latest type, have a capacity of 80 passengers each.

J. C. Jorgensen Buys W. A. Zachary Home

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Zachary have sold their home at 618 Park Avenue to J. C. Jorgensen and wife. Revenue stamps on the recorded deed indicate a sale price of $10,000.

A deed dated July 27 and recently recorded at the County Clerk's office is that of Francis T. Meriwether and wife to H. M. Rumbley, Jr. and wife of the former Pasold property on Beardsall Avenue. This includes a bungalow and 4 1/2 acres of improved farm land. Revenue stamps indicate a sale price of $7,500.

As Hurricane Moved To Coast

MEN, WOMEN, CHILDREN SEEK SHELTER AS HURRICANE NEARS

AMONG THE THOUSANDS who sought safety as a tropical hurricane began to move toward the Florida coast were these residents of West Palm Beach. They are shown (top) seeking refuge in the County Court House. At bottom is a unique photo made by a trained weather reconnaissance crew which flew in a Navy plane into the heart of the hurricane as it gathered force off the Bahamas. Using radar instruments, it located the exact center of the storm and photographed a huge area of water as it was raised from the surface of the ocean. (International)

Grapefruit Said Damaged 50% By Florida Storm

SARASOTA, Sept. 19, (AP)—The tropical hurricane which ripped through southern Florida and the Gulf coast brought death to two persons here. Sheriff Doug Pearson reported William Best died of a heart attack Wednesday night while seeking refuge from high winds in the Sarasota county courthouse.

A man identified only as Red Davenport, a night watchman at the Bradenton-Sarasota airport, was electrocuted, the sheriff said, when he stepped onto a downed power line while making his rounds.

Truck Crops Little Hurt And Oranges Only 5% Damaged

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 19, (AP)—Henry Wallace today urged Congress to "bring back rationing and price control" as the "only effective way" of lowering the cost of living. The former Vice President and Cabinet member told a news conference that the "Truman Administration and the U. S. Congress have a certain amount of responsibility to the people to see that today's high prices are cut."

Wallace Crop Reduction Program Is Called "Nonsense"

WASHINGTON, Sept. 19 (AP)—Henry Morgenthau, Jr., former secretary of the treasury, said today Henry A. Wallace passed out so much money during the New Deal's big spending days that Morgenthau once told the Secretary of Agriculture he was "getting away with murder."

Morgenthau declared Wallace spent more and got less for it during the 1934-1937 period than Harry Hopkins and Harold L. Ickes, who directed huge outlays as directors of Federal Relief and Federal Works Programs.

Russian Press Has Full Report Of Vishinsky Talk

By ASSOCIATED PRESS
Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei Vishinsky's speech to the United Nations Assembly, probably the strongest words ever voiced by a Russian diplomat against the present policy of the United States, was presented to the Soviet public today in full-page spreads in all the principal newspapers, which made no immediate editorial comment.

The full pages were insufficient to carry Vishinsky's speech to its entirety, and editors' notes said it would be concluded in the next editions. The full text went out to all provincial newspapers, and was broadcast in many languages.

Russian Is Seen As Determined To Continue World Revolt Plan

By HOWITT MACKENZIE
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst
Russia's violent diatribe in the Assembly of the United Nations yesterday serves at least one useful purpose: It makes clear that Moscow is determined to pursue without deviation the international course it has been following ever since the end of the war.

This means that the Soviet world revolution for the establishment of Communism will continue along lines already established. Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Vishinsky's announcement was not only a fierce attack on the America which stands in the way of aggressive Communism, but it was in effect an explosive "No" to all suggestions for any U. S. moves which might hamper the Russian ambition to Sovietize the globe.

That is a logical strategy for the Soviet Union to pursue in view of the present international situation. Most of the Eastern Hemisphere is in a chaotic economic state which has reduced many countries to bankruptcy, including hunger. This is the day for which Communism has dreamed ever since the world revolution was conceived when the Bolsheviks seized power.

Over a three-course lunch and for three hours afterwards, Mr. Churchill and his advisers debated with their British counterparts the whole range of British-Irish financial and economic relations, with the particular objective of coordinating their dollar earning and spending programs and of stepping up food supplies for Britain.
